Leader To Bring Election Returns To All Of County

In all of the past years, you have learned to depend on your Lamb County Leader, for all of the news first, and that goes for news of our elections and their results—city, county, state and National. That dependence has not been misplaced and again we are ready to serve you with Election Returns Minute-By-Minute, and Hour-by-Hour, on this election night, next Saturday.

Through a special arrangement with Littlefield Radio Station KVOW, and with our friend, J. B. McShan, the Lamb County Leader will this year, this Saturday, sponsor the complete broadcast of all the election returns—first from the precincts of Lamb county, as they decide precinct and county races—then from the counties of the state as state primary election results become known. A co-sponsor will be announced.

Gone are the days of the old blackboard atop a truck in front of the Leader office on Phelps avenue, a familiar scene of many previous years—in its stead, and serving not just some, but all of the citizens of the county is the faster, more accurate, and wider-ranged facilities of this electric era—Radio.

We invite you to be our guest and the guest of Radio Station KVOW at this special Radio broadcast starting shortly after the polls close next Saturday evening—as we follow our time-worn custom of seeking to bring you the Important News of our community—July, and FIRST.

PRESBYTERIANS GET DEED TO NEW CHURCH SITE—Sunday was an outstanding day at the local Presbyterian church. At a meeting of the congregation, following the morning service, the church voted to accept the gift of George White of five acres as the site for a new church. Immediately following the vote, Mr. White presented a deed to the land. In the picture, Mr. White (right) is shown turning over the deed to Mancil Hall (left), clerk of the session. Rev. Henry Haupt, pastor of the church, is shown in the center of the picture. The site for the new church is on Highway 51, just south of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. White. —PHOTO BY TAYLOR

Local "Republican" Administration Gives Harry's Man Traffic Ticket

They can maybe still get away with some bootlegging, and occasional robbery, or even a session with the galloping dominoes, which the law doesn't find out about, or is unable to solve with a city court summons—but when it comes to a violation of the parking meters, or minor traffic violation, without getting caught—not a chance, brother, not a chance. The traffic squad of the local police force is on the job—and we don't mean maybe.

No, we're not complaining; matters of fact, it let us stumble into the "story of the week" and even Ripley can "believe it or not," but it happened.

The political feud has been proven on, right here in Littlefield, remote though we may be from both Washington, D.C., and the scene of both early 1952 political battles of the century—Chicago. Well, let's get this story over with.

Shivers-led Group Of Delegates Stop Maverick

The field of a dozen announced candidates, and at least a half dozen other aspirants for the Democratic Presidential nomination, which faced the Democratic National Convention when it was called to order in Chicago Monday, had been narrowed, whittled down, when the fifth, Wednesday session adjourned at 2:30 yesterday afternoon—due to one specific fact—the swing to and toward Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the nomination, by unpledged as well as faltering pledged delegates.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Surpasses 150-Pint Goal With 187 Donations

Yesterday was D-Day for more than one hundred Lamb County and Littlefield citizens—Donor Day—as the Red Cross Bloodmobile from Ft. Worth pulled up in front of the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church and opened for "business" from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

July is blood donor's month on the Red Cross calendar in a special drive to replenish the dwindling reserves of whole blood in banks all over the country and that for use by the armed forces overseas. July is also baseball month and while many citizens eagerly await the shout of "Play ball!" the Red Cross has asked that we "play ball" with our boys overseas by donating our blood.

Littlefield's citizens showed yesterday that they believed that the hour or less—that they spent in the Bloodmobile might mean the difference between life and death for some boy in Korea.

Persons who had pledged blood received cards in the mail over the week-end, advising them of the time at which they were expected for their "date" with the nurses and doctors at the Bloodmobile. Mrs. Ewing Thaxton and Mrs. Edward Betts were in charge of getting out these notices.

In less than an hour yesterday the Educational building of the First Baptist Church was turned into a miniature hospital unit by the staff of the North Texas National Defense Blood Center from Ft. Worth.

Ten beds were set up behind screens in the auditorium from which all chairs had been removed. Registered nurses in starched white uniforms were everywhere (Continued on Back Page)

Crop Prospects Range From Good To Excellent

Excellent. That is the picture as it shapes up in reports from the office of County Agent David Eaton.

