

House, Senate Can't Agree On Farm Measure

Power Co. Loses In Attack On PWA Utility Financing

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK by Joe Pickle

In looking back over the Big Spring week, the most important development was that of the decision to circulate petitions asking the county board of education to call an election to create a junior college district in the county. The reception given the matter would indicate that the board, which suggested the move, may soon be afforded the privilege of calling such an election. It is safe to venture that almost enough names will appear on petitions to insure a majority vote in favor of the district. Then the next and acid test will be the trustee and bond election to make the college a reality. For without bonds with which to erect a building, there will be little need of trustees or a district.

Thus far the proposal has been received with a mild degree of enthusiasm and it appears that it has a good chance of realization. One very commendable thing is that the move is coming from the rural section, is being fostered by the county board and consequently the urban section is cooperating in rather than inaugurating the issue. Of course there are several motives back of the proposal but some of the most important are: The college would stand an excellent chance of becoming a state regional junior college, it would afford many the opportunity of attending a college when otherwise they would be deprived of this chance, and it would cost an individual far less to support the college than to furnish transportation for one student to the nearest college. Too, it is argued well that it would be an asset to the county and town.

Hundreds of school children and adults last week witnessed a safety demonstration which graphically depicted traffic hazards. Instead of being told that it was wrong to drive at excessive speeds, they were shown the results of such a practice. They got a vivid picture of what can happen when one attempts to get by with faulty brakes. While much of what they saw may be forgotten, some may unconsciously retain the lessons and save themselves from serious injury or death.

We are constantly seeing our order undergoing changes, but few institutions are tending to new trends more rapidly than our schools. Last week school officials announced that the point or letter system of grading would be abandoned in favor of one which merely lists the student's work as "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory." We can remember when jealousies arose when one student made a 90 and another a 91. This was partially eliminated when the "A," "B," and "C" system of grading (Continued on Page 10)

Negro Given 5-Year Term

Is Found Guilty In Slaying Of Another Black At Stanton

STANTON, Feb. 22. (Sp.)—George Bluford, negro, heard himself sentenced to serve five years in the state prison Saturday for the murder of Wade Jones, negro, here Jan. 19.

He accepted the sentence after a conference with his attorney, James P. Simpson, Abilene.

Bluford pleaded not guilty to the charge of murdering Jones, testifying that the latter was killed when he snatched the 410 gauge shotgun which was in Bluford's grasp. Hit in the abdomen by the full charge, Jones staggered forward, fighting, said the defendant. The struggle continued until they emerged from the shack where the shooting occurred, he asserted.

Bertha Tolle, over whom the shooting was alleged to have occurred, said that Bluford entered the room, fired point blank at Jones and then started beating him.

John Arthur Woodberry, negro, testified that Bluford had taken the shotgun away from him and forced him to go part of the way to the Jones shack.

The state contended that Bluford had gone to the place with the intention of killing Jones. District Attorney Cecil Collins pleaded the case for the state.

Injunction On Public Project Dismissed By Court

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 22. (AP)—The fourth U. S. circuit court of appeals ruled against the Duke Power company today in its effort to prevent construction of a proposed $3,000,000 publicly-owned hydro-electric plant at Buzzard Roost, South Carolina, with Public Works Administration funds.

The court reversed the decision of Judge H. E. Watkins, of the western district court of South Carolina, who granted the power company an injunction against the proposed plant last Dec. 31.

The circuit court held that Judge Watkins should not have ruled on the Duke injunction petition at all, for lack of equity. The decision held that no possibility of an immediate and irreparable loss had been shown by the Duke company, and the district court was ordered to dismiss the case.

Judge Morris A. Spoor dissented, holding the government had no right to exercise a "yardstick" over private industry just because, he said, such regulation was incidental to the construction of a labor-making project.

Within Congress' Power

He construed the PWA funds to be in the nature of a gift breaking down what should be the local government's duty of protection to the power company from injury.

The majority opinion held that the public works act was within the powers of congress and that while construction of such local projects might not be valid individually an objection could not be sustained against them as part of a great, general program designed for public welfare and relief of a condition of unemployment "which was nationwide in scope and had become a menace not merely to the safety, morals, health and general welfare of vast numbers of the people, but also to the stability of the government itself."

As the case involved the constitutional right of the public works administration to make loans for projects of that character, it was regarded as an important test of the "new deal" power policy.

Honor Court Slated Today

Large Attendance Expected At Meeting Called For 2 P. M.

The Boy Scout court of honor scheduled for 2:30 p. m. today from the district courtroom is expected to prove the biggest in several months from the point of attendance and number of awards.

Six Big Spring troops will be competing for an attendance award designed and constructed by Preston Lovelace, scout in Troop No. 5. Scout and adult attendance both will count toward the award.

W. T. Strange, Jr., Chamber of Commerce manager, will deliver a brief address as a climax to the meeting.

Badge and merit awards will be presented by Nat Shick, Rev. C. A. Bickley, Thomas E. Pierce and George Gentry.

A short song-fest will be led by R. H. Miller, Jr., and J. B. Bender will lead in the reconsecration to the scout oath.

Gentry, district chairman, will preside in the absence of W. C. Blankenship, chairman of the court of honor.

BROTHER OF B. F. WILLS DIES IN EMMETT, IDAHO

B. F. Wills received word Saturday of the death of his brother, W. L. Wills, 78, in Emmett, Idaho. He had been ill for two months. B. F. Wills will be unable to attend the funeral.

League Group To Consider Oil Embargo

Reports That Ethiopia Is Seeking Peace Denied By Selassie

(By Associated Press)

The league of nations sanctions committee was summoned Saturday to a special meeting March 2 to consider an oil embargo against Italy as new reports arose in Rome that Emperor Haile Selassie was looking toward peace.

The Ethiopian emperor's foreign minister at Addis Ababa immediately denied that the negus had advanced peace proposals to the league.

On the battlefronts of northern East Africa, the black-shirted Legions of Marshal Pietro Badoglio reported advancing on Amba Alaji, new objective since the capture of Ricky Amba Aradam.

Two Proposals

The league committee, whose 18 members originally voted the war penalties against the fascist nation for aggression in East Africa, has two proposals before its special session:

1. Application of the proposed oil embargo as an additional sanction, with consideration given to additional embargoes of steel, coal and iron.

2. Consideration of the report of the special committee of experts which reviewed the effectiveness of the oil sanction against the aggressor nation. The committee's report made the success of the oil sanction dependent on the willingness of the United States to hold American oil exports to their normal volume.

The Rome reports of Emperor Selassie's latest move for peace declared the Ethiopian commander was considering an offer to establish a league protectorate over his empire but his position on cessation of territory was not defined.

At the Ethiopian capital, Beldat, the Italian ambassador, disclaimed the Italian advance and said no proposals had been made to Geneva or elsewhere.

Midland Pastor To Speak Here Today

A talk on "Better Citizenship" will be delivered by Rev. Winston Burton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Midland, at an all-county church meeting to be held at the city auditorium here this afternoon. The program will start at 2:30.

The session is sponsored by the county prohibition forces organized in a campaign against legalization of liquor sales in Howard county, which issue will be before the voters on Saturday of this week. All citizens of the county have been invited to attend.

POST WILL CONTINUE AID ON BONUS CLAIMS

An attempt to complete the taking of bonus applications here will be made this week by the Ray E. Fuller VFW post by keeping the hall open the last three evenings of the week.

Post officials said Saturday that they would open the hall at 7 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and station men there to assist in filling out application blanks necessary for participation in the cash bonus payment voted by congress.

Saturday approximately 450 applications had been handled through the post in addition to many others filed privately.

Several applications have been filed through N. L. Dalton, operator of the Best Yet cafe.

Walter Johnson, Old Dollar-Tosser Sails His Coin Across The River With Ease

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Feb. 22. (AP)—Regardless of what George Washington may have done, Walter Johnson converted legend into actuality today and threw a dollar across the Rappahannock.

With a motion easier than that which he used to send his old speed ball down the groove to batters, the former strike-out champion sailed two coins across the river. "Gosh!" explained Johnson, "I didn't think I'd do it."

Decision On Long Illness Tax Program Due Thursday

Roosevelt Summons Legislative Leaders To Meet That Day

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Word from the White House to "keep Thursday night open" quickened expectation of congressional leaders today that President Roosevelt will soon make known his tax recommendations.

The executive, it was learned, has asked his legislative leaders to be ready for a meeting with him tentatively for February 27, following his return from Hyde Park, N. Y.

Mr. Roosevelt told newsmen yesterday that he expected to study the tax situation during his absence from the capital. He was in Cambridge, Mass., tonight and will go from there to his Hyde Park home.

PROBERS NAMED Group Picked For Inquiry Into Pension Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Speaker Byrnes today appointed four democrats and four republicans to a bi-partisan committee headed by Rep. Bell (D-Mo) to investigate the Townsend and other old age pension plans.

Says Witness Changed Tale After Arrest

Man Asserts He Had Been Promised Part Of $25,000 Reward

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 22. (AP)—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, who temporarily saved Bruno Richard Hauptmann from the electric chair a month ago, cast doubt today on the testimony that placed Hauptmann near Hopewell about the time of the Lindbergh kidnaping March 3, 1932.

Reversed Himself

At the conclusion of two hours of questioning Millard Whited, Sourlands lumberjack, the governor said it was "highly significant" that Whited once told police he had seen no one near the Lindbergh home and then apparently reversed himself when Hauptmann was arrested two and a half years later and identified him.

The governor said Whited told him he had been promised a part of the $25,000 reward offered by the state for the arrest and conviction of the kidnaper, had received about $160 for appearing as a witness and thought more was due him.

"It would be very interesting," the governor said, "to know whether the promise of the reward played some part in his identification of Hauptmann in the Bronx."

