PLAINS MOURNS THARP'S DEATH

SHOOTER'S VICTIM FORMERLY LIVED IN LITTLEFIELD

Stirs Lubbock to Spe- Action In Fighting Undesirables

entire South Plains was shocked and stirred with grief on learning of a fatal shooting Saturday afternoon about nine o'clock of Robert E. Tharp, by a hi-jacker during the robbery of the M-System Store at Broadway avenue, Lubbock. Tharp, shot through the abdomen, was in a critical condition, was rushed to the Lubbock Sanitarium, where he operated on, and everything was done to save his life, but he died Sunday morning.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Methodist church, Lubbock, by Rev. E. A. Bickley, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal District, assisted by Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, Lubbock, and Rev. M. M. Beavers of Clarendon and Rev. C. W. Young of Hermiston. Burial, under the supervision of Bynum-Stahler Funeral home, will take place in Memorial Park cemetery, Lubbock.

Tharp was well known in Littlefield and section, having been connected with the G. & G. Grocery store for several months, about two years ago. He was also employed with Ellis & Ware, and has since been connected with the M-System stores in Lubbock, assisting the Littlefield store on different occasions.

The brutal murder of the youth, who was assistant manager of the store, aroused the city of Lubbock to such a degree that a called meeting of the Lubbock County Bar association was held Monday afternoon, in which Lubbock lawyers agreed to demand to assist criminals, and plans were laid for a county-wide law enforcement program. A mass meeting for the purpose of organizing against crime was held Tuesday night at the First Baptist church auditorium.

This has been followed up by the Lamb county peace officers getting together and calling a mass meeting in Littlefield, which was held Wednesday afternoon at the city hall for the purpose of organizing for the enforcement of law and order in Lamb county.

Police Wednesday still held two men arrested Sunday as suspects in the shooting to death of Tharp. Six other suspects had been released by the police and sheriff's departments. Sheriff Elmer Reed of Crosbyton Tuesday to take into custody two men arrested there Monday with a car stolen at Crosbyton and suspected in the killing in Lubbock.

CANOVA CONTEST PRIZE WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. M. V. Cobb Wins Din- ner Set As First Prize

Prize winners in the Canova products contest, which was conducted through the Lamb County Leader, have been announced by the judges.

Mrs. M. V. Cobb, Littlefield, was awarded first prize; Mrs. Lena Howard, Littlefield, second prize; Mrs. C. W. Hill, Littlefield, third prize.

The first prize is a 32-piece Topaz dinner set and other merchandise; second prize is an electric alarm clock and other merchandise, and the third prize is a Topaz water set and other prizes.

Eleven other prizes, consisting of four items of Canova products, were won by the following:

Roy E. Blessing, Star Route 2, Littlefield; Mrs. S. W. Yarbrough, Route 1, Littlefield; J. E. Chisholm, Jr., Littlefield; Mrs. Vernie V. Wright, Littlefield; Mrs. J. T. Street, Littlefield; Mrs. W. E. Heathman, Littlefield; Miss Ruth Matthews, Route A, Littlefield; Mrs. R. A. Davis, Littlefield; Miss Gladys Jungman, Pep Route, Littlefield; Mrs. Frank Rogers, Amherst; Gilmer (Cotton) Eagan, Littlefield.

The missing letters in the advertisements which appeared in last week's paper formed the words "Canova Products." Virtually all who submitted answers gave "Canova Products" as forming the two words, but neatness, originality and promptness also entered into the awarding of the prizes.

Prize winners will be mailed an order, and may go to the following Littlefield business concerns and obtain their prizes:

First, W. J. Aldridge Grocery & Market; second, A. & N. Dry Goods Co.; third, Moody's Cafe; fourth, Piggly-Wiggly; fifth, Renfro Bros.; sixth, Modern Food Store; seventh, Littlefield Tailor Shop; eighth, A. R. Hendricks insurance agency; ninth, Hammons Furniture store; tenth, Homer Hall, the Peoples Store; eleventh, Hewitt Chevrolet Co.; twelfth, Lamb County Lumber Co.; thirteenth, Jeffries Mercantile Co.; fourteenth, Lamb County Leader, the latter prize having been left at the Leader by the Myrick Grain & Feed Mill.

LITTLEFIELD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE APPOINTS COMMITTEE IN PROGRAM TO GET FEDERAL BUILDING FOR THIS CITY

J. L. DOW DIES IN ILLNESS OF ONLY FEW DAYS

Littlefield Section Mourns Passing Of Pioneer Resident

The citizens of Littlefield and section were shocked and deeply grieved Thursday last to learn that J. L. Dow, one of the most esteemed residents of this section, had passed away at 12:05 p. m., at the Lubbock Sanitarium, following a brief illness.

Deceased was taken ill the Saturday previous, and was taken to the Lubbock hospital for an operation and died on the operating table.

Deceased was born November 28, 1891, near Terrell, in Kaufman county, where he was reared and lived continuously until coming to the Plains in 1923, when he located four and one-half miles southeast of Littlefield, where he has farmed since that time.

He had been a member of the Methodist church for many years; was a member of the Littlefield School Board for four years; and owned considerable real estate in and around Littlefield.

