

Opposition To Income Tax Change Rises

Lower Exemptions,
Joint Returns Are
Points of Debate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Senate opposition materialized quickly today to the finance committee's proposal for stiffening the new defense tax bill by lowering personal income exemptions and thus requiring an additional 7,000,000 persons to file returns.

There was opposition, too, for a provision that would end the community property system of filing returns now permitted in eight states—Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho, California, Nevada and Washington.

Under the finance committee's plan, the bill—which called for a record-breaking $3,236,700,000, as passed by the house—would have its yield boosted to an estimated $3,590,700,000.

Approximately $308,000,000 of this potential increase was accounted for when the committee voted yesterday to lower present income exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 and from $500 to $750 for single persons.

An additional $51,000,000 revenue would be derived by eliminating the community property returns. In the past, husbands and wives in the eight community property states have been able to divide their income and make separate returns. Thus, a man with a $10,000 salary could file a return on $5,000 and his wife could file on $5,000. In many cases the system brought the aggregate of the separate taxes below what the total would have been under a single return.

Raid Warning Service Heads Are Named

Foundation of an air-raid warning service for Howard county has been laid.

County Judge Walton Morrison has forwarded to Governor Coke Stevenson a list of suggested aircraft warning council members and observation post organizers, who will likely be formally appointed within the next few days.

The local aircraft warning council will be composed of Judge Morrison, J. E. Brown, H. T. Hale, R. L. Nall, Akin Simpson, Charlie Sullivan, C. W. Deata, P. W. Malone, D. S. Riley, W. B. Younger, J. S. Robbins, Dave Duncan, Gladys Smith, Edmund Nestelina, G. C. Dunbar, Art Wenzelner and Lee Porter.

Observation post organizers recommended by this council were H. L. Bohannon, Mrs. T. C. Thomas, R. R. McEwen, Cliff Wiley, C. O. Nalley, Dale Thompson, J. H. Greene, Mrs. H. W. Smith, James Little and J. L. LeBlanc.

These leaders in the aircraft warning service are standing by for further instructions from the governor as to the type of service they will give.

Senate Committee To Probe Oil Shortage

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The senate committee voted unanimously today to undertake an immediate investigation of "the whole situation" regarding gasoline and oil shortages.

Chairman Bailey (D-NC) named a subcommittee headed by Senator Maloney (D-Conn) to conduct the inquiry. Bailey explained that the committee was empowered to act without senate authorization.

Rotary President Goes To Europe

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Thomas Jefferson Davis, Butte Mont., lawyer and president of Rotary International, left for Europe today on the Atlantic Clipper to see what Rotary clubs in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales are doing in war-time service.

He said he would return next month to report on his findings to the Rotary clubs in this country "for their possible aid and assistance in the event of war."

Dr. John R. Brinkley Remains Critically Ill

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 26 (AP)—Dr. John R. Brinkley, critically ill of a circulatory condition, was reported unchanged at Research hospital today after an uncomfortable night.

Hospital attaches said there was a possibility an operation to amputate his left leg might not be necessary although no definite decision had been made. His physician, Dr. D. R. Black, said the amputation might be necessary because of a large blood clot below the left ankle.

Reds Admit Nazis Threaten Railway

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, Aug. 26 (AP)—Red army machine-gunners were reported today to be mowing down waves of German infantry, motorcyclists and panzer crews trying to close in on Leningrad for the kill after smashing through fortified Novgorod, in Leningrad's outer defense system.

By The Associated Press
Adolf Hitler's high command late today reported the capture of Dnieperpetrovsk, described as the last Russian bridgehead on the west bank of the lower Dnieper river, along with 53,000 soviet prisoners, and other German reports told of a new thrust in the drive on Leningrad in the north.

On the Russo-German war front, a red army bulletin acknowledged today that nazi troops were advancing toward Leningrad's jugular vein, the rail line to Moscow, after capturing Novgorod, 100 miles south of the old czarist capital. The Germans were reported within 35 miles of the railroad. DNB, the official German news agency, said nazi troops on Sunday captured the industrial city of Luga, 90 miles south of Leningrad, about midway along the Pskov-Leningrad road.

Lightning Kills One, Hurts Nine

ALVIN, Aug. 26 (AP)—Lightning that struck a derrick on a farm one mile west of here killed a former Houston high school player and injured nine others yesterday.

Joseph McQuillan, Jr., 20, of Houston, who planned to enter Sam Houston State Teachers College this fall, was killed. He and the nine injured were employed by companies erecting the derrick. The injured: Ralph and Woodrow Rutstrom of Houston, also former Houston high school football players; Pete Dowling, assistant football and baseball coach at Reagan high school, Houston; Herbert and Quinton Jamison, Pearland; J. V. Adamson, 44, F. C. Hugins, 34, Fred Smalley, 35, and J. B. McAuley, 44, all of Anahuac.

Congressman Warns Of Greater Defense Sacrifices

The American people face still greater sacrifices in making their defense effort successful and to be prepared for war eventualities, but the administration is confident that if and when a test comes, America will be ready.

That was the message brought Big Spring Rotarians at their luncheon Tuesday from this district's congressman, George Mahon of Colorado City. Mahon, during the current "breathing spell" of congress, has returned home for a short stay, and is making an informal tour of his district. He plans to witness the Louisiana army maneuvers next month on his way back to the national capital.

Nazi Infiltration At Dakar Denied

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Aug. 26 (AP)—An official French statement, prompted by foreign radio charges that the Germans are talking over the defenses of the French African naval base of Dakar, said today "there is not a single German in all French West Africa, not even an armistice commission."

He Prefers Bourbon— Duke Of Kent Just Another Good Guy

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 26 (AP)—As far as I am concerned, the Duke of Kent is just another good guy named Joe who is trying his level best to handle a tough job.

And don't think keeping on the move about 18 hours a day, flying from pillar to post, shaking hands with several hundred persons and watching every little word and move to keep from being tagged a stuffed shirt isn't a tough job.

When the interview was arranged I didn't know what to ask him. After all it was my first experience in interviewing a duke.

"What do you think," I began, groping for the rest of the question, "what do you think of American labor's defense effort?" "Marvelous. The spirit is wonderful. Please say for me that we deeply appreciate the tremendous

Vichy Fixes Strict Laws On Sabotage

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Aug. 26 (AP)—French civilian watchmen, conscripted to mount guard over the railroads around Paris, will pay with their lives for any sabotage in their assigned sectors, it was ruled today as authorities strove to stem a tide of disorders.

A special summary court with the power to sentence to death all communists and anarchists in the occupied zone will begin functioning tomorrow only four days after its creation by decree of the Vichy government.

The court's work will dovetail with that of German occupation authorities, who have announced they would take care of the communists themselves. It will have jurisdiction in the seven occupied departments and will enjoy the same court martial status as military and naval tribunals of the unoccupied zone.

