LITTLEFIELD, LAMB CO., TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1956

NUMBER 40

Review Committee Gives County Farmer Ten Acre Increase In Cotton Allotment

A three man review committee overruled the State ASC Committee Tuesday afternoon and granted a ten acre increase in 1956 cotton allotment to Wallace Gosden of Rt. 2, Sudan. Gosden is one of 303 Lamb County Farmers who have protested the 9% cut in acreage which they received this year.

The review committee based its decision on the fact that Texas' acreage was reduced only 2.67 per cent and that Gosden's acreage should have been cut no more than that same percentage.

The decision will have far reaching effects on the acreage control program if it is allowed to stand because it gives review committees in every county in the nation the right to increase the total quota on any controlled crop if the committees feel that their area is not getting its fair share.

Secretaries of Agriculture have for many years been ruling that the review committees can consider only the action of the county ASC committees. Until a few days ago the review committees have accepted this ruling. But the Lamb County committee and one at Lamesa last Friday both held that the law passed by Congress did not limit them to the county committee's action only. Both held that they could also correct inequities created by the state ASC committee and both awarded applicants increased acreage sufficient to bring their reductions into line with the state average.

Members of the review committee which heard Gosden's protest in Littlefield's community center Tuesday were Chairman Henry Schuster of Muleshoe, vice chairman A. M. Gilbert of Sudan and speaker A. L. Hertzog of Farwell.

The West Texas Cotton Committee, which furnished legal counsel for Gosden, has indicated that if the Secretary of Agriculture should attempt to set aside the review committee's decision, it will file suit in federal court to uphold the decision.

Austin Wilson of Austin, attorney for Gosden, presented figures to the review committee showing that while Lamb County is being restricted to 52.8 per cent of its planting in the last non-quota year (1953) many counties in the state have quotas of more than 100 per cent of the amount they were planting when they were not restricted.

The committee was told by Henry Marshall, statistician for the state ASC committee, that the heavy planting by West Texas farmers in 1951, 1952 and 1953 were largely responsible for the fact that Texas acreage was reduced by only 2.67 per cent this year while nationwide the reduction was 4 per cent.

The West Texas Cotton Commission has contended that this reduction should have been spread proportionately across the state, rather than increasing the quotas on small farms and making larger reductions on the larger West Texas farms.

This situation occurred because the state ASC committee decided that no adjustment should be made for historical trend in 1956 and the hardship had resulted for East Texas farmers because of the trend adjustments in 1954 and 1955. They attempted to make up for this "hardship" by giving small East Texas farmers extra large "hardship adjustments" in 1956. This resulted in many East Texas counties receiving considerably larger quotas this year than last and it forced a 9 per cent reduction in counties like Lamb.

At the committee's request Wilson read excerpts from the testimony of members of the state ASC committee in a recent lawsuit. The gist of this testimony was that the members were not familiar with the regulations

Ford of Olton, and second vice president is Mrs. Bob Williams of Spade. B. M. Wilson of Sudan was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Smith pointed out that most of the members would be unable to attend the District 4 convention of the Texas State Teachers Association at Midland because the big snow had cancelled out that holiday.

However, nine official delegates were appointed and Mrs. Smith expressed the hope that they would be able to attend. The delegates are Mrs. Mary Lumsden and Mrs. Grace Smith of Littlefield, James D. Traugott of Amherst, C. O. Gregory of Sudan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gordon of Olton, Mrs. Lovelle Morris of Springlake, Mrs. Bob Williams of Spade and County Superintendent Jerry Lumsden.

Lubbock Offers Water To Cities Along Pipeline

The City of Lubbock taking cognizance of reported opposition of plans of the City of Lubbock to construct a 45 inch water supply line in Bailey county, the City Commission went on record Tuesday at City Hall by passage of a resolution offering water to cities in Bailey, Lamb and Hockley and Lubbock counties adjacent to the proposed line along U. S. Highway 84.

The city was granted the water rights to 53,000 acres of land in 1952 which granted Lubbock "exclusive right to take such water from said tract of land and to use same for disposition to cities and towns situated in Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock counties."

Mayor Murrell Tripp told the Commission in requesting the passage "since the question has been raised about Lubbock offering water to towns along the line, we feel that our original intentions in securing the water rights should be stated."

"Those intentions are clearly explained in the deed to the water rights," Mayor Tripp added. "But as a matter of policy and because of efforts to attempt to discredit our motives and block our efforts, we should go on record again by resolution regarding our plans."