Funeral services were conducted at 3:30 p. m. Friday at the Methodist church here by Rev. Ed Tharp of Littlefield.

ACTION IS BEING TAKEN BY THE LITTLEFIELD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN AN EFFORT TO OBTAIN A FEDERAL BUILDING FOR THIS CITY.

Such action was urged by J. S. Hilliard at a recent meeting of the chamber, and at Tuesday's luncheon meeting, Dr. Ira E. Woods, president, named the following committee: Arthur P. Duggan, chairman; J. S. Hilliard and R. E. Riley.

GYPSY CARNIVAL IS BOUND TO BE SUCCESS

Only eleven days now until the great gypsy carnival. Every day brings the fun a little nearer. Check the days off on your calendar so that nothing can prevent your joining in the Romany festivities on the night of October 31.

Every citizen of Lamb county is invited and the response that is pouring in to the Little Theatre committee promises that the Gypsy Camp will be one best attended affairs ever given in this community.

Remember there will be a genuine gypsy supper, singing and dancing by the nomadic visitors, and fortune-telling by one of the most famed fortune-tellers in the country.

There will also be a jitney dance at the American Legion Hall on this night, and the proceeds from both the Gypsy Camp and the dance will be used to buy new books for the Littlefield Public Library.

Meeting at City Hall Yesterday is Called By Peace Officers

Lamb county organized Wednesday in Littlefield to fight crime. A county-wide Good Citizenship League was formed, officers were elected, and preliminary work carried out toward carrying the membership and influence of the organization into all sections of the county.

The mass meeting, which was held at the City Hall, was called by Sheriff G. R. (Bob) Crim and L. A. Ratliff city marshal of Littlefield, in behalf of the peace officers of the county, and was largely attended.

Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist church, Littlefield, was elected president.

While crime is being kept at a minimum in Lamb county, it is reported to be spreading from the larger centers to the small cities and communities. Such a situation is, in part, the purpose of forming the Good Citizenship League.

BUSINESS MEN GIVE PROGRAM AT PEP SCHOOL

Is One Of Series Of "Good Will, Get Together" Meetings

Littlefield business men, accompanied by the city band and other residents of this section, numbering about fifty in all, on one of a series of "good-will get together" meetings, gathered in the new school house at Pep about 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

The program consisted of introduction of the visitors by Judge E. A. Bills, welcome address by J. G. Lynch, superintendent of the Pep school, band music, talk by Judge Bills, community singing, reading by Miss Maurine Igou, tap dance by Miss Blanche Crockett, whistling number by Miss Stella Bob Turner, with Amiel Timmion at the piano and a humorous talk by Joe Hale.

According to J. O. Garlington, chairman of the committee on arrangements, the local Chamber of Commerce are very enthusiastic over these good-will meetings, and believe that it is a splendid way in which to get better acquainted with their neighbors and friends in different communities.

At the meeting at Pep Thursday night, however, it was decided to discontinue these good-will gatherings until after the cotton crop is gathered, as the farmers are too busy at the present time to attend. These meetings will be continued later when ginning is over.

The Meeting Sheriff G. R. (Bob) Crim opened the meeting, and appointed Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist church, as chairman of the meet- ing.

Judge Simon D. Hay of Olton gave a talk, mentioning the number of strangers in the county at the present time, commented on the atrocious crime the killing of Bob Tharp was, and warned the audience that in order to protect their homes and business places they should organize against crime, and said he would do all in his power to enforce the law.

County Attorney J. E. (Bert) Dryden asked that the citizenry of Lamb county cooperate to the fullest extent with the peace officers in combating "organized" crime. He said the only way they could hope to succeed was by the cooperation of all the citizens. He pledged the peace officers his hearty support in the enforcement of the law.

County Facing Crisis J. W. Richards, mayor of Olton, referring to the bootlegging situa- tion, said:

"I don't believe there is any difference between the man who sells it and the man who buys it." Continuing, he said:

"We are facing not only in our own state today, but all over the United States the greatest crisis our government has ever witnessed. We are not fighting crime, but organized crime; it is organized for the purpose of robbery and killing, such as we have never witnessed."

He commended the peace officers of the county for the splendid work they have done, and urged that all citizens assist them in every way possible. He said he believed one of the quickest ways to suppress crime would be to simplify our criminal court procedure, adding "I would like to see a law passed, or several laws passed, that would not give the criminal the advantage he has under our present system." Mr. Richards pointed out that speedy trials and convictions without delay would remedy the situation.

Mayor H. G. Ramby of Sudan said he stood for law enforcement, justice and speedy trials in the courts, which was the only thing that would make Lamb county a safe place in which to live.

Mr. Ramby said that he, the other members of the city commission and city officers would render every assistance possible to the county officers in the enforcement of the law.

Justice of the Peace Black represented the City of Amherst at the meeting. He also pledged his best efforts toward combating crime in the county, stating that he would cooperate with the county officers to the fullest extent.

Citizens Should Protect Themselves Mayor T. S. Sales of Littlefield spoke on the local situation, saying that there had not been much viola- tion of the law here so far, but that indications were such that conditions might change to where the city and county officers might need the aid of all the citizens.