Persian Resistance Against Armies Of Invasion Slight

IRAN ASKS FEW NAZIS TO LEAVE

By The Associated Press
Russian Cossacks sweeping down from the north and British Imperial troops striking from the south and west were reported meeting only slight resistance in the two-day-old invasion of Iran (Persia) today as the allies sought a swift clean-up of the ancient middle east oil kingdom.

Dispatches from the new war theatre said Indian and British forces, including air-borne troops such as Adolf Hitler exploited in the conquest of Greece, had seized three key points after brief skirmishes.

Dispatches from Tehran, the Iran capital, indicated that the government might be preparing the ground for early peace negotiations as Teheran police ordered 16 German businessmen to get out of the county within a fortnight.

The British have charged that there were between 3,000 and 5,000 Germans in the kingdom, and both London and Moscow had demanded their expulsion for several weeks before the joint invasion.

So far, the British said, the biggest prize taken was the town of Abadan, 20 miles up the Shatt-Al-Arab river from the Gulf of Persia, where the troops occupied one of the world's three largest oil refineries.

In addition, the British reported the capture of nearby Bandar Shahpur and the Iraq-Iran border town of Qasr-I-Shirin, 400 miles north.

Iran's Wealth Flows Here—An oil pipeline swings through mountains near the Anglo-Persian oil fields in Iran. British and Russian troops invaded the wealthy oil kingdom of Iran to enforce demands for the ouster of German agents.

Under strong aerial support, advancing British Tommies and Indian contingents gained a direct route to the Iran capital of Teheran in capturing Bandar Shahpur, the southern terminus of the Trans-Iranian railroad. Teheran lies on the mountain slopes 70 miles south of the Caspian Sea.

A hint that Germany may soon take a hand in the conflict came from Berlin, meanwhile, with authorized nazi quarters declaring that the reich and Iran were in active contact over the situation arising from the Anglo-Soviet invasion.

A nazi spokesman declined to discuss the nature of the negotiations, however, and described reports of German offers of support to the Iranians as "trial balloons."

Nearly All Workers Back In Shipyard

By The Associated Press
Under navy control, the strike-troubled Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company's Kearny, N. J., plant returned to work today on $468,000,000 of defense ships while transit workers, already back on their jobs, voted in Detroit on whether the AFL or CIO should represent them.

On this first day of full activity at the shipyard since the strike started Aug. 7, the navy said that 10,889 or 97.3 per cent of the workers reported for duty.

Resumption after 19 days of idleness of construction of warships and maritime commission vessels at Kearny last night to sell the entire business to the government. L. H. Korndorff, company president, suggested that would simplify matters since the navy is running the establishment.

The navy took charge of the Federal yard Sunday on orders from President Roosevelt after the company and CIO shipbuilders failed to reach agreement to end a strike.

Veto Of Crop Bill Probably Is Final

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—House members predicted today that no attempt would be made to override President Roosevelt's sharply-worded veto of legislation to freeze government loan stocks of wheat and cotton and to relax penalties for producing above-quota wheat.

"That bill is as dead as anything can be and I don't think anyone will be foolish enough to ask for a vote," Rep. Cochran (D-Mo) said.

County's First Cotton Ginned

Howard county's first bale of cotton of what promises to be a bumper 1941 season was ginned at noon here Tuesday.

Aubrey Weaver was the producer and Planter's was the ginner. The cotton was picked Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning off 17 acres on the J. B. Pickle farm three miles south of Big Spring. Actually the field contains 36 acres based.

Borden Oil Test Staked

Another wildcat oil test for Borden county was assured Monday with the announcement that Anderson-Prichard Corp. and Osage Drilling Co., would spud a 4,500-foot test on or before Oct. 1.

The test will be carried as the No. 1 A. M. Clayton, et al, and while location has not been staked, it will be approximately 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of sections 1-1, John DeShazo survey. It is slightly more than two miles south of the Lynn county line and is due to be on a seismograph high shot by Pure Oil Co., and known as the Teadway structure.

Anderson-Prichard took 2,328 acres on a checkerboard farm-out from Pure's 10,000-acre spread. Tide Water Associated Oil Co., and the Texas Pacific Oil Co., which already had acreage, bought additional leases from Anderson-Prichard. Osage is to have half interest in the wildcat and in the 80-acre drilling site, and full interest in three outside 80-acre tracts.

Turkey Feels Pinch Of New Battle Lines

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 25. (Delayed) (AP)—Turkey found herself surrounded by battling world powers today through the British-Russian invasion of Iran, her eastern neighbor, and many observers in this neutral capital said they expected an active German reaction.

Whether Germany might attempt to spoil the allied plans by a headlong drive through Turkey from her plentiful Aegean and Black sea bases or reopen the African campaign as a threat to Egypt and Suez was a subject of speculation in foreign military circles.

Officially, Turkey appeared to take the situation philosophically. (The Turkish embassy staff in London, however, expressed worry over the invasion yesterday and a spokesman said it "hedged Turkey with war and makes the maintenance of neutrality more difficult than ever.")

British and Russian ambassadors visited Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu to advise him that troops of the two nations had crossed Iranian borders to terminate months of wrangling as to whether the Shah, Reza Kahn Pahlavi, would accept British suggestions that German specialists, "tourists and technicians," be expelled.

Navy Recruiting Office Moved

The U. S. navy recruiting office has been moved from the courthouse to the basement of the federal postoffice building, H. P. Jones, recruiting officer, reported Tuesday.

Permanent quarters are now maintained at room 17 in the federal building.

At the same time, Jones said application of Eugene Peach, Colorado City, had been accepted and he would be instructed to report to Dallas the latter part of the week. Peach is the son of R. G. Peach, route 1, Big Spring, and is a former resident of this city.

Summer Playground Program Near End

The city-WPA recreation department supervised playground program for the summer season will be climaxed Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with a singing games festival, Haddon F. Malone, supervisor, said Tuesday.

Groups of children from each of the city's playgrounds will be presented in two singing games, and as a grand finale, the entire group will present "Looby Loo."

The Sunset Serradores, string band, will open the festivities on the park's center lawn. Malone urged residents to witness the affair.

Past Records Show— Twenty-Seven Texans Will Die Labor Day

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (AP)—Predicting a Labor Day accident toll of 27 deaths and 900 injuries, the Texas Safety Association today advised extra vigilance for the holiday.

George Clarke, managing director, said the prediction was based on accident trends this year and the rate for the same holiday weekend last year.

Translated in terms of the defense program, four bombers could be built with the economic loss of the probable Labor Day death and accident costs, Clarke declared.

The association has been named Texas coordinator in a national anti-accident campaign approved by President Roosevelt.

Miss Laneous Engagement Of Miss Lamar Is Announced Shower Given Mrs. Spillman In Graves Home

Remember how the prospectors used to cry with joy when they found gold—so the stories go.

STANTON, Aug. 26 (Sp)—Mrs. J. B. Lamar announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Lorraine, to Paul Odis Patsick of Big Spring, at a tea in the Lamar home, Monday afternoon.

