The rampaging Class Championship Wildcats ... their pursuit of a sec- ... title Friday night ... 40 to 13 vic- ... Morton.

enced and presented between halves Friday night. The game will be the Wildcats' last home appearance in the 1950 season.
Morton Scores After Fumble
The Morton Indians drew first blood in the Friday night encounter when Morton recovered a Littlefield fumble deep in Wildcat territory soon after the opening kickoff.
Morton Halfback Lanar Burns skirted his own right end from eight yards out to put the home towners in their short-lived lead. End Waydelle Hill kicked the extra point.
However, the Wildcats came clawing back on the next series of plays when a group of first downs brought the ball to the Morton 11 yard line. Joe Walden carried over on an off tack- le slant. Renfro carried over for the extra point.

Pass Brings Second
A short time later a Renfro pass found Bobby Cox on the Morton 20 and the big end ran over untouched for the sec- ond Littlefield score. The pass play was good for a total of 42 yards. Renfro ran the extra point over again.
The lone score of the second quarter came when Halfback

Kenneth Reel of Littlefield hit center for two yards. A series of ground plays, in which Renfro and Northam did most of the bal carrying, brought the ball to that point. A pass for the extra point failed.
Baldwin Runs 77 Yards
At halftime the score stood 20 to 7 in favor of Littlefield. A stubborn and aroused Morton eleven held off repeated scoring threats throughout the third period. But the Wildcats into the scoring column for the fourth time during the night early in the final quarter.

The big Wildcat fullback made the tally from five yards out. Reel ran the extra point over.
On the kickoff following the touchdown Morton hopes were briefly aroused when Don Baldwin, Indian halfback, took the ball and ran it back 77 yards for a touchdown. Hill's attempt- ed conversion failed.
However the Wildcats came back strong when Jackie McCandless's pass to Bobby Cox was good for 30 yards and a score. Reel ran the extra point over.

Dual School Sessions Adopted for Littlefield

Littlefield schools began operation this week on the doubled shift or two platoon system.
In an effort to aid in the cotton harvest emergency and at the same time help the farmers comply with federal farm child labor regulations, the Littlefield board of education in a special session set up a plan for the establish- ment of one series of classes to be conducted between 8 o'clock in the morning and 12:30 p. m.
Designed for Migrants
These classes were established principally for migratory children between the ages of 6 and 16 and for farm children of like age who have to work in the fields if the cotton is to be harvested.
Classes are being held for the 8 to 12:30 students in rooms of the veterans school on the Clovis highway, at the north end of the football practice field.
Joe Hutchinson, superintendent of schools, said the morning (Continued on Back Page)

Former Pastor Speaks
President Roth also was the speaker at the morning worship services at 10:30 o'clock.
The Rev. Felix T. Sager of Rockdale, pastor of the congregation from 1938 to 1947, spoke at the afternoon services at 3 o'clock. A dinner was served at noon in the old church by women of the congregation.
It was under Mr. Sager's leadership that the church first began collecting its fund for the new building. Construction was started last spring under supervision of the Rev. Carl F. Schulte, present pastor, W. O. Hampton, Littlefield, was the contractor.
Nursery Is Provided

LAMB COUNTY COTTON PULLER NEED IS STILL VERY SERIOUS

Lamb County's cotton harvest labor situation was a little easier this week but the need for addi- tional workers still is acute, J. D. Jordan, manager of the Littlefield state employment office, said Monday.
"We could use an additional 750 cotton pullers immediately," he said, "but we should get some relief soon as cotton harvesting is being completed now in the San Angelo, Abilene and Fort Worth area."

Mr. Jordan said some of the Lamb County cotton farmers with smaller acreages already have reported pulling a half-bale per acre the first time over, he said.
This would make the yield a bale an acre, which is considered a good crop for the area.

PRIVATE SHERMAN JONES IS RESCUED IN KOREA

By W. P. ROWLEY (Leader Staff Writer)

The tears and the prayers of a Littlefield mother found their answer Friday morning with the news her soldier son had survived a Communist massacre of American prisoners in Korea.

Pvt. Sherman L. Jones, son of Mrs. Eusice V. Jones of 1001 Duncan Ave., Littlefield, is the only surviving member of a group of 30 American prisoners too badly wounded or too ill to walk who were methodically shot and bayoneted to death after the prison train carrying them toward Manchuria was de- railed in North Korea.

