Plainview Good Will Trip Ends In Near-Tragedy Late Monday

MOTOR OFFICER IS BADLY HURT NEAR AMHERST

Joe Mabray Is Thrown As Cycle Strikes Hole In Roadbed

Plainview's Panhandle-Plains Good Will trip to Littlefield ended in a near-tragedy about 5 p. m. Monday when Joe Mabray, 30 year-old Plainview motorcycle officer, was catapulted from his machine by a rough spot on Highway 7 and thrown nearly 25 feet away onto the hard caliche.

Mabray was treated in the Simpson Sanitarium here for head and face injuries before being taken to a Lubbock hospital by a Hammons Funeral Home ambulance for further treatment. An emergency X-ray by Dr. J. D. Simpson here revealed no fracture. Several stitches were taken in a deep gash in the right temple and three cuts on the cheeks and around the eyes. There was no immediate danger, the doctor said.

West Texas Hospital attaches who treated him for brain concussion, said Mabray's condition was not critical.

Mabray, who had accompanied the motorcade all day on their Monday trip, followed the highway out of Amherst while other trippers in car and bus chose the detour. He was said to be traveling at high speed when his machine struck the rough spot.

E. F. Huntsucker, Amherst newspaper publisher, returning home from Lubbock, stopped by highway near Amherst, was first to reach the scene. Huntsucker brought the injured man to Littlefield.

Mabray was motorcycle officer in Littlefield for almost a year in 1934. He went directly from Littlefield to the Plainview force. He was well known while on the force here. Details of the motorcade were published for the day.

An Easter Dawn Service

Easter Dawn and Easter Sunrise Services will be held this year throughout the United States on April 21st. Photo above is a general view showing part of the crowd of 50,000 people who gathered at the base of a gigantic cross set up on Mt. Davidson, near San Francisco, last year.

JUNIOR STUDY CLUB SPONSORING MAY FETE TO BE HELD MAY 3

The Junior Study Club is again sponsoring their annual May fete, which this year is to be in the form of a Texas Centennial Pageant to be held at the High school Friday, May 3.

Instead of featuring a May Queen this year, the Queen of Texas will be crowned the evening of the entertainment.

School children, as usual, are very enthusiastic, and are entering into rehearsals wholeheartedly.

Rehearsals began Wednesday. Mr and Mrs. R. T. Badger and Mrs. Vernie Wright spent Wednesday in Lubbock.

Work on Water Job Goes Ahead

Work is going steadily ahead this week on the $48,000 PWA-backed Littlefield water works improvement project.

About 2,700 feet of 8-inch pipe, replacing a similar amount of 6-inch pipe, had been set down, and digging of ditches for laying of 5,300 feet of 8-inch supply line was begun late in the week, according to Supervising Engineer H. N. Roberts.

About 40 laborers, both skilled and

Water To Be Cut Off

"Unfortunately, water from the city wells will be cut off from consumption once this week and possibly once next week," announced Supervising Engineer H. N. Roberts, in charge of the city's water works improvement project.

"Water users will be warned by blowing of the city hall siren an hour in advance of cutting off the supply so that they may store up water against an inconvenient shortage," said Mayor L. R. Crockett Monday.

This will last for only two or three hours at a time, and will happen only while the new supply line is being tied in to the system, the Mayor said.

Hutson, Cundiff and Hanks Are New School Trustees

INSTALLATION IS HELD MONDAY IN CITY HALL HERE

Boone Is Trustee-at-Large Again; Light Vote Is Cast

Roy Hutson, E. C. Cundiff and P. S. Hanks, school board candidates who were carried by a heavy margin into the three vacant chairs on the board in a desultory election Saturday, were officially sworn into office at a board meeting Monday night.

J. W. James, former board president, was again elected to head the board Monday. M. G. Vinther was chosen vice-president.

Closely grouped in the voting, Hutson, Cundiff and Hanks led the field with a comfortable margin over C. W. "Jack" Smiley, closest of unsuccessful candidates. Hutson polled 499 choices, Cundiff 382 and Hanks 373. Smiley drew 150 ballots. W. A. Locke 180, J. M. Blessing 105 and Bob Cox 99.

Pat Boone, unopposed, received 507 votes to maintain his Precinct 4 trustee-at-large position. Ben Gann, polling 104 votes, easily nosed out A. A. Royals in a Precinct 3 race for the other trustee-at-large chair.

A drab affair, the election drew only about 50 per cent of the paid poll tax receipts in the district. Only 564 votes, of which about 15 were mail-in ballots, were cast.

Committees appointed Monday night were: Finance and Purchasing, Homer Hall, chairman, M. G. Vinther and P. S. Hanks; School Property, Dr. J. D. Simpson, chairman, Hall and Hanks; Teachers and Course of Study, Dr. Simpson, chairman, Cundiff, Hutson and Sanders; Bus and Transportation, Vinther, chairman, Cundiff and Hutson.

Young Demos Lay Plans to Organize

Delaying actual organization until next week, the initial meeting of people interested in a young Democrats club for Littlefield, with membership in a county group, was in charge of J. Cavett.

A drive expected to bring a large attendance at the meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock was outlined, and interested people, both men and women, are urged to be on hand.

Arthur Mueller Is Seriously Ill

Arthur Mueller, who has been confined to the Simpson Sanitarium for the past week, in a very serious condition, suffering from peritonitis, caused from ruptured appendix, is reported to be getting along as well as can be expected.

The Sanitarium reported he rested well Wednesday, and apparently was holding his own pretty well.

Shot Chinese Student

TAHLEQUAH, Okla. . . . Miss Lois Thompson, 19, (above), student at the N. O. Teachers' College here, received "death threat" letters which so upset her that she opened revolver fire on the Campus at a Chinese student, wounding him.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTOMOBILE AT GRADE CROSSING

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Yandell and Grandson Killed Instantly

The residents of Littlefield and this section for many miles were stricken with grief and sympathy to learn of the instant death of three residents of Rocky Ford community, seven miles north of this city, when the fast Santa Fe passenger train No. 92, Friday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, struck an auto in which they were riding, at a grade crossing half a mile east of Littlefield.

The dead were: Samuel Yandell, 61, a farmer; Mrs. Lizzie Yandell, 63, his wife; Allen Lee Hart, five, their grandson.

The victims had been to Littlefield in the morning, purchased some groceries from a local concern, stating they would be back in the afternoon for them. They had been to Lubbock, and were returning to Littlefield enroute to their home when the tragedy occurred.

The auto was traveling southwest and had turned south onto the railroad crossing when it was struck in the middle on the driver's side, and carried for approximately 250 yards down the right of way.

All bodies were taken from the auto as it lay on the front of the engine. Mr. and Mrs. Yandell were mangled. Mrs. Yandell's face was crushed and both legs and arms shattered. Mr. Yandell suffered a long gash in the left side of his head and both legs and arms were broken. The child had a crushed skull.

The car, a Dodge Victory 6, coach was almost completely demolished. It was borne for some distance on the train's pilot, parts of the vehicle be-

BILL PROPOSES TO CUT STATE EXTENSION FUND

C. of C. Goes On Record As Opposing Any Curtailment

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon, presided over by J. S. Hilliard, vice-president, was well attended.

W. H. Cunningham, Chairman of the local farm committee, reported on an appropriation bill, which is now before the Legislature at Austin, and which proposes to cut the appropriation funds covering A. & M. College, and other agricultural colleges, experimental stations and extension service in the State.

"It is the plan," said Mr. Cunningham, "to cut the appropriation 38%, and to place the budgeting of this agricultural fund in the hands of a legislative body. If these funds are not available to continue extension work, approximately 44% of the county agents and home demonstration agents will have to be disposed of or taken care of by the county alone. This is a matter that should be taken care of by the state as a whole. The large amount, approximately $73,000,000 that has been received by the farmers of Texas as a result of this cooperation between the College and Federal agencies has benefitted every individual and every business in the state. The amount requested for the Extension Service, $281,000, is needed in order to secure the regular Federal supplementary appropriation for extension work."

"Last year $73,000,000 was distributed to the farmers in the form of cotton reduction, hog reduction and in other phases of the agricultural program. If a legislative body had charge of it, it would pass only quarterly on the budgets, and curtail progress, besides requiring all

Cotton Contracts For 1935 Must Be Signed by April 15

"Word has been received by the County Agent's office from the State Review Board that all cotton contracts for the year 1935 must be signed by April 15 to be accepted," states D. A. Adam, county agent. "It is important that all farmers who intend to sign cotton contracts for the year 1935 come to the County Agent's office and complete their contracts not later than the 15th day of April, because we will not be in a position to accept any after that date. These orders must be strictly adhered to," states D. A. Adam, County Agent.

Mr. Pat Gardner and Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Hendrix left Tuesday morning to attend the annual conference of the women's Missionary Society in Childress. Mrs. Hendrix and Mrs. Gardner are delegates. They will be gone, three days.

43 Littlefield Hi Students Scheduled for Diplomas

Provided they pass the present semester's work, 20 boys and 23 girls will march down the aisle to receive the diploma which marks completion of their regular high school training, according to Supt. A. B. Sanders.

Baccalaureate ceremonies, to be preached by a Littlefield minister as yet unnamed, will be held Sunday, May 19. No one has been as yet secured to deliver the address at the graduation exercises which will be held in the high school auditorium May 23, Mr. Sanders said.

