

Oil Up the Guns—Prowler Is Entering Littlefield Homes

citizens beware — house burglars are invading our city. It might be well to either oil the six-shooter, automatic, gun, or what have you—get you a good bulldog—as the latest methods in the crime seem to have floated into our fair city of ours.

Monday night — sometime between midnight and morning especially nervey burglar entered the premises of J. W. Sparks, who operates the East Side Tourist camp, by removing a screen from the window, sprinkling some sleeping powder about the room to assure him of no interference on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Sparks, and rummaging the bedroom in which the couple slept. In the morning, and for some time Monday Mr. Sparks said they "actually felt dizzy," indicating that some method had been used to keep them asleep, which still left some influence after they awoke in the morning. Missing from the Sparks home were $35 in cash, and a watch taken from Mr. Sparks' trousers.

About 3 o'clock Monday morning a prowler entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Griffin. The flashlight used by the would-be burglar awoke Mrs. Griffin and daughter, and in getting up chased the offender away.

Looking out the window they noticed a man endeavoring to take a screen from the window of the E. L. Winston home. There he apparently lost his nerve because he made a getaway leaving a pair of overalls, and a sack containing a two-pound box of crackers, one orange and one apple — apparently his midnight lunch.

Later, about 4 o'clock, apparently the same party had entered the home of Mrs. Culp and daughter, Louise, but was scared off by the cook and his assistant of the Delano cafe, who live at the Culp residence, and who rose early to go to work. The prowler was seen by them after he left the house in the yard of the Culp home, and was described as a tall and slim man wearing a dark suit.

The A. L. Hood tourist camp was also entered and 50 cents taken.

Needless to say — officers are making every effort to apprehend the offender.

ANNUAL MEETING CERTIFIED SEED FLOWERS STAGED

Walden, J. I. Bowling and W. H. Cunningham From Here Attend

F. Walden, J. I. Bowling and W. H. Cunningham all of Littlefield and W. M. Poole of Mulberry attended the annual meeting of the Texas Certified Seed Growers' Association and the state seed plant board in Lubbock Wednesday.

The meeting was held at Texas College and approximately 40 members of the association, who are producers of grain sorghum seed and other crops, attended.

W. A. W. Young, head producer of plant industry, presided at the morning session.

The following program was given: 10:15 a. m., address of welcome, Dean A. H. Leidigh, Tech director of agriculture; 10:30 a. m., "Crop Disease in Sorghums," L. Jones, superintendent of crop experiment sub-station; 11:30 a. m., "Crop Breeding and Improvement," Dr. E. P. Humbert of Col. Station, chairman of the state seed plant board; 1:30 p. m., "Developments in Sorghum," E. Quimby, superintendent of sorgho experiment sub-station; 2:30 p. m., "Do We Need a Sorghum Field Day in West Texas," D. Morey, instructor in agronomy at Tech; 3 p. m., "Seed Legislation and Enforcement," H. Miller, chief of field seed inspection, state department of agriculture, Austin; 4 p. m., roundtable session.

AAA SETS APRIL 15 AS DEADLINE TO SIGN SHEETS

Estimated Benefits To Farmers This Year Total $90,000,000

The AAA has set April 15 as the date on which Texas farmers ranchmen can sign "work sheets" and thereby indicate that they intend to apply this fall for payment in connection with the Agricultural Conservation program.

According to a recommendation by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee, the deadline is a month earlier than last year's sign-up date, and applies only to operators who did not receive payments in connection with programs of 1937 or 1938.

N. Holmgren, state administrator of the AAA, explained.

Holmgren said the advanced

REA MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

1 Meter Bases Checked Out of Office Wednesday

Work continues to progress on the Rural Electrification lines in Lamb county, and O. K. Wodall, superintendent, stated that at least part of the lines will probably be energized by April 15. The substation has almost been completed and all of the wire has been strung to the north and east section of the line.

Exactly 201 meter bases had been checked out of the REA office Wednesday morning, and the customers are making more progress in getting their homes wired.

All members are urged to attend the meeting Monday night at the high school auditorium, when officers for the coming year will be elected.

Mrs. Hammons went to San Angelo Saturday and was with her sister when death came.

The remains were brought to Littlefield, and remained at the Hammons funeral home until burial.

Last Rites Wednesday

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church, Southland, Texas, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor of the First Baptist church of Littlefield, officiating, assisted by Rev. O. J. Harmonson, pastor of the Southland church, and interment took place immediately following in the family plot in the Southland cemetery.

AMHERST GINNER DIES SATURDAY AT ALBUQUERQUE

Last Rites Held at Christian Church Amherst Saturday

W. E. (S.) Rowland, aged 40, Amherst ginner, passed away at the Albuquerque Legion hospital Saturday evening about 6 o'clock, following an operation.

Mr. Rowland was taken to Albuquerque about 10 days previous to his death for examination and treatment.

He was a resident of Amherst for the past 14 years, and connected with the Farmers Cooperative gin for some time.

Funeral services were conducted by T. M. Cummings, pastor of Littlefield Church of Christ, at the Christian church, Amherst, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and interment took place in the Amherst cemetery. Services at the grave were in charge of the American Legion, of which deceased was a member.

A large crowd attended the services, including I. T. Batson of this city.

Surviving deceased were: his wife, parents, and several brothers and sisters.

West Texas' Oldest Resident Visits Here

West Texas' oldest resident, Mrs. Sally C. Stewart, 97, was a guest in Littlefield last week, visiting from Monday to Wednesday in the homes of her grand-daughters, Mrs. J. I. Carroll and Mrs. Ellis Foust. Mrs. Stewart accompanied her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Stewart, and a grand-daughter, Mrs. Rosa Taylor from Sweetwater, for a short visit in Littlefield; the first time she had been here in twelve years. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are 74 years old.

PIONEER OF PEP PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 71 YEARS

Last Rites for Mrs. John V. Glumpler Held at 10 A. M. Wednesday

Mrs. Mary Christine Glumpler, 71, wife of John V. Glumpler, resident of Pep for the past 15 years, passed away at a local hospital at 2 a. m. Monday, March 20, following a lengthy illness.

Last Rites Wednesday

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday at St. Phillips church, Pep, with Rev. Chas. J. Dvorak, pastor, officiating, with interment, in charge of Hammons Funeral home, in the Pep Catholic cemetery.

Born in Austria

Deceased was born Dec. 15, 1867, at Hermitz, Austria, and had lived in Old Mexico for a number of years before moving to Pep community.

Mrs. Glumpler had been ill for some time with tumor and complications, but was only confined to her bed about a week. She passed away at exactly the same hour and day as her daughter, Mrs. Mat Demel, who died in January, 1934, at the age of 34 years.

Married 52 Years

As Miss Mary Blaschke, she was married to John V. Glumpler at High Hill, Fayette county, Texas, in the year 1887, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary two years ago.

To this union were born four children, three of whom survive their mother.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Valentine and Victor Glumpler, and a daughter, Mrs. A. G. Jungman, all living at Pep; three brothers, Frank Blaschke

Popularity

A Popularity contest is being sponsored by the Wildcat, Littlefield high school publication, and the most popular boy and girl will be elected by the student body April 7. Voting will be conducted by the Student Advisory board and sponsored by the Press club.

Forty Farmers Attend Meeting Here Saturday

Urge Planting of Certified Seed in West Texas

Approximately 40 farmers met at the Hardberger-Cassel gin Saturday afternoon and discussed the one variety cotton seed, R. L. Campbell, president of the recently formed cooperative association, presided.

A representative of the D. & P. L. Pure Seed Farms in Louisiana was present, and he explained the necessity of planting certified seed in West Texas.

According to V. S. Cassell, former owner of the gin, more than 75 Lamb county farmers have agreed to plant either Paymaster or D. & P. L. cotton seed this year.

4-H Pins Awarded 26 Club Girls For 1938

Funds Needed

Since February 8, members of the Federated clubs have served upward of 1,300 lunches to undernourished school children, and word has just reached this office, that the funds originally contributed will barely suffice until the end of the present month. There has been a marked improvement in the condition of the 50 or more pupils who have been taken care of. The teachers and those in charge, claim that this work should be carried on for at least another month.

Those wishing to contribute to this fund should get in touch with Mrs. Anne Rutledge, president of the P.-T. A.