In a survey of the county, the following acreages were noted for various crops this season: 300,000 acres planted in cotton and 125,000 in feed. Specialty crops accounted for about 20,000 acres in alfalfa. Earth community alone having 10,000 acres. On the north side of the county, 1,000 acres have been planted in castor beans. The vegetable planting in the area adds up to 400 acres in tomatoes, 300 in potatoes and 100 in beans. There are 15,000 acres of irrigated pasture in Lamb county.

Danger point infestation can be determined from a simple scale. In fields where the cotton is young and has not fruited up the danger point is 15-20 flea hoppers to a 100 terminals. On older fruited-up cotton the infestation of flea hoppers can be allowed to reach 25-35 to 100 terminals before they warrant using control measures. If infestation is measurably lower than these figures, spraying is not profitable.

During the past week, heavy infestations of the cotton flea hopper have been discovered. The best control measure listed by the county agent's office is 1/4 of a pound of toxaphene to an acre. Farmers are advised to keep a close check on their fields for this insect.

Barring all unforeseen natural accidents that plague farmers, Lamb county farmers still have visions of a bumper crop on the horizon.

Few Boll Worms On the bright side of the insect pest picture in the county there are two things to be noted. Few boll worm eggs are in evidence on this crop, and the population of beneficial insects is very dense. Lady bugs, hooded beetles, and the insidious flower bugs are present in large numbers. In summing up, Mr. Eaton stated that cotton and, in fact, all crops were at a good stage of growth and above average for this time of the growing season.

It Needn't Be Mink To Be Smart

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Fashion Editor

If you can't afford a mink coat—there, little girl, don't cry. Esther Dorothy, known as designer of some of the world's most fabulous furs, says there's a smart fur coat to fit any budget—and it doesn't have to be imitation mink. Says she:

"Our alert young career girls nowadays don't want to look like their mothers, in mink. They want to pay for their own fur coats, and they want them young and gay. They prefer a bleached muskrat coat or one frankly dyed red or green, to one of the so-called 'mink-dyed' variety. They're clever, because a dyed muskrat never looks like a mink, anyway."

Among budget-priced furs available today in sleek, youthful styles, says Miss Dorothy, are: American broadtail (processed lamb), clipped fox, American nutria, sheared opossum and, of course, muskrat.

In her fall collection Miss Dorothy shows such things as a great-coat of clipped fox dyed mint green and lined in red taffeta—as right for city streets as it is for the football stadium.

A little spencer jacket of nutria has a matching beret and muff, for endless uses. The jacket may be worn with either day or evening clothes, the beret and muff may be worn separately with a tailored wool suit or coat. And the beret may be crushed into various shapes, to suit the mood of the wearer.

Miss Dorothy, whose own home has fur bath mats and blankets thinks all furs have a place in the current fashion picture—and that all can be beautiful and useful, if they don't try to imitate something else. Says she:

"During the last war, all the housemaids wanted to look like their mistresses, and bought mink with their war factory earnings.

Today you don't have to wear

CLIPPED FOX—Budget fur dyed mint-green and lined in red taffeta. For dress, a diamond pin decorates "strutter" collar.

NUTRIA ENSEMBLE—Spencer jacket, beret and muff are all of soft nutria, making an ensemble that does multiple duty. The jacket can be worn for day or evening, sleeves long or puffed up to display glittering bracelet. Beret and muff can be worn separately with suit. By Esther Dorothy.

Republican Convention In Review

Eisenhower for Richard Nixon of California President both in the first ballot, in the Republican National Convention 1952.

for the first time really working up a big interest in Republican affairs this year.

al delegations of delegates from Texas, one favoring Eisenhower, with the seating of the latter as one of the highest of the most bitterly fought of that Republican ed Eisenhower delegates home rejoicing and Zweifel-fled delegates, if not dejected, of the after-meetings came the announcement that Porter of Houston Texas National Texas—that Zweifel-fled.

the news of the Eisenhower win, or the Taft defeat in the convention, was acceptable to Texans. But that does not mean that Taft did not have some very strong support in the Lone Star State. The Lamb county delegation to the state convention had supporters of both candidates.