C. Lloyd Fisher, chief defense counsel, who with Hunterdon county prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., sat in at the governor's meeting with Whited, asked the lumberjack if he had been promised one-third of the reward and Whited said "Yes."

Governor Hoffman said "errors" were found today in Whited's statements during the conference. He did not disclose what they were.

Towns Divide Debate Honor

San Angelo Boys, Lubbock Girls Winners In Tourney Here

San Angelo boys and Lubbock girls' won in the debate tournament which attracted six boys and three girls teams here Saturday.

J. C. Sonnenberg and LeRoy LaSalle constituted the winning San Angelo combination and Rebecca Butler and Shirley Bass were the Lubbock victors.

All teams debated the question of whether the federal government should control cotton production.

The Big Spring debate teams may go to Wichita Falls for a tournament next week and will participate in the Abilene tourney March 14.

Miss Eloise Haley, coach of the Big Spring teams, was in charge of the tournament here Saturday.

Seek To Trace History Of Tagged Wolf

Ring, an old male wolf, is dead but a leather collar embedded deep in his skin is keeping him from joining the ranks of just another animal caught by a government trapper.

On Feb. 18 he became entangled in the trap of a government trapper named Blaylock on the Ed Douthitt ranch 16 miles southeast of here.

When Blaylock set about removing the wolf's hide, he found the collar embedded deep in the skin of the animal's neck. On it were two metal plates, one carrying the name of "Ring" and "F. Nunn, Wizzard Wells, Texas," and the other Nunn's name and the address "Morrison, Ark."

Since "Wizzard Wells," near Jacksboro, is several hundred miles from here, Douthitt and Blaylock are attempting to trace Ring's life history. They believe the collar was placed on him when a pup.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22. (AP)—Declaring that "true education depends upon freedom in pursuit of truth," President Roosevelt said today:

"No group and no government can properly prescribe precisely what should constitute the body of knowledge with which true education is concerned."

In a Washington birthday speech in which he accepted an honorary degree of doctor of jurisprudence from Temple University, Mr. Roosevelt said the father of his country "deeply appreciated the importance of education in a republic and the responsibility of the government to promote it."

The chief executive asserted he was "proud to be the head of a government that has sought to make a substantial contribution to (Continued on Page 10)

Program For Baptists Set

Meeting This Afternoon To Mark Close Of Week's Campaign

A program marking the close of the Sunday school enlargement campaign which has been conducted for the past week in Baptist churches throughout this district will be held at the East Fourth Street Baptist church at 2:30 this afternoon. The program will be in the nature of a commencement exercise for those completing courses of study offered during the week, and awards will be made.

The meeting will be for the Big Spring association, while similar sessions will be held at Lamesa for churches in that association, and at Dunn for the Mitchell-Scurry association.

The program will be directed by Clyde O. Crane of Midland, associational Sunday school superintendent, and the principal talk will be made by Dr. W. T. Conner of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. Opening service will be conducted by Ira M. Powell, and Willis J. Ray, associational missionary will give reports and recognition of delegates. Rev. W. C. Harrison of Odessa will award efficiency banners.

An attendance of between 300 and 400 is anticipated, with delegations expected from 13 churches in the association. There were 245 enrolled in classes conducted during the enlargement campaign, and 255 assisted in census work.

Mrs. Anna Going Taylor of Fort Worth will speak at the Lamesa meeting this afternoon, while W. J. Lites, associate state Sunday school secretary will speak at Dunn.

Churches due to have representatives here include Odessa, Midland, Valley View, Stanton, Greenwood, West Noble, Coahoma, Fortaux, Knott, Prairie View, and West Side, Fourth Street and First churches of Big Spring.

Adjustments Will Be Made By Committee

Amendments Voted By The Lower Branch Are Held Unacceptable

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—The senate today disagreed to the house amendments to the soil conservation subsidy bill and sent the measure to conference between the two houses for reconciling differences.

Refuses To Serve

Senator McNary of Oregon, the republican leader, refused to accept appointment as a senate conferee in view of his opposition to the bill when it was before the senate.

Senator Smith (D-SC) headed the conferees named by Vice President Garner. Other members of the committee are Senators Murphy (D-Ia), Pope (D-Ia) and Copper (R-Kan).

The measure passed by the house yesterday, 267 to 97, added virtually a dozen amendments to the version approved by the senate, many of them expanding the already wide powers conferred upon the secretary of agriculture.

Smith said the house action confirmed his belief that the whole matter of legislating for the farmer was in a state of confusion.

"This whole thing has to be threshed out in conference," he said.

He asserted the house amendment allowing tenants and sharecroppers to participate in subsidies in proportion to the loss they suffered through diversion of land to soil improving crops was "impossible."

"What kind of a fool thing is this they have adopted?" Smith cried. "Let us use a little common sense."

"The tenant and the sharecropper get it all now. They are given their part of the crop with no strings on it. The landowner has to pay taxes and the costs of production, housing, implements and repairs. It's not fair that he should give away what he gets for good land practices which make more money for his workers."

He said he "most certainly would" support the amendment, which was sponsored by Representative Tarver (D-Ga). Tarver declared tenants and sharecroppers constituted more than 50 per cent of the south's farmers and should be compensated for any loss suffered when the land furnished their livelihood is entered into a conservation program.

Few Absentee Ballots Cast

Passive interest in the county-wide local election Saturday on all liquors was reflected at the end of last week when only nine absentee votes had been cast.

However, a mass meeting called by dry forces for this afternoon and a round of speaking engagements over the county this week are expected to quicken interest in the first county hard liquor referendum in two decades.

Wets, apparently inactive except for taking the lead in the circulation of petitions directed to the county commissioners court and calling for a vote, may come to life during the week. It was reported that they will shower the county the forepart of the week with handbills and follow up later in the week.

Law's Drive On Gangster Is Portrayed

Preston Foster, Margaret Callahan At Lyric In 'Muss 'Em Up'

A new version of the law vs. gangster picture, "Muss 'Em Up," is the feature at the Lyric theater for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Telling of the war of officers on kidnap mobs, the picture carries for its title a reference made by a New York police commissioner who told his men that when they

Ritz Offers Musical Film With Warner Baxter In Leading Role

Many Entertainers In Cast Of 'King Of Burlesque'

The colorful atmosphere of the burlesque theater, with its girls, songs, clowns and comics, provides the setting for the action of "King of Burlesque," which plays at the Ritz theater Sunday and Monday. Warner Baxter heads the cast for the picture, which includes Alice Faye, Jack Oakie, Arline Judge, Mona Barrie, Gregory Ratoff, Dixie Dunbar, Kenny Baker, Fats Waller and Nick Long, Jr., among the featured personalities. Although the picture is a revealing glimpse into the gaudy world of the burlesque, it does not confine its action to backstage drama, but presents the life story of a genius of the theater, played by Baxter.

Broadway Career
With his two aides, Alice Faye and Oakie, Baxter has climbed from side street honky-tonks to Broadway's great showhouses. Then when he falls in love with a society woman who represents everything he had hoped to attain, he deserts his friends. Things go from bad to worse with Baxter until his wife, Mona Barrie, deserts him. When things look blackest, his old friends return to help him on a new spectacular venture, and he finds that the girl who had befriended him is the one he loves.

"King of Burlesque" is brightened by a host of new songs, dances, novelties and other sparkling production numbers. Introduced in specialty acts are several stars of the screen, stage and radio. Among them are Dixie Dunbar, the diminutive dancer who ranks among the best; Jats Waller, the pianist-singer who has achieved popularity through phonograph recordings; Kenny Baker, the vocalist, and others.

The story is an original one for the screen, written by Vina Delmar. The song writing team of Jimmy McHugh and Ted Koehler, brought in criminals to bring them in "mussed up."

Preston Foster has one of the leading roles, appearing as the officer who chased down a kidnap gang. Margaret Callahan plays opposite him, and the plot becomes complicated when Preston finds that she, the girl he loves, has become involved with the crooks. He is forced to point out the actual kidnaper from a group of six suspects, and learns that she is one of the group. How the tangled situation is straightened out and the guilty are brought to justice makes up the climax of the story.

With Foster and Miss Callahan in the cast are Alan Mowbray and Ralph Morgan.

Only One Low Priced Car is FIRST in Everything That Counts

...TERRAPLANE

JUST COMPARE THIS with THIS

- Terraplane alone among all popular low priced cars gives you this:
- Full 115-inch wheelbase.
 - 195 inches over-all length.
 - Most power—88 or 100 horsepower—with freedom from vibration at all speeds.
 - Body all of steel, with seamless roof of solid steel.
 - Most inside room—145 cubic feet—more leg and shoulder room, and widest rear seat.
 - Completely new style—best insurance of the investment value of your car.
 - The only rear opening baggage and tire compartment on 5 and 6-passenger models that can be had in any low priced car without extra cost. Spare tire lies flat inside.
 - Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for), two braking systems operating automatically from one brake pedal. And a third braking system from the easiest operating parking brake in the world.
 - Extra deep "V-type" windshield—for added beauty and wider vision.

- In every other popular low priced car this is what you get:
- 2 to 6 inches less wheelbase.
 - 5 to 12½ inches less over-all length.
 - 3 to 18 less horsepower than Terraplane's 88—and not nearly as smooth.
 - Body only partly of steel—or steel body with "soft-top."
 - Less inside room—less shoulder and leg room—narrower rear seats.
 - 1935 styling, changed only in details. Far more likely to be out of date by 1937.
 - No rear opening baggage and tire compartment, except in cars where trunk models are available—at considerable extra cost. Spare tire mounted outside on all other models.
 - Single main braking system—either hydraulic or mechanical—without complete reserve braking system and without Terraplane's type of easy acting parking brakes.
 - Nothing like Terraplane's deep "V-type" windshield in any other low priced car.