Work on New Water Tower Starts Soon

City to Save $400 a Year In Insurance Rates

Contract has been awarded by the Union Compress company, for the erection of a 100,000 gallon capacity watertower and tank, to the Kurtz Contracting company of Hamlin, Texas, and work will be started within the next few days. The cost of the new water tower will be in the neighborhood of $6,500. No definite time for completion could be indicated because a structure of this kind is subject to wind variations and it is practically impossible to proceed during storm or high wind periods.

The City of Littlefield has tentatively agreed to use the new tower in addition to the present tower which has a capacity of 75,000 gal-

Moisture Falling Slowly Is Untold Benefit to Crops

Spring came to Littlefield this week, bringing welcome showers Monday and Tuesday that amounted to at least one half inch. L. C. Cawthon, official weather reporter notified the Leader Wednesday afternoon.

Reports are that the rain was prevalent throughout the South Plains. There has been little change in the temperature, and cloudy skies late Wednesday indicated that precipitation might continue.

Farmers believe that this slow rain would be of untold benefit to crops and soil of this section. The top soil has been pulverized by freezing this winter and hard rains would drive that soil further into the ground with little benefit to the land. Subsoil contains plenty of moisture and the ground still wet when turned up.

GIRLS COMPLETE NINE GOALS SET FOR CLUB WORK

Bronze and Silver Pins and Rings Given to Number

Pins were awarded to 26 4-H club girls who completed nine goals set up in club work for 1938 and who handed in a written story of their work.

Bronze 4-H pins were given to the following girls who completed goals for the first time: Hattie Jo Buecus, Betty Hardy, Eva Province, Roberta Williams, Patty Stinson, Ruth Davis, Eddie Mae Crawford, Betty Jo Rochelle, Anne Perry, Bennie Jo Qualls, Bennie Lou Davis, Vonelle Bend, Laverne Payne, Mozelle Uebelton, Fredaline Sturgis, Edith Enloe, Havah Pool, and Dorothy Phillips.

Silver pins were awarded for the second year of completion to the following: Merle Rochelle, Blanche Mitchell, Wilda Callis, Billy Jean Atan, Wanda Mae White, and Doris Faye Dyer. The following five girls will receive rings carved from the Corozo nuts grown in Porto Rico for completing goals for the fourth year: Maurine Hall, Alma Allen, Edith Allen, Margaret Melton, and Vera McQuatters.

A Great Opportunity

It seems probable that forty or fifty million Americans will visit the two World's Fairs being held at opposite ends of America this year. Already the attendance at the San Francisco World's Fair on Treasure Island, which opened in February, has exceeded expectations, while the advance sale of season tickets for the New York World's Fair is greater than had been anticipated.

Nobody who visits either of these expositions will ever regret it. The railroads and bus lines are making it easy for people who want to see both of them, by special rates covering coast-to-coast trips. If only because the trip will enable millions to see more of their own country than they have ever seen before, it is worth anybody's time to take in both of them.

Each of these two World's Fairs is something more than a mere show. Of course, showmanship is used to attract and interest visitors, and there are many amusement features scheduled at both of them. Those are on a grand scale; and entertainment on a grand scale is something to remember forever.

But both on the Atlantic coast and the Pacific, the theme of the progress of the world and the direction in which it is tending is emphasized by exhibits of the newest and most fascinating developments in art, science and industry.

It would be hard to imagine a broader and sounder foundation for a liberal education for any intelligent child, from seven to seventeen, than to give him or her the chance to roam at will through the exposition buildings and see what the ingenuity and intelligence of the world's most active minds have produced as sign-posts pointing toward the future of the world.

The young people are the ones who will live in the World of Tomorrow. They are the ones upon whom these glimpses into a possible more wonderful future will make the deepest impression. From the ideas which bright boys and girls will absorb at the World's Fairs may come, and probably will, inventions and discoveries that can change the world.

No one could do a greater service to his children than to give them the chance at one or both of the World's Fairs of 1939.

Balancing The Budget

The annual income of the Federal government has been increasing steadily for the past six years. It is now close to six and a quarter billion dollars a year. It is derived from taxes of every kind, including the Social Security payroll taxes, which are just so much more income in government bookkeeping.

The annual expenditure of the Federal government has also been increasing steadily for the past six years. It is now close to or above nine and one-half billion dollars.

The difference between what the government spends and what it collects from its citizens is borrowed money. In the past six years the Federal government has borrowed and spent about twenty-five billion dollars more than it has taken in. Close to a billion dollars a year of government expenditures are for interest on the national debt, which now amounts to about 41 billion dollars.

The largest item of government expenditures is relief, which includes WPA. Next largest is public works, which covers new postoffices and the like. Next is national defense. The interest charge comes next in size.

Unless spending is checked, the United States will go deeper and deeper "in the red." When you read or hear talk about "balancing the budget" it simply means trying to keep the outgo within the income. It is a very difficult idea to put across with politicians in office. They love to spend other people's money.

That spending can be reduced and ought to be is the conclusion reached by the National Economy League of New York, from whose booklet "How to Balance the Federal Budget" the figures here are taken. We think it would be worth every thoughtful citizen's while to study the League's analysis of the Federal finances.

LICENSE THE JANITORS—Out of the mania of licensing and regulating now being sought comes a proposed law dropped in the hopper at Austin the other day to license high school janitors.

Why pick on the high school janitors? Let's have another law regulating the college janitors, another the ward school janitors, another the kindergarten janitors. Court house and bank janitors might also be considered, and then, there's the post office janitor.

Let's have a separate board, with more fees and more appointments, for each group!

Howdy Folks:

Every once-in-awhile, somebody steps out of the beaten path and accomplishes something real worthwhile merely by using his top-piece for other purposes than a hatrack. As a result of one man's happy idea — 3,700 2-year-old rose bushes were planted in and around Littlefield during the past week. Jimmie Ware conceived the idea of bringing to Littlefield several thousand healthy, growing rose plants from the famous gardens at Tyler, and selling them at cost or less, to the folks around here. He tells me that he barely broke even in actual cash. But — he also tells me that he would not take $1,000 for the good-will he gathered and the satisfaction of seeing nearly 4,000 more rose plants in bloom this summer. More power to you friend Ware.

A young fellow came to me the other evening and told me that he was suffering from a severe attack of conscience pains. It appears that a milk laden cow strayed into his backyard during the day, and before he realized that it wasn't his cow he had gotten a pail and milked Bossy right down to the last drop. I asked him — "What did you do when you realized that it was a strange cow?" "Well — I lost no time chasing her home where she belongs." I have an idea his suffering was of rather short and mild variety.

"Vienna cheers Hitler" — was the report last Friday. The news reporter probably overlooked the spiked bayonets behind the cheerers. On the same day—the French Premier asked his people for dictatorial powers, and Chamberlain told the British people that he was no longer for peace, and that Hitler had broken his promise made at Munich. Of course, everybody with one grain of sense — realizes that the Munich show was just an extra skit to prolong the intermission. You've been at the theatre many times when they prolonged the intermission because the stage crews were not quite ready with their settings and properties. When the European powers converge on the black and brown shirted dictators you'll see a couple of first class civil wars in addition to the fastest and most destructive conflict known to history unless — some accident should befall a couple of main guys — let's hope so.

All Clarence Curley had to do to win his case in court Friday was to swallow three swords.

He was carrying them Thursday when he was taken into custody on State street. He explained he was a professional sword swallower. The skeptical officers charged him with disorderly conduct pending proof of his claims.

"If you can show me that you can swallow these swords," said Judge Len Edelman, "I'll let you go."

Curley put on his act and walked out. This happened in Chicago and I thought that the Windy City was the original home of knife throwers, sword swallowers and fire eaters, and that they knew all about these freaks.

Poor old sick man was just in the middle of a hot dinner when his house caught on fire. The firemen tried to get him out of the house to safety. He didn't care enough about his life to let his dinner get cold. So — they hurried up, and put out the fire, and the old fellow enjoyed every bit of his meal right down to the last hot bite. Oh yes, they say there was a marked improvement in his physical condition after the interruption.