Girls scheduled to receive diplomas, if they pass this semester's work, are Misses Hermie L. Byers, Mamie Brewer, Iris Bussey, Virginia

Cunningham, Tom Paul Jones, Misses Vergie Denton, Azee Davis, Faye Foust, Edna B. Gillette, Joyce Gill, Lucille Glover, Edythe Hobson, Mae-deane Kimmel, Genave Mason, Dorothy Newgent, Helen Ross, Louise Spann, Leona Spann, Mildred Street, Hazel Todd, Linnie B. Thornton, Ellarene Vause and Grace Wyatt.

Boys are Strauss Atkinson, Lee Beckner, J. P. Brantley, Vellie Dalton, Wesley Dunlap, Gilmer Eagan, Emory Glass, Cecil Hall, Dan Hemphill, Billie Irvin, Earl James, David McGavock, James Norman, J. M. Orr, Lenton Smith, A. B. Taylor, Jim F. Teeters, Charles Taylor, Lawrence Vinther and Ray Wright.

More Scholastic Cash For District Received

Another allotment of money on the 1,972 scholastics in the Littlefield Independent school district was received recently, according to Board Secretary H. Carl Arnold.

The latest receipt, on the basis of $2 per scholastic, brings the total amount received here to $3,940, or $6.50 of the $16.50 per scholastic allotted to the district for the 1934-35 term.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

A prominent index to the strength and communitly standing of a bank is the total deposits. Such figures also reveal the general condition of the city and territory served by that bank. Reviewing the statement of the condition of the First National Bank, Littlefield, which was published last week, it is at once very evident that the local bank is in favor with the citizenship of this city and territory and that the section which it serves is going forward financially; in fact, that this city and territory are entering into a condition of financial stability which is more common in the older settled sections of Texas and other states.

The foregoing analysis of the affairs of the First National Bank and the financial condition of this section, recalls to mind a statement we heard a few days ago by J. C. Hilbun, president of the First National Bank. Mr. Hilbun said that the farmers of Lamb County are in a better financial condition today than they have ever been. Many of them have refinanced the loans on their farms through various agencies, and have these loans at a low rate of interest with the principle payable in small annual installments. Refinancing the loans on their farms, together with government checks from various sources, has enabled the farmers to pay off obligations wholly or in part. Lamb county farmers are entering the 1935 crop season in much better financial condition than in several previous years.

Returning to the statement of the First National Bank as of March 4, and the condition of the bank has changed very little since that time, we find much that reveals the excellent general stability of the institution. We find the general financial structure in perfect proportions; in other words, loans, cash resources, and other assets are in reasonable and proper proportion to deposits and capitalization. The bank has a capital structure of more than $60,000; individual deposits totaling $426,247.46; loans totaling $112,010.36; warrants and bonds, $41,029.50; bills of exchange, $22,863.18; government cotton, $53,972.33, and cash and exchange, $234,071.23. Warrants and bonds, bills of exchange, and government cotton are all items which are convertible into cash at any desired time and, with cash and exchange, give the bank total cash assets of $351,936.24.

The First National Bank is showing a pleasing growth in all departments and President Hilbun and other officers and personnel of the institution are to be congratulated on the excellent progress being made.

Roll call was answered by foreign events.

The program was in charge of Miss Dess Key, and included the "Life of Margaret Barnes," by Miss Fern Hoover; several stories from magazines by Miss Wynonne Mason, and reports on the Federated meeting at Plainview by Mrs. Quinton Bellomy and Mrs. Roy Young.

Those attending were: Misses Erna Douglass Wyvonne Mason, Eddythe Walker, Thelma Killough, Fern Hoover, Evelyn Garlington, Johnnie Pace, Eva Gertrude Chisholm, Laura Virginia Bills, Mary Belle Montgomery, Dess Key, Pauline Courtney, Nora Belle Grizzle, and Mesdames Jack Johnson, Bill Jeffries, Roy Wade, Quinton Bellomy and Roy Young.

The next meeting will be at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Joe F. Grizzle with Miss Nora Belle as hostess.

Mrs. Dr. Duke Slowly Recovering

Mrs. Dr. Thos. B. Duke, who has been confined in the Lubbock Sanitarium for over three weeks, is reported to be slowly improving. It became necessary Friday last to remove pus from her lung, in which she suffered from pneumonia, and according to Dr. Duke, a tube is being used to drain the lung.

She is slowly regaining her strength, but it is expected that she may be in the hospital some ten days or two weeks longer.

Again TERRAPLANE

Proves amazing economy—in nation-wide test

22.9 miles to the gallon of gas—in a full-sized, 88-horsepower sedan! That's the average mileage, shown by scores of reports from leading cities, of stock Terraplans in nation-wide economy tests held just last month.

In everyday driving, of course, you don't expect the kind of gas mileage you can get under test conditions—but even in city traffic Terraplane is also the outstanding economy car.

Ruggedness Saves in Upkeep, Too!

But these affidavits also show an even more important saving from Terraplane ruggedness. Hudson's way of building automobiles—with America's only bodies all of steel, the greater ruggedness of Terraplane chassis and higher quality of materials throughout—means longer life and lower upkeep cost.

What other car can pile proof of economy on more proof, as Terraplane does for you? Drive a Terraplane, soon. Compare other lowest price cars with it. Then decide.

What "BUILT by HUDSON" Means

America's only bodies all of steel—even a roof of steel. Motors noted for their smoothness, balance and ability to develop more power than other motors of comparable size.

World's greatest stock car performance... proved by scores of official A. A. records.

Ruggedness proved in the recent 175,000-mile National Ruggedness Run.

The ELECTRIC HAND

An exclusive feature... greatest mechanical advancement of 1935. Simpler, easier, safer driving... faster, smoother shifting, with both hands always on the wheel.

All 1935 Terraplans are regularly equipped with conventional gear shift; with Electric Hand optional at small extra cost.

ECONOMY IN THE PRICES, TOO!

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Chastain of Spur were the guests over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnett. Mrs. Chastain and Mrs. Barnett are sisters.

Mrs. L. C. Hewitt and Mrs. J. O. Garlington attended a bridge party Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Stewart in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jones left Saturday night for Hamlin, Texas, where they will spend a week with friends, Mr. and Mrs. McBride.

Wyvonne Mason of Sudan Relief Office, was called Wednesday to Littlefield to assist Miss Stella Loyd in the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office in the City hall.

Homer McNutt of 9 miles southeast of Littlefield, who has been ill with pneumonia for the past two weeks, is reported to be getting along fairly well.

Gordon Cobb, surveyor with the Highway department, was taken to a Lubbock hospital last week, suffering from pneumonia. He is reported as getting along nicely.

Mrs. Bill Pass left Saturday afternoon for Ralls, Texas, where she spent Saturday night, and she and her sister, Mrs. Carroll Harber, went to Comanche, Okla., to spend a week with another sister, Mrs. J. L. Roberts, and Mr. Roberts.

Mrs. P. H. Smith of 6 miles east of Littlefield has been very ill with intestinal flu, and was recovering until the shock of her daughter's death confined her to her bed again.

SPADE

Mr. J. R. Fisher and family and Bessel Holt spent the week end in Wise County with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Phillips, who have been visiting their daughter here Mrs. L. W. Tucker, have returned to their home in Ontario, California. They left here some three weeks ago but visited in New Mexico, a sister in Phoenix, Arizona. They stated everything was nice in California but times still hard, as there were so many people coming out there and not much work.

K. W. Wells has purchased him a new V-8 Ford, also Mr. G. M. Vann, B. H. Hunt is driving a V-8 also. Mr. Nabors is too.

The sick list is improving in our community. Mrs. Bill Day, who underwent a severe operation some three weeks ago, came home last week. Mrs. W. T. Cook also came home a few days ago, and Mrs. Jack Fowler, who has been in the Lubbock Hospital is expected home.

Miss Lucile Nabors, who was hurt in a car wreck two weeks ago returned to school this week and Mary Ruth Long, who has been sick the past two weeks with the flu, is also improving.

There are several cases of whooping cough in this community. Several of the Spade people attended the Meat Show in Lubbock Monday.

THE STORY OF THE FAMOUS OLD YELLOW HOUSE RANCH

A Noted Landmark of the West in the Days That Used-To-Be

Editor's Note: The article which is appearing herewith was published first in the Amarillo News on September 21, 1925. A few months later it was reprinted in the magazine edition of the Sudan News. Through the courtesy of W. H. Weimhold, publisher of the Sudan News, R. T. Badger of the Yellow House Land Co., was loaned a copy of the Magazine Edition, and Mr. Badger had several typewritten copies made. Mr. W. H. Badger, manager of the Yellow House Land Co., kindly furnished the Leader with one of the typewritten copies.

Several of those whose names appear in the history have passed on. The old Yellow House headquarters was destroyed by fire a few years ago, and in its place is a modern home. And the famous windmill is no more. But the changes which time has wrought have not detracted from the history of that famous Yellow House Ranch. We hope that you will enjoy reading the article.

Go on the Indian reservation and ask the decrepit warrior what place he most distinctly and dearly remembers during the days of his wild, free nomadic life on the Plains, and he will say, in Spanish: "Casa Amarillo."

Ask the Mexican veteran who carried on a clandestine commercial relationship with the Indians when the Staked Plains was the borderland between Santa Fe and the settlements in central and eastern Texas what was the most noted spot and the principal rendezvous of the Indians in the days when he traded them guns and ammunition for hides, furs, and ponies, and he will say: "Las Casas Amarillos."

Ask the old buffalo hunter to name the greatest slaughtering locality, the most noted spot during that last tragic era in American game-slaying history, he will say: "The Yellow Houses."

Ask the old cow-puncher to name the one ranch he thinks most entitled to fame and distinction, and nine times out of ten he will say: "The Yellow House Ranch."