The list of Terraplane advantages doesn't stop with those listed here. There's greater ruggedness, proved by owner mileages of 125,000, 150,000 and more. Greater economy, too, certified by thousands of owner statements... emphasized again just the other day in the Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run when a plan will be sent to them as soon as the general exhibit committee confers with the Frontier celebration authorities.

Terraplane averaged 23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over a tough 352 mile stretch on mountain roads. And dozens of other features... all at a price down with the lowest for the model you want. Come in and see and drive a Terraplane.

Chief effects of the board's decision will be to move the main Westex exhibit from Dallas to the Frontier celebration 30 miles west; and to enlarge the exhibit and make it permanent. Necessity for the action was explained by Nichols, WTCC chairman.

Originally the West Texas chamber of commerce was allotted 6,000 square feet of space, including aisle space, in the agricultural building in Dallas, for our exhibit. On Feb. 13 we received a letter from Mr. Geo. L. Dahl, Centennial architect, stating it had been found necessary to reduce the total of exhibit space allotted to West Texas from 2,500 feet to 1,350 feet.

"This would have left insufficient room for showing our proposed 10-district exhibit. It would have left insufficient room for participation by our 195 affiliated communities, an important part of our plan, and would have barred their grouping with their own districts. To date, 135 of our communities have signed for panel exhibits and have their committees appointed."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES Room 1, Settles Hotel "Mind" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 23. The golden text is: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the holy is understanding" (Proverbs 9:10). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite" (Psalms 147:5). The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There can be but one mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one mind, if that one is infinite." (page 469). Mr. and Mrs. Lee Warren are spending the week-end in Snyder visiting with relatives.

Priscilla Sewing Club Meets At Mrs. Martin's Members of the Priscilla club met at Mrs. W. B. Martin's for an enjoyable afternoon spent in sewing.

Cherry pie and cocoa carried out the George Washington motif used for the party and were served to: Mmes. Tom Rosson, R. V. Jones, J. W. Garrison, A. C. Hart, G. Patrick and Miss Mildred Creath. An innovation in musical instruments displayed at Germany's Leipzig fair was an upright piano which may be converted into either a sideboard or a desk by merely changing the position of the cover and the center panel.

One Hundred Guests Greeted By House Party In Martha Washington Frocks; Program Precedes Serving

One of the most attractively planned Washington teas of several years was that given by Mrs. Ben R. Carter Saturday afternoon in the ballroom of the Settles hotel.

Guests were greeted by the hostess who was gowned in a beautiful Martha Washington costume of orchid and green taffeta and handmade lace. She wore with this an antique cameo belonging to her mother, Mrs. Bardwell, gold slippers, and a corsage of lilies.

F. M. Pursers Give Farewell Dinner Party

Harry Sheltons Named As Honorees Of The Evening

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pursers were host and hostess for a charming George Washington's dinner Thursday evening at their home in Edwards Heights.

The occasion was a farewell tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shelton who are leaving soon to make their home in Odessa.

The centerpiece was a representation of the legend of George cutting down the cherry tree. A doll held a hatchet suspended over a miniature stump. A lovely new picture of George Washington was over the mantel in the living room. A three-piece orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Guests were: Messrs. and Mrs. Shelton, Herschel Sumnerlin, Douglas Perry, G. C. Dunham, L. A. Eubanks, H. L. Bohannon, John Whitmore, Willard Sullivan, Mmes. Ek Thom, Lorene Moore, Jack Johnson, J. T. Allen; Misses Gladys Gene Shay and Allyn Bunker and Charles Costley.

Mrs. Lottie M. Lane was released Wednesday from the hospital after undergoing a major operation.

High School Is Awarded U. S. Medal

Bronze Tribute Paid School For Assistance At Bicentennial

The 204th anniversary of the birth of George Washington was celebrated at the Big Spring high school Friday with the display of a beautiful bronze medal awarded the school. On the one side of the medal was a bas-relief bust of the Father of Our Country; on the other a bas-relief of Lady Liberty.

The medal was sent to the school in appreciation of the number of Washington programs given in 1932 during the bicentennial year. Among the best was that sponsored by the Current Events History club in which the entire school system was represented.

Of the medal the U. S. commission sending it out said, in the letter: "This is the official George Washington bicentennial commemorative medal. It was designed by Mrs. Laura Gardin Fraser, noted sculptor of New York City and was struck for the United States George Washington bicentennial commission by the United States Mint at Philadelphia, Penna. It is a replica of the medal presented to the president of the United States, and is identical with those presented as awards during the nation-wide oratorical essay and declamatory contests."

Successful Church Benefits Are Given Friday Afternoon, Night

First Methodist Women Hold Colonial Tea For Sunday School; St. Cecilia's Group Entertains At Country Club

Two church benefits were held Friday and although they differed greatly in character and appeal, both were successful from a social and financial point of view.

The children's division of the First Methodist Sunday school gave a silver Colonial tea at the home of Mrs. H. G. Keaton Friday evening that was very beautiful and greatly enjoyed by those who attended.

A game party was the first money-making venture of the St. Cecilia auxiliary of St. Mary's Episcopal church. The party was held Friday evening at the Country club with the following hostesses in charge: Mmes. Wilburn Barcus, J. Gordon Bristow, Ralph Rix, Reuben Parker, W. Tate, Turner Wynn and Ray Simmons.

Approximately 100 people were present to devote the evening to 42 dominoes and bridge. The first high score bridge prize was a lamp donated by the Texas Electric company and was won by Mrs. J. L. Rush. The second was a bath set donated by Mrs. Rush; it went to Miss Enid Avriett. The third prize was an ash tray and match holder from Cunningham & Phillips drug store; this was won by Mrs. John M. Hinman.

In the domino game, the first prize was a set of cuff links from Albert M. Fisher and Company, Wilburn Barcus won these. The second prize was two vases from Omar Pitman's; these went to Mrs. Leo Rogers.

Two cut prizes were awarded. One was a card dealer from Rix Furniture store and was won by C. A. Cowling; the other was a bon bon dish donated by Gibson's Supply company that Mrs. Shirley Robbins won.

The candy prize was a five-dollar oil book donated by Cosden refinery. Wilburn Barcus was the lucky recipient.

Present were: Messrs. and Mmes. Carl Blomsheld, Shirley Robbins, Lee Hubby, Steve Ford, Hayes Stripling, Joe Ogden, Ray Simmons, Ralph Rix, E. O. Ellington, Turner Wynn, Elmo Wasson, William Tate, S. A. Hathcock, Wilburn Barcus, Leo Rogers, Lloyd Wasson, J. Gordon Bristow, Mmes. John Clarke, J. L. Rush, Charles Koebig, Charles Landers, C. S. Diltz, R. L. Beale, Whitney, Woods, J. Y. Misses Charlene Handley, Marie Johnson, Nancy Enid Avriett, Fern Wells, Clara Secret, Eloise Haley; Messrs. C. A. Cowling, P. Walter Henckel, Earl Ezzell, Joe Galbraith, Curtis Driver.

Methodist Tea
The Methodist Sunday school leaders were hostesses for a beautiful silver tea for which the women were attractively gowned in Martha Washington frocks. They powdered their hair and turned back the pages of history to the early days of the nation, as far as the setting went.

In the receiving line were: Mmes. Keaton, Pascal Buckner, C. A. Bickley, W. L. Meier, V. Flewelling, Alvis Lovelace.

Mrs. J. M. Manuel displayed antiques that were a curiosity and a feature of the program. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. N. W. McCleskey poured tea. Miss Mary Ida Morton, Mmes. Charles Anderson, Joe E. Heard, C. L. McClenny assisted with the serving.

Little Misses Sara Woodward and Marilyn Keaton were at the registration table.

A musical program was rendered by several local musicians including Horace Penn, Misses Edith and Roberta Gay and Miss Evelyn Jackson at the violin. Mrs. Keaton and Mrs. Flewelling sang colonial songs accompanied by Mrs. Charles Morris.

The following guests registered: Mmes. A. J. Butler, Joy Wolfkill, Clyde Thomas, Tracy Roberts, Horace Penn, Russell Crane, H. F. Williamson, C. F. Lechridge, Melon Everts, Raymond Winn, J. A. Myers, F. V. Gates, R. L. Warren, J. E. Fleeman.

Rev. C. A. Bickley, Horace Penn, Jr., Mrs. Jane Sadler, Edith Gay, Roberta Gay and Evelyn Jackson.

FIRST METHODIST WOMEN

All circles of the First Methodist W. M. S. will meet at the church Monday for a social and program. Circle two will be the official hostess. Everyone is reminded to collect her good used clothes and bring them to the church to go into the orphan's home box that will be packed that afternoon.

East Ward PTA Observes 4 Holidays

Three National Fetes, Founders Day Receive Group Tributes

The East Ward P.T.A. met Thursday afternoon at the building for a general program dealing with the different February holidays. The decorations were impartially chosen. A row of Valentine hearts hung from the ceiling across the center of the room. Pictures of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln were on the walls.

Mrs. J. T. Brooks presided over the meeting. Miss Mary Fawn Coulter's pupils gave the program composed of a playlet and a patriotic march by boys wearing red, white and blue caps, who ended the march with a salute to the flag and quotations from Lincoln.

After the business meeting, a lovely white birthday cake, decorated with a large flag, was brought in and placed on a lace-covered table. In honor of Founders' Day, John Anna Terry and Lorena Brooks lit the candles. As each was lighted a letter of the alphabet was called and a P.T.A. member responded with an appropriate tribute to the organization.

While the candles burned, Mrs. Brooks read the day's message by the state president, Mrs. M. A. Taylor, encouraging the members to continue to greater achievements.

The cake was then cut and served to the members. Mrs. Coulter's room won the contest for the month.

