"Newspapers are challenged again in the battle for dollars with which to subdue the foe. The Third War Loan is close upon us and we of the newspaper press must make our Second War Loan record look like a mere skirmish-and prove again that the sure way back to all of the peo-

Joe is out to win again!

"I had several friends advise me they wanted bonds through WHO'-Bob Burlingame-at Des Moines, Iowa, last week, so that started me out again," stated Joe Wells, local contractor, who has become nationally famous for his one-man bond drives.

Up to Wednesday night Mr. Wells had sold bonds to the value of $5,000.

He announced to the Leader also that he would complete this drive about Thursday, September 2, and send his returns to Robert Burlingame, so that the names of those buying bonds would be broadcast over WHO, Des Moines, Iowa, Thursday night, Sept. 9.

Local residents should tune in at 1040 on their radio dial for this broadcast.

All bonds bought from Mr. Wells will be applied to the County's quota of $999,400.

Appeal Will Be Taken

The conviction of Dr. Newton will be appealed to the court of criminal appeals at Austin, it is planned. A motion to that end will be made before Judge Russell this morning (Thursday), according to T. Wade Potter, an attorney for the defense. Trial of Dr. Newton opened at Bills, Littlefield attorney; and by Mr. Potter and Mr. Camp, Sr., of Cameron, defense attorneys.

The Newton case went to trial Monday after having been twice continued on defense motion-the first time when a physician's affidavit claimed the Newtons had suffered food poisoning on the eve of the trial, the other time when it was claimed vital defense witnesses were (Continued on Back Page)

First Production Natural Rubber From Guayule

Another Indigenous West Texas plant, the guayule, "in the news" since the synthetic rubber production program was announced, is receiving intense study by government engineers. Limited production is in fact underway, with several hundred tons of guayule rubber extracted for war needs by the U. S. Forest Service the first natural rubber to be produced on an industrial scale in the United States since Pearl Harbor.

The rubber harvest is part of the government's guayule operations, which involve extensive plantations in California and experimental plantings in various parts of West Texas and the Southwest. The initial output of rubber is coming mainly from an old plantation of guayule purchased in the Salinas valley of California. More than 550 acres are being harvested and the expectation is for a yield of about 4,000 tons of shrub. Digging, bailing and trucking the shrub to the factory began in mid-january and will be completed as spring opens when the rubber content of the plants is highest.

Additional areas suitable for planting guayule are being sought, announces Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. He said the Forest Service is setting out more test plots in Southwestern states and is investigating the native guayule supply in deep West Figures obtained from the Department of Agriculture show 85 "indicator" plots of one acre each have been planted since last spring in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, and that plans are underway to plant many more such plots.

Another report was that made recently to Gov. Coke R. Stevenson by two irrigation experts — Dean W. Bloodgood of the U. S. Agricultural department and A. H. Dunlap, member of the Texas State Board of Water Engineers. This showed that not less than 250,000 acres of suitable land for guayule production are available in West and Southwest Texas. The report said that irrigation water and facilities exist for growing 51,665 acres of guayule in Presidio, Reeves, Pecos, Val Verde, Maverick, Zavala and Dimmitt counties; and that irrigation projects could provide for 168,000 additional acres in Presidio, Brewster, Val Verde, Crockett, Terrell, Pecos, Ward, Reeves and Loving counties- all in West Texas.

Arrangements have also been made to establish 11 more plots of larger size-from 40 to 100 acres eachwhich the department terms experimental plantings and which will en-

Old Goebbels Propoganda

In Germany the mounting intensity of the air bombardments, plus the moral shock of Italy's position, has resulted in a barage of the old Goebbels' propoganda line that an Allied victory will result in Soviet control of the Continent. It would be unfortunate if Goebbels' listeners were to believe this bunk. Roosevelt and Churchill have made it clear that the people of defeated nations will be given the opportunity to select their own government. Stalin, even if he did not subscribe to this formula, could not change it one iota-unless he became suddenly insane and wanted to fight Great Brittain and the United States. Goebbels knows it. So does Hitler. It is doubtful, however, if the German people, after listening to Nazi propaganda for 10 long years, know it.

