A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS
Superman being sued Move over, kryptonite. There s tance that might be ble to harm the Man of Steel a lawsuit
A Pittsburgh man has sued DC Comics in federal court claiming it published his Superman story after rejecting it four years ago.
Marcel Walker, a 31-year-old free-lance graphic artist, claims he pitched the idea for "Superman: The Last Son of Earth" three years before it hit the stands in the summer of 2000.
Walker, who is seeking unspecified damages, said seeing the pub lished comic at least verified that his idea was a good one
"It was like holding something you kind of created, but I hadn created it," he said.
In the story Walker proposed, the familiar story of Superman's origin is reversed. Superman is born on Earth and sent to Krypton before Earth's expected demise. He grows up, performing heroic feats, and learns his true identity Ultimately, he returns to Earth.
Those general themes are in the DC Comics version, according to the lawsuit, filed in Pittsburgh.
A spokeswoman for Warner Bros., DC Comics' parent com pany, declined comment last week
Walker said he would be will ing to drop the suit if DC Comic can show it developed the idea independently
"I would hope they stand by the morals that the character embod ies," Walker said. "He stands fo truth, justice and the American way."

Mules turn nasty, humiliating Cooper

By DELTON WILHITE Journal correspondent
Perfection is the word that best described the Mules in the first half Friday night against the Lubbock Cooper Pirates. The Mules' scoring explosion could have been heard all the way to Lubbock.
They posted 34 points in the first half and ended up sinking the Pirates' ship 47-

"There was something in the air in the halls today at school. You could see in the eyes of the football players that they were ready to play-there is something different about getting ready to play a district game," Mule coach David Wood said. "We never thought, even with everybody healthy, that "You could tell in school today that everybody was nervous but ready for tonight's game," linebacker Stephan Shelburne said.
"Coach Wood had been telling us how good Cooper would be tonight, so we were pumped up for the game," Shelburne said. "I think now that we' re in district, this is the way we'll be every game.

HARVEST FESTIVAL November 3, 2001-6:00 PM to 12:00 AM

The Three Way Independent School District will close its doors in May of 2002. The last graduating class will hold the last Harvest Festival on November 3, 2001 at the Three Way Cafetorium. This event is a fund-raiser for the Senior Class of 2002.

The Harvest Festival will feature Bingo and an auction. Prizes and auction items will be donated by businesses and individuals from our surrounding communities. Games like the cake walk, basketball throw, football throw, and a costume contest will be held for your enioyment. Peggy Bingham of Meadow will glve a patriotic

The success of the Harvest Festival depends solely on donations. Even though it is truly a sad time for the community of Maple because our school is closing, the Senior Class of 2002 has vowed to make this the best Harvest Festival Three Way

In a broader sense, we realize that our nation is grieving from the attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. As a tribute to our.community and nation, we plan to honor all Firefighters and Policemen of Bailey and Cochran Counties at our Harvest Festival. Our honored guests will receive a gift from the Senior class as well as free Bingo cards! A photographer will take pictures of children with firefighters and policemen. The proceeds from the photographs will go to the Red

Teachers, parents, and administrators are extremely proud of this class because of their accomplishments. Some of these students have been together since Kindergarten. All Seniors are listed on the A/B Honor Roll; four students are members of the National Honor Society; six of the Seniors are enrolled in Interactive Television Courses at South Plains College and will graduate with 15 hours of college credit.

If you would like to donate to our Senior Class Harvest Festival, please get in touch with one of the following students or their parents, Superintendent Dr. Tom Alvis, Principal Daniel Yordy, or any member of our School Board. If you have any questions or would like to contact us so that we can come by your business to pick up a donation, please call.

Once again, thank you for your support. God Bless America!

consmmeprouecion@oagstale..x.us When an individual repre senting :. charity knocks on the door, sends an e-mail or calls on the phone pleading for a tims, Texans should take the time to ask a few questions before donating.
Here are a few tips to avoid e-mail scams:

- Well-known national or ganizations do not send unsolicitede-mails requesting donations unless the person ha had contact with the organiza tion in the past. Be wary of these kinds of requests. If solicitation seems suspect, do not donate. Forward the e-ma to the Consumer Protection Division at the address listed above.
-When clicking on a link to allow for a donation, look a the organization's URL in the browser window. If the domain name of the URL is hidden, is unfamiliar or is not the same as the link's text, the request is probably a scam. - Verify the charity's iden tity by phone before donating online. Many phony charities imitate the name and style of well-known charity in order con people.
Here are tips for checking out in-person or telephone so licitations:
- Be wary of appeals that are long on emotion and short on descriptions about providing help to those in need; charities using names th losely resemble those of well-known charities;
- If the charity the person represents is not recognizable, it could be a fraud. Verify the organization he or she repre sents by asking for credentials, including exact name and phone number of the organi zation, particularly

- Find out the planned use - Find out the planned uses for the money to be donated Will proceeds directly benefi the contribution will gotoward the charitable purpose to be supported? - Call the charity and confirm that the solicitor is connected to it;
- A legitimate charity welcomes background checks on their operations. Don't succumb to high-pressure tactics and demands for an immediate decision;
- Never give credit-card or social security numbers to a telephone solicitor;
- Never give cash. Write a check in the name of the charity, not the individual doing the asking, and get a receipt. The attorney general also cautions concerned citizens wishing to do their part by raising funds for disaster relief.Certainlegal requirements for fund-raising efforts should be followed, including the registration of public safety groups like firefighters' organizations. Remember that supporting worthy causes is commend able, but do give wisely.