ESCAPES MASSACRE — Pvt. Sherman Jones, Lamb county soldier who was the sole survivor of a massacre by Red troops of wounded and ill U. S. prisoners in Korea.

FAITH REWARDED—Mrs. Eusice V. Jones of Littlefield can smile now, after news her son is safe in Korea after having been missing since July.

Private Jones was found by an American tank crew hiding in a clump of weeds a short distance away from the bodies of his slain companions.
The last news the mother had had of her son was contained in a War Department telegram from Washington August 21, stating merely that Sherman Jones had been missing in action since July 27.

Never Gave Up Hope
Then followed the long days and nights of anxiety, tears and prayers.

"But I never gave up hope," Mrs. Jones said in her small cabin home Friday. "I simply knew he still was alive, and felt all along that he was coming back to me. I prayed every night for his welfare, firm in the faith the Lord would hear and heed my pleas. I believe my prayers now have been answered."

Her eyes shining with happy thankfulness behind the lens of her glasses, she told of a dream she had shortly before awaking Friday morning.

Dream Proves Prophetic
"In the dream I saw Sherman standing before me, as real as if he were right here in this room now."

"In the dream he had come home and was telling me of his experiences."

"Mama," he said, "I have been a prisoner of the Germans. But the Germans really fed the Littlefield boys good."

"Why Germans were mentioned I do not know, but those were his words in the dream."

"Then my daughter came, and I realized how prophetic the dreams had been."

Community Chest Total $5,666.45

Contributions to the Littlefield Community Chest fund had reached $5,666.45 Monday afternoon, Treasurer Clarence Lewis reported.

While this represents a gain of $160 since the last report, the fund still is only a little past the half-way mark and the tempo of giving must be stepped up if the quota of $11,000 is to be reached, Mr. Lewis said.

Campaign officials are hopeful a canvass of subscribers will not be necessary in order to reach the goal.

Legionnaires to Attend Annual District Meeting

County Attorney Robert Kirk and Ed Drager will be official delegates of the Richard New Post 01 of the American Legion, Littlefield, at the Legion district convention Saturday and Sunday in Big Spring.

Several other members of the Littlefield post, including Harry Rowley, commander; Russell Todd, adjutant, and Vernon Hof- sket, legislative committee chair- man, are expected to attend.

Lamb County Girls Seek Tech Cotton Maid Crown

Connie Hopping, Littlefield; Chae- tones Matthews, Anton; Elizabeth Schovajsa, Amherst; Joy Daniel, Friona; Ella Keith, Whiteface, and Velma Howell, Tahoka, are among 48 candidates from whom Texas Tech Aggie and Home Economics clubs will select 16 finalists to- night in the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest.

The winning girl will be chosen in Lubbock next week from among the finalists and will go to Mem- phis for the national finals De- cember 27 and 28.

Daughter Hears Broadcast
The news her prayers had been answered were brought to her by her daughter, Mrs. Gerald F. Cut- shall, wife of Technical Sgt. G. F. Cutshall of the Littlefield Air Corp-Army recruiting office. The daughter had been listening to an early morning newscast from a San Antonio radio station.

Suddenly from out of the air came the story that caused her heart to leap with gladness.

Her brother was safe.

Without waiting for anything else, Mrs. Cutshall hurried im- mediately to her mother's home to lift the burden of anxiety that Mrs. Jones had carried since she first learned her son was miss- ing.

Private Jones, a member of Co. B, 29th Infantry, entered the Army from Spade September 20, 1949, and was sent to Fort Ord, Calif., for his basic training.

Two Sisters Live Here
From Fort Ord he went to San Francisco before being transport- ed to Okinawa, March 9. Mrs. Jones received a letter July 28 from her son, written while he still was on Okinawa. That was the last she heard until she re- ceived the War Department tele- gram.

The rescued soldier is a native of Lamb county, born near Spade 18 years ago. In addition to Mrs. Cutshall he has three other sis- ters and two brothers.

The other brothers are W. B. Jones of Anton and A. D. Jones of Hereford. The other sisters are Mrs. R. W. Thomas of Hereford. The other sisters are Mrs. R. W. Thomas of Hereford, Mrs. C. L. Henley of Littlefield and Mrs. E. L. Durham of Artesia, N. M.

The young soldier's father, O. Jones, is in Artesia.

