Four Tankers Given Russia To Haul Gas

Shortage of Aviation Gasoline Threatens In United States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — Harold L. Ickes, defense petroleum administrator, said today four American tanker ships were being turned over to Russia to haul aviation gasoline.

At the same time he said a shortage of aviation gasoline in the United States, with possible severe effects on military and commercial flying, was likely unless the capacity for producing this high octane fuel is increased immediately.

The transfers to Russia might contribute to a limited general petroleum shortage in west coast areas, he said.

Ickes told newsmen that a compulsory plan to conserve gasoline on the east coast "may not be very far ahead." He said that gasoline consumption on the Atlantic seaboard had increased materially in the last two weeks, despite the widespread effort to influence motorists voluntarily to curtail consumption.

The problem of increasing America's capacity for producing aviation gasoline, which requires special machinery, will be taken up by Ickes Monday at a meeting here of chairmen of regional oil industry committees.

The situation with regard to this gasoline, the coordinator said, "is causing a good deal of concern."

Bombers Get $527 Tonight

If money really talks, President Tink Riviere and Manager Jodie Tate of the Big Spring Bombers were due to be recipients of an eloquent token at Bomber Appreciation night at Roberts field this evening.

C. L. Rowe, who joined with H. W. Smith and Cliff Wiley in directing a ticket drive, had a cashiers check in the amount of $527.25 to present to the club heads at the game set for 8:30 p. m.

The funds were contributed by businessmen and individuals who purchased tickets to be given away as advertising and good will tokens. Consequently, the largest crowd of the season was anticipated at the park when Clowis will tangle with the explosive Bombers.

A Laughing Matter—

Jack Benny's Favorite Story

The fellow had been in an insane asylum for 15 years and finally had been adjudged sane. On the day of his scheduled departure, he arose early and went to the bathroom to shave. While thus engaged, a motorist drove up outside and began to honk the horn. Our hero looked out the window and recognized his brother, come to take him home.

"Just a minute," he yelled, "I'm shaving and will be right out." He turned back to his mirror but after a couple of minutes the honking again set up its incessant honking. Irritated, he again went to the window and shouted, "All right, all right, just a minute."

As he turned from the window this time, a sudden jerk by his elbow knocked the mirror from its place. Unable to complete his shaving, our hero looked long and despairingly at the blank mirrorless wall, then complained: "Wouldn't you know it? Fifteen years in this place and on the day I'm supposed to get out, I have to cut my head off." (AP Feature Service)

RAF Boys See First Baseball Game—Pipe smoking Joe Oliver, 25, London, England, left, and Brian Kemp, Surrey, England, right, listen intently to explanations of the game by Bill Cronin, Dallas Rebel catcher. Ninety-four British flying cadets saw their first baseball game in Dallas August 5. "More exciting than cricket," was one comment. The group seemed a trifle shocked when a small boy, objecting to an umpire's decision, called out: "You big ape!"

CIO-AFL Strikes Stop Work In Two Shipyards

Brigham And Davidson To Golf Finals

Championship of the fourth annual West Texas Junior Golf tournament this afternoon lay between Jim Brigham, Big Spring, and Bob Davidson, Sweetwater.

Brigham, whose putting iron was red hot during the morning round, ousted Bill Dill, Cisco, by a 4-3 count to win his way to the finals.

He was one under par on the front nine with a 35 and played steady golf to ease out Dill on the 15th.

Leas consistent but able to turn on the pressure anytime he chose, Davidson swarmed over Charles Harrell, 6-5, to win the right to contest Brigham for the title.

Don Starnes, carried out George Stanford, Odessa, easily by an 8-7 count to be paired with Neyland in the finals.

Marvin K. House, Jr., Big Spring, eased by Ben Branum, Lubbock, 9-2, to enter the finals of the first flight against Nolan Bagley, a fellow townsman, who downed Chic Trout, Jr., Lubbock, two up.

Don Starnes, two up, 4-3. David Sprawls, Lubbock, one up in a torrid 20 hole match to go into the last go-around in the first flight consolation against Halsey Lee Hackett, Lubbock, who trimmed Larry Lewis, Big Spring, 3-2.

Other results included: Second flight consolation—Eob Craig, Colorado City, beat J. C. Davis, Colorado City, 3-2; Billy Harris, Midland, beat Homer Dye, Odessa, one up.

Second flight consolation—Charles Swift, Merkel, swamped Vernon Allridge, Big Spring, 6-5; and Bob Kirkpatrick, Odessa, nosed out Harold Berman, Colorado City, in a terrific struggle that went 20 holes.

Third flight semi-finals—Claude Matlock Big Spring, ousted Tuney Goodson, Big Spring, one up; and W. E. Plunkett, Big Spring, carried out Wilbur French, Sweetwater, 4-3.

Third flight consolation—Bobby Baker, Foran, slid past Andrew Harris, Big Spring, one up; and Bobby (Porkie) Baker, Midland, routed Wayne Clark, Lubbock, 8-7.

Modern Indian Poet Succumbs

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 7 (AP) — Rabindranath Tagore, 80, famed as India's greatest modern poet and winner of the Nobel prize for literature in 1913, died here today after a protracted illness.

Tagore, who was seriously ill last October but made a remarkable recovery, underwent an operation recently for a kidney ailment. Practically unknown to readers of the western world before he was accorded the Nobel prize, Tagore's writings were translated into many languages in recent years and achieved the rank of best sellers.

Walkouts, involving CIO and AFL unionists, halted work on naval and merchant ships in four big east coast yards today but CIO workers at two of the yards quickly were ordered to return to their jobs by their union leaders.

The yards affected were in Kearny, N. J., Staten Island and Brooklyn, N. Y., at two yards in Brooklyn, both operated by Bethlehem Steel company, 6,000 workers were ordered back to work by their union several hours after they had declared a holiday starting with the early morning shift.

The back to work order followed a conference of company and union officials.

Trouble started at the Bethlehem Brooklyn yards when members of the CIO industrial union of marine and shipbuilding workers declared a holiday in a wage dispute. Chris Mathelsen, union business agent, said 6,000 members were involved. Details of the disputed wages were not immediately available.

Shortly thereafter it developed that the AFL teamsters also were in a separate dispute with Bethlehem at the same plants, when the teamsters threw up picket lines. An AFL spokesman said the company had refused a union demand for a contract providing a flat pay increase from 72 cents to $1 an hour.

James B. Carey, secretary of the CIO, said the national organization would give "all support and cooperation" to the international officers of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America in the strike at Kearny.

Also of high importance to the nation's defense program was a wage dispute involving 38,000 California aircraft workers, referred last night to the national mediation board after a two-months stalemate.

Members of the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America threw a picket line in front of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company at Kearny, N. J., where a cruiser, six destroyers, three tankers and two cargo boats rest on the ways.

The union, which claims 18,000 of the company's 17,000 employees as members, turned back 1,000 night shift men at the gates. There were no disorders. Police armed with riot guns and tear gas bombs stood by but they confined their efforts to observation and traffic duties. The picketers admitted maintenance men and union guards to the plant.

Only last Sunday some 6,000 union members had voted to rescind an earlier strike ballot decision and accept recommendations of the national defense mediation board for a working contract.

Those recommendations included a modified union shop, vacation adjustments and a 12 per cent wage increase, which the company already had paid retroactive to June 24.

Despite this vote, the local union's executive board decided yesterday to call the strike.

A union spokesman said that before the 12 per cent wage increase was granted, the hourly scale was: First class mechanics, $1; second class mechanics, 95 cents; third class mechanics, 90 cents; second class handymen, 76 cents; first class handymen, 62 cents; helpers, 65 cents, and laborers, 62 1/2 cents.

FDR SUSTAINED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — The house today sustained President Roosevelt's veto of legislation authorizing expenditure of $320,000,000 for defense highway needs, thereby killing the bill.