The bride's book at which Mrs. F. L. Daniell presided, was of parchment and the cover was hand decorated with spray of Lillies of the Valley, and gold script lettered the various pages.

Miss Lamar is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. B. Lamar. For the last several years she has been a teacher in the Big Spring schools.

Miss Laneous, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. B. Lamar, for the last several years she has been a teacher in the Big Spring schools. She was assisted by Rose Ellen Gibson and Mary George Morris. The center piece was a bride in flowing white veil of illusion carrying a prayer book. Surrounding was a wreath of baby's breath and fern. Vases of Shasta daisies were used on the buffet and service table.

Not being the complaining (?) sort and endeavoring to do the best possible, the scratches and scrawls that we make with these aridwhills pens would make forgers of our signature mighty difficult, if we had anything to forge.

Cowgirls Will Get Big Prizes At Midland

MIDLAND, Aug. 26. — Cowgirl sponsors representing towns, cities and ranches of Texas and New Mexico will compete for prizes valued at more than $1000 in the colorful sponsor contests at the seventh annual Midland Rodeo, August 30, 31 and September 1. The attractive awards comprise the most costly array of prizes ever offered in a similar contest.

Between 35 and 40 of the top-ranking cowgirls of the Southwest are expected to participate in the events which are sponsored by the Midland chamber of commerce, with Roy Parks as chairman.

The contest is divided into three divisions—regular sponsor contest, sponsor roping contest, and sponsor cattle penning contest—with attractive awards in each division.

First place winner in the cowgirl sponsors calf roping contest will receive a beautiful young dun horse from the famous herd of "Scharbauer duns." Clarence Scharbauer is the donor of the horse.

A $350 Hobbs DeLuxe horse coach will be awarded the winner of the grand finals sponsors' event—a cattle penning contest in which the top five winners in the regular sponsor contest at the 1941 show will be eligible to compete along with previous first place winners of the Midland rodeo, with the exception of previous cattle penning contests.

As an extra added attraction at this year's show, Miss Margaret Owens, Ozona, winner of the regular sponsor contest in 1939 and who won the sponsor calf roping contest last year, will challenge the winner of the 1941 cowgirl roping contest in a matched roping. Winner of the special event will receive a $75 wrist watch donated jointly by the Lamesa Cotton Oil company and the Big Spring Cotton Oil company.

Expenditures this year on new construction will total about 10 billion dollars, the department of commerce reports.

Dream? No air! This is no cowgirl's dream, but actually what the Midland rodeo is to give to the winners in cowgirl sponsors for the annual show there Aug. 30-31-Sept. 1. Grand prize will be the $350 deluxe Hobbs horse coach, awarded to the sponsor winning the cattle penning contest between top sponsors. Other prizes include a Dun horse colt given by Clarence Scharbauer, Jr. to winning sponsor in the roping contest, a saddle, luggage, wrist watch, boots, make-up case, belt buckle set, and a bracelet. Shown here with the store of awards is Jo Ann Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Proctor, Nancy LaForce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. LaForce, and Clarence Scharbauer, Jr. The contest is open to any girl or woman, who is over 14 years of age who has been duly appointed by proper authorities of her community or county.

Thumping Doesn't Prove If Melon Ripe Says Expert

Thumping does not mean a lot when you're wanting to know if a watermelon is ripe.

But there are plenty of other ways of picking a melon in the proper stage of life to make good eating, according to F. M. Stevenson, local watermelon dealer who has been handling them all of his life, both as a grower and dealer. Stevenson likes to carefully pick from the field, every melon that he sells from his ice house in Big Spring. And many years of experience have taught him just which melons to take and which to leave in the field.

He looks at the skin of the melon. If it is smooth and firm, that means the specimen is healthfully developed. If little crackly places are appearing, that's a sign the melon is immature. The vine should be green and fresh looking, but if the melon is ripe the "curl" should be dead.

Unless the melon has been rolled around a lot while on the vine, its underside will be clear white when it is ripe. A finger nail dropped against the skin on the upper side should break through easily, and the skin should scratch away easily.

Spring—in the sandy land to the north.

About two thirds of the customers at the watermelon vaults prefer red-meat watermelons, but the yellow-meat fans are emphatic in their choice. "Personally," said Stevenson, "I favor the red meat. I just can't help thinking of pumpkins when I eat yellow ones and I don't care for pumpkin."

That there are fewer people these days who like watermelon now than in former days is attributed by this watermelon expert to the plentiful supply of soda pop and other goodies that folks didn't see so much of in earlier days. Now, with taste-treats plentiful, watermelon cutting just isn't the occasion it used to be.

Average temperature in Canada is higher than in Chile.

James M. West's Funeral Today

HOUSTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—James Marion West, 70-year-old Houston capitalist and Austin and Dallas newspaper publisher, will be buried today in Forest Park cemetery here following funeral services at 3 p. m. at St. Paul's Methodist church.

Services will be read by Methodist Bishop A. Frank Smith and the Rev. Dawson C. Bryan.

West, publisher of the Dallas Journal and the Austin Tribune, died in a Kansas City hospital last Sunday after catching cold during a business trip.

Amundsen studied medicine but gave up that career to become a seaman, and one of his voyages was the founding of the Northwest Passage.

Dodgers Put More Pressure On Cards

By The Associated Press
With the echoes of Sunday's ding-dong twin bill still ringing in everybody's ears, the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers squared off for another double date today with the pressure more obviously than ever on the Redbirds.

Food Co-Op Directors To View Plants

Board of directors of the Howard County Food Cooperative will make a tour of frozen food locker plants in West Texas Wednesday.

Object of the tour is to study plants now in operation in order to gain ideas for the locker plant the cooperative plans to build here.

The tour will probably take the directors to Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Post, Abilene and other points.

Members of the board are A. J. Stallings, R. N. Adams, M. L. Hamlin, R. G. Wilson and Ross Hill.

Sale of common stock in the cooperative is being resumed, with an effort being made to sell the entire issue within the next few weeks.

S. Alexander Posts 67 Card To Lead Field

Favorite Ward, Todd, Billows Drop Far Afield In Medalist

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 26 (AP)—The "anything can happen" golf tournament—the 45th national amateur championship—followed that suspense-packed pattern in the stretch drive for medalist honors at the field club today.

Out in front as the field swung into the final 18 holes of qualifying play was a comparative "unknown," Stewart (Skip) Alexander, Jr., of Burlington, N. C., the pace-maker on a brilliant five-under-par 67. One stroke back was John P. Burke of Chicago, while far back were such favorites as Bud Ward, Ray Billows and Harry Todd. And right ahead was the day's qualifying windup with a four-under 5, going out and clipping par a stroke on the home trip for a 35.

Burke, former national intercollegiate champion, preceded Alexander to the showers with a 68 which showed five birdies and one bogie. Three shots back, bracketed at par 72, were Otto Greiner of Baltimore, the ex-tennis king, Ellisworth Vines, and Ted Bishop, New England champion.

