Mayor, 4 Councilmen Proposed New Charter For Littlefield

is another of the series of discussions the 13 members of the proposed city council for Littlefield. It deals with the 2 of the charter, and the 11.

field's voters approve the proposed city charter when they vote on Feb. 20, they will authorize a five-member council.

will, a mayor and four councilmen, would be elected in a city election.

arter provides a two-year term for the mayor and four councilmen.

for staggered terms of office among the four councilmen. The first elected council would determine the method of designating the appropriate term for each councilman.

A mayor and two councilmen would be elected at each city election after the first one.

The charter provides that the regular city election will be held on the first Tuesday of April of each odd numbered year.

Members of the charter commission, when they set up the staggered terms of office, had this in mind:

At each city election, two councilmen with two years' experience would be left on the council, to give the incoming mayor and two councilmen the benefit of that experience.

Under the present system — which has a mayor and two commissioners—all three men usually go off the commission at the same time.

The proposed charter provides that each member of the city council shall be a citizen of the U.S., a resident citizen of Littlefield, and a qualified voter of Texas.

Each member also must have been a resident citizen of Littlefield for not less than two years immediately preceding his election.

He also must be a property owner in the city, may not hold another public office or employment for which he is paid by the city and must not be delinquent in any indebtedness to the city.

If a man aspires to be mayor or a councilman and meets all the qualifications except the residence requirement, there is another way he may be able to qualify.

Hilburn, divisional leaders; James Pirkey, mechanics; Harry Woody, score-board; Bryson Kiser, audit; William Brune, program and arrangement; Mrs. W. C. Bible Material: Mark 10:22-25, Devotional Reading: John 13:1-17.

Cost of Greatness

Lesson for January 18, 1959

THERE is a religion which specializes in destroying desire. If you wish to be saved, they will tell you, you must stop wishing for anything, even to be saved. You must get rid of the wish to get rid of all wishes. The happy man is he in whom all desire is dead.

Jesus never indulged in such talk. He had no hard words for ambitious men. Of course it made a different story, when men were ambitious for the wrong reasons or for the wrong things. But ambition as such, he never condemned.

Two of his nearest friends told him one day, not too privately either, that they wanted to sit at his right hand and his left when at last he should be King. That was another way of saying they wanted to share his power and his greatness. The other disciples were disgusted and angry; but not Jesus. All he said was, in effect: Greatness has a price; are you prepared to pay it?

The Towel

The price was a cup that must be drunk; a baptism to be undergone. It is quite plain that these are figures of speech, as Jesus used them to those ambitious brothers James and John. For Jesus was never baptized after that, and all the cups from which he drank were ordinary cups such as all poor families used. This price-of-greatness Jesus himself illustrated by what he, greatest among the great, was and did. At the last supper, it was remembered afterwards what Jesus had done besides presiding at the meal. He knew he had come from God, knew he was going again to God, and that the Father had given all things into his hands. Surely these words spell greatness beyond comparison. Yet knowing his greatness, "he took a towel..." (The story is in John 13.) The cost of greatness is to become a servant. The mark of greatness is not power, but service-to.

The Teaching

Well, you might say, that towel incident was something special. Jesus sat among those men as their acknowledged Master; if for a few moments he took the part of a slave, a personal valet, he soon enough put on the teacher's gown again. Is there some way of serving others whose way of serving is there any way in which a teacher, for instance, can be "servant of all" without leaving the classroom or putting on an apron? Again Jesus shows us the way. All through his public life he was a teacher. What he had to say was more than personal opinion, it was a message from God. Yet Jesus was always humbly at the disposal of those he taught, with all their stupidity and selfishness. Much of his teaching, if not most of it, was simply speaking to questions or remarks other people made. When a heckler would ask him a question, he seldom brushed it off. He never said, "I am too busy to answer you," or "Your question is too stupid for words." On the contrary, he met people where they were and answered the questions they had, not the questions they doubtless should have had. So the professional man or woman can take his profession as a means of humble service, in Christ's name and spirit.

The Cross

For Jesus, being at the service of others was not a matter of keeping office hours, of "being available." That was much; but there was a last and highest point. Day by day he spent himself for others. But at last he gave his life, not bit-by-bit, hour by hour, but all at once, poured out like wine of sacrifice. The Son of Man, he said of himself, did not come to be served but to serve... But what did it mean, to him, to serve? The servant's towel was dramatic. The serviceable teaching was less dramatic, more useful. But these did not reach far enough. When his saying about "not to be served but to serve" was remembered, they remembered the end of the sentence: "to give his life a ransom for many." Jesus' road to greatness took him straight to the Cross. No by-passes lead to greatness. Thinking over the roll-call of Christian heroes—the reader may name his own—one quality is found in them all: they loved themselves last.