Bruno, Son Of Il Duce, Dies As Plane Falls

23-Year-Old Had Served Country In Three Wars

ROME, Aug. 7 (AP) — Captain Bruno Mussolini, 23, who abided by his father's admonition to "live dangerously," was killed today in the crash of a long range bomber he was testing as commander of a detachment that was to use the plane.

He died at 10 a. m. near Pisa, and four hours afterward the Rome radio announced his "glorious death at a post of combat."

Bruno was born April 22, 1918, at Milan while his father, as head of the young fascist movement, was editing the newspaper Il Popolo d'Italia. Bruno was the premier's second son.

Il Duce, himself a pilot, flew at once to Pisa with his chief of air force, General Francesco Pricolo.

Two other flyers—the second pilot and a mechanic—were killed in the crash while the remaining members of the eight-man crew were injured.

"This morning Captain Bruno Mussolini died gloriously near Pisa following an accident in the flight of an experimental plane," said the official announcement.

Thus ended a young life into which action in three wars had been jammed, along with the thrills of transatlantic flight, air and motor racing.

In Ethiopia Bruno Mussolini bombed the armies of Haile Selassie in Spain he bombed Alicante, Barcelona, Valencia, and Cartagena and in the present war he looted bombs over falling France and later took part in raids against the Greeks and in other Mediterranean operations.

The last included, the Italian radio said, "risky" actions over the central Mediterranean, where Bruno showed "great daring" and scouting flights over Malia. Not long ago he was placed in command of "an important detachment" of long range bombers, also serving as a test pilot.

He was one of Italy's greatest boxing fans, being president of the Italian boxing federation.

Bruno was married in 1933 to Gina Ruberti. They had one child, Marina, now 17 months old. The death leaves Premier Mussolini with four children, Countess Edda Ciano, 30, wife of former Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano; Anna Maria, 11, Vittorio, 24, and Romano, 13.

The Italian radio announcer, breaking the news to the nation, said that Bruno could be "considered as having fallen for his country." He always had "lived dangerously," the broadcaster said, calling him "one of the most representative members of fascist youth."

He showed a high sense of sacrifice as a volunteer fighter in Spain's anti-bolshevik war," the announcer added. In that conflict, Bruno won medals for valor.

Bruno also piloted planes for Italy in the Ethiopian war in 1935-36 and the current European war. Little had been known of his activities in the present war until the disclosure that he had died as a test pilot.

Then it was told that he had been in action against France on the western front last year, in the Mediterranean theater, and on the Albanian and Greek fronts.

Under Russian artillery fire, the communists related, German "tanks, motorcycles, machine-guns and mine-throwers and mutilated bodies of fascist soldiers were flung into the air. . . and when the 'Toden Koppe' wavered, red army men launched a bayonet charge and completed the rout of the fascist division."

In the Far East crisis, the British sounded a stiff new warning to Japan, declaring that "all preparations are ready to smash any Japanese attempt to cut the Burma road or move further westward."

The warning apparently referred to a possible Japanese move into Thailand from bases in French Indo-China or an attempt to invade China's southwest province of Yunnan, through which the Burma road feeds supplies to Chinese armies in the north.

An authoritative British war review in London said that Thailand was expected to resist any Japanese encroachment and that British aid to the Thais would be conditioned by the American response to the situation.

This means an average daily intake of $63.64, which would be one percent tax on $6,364 worth of automobiles.

An example of how this volume compares with that of other cities may be gained from the fact that during the same period, Tom Green county, with twice the population of Howard county, had a daily volume of about $10,000.

Senate Votes To Hold Soldiers 18 Months

British Tell Japanese To Cease Moving Westward

By The Associated Press British official spokesmen in the Far East warned Japan today that "all preparations are ready to smash any Japanese attempt to cut the Burma road or move further westward," and London quarters said they counted on little Thailand, with an army of only 50,000 troops, to fight any Japanese invasion.

Capping a series of red lights to Tokyo, Australia's Navy Minister William M. Hughes declared in Melbourne: "Do they (the Japanese) think Australia can look on these movements which Japan is making in other countries — movements threatening the very foundations of the empire and Australian interests in the Far East—and do nothing?"

While London hesitated to say definitely that Britain would help Thailand to resist Japanese encroachment, the Singapore office of the ministry of information said flatly that any further Japanese move westward would be crushed.

Now based in Indo-China, Japan's "new order" armies might next attempt to invade Thailand to gain closer bases for an attack on British Malay or the Burma road.

All Classes Affected By New Measure

Final Vote On Measure Expected To Follow Soon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — With administration forces in command, the senate voted today to keep army selectees, national guardsmen, reserves and enlisted men in uniform 18 months beyond their present active service periods.

After beating off a republican-sponsored attempt yesterday to limit the extra duty requirement to one year, the chamber adopted an amendment by Senator Thomas (D-Utah) to pending legislation fixing the maximum service liability of selectees, guardsmen and reserves at 2 1/2 years, instead of the present 1 year. Men who enlisted for three years could be retained 1-2 years. The vote was 44 to 23.

Previously, sponsors had proposed that the citizen soldiers and regulars be kept in uniform for an indefinite period.

The Thomas amendment provided that congress could extend the additional 18-month period if it subsequently found it necessary to do so in the interest of national defense. It also could terminate the legislation by passage of a concurrent resolution.

Final senate approval of the revised measure was expected to follow swiftly.

In debate preceding the vote, Senator Johnson (R-Calif.) asserted that the legislation would "break faith with young men whose lips are sealed."

Opening the seventh day of debate on a measure to lengthen active duty periods by 18 months, the white haired Californian protested that the army's rank and file had been forbidden to express its opinion about the proposal.

How, he demanded, could the senators disregard a general understanding at the time of enactment of the selective service act that draftees were to serve only 12 months?

With house leaders waiting impatiently to begin consideration of the measure there, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said he feared any further senate delay might postpone final enactment so long that the general staff would be put to needless difficulties in replacing or reconstructing units containing national guardsmen and others scheduled to be mustered out soon under the present service limitation of one year.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, told the military committee recently that unless congress passed the legislation quickly a national guard anti-aircraft regiment acutely needed in Hawaii would have to sail for home Aug. 15 to be demobilized. Similar situations prevailed, Marshall said, at other distant bases.

Pepper told reporters this was one reason why he was willing, if necessary, to accept an amendment sponsored by a majority of the military committee to limit the proposed extension of service for selectees, guardsmen, reserves and enlisted men to 18 months.

Leaders forecast adoption of the amendment, rejection of other minor pending proposals and speedy approval of the revised bill. Pepper said, however, that reports indicated the house might cut the time to 12 months—a limitation rejected by the senate yesterday in an unexpectedly one-sided 50 to 31 vote.

British Tell Japanese To Cease Moving Westward

By The Associated Press Russian troops were reported battling fiercely to stem a two-headed drive on Leningrad today, with nazi columns striking from the south along the shores of Lake Peipus and German-Finnish forces attacking from the north on the Karelian Isthmus, within 75 miles of the city.

Soviet reports indicated that the push from the north had temporarily abated overnight but noted heavy fighting south of the oldtime capital of the czars.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Moscow declared, however, that the Soviet high command was "confident that the Germans will reach neither Kiev nor Leningrad, let alone Moscow itself."

German military dispatches pictured the strongest nazi blows as falling on Russian forces in the Ukraine, and the Germans declared that the remainder of red army troops surrounded in that grain-rich province were now "facing destruction."

The German high command asserted that nazi troops were "at the gateway of Kiev," the capital. On the African war front, axis bombers raided the Suez Canal early today, killing 30 and wounding 35.

A red army bulletin reported that Russian troops had routed one of Adolf Hitler's elite "Toden Koppe" (death's head) divisions, littering the field with 2,500 Germans killed and wounded.

The Soviet communique quoted a captured German lance corporal as saying that the division, formed of Hitler's blackshirt Schutzstaffel detachments, had orders to deal a "decisive blow" in one of the main sectors of the eastern front.