Present were: Mmes. A. S. Woods, E. A. Martin, J. E. Walker, H. D. Dyke, F. D. Wyatt, H. M. Davis, F. C. Rees, J. O. Tammit, A. R. Kavanagh, Guy Tammit, Rose Riley, F. H. Sanders, D. P. Thompson, W. Clever Nursery Towel Shower Invitations Are Sent Out By Auxiliary

The Women's auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church sent out unusually clever invitations last week to a towel shower being given for the newly organized welfare nursery project. It is a towel shower and the presentation of gifts will take place after the auxiliary meeting, tomorrow. The invitations contain a picture of a wash line holding a row of towels. The invitations read: Wash out on the line: First Presbyterian Church Monday at 4. Bring one small Turkish towel or more. For the nursery kiddies need: That will be a good turn indeed, You'll come? Sure, that's fine.

Cactus Night Club Dine, Play At Settles Hotel

Cactus club members and their husbands assembled at the Settles hotel Thursday evening for a party at which Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tatum were host and hostess. Dinner was served in the coffee shop, after which the group went to the mezzanine to spend the evening at bridge. The patriotic motif was used in party appointments. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worley were the only guests. He made high score for the men, and was awarded a tie. Mrs. Pendleton received hose for making women's high. The Whiteys will entertain the night club next. Members playing were: Messrs. and Mmes. W. W. Pendleton, C. E. Hahn, R. E. Lee, L. R. Billy Danner, assisted by Miss Reta Debenport and his mother, Mrs. F. L. Danner, entertained a number of his friends Friday evening with a George Washington party. The guests played games, sang and danced. A lovely refreshment plate, of open-faced sandwiches, individual cherry pies, hot chocolate and favors of George Washington hats filled with candy were served to the following: Mary Nell Edwards, Jean Dublin, Billye Beas Shive, Norma Edwards, Francis Bledsoe, Betty Lee Eddy, Emma Mae Rowe, Tommy Reeves, Billy Robinson, Ralph Cathey, Ben J. Case, Harold Nell, Morris Burns, Jr., Red Womack and Justin Danner.

Mmes. Taylor, Dee Orr, Nathan Orr, Cleo Byers, Alice Wright, Alma Burbee, B. Y. Dixon, Frank Earley, O. B. Williams, Charles McCustian, Gus Pickle, McGee, C. J. Shultz, John Coreoran, L. S. Bonner, Misses—Pauline—Shubert, Hattie Mae Pickle, Mary L. Eddins, Lena D. Bonner.

Wanda Jean Kellar Has Patriotic Party

Mrs. H. P. Kellar gave her daughter, Wanda Jean, a pretty George Washington party Friday evening. Prizes for the games and contests were candy-filled hatchets and went to Carolyn Cantrell and Teddy Smith. Refreshments and favors—triangular candy-filled hats—were passed to the following guests: Billie Cain, Betty Jane Smith, Carolyn Cantrell, Charles Juergensen, Bobby Brant, Teddy Smith, James Duncan, Bobby Clover. Mrs. T. R. Smith and Mrs. Carl Bryant aided Mrs. Kellar.

Baby Beef Show At Sweetwater Is Set

SWEETWATER, Feb. 21—Sweetwater's fourth annual baby beef show has been set for April 20. This show is expected to draw approximately 50 calves, 35 lambs, and 20 fat barrows from Mitchell, Fisher and Nolan counties. Eight hundred pounds is tentatively set for the dividing line of the two classes of calves, the lights and the heavies. Prizes have been announced as $10 for first prize, $7.50 second, $5 third, $3 fourth.

and $2 for fifth, for each class. A grand champion will receive a prize of $5. An effort is being made to divide the prize money more equally, instead of giving large prizes to the winners, as an added incentive for more boys to enter livestock for the show. Judges for the show have not been selected.

Mrs. James Wilcox has returned to her home to Lubbock, after spending a week here while her son, Jimmy Frank, recuperated from a tonsillotomy. The operation was performed about two weeks ago in Lubbock. Mrs. J. F. Kennedy went up for the operation and her daughter and grandson came home with her.

BUFFS COP FINAL GAME BY 18 TO 16

FORSAN, Feb. 22. (Sp.)—A crippled Forsan high school basketball team rallied sufficiently here tonight to get an 18-16 decision over the Abilene Eagles for the District 5 title.

The game was fast and very rough. Price, Abilene, forward, topped the scorers with seven points. Lies paced the Forsan tally makers with three field goals.

Box score for Forsan vs Abilene. Forsan: Lies, 3; Parker, 4; Chambers, 0; Adams, 0; Scuddy, 0; McKinney, 0. Abilene: Halley, 1; Price, 7; Dodds, 1; Herman, 0; Hill, 0.

CADETS SINK NAVY CAGERS

WEST POINT, Feb. 22.—In a Washington Day basketball celebration here Saturday, the veteran West Point Cadets defeated the Middies from Annapolis, 35-19, before several thousand fans who were attracted to the meet.

Coach Johnny Wilson's youthful crew, who took their sixth straight win today, could not stop Monk Meyer and Captain Ken Duwalt who together scored a total of 23 points.

It was the sixth victory in 13 starts registered against the Sailors by the Cadets. Frank Shamer took scoring honors for the Middies with seven points.

Meyer, Duwalt and Wright Hyatt sank free tosses in the first two minutes of play to give their mates a 3-0 lead before MacFarland hit the hoop for the Annapolis five.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 22. (AP)—The Notre Dame basketball card this season lists most of the midwestern and eastern champions as foes.

In the Big Ten the Irish had Purdue and Illinois, co-champions of last year, on their schedule. In the East they met and defeated Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, champion and one of the top teams in the Eastern Intercollegiate conference.

Victor Weeber, the friendly German grappler, is still neck-twisting in New York. He recently threw George Becker, another German.

MAYHEW WAS in the office Saturday afternoon and we told him that Howard Miller, Abilene high school basketball coach, had informed us his boys would beat Forsan in the third game of the series. "Maybe so," Dewey said, "but Howard hasn't been coaching as long as I have."

Detroiters Feel Jobs Slipping As Little Tigers Sprout Claws

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22. (AP)—Another strikeout king from the minors may take turns on the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh Pirates next summer alongside the surprising Darrell Elijah (Cy) Blanton.

The latest hurling hope of Manager Harold (Pie) Traynor's Cornairs is Clarence (Stear) Struss, late of Rock Island, Ill., Little Rock, Ark., and Kansas City. In five seasons of minor league pitching, Struss has piled up the impressive total of 899 strikeouts in 1,076 innings.

COWBOYS 5TH IN WEST TEXAS LEAGUE IN '29

Pitching Weakness Kept Locals Out Of Race (By HANK HART)

The Big Spring Cowboys were forced to the limit to get a 4-3 decision over the Abilene Aces in the final game of the West Texas baseball league in 1929. The win kept the Cowboys out of the league cellar. Pitching weakness kept the local team from being a pennant contender.

Practically every man on the squad tried working the mound, but proved to be ineffective. A mixture of youth and experience made up a hustling, if not a winning, ball club.

The Big Spring team had several managers during the 1929 season, but none succeeded in putting out a consistent winner. First base was a problem for all the managers. White, Walker, Nettles and Rose all had a try at the initial sack but none measured up to requirements.

Good Fielders. Glosop seemed to hold a lease around the keystone sack, as did other members of the infield, including Sammy Sain and Gus Leedy. None were exceptionally potent with the timber, but they were above par in the field.

With Grover Setz in left field, Tony Antista in center, and Blacky Adams in right field, the Big Spring outfield was probably the best in the league.

Setz was the speediest player in the circuit, while Antista and Adams formed a powerful combination with the timber.

Tony followed Glosop and Sain in the bat lineup while Adams was placed in the "clean-up" position. When the little Italian left for faster company he was succeeded by Burratt and Baumgarten, both fair hitters.

Adams manages a ball club in Loraline while Setz plays with the Pampa Roadrunners. Scrapy Receiver Behind the plate, a scrapping mittman by the name of Babe did most of the Big Spring receiving duties.

Probably the best pitcher of the group was "Lefty" Dobbe, a youngster who had a fair assortment of curves and a speed ball difficult to hit.

Dizzy Joins Brother Paul For Golfing

Jerome Herman Will Remain Holdout Until He Gets A Raise

DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Frollicking about like two boys out of school, the Dean brothers—Dizzy and Paul—were together again today, playing golf and looking over Paul's recently acquired farm, while their baseball contract trouble remained status quo—awaiting further word from their boss, Branch Rickey.

Refiners Win Angelo Tourney

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 22. (Sp.)—Cosden Oilers staged a thrilling finish to whip out Fingelaters in the title match of the Recreational Club tournament here Saturday night.

Trailing by eight points with three minutes left to play, the Oilers suddenly came to life. Tommy Hutto, all-tournament forward, looped two and Cordill shifted forward from center, followed with another pair to ice the game.

Dean Still Wants That Raise

DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Jerome Herman Dean (they don't call him "Dizzy" when contract signing time comes around) beamed with love and devotion for the St. Louis Cardinals today—but he still wants that raise.

And until he gets it he will remain a holdout. Jerome Herman is a man who won't let personal feelings interfere with business, particularly the business of pay checks.

Can't Pay Like Giants "Naturally the Cardinals can't pay as much as the Giants or Cubs so we don't expect as much." The pitcher didn't go into the particulars of just how much he does expect, but he insists it will be that or nothing.

HANK LUISETTI HANGS UP NEW ALL-TIME MARK PULLMAN, Wash. Feb. 22. (AP)—When Hank Luisetti, sensational Stanford university basketball forward, scored 30 points in a game against Southern California this season, he established a new modern record for the Pacific Coast conference, but not an all-time mark.