SYNOPSIS

The wealthy foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wetherill, both die she writes, telling that she has a letter that she adopted her own parents couldn't afford to support both of them and her real name is Dorothy Gay. In the world, but with a of her own, she considers her own family whom never seen. A neighbor, however, tries to argue her and tells her he loves her to marry him. She thinks it over but doesn't see her family. She finds their address, finds that destitute. Her sister treats an enemy and resents her help, but finally, after explanations, agrees to take to save her mother's life. Her comes in sick and hurriedly to the cellar to fire and get the house. Her brother Ted comes in, is of her being there at first, and he finds all that she has and Betty decide they new sister. Meanwhile, however finds she has disappeared and frantically tries to lo-carry you," she said brightly with the frantic child. "There, you're cold. See, I'll be inside this nice kitty-coat." She unbuttoned her coat and put it on him. "But it's not an easy trip, that, but I was very determined when I started a thing, and at last, I was and aching in every muscle. I arrived at the house, a little and Ted and his burden. When the time Ted arrived with the car, the sisters had Bonnie on a hard little bed on the floor in the kitchen. Ted had Ted been after, any Betty suddenly asked. "Would you like to bring that first car to get a truck and bring the rest of the things?" "Oh! Won't that be wonderful!" Betty said. "What a lot we'll owe them."

They heard the front door open and heavy footsteps tramping down the stairs. The girls flew to the door and set Bud to watch the door. "Bill hanging round with that do, so we brought even," explained Ted in a low voice to Marjorie. "I'll give you a bit hard to subdue him and step, but Betty was so excited and Bud was delighted to see the office of doorkeeper, and they take long after all to make the poor bits of household goods that had gone out one by one to supply necessities. When they were out at last on Bill, and they his truck drive away, and the girls and sisters looked at one another in the garish light of a stark electric bulb swinging from a long wire in the parlor ceiling. Betty drew breaths of relief. Betty dropped down in a wicker chair, buried her face in her hands, her weary, slumping shoulders shaking with sobs. She would not allow to be disturbed. Marjorie was by her side instantly, her arms about her. "There, dear! Don't cry. Poor dear! You're so tired, aren't you? But listen! We're going to have a nice supper now and a good time getting things to rights. Come, cheer up!" Betty raised tearstained eyes and began to laugh softly, hysterically. "I'm — only crying — because it's so wonderful — to see our old things back again!" she cried. Marjorie smiled. "Well, it does seem more home-like, doesn't it? My! That couch looks good to me. I'm going to try it after a while, but now I'm going to take Bonnie's temperature again and see whether we need the doctor."

But while she was taking the temperature, the doctor arrived. "I've had a call out into the country," he explained as Betty opened the door for him, "and I might have to be gone all night. I thought I'd better just step in and see how the patients are before I leave. I want to make sure your mother's lungs are not involved before I go so far away!" Betty went with him upstairs. "All going well above stairs," he announced cheerfully when he came down. "Mother's breaking into a nice perspiration, and her lungs are clear so far. I don't expect her fever to go up tonight at all."

He glanced down at Marjorie. "You're the sister, aren't you? You two are very much alike. Well, I think you can be easy in your mind. Anyhow I'll be back in the morning." "But we have another patient in here," said Marjorie. "I think you'd better look at her before you go. I've done all I know how to do but her temperature seems to be going up in spite of it." She led the way to the couch. "I don't anticipate anything serious," said the doctor with a smile toward Betty, and another at Marjorie. "It's her stomach, of course. Children will eat all sorts of things, you know. It looks like a light case of ptomaine, but I think she'll come out all right. Don't you worry," he added comfortingly, "everybody's going to be all right. They'll all be decidedly better in the morning, I'm sure."

Betty looked up and met his eyes wistfully, and Marjorie watching saw the glance, and thought what nice eyes the doctor had. Nice brown eyes. Dinner was ready in a surprisingly short time, and the starved young appetites were ready too. Marjorie went out to the kitchen to get Bud his glass of milk, while Ted attacked the big beefsteak with the carving knife which had just been recovered from the pawn shop. "It's almost too pretty to cut, isn't it?" he said. And then he heard a step behind him. They all turned and there stood their father staring at them all in wonder, and sniffing the air. "I smelled something so heavenly," he said, and he smiled a tired little smile that made him look like Bud. "Where did you get the meat, Ted?" he asked, his eyes resting on the laden table. "It appears you are having a feast."

"Sit down, dad," said Ted laying down the knife and springing to draw up a chair for his father. "You aren't fit to stand up." "Oh, I'm all right," he said, passing a hand over his forehead. "I thought I'd go out and see if I could get an evening's work. It might bring in a few cents and help to buy another bag of coal." "My eye, you will!" said Ted. "You sit down and eat your dinner, that is, if you feel able to sit up." The father sank back in the chair under Ted's powerful young handling, and looked about dazed. "But you haven't said me yet where you got all this dinner?" "Father, I'd better tell you right off quick. It's all in the family. You don't need to be troubled. My little sister has come and she got all these things!" The father looked up with great startled eyes, and turned perfectly white. "Your sister has come! What do you mean, Elizabeth? Do you mean the little sister who was adopted? Do you mean that she has come and gone and your mother and I did not see her?" "No, Oh no, father," said Betty, half frightened at what her revelation had done to her father. "She hasn't gone. She's right here in the house. Here she comes now!" Marjorie stood there smiling with a plate of bread in one hand and the glass of milk in the other, looking so at home, and so sweet and domesticated that he had to look twice to be sure she wasn't Betty. And Marjorie met her own father's eyes for the first time in her young life, and loved him at once. Suddenly she put down on the corner of the table the things she was carrying and went to meet the father who had risen to his feet and was staring at her, went sweetly into his arms and laid her golden head on his shoulder looking up into his face. There was a catch of a sob in

"How we have wanted you," he said.

"Father, I've come home! Do you mind?" she said shyly. Hungrily his arms went round her, and his face came down softly and touched hers. "Do I mind?" he said wonderingly. "Do I mind? Oh, my little girl, whom I have never seen before! My other little Betty. Do I mind?" He touched her forehead with his lips, almost as if he felt she was not real, and then he looked up again, while all the other children sat and looked on in wonder. A sadness had come over that sudden radiance of his face. "But what a home you have come to, my child! What a home! All the comforts gone!" Then suddenly he looked around and saw the familiar sideboard and chairs and table, and bewilderment came into his eyes. "Am I dreaming, Ted? Or is all this real?" He turned troubled eyes on his boy. "It's all right, dad, but you won't be long if you don't sit down and eat some of this beefsteak pretty quick, and I mean it."

"But, my son, I cannot eat until I understand." "All right, tell him, Betty," said the boy. "Why, father, it's just that we have a fairy sister with pockets full of money, and she insisted on paying for everything," Betty said. "Do you mean," asked the father, laying his fork down beside his plate with a look of finality, "that her voice as she finished, and a mist in her eyes. Even young Bud paused in his chewing for an instant and looked at her sympathetically. Then the father came out of his sorrowful daze. "Want you?" he said tenderly. "How we have wanted you! How we have longed for you, and talked about you, and tried not to blame one another, your mother and I, for having let you go!" "Oh, dear father!" said Marjorie deeply stirred, and putting out a shy hand to lay upon his. "I'm so glad it is not too late for me to try to make up just a little for your suffering!" He gathered her hand into his thin nervous one and clasped it close. "Does your mother know?" he asked of Betty. "Not yet, I thought she ought to get a good sleep first before we excited her. Besides there was so much to do to get things going right again," explained Betty.

FATHER OF MRS. RAYMOND RENFRO AND BILLIE AND RAYMOND ERWIN PASSES AWAY AT WEATHERFORD SUNDAY

James Henry Erwin, 69, father of Mrs. Raymond Renfro, and Billie and Raymond Erwin of Littlefield, passed away at his home in Weatherford Sunday morning, March 19, at 3:40 o'clock. He contracted influenza and bronchial pneumonia and was ill only a few days.

Mr. Erwin had been a resident of Weatherford for the past 20 years. Mrs. Erwin died on Feb. 17, 1936, and there are six sons and daughters, as follows: Mrs. Prince Leach and Miss Odessa Erwin of Fort Worth; Miss Bess Erwin of Weatherford, and Mrs. Renfro and Billie and Raymond Erwin of this city. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Emma Crouch of Perrin, Texas; and Mrs. Marian Followill of Noble, Okla.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. N. Ohman, at the Poolville Methodist church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Burial took place in the Poolville cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Renfro, and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Erwin all attended the final services. They were called to Weatherford last week and stayed at the bedside of their father several days, but they had returned to Littlefield when they received the message of his death.