The cost of the water offered to cities along the line will not exceed the cost of water to the City of Lubbock from any source, it was pointed out in resolution.

Mayor Tripp, who attended the City Commission meet Tuesday afternoon had been in conference in Plainview with State Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby. He stated that Formby had informed him that passage of the resolution would eliminate some misunderstanding in the area about the pipeline that the City of Lubbock had proposed.

Deannie Edwards made set shot in the last five minutes of play in the Amherst girls' basketball game played Tuesday in Springdale and gave Amherst girls a thrilling 64-57 victory over Lazbuddie for the class B basketball trophy.

The victory puts Amherst in the Regional Tournament at Friday against Roosevelt.

A little heavy work by the die coaches almost pulled the team out of the fire in the final minutes. With five time outs allowed on Lazbuddie the coaches calling for time outs and time was charged with a technical foul.

In girls basketball, the team gets only one shot in opposition committee foul. This gave the team a opportunity to secure a lead while Amherst was scoring a free throw.

Had it not been for Deannie Edwards' winning field goal strategy would have worked.

Donna Atkinson paced the team with 27 points, while Stagner had 21 and Mrs. Morrow had 20. Gay Smith had 27, Jean 25, and Mary Thompson 12.

Lazbuddie had a 1938 lead at the end of the first quarter and tained the one-point margin through the fourth period—it was 34-32 at time and 40-48 at the three mark.

ered in the sandhills five miles south of Olton.

They broke up into several groups, some searching east and west from the highway and others going several miles farther west to search in the area north of Fieldton.

Jack Phares, brother-in-law of the missing woman, took officers on Jan. 28 to this area saying that his brother, Bill Phares, had once taken him there without explanation. Bill Phares, husband of Andrea faces a charge of murdering her. He is free under $12,500 bond. Phares denies the charges.

The searchers at sandwiches and coffee at noon. They had ridden over the Mashed O, the Brigence, the Charlie Jones and the W. B. Rose ranches. Bill Roper of Littlefield said, "If we found her out there it would be pure luck."

At the conclusion of the meal, Dr. J. V. Miller of Plainview, head of the Hale County posse called the group together.

Sheriff Andrews announced "We've searched as best we can. I think you men from the other counties may as well go on home. We're going to do some more searching this afternoon, but the owner of the land where we are going doesn't want too many roaming over it. So, thank you for your helping out."

The visiting groups left and those from Hale county loaded their horses onto trucks and trailers for a 10 mile trip back across Lamb County line into Hale county and to the Mullican ranch.

Two or three of the missing woman's brothers were on hand to assist with the search, however little digging was done, and after several hours the men gave up the search.

about hardships adjustments based these adjustments on their personal feelings rather than on regulations. They said that they had had many complaints from East Texas farmers about the small allotments given them while West Texas farmers were getting larger allotments per farmer.

Gosden's protest said he had planted 369 acres in 1953, was restricted to 175.8 in 1954, 159.3 in 1955 and 145.1 in 1956. The review committee raised his 1956 allotment to 155 acres, which they said left him with a reduction of about the same percentage as the state quota was reduced.

The other 302 applications for increased allotments are expected to get the same sort of treatment accorded Gosden. That is, their acreage reductions will be changed from 9% to 2.67%. Some 2150 Lamb county farmers did not file protests within the 15 days allowed, so they cannot expect to get any such an increase.

Litigants on both sides are hoping that the whole matter will be expedited by the courts so that farmers will know definitely before planting time whether or not the review committee's action in granting the increases is legal.

The line now extends ten miles west of Lubbock to a tract near Shallowater.

Under the present plans, Lubbock's water supply line would be extended 42 miles to the first of two tracts owned by the city in Bailey county. It will be sufficient to meet the water requirements of the city until at least 1960. This tract contains approximately four sections, lies several miles south of the town of Muleshoe and about 10 miles east of the city's main tract of water rights which would be developed between 1960 and 1970.

The 45 inch supply line is designed ultimately to carry 40 million gallons of water per day by gravity. Pumping stations can be built when the larger tract is developed to increase the line capacity to 62 million gallons per day.

The Lubbock Commission estimated consumption of all the cities along the supply line, including Muleshoe, at present would not total more than 2 to 3 million gallons per day.

More than 350 persons of Muleshoe met Tuesday night to "protect our water rights," and they raise $6,000 to finance the fight to keep the water rights.