Old In History
In fact it is the one place on the Plains that blends with antiquity, antedating the knowledge of civilized man. In days of the California gold rush it was one noted spot along the route through Texas and across the "great American desert." It was the first and last watering place on the Plains. It was here that the trains camped and recuperated, and it was here that many decisive conflicts took place between the emigrants and Indians, and it was here that at least one big emigrant train was annihilated, relics of the destroyed train still being common in that vicinity. This is one slaughter during the forty-nine gold rush of which not one messenger was left to tell the tale. It is said that the first knowledge of this slaughter was revealed soon after the Civil War, when General McKenzie's frontier command discovered the skeletons and relics. From this the conclusion has been drawn that it was the last emigrant outfit to cross the Plains during the gold-fever rush.

But the name, "Yellow Houses" is derived from a fact that antedates the knowledge of man, that furnishes material for the archaeologist. This one finds the monumental evidence of primitive man's abode. Here for a considerable distance a mountain is crowned with a high ledge of soft yellow stone, and in this stone ledge are numerous excavations, unmistakably once used as dwelling places—crude but substantial homes and fortresses combined.

The prehistoric man departed and left not a bone or relic of his existence save the deserted hole homes in the hillside. In the moon-lit valley beyond, the Indian danced the scalp dance and indulged in the wild orgies of victory and went his destined way. Then for a brief period the Federal soldiers flashed upon scene and hurried along the grass trampled trail of the fleeing red man, and then for awhile all was silent, desolate, undisturbed save by the thunderous tread of drifting buffalo herds, the velvet step of the antelope and the howling of wolves at night. Then came the rugged hide hunters, who, without mercy, and dead to romance, stained the grass with gore, marked the prairie with carcasses, obliterated the Indian's greatest, most cherished and most sacred inheritance—the buffalo. The wolf revealed in the feast of food left rotting on the prairie; the antelope timidly watched and wondered from afar, and ignorantly, innocently awaited a fate longer delayed but little less complete and merciless than that of his contemporary, the buffalo. Their work complete, the hunters went, leaving tons of bleaching bone as evidence of their destructive invasion, and once more the great, wild empire of territory was silent, desolate—more silent, more desolate than ever before.

And now in 1882 entered modern commercialism. The Texas Legislature traded a lot of unsuspecting gentlemen from Chicago three million acres of "otherwise unappropriated public domain" for a three million-dollar capitol, and there was great rejoicing throughout the state, not especially because Texas was to have a three-million dollar capitol, but because we had bunched a lot of "Yanks" good and proper. The war was over, but sectional bitterness was still rampant. The moral of this story is that he who laughs last, laughs best. The three million acres of land is now worth, at a conservative estimate, fifty million dollars, whereas the capitol building has never increased in value nor produced a dollar in revenue. After taking first choice of all public domain not otherwise appropriated, the Capitol Syndicate proceeded to put under fence the largest body of land that has ever been so enclosed in the history of the world. One hundred and fifty thousand head of cattle were placed in this pasture, and the Yellow House became the principal division headquarters of the biggest cattle ranch in the world. Building material was hauled from the nearest railroad point, a distance of two hundred miles, and two good homes, numerous barns and outhouses built. These buildings now nestle among big, beautiful trees, and at the foot of the mountain, just back of them stands the highest windmill tower in the world. In order to get the full propelling force of the wind, this tower stands above the top of the mountain, the total height of the tower and windmill being above one hundred and thirty feet, but the well from which this mill pumps water is only forty feet deep. A few years ago the Capitol Syndicate decided to go out of the land and cattle business, and placed their property on the market. The first purchaser of land in any considerable quantity was the late Major George W. Littlefield, of Austin, Texas. He was given first choice of three hundred thousand acres off of the entire tract. He chose the Yellow House Division.

It was as manager of this ranch after its acquisition by Major Littlefield, that J. P. (Phelps) White made the reputation of being the greatest breeder, herd improver and ranch manager the West had ever known.

Destiny and circumstances have ever thus far crowned this locality with unusual enduring elements of fame.

And now, the Santa Fe Railroad, in the construction of its final link in its line from the Pacific Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico, penetrates the heart of this Yellow House country, and as a fitting monument to their distinguished careers Major Littlefield and Phelps White, through the medium first of Arthur P. Duggan, and lastly more largely through the Yellow House Land Company, have taken up the biggest and perhaps the most unique and meritorious agricultural development scheme the West has ever known.

A contrast. A story of evolution. Not so many years ago the gold-field-bound emigrant suffered and famished for drink, striving to reach his goal, the springs along the Yellow House Canyon, never dreaming that but a few feet below the surface he trod there was an ocean of the purest and best water. With a little digging the buffalo hunter could have provided himself with a well and an abundance of water in the heart of the range, but, through ignorance, he was forced to camp in the less desirable country along the Yellow House Canyon.

As is common with all noted frontier places, comedy, pathos, romance and mystery mingle with the history of this noted locality. Some distance from the headquarters are a number of graves, all of them showing to have been there for many years. No slab or tombstone inscription tells their story. One is left to observe and ponder. Maybe this one was killed by a falling horse or an infuriated animal. Maybe the decayed bones of Bill are there because Jim got his gun first. Maybe this one sickened and died, ministered to only by the rough hands and kind hearts of his cowboy companions. The graves give up no secrets, and the stories remain untold.

But in this vicinity are graves surrounded by greater mystery than those found in this little prairie cemetery. Some years ago a stranger appeared at the ranch and asked permission to dig for buried treasure. He was laughingly told to dig away, but cautioned him to fill up the holes when he got through. The man did his digging and went his way. Sometime after his departure it was found that he had filled with much apparent indifference, and at every one of the holes were found human bones. At every place he had dug into a human grave. All of his work had been done with precision, nothing at random. It was a much-talked-of-mystery for awhile, but that was all that ever came of it. During the discussion a good many people remembered how divers men with considerable money about their persons had mysteriously disappeared years ago, having been last heard of in this vicinity. But no one could remember the names of the lost people, nor the locality from whence they came, which made detective work ineffectual and left a large missing link in the weird history.

Like the prehistoric cave dweller, the Indian and the buffalo hunter, the big cattleman had his day and is rapidly passing on. A few intrepid "nesters" came and tried farming. With poor equipment in the way of teams and tools they met with indifferent success, but blazed the way for the real farmer, "the man with the hoe."

The big ranch, originally surveyed by the old Spanish system into Leagues, has been subdivided into Labors—tracts of 177.1 acres each. There are about 1500 of these tracts suitable for farm homes, and they are rapidly being purchased by wide awake, progressive farmers, and converted into prosperous cotton and stock farms.

The town of Littlefield is growing as if by magic. Remain away for thirty days and you hardly recognize the town when you return. Visitors say there is more activity here than in any town in the southwest. It resembles the oil towns in its rapid growth. During the present season there will be 10,000 to 12,000 bales of cotton ginned, and scores of carloads of grain and feed harvested and shipped.

Littlefield is very proud of its school system. Since the beginning the children in the school district have been transported to and from school intrucks, giving the children in the country the same advantages as those in the city. The City boasts of an $80,000.00 High school building with every modern equipment and in addition a splendid two-story brick graded school building and a modern brick primary building. Twelve hundred children are now in school, with a prospect of several hundred more before the nine month term closes.

Littlefield was recently incorporated, and is rapidly assuming city airs.

The town of Littlefield and the splendid community surrounding it is a fitting monument to the late Major George W. Littlefield, one of Texas' most respected and honored citizens. He foresaw the possibilities and future of the country when he purchased the Yellow House Ranch in 1901. After his death the trustees of his estate, J. P. White, H. A. Wroe and Whitfield Herral, realizing the time had come for settlement of the country, already started, made a deal with M. H. Reed, W. H. Badger, Houghton Brownlee, Arthur P. Duggan and W. S. Reed, composing the Yellow House Land Company, by the terms of which approximately one half of this ranch was sold to said company in April, 1923. Later, January 15, 1924, the Yellow House Land Company took over the remainder of the ranch from the Littlefield estate.

This land, by reason of its excellent location on the South Plains, where cotton is so successfully grown as well as grain and other products of the farm; and because of the wonderful fertility of the soil; close proximity to good schools, including the new Technological College at Lubbock, and the superior shipping facilities, is selling very rapidly. The happy combination of good soil, splendid water, healthful climate and Santa Fe Railroad is attracting a class of citizens that means rapid development and enhancement of value. More than three hundred farms have already been sold and at the rate they are now moving it does not require a prophet to foretell the early ownership of all this land by good farmers.

Again, like the Indian, the buffalo, the antelope, the coyote and the cowboy, all of whom have passed on, the remarkable terms on which these lands can now be purchased—and the wonderful home opportunity offered—must cease and become history. Wise indeed is the farmer, and tenant farmer especially, who acts promptly and secures his home in this prosperous, progressive community.

CROCKETT PLANS ADMINISTRATION

New Mayor Pledges Square Deal, Cooperation

Pledging continuation of present civic work and cooperation with local organizations, Mayor L. R. Crockett this week declared himself in full accord with plans for the best interests of Littlefield folks. His statement follows:

With an earnest desire to fully express to the voters of our city my deep appreciation for the trust and confidence reposed in me in re-electing me Mayor of our city, I take this method of stating that I do not have words at my command sufficient to express my thanks, and I wish to state that I have no desire or ambition other than to serve all of our people to the very best and fullest extent of my ability. I thank those who voted for me, and to those who voted against me I desire to state that I have their interests at heart and that I shall at all times be as ready to serve them as those who voted for me. Let us all lay aside any feelings in the matter and any factional spirit, if there be any, and all work together in peace and harmony for the upbuilding of our community and the good of all the people.

