

Radio Talk Made By E. S. Rowe, Jr.

E. S. Rowe, Jr., who is connected with the Educational Division, Department of Public Safety, stationed at San Antonio and whose duties are to instruct the public in safety education, recently completed a series of radio talks over KONO on this subject.

Thinking that these talks would be educational and of interest to the readers of this newspaper, especially since E. S. was reared here, and still calls Littlefield home, one of such radio talks is published as follows:

The Texas Highway Patrol

The Department of Public Safety, created by the Legislature, is charged with the responsibility of enforcing the State traffic laws. The Texas Highway Patrol, a division of the Department of Public Safety, is the Traffic Enforcement branch of the service. The personnel of the Highway Patrol is composed of men who enter the service between the ages of twenty-three and thirty-five. These men are accepted only after they have passed an examination to show that they have a good basic education and after their character and ability have been proven satisfactory by a thorough investigation. They are required to complete, in the Department of Public Safety Training School, a course lasting from eight to twelve weeks on the police and service duties they are expected to perform. The appointments to the State Highway Patrol are strictly non-political. Applicants examination papers are graded by members of the faculty of the University of Texas, who do not know the names of the applicants since the papers are listed by numbers rather than names.

The men who are selected and trained to become Highway Patrolmen are charged with the responsibility of upholding the motto of the Service: Courtesy to all; Service to the public; and Protection to the lives and property of the people of the State of Texas.

Enforcement of the Traffic laws is a major duty of the State Highway Patrol but this is by no means all it does. Members of the Patrol take literally its slogan, "Courtesy, Service, Protection," and seek to abide by it. Courteous treatment is accorded even to those drivers who must be arrested for traffic law violations. Members of the Patrol are always anxious to render any service possible to a motorist who needs it, whether his distress be caused by a flat tire, an empty gasoline tank, an accident or some other cause. At the scene of accidents Patrolmen render first aid and secure medical attention for the injured, thereby saving many lives each year. A detailed report of each accident is then made and forwarded to headquarters in Austin there to be analyzed by statisticians in the Accident Prevention Bureau, in order that we may know better how to prevent future accidents.

The Texas Highway Patrol is faced with the responsibility of patrolling 24,000 miles of highways with a force of 200 men. The value of this Traffic Enforcement, carrying with it driver education of a sort that bears emphasis, reached its peak in 1938 when the Department of Public Safety with slightly over 300 men patrolling 28,000 miles of highway and examining drivers, tightened its grip on reckless and drunken drivers by concentrating on sections of road known as "DEATH CORRIDORS."

This type of selective enforcement brought Texas National Recognition for achievements in saving life and property despite increases in automobile registration and gasoline consumption. Probably the most outstanding achievement of this program was the reduction in deaths on the "Death Corridor" between Fort Worth and Dallas. In 1937 there were 34 lives lost on this 35 mile strip of the best highway in Texas. In 1938 this loss was reduced to the remarkably low sum of 4. This should prove to the most dubious persons that adequate enforcement is not only advisable but is a necessity if we are to minimize the loss of life on the highways in Texas.

At the present time, the Patrol is confronted with the problem of trying to maintain the records set in 1938 with a force of only 200 patrolmen who must each day go out and attempt to make 24,000 miles of highway safe for the people of Texas to travel on their daily activities. Realizing the fact that it is necessary for these men to work in pairs, and allowing each pair of men a 12 hour shift, by simple mathematics we can see that each of these 2 man teams must patrol a total of 460 miles of highway. A feat which is easily recognizable as an impossibility. Looking at this problem you can easily see why the Texas Highway Patrol is failing in its effort to maintain the low death rate which we so proudly exhibited in 1938.

Aside from regular patrol duty in trouble, making arrests for moving traffic violations, attending court and appearing before grand juries, and warning motorists who are not given a ticket, the Patrol must do its part in the apprehension of criminals over the state. As an example of this activity, of the seven bank robberies committed in Texas in 1939 the Texas Highway Patrol captured five of the bandits. Local officers accounted for the other two. Thus the Patrol has assisted in making bank robbery a rather unpopular and unprofitable business in Texas. Other than these cases the Patrolmen come in contact with many criminal cases in the discharge of their regular duties, including, automobile theft, burglary, counterfeiting and many others. The Patrolman must necessarily handle these cases until they can be turned to the Texas Ranger, Federal Officers or others who usually handle that type of case. All of these activities necessarily detract from the time and effort that the Patrolman is able to give to Traffic Enforcement and accident prevention.

Not the least of the Patrolman's duties is that of Safety Education. Every man in the Service is trained in Public Speaking and Safety Education. The Highway Patrolman is called upon many times to make addresses to schools, Civic clubs and other groups in the interest of Safety. These things, of course, are vitally important in any Safety Program but, as do other activities, they detract from the effort that can be expended for enforcement. The Highway Patrol also operates a traveling Safety Lane for the inspection of automobiles that moves over the State to assist cities and towns in their campaigns to make their vehicle safer and thereby further their individual Safety Programs. This activity also requires man power.

Another activity of the Highway Patrol that is becoming one of our major problems is that of escort duty. This service is rendered hundreds of times each year over the State to schools, football team booster groups, motor caravans, and other large groups that travel by automobile. Along this same line of duty the Patrolman is called many times annually to assist local officers in the smaller towns in handling traffic during celebrations, fairs and other holiday crowds when traffic becomes too heavy.

Cooperation plays an important part in the activities of the Highway Patrol, first we must at all times have the cooperation of the people of the state in order to accomplish results in any of the activities which have been mentioned. On the other hand we must cooperate with local officers all over the state in order to coordinate the effort of all officers who are interested in and who are working for Safety and the apprehension of criminals. By means of the Department of Public Safety local officers all over the state are able to know of the activities of other groups and the results obtained. To better coordinate this effort of local officers the Department maintains a radio communication system whereby they keep in touch not only with the Police officers of Texas, but also those of all the adjoining states. This radio system is in daily contact with all the larger cities in Texas, and the State Police of some ten, other states. This greatly facilitates the apprehension of automobile thieves and other criminals who in this modern time strike quickly and then move fast. The department also maintains teletypewriter communication with Police Departments all over the United States. By this system if a crime is committed in San Antonio, there will be a pick-up on the criminal all over the State and in all the adjoining states within 30 minutes.

These many activities are a part of the Service that is expected and must be rendered by a State Police organization but they are merely auxiliary activities. Our principal goal and that for which we are constantly working is accident prevention and Safety on our Texas highways and streets. When we have eliminated unnecessary accidents in Texas then we feel that our work is completed and that the job is well done. Until this goal has been reached the Highway Patrol must constantly work to improve the situation by a program of enforcement and education of our drivers.

It will probably be of interest to most of you to know that for each arrest made by the Highway Patrol there are 18 motorists who are stopped and warned that they are violating some rule of safety. These warnings are given in the hope that the driver will see his mistake and attempt to better his driving by eliminating that error. Each Patrolman on the road during an average day will assist five or six motorists who are in trouble and give information to some ten or twelve more.

The Texas Highway Patrol with a limited personnel and a large territory to patrol is endeavoring to live up to the motto of the organization: "Courtesy, Service, Protection."

It is with regret that we see this series of radio programs come to a close and we sincerely hope that the messages we have attempted to convey to you have helped to make you safer drivers and safer walkers.

Use Home-Produced Feeds Is Experiment At Tech, Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Nov. 24 — Use of home-produced feeds in feeding out small bunches of calves is the object of an experiment being conducted by the Texas Technological college animal husbandry department, W.L. Stangel, head professor, said.

Grain sorghum stubble on the college farm will be used for "roughing in" twenty calves, the roughage to be supplemented with cottonseed cake and possibly some oats pasture in late winter or early spring.

When sudan pasture becomes available, Stangel said, that will be used until late summer. Then the animals will be put on full feed, in lots, with a ration designed to fatten them economically.