The Bi-State Plains Irrigation Water Conservancy Board was named to represent the area in any matter to conserve our water for irrigation purposes.

Dr. L. T. Green Jr., of Muleshoe, was named president of the new organization, John S. Williams of Friona was chosen as secretary of the 14 man board of Directors and Bill Jim St. Clair, of Muleshoe, as treasurer.

The board was given the authority to do "anything that might help in any way."

A petition was signed by nearly all those present asking the Highway Commission to deny Lubbock's request for use of right-of-way to the field Commission had not had time to consider the matter since Mayor Keeling said that the Littlefield Commission had not had time to consider the matter since it came as a surprise to them.

We really got a bang out of Garry Moore on Monday. He said that in a small town everybody knew what is going on, people just bought a newspaper to see who got caught. Reckon that is the case in Littlefield???

We went up to junior high school to make pictures for the observance of the great holiday "Texas Independence Day." The teachers were telling us about the Teachers Banquet in Olton Monday night and how they enjoyed Dr. Hill. They were so surprised that he used the statement "damnyanke." Told them that we were grown before we knew it was two words. It is good for teachers to get out and laugh, how they must have laughed at that meeting.

John Nail was in this morning spreading a little sunshine. We had left his name off of the two bridal pictures last week. We assured him that everyone knew that a beautiful picture of a bride couldn't be made by any of this gang, so he got the credit anyway.

We were delighted this week when the Texas Company was granted a permit by the City Commission to drill an oil well on the Aiken property. If that isn't bread cast upon the water we never saw it. Emma is gone, but all of her good deeds are coming back to her girls, and it is our sincere wish that the well will be a "hum-dinger." Many a person has had a meal, a place to sleep, clothes to wear because of Mrs. Aiken's generosity.

Working will be hard on us today and tomorrow. The Seventh District of Federated Clubs meets in Plainview. All of the club women will go for the reports sessions, and since Littlefield always wins so many awards it is fun to be on hand for the awards luncheon or breakfast. We hope that they win these awards again this year. The Forum, The Art Club, and the Woman's Club will all be represented. We have a bit by the grapevine that Mrs. Dunlap, president of the Woman's Club has a finger in the Home Craft breakfast Friday morning, and anything that Beulah has a finger in is "done up brown."

Methodist Men Honor Boy Scout Troop 37 Monday

The Boy Scouts of Troop 37 were honored with a banquet served by their sponsors, the Methodist Men, in First Methodist church basement Monday night. Creed Lamb, scoutmaster, James Preston, assistant scoutmaster, and Charles Duval, chairman of George White District, were honor guests, along with the boys.

The address was given by Dr. J. Davis Armistead, Lubbock optometrist, and vice president of the South Plains Council. He gave the record made by former Scouts during the war, and the record in the world of business made by former Scouts in peacetime. He was introduced by Duval. Also attending was Dr. B. W. Armistead, a brother of the speaker.

The devotional was on the theme of "growing in wisdom, and stature, and favor with God and man." Marshall Howard was the devotional leader.

A past president's pin was presented to Dr. Wm. N. Orr, first president of Methodist Men in Littlefield. The presentation was made by Albert Miller, also a past president.

At the business session, it was voted to serve breakfast to the youth of the church following the Easter Sunrise service on April 1. Boyd Roberts was named chairman of the kitchen committee for the breakfast.

The group voted to endorse the program begun by the Littlefield Ministerial Association to secure the voluntary cooperation of merchants and consumers in a move to keep businesses closed on Sunday. Marshall Howard and Homer Garrison were appointed to represent Methodist Men in any citizens group that may be formed to work on this matter.

Dr. L. B. Trone, pastor, First Methodist church, Clovis, will speak at the March 26 meeting of Methodist Men. T. H. McLarty gave the invocation, and Z. I. Smith the benediction.

Olton Clubs Hold Annual Blue And Gold Banquet

In an impressive setting in the Olton school lunch room, some 50 Cub Scouts, their parents, councilmen, committeemen, and special guests were entertained with the annual Blue and Gold banquet, Friday night, Feb. 24th, at 7 p.m. The room was decorated in the Blue and Gold and table arrangements were gold, white and blue candles and American flags.

The Dens were seated at tables according to number along with Den Mothers, Den Chief and parents.

The guest table was decorated in February decorations and faced the other tables.

Frank Struve, Cub Scoutmaster was master of ceremonies and lighted the candle on the birthday cake. The menu consisted of baked ham, furnished by the Olton Fire Department, who sponsor the Cubs.

