$40,000 - $60,000 LOSS

Fire Demolishes Delinting Plant

An early morning fire, Tuesday, completely demolished the delinting facilities at the Lichte-Sullins Delinting Plant, causing an estimated $40,000 to $60,000 loss of material and equipment.

According to L.E. Sullins, one of the partners in the firm, the fire apparently broke out in the delinting portion of the seed and delinting complex, at about 6:28 a.m. in the center portion of a 35' x 80' wooden building which housed all of the firm's delinting equipment.

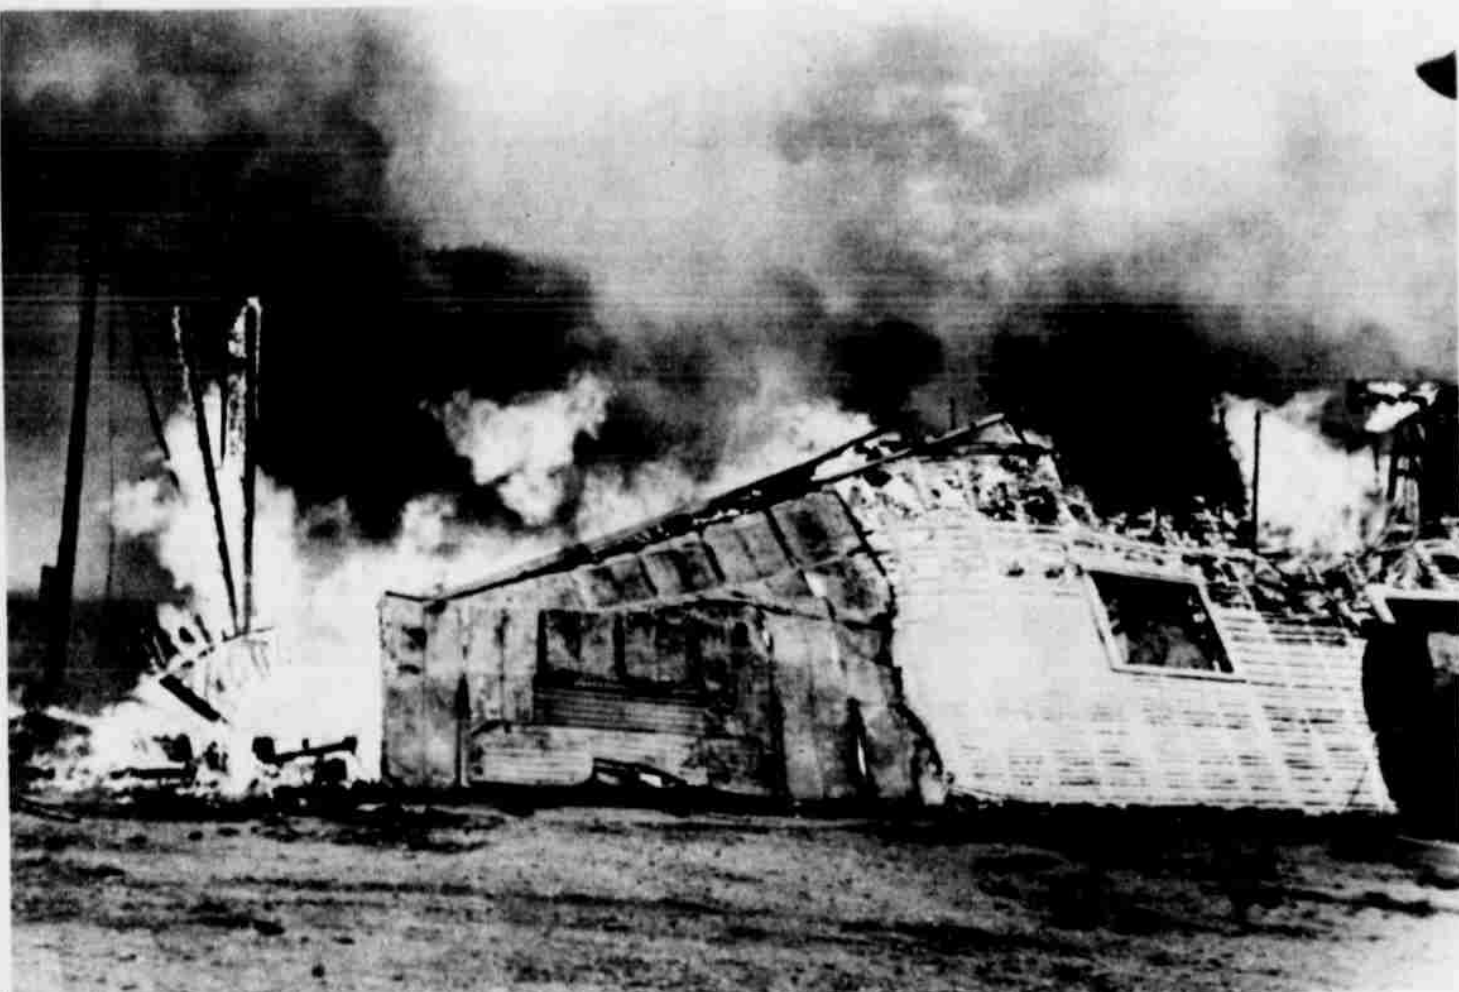

Quick action by members of the Littlefield Volunteer Fire Department prevented the flames from spreading to an adjacent building which contained cotton seed and bagged fertilizers, as well as some equipment used in the operation of the business.

The three hour blaze was twice near being brought under control, however gusty south winds and the exhaustion of the pumper trucks' water supply prevented the firefighters from saving any portion of the wooden structure.

The plant is located just northeast of the Littlefield City limits on the Spade Highway.

At press time, the cause of the two alarm blaze had not been determined, but a representative of the firm speculated it could have started from an electrical short inside the building.

In addition to the winds and inadequate water, firemen had to contend with the presence of two acid storage tanks, behind the building, which expanded, but did not burst. The presence of the acid prevented firemen from getting to the wind whipped flames at the rear of the building and hampered their efforts to contain the blaze. At the height of the blaze, black smoke from burning tires on a trailer inside the building poured several hundred feet skyward, helped along by the intermittent breeze.

FIERY DESTRUCTION Flames engulf a wall of the Lichte-Sullins Acid Delinting firm, as the fire completely consumes a 35' x 80' wooden building housing the delinting portion of the plant. Firemen received the call on the two alarm blaze at 6:28 Tuesday morning and battled for three hours before finally extinguishing the blaze at 9:30. Early estimates placed the loss between $40,000 and $60,000.