Granted that Germany is not by any means finished-she is nevertheless being badly punished. Soon the Allies will be able to move their air bases into Italy for the final smashing of German industries hitherto out of reach. That day is not far off.

Now is the time to take advantage of the futile and desperate nature of the German situation by concentrating our propaganda on one point: The Allied trend of victory and the protracted and growing misery that faces the Germans if their resistance does not end.

. It is time to break through the shield of Nazi propaganda. If the German people can be convinced-as their masters must be-that they have lost the war, the chances for repetition of 1918 certainly are within the realm of possibility.

able testing cultural practices. Texas and Arizona are slated to have four each of the larger plantings and New Mexico three.

So encouraging is the guayule experiment that the government recently announced that 21,000 tons of this natural home-grown rubber would be harvested in the Southwest by the fall of 1944, and 80,000 tons a year thereafter. That would be about as large a portion of the natural rubber which our war industries require to mix with synthetic rubber.

The two reasons why guayule is now attracting more favor in government and scientific circles are-first, that in spite of how much synthetic rubber we may be able to produce, once we get our stride, we will probably always need at least 20 to 25 per cent natural rubber, and guayule rubber is the only dependable natural rubber which can be grown in this country in appreciable quantities in the light of present knowledge.

PEN LETTER

To Poultry and Livestock Owners of

LAMB COUNTY

Since there's not enough protein feed to go around, we must stretch our present supply to produce all the meat, milk and eggs necessary for VICTORY.

This means we dare not waste precious feed on unthrifty livestock or poultry. We must cull unprofitable producers - save more pigs - stamp out disease and parasites - prevent costly losses.

We know from our many farm contacts that most of these production "accidents" can be prevented. We are convinced that our food goals can be reached without additional labor or expense, and with the feed we now have, simply by plugging unnecessary production leaks and stopping easilypreventable loss and waste.

Accordingly, as our part in the "Food for Victory" effort, we have volunteered for "active duty" in the service of feeders of this community to help stamp out such wasteful Production Saboteurs.

We will gladly call at your farm at any time to assist in such feed-saving practices as culling chickens - worming pigs - disinfecting houses, birds and animals against parasites and disease—checking feeder and watering space, etc.

We also offer a helpful war-time production survey of your livestock and poultry, based on a series of practical production guides suggested and recommended by both national and state agricultural authorities.

This "feed-stretcher" service is offered to every feeder of this community regardless of the feed he is using. Nor will you be obligated in any way. We only wish to share with you and other patriotic Americans the important task of winning the War!

Mrs. Newton was in Olton early Monday morning, but was not present at the trial of her husband. Her whereabouts throughout the trial of Dr. Newton were not disclosed.

The trial of Mrs. Newton, which opens today (Thursday), will follow about the same course as that of the trial of her husband. Virtually all witnesses in Dr. Newton's trial will be recalled to the stand.

Throughout the three days of Dr. Newton's trial the courtroom was filled, and almost as large an attendance is anticipated for the trial of Mrs. Newton.

Dr. Newton Testifies Two witnesses were called Wednesday, one by the prosecution, the other by the defense.

Dr. Newton, testifying in his own defense, said that, accompanied by Mrs. Newton, he left Cameron for Houston at 6 p. m. on May 20, 1942, and that he and Mrs. Newton remained overnight in the South Texas city. Dr. Newton said he went to Houston on some insurance busi-

Continuance Motion Denied

In Monday's proceedings, the jury was completed at 4:30 p. m., and the state placed Dr. Hunt on the stand. Selection of a jury started at 1:30 p. m.

Previously, Julge C. D. Russell had overruled a defense motion for continuance, but granted a defense application for severance of the cases of Dr. and Mrs. Newton, both of whom are charged by indictment with Dr. Hunt's shooting. Dr. Newton pleaded not guilty as his case field attorney. Defense attorneys are T. Wade Potter, Littlefield; Dusty Miller,, Amarillo; State Senator York, Cameran; and Emory Camp and his father of Cameron.

The defense in its motion for continuance sought to show that two main witnesses are not available for the trial. One, counsel said, is in Old Mexico, and the other, whom they said could not be reached now, was to testify that he had seen Dr. Newton in Houston the night of May 20 and early morning of May 21, night of the Hunt attack.