Improvements Made At Edwards Sale Barn This Week

Work was started this week on the enlarging of pens at the C. M. Edwards sale barn, four miles north of town. Water has been piped to each of the pens, and Mr. Edwards reported that he would like for his customers to know that he now has ample room for all kinds of stock. The continued interest and the large number of cattle and horses brought to his sales each week, were reasons for the needed improvements.

The sales continue to be among the best on the South Plains, and Monday, buyers from Louisiana, Alabama, and East Texas attended.

Mr. Edwards stated that the sales would probably continue through the summer months, instead of being discontinued in the spring, opening again in the fall.

County Officials Attend West Texas Convention in Lubbock

Lamb county commissioners, G. M. Vann, M. D. Abbott and Jack Crawford, and Judge Stanley A. Doss, were among those from this county who attended the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association in Lubbock Friday and Saturday.

Rochelle Hudson, a motion picture star, and Will Rogers, Jr., son of the famous cowboy humorist, took the opening session by storm Friday morning, when they arrived by plane. Their visit was arranged by Robert Lee Bobbitt of Laredo, chairman of the state highway commission, who addressed the convention Friday afternoon.

On Saturday's program were R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment sub-station, who spoke on "Water Conservation and Drainage Structures"; Fred Young, adjutant of the American Legion in Texas, who spoke on "What Shall We Do About Juvenile Delinquency?" and Judge Omar T. Burleson of Jones county, who spoke on "Unwritten Duties of a Public Official."

Attend Agricultural Meet In Plainview Friday Afternoon

V. F. Jones, Lamb county agent, L. H. McElroy, assistant, Mrs. Ruth Peury, home demonstration agent, all of Amherst, and W. H. Cunningham of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bohner of Olton were among those who attended the district meeting of the Texas Agricultural association and Extension Workers, in Plainview Friday. Groups attended from Hale and Garza counties.

HART CAMP NEWS

The singing at Hart Camp was a real one. A large number of people and a lot of good dinner. Everyone enjoyed the singing.

The Church of Christ had their regular meeting Sunday morning in Mrs. Turner's room in the school building.

Dorthaphine Fulfer and Ray Dean McFarland visited in the home of Pauline Jarnagin Sunday evening.

Francis Roundtree spent the week-end with her parents here at Hart Camp. Francis is going to school at Tech.

We are very glad to hear Jack Parkey is improving.

A group of ladies went to Spring Lake at a P. T. A. council meeting Saturday.

We are sorry to hear of A. D. Green from Fieldton getting burned from explosion of an irrigation motor. Mr. Green is in the Littlefield hospital. We hope he will soon be able to return home.

The club meeting with Mrs. Connie Mahoffey was well attended. Nine members, five visitors and the hostess were present. Chicken and dressing, cake, pie and salad and col ade were served. They quilted pillow cases and dresser scarves. Mrs. Talmadge Hukill could not be present on account of her mother, Mrs. Phillips, being in the Littlefield hospital.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. John Rice April 6.

Pep Paragraphs

The Spade P. T. A. met for a program and business session on Wednesday, March 15, at 8:30 in the afternoon. There was good attendance, the third and seventh grades winning the two pictures. The following program was enjoyed by everyone:

Welcome — Helen Byrne; reading, "Laurels of a Mother"—Maurine Hall; talk, "Adolescent Companionship"—Roach Allen; songs, "Christmas Song," "A Merry Life"—Grade School Choral club; talk, "Discipline Builds Character"—Mrs. M. D. Hall; business session.

After the program officers were elected for next year. Mrs. C. E. Hardman was re-elected president; other officers elected were as follows: vice-president, Mrs. G. L. Hamilton; secretary, Miss Ina Merle Cooper; treasurer, Mrs. L. M. McCoy. Other officers will be appointed later.

The P. T. A. decided on a program of landscaping the school yard, and work has already begun. Beautiful gifts were presented to Mrs. B. H. Hunt and Mrs. V. T.

Lynch as winners of the membership contest sponsored by the P. T. A. last fall. The members of the Spade P. T. A. planned to attend the county council, then scheduled for Spring Lake on March 18. The new officers and other delegates plan to attend the district P. T. A. convention at Crosbyton March 31 and April 1. The Spade P. T. A. will sponsor a food sale at the county interscholastic league meet which will be held at Spade March 31st.

On Thursday of last week Spade's grammar school and high school baseball teams, tennis, and track teams contested the Anton boys and girls at Anton. Everyone had a grand time and spectators were thrilled by the many very closely contested events. Results of the meet follow:

TENNIS MEET TO BE HELD FRIDAY; STUDENTS PREPARE TO TRACK AND FIELD EVENTS

March 25, the annual tennis meet will be held at Littlefield in Lamb county. The boys are to compete on the Spring Lake, and Littlefield. Matches between the senior boys played at the county's only court, but this year, the committee ruled to vary the schedule.

Littlefield's senior team Eagan, singles player, and Robbins and David Storey team.

Spring Lake plays in junior and the doubles team is Gene Clark.

Neely has been selected for girl singles with Helen and Roy Jen Shahan as doubles team.

Mae Simpson is the senior representative while the team has not been selected.

Threatens to be the strongest besides Littlefield since more players in runner-up last year than Olton, or Spring Lake. Littlefield losses were in junior and doubles to Sudan.

It has been made that J. J. of Sudan will compete in senior boy singles. The Olton boy of 1938 was defeated ed by David Storey, promises to reach the finals in a way as colorful as his red hair — if he is not stopped by Balson, Amherst's junior boy.

Condition of the courts didn't faze Morgan Layfield, L. H. S. tennis sponsor. He stated that his seniors and juniors can win wherever the matches are to be played.

Brackets arranged by the county committee selected the following first round: (upper draw) Olton vs. Spade, Amherst vs. Fieldton; (lower draw) Sudan vs. Spring Lake, Littlefield vs. Hart Camp.

The winners in each draw will meet in the finals, then the senior victors will be eligible to compete in district meet at Lubbock. After district is regional meet at Canyon, then the looked-forward-to event of state. A new field will be open at Austin this year since the twice winner of state singles, Bobby Curtis, of Houston, and the doubles team from Waco have graduated.

The senior boys teams of 1938 ended the season as runner-ups in regional, where Lacy Burleson and Junior Burgett, doubles team, were stopped by boys from Amarillo. J. Lee Robbins, playing singles last year, was eliminated by the Pampa representative. Last year's senior girls lost in the first round. L. H. S. singles player was Ouida Mae Simpson, and the doubles team was Emma Frances Weatherley and Sunshine Burleson.

IGNITING MATCH IS POSSIBLE IN FIRE AT ENOCHS SUNDAY NIGHT

of undetermined origin about 10 p. m. Sunday gutted the store at the rear of the Enochs & Lumber Co., Enochs, by Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bates. Bates is connected with the store.

Mrs. Bates left Enochs at 10 p. m. Sunday for Littlefield. She did not learn of the fire until she returned late that night. Her goods and clothing were saved with the exception of a few items which were damaged.

The blaze was discovered by Eugene Farmer of Enochs, who made the discovery as he was going through town. He aroused the town and Ted Rozak, P. A. Altman and Mr. Farmer were among the first to arrive. A bucket brigade was quickly formed, preventing the fire from spreading.

As far as could be determined the blaze started in a clothes closet, and it is believed that the fire may have started from a mouse igniting a match.

CONSTRUCTION STARTED WEDNESDAY ON BRIDGE ON HIGHWAY 7 FOR W. H. HEINEN

Construction got underway Wednesday on the erection of a building on Highway No. 7, between the Hatcher and Gann & Co. M. & M. dealers, which, completed, will be occupied by Tipton and Otis Pavillard, who operate a general vulcanizing business, and in addition, do welding.

The building, which will be 18x32 feet, and of frame construction, is being built by W. H. Heinen under agreement with the above concern for the lease of same.

This structure will represent an investment of around $600, and be completed on or about April 1.

Mr. Tipton is at present operating the Panhandle service station across the street from the post office.