This was disclosed at Washington State college when a check of the files revealed that Eddie Durno of the University of Oregon tallied 35 points in a battle with the Cougars here in 1919.

Durno was aided, however, by the old foul rule which permitted one player to shoot all the free throws. In the 1919 game the Oregon star had 21 chances from the foul line and made 15. At the same time he flipped in 10 field goals.

Luisetti attained his record with 11 field goals and eight gift shots. The best mark in the northern division of the conference since the rules were changed, a compelling each player to shoot his own free throws, was chalked up by Johnny Fuller of the University of Washington three years ago. In a game against Idaho he scored 23 points.

New Rules, Outdoor Conditions A Handicap For American Cagers

LAWRENCE, Kans., Feb. 22. (UP)—This class and quality of American Olympic basketball teams will more than offset a different set of rules and outdoor conditions at the contests in Germany this year, in the opinion of Dr. Forrest C. Allen, Kansas university director of athletics.

Dr. Allen, who has been selected to coach the Yankee quintet, has produced more than a dozen championship teams at Kansas in the past 20 years and is in a position to know what kind of conditions the American team will encounter in European opposition.

"Pivot plays will be called in a strict manner and what is legal in America will be ruled as traveling there," Allen said. "Stalling or freezing in this country is legal in Europe."

Grid Practice Starts Monday

George Brown, recently promoted to head coach of Big Spring high school, will issue the call Monday for start of spring football practice. He will be assisted by Milton "Speedy" Moffett, backfield coach for the past two years.

In the group will be six letter-bearers, Whisenand, Harris, Ellith, Madison, Wilson and Henninger. Starting with drills on fundamentals for the first few days, the grid will become heavy before the lay-off two months hence.

Workouts will be held daily near the rodeo grounds in Washington Place. Devils, junior gridgers, will also start practice Monday.

DISCOVERY, FAVORITE, IN FIFTH

SANTA ANITA, Calif., Feb. 22.—Top Row, son of the gallant little Peanuts, opened up in the last quarter mile under the rein of Wayne Wright today to score a victory over Time Supply and Rosemont for the richest purse of the year, the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, before a record throng.

Top Row did not challenge until the horses entered the home stretch but Whopper, the leader until that stage, faded and the Baron horse, carrying 118 pounds, rallied to take the lead.

Discovery, the Vanderbilt nag that went to the post 8-5 favorite, finished fifth and never threatened to overtake the leaders, although he rallied strong at the finish.

Acucar, winner of the classic last year, finished fourth. Preeminent, with A. Robertson up, jumped into the lead as the horses broke away from the barrier but failed to match the pace of the others and dropped behind with He Did, Singing Wood, and Tick On taking the lead at times.

Top Row, winner of $104,500 today, boosted his lifetime total to $211,820, paid $14.80, $5.40, and $4.80. Time Supply paid $20 to place and $4 to show while Rosemont paid $9.40 to show.

Wright, the winning jockey, earned $1,750 for his efforts, while T. Luther upon Time Supply, was awarded $750.

Frogs Lose To Arkansas Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE, Feb. 22. (AP)—Arkansas' towering basketball team, driving for the Southwestern Conference cage championship, defeated Texas Christian again tonight, 40 to 29. Arkansas won last night's game, 47 to 18.

Texas Christian, playing better than in the first game of the series, took an early lead but was unable to hold it beyond the middle of the first half when Ike Poole, Arkansas scoring star, shot the Razorbacks into the lead.

Mr. Moore is one of the best posted authorities in the country on this industry. He will be at the Settles until Tuesday afternoon only.

SHOWINGS IN CONCHO, CRANE WILDCATS FEATURE OIL WEEK

Flow Of Wells In Winkler And Ward Boost- ed By Shooting; Gas In Gaines Test

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 22.—Striking of oil in a southeastern Concho county wildcat that rose 120 feet in one hour and 20 minutes from a total depth of 3,842 feet and the showing of oil by two wildcats in western Crane county, one of which is endeavoring to obtain a pay-off in the Permian lime, before the expiration of leases March 6, were among the most interesting West Texas oil developments this week. Shooting more than doubled the yield of a half mile north extension to the Sayre field in Winkler county and a flow of 125 barrels hourly followed shooting of a southern outpost in the Bennett pool in Ward county.

Total daily production production of 7,994 barrels was registered by a dozen wells completed in five counties, and seven tests in six counties struck oil in amounts indicating commercial production. The fast drilling pace was maintained by the staking of 29 locations in seven counties.

Maverick Oil Co. No. 1 Jim Rice in eastern Concho county headed briefly Friday when tools were run to clean out 20 feet of cavings that covered the oil and gas bearing horizon, the oil clearing the mast. Live, dark green oil of 40 gravity or better was encountered when the test deepened seven feet Wednesday through softening sand to 1,512. Five inch pipe then was run and suspended around 1,525 feet, closing most of the open hole below 1,603 feet, where 6 1/2-inch casing was set. An estimated three to five million cubic feet of gas daily was struck from 1,527 1/2 to 1,835 feet but diminished to around one-half million cubic feet before the wildcat was deepened into the oil bearing horizon.

The wildcat, drilled by a San Angelo firm, is 30 miles southwest of the nearest production, the Stewardson pool in Coleman county, and about 42 miles southeast of the McMillan field in Comanche county. It is four miles northwest of Melvin, 14 miles east of Eden and in the southwest corner of the north-west quarter of section 18, IN.Ry. Co. survey, abstract 16-116. It was believed the gas and oil were struck in the straw member of the Pennsylvanian. The contract provides drilling to 2,250 feet or 200 feet in the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, unless production or water is struck higher.

To Test Shows
Sinclair-Prairie and five other companies' No. 1 J. B. Tubb in western Crane county cemented 7 1/2-inch casing at 2,257 feet after drilling to 3,164 feet in lime and was to test oil shows from 2,879-94 feet and from 2,950-90 feet. In the event Permian production is developed to validate untraded leases on one section before expiration March 6, another test will be started in question of the Ordovician, it is understood.

Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 3-E27-pal, 1 1/2 miles southeast of Gulf No. 1 Tubb, first producer from the Ordovician in West Texas outside the Big Lake field in Reagan county which initially pumped 122 barrels daily at a plugged back depth of 6,317 feet.

Humble No. 1 Tubb, projected Ordovician test two miles southeast of Sinclair-Prairie and others No. 1 Tubb, showed oil from 2,250 to 3,305 feet and drilled ahead below 3,480 feet in lime. It is in the northwest quarter of section 11-327-pal. About four miles farther southeast Moore Bros. No. 1 T. C. Barnley estate was rigging up, in the center of the southwest quarter of section 43-32-pal. It is scheduled to drill 6,500 feet unless production or water is struck in the Ellenburger at a lesser depth.

Gaines Test
W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams No. 1 Averitt, Gaines county wildcat three miles northwest of Seminole and in the northeast corner of section 228-G-WTRR, was trying to drill by tools that were blown up the hole when more gas was struck at 3,940 feet in anhydrite and sand. Wahlenmaier & York & Zepher No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones in Gaines county, 17 miles northwest of Seminole, had drilled past 5,114 feet, in lime and anhydrite. Running low, it is scheduled to continue to 5,200 feet unless production is obtained or sulphur water is struck higher. Location is in the southwest corner of section 41-G-CCSD&RGNG; elevation is 3,528.

Amerada No. 1-A Daugherty, half mile north extension of the Sayre pool in northern Winkler county, was increased from a flow of 280 to 567 barrels daily by shooting with 180 quarts from 2,825 to 2,945 feet, the total depth. It is in the southeast corner of section 35-74-pal. The Texas Co. No. 1 Daugherty three miles north of the Amerada well and a western outpost in the Scarborough pool, struck a hole full of salt water in drilling to 3,300 feet and likely will plug back and test shows at intervals between 3,037 and 3,256 feet. It is in the southeast corner of section 2-74-pal.

In Bennett Pool
Heavy flush production of 125 barrels hourly the first four hours of a perforation test was recorded by Rio Bravo No. 2 Oleott on the south side of the Bennett pool in Ward county. The well topped broken pay at 2,427 feet, drilled to 2,532 feet and was shot with 400 quarts from 2,262 to 2,525 feet. It is in the north quarter of section 7-34-H&TC. Cecil Cochran No. 1 Green, in the west quarter of section 29-E29, pal, filled 1,000 feet with oil in drilling to 2,326 feet in sand, having an increase from 2,265-18 feet.

Texas-Pacific No. 11 James, in the west quarter of section 5-34-

Visiting Speakers Will Be At Fourth Street Church Today

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. S. Garnett, who is in Utopia, Uvalde county, to attend funeral services for his father, W. J. Lites of Dallas, associate state Sunday school secretary, will preach at the East Fourth street Baptist church Sunday morning. Lites has been with the church for the past week in charge of the special training school.

The men's brotherhood revival will start at the Fourth Street Baptist church Sunday evening, and services are to be conducted each evening through the week by Lyman Wren of Snyder, a lay leader of the district. The revival has been directed especially to the interest of men, and all men of the city are invited to attend the services, to be held nightly at 7:30.

H&TC, was completed at 2,535 feet, flowing 511 barrels of oil daily. It topped pay at 2,415 feet and was shot with 325 quarts from 2,302 to 2,535. Sid Richardson No. 26-B W. D. Johnson, in the south corner of section 22-34-H&TC, flowed 1,515 barrels daily upon completion at 2,570 feet. It was shot with 340 quarts from 2,240 to 2,570. Dobbs Oil Co. No. 1 Bray, three-quarter mile east extension of the Grand-falls district, pumped 152 barrels of oil daily for completion at 2,563 feet. It is in the south quarter of section 14-5-H&TC. Gulf No. 65 O'Brien in northern Ward, in the northeast quarter of section 18-F-G&M, flowed 428 barrels of oil in 24 hours for completion at 2,708 feet.