Officers Seeking
 Articles Missing
 in Robbery Case

County officers this week were still seeking a billfold, hat and knife missing in the armed robbery attempt of the Palace Theatre and the holdup of a Littlefield woman last Thursday night.

The billfold can be identified by papers belonging to Mrs. LaVey Mills, the hold-up victim. No description of the hat is available, but the knife is about nine inches long with a four-inch blade. The outside part of the handle has been barred off.

Officers asked that residents report to them in the event they locate any of the missing articles.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Scientists say that the chemicals in our bodies are worth only a few cents. God says that we belong to the highest order of His creation, made in His own image.

Statistics lose us in a multitude of more than two and a half billion people living in the world today. God tells us that He knows us as individuals. Each of us has a place in His plan. No one else can fill it, because no two people are exactly alike.

Friends say that they love us, but that love sometimes fails. God's love has given us our families, our friends, our possessions, our world, our very lives . . . and He gave us His only Son. It was He who taught us to call the great God of Creation our Father.

The Church of Christ invites us to come, to worship our Heavenly Father, and be forgiven by Him. Then we may reevaluate ourselves as individual children of God, not merely as part of a multitude.

Plains Farm Labor Group Formed For United Action

Representatives of 25 organizations throughout the High Plains of Texas met here and the West Texas Agricultural Employers Assn. to present a united front on farm labor problems.

First job for the association will be to represent labor users of this area in a meeting in Kansas City Jan. 14-15, called by the U. S. Department of Labor. Sooter, G. K. McDonald, Lamesa, and J. M. Rankin, Falls, were named official delegates. W. G. Boyd, Lamesa, also will attend as will W. T. Millen, Muleshoe, J. T. Fulford, Brownfield, and Pfeifferberger, all representing the PCG.

A. L. Muldrow, Brownfield, a member of the department's committee on Mexican braceros, attended the Jan. 8 meeting and told the representatives that it is imperative that this area's farmers have a strong organization and present a united front in connection with the labor situation for agriculture.

The group named three committees, finance, by-laws and constitution, and legislative and policy. Sooter said each committee would work on its respective job and report back to directors at the next meeting.

Sooter also announced that letters inviting other labor associations not represented at the Jan. 8 meeting to join were being sent out. All labor associations, ginners, and farmers, who use farm labor in West Texas are eligible for membership. He also said copies of the minutes of this first meeting would be mailed with the invitation letters and would give officials a better idea of the goals and future plans of the new association.

For the present, the mailing address and headquarters of the West Texas Agricultural Employers Assn. will be in the PCG office, 220 Lubbock National Bldg., Lubbock.

Two Grocerymen Attend Meeting Of Association

Two local grocerymen attended the stockholders meeting of the Panhandle Associated Grocers Association in Amarillo Tuesday. They were Raymond Rentro and J. J. Foust, Jr.

Most of the meeting consisted of reports of financial conditions of the various departments of the organization.

The association began in 1941 with about 25 members and today has 174 members.

Foust reported that approximately 100 attended the Tuesday meeting. He said that 1958 was the biggest year of business for the association, and while volume increased, percentage of operating expenses decreased, thus giving the individual groceryman a better purchasing price, which he passed on to the consumer.

Rentro reported that a huge new warehouse is being built for the association and that big volume buying will continue in order to give the consumer better prices.

He said that the association uses around 13 carloads of groceries per day.

Other local grocerymen who belong to the association are: Pioneer Food, Yarbrough Grocery and Hall Grocery.

Deadline On Choice A, B Allotments Set March 16

Operators of upland cotton farms will have until March 16, 1959, to choose between the Choice A and Choice B allotments and price supports for their crops.

James D. C. Terrell, chairman, Lamb County ASC Committee, said recently. That is the final date for registering the operator's choice at the county ASC Office.

The chairman emphasized, however, that no election of such a choice can be filed until after the farm operator receives a notice of the price support levels applicable to the 1959 upland cotton crop.

That will be soon after the Secretary of Agriculture announces the national price support levels for the 1959 upland cotton crop about the end of January.