BOYS STATE -- L.J. Walker, commander of Littlefield American Legion Post, presents checks to Randy Birkelbach (R) of Littlefield, and Gary Bradley of Amherst. The boys will represent Littlefield in the 1966 Boys State in Austin, June 11-18. They are juniors in high school.

Two Area Boys To Attend Boys State At Austin

Two area high school juniors will attend the 1966 American Legion Boys State in Austin, June 11-18.

Attending from Littlefield will be Randy Birkelbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Birkelbach. Gary Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradley of Amherst will be the other area delegate to attend.

The boys will leave June 11 and return June 18, American Legion Post 301 of Littlefield will sponsor the trip, according to L.J. Walker, commander. During the week in Austin, they will attend workshops to study the organization, operation and political processes of state government.

Participants will have a chance to take part in organization of political parties, elections and campaigns and enact laws on their own in an imaginary "51st state." State officers of the session will be elected in the latter part of the week. There will be a governor's ball Friday night to top off the week's activities.

The participants will be staying in dorms on the University of Texas campus. About 500 boys are expected to attend Boys State, said Walker.

The purpose of this state workshop is to teach the boys about the workings of state government and try to create in them an interest in the governmental processes of our country," said Walker.

"We want Gary and Randy to come back and speak to civic groups and clubs in the area," said Walker. "Their experiences will be worth listening to."

Qualifications for being selected to attend are evidence of leadership, character and integrity and scholarship.

The Legion works in conjunction with the high school to select the boys. All expenses of the boys will be paid by the local American Legion post. Walker, Bradley and Birkelbach will go to Brownfield Friday for a dinner sponsored by the Brownfield American Legion Post.