News And Views About Books—

NEWS ABOUT BOOKS

Paul Corey, whose novel County Seat, the story of an Iowa town, is announced for publication by Bobbs-Merrill Co. in September, recently resisted the demands of his publisher for a dedication until he could decide whether it should be dedicated to "Ann Margaret" or to "Christopher Edwin." Ann Margaret arrived just under the deadline, thus fulfilling an old English saying, Mr. Corey reports, that no one may really call himself a man until he has fathered a child, built a house and written a book.

Mr. Corey accomplished the stature of manhood in the reverse order first writing a book, Three Miles Square, which was followed by a second, The Road Returns, and now a third, County Seat. He built a house between books, with his own hands, a cottage overlooking the Hudson river. The arrival of his daughter this summer completes the requirements.

Ralph Ingersoll, author of America Is Worth Fighting For and editor of the newspaper PM, is now on his way to Russia where he will make a personal investigation of the Soviet under war time conditions. He does not expect to write anything about his trip until he returns to the United States. Shortly after his departure the Spanish rights for his book were sold for use in South America, where its distribution is expected to bolster the good-neighbor program.

The immediate success of "Two Survived," the story of two English sailors' ordeal of seventy days in an open boat in mid-Atlantic, caught the publishers unprepared. Two printings totalling seven thousand copies were sold out a day after publication; a new edition of five thousand more is being rushed through the presses, but there will be no stock available for the next five days, is the news from Random House.

Hartford, Connecticut's number one fiction best seller at the moment is a book that is just beginning to be heard of in the rest of the country. It is George Malcolim-Smith's "Slightly Perfect," and its hero is a dignified Hartford insurance potentate who gets mixed up with a new kind of figure—a stripe-tape artist in a carnival troupe. Hartford is agast—but amused. From Random House publishers.

Hull Says French Actions Watched

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull indicated today that American relations with the Vichy government depended more on French action in defending French territory than on assurances just received from Vichy.

He has received a French note substantially along the lines reported in press dispatches from Vichy, the secretary told his press conference.

Asked whether these new assurances were satisfactory, Hull said he still wished to know more about what was going on in Vichy.

New Jap Control Of Shipping Planned

SINGIN' SAM TROUPE WAY BACK TO FARM HE DREAMED ABOUT

Reflectively, radio's Singin' Sam looks out over his farm near Richmond, Ind. It's the farm he dreamed about during all the lean years in show business that comes to every actor. Name of Sam's farm is "Troupier Hill."

SINGIN' SAM, "The Coca-Cola Man," is literally one figure in show business who not only wanted to settle down on a comfortable farm but really did.

He lives on an 180-acre farm just outside Richmond, Indiana, and there raises alfalfa, soy beans, corn, and oats. The big seven-room Colonial dwelling is Sam's pride and joy and he spends all of the time he can spare between trips to New York putting around the place.

Sam regularly flies into Manhattan for two days once every two weeks, where he makes sufficient transcriptions to fulfill his Refreshment Time programs, which are sponsored daily Mondays through Fridays, by the bottlers of Coca-Cola over 237 radio stations.

Besides being one of the most popular radio stars in the business Singin' Sam also holds the distinction of being on the air 56 hours each day. That may sound preposterous since there are only 24 hours in each day, but the time of Sam's 15 minute programs from over 237 stations when added up proves that he is "on the air" much longer than the length of the average day.

After years of trouping, Sam is always anxious to get back to his country retreat. He likes to tinker and has a fine woodworking shop in one of the many sheds on the farm. Much of the cabinet and finish work in the rambling farmhouse was done by Sam—under the direction of his wife, Smiles, who was once known to vaudeville fans as Helene Davis.

Golf Club In Hand Grounds Lightning

TOLEDO, O.—William L. Kloefer, 18, owes his life to the fact that he was carrying a golf club.

Lightning struck Kloefer, a caddy, as he was playing the Toledo County Club course. The bolt tore away part of his shoe, ripped the grip of his club and knocked him unconscious, but the charge was grounded by the club, and his injuries were not serious.

Miss Laneous

Notes

By MARY WHALEY

People usually get what they are looking for out of life. None should get discouraged because look look around and see how near the goals they set, most people have gotten.

Take the fellow who didn't want anything out of life—and that's what he got. Maybe he's griping now, but he got what he aimed for—nothing.

Then there's the fellow who wanted success. Big success. Now he's got his money value the way he wanted it. Of course he may be unhappy now because he's lost the art of living. But he wanted success spelled m-o-n-e-y and that's what he's got.

Then there's the man who wanted to love people. He loved just folks, rich ones, poor ones, all kinds. He wanted them to love him, too. So he sacrificed his business and his family for just anybody who happened his way. Well, when he died he had the biggest funeral in town. Everybody came. Most of them owed him something.

As far as it looks to us, all you've got to do is decide just what it is you want during your span of years here. Then by sacrificing everything else, you'll probably get it. It's too bad most goals are so insignificant because nearly all are achieved.

British Lose Ten Planes In Raids

Again the night attacks were centered on Frankfurt, Mannheim and Karlsruhe in a continuation of the methodical pounding of German targets, and the communique reported "huge fires were started and a considerable weight of bombs was dropped on each city." These raids, however, cost eight planes.

Nursery Youngsters Are Being Trained In Health, Sanitation

By JANICE CARBACK

With Brother marching off to the army, Dad joining the USO, Mom contributing her aluminum and Sister sewing white flannel nightshirts for the Red Cross, it seems that everybody has his or her part in defending the country. While all this is going on, half a hundred small children are sleeping and playing at the WPA nursery at 410 San Antonio street in Big Spring. These small boys and girls are being trained even now for the part that they are bound to play in the future safety of America. Rather than artillery, these children are armed with sanitation, education, and rules of fair play. In their routine each day, they are taught how to abolish fear and selfishness, things that are just as great national enemies as any spies could be.

With the aid of Mrs. Cleo Fuller, manager of the local project, the children are being trained for school life in the future. Clancy Baldridge, district supervisor of education projects, says "Records prove that nursery school students stand out in their school work later." This is because the students have learned from the first how to work and play fairly, to keep health rules and to train themselves physically, mentally, and emotionally.

Plans have been started for establishing schools near military areas. These will not be the regular nursery school for low income groups with children up to five years, but will be Child Care Centers especially for military workers with children up to six years of age.

Object for all this work is to help make America healthy and happy. It has been proved that 28 percent of those men who were eliminated in the national defense plan had been so because of health problems of early childhood which could have been prevented by WPA nursery projects are trying now to eliminate that 28 percent.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Stocks tried to crawl out of the dog house today—on average the market had been unchanged or lower since July 28—but many leaders were unsuccessful.

Intervals of activity were succeeded by exceptionally slack periods and transfers for the five hours approximated 500,000 shares. Among stocks reaching new 1941 highs were American woolen, common and preferred which again reflected a little demand based on the company's six-month run-up in net and expectations sizable dividend accruals on the senior issue might be paid.

GRAND PRIZE IS GRAND-TASTIN'

Gulf Brewing Co., Houston

... so I became Buddha's buddy!

In my dream, the glowering Buddha belov- lowed that he was weary of inhaling scented incense . . . and that he, too, was in a mood to enjoy the delightful fragrance of grand-tastin' Grand Prize Beer.

It took me but a jiffy to pour him a sparkling glassful of Grand Prize. He breathed deeply of its inviting aroma, sampled its grand-tastin' goodness, then proclaimed me his life-long buddy.

Well, sir, the next morning I visited the little Buddha on our mantle—the very same figure that loomed so immense in my dream. Right then and there I toasted the covetous Buddha for his good taste in preferring Grand Prize to his accustomed incense.

You see, friends, the deep mellowness and intriguing flavor of this grand-tastin' brand makes you its devotee in a hurry. So why not take this suggestion — send out now for Grand Prize Beer in bottles or Keglined cans. Believe me, you'll be in for a grand time.