"I believe my son, when he was taken from the train to be shot to death with the others, saved him- self through remembrance of a game I used to play with him when

A Bow to the High School

Familiarity does not always breed contempt, but too often people are inclined to overlook the value with those things with which they are most familiar.

Take, for instance, the civic contributions of the Littlefield High School.

A great many people—especially tax payers—think of our schools only in terms of what they cost.

But the Littlefield high school probably has done as much to bring favorable publicity to the city as any other asset of which Littlefield may boast.

The invitation extended by the Texas State Fair of Dallas to the Littlefield high school band to participate in the Mid-century Music Festival was a distinct honor to the community and an evidence of the favorable regard won for Littlefield by this outstanding high school musical organization.

The appearance in Dallas with other top-flight high school bands from all parts of the state could not help but center favorable attention upon Littlefield.

Then, too, the state championship Littlefield high school football team has extended the fame of the city to all parts of the state.

These two high school organizations are distinct civic assets, and the city owes a graceful bow to Supt. of Schools Joe Hutchinson, to Music Director Don Hays and to Coach Fikes and his two able aides, Forrest Martin and R. M. Patterson.

May they continue to carry the city's banner high!

SOCIAL SECURITY TAX PAYMENTS FOR DOMESTICS TO BEGIN JAN. 1

That big national headache of March 15 will have nothing on the pain in the neck that's going to hit American housewives come January 1, 1951.

Uncle Sam now is getting his plans jelled for payment of the social security tax for domestics, which goes into effect on New Year's day. Those women who have been putting off that session with the ledger and the adding machine may as well get set.

As has been announced, every body who employs domestic help for as much as 24 days in a three-month period, or who pays as much as $50 salary during that same period, must start sending social security payments. The tax is three percent of the salary, half to be paid by the employer, half by the maid or cook or butler or baby sitter.

Within the next few weeks the government will get out circulars explaining the details of the new law, together with postcards addressed to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Anyone employing domestic help is instructed to mail one of the postcards requesting forms for reporting and payment of the social security tax. From the postcards, the government will compile a mailing list, thus avoiding a house-to-house canvass to find out who hires a maid.

It is pointed out that just because you do not automatically receive a blank in the mail, you are not excused from the payments. Each housewife - employer is required to mail the postcard requesting the forms, or to call up her local internal revenue office.

The form itself will be an envelope of the type used by some insurance companies, of a size between that of a large business envelope and a small personal one. On it will be space for four entries: the name of the maid, her social security number, the amount paid her in a three-month period and the amount of the tax, or three percent. Then you enclose your check, fold up the paper to form an envelope, put a three-cent stamp on it and mail it to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

An additional headache for the householder is the fact that already many employment agencies are recommending that it will be simpler and pleasanter for all concerned if the housewife simply pays the entire tax from her own pocket. With the scarcity of domestics, this probably will be the case in many instances.

The forms seem as simple as possible, but still they are going to be tough on the girls whose financial troubles up to now have been had enough just keeping a checkbook straight.

Modern house plans would do well to include a special padded den for the lady of the house, equipped with adding machine, calculator and smelling salts.

Work Underway On Paving Olton Hart Camp Highway

Engineering work on the state project to pave the Hart Camp to Olton highway began at Olton last week.

L. G. Grizzle, state highway department field party chief, was in Olton with a crew of four men working on Main Avenue south of Consumers oil company. The crew was setting grade stakes in preparation for actual construction, which is expected to begin within the next week. Unloading of equipment for the project began at Olton some time last week.

The Olton to Hart Camp strip will be the first road to be paved in a $223,000 county paving project which will see some 24 miles of roads in the county receive a one-course blacktop treatment.

The course of the highway will be along the section line west of the new grain elevator south of the I. V. Fent residence. From this point the highway will follow the existing road.

Waiting for crops along the unchartered road course is expected to slow operations somewhat, Grizzle said. He said that the construction company will probably be able to complete the project within the required time limit, even though charging of working days began on Sept. 21.

Grizzle said that shallow water lines under the Main Avenue street surface were expected to

Belgian Enlists in The U. S. Army

A 23-year-old Belgian, in the United States only 18 months, enlisted in the Army Saturday, T. Sgt. Gerald F. Cutshall, local recruiter, reported.

He is Arthur Van Damme, who has been employed for the past seven months by the P. W. Walker Grain company here.