He commended the peace officers for their good work in combating crime in the county, and warned the citizens to be prepared to protect themselves.

First National Returns Received in Weekly Newspaper Presidential Poll

RETURNS FROM 16 STATES GIVE ROOSEVELT LEAD

Smaller Town and Country Poll Differs With the Digest and Hearst

The nation-wide Presidential poll by some 2,000 weekly newspapers, of which the Lamb County Leader is one, discloses the hint that when the last ballot has been cast for Hoover or Roosevelt on November 8, the small town and country vote is going to be a big factor in the final count.

Returns from sixteen states in this weekly newspaper poll shows Roosevelt leading Hoover in popular vote by almost exactly the same percentage as prevails in other straw-vote polls conducted in cities and large population centers. . . BUT . . . the weekly poll brings out the fact that the country vote differs drastically with city vote in certain states.

Both the Literary Digest poll and the Hearst newspaper poll indicate a Roosevelt lead in Illinois. The week- ly newspaper poll shows Hoover senti- ment running strong in small towns

Yellow House Land Closes Land Deal Wednesday Morning

The Yellow House Land Company closed a deal Wednesday morning for the sale of 354 acres of land twelve miles southwest of Littlefield to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Perry of Waurika, Okla., who spent from Sunday until Wednesday evening looking over this section.

Mr. Perry is in the hotel business in Waurika, while Mrs. Perry, who was a trained nurse previous to her marriage a month ago, was connected with a hospital in Clovis. Mr. and Mrs. Perry stated that they were returning to Oklahoma to dispose of their interests there, so that they may return to the South Plains about the first of the year.

In an interview Wednesday, Mrs. Perry remarked that everything looks so much better here than in other parts, and that the climate was so much more invigorating than the higher altitudes.

OUR AFFAIRS AND EUROPE'S

If we could build a wall a mile high around the United States of America and put a roof over it so nobody could come in or go out of it by air, the people of this country could probably get along very well without any contacts of any kind with the rest of the world.

We would miss our tea and coffee, which we haven't succeeded yet in growing in the United States. We would have to get along without any silk. We would have to give up chocolates and cocoa. Unless we found some way to make rubber out of sawdust or something else, we would have to run our automobiles without any tires. We would have to be pretty economical about shoes, since we depend very largely upon other countries for hides and leather. We wouldn't have very many fur coats. We would have to get along, in short, without a lot of things we are accustomed to. But on the whole, we probably could manage to be comfortable and reasonably prosperous if we didn't import a single commodity from any other part of the world.

Of course, we would have to cut down on a great deal of our farm production. We raise more wheat, more corn, more cotton, more tobacco, more of a number of other farm products than we in the United States can consume. We mine more copper, more iron, more of several other metals than our domestic needs call for. We would have to shut down a lot of mines and abandon a lot of farms and find some other occupation for the miners and the farmers thus thrown out of work. We produce more oil than we can use, so we would have to cap a lot of oil wells and abandon a lot of pipe lines. We make more automobiles, more electrical equipment, more sewing machines, more typewriters, more fertilizers, more cameras, pianos and other manufactured products than we can use, and so a lot of the factories would have to be shut down or curtail production. But, on the whole, perhaps we could get along if we did no business with the rest of the world. We wouldn't have to bother building any ships, but, of course, we could find something else for the shipbuilders to do.

It seems to us that the complete answer to the people who think we ought not to have anything to do with Europe lies in those facts. Until and unless the economic prosperity of the rest of the world is restored to the point where foreign nations can buy our surplus products again, we cannot look for a great or permanent revival of our own prosperity. And since the rest of the world cannot buy our goods unless we buy theirs, the problem of world prosperity depends for its solution largely upon the restoration of our own prosperity.

There is no escaping the conclusion that neither our nation nor any other can stand alone.

WOULD BENEFIT EVERYBODY

Some 5,000,000 automobiles in this country lie unused during the first three months of every year because their owners can't afford to pay the registration fee on top of Christmas expenses and winter bills. Shift the registration date from January 1 to a less onerous time, say April 1 or July 1, and these 5,000,000 cars will go back on the road for twelve solid months of motoring.

Such, in brief, is the argument and plan currently offered under sponsorship of the oil industry. Admittedly, the scheme if effective would directly benefit the petroleum refiners, increasing their sale of gasoline and oil. But selfishness can be of the enlightened sort and the proposal would prove advantageous to other businesses as well.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

The public auction sale of E. G. Courtney's held last week is reported to have been one of the best sales in this section. It was conducted by Col. Clarence F. Sperry, of Follett, Texas.

Mr. Courtney had several head of very fine horses and mares, all of which brought good prices.

New License Plates To Bear University Colors

Automobiles in Texas will next year bear the colors of the State University on their license plates, orange figures on a white background. The plates have already been delivered to many counties and are being stored until December 1, when the sales of licenses for 1933 will begin. Under the law of the State, auto owners will have until February 1, to equip their machines with the new plates.

The color scheme is said to be very attractive. The idea of carrying the state university colors on auto license plates has recently gained great favor in a number of states.