At least 25,000 years old, the huge, helmet-like shell was unearthed in San Patricio county on the farm of W. E. Tedford.

Sleeping Sickness Spreads In North

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 7 (AP)—A baffling malady, possibly mosquito-borne, has a special medical corps headed by federal doctors working night and day in the northwest in an attempt to stop spread of the disease which has killed some 60 persons in little more than a month.

Doctors call the infection encephalitis. The layman knows it better as sleeping sickness. Just where it comes from, just what causes it and how to stop it is the grave problem confronting medical scientists gathered here under leadership of Dr. James P. Leake, of Washington, medical director of the U. S. public health service.

Japan's Move Seen As Part Of Axis Bid To Control Seas

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The United States government, it was learned today, believes that Japan's pressure bid for control of Thailand is part of a well-patterned axis plan to seize control of the oceans and thereby dominate the world. The latest Japanese moves were described as dovetailing perfectly with Germany's demands on Vichy for military and naval bases in French colonial possessions, particularly at Dakar. All evidence available, an informed source stated, points to a coordinated drive by Germany to control all strategic bases in the Atlantic, while Japan seizes similar objectives in the Pacific. "When—and if—Germany and Japan accomplish that ambitious objective," a ranking official said, "the axis powers could join forces across the southern oceans and dominate the seas, isolating the Americas for a coordinated attack from the Pacific and the Atlantic." To win that "stranglehold on the world," it was pointed out, the Germans and Japanese must first seize the British and French strong points that dominate the world's seaways, and officials said that the aggressive plans now in motion have that objective. Since Japan represents one of the jaws in the gigantic pincers movement, an authoritative source stated, Japanese encroachment in Indo-China and Thailand cannot be considered in the category of isolated aggression, but must be treated as a vital element in the nazis grand strategy. For this reason, it was explained, the United States has assumed a forceful diplomatic policy designed both to stiffen French resistance to German demands and to warn Japan against further military adventures in the South Pacific before it is too late.

Prisoner Dies After Stabbing

CROCKETT, Aug. 7 (AP)—Prison authorities investigated today the fatal stabbing of Edward H. Hindermarch of Atlanta, Ga., in the dormitory of Eastham state prison. O. J. S. Ellington, prison general manager, said Thomas Sheffield, 24, of Houston, stabbed Hindermarch while the latter was playing checkers with other convicts shortly before noon last Tuesday. Hindermarch, who was serving 25 years under a Dallas county robbery conviction, died a few hours after the attack. Prison officials said origin of differences between the men was vague but quoted Sheffield as saying that Hindermarch had threatened to kill him. Sheffield was serving a two-year burglary sentence.

Hot Licks From Band Open Day For Soldiers of 36th

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
FAIRFIELD, Aug. 7 (AP)—It was five o'clock in the morning. The sun had not yet penetrated through the forest's leaves. The 36th division's bivouac area was still and peaceful as tired soldiers slept. Suddenly the quiet was broken by the sound of a trumpet, first floating soft and low through the trees and then rising to a shrill blast. Other musical instruments joined in. The band members were getting in some hot licks, or as musicians say, they were warming up their lips. Nobody but the cook gets up with the 142nd infantry band which serenades the soldiers with ten minutes of marches before reveille is blown. This early morning music is intended to get the soldiers up in a good humor. The band rolls out at 5, warms up until 5:35, plays until 5:45—reveille time—and then starts playing again at 7. All day, while the soldiers are bustling around camp, the sound of the band reaches them as early as seven o'clock in the morning, the bandmen are in a jam session, playing with such finesse and gusto that soldiers throng around them in a big circle. Those who can't join the spectators yell through the trees their approval of the music. No one sits down except the drummer; the rest of the band are standing in the little clearing by their tents. Most of the 142nd band members have been playing together for years, as kids in Brownwood and during the time they were members of the Howard Payne university band there. The musicians get a lot of kidding because they carry no weapons. "Aw, we've got weapons," said one bandman. "We carry nigger shooters." "Well," chimed in another, "we may not have guns, but, boy, we've got lots of girls."

Bombers Engage Pioneers In Appreciation Night Game

Brigham And Davidson Favored To Clash In West Texas Jr. Golf Tournament Finals

Edge Hubbers, 8-7 In Series Windup

After taking a close, 8 to 7, victory over the Lubbock Hubbers at Lubbock last night, the Big Spring Bombers returned to their own precinct, where they are to open a three-day engagement with the Clovis Pioneers, initial game starting at 8:30.

Big Spring fans, led by Cliff Wiley, C. L. Rowe, H. W. Smith, and Jack Rodden, have joined forces in an effort to make this game, an Appreciation Night affair, the heaviest drawing one to be put on in Roberts Field. Bringing the ticket-selling drive to an end this morning, Wiley said $527.25 had been obtained.

Big Spring business men and firms bought blocks of tickets to distribute them among their customers. Although tickets have been distributed with attendance at the Appreciation Night tussle in mind, tickets are good for any game here during the remainder of the regular season.

Bomber supporters have taken this means of expressing to Manager Jedis Tate, President Tink Riviere, and the Big Spring ball players their appreciation for the bang-up brand of baseball offered them this year. Also, it is a means whereby Big Spring fans give solid foundation to their appreciation of a ball club that has remained at, or near, the top of the 1941 West Texas-New Mexico baseball race.

Charlie Wheelchel, one of the most promising young right-handed hurlers in the league, is scheduled to start the mound for Big Spring tonight. Wheelchel's unbeatable pitching in an 11-inning truce at Pampa, July 13, at which time he delivered a no-hit, no-run game, marks him as a lad who is to be remembered as one of the best ever to show his wares on a WT-NM diamond.

Pre-game indications are that Big Spring will need every bit of smooth pitching, errorless fielding, and heavy hitting it can get tonight. The Pioneers, long one of the stepchildren of the league, has of late displayed the most aggressive brand of ball in the circuit. With the season drawing near its finale, the Pioneers, although not to be considered as a contender for top place in the standings, may be the club that throws a crimp into Big Spring and Berger plans thus deciding the league crown by indirect means.

Making the Big Spring-Clovis struggle a gala affair, Dan Conley, Big Spring band director, announced Thursday morning that a band rehearsal would be brought to an end in time to take part in tonight's show.

Last night's affray at Lubbock came near to being another setback for the Big Springers.

Taking the lead in the first inning, when a brace of runs were put across, the Bombers dropped down one-count in the third, came back in the fourth with a four-run spree, then added a couple more in the seventh.

The Hubbers chalked up a score in the fifth as Andy Mohrlock, after holding the Lubbock club to six hits, lost control. Willard Ramsdell went into the game at that time, allowing an equal number of wallops.

Sucky and Heinz shared hurling duties, Sucky giving up three hits and Heinz being nicked for three.

One Medalist Falls Out At Broadmoor

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 7 (AP)—Charley Coe packed his young frame on a bench by the first tee today while his two co-medalists in the Broadmoor invitational golf tournament drove off toward the title again.

Coe, Oklahoma high school golf champion from Ardmore, went one down to defeat at the hands of Dan Walker yesterday. L. B. (Bud) Maytag, Colorado Springs, and John Kraft, Denver, who shared the medal at par 70 with him, came in with comfortable victories.

Maytag ousted Don Brown of Denver on the 14th hole, 6 and 4. The washing machine scion paired off with Gomas Green of Fairfax, Okla., today.

Kraft, a school teacher, slammed Harry Missildine of Tulsa, Okla., into the championship flight consolation rounds with a 3 and 2 in, to meet young Harvey Cowan of Beaumont, Tex., today.

Also into the consolation bracket went 1939 invitational champ Eddie Stokes of Denver; Coach Charlie Hyatt of the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips Oilers, former all-America basketball player, and Frank English, veteran Denver flankman.