Sgt. Cutshall said Van Damme will probably be sent to a Russian language school at Presidio of Monterey, Calif., after completing his basic training at Fort Sill, Okla.

The Belgian youth already commands 10 foreign languages.

Maybe You Haven't Lived

HERE'S A TOUCHING STORY from A. R. Murfotan, New Plymouth, New Zealand. It is the kind of story that makes me want to make this column better and better. You will know why as you read. I quote Mr. Murfotan:

"If anyone had asked me a few weeks ago, what sort of a man I was, the reply probably would have run something like this: 'I am a normal sort of a chap who makes the best of things, and though my wife and I have our differences, we have managed to stick together for nearly 30 years.'

Carnegie

"Yes, that is what I would have said a few weeks ago, but that is not what I say now. I thought I was trying to make the best of things, but it is as if I were doing so with my eyes closed. After serving in the last war I managed to carry on at my pre-war occupation for two years, then I was sent to the hospital with acute coronary thrombosis. It was a bad show and when I left the hospital I was told I'd never work again. From the past two wars, for I served in both, I have collected disabilities amounting to 145 per cent.

"Then I read some of your columns and learned how other men suffered and how they pulled through, under a great variety of difficulties, and I realized that for all these years I haven't been living at all. I was either living in the past, worrying over lost opportunities, or else wondering and worrying about what the future held for me. I certainly had not lived.

"But now I have begun to live. I sleep like a log. One morning when my wife brought my breakfast to bed, I realized that she was virtually a stranger to me; that for nearly 30 years I had taken her for granted. Suddenly I decided that I was going to make her acquaintance, that what time remains for us to be together, is going to be real. There is only 'today' and every today is going to count.

"I once wrote of my experiences and called it 'And Things Came Right.' I now see that things never would have come right if I had continued to face them as I had been doing. But things are started right now."

If Mr. Murfotan has made even one of you readers know the value of living for the day, of looking yourself over and deciding to live not only for yourself but for others, what he has written will be so valuable that one couldn't afford the space in this paper to tell about it.

LAWRENCE SULLIVAN ROSS
Soldier • Statesman • Knightly Gentleman

Lawrence Sullivan Ross, one of the most colorful figures in early Texas, did much to establish the A. and M. College of Texas as a ranking educational institution, and put it on the way to the position it holds today. "Little Sul," as he was affectionately known to Texans of the '90s, had made his reputation as an Indian fighter, Texas Ranger, sheriff, soldier and statesman, before he came to the presidency of A. and M. Among his more noted exploits had been the recapture of Cynthia Ann Parker, his rise in the Confederate Army from private to General in four years and his effective term as Governor of the state. In the eight years from his inauguration in 1890 to his death, he enhanced the popularity and the stature of the college tremendously. The Sul Ross statue in the center of the campus is today a college shrine, while the Ross Volunteers, oldest student honor organization in the state, serve as a constant reminder of his place in the story of Texas A. and M.

One cold night, he went to sleep in the kitchen of his home. When he regained full consciousness he was in the hospital. You see, there had been a kettle of water setting over a flaming gas jet, and someone in turning off the gas from under the kettle hit the pilot light accidentally and then left the room.

Well, he got over the gas fumes, but he didn't get over his fright. When he heard a song in school with the word heaven in it, he became faint.

Proper Lifting Avoids Injuries

Each year thousands of people are victims of sprains, strains, hernias, and other injuries simply because they do not know how to properly handle heavy objects, says F. C. Martin, state leader of agricultural programs for the Texas A. & M. Extension Service and chairman of the State Farm Safety Committee.

He says that records kept by the National Safety Council show five common causes for lifting injuries. They are lifting and lowering objects with the back muscles instead of the leg muscles; insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; using quick, jerking, twisting or awkward movements of the body; obstructed vision, unstable loads, or inadequate control and inadequate control and insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

Martin points out that the common practice of bending at the waist when lifting something places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles. By bending your knees and keeping your back straight when lifting something heavy, you can place the strain on your leg muscles which are less likely to be injured.

Before doing any of the farm, Martin says, you examine the job. If you can't reduce the necessary lifting, you way to use machinery if possible. If very heavy lifting must be done by hand, one to help you do it.

Pink Bollworm Areas Increase

Pink bollworms have been found during the past two weeks in several additional Texas counties. According to L. F. Curl, division leader of the USDA's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, the spread of this insect during the current crop season is definitely the most serious threat to the future of cotton production experienced since the south-wide spread of the boll weevil.