Ward, the Spokane star who won the championship in 1939 and is the general favorite, came in with a 73 after bogeying the 15th and 17th holes. He was bracketed with another ex-champion, Johnny Goodman, the 1937 amateur king. A third 73 shooter was Glenn Oatman of Kansas City. Then at 74 came defending champion Dick Chapman, who fell off to an "in" nine of 39.

Downpour wrecked yesterday's baseball program completely in the National league and only a part of the junior circuit card survived.

One game played was a night encounter between the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians in which the Red Sox beat Bob Feller 1-0.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the New York Yankees, 9-1.

The St. Louis Browns battled to a 6-3 triumph over the Washington Senators in the first game of a doubleheader and then struggled 10 innings to a 4-4 tie in the nightcap.

Colorado City Decorated For Roundup Days

Colorado City, Aug. 26 (Sp)—Bunting began its festive waving on Colorado City streets this week as this West Texas town, now celebrating its sixtieth anniversary, got set for the seventh annual Colorado City Frontier Roundup next Thursday and Friday, Sept. 4-5.

Gay shirts, boots, and sombreros were coming out of storage or being "frashed" up for the celebration. Frontier Roundup officials were urging all Mitchell Countians to wear colorful western regalia during the celebration.

Oldtimers have already begun arriving for the annual oldtimers homecoming which is held in connection with the Roundup each year. This year the homecoming will be highlighted by the fact that this is the town's sixtieth anniversary.

Good saddle horses are once more at a premium locally as Roundup-minded citizens seek mounts for themselves and their children in the parade which will open the Roundup at 1 o'clock next Thursday. A large number of mounted men and women, boys and girls, always feature the parade, which is being planned this year as a pageant-like portrayal of 60 years of progress in this section of West Texas.

Match Rounds In Junior Golf Get Underway

Ex-Champ Luce Vies With Barbato; Roden Drops To First Flight

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 26 (AP)—Arthur (Buck) Luce went up against Luca Barbato of Baton Rouge, La., in the initial round of the 15th annual junior golf tournament today after turning in a par-equalling 71 to take medalist honors.

Luce, winner of the 1936, 1937 and 1938 championships, outshot a field of 181 youngsters in the qualifying round yesterday over the tough Brackridge Park layout. Qualifying round scores ranged from Luce's 71 to 130.

Tied for the runner-up spot in the medal round were Joe Zachariah of Baton Rouge, Louisiana state junior champion; Herbert Neyland of San Angelo, and Pat Rauscheibach of San Antonio.

Those who turned in 79's were James McFair of Brown's, Maurice Deckman of Dallas and Jimmy Beardley of Refugio.

Bill Roden of Glen Rose, pre-tournament favorite to take the title surrendered to Jimmy Chesney of San Antonio, blew himself to a surprising 81 and landed in the first flight. George Seaborn, Austin city champion, got an 80, which also prevented him from playing in the top flight.

Cardinals Prexy Lauds Club's Playing Spirit

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—The proudest man in St. Louis today is President Sam Breardon of the pennant-chasing Cardinals.

"How can you give up on a ball club like the Red Birds when they won't give up themselves," says Breardon.

"If these boys could be discouraged they should have been before this with the injuries they've received. I'm proud of them. We all are proud of them."

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (Herald Special News Service)—That rain yesterday cost the Yankees about $25,000. Even if they have a sellout today they can't pack enough folks into Yonkers Field to make up for the ones who wanted to see yesterday's game. Anyway, it gave the ump's a chance to get their nerves calmed down after Sunday. The players knew they wouldn't get the heave-ho from such an important series for anything less than crossing Bill Klem's line and they hollered all afternoon. Did you notice that the new date for the Louis-Nova fight is just before the world series is due to start. If the Yankees and Brooks are in it, all the fighters will collect is what the ball clubs have to turn back because there's no more room. Bob Feller is trying to add a slider to his pitching repertoire, which leads a lot of baseball men to wonder why the buy with the best fast ball in the majors ever bothers with anything else. If Dal Baker goes out, Detroit may bring Al Vincent up from Buffalo, where he's been doing a bang-up job of developing young players. Al never played big league ball, but neither did a gent named Joe McCarthy, who's made out all right as a manager.

Kohout Adds 16th Win; Haney Greer Have Hitting Spree

LAMESA, Aug. 16 — Big Spring's league-leading Bombers trounced the Lamesa Lobos here Tuesday night, taking the first of a two-game series by a lop-sided 11 to 2 score.

Big Spring got the breaks throughout but did not need them as Bob Kohout pitched airtight ball throughout, holding the Lobos to five hits over the route and adding his sixteenth victory.

Contract For Lubbock Air School Let

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—A $3,973,988 lump sum contract has been awarded by the war department for construction of temporary buildings and facilities for establishment of an advanced twin engine flying school at Lubbock, Tex., to C. S. Lambie Corporation, Amarillo, Tex.; W. S. Moxx, Lubbock, and Holland Page, Austin, Tex.

The engineer corps, the department disclosed yesterday, negotiated a supplemental contract to an original lump sum contract awarded to Robert E. McKee, El Paso, totaling $7,855,595 for construction of barracks, mess halls, hangars and other buildings at Wichita Falls, Tex. The contract total was brought to $12,442,455 by yesterday's award.

A supplemental agreement also was made, the department announced, with Gulf Bithulthie company, Houston, the Austin Road company, Dallas, and the Texas Bithulthie company, Dallas, for grading, drainage system and concrete paving at Ellington Field, Tex., at a cost of $1,877,793. The total contract is $2,942,219.

Nazis Expel All Consuls From Mexico

BERLIN, Aug. 26. (AP)—The German government has informed Mexico that Germany is obliged to withdraw the privileges of Mexican consuls in Germany, it was announced today.

(On Aug. 22 Mexico ordered the closing of 15 German consulates by Sept. 1. This step was taken in reprisal for Germany's action in closing Mexican consular offices in Paris and six other German-controlled cities. These moves followed straining of German-Mexican relations after Germany had requested strongly that Mexico protest against the United States trade blacklist of pro-axis firms.)

Yesterday Germany ordered the closing of Haiti's consulates in the reich "for political reasons," and it was announced that German consulates in Haiti had been closed. (Cuba and Honduras similarly have ceased consular relationships with Germany.)

Intense Suffering Relieved By Hoyt's

"For two years I have suffered intensely," says Mr. A. L. Lee of 803 Third Street, Wichita Falls, "from acid indigestion, constipation, kidney misery and nervousness. I bloated and gas pains were terrible. I was nervous and could not sleep."

"I took Hoyt's Compound and have been relieved of bloating and gas pains. I don't have to get up nights. My bowels have been regulated and I can sleep well for the first time in two years, thanks to Hoyt's!"

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and by all leading druggists in this area.—adv.

Less Makeshift Weapons Needed In Maneuvers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—There still will be plenty of makeshift weapons in evidence during the army's forthcoming Louisiana maneuvers but not nearly so many as figured in last year's war games.