Seven Steps and a Thousand Miles

IT'S a long trip from the cream can on the farm to the butter on the consumer's table.

Always it's seven steps. Often it's more than a thousand miles. Seldom can long distances be avoided between the producer and the consumer.

These are the steps:

1. Financing—Producers are paid cash; company funds must be tied up until the butter is sold and collections made.
2. Assembly and Grading—This is done in about 100 Swift & Company plants.
3. Manufacture—There must be complete sanitation, manufacturing skill, modern machinery and efficient methods.
4. Transportation—A hundred miles or a thousand, the finished product rides the rails to good demand. The freight must be paid by Swift.
5. Refrigerating—Perishable foodstuffs, like butter and dressed poultry and eggs, must be kept constantly under refrigeration.
6. Assumption of Risk—Swift & Company does not know what it will receive next week for butter made today; that butter must be sold while still fresh at a price consumers—through their retailers—can and will pay.
7. Selling—Swift & Company salesmen, selling meats and produce at the same time, cut the costs of selling both.

Most of the Swift produce plants handle poultry and eggs as well as butterfat. With poultry all seven steps must be taken too. Only six are needed with eggs; the hens do all the manufacturing.

The Swift & Company national market was made by digging up demand wherever it exists in the United States, by advertising brands of high quality, Swift's Meats, Swift's Premium Milk, Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products.

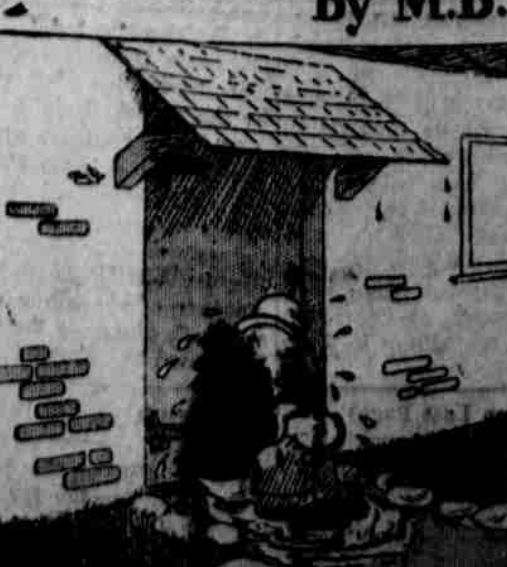

To operate a national market means much more than mere buying today and selling tomorrow. It means performance of intricate services in the most economical way. Swift & Company in the past year has cut every expense over which it had control. Its service charges are low and profits are small—over a period of years they have averaged less than half a cent a pound of all products sold.

Johnny Breen, 16 years old, spent all of his life aboard, plying around New Orleans, making his money as a made motherless when he sank the boat on which he and the man he called "Dad" were living. He is the only one struggling through the dark night. At dawn, amid the unknown, his life begins. Unable to win anything of life, he is by a Jewish family, living in a second-hand clothing store on the Bowery. . . . At the last moment Rantoul sails the same boat. . . . At sea on the . . . home the great ocean liner . . . into an iceberg and sinks— . . . passengers taking to the lifeboats. . . . Horn perishes but Rantoul saves himself with Josephine. Breen learns . . . Gilbert Van Horn was his father.

Back home, Josephine returns Breen's ring and marries Rantoul. John, stunned, buries himself in his work and rises rapidly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Almon Strauss, cabling from Paris, urged John Breen to continue the work of Colfax:

You have never met me, but I know and have confidence in you. We must not despair, no matter how dark the night. We must go forward wherever we see our way or where we feel our way. Planning must continue so that later on we will know what to do.

John Breen didn't know what to do. The pay he was getting was necessary. If only the insatiable city would calm down. How it tossed and squeezed and misused the people.

When the youth, Mitchel, was overwhelmed by the myth, Hylan, when the shaky city was being pounded hourly by rumors, in that time when shipping and men and dollars mingled in red carnival, Josephine Rantoul splurged in a splendid orgy of waste. She even made money, and she demonstrated her ability to spend it.

The war carried Gerritt Rantoul into financial whirlpools where he navigated with much skill. Munitions speculations sent his star to dizzy altitudes, shot him upward on a rise of values. Rantoul, at last, was many times a millionaire.

Rantoul, at a dollar a year, also served his country while his New York office in Pine Street, burned with activity. At the very beginning of the wild time, a Russian Commission, headed by a Grand Duke and carrying unlimited credit, fell to the wiles of Josephine. A neoteric cult to which she subscribed included several Russians, who, in return for lavish entertainment, inducted the Grand Duke and his advisers to the genial atmosphere of St. Botolph and the tender mercies of the great St. James. Rantoul after this killing, in which Josephine felt she held a charter interest, fell into the expanding schemes of George St. James.

