by the time Stanford came to the Big Game with California, they were already "in" the postseason classic at Pasadena. The loss to the Golden Bears was a letdown, but certainly no great surprise. Anything happens in that game, and in addition, California was no slouch of a team itself.

Upset The Dope
Stanford's ascent to the coast throne was not too astonishing to many pre-season pickers. On paper, California and Washington looked best. Stanford, USC, UCLA and Oregon State were generally picked as capable of upsetting the dope. Washington lost its "arm" when Passer Don Heinrich was injured before the season began, and California lost its greatest back, Johnny Olzewski, early in the USC game.

At the windup, the Taylor crew could boast some outstanding performers, including All-America End Bill McColl. They placed four men on the No. One conference team on offense, and two men on the defensive platoon.

McColl, Quarterback Gary Kerkerian, Tackle Jim Vick and Guard Norman Manoogian made the offensive team, and End Jack Rye and Guard Jess Cone made the defensive outfit.

In addition, men such as Fullback Bob Mathias, the Olympic decathlon king; End Ron Eadie, Halfback Harry Hugassian, Fullback Bob Meyers and others rate as topflight players.

Whether Stanford's passing can confuse the Illini defense or its running possibly dent the Illini line remains to be seen.

But—Stanford might over-come supposedly superior odds, just as it did during the regular season.

First the Indians disposed of Oregon and San Jose State, as was expected. Michigan and UCLA posed problems, but Stanford beat them. Also Santa Clara, and the pressure began to mount on the Stanfords. But they whipped Washington and Washington State and came up to the South California, a Rose Bowl decider, as it turned out. The battle was as close as the 27-20 score indicates but it proved that Stanford had tremendous spirit to go along with some excellent talent.

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP MONTH . . .

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM BY ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:
Democracy and our American way of life are being seriously challenged and threatened by the world-wide spread of Communism and other related doctrines.

America is the last great bulwark against tyranny, the hope and inspiration of stout-hearted men everywhere who are interested in preserving and perpetuating for all mankind the liberties and privileges enjoyed only by free men in a free society.

Every American has cause to realize and appreciate that the great privilege of being free is possible only in a society where all share in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

Th people of Texas should always be conscious of the duties as well as the privileges of being a citizen. In order that the rights of each will remain unimpaired and in order that constitutional governments of free men shall not perish from the earth.

The State Bar of Texas has sponsored and is sponsoring an educational program to emphasize to the citizens of Texas that our great heritage as Americans and as Texans can be preserved only by the full and complete participation of each and every individual in the duties and responsibilities of that citizenship.

This program of the State Bar of Texas deserves and merits the full support of our entire state, and to the better functioning of this program a month should be designated and set aside as "American Citizenship Month," that all may join in perpetuating our American way of life, in emphasizing the significance and dignity of the individual as a citizen of a free and democratic nation, and in meeting and conquering the communistic threat—the greatest challenge of our time.

Therefore, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby designate January, 1952, as AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP MONTH throughout the State of Texas. And I do hereby encourage every citizen of our state to join in this month of dedication to the great principles of American Democracy, and call upon all groups and organizations of our state to cooperate with the State Bar of Texas in making "American Citizenship Month" a tremendous success in mobilizing the thinking and actions of our people toward a perpetuation of the principles and freedoms which have made America great.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 20th day of December, 1951.

RAY MCKOWN Passed to 14 Scores

Baylor has the best season record but TCU has the championship.

Only one TCU player is among the individual leaders for the season and he ranks third. Ray McKown, the defensive back who was enrolled for offense when injuries took out the regulars, doesn't look like a football player but he gets results. McKown completed 61 passes out of 120 for 860 yards—but 14 of his throws brought touchdowns. McKown gained only 388 yards rushing, but scored six touchdowns.

McKown lacks grace as a punter—you think he's going to fall each time he boots the ball—but he averaged 38.2 yards on 39 kicks. Rangy Ray was third among the passers and also third in total offense with 1248 yards on 242 plays. That meant he averaged 5.2 yards each time he handled the ball.