Every cotton farm operator, therefore, should be on the lookout for a notice from his county ASC office early in February, informing him of the price support levels available for cotton produced on Choice A and B allotment farms and stating the deadline for filing the operator's choice.

The notice form will have a space where the operator can write his choice of either A or B.

If the farm operator elects the Choice A farm allotment and complies with it, his 1959 upland cotton crop will be eligible for price support at not less than 80 per cent of parity. If he elects Choice B allotment—which is 40 per cent higher than Choice A—his crop will be eligible for support at a level which is 15 per cent of parity less than under Choice A. The operator must elect the same choice for all farms which he operates.

In accordance with legislation enacted last summer, farmers will have this opportunity to choose between the A and B farm allotments since marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 upland cotton crop. In the Dec. 15 referendum on quotas for upland cotton, farmers voting approved the quotas by more than 70 per cent.

Oilman's Private Plane, 'Gooney Bird,' Is Ailing

HOUSTON (AP)—Oilman Glenn McCarthy's "Gooney Bird," the nation's largest private plane, is ailing.

McCarthy says the bird could fly again after a $40,000 dollar treatment but, for the moment at least, the six million dollar aircraft has outlived its usefulness.

He bought the Boeing Stratoliner from Howard Hughes in 1940.

McCarthy then owned the Shamrock Hotel and had radio, television and music interests. And purchase of the Gooney Bird was strictly business.

Deals made above the clouds were later cancelled on the ground. The plane "was less a paying investment than a prestige thought," says Fred Nehes, advertising executive and former president of the oilman's Houston radio station.

The six-engine bird seats 17 passengers in its plush velvet chairs. Much of the space inside the ship is taken up by lounge facilities including a mammoth parlor bar.

Some of the entertainment world press agents, business associates and friends of the owner were attached across the country by the Gooney bird during its heyday.

But the bird took a beating during a flight through a tropical storm over the Gulf of Mexico about 10 months ago. Engineers found about 60 cracks in its right wing.

Since then the gray and white plane with its Kelly green stripes has rested beside a former National Guard hangar now occupied by a charter air service.

McCarthy says he is still fond of the aircraft.

"It's a fine one and it had its purpose," he says. "If some day we have occasion to use it, the repairs will be made."

Chief pilot Ray McNeese says the plane has logged about 700 hours and cruises at about 225 miles per hour.

Nowadays McNeese flies McCarthy throughout the United States and to Bolivia, where the Houstonian has oil and gas interests in a twin-engine Aero Commander.

"We've been flying with only two or three passengers for some time on these trips, so the big plane hasn't been useful from the standpoint of maintenance and operating costs," McNeese says.

Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by The Investment Research Department of Hemphill, Noyce & Co. Members of the New York Stock Exchange January 14, 1939

OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET FOR 1939

It is generally agreed by most economists that the business recession ended in the first half of 1938, that the recovery now under way will continue through 1939 and that 1939 will be a better business year than 1938.

Studying the trend of family income it appears to us that they will accelerate in 1939 and 1940. Consequently the long term trend of the economy for the next three years or so should be very satisfactory.

The fact that 1937-38 recession came at a time after World War II comparable to the spacing of time between 1929 and World War I and the fact that many circumstances were the same, such as excessive inventories, excess production and a rate in excess of consumer demand led many people to believe that a post-war depression was in the making. Actually other excesses, such as over-speculation in the stock market with low margin requirements were lacking and the government's so-called built-in controls were put into effect and were successful in reversing the downward trend in business. This event was very encouraging as it indicated that the fluctuations in the business cycle can be modified to a great degree under most circumstances.

In forecasting the extent and duration of the present recovery it should be considered that plant and equipment expenditures which started the 1935-36 recovery are not likely to reach their 1937 levels for at least two or three years due to current ample production capacity. Furthermore, auto production is not likely to reach the 1935-37 levels for at least a couple of years. Finally, family formations will not be especially favorable to new households until 1940 and with a possible government policy of tight money to curb inflation, housing starts may not rise too rapidly.

In the final analysis, 1939 is likely to be a year of gradual rather than sharp recovery.

Some of the industries that are expected to make the best recoveries are those which were very depressed in 1938 including the automotive, textile and steel industries. The oil, chemical, coal, railway and other industries allied to the overall business picture should show modest improvement in 1939 while consumer goods durables, such as drugs, food and clothing, along with retail sales and services, are expected to continue their improvement of the past year.