Although the war department readily conceded today that shortages continue in the army's supply of modern weapons, it is keeping mum as to the specific categories and numbers.

"While it may be generally known that we lack certain munitions," one official explained, "foreign agents don't have an official check on such reports until the war department puts out the information. We don't intend to hand them any such check."

From the fact that the navy and marine corps are planning to lead the army some of their dive bombers to cooperate with the armored ground forces, it is clear that is one category in which the army is deficient.

It seems likely, however, that the citizen-soldiers will not have to carry make-believe to the extent of last year when they were forced to hang signs bearing the word "tank" on light trucks to simulate the armored vehicles—because the production of both light and medium tanks has materially increased in the last few months.

At a recent press conference, Secretary Stimson told newsmen that at previous maneuvers, the lack of planes had made the show "a little like Hamlet without a main character." In the maneuvers this fall, however, he said "we'll be able to stage a real practice in what we've been reading about the foreign armies."

Former U.S. Ship Reported Sunk

LONDON, Aug. 26. (AP)—The former United States destroyer Hopewell, renamed the Bath and manned by a Norwegian crew in the service of Britain, has been sunk, the Royal Norwegian navy announced today.

The only other detail disclosed was that an unspecified number of the crew was lost. It was the first of the former U. S. destroyers to be announced as lost.

The Bath was one of the 20 U. S. destroyers taken over by the British in 1940 in exchange for basing rights on British territory in the western hemisphere.

Martin School Plans For New Year Complete

STANTON, Aug. 26 (SpI)—The independent schools of Martin county, Stanton and Courtney, will open on September 2 and 8th, the former on the 2nd and the latter on the 8th. The rural schools of the county are scheduled to open September 1, according to County Superintendent B. F. White.

Stanton faculty members are O. C. Southall, superintendent; Kirk McKinnon, high school principal and coach; Clara Glick, English and speech; Howard A. Cox, Spanish and commercial subjects; Betty Savage, home economics; S. T. Briggs, English and history; Jack Reynolds, band and science; W. J. Smith, mathematics.

Elementary school: Homer E. Barnes, Grammar school principal; Nora Needham, reading and penmanship; Erma Lee Gaither, English and spelling; Ruth Self, fourth grade; Virginia Reddell, third grade; Mrs. Gaele Fern Houston, second grade; Mrs. Bryan Wells, first grade.

Mrs. W. J. Smith will teach the Latin-American school, and Col-donia Daugherty will be in charge of the negro school. An additional teacher will be employed for vocational agriculture if the establishment of such a department is approved by state authorities.

The number of teachers will exceed that of last year by one, due to increase in net scholastics in transfers from the rural districts of Lenorah, Valley View, Lomax and Hartwells.

The Courtney independent school will open September 8, according to its superintendent Higgs Sheppard.

The teaching staff is complete except one instructor of English in the high school. At present the faculty comprises: Riggs Sheppard, superintendent; N. J. Robnett, high school principal and coach; M. W. Alcorn, Aubrey McWhiter, Misses Dorcas Sus Lattimore, Geneva Middleton, and Mrs. M. W. Alcorn, all of the elementary grades. Miss Laura Gainer, has been employed as vocational home-making teacher.

The following rural schools of Martin county and their teaching staff follows:

- Lenorah—E. F. White, principal; Mrs. Blanche White, Grover Springer.
- South Plains—G. N. White, principal; Mrs. G. M. White, Mrs. Irene Jackson.
- Budgett—F. L. Bass, principal; Mrs. Emma Bass.
- Brown—Edward Laudardale, principal; Mrs. Fay Laudardale, Valma Walden.
- Goldsmith—A. C. Fleming, principal.
- Valley View—O. V. Fuller, principal; R. M. Williams, Hazel Self, Mrs. Virginia Denton.
- Merrick—Verlie Prickett, principal.
- Moore Hill—Mrs. A. A. Upchurch, principal.
- Wolcott—Mrs. Lattie Fleming, principal.

Greyhound Drivers' Strike Avoided

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26. (AP)—Pacific Greyhound buses in seven western states operated as usual today under terms of a new truce that averted a walkout of 1,200 AFL drivers and terminal employes of the company, threatened for midnight last night.

Company and union representatives made enough progress in day-long negotiations over a new working contract yesterday that they agreed to hold more conferences, and the union advanced the strike deadline to next Friday midnight. A strike would take Greyhound drivers from their wheels in California, Oregon, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada and Texas.

Recreation Program Deserves Attention

One of the intangible things which must be counted as among the city's assets is its recreational program and its recreational facilities.

As little as one might think, these play important parts in not only contributing to a community's well-rounded growth, but to attracting hundreds of visitors.

Consider our recreational program—playgrounds in the western, northern, eastern and southern parts of the city in addition to those at the city park; the theatres, the ball team and its park, the football team and its stadium; tennis, polo, golf, prospective fishing, swimming, horse back riding, music, etc. All of this has had its effect in keeping a people contented and occupied, in whittling down the problem of juvenile delinquency. In this direction, recreational supervision has contributed much. In fact, our well rounded program of activities is due to this fact.

In the matter of facilities, we can depend upon our city park as an outstanding drawing card, the amphitheatre, the embryonic encampment taking shape there, golf courses, swimming pool, the museum, tennis courts, ball fields, rodeo plant, auditorium, playgrounds, state park, lakes, private and public stables, etc.

Put the program and the facilities together and you have a sound set-up; one, which for all its intangible aspects, is a valuable part of our community life. And it is something that we can and do share with our neighbors.

Highway Fund Argument Splits Old Party Lines

WASHINGTON—Sen. Carl Hayden, Arizona, shepherding the now vetoed $30,000,000 defense highway bill through the Senate, gave an enlightening exposition on distribution of federal highway funds.

Going back to 1933 and the days of the $3,300,000,000 relief bill, Senator Hayden explained that he had gone to the President and outlined his belief that the quickest way to put people to work would be to earmark a portion of the relief funds for highway construction.

The President said he had delegated relief to four members of the cabinet, Secretary of War Dorn, Secretary of Labor Perkins, Secretary of Interior Ickes and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, proved the plan. Secretaries Ickes and Perkins balked.

They were, Senator Hayden declared, without political experience. They felt that the funds should be disbursed in unemployment centers. Talking to Secretary Ickes, the Senator said: "Mr. Secretary, you are new and without political experience. If it becomes known in Arizona that a man named Ickes has money in Washington to improve the road between Tucson and Phoenix, and the people ask me to get some money for that road, I am coming to see you."

Secretary Ickes explained that there were at least some senators who were willing to take that chance.

Yes, Senator Hayden explained, some senators would be willing to take a chance on getting there before the other fellow, but finally "you will have 96 senators and 435 representatives on your neck, whereas if the matter is handled in the normal way, the money is apportioned among the states, so that the work can be decentralized, you will not be bothered with it at all."