McKown's passing targets are Bob Blair and Teddy Vaught, who ranked sixth and eighth respectively in the conference in pass-receiving. Marshall Robinson, the little safety man, ranked sixth in punt returns, running back 18 for 245 yards.

The Christians have a tough line. Herb Zimmerman, a raging guard, leads the defense.

Leader of the secondary defense is Keith Flowers, also quite a kick-off, extra-point and field goal specialist.

The fullback is a tough customer named Bobby Jack Floyd, who scored seven touchdowns. He was the busiest fullback in the league, carrying 134 times for 444 yards.

The Meyer Spread, a formation devised by Coach Dutch Meyer, moved devastatingly for touchdowns and huge chunks of yardage. This spread has the ends 15 yards out with a halfback on each side between the end and tackle and the fullback on one side or the other. It's great for angle blocking, great for running and great for passing. It's something to see.

team in the Southwest, are made up of a bunch of opportunists who play best when the going gets rough.

The Frogs won six games in a ten-game schedule but three licks were outside the conference. They gave Baylor its only defeat.

The Azores in the Atlantic Ocean are 888 square miles in area. The islands belong to Portugal.

In 1945 there were over a billion acres in the United States devoted to farming.

W. L. Stengel Named "Man Of The Year In Texas Agriculture" By Farm Paper

Texas Tech's dean of agriculture, W. L. Stengel, has been named by Progressive Farmer magazine as "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture."

In its Dec. 26 edition, the Southern farm publication honors Dean Stengel with his new title, pointing to his many years of service to Texas agriculture at Texas Tech and Texas A&M, his leadership in livestock feeding and marketing, and his aid to young agriculturists.

W. L. STANGEL

The publication's 12th man of the year, Dean Stengel headed the animal husbandry department at Tech when the school opened in 1925. He became dean of agriculture in 1945.

Under the dean's direction, the Tech livestock program has grown from two work mules on the Tech farms in 1925 to balanced herds of Herefords, Aberdeen Angus, sheep, swine, chickens, and turkeys. A foundation herd of Brahman was added recently. The animals and fowls furnish classroom data and experimental information for agriculturists of Texas.

Irrigated pastures, their production and profit in pasturing livestock, was the last general experiment conducted by Dean Stengel. The test has brought praise from agriculture authorities.

Although a livestock man, the dean believes in raising livestock

Urge Building Up Physical Resistance

Carelessness in the treatment of respiratory disease is not only foolish but very hazardous, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who warned Texans today to be on guard against such illnesses as lead to pneumonia.

Dr. Cox pointed out that pneumonia can and does strike with little or no warning, and in many instances its forerunner is a simple cold, a attack of influenza, or some other respiratory infection.

"A cold or any other infection of the breathing passage which makes one constitutionally weak, especially if it is accompanied by fever, demands the immediate attention of the family physician. To self treat and fight on ones feet a condition of this kind is to endanger life unnecessarily. It is advisable to take all possible steps to avoid respiratory illnesses since they so frequently lead to that dangerous complication—pneumonia."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that it is important to build up, normal physical resistance by sufficient outdoor ventilation, adequate nourishing food, outdoor exercise and sufficient sleep, but added to that the family physician should be called immediately if, in spite of such care, a respiratory disease develops.

"Guard against pneumonia which is a communicable disease. It may be acquired by direct or indirect contact with a pneumonia patient. Reduced bodily resistance resulting from habitual disregard for normal physical requirements makes pneumonia doubly hazardous. A physician should be consulted immediately upon the appearance of any respiratory ailment."

HERE'S A THOUGHT FOR THE NEW YEAR—

Pony Riding Children Lead Straight Path

By WAYNE HARBERT
AP Newsfeatures

COURTLAND, Calif.—If boys and girls will follow the path of a pony, says Paul V. Amick, Sr., they will never get on a wrong path.

Amick should know; he has 140 ponies attracting as many as 800 youngsters a weekend for free rides on his 160-acre ranch.

Ponies and boys and girls are Amick's get-well hobby. Six years ago he underwent an operation and afterwards his health would not permit him to continue growing pears.

Amick's project, since then, "just grew and grew and grew." Now, he says at 60: "I never felt better in my life."