The rise in the stock market over the past year has confounded many of the experts. On a statistical basis many stocks appear overpriced. This rise is primarily attributable to investors anticipating a recovery in business, and those helping against inflation and monetary purchases by institutional and pension funds creating a shortage of investment-grade stocks. Nevertheless, there are some groups which have been neglected and these could be profitable to investors in 1939. Some of the best values appear to exist in the better grade auto equipment stocks. As a whole, however, it does not seem likely that the 1938 stock market will rise as much as it did in 1938.

To summarize, the outlook for the economy over the next two to three years is especially promising and although stock prices may consolidate until earnings reach a point where a further rise is justified, they should eventually advance once again. INS

New Charter-

In addition to salary, members of the council, will be entitled to receive all necessary expenses incurred in the performance of official duties.

Should the mayor of a councilman leave the council, the charter provides that the council will appoint a successor to serve until the next regular city election.

If two or more vacancies occur at one time, the council is required to call a special city election within 45 days to fill the vacancies for the unexpired terms.

Also required in the proposed charter is that all meetings of the council will be open to the public.

At least one regular meeting must be held each month, at a time to be set by the council. The council also may hold as many additional or special meetings as necessary to carry on the business of the city.

Equal voting powers are allotted to the mayor and councilmen, with the mayor voting on each issue along with the councilmen. A majority vote will determine the outcome of any question.

No persons related with the second degree by marriage, or within the third degree by blood to any elected officer of the city or the city manager, may be appointed to any office or position of the city.

Powers of the council include:

1. To appoint and remove the city manager.
2. To establish and abolish departments.
3. To adopt a city budget.
4. To investigate the conduct of any officers, departments or employees of the city as to municipal affairs.
5. To appoint necessary commissions and boards to assist the council.
6. To adopt plans.

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—The letter, written in a child's scrawling hand, was beyond the ability of the post office to deliver. It read:

"Sissy and all the other kids are just fine and we all want you home for Christmas because without you it won't be one. Well, I'll close for now. Love,

The letter was addressed: "To my Daddy in Heaven, o-o God."

State Highway Spending Asset To Cities, Counties

AUSTIN — "Highway dollars spent for construction and maintenance are a real economic asset to the counties and cities of Texas. People are again recognizing the importance of the highway dollar being returned to their counties and cities."
Marshall Formby, Highway Commission Chairman, said that construction and maintenance jobs are a shot in the arm to the economy of a county and city. "Times have been so good since World War II that people more or less forgot about the value of highway dollars," Formby said. "But during the past two or three years the business leaders have recognized anew the value of the money spent with them."
Formby stated that on a typical million-dollar contract, at least $700,000 will be spent with the people in the county where the work is being done and the other $300,000 spent in the area. "People in all walks of life get some benefit out of this highway dollar," Formby said.
In breaking down the average and typical million-dollar contract, Formby points out that an average 100 to 150 different parcels of land is purchased for right of way at an average cost of $140,000. This right-of-way money is paid to property owners for their land and for moving buildings, for fences, title policies and other items. On an average, 30 local workers will be employed to move the fences and buildings at a cost of $20,000. Where title policies are required, at least $14,000 will be spent for these.
On this average million-dollar contract, about 100 local people will be employed on the construction project. Where bridges are built, about 75 per cent of the labor is locally obtained.
The local lumber yards will sell 3,500 barrels of cement for $10,000 and 5,000 board feet of lumber for $1,000. About 200 tons of structural steel will be needed at a cost of from $12,000 to $15,000. The contractor will spend thousands of dollars with local oil distributors for gasoline, motor fuel and other petroleum products. Materials such as sand and gravel, caliche, and other base materials, are always purchased locally if available and will cost about $6,000. Some 30 trucks, most of them local, will be paid $30,000 to haul these materials to the job. These trucks would in turn purchase $5,000 worth of gasoline alone for the job.
The highway dollar will find its way eventually to the laborer, lumber yards, oil distributors, filling stations, garages, welding shops, apartment-house owners, hotels, motels, grocery stores, hardware stores, picture shows, utility companies, barber shops, cafes, department stores, etc. The money will find its way into the local tax coffers; some will be used to support churches, schools, and other worthwhile enterprises.
Formby says that a survey shows that this $700,000 of the typical million-dollar contract that is spent directly in the county, turns over five to six times before it finally spends itself out. Thus, a million dollar job is equivalent to about $4 million being dumped into the county.
"This money does not come from Santa Claus, however," Formby said. "It is the people's tax money being returned to them for the betterment of their highway system and for the boosting of their own economy. It is the duty of my Commissioner colleagues, Herb Petry and Cranlie Hawn, myself, and of the 15,000 employees of the Highway Department to see that it is spent as wisely as possible."