"It is our hope to make this experiment as practical as possible so that the farmer may know how to utilize the stubble on his fields and to consume home grown feed," he explained. "We will keep records on feeding and gains and results. The animals will be sold as fat steers at the 1942 show in Fort Worth."

The animals will be used for class work, also, students in animal husbandry studying them as calves, feeder calves and fat steers. Stock judges will also use them in judging work. The 50 yearling steers to be delivered this week are from the Spade ranch west of Lubbock.

Bula School Sponsors Pie Supper Friday

A pie supper was sponsored by Bula School Athletic Association Friday evening when a large number attended, and a large amount of merchandise contributed by the Bula merchants was auctioned off. The proceeds went to the athletic fund.

O. G. Dickinson, superintendent of Bula school, was in Littlefield Friday canvassing business establishments for packages for the athletic fund. Mr. Dickinson, formerly principal of the Middle school, and took over his duties with the Bula school beginning of this fall term.

Mrs. Mary Peabody of the York college of Home Economics says it is a good health practice to keep growing plants in living in day hours during winter because they increase the amount of oxygen and decrease the carbon dioxide in the air.

Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary To Be Observed

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Will will be celebrated this afternoon at Emmanuel Lutheran with a special Thanksgiving service. The sermon will be preached by the local pastor, the Rev. E. H. Riese, basing his remarks on 1 Sam. 7, 12: "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." After the service a supper will be served to the invited guests.

This celebration had originally been scheduled for Sunday afternoon, but was postponed, due to the inclement weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Will have been living in the vicinity of Littlefield since the fall of 1923. Previous to that they lived in Falls County, Texas for eight years.

They have three children, one of which is married, namely, Mrs. George Zybura, who with her husband and child, Mamie, now live near San Antonio, Clara and Leroy live with their parents.

Mrs. Will was formerly Selma Luecke. Her father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Luecke Sr., live near Littlefield at the present time. Mr. Will's aged father, Mr. Gus Will of Temple, will not be able to be present.

Mrs. W. G. Street Hostess Faithful Workers Class

Members of the Faithful Workers Class of the First Baptist Sunday school, of which Mrs. Pat Boone is teacher, enjoyed their monthly luncheon meeting Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Street with Mrs. Street as hostess.

A short Thanksgiving program was rendered. Mrs. F. O. Boles led the devotional; Mrs. L. W. Jordan gave a talk on the Spirit of Thanksgiving; and Mrs. Pat Boone favored the group with a reading on the "First Thanksgiving."

Present were: Mesdames Pat Boone, Jesse Seale, V. S. Cassel, Oscar Wilemon, L. W. Jordan, F. O. Boles, Acree Barton, R. L. Byers, Viggo Peterson, Lena Howard and W. G. Street.

Mrs. Ben Lyman Hostess Tuesday Night Club

As a courtesy to the members of the Tuesday Night Club, Mrs. Ben Lyman entertained the group Tuesday evening, November 19 at bridge.

Beautiful nardises made more attractive the entertaining rooms.

Scoring high in the games were Mrs. C. E. Cooper and Mrs. L. C. Hewitt.

Others enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman were: Mrs. J. H. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Patton, Mrs. L. C. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boone and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Collins.

Mrs. Doss Maner Compliments Mrs. Baisden Friday

Mrs. Doss Maner honored Mrs. O. L. Baisden Friday evening with a stork shower. Mrs. Anna Cater was co-hostess.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with autumn cut flowers.

A very interesting program, of which Mrs. Cater had charge, was enjoyed.

Mrs. Jack Walker gave a reading, "The Cost of a Baby."

Little Glenda Maner presented the gifts in a very unique manner.

The table was laid with a beautiful lace cloth, from which were served dainty pink and blue and white sandwiches, cake and hot chocolate, to the following ladies:

The honoree, Mesdames O. L. Baisden, Joe Parrish, Hershel Barker, Percy Carter, Guy Brown, Charles Landers, H. Hodges, J. R. Hodges, Alpha McCarty, O. L. Walker, L. L. Bryant, Fred Newsom, Emzy Hobbs, Roy Meadows, A. F. Reneau, Anna Cater and the hostess, Mrs. Doss Maner.

Those sending gifts but unable to be present were: Mesdames E. J. Nowgent, Jess Elms, Bertha Westmoreland, Ab McCarty, Kyle Pringle, Edgar Purvis, and Clyde Taylor, and Misses Layes Hill, Billie Baisden and Willie Taylor.

Mrs. Sam Hutson Hostess At Buffet Supper Thursday

Mrs. Sam Hutson was hostess to a group of friends Thursday evening at a buffet supper at the Hutson home on East Sixth St.

Sheriff and Mrs. Hutson attended the Amarillo-Lubbock ball game at Lubbock, where they were joined by a number of out-of-town friends and relatives who accompanied them to Littlefield.

Following the supper, bridge was enjoyed by the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Happy Higgins, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutson, all of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Williams of Abconathy, Mr. and Mrs. Sunny Ledbetter of Vega, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGuire, and Mrs. C. W. Woodworth and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Littlefield.

Miss Oppenheimer To Review Book Here Monday Night

The Woman's Club and the Junior Study Club of Littlefield, the Anton Study Club, Amherst Study Club, and the 1935 Study Club of Sudan will present Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas in a review of "Foundation Stone" (Leila Warren) next Monday night at the First Methodist Church here.

Tickets are 40 cents and the lecture is open to the public.

"Foundation Stone," current best seller, is a story of pioneer life in Alabama and the powerful pageant has been compared naturally enough with Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind." However, it is said by critics to be of such scope and stature as to stand on its own merit.

Miss Oppenheimer definitely holds top ranking position throughout the Southwest as literary commentator, interpreter and analyst. She gave a book review in Lubbock last year, and Littlefield is fortunate to have her as their guest here on December 2.

Miss Peebles Entertains Group Of Friends Friday

Miss Jeanette Peebles entertained a group of friends Friday at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Boles on West Third Street.

Various games were enjoyed, following which refreshments of cocoa and cake were served to the following:

Misses Ernestine Short, Roverta Sullivan, Ramona Eagan, Joy Davis, Marjorie Claire Joplin, and Herbert Boles, Clifford Stovall, Oscar Wright, Robert Dennis, Junior Mauldin, and Winston Barton, and the hostess, Miss Peebles.

Miss Rosie Vrabel And Wayland Hodges Married Tuesday

The marriage of Miss Rosie Vrabel, daughter of Frank Vrabel of Littlefield, and Wayland Hodges of near Morton, was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock here.

The ceremony was performed by Judge M. W. Brewer in his office. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges will live near Morton in Cochran county, where he is carrying on farming operations.

Homemaking Girls To Serve Dinner To School Board

Members of the foods classes of the Homemaking department of the Littlefield high school, will entertain members of the school board and their wives, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Flesher and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hemphill, with a dinner tonight, Thursday, in the dining room of the department.

Miss Ernestine Cundiff is homemaking teacher.

Home Demonstration Notes

USE OF TOMATOES OR CITRUS FRUITS DAILY

Mrs. H. K. Irwin has one and one-half bushels of green tomatoes and one and one-half bushels of ripe tomatoes wrapped and stored in her cellar. These will provide her family with all the fresh tomatoes they can use until after Christmas. As tomatoes are excellent sources of vitamins and minerals they should be included in the diet daily or citrus fruit should be substituted. One hundred pounds of citrus fruits or tomatoes should be allowed for each person for a year. Mrs. Irwin is a member of the Sod House Demonstration Club.

Washable Finish on Walls Added

Mrs. Harry Brantley found the washable finish on the lower part of her kitchen walls so easy to keep that she used oilcloth for the upper part of the walls and the ceiling.

While the initial cost of the oil cloth is more than paper, it saves repapering yearly and always looks fresh and attractive and is easily cleaned. Mrs. Brantley added another coat of paint to the wood work and is very proud of a new torium by members of the senior class.

The play will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock and admission will be 15c and 25c. Students will be admitted for 15c.