Almost without trying, and because of Josephine, "Clever, you know," he found himself on the inside in Shell Case Consolidated a fifty million dollar combination of enterprises previously defunct. Tri-Nitro-Bullion also began the erection of vast explosive works in New Jersey, manufacturing an unstable compound with great rapidity as its chemists learned the business, in quantity production tests. Rantoul, who took on a strange fictitious importance, was made Chairman of the Board. Tri-Nitro soared to dizzy heights with the booking of further Russian orders. Josephine did much to reconcile Gerritt Rantoul for her many annoying traits. Tri-Bull, as it was called on the curb, led Rantoul into the picnic acid pool, a sweet bit of business engineered by St. James. St. James, swinging Rantoul with him at the head of a group of the more daring newer men, bought a centy against a few lucky simpletons who bought before the upward trend of war. With the advent of St. James and Rantoul and the influx of following money, came a classic upward dash. Safety—the name itself gave security—began to soar and touched a point where the stock could not be bought at any price. Five hundred dollars a share was offered but few were wise enough to sell.

Rantoul's new place at Southampton, bought lock, stock and cellar from a German dye man, under suspicion and therefore subject to forced sale, appeared in pictures in the Sunday papers. It was a very elaborate place and became the scene of the famous Allied Fair, the great open air charity fete under the management of the notorious Fulgence Torpillier, the Society Ace. Seventy-five percent of the money taken was clear profit, for Torpillier. But Josephine, in very becoming frocks, things with the new military effect, dawn grey, and sky blue, carried on her flirtations with an ever widening effect. She felt no fidelity among admirers; she never made the mistake of being bound up in any one man. Poor Rantoul, chanting his little private ditty, at times casting lecherous eyes at bold telephone operators, girls who looked upon him as a prospective su-of face, still the solid substantial figure of unshakable integrity, read the lists of casualties in the club, the same club where he had so often sat with his friend, Gilbert Van Horn. The old Avenue had seen many stirring marches, and the day when the great Liberty Loan Parade swept up the Avenue he had marched. But his eyes looked down the columns of killings, down the lists of the lost, the lists of the wounded, and then he found it.

John Breen, Major, 11th Engineers Wounded at Argonne Forest.

"Poor Gilbert. I can almost feel him here, looking at this, but no, he would have been across too."

John Breen had departed for the war. John had no particular desire to fight, or to live. His utter carelessness, as is often the case was set down as transcendent courage. He was decorated with the Croix de Guerre. A month later he forgot it somewhere, and never mentioned it. He concentrated on engineering.

"John has been wounded." Marvin Kelly met Josephine in the St. Botolph. The war was on its last legs. John had survived. "He'll probably never get back to the front." A look of great concern came into Josephine's eyes. "And they've pinned a few medals on him, the Croix de Guerre," he added.

That night Josephine dressed in Sombre black, her blond hair gleaming. Collar and cuffs of fine white lace gave her the severe air of a very high class domestic; a simple gown, close fitting, and expensive.

"Gerritt, I'm going across. I feel it my duty."

Then the armistice uproar swept the greater city, the floodgates of relief deluged the avenues and cross streets with flying ticker tape and scraps of paper. The town was wild, crazy. Josephine, in a becoming uniform of olive drab, with a shiny Sam Browne belt, sailed from the scene of her triumphs leaving a trail of bills and an army of domestic servants to the tender disposition of her aged spouse.

Judge Marvin Kelly, as trustee of her private fortune smiled at the complete and thorough manner in which this very capable and practical woman had built up the resources of the fortune of Van Horn.

Mrs. Wentworth left for Kentucky. "Thank heaven for a rest," she said.

"When you see John, give him my regards." Judge Kelly had approved certain arrangements as to real estate.

"Dear Marvin, now lovely of you to think of him." She kissed the solid old sagem, and was gone.

Gerritt Rantoul, always the gentleman, to all outward appearances, took her to the steamer and then turned back to the city to survey the wreck. That cur, St. James, was a rotter. Jason, Fillmore and Jones, a paper company, was on the edge of complete disintegration. Gerritt Rantoul struggled like a Christian to unload his stock on others before the inevitable crash.

The Southampton place went at a sacrifice. The luxurious apartment in the Du Barry followed. Rantoul could hardly keep ten feet ahead of the wolves.

"Old Rantoul's on the run." The word was on the street. His credit evaporated. By the most desperate effort he saved a few thousands, here and there, and by moving back to his fraternity club, a rather stuffy place, with college trimmings, he managed to hold his own in the city. One thing he did not do. He never cried for help. He might be a coward, a quitter, a rotter, and all of the things people thought of him, but he never shouted for assistance from his rich wife.

"Damn her!" Gerritt Rantoul hated Josephine. Hated her so he could not find words to express his aversion. Yet, when at last a letter came from her, he trembled, trembled, as he tore it open and cursed her.

DEAR G. I have just seen John. The dear boy looks so splendid in his uniform. He is so fit and brown and has completely recovered from his wound. He is in Paris with a commission, an engineering expert. He says that great man, Almon Strauss, had them sent for him—Think of it. Almon Strauss, the man you once almost got interested in those Peruvian mines. John is a hero, and he has the Croix de Guerre and such lovely ribbons.

"Men hung at her elbow, bent over her, pursued her with the intensity of wild infatuation."

fleet of lake steamers and founded the world trading corporation of Jason, Fillmore and Jones, with pretentious offices on Broadway. This firm was named after three likable chaps in his office. The issue was listed on the Stock Exchange and skyrocketed from the start. The world was hungry for genius, it lapped up stocks and produced profits, and fought for the privilege of giving away its money.