John Nail was in this morning spreading a little sunshine. We had left his name off of the two bridal pictures last week. We assured him that everyone knew that a beautiful picture of a bride couldn't be made by any of this gang, so he got the credit anyway.

The WANT AD

Has Played Its Part in Directing The Course of History . . .

Since 1704 (when the first Want Ads in North America appeared in the Boston News-Letter) classified advertising has filled all kinds of needs for all sorts and conditions of men . . . and will do the same for you!

A Want Ad placed in the Lancaster (Pa.) paper in 1775 by Benjamin Franklin induced farmers to provide 150 wagons to transport the ill-fated British expedition against the French at Fort Duquesne, now Pittsburgh.

Applicants swamped Sir Ernest Shackton when he ran a classified ad in 1900 seeking companions for his hazardous expedition to the South Pole.

Classified ads in the Bronx Home News in 1932 led to contact with—and eventual capture of—the Lindbergh baby's kidnaper-slayer.

A series of classified ads appealing for funds placed by a New York advertising man in 1950 started the Eisenhower-for-President boom.

And a classified ad appealing for a Republican candidate for the 1946 congressional race in California's Twelfth district put Richard Nixon on the political path to the Vice Presidency.

These are but a few instances of classified action-power involving great names. The record of results achieved through classified advertising by plain folks is incalculable.

Yes, Classified Advertising is EVERYBODY'S advertising. No task is too small no mission too large. So read and use Classified Advertising—the easy direct and time-tested way to fill your needs!

Help Make Your Community A Cleaner Place

Spring and clean up time are with us, and Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, urges all good citizens of the State to join in an effort to make our community a better and safer in which to live.

One benefit of cleaning up is the elimination of fire hazards which cause a heavy toll of life and property. This can be done by keeping premises free from combustible rubbish.

Flies also breed in trash and spread disease. A residence should have a garbage can with a tight fitting lid of flies are screening premises clean and use insecticides.

The rat is a menace to health and is capable of spreading several diseases. He is making his home in dead holes around porches and Rats cause trouble by contaminating large quantities of grain and other foods, and property and are sometimes cause of fires.

When cleaning up your premises take a look at the following:

Garbage Pail . . . is it one with a tight fitting lid?

Porch Steps . . . do they need repairing or painting?

Closets and Attic . . . do they need repairing or painting?

Cellar . . . is it rat-proof and clear of rubbish?

Screens . . . are any of them broken? Remember, flies enter through this time of year.

House . . . is it soap-suds clean inside, and painted on the inside safe from accident?

Yard and Garage . . . is the trash been removed, and taken to safe places?

The other day we were very surprised to hear a man say he didn't know exactly how a paper should be run—we were surprised, that is, until he also he runs a newspaper.

A poultry disposal pit is not expensive; is a real labor saver and offers a simple solution to the problem of disposing of dead birds on the poultry farm. Too, says Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman, a properly constructed poultry pit can be a mighty important part of the farm's sanitation program.
Locate the pit at least 100 feet down hill from the water supply. It should be close to the poultry house to encourage quick disposal. Wormell recommends a pit containing 100 cubic feet of space for a 1,000 bird laying flock. Such a pit will also take care of the birds normally lost from the growing or replacement pullet flock. This size pit should also be sufficient for a 10,000 bird broiler plant.
Wormell suggests the pit be made from four and half to five feet wide, six feet deep, and long enough to meet the needs of the poultry flock. He says a pit 4 1/2 feet by 6 feet by 5 feet will take care of the normal mortality of 1,000 laying hens and the replacement pullet flock.
To prevent cave-ins, second-hand lumber, cement blocks or bricks can be used to line the walls of the pit. Cover the top with two layers of two-inch boards, heavy sheet steel or reinforced concrete. The opening in the center if the top can be fitted with an old milk car or garbage can with the bottom knocked out or a 12 inch tile. A tightly fitted lid on the opening is a must. The nation's first reporting service dealing exclusively with race relations from the legal viewpoint comes off the press this week at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee.
It is designed to provide lawyers, educators, and the general public with detailed current information on: court decisions, state constitution provisions, statutes, city ordinances, opinions of attorneys-general, regulations of state departments of education, and rulings of local boards.
Entitled Race Relations Law Reporter, the new magazine will publish six issues a year at subscription cost of $2. The publication is sponsored by Vanderbilt University School of Law. Announcement of the first issue was made by Dean John W. Wade.
"The U. S. Supreme Court's sweeping decisions in the racial segregation cases have already resulted in far-reaching legal developments in American life," said Dean Wade, "and our service will present impartial reports of these developments."
A large part of the reports will cover public school problems. The first issue includes four court decisions on the cases leading up to the present controversy involving the level of the opening to provide good drainage away from the pit.
The usefulness of a disposal pit makes it an important part of a sanitation program for maintaining a healthy poultry flock and preventing the spread of diseases. Last but not least, says the specialist, the poultryman who uses a disposal pit enjoys a firm conviction that dead birds from his flock are not the source of disease outbreaks.