Curl warns that the pink bollworm is capable of causing severe damage to cotton. The tremendous build-up and localized damage to the 1950 cotton crop in Nueces county is cited as an example. He adds that failure to observe the final date for stalk destruction and the plowing under of shredded or chopped-up residue in 1949 is directly responsible for the infestation in central and north-central Texas at this time.

Prompt destruction of stalks following the harvesting of the cotton crop is essential throughout the pink bollworm infested areas where the crop is picked before killing frosts, says Curl. Each farmer should get his crop picked quickly and then immediately destroy the stalks and plow under the residue. If this is done well ahead of frost, it ought to prevent a full generation of pink bollworms from feeding to maturity and going into hibernation, adds Curl.

He urges ginners, oil mill operators, agricultural leaders and agency representatives to cooperate with cotton farmers by assisting and backing early stalk destruction program in the counties. This must be done early enough to prevent the hibernating generation of pink bollworms from being produced.

To the cotton producers, Curl says, this is your problem but everyone is interested and is anxious to help maintain cotton production in Texas and the South at a profit. The price of cotton, he adds, may not always justify heavy expenditures for insecticides.

Small Farmhouse Needs Outlined

Designing an ideal small farmhouse is not simply the process of taking the plans for a large house and reducing the measurements of the different rooms. Such reduction has resulted in many houses with small rooms that are neither convenient nor comfortable.

In the designing of any small home, the first aim should be to plan the different rooms so they may be used for as many purposes as is necessary, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer-buildings of Texas A. & M. College. Careful planning of space and equipment will allow the rooms to be used for more than one activity, yet provide the space and privacy that every home needs.

Although low-cost houses cannot afford the luxury of single-use areas such as dining and guest rooms, Allen says that the small house may be so designed that additional units can be "built on" as the family grows and the farm income allows construction.

He points out that new houses built with trussed roofs and concrete slab floors may have partitions that can be moved at low cost when interior changes are needed.

Hall space is kept at a minimum in a properly planned small home.

Bailey County Cuts Cotton Crop Figure

A cotton crop of 11,000 bales is expected in Bailey county. Cotton has begun to come in to Muleshoe in quantity.

The estimate on September 1 was 12,000 bales and the reduction presumably was caused by a hail which went through a strip of territory north of Muleshoe in September.

At the time ginners estimated the hail had caused a loss of about 1,000 to 1,500 bales.

Dual School--

(Continued from Page 1) school would make it possible for farmers to employ children under 16 years of age in the afternoons without being liable under federal labor laws.

Meets Federal Law
The plan meets the requirements of the state department of education and also has been approved by the United States Department of Labor, Mr. Hutchinson said. The morning school plan supplanted that previously adopted to conduct night classes for farm worker children under the 16-year age limit. Members of the board feared the night classes might not be considered acceptable by federal officials as a substitute for regular school attendance. The second school shift will be at the regular hours from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. for permanent resident children who do not plan to help in the cotton harvest, Mr. Hutchinson said.

Lamb County Boy--

(Continued from Page 1) he was only a baby," Mrs. Jones said. "I used to put him on the ground and pretend not to notice while he crawled away and hid. It may be that some recollection of those infant games enabled him to escape death."

Rescued Tells Story
The story of the Lamb county soldier's rescue was told by another Texan, Lt. W. B. Roberson of San Antonio. The officer told of arrival of the U. S. tank forces at the scene of the wrecked train while the cars, set afire by the Reds, still were burning. The bodies of 29 slaughtered U. S. prisoners were found heaped nearby, some of them charred from the fire. Sixty yards from the wreckage one of the tank crewmen saw a slight motion in the weeds. There the men found the Lamb county boy, the sole survivor of the gruesome atrocity. Roberson said Jones told him he had been captured July 27 while with his company on the southwest sector of the Pusan beach-head. He then told how the wounded and ill men were taken from the train and murdered. Jones Reported Wounded The Lamb county soldier was reported to be wounded but his mother had received no official confirmation either of his rescue or of the wound. It was expected the young soldier would be furloughed and returned home as soon as his condition permitted, in accordance with the Army's usual procedure. Meantime, with heart buoyed high and filled with gratefulness, the Littlefield mother head to return thanks prayers were granted.