Flows 463 Barrels
Gulf No. 3 M. F. Henderson in the prolific Waddell pool in northern Crane county flowed 463 barrels of oil in two hours at 3,534 feet before acidizing. It is in the southeast quarter of section 3-E23-pal. In the McElroy pool on the line of Crane and Upton counties Gulf No. 125 McElroy, in the southwest quarter of section 1-20-P-CCSD&RGNG, was completed at 2,920 feet, flowing 381 barrels of oil daily through tubing, and No. 126 McElroy, in the southeast quarter of section 201, flowed 722 barrels daily for completion at 2,856 feet.

In the Settles pool in Howard county, Continental No. 9 Overton, in the southeast quarter of section 5-32-2a-T&P, pumped 1,410 barrels of oil daily for completion at 2,400 feet. It topped pay at 2,328 feet and before acidizing. Sinclair-Prairie No. 30 Dodge, in the southwest quarter of section 3-30-1a-T&P, flowed 245 barrels of oil the first 10 hours after shooting with 700 quarts from 2,570 to 2,836 feet, the total depth.

Wm. H. Dunning, Jr., No. 1 Scharbauer, 1 1/2 miles northwest of Gulf's discovery, well in the Goldsmith pool in southwestern Ector county, drilled ahead from 4,058 feet after killing 30 million cubic feet of gas. It is in the southwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 33-44-In-T&P.

Work Delayed On Deep Test By Fluid Loss

Oil activity in this area moved to a low ebb during the past week with no notable developments and a dearth of locations.

Loss of drilling fluid in the Loftland Bros.-Moore Bros. No. 1 McDowell deep test in section 22, block 34, T-2-S, T&P survey, Glasscock county, gave rise to some speculation. The test started losing the fluid Tuesday night at 10,883 feet and had dropped 2,000 feet by Thursday despite efforts to hold the level. Saturday with approximately 18,000 pounds of cotton seed hulls pumped into the hole with aqua-jell, the fluid level was being brought to the top again and operators hoped to resume drilling soon. Whether loss of circulation meant the encountering of more oil, gas or water was a matter of conjecture. Some believe the test is in the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, while others pick it as the Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Test Underreaming
World Oil Co. No. 5 McDowell, shallow test offset to the unitized block on which the deep test is located, is still underreaming at 2,060 feet after encountering a high lime. It is located on section 21, block 34, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Another wildcat due to be started in the Howard-Glasscock area soon is the Fleetborn Oil Co. No. 1 F. C. Dodson in section 15, block 34, T-3-S, T&P survey, Glasscock county. It is moving in materials and is several miles southwest of nearest production. Proposed depth is 3,000 feet.

After reaching the contract depth of 3,750 feet with no shows, the C. E. Hyde No. 1 G. M. Dodge test in section 28, block 33, T-4-N, T&P survey, Borden county, was taken over by Red and Jess Willbanks and Jack Ellis and will be deepened from 3,708 feet where it is now bottomed in lime.

In Scurry county the Bristow & Canirell No. 1 Shannon estate southwest quarter of section 231, block 97, H&TC survey, cased off water at 1,660 feet and is now drilling past 1,855 feet.

Martin Co. Test
Woodley Pet. Co. No. 1 King, section 30, block 35, T-3-S, Martin county, is drilling at 1,700 feet in redrock and anhydrite. It is just southeast of Stanton and is on a 11,000-acre block which extends to northern Glasscock and Midland counties.

Continental No. 9 Bell-Overton in section 5, block 29, T-2-S, T&P survey, showed 1,440 barrels per day on a potential test last week. It topped sand at 2,320 feet and is bottomed at 2,400 feet in lime.

Tribal Oil Co. No. 6a Edwards in section 16, block 33, T-2-S, T&P survey, is waiting on 5 1/2-inch casing before continuing deepening operations.

Locations include Sinclair-Prairie Oil Co. No. 33 Dodge estate, 250 feet from the east and 900 feet from the south lines of section 3, block 30, T-1-S, T&P survey and the C. T. McLaughlin & Co. No. 2 Chaik, 330 feet from the west and south lines of section 114, block 29, W&N.W. survey. Humble Oil Co. applied for a permit during the week for a location on its Settles lease.

Drilling is due to be resumed this week on the Honolulu-Davidson No. 1 Bennett in Youkum county. Shut down before the end of last year when litigation and a fishing job caused a halt in operations, the test is being watched closely since many believe it has a good chance to strike and open a new area.

Merle Black is expected to return today after a business trip to Ward county.

TO SCHOOL MEETING Howard Countians Leave For Nat'l Convention

Five representatives of schools in Howard county left Saturday for St. Louis, where this week they will attend the 66th annual convention of the National Education association.

In the group were Supt. W. C. Blankenship of the Big Spring schools, a life member of the association; Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent; Leiland L. Martin, superintendent at Foran; George Boswell, Coahoma superintendent, and J. R. Hale of Elbow. The group planned to return next Saturday.

Mrs. John C. Skillern is ill.

E. E. MOORE DIES AT WICHITA FALLS HOME

H. T. Moore and son, Odie, of Big Spring left Saturday to attend funeral services at Wichita Falls for E. E. Moore, who succumbed in that city Friday morning. Survivors, besides H. T. Moore are J. J. Moore of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Mary Burnett of Los Angeles, Calif.

BUSINESS STARTS AN ELECTION YEAR

The old saying that an election year is a bad business year can be heard in some quarters, but there is little to give it support.

The stock market went on an old-time rampage this week, and while the price advance may be short-lived, the fact that buying volume is increased is an indication of returning confidence.

Generally speaking, January business activity was the best in five years. Most reliable barometers place the level at around 75 per cent of normal—normal being considered the average for years such as 1923, '24 and '25 when business was good but not spectacularly so.

Construction: During January, heavy construction totaled almost $290,000,000, as compared with $150,000,000 in January, 1935.

Utilities: Power demand is increasing beyond expectations, causing many companies to revamp construction budgets. The industry has announced it will spend about $400,000,000 for capital improvement this year.

Motors: This is the off season for car makers, but January nevertheless has been better than the same month in the past several years.

Employment: The total is going down, though the figure is still plenty large. It has been reported that in December it fell below 9,000,000 for the first time since 1931.

The steady pace has been maintained since the first of the year despite disturbing factors in regard to the federal budget and national finances.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—A night of trivia! Ancient gag as it is, I should have known better. But, being a sofie, I stood stock still when I saw that old man making a selection from the victuals molding in that garbage can.

He stood on the curb in Chambers street and plucked first a piece of bread, a half-eaten apple, several mildewed doughnuts and a suspiciously warped grapefruit.

The doughnuts he slipped into his pocket, but he found an old dirty sack for the grapefruit, the bread and the apple. By this time quite a crowd had gathered to watch his pathetic movements.

"You poor man," whispered a young woman, honest tears in her eyes, "are you so hungry?" She was fumbling in her purse for a coin when the big cop on that beat put an end to the charity.

"At it again, eh, Popper? I think I'll run you in this time."

The old man grinned rather sheepishly. He shifted from one foot to the other.

"Now, Popper, so that these people won't think I'm a brute, I want you to show them how much money you've got. No holding out!"

Popper shrugged and ran a dirty hand into his pocket. It came out filled with bills and change.

"Away with you, and if I catch you again I'll give you a sculling!"

"Listen," said the big cop after Popper had disappeared, "that old man could buy and sell any of us. It's a gag with him to fumble in garbage cans. People give him so much money he doesn't know how to spend it. Last year his daughter graduated from Columbia university."

It happens twice a night in the revue "Folies de Femmes," at the French Casino, and it causes such hilarity that people almost roll out of their seats.

It is just that several portrait painters, having no other equipment, use the backs of beautiful chorus girls as canvases on which to paint their pictures.

First the eyes, then the nose, then the lips, then the chin—after that a tub-sized hat is placed over the head, causing the effect of a flat-headed person staring naively at the audience.

Some of the girls have learned to manipulate their shoulders so expertly that the faces assume amazing characteristics. They express gravity, anger, delight, boredom—in fact, one lass, by hunching the right shoulder, can make the head on her back wink and flirt with celebrities in the audience.

This doesn't happen every night—it took place just once. James F. Bender, who is a professor of psychology at City college, observed one of his students who had fallen into a sound sleep.

"Pardon me," he said, after the fellow had been awakened, "but am I boring you? Maybe you would like to resign from the class?"

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON Leaders of farm organizations who have been sounding out farm sentiment since the AAA decision, have returned to Washington with a new suggestion for dealing with the agricultural problem.

They propose greater crop control by states, in other words state AAA's. This is contrary to the administration's original idea.

When the state AAA idea was first proposed on Capitol Hill several weeks ago, new dealers scoffed at it. In fact it took strong pressure from congressional legal experts to make the administration insert a skeleton plan for state AAA's into the farm bill.

The administration contended that the states, individually, cannot solve the agricultural problem. With this farm leaders agree. But they also say that a group of states producing one of the basic crops could control production of that crop if there was real state cooperation.

Tobacco Agreement: Farm leaders urge, therefore, that the way out of the dilemma created by the supreme court AAA decision is a series of state compacts. They believe there could be no question about the validity of such agreements. Each state would set up, under the new farm act, an AAA. Then it would enter into crop regulating treaties with other states.

Farm leaders point out that ten states produce the bulk of U. S. cotton; six to eight produce most of the corn-hog crop; twelve to fourteen produce the wheat output of the country; and five to six states produce approximately all the marketable tobacco.