Vanderbilt Univ. Begins Race Law Report Service

The nation's first reporting service dealing exclusively with race relations from the legal viewpoint comes off the press this week at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee.
The Race Relations Law Reporter also will cover the rail and bus transportation, golf courses, swimming pools, unions, and sports, as a number of other fields.
The national scope and fact of the magazine is shown by the fact that the first issue reports on the legal problems involved in the marriage of a Negro and a Caucasian in charges of discrimination. Mexicans and Negroes in California school; the rights of an Indian veteran of a war to be buried in a cemetery where a lot he purchased; and the right Japanese alien in land in tana, all in addition to a pre-emptive coverage of segregation in Southern states elsewhere.
Entitled Race Relations Law Reporter, the new magazine will publish six issues a year at subscription cost of $2. The publication is sponsored by Vanderbilt University School of Law. Announcement of the first issue was made by Dean John W. Wade.

LADIES HOMEMAKERS CLUB MEETS

The making of paper articles was the chief subject for discussion as the Enoch's Ladies Homemakers club met on Feb. 23 at the home of Mrs. W. A. Pool. A complete planter was displayed by Mrs. L. J. Jones and one nearing completion was brought by Mrs. J. R. Spence. Others report nearly finished articles such as lamps and wall plaques.

The ladies made plans for future work of a similar nature with instructions provided by Mrs. Dyer. Three Way Home Economics teacher. Materials for the project which had been ordered, was received by the club from a company in Ft. Worth.

Hostess gifts were presented and refreshments of punch, cookies and jello salad were served.

A farewell gift of colored pillow cases was presented to Mrs. Jones who plans to move soon to Brownfield.

Next meeting was planned to be held in the home of Mrs. T. A. Thomas.

Special visitors were Mrs. P. M. Lancaster, Mrs. Brewer Gage, Mrs. May Nichols, and Mrs. W. L. Clawson, all of Bula.

Members present were Mesdames Jerome Cash, H. H. Snow, D. T. Johnson, Lewis Jones, C. W. Vandlingham, T. A. Thomas, Zed Robinson, L. G. Harris, and the hostess.

Mrs. J. R. Spence reported last weekend that her father, L. E. Bartlett of Lubbock, Route 6, has been ill for several days.

Mrs. Bobby Don Henderson and son, Bobby Carrol, were weekend visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pearson of Enoch's.

WCS GROUPS HOLD BANQUET

A banquet was held at the Enoch's Methodist church on Wednesday night, Feb. 22, after WCS with one group of ladies acting as hostesses to the other group. Decorations were carried out in the George Washington birthday theme. The table was elaborately decorated, with ferns as centerpieces. Place cards bearing guests names, were trimmed with cherries, and a tiny American flag. The menu consisted of tomato juice, a beautiful molded salad, chicken and dressing, and individual cherry pies, topped with ice cream.

Hostesses for the event were Mesdames John Gunter, D. T. Johnson, Roy Tunnell, A. D. Hallford, Willie Welch, James Merrill and R. T. Newton. They were assisted by Sue Johnson, daughter of Mrs. D. T. Regulatory Umbrella traffic manager of a major manufacturing company is vitally dependent on transportation service in all its operations—has something important to say about transportation picture as a whole: "Sometimes we need to hold a legal or regulatory umbrella of proper one form of transportation or another to guard from unfair competition but rather its own inherent merits. . . .

the vast network of rail and highway lines crisscross the nation and serving every village and hamlet, dotted by a great air network and a mighty system of waterways, we have little to fear from monopoly rules which enforce fair competition will keep the nation clean and assure that in each encounter the best man will win. As to the present competitors, I see no way as to be unable to meet its adversaries, and none as to overcome all opposition."

view is in consonance with the report made almost a year ago by the Presidential Cabinet Committee on Transportation. That report is predicated on the sound principle that the best and most economical competition if carriers are given greater freedom to compete for business—including greater freedom in pricing their services to active customers. In other words, the whole idea is to let the carriers more leeway in making the most of their advantages.

the traffic manager said in effect, it is inconceivable in this age any carrier should gain a monopoly or any semblance of a monopoly. Yet the regulatory laws stem from another age, in which the railroads held a monopoly. And that simply doesn't make sense, in this latter part of the twentieth century.

to please the people, we offer what we ourselves disagree on how can we afterwards defend our work? Let us stand by standard to which the wise and honest can repair." —Washington.