Stokes bowed to H. F. Benson, Colorado Springs, 3 and 2, mainly because of an unruly putter. Hyatt lost to Will Price, Jr., of Wichita, Kan., 3 and 2, and English went out before the steady swinging of Pat Collins of Broadmoor, one up.

Dee Replogle, Stanford golf squad member from Oklahoma City, ripped Elmer Clark of Denver out of the running, 6 and 5.

Second round pairings include: Walker vs. Price; Collins vs. John Oliver, Amarillo, Tex.; Benson vs. Francis Fleming, Evansville, Ind.; Lyman Wright, Colorado Springs, vs. Joe Hartman, Denver; J. P. Larkin, Beaumont, Tex., vs. Neil Smith, Ardmore, Okla.; and Replogle vs. Morris Russell, Denton, Tex.

It takes more than 12 million gross, or nearly 150 million, of safety pins each year to do the job safely plus do in the United States, according to the census bureau.

Cincy Knocks Cards From Top Of The Heap

By The Associated Press Somebody always is rocking the boat in the National league. The boys ride along on an even keel for a couple of days and then, just when the fans take a deep breath of satisfaction, the jittersbugs start bouncing.

Today the Brooklyn Dodgers have bounced back into first place with a six-game winning streak and a margin of three percentage points over the St. Louis Cardinals, while the Pittsburgh Pirates, yesterday nine games out of first place, today are only eight away and still spouting fire and fury.

The Cardinals backed out of the scene by losing a 5-1 struggle to the Cincinnati Reds, whose southpaw star, Johnny Vander Meer, limited the Cards to eight hits.

With the score of Cincinnati's conquest posted on the big black board in the Polo Grounds, the Dodgers stormed out in front of 52,781 New York fans last night and downed the Giants 3-1.

The Pirates achieved their fifth straight and 17th triumph in 20 games by overwhelming the Chicago Cubs 13-3.

"Five-hit hurling by Manny Salvo brought the Boston Braves a 6-0 shutout against the Phillies in another night game.

The New York Yankees divided a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox, but still managed to increase their big American league lead by a half game through Cleveland's loss to Detroit.

Tex Hughson and Mike Ryba held the Yanks to six hits in the first game, two of them homers by Joe DiMaggio and Joe Gordon; as the Red Soxers smashed to a 6-3 victory. In the twilight Marvin Eruser held Boston to five hits and DiMaggio doubled two runs across in the sixth inning for the margin of a 3-1 triumph.

The Detroit Tigers scored 11 runs in one tremendous third inning explosion to beat the Indians 11-2.

The St. Louis Browns made use of a five-run fourth inning to take the first game of their doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 9-6, but Lefty Thornton Lee came back with a six-hit pitching job to give the Sox the second 5-2.

Washington whipped the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1 in a night game.

Forsan Golf Meet Opens August 24

Date for the fourth annual Forsan invitational golf tournament has been announced for Aug. 24.

Indications were that none of the three defending champions would be on hand for the play, thus leaving the field wide open. Doug Jones, who beat Sammy Sain for the title last year, is in Graham and may not be able to come. Guy Rainey, long-driving ex-champ, has since moved to South Texas and likely will not participate.

Meanwhile, the Forsan golf course, located on the Continental lease, is being put in top shape for the annual tourney. The nine-hole sand green outlay stretches 3,050 yards.

Tournament play will consist of nine-hole matches with an 18-hole final. Prizes will be awarded to flight winners, runners-up and consolation winners. Medalist will be decided by scores in the opening matches, and players may qualify over a year in West Texas.

Anyone desiring to enter must submit his qualifying score and a $1.50 entrance fee not later than Aug. 22 to the Forsan Golf club.

The management announced that drinks and lunches will be available on the course.

Last year there was a field of 70 entered and club officials of Big Spring golfers. Communications should be addressed to W. B. Dunn, secretary of the club at Forsan.

Loboes Sink Spuds, 7-3

LAMESA, Aug. 7—The Loboes took the final game of the series from the Wichita Falls Spudders here last night, 7 to 3.

Arroyo started for the locals and held the Spudders to three runs and seven hits in the six innings he worked. Because of his fine record as a relief hurler, he was relieved by Poteet, so that he will be held in reserve for later games this week.

Poteet got off to a shaky start, but settled down until the ninth frame, when he momentarily weakened to allow the Spudders seven hits in the sixth inning. Williams forced Hernandez at third to retire the side.

Both sides hit the ball freely, but Arroyo and Poteet, aided by some sensational fielding, kept the Spudders in hand throughout the contest.

Oilers Vie With Abilene Club Tonight

Big Spring's Cities Service Oilers journey to Abilene tonight, where they will engage Abilene's West Texas Utilitymen in that city's invitational softball tournament.

Although ousted early in San Angelo's meet last week, the Big Spring Major league champions are slated to have a better chance of reaping the rewards when they vie at Abilene.

Pre-game indications are that the Oilers club has the edge, being the top-ranking club in its own precinct.

W. D. Berry and his Oilers square off against the Utilitymen at 9 p. m.

Rebs, Cats Battle 12 Innings To 1-1 Draw

By The Associated Press The third-place Dallas Rebels, rounding into a smoothly functioning ball club, and the fifth-place Fort Worth Cats staged a tremendous 12-inning struggle that ended in a 1-1 tie last night.

The Rebels ended the longest home stay of the season after the two teams had battled in ding-dong home series by taking a 2-0 decision from the Shreveport Sports.

The Houston juggernaut functioned as usual, Ted Wilks turning in his seventeenth win of the season to give the Buffs a 3-0 triumph over Beaumont at Houston.

Playing at Tulsa, the Oilers swept a twin bill with the Oklahoma City Indians, taking the first 8-1 and the seven-inning nightcap 7-4.

The San Antonio Missions ended a four-game home series by taking a 2-0 decision from the Shreveport Sports.

The Houston juggernaut functioned as usual, Ted Wilks turning in his seventeenth win of the season to give the Buffs a 3-0 triumph over Beaumont at Houston.

The ancient saw about the old dog and life is being given a modern day touch by the Pittsburgh Pirates, just about the hottest thing in the current National league race.

Muchly beaten and kicked during the forepart of the 1941 season, the Bucs are now doing a bit of rampaging on their own hook. Early in May, the Pirates were in last place—now look at 'em.

They've galloped into third place—are giving the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers irriwaddy chills, and seem all set for bigger and better things before the National closes up shop. Since late in June, Frankie Frisch and his Freebooters have hit into two winning streaks of seven straight.

Can they do it—will they do it?

Ex-TCU Man After Record

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—Don Looney, one of the best forward pass nabbers in the business, is going to try and break his own National pro league record this year—but its secondary to the Pittsburgh Steelers winning the division championship.

The soft-spoken, lanky son of a Texas Christian university, who established a record of 55 catches for 707 yards with the Philadelphia Eagles last year, asserted today "I'll be tryin' for a new mark."

"The thing I want most of all is to win that championship. It sure would be nice to get into those playoffs next December."

Next December, inside tally, Looney said he plans to marry Miss Dorothy Hall, a Texas Christian co-ed. Don, who graduated in 1940, is now working on a master's degree in business.

ROUNDUP SPORTS

By EDDIE BRETZ NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (Herald Special News Service)— Help! Here's a chance for you guys to do a good turn for the defense program. Earl Ruby of the Louisville Courier-Journal proposes football teams for army camps and plants doing defense work to compete against each other. Senator Happy Chandler has agreed to sponsor a trophy if leagues can be organized. They would like to hear some good ideas on how to set up the program.... That talk about Joe DiMaggio getting $80,000 next year gives everybody a laugh. Just the same he's already getting a whole lot more than the $35,000 he was supposed to have signed for last winter.