Without 'Political Experience'

The Senator then reported to the President that "two members of the cabinet who understood the situation" approved earmarking the funds and apportioning them from the davenport where I had set, but it was taking eternities for me to reach them.

Hide And Seek

Then the edge of their groove was beneath my toe and I stepped across the reflectors and lowered myself into the orchestra pit. Unless I had moved far to one side, the center aisle should be empty in front of me. I reached out and swept my hand across the blackness and it touched one seat, another, and then no more.

I looked back. The cigarette was moving across the stage to the davenport where I had been, moving as stealthily as I had moved. Man About Manhattan—Lugosi Is Hard To Scare

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Strange what a little patience can accomplish... With a flea, for instance... Ever been to a flea circus, and watched them wait together, and run races, and haul chariots?... Well, take it from Donald Meek, the actor, it's more gravity than patience, or skill... When a flea is hauling a chariot, the table is tilted a little... He isn't pulling the chariot... The chariot is pushing him downhill... Same way when they sprint... They're running downhill... The incline is slight, but it's there... It's gravity.

Meek, who has first hand knowledge of such matters, was once top man in a pyramid... He worked with tumblers, with acrobats... In Canada, in a fall one day, he broke his collarbone... That opened his eyes... Suppose he had broken his back?... You can't take bows with a broken back, now can you?... So Meek begins an actor... His co-workers say he is one of the few really good ad-lib actors on the screen... Rarely pays attention to a script... The sense of the lines just comes to him, and he uses his own words.

Since we're talking about actors today, let's talk about Lugosi, the spook man... He's the man who, with Karloff, scares the daylight out of you in pictures... You say to Lugosi, "Hey, as a kid, were you ever frightened?"... "Not I," says Lugosi. "There were too many of us... I have seven or eight brothers and sisters... I sleep in a room with half a dozen kids... How could I be scared?"

"But I'll tell you one thing... When I became an actor, and went to Hollywood, I got myself a big house... I used to shut myself up in one wing of that house at night, and read sometimes till nearly morning... It was too lonesome to sleep... Maybe I wasn't lonesome, maybe I was a little scared and didn't realize it... Well, I fixed that all right... How?... Easy as pie... I got married."

There's a new girl in town, a singer and pretty as a picture... Just 21... She's at the Rainbow Room, and they've given her an eight weeks contract... Name's Laure Deane Dutton, and her dad's a colonel in the U.S. Army... Remember Prince Serge Obolensky of the St. Regis? As tall as Anthony Eden and as meticulous... Thin as a reed... An aristocrat... In Russia, if the Czar had survived, he would be up there pretty high in military rank—at least a general... Just had word from him today... He's a sergeant in the U.S. Army... In the 17th regiment... Stationed at an armory at 34th street and Park avenue.

Funny how famous restaurateurs like their sons to follow in their footsteps... There's Vincent Sardi, boss of world famous Sardi's... His son, Junior, practically runs the place. He's there more than the old man is... There's Billy LaHiff, Jr., following after the old man, the late Billy LaHiff, whose tavern was famous... Dave, of Dave's Blue Room, and Willie, son of famed Dinty Moore, are restaurant men... New York changes, but somehow the old names linger in the neon.

Kaffir is an Arabic word meaning unbeliever.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Plenty Tough Villians Coming Up In New Films

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — If you're a hisser at the newsreels you'd better roll up your hissing apparatus for a few villains in the features, too.

Hollywood is going to give you some mean guys' love to hate. It's this way: Audiences go into movies these days keyed up with hatred, anxiety, or worry. They're fed up with circumstances. They can find their personal villain (calling no names here) in the newsreels, and that gives them something to hiss.

But in so many features of earlier days the villain wasn't anybody in particular. Circumstances were the "heavy." Poverty or environment or illness or the "system" — you couldn't hiss them though the movies made you hate them.

The movies are remedying that. The movies are restoring the personalized villain.

You'll find him in "King of the Ring," played by ordinarily gentle Charles Coburn. He is the surgeon who takes it upon himself to punish transgressors in his little town—by such devices as unnecessary operations, amputations, etc. You'll love him.

In "Swamp Water" is a four-hiss villain, John Carradine, a gent so low that he betrays his sister's husband in order to cover his own misdeeds.

Albert Dekker, who has been no model of movie virtue in most of his essays, sinks to a new low in "Honky Tonk." He's a slimy racketeer and crook.

And look at Raymond Massey in "Reap the Wild Wind." Peter Lorre, Sydney Greenstreet, Elisha Cook take turns trying to eradicate Mary Astor. Miss Astor, being the heroine, is ineradicable, but it's little fault of the murderous, his-worthy trio.

There are half a dozen boogie, more or less despicable characters in "The Remarkable Andrew," front man for all being Porter Hall, so well grounded in movie villainy that small children distrust him — distressing the amiable Mr. Hall no end in his peaceful private life.

In "The Smiling Ghost" there's a super-heavy, one David Bruce, fully accepts the sympathy and attentions of all around him, and all the while plots dire fates for his friends.

So the movies at last are catching up with the westerners, which never fail to include a worthy hiss-ee in the cast.

"We've got as many heavies as the budget will allow," is its proud boast.

The number of visitors to the famed Catholic shrine at Lourdes, France, has increased many times since the start of the war.

The land and water area of the Netherlands East Indies is about equal to the land area of continental United States.

MADE UP TO KILL

Chapter 33
A TALK WITH CLINT

I wrenched myself free and reached out for the light. My hand met nothing but black emptiness.

"Hello! Anybody down there!" It's Halla, Clint, and Alice.

"As soon as I find my damn lighter, here it is!" I saw the flare of his lighter like a miniature torch high above me. "I'm coming down."

"I'll be glad to see you."

I wondered where he had popped from and immediately remembered that a door opened from his office onto the balcony. The flame disappeared as he started down the steps and was there again as he reached the orchestra. He groped his way down the center aisle, shielding the flickering lighter with his hands. He climbed up on the stage.

"I thought Alice was here."

"She is." But I couldn't find her.

"Where's she afraid of the dark. She might have gone out."

"I think she's afraid of herself. What's wrong with the lights?"

"They're out in my office too. And the street lights are out. That happens sometimes during an afternoon storm. Every light in town burning at once, the strain is too great. Hey, Nick!" he shouted.

There was a startled grunt as Nick awakened in his cubicle and shuffled in. Clint sent him out for a flashlight, then said to me, "Where's Jeff?"

"He's due at three."

"I know, he called me this morning."

"He's getting hot, Clint, or thinks he is. He thinks he knows."

"Knows? Knows who...?"

"Yes. He knows who the murderer is."

There was a long pause and when Clint spoke again his voice was grave and quiet. "I hope God does. I want to get this whole mess over with. You know, Halla, that child's face is haunting me. A kid like Carol living with that thing over her head, a kid who never bothered anyone. God! I see those big frightened eyes every place I look. And her bravery makes it all the worse. If she'd break down... if she'd..."

I said, "Carol can take care of herself, Clint."