Speakers at the dinner will be boys who have attended Boys State previously. They will explain to the new delegates what is expected of them and what all will be happening during the workshop.

The Littlefield Legion post did not send any delegates to Boys State last year.

Many of us can remember the time we felt when we learned we had been promoted to the next grade? Chances are you will have the opportunity to re-live this moment again, as our eldest received the long awaited word of promotion, and the attainment of his largest goal in his life.

Why the promotion to the next grade, or station, is a thing, yet to those existing the promotion is unsurpassable. The same with life, yet we sometimes have a tendency to forget joys contained by the things and unassumed things. There is joy everywhere, and you don't have to dig or hard to find the things life holds for each of us.

are again back to Thursday night openings on the part of the merchants. The last week the merchants of Littlefield continued to report their efforts to provide the services of the area with additional services has been well received as the people of the area continue to come in and take advantage of the late shopping hours. The most pleasing part of the entire program has been the continued participation from the merchants who desire to remain open and lure customers into town.

and, and Lamb County is at the threshold of what we feel to be a constant growth like it or not the attitude of the voters will have effect on the growth of any community, for no industry is to come into an area unless the people are not interested enough in government affairs to vote. So the responsibility of casting a ballot beyond the election of candidates and enters the realm of community growth. We do not think anyone would know how to stop the growth of Littlefield and Lamb County, yet some folks will not take time to vote on the election days. We hope to see you at the polls Saturday, let's vote and show that Lamb County residents have an interest in the state in good government.

you by chance have an opportunity to come to town on Memorial Day? The most striking thing we have seen in a long time is the displays of the American Flag, we could not but feel a closeness to our country as we looked down the street and saw the "Stars and Stripes" waving in the soft breeze. We thought of the boys who had given their lives for the defense of the privilege to fly the flag, and of the boys who stand ready to answer the call.

few paragraphs back we mentioned the simple things that give us the pleasures that afford the joy of flying a flag is something that cannot be measured.

Littlefield Hospitals To Participate In Medicare

Littlefield's two hospitals received word Monday that they had been approved as participants in the Medicare health insurance plan recently enacted by the U.S. Congress.

Medical Arts Hospital and Littlefield Hospital will be authorized to participate in the Medicare plan beginning July 1, according to hospital administrators.

The state department of health and the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Social Security Administration have been making surveys of the nation's hospitals this year. Texas hospitals have been surveyed since March, and the survey is continuing.

The Littlefield hospital were two of the first in the South Plains area to receive word that they had been approved.

The nearest hospital that will offer the Medicare program is in Lubbock. The Social Security Administration is trying to find suitable hospital facilities in areas of an 80 mile radius throughout the state.

"If we can locate adequate hospitals in an 80 mile radius of each other, we feel that the Medicare program can be efficiently administered in regards to facilities," said Jim Latimer, Lubbock field office representative of the Social Security Administration.

The hospitals that applied for the Medicare program had to pass rigid tests, said the administrators.

The administrators said accepting the Medicare plan probably will necessitate some improvements and additions to the hospital facilities and staffs. Mrs. Carlene King, administrator at Medical Arts Hospital, said some new equipment will be installed and possibly another nurse will be added to the staff there to better cope with the new plan.

The administrators feel that there may be a notable increase in the number of patients due to the enactment of the plan in July, though it should cause no crowding or cramping of facilities.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital and health insurance companies of Texas will administer the Medicare program in Texas hospitals.

"They have a contract with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Social Security Administration," said Latimer. "When a patient is enrolled for the program in Texas, he actually is enrolled in the Blue Cross, Blue Shield plan, specially adapted to fit the federal government needs."

The hospital undergoes the expense for its services and then is re-imposed. The patient can pay the hospital or the Social Security Administration can pay for the patient. Variations on paying the bill can be worked out, according to Latimer.

He said the hospitals, under the Medicare plan, can choose the particular insurance company they want to carry the federal plan and administer it. The patient cannot choose the company he wants to administer Medicare.

"Government employees have had a similar health insurance plan since 1960," said Latimer, "but we have to pay a lot more."