Directed by Miss Eloise Hanes, senior sponsor, the play, with a $10 royalty, was written by Katherine Kavenaugh, the author of "Giri Shy," a play presented by almost the same cast last year, when the players were juniors.

butane stove. Mrs. Brantley is the kitchen demonstrator for the Perry Home Demonstration Club.

Shelf Over Kitchen Stove Saves Steps
Mrs. John Nix has found that a shelf over her kitchen stove is convenient to hold her drip coffee pot, coffee, and a few seasonings that she likes to have near the stove. She finds this saves steps and gives her more storage space. Mrs. Nix is the kitchen demonstrator for the Sod House Home Demonstration Club.

Improves Kitchen

Mrs. Elagn Baccus finds that the blue linoleum that she has just put on the working surface of her kitchen cabinet is very easy to clean and adds attractive color. As the kitchen is on the north she used a pale yellow paper to make it seem brighter and accented it with blue.

Another improvement that Mrs. Baccus finds saves time is having a drawer divided into compartments for knives, forks, and spoons. This is a way of preventing a scratching of silverware. Mrs. Baccus is the kitchen demonstrator for the Blue Bonnet H. D. Club.

Two Thanksgiving Baskets Delivered To Needy Families

Two well filled Thanksgiving baskets were delivered Wednesday, November 20, to needy families of Littlefield by the High School Girls.

The baskets were delivered Hazel Holliday, President, and Bilderback, Ida Jo Brewer, and sponsor, Miss Glays Jones.

Newly Ordained Pastor Delivers Forceful Message

Strauss Atkinson, former Littlefield, now a sophomore at Hardin-Simmons University at Lene, was ordained by the Baptist Church here Sunday noon to the full work of the pel ministry.

In the ordination service, began at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Brian, pastor at Levelland, the examination of the candidate, Rev. W. J. Jackson, Littlefield, in the ordaining prayer, Rev. Petticolas, Baptist pastor at Camp and Monroe, delivered charge to the candidate and L. S. Jenkins, Amherst, gave charge to the church. Rev. Stohan, pastor of the local church, preached the sermon.

Rev. Atkinson occupied the at the First Baptist for the 8:00 evening service and delivered very forceful message, it is ed. He returned to Abilene Mo

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gattis and daughter, Bernice, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cloise Knowles and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fox at Lubbock Thursday. Mrs. Knowles and Mrs. Fox are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gattis.

Mrs. Jack Edwards and son, Jackie Dean, of Channing visited relatives and friends here Wednesday of last week.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cogdill Thanksgiving day were her father, M. L. Morris, and Mrs. O. G. Lewis and two children and Mrs. Emma Cash and children, all of Post.

Among those attending the Amarillo-Lubbock Football game at Lubbock Thursday were; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Eagan and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farr.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cogdill Thanksgiving Day were; Mrs. Cogdill's father, M. L. Morris, her sisters Mrs. Garland Lewis and Mrs. Esma Cash and three children, all of Post, Texas.

A guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brannen Thanksgiving Day was James Snyder, student of Tech College.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Banks and children left Friday morning to spend the week end with friends at Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Latimer and three children are reported ill with Flu, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin and son Herbert, Jr. spent Thanksgiving Day in Lubbock with friends. Miss Sue Brannen, member of Hobbs, N. M. school faculty, left Thanksgiving and the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brannen, here.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and neighbors for their many deeds of kindness during the illness and at the death of our beloved husband and father. Especially do we appreciate our neighbors who brought food to our home, during this sad hour and we are grateful for the beautiful floral offering.

May the Lord in Heaven bless each of you.

Mrs. Fred M. Rose.

CONSERVATION OF TIME IN TIME OF NEED

The SNOOPER SAYS . . .

Mrs. Arbie Joplin was determined to make pictures of the first seven men to leave Lamb county for a year's military training Friday. She said she was present when the first group left here for service back in 1917, and there were no pictures made. After the dinner at the Methodist church, given in honor of these men Friday, she made a picture of the group, and caused them to laugh as she snapped the photograph, by telling them about the things that happened 23 years ago. She said at the train the young men, who are not so young now, were told to make a line, then they could kiss their mothers and their sweethearts.

I forgot to check and see if Arbie was in that group . . . but I'll bet he was!

I read in the Amherst paper about the Boy Scouts who are gathering outmoded toys, repairing and repainting them, and plan to distribute them among the children of the community who would otherwise be forgotten in the sense of giving.

Miss Ernestine Cundiff, home-making teacher in the Littlefield high school, reported the other day that girls in the homemaking club have started repairing toys for children here, and other local organizations will follow by doing the same thing. It is the hope of every person in Littlefield that no child will be forgotten here this Christmas, for the spirit of the season revolves around the children.

Which reminds me—it's time to write your letters to Santa Claus, and we hope that every child in Littlefield and territory will get a letter written soon, address it to Santa Claus, care of the Lamb County Leader.

The letters will be published as soon as they arrive here, and Santa reads the Lamb County Leader, too!

Since Littlefield celebrated Thanksgiving last Thursday and the traditional turkey day football games are over—Lubbock and Amarillo and Brownfield and Olton—our thoughts are turning to the game here today, when the Levelland Lobos invade the city to clash with the Wildcats.

As this is being written — one doubts how the boys could play on such a muddy field, and if fans would sit in the grandstands in the rain, but—true to West Texas weather—we might have a sand-storm today!

Next week promises to be a busy one. First, Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, new district superintendent of the Plainview district, will preach next Sunday morning at the First Methodist church here. Many people in this vicinity know Dr. Lipscomb, as he was pastor of the First Methodist church, Lubbock, for the past four years.

Monday night, everyone interested in book reviews will have the opportunity to hear Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas, when she appears at the Methodist church to review the book, "Foundation Stone," by Leila Warren. The review is sponsored by five clubs—two from Littlefield, the clubs at Amherst, Sudan and Anton.

Christmas ads . . . my first Christmas shopping, and the making of a trust case are slated for the week.

Then, next Sunday afternoon, I hope to see you in Lubbock at the Senior high school auditorium, when one of our world's greatest living journalists, H. R. Knickerbocker, will recite "At the Ringside of History." He is a representative of the International News Service, and he has the globe as a "beat."

In his talk December 8, Mr. Knickerbocker will bring his background of world affairs in comparison with the most up-to-the-minute developments in the swiftly changing international scene.

Mrs. W. D. T. Storey was perhaps the most disappointed person in Littlefield Thanksgiving Day. She had purchased a 26-pound turkey and invited her relatives from Brownfield for Thanksgiving dinner. Then her doctor prescribed a few days in bed and a minor operation. She followed his instructions, but wasn't very happy about the affair. However—her pride and joy—her only son, David, came home from Texas Tech for the holidays.

And she even smiled when she told me that W. D. T. and David ate left-overs for Thanksgiving dinner!

Andy Jack Stricklin scribbled in the Terry County Herald last week: "Britain's Union Jack sailors are putting this out: Sailors of all nations like their favorite drinks; the English like their gin; the American sailors like their whiskey, but the Italian sailors stay with their port! Yes, well hid in their ports, we might add!"

Heard down the street from several local business men that they didn't like . . . at all . . . the stand the Sudan News took, and it really isn't any of their business . . . about the road district and the calling of an election to vote bonds for a building of a road across the south part of Lamb County . . . and I believe I heard one of these men say, "Wasn't Sudan the town who was going to secede from Lamb county a few years ago?" Then the News starts raving about mistreating the rest of the county!

Paul Hyde of Kerrville, former assistant manager of the local Piggy Wiggle, will be in the second draft from Kerr county and will leave for camp December 2. Jimmie Ware, who returned last week end from Kerrville, reported. Since going to Kerrville, Paul has been manager of Schreiner's Grocery & Market, a large establishment. Mr. and Mrs. Ware and sons enjoyed a hunting trip in the mountains near Kerrville.