Among tobacco growers the idea has progressed beyond the discussion stage. At a meeting in Washington last week, convened by Representative John H. Kerr, co-author of the repealed Kerr-Smith tobacco control act, thirty members of legislatures from tobacco producing states discussed plans for initiating a compact as soon as the new farm program becomes law.

New Ethiopian War: More absorbing than the Italian war to many foreigners is the suit about to be tried in Addis Ababa between an American newspaper and a photographer. The cameraman is suing the newspaper for $50,000 damages for punching him in the eye.

The newspaperman is Linton Wells, see correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune, who was in Dessaye during the recent Italian air raids. With him was his wife, also a newspaper correspondent. During threatened raids Emperor Haile Selassie gave her his special plane back to Addis Ababa.

The plane was scheduled to leave that afternoon. But Wells suggested to the emperor that it leave early—the next morning—when no Italian planes would be in the vicinity. The emperor accepted the suggestion. But the photographer, whose war films were being sent to Addis Ababa, did not.

He wanted the plane to leave immediately, said he wanted his films to reach his public, that he wasn't particularly interested in Mrs. Wells' safety.

Washington's prime figure in the field of agriculture these days, sharing the top rung with Secretary Wallace, is the man whom Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith described as "The Right Reverend Davis with his prescription for farmers."

The chief characteristic of Chester Davis is nimbleness. When the supreme court cut the ground out from under his AAA, he jumped to a soil conservation program. When the senate agricultural committee objected to this as unconstitutional, he shifted to a state soil program.

In fact he shifted to this far ahead of the president, and had some difficulty at first in persuading Roosevelt to go with him.

Jack Be Nimble: It is this nimble quality that kept Davis in the big places long after his predecessor and friend, George Peek, moved out.

Peek was unable to stomach what he called Henry Wallace's pretty ideas, and much less the ideas of Rex Tugwell. The gap between Davis and Tugwell is about as wide, and they avoid friction only by remaining apart. But Davis and Wallace have managed to put their differences to the name when in spite of differences in temperament and in ultimate objectives.

Davis works intensely—and for long hours. Though he used to find amusement in life, he seldom laughs any more. He lights one cigarette from the butt of another, scowls, makes a decision, and hurries on to the next problem.

Occasionally, he takes time off to play handball—intense—or to sit in the balcony at the theater. But most of the time, including Saturday afternoon and many a Sunday, he is engaged in the job he has wanted for twenty years to do—rescue farmers from the poverty he knew as a boy when his father was an unsuccessful tenant on a farm in Dallas county, Iowa.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce: The United States chamber of commerce issued three press statements in one day recently, all critical of the administration, but strangely lacking in consistency.

Press statement No. 1 advocated curtailed expenditures and a balanced budget. Press statement No. 2 advocated a curtailment of the federal housing program and "reliance upon private enterprise."

Press statement No. 3 advocated a large-scale government subsidy to private shipping interests.

Roosevelt Reading: The Roosevelts are omnivorous readers, and have built-in bookshelves the length of the White House on either side of the second

THE BOOMERANG CLUE

Chapter 12
DEDUCTION

"According to our present theory it goes like this," Bobby continued. "Dead man X is deliberately pushed over cliff—presumably by B. F. (pardon the initials). It is important that X should not be correctly identified, so the portrait of Mrs. C. is put in his pocket and the portrait of Fair Unknown removed. Who was she, I wonder?"

"Keep to the point," said Frankie sternly.

"Mrs. C. waits for photograph to appear. Then turns up as grief-stricken sister and identifies X as her brother from foreign parts."

"You don't believe he could really have been her brother?"

"Not for a moment! You know, it puzzled me all along. The Caymans were a different class altogether. The dead man was—well, it sounds a most awful thing to say and just like some deadly old retired Anglo-Indian—but the dead man was a pukka sahib."

"And the Caymans emphatically weren't?"

"Most emphatically."

"And then, just when everything has gone off well from the Caymans' point of view—body successfully identified, verdict of accidental death, everything in the garden lovely—you come along and mess things up," mused Frankie.

"Why didn't they ask Evans?" Bobby repeated the phrase thoughtfully. "You know I can't see what on earth there can be in that to put the wind up anybody."

"Ah! that's because you don't know. It's like making crossword puzzles. You write down a clue and you think it's too idiotically simple and that everyone will guess it straight off, and you're frightfully surprised when they simply can't get it in the least. Why didn't they ask Evans? must have been a most frightfully significant phrase to them, and they couldn't realize that it meant nothing at all to you."

"More fools they?"

"Oh, quite so. But it's just possible they thought that if Pritchard said that he might have said something more which would also recur to you in due time. Anyway they weren't going to take chances. You were safer out of the way."

"They took a lot of risk. Why safer out of the way?"

"No, no. That would have been stupid. Two accidents within a week of each other? It might have suggested a connection between the two, and then people would have begun inquiring into the first one. No, I think there's a kind of bad simplicity about their method which is really rather clever."

"And yet you said just now that morphia wasn't easy to get hold of?"

"No more it is. You have to sign poison books and things. Oh—of course, that's a clue! Whoever did it had easy access to supplies of morphia."

"A doctor, a hospital nurse, or a chemist," suggested Bobby.

"Well, I was thinking more of illicitly imported drugs."

"You can't mix up too many different sorts of crime," said Bobby.

"You see, the strong point would be the absence of motive. Your death doesn't benefit anyone. So what will the police think?"

"A lunatic," said Bobby. "And that's what they do think."

"You see? It's awfully simple really."

Bobby began to laugh suddenly. "What's amusing you?"

"Just the thought of how sick-making it must be for them! All that morphia—enough to kill five or six people—and here I am alive and kicking!"

"One of Life's little ironies that one can't foresee," agreed Frankie.

"The question is, what do we do next?" said Bobby practically.

"Oh! lots of things," said Frankie promptly.

"Such as—?"

"Well—finding out about the photograph—that there was only one, not two. And about Basington-french's house-hunting."

"That will probably be quite all right and above-board."

"Why do you say that?"

"Look here, Frankie, think a minute. Basington-french must be above suspicion. He must be all clear and above-board. Not only must there be nothing to connect him in any way with the dead man, but he must have a proper reason for being down here. He may have invented house-hunting on the spur of the moment, but I bet he carried out something of the kind. There must be no suggestion of a mysterious stranger seen in the neighborhood of the accident. I fancy that Basington-french is his real name, and that he's the sort of person who would be quite above suspicion."

"Yes," said Frankie thoughtfully. "That's a very good deduction. There will be nothing whatever to connect Basington-french with Alex Pritchard. Now if we knew who the dead man really was—"

"Ah, then it might be different."

"So it was very important that the body should not be recognized. Hence all the Cayman camouflage. And yet it was taking a big risk."

"You forget that Mrs. Cayman identified him as soon as was humanly possible. After that, even if there had been pictures of him in the papers (you know how blurry these things are) people would only say, 'Curious, this man Pritchard—who fell over a cliff is really extraordinarily like Mr. X.'"

"There must be more to it than that," said Frankie shrewdly. "X must have been a man who wouldn't easily be missed. I mean, he couldn't have been the sort of family man whose wife or relations would go to the police at once and report him missing."

"Good for you, Frankie. No, he must have been just going abroad, or perhaps just come back (he was marvellously tanned, like a big-game hunter—he looked that sort of person), and he can't have had any very near relations who know all about his movements."

"Very likely," said Bobby. "But I think what we've said so far is fairly sound sense—granted that is the wild improbability of the whole thing."

Frankie waved away the wild improbability with an airy gesture. "The thing is—what to do next?" the wild improbability of the whole three angles of attack.

"Go on, Sherlock."

"The first is you. They've made one attempt on your life. They'll probably try again. This time we might get what they call a 'line' on them. Using you as a decoy, I mean."

future. The decoy idea can be washed out."

"I was afraid you'd say that," said Frankie with a sigh. "Young men are sadly degenerate nowadays. Father says so. They don't enjoy being uncomfortable and doing dangerous and unpleasant things any longer. It's a pity."

"A great pity," said Bobby, but he spoke with firmness. "What's the second plan of campaign?"

"Working from the 'Why didn't they ask Evans?' clue," said Frankie. "Presumably the dead man came down here to see Evans—whichever he was. Now, if we could find Evans—"

"How many Evanses," Bobby interrupted, "do you think there are in Marchbolt?"

"Several hundred, I should think," admitted Frankie.

"At least, we might do something that way, but I'm rather doubtful."

"We could list all the Evanses and visit the likely ones."

"And ask them—what?"

"That's the difficulty," said Frankie.

"We need to know a little more," said Bobby. "Then that idea of yours might come in useful. What's Number 3?"

"This man Basington-french. There we have got something tangible to go upon. It's an uncommon name. I'll ask Father. He knows all these county family names and their various branches."

"Yes," said Bobby, "we might do something that way."

"At any rate we are going to do something."

"Of course we are. Do you think I'm going to be given eight grains of morphia and do nothing about it?"

"That's the spirit," said Frankie. "And besides that," added Bobby, "there's the indignity of the stomach pump to be washed out."

"That's enough," said Frankie. (Copyright 1935-36, Agatha Christie)

Frankie gets some information from her father, tomorrow, and a short lecture besides.

T&P Hearing Set March 17

Rail-Truck Case Still Incomplete As Session Is Adjourned

SWEETWATER, Feb. 22.—A fourth session of the hearing of the Texas & Pacific Motor Transport company for authority to operate a coordinated rail-truck service between Abilene and Big Spring will be opened at Abilene on March 17, it was announced as a two-day session was adjourned here Friday.

Many witnesses were heard Wednesday and Thursday, but proponents and opponents announced they would have approximately 25 witnesses each to put on the stand at the Abilene hearing. It was considered probable that the hearing will be concluded at the March session.

Witnesses heard here were proponents of the company's proposal to ship merchandise to Abilene and Big Spring in carload lots, breaking the bulk there and sending it out to intermediate points by truck.