"Well, this will be meat and drink to your mother," said the father, gazing intently at the new unknown daughter.

When Betty came down to breakfast Marjorie was setting the table. She had cut the bread and laid out the eggs and bacon.

"You'd better make the coffee," she said to her sister. "I don't know how without a percolator. I'm afraid I would spoil it."

"We used to have a percolator when we were at Brentwood, but it got broken in the moving," sighed Betty.

"Brentwood? What's Brentwood? Was that where you lived before you came here?"

"Yes," said Betty sadly. "It was swell! It was an old farm house that had got caught on the edge of a new suburb when the city grew out there, and it had been fixed up with a great big porch across the front. There was a view out across a valley, looking away from the city, and a little brook in a meadow next to our place. Then the man dad worked for died, and the firm closed up, and here we are!"

Betty's tone was almost hopeless as she finished. Then after a minute she went on again.

"Can you blame mother for getting sick and going all to pieces?"

Then the father's voice was heard calling:

"Betty!"

Betty turned and flew up the stairs. In a moment she was down again, her eyes full of excitement.

"Father's told mother, and she wants you to come right up!"

Marjorie turned on her eager sister and kissed her.

"Don't worry," she said softly, "It's all going to come right."

Then she hurried off upstairs.

Afterward Marjorie couldn't quite remember everything that happened, or what they all said. It was just a memory of being folded in tender frail arms, gentle hands upon her head, the softest lips in all the world upon her own, kisses on her lips and forehead and eyes. A voice saying softly:

"My little, little baby. My lost darling!"

When she came downstairs at last she had a look upon her as if she had been crowned.

The girls sat down in the kitchen for a minute.

"You'll want to fix mother's room before the doctor comes, that is, if she wakes up in time. If she doesn't we'll just have to let it go as it is. Doctors always understand."

FOR LITTLE GIRLS

This design is one of those very simple, very charming styles so exactly right for little girls that you should really make half a dozen like it for your 2 to 5 year old daughter.

The sleeves are very round, full and balloon-like. The neckline is square, shallow kind so becoming to round baby faces.

Pattern No. 8429 is designed for sizes 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. Size 3 requires 1 7-8 yards of 35 inch fabric for the dress and 7-8 yard for the pantie. Dress together with pantie takes 2-2 3/4 yards.

Pattern 8361—This charming dress is the saucy, ultra-feminine type that junior sizes (for any age) wear particularly well. This design (8361) is a really new variation on the popular bolero theme. Challis, flat crepe and silk print are good fabric choices for this design.

Pattern No. 8361 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13 requires 4 1-4 yards of 39 inch material for the dress; 1 3-8 yards for the bolero. 4 yards of braid or 1 1-2 yards padding for quilted design.

(Enclose this coupon-box with your pattern order.)

Large Attendance Expected at P.-T. A. District Meeting

Approximately 500 delegates and visitors are expected at Crosbyton for the 11th Conference of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, 14th district, which will be held on Friday and Saturday, March 31-April 1. The district is comprised of 24 West Texas counties.

Attending from Littlefield will be Mrs. Warren Rutledge, president; Mrs. Orien Dennis, vice president; and Mesdames Von Lankin, O. K. Howe, Pharris and J. M. Gordon.

Program for the conference has been arranged so as to be of interest to both teachers and parents, and will contain many entertainment features as well as educational talks and group discussions. Many leading professional men and women from over the state and district are scheduled to appear on the two-day program.

Mrs. W. R. Weaver, of Spur, district president, will be in charge of the conference, and will be assisted by Mrs. J. L. Adams, president of the Crosbyton unit, and Mrs. F. A. Greene, a district vice-president in charge of courtesies.

Mrs. Marguerite Hull Johnson, Austin, state representative of the organization; Capt. G. E. Schauer, Texas Safety Patrol; Geo. P. Holland, Boy Scout executive; Dr. John M. Hooper, State Department of Health; Dr. H. L. Kent, Texas Technological college; and W. B. Irvin, superintendent of the Lubbock schools, are among those scheduled to appear on the program.

A dinner honoring the board of managers of the conference will be given Thursday evening, preceding the official opening. At 12 o'clock Friday a new flag pole, which has been erected on the Crosbyton school campus, will be dedicated with an appropriate ceremony; and at 5:30 p. m. Friday delegates will be guests at a "Meal of Nations," a courtesy of the Crosbyton Parent-Teacher association. The program will end Saturday with a massed chorus of Mother singers from all over the district. Several local units will present musical programs during two days.

Jennie Lindbloom Grove No. 2178 Meets Thursday

The Jennie Lindbloom Grove Number 2178 of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle met in regular session at the Legion Hut Thursday evening, March 16.

First Baptist Improvements Are Completed

The improvements to the interior of the First Baptist church were completed Saturday, including new lighting fixtures, and redecorating of the ceiling and walls.

The lighting fixtures were donated and installed by one of the members of the church, Clint Griffin, and the balance of the improvements were done through contributions taken by the Pastor, Rev. Roy Shahan.

This improvement adds considerably to the appearance of the building, and those responsible for this beautification of the interior of the church building, including the pastor and Mr. Griffin, are deserving of much credit.

Scouts Building World's Fair Camp

Two-acre Boy Scout camp at the New York World's Fair, to be used by 3900 different Scouts and leaders from all sections of the United States during the Fair season.

Member of the Boy Scouts of America may apply for an opportunity to take part in a unique and service camp at the New York World's Fair, Dr. J. W. Chief Scout Executive, National Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced.

A Scout camp of approximately 150 different Scouts and leaders, on a two-acre site, will be located immediately adjacent to the Federal Building, to accommodate four Troops and four leaders. Each Troop will be equipped with tents of their own design. There will be a tent for the display of their handiwork, including woodcraft, and campcraft. There will be a tent for Troops that have produced outstanding articles of handcraft and campcraft to have them shown in this tent at the World's Fair and the exhibit will represent the finest craftsmanship so far developed by Scouts.

Near this tent there will be an open area for flag ceremonies, together with a rustic campfire amphitheatre for dramatics and other spectacular demonstrations and a dining hall with full equipment.

Totem Pole at Gateway
The gateway to be an imposing one with a 40 foot totem pole. The headquarters building will serve as the administration center for the camp, and a stockade will surround the entire camp area. In line with the symphony of colors of the World's Fair the Scout camp will be most colorful with the flying flags of all Scout nations waving aloft, a symbol of world brotherhood and a friendly greeting to visitors from all over the world.

Contacts with Officials
Service projects will be an important part of a Scout's program during four or five hours each day. This will put Scouts in touch with the management of the enterprise, and they will have many occasions to meet the distinguished persons involved in the Fair.

There will be accommodations for only 3,900 of the 1,271,000 present registered Scout membership, most of whom, judging from requests already on hand, would like to avail themselves of this privilege. The opportunity will be open to Scouts in any part of the United States who meet the standards prescribed by the National Council, and preference will be given to applications in the order of their receipt.

All camp reservations must be made through local Scout Councils and not directly with the National Council.

Chevrolet Report 30 Per Cent More Cars Sold Than Same Time 1938

Detroit, March 21. — Nearly 30 per cent more new cars and trucks have been sold at retail by Chevrolet dealers of the nation in 1939, year-to-date, than in the same period in 1938, it was announced by Chevrolet officials here today. Exact figure given was 29.6 per cent, representing 102,699 units sold in 1939, as against 79,249 sold during the same period last year.

Hewitt Chevrolet company are local dealers for the Chevrolet automobile.

Sales for the last 10-day period of February totaled 17,188, an increase of 4,129 units over the 13,059 sold last year in the same period. This represents an increase of 31.7 per cent.

Figures for the entire month of February show an increase of 27.4 per cent over February, 1938, with 50,766 units sold as against 39,849 last year, an increase of 10,917 units sold, according to the Chevrolet announcement.

A total of 113,779 used cars were sold during the month, 42,255 units being sold during the final 10-day period.

build up the roots again. Early grazing may cause the grasses to be weakened by not permitting them to build up a store of food in their roots. When grasses go into the hot summer months in a weakened condition, they are frequently killed.

"It's the pasture that can be depended upon every year that is an asset to the farm," Mr. Chapman declares. "Farms with such pastures make for the cheapest production of livestock and livestock products."