—Texans will hear a "INTERPOSITION" during the next few months. Gov. Allan Shivers has asked the State Executive Commission to consider placing on the ballot a referendum on "interposition" as it is being in this case means "To interpose." And the Federal Government's interference with Texas is what Governor Shivers wants to place before the Legislature between Texas and "the abnormal power" of the Federal Government in all its branches—Executive and Judicial.

contends that certain powers beyond the power of the State. Therefore the referendum voted on in July would be a referendum by the people of Texas on the U. S. Supreme Court decision in such matters as the integration and the Federal Commission's control over interstate commerce beyond Federal jurisdiction.

approved by the people, the State would be a mandate for them to vote in favor of a Federal amendment firming up the State Sovereignty.

other states are using interposition in a negative fashion. Plans to use it in a positive way to protect the state's sovereignty is strongly opposed to the Federal Government at the expense of the local governments.

interposition" will be an often used during the coming year. People who do not like the word "nullification," contends he is opposed to interposition as being contrary to the constitutional government.

I see by the newspapers of late a good deal about the religious ministers planning to ask and urge all business people to close their places of business on Sunday. We wish to say that people cannot be compelled to be Christians.

People offend in the point of not keeping the seventh day Sabbath. Man is an impeacher of God and Jesus Christ of the Holy Sabbath and has set up Sunday, or has tried to set up Sunday, in its stead.

Honestly, can you rightly dividing the word of God, prove that Sunday is God's holiday?

We positively say it can't be done.

Two Mutual companies were placed in receivership after their permits were revoked by the insurance commission. They were American Home Mutual and Trans-County Mutual, both of Dallas.

STATE AUDITOR C. H. CAVNESS reports errors and irregularities in the records of Texas Southern University at Houston. TSU is a state-supported college for negroes.

Cavness said there was a shortage of more than $5,000 in the bookstore inventory which "may or may not" be connected with a $2,976 overage in the general store-room inventory.

"Then Southern is among the most crowded of Texas' state-supported institutions of higher learning," according to the auditor's report. He said he did not believe the staff was adequate to keep proper records.

RESIGNATION of Federal Attorney Lonny F. Zweiner to join the state attorney general's staff leaves Austin without a federal prosecutor. U. S. Dist. Atty. Russell Wine of San Antonio said Zweiner would not be replaced.

APPEAL of the Upshur Co. Rural Electric Cooperative, from a Travis Co. court decision in favor of the state "on relation of Southwestern Gas & Electric Co.," was argued in Third Civil Appeals Court. Former Gov. Dan Moody was among counsel for the cooperative. Spokesmen for the co-op said the trial decision, unless reversed, would destroy all electric cooperatives.

At issue was the right of Upshur county co-op to continue serving customers taken into the city of Gilmer by annexation. A controversial point is application of the law that co-ops may not serve rural customers where private utilities have facilities available to furnish the service.

AN AFL TEAMSTERS UNION OFFICIAL, Raymond C. Shafer, business manager for the Union's Local 657, was arrested by Texas Rangers and charged with playing a role in the August, 1954 bombing of an Austin warehouse during a labor dispute. The Austin Fireproof Warehouse was being picketed by the Teamsters Union at the time of the explosion. Shafer also faces charges in connection with a bombing in San Antonio in 1955.

PAUL L. WAKEFIELD, former state selective service director, has been promoted to major general in the Texas National Guard by Governor Shivers. Wakefield also was presented the U. S. Army citation of Merit. This by Major Douglas C. Pritchett, personal representative of Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service. Wakefield resigned from the selective service post last September.

R. L. WHEELLOCK, Corsicana independent oil and gas producer and rancher, has been appointed to the Good Neighbor Commission. Governor Shivers named Wheellock to succeed Neville G. Penrose of Fort Worth who resigned a term that was to run until June 19, 1957, to become a member of the International Good Neighbor Council.