The Medicare plan states that all persons over 65, on social security or Railroad Retirement benefits automatically are eligible for Part A of the plan. This part covers mainly hospital services, as of July 1, and nursing services, as of January 1, 1967.

Part B of the plan must be applied for, and the deadline for applying for this part, which

It was not until firemen had battled the blaze for 45 minutes that the adjoining warehouse could be entered and the blaze fought from another angle. Following the fire Sullins and Les Lichte both said it was only the action of the firemen and their efforts that prevented the warehouse area from becoming consumed in the blaze. "Their action of pouring water on the roof and sides of the corrugated building prevented the metal from oxidizing and the fire from spreading into the warehouse," Sullins stated. As it was, no damage was sustained in the warehouse, or any other part of the plant.

19 Absentee Ballots Cast

A light voter turnout is expected in the second primary election this Saturday. Only 19 absentee ballots have been cast in Lamb County, and this is all that applied.

Lamb County citizens, it appears, will be avoiding the polls Saturday if all indications prove true.

The one major state race, for attorney general, is an important one, and should not be ignored by the voters.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. at all polling places.

In Littlefield the polling places are:

- Precinct 4--Lumsden Gin
- Precinct 12--County Court House
- Precinct 14--Hart Camp Co-op Gin
- Precinct 16--Littlefield Junior High School
- Other precinct polling places are:
- Precinct 1--Olton Fire Station
- Precinct 2--Earth Town Hall
- Precinct 3--Spade School

Citizens Should Beware Of Insurance Schemes

The average citizen, especially the elderly citizen, often is preyed upon by traveling salesmen and peddlers promoting numerous schemes or goods, but perhaps the most vicious scheme to hit the community is the fraudulent hospitalization insurance racket.

And Littlefield is not exempt from the preying of these unscrupulous salesmen representing unsound insurance companies. Littlefield attorneys and hospital administrators have been aware of the problem for years and are constantly fighting against the practices of the peddlers.

One attorney, Jerome W. Kirby, has been crusading against the fraudulent practices of these companies for more than 10 years.

"We've been fighting these unscrupulous insurance peddlers for 10 years," Kirby said, "and have filed on more than 500 such frauds during that time."

Salesmen representing unscrupulous health insurance companies come through Littlefield constantly, peddling their policies, said the attorneys, and make their appeal primarily to elderly persons.

Old people, for the most part are uninsurable. No reputable company can afford to insure a 90-year-old woman in poor health, but these ambitious salesmen will do it, according to the attorneys.

These companies, usually having a very small capital reserve, would have a difficult time paying off most of the claims.

"With such a small capital outlay, they would go busted if they had to pay off hardly any claims, so they must turn to some type of fraud to avoid having to pay claims," said Kirby.

Legitimate insurance companies will investigate an applicant for a policy and they will underwrite the policy before it is issued.

The unscrupulous ones will smooth talk a person into buying a policy and issue the policy, without a physical examination or information about one, and the policy is not underwritten.

The salesman will get a whole year's premium deposits or as much as he can get and leave. The person has a policy that is not underwritten and is full of exclusions usually that the person did not understand in the first place, according to the attorneys.

Chances are the policy won't read like the salesman made it sound like. Most policyholders don't understand the language of the policy and probably won't read it, say the attorneys.

If the company receives a claim from a policyholder it will try to avoid paying the claim. The company will find some exclusion clause in the policy by which it can refuse to pay the claim. A company generally will pay small bills if it has to, but the big ones they try to avoid.

When the company refuses to pay the claim, nothing can be done, unless the victim comes to an attorney, or notifies the hospital administrator.

Freak 3-Car Accident Has Patrolman Hopping

A spectacular three-car accident occurred early Sunday morning on Highway 84, 2.5 miles east of Sudan, but did not result in any bodily injury.

At 4 a.m. a 1963 model car driven by Maxine C. Crawford of Littlefield was traveling west toward Sudan when it was in collision with an east bound 1960 model car which left the scene of the accident.

The 1960 model car was on the wrong side of the road when the accident occurred and left the scene.

A few minutes later Dillard Morris of Muleshoe, driving a 1965 model pickup and pulling a trailer of pigs, stopped to aid the Crawford car. Morris also was headed west.