Deferred grazing or protection of the grasses in early spring months is cited as a precaution that greatly aids in erosion control. Where there is a good grass cover, farmers and ranchers are finding that there is little or no soil movement from either wind or water erosion. Where grasses are protected from early spring grazing and are not overgrazed later in the season, the soil is likely to be well protected, says Mr. Chapman.

Experimental results show that grasses not grazed closely in early spring usually yield more livestock food than do those closely grazed, and that protection is afforded against soil losses by erosion.

RANCHER DIGS LAKE
Van Horn, Texas —UP— To water the stock on his ranch 65 miles north of here, M. E. Sibley has dug a lake with a three-mile shore line. The lake, covering 500 acres and having more than 2,000 acres feet of water, was scooped out as a soil conservation project.

Warning Against Erosion Hazards Given by Chapman

Spring is almost here. Pasture and range land will soon become green and farmers and ranchers may be eager to allow their livestock to graze upon the tender young grass. Therein lies a grave danger, for the early grazing of grasses often results in serious damage and presents an erosion hazard, according to A. B. Chapman, of the soil conservation service demonstration area near Littlefield.

When grasses began to grow in the spring, food supplies stored in the roots during the previous year are used, Mr. Chapman points out. The roots are weakened until the plant has made enough leaf growth to provide its own food and to

ADVERTISE TEXAS AT CONVENTION
The vast store of resources, officers of the Texas branch of the Chemical Society today send their entire 118-page report to the society's national convention in Baltimore, April 2-8.

Boasting "the society's largest chapter of regular members in the nation," its officers believed that appearance of the entire chapter at the convention would do much to convince American industrialists that Texas presents a fertile field for expansion.

Novel Plan Instituted To Pay Church Debt

El Paso —UP— Instead of putting in a contribution when the collection plate was passed recently at the Valley Community church, each member of the congregation took out a dollar. The dollar will be "invested" and on Thanksgiving Sunday the member will return it with any interest earned, to be applied on reducing a church debt. Paying eggs to hatch and raise fryers for sale, and the serving of public dinners are among projects planned to increase the "capital."

SUDAN RESIDENT SUFFERS BROKEN ARM

Mrs. A. G. Wilkinson of Sudan, who is spending the winter in the valley, fell and broke her left arm just below the elbow when she and a party of relatives were out fishing last week.

Mrs. Wilkinson had just taken her right arm out of the sling after breaking it near the shoulder a few weeks ago.

Charley Wilkinson of Sudan was visiting his mother at the time of the accident.

RED RAIDERS WILL PLAY SCHEDULE OF ELEVEN GAMES THIS SEASON; SIX AT HOME

Lubbock, Texas, March 22. —UP— The 1939 Texas Tech football team will play a schedule of 11 games — six at home — and travel 10,480 miles to their other five.

The Red Raiders, one of the nation's undefeated and untied major teams last season, will be eligible for the Border Conference championship next season by virtue of having scheduled three league games. The championship combats will be against the Texas School of Mines, New Mexico university and the Flagstaff, Ariz., teachers.

The "See America First" Raiders' touring schedule calls for trips to Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miami, Fla. The hardest part of the Tech schedule comes between Oct. 27 and Nov. 11, when they play Duquesne university at Pittsburgh; Miami university at Miami and Centenary college at Shreveport, all within three weeks.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Russell (Dutehy) Smith expect to have the best Tech team in history. Spring training will start March 25, according to Cawthon, head coach and athletic director.

The Tech 1939 schedule:

Sept. 23 — Texas Mines at El Paso (night game).

Sept. 30 — Texas Wesleyan at Lubbock (night).

Oct. 7 — Gonzaga at Lubbock (night).

Oct. 14 — Flagstaff Teachers at Lubbock (night).

Oct. 21 — New Mexico U. at Lubbock (night).

Oct. 27 — Duquesne at Pittsburgh, Pa. (night).

Nov. 3 — Miami U. at Miami, Fla. (night).

Nov. 11 — Centenary at Shreveport.

Nov. 18 — Marquette at Lubbock.

Nov. 25 — Montana U. at Lubbock.

Nov. 30 — Loyola at New Orleans.

(X—Conference games).

"The Devil's Host" Presented at High School Thursday Night

On Thursday, March 16, the Little Theatre of Littlefield presented the second performance of four that are scheduled for the season, at the high school auditorium, "The Devil's Host," a full-length mystery melodrama by Carl Glick, was the offering, and staged with a cast of 12 capable players headed by David Schein who was also director for the production.

The production had been in rehearsal for the past 10 weeks, and impressed the audience by its smoothness. The most frequent comment overheard was that the production was as near professional as could be staged by a large amateur cast. The players without exception, gave intelligent interpretations of their respective parts. Special scenic sets and properties were designed and arranged by Oren Dennis, who was assisted by Miss Sue Brannen, and a number of students from the Dramatic class of the high school.

The following participated in the program:

Reception — Misses Della Mae Shipley, Myrtle Woodfin, Mildred Wharton, Eloise Hanes, Gladys Jones, Faye Martin, Edgar Walter, and Mrs. Sam Batton.

Overseer — Miss Laura Virginia Hill.

The cast — Paul Hyde, J. A.

Von Lanckin, Miss Johnnie Pace, George Webster, E. A. Bills, Maxine Cash, Frank Selfridge, Gilmer Eagan, W. H. Frazier, Hazel Shore, Harmon Denton and David Schein.

The next performance will be sometime in May. It is tentatively planned to stage an operetta or an elaborate musical review which will include a large cast of young people.

Last Rites Held For F. M. Shelton Friday Afternoon

Funeral services were conducted at Sudan Friday afternoon, March 17, for F. M. Shelton, 47, who passed away at the St. Mary's hospital, Roswell, N. M., Thursday.

Bro. T. M. Cummings, minister of the Littlefield Church of Christ, officiated at the services. Interment was in Sudan cemetery.

Mr. Shelton was a former resident of Sudan, making his home there for 13 years, and moving four years ago to Roswell, N. M. He had been a member of the Church of Christ since August, 1933.

He was born Feb. 16, 1892, and was reared in Lawton, Okla. In 1910 he married Miss Stella Foust.

To this union were born four daughters and six sons.

Surviving deceased are his wife; four daughters, Opal, Lofene, Frances and Mary Lee; six sons, J. B., Jack, Burton, F. M., Billy, and Steve, all present at the services.

deadline is possible because acreage allotments this year were distributed much earlier than ever before, this being the first time in the history of the farm program that allotments are reaching Texas producers, generally, ahead of planting time.

It has been estimated at Texas A. and M. College headquarters of the AAA that cash benefits to Texas farmers and ranchmen who take part in this year's program will exceed $90,000,000.

Additional improvements now under contemplation, will — in all probability, make possible an even greater saving. The new tower is being erected at the compress and the entire cost of the structure is being born by the Union Compress company.

Related To Indian Fighters.

Her father was related to Marshall and Ruf Perry, famous Indian fighters of Early Texas days. The Perry family came to Texas in 1849, in the days when crossing the Mississippi meant almost a week on a ferry boat. There were 13 children in the Perry family. A rather peculiar fact about these thirteen children is that Sally Catherine was the middle one and she is the only one alive today. The Perrys were accompanied by their grandmother who made her home in Texas with them. This grandmother lacked only a few months of being one hundred years old when she died.

Marshall Perry met the new comers on the Texas side of the river and conducted them to their home in Bastrop county.

Married In 1863

In 1863 Sally Perry was married to John William Stewart. Mr. Stewart was a Texas Ranger and served in various parts of the state for more than ten years. The Stewart's made their home in Burnett county, and he spent most of his time in the service on the Mexican border. Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart. Of these five children the oldest and youngest are now living. They are B. C. Stewart, 74, of Divide near Sweetwater, with whom she now lives, and Bill Stewart, 84, of Roscoe. Mr. Stewart died in 1898, just ten years after his marriage to Sally Perry. His death occurred on August 19, which was the ninth birthday of his oldest son, B. C.

During the time Mr. Stewart served as a Ranger he worked under Captain Chris Bitix, famous leader of the Texas Rangers. His work included a close check of Indians and at one time a group of 300 of them were arrested near Austin and sent back across the border into Oklahoma.

Mrs. Stewart talks of the time the Indians, "such a big bunch of them" were camped near her home.