Appearing were business representatives from many of the towns affected. It was erroneously reported that E. V. Spence, city manager of Big Spring, testified in behalf of the application. His appearance was confined to the presentation of a resolution commending the proposal which had been adopted by the Big Spring city commission, and he offered the resolution on instructions of the

The Optional Residential Gas Rate

In January this rate saved 196 customers a total of $988.75, an average saving per customer of $5.04.

On this rate gas costs as little as 20c per thousand cubic feet, or $1.00 for each 5,000 cubic feet used beyond certain volumes. Almost all of the gas used for heating is at 20c per 1,000 cubic feet.

To take advantage of this rate the customer is asked to sign a contract agreeing to use the rate for 12 months.

Investigate this rate now, sign the contract and pay your February bill on it, taking advantage of the saving.

the cause of education, even in a period of economic distress." He noted that these efforts included appropriation of more than $400,000 to local communities for schools, colleges and library buildings, as well as projects for adult education and other purposes.

Besides freedom of thought, he listed two other "qualities of a true education." One, he said, is a "sense of fair play among men," a realization of their "essential dependence on one another." The other is a "sense of equality among men when they are dealing with things of the mind."

"Inequality may linger in the world of material things," he said, "but great music, great literature and the wonders of science are and should be open to all."

Although referring to George Washington, Mr. Roosevelt said he would "break a century old precedent" and refrain from quoting from the first president lest "some captious critic might search the library of congress to prove by other quotations that George Washington was in favor of just the opposite."

The Week

was installed, but still part of it persisted. Now more of it may be brushed aside and the student encouraged to study to learn instead of seeking a mere grade.

Voting strength of this county is more than at first anticipated. It now appears that if all who are qualified went to the polls, the total would be about 5,500. This is interesting in view of the fact that so many decisions are to be held this year. First will be the so-called liquor election. While always one which creates much interest and often times breeds bitterness, the impending election is not due to break any records in numbers of votes polled. For some reason the public has not become aroused over the issue up for a judgment next Saturday and it will be surprising if as many as 3,000 votes are cast. It will be even more surprising if the county goes wet.

Chief claim of the imminent election is the short ballot. It is the shortest on record here, containing only 14 words. If you want to vote "wet" then vote "for." If you want to cast a "dry" vote, then vote "against."

Continued dry weather has made streets in Big Spring rougher than normal, that is to say that most unpaved streets are extremely rough. Consequently there has been more talk recently about WPA funds being put into a park and not onto streets. First of all let it be known that the city has a WPA street program if, as and when it gets into operation. Second, consider that WPA favors projects which would otherwise go undone. Parks fall into this category. It stands to reason that the city will eventually have to pave its streets, while the park could go forever untouched. Perhaps the two most important things holding up street work are: 1) WPA labor shortage, and 2) the time-honored custom of making the property owner along a given street pay for part of the paving.

In the past week steps were taken to launch a beautification project on highway No. 1 east of here. Something tangible may come out of it this week in the way of a move to line the highway east of town to the refinery with trees as a Centennial year achievement. Some will argue that this is a needless waste of money, that the same amount might be expended elsewhere to a better advantage. But few things could be of more advantage to this town and county than the transforming of our rugged entrances from veritable jungles to something attractive.

First Park Unit Is Nearing Completion

First unit of the city park project will be completed this week, it was predicted Saturday.

Only a small stretch of road and the tennis courts remained to be surfaced before the work is complete.

The second unit of the park job is to center around the improvement and development of a 40-acre tract acquired from Charles Alderman south and east of the present park site.

Oil Field Communities

Mr. and Mrs. Mewhert and sister, formerly of Hamlin, Texas, have now moved into the Shell Pipeline camp.

Leland Martin, head of the Foran school, is attending the department of superintendents meeting of the N. E. A. in St. Louis this week.

Lloyd Loper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Loper of Mosheim, is improving at the hospital in Abilene. Lloyd, a member of the basketball team, suffered an attack of pneumonia while en route to Abilene for the district series game.

Word has been received here of the death of Lawrence Thurman Friday at 4 o'clock. Thurman had spent 11 days at Baylor hospital in Dallas but spent the last four weeks in Cook Memorial hospital at Fort Worth where he died. He had been superintendent of the Amerada camp here for five years and has been at Pearsall, Texas, for three years. Thurman is survived by his wife and four children, Treva, 17, Maxine, 15, Carl, 11, and Mattie Lois, 8. The funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon at Pearsall.

The Entre Nous club met with Mrs. W. K. Scuday on Friday afternoon. The George Washington motif was used in the decorations, lilies, refreshments, and plate favors of red, white and blue miniature hatchets. High score was made by Mrs. M. M. Hines who received a service tray and low score was made by Mrs. C. A. Ballard who received a novelty tooth brush holder. Miss Louella Kennedy was elected club reporter. Members playing were: Mmes. Hood Williams, I. U. Drake, H. H. Hillyard, W. D. Smith, D. A. Heatherington, and Louella Kennedy. Guests were: Mmes. M. M. Hines and C. A. Ballard.

Little Clothilde Loper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Loper, has been ill but was much improved Saturday.

W. M. GLAZE DIES

Funeral Services To Be Held Here Monday

William Mosley Glaze, 52, who succumbed here Friday morning after a one-day illness, will be buried in the New Mount Olive cemetery Monday following services at 1 a. m. from the Eberley chapel.

Glaze was stricken ill Thursday and died Friday at 10:20 a. m.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, Reece E. Glaze and Frank Lee Glaze of Winters and Wayne Howard Glaze of Long Beach, Calif., and one daughter, Marie Glaze of Winters.

Pallbearers will be E. Lofton, Luther Poe, Jeff Wright, Otis Thornton, B. W. Boyd, and Bill Davis. Rev. C. A. Bickley, First Methodist minister, will be in charge of the services.

SCOUTERS TO MEET

Chairmen of the standing committees of the Buffalo Trail council will convene here for an instructional meeting at 7 p. m. Monday from the Settles hotel.

A. C. Williamson, Sweetwater, area executive, will conduct a program of activities to instruct the various chairmen on their duties. He said that he hoped the meeting, first of its kind for the area, would produce more results in scouting this year.

HENRY ROOSEVELT, NAVAL OFFICIAL, IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Col. Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy and a distant cousin of President Roosevelt, died suddenly today at the Naval hospital here. He was 57 years old.

The stocky assistant secretary who was acting secretary of the navy during the current illness of Secretary Swanson, was taken to the hospital yesterday. His attack was diagnosed as intestinal influenza.

Minister's Father Is Taken By Death

Word of the death of his father, G. B. Garnett, at Utopia, Uvalde county, was sent by telegram to relatives here Saturday by Rev. W. S. Garnett, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist church.

The elder Mr. Garnett had been ill of a heart involvement for some time, and the local pastor was called to his bedside 10 days ago.

Funeral services are to be held Sunday. Rev. Garnett's telegram stated. The pastor planned to return home Tuesday.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Monahans Men Brought To Hospital Here

B. Weaver, Stanton, and L. A. Mauldin, Monahans, were treated at the Big Spring hospital for minor injuries sustained when the car in which they were riding overturned seven miles west of here Saturday night.

They were rushed to the hospital by passing motorists.

Answering a call to the scene, a Rix ambulance came near picking up another patient. A driver of another car had completely missed the grade crossing six miles west and had hurdled the railroad tracks before stopping his machine. He was unharmed.

MARLAND IN RACE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 22 (AP)—The democratic new deal today became the dominant issue in the 1936 Oklahoma senatorial race.

An avowed candidate at last, Gov. E. W. Marland, staunch backer of the Roosevelt program at every turn, pitted himself against the blind veteran, Senator Thomas P. Gore, incumbent.

Marland's announcement brought into the open a political antagonism which had grown steadily for months.

Students Trained In Art Of Making After Dinner Talks

After-dinner speeches are the latest project for the high school public speaking class. Students are being instructed in the art of making entertaining and inspirational talks for special occasions.

After these are completed, said Miss Dorothy Jordan, instructor, the students will be directed to salesmanship talks in connection with the Texas Centennial.

The public speaking class is one of the youngest in the school, having been in existence for less than three years.

Liquor Official For Dist. To Be Named This Week

AUSTIN, Feb. 22 (AP)—C. A. Paxton, chief inspector for the liquor board, today announced appointment of supervising inspectors for eight enforcement districts. Chiefs for eight others will be named next week.

Paxton will direct activities in the Austin headquarters district. Supervisors will be appointed next week, he said, for districts with headquarters at San Angelo, Abilene, Lubbock, Big Spring, Wichita Falls, El Paso, Paris and Beaumont.

CLERGY SHOWS BIG VOTE AGAINST NEW DEAL ON NAT'L POLL

The clergy are more opposed to the new deal than the country at large according to the findings of a special Literary Digest poll of the nation's clergy of all denominations which has been conducted since the recent 10,000,000-ballot referendum of the magazine on the administration's policies.

A total of 21,608 clergy returned voted ballots of which 70.22 per cent were tallied "no" and 29.78 per cent "yes" in answer to the question: "Do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt 'new deal' to date?"

The final returns of the Literary Digest main poll to the general voters, which was published five weeks ago, showed 62.66 per cent of the participants against the new deal.

A poll on the same subject conducted among the clergy in the early summer of 1934 indicated that 55 per cent of the clergy were in favor of the administration's policies.

Only in three states, Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina are the clergy shown voting in favor of the new deal in the current tabulation which is published in the current issue of the Literary Digest. These three states evidence approximately 3 to 2 majorities for Roosevelt's acts and policies.

In Texas, 619 votes of clergymen were recorded. Favoring the new deal were 262, while 357 voted against.
