A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Take heed that ye do not your aims before men, to be seen of them; otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.—Matt. 6:1-3.

Shall we repine at a little misplaced charity, we who could no way foresee the effect, when an all-knowing, all-wise Being showers down every day His benefits on the unthankful and undeserving?—Atterbury.

DECORATION DAY

Thinner and thinner grow the ranks of that once vast army that wore the regimentals of blue and gray during the Civil War, and once more, as the day arrives on which this nation bows in tribute to them, we see the wide gaps in their ranks. More than half a century has passed since they went forth to defend the same flag that we still unfurl over the heels of the living or drape about the silent mounds that shield the dead. Today it is a joyous thought to realize that in the passing of the years, our country has grown so big and great, its interests so varied and yet united, that most of the scars and wounds of bygone days have been forgotten and today we are a country with its various sections united into the grandest and most glorious nation the world has ever known.

Residents of Littlefield come to Decoration Day with loving tears for those who wore the blue as well as those who wore the gray, fighting just as sincerely for their cause that failed on the fields of battle. Their sons have all shown themselves to be of the same sterling type of manhood, possessing the same red blood of national patriotism, and today on the fields of France and in every cemetery in this nation the sons of both the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray sleep silently side by side after laying down their lives for the same cause. They fought for the nation they loved, and they are loved by that nation because they were big enough to forget sectional lines and political differences.

So we come again to pay homage to our soldier dead, to show them they are not forgotten and that their service to mankind shall never perish from the minds of this generation, and all generations to come. They paved the way for a nation that today stands as an example of greatness for all other nations to emulate. They made it possible for us to live in and to enjoy peace and plenty. And for this we return our sincere thanks with a cheer for those who still remain and a tear for those who have passed on, and with a renewal of our pledge to uphold the flag and the constitution they sacrificed for—a flag that has never touched the ground and a constitution that has never known dishonor.

William Wrigley says the sun never sets on his chewing gum. Perhaps that is true, but often the daughter sticks a wad of it where somebody else does.

THE LITTLE THINGS

If you want a good example of the fact that it's the little things that count, dig up a daily paper of recent date and read of the death in New York of a fellow named Bobbie Leach.

Some years ago he went over the Niagra Falls in a barrel and escaped with a few bruises. Then he joined a circus and made parachute leaps from a balloon. But a few weeks ago he slipped on a banana peel, fell and broke his leg, and when the member was amputated he died from blood poisoning.

Here is a good lesson for every citizen of Littlefield who values good lessons in carelessness. We always guard against the big things and escape them, only to suffer from little things, such as crossing a street or highway without looking both ways, driving with defective brakes or without properly focused headlights. In fact there are innumerable little things in every day life that may cause loss of limb or life. We believe the death of Bobbie Leach from a little thing like a banana peel is about as good a warning to us to watch the little things as anything that has ever come to our attention.

When it comes to the morality of our ancestors, none of us have anything to brag about. Even Adam and Eve were never married, according to any records we've ever read.

CALAMITY HOWLERS

"We'd like to support someone for the legislature who would run on a platform of putting all friends of the farmer in jail for 90 days," says the editor of a weekly paper at Long Prairie, Minn., and we know every farmer around here will agree with him.

Those so-called "friends of the farmer" with their calamity howling are doing the farmer no real good. On the other hand, their agitation is actually harmful. As a matter of fact, but little calamity howling comes from the farmers themselves, but is produced by professional politicians with a view to fooling the farmer. They ride into the state legislature and into congress on such a cry, and history fails to show where a single one of them ever did much worrying about the farmer after he had his political job nailed down. There is one sure way to help the farmer, if you really want to do so, and that is to just give him a square deal—and then let him attend to his own business.

Our idea of a diary is a book in which one may write the things they are too timid to say out in public.

THE BEST OF ALL

We overheard a conversation between several well-known Littlefield men a few days ago, and it is worth passing on. They were discussing auto trips, and interesting places, and finally one of them said:

"Taking a trip is a fine thing, and every man who owns an auto owes it to himself to take at least one good, long one. Then when he gets back to the old home town he'll know how to appreciate it more than he did before he saw other sections of this country."