George Webster of Plainview, formerly with the West Texas Cotton Oil Company here, will leave for Brownwood this week with the National Guards.

The new 1941 automobiles are all ve-e-ry nice. But one thing could be added to any kin of car—windshield wipers on the rear windows. Has someone already thought of that, too?

One of the greatest things this town has to be thankful for this year is the paving. Not many of the streets are paved, yet, but almost everyone can go home or to town on several blocks of paving.

Junior Dirndl
Pattern 8737—The dirndl will be more in evidence than ever in offices, in classrooms and on campuses, wherever smart young things congregate. Make yours like 8732, and you'll have one of the smartest on the horizon!

The pointed shoulder yoke, sextette of buttons and big sash bow give it charming personality. And the line is that of the dirndl at its best, very full-skirted, very tiny at the waist.

You'll enjoy having it to wear on the really cold days, in wool crepe, challis or spun rayon. It looks particularly effective in two blending or sharply contrasted colors. Its a simple frock to make; design includes detailed sew chart.

Pattern No. 8732 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13 requires 4 and one-half yards of 39 inch material. One-third yard contrast for collar.

New Oliver "60" Tractor on Market Campbell is Dealer

Lon C. Campbell announced Tuesday that he is planning to handle, and will have on display at the Campbell Feed Store soon, the new Oliver "60," which is a new tractor made by the Oliver Farm Equipment Co., and now being placed on the market.

The Oliver 60 is a tractor with field-tested mounted tools, and a modern, powerful tractor at a low price. It will pull two 12-inch plows in many soils. It has reserve power for the hard spots.

George Umland of Plainview, territory representative of the Oliver Farm Equipment Co., was in Littlefield Tuesday and spent some time at the office of Lon Campbell, who is local dealer for the Oliver farm machinery.

George Mahon Is Now At Lubbock

Congressman George Mahon arrived in Lubbock Monday morning from the session of Congress in Washington. He stated that there was no activity in the House of Representatives for the present and he is anxious to get about the District as much as he is visiting among the people and listening first hand about the attitude of the people on important questions. With the exception of one month, Congress has been in session all or a part of each month for past 23 months.

Mahon stated that his office in the Federal Building at Lubbock will be open until January 1st but he himself might be called back to Washington, as Members had been authorized to return to their districts subject to the call of the Speaker.

He stated that Congress had been in consideration during the session many matters but that the present world situation had kept National Defense in the forefront. "To defy our nation and stay out of it is the object of our Congress," said.

CHURCHES

AMHERST METHODIST CHURCH

The pastor and family are anxious to get the request to return to Amherst and then the reception after the conference has been as good as the words before. There is no preacher here and if he wants to what can move if he wants to move, but it is not every move people make that benefits.

We had a good conference and it different in some respects. We requested to be at White on the way over and hold the services for a Mr. Skaggs, 92 years old. He had been a member of the church for years, and never at any place anywhere without having a blessing.

We have had a wonderful rain, it delayed our services for last until next Sunday at which we shall have the installation of all church workers and officials. To the new unification plans, we have more officials this year ever before. Then as soon as we can, the board of stewards, of education and other committees will get together to complete the organization of the work and get the year going at once.

We have a new district superintendent, Rev. W. N. Lipscomb, who has been for some time pastor of the First Methodist Church, Stock. He was our elder while White Deer. If you are not acquainted with him and family, think you will like them and their work.

Thanks to editors for church news, and we shall try to be limited in its use.

MANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH
Special Thanksgiving day services will be held tonight at 7:30. This sermon a special thanksgiving service, celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Will, will be conducted at the church at 3:00 p.m. Next Sunday we shall have Sunday School and Bible classes at 10 a.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 11:00 a.m. service. Announcements may be made to the pastor on Saturday afternoon from 1:00 and 7:00.

The evening service will begin at 7:30. This will be followed by an educational meeting of the Young People's Society and also a concert of the Junior choir.

The Aid Association for Lutherans meets Monday night, Dec. 2, 7:30 at the school.

The School Board meets Tuesday night, Dec. 3, at 7:30 at the school.

BULA AND WATSON SCHOOLS STAGE COMMUNITY DINNER AND PROGRAM

The Community Thanksgiving dinner and program staged jointly by Bula and Watson schools Thursday and sponsored by the PTA organization, was an outstanding success, according to O. G. Dickenson, Supt. of the Bula school.

About 1,000 students and their parents and friends attended.

The dinner was served in the Bula school, following which a general community get-together followed. The Primary Department of the Bula school presented the program, including dialogues and plays taking in the first, second and third grades.

Second Crop Picking

MULESHOE—Cotton farmers in this section and in the southern part of Bailey county are on their second picking of cotton. Good crops in the Enochs and Baileyboro sections are reported. Around Muleshoe two-thirds of the crop has been gathered.

Cotton Well Out

AMHERST—An estimated three-fourths of the cotton in this part of Lamb county has been gathered. There is plenty of grain and as soon as the heads are dry, it is expected there will be a brisk movement of threshed grain from Amherst.

Scientists at the University of Tennessee have announced development of an unusually high quality plastic which can be produced at relatively small cost from cottonseed hull, which heretofore has been used principally as a feed for livestock.

Levelland Gridsters
To Play Wildcats

If it doesn't rain, snow, sleet or hail, the Levelland Lobos will invade Littlefield this afternoon, Thursday, and will tangle with the local Wildcats in the last grid clash of the season, as far as the Littlefield eleven is concerned.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Postponed since November 11, this game will even be better now than if played when scheduled.

Workouts started again this week for the local squad after several days of rainy weather. Coach Abe Murphy stated that only one of his team, Donald James, was suffering from a sprained ankle, but he would be in the starting line-up.

The Levelland Lobos have a stronger record than the Wildcats this year, having lost to Brownfield with a 6-6 tie, tied in penetrations, but Brownfield won the decision with two more first downs stacked up than the Lobos. The Lobos have been undefeated this year, according to scores.

These Lobos are a hefty squad, and depend mostly on power plays, but they haven't played against the Wildcats yet. Star backfield man for the Lobos is Green, but the entire squad has been gearing its offensive might for decisive thrusts against the Wildcats.

Eight members of the Wildcat team, including four regular players will don the maroon and white for the last time today, as they will be graduating from the local high school next spring. These boys are: Farrel Compton fullback; Douglas Howell and Donald James, ends; Virgil Zimmerman and Bill Squires, tackles; Luther Cunningham, Elmo Jones and Joe Whisenant guards.

Coach Murphy reported the following starting line-up for today's game:

Brownfield Defeats Olton

Brownfield is holder of the District 5-A title after driving to a 25-6 victory over Olton Thursday at Olton. The entire Olton team the first to score, fought every minute of the play.

Funeral Services for Mark Smith Held Thursday P. M.
 Spade Resident Passes Away in Lubbock Nov. 20

Mark Smith, 46, of Spade, passed away in a Lubbock hospital last Wednesday afternoon, November 20, after an illness of several hours. Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Speck in Lubbock Thursday afternoon by Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Lubbock. Burial was in the Lubbock cemetery.

Mr. Speck is a sister of Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith underwent an operation in a Lubbock hospital about two weeks ago, and apparently had recovered, until Saturday night when he was taken back to the hospital Tuesday night, suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia. He died away the next day.

He had made his home with his brother and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stanfield of Spade for the past nine years. He was an uncle of Miss Eunice Stanfield of Spade.

Besides Mrs. Stanfield and Mrs. Speck of Lubbock, Mr. Smith is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. McNabb of Abilene, and Mrs. E. Bennett of Lamesa. He and Mrs. Stanfield and daughter, Evelyn, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bell, all of Spade, and Miss Stan-

James Ware Bags Seven-Point Buck On First Munting Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ware, and sons, James and Kenneth, returned home Friday night after a week's visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Morgan at Kerrville.

The group enjoyed deer hunting several days and the first day in the mountains, James Ware bagged a seven-point buck with the first shot.

This was the first time he had ever hunted deer, and his luck made it very thrilling.