But St. James greatest achievement was Safety Submarine, selling on the curb at ten, with few buyers, while jobbers washed the stock in petty largar paps, to employ terse terms of the time, nursed a burning jealousy. The sad part of his predicament was his real love for Josephine, based upon nothing but futility.

The splurge she made, the bills she ran, the countless worthless followers who rode in his cars, drank his liquor, ate his food, began to tell on him. Men hung at her elbow, bent over her and pursued her with the intensity of wild infatuation. Then things began to get a little out of hand. St. James, in the process of squeezing bag holders, nipped Gerritt Rantoul for a million; it was a start. Josephine had jilted St. James. Then Tri-Bull was condemned by the Government as unsafe. The Army would have none of it. The Navy refused even to use it in depth bombs. It was reported as an unstable explosive. Gerritt Rantoul lost heavily in Tri-Bull, finding himself possessed of most of St. James, exchanged for value before the bad news seeped through that the stuff was worthless. It was one of the little forgotten tragedies among the big men, well behind the front.

The expensive apartment at the St. Botolph had been succeeded by a more lavish suite covering two floors of the new Du Barry. A super-flat with private elevators and exclusive service, an expensive nest bordering on the eastern edge of Central Park. Poor Rantoul began to groan when he began to realize the drain of this establishment. He was worn down by his excitement, irritable through his worries, and Josephine, spending his money and banking her own, rode on the necks of her admirers. What a flaming time of lurid patriotism it was! In the great hotels, foremost in the vast entertainment for charity Josephine lived on high. It was at this time that Cloissy evolved his famous scent, Parfum Josephine!

Judge Marvin Kelly, white, ruddy

The Value of Cooperation

- Time was when every community had its own small, isolated electric power plant—if it had any electric service at all.
- That was before it was technically possible to link up groups of towns and provide them with power through widespread systems of electric transmission lines.
- Today many communities share each power plant. Thus they utilize the facilities more efficiently and receive a higher grade of service at a much smaller cost. The small town's new industrial importance is a direct outgrowth of this improvement in power supply.

THE PLAINS COUNTRY

A RECENT SURVEY of practically the entire state of Texas reveals the fact that the territory occupied by and adjacent to Lamb county is the most favored part of the state. Financial conditions here are better than elsewhere. This is due largely to the fact that this is without doubt one of the best diversified farming sections of Texas and to the low price at which land sells for in this section.

The appointment of Mrs. Arbie Joplin as general chairman of the 1932 memorial poppy sale in Littlefield has been announced by Mrs. W. D. T. Story, president of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The sale will be conducted here Nov. 5th, the Saturday before Armistice Day, which has been designated as "Poppy Day." On that day every person in the city will be asked to pay tribute to the memory of the World War dead by wearing one of the Auxiliary's veteran-made poppies.

LAMB COUNTY GROW

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCT. 20, 1932

LAMB COUNTY OF OPPORTUNITY

ON FARMERS PROFIT BY MORE COLATERALIZED CROP LOANS; MANAGER OF COTTON CO-OP ISSUES STATEMENT

Plan as presented by the Co-op and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture in collateralizing Seed Loan Cotton on the basis of nine cents means at least $10.00 a bale more at this time in the collateralization value of 1932 Seed Loan Cotton, according to a statement issued by R. J. Murray, general manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association. The plan will affect more than 31,000 borrowers or approximately 1,000,000 bales of cotton throughout the South, 400,000 of which are last year's Seed Loan Cotton.

The plan, in addition to increasing the value of collateralized Seed Loan Cotton, opens up a possibility of withholding the 1,000,000 bales of Seed Loan Cotton off the present market during the usual heavy marketing season, thereby giving substantial support to the market. All farmers and business generally in Texas should profit from this plan as announced by the Department of Agriculture.

Where last year's loans were fully collateralized at 8c per pound, there will be no requirement to sell cotton and pay last year's loans. This year's loans collateralized at 9c together with last year's Seed Loan Cotton is required to be handled by the Cooperatives or placed in Federal Bonded Warehouses. Borrowers reserve the right to fix the price on collateralized cotton up to March 1, after which time the Secretary of Agriculture reserves the right to sell Seed Loan Cotton at his own discretion. All uncollateralized balances from last year's loans may be collateralized with this year's cotton at 9c.

Fewer Bales Needed
The 1932 Seed Loan Cotton already placed with the Cooperatives on which the price has not been fixed will automatically be brought up to the 9c level. It will therefore take fewer bales from Seed Loan borrowers to collateralize their loans and permit them to release the balance of their crop to apply on other indebtedness and local purchases of needed merchandise and equipment. All business, including farming, will benefit by the tremendous sum of money being placed into the channels of trade in local markets.

