WE THINK

What Do You Think?

BY M. E. D.

AND THEY'RE STILL ING BUGGIES

It was sort of a shock to us; understood for a number of that the buggy business had been wiped out of existence. We knew that some were used at horse races, and that buggies were still in use to a slight extent in some parts of the country. Perhaps, however, we haven't visited some sections in which they are being buggied quite extensively.

A folder was received recently by Carl Lambert, Littlefield John Deere dealer, on which were displayed and described a great variety of "buggies." Those pictures took us back a good many years, back to the days when we pulled a tight line on a fancy horse or team, and back to the days when we figured in runaways, upsets, and assisted our Uncle Sam in handling some of his harness racing stock. Those were the days of thrills and chills. Our Uncle Sam was plenty good with his racing stock, and we had an idea that anything Uncle Sam could accomplish that we were just about as capable. In fact, we learned from our Uncle Sam about race horses, bulldogs and several-times-winner roosters.

Back in those days we had ambitions to be a jockey; we were just the correct weight. But father and mother didn't believe in horse racing, and we received definite instructions that the idea of becoming a jockey was just one of those youthful ideas that we were to forget immediately.

We didn't intend to give you some of our family history, but who could forget those old days, especially one who the first he crawled out of his cradle ready for a bride.

Guess we better get back down to earth and tell you something more about the buggies advertised in the pamphlet received by Carl. There are top buggies, panel seat runabouts, break carts, and other models.

Writing about those buggies takes us back many years; in fact, they bring back memories that time will never erase. One of those memories is the time a chestnut mare kicked between my brother and I who were riding on a little seat and facing father and mother. In dry weather that mare was a honey; she could pass everything on the road, but in snow and mud; well, it was much safer to walk.

LAMB COUNTY FARMERS RECEIVE $40,075.81 IN GOVERNMENT CHECKS

Each Draft To Average $37.92; 1057 Received

Cotton subsidy checks, numbering 1057, and amounting to $40,075.81, or an average of $37.92 per check, were received at the County Agent's office the first of this week, according to D. F. Pounds, assistant county agent.

These checks, with those previously delivered make a total of 1711 checks received by Lamb county farmers. This represents about 75 per cent of the total amount, which is due by the government from this source. It is expected that the balance will be received shortly.

STATEMENT TO VOTERS ISSUED BY JUDGE SIKES

Outlines Services Rendered By Justice Of Peace

Judge J. B. Sikes, who announced early in the campaign for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct 4, has just issued an official statement to the voters. Judge Sikes, at the time he announced, did not issue a statement.

Judge Sikes Wednesday issued the following statement: "During the last 18 months there has been filed in Justice court, precinct 4, 351 criminal cases. There has been over $300 collected in fines in above cases and paid into the county treasury of Lamb county.

"Not one dollar of above fines was unjustly collected, so far as I was able to determine.

"During the same period, there has been filed 75 civil cases. In all cases filed, criminal or civil, I have diligently listened to both plaintiff and defendant's statements, also considered all evidence as submitted, and after considering the law have tried to apply the same in the light of the testimony and render a decision fair and just to plaintiff and defendant alike.

"As a magistrate, I have handled more than one half of all criminal cases filed in the county, on which preliminary hearings were had for action before the county grand jury and district court at Olton.

"The above facts should show the Justice of the Peace office in Precinct 4, is no longer an unimportant office, and careful consideration should be given the man selected to administer the same.

"If you think I am the man, I will thank you for your vote in the coming July primary.

"J. B. Sikes."

LOCAL BOARD PURCHASES 17 SCHOOL BUSES

Deal Is Financed With Five Year Loan Bearing 6% Interest

At Monday night's meeting the Littlefield School Board purchased seventeen new school buses, equipped with steel bodies, from the Hewitt Chevrolet company of this city, who were low bidders in the transaction.

According to H. C. Arnold, Secretary of the Littlefield Independent school board, specifications on chassis of the new buses, call for the following: 1936 Chevrolet, hydraulic brakes, oil bath cleaner, monarch governors set at 35 miles per hour, 157 inch wheel base, 1 1/2 ton, truck, dual wheels with seven tires, size 700x20 balloons.

The bodies are to be supplied as per the following specifications: Wayne all steel, 16 feet in length, 95 inch width, full streamlined, all safety glass, all forward facing seats, painted in the school colors of maroon and white.

In discussing the estimated cost of purchase and operation cost to the school board, Mr. Arnold said:

"The cost per unit at the body factory is $1290, or a total cost of $21,930. The school will take delivery of them at the body factory at Richmond, Ind., on or about August 18, and drive them to Littlefield, thereby saving the difference in the F. O. B. Richmond, Ind., price and the F. O. B. Littlefield price of $162.00 per unit, or a total of $2,754 less the expense of driving the buses to Littlefield. The chassis will be shipped from the Chevrolet factory to the Wayne Body Works at Richmond, where the buses will be assembled.