Throughout the five National Republican convention days, hundreds of Lamb county folks, had ears glued to radios listening to the convention proceeding. The same thing was true throughout Texas, with many of our big cities for the first time watching the proceedings on television. Another convention year, and television will be bringing the convention to all sections of Texas, is almost a foregone conclusion.

Recognition Of Great General
What happened at the Republican convention to defeat Taft, the man, who for four years has been referred to as "Mr. Republican"—for the nomination, to give it on the first ballot to General Dwight D. Eisenhower?

Undoubtedly there are 100 reasons, and more varieties of explanations.

Eisenhower supporters locally say that it was a simple choosing of the best man; the only man who could possibly win; the recognition of a younger group of Republicans; a sure-fire defeat for Trumanism; a challenge to Communism; a bid to break the solid South; a break-up of the old Republican machine that had led Republicans to defeat for 20 years; but above all, the proper, well-earned recognition of the great American general who led American forces to victory in World War II.

Some or all of these reasons may, or may not be true, correct or right, but at least a majority of the convention delegates stand they were.

Other Side Of Picture
But on the other side of the picture, there is bitter denunciation of some of the tactics which were employed to stop Taft, who had three days earlier predicted his own selection on the first ballot.

They freely charge that Governor Dewey of New York, unsuccessful candidate on the Republican ticket in both 1944 and 1948, had teamed up with Earl Warren of California, unsuccessful running mate with Dewey in 1948, and the two controlling, if not voting a total of more than 160 votes from the two states, were using Eisenhower as a "front" to continue their 1948 campaigns, and there is reason to give serious consideration to the thought that something of that nature may have taken place.

Certainly Dewey was pleased at the Eisenhower nomination, and for his convention support will have a powerful voice in Eisenhower policies and appointments if the general is elected. That is also true of Harold Stassen of Minnesota, who threw his pledged delegation to Eisenhower to clinch his nomination, and made it unnecessary for the Warren forces to expose their hand and position.

California Gets Reward
But California, and Earl Warren, who led that pledged delegation, were rewarded by the convention. Youthful, 39-year-old Senator Nixon of that state, youngest vice presidential nominee in history, excepting one, was unanimously given the nomination—a young man whose name had never been offered or considered, as much as 48 hours earlier. And that isn't all, because should the youthful Senator be elected, it will create a Senatorial vacancy in the State of California, and none other than Governor Earl Warren will name his successor—himself or some other—and that itself is no insignificant consideration.

But what really, was the one great controlling fact and factor in naming Eisenhower? Most political analysts are agreed that the endorsement of Eisenhower openly made by every one of the present office-holding 25 Republican governors, in as many states of our nation, was the decisive thing. Those 25 governors were most vitally concerned with being personally returned to office, in Republican State victory—and faced with an estimated five million Democratic majority in the nation, and the well known penchant of voter to "vote her straight"—for their own political sake—voted for and demanded the nomination of Eisenhower to head the ballot in the nation, and in every state.

And on, and on, the arguments and contentions are made and voiced, and will continue to be made and voiced, by the adherents of both sides of the party controversy.

Both candidates are resting, and little active campaigning will be done until after the Democratic nominations have been made, and the platform decided.

One thing stands out and is certain—the more than three months ahead, the next 14 weeks, preceding November 4th, are going to give our country one of the most bitterly fought campaigns in history, with Republicans taking up the battle cry employed by the Democrats in 1876—"Turn The Rascals Out." History records that they did not succeed, and history can, but does not always repeat itself.

Bible Words to Live by

PSALM 37:5, "Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass."

My life philosophy is built on this divine promise. When I am in doubt as to a course of action I try first to think things through for myself, since we are never absolved from the necessity of intellectual effort. But if I am still in perplexity I place all the related factors before God in prayer. I pray about the problem as earnestly as I can. This I do repeatedly. Then I go away from the situation and cease to think about it.

When I then return after a few days to pray about the matter again, I usually find that by a process of incubation there has formed in my mind a solution to the problem. It is as though God had in the meantime taken all the parts of the picture puzzle and arranged them into an orderly pattern.

If no immediate answer is in sight I continue to wait and trust, in the calm assurance that God is working at it even while I sleep, just as surely as the wheat that the farmer has planted in the spring-time continues to grow even though he is away on a journey. The results are surprising. "He brings it to pass."

Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Plans Conservation Field Day For Early Fall

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce held its regular board of directors meeting Tuesday morning at 7:30 a.m. in Dyer's Cafeteria. Marshall Howard, chairman of the agricultural committee, presided.

The following members of the board and agricultural committee were present: Pete Peterson, Ralph Nelson, L. E. Sullins, F. L. Newton, Stanley Doss, Harry Kline, Cecil Harp, Charlie Duval, J. B. McShan, Bob Crowell and David Keithley. David Eaton, county agent, was a special visitor.

The agenda was a crowded one. The committee heard a report on the first in its annual series of farm dinners which was held at the Oklahoma Avenue Community, July 10. Plans for the next dinner to be given August 7 at Lum's Chapel were completed. Preparation of the dinner will be managed by Mrs. J. E. Wade, president of Lum's Chapel Home Demonstration Club.

Bob Crowell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, presented a report on the manager's school which he attended in Dallas, July 17 and 18. The Southwest Institute, as this school is called, ran from July 13 through 19. Mr. Crowell graduated from the institute two years ago and returned this year for a refresher course.

Final plans for the Agricultural Field Day at Brownfield experimental station, July 31 at 2 p.m. were clinched. This event will be sponsored by seven or eight Chambers of Commerce in this area, including the Littlefield organization and headed by the West Texas Association. Ten or twelve local members and citizens are expected to view the many demonstrations in the use of latest farm equipment, methods and insecticides which will be staged during the afternoon.

The board also heard the first tentative plans for a conservation field day to be held here in the early fall. Plans now include a barbecue which would be prepared and served by the Chamber of Commerce although financed by other sources. The committee was not ready to disclose any further particulars about this event at the present meeting.

Charlie Duval, general chairman of the barbecue committee, stated that he anticipates about 350 persons at the country club, July 29 for the annual barbecue.

"Prof." Jackson, Noted Humorist, Coming to City

The chief speaker at the annual Littlefield Chamber of Commerce barbecue, which will be held at the Littlefield Country club Tuesday, will be Prof. Robert E. Jackson of the Department of Government, Texas State College for Women, who is one of the best known humorists in the Southwest.

Mr. Jackson was born on a farm in Hood county and received his early education in Texas. He took his B.S. degree at George Peabody College for Teachers and his advanced degree at the University of Chicago. He also attended Columbia and New York universities.

"Prof" is associate professor of government at TSCW where he has taught for 14 years. Before that he was principal of the Deaton High school where he taught history.

A frequent lecturer throughout Texas and neighboring states, Jackson's success as a toastmaster, main speaker and commentator began early in his teaching career.

"He doesn't talk on education, but his talk is an education in itself," is typical of the comments made by those who have heard him speak.

Notables who have introduced Jackson include Del Sharrutt, NDC and Columbia announcer, who liked him so much when he spoke once in Fort Worth that he invited him to California to make a speech.

At one time "Prof" had a contract with radio station WFAA in Dallas. He has spoken in Louisiana, Oklahoma, New York, Connecticut, California, Massachusetts, and all over the state of Texas by invitation and on educational tours.

His keen sense of wit and jovial disposition make him a much sought after dinner speaker. His subjects cover a wide range including affairs of the home, state, nation and world.

Mangum-Chesher-Hilbun To Stage Open House In New Building Friday

Presented here is a partial view of the new business home of the Mangum-Chesher-Hilbun Insurance Agency at 430 XIT Drive.

The insurance firm of Mangum-Chesher-Hilbun, and the Chesher Angus Farms, are announcing their formal opening in their new building at 430 XIT Drive (across from the Plains Hotel), with open house from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Friday, July 25.

They invite their many friends and clients to visit them during Friday and view their attractive building and furnishings. There will be favors for all.

The insurance concern is composed of A. C. Chesher, Jim Mangum and T. A. Hilbun, who are ably assisted by Mrs. T. A. Hilbun, as secretary.

The business of Chesher interests, including that of the Chesher Angus Farms, are also being taken care of by Mr. Chesher at the new suite of offices.

Brick Construction
This building, which is of brick construction, and recently completed under the supervision of Joe H. Wells, offers a total floor space of 1125 square feet.