"He didn't seem to hear me. I tell myself that it's none of my doing, that all I did was give her a break that a thousand other girls would give their right hands for, a chance to be an actress. Yes, that's the way I do it up for myself. I gave the poor kid a break all right. A chance to be murdered, to live in fear and terror, a chance to spread herself all over the front pages in a gruesome murder case. If she should be..."

The bitterness and self-reproach in his voice were beating at me. In the quick flame of his cigarette as he drew on it I could see his face, the mad tight lines around his mouth, the furrows between his eyes. I couldn't stand it.

"Clint," I said, "there's no reason for you to reproach yourself. Nothing's going to happen to Carol. Nothing was ever meant to happen to her. She... It was Eve, Clint, who was supposed to be killed. The murderer meant to stab Eve, not Carol. The murderer meant to poison Eve."

"I could hear him catch his breath. 'Eve! No! God, no! Who would...'"

"Yes, Clint," I said gently.

His voice was shocked, almost breaking. "No, no, Not Eve. The poison... Halla, the poison was put in Carol's glass. Not Eve's."

"Yes, Yes, I don't..." I stopped.

Suspicion

"If Eve was to be the victim, then the poison must have been placed in her glass. That much was certain. How had Jeff figured it out last night? Something about Philip Ashley and his fight with Eve. Did the mean Ashley use the murderer? It was something that Philip had said to Eve. 'Why didn't you upset the table?' he had said. 'You have the whole play to yourself and still you have to steal my one big scene, you have to rattle everything on the table... rattle everything on the table! Then if Eve had rattled the glasses... if she had changed the glasses..."

"Clint," I said, "Clint, that poison was put in Eve's glass! And she changed the glasses herself! There were no flowers on the table for her to arrange and she ad libbed business with the glasses. And Carol got the one that was meant for her!"

"Yes," he said slowly. "Yes, that..."

"But the next night there was no mistake. Oh, Clint, who could have wanted to murder Eve? Who could have hated Eve? You must know, Clint, you were her friend, the only one who really knew her. You've been so close to her and so loyal... producing for her when she was no longer great, ruining yourself to keep her on Broadway, giving all you had through these years! Clint, you must have loved her very much or..."

"Then I suspected."

"He didn't speak; there was no sound from behind the glow of his cigarette. Suddenly the theater wasn't any longer warm and cozy. It was an enormous cavern filled with cold dark danger. I wanted to get out. I stood up and the floor was hard and icy under my stockinged feet.

"Let's go out and wait for Jeff," I said.

"All right."

I didn't scream because I had pressed my hand tight over my lips, holding them closed before the sound got to them. The voice that had answered me had not been Clint Bowers' voice. But it was, it must have been, I told myself frantically. It had come from right behind that point of light. It was Clint Bowers' voice with all its pleasant friendly warmth gone. It was Clint Bowers' voice, harsh and cruel and with a deadly quiet.

It was then I knew.

The hanging cigarette was there, unremoved, barring me from the stage door. I felt sick with the weak nauseous feeling that pervades you when you're coming out of ether. I couldn't run or fight or scream.

Then the light leaped toward me, the length of a step, and my head cleared and I snapped out of it.

Putting my cigarette behind me I crushed it between my thumb and forefinger. I crept forward toward the footlights, feeling for them with my toes, moving toward them by slow inches. Thank God for the rain and the snow that had soaked my shoes and had made me take them off. The lights couldn't have been more than three feet

The Senator then reported to the President that "two members of the cabinet who understood the situation" approved earmarking the funds and apportioning them from the davenport where I had set, but it was taking eternities for me to reach them.

LEGAL NOTICE
SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF HOWARD
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain Alias Execution issued out of the Honorable Justice Court of Tarrant (Precinct No. 1) County, 7th day of August 1941, by Frank Hurley, Justice of the peace, Prec. No. 1 of said Tarrant County, Texas, for the sum of One Hundred Fifty-three and no/100 Dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment in favor of Sperry Sun Well Surveying Co., a corporation, in a certain cause in said Court, No. 63,376 and styled Sperry Sun Well Surveying Co., a corporation, vs. Walter J. Donnelly, placed in my hands for service. I, Andrew J. Merrick, as Sheriff of Howard County, Texas, did, on the 11th day of August 1941, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Howard County, Texas, described as follows, to wit: All the right, title and interest of Walter J. Donnelly in and to the following described real estate, being the North 1-3, Southwest 1-4, Section 27, Block 29, WANW Survey, also West 1-2, Northwest 1-4, Southeast 1-4, Section 140, Block 29, WANW Survey, all of property being located in Howard County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of Walter J. Donnelly and that on the first Tuesday in September, 1941, the same being the 2nd day of said month, at the Court House floor, of Howard County, in the City of Big Spring, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. by virtue of said levy and said alias Execution I will offer for sale and sell at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, all the right, title and interest of the said Walter J. Donnelly in and to said property.
And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in The Big Spring Herald, a newspaper published in Howard County.
Witness my hand, this 11th day of August, 1941.

falling. He had heard the sound on stage. His voice came booming through the house.
"Halla, where are you!"
I made one last stab at keeping up this insane farce. "I'm going out the front door, Clint. Jeff will be coming by this way."
The voice was calm, laughing. "It's locked, Halla."
I didn't try to be quiet, then, or to pretend I wasn't terrified. I felt wildly for the door. In my weak, sticky hand the knob was cold. I turned it and my hand slid aimlessly around while it stayed still. I put my coat over it and turned again. It was locked.
I ran from one door to another and they would not budge. I turned and with my back up alone against the doors, I faced the stage. The light was coming down into the orchestra pit; now it was starting up the aisle.
Hugging the wall and side-stepping, I moved along the back of the theater, my eyes looking onto that small circle of light with an intensity that made them burn and water. I moved toward the side aisle. I was a step from it when the light turned low and crossed the row of seats toward the spot where I was going. I had seen me. Perhaps that the shaft of light that crept through the doors at my back had been enough to outline me for him.
I crouched there for a second, then eased myself under the seats into the last row and lay there, my knees almost under my chin, my arms squeezed in around me, holding my breath to make myself smaller. I could hear him and four rows in front of me, some walking up the aisle. He knew the exact length from me to the back of the house.

Invitation To Farm Bureau Meeting Made

Attempt is being made to secure attendance of 600 Howard county farmers at the district Texas Farm Bureau meeting in Big Spring Friday.

L. E. Turner, secretary of the Howard county bureau, has dispatched a letter to each member of the bureau in the county asking him to attend and bring five other farmers. There are about 126 members in the county.

Purpose of the district meeting is to discuss plans for the 1942

J. WALTER HAMMOND

farm program. "Cooperative effort is entirely responsible for the good price we will get for this year's cotton crop," Turner pointed out.

And the present arrangement is for one year only. Something must be done to keep the gains we have made. For our own benefit, we should learn about these things by attending the meeting Friday and hearing bureau leaders, including the Texas farm bureau president, J. Walter Hammond, discuss the issues.