Toastmasters Plan Membership Drive

The Littlefield Toastmasters' Club decided in its Tuesday night dinner meeting to begin the spring membership campaign with the regular dinner meeting next Tuesday night.
Each toastmaster is urged to bring at least two guests and anyone who is interested in joining should call Bill Street or Vigo Peterson.
The purpose of the club is to help local men better their everyday speech as well as teach the art of public speaking.
Each meeting is devoted to a dinner, followed by a topic session, in which each member speaks for one minute on a given subject. Three prepared five-minute speeches and one extemporaneous speech are given. A general evaluator and individual speech evaluators then discuss the different speeches.
The Tuesday dinner meetings

THIS WEEK In Washington

WITH CLINTON DAVIDSON

With the new Congress only a week old it is already apparent that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson has as many troubles as anyone in Washington.

He starts out with a predominantly Democratic Congress that is sure to oppose his farm plans and, in general, make 1959 anything but a happy year for him.

Pigs and politics will be the principal cause of his woes. There will be too much of both. And, as if that were not enough, he'll have too much wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco and a few other surpluses.

During the past year Benson paid farmers almost a billion and a half dollars for farming practices principally designed to hold down production. Farmers, instead, produced bumper crops 11 per cent larger than the previous record on the smallest acreage in 80 years.

The Bugging Budget
Benson believes that the costs of government farm programs are too high and that Congress should take steps to reduce them. But, he concedes, he hasn't much chance of reducing costs until the farm laws are changed.

Farm programs, which include such things as subsidized exports, the School Lunch program, etc., last year cost $6 billion. Unofficial estimates are that these programs may cost as much as $7 billion this year.

With the exception of the Defense Department, the Agriculture Department spends more money than any other government agency. Despite these expenditures government holdings of farm surpluses have reached $7 billion, and may go to $8 billion within the next few weeks. Storage charges alone amount to more than $1 million a day.

The worst may be yet to come. With hog prices high for the past couple of years, farmers raised 17 per cent more pigs last fall for market next spring and, the USDA estimates, the spring pig crop will jump by 13 per cent over a year ago.

A Congressman's Best Friend
Dogs may be man's best friend, but any farm belt congressman will tell you that hogs are more important, politically. There are something like two million hog raises and when prices go down farmers become very displeased.

The man they usually pin the blame on is the Secretary of Agriculture. Benson has been warning growers for two years to hold down their hog production, but that won't keep him from being blamed when prices drop.

And, if the forecasters are correct, other farm prices will be going down during the year. Even USDA economists who know that pessimistic predictions displease their boss, are forecasting a 5 per cent to 10 per cent decline in 1959 farm prices.

Farmers squeezed between falling prices of the things they sell and rising prices of things they buy are in the habit of telling their troubles to their congressman. It is up to the congressman to place the blame.

While farm prices are going down food prices almost certainly will be going up. In the past 10 years farm prices have gone down 23 per cent, while food prices have increased by 27 per cent. Neither farmers nor consumers are happy about that.

Either way Benson can't win. Farmers blame him for the low prices they receive, and consumers kick because of higher food prices. Taxpayers object to the high cost of "farm subsidies." One thing Benson can count on: Hogs and Democrats will make life uncomfortable for him in 1959.

See The Listener

Alexander Graham Bell, it's safe to say, would find it impossible to believe what his great invention—the telephone—is on the verge of doing. He, the resident Donald C. Power of the General Telephone Company has to say:

"The broad market for telephone products and services will make it possible for the telephone subscriber of the future to control the lights and heat within his own home from any distant point merely by dialing predetermined digits. The telephone instrument of the future will consist of communication outlets located in every room in the house, and in many instances provided as built-in facilities, as contrasted with the present-day instrument. In response to the doorbell signal, you will be able to establish two-way communication with the caller from any location in your home. The possibility of seeing the image of the individual with whom you are speaking, through the development of phone-a-vision, lies in the near future . . .

"When desired, you will obtain news summaries, weather reports and market results for all types of markets—industrial, agricultural, etc.). The future development of special services will permit the dialing of children's stories and to have them carried over a separate speaker located in the nursery . . . These are the things that are our objectives for future telephone service."