I have had the pleasure of serving the people of Littlefield for a number of years in an official capacity, and my past experience has created in me a burning ambition to serve the city better each year and to actually perform and put into effect the full powers of my office by attending to duty and enforcing all ordinances so far as humanly possible, and in an impartial and fair manner, and to work out a progressive program for the upbuilding of our city in keeping with a sane and economical plan of city government.

As your Mayor I shall attempt to not overlook the things that go to help the health of our people and that add to the happiness of our citizens. I am frank to state that I am in hearty accord with the work of programs of our religious organizations, and feel as an official that these organizations should have the full cooperation of all officers and citizens in their efforts to effectively carry on their work. I am sometimes inclined to think that this spirit of cooperation on the part of officials toward our religious organizations has been neglected, and that as a result places of evil have sprung up in our midst that should be torn down and done away with. I offer my full support to the civic organizations of our city, and earnestly ask their full cooperation in the work of our city government.

Again thanking you and assuring you that I am your servant and always ready to serve and help where and when possible, I conclude by saying "God bless you and keep you happy."

Sincerely,
L. R. CROCKETT, Mayor

Secure Loans To Irrigate Farms

Congressman George Mahon was advised today that it would be possible for farmers to secure loans under Title 1 of the Federal Housing Act for the purpose of putting down irrigation wells on their farms. This interpretation was made by the Legal Department of the Federal Housing Administration after Mr. Mahon had called on them in regard to the irrigation problem.

The Act provides that the Federal Housing Administration may insure loans made by local bankers to home owners for the purpose of making improvements up to $2,000. A farmer may apply to his local banker for funds to put down a well and provide the equipment. If this loan is made in accordance with the regulations of the Act, it will be insured by the Federal Housing Administration, according to the information received.

Of course, the local banks would be the judges of the soundness and desirability of this type loan. The future policy of the Federal Housing Administration cannot be predicted with certainty.

Weather Causes Drop In Automobile Sales

MERCHANTS PLEASSED BY "BEST STYLE SHOW EVER HELD HERE"

Curtain was rung down Friday night on what was said to have been by far the most colorful and most successful Spring style show ever held in Littlefield.

Merchants taking part were unanimous in the belief that the 1935 Spring fashion display spread "clothes consciousness" among people all over the trades territory. Sponsored by the Junior Study Club, and directed jointly by George Alguire and Miss Dess Key, the show was particularly effective in bringing before a packed Palace Theatre audience the color and cut of 1935 fashions for ladies.

Clever songs and dances were interspersed with modeling numbers to make the show a decided hit. Dan Alguire was a masterful master of ceremonies. Models were: for Replin's Department Store, Wanda Dunn and Blanche Fowler; for Ware's Department Store, Frances Seely and Marinell Keithley; for Cuenco's Dry Goods Company, Olga and Opal Carpenter; for Fink's Dry Goods, Ella Mary Gattis and Regina Crow.

The chorus included Wynn, Genave and Ada Bell Mason, Gilmer Eagan, Julian Timian and Jack Norman. Heading the dance numbers was a beautiful exhibition waltz by Cynthia and George Alguire. Other dancers who also modeled were Clyde Willis, Louise Thornton, Ernestine Cundiff, Dan Alguire and Ada Belle Mason won applause with a snappy vocal.

"Good Ship Lollipop" number, roundly applauded, included Ernestine Short, Ramona Eagan, Janith Hewitt, Jean Wynn, Jane Whicker, Mazine and Wanda Jean Davenport, Billie Jean Mason, Dorothy Wales Etter, Mary Louise Sanders and Betty Kate Holladay. Misses Edgelythe Walker and Evelyn Garlington directed, with Miss Garlington as accompanist. Bill Norris was pianist for the show.

Last Rites Are Held For Lucile Gabehart Thursday

Lucile Babehart, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gabehart, living five miles west of Olton, died while at school Wednesday of last week, report of which came as a shock to the entire community.

The child complained of a headache just before noon and was advised by her teacher to get some fresh air and then go to the home economics cottage and lie down. Two of her classmates were sent to the cottage to attend her in the event they might be of service.

Headaches among the students not being uncommon, the teachers never suspected there might be serious consequences. However, when Lucile and her companions remained at the cottage after the noon recess, another classmate was sent to inquire as to her condition. She reported that Lucile was very sick and F. M. Lawson, principle of the grammar school, rushed for a doctor. When Dr. Holt arrived with Mr. Lawson, he reported the child in a dying condition and she expired six minutes after his arrival, which was about 2:45 o'clock.

Lucile was a member of the seventh grade class and is said by her principal and teacher to have been one of the best students in the grammar school.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, at the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, the business houses of Olton closing during the funeral hour. Interment was at Olton cemetery.

Her classmates all attended the funeral, six of the little girls giving a song, the remainder of the girls acting as flower girls, while the boys were all seated in a group.

Besides her parents she is survived by a younger sister, Vida, who are extended the deepest sympathy of their many friends.

Continental Ads To Be Displayed On Cars and Trucks

One of the most unusual and dramatic ways ever conceived to exploit the use of newspaper advertising has been adopted by the Continental Oil Company.

A novel contest has been inaugurated whereby during the coming Spring months cars and trucks will be seen on the streets and highways of some forty states plastered in hodge-podge compelling fashion with reprints of Continental's newspaper advertisements.

In addition to the circulation of ten million that Continental Oil Company gets for its advertising by using 1,363 daily and weekly newspapers, Continental's advertisements through this unique stunt will do double duty this Spring.

The unique appearance of Continental cars and trucks not only serves to call attention to the Conoco campaign now running in newspapers, but also reminds Conoco salesmen of the tremendous number of car owners who read about Conoco products throughout the year in their newspapers.

It is estimated that more than 3,000 cars and trucks will participate in the stunt. Aside from these company-owned and operated vehicles, it is expected that good percentage of the 22,000 Conoco dealers will likewise participate.

Continental is one of the country's largest users of newspaper advertising and gives this medium a large share of the credit in achieving an increase of 60.4 per cent of Conoco Germ Processed Oil since Apr., 1934. Continental this year is celebrating its sixtieth anniversary. It began operations in Ogden, Utah, in 1875. From a small distributor of Kerosene and lubricants long before the advent of the motor car it has grown into one of the nations leading oil companies.

Judge Hopping Member of State Planning Board

Judge R. C. Hopping, sales manager for Ellwood Farms, Lubbock, who was a former resident of Littlefield, and a county judge of Lamb County, was named a member of the state planning board by Governor James V. Alfred. Announcement of the board's personnel was made Saturday.

Mr. Hopping will represent agriculture on the board.

W. M. Massie, Fort Worth banker, was named chairman; Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo newspaper general manager and Hull Youngblood, San Antonio, were named as "independent" members; Wallace Reilly, Dallas, to represent labor and Ernest L. Kirth, Lufkin, lumberman, to represent reforestation.

Besides these, the secretary of state, chairman of the board of water engineers and state engineer, comprise the board.

Ford To Install Glass Manufacturing Equipment in Plant

Dearborn, Mich., April 3—The Ford Motor Company is making preparations to install new glass manufacturing equipment in the glass factory at the Rouge Plant and is expected to resume glass manufacture next winter, it was announced today at the company's home offices here. The cost of the project will be approximately $3,000,000.

The glass plant project increases to some $23,000,000 the cost of present expansion program at the Rouge Plant. Work already under way involves the construction of a new hot strip steel rolling mill, a new cold sheet steel finishing mill, modernization of the power plant into the largest high pressure steam power plant in the world, installation of new furnaces and other equipment in the foundry for casting of alloy steel parts, modernization of one of the blast furnaces, and installation of equipment and other facilities throughout the plant to increase its capacity to 5,000 cars per 16-hour day.

NEW FILPRO FILTER INSTALLED AT LITTLEFIELD TAILOR SHOP

Forging ahead with their program to put the Littlefield Tailor Shop on a par with the best shops in Texas, E. H. Maddox, proprietor, and his staff, have installed the famous new patented Filpro filtration process for cleaning clothes.

"Under this process, a suit of clothes brought to our shop is thoroughly cleaned by a rapid, continuous flow of 345 gallons of solvent," said Mr. Maddox. "Our new Filpro pressure filter sends 1,000 gallons of water white solvent per hour flowing in a continuous stream from the filter through the washer and back again."

To insure perfect sanitation, the solvent passes through 21 Monel-Metal screens, finely meshed, on each trip from washer to filter.

A separate washer for finely woven, delicately colored clothing is used. No woollens and silks are sent through the same washer, and the solvent is run through for purification following cleaning of woollens before it is allowed to touch silken materials, Mr. Maddox declared.

"We are endeavoring to bring to the people of Littlefield and vicinity the ultimate in cleaning and pressing of clothing," he said. "We are now equipped to clean perfectly any article of wearing apparel."

Modern Cooking . . .

The New Waldorf sets the pace with the most important advances in Electric Range development. You'll find solid, sturdy construction without forfeiting light weight. Beautiful, utilitarian door handles. The chromium element rings lend sparkle to the appearance, as well as provide for ease of cleaning. Heavily enameled convenience drawers roll easily and silently forward until stopped by the lock slide.

Broiling equipment is provided with an advanced type smokeless broiler assuring the certainty of delicately crusted meats. High-speed surface elements make the range one of the fastest boiling elements ever produced. Think of this—on "medium" heat, only the two outside coils are hot, giving even heat distribution (eliminating customary hot center) when using a large skillet or griddle.