At approximately 4:15 a.m. a 1960 model car, driven by Kermit McDaniel, 57, of Bovina, was traveling east on Highway 84 and swerved across the highway at the spot where Crawford and Morris were stopped and crashed into the Morris pickup.

Highway Patrolman Bill Angel of Littlefield was called on this second accident.

When he arrived at the scene the Crawford woman told him that the car that struck her kept going.

After investigating the second accident, involving the three vehicles, Angel set out on a search for the hit and run car, which he could not find.

It was not until later that he learned that the McDaniel car was the same car involved in both accidents.

Angel took McDaniel before a judge Sunday morning and charged him with driving on the wrong side of the road. Later that morning his investigations revealed that the McDaniel vehicle was the one involved in both accidents.

Upon investigating, Patrolman Angel said he figured McDaniel hit vehicle number one (Crawford), drove away from the scene, turned around about a mile down the highway and drove back past the scene and on toward Sudan a little distance.

McDaniel then turned around near Sudan and headed back east toward the scene of the accident. At the scene, he again crossed the road and struck vehicle number two, the Morris pickup. The two accidents occurred within 15 minutes time approximately. No one was injured, but extensive damage was done to the vehicles involved.

This accident occurred at the exact spot where two lives were lost in an accident last December.

Angel said in his 15 years of investigating accidents this freak situation has never happened before.

Light Agenda Faces City Council

The setting of a hearing date, on the summer street paving program, will head a brief agenda at tonight's (Thursday) city council meeting, as the councilmen prepare for a relatively slow summer in the city. The paving program for 1966 includes improvement of US 84 through the city and various other city streets which need repairs or paving. A complete list of the streets in need of work is unavailable since the study program is not complete. City Manager Richard Beans said there are several streets which may be added to the program, as well as several that may be taken out for one reason or another.

The city hopes to set the date early enough to allow the work to be completed prior to fall and the fall rains.

In other action, the council will discuss the format of the CATV contract they hope to let in the near future, bringing to an end several years of study and proposals, from firms interested in putting a Cable TV system into Littlefield.

The only other item slated for action by the council, at press time, was the appointment of one member to the Board of City Development.

Howe To Take New Football Coaching Job

John Howe, Littlefield High School football coach for the past four years, will take a coaching position at Northwest High School near Fort Worth.

Howe will be football coach at the large AA school beginning next fall.

He resigned from his coaching position in Littlefield earlier this year.

The enrollment of Northwest High School is slightly less than that of Littlefield, Howe said. "It is a big AA school and should be a good challenge," he said. It is an independent school district.

Howe and his family plan to move to the Fort Worth area during June.

--- INSURANCE

a person get his money back, for they see examples of the frauds often.

One administrator in a Littlefield hospital said salesmen sometimes come to the hospital to try to sell an ill personsome hospitalization.

The administrator cited one example of an elderly woman who was sick in a hospital here. She definitely was uninsurable, but a salesman managed to convince her she ought to have some hospitalization insurance, and could get it, through his company.

The salesman sold her two hospitalization plans and got two years premium deposits from her. Attorneys were able to get her money back.

"These salesmen seem to hit the same old people each time," said Mrs. Charlene King, administrator for Medical Arts Hospital of Littlefield.

"The salesmen aren't allowed to sell in town without a permit," she said, "and we try to keep them out of the hospital completely. We know they are being dishonest, and they know it, for they are trying to insure uninsurable people."

Hospital authorities will work with the patient and attorneys to try to get the person's money back.

Attorney Kirby said in the last two years his law firm has had 150 fraudulent claim cases and has won every one of them. Seldom do the cases even go so far as a court appearance.

The citizen has protection if he will go to an attorney immediately after his claim has been refused and get a suit filed.

The majority of the victims never file, through, said Littlefield attorneys. They shrug off the incident, drop the policy and chalk it up to experience.

One attorney said probably less than 20 per cent of the Littlefield area victims have ever filed or tried to get something done about their cases.

The companies generally will pay immediately when filed on because they don't want it to go to court.

Most of the companies, called stipulated premium companies, originate in Dallas, Fort Worth and Austin. Such a company can be started on as little capital as $15,000 and $7,500 surplus capital is all that is required to maintain a reserve with which to pay off claims.