WILLIAM J. HARDING is the new public relations director for the Texas Insurance Advisory Association. He was editor of the Texas State Teachers Association magazine. He succeeds Jack Maguire, now executive secretary of the UT Ex-Students Association.

MORRIS BROWNLEE of Houston is replacing Garland Smith on the insurance commission. Until a few weeks ago Brownlee was executive vice president of Continental American Life Insurance Co., of Houston.

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The greatest source of assurance for the future of the American way of life is our Public School System, which enables our youngsters to become familiar with the magnificent history of men and events which has made our Republic the most powerful, respected and favored country the world has ever known.

The public schools provide the tools of knowledge which will equip our young men and women to become constructive and responsible citizens in this land of freedom.

We have a great responsibility to maintain and advance the ideals and standards which our people have come to expect of their public schools. We must keep pace with the growing needs of our schools by providing new classrooms, improved methods and by encouraging loyal, able, qualified men and women to adopt teaching as a lifetime career.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 5-10, 1956 as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas, and urge every citizen to visit at least one public school during this period and to become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of our educational system.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 10th day of January, 1956.

SEAL: ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

If the farm shop is cluttered and crowded, it is probably a hazardous place to work. Now is the time to give the shop a spring housecleaning.

Sandhills

Philosopher . . .

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm has turned his thoughts to the farm problem this week, without affecting the problem one way or the other.

Dear Editor:

I read an editorial in a newspaper the other day which fell out of a car as it rounded a curve out here near my house which said the reason we have a farm problem is simple: We have too much land.

Now I'll admit this is a new explanation and while I have never run into a farmer yet who thought he had too much land, if it was paid for, I think Congress ought to be informed of it. The writer said we just have too many acres, and it shouldn't take Congress long to figure out the way to whip that situation is to double the size of an acre and cut the problem half in two.

But not only did this editorial writer say we have too much land, he said we've also got too many farmers, and he added that the solution to the whole problem was to cut down on both.

Now I can see how it might be possible to cut down on the number of farmers, just lower prices a little more, but when it comes to cutting down on the amount of land we've got, that editorial writer is going to have to sharpen his

DOWN MEMORY LANE

(From the files of the Lamb County Leader of March 6, 1924)

A prairie fire starting in the sandhills about 20 miles north of Littlefield swept over 25 sections of land Monday, destroying grass and fences in its onward rush.

A new hotel is opened at Amherst. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gilbert of Lubbock will manage the $65,000.00 establishment.

The last man of the swindling gang who fleeced J. Frank Norfleet will be brought to trial at Ft. Worth.

A debate will be held Friday night in the school house. The subject being "Resolved that the United States should join the League of Nations." Misses Annie May Brannen and Ruth Courtney will speak for the affirmative and Sid Hopping and Fountain Parker the negative.