Mrs. Morgan killed a deer the first day of the season, but Morris was unable to bag one up to Friday, when the Ware family left. Mr. Ware did not have any luck, either.

Mrs. Ware and Kenneth enjoyed trooping over the hills with the hunters.

Margaret Dutton And Jack Taylor Wed Saturday Night

The marriage of Miss Margaret Irene Dutton of Amherst, and Jack Lloyd Taylor of Spade was solemnized at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Baptist parsonage in Littlefield. Rev. Roy Shahan, local pastor, officiated with the wedding ceremony.

They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk, and son, of Spade. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dutton, Amherst, and is a senior in the Amherst high school.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor, who reside one and one-half miles south of Spade.

The couple will make their home in the Spade community.

Stories By 4-H Club Girls Due At Agent's Office

Stories by 4-H Club girls should be sent to the agent by the end of this month. This should include a story of the work they did during the year and will be based on the improvements made in yards, poultry and frame gardens. To each girl who has ten goals or more and who writes a story of her work, a 4-H pin will be presented.

From the stories that are sent in, a committee made up of 4-H girls and H. D. council member will select the girl who will receive the gold star award for 1940. This state award is given to only one outstanding girl in each county. Margaret Melton won the award for 1939 on her yard and garden improvements.

Texas Pays In State
Taxes Sixty-Nine
Million Dollars

DALLAS, Tex., Nov 18—The average Texas tax-payer now has to pay $3 for every $1 he paid in state taxes in 1920, a study just completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

The study based on figures in the association's new book, "Important Facts About Texas Oil," shows that Texas in general now pay $69,000,000 in state taxes against $23,000,000 in 1920, or 3 times as much. The Texas petroleum industry now pays $39,000,000 in state taxes against $4,000,000 in 1920 or nearly ten times as much.

During the 20-year period, the cost of state government has become virtually five times as great, while the state's population is less than one and a half times as much. The tremendous increase in governmental expenses represents an increase in per capita cost of $18.52 for each Texan. However, the average Texan's tax obligation is not this much more, but only $5.82 more than in 1920. Taxes to fill this wide gap have come from the Texas Petroleum industry, which is paying over three times as much in proportion today as the average Texan.

Figures contained in the book show that the Texas petroleum industry is now paying 44 1/2 per cent of all state property and business taxes. This is exclusive of poll and sales taxes such as the gasoline tax, which the consumer pays. However, if sales taxes are counted, petroleum and its products bear over 53 per cent of all state taxes.

Copies of the book are now being distributed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, from its Dallas headquarters in the Continental Building, to Texas oilmen, business leaders and school and college libraries and students. The 1940 edition of "Important Facts About Texas Oil" is the largest yet issued, representing ten months of work by the association's statistical staff. Besides tax data, the book contains much new information on what petroleum means to the economic life of Texas.

Skeleton Unearthed Near Whitharral

Remains of a skeleton unearthed in a gravel pit several miles northwest of Whitharral in Hockley county last week are believed to be those of prehistoric man, although conclusive evidence that this was the long-sought Folsom man was lacking, Dr. W. C. Holden, curator of the Tech Museum, said.

Amount of fossilization of the skeleton was similar to that on elephant, camel and horse bones found in the same strata, possibly 20,000 years old, he said. But due to disturbance of layers immediately above the grave by excavations of the gravel pit, proof was missing.

A portion of the skeleton was excavated and brought to the museum for study and measurement.

Excavation of the skeleton brought archeologists from University of Texas, University of New Mexico, and Texas Technological college, and from Santa Fe. Visiting scientists who came here to witness the excavation were: Dr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hibben of the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque; Eric Reed, archeologist with the National Park Service; Stanley Stubbs, archeologist with the Laboratory of Archeology at Santa Fe; A. T. Jackson, archeologist in charge, Dr. M. S. Goldstein, physical anthropologist, and T. N. Campbell, instructor in anthropology at the University of Texas.

Navy Lowers Age Limit To 17 Years

The present expansion of the Navy has created many vacancies in its ranks. To meet the urgent demand of expanding fleets and schools, for desirable young men, the minimum age limit has been lowered to 17.

If you are between the ages of 17 and 18 and are interested in the excellent opportunities the Navy offers, you may with your parents consent, enlist and serve until your 21st birthday.

Applications must be made in person at the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Abilene, Texas.

It is necessary for you to furnish authentic proof of the date and place of your birth. Young men who meet the physical, mental and moral requirements are enlisted as soon as the necessary papers are completed and transferred to the Naval Training Station, San Diego, California.

A number of boys and girls of Lamb county have entered the heifer calf contest being sponsored by the livestock men at Fort Worth's stock yards. The Four H Clubs and Vocational Agriculture students in this region are also entering the contest and Vocational Instructor J. L. Hicks of Earth, Texas has obtained sets of rules for the event.

Copies of the rules have also been mailed to Herman Rose of Olton, Texas.

The contest closes midnight, Dec. 7, 1940 and any 100-word theme, from a boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 18 may enter and his theme, if postmarked prior to midnight of Dec. 7, will be eligible. Further information about the contest may be obtained by boys or girls contacting any vocational agriculture teacher or the county agent, all of whom have copies of rules and other information. Most of them are using the method in their study of marketing methods in their groups.

Downs Chiefs Tune Of 19-0

Howard Price's Post Antelopes ended a long streak of hard-fought victories in their final game of the season at Post Wednesday, 19-0, downing the Crosbyton 19 to 0.

The job of passing by Charley plus sensational climax run by Lawrence Sherrod accounted for all the touchdowns. In the quarter, Luttrell passed to for 70 yards and the first down. In the second, Luttrell to Delmo Gossett, thus time yards and the second touchdown broke away in the third and scattered 65 yards to the Antelope scoring for 14-0. The Chiefs never threatened but were bottled up consistently in the defense featuring Taekle Hudman, Guard Clyde WIL and linebackers Ralph Dean and Waifred Carpenter.

The Antelopes started the season with two impressive victories then straight games, including conference ties that went the way on first downs. All the wins, except that by Colorado were by close margins.

Plains Pioneer Dies At Hale Center

H's Akerson, 74, for 50 years a resident of the Plains area, died at Hale Center Saturday afternoon. Mr. Akerson was born in Skane, Sweden, in 1866. He came to America in 1882. After living in Iowa, he moved to the Plains of Texas in 1890. His first work on the South Plains was repairman for the old XIT ranch.

He had been postmaster, mayor, and the first real estate agent in Hale Center.

Survivors are his wife, three daughters, and one son, one brother, and two sisters.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church at Hale Center at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Interment was in the Hale Center cemetery.

Infant Son Of Mr. Elmo Bryant Dies; Burial Friday

An infant son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Bryant of Olton, at the Hospital, in this city, Wednesday morning, passed away Friday at 7 a.m.

Funeral services were conducted at the grave in the Olton cemetery by the Olton Church of Christ pastor, Friday afternoon, where interment took place.

The child, who was named Don Lewis is reported to have been born prematurely. He weighed only four pounds, and was placed in an incubator at the hospital, but to no avail.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my many neighbors and friends for their many deeds of kindness during the illness and death of my loved one.

Especially do I wish to thank you for the beautiful floral offering.

May the Lord bless each of you and keep you, is my prayer.

Funeral Services Held Saturday For Fred M. Rose, 59

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church, Fieldton, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for Fred M. Rose, about 59. Rev. Aubrey McCauley, pastor, officiated. Interment, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home, Littlefield, took place in the Fieldton cemetery.

Mr. Rose, who had been a resident of the Fieldton community since 1934, passed away at 6:15 Wednesday afternoon, November 20, at a hospital in Mangum, Okla. The body was brought overland by Hammons to Fieldton Thursday. He had been treated in a local hospital and in Lubbock before undergoing an operation at Mangum a week before his death. Death was attributed to peritonitis, from ruptured appendix.