Waldorf places the convenience outlet adjacent to the worktable space where it really is a "convenience." Shake-proof terminal connections or elements eliminate the annoying service problem caused by these important terminals becoming loosened by vibration. Waldorf's self-closing oven door has the feeling of a piece of precision equipment. It comes to rest in the open position with an easy, cushion-like movement. In closing, it moves forward almost automatically after being raised to the half-way position.

During the month of April only the New Waldorf is being offered at a marvelously low figure.

Prices Range from $74.50 to $99.50

On convenient terms (slightly higher) as low as $2.90 per month. Prices include range installed in your home. Your old range, regardless of its type, age or condition, will be accepted as a liberal down payment.

"Broadway Bill" To Be Featured

Palace Theatre

Hollywood's favorite director—favorite since his two smash hits in a row, "Lary for a Day" and "It Happened One Night"—has made another picture—"Broadway Bill," which will be featured at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday afternoon, Sunday night and Monday.

The story of "Broadway Bill" is a simple one . . . it is all in the manner of telling it. It belongs to that new type of "charm" picture, introduced by Capra in "It Happened One Night," and followed up so successfully by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor film, "The Thin Man." It is an intangible quality, evasive, fleeting . . . yet paradoxically something definite that transforms a simple romantic tale into something inspired. Such is the genius of Capra . . . and that he has endowed to "Broadway Bill."

WARNER BAXTER

Warner Baxter, the young man, is married into a rich family that dominates the industries of a small town. The in-laws insist that the boy buckle down and become a valuable asset to the family, and the lad takes his racehorse to the tracks and tries to win a race or two with it.

The cast is a typical Capra aggregation—all ace performers. Supporting the stars are Walter Connolly, Helen Vinson, Raymond Walburn, Frankie Darro, Claude Gillingwater and many others.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, Pastor

The pastor's subject at the morning hour will be "The Meaning of Church Membership as Taught in the 18 Declarations of Faith." The Sunday school will start promptly at nine forty five and the Assembly program will be by the Primary department. The B. T. U. will meet at seven fifteen and complete arrangements for their study course. Rev. Vernie Pipes of Earth has been invited to assist the Seniors through next week in their training work and has accepted the invitation. Classes will be taught in all three branches of the work. The evening preaching service will follow the B. T. U. program. The pastor subject will be, "Repentance as Taught by the Bible."

CHURCHES

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH

A well filled house enjoyed the special song and preaching service last Friday night, at which Evangelist John R. Denning also outlined the Scriptural creed of the church, as a prelude to his sermon on "The Three Crosses of Calvary."

In addition to a goodly number of local folks, there were also representative families from the rural districts, Amherst, Lum's Chapel, and other nearby communities.

This coming Friday evening, April 12th, at 8:15, another such service will be held. The sermon subject will be "An Unchanging Need for an Everchanging World." In this message will be discussed such questions as: "Should a man be called upon to pray on Sunday, who drinks and gambles on Monday?"

"Does a deacon's duty require him to hold a stop-watch on the preacher?"

"Can a baptized church member go to hell?"

Next Sunday, the subjects will be: 11:00 a. m.—"GOD—Idol or Person, Which?"

8:00 p. m.—"The Divine Order of Human Events."

Come, worship where poor folks feel at home, "And Ye Shall Know the Truth, and the Truth Shall Make You Free."

METHODIST CHURCH

John Witt Hendrix, Pastor

These are most important days. We approach Easter. Next Sunday we shall celebrate Palm Sunday. This is the day our Lord made his triumphant journey to Jerusalem. Thereafter follows Passion Week—the week our Lord spent in the Holy City which ended in his crucifixion. We plan appropriate services for the coming week.

Church school will meet in regular session at 9:45 a. m., and after this—11 o'clock—we will have public worship. The choir has made ready some special music of a very high order. The pastor will deliver a sermon, "Meaning of the Triumphant Entry." In the evening the music will be in charge of the Choral club and you'll like it. Perhaps you missed the program of last Sunday evening; if you did you missed a treat which a large audience enjoyed. The pastor will deliver a sermon and the subject will be "Is God Lax?" It appears the proper moment to treat this subject, "Is God Lax?" Does he appear to be lax.

Services will continue in the evening all thru next week. Later we may announce prayer service for the morning hour.

The Leagues will meet at 7:15 p. m. Evening services, 8 p. m.

Church Choral Club

Easter Evening

On Sunday evening, April 21, Easter evening, the Dramatic and Choral club of the Methodist church will present the most noted play, "THE CHALLENGE OF THE CROSS." They are in preparation for this drama now. It will feature a drama of high order and appropriate music. Don't miss it.

Rev. Nance To Assist in Passion Week Services

This is to announce that Rev. B. L. Nance will help in the Passion Week services to be held in the Methodist church. Bro. Nance has been a most efficient member of this conference for some years. For several years he was the leader in the New Mexico conference in the Sunday school work. He lives in Phoenix, Arizona; but is here for some weeks of labor among his old friends.

The pastor and church count themselves fortunate in being able to secure a helper of such note for this Passion Week services. Perhaps he is one of the most effectual personal workers to be had anywhere. It might be said in this connection—if you do not come to see him in the services he will come to see you in the home.

In fact, it is the purpose of these services to lead the church to bear to the homes a message of inspiration and a call to re-dedication. The church must bear to each and every one a message of deliverance through our Lord and Master.

Every organization of the church is being asked to push its claims upon all its members. Each such organization is being made ready to approach in this manner its task. It will be something different. It is our conviction that the church must present its claims for our Saviour over the lives of men.

Lambert Is District Net Champ; Others Go

CATS UNDAUNTED BY SAND BLASTS

Brack Pins Hopes on 12-15 Gridders For 1935

About twelve to fifteen good Wildcat gridders can be worked into shape to represent Littlefield in 1935 District football competition, according to Coach Brack Barksdale.

Spring football workouts went ahead this week, regardless of blistering sands, which swept Wildcat field at intervals. Blocking, tackling, running and passing were stressed Monday and Tuesday under the intensive Barksdale program.

Starting last of this week, daily scrimmages will be the order. Climaxing the first three weeks' Spring rehearsals will be an inter-squad exhibition game which should bring fans to the field. The Wildcat mentor will split his charges into two teams for a match on the afternoon of about April 26, he said.

Young Boone Wins

Pat Boone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boone, who won the Lamb county ward school division of scholastic ready-writers contests, placed third in District 3 competition at Lubbock Monday.

Young Boone's third helped put Littlefield among the first five schools in the district contests. Judges compiled ready-writers scores late Monday.

WIN AT MULESHOE

Lloyd and Boyd Gilreath of Circle Back teamed up to place second in tennis doubles at the Bailey county meet at Muleshoe recently. They are eighth and ninth graders, respectively.

MULESHOE WINS

Muleshoe led the field in Bailey county's annual interscholastic league contests held at Muleshoe recently. Baileyboro was a close second in track and field events.

Watson and Longview led rural school literary contests. Baileyboro was first in Junior track-field. Good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the meet.

MORTON WINS

Morton marched through Cochran county interscholastic league competition recently and piled up 180 points in winning an easy first place. Lakman followed with 67 and a half points, Bledsoe was third with 42 and a half, and Neely ward, with 2 and a half units was fourth.

LOBOES FEAST

Annual athletic banquet of the Levelland Lobo grid and cage squad was held at the Levelland Methodist church recently. Nineteen sweaters were awarded.

Supt. L. T. Green was toastmaster and Coach Bill Stevens introduced members of the squads.

ANTON SOFTBALL ORGANIZED

Anton's softball forces met in the town's theatre building Monday night to lay the foundation for the 1935 playing season. League rules governing teams and play were drawn up.

AMHERST NINE WORKS OUT

Amherst's baseball club last week held its first workout to get in shape for the 1935 season. W. E. Roland is manager of the club.

The Dusky Threat

DETROIT... The big shot in Joe Louis' life is just ahead in a battle with Primo Carnera, former world champion, at New York in June. Louis (above), is the sensational 196 pound Detroit Negro heavyweight who has won his last seventeen consecutive battles.

GAMES NEXT WEEK

(All to Start at 6:30)
Mon.—All Stars vs. Legion
Tues.—Businessmen vs. Flyers
Wed.—Faculty vs. Firemen
Thurs.—Sunnydale vs. Producers
Fri.—Flyers vs. Faculty

BIG GUNS OF CITY BALL ARE READY

All Stars, Legion To Clash In Opener Monday

Two big guns of city softball will lay down the opening League barrage on the city lot Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Jim Davenport's All Stars, last year champions, will clash with Rev. Luecke's reorganized American Legion team. All Star batteries will be Davenport in the box and either Wilson or Walker behind the plate.

Starting on the mound for the Legionnaires will probably be Luecke, with Otis Scott, ace Fire club hurler last year, ready for relief. Behind the platter will probably be Grady Simpson.

BECK NEWS

Rev. L. P. Jordan filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church here Sunday. The pastor of the Muleshoe Baptist church preached for us Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Benton and Miss Nelda Benton were Lubbock visitors last Saturday.

Mr. R. H. Moses and Mr. Alvin Wtaker are being treated at the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock for sinus trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown of Sudan and formerly of Beck, are the proud parents of a girl, born the 6th of April.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Benton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Mann Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chisholm were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Benton Sunday.

Mr. Lynn Smith is confined to his bed with the flu.

SPORT WORLD

By BILL NORRIS

FRENZY: A Pome
We're waitin' fer
Next Monday aft.,
Suspense will shorely
Drive us daft.

The All Stars and
The Legion team
Will open with
A burst of steam.

We'll dish the dirt
With pen in hand;
To dish THIS dirt
Takes plenty sand!