In the Lubbock delivery district of 42 counties, there will be many thousand bales of Seed Loan Cotton. With the facilities and services of 17 branch offices where Federal licensed classifiers are employed by the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, the farmers of this section will have the full and complete services of the association which will enable them to comply with the requirement that all Seed Loan Cotton must be classed by Federal licensed classifiers. This service is free to those who ship their cotton through the association, otherwise 20c per bale is charged for certification. All cotton handled by the association is not only classed by the branch office manager but is checked by a representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, thus assuring the farmer that he is getting the exact and true value of his cotton.

Confectionery Here Is Damaged By Fire

The Palace Confectionery, which is owned and operated by Ronnie Blair and Ralph Gillette, will reopen this Friday after being closed since last Sunday morning, following a fire in the store.

The fire started shortly after the business was closed Sunday morning, in accordance with the plan of closing all places of business during the time of Sunday morning services in the churches.

The fire started behind the cigar counter and quickly spread, damaging walls, merchandise, and breaking out the large plate glass window.

The blaze was discovered by J. W. Bell, who notified Homer Baker, an employee of the Palace theater. Mr. Baker gained entrance to the store and extinguished the blaze by the use of a theater hose before the fire department arrived.

FIRE AT GIN

Fire broke out at the Texas Cooperative Gin shortly before 1 a. m., Wednesday, and slight damage was done. The cause of the fire, which started in the condenser, is not known. Due to the nature of the fire, it was impossible to completely extinguish it, and the Littlefield fire department was again called to the gin late Wednesday afternoon.

YELLOW HOUSE LAND CO. IS ALLOWING 8 CENTS BASIS MIDDLING FOR COTTON IN PAYMENT OF LAND NOTES, INTEREST

Eight cents basis middling for cotton is being allowed by the Yellow House Land Co. in connection with their program of rendering all cooperation possible to purchasers of their land in paying notes and interest.

A similar plan of assisting purchasers of their lands was carried out last year.

A letter has been sent out to purchasers of Yellow House lands which reads in part as follows:

"Until further notice the Yellow House Land Company will take your cotton grown on land purchased from us, at 8 cents basis middling to be applied on land notes and interest due us.

"The Plains Investment Company until further notice, will take your cotton on same condition and at same price to be applied on interest due, but cannot take any cotton as payment on principal of Plains Investment Company notes.

"We will receive cotton at the compress in Littlefield, or on R. R. platform at Levelland and Anton, same to be free of any charges for ginning or otherwise."

Gar Wood drove "Miss America X" to a world's record for motorboats on the St. Clair river when he sent the huge craft hurtling twice over a measured nautical mile for an average time of 124.91 miles an hour. Over the nautical mile Wood was timed 124.41 for the first run and 125.42 for the second.

The new motor boat record almost equals the fastest speed of the automobile in 1910. That year Barney Oldfield on the sand beach at Daytona, did 131.76 m. p. h. for a straightaway mile.

Last year Hobart college's football team scored 39 points while its opponents scored 276. Hobart won one game during the season, its final game with the University of Rochester.

An all-time record for salmon taken on the fly was established the other day in the Miramichi river, Fredericton, Canada, when Harry R. Wellman, Dartmouth college professor, landed one weighing 35 pounds, 2 ounces. The fish was landed after a battle of four hours.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs. At fifty, you can be in your prime. Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years? There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways. This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness, the headache of a bilious spell, the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and than habit-forming laxatives, you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive. Get some syrup pepsin today, take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can get those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

General Election Ballot Will Be Eight Columns Wide

The general election ballot this year will be both long and wide. To indicate its length, it will have every nominee from governor to constable of every party, and in addition it will carry the names of twenty-three presidential electors, and at the bottom nine constitutional amendments, stated both for and against.

In width the ballot will have eight columns, one for each of the following parties: Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Communist, Jacksonian, and Liberty, and Independent. In addition, it will have one blank column for a voter who is not satisfied with any of these. Thus it will be seen that the ticket will be about the size of a full sheet in a newspaper.

Certificates from the secretary of state, Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, show that the Democratic ticket will be complete from the top to the bottom of the list with one exception that of congressman from the eighteenth district. This omission in the democratic column appears to be a clerical error, there being no place left on the ticket for the office, nor does the name of the nominee, Marvin Jones, of Amarillo, appear in the space.

Merchants get your pin tickets at the Leader office.

OH DEAR! WHAT A DEER! HE RAN 55 MILES AN HOUR

FULL SPEED AHEAD, THIS BUCK DEER RACED AN AUTOMOBILE ON JULY 15TH, NEAR SAULT STE. MARIE. NOT UNTIL THE SPEEDOMETER SHOWED 55, DID THE CAR HOLD ITS OWN WITH THIS SWIFT-STARTING ANIMAL, WHICH THEN TURNED INTO THE BRUSH. IF YOU WANT TO FIND OUT SOMETHING AMAZING ABOUT SPLIT-SECOND STARTING, JUST STEP ON THE STARTER OF YOUR CAR ONE OF THESE COMING COLD DAYS. IF THE TANK IS FILLED WITH PHILLIPS 66 GASOLINE, YOUR COLD MOTOR WILL CLICK INTO ACTION INSTANTLY. PHILLIPS HIGH TEST—FROM 63.4° TO 70.6°—IS THE REASON.