And there's a lot of truth in that statement. Other states and towns and cities look good on paper and in the morning guide books, and other ways of making a living appeal to us while we are reading about them. But a short stay anywhere else will convince you that what you have here is many times better, everything considered, than what you are going to find somewhere else. It costs no more to live here than in other sections, and even if it did—it's worth more. The trouble with the average citizen of this and every other community is that he is so busy believing that the other fellow has the best end of life that he overlooks his own advantages. And nothing will bring those advantages to his attention any quicker than getting out on a trip somewhere and seeing how the other fellow lives.

One can always tell the amateur auto driver. They always stop when they run over anybody.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Now comes Art Chesher who recommends soup as the proper diet following a game of golf. At least two bowls, please.

"Few of us worry over how much money we make," says A. H. McGavock, "but we all worry over how much we get."

"I've noticed," says P. W. Walker, "that folks who drag the family skeleton out of the closet are always careful to hide the bones."

J. M. Stokes wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned fellow who used to boast that he kept all the laws of the land.

Lee Crowover says he has come to the conclusion that the farmer is lucky. If he was more prosperous the government would be investigating him.

Alvin Hendricks says about the greatest consolation he can think of about going to heaven is that when he gets there, perhaps folks will ask him to play a harp instead of a saxophone.

The saddest hour in a woman's life, according to the lady with the gray hair and young heart, is when she realizes she is too old to marry a young man for love and not young enough to marry an old man for his millions.

A rainy day in Littlefield, an east side front porch, which also serves as a sidewalk—pedestrians removing mud from their shoes as they cross the porch and you have a fair demonstration of the "Charleston," says Mrs. Pauline Swaggart.

Autos are now coming in a new variety of colors, but pedestrians still have to be content with black and white.

LITTLE LEADERS

Things have gotten so in some Littlefield families that father has to ask the children two or three days ahead if he may use the car.

Whenever you see a Littlefield man wearing both a belt and a pair of suspenders you may know that he believes in "safety first."

Not all things are even. Citizens of Littlefield always welcome the first robin, but you don't hear them doing any cheering when the first fly shows up.

The reason the average Littlefield mother is so proud of her good-looking, well-behaved children is she knows they take after her.

If you meet a Littlefield man who seems in more of a hurry to get home to dinner than usual, you may know that house-cleaning is over at his house.

After a Littlefield man has struggled for two hours trying to light the kitchen fire it's hard to convince him that a cigarette can start one that will destroy a whole forest or burn up several sections of good grass land.

Make hay while the sun shines and you won't have to borrow an umbrella when it rains.

THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS AS MEASURED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES

A glance backward and a look ahead which business ways take at the beginning of a year shows that Texas is making progress during 1925. It shows that the progress further advancement during 1926 is good.

And in every phase of the review and prospect is progress of the several essential public services upon which achievement have depended.

The service of the telephone in this community is one of the items that have made for development here and without which in the outlook for the present New Year this company is still better service to the people.

The service of the Panhandle Telephone system of growth of this community go hand in hand. Our aims and goals, if they are right, are identical.

Now Who Will Win?

The now seemingly certain abolition of the two-third and unit rules in Democratic national conventions indicates that the struggle for nomination between Wm. G. McAdoo of California and Gov. Al Smith of New York will no doubt be resumed in 1928 right where it left off in the famous 1924 convention at New York. Political prophets are already wagering that one of these two will be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency in 1928.

PANHANDLE WILL BE HERE FOR A GAME ON FRIDAY

The Littlefield ball team will cross bats with the team from Panhandle next Friday afternoon, the game being played on local grounds at the ball park near the school center.

The Panhandle organization is on the road for the coming weeks, and will play the Hubbers in Lubbock next Saturday and Sunday. They have previous winnings from Amarillo hanging to their belts and are now on the warpath for more scalps. Whether they will secure any in Littlefield is still a matter of conjecture, as the local lads declare they are whipping into such good form the game will be hotly contested ere they yield the honors of the diamond to the visitors.