Which, if you can decipher the above tripe, means that Monday afternoon will see the official christening of the good ship "Softball" prior to being launched on the 1935 summer tour. For christening ceremonies, All Stars and Legionnaires will provide the battle, and the water boys the bottle. What a launching!

A prize plum pops up in the form of a soft drinks concession to be put up at the softball lot sometime this month. City league heads announced date for receiving bids, shook sad heads over the three bids which were filed, moved the date up ten days on the calendar and settled back to wait for a more likely offer.

Last summer the lot was packed with fans, both afoot and in cars. This summer, indications are that the turnout will be even larger. Sole rights to the sale of pop, ice cream and other lightsome frothies would over a period of some four and a half months, put the favored bidder in a position to get financially well.

Taking of bids was to have closed yesterday. Let's all choose up and hope that some far-sighted gentmans placed enough shekels on the line to satisfy the top shots of city softball. Because if the gentmans did, he will surely line his purse with a goodly take of the long green, come September.

Conditions, from the standpoint of both player and fan, will be much better this season than last. Last year, games were played under light supplied from a paltry 12,000 watts. This year, all the incandescence that some 24,000 wattsworth, (another good word,) of power can supply will bathe the diamond in a veritable blaze of light. Eight poles mounted with 3 1000-watt lamps apiece will be installed.

This is twice the power used last year, and easily puts Littlefield's diamond on a par with the best lighted softball field anywhere, opines Manager Sam Batton of the local branch of Texas Utilities. Some pumpkins, eh?

Bouquet of the week goes, without reservations, to light-thatched Barney Lambert, Littlefield High's ace netman, who lobbed and backhanded his way through three county champions into District 3 tennis tops. Great things are expected when Lambert engages the other district winner in the Region I matches at Canyon, last of the week. Very nice, Mr. Lambert, ver-nee-nice.

Heart felt condolences to L. V. Pierce, a hard-working Wildcat pole vaulter, who tried his scrapper's Saturday to clear the District 3 bar at a height over which he had gone more than once in practice. But a game leg, troublesome all season, returned to heckle the youngster at a very inopportune time. Better luck next year, Pierce.

LAMB SHARES IN RELIEF ALLOTMENT

Lamb county's share of Texas Relief commission money recently allotted for commodity distribution to needy families is $224.

Other South Plains counties scheduled to share $4,989.50 in relief money were Hale, for commodity distribution, and road improvement, $3,148; Lubbock commodity distribution, $1,347.50; Swisher, commodity distribution, $250.

OLTON THINCLADS IN SECOND PLACE

Hughes Boots Lamesans In To Another First

Lamesa's Hughes, Dawson county white-haired boy, was too much for Olton thinclads, 1933 District 3 winners, who finished a close second at Lubbock Saturday. Repeating their 1934 victory, the Tornados piled up 25 points to Olton's 21.

Saturday's clash saw only one district record, the discus mark, shattered. Hughes heaved the platter 121 feet, 11 inches to better the old mark by 15 inches.

Amherst picked up one point when E. Davis placed fourth in the pole vault. Littlefield's hope, L. V. Pierce, failed to clear over 10 feet after vaulting around 10 feet 6 inches, the winning height at Lubbock, several times this season. A slightly lame leg kept the local boy from getting any higher.

Price of Spring Lake was third in the running broad jump. Muleshoe garnered two points when Faulkner placed fourth in the 100-yard dash and the 220 sprint.

Olton's points were made as follows: 120-yd. high hurdles, Vaughn, second, Bryant third; 220-yd. low hurdles, Lain, second; discus, Bryant second; 12-pound shot put, Bryant, first; javelin throw, Gray second, Fair third, Bryant, with 10 points, was third in the high point race.

Otha Key to Manage Branch Office For Higginbotham Co.

Otha Key, who has assumed the management of the Lamb County Lumber Company for the past several years, has become connected with the Higginbotham-Bartlett organization, and left early Sunday morning for Mountainview, Okla., where he will manage a branch office.

SALE OF PONTIAC CARS INCREASING

Pontiac dealers throughout the United States delivered 5,334 new cars during the second ten days of March, which, with one exception, is the largest ten day period the company has had since 1929. This record just established exceeds the first ten days of the month by 900 cars and forecasts a total for March of 16,000 deliveries which has not been equalled since July 1929. March deliveries of Pontiacs are running far ahead of last month as well as March, 1934, it was pointed out by factory executives.

ROCKY FORD

Sunday school and church services were not quite so well attended last Sunday on account of accident that happened to some of our best neighbors and friends. We refer to Sam Yendell and wife, and grandson, Allen Lee Harp. No community ever had better people than they. Honest, upright, Christian people they were, standing for everything that makes the world a better place in which to live.

L. L. Dunn and wife and D. Dunn were called to Hamlin last week to attend the bedside of a sick brother. They returned Friday leaving their brother not improving. They report that they really saw it rain while they were gone. Lots of us really envy them that experience. John Rogers and family of Olton were visitors here Sunday evening.

Raymond Leggett and wife of Wilson visited in the D. J. Dunlap home over the week end.

Mrs. Cleo Rogers was called to Plainview Saturday to see her mother who was very ill.

We will endeavor to have more news for next week.

PLEASE LET US KNOW

—if anybody dies, elopes, marries, has a fire, leaves town, embezzles, sells a farm, has a party, has a baby, gets drowned, is ill, buys a home, moves to town, has an operation, commits murder, repairs their home, has an auto crash, falls from an airplane, or any unusual happening— THAT'S NEWS—

His Big Chance

CLEVELAND... Boy Hughes (above), 22, is the rookie shortstop the Cleveland A. L. baseball team now throws into big league battles, due to the illness of its star, Bill Knickerbocker, recovering from an operation. Hughes is playing brilliantly.

What They're Doing

Connie Still At It!

Connie Mack, grand old man of baseball, is still at it, even though 72 years old.

"I don't intend to retire for ten years yet," declares the aged coach of the Philly A's. Yet Connie is laying the groundwork for a withdrawal. Earl Mack, 43, his able son, stands ready to step into his shoes, should the need arise, and Connie is sending his Duke-graduated stepson, Connie McGillicuddy, Jr., through every phase of the business.

Gehrig Honored Again

Lou Gehrig, Yank first-sacker, received additional honor when the New York City Baseball Federation set April 14 as the night for a testimonial dance and entertainment for him. Baseball's "Iron Horse," was honored recently in a ceremonial acknowledging signing of his $30,000-a-season contract on Col. Jake Ruppert's payroll.

"Ruth Can't Do It"

Can Ruth live up to the heavy emphasis placed on him by the Boston Braves? Close followers of big league ball don't seem to think so.

Mannerer McKechnie passed up a good thing when the veteran Pat Malone was waived some time ago, the critics think. Also, the Braves have a big hole at second base, which, the way it looks at present, will not be filled.

Cards' Tigers Picked

St. Louis in the National and Detroit in the American will repeat the pennant-snatching performances of last year in 1935, if what 194 members of the Baseball Writers' association of America say may be regarded as a gauge of how the season will go.

Olton C. of C. Buys Calf Fed by Merrill Which Places 6th

The Olton Chamber of Commerce bought the 4-H Club calf fed by Merrill Briggance of Olton, at the Quality Meat Show at Lubbock last week. The calf sold for 13 3-4 per pound, states Donald Turner, Assistant County Agent. This calf placed 6th at the show.

This is young Briggance's third year as a 4-H Club calf feeder, and he is making plans now for feeding another car lot, and three individual calves. These calves will be selected within the next few days.

SYNOPSIS . . . Ellen Church, 17 years old, finds herself alone in the world with her artist mother's last warning ringing in her ears, to "love lightly." Of the world she knew little. All her life she had lived in a small rural community . . . Ellen, alone, turned to the only contact she knew, an art agent in New York. Posing, years of posing, was her only talent so she was introduced to two leading artists, Dick Alver and Sandy Macintosh. Both used her as a model and both fell in love with her . . . but Ellen, trying to follow the warped philosophy of her mother to "love lightly," resists the thought of love. Her circle of friends is small, artists and two or three girl models. Ellen attends a ball with Sandy. While dancing a tall young man claimed her and romance is born. A ride in the park, proposal, the next day marriage to Tony, and wealth. But she'd "Love Lightly," Ellen told herself. She would never let him know how desperately she loved him, even though she were his wife. Ellen insists upon living her own life, maintaining her home in her small room, even though Tony is wealthy . . . Jane, of Tony's wealthy set, is disappointed in Tony's sudden marriage to Ellen. Jane then makes every effort to win Tony away from Ellen. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

were certain barriers that they never crossed. Tony never came up to Ellen's room. He always met her at the curb, he always waited there in his red roadster. He always left her at the front door, with a brief and hurried word of good-night. And, they never danced together, either. Ellen knew that she couldn't keep up this friendship pretense if his arms were around her and his body was close against her body. It was the short dance, at the house party, that had—she was sure—precipitated their last flare-up of passion. Days went on. Weeks went on. They were beginning to learn something about each other, these two. Ellen had come to realize that Tony was not, for all of his inherited income, one of the idle rich. She learned that his money, invested in the stocks that his father made worth while, was administered in the broker's office in which he was a junior partner. It wasn't only his own money that he cared for, either—his responsibilities were not small, when one considered his age. He rather liked business, Tony told her once.

"I guess I inherited that liking from my father," he said simply. Tony's eyes surveyed her for a moment, keenly. It was as if he were weighing this matter of cause and effect.

"Your mother was an artist, wasn't she?" he said, at last.