Grassroots Opinion

MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT, ADDISON COUNTY INDEPENDENT: "All business in a democratic country begins with public permission and exists by public approval. If that is true, it follows that business should be cheerfully willing to tell the public what its policies are, what it is doing, and what it hopes to do."

ROSEBURG, ORE., THE NEWS-REVIEW: "The man with money will invest risk capital when there is opportunity to earn a profit. When he invests his money he creates jobs. Experience shows that people go where jobs are plentiful. No one objects to a sales tax, or any other tax for that matter, if job security is to be found. But we can't and won't have job security so long as we have no incentive for risk capital."

MINEOLA, N.Y., LILCO NEWS: "Something happened at Plymouth Colony in 1623 that ought to be enshrined in the memory of every American. It was the beginning of the American economic system based on private ownership of property and individual responsibility."

"At first, all food grown in the colony went into a central storehouse and equal shares were doled out . . . Within two years starvation threatened. There were too many shirkers, not enough food. Then colony leaders decided to give each family full rights to all it produced . . . The fields of Plymouth Colony blossomed . . .

"American's today must examine carefully every move toward 'public ownership' of anything. In most cases it carries of civilization back toward the stagnation of primitive communism."

TINLEY PARK, ILLINOIS, TIMES: "Those of us who live in this nation have a lot to be thankful for—we are not at war; our economy is standing up very well; our standards of living continue on the up-side; our health, as a people, continues to improve; there is more tolerance, less bigotry; we have a most wonderful form of government in which the dignity of the individual as well as his freedom is preserved; we have the right to attend and follow the teaching of the church of our choice; we have the right to express our thoughts and opinions."

"But we shouldn't become complacent. Complacency has taken a heavy toll of nations over the centuries and it could happen to us . . ."

GREAT FALLS, MONTANA, LEADER: "A physician speaking before a recent industrial conference said the dangers from radiation have received so much publicity that an appreciable number of individuals have been frightened to the point of refusing very desirable X-ray examinations. The chief X-ray technician in a large hospital also is quoted as saying that some patients ask questions, even worry about over-exposure from X-ray. 'We're glad to have them ask the questions,' she said, 'but they should let the doctors do the worrying!'"

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas' 56th Legislature sours off the launching pad this week.

Predictions are that it'll be orbiting around the Capitol for many months to come—certainly long enough to put to good use the air conditioners newly installed in the Legislative chambers.

Many have suggested the 56th will have to have one or more special sessions before it can solve all its problems. Certainly before they can leave, the lawmakers will have to perform the thankless task of levying many more millions in state taxes.

Additionally, they'll be beset on all sides for new spending programs which would call for even more taxes.

After several months of this, our space may look invitingly calm compared to the Texas Capitol.

IHN KITTY—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's official revenue estimate for 1960-61 is more of a storm warning than a forecast.

Calvert expects the state's general fund deficit to hit $65,234,703 by the end of this biennium next August. Under the present tax set-up, he estimates revenue to the same fund during the next two years would total $180,697,245.

After the deficit is taken care of only $115,000,000 would be left for 1960-61 spending. It's a pretty thin kitty when compared with the $282,000,000 appropriated from general revenue for 1958-59. It means the state will have to raise $167,000,000 more just to maintain its present "standard of living."

Comptroller Calvert's official revenue estimate this year is a far cry from the one he made two years ago for the 55th Legislature. In that well-heeled era Calvert forecast approximately a $50,000,000 surplus. No one paid too much attention to outgoing House Speaker Jim Lindsey's prophecy that spending needs would outrun this figure.

In good years and bad, the Legislature is bound by law to hold its appropriations within the comptroller's revenue estimate.

TREASURE HUNT—A number of economists plus stricter levying and collecting of present taxes might net the state as much as $1,389,967 without new taxes.

This report was made by a financial study committee headed by Secretary of State Zollie Steakley. Committee was appointed by Gov. Price Daniel last summer.

Its six cash-raising ideas: (1) put more tax-collecting personnel in the comptroller's office, (2) cut out tax exemptions for beer and cigarettes sold on military bases, (3) increase franchise tax rate, (4) consolidate state "housekeeping" services (such as telephones), (5) increase fees charged by state agencies and (6) establish a "conservatorship" for the state to take over unclaimed money (such as bank accounts) and personal property.

Senate Investigating Committee also inquired into the comptroller's work, was told that additional personnel would make it possible to collect millions more in taxes.