Edge Hubbers, 8-7 In Series Windup

After taking a close, 8 to 7, victory over the Lubbock Hubbers at Lubbock last night, the Big Spring Bombers returned to their own precinct, where they are to open a three-day engagement with the Clovis Pioneers, initial game starting at 8:30.

Big Spring fans, led by Cliff Wiley, C. L. Rowe, H. W. Smith, and Jack Rodden, have joined forces in an effort to make this game, an Appreciation Night affair, the heaviest drawing one to be put on in Roberts Field. Bringing the ticket-selling drive to an end this morning, Wiley said $527.25 had been obtained.

Big Spring business men and firms bought blocks of tickets to distribute them among their customers. Although tickets have been distributed with attendance at the Appreciation Night tussle in mind, tickets are good for any game here during the remainder of the regular season.

The War Today— Japan Runs Great Risk Of War In Present Delicate Maneuvering

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Herald Special News Service)
It needs no major prophet to assure us that there are the makings of a brand new war in the Far Eastern crisis, but it would be a mistake to assume that shooting is inevitable.

I don't believe that Japan wants war at this precise moment with Britain or Russia or the United States—much less a combination of the three. However, it's quite clear that the Nipponese, in trying to get set so that they can take advantage of any major German success in the European war, have maneuvered themselves into a mighty delicate position.

In short, the Japanese are running the very evident risk of military action by Britain. Moreover, authoritative sources in Washington express the belief that the United States will support any action that England takes. The Russian attitude hasn't been disclosed.

At just what point John Bull might fire a gun in anger is a matter of earnest speculation. The question of immediate concern is whether Japan, having occupied the forbidden land of French Indo-China, will now dare take the momentous step of seizing the neighboring state of Thailand.

Possession of Thailand, as well as French Indo-China, would give the Japanese a powerful military base from which they could strike in any direction. The snatching of Thailand would immediately increase the threat against Britain's great naval base of Singapore, the Dutch East Indies with their wealth of oil, rubber and other essentials, and the Philippines.

Will Britain strike if the Japanese carry out their aim of seizing Thailand? That's what Tokyo would like to know, along with the rest of the world. One would expect Nippon to have as far as humanly possible without precipitating war, and then at very tight pending definite indication of how the European conflict is going.

However, Japan is so far committed to her expansion program that a major German breakthrough of the Russian front at this precise juncture might impel her to cast off restraint and go all out for her objectives. Whether the Reds hold, or don't hold, therefore becomes a mighty item.

We undoubtedly would get considerable light if we knew what Constantin Smetanin, Soviet ambassador to Tokyo, said to Japanese Foreign Minister Toyoda during their conference yesterday. Did the Red envoy by any chance assure Admiral Toyoda that Russia would abide by the neutrality pact signed in April with Japan? Under that each agreed to keep hands off in event the other should be the "object of military action on the part of one or several powers."

In other words, if Russia kept this bond the Muscovites wouldn't intervene in case Japan should be the "object of military action" on the part of Britain—and maybe others. Certainly that the Bolsheviks wouldn't make common cause with the British in the Far East undoubtedly would have a tendency to stiffen Tokyo's attitude toward John Bull.

Prohibition Law Failure Denied

A letter, submitted by J. B. Cranfill, Dallas, to the Dallas News, has been submitted by the local W.T.C.U. and is reprinted in part herewith at its request. Dr. Cranfill takes issue with a News editorial declaring "prohibition has been found unsuccessful." To quote his letter:

"This is reminiscent of what Herbert Hoover said during his second presidential campaign. 'Prohibition is a noble experiment; but Herbert Hoover never tried the experiment. Prohibition has been and is successful wherever honestly tried. The trouble is and has been with enforcement officers. When public officials live up to their official oaths, prohibition succeeds. Where they fail, the law fails. Prohibition is consonant with the works of William E. Gladstone, the great English Statesman, who said, 'It is the duty of government to make it easy for the people to do right and hard for the people to do wrong.'"

"In effect the editorial takes the position that the liquor traffic is wholly bad and needs the restraining hand of an educated public sentiment. Our secular papers and radio stations could render an inestimable service to the cause of temperance by discontinuing the advertisement over radio and in newspaper columns of whiskey and beer. It seems little short of a crime to poison (an interesting radio program) with the injunction to drink...beer...and for our newspapers to carry beer and liquor advertising."

"Immediately after any restraining law is passed, the skillful attorneys of the liquor and beer traffic cudgel their brains for some means of evading it. 'One way to solve it is for every reader of this paper to become a total abstainer, and to vote for prohibition...in every election...in the re-enactment of the 18th amendment.'"

Accidents involving firearms, including "I didn't know it was loaded" guns, killed 2,582 Americans in 1939, the census bureau reports.

Can Eat Anything Without Suffering Misery Afterward

Twelve Years of Suffering Was Ended by Hoyt's Compound Says Ft. Worth Matron

Mrs. Minnie Shelley, 1204 La Canada St., a resident of Ft. Worth, Texas for 14 years, says: "I have been ailing twelve years. I seemed to be bothered with indigestion, suffering with gas, sour stomach, belching and was in misery all the time. My limbs and back ached. I had dizzy spells and could hardly see. I was nervous and felt despondent. I had tried all medicines I heard of without results. "After taking Hoyt's Compound I immediately noticed a distinct improvement in my digestion. Gas didn't form and my stomach was no longer sour and no more belching. I can eat anything without suffering and haven't had a dizzy spell since. I am happy to tell everyone what Hoyt's has done for me."

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and other leading druggists in this area.—adv.

Editorial— Luxuriant Weeds Are Fire Hazard

Once a year we observe a week for the cause of fire prevention. Every means is exhausted to make us conscious of the needless loss through fire and how best to combat this waste. Then too many of us forget the lessons until next year.

Right now is the time for some important fire prevention work. While we have been blessed in fine crop prospects through recurring rains this year, we also have the most luxuriant growth of weeds in many seasons. For several weeks now we have had no rains which insure the continued verdure of these weeds and many of them are nearing the maturing stage and drying up.

In a few days there is every prospect that they will make excellent tender for a carelessly dropped cigarette, sparks from a trash fire, or some other type of fire. Fanned by a brisk West Texas breeze, fire in these weeds could whip across a lot in no time and ignite fences, garages and homes before much could be done about it.

San Angelo has been afflicted with dozens of fires of this sort already. Colorado City has had its share, and unless plenty is done here the plague will reach us.

We can whip this threat before it materializes by a mid-summer clean-up campaign. If lots cannot be cleared of weeds, certainly areas adjacent to fences, barns, garages, houses, etc., can be cleaned. A few pennies spent for this can easily mean dollars saved from fire loss. It would be wise to invest these days in sensible fire prevention.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

Chapter 17
AMELIA NEXT

"You made the scene," Jeff flung over his shoulder as he gave the driver Tommy Neilson's address, the Hotel Bristol.

"Are you under the impression that you're tracking down the criminal?" I asked sweetly when we had got under way.

"I'm anxious to see the expression on your face when I solve this thing," Jeff growled.

"When that happens my face will have gone to claim its just reward."

"Look, I admit I didn't find out why Alice left the theater, but I did all right at that. The girl poured out her heart and soul to me."

"She poured out a lot of nonsense. I don't believe that Bowers ever promised her Carol's part, and as for the stuff about Tommy! He took Carol to lunch once or twice, he knew she was broke, and brought her home a few times, but that's all there was to it."

"Well, see what Tommy has to say," Jeff said.

"But we didn't. Tommy was out from the Bristol Jeff called Greeley Morris, but Mr. Morris, according to the operator at the Gotham, was not to be disturbed. Back in the cab Jeff directed the driver to the Alexandria.

"Next on our list, Amelia."

"But Jeff, why of all people, Amelia?"

"Why not?"

"All right, she might have poisoned Carol. But she never would have mistaken Eve for Carol no matter what Eve was wearing. She's been with Eve for a century. Why, it's just preposterous that Amelia, Jeff, surely you don't think she could have done it?"