Thousands Visit Ranch

Amick estimates that as many as 3,000 persons a year visit his place, 85 miles east and a little north of San Francisco and 21 miles south of Sacramento.

The older neighbor boys and girls help Amick out on rush weekends. Sometimes there are as many as 30 helpers. There are also from 8 to 10 hired men and all the ponies are trained by professionals.

Porky, a 28-inch-high Shetland stallion, jumps through an automobile tire three feet off the ground.

Then there is Golden King, a Palomino upon which a dozen chil-

I feel if more of our young children had a hobby like this there wouldn't be so many delinquents in the United States to-day. Certainly a child will never get on the wrong path if he follows a horse.

PAUL V. AMICK

HORSE SENSE is what Amick finds in ponies for kids.

Children can ride at once.

Amick's two grandchildren, Mary Lynn, 11, and Charles, 9, are also in on the entertainment. They can both ride Roman style—each foot on a dapple grey pony and they can do it at a full run.

Prepared for All Ages

Amick has two pony merry-go-rounds for beginners, with the ponies fastened and guided securely in their leisurely circling around the center poles.

But for the older and more expert and adventuresome, he has special corrals.

The smallest is only 20 by 40 feet and any child who can enter it and climb to a pony's back and ride without assistance gets a red star from Amick.

There is a quarter of an acre corral and a boy or girl succeeding in it gets a blue star. The greatest test comes in a 2½-acre corral where the prize is a gold star.

Gals Take Over Money Bags In Big Business Of Theater

By MARK BARRON
AP Drama Reporter

Progressing from the days when a woman's place in the theater was largely limited to a Maude Adams or Maxine Elliott starring in classical drama or the gayer girls flirting in "The Floradora Sextette," women in the theater today are doing, and doing well, practically every task from the box office at the front to the stage door backstage.

To give an over-all example, Mrs. Elsie Nichols is treasurer and chief ticket seller in the box office of the Shubert, one of the most important of Broadway playhouses where the musical hit, "Paint Your Wagon," is now playing. The producer of that show is Miss Cheryl Crawford, former Theater Guild stage manager. The highly lauded dances and musical ensembles in this story of the Gold Rush of '49 were staged by director Agnes De Mile. Other than that mere male, James Barton, the star of the show is the lovely and feminine Olga San Juan, who is making her Broadway stage debut in this although she has appeared previously in Broadway night clubs as leader of her own rumba band.

Katharine Cornell, Helen Hayes, Judith Anderson, Lynn Fontanne, Tallulah Bankhead and Eva Le Gallienne are feminine stars who not only have given brilliant performances in starring roles in many plays but are now triple-treats in that each participates in production and direction of all dramas in which they appear.

Leueen MacGrath, who went from the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London to become an outstanding actress on the British stage, came to Broadway where she won critical plaudits for her performances in "Edward, My Son" and "The Enchanted." She is now married to playwright George Kaufman. With him she has been co-author of two Broadway plays and also assists him in his directing and producing activities.

One of the most successful women in the theater is Margaret Webster, who was born in New York City as the daughter of Ben Webster and Dame May Whitty. But her theatrical training was almost entirely in England, where she performed in Shaw Repertory and the Old Vic.

She returned to the New York

ments Extend Time During Which ay Be Drafted By Nine Years of draft age who now get deferments under provisions automatically extended during which they are by nine years. This was pointed out here in a statement today by Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy Selective Service director, in clarifying recently received regulations on extended draft liability. "The President on June 19th signed into law a draft amendment providing that all men 'now or hereafter deferred' can be drafted up to their 35th birthday," Col. Schwartz said. "The regulations now spell this out."

Col Schwartz pointed out that the man who does not get any of the deferments mentioned in the draft regulation cannot be drafted upon reaching his 26th birthday.

He pointed out the following types of deferred men who have their liability for service extended until age 35:

(1) Men who enlist at any time in the National Guard after February 1, 1951, before attaining the age of 18 years and six months.

(2) Members of the ROTC and other officer training programs.

(3) Accepted aviation cadet applicants.

(4) Students deferred to go to high school or college under requirements of law; college students deferred under authority of the local board.