A. C. CHESHER

Mr. Mangum and Mr. Hilbun personally drew the plans for the building, laid the tile flooring, and carried out the interior decorating, selecting and blending the various colorings. They are to be highly commended for their fine work.

Pastel Walls
The walls of the interior of the building are of various pastel colorings, with knotty pine trim.

The reception room and two semi-private offices of Jim Mangum and T. A. Hilbun have walls of a duobonnet shade, with light ceilings.

The walls of the large private office of A. C. Chesher are decorated in mauve with celotex ceiling. The rest room is decorated in spray green and honey yellow.

A large storage room at the back is another special feature of the new building.

The floors of the entire suite of offices are covered with cement tile of a tan shade, which blend perfectly with the colorings of the walls.

Mr. Chesher is a pioneer of this city, having maintained an office in Littlefield since 1924.

Mr. Mangum joined Mr. Chesher in the insurance business in January, 1948; and the Hilbun Insurance Agency merged with the Mangum-Chesher Agency in March, 1951.

Mr. Hilbun was in the service from 1942 through 1946 following which he established the Hilbun Insurance Agency, which he operated until joining the Mangum-Chesher group.

With Mr. Wells in charge of construction, materials were furnished by Cameron Lumber Company.

Campbell Plumbing Company had the plumbing contract.

The Brown Electric, of which Charlie Brown is owner and operator, had the contract for the electric work and installation of lighting fixtures.

The Cal Harvey Refrigeration service installed the heating and air-conditioning in the building.

The Littlefield Glass Works, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anzeline, at 802 East Third Street, installed the glass front in the building. This concern advertises "A Glass for Every Purpose." They established this business in March last and are filling a great need in Littlefield.

R. E. Morgan & Son had the contract for the tile and brick work, plastering and laying of the cement floor and sidewalk.

The Mangum-Chesher-Hilbun Insurance Firm represent many Old Line Companies, including Insurance Company of North American, Indemnity Insurance Company of North America, Hartford Fire Insurance Company, North River Insurance Company, Home Insurance Company, Home Indemnity Company, Travelers Fire Insurance Company, Travelers Indemnity Insurance Company, Trinity Universal Insurance Company, American Aviation & General Insurance Company, American Casualty Company, Great American Insurance Company, American General Insurance Company, Gulf Insurance Company, Old Colony Insurance Company and Hartford Steam Boiler Insurance Company.

Local Republican

any other New Deal Alphabetical Agency, who presides over the mails and the males at the post-office, was stopped square bang in the middle of the avenue de Phelps this week, and given a traffic ticket. Only a short time ago, who, we ask, who would have dared to give such affront to a henchman of Harry. But Harry is "no man to run," and times have changed.

When a pro-Zweifel, anti-Porter headed Republican City Administration, gets up nerve enough to ticket the local titular head of the 20-year Democratic dynasty, then you can make up your mind that something has slipped—and may even be skidding.

Why in former days, such a thing would have brought not only the F.G.I., but also the "justaphul" (or does it start with a "g," and end P.O.)

Takes It Smiling

And how did he take it, that naughty purveyor of 3-cent postage stamps, still only worth two—why with a smile, a grin, that divided the facial map from east to west, even though it did nothing to heal the breach between (Democrats) north and South—and serenely pursued his way to the private half-acre parking ground set aside for a faithful (party contributor) P.C., at the rear of the P.O.

"He who laughs last, laughs even better," gloated the official, as he peered out the window to make sure that Old Glory wasn't flying upside down, as it did on one other auspicious occasion—and the laugh is on them, not me," he smirked.

"I'm going to pay that traffic ticket—you bet I am—and they'll be sorry—mighty sorry. I'm going to pay it with a 10-cent Truman quarter."

Emmanuel Lutheran Vacation Bible School Is In Session

Pictured is the entire group of children, teachers, and helpers of Emmanuel Lutheran's Vacation Bible School, which has been in session this week and is scheduled to end tomorrow. Left to right in the back row are Pastor H. S. Heckman, Mrs. E. C. Hill, Mrs. H. A. Heckman, Mrs. V. J. Hobratchek, Mrs. Ruth Bartley, Mrs. James Slens, Mrs. Ruth Brandt, and Miss Alice Gohlke.

Vacation Bible school at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church has gained momentum as it rolled along this week. Each day more students have enrolled, raising the total of children attending to over 60.