He was born Dec. 2, 1881 in Ohio and came to the state of Kansas with his parents when he was a child. He married when he was a young man and moved his family to Snyder, Okla., in 1918, then to Lamb county in 1934.

Mr. Rose had been a member of the Baptist church since early youth. He was very active always in civic matters in the Fieldton approve, quotas will be in effect and will apply to all States, counties, and communities where cotton is produced.

Farm Referendum-

Whether or not the farmers have cotton marketing quotas for 1941, they will still have the Agricultural Conservation part of the farm program. Quotas will effect every cotton producer; therefore, it is the duty of every cotton producer to vote his or her convictions on December 7, 1940. All eligible growers should cast their ballots to make the vote as representative as possible.

Two-thirds Vote Necessary

Marketing quotas will be in effect only if approved by at least two-thirds of the cotton producers voting in the referendum on December 7.

The 1941 marketing quota for a farm will be the cotton acreage allotment multiplied by the actual or normal yield, whichever is the larger, plus any carry-over which could have been marketed without penalty in 1940.

IF COTTON MARKETING QUOTAS ARE IN EFFECT IN 1941—

Loans

1. Producers who plant within, or unknowingly overplant their cotcommunity. He was held in the greatest respect by everyone who knew him.

ton acreage allotments will be eligible for any cotton loans offered.

2. Producers who knowingly overplant their cotton acreage allotments will not be eligible for cotton loans except on 1941 cotton in excess of their marketing quotas, and then only at 60 percent of the rate for other producers.

Penalties

3. Producers who plant within their cotton acreage allotments can market without penalty all cotton produced in 1941.

4. Producers who overplant their cotton acreage allotments will pay 3 cents per pound penalty on cotton marketed in excess of the actual or normal production of their acreage allotments.

IF COTON MARKETING QUOTAS ARE NOT IN EFFECT IN 1941—

1. No restrictions will be imposed on the amount of cotton which may be marketed by any producer regardless of the number of acres he plants.

2. No cotton loans will be available on the 1941 crop.

3. Less land will be available for soil-building and food and feed crops.

IF COTON MARKETING QUOTAS ARE OR ARE NOT IN EFFECT IN 1941—

1. Producers who plant within their cotton acreage allotments—

(a) Will receive full conservation payments.

(b) Will receive parity payments.

2. Producers who unknowingly overplant their cotton acreage allotments—

(a) Will receive conservation payments with deductions.

(b) Will not receive parity payments.

3. Producers who knowingly overplant their cotton acreage allotments—

(a) Will not receive conservation payments.

(b) Will not receive parity payments.

Marketing quotas have no effect on the cotton acreage allotment or normal yield for any farm nor in the rates of conservation or parity payments.

Quotas have been used to forestall further increases in our large cotton supply, and to protect each producer's fair share of the domestic and foreign demand for American cotton.

Excessive marketings lower the income of all cotton farmers, especially of those who are trying to produce and sell only the amount the world will take at reasonable prices.

Evins Observe Twelfth Anniversary By Installation Of New Machinery

The Evins Cleaners & Tailors are celebrating this week their twelfth anniversary in business in Littlefield having opened a cleaning and tailoring shop here in November, 1928.

In observance of this anniversary, the interior of the Evins shop has been remodelled and redecorated and in order to offer their customers the very best obtainable in cleaning or tailoring service, new equipment has been installed at a considerable expense.

New machinery and supplies have been added for the cleaning, dyeing and finishing of all leather and suede materials.

Also, a new Hoffman Press has been installed, which will be used especially for the pressing and finishing of ladies' dresses.

With this new equipment Evins is now in a position to render service second to none.

Among the services rendered by Evins are: cleaning, pressing, repairing, remodeling of ladies' and men's wear, cleaning and blocking of hats and cleaning, dyeing and refinishing of all leather and suede materials.

The Evins Cleaners and Tailors are representatives for two well known lines of tailored suits and overcoats, and a large selection of samples of both Scotch Woolen Mills and Churchill lines are on display. A nice business in this department is enjoyed by this tailor shop. Each year a new suit is awarded by one of the above companies to the representative selling the most business by a certain period, and Mr. Evins has been fortunate for the past three years in winning this award.

J. D. and R. C. Evins compose the partnership of Evins Cleaners. Coming from Altus, Okla., 12 years ago, J. D. started the business, which he has operated continuously, with the exception of two years the shop was leased to another party. In September 1937, his brother, R.C., joined him, and they have since continued together.

Before coming to Littlefield the Evins brothers were in the cleaning and pressing business in Altus, Okla., for three years.

Assisting J. D. and R. C. in the operation of the shop are Mrs. J. D. and Mrs. R. C. Evins.

Hockley County Honors First Group Trainees

Hockley county held a special public service at 10 o'clock Friday morning honoring the seven young men who will make up the county's first quota of trainees.

Sanford L. Jinkins, selective service board member, arranged the program, which included brief talks by Alvin R. Allison, state representative, Z. O. Lincoln, commander of William E. Evans post of American Legion, and Melvin Sisk, associate member of the advisory board. During the ceremony Miss Elizabeth Green presented a rose to each trainee.

Wake Lazy Insides All-Vegetable Way

Thousands turn to this way to get relief when they're lazy intestinally and it has them headachy, bilious, irritable, listless: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water, and there you are! Thus, it usually allows time for a night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning, so relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative," which helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. The millions of packages used prove its merit. Economical, too: 25 to 40 doses, 25c.

CHAPTER XI

Synopsis
Audrey Swan nicknamed "Cygne," the daughter of a highly respected horse trainer, whose farm adjoins Castle's estate. The Judge's only son, Jeffrey, has been Audrey's friend since childhood. He is educated to go into his father's law office in Parville, but marries Olive Cooper, who scoffs at the idea and wishes to live in their beautiful country home—Judge Castle's wedding present. While Jeff is away, Audrey substitutes for him. Judge Castle closes his door to Jeffrey and makes Vic his partner. Jeff, tired of loafing approaches Olive's father, Harvey Harrison, for a job, and agrees to start at the bottom, advancing only on merit. This does not please Olive, and she goes to talk to her father. In the meantime, Audrey has been talking to Judge Castle, and is just taking leave of him.

"Let me tell you something, young woman. I have made two generous marriage settlements on you. It is too late to do anything about it, except to warn you now that there'll never be a third. I have a great admiration for Castle. Your empty-headed set seems to think that marriage is some sort of a game with side trips to Reno thrown in. If you have something like that in the back of your mind again, understand once and for all you're going to do the dirty work. You'll hire the lawyers and pay the bills. No more of it for the old man. I've some regard for my station, too."

For several weeks after that there was an armed truce between the younger Castles. For the most part, the topic of Jeffrey's new job was tacitly ignored. Several times he had spoken admiringly of the corporation that had its agents in almost every civilized country on the globe. He was enjoying his work, too.

"Saturday's my half holiday. Not Friday."
"Don't always be tiresome. It's all right with your boss. You have his permission."
This brought a steady stare from Jeffrey's brown eyes. "Let's get this straight," he suggested quietly. "Are you telling me that you came down here to tell Michelson you were taking me golfing?"
"Yes? Why?"
"Well, it was kind of you. But naturally I'm not going. What would he think of me . . . not to mention the other guys here—No, thanks."
"Consideration for me comes last all the time now, doesn't it? You don't worry about what anybody thinks of me. Are you coming? It's the last time."
"Is the car out front? I'll take you down."
"I'd much rather you didn't." She hurried out, leaving him standing where he was.

"I will. Thank you very much," and Audrey made her escape in some confusion.

When Olive Castle went down stairs to have her "understanding" little talk with her father, she found Mr. Harrison alone in his library, seated in a neezy chair reading a scientific magazine. He seemed unaware of her presence until she uttered an abrupt, "Daddy!"
"Yes?" He did not raise his eyes, but his daughter lost no time in coming to the point.
"Will you please tell me what all this is about Jeffrey? He has been telling me some fantastic story about starting to work for you . . . a beginning salesman! It's positively ridiculous! Starting out that way . . ."