"Yes," said Ellen, "she was. That's how I got started in this business of posing, you know. My mother and I lived quite by ourselves in the country, where there were no models, and so I had to pose for her constantly."

"Poor little kid," said Tony, "didn't you ever play?" His voice was gentle.

"Don't be sorry for me," said Ellen, and she spoke a little harshly because the tears were so close. "I had a swell time. I was crazy about my mother—she taught me everything I know about everything."

If Tony wanted to speak out of turn he suppressed that desire. Instead he asked another question.

"Did you ever think, Ellen," he said, "at any time, that you were in love with anyone?" he faltered, "anyone?"

It was the first personal note that Tony had struck since Jane's party, and before she could turn to subterfuge Ellen found that she was shaking her head in denial.

The days, the weeks, crept on. Dinner with Tony every night . . . Ellen was in a strange drifting state. She wasn't interested in anything except the moment that brought Tony to her door. When she woke in the morning it was just a question of how many hours it would be before a red roadster stood at the curb with its horn sounding a summons!

And yet as the days went on, it grew increasingly hard to break the barrier between herself and the man who was her husband. It began to be forced into her mind that Tony would never again be the aggressor. He'd said—on that first morning when he left her—that he didn't want half-portion love, that he wanted it to be real, and Ellen was beginning to understand that he wouldn't attempt to create the reality himself, that she'd have to do it! And if she did it, it would mean putting herself forever in his power—and in love's power—and in life's power. It would mean that she would have to let him see that she couldn't get along without him. It would mean that he'd have the opportunity of hurting her.

When the dinners and drives with Tony began, she had felt a sense of radiance and physical well-being and peace. She had felt that everything would adjust itself in a natural way. Her assurance had even been visible to Dick—to Sandy. She had looked "swell"! But it wasn't visible any more. Perhaps it was the mental strain that made her feel so fagged

Are you using 1924 oil in your 1934-35 car?

Plain mineral oils are obsolete! You need a Germ Processed* oil for today's car!

BACK in 1924 most cars had less than 60 horsepower, and any high-quality motor oil could lubricate them properly.

But today's cars range from 80 to 180 horsepower and the average is over 100. With increased power have come like increases in bearing pressure and crankcase temperature. Oil today must do a job undreamed of ten years ago.

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had 10 years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But the new refining processes have lowered instead of increased film strength and oiliness—the very qualities on which depends an oil's lubricating value!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles. But more important, Timken Machine tests prove that the new Germ Process* puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil!

That extra film strength enables Germ Processed Oil to stay on the job and prevent wear under the most extreme pressures and heat. It helps Germ Processed Oil give long mileage, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Plain mineral oils were all right ten years ago—today they are becoming obsolete. Say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—custom-made for today's cars!

★ What is the Germ Process?

The Germ Process is a patented method, used by Continental, of giving oil certain valuable qualities that straight mineral oil does not naturally possess.

A small quantity of concentrated oily essence, a compound discovered by Continental scientists, is added to highly refined oil. This results in more oiliness and 2 to 4 times greater film strength than mineral oils—and the ability to penetrate and comb with metal surfaces.

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

From the diary of two National Park explorers—

The Conoco Travel Bureau at Denver sent my sister and me road maps for every state, travel books and hotel and camp directories—all free of charge.

"With the marked road maps to guide us, we drove through National Parks and Forests with ease and knew the most interesting things to see."

"Conoco men everywhere were respectful and courteous. Anybody taking a trip should apply at a Conoco Station for this free Conoco Travel Bureau service."

that made keeping up such an effort.

"I wish," she said suddenly one day as she knelt in front of Dick, "that you'd let me rest for a minute, old thing. I'm sunk."

Dick hadn't regarded her as a human being since he had reached the home stretch of his mural, but now he dropped his brushes with a swift little exclamation of pitying surprise.

"Why, Ellen child," he exclaimed, "I've never known you to say anything like that before!"

Ellen relaxed into a little huddled heap of white buckskin and beads.

"I guess it's old age sneaking up on me," she told Dick. "But honestly, I never have felt so tired, in my life, as I have lately."

Dick was wiping his hands on a paint rag.

"You worry me, Ellen," he said. "I'm afraid you're doing too much, or something." He was putting away his brushes and he looked oddly relieved when the door opened and Claire came into the room.

Ellen hadn't seen Claire very often since the night of her wedding party—she hadn't even thought of Claire for that matter!

"I saw your hated rival today, the dark girl, you know!" said Claire. "The one that Tony gave the handsome pair of silver plated gates to. Or should I say—seemed to give them to!"

Ellen sighed, but she didn't make any attempt to get up from her relaxed position on the floor.

"You mean Jane," she said, while Dick looked helplessly from her face to Claire's.

Claire went on.

"I was in Wall Street," she said. "I've been doing a little bucket shopping of late. Trust me to pick the best time in fifty years to do my investing early! I saw Jane walking along in front of me. She had the smug look of a woman who's on her way to meet some other woman's husband. I didn't speak to her, though she was alone. Ask me when pressed her hands wearily against her forehead. Wall Street! Did that really mean that Jane had been going to Tony's office, she wondered?

Dick was still watching her oddly as she went around the screen.

"Don't think she's well," he murmured to Claire.

"She's in love," said Claire, "that's all. Love saps a person. And makes a sap of a person, too, for that matter."

And so it was that Claire took Ellen home. But she couldn't explain even to herself, why she put her arm around Ellen's shoulders.

"Dick's worried about you, Ellen," she said, "and so am I. Believe it or not you aren't acting quite normal, you know. Are you feeling blah? We're for you, kid, you know—all of us. Don't let that Jane get away with anything you really want!"

Ellen tried to laugh, but her voice was a little shaky.

"Don't you worry about me, Claire," she said. "I know you think I haven't much sense. But I can take care of myself. I can—" her voice was the more vehement because tears lay behind it, "take care of myself! And of my own property—"

Claire's hand, patting Ellen's, was unexpectedly tender.

"I—I wonder," she said.

Claire didn't leave Ellen alone upon the doorstep. She took her upstairs and helped her into a soft kimmy, and made her lie down. And then, mercifully, Claire went away.

It was an hour before she rose from the couch and, with her mind still jumbled and groping through the mazes of a new jealousy, stumbled into the bathroom and took her shower.

As she stood straight and white under the shower, Ellen found that she was crying bitterly.

And yet, despite the tears, when the horn of Tony's roadster sounded in front of her house, Ellen was able to come down and meet him with a smile on her lips, and with her eyes as apparently fresh as was the little organdy frock that she wore.

They drove together for a while in silence. Through the early evening traffic, out over a bridge that led to Long Island. Tony's brown hands clutched the wheel harder than was quite necessary, and his jaw line was harder than necessary, too. Finally he spoke.

"I've thought lately," he said, "that we were getting together in rather a nice way, you and I, Ellen—that we were getting to be friends!

There've been times when I've thought the day was coming when I'd take another chance—when I'd ask you again to be—something more than a friend. But I'm wondering now, if I've ever been right, about anything! Tell me, have you ever really considered whether you'd like a divorce—I told you, the first night we met, that I'd admit I was licked and give you one, if I felt that I wasn't getting anywhere with you. You told me, at Jane's house party, that here could be an annulment any time. Maybe one of us were right. Maybe we were both right—"

Ellen's hands were pressed against her breast. Under them she could feel the thumping of her heart. Claire had called it. Surely, it was Jane. It must be Jane. Else why was Tony mentioning divorce and annulment at this time?

"I'll always think," she said, at last, "that you're wise, Tony, in any decision you make." And that was that . . .

The orchestra was thumping out a summons. Tony gave his order briefly to a waiter, and then he was rising and holding out his arms. "You haven't danced with me," he said, "since the night at Jane's party. And that was only a— a sample. Let's have a dance together now, while we're waiting for our dinner."

Ellen rose reluctantly.

"You're making a Tommy Tucker out of me," she said, "making me dance for my dinner!" But she melted into his arms, and they whirled away.

It wasn't a waltz, this time. It was a barbaric, staccato measure to which they danced. It was passionate and bold and full of effrontery, that music; it caught them up into a strange, savage world. Ellen could feel the heat of jungles closing in about her, and the drowsiness of strange, unnatural flowers. She was glad when the music stopped on a high, quavering note, when Tony led her back to their table. She was glad that the food she had ordered was workman's foodsteak and succatah and things like that. She needed something commonplace.

"You said, once," she remarked over the steak and succotash, "that I was a good cook, Tony. And you said it when you'd only eaten one of my fried egg sandwiches. I'd like to have you to dinner, once—to a dinner that I'd cooked myself."

Tony was looking at her oddly.

"Is this an invitation?" he said.

"Or are you just having fun?"

Ellen's lip quivered.

They drove away from the inn, at last, through an amethyst afterglow.

"Somehow, this light," she said to Tony, "makes me remember the place where I lived before I came to the city. It's an old brown house set back of the loveliest flowers that you ever saw—my mother planted the flowers herself. Now that my mother's gone, Tony, it belongs to me."

LEON BARTLETT SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

Funeral Services Held Here; Body Shipped to Winters For Burial

Leon Bartlett, aged 53, passed away at his home four miles south-east of Fieldton Tuesday morning, April 9, at 10 o'clock, as a result of pneumonia, from which he had been suffering only about five days. Funeral services were conducted at nine o'clock Wednesday morning at the Bartlett residence, by Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist church, Littlefield, and the body shipped by the 10:31 a. m. Santa Fe train to Winters, Texas, where burial will take place Thursday afternoon in the Winters Cemetery. Hammons Funeral Home had charge of arrangements here. Deceased was born December 31, 1901, at Fullbright, Red River county, Texas. He lived in Winters, Texas, for many years prior to locating in Fieldton community in 1933.