(5) Men left at home to pursue civilian employment considered to be in the national interest.

(6) Men deferred to farm.

(7) Men who maintain a bonafide family relationship in their homes with their children, or because of extreme hardship and privation to dependents. (This does not include a man with a wife alone.)

(8) Any man who might be deferred because he is a governor of the state, any other official chosen by the voters of the entire state, any member of the legislature, or any judge of a court of record in the state.

(9) Men classified as mentally, physically, or morally deficient or defective.

"All men under 26 years of age on June 19th who has one of these deferments, or who since that time got one before he was 26, will be liable for service until he's 35," Col. Schwartz emphasized.

"It's possible under this provision of Law," he said, "for such deferred men to become disqualified for deferment at—say, age 34. If that happens, they can be drafted."

8 Births In Lamb Recorded For 1951

For the year of 1951, recorded at the Lamb county court house so far this year, as of Friday, and with three more days of the year remaining, the number will be slightly higher when 1952 rolls in. Last year for the calendar 12 months of 1950, 808 births were recorded in the county, a figure 80 higher than for the present year. In the county's record of vital statistics, deaths recorded in the county for the present year have totaled 149, which compares with 173 in 1950, a decrease of 24 for the year. The County Clerk's office records reveal the issuance of 164 marriage licenses for the year, compared with 160 in 1950. These figures of course include only those issued for Lamb county, and do not include the considerable number of local marriages that were performed at Clovis or other nearby out-of-state points.

—NOTICE—

Due to the fact that there will be a shortage of farm laborers this year, the local office of Texas Employment Commission, is inviting farmers needing year around farm hands and farm hands searching for employment to meet at the local office, Monday morning, December 31st.

First Prize Winner In Amherst Christmas Lighting Contest Donates To Polio Fund

The John Foust home at Amherst, was declared the winner in the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Amherst Lions club. Judges were a committee from Littlefield, and judging was done Wednesday night, December 19th. The George Harmon home was declared second place winner, with third place going to the Nurse's home. The first place winner featured a lighted tree in the picture window of multicolored lights with a nativity scene nearby in the same window illuminated in white lights with a guardian angel above the manger. On the outside of the house, the window, front door, porch and the entire front beam of the house were surrounded by lights of various colors connected by branches of cedar. At the Harmon home a large picture window outlined in Christmas lights framed the big lighted tree. Christmas decorations were placed on the shelves in the kitchen windows which were outlined in multi-colored lights. A group of seven candles were burning brightly in the dining room window and the front door represented a large red package with red bells, ribbon and greenery. The third place winner—the Nurse's home, featured a "Rodolph" on the roof of the porch, pulling a cart and his red nose beamed "off and on." Flood lights shined on the arrangement. The front door of the home was wrapped as a large gift with two electric candles burning on either side. First prize winner, Mrs. Foust, said that they would donate their money to the March of Dimes.

'Baby! Do I Love My Orange Juice?'

Babies do love their orange juice, and they should have plenty of this natural, Vitamin C-rich food from about the age of two weeks right on through childhood. Government tests show that the Florida frozen concentrated orange juice is ideal for babies, as well as for grownups, so when you're in a hurry about food preparation, you can safely rely on this convenient product. This is the height of the fresh fruit season, and Florida's thin-skinned oranges are so juicy that you'll probably be using those now. When you prepare juice for infants or young children, don't exert too much pressure—too much peel oil may change the naturally sweet flavor of the juice. Hand reaming is the best method of preparation of juice for children who need the whole nutritive value of fresh fruit. Recent studies prove that it creates allergies in practically no cases if properly prepared.

Carl Johnson With U.S. Navy Visiting In The C. Lewis Home

Carl Johnson, GMSN with the U. S. Navy and Mrs. Eula Johnson of Sherman are spending the holiday season in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis and daughters. Carl made his home here and worked at the White Auto Store, before joining the navy in March, 1950. He has orders to report for duty aboard ship, the U.S.S. Bausell, January 2nd. Prior to his leave his ship had completed a nine month tour of duty in the far East of which several months were spent with naval forces off the coast of Korea.