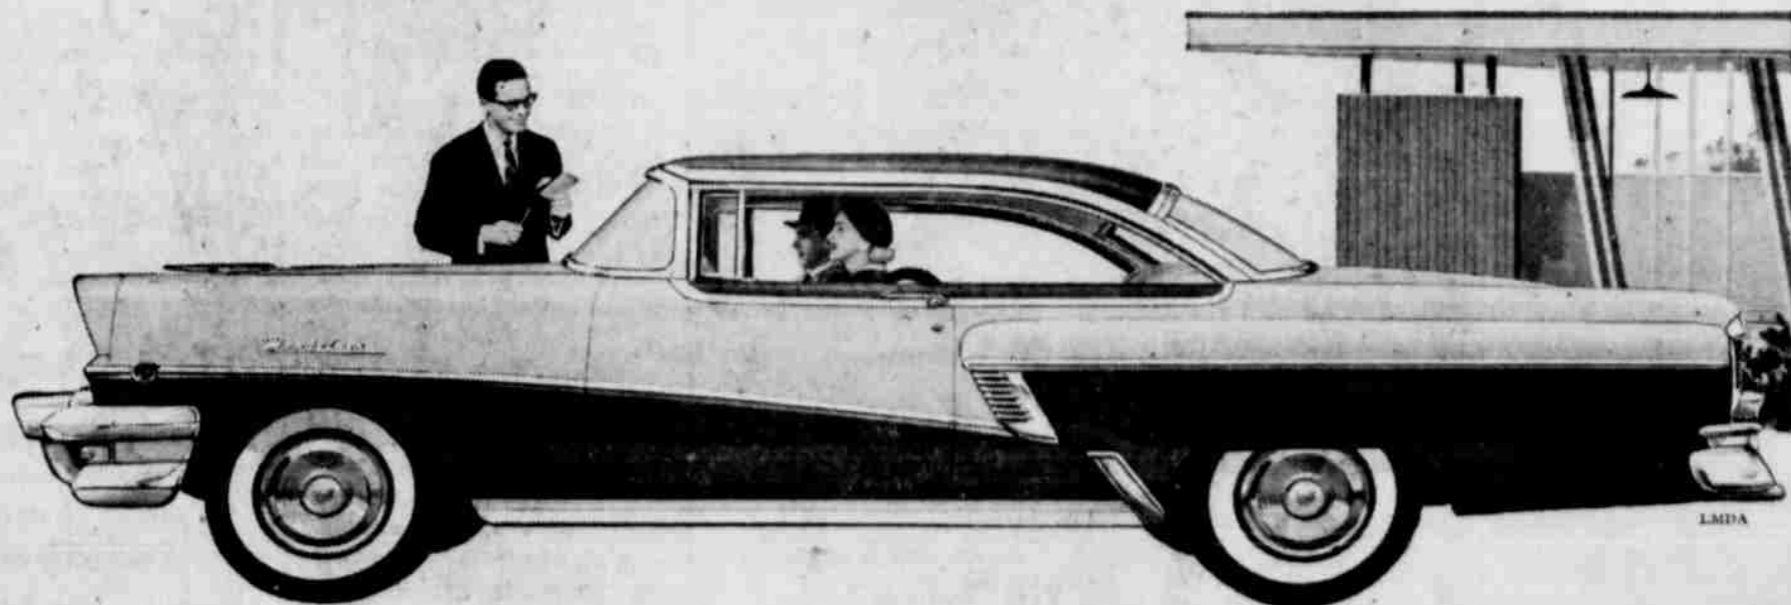

It's my theory that as long as there's land to farm, somebody will farm it, the same as it's true that just as long as there's any gossip to repeat, somebody will repeat it. There's something about a piece of un-farmed land that sweeps a man off his feet. It doesn't make any difference how many people before have gone busted on it, there's always somebody else willing to give it a turn. As I've always said, there never was a piece of land some farmer wasn't willing to farm, or a woman some man wasn't willing to marry. Therefore, they'll have to attack the farm problem from some other angle. What angle that'll be is not for me to say. That's Congress' job. We farmers only make the problems, it's up to Congress to solve 'em. This is known as separation of powers, guaranteed under the Constitution.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The Basis Of Faith
 Why do you believe what you do? For us to examine our hearts and see are some reasons, good and bad, which influence our faith:
Wishful Thinking (Persuading ourselves to believe a cause that is what we want to believe; or refusing to believe because we do not want to accept it.)
 1 Kings 22:8 "And the King of Israel said unto his phat, There is yet one man, Micaiah the son of Iphai by whom we may enquire of the Lord; but I know for he doth not prophesy good concerning me, and evil against me."
Self-Justification (The desire to find plausible grounds to defend and defend ourselves.)
 Luke 10:29: "But he, willing to justify himself, said to Jesus, And who is my neighbor?"
The Proper Basis (Evidence impartially considered.)
 Romans 10:17: "So then, faith cometh by hearing, hearing by the word of God."
 If we are led by wishful thinking or the desire to justify ourselves, we may be easily led to believe the wrong things we accept the things taught in God's word because of undeniable evidence that they are true, we will be able to believe the right things.

University Scientists Reveals New Step In Cancer Control

A new step in cancer control is revealed by two University of Texas scientists, Dr. Roger J. Wil-lams, former director of the University's Biochemical Institute, and Dr. Alfred Taylor, his well-known research associate. They announce they are now able to control with substantial success the growth of a mouse mammary cancer when cultivated in embryonated eggs. As a result of their study, they suggest that cancer control may involve the simultaneous use of suitable drugs along with certain physical agents, such as temperature increase. While recognizing that a method which might control a cancerous growth in mice or rats could not be carried over unchanged to humans, Drs. Taylor and Williams say they believe their technique will be an excellent tool for long-range cancer study. "Although no one can say how long the pathway by which cancer will progress, it may take a long time before the control in embryonated eggs, and lastly its control in patients," they say in their paper prepared for publication in February "Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences." The scientists' success in controlling the cancer results from the combined use of certain capable of inhibiting tumor growth together with a moderate increase in temperature. The technique, by itself, had been previously used to retard cancer growth.