HOPE FOR CREDITORS—State Liquidator C. H. Langdeau reported his office is making progress toward clearing up some of the stickier problems resulting from insurance company failures.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

(Taken from files of the Lamb County Leader, Jan. 14, 1943)

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Pass are the new owners of the L. W. Jordan home on Lfd. Drive.

Lamb County assured asphalt for East-West highway.

Mrs. I. T. Shotwell, Jr. was elected first vice-president of the Woman's Study Club.

Olton sells $22,700 in bonds the first seven days of January.

Langdeau told the Senate Investigating Committee that income proposed property sales go through, creditors of US Trust and Guaranty will get a 10 per cent payment. They have previously received a 31 per cent payment.

Cecil Roisch of the Equitarily Division told the committee that ordinary life policies of Standard State Life Ins. Co. had been insured and the unsound industrial policies cancelled.

In an earlier report the Senate committee had charged Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison with negligence contributing to the downfall of Estate.

BATTLE LINES DRAWN—Representatives of Texas Municipal League and spokesmen for the State Firemen's and Policemen's Associations tried to have a friendly get-together. Purpose: to share views on future legislation on firemen's and policemen's wages, hours and pension plans.

Municipal League wanted to talk about its plan to put more control of wages and hours in the hands of city councils, rather than the Legislature. Firemen and policemen were more interested in their plan to get the Legislature to limit working hours in cities over 10,000.

After a stormy session the two groups admitted they were "poies apart."

Each gave notice they'd stick by their guns and fight it out at the Capitol.

AT IT AGAIN—Texas Employment Commission, a frequent battleground for labor-management hassles, is caught in the cross-fire again.

It was touched off at a meeting of TEC's advisory council called to consider proposed changes in the unemployment compensation laws.

Commission Chairman Perry Brown is recommending that the weekly checks be upped from $28 to $35, the 24-week pay period of 6 weeks and that there be a one-week waiting period before payments begin.

R. F. Newman, labor's representative on the Commission, recommended payments pegged at 37 per cent of the average salary. At present $78 weekly average benefit checks would be about $43. Newman also recommended extending the unemployment law to firms with only one employee.

Labor spokesmen on the council were critical of Brown's one-week waiting period proposal and even more critical of Brown and Commissioner Maurice Acers. State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman accused the two commissioners of voting down the appeals of jobless workers.

Management representatives declared the commission's first responsibility was to get people employed, not to pay out benefits.

HIGHER PRICES SEEN—1959 may be the year for another round of inflation, warns the University Bureau of Business Research.

BBR noted that even with the recession there was no drop in prices during 1958. Hence, the expected expansion in business in the coming year might mean some sharp price rises.

RUSSIAN RELIGION

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Back from leading a student tour to Russia, Mrs. Dewitt Baldwin, wife of the University of Michigan's co-ordinator of religious affairs, says there is a growing recognition among young Russian intellectuals that religion "may be a living thing with something to say even to them."

He Wants Cash If Mikoyan Buys Eggs At His Place

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is off on a weighty topic this week.

Dear editor:

I noticed in the paper that another Russian visitor, a man by the name of Mikoyan, second in command over there, has been touring the United States and I read in a copy of a newspaper which I borrowed out of my neighbor's mailbox in the interest of furthering the good neighbor policy and will return if he acts unreasonably about it that Mr. Mikoyan says one trouble with U.S.-Russian relationships is that we can't trust Russia enough.

What puzzles me about this is why should it puzzle Mr. Mikoyan? He knows the Russians better than we do and I doubt if he can trust his home folks enough to be 100 per cent sure he'll have his own job when he gets back home.

As I understand Russian politics, over there, you don't get elected for any definite term, you just stay in office until you get to trusting your assistants too much, at which time you wake up on a train to Siberia and your assistants is occupying office.

Probably what Mr. Mikoyan meant was we ought to be sure nobody at home would

As everybody knows, there's a change in office in Russia, the number of Russian politicians have learned to get a man you picked in the teeth to be so any extent you can do

I guess maybe it sound reasonable for the Russians to trust them when they won't build any more gas bombs and wouldn't use the ones they've got sure prefer to keep some round handy on our side case.

I don't know how I got this weighty subject, usually I ought to be about a new crop year. In the meantime, if Mr. Mikoyan wants to buy a dozen I'd just as soon be paid.

Yours faithfully,

15, that 3,000,000 of the 4,000,000 motor vehicles have to pass their 1959 safety sticker.