Not Out Of Texas In 90 Years

Mrs. Stewart had not been out of Texas for 90 years, until recently, when she attended a family reunion in the home of Mrs. T. D. Owen in Oklahoma. Five generations sat at the table together and a group picture was made.

In the picture were Mrs. Stewart, her son, B. C. Stewart, Mrs. H. M. Taylor, 62 years old, daughter of B. C. Stewart; W. A. Taylor, aged 28, son of Mrs. Taylor; and Charles Morris Taylor, 2 years old, son of W. A. Taylor.

A typical pioneer and westerner, Mrs. Stewart did most of her traveling in early days in an ox cart. In all her 97 years she has seldom been sick enough to need a doctor. When she was 74 years old a doctor was called just to be sure it was smallpox she had. She has owned one pair of glasses during her lifetime and they were soon thrown away and she proceeded to read without them. She read continuously until the past few years, and she still reads headline and is very fond of pictures.

Member Church of Christ

Mrs. Stewart had been a member of the Church of Christ for more than 68 years. B. C. Stewart (you will remember that he is 74 years old) says one of his earliest remembrances is how frightened he was when his mother was led into the water to be baptized. She continued her church work until a comparatively short time ago, and she still talks about the Bible and wants each radio program to be some kind of religious service.

This little white haired woman is still in exceptionally good health, and she sits in peace and comfort, dreams of the days that used to be, and is calmly waiting to join other old-timers who work the big bonanza in the skies. When she heard talk of the Perry's and their Indian fights she remarked that "those Perry's were rip-tearers," and that she was mighty proud that she was a Perry.

She has 28 grandchildren, 51 great-grandchildren, and seven great-great-grandchildren. They are living in various parts of the west.

DEATH OF MRS. VERNIE WRIGHT PASSES AS A RESULT OF DOUBLE PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Vernie Wright of this city, aged 53, brother-in-law, passed away at his home in Littlefield, Texas, early Monday morning as a result of double pneumonia.

Mrs. Wright, who had been ill for some time, had practiced dentistry in Littlefield for the past ten years.

Her sister here in November, 1937, was spending a couple of weeks in Littlefield.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock at New London, Texas, with interment in that cemetery.

Those who have survived are: three daughters, Mrs. Kenyon Douglass of Littlefield, Texas; Mrs. W. P. Pettit of Littlefield, Texas; and Miss Margaret, student at Tech University, Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. E. J. Littlefield, and Mrs. E. J. Littlefield, La., but who have an extended visit in the city; Mrs. Wright here; one son, H. P. Hungate of Ponca, La.; and two grandchildren.

OLTON FFA BOYS ATTEND FAT STOCK SHOW AT FT. WORTH

A number of Olton FFA boys took a three-day trip to the Fort Worth Exposition and Fat Stock Show, reporting a good time on their return. Those making the trip were: Doyle Hammonds, Glenn Phillips, Lawrence McLain, Houston Carson, Wayne Smith, Earl Smith, J. H. Smith, Travis Black, Rex Chitwood, Norman Shaw, Roderick Shaw, Clovis Poteet, R. B. Poteet, Edmund Dudley, Glenn Vaughn, Joe Blythe, Roy Dobbs, D. B. Barker, Donald Jaglis, Alton Hill, Delmer Givens, Elmer McGill, Vee Busbee, Loyd Hunt, Truitt Sides, Luther Barnard, and Thurman Lewis, driver.

More Than 67 Percent Of Farmers Reached By H. D. Agents

More than 67 per cent of Texas farm families were reached by county agricultural and home demonstration agents during 1938.

Annual report figures, released by Mildred Horton and Jack Shelton, vice directors and state agents of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service, show that of the 497,899 farm families in counties served by the agents, 336,713 took part in the extension program.

An additional 73,021 non-farm families were also reached.

As a result of the year's work, definite changes in farm operations and practices were carried out on 269,729 farms, while im-

Pope's Cousin in America Overjoyed

BRUCEBURG, Calif. . . . Angelo E. Mislo, above, 50-year-old stone mason, burst into tears of happiness when informed that his cousin, whom he knew as Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, had been elected Pope. Mr. Mislo, according to officials of the Catholic Church, is the only living male relative of Pius XII in the United States. The Pope's mother, Virginia Graziosi, was an aunt of Mislo's father.

"WINGS OF THE NAVY" TO BE SHOWN AT PALACE THEATRE SATURDAY MIDNIGHT

"Wings of the Navy," a Warner Bros. production, which is declared to be by far the best to date of the remarkably successful "aerial" picture series, comes to this studio, comes to the screen of the Palace Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday, with a cast headed by George Brent, Olivia de Havilland, John Payne and Frank McHugh.

The Warner studio's presentation in the field of pictures dealing with life in the various divisions of the armed forces of the nation was first established several years ago with the production of "Here Comes the Navy." Since then such pictures as "Devil Dogs of the Air" and "Submarine D-1" have enabled the studio to continue its supremacy.

"Wings of the Navy" is a story that unfolds a background of naval aviation. It is a powerful tale that effectively transfers to the screen the spirit and traditions of the aerial division of the nation's guardians of sea and coastline, and in the course of telling the story, the film production impressively unfolds scenes which give the onlooker a vivid conception of the strength and competence of the navy's aerial wing.

A fast talker often will speak as many as 150 words a minute, according to estimates.

The highest point to which a human being can ascend without involving danger to life is 16,500 feet.

FROM H. D. AGENT'S OFFICE

SCREENED UNSIGHTLY PLACES

Lilacs were used by Fern Scivally for screening the dugout so a more attractive background would be provided for the outdoor living room she plans to have at the back of her home. Salt cedar and Chinese elms have been used for screening across the north.

A cutting bed containing red, white, and orchid althea, flowering pomegranate, Japonica Eustoma, and crape myrtle has been also started by Fern who is yard demonstrator for the 4-H club of Fieldton.

SUB-IRRIGATE WITH CANS

Tin cans were used in place of tile to sub-irrigate a frame garden by Mrs. A. H. Scivally of the Fieldton Home Demonstration club. She dug two trenches 11 inches deep lengthwise in the frame garden, and placed the tin cans with the ends together. Heavy paper should be placed over the top and sides of the cans to keep the dirt out of the cans.

Sub-irrigation prevents the ground from packing and it is an economical way of locating as less water is used. Mrs. Scivally will plant spinach, beets, carrots, lettuce and salad greens.

SHRUBS SET OUT BY 4-H GIRL

Foundation planting of lilac, spirea and winter Jasmine has been started on the south side of her home by Havah Pool, yard demonstrator for the Hart Camp 4-H club. The beds for shrubs should be dug deep and at least 4 to 5 feet wide. Old rotted fertilizer at least two years old should be mixed with the soil.

A row of pirt has been set out across the north side of the yard to screen the garden and to make a better background for Havah's flower beds. Flowers can be better cared for in separate beds and they show up more effectively against a green background.

4-H GIRL IMPROVES YARD

"Our yard has been filled in and my father added fertilizer and cotton burrs to it," Charlie Edwards told the Home Demonstration Agent last week. The yard is kept wet to prevent blowing and later in the spring this will be plowed and leveled ready for setting out Bermuda grass in June.

Charlie has 43 cuttings of vitex, roses, and honeysuckle started in a bed which she plans to use in her yard improvement demonstration for the Littlefield Junior 4-H club.

Improvements and changes were made in 126,521 farm homes.

The enrollment in 4-H club work for the year reached 57,259, of which 32,358 were girls and 24,901 boys, Miss Horton and Shelton said.

Miss Oringdeff And Roy Kyle Wed March 11

Miss Jewell Oringdeff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Oringdeff of Littlefield, became the bride of Roy Kyle Saturday, March 11, at Clovis, N. M. The ceremony was read at 4 o'clock, in the presence of the groom's mother, Mrs. Ruby James, and Mr. Pillar.

The bride was attractive in a blue ensemble with black accessories. The bride is a graduate of the 1938 class of the Littlefield high school.

A host of friends in Littlefield extend best wishes to the happy couple.

PNEUMONIA TREATMENTS NOW VERY MUCH MORE EFFECTIVE

But Coughs From Colds Break Down Resistance

The scientists and doctors of the world have made great strides in the diagnosis and treatment of the dreaded pneumonia.