"I don't see why, my dear. He admitted to me that he knew nothing about the business. On that basis, I scarcely could start him out as a department head." Harrison turned his magazine on his lap, reached for his pipe lying on the table and lighted it. "I believe it is your idea that I find a job for him, wasn't it?"
"Of course it was! Anything to get him away from the notion of coming down in that village office of his father. But I took it for granted that his education would get him for some sort of an executive position with an office of his own. I won't endure, I say! I'm sure Jeffrey will either, if he finds that he has to depend on his little pay envelope for his spending money. He has expensive tastes and practically nothing with which to back them up."
Harvey Harrison sat up with a jerk. There was a cutting edge to his voice that Olive seldom heard.

"You have your boss' permission," Olive said to Jeff.

Olive was waiting for a time to put the situation to a test.
It came one Friday afternoon when there was a suggestion of spring in the air, a day when any lover of the outdoors would be longing for freedom. Dressed in a becoming sports costume, Mrs. Castle appeared in the lobby of the Harrison Products offices and smilingly inquired of the information clerk where she could find the sales department.
Olive had pictured the general sales manager as a wizened elderly gentleman with sharp features, who talked in terms of discounts. She was rather startled when she was ushered into the presence of a huge man with a smiling florid face, who hoisted himself from between the arms of his swivel chair with some effort. "How do you do, Mrs. Castle?" he boomed hospitably. "Is there something I can do for you?"
"Just a little bit of a favor," she explained coaxingly. "It's so beautiful out this afternoon that I have arranged for a foursome of golf at the country club. But I'll simply have to borrow my husband. Do you mind?"
"Oh, I see." Mr. Michelson was slightly taken aback. "Why I should think we can let you have him."
"You are a nice man! Now if you'll tell me where I can find him, I won't bother you another second. Thank you, so much."
"I was just going out to the main room," he explained. "If you will make yourself comfortable here I'll ask Mr. Castle to come over."
Jeffrey appeared almost at once. He was in his shirt sleeves, his vest was unbuttoned and he had a pencil behind one ear. "Hello," he said in mild surprise, closing the door. "What's up?"
"Get your things. You're going out with me," his wife directed briefly.
"Going out? What's happened? Anything wrong?"
"Nothing serious. You're going out to the country club to fill in a foursome. Please hurry. We haven't any too much time."
"But this is Friday, isn't it?" Jeffrey looked puzzled.
"What of it?"

Jeffrey followed more slowly, without glancing in the direction of the stenographer who was staring curiously.
Out in the hall he met Michelson returning. "Hope you have a nice game, Castle. I wouldn't mind going eighteen holes this afternoon myself."
"Funny thing," Jeff returned in a flat voice. "Mrs. Castle got her dates mixed. Thought this was Saturday. Good joke, wasn't it?"
With the advent of spring, life seemed to get back more nearly into its old cycle for Audrey Swan. Jim Sweet had taken over the cultivation of the farm in capable fashion. The coming of mild weather also brought a number of riding pupils, and the loose boxes in the large barn opened their doors to arriving equine boarders. Once more there were horses grazing in the big pasture and taking their turns at exercising on the track.
In the house, Martha Swan went about her usual tasks. There was the spring house cleaning to supervise and her flower garden to be put in order with the aid of faithful Julia.
Victor Quinn was still a frequent and welcome visitor. Audrey turned to him naturally for advice in every matter that bothered her and was conscious that they were growing closer as the time passed.
He would have felt highly encouraged had he known how lonely Audrey was on one occasion when business took him away for a matter of two weeks. She was rather startled at the discovery, herself, and it was surprisingly difficult not to reveal in an impulsive fashion her pleasure at his return.
"I believe you're really glad to see me," he had teased when they met.
"What makes you think so?" she smiled.
"Your nose told me."
"You mustn't believe in signs." So matters stood one June morning when Audrey was called to the telephone and heard: "Audrey? This is Mrs. Castle speaking. How are you?"
"Why . . . why, I'm quite well, thank you."

"The Judge happened to find out yesterday that tomorrow is Mr. Quinn's birthday. I thought it might be nice if we had him out for dinner in honor of the occasion, and I want very much to have you as our other guest. Now please don't refuse, my dear."
Audrey was thinking swiftly and reaching a conclusion before Mrs. Castle had finished. It would not be fair to Vic to refuse. "I shall be very glad to come," she answered.
"Thank you, my dear. I will send Dean for you about seven-thirty. And, if you don't mind, I shall not tell Victor. It will be a little surprise. Thank you so much. Good-by."
When the chauffeur deposited her at the front door of the big house, it developed that Victor had not yet arrived, and Audrey experienced something of a shock when Mrs. Castle accompanied her up to the dressing room near the head of the stairs.
The older woman had changed perceptibly. She seemed much smaller and there was almost a suggestion of frailty. But there was a more subtle change, a touch of wistfulness in her quiet voice. And it showed in her eyes when she remarked: "I am so glad you could come Audrey. The Judge and I live here so quietly that it seems delightful to have young people in the house again. We have both become very fond of Victor."
Audrey understood then. It was Jeff. His mother had not seen him since he went back to the city to stay and she was denied any hope of his return.
Victor was in the drawing-room chatting with the Judge when Audrey appeared in the doorway with Mrs. Castle. Blank amazement and pleasure were in his face as he hurried forward, and Audrey felt a trifle self-conscious as she tried to greet him lightly. "Many happy returns of the day, Mr. Quinn."
Victor recovered sufficiently to greet his hostess properly. "I didn't know it was a party!" he exclaimed boyishly. "This is great! I haven't had a birthday party since I was a little shaver."
"This is no party at all," Mrs. Castle smiled. "It's only a little family dinner. And I believe it is served."
That explanation lingered oddly in Audrey's mind as Judge Castle seated her while Victor was performing the same courtesy for his hostess. Only four places set at the square table. Candles at each corner giving a subdued light, touching the dull polish on the table top, the rich but simple service. A maid waited on the guests tonight. The butler was not in evidence. It was a family dinner.

After a quiet period of conversation in the Judge's library afterwards, the two guests took their departure with Victor driving Audrey home in his car. It was Victor who voiced the thought that was uppermost in both their minds when they found themselves alone. "You know, Audrey, there was something rather pathetic about our little party, pleasant as it was."
"I know," she agreed in a low voice. "They were both trying to be gallant, but they're lonely."
"Quite different from our last dinner there. It will be a year next week."
"You thought of it, too?"
"Rather. It was a very important night for me. I met a Miss Swan there and I've never been able to get her out of my mind since."

To Decide Whether Marketing Quotas Featured In 1941

Voting By All Cotton Producers Is Urged By C. W. Smiley, Chairman

Every cotton producer who believes in democracy should go to the polls December 7 and voice his opinion of the cotton marketing quotas.

For the cotton marketing quota referendum is part of the democratic process, C. W. Smiley, chairman of the Lamb County ACA committee pointed out today.

Favored by 71% in 1939
Last year in the referendum, 1,000 of the 2,700 county farmers who were eligible to vote participated in the election, 71 percent of them favoring quotas. The majority favoring quotas in Texas was 82 percent and in the nation 91.2 percent, the committee chairman declared.

Voting Important
"Voting in the referendum is just as important as voting in any other election," Smiley said. "The outcome of the marketing quota referendum will effect every cotton farmer in the county, so every cotton farmer should vote."

Polling places in Lamb County will be located at the following places:

- (1) Amherst: In the Amherst American Legion Hall.
- (2) Springlake and Earth: In the office of the Earth Co-op Gin.
- (3) Olton: In the District Court Room of Lamb County Court House.
- (4) Littlefield: In the City Hall of Littlefield.
- (5) Sudan: In the Office of the Sudan Co-op Gin.
- (6) Fieldton and Hart Camp: In Buck's Store at Fieldton.
- (7) Spade: In the office of Dean's Gin at Spade.