This will doubtless be the best game of the season so far in Littlefield and the local players are desirous of having a strong representation of the Littlefield fans in the grand stand and on the bleachers.

"COURTESY AND SERVICE"

GET HAIL INSURANCE!

In the papers of last Sunday we read of a disastrous HAIL STORM in the City of Dallas that caused an estimated loss of $500,000. Littlefield and community could and might be next in the path of the destructive HAIL. HAIL INSURANCE costs little in comparison to the safety it provides. It is a legitimate production cost when you live in the HAIL belt. It should be reckoned and counted in every year just as regularly as you buy the seed.

WHAT IS THE USE IN MAKING A CROP FOR THE HARDY HAILSTONE TO HARVEST unless you are sure that someone is going to pay for that crop? And if HARDY HAILSTONE reaps, there is just one person who will pay for your crop—he is your INSURANCE MAN.

NOW is the time to talk to him. It won't cost a penny more to invest in hail insurance now than it will to wait a month, and it may mean the difference in debt and prosperity.

DAIRY FACTS

SANITARY FLOORS FOR DAIRY BARN

Sanitary floors are a first requirement to a cleanly dairy. Non-absorbent material and without crevices where dirt and filth can lodge is recommended. It should be easily washed and disinfected.

In building a dairy barn floor, all rubbish and refuse within the enclosure should be removed and the floor area graded to the required level, allowing, of course, for the thickness of the floor. The soil should be thoroughly compacted. If it is possible for water to get under the floor at any time, this possibility should be reduced by using a fill of clean gravel, cinders or crushed stone and providing suitable drainage. The gravel or cinder sub-base, if used, must be thoroughly compacted and consolidated by tamping or rolling.

Forms for defining floor slabs, alleyways or other areas to be concreted should be of smooth lumber, rigidly braced in line and carefully set to proper grade. The manger curb is usually placed first. It should be not less than four inches thick and is usually made about six inches high on the stall side. Uprights supporting stanchions are of several types. Some are attached to anchors which are set in the curb and others are embedded in the concrete. Feed and litter alleys are usually placed after the curb, then the stall platform and manger are placed.

The length of stall platform, that is, the distance from manger curb to gutter, will depend upon the breed of cattle kept. For Jerseys or Guernseys the average length is about four feet eight inches; for Holsteins about five feet is necessary. The platform should be pitched about one inch from the curb toward the gutter.

The surface of the manger should be finished smooth, with corners carefully rounded to make cleaning out easy and to provide a comfortable surface for the animals to eat from. Litter and feed alleys should be finished with a wood float to secure an even but gritty surface, thus providing secure footing for the animals.

Good Appearing Cows Not Always Most Profitable

In dairying it is entirely possible to get nothing for something. This is the conclusion of the New Jersey state dairy specialist after reviewing records of dairy herds in the Mercer County Cow-Testing association. It was found that though some cows had unsatiable appetites and good appearance they were niggardly in their milk output, whereas other cows eating but little more would give four and one-half times as much milk.

Three cows ate $79 worth of feed apiece in one year and returned their owners 3,292 pounds of milk each. Two other cows each ate $108 worth of feed and gave their owners 14,817 pounds of milk each. Thus, for 2.1 times as much feed the good cows gave four and one-half times as much milk.

By calculating further, the specialist found that it cost the owners of the poor cows $2.40 in feed for each 100 pounds of milk, against $1.13 for an equal amount of milk from the good cows. When labor, housing and haulage expenses were added, it was found that the cost of producing 100 pounds of milk with the poor cows was greater than prevailing sale prices. Hence, these low-yielding animals were eating up the profits made on the high-producers.

This is a clear case, concludes the state specialist, of wasting feed, labor and barn space on worthless cows, or of getting nothing for something.