Most doctors agree that when a person's resistance is low he is much more susceptible, and that coughs following a cold certainly break down your resistance.

At the least suspicion of pneumonia, call your doctor at once, and at the first sign of a cough due to a cold start taking Mentho-Mulsion immediately.

Mentho-Mulsion is that time-tested cough remedy, made from ingredients used by many doctors for years. Now fortified with both Vitamins "A" and "D."

Grant Temporary Injunction to Elect Jones Head

District Judge Fountain Kirby Saturday at Groesbeck granted a temporary injunction restraining the board of trustees of Texas Technological college from meeting to elect or attempting to elect Clifford B. Jones president of the college.

The order was obtained by George W. Wingham, farmer who resides east of Mexia, and named L. L. Steele of Mexia and other Tech board members. Attorney General Gerald Mann in a ruling requested by Steele declared Jones' recent election to the presidency of Tech was not constitutional because Jones technically was a member of the board at the time he was chosen.

Wingham's petition for the order to set forth that Mann had ruled Jones' appointment was illegal and the board of trustees had given notice they would meet at Houston March 29 and would reelect Jones at that time.

The petition also stated the trustees had "evinced a desire and determination" to reelect Jones.

Judge Kirby set no date for a hearing on the temporary order.

Over Eight Million Head Cattle Is Beef Population Of State

The beef cattle population of Texas is about 8,110,000 head. If these were all shipped to market at one time, a train consisting of 200,000 freight cars, and 1,312 miles of track would be required, states a circular entitled "Beefing Beef."

Yet many Texas citizens do not have any general serving of meat on their plates one-half of the days of the year. That's a dietary tragedy, the authors of the publication point out.

The circular, C-116, is one of a series issued by the Texas A. and M. College Extension service in its food campaign, and contains suggestions for providing beef on the farm, a discussion of selection of cuts, and a number of recipes. The circular is available for free distribution in the office of county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

Included in the case for beef as a food is a discussion of its food value. Beef is high in protein, needed for strength, and lean beef is one of the richest sources of nicotinic acid, the pellagra-preventing factor. There were more than 600 deaths from pellagra in Texas in 1938.

Veal and beef liver are fair sources of vitamins A and B, and rich sources of iron, as they contain the copper necessary for the best utilization of the iron in the body. One of the minerals necessary in the body is phosphorus, and beef is high in this mineral.

Ford Sales Are Up 45 Percent Over Same Period 1938

Dearborn, Mich., March 16.—Combined sales of Ford and Mercury cars and Ford trucks for the first 10 days of March were up approximately 45 per cent over Ford sales of the same period a year ago, it was announced at the offices of the Ford Motor company here today. The pick-up in sales was especially noticeable during the past week, particularly in eastern districts.

Farm Security Booklet On Small Houses Now Ready

Plans for the five-room houses built by the Farm Security Administration for about $1,100 became available to the public today in a small booklet published by the Department of Agriculture.

The booklet, entitled "Small Houses," includes house plans for the $1,100 houses built on the Farm Security Administration's Southeast Missouri project, and also for typical homes constructed at eight other FSA projects.

Most of the houses described in the booklet are farm houses, without plumbing, but a few are urban or suburban homes. All are small homes that fall within the broad category of "low cost" structures.

The Farm Security Administration has received a great many requests for plans for the Southeast Missouri homes, almost 100 of which were built at an average cost of $1,105 by making use of a pre-fabrication and pre-cutting system. The booklet issued today illustrates this method of construction with pictures, gives the floor plan for one of the typical houses, and describes the materials used.

While the mass construction savings are not available to individual builders, adaptations of the plans for the Southeast Missouri homes are being used by farmers throughout the South who are building homes under loans from the Farm Security Administration for purchase of farms. Private contractors in some regions are building them for as little as $1,300.

Other houses described in the booklet have been built at the Georgia Farm Tenant Security project; the Christian-Trigg Farms, Kentucky; Cumberland Homesteads, Tennessee; Bankhead Farms, Alabama; Mt. Olive, Alabama; Palmerdale Homesteads, Alabama; Greenwood, Alabama; and Newport News, Virginia.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., for 10 cents.

Publications may obtain reproductions of the photographs in the booklet upon request to the Farm Security Administration, Washington, D. C.

Drivers' Licenses Are Extended For Indefinite Period

Police administrators of other states were notified today of an indefinite extension period for Texas driver's licenses after April 1. Ralph L. Buell, chief of the licensing bureau, announced.

The bureau head said a measure is pending before the legislature to provide for the reissuance of driving permits which expire April 1, after three years of validity. The new licenses will be issued by the public safety department instead of by tax collectors who distributed them when the law went into effect in 1936.

Chief Buell said temporary licenses will be assigned to drivers who pass examinations for their first permits and will remain valid until the amended statute becomes effective. Chauffeurs' licenses, how-

CARRIERS TO HOLD MEETING AT LUBBOCK FRIDAY EVENING

Lubbock, Texas, March 21.—The Associated Licensed Carriers of Texas have called a special meeting for Friday evening, March 24, at 8 p. m. at the Hilton hotel for a discussion of matters most vital. The meeting will be open for the public.

W. N. Dwyer, director of the Department of public relations of the Transportation Trust act, usually will be one of the principal speakers. Mr. Dwyer will discuss the present status of legislation affecting the business of the carriers. Among others who will appear in the program will be Jack Pinkston, executive secretary of the association, and Ed Boyd of San Angelo, Texas.

"COTTON GIRL OF THE NATION FOR 1939"

MISS OPAL HILL WILL MAKE PERSONAL APPEARANCE IN LITTLEFIELD MARCH 30

Thursday, March 30, has been set aside as special Home Economics day in connection with Ware's second annual Quilt Show, and an attendance of between 400 and 500 home economics students is anticipated. Miss Opal Hill, "Cotton Girl of the Nation For 1939" and senior textile student in Texas Tech, will head a special educational program at 2 p. m., March 30, giving special instructions in home economics and the use of various materials including cotton bats and quilt materials. Above are several pictures of Miss Hill, one showing her as national cotton queen, the other three at her studies at Texas Tech.

The educational program will be followed by a style show with home economics students of this area modeling the latest in cotton dresses and sport wear.

WARE'S ANNUAL QUILT EXHIBIT OPENS MARCH 27

Many Special Features "Cotton Girl of the Nation" Will Lecture

Ware's Department store annual quilt show will be held March 27 through April 8. Encouraged by the success of their first quilt show last year, the Littlefield store will have even an increased interest in second annual exhibit of the Plains finest handwork.

Women of this section are cordially invited to get out their quilts and to bring them to the show before 6 p. m., Saturday, March 27. There will be three divisions in the show—regular, club and special. Each division for old quilts, with attractive prizes in each class. There is no obligation or cost to the exhibitor or to see the quilts, each of the quilts to be entered in the show.

The three divisions of the show are as follows:

Regular Entry, prize to be determined by the three judges. Club division, prize to be determined by the three judges. Special division for old quilts, with attractive prizes in each class. There is no obligation or cost to the exhibitor or to see the quilts, each of the quilts to be entered in the show.

Club entry, prize $5 in cash. Winner to be determined by popular vote. Entries must come from clubs, such as home economics, demonstration clubs, church organizations, etc.

Old quilts, prize to be determined by the three judges. Winner to be determined by popular vote. Entries must come from clubs, such as home economics, demonstration clubs, church organizations, etc.

Rules of contest—No quilts will be accepted after 6 p. m., Saturday, March 25; only quilts shall be entered from clubs or organizations; the three judges shall be final; a tie in the division only one vote will be allowed each person voting to prohibit, and votes will not be counted until after the contest ends, day, April 8.

Father Of Whiteface Editor Passes Away At Lockney March 12

J. B. Jones, aged 87 years, and father of R. W. Jones, publisher of the Whiteface News, died at his home in Lockney Sunday, March 12, of pneumonia.

Mr. Jones is a pioneer of this part of the Plains, moving with his family to Lubbock in 1891, before the county was organized. He has the distinction of being Lubbock's first county superintendent and also so surveyed the original townsite of the City of Lubbock.

Aside from his son of Whiteface, Mr. Jones is survived by his wife, and one daughter, Mrs. G. T. Merriweather of Lockney, 21 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.