Mrs. V. J. Hobratchek was added to the teaching staff to take over the class of Miss Mildred Gohlke, who has returned to Corpus Christi to teach in the Lutheran Day School there.

Commencement exercises for the week-long school will be held Friday night in the church at 8 p.m. Participation by each department has been planned. The Beginner class will sing. Primary students will say the Lord's Prayer which they have just committed to memory. The Junior Class will summarize the week's lessons. Seniors will give words to the Lord, parents, and all who were responsible for the success of the Vacation Bible School this year. The program includes a showing of "Bible on the Table." Parents, friends, and persons are invited to closing exercises.

Stevenson

fewer nominations than were anticipated when the convention opened—and there is a possibility, if not a probability, that Stevenson may, will, or can have the nomination on the very first ballot.

First Ballot Today

That fact became convention knowledge, when Temporary Chairman Paul Devers of Massachusetts stated shortly before Wednesday's first session closed, that one ballot "might" be taken Thursday night, if the nomination of Stevenson appeared likely on a first or single ballot—which could only be interpreted as an assertion that there was such a possibility for Stevenson, though not for any other candidate. Otherwise the balloting is expected to get underway Friday morning.

Many Ballots Possible

It may take a second or third ballot—it could take a dozen, or even more. No one can predict with accuracy nor with certainty. And the Vice Presidential nominee is still wide-open and uncertain, depending of course as it does, upon who gets the top place on the Democratic ticket. The personal wishes of the candidate, his home state, the support he could bring to the ticket, are the main factors which will dictate the vice-presidential nomination.

Many Conventions "It's"

Senator Russell has been most frequently mentioned as the "ideal" choice for second place on the ticket if Stevenson is nominated. But Senator Russell will be nominated and is still running for the Presidential nomination.

And above all—thus far Stevenson has not said he will accept the nomination for President, and Russell has stated that he is "not interested" in the vice-presidency.

Shivers Delegates Seated

The Shivers-led delegation of

Texans, 52 strong, was permanently and finally seated by the convention early Wednesday afternoon and the Maverick led delegation of "regulars" denied seats, were reported as taking the decision in good grace and stride.

For two days, Monday and Tuesday, the convention simply marked time, and listened to countless political greats, of both sexes from the four corners of the nation. One test, and one roll call vote, on the "loyalty" issue was the only thing to mar two days of hum-drum, and the effect of even this activity was later watered down through compromise.

Down To Business Yesterday

In two bouts Wednesday afternoon, the convention accomplished more actual results, than in all of the two days and nights of previous sessions.

As this paper goes to press Wednesday evening, the matter of Credentials and Rules have been disposed of—excepting that at that hour—the status of the delegations of South Carolina and Virginia were still in doubt, with those states still refusing to sign even the watered down loyalty pledges or assurances.

Wednesday night, the all-important platform committee was scheduled to make its report, and the prospects were strong, late Wednesday afternoon, that a satisfactory compromise, between north and south, would be made and prevail—which seemingly would mitigate the chances for a party-splitting floor fight on the issue, a thing which leaders of all factions hope can be avoided.

Texan Permanent Chairman

Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives, will take the gavel as permanent chairman at the Wednesday night session, and will deliver what is expected to be the highlight speech of the convention.

He will be followed by Vice President Alvin Barkley, grand old man of the Democratic party, who on Tuesday removed himself as a Presidential candidate.

Prominent Dark Horses

Both Rayburn and Barkley, have been frequently and freely mentioned as possible convention choice for the Presidency, if a deadlock, not now should develop.

The Surface Indication
If there is "positive" indication of positive trend, convention thus far, it is that standing out among would be—the outstanding (and thus far) success of the surface harmony; a demise of Truman influence; uniting of factions in view of the fact that an Em-headed Republican ticket, both hard work and united, if the Democrats wish to their 20-year tenure of the House in Washington.

ENLISTS IN AIR FORCE

Daniel E. Gilbert, son of Mildred Castle of Route 1, left Tuesday for Amarillo to enlist in the Air Force at the station in that city.

Wednesday, Daniel will go to Lackland Air Force Base, Antonio, for thirteen week training prior to attending specialized school. He is interested in radio technology.