Seventh-grade Mules keelhaul Cooper Pirates 30-0

By DELTON WILHITE Journal correspondent quarterback D.J. Robertson provided bookend touchdowns as Muleshoe forced the Lubbock Cooper Pirates to walk the plank to a 30-0 defeat Thursdaynight Robertson drew first Robertson drew first blood on a quarterback blood on a quarterback sneak to put the Mules up $8-0$ mid-way through the first period.
Then, with $4: 30$ remaining in the game, Rubertson hit Martin Rodríguez on a nine-yard slant across the middle and Eric Washington provided the two-point conversion to nail the lid shut on the Pirates.
The first period appeared as if the teams were playing with a greased pig rather than a pigskin. Muleshoe blocked Cooper's first punt of the game and covered the ball on the Pirate threeyard line.
The Mules fumbled on their first play, but Cooper their first play, but Cooper returned the favor by fumbling back to the Mules as FranciscoRamírezclaimed the ball for the Mules. Opthree, the Mules again fumbled but T.J. Brantley reclaimed the ball. Robertson pushed across from the one-yard line be hind his center for his first-quarter score; Brock Arington and Dustin Barker provided the twoMules an 8-0 margin.
The Mules forced the Pi rates to punt, and the ball went straight up only to hit the turf with a Mule bounce to net Cooper a negative two yards. With 49 seconds left in the first quarter, Tony Guzmán raced 36 yards to push the Mules' lead to $14-0$ in the first pe riod.

Muleshoe's Junior Martínez (No. 69) and Timothy Conner (No. 11) team up to spell doom for the Lubbock Cooper quarterback in Thursday's game, which the Mules won 30-0.

Seventh-grader Eric Washington makes a good gain for Muleshoe on an end run Thursday against Lubbock Cooper. Washington scored two points in the game.

Cooper's second-half kick- ball 50-yards up the middle tossed to Brantley over the off to Muleshoe's 36. The Mules made an offensive adjustment and spread their ine. The spread gave the Tooper's 14 .
The spread line continued to work and Barker middle for the two-point conversion and Muleshoe pad. went the final three yards a On the Mules' final scor ing drive, Washington and angles and Barker took the second half Robertso Kendall Johnson movedth # disaster strikes, you may not have much time to act. Prepare

now for a sudiden emergency.

Learn how to protect yourself and cope with disaster by planning ahead. This checklist will heip you get started. Discuss these ideas with your family, then prepare an emergency plan. Post the plan where everyone will see it-on the refrigerator or bulletin hoard.

For additional information ahout how to prepare for hazards in your community, contact your local emergency management or civil defense office and American Red Cross chapter.

Emergency Checklist

Call Your Emergency Management Office or American Red Cross
Chapter

- Find out which disasters could occur in your area.
- Ask how to prepare for each disaster
- Ask how you would be warned of an emergency.
- Learn your community's evacuation routes.
- Ask about special assistance for elderly or disabled

Also...

- Ask your workplace about emergency plans
- Learn about emergency plans for your children's school or day care center.
Create an Emergency Plan
- Meet with household members. Discuss with children the dangers of fire, severe weather, earthquakes and other emergencies.
- Discuss how to respond to each disaster that could occur.
Discuss what to do about power outages and personal injuries.
- Draw a floor plan of your home. Mark two escape routes from each room.
- Learn how to turn off the water, gas and electricity at main switches.
- Post emergency telephone numbers near telephones. Teach children how and when to call 911 , police and fire.
a Instruct household members to turn on the radio for emergency information.
- Pick one out-of-state and one local friend or relative for family members to call if separated by disaster (it is often easier to call out-of-state than within the affected area).
- Teach children how to make long distance telephone calls.
Pick two meeting places.

1) A place near your home in case of a fire 2) A place outside your neighborhood in case you cannot return home after a disaster.

- Take a basic first aid and CPR class.
- Keep family records in a water and fire-proof container.

Prepare a Disaster Supplies Kit Assemble supplies you might need in an evacuation. Store them in an easy-locary corkiner sach as a backpack or duffle bag.

Include:

- A supply of water (one gallon per person per day)

Store water in sealed, unbreakable containers.
Identify the storage date and replace every six months. A supply of non-perishable packaged or canned food and a non-electric can opener.
A change of clothing, rain gear and sturdy shoes Blankets or sleeping bags.

- A first aid kit and prescription medications
- An extra pair of glasses.
- A battery-powered radio, flashlight and plenty of extra batteries.
- Credit cards and cash.
- An extra set of car keys.
- A list of family physicians.
- A list of important family information; the style and serial number of medical devices such as pacemakers.
- Special items for infants, elderly or disabled family members.