PHILL-UP WITH PHILLIPS - THE GASOLINE OF CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

at the price of ordinary gasoline

Cooler days are here again. But your motor will run with Summer smoothness, if the tank is filled with Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

Here is a motor fuel with amazing high test. Made so by the skill and resources of the long-trusted Phillips refining organization. Yet sold at the price of ordinary low-price gasoline, because Phillips—the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline—can afford to do so.

Phillips 66 never fails to make your motor do its best, since we scientifically control the volatility of this greater gasoline, increasing its high test as your weather gets colder. The result is split-second starting on freezing days. More power, pep, and mileage every day in the year. But don't expect these results, unless you stop for gasoline only at the Orange and Black 66 shield. That is where you get extra high test without a penny of extra price.

An M-system store at 1945 Nineteenth street was held up a few moments before by a shabbily dressed gunman, wearing large goggles and having a heavy growth of beard, entered the store on Broadway. M-system officials indicated that about $200 to $300 in checks was taken from the Nineteenth street grocery, police said. A handful of silver was taken in the other store before young Tharp was shot down.

Descriptions Tally

Descriptions of the man who held up the Nineteenth street store and of the gunman who felled Tharp were identical.
Police expressed the opinion that Tharp was shot as a result of fury felt by the bandit at being frustrated in the holdup attempt. More money would have been obtained at the Broadway store than at the grocery which was robbed successfully, they said.

Was Grid Star

Big and fast, Bob Tharp was one of the best halfbacks in the gridiron history of the McMurry Indians of Abilene. He was a four-year athlete at McMurry, playing his last football in 1929, and his last basketball in 1930.

He is survived by his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Ed Tharp of Brownfield, and four sisters, including Ada Mary Tharp, his twin, Mrs. Decker Magee of Crowell, Mrs. E. Gillespie of Avoca, and Mrs. Elmo McClellan of Lubbock, all of whom arrived at his bedside soon after his injury, as well as his cousin, Miss Ada Jane Magee of Crowell, and Miss Anale Key of Lamesa, Tharp's fiancee.

Rev. Tharp at one time several years ago was pastor of the Littlefield Methodist church. He now has a pastorate at Brownfield.

themselves in their homes and business houses. He remarked that he kept several guns about his place of business and was prepared to put them in use in case of emergency.

He pledged to the citizenry of Littlefield, on behalf of the City, that the city administration would do everything possible for the utmost protection of the citizenship, and would cooperate in every way with the peace officers in the enforcement of the law.

tection of the citizenship, and would cooperate in every way with the peace officers in the enforcement of the law.

Cleaning Lubbock of Undesirables
Rev. Mr. Grizzle spoke at the Lubbock situation, saying that since Tharp was killed by a thug Saturday night, feeling was running high there, and that with Lubbock cleaning the town of undesirables they were going elsewhere. He said we are facing an emergency and that unless we could "put the fire" under undesirables, we are going to have men and women on our streets we don't want here.

He suggested that lawyers pledge not to defend men making their living by robbery and murder, and that the citizens should report to the officers anything they should know that might assist them in enforcing the law, saying:

"We citizens should pledge ourselves to get in and help the officers and the city to bring to justice every offender in this county. We must get in and pitch to defend our purpose. When this criminal ring knows we are organized, they will run like rats from this part of the country."

E. A. Bills said he thought that the citizens should enter into and perfect some organization that would be of assistance to the peace officers of the county in preventing crime in the county. He said the lawyers are behind the officers of the county in the enforcement of the law and that he believed they could be of assistance to the peace officers; that an organization of this kind, if properly entered into, and properly carried out, would be of great assistance to the peace officers. He said the officers needed the cooperation of the citizens. He also said that the lawyers were just as anxious for law enforcement, and to get behind the officers and assist all they could as other citizens of the county, and that if the citizens would get behind the officers and stay there, telling the world that we will not tolerate crime in Littlefield, that any hi-jackers who heretofore had in mind making Littlefield will not stop here.

Asks Citizens to Help Officers

Deputy Sheriff Miller asked that the citizens report to peace officers any wrongdoing they came in contact with. He pointed out that the only way to keep the city clean would be to cooperate and assist the officers in law enforcement.

Judge E. S. Rowe said the matter rested with the private citizens; that if they wanted law enforcement and would stand behind the peace officers they could make and keep the city clean from crime.

It was then suggested that a law enforcement league be organized and T. Wade Potter, Littlefield attorney, in his talk suggested that a committee be appointed to assist the officers. He spoke of his work as county attorney of Lamb county for four years, stating that where citizens fail to do their duty that the officers cannot enforce the law. He said "if you, as good citizens, fail to report crime and such matters to the officers, you are failing in your duty."

Mr. Potter suggested that a good citizenship league be organized, and that each citizen sign a pledge to get behind the officers and do his or her part to assist them in law enforcement.

Rev. Gamble, pastor of the Baptist church at Olton, also made some suggestions.

Joe W. Hale suggested a county-wide organization with branches in the different communities.

J. M. Carruth of Sudan also made some suggestions along this line.

A motion was then presented and approved that the citizens of Lamb county form themselves into a county-wide organization to fight crime