On January 6, 1934, he was married to Miss Charity Hukill. Mr. Bartlett is survived by his wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bartlett of Winters; five sisters, Mrs. Florence Wood of Dallas; Mrs. Loyd McCarty and Miss Peggie Bartlett of Abilene; Mrs. W. D. Young of San Angelo; and Miss Roscoe Bartlett of Winters; and two brothers, Ross and Roscoe of Winters.

Deceased was a member of the Baptist Church, having joined at Winters at the age of 14.

Raymond Hamilton Captured at Fort Worth Friday Night

Raymond Hamilton, one of three remaining top-ranking public enemies of the nation, who was captured Friday in the railroad yards south of Fort Worth without a shot being fired, was sentenced Monday to die in the state penitentiary's electric chair May 10. Judge S. W. Dean pronounced the death sentence.

LAST RITES FOR L. M. CARNES 4 P. M. MONDAY

Resident of Littlefield For Past Nine Years Dies Suddenly

Leroy McGowan Carnes, aged 80, passed away Sunday morning, April 7, at 5 o'clock, following a stroke of paralysis, which resulted in cerebral hemorrhages. He had been ailing for about two months, though he was able to be downtown Saturday.

His wife was awakened by his groans early Sunday morning, and on returning from securing the aid of a neighbor, found him in a serious condition. A doctor was summoned but he lived only an hour.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, April 8, at the First Methodist church, Littlefield, with Rev. J. W. Hendrix, pastor, officiating, and burial, conducted by Burleson Funeral Home, took place in the Littlefield Cemetery immediately thereafter.

Mr. Carnes was born September 11, 1854, in Rusk county. During the Civil War he moved to Granbury, where he married Miss Katie Elizabeth Poer, to which union were born ten children, seven of whom are now living.

Deceased, who had been a resident of Littlefield for the past nine years, was the only surviving member of a large family.

Surviving him are five sons and two daughters: C. V. Carnes of Pampa; W. J. of McLean; A. B. and H. C. of Littlefield; W. L. of Clarendon; and Mrs. J. F. Proctor of Childress and Mrs. A. E. Tidrow of Clarendon, all of whom were present at the funeral, with the exception of Mrs. Proctor of Childress and C. V. Carnes of Pampa, who were unable to be present.

He was also survived by 22 grandchildren. A nephew, L. P. Carnes, is connected with the Magnolia Service Station here.

of their time, and only increase the cost of the state."

Mr. Cunningham suggested that everyone interested write Senator A. P. Dugran and Representative A. B. Tarwater asking their support in opposing the bill.

Mr. Hilliard made a short talk on the subject suggesting that the number of Commerce offer their support in the opposition of such bill.

A resolution protesting against any curtailment in the extension service was offered by Morley B. Drake publisher of the Lamb county Leader, who pointed out that Texas is primarily a farming state and therefore any curtailment in the extension service was not in the best interests of Texas. He particularly mentioned the excellent work in the interests of Lamb County, which have been accomplished by County Agent D. A. Adam and his assistants, and by Miss Westbrook, County Home Demonstration Agent, the resolution was seconded and unanimously passed by the organization.

Mr. Hilliard reported that the term of the local West Texas Chamber of Commerce Director W. J. (Bill) Chesher, had expired, and asking the appointment of a new director.

After some discussion, Mr. Chesher was re-elected.

Mr. Hilliard mentioned the recent accident at the Oklahoma vs. rail crossing, and suggested that the necessity of making safe this crossing, or the building of an underpass, be brought before the County Commissioners in an effort to have the Santa Fe improve this crossing.

Mr. Cunningham also reported that the revolving state fund had for producing better stock in Texas is being held up due to a rule by the Attorney General to the effect that these funds can be paid at only once a year—on December 1.

He reports the receipt of a letter from J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture, which, in part, is as follows:

"Our funds for carrying on this jack and stallion work have been tied up for the past four weeks by a ruling from the Attorney General's department to the effect that these funds should only come to his Department on December 31 of each year. Until the Legislature passes a bill releasing these funds, I will not be able to buy an additional animal and am not even able to pay the caretakers for February and March, so you understand very clearly my position in this matter."

Mr. Hilliard asked that this matter also be included in a request to legislators at Austin.

Mayor L. R. Crockett expressed his deep appreciation for the cooperation given the City Commission by the Chamber of Commerce during the past two years. He reported on some of the achievements by the city, and gave a brief outline of the Commission's plans for the coming term.

He stated a great deal of the credit for the carrying out of such projects was due Commissioners Pat Boone and I. C. Arnold, stating that he "had never worked with two finer men." He also highly commended Secretary W. G. Street, stating "he has worked wonderfully with the City Commission, and cooperated in a fine spirit. It has been necessary to have a competent man to take care of the various projects, and if I had not been for his efficient service, we might not be working on our projects today."

Mr. Crockett stated a conservative program would be carried out by the city.

It stated it was their plan to endeavor to secure some of the four million relief funds, a portion of which they planned to use in the building of a municipal bathing pool and an oil mill, in event the present project did not go through.

Spt. A. B. Sanders reported on the District and County Meets.

Other events discussed were the Lubbock Meat Show reported by Mr. Cunningham, and the Dairy Show, which takes place in Plainview April 11, 16, 17 and 18.

Train Tragedy—

scattered down the track. The left side of the car was smashed in two places, with only the two back wheels hanging on; and virtually the entire mechanism of the automobile torn loose.

W. E. McAllister, Clovis, engineer of the train, was quoted as saying that just before the crash he had seen Mr. Yandell raise his hand as if he was trying to open the door. The pilot struck the car on the driver's side.

The engineer was possibly the first person to reach the wrecked machine, and he was quoted as saying that Mr. Yandell and the child evidently were killed instantly. He picked up Mrs. Yandell while she was still breathing, but she died after a few seconds.

Mrs. Robert McDaniel was the only eyewitness to the tragedy. Mrs. McDaniel, who lives with her father, J. G. Wade, and her husband, about 75 yards from the crossing, was at the north window of her home and saw the car approach the crossing. "Every afternoon," Mrs. McDaniel said, "I carry my baby to the window, but today I was alone. The train was whistling long before it reached the crossing, and continued to do so after it struck the car. "I was scared. I called to my mother 'They're all killed.' My father was in the yard. When he was told of the accident, he went to the scene in the car."

Both Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel said that no visual obstruction could have been responsible for the wreck. A cattle car was on the siding near the scene, but had been set off at the Peyton Packing company's plant.

Mr. McAllister, the engineer, also was quoted as saying that he did not know that he had struck the car until wreckage came flying past the window.

Mr. and Mrs. Yandell had been residents of the Rocky Ford community for the past eleven years. Mr. Yandell was a Mason and member of the Littlefield Lodge.

The bodies were taken care of by Burleson Funeral Home and shipped Sunday on the 10:51 a. m. Santa Fe train to Girard, Texas, their former home, fourteen miles east of Spur, where funeral services were conducted Monday at 12 o'clock noon at the Methodist church, and burial in charge of the Masonic Order took place immediately thereafter in the Girard Cemetery with the Littlefield lodge officiating.

Members of the Littlefield Masonic lodge who attended the funeral and participated in the Masonic service at the grave were:

Sid Hovsing, worshipful master; E. S. Rowe, F. O. Boles, J. A. Lilly, Quinton Bellomy, C. O. Robbins, O. S. Sullivan, H. C. Pumphrey, George A. Stagers, Roy Gilbert, A. H. McGavock, F. N. Miller and Rev. C. F. Booth, pastor of the Baptist church at Rocky Ford. Rev. Mr. Booth delivered the sermon at the church service.

Mr. and Mrs. Yandell are survived by six children: H. D., Wichita Falls; A. S., Boulder City, Nev.; D. M., Girard, Texas; Garland, Littlefield; Mrs. Allen Humber, Plainview; Mrs. Lou Iva Hart, Amherst.

Mr. Yandell is also survived by two brothers, R. L. Yandell, Fort Smith, Ark., and Jack, Hows, Ark.; two sisters, Mrs. Ludy Williams, Ozark, Ark., and Mrs. Alice Henley, Wewoka, Okla.

Mrs. Yandell is survived by three half sisters, Mrs. Bessie Pendercraft, Waldron, Ark., Mrs. Lillie Castleberry, Mena, Ark., and Mrs. Fannie Beshers, Iona, Ark., and a step-brother, Lee Panell. The couple also had 15 grandchildren.

The Lender joins this entire section in extending its sympathy to the relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Yandell and grandson in their great sorrow.

tractors. Water pipes will not be tied into the system for use until the entire supply of 8-inch piping is put down, the supervising engineer said.

Commissioners Pat Boone and H. Carl Arnold returned early this week from a visit with officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, where they arranged for deposit here of the PWA loan which is to finance the job. A cashier's check, made out to City Secretary W. G. Street for $39,221 was deposited by Mr. Street in the First National Bank here under adequate security Monday. The $9,000 grant money will be deposited here after completion of the project.

"Mr. Boone, Mr. Arnold and Mayor Crockett are cooperating splendidly with us in pushing ahead with this work," declared Engineer Roberts and Foreman Biffle.

Carload of Pontiac Cars Is Received

A car load of 1935 Pontiac automobiles was received and unloaded this week by the Littlefield Motor Co., Plymouth and Buick dealers. There were four cars in the shipment. In addition to the cars received this week, the Littlefield Motor Co. has other Buick and Pontiac models on their salesroom floor.