The department urged motorists to "do your shopping early" and to get their autos inspected at the 4,400 inspection stations. The safety department said that those who fail to get their autos inspected will be subject to traffic citations after April 15. The average cost of a safety inspection program began six months ago for needed repairs $1.19 for the inspection stations check brakes, lights, horns and windshield wipers. Inspectors have found that 39 percent of the vehicles have some adjustment or repair needed.

Colonel Garrison Jr., director of the safety department, said that the program is an improvement over the program of motor vehicle inspection which began years ago when the program began. At that time only 50 per cent needed to take advantage of the inspection facilities now and the convenience of waiting for the April 15 deadline. Colonel Garrison said that this safety factor is a big factor in safe driving on our highways—and that

Legislative Fight On Vet Pensions Could Come Early In New Congress

By TEX EASLEY Associated Press Special Service WASHINGTON (AP) — A legislative fight over veterans pensions is brewing under the surface and likely to erupt early in the new Congress.

Rep. Olin (Tiger) Teague of the Bryan-Corsicana district, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, is sure to be caught in the middle. And he's no fence straddler.

The issue is expected to arise over the proposal of the fast growing organization chartered last year by Congress—Veterans of World War I of U.S.A. They want a hundred dollar a month pension for all World War I veterans who reach 60, regardless of financial worth.

This, Teague added, would cost the tax payers of the nation between two and three billion dollars the first years over and above the cost of all present veterans programs. The accumulated total in excess of other programs would reach 27 billion dollars by 1985, when all World War I veterans would have reached 60.

"I think pensions should be based strictly on need," Teague said, commenting on the proposal. "We have plans under study which would actually increase pensions for those with a true need, while eliminating some with high family incomes."

A recent survey disclosed that comes of $5,000 or more annually getting pensions have family income of 20,000 of the 800,000 veterans now the national average family income.

The present pension program, supposed to be based on need, an annual income of $1,400 or less if single or an income of $2,000 or less if married. What his wife earns is not taken into consideration.

While the World War I veterans group backs the $110-a-month pension plan, it has been denounced by an organization comprised of veterans of World War II and Korea—Amvets.

National Amvet Commander Winston Burdine called the plan unrealistic and said insistence upon it would simply block passage of legislation providing more help for those in real need.

The perspective fight over the proposal is likely to be reminiscent of that which occurred shortly after World War II.

At that time some congressman advocated veterans benefits which opponents said would cost fantastic sums. The staunchest foes of the extreme plans were several veterans who had heroic war records, including Teague.

Six times wounded in European fighting in World War II, he is one of the most decorated men in Congress.

About Your Health

Last week a strong and vigorous 50-year-old Central Texas dairyman suddenly crumpled unconscious to the floor of his dairy barn while going about his routine chores. The doctor's diagnosis was quick and sure: Stroke.

That's one of the most ominous words in the language today. What does it really mean?

The medical term is "cerebral vascular accident," because it is caused by a cerebral vascular disease. The body's cerebral vascular system is the brain's network of blood vessels. Thus, cerebral vascular disease refers to diseases of blood vessels in the brain.

Brain cells require a good blood supply in order to work properly—more so than most other body cells. When something happens to that blood supply, the brain itself is impaired.

That something could be a hemorrhage, thrombosis, embolism, compression, or a spasm. Each one of those key words is a cause of stroke.

A hemorrhage (bleeding) is the result of a break in a brain artery which allows blood to escape and damage surrounding brain tissue. Apoplexy is this type of stroke.

A thrombosis is caused by a clot of blood forming in a brain artery, stopping the flow of blood to the part of the brain it supplies. But when a clot is formed by a diseased heart or elsewhere in the body and pumped to the brain to plug up an artery, it is called an embolism.

A tumor, swollen brain tissue, or a large clot in another vessel may press upon a brain vessel to stop the flow of blood. This is called compression. A spasm is caused when a brain artery constricts or tightens up, reducing the flow of blood to a particular brain area.

With present medical knowledge it is not possible to prevent the majority of strokes, except insofar as some conditions causing cerebral vascular diseases—high blood pressure, for example—can often be helped by modern treatment.

Too, several conditions associated with blood clot formation respond to anti-clotting drugs, and blood vessel defects with which some children are born can sometimes be corrected by surgery, thereby eliminating the danger of strokes.

Rehabilitating a stroke victim may be long and arduous. It is never hopeless. If the age is slight, rehabilitating can be accomplished by the family and physician, with extensive handling teams of physicians, nurses, public health workers, and vocational training specialists work miracles.