Save Young Live Stock to Increase Net Profit

Cutting down the high and costly death rate among infant live stock is one of the farm problems for which the farmer must apply the solution himself. The causes of early deaths in live stock fall into three general classes:

1. Conditions little influenced by treatment: Malformation, extreme feebleness or extreme prematurity, certain accidents during birth.
2. Conditions capable of considerable reduction, chiefly through proper hygiene sanitary isolation, and medical treatment: Tuberculosis, acute respiratory diseases, certain acute contagious diseases, some forms of animal parasitism.
3. Conditions capable of a very great reduction through proper feeding, care, and sanitation: Acute gastrointestinal diseases, colic troubles, prematurity (if not extreme), many forms of animal parasitism.

Failure to Breed

Failure of cows to breed may be due to one of many causes. The chief cause, however, is infection with contagious abortion. This disease brings about changes in the maternal organs which make conception either uncertain or entirely impossible. The treatment consists of manual manipulation of the uterus and ovaries and regular irrigation. A cure can be brought about only by a prolonged course of treatment at a considerable expense to the owner.

LOCAL LYCEUM ON MONDAY NIGHT A DECIDED SUCCESS

Monday night was lyceum night at the high school auditorium, the program being put on entirely by local talent. There was a fair size audience present that enjoyed the program to its utmost. Doubtless many more would have been present could they have realized the high character of the program.

its talent in any department. Practically every person on the program acquitting themselves in a creditable manner, as was evidenced by the frequency of applause for encores.

The program opened with a concert by the Littlefield band, and there was both vocal and instrumental music, readings and impersonations, giving a bill of wide variety and attraction appealing to every person fortunate to attend. It was given under the auspices of the Senior class, and a neat sum was realized from the evening.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Edna Belle Gillette entertained a number of her friends last Monday afternoon in honor of her 8th birthday anniversary. The youngsters had a delightful time in romp and frolic and playing different kinds of games, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were Linna Bee Thornton, Louise Thornton, Susanna Houk, Louise Condra, Wilda Courtney, Hall Rowe, George Glenn, Q. W. Sanders, Daniel Boone Hemphill, Brant Scoggins and Joe Barton.

The incessant "cheep, cheep" of his thousand baby chicks so annoyed a Sand Point, Idaho, man, that he ran away, leaving a note asking his neighbors to care for them.

CLIFF McKNIGHT
OUT FOR SHERIFF
& TAX COLLECTOR

In this issue of The Leader appears the announcement of Cliff McKnight as a candidate for the office of sheriff and tax collector of Lamb county.

Mr. McKnight has been a citizen of Lamb county for the past nine years. For three years he lived at Sudan and is now one of the progressive and successful farmers of this section, residing on a farm which he owns two miles north of Littlefield.

In speaking of his candidacy to a Leader representative he declared his belief in the reasonable enforcement of all laws without fear or favor; that he can assure his constituents that he will be on the job at all times and endeavor to do his full duty as a sheriff, faithfully fulfilling the duties of his particular office without attempting to also be the judge and jury.

Mr. McKnight is one of the substantial citizens of this section of the county, a steady, hardworking man who endeavors to always be on the right side of every vital question arising. He is a native Texan, born at Fluvanna, in Scurry county, thirty years ago; has never before been a candidate for public office of any kind, but feels he is well qualified to fulfill the duties of this place to which he aspires, and assures the voters of his loyal and faithful attention to the work of this office in return for their support and influence.

YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

Edison, Secretary,
Board of Commerce.

When the Lord said, "Let be light," He spoke to the world as well as to all the light is life. Advertising is light—light that points the way to success. It both leads and attracts. It is customers as the electric light is the moth.

It must be an honest light—a bright light, or it will kill off or off the mark it attracts.

Advertising lights the road to prosperity. Whether you follow depend upon YOU.

Advertising is the sun around which the whole business world revolves upon its various axes. It is the light of that sun is the life of business, as it is the life of plants.

Best merchandise and honest deals are the seed of a healthy plant.
No seed, no matter how hardy, will grow without sunlight.

No matter how fertile the soil—without the seed—there can be no crop without sunlight.

Advertising is the world's greatest advertiser. American business is the world's greatest business. This is no mere coincidence. There's a reason.