Other speakers will include E. R. Alexander, former A. and M. college economics instructor, now manager of the state farm bureau.

Farmers will be present from about 30 counties, it is expected.

Youths In Model Plane Contest Receive Awards

Big Spring's model plane enthusiasts brought their long-standing contest, sponsored by Carnett's, to a close this morning, winners in the three classes entered receiving awards for their work.

Class range was fixed according to price of plane equipment used—first class being dollar planes, the second class being planes costing twenty-five cents to a dollar, and the third class being ten centers.

Stanley Mate took first prize in the top division with a Howard

DGA and was awarded a gas model craft. Harry Hurt, showing a Blackburn Shark, won second place and also received a gas model.

Other first class winners and models displayed were Charles Davies, third, Clod Hopper and Zipper; Donald and Hulen McKinney, fourth, Howard DGA, and Herbert Brown, fifth, Junior Clipper.

In the second classification, winners in order named—James Claghorn, Bobby Potts, John Henry Day, Billy Bob Fallon, Harry Hurt, Ray Warick, Cotton Curley, Bobby Hickson, Charles Davies, and Gene Kimble.

Third class winners were Emmitt Ingram, Lawrence Ingram, Charles Davies, Lyn Spear, H. W. Bartlett, William Davies, Buster Weaver, Lyn Spear, Durward Carnett, Jr., Denning Nell, and Bobby Potts.

Solid model winner was James Quinton. Honorable mention included H. W. Bartlett, Gene Nabors, Rondel Minter, Harold Shad, Joe Birdwell, Jimmie Velvin, L. W. Mulkey, Jack Dyer, Charles Lovelace, Bobby Wilson, Johnny Schuessler, Robert Dean Hobbs, and Claude Sewell.

Produce Sales Bring $25,000 At Stanton

STANTON, Aug. 26. (Sp.)—More than $25,000 has been expended for Martin county poultry products since May 1, the Arthur Reed Feed and Produce Co. announced here today.

Purchases totaled $25,285 for that period, company officials said. Monday 4,000 pounds of poultry in 80 coops and valued at $700 were shipped to El Paso. A truck load of eggs, to be distributed between Stanton and El Paso, was ready and pegged at $1,000. Also on the floor were two truck loads of watermelons, valued at $75 a load.

Like poultry products, the melons were to be marketed at points west. Since entering the wholesale field, the company has supplied Stanton and neighboring towns with fresh fruits and vegetables as well as poultry products. Purchases are effected through a system of contacts with stores in Martin county and on county lines. By reciprocal agreement, these concerns are supplied with fresh vegetables and fruits.

DE MAUPASSANT BANNED

TOKYO, Aug. 26. (AP)—The translation of various works of Guy De Maupassant was banned today because of "the wartime emergency." Japanese authorities ruled that, despite their literary value, the works of the French author contain liberal ideas likely to mislead the people.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, Aug. 26. (AP)—The stock market trained its sights on recovery today and, while scoring few bullseyes, managed to spray the target with a fair amount of success.

Rails and industrials were out in front at the start with gains of fractions to a point or so. Activity and quotations were the best in the forenoon. The pace slowed after mid-day and many leaders closed under the day's tops.

Transfers of around 800,000 shares were the largest in about three weeks.

Stocks in the favored class most of the day—some eventually slipped—included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Kennecott, American Smelting, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Corp., Pepsi-Cola, Warner Bros., Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical and Westinghouse.

Here 'n There

E. E. Barnes and H. R. Hader-ton, Sweetwater, felt like they had a grievance, they told police Tuesday. While they slumbered at a local rooming house, they said, their billfolds disappeared.

Last week a car was stolen from a local motor company used car lot. Monday its loss was discovered and the belated report placed on the police broadcast.

A majority of land owners in the watershed above Sand Springs have requested assistance of the Soil Conservation Service in working up individual farm plans to fit into a master conservation unit.

Cotton loans this year may be handled through local warehouses as a result of a conference last week between representatives of banks, warehousemen and lending institutions. Probably the Farmers Gin or the Big Spring Compress company will handle the applications if present arrangements go through.

Virginia Wood and Laurel Grand-staff have been assigned by the NYA as stenographers in the U. S. army recruiting offices in the post-office basement. Each will be on duty 15 days a month.

John B. Allen, formerly of Big Spring, has advanced to the rank of corporal since his induction on March 19, 1941. His rise has been rapid, for he was promoted to private first class on May 6. He is on duty at the school for medical and dental technicians at William Beaumont hospital, El Paso.

Lorraine Cason To Represent Stanton At Midland Rodeo

STANTON, Aug. 26. (Sp.)—Lorraine Cason, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cason of Cason, has been selected sponsor for Stanton and Martin county for the Midland rodeo.

Miss Cason has been riding horses since she was four years old—not only riding them but breaking and training them as well. She plans to take her two horses, Ginger and Skylight to Midland to use during the show. She purchased Ginger at the age of one year and has had the entire handling of her.

Martin Countians Are Married Here

Rites of matrimony between W. C. Odell Jr. of Lenora and Mary Belle Hildreth of Stanton were performed Monday evening by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, at his home.

Mrs. Odell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hildreth of Stanton, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Odell Sr. of Lenora.

Grain

CHICAGO, Aug. 26. (AP)—Grain futures prices closed strong today after fluctuating aimlessly most of the season as traders awaited further developments in Washington.

Wheat opened firm with cotton and at times extended the advance to around a cent a bushel. Later when eastern demand dried up and some hedge selling appeared, the market backed down, but a rally at the close lifted prices to almost the best levels of the day.

Wheat finished 5-8-7-8 cents above the previous close. September $1.12 3-4-7-8, December $1.16 5-8-1-2, corn was 1-8 off to 1-8 up and oats 3-8-1-2 higher.

Wool Market

BOSTON, Aug. 26. (AP) (USDA) A few inquiries were being received for domestic wools in the Boston market today. Fine Delaine fleeces were moving in small quantities at 41 to 43 cents in the grease. Graded bright combing, three eighths and quarter-blood fleeces, were sold occasionally at 45 to 47 cents in the grease. Graded fine territory wools were receiving some demand at $1.03 to $1.05, scoured basis, for wools of average to good French combing lengths and at $1 to $1.05, scoured basis, for average to short French combing lengths.

Stanton Hospital To Close Soon

STANTON, Aug. 26. (Sp.)—Because of the demands of national defense, Stanton will soon be without hospital service.

On August 30, the Stanton Clinic Hospital will close due to the fact that its owner and operator, Dr. J. Leslie Hall, has been called to army service. Previously, Dr. Hall's partner, Dr. John J. Hopper, was ordered to report for army service.

Dr. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hall of Stanton and is a native of Stanton. Upon completion of his medical education, he returned to Stanton and opened the clinic. Dr. Hopper, an intimate friend and classmate, soon joined him. He was also assisted by Mrs. Hall, who is a graduate nurse.