The salesmen come from almost anywhere. They are taught a canned sales pitch and turned loose.

Salesmen often work for several companies, or what appears to be several companies. Several companies may have the same president, director, or secretary, the attorneys said.

Sometimes a company has many policies, all going by different names. If the salesman is successful in selling a policy by one name, he often returns to the policyholder and tries to sell a "better policy" to the person. This "better policy" often is the same plan by a different name.

The salesman claims he is working for a new company, and has an improved policy. Actually he is working for the same company, selling the same policy, under a different name.

There are many tragic examples of elderly people being misled by such salesmen in the Littlefield area.

For example, one woman in Brownfield bought 28 hospitalization policies in one year. Her annual premiums were more than $3,000, one attorney said.

The salesmen know they are insuring uninsurable persons, tempting them with promises, emotions and fear.

Another example: one Littlefield resident bought more than 30 of these unsound policies over a period of time.

Local attorneys have fought the practices of unsound policies and believe that Littlefield now is being bothered by fewer salesmen of this sort.

The problem still is critical, though, for in Littlefield in 1965 there were more than $100,000 worth of turned down claims.

There are efforts in the State Legislature to try to eliminate many insurance frauds but so far nothing has come out of the efforts.

"One new provision," said Kirby, "that helps some is one that says a policy holder, if he is not satisfied with his policy, has 10 days within which to return it and get his premiums back. No questions are asked in the first 10 days."

"A bill that required all companies to underwrite their policies before they were issued would surely help the situation," he said.

Most hospital authorities and attorneys feel that Medicare will help the problem, though it won't answer all questions.

Medicare will go into effect July 1, and Littlefield's hospitals will be among those in the State to participate in the Federal plan.

Questions & Answers

Q - If I convert my term GI insurance policy to the Modified Life Plan, will my premium remain the same throughout the duration of the contract?
A - Yes, the premium on Modified Life, NSLI, will remain the same throughout the duration of the contract.

Q - I lost my son in the service about five months ago. As a dependent parent receiving VA compensation, would I be eligible for the GI home loan or does the VA require that the veteran be alive to be eligible?
A - GI loans are available only to veterans or to unmarried widows of men who served in either World War II or the Korean Conflict and who died in service or after separation as a result of a service-connected disability. Parents are not eligible.

Punch-Drunk Farmers

BY PAUL HARVEY

For years the Government has propped up farm prices with subsidies.

Most farmers did not want the subsidies, according to their Farm Bureau. The benefits were going to the big factory-farms, which don't need help. But the Government persisted in the program of "giving the farmer a lift up."

Then the Government urged minimum-wage legislation which would increase the cost of farming, thus to knock him down again.

Then, recently, lavish Federal spending resulted in inflation, hiking farm prices.

Now Washington has dumped surplus grain and cut military purchases of pork, thus to knock those prices down again. The farmer, punch-drunk from this double-whammy, would run from the Federal planners -- except there's no place to hide.

There's a parallel paradox in the fact that the United States is the world's largest exporter of farm products and the world's second-largest importer.

And billions of dollars worth of what we import is directly competitive to what our own domestic farmers produce.

Rural America was reared on such sage and incontrovertible old saws as, "Waste makes want," Farmers deplore waste.

It does not make sense to these traditionalists to get paid two billion dollars a year for what they don't grow.

Our farmers are required to keep 60 million acres out of production at the same time our President is urging housewives to "eat only what's cheap."

The other day, "to encourage an increase in the production of milk," Secretary Freeman increased Federal milk price supports. He said, "The dairy farmer has been and is among the lowest-paid of all producers."

Then -- on that same day, mind you -- Mr. Freeman recommended that the Federal Government "admit seven million additional pounds of foreign cheese."

Thus, on the same day, he moved to prop dairy prices up and to hold dairy prices down. Nowhere outside of the District of Columbia could that kind of contradiction possibly make sense.

Our minute fraction of the world's farmers who are still more-or-less free are managing to outproduce the rest of the world. Yet our Government is doing the best it can to socialize them.

It has always encouraged me to see that our agricultural population -- which has shared least in our dollar prosperity -- has resisted most the invasion of alienisms.