No business can grow in the dark.
Even the yeoman are learning that.
Advertising is the light. Let there be light.

county arrived here Thursday and Petty thieves are quite busy in the community. Farmers on going to the field to commence their days work often find various parts of their tractor or plow missing, having been taken away during the night by some sneak thief.

and Verie, of Clarendon, are here for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bowling and family. Mrs.
Bowling is also a daughter of Mr.
Kimball.

potato plants.

house the higher grades is rapidly growing skyward. It will have eight class rooms, an auditorium, library, munity singing at Enochs Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Collier of Hale Center arrived Saturday at the home of Mrs. Collier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dunn, to spend the week end.

morning for Crosbyton to attend the commencement exercises and to visit relatives.

One of the largest gathering ever held in Enochs took place at the Enochs school building Sunday afternoon, when over 150 people attended the community singing. Several singers from Morton were present. An all day singing is to be held here the first Sunday in July.

Sunday school will be held next Sunday afternoon as usual.

day evening.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by

Concrete Sidewalks Finding Much Favor

The use of concrete for sidewalks has become so universal throughout the cities and towns of this country that a town or city of any appreciable size is rarely found in which the sidewalks are not all made of this favored material.

Concrete is now universally accepted as the ideal sidewalk material. Properly built concrete walks meet all the requirements of a good footway. They are durable, smooth without being slippery, and are pleasing and clean in appearance. Good walks are easy to build. It is only necessary to follow a Good-Looking and Durable.

few, easily understood principles, to build concrete walks that are practically everlasting.

Just four materials enter into a concrete walk—portland cement, sand, crushed stone or pebbles and water.
When these are combined in certain definite proportions, placed on a prepared foundation and allowed to harden the walk is complete. But the materials must be suitable; the foundation must be properly prepared; and the mixing and placing of the concrete must meet the requirements of sound construction principles. Failure to meet one or more of the above conditions in the early days of concrete-making was the cause of occasional poor walks being constructed.

Future "Old Home" Weeks

The "antiquated" past is not so far in the rear after all. In America it is hardly sufficiently remote to be regarded as historical in the strictest sense of that term. And yet the inclination too often is to believe that all that is worth while in American annals has been written by those of previous generations. It might not be an extravagant statement that at no time since the coming of the first white settlers to American shores has the responsibility of the individual been greater than at the present moment. There are still many old home weeks to be observed, a decade hence, a century farther on. Those who participate in such gatherings will look back upon the building which is now being done, just as we of today look back upon the structure we have received as a legacy from sturdy and high-minded forebears. — Christian Science Monitor.

Time to Plant Trees

Whatever trees we want to plant—and everybody ought to plant trees—should be planted now. The early planted trees get the best chance at making satisfactory growth. If we are going to grow a lawn—and everybody ought to grow a lawn—this is the best time to get the seed in the ground. Hot dry weather is not conducive to growing grass. It takes the cool, moist season of spring to get a new growth for a lawn started. Then if we expect to garden, plant flowers, paint the premises or otherwise let the world know that we are among those present in the world's activities, it is also time to get going. It is the time to leave our hibernating mental attitude and get into the wide-awake swing of real action.—Florence News.

City's Opportunity

Cities have the ambition to aspire to great heights when they have built their foundation with an understanding of the main essentials which go into the development of prestige and good will. Without these attributes, some cities may become richer and greater, but they do not and cannot become better. Troy has the opportunity. Troy may never become the city of half a million people; but Troy may become better and more favorably known than any city twice or three times its size if new standards are adopted and applied.—Troy Herald.

Rattler Need Not Coil

The commonly accepted belief that a rattler will not strike until after it has sounded its warning is false. If the reptile is trodden on while asleep it will strike first and do its rattling afterward.

That's Different

"Men are peculiar," harkneys Mrs.
Ottoknow. "I know a lot of them who boast of their wonderful swing with a golf club that can't wield a carpebeater worth a darn."

O. L. Schlottman, of Oenaville, after his farming interests west of town.

He was greatly pleased with the development that had taken place in this section since his last visit, and remarked about the fine outlook for crops here this year.

This is getting to be a terribly wet country. For the benefit of our foreign subscribers we are stating that there was another big rain here Tuesday night. It was accompanied by some hail, lasting only a few min-