"I don't know who did it. But Amelia's been around the theater all the time. Eve didn't keep her busy, she had nothing much to do. She might have a clue, a clue de luxe, with tinsel, and not even know it."

"We pulled up in front of the Alexandria. In the lobby Jeff pointed out with great pride the clerk who had been so helpful on his previous visit.

Amelia opened the door and when I saw her I was sorry I had let Jeff come. It would be cruel to bother her with questions and prying. It would be completely heartless. Her dark ugly face was filled with grief, her eyes swollen with crying.

Jeff said very gently, "Could we talk to you for a little while, Amelia?"

"Yes." She indicated chairs for us and stood watching us with a weary patience.

"We want you to help us if you can."

"Yes."

"If we can find the person who tried to kill Carol Blanton, we'll know who killed Miss North. You understand that, don't you, Amelia? And we think you can help us if you'll try. You've been around the theater a lot, at rehearsals and performances. You might have noticed something that none of the others did."

She watched Jeff intently. "I'm always around the theater when Miss North is playing. I took care of her."

"I know you did, Amelia. You were doing something for her that first night when the poison was put in Carol Blanton's glass, weren't you?"

Her head bobbed slowly up and down. "I was putting on the water for her tea. She didn't have an entrance early in the third act, so I was taking my time."

"When you crossed the stage to the kitchen did you see anyone?"

"Lots of people. Almost all the crew were there working."

"Anyone else?"

"Miss Thompson. She was setting the table."

Heartbreak took Jeff's hopeful face took a tumble. "Oh. Then you crossed before the dirty work was done."

And what then?"

"I made the tea and in a minute or two Miss Thompson came in. Then I went to Miss North's dressing room with the teapot."

"Was anyone on stage when you reentered it?"

"I didn't go through the set. I went behind it and I didn't see anyone, nobody at all."

"And last night you were in the kitchen again when Miss North was stabbed?"

"I was just coming out. I was crossing backstage when Miss Rogers started screaming. Mr. Bowers saw me, he was sitting there. He jumped up when the scream came and ran right past me. I know he saw me."

"Yes, Amelia, he said he did. Jeff leaned forward and said earnestly: "Amelia, haven't you ever noticed anything strange in connection with Miss Blanton? Anything at all? Did anyone seem to be watching her a lot or following her around? Did...?"

She hadn't heard. Would only act for Mr. Bowers. He was good to her. He could understand what it meant for a beautiful woman to be partly ugly. Sometimes I thought Miss Eve wanted me to be around her all the time because I'm ugly."

Jeff tried to swing the conversation back to Carol. "Amelia, did Miss Blanton ever seem frightened of anyone? Did she seem to avoid any one person in the company?"

"I remember when they brought her to the hospital, so beautiful and so horrible then. It was the only time I ever cried when I was a nurse. I made the doctors keep it a secret about her scars. And when she left the hospital, I went with her."

"Amelia," Jeff said.

"I never even left her for more than I could help it. And then it was to do something for her. She didn't want me to be away long. I think she was always afraid, afraid that someone would find out. Now she's all alone in a funeral parlor. They're taking her to Michigan to bury her. To Minden City, Michigan. She doesn't know anyone there, she was born there, that's all. I remember the day when they brought her into the hospital. I was a nurse..."

I touched Jeff's arm and we slipped out. As I closed the door behind us I could see Amelia folding a burnt orange negligee over a trunk hanger.

Last night there had been horror and tragedy, but it was garish and fantastic. This aftermath was real, heartbreakingly real. I almost ran out of the building, away from that bleak place where Eve North had lived and where now a tired old woman was putting Eve's house in order.

Too, Too Pleasant

The thought of facing the devastation of England's leading man of letters had left me weak. Secretly I was praying that Mr. Greeley Morris was still not to be disturbed. The desk clerk squashed my hopes, however. After a brief bit of phone-play, he announced brightly that Mr. Morris would see us. I followed Jeff unwillingly into the elevator.

"But why do we have to see him, Jeff? I don't want to."

"Shhh! The operator may be in his pay. Twelve, operator? We stood outside the door numbered 1213 and I started to grope nervously in my bag for a cigarette. Jeff shook his head at me. The door opened and Greeley Morris blinked in our faces. He was still in his pajamas.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Morris!" Jeff's accent on the good was terrific.

The playwright looked at us for seconds while I grew crimson and small. When he had finally reduced me to something that must have looked like a scarlet pygmy, he said, smiling with just his lips: "Do come in. It's so very nice to see you."

Trying to act as if I hadn't noticed that he was in his pa-

Walter Lippmann Says— Marshal Petain Made Big Error Just One Year Ago

By WALTER LIPPMAN

It is not necessary to explain to any intelligent Frenchman that America has a direct and vital interest in the fate of the French empire. The surrender of Indo-China has brought this country to the verge of war in the Pacific. The surrender of the African empire would threaten the security of the western hemisphere and enlarge very greatly the scope and the probable duration of the conflict in the Atlantic. A surrender in Africa would cause an irreparable break between America and Vichy. It would mean that the destruction of the Vichy regime had become a necessary part of the destruction of Hitlerism.

For the surrender of northwest Africa would not only violate the solemn pledges of Marshal Petain, thus proving that the Vichy regime had been captured by men who have invested their lives and their fortunes in a Nazi victory. Much that Vichy has done has been explained on the ground that Marshal Petain has a nose around his neck. But what was done in Syria, what might be done in Africa, can never be explained in that way.

The Netherlands are also occupied territory and Dutch soldiers are also prisoners of war and the Dutch people on the continent are also at the mercy of the German army and of the Nazi party. Nevertheless the Dutch empire stands firm and nothing Hitler threatens to do to the Dutch in the occupied territory causes the Dutch in the free world to think of surrendering.

Belgium is an occupied country, her king and her army are prisoners of war, her people subject to all the indignities and reprisals of the Nazi conqueror. But the Belgium empire overseas continues to be at war with Hitler.

There is nothing that Hitler can do to the Frenchmen which he cannot do also to the Dutch and the Belgians.

Therefore, it would never be possible to accept any explanation which said that Marshal Petain had to break not only the original alliance with Britain but that he had also to violate his own personal pledge to the world. If Africa is surrendered, it will not be because there is no other choice available, but because there have prevailed in Vichy the men who wish to help Hitler win the war.

thanks to British sea and air power in the Mediterranean, and with the help of the very substantial support which America could and in fact has defended against Hitler. If it is not defended, though Marshal Petain is pledged to defend it, it will be because the men of the independence and the honor of Vichy prefer a Hitler victory to France.

There are obviously Frenchmen who have staked everything on a Hitler victory. A man like Laval could hardly expect to survive and prosper in a liberated France; as a matter of fact he knows and says that his own life is forfeit if Hitler is defeated.

Men in this position have not been in full control in Vichy. The surrender would then require not merely the expulsion of the Germans but also the total destruction of the Vichy regime.

For in the eyes of true Frenchmen and of all the free peoples they would have committed an unpardonable act of treachery.

Thus they would force France first into war against the allies and friends of France, and then, as the Nazi occupation begins to crumble under the impact of the world wide coalition that has now been formed, their treachery would inexorably provoke a civil war within France. For the liberation of France would then require not merely the expulsion of the Germans but also the total destruction of the Vichy regime.

Marshal Petain made one tragic miscalculation a year ago when, believing that the war was over, he refused to fight on from Africa. The war aligned against Germany today are immensely greater than when he made his erroneous decision.

That error could be retrieved today by adhering loyally to his own pledges. If the pledges are broken, when the situation is so favorable to honoring them, Marshal Petain will not only lose the duration of the war but he will prolong the war—perhaps for years—inflicting infinite suffering upon the bodies and deep misery upon the souls of his people.