And it is similarly significant that no segment of our economy is more abundantly productive...

And in Communist societies, where government exercises the most control, agriculture is least productive.

(T-M, WRR Gen. Fea. Corp.)

What's the best 5-letter word for fertilizer?

And for cotton--NIPAK 45.

Get better cotton production and earn bigger profits. Sidedress your cotton with NIPAK 45 right now -- for greater yield. (You may get more than the average $6 return for every $1 invested in fertilizer, depending on your farm. Experiment station tests averaged this.) NIPAK 45 -- 45% nitrogen fertilizer from Urea -- gives you one-third more nitrogen per pound than any other form of solid nitrogen fertilizer -- which enables you to handle less fertilizer and cover more ground in less time. NIPAK 45 is uniformly prilled, too. It flows easily, won't cake, clog or corrode your equipment. NIPAK also dissolves in the soil moisture and moves quickly to the root zone where it stays put until your crops need it. So for more grow power, ask your local NIPAK dealer about NIPAK 45. He can help you plan a complete fertilizer program because he can provide a complete fertilizer service.

Rye-Wheat Cross Tested

will a rye-wheat cross give a profitable crop for the plains of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and the wheat growing area? That's what a scientist at the High Plains Research Foundation hope to find out.

One experimental strain of this new wheat-rye feed crosses, known as Tri-1, were planted at the Foundation on November 29, 1965 with Tascosa wheat as a comparison crop.

B. Charles Jenkins of the University of Manitoba, Canada has been experimenting with crosses of two grains for years. With wheat pairs of chromosomes and rye, this cross has not been considered possible by some scientists.

Arthur F. Gohlke, Principal Soil Scientist and Administrative Assistant of the Foundation communicated with Dr. Jenkins and secured the forty-one different crosses for testing at the High Plains Research Foundation. The Foundation is the only place in the United States where the testing is conducted. Dr. Jenkins has a winter nursery for testing near Obregon City, Sonora, Mexico.

The Foundation will determine the wheat-rye crosses' ability and the quality of the new possible triticale in cooperation with Dr. Jenkins.

Only two of the forty-one crosses or strains failed to make it through the winter months. Canada apparently is cold and therefore winter is most of the new strains. This experiment is a part of the Foundation's program to develop new and profitable crops for the High Plains of Texas possibly for the wheat growing area. What will its value be? Time and further testing will give the answer.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Looking Into Your Luggage

At the customs office at any port of entry into the United States in plain sight of whoever is to look, a customs inspector may search a suitcase and suspiciously pry the personal belongings it contains. The couple who own the suitcase, coming home from a trip abroad, silently seethe.

It is no wonder that many people resent such treatment. Prying into private effects, like rummaging through private homes, is surely the usual prerogative of our government.

In fact the Constitution itself, the Fourth Amendment, forbids "unreasonable search and seizure."

But examining your luggage at the border is an exception—and a good reason. Bringing merchandise into the country is not an inherent right, but only a privilege, granted on terms the government may choose to impose.

The necessity of enforcing the customs laws," explained a federal court, "has always restricted the right of privacy of those engaged in crossing the international boundary."

Furthermore, to make sure it is not cheated, the government may firmly insist on enforcing its laws and regulations.

For instance:

One woman complained of having to divorce (in the presence of a female official) as part of a customs search. She argued that this was improper, in the absence of a "probable cause" to believe she was hiding something.

But the court upheld the procedure, saying:

"This was a border search; and while it, as well as any other, must be lawfully conducted, different rules are applicable to search at the border and search anywhere else."

Isn't this hard on tourists? Perhaps it is. Yet, consider the practical problems of law enforcement at the border. Once a person gets past customs, the Fourth Amendment takes over—and the chance of catching a smuggler may be lost forever.

In one case, customs agents stopped a suspected smuggler of narcotics after he was 70 miles inside the border. Sure enough, they found heroin in his pocket. But this damning evidence was rejected in court, because the agents had searched the man without the required "probable cause."

How much better to catch such people at the border, said a federal judge, than to play hide-and-seek with them afterward.