To Decide Interest
Voting places will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., on December 7, 1940, the number of farmers who vote will indicate whether or not the farmers actually have a personal interest in the farm program and especially the marketing quota part of it.

The question to be decided on December 7, 1940, is whether marketing quotas will be used in connection with the 1941 cotton crop. If two-thirds of the voting farmers

Man Injured in Train Car Crash

D. S. Livingstone, about 60, of Levelland, suffered injury Wednesday afternoon about 5:30 in a car-train crash about 4 miles east of Anton, at a sideroad crossing.

Mr. Livingstone, said to be a representative for Watkins Company, who was driving a light car and alone at the time, was travelling south and towards highway No. 7, when his car and the Santa Fe Eastbound passenger collided.

Mr. Livingstone was pulled from the completely wrecked car unconscious and carried by the train to the Lubbock Sanitarium, where he was found to be suffering cuts on his head and body bruises, X-rays were taken, but no broken bones indicated. He was not believed to be seriously injured.

Four Injured in Auto Collision

Two men and a boy were admitted to the Payne-Shotwell Hospital Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile collision, on highway 7, one mile east of Yellowhouse Switch, earlier in the afternoon. Another boy was treated for cuts and bruises, and allowed to go home.

A car driven by Grace Lee Brunson of near Idaloca travelling west and a car occupied by a Mexican by the name of Corres and several sons, proceeding east, met in collision.

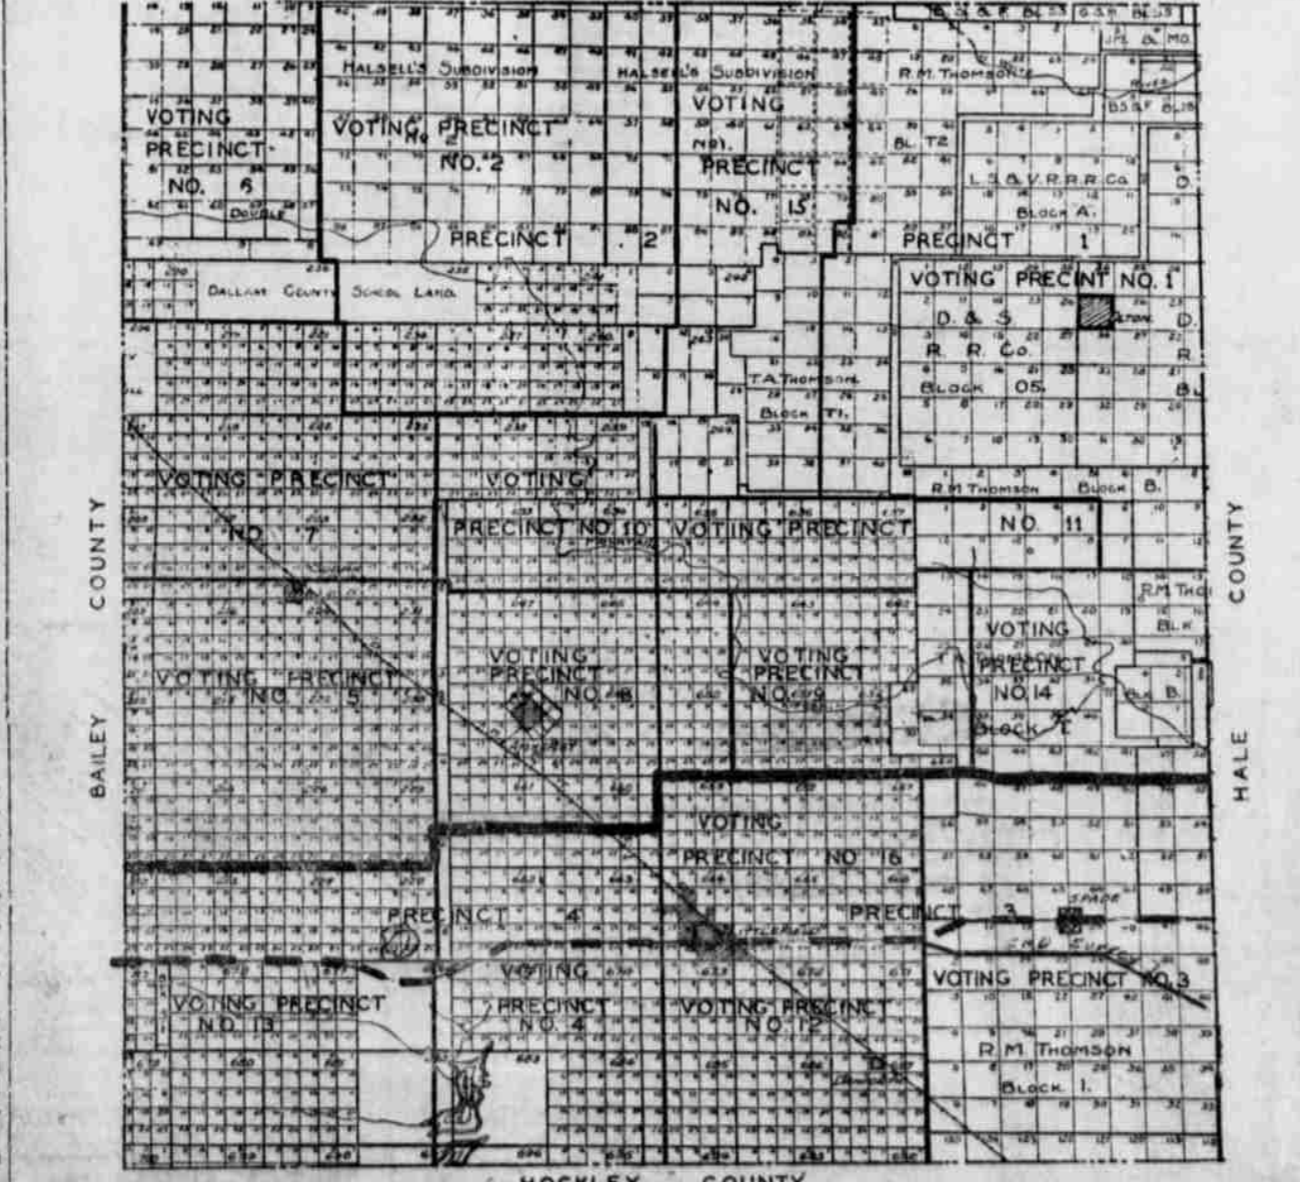

Mr. Brunson is suffering from concussion of the brain, broken ribs, and fractured collar bone. He will be confined in the hospital for several days.

Mr. Corres sustained numerous cuts and bruises and an injured neck. A son, about 15 years of age, is the most seriously injured of the Mexicans. He is suffering from a fractured skull and concussion of the brain.

Spade School Carnival Postponed To December 6

The Spade school carnival has been postponed until Friday, December 6. It was scheduled for Friday, November 29.

Route Of Proposed East-West Road

Above is shown a map of Lamb county, published to show the exact confines of proposed Road district No. 1-A and the proposed route of an east-west highway. All property south of the heavy black line is incorporated in the road bond district.

The route of the proposed east-west highway is indicated by the broken black line running east and west.

In voting precinct No. 3, the solid black line shows the route of the proposed highway in the east section of the county as the highway was tentatively mapped by the State Highway Department. A delegation, including representatives of the Commissioners court, were assured about three months ago that the route could be changed to run one mile north, as mapped along the broken black line, directly through Spade, and that it was the policy of the Highway department to have these highways best serve the people in the territories in which located.

There is every reason to believe that the road can be built next year and that the bonds will be assumed by the state under the Road Bond Assumption Act.

An election has been called for Saturday, December 21, to vote on the issuance of $30,000 in bonds, in Road district 1-A, which comprises the southwest part of Lamb county.

The proceeds of the bonds would be used to build an east-west highway, from the Hale Center county line through Spade, Littlefield, and to the west to the Bailey county line.