Man About Manhattan— Taking Up Racing, Guy Lombardo Names All His Boats 'Tempo'

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — The doughtiest New York salt of them all, skipper Guy Lombardo, waved a nonchalant hand toward four speed boats and said, "There they are—my babies."

The "babies" were trim and fast and their names were Tempo-1, Tempo-2, Tempo-3, and Tempo-4. The skipper likes the name Tempo. Tempo is what makes the music go round and round, what makes the money come in, what makes him — by popular poll—the number one orchestra in the country today. Guy also has a yacht, and its name is—Tempo.

He had on a pair of old pants and there were fingerprints on them that showed that his hands had been covered with heavy, black motor oil. He likes to dig into the insides of motors. The only noise in the world to him that is half as sweet as the Lombardo tempo is the sweet hum of propellers. Racing is in his blood. It's hair-raising, sometimes, and he takes spills. But then how does he know he won't trip over a piccolo some night and bust his neck on a public dance floor?

It's old Number 4—Tempo-4—that is the Canadian's current "crush." He'll be at the wheel for the Lido Beach Club trophy races, out at Reynolds' channel, early in August—and he can't wait to get started. Tempo-4 is 18 feet long and eight feet wide and where do you think Guy keeps her. In a boat house? Just an ordinary old boat house? You don't know Guy. He keeps Miss Tempo-4 inside his OWN house, at Freeport, L. I., which is so close to the water he can sit on his front porch and fish.

What makes Lombardo qualified to do these things is the fact that he can tear an entire motor to pieces, and put it together without having any spare parts left over.

Now a line on three of Guy's brothers who are also members of his musical organization. They are Carmen, Victor, and Lebert. Lebert yawns politely when speedboats are mentioned. He prefers sailing... Carmen and Victor are prime candidates for the cavalry. They ride horses.

"Push isn't the only thing you need to race boats," Guy says, "Restraint is necessary at times. Take me. At Lake Hopatcong I beat the starting gun 25 seconds and was disqualified. I certainly was disappointed."

An average day's routine finds our gay Tar beating up a froth on the Sound by 10 a. m. ... Sometimes

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Revealed: How To Marry Just Any Movie Actress

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Laurel and Hardy were on location at nearby Inglewood, at the ramshackle railway station—new devoted exclusively to freight service—which has played a part in many movies. It was a hot but windy day, and there was more than ordinary confusion to attract a crowd.

The station, which nets $150 rental per eight-hour day from the movies, was doubling temporarily as "Fort Merritt, 11th Cavalry Division," in "Great Guns," the Laurel-Hardy contribution to the fun-in-the-draft cycle.

Milling about, or on the train, were scores of movie selectees, including the comice. The hard-boiled sergeant was on horseback, close to the camera, and the big horse was restless. Curly Twiford, the bird and animal man, was there with his tamed trick raven—Laurel's devoted pet in the script. There were lights, tinsel reflectors, microphones, action, excitement. The crowd came to watch, stare, or gape.

But the movie contingent, those who weren't showing lights or holding the milk or pushing props—do you know what they were doing? They were off by the main track, watching, staring, and gapping as a freight crew unloaded a new shipment of bright, shiny, automobiles.

"I never knew they did it this way," one of the movie crowd said, fascinated. "Who'd of thought it?"

How To Torture Your Wife

During the big hurricane sequence of "Beep the Wild Wind"—with wet waves and high winds and hot lights conspiring against the collective health of cast and crew—C. B. DeMille set up a portable hospital. Purpose: cold prevention. Throats were sprayed, nasal passages blown out, medicinal tablets consumed generously and strict orders given for all to change to dry clothes for lunch.

The campaign succeeded, apparently. The only cold victim was DeMille.

"Trader Horn" is coming back—not a revival, but in "Sundown," Harry Carey, playing the part of a white hunter who stumbles on to a dire plot and a mystery, is wearing a costume identical with that he wore as star of the old hit.

Overheard in a pub: "Anybody, just anybody, can marry a movie star. All a fellow has to do is sit around and listen sympathetically while she talks about herself. Most stars are lonesome. They go out with actors, but actors wanna talk about themselves. So you let her talk, and you just listen, and first thing you know she's married you—and you're set for life, or as long as they pick up her option."

Who said romance was dead in these days and parts?

Paramount claims to have official sanction from Private Peter Pfefferkamp, Camp Blanding, Fla., for placing Dorothy Lamour in that "Bell Tolls" movie as Maria. Private Peter is purported to have polled 40,000 of the camp's 80,000 men, with all voting for Lamour.

Suggests National 40-Mile Speed Limit
 HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—State Police Commissioner Lynn G. Adams today suggested a nationwide 40-mile speed limit fixed by the federal government as the best way to conserve gasoline in America's efforts to save fuel for defense purposes.
 In addition to cutting down consumption of fuel, the veterans of 30 years police and highway safety work added "on top of that, you'd get a by-product in the saving of thousands of lives....velocity kills people."

Connally Asks Big Increase In Tax Levy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A billion dollar boost in the house-approved $3,200,000,000 tax bill was suggested today by Senator Connally (D-Tex.).
 He said that the senate should try to write that much in additional taxes in an effort to offset the mounting cost of national defense.
 State finance committeemen generally have agreed that their group should so revamp the tax measure as to make up $323,000,000 in revenue lost when the house voted down a recommendation of its ways and means committee that husbands and wives be required to file joint returns when both had incomes.
 Connally, a member of the finance committee, said in an interview, however, that "the cost of defense had increased considerably since the ways and means committee set out to raise $3,500,000,000 of extra money.
 One widely-discussed method of increasing revenue was a proposal, recommended by President Roosevelt but rejected by the ways and means committee, that the present individual income tax exemptions be reduced from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals.
 On this subject Connally thought a cut in the exemption for married couples might be feasible, but expressed doubt that anything would be gained by reducing single persons' exemptions from $800 to $750.
 The Texan said it might be possible to increase income tax rates "all down the line" to raise additional funds.
 The senate finance group continued its closed sessions with treasury and congressional tax experts today, and planned to hear Secretary Morgenthau when open hearings start tomorrow.

Lions Induct Two New Members

Stranded In Desert, Seven Persons Die

YUMA, Ariz., Aug. 7 (AP)—Seven bodies lying in a little adobe building at San Luis, Sonora, across the border a few miles from here, offered grim proof today that an abandoned stage road through the desert was aptly named El Camino Del Diablo—the Devil's Highway.
 The seven perished of heat and thirst after their truck failed to negotiate the dunes region where temperatures exceed 110 degrees and the humidity has been high.
 Shoulder Dislocated In Bed
 NEWBURYPORT, Mass.—In a hospital bed after an operation, Edwin B. Coltin reached out to dispose of a handkerchief and dislocated his shoulder.

 had managed to replace the books and move away from the table before our host returned. His dressing gown made me gasp; in fact, all his clothes had me wishing that I were a man.
 After he had called room service and ordered a pot of coffee, he lit one of his long peculiar looking cigarettes and turned to Jeff with a question in his eyes. The telephone buzzed. Morris answered it and it was evidently an interview. His civility amazed me. It was over at last and Morris poured his coffee. He seemed vaguely surprised that Jeff and I were still there. "Well?" He smiled ironically. "Why did I want to kill Miss Blanton? Why did I stab Miss North? It's only fair, you know, that I be kept well informed."
 Jeff thumbed through a sheaf of clippings. I could see they were reviews of Green Apple. Morris crossed his legs, lit another cigarette, and waited. You could hear the traffic screaming in the streets below, accenting the stillness of the room. I closed my eyes and plunged in.

Gasoline Rationing Plan Worked Out
 NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—A gasoline rationing plan for New York state has been drawn up for possible use beginning in September and has been submitted to federal officials as a model for other eastern seaboard states.
 The plan, suggesting a limit of 15 gallons a week for pleasure car owners to conserve eastern gasoline supplies already threatened by lack of oil tanker transportation, was devised by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Carroll E. Mealey at the request of Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes.