Sadler Brothers Active In FFA

BARRAL -- Only two of all boys who are members of the Future Farmers of America fulfill the requirements and receive Lone Star Degrees, the highest in the state. Stan Sadler, a senior at White High School was awarded the coveted state farmer degree at the FFA state convention in Houston this year.

STAN SADLER

MIKE SADLER

His brother, Stan, a sophomore, is working on his state degree and even has hopes of becoming an American farmer.

Mike started his FFA project in '62 with three Durocs. When Stan entered high school two years later, he joined Mike in the hog raising project. This winter the boys had 12 gilts which farrowed 102 live pigs. They have built a good reputation with their many winnings in livestock shows. Two boars and 6 gilts were selected to keep as breeding stock and 17 were sold as show pigs.

The boys have had some cross-bred Duroc and Poland Chinas also, but they prefer the Duroc breed because of the large litters, fast growth and their gentle disposition. At times the hogs have been 24-hour projects, such as at farrowing time. Many hours per day are required when there are many little pigs to be watched. Pens must be kept clean; a minimum of two hours a day is required and often more. Once when a sow with nine little pigs died, the boys raised the entire litter on bottles. Three were sold for show projects.

Mike placed third in his division at the county fat stock show his freshman year. He sold his barrow for $7.75 per pound.

He kept two gilts and bred his own show projects for the

McCanlies Gets Insurance Award

Edgar McCanlies of Littlefield was cited for his outstanding life insurance service at the annual convention of the National Association of Fraternal Insurance Counsellors in Chicago, May 20.

He is an area representative for Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society.

McCanlies received a certificate for having produced more than $500,000 worth of insurance.

He has been an area representative since 1956.

next year. He won a second place ribbon and sold his 202 pound barrow for $1.00 per pound. He learned there are also disappointments this year, too. He paid a $25 breeding fee and the sow farrowed one pig and it died.

This year Mike's barrow was second place runner up to the grand champion at the county show. Both boys showed at the Southwest International Show and Exposition at El Paso this year and placed in the top 10 out of 53 in their class. They bred the barrow that was Grand Champion of the breed and reserve champion of the show at the New Mexico State Fair.

The boys have also shared honors in their local chapter. Mike was Greenhand president his freshman year, and star chapter farmer his sophomore year, chapter treasurer his junior year and is chapter vice president this year and received the crops and poultry awards.

Stan was Greenhand president and Star Greenhand Farmer his freshman year and has been chapter president this year. Stan also received the livestock award and was named Star Chapter Farmer.

Hogs are not their only project however. They have raised lambs several years. This year Stan won grand champion with his Southdown and Mike got first with his heavy weight Hampshire. In addition to the hogs and lambs, they have had turkeys, chickens, cotton and grain. They have raised 150 turkeys and 100 chickens. Each year they have also had 10 acres of irrigated cotton and 8 acres of grain sorghum. Mike won first in his chapter for cotton lint production with 987 pounds per acre, or nearly two bales, his sophomore year. Last year he won second with 834 pounds per acre. Their dry land grain has averaged 2,000 pounds per acre and has been used in their hog feeding project. Projects have been supervised by O.L. Harris, agriculture teacher. All of the profit from the projects goes into a joint savings account to be used for college educations.

Mike plans to enroll at South Plains College this fall.

He has had many honors in the FFA but other academic areas have not been slighted. Mike has been named valedictorian of his high school graduating class.

Cotton has been used since pre-historic times.

Little League Schedule Hot This Week

Little League action this week was sparked by four games. G and C Auto fell to the Security State Bank team 3 to 25. The Lions Club squad edged out Littlefield Butane, 7-5.

VFW overtook Union Compress in a hot game, 22-15, and the Rotary team lost to the Optimist nine by a score of 6-10.

In a game last Thursday, Barton Insurance put the VFW team down by a healthy margin, 25-5.

The winning teams at the beginning of this week still are in the winning column.

The Optimists have extended their winning streak, and Barton Insurance, Security State, the Lions and Littlefield Butane still are holding their own.

If the children run out of things to do on rainy days, arrange a painting session. Give them food coloring and cotton-tipped swabs, and let them color newspaper pictures or decorate brown paper bags.