"A majority of the members of the school board will make the trip to Richmond, Ind., and personally supervise the driving of the school buses to Littlefield.

"The school board are financing the full purchase price of this equipment over a period of 5 years at 6 per cent interest. We are doing

Blowing of 18,000 Train Whistles Will Herald Opening of "Railroad Week;" Plan Local Observance

H. C. (Clay) Pumphrey, local Santa Fe agent, has announced that the Western Railroads are making elaborate plans to observe "Railroad Week" from Monday, July 13, until Saturday, July 18, and that at 8 a. m., local time, Monday 18,000 train whistles are scheduled to be heard throughout the west as a salute to the second annual "Railroad Week," and to officially open this program.

According to Mr. Pumphrey, "an engine and several cars, under the supervision of an engineer will be placed on the switch at the local depot, and children may get on, blow the whistle and run the train," as a part of the celebration for the occasion.

Mayor L. R. Crockett Wednesday issued a proclamation setting aside from July 13 until 18 as "Railroad Week," for the celebration of the progress made by Western Railroads during the past year.

Concurrent with the celebration of "Railroad Week" here, some 500 other cities and towns throughout the West will hold their individual observances of this period, which has been set aside to celebrate a year of achievement unparalleled in the one hundred year history of the "Iron Horse."

New swift streamlined trains dot the west. Air-conditioned passenger equipment has become commonplace on virtually every road. New trains flash brilliant challenges to time as they clip travel schedules between terminals. All in all, it has been a year of achievement that more than justifies "Railroad Week's" prime purpose of telling the traveling public that the railroads have come back with a bang.

Wind Erosion Checks Available At County Agent's Office

According to Donald Turner, County Agent, about 25,000 acres of wheat land have been treated in Lamb county to prevent wind erosion.

Mr. Turner states that the farmers did a nice job because practically all of the land was contoured, and that this will be a great help in making an even distribution of water over the fields.

Farmers received about $5,000 for treating this land or 20 cents an acre.

Turner states that the last payment has been made, and the checks are available at the County Agent's office. All producers who have not received their checks are urged to get them immediately.

BACK TO THE FARM

More Americans are living on farms today than ever before in the nation's history, according to a report just made public by the United States Bureau of Census. There were 31,800,907 in the farm population of January 1, 1935. That is 1,356,557 more than on April 1, 1930, when the last previous farm census was taken.

According to the Director of the Census most of the current increase in farm population consists of families who have moved back from industrial centers to the security and peace of the land. They are "subsistence farmers" in the phrase now current. They are the type of Americans who prefer to dig their own living out of the soil, even at the cost of remoteness from the movies, rather than to go on relief.

COTTON IN CHINA

Cotton in China this year will yield a total production of about 3,000,000 bales, compared with 2,600,000 bales last year, a report published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture recently states.

Like all countries the Chinese have made every effort the past few years to produce their own fleecy staple and thus have their own country be "self-sufficient." Being "self-sufficient," be it understood, in most of the countries of the world means independent of the United States sources. Some of this is due to trade and other barriers thrown up by country and some of it to the fact that many of these countries owe the United States, have an unfavorable trade balance and don't want to go into debt any more than they have to do.—Floyd County Hesperian.

WEST TEXAS OFFERS OPPORTUNITY

Van Zandt Jarvis, a resident of Fort Worth, a West Texan through and through, and the new president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was interviewed recently by Alex Montfort, Jr., and the interview published in West Texas Today, official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The spirit of a true West Texan was ably expressed when Mr. Jarvis said:

"I had rather be president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce than Governor of Texas."

Continuing Mr. Jarvis said:

"West Texas faces the opportunity of a life time this year; an opportunity to make the world West Texas conscious! Our exhibit at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial is our chance to awaken every visitor to our natural resources, our progress, our industries and our people themselves.

"We have an almost unbelievable story to tell the world! A message that will amaze the universe. A message of unbounded natural resources, of vast acreage that almost pleads for development.

"It is a little known fact, outside our own borders, that West Texas is 20 per cent developed and 80 per cent undeveloped, while just the opposite is true of the rest of the State.

"Where on the face of this globe is such an opportunity extant?"

"Where else can you find broad fertile acres open for settlement; resources of all kinds awaiting business interests; towns and cities eager for new industries, huge markets needing outlets?"

"West Texas truly is the land of opportunity. We have, in the past, done a good job of telling our story to the world. But never have we faced such a chance to impress it on people from everywhere. They'll be here for the Centennial, and it is our task to present our opportunities. I call upon you for your help, and I know that it will be forthcoming.

"I can not praise too highly the work program adopted at the recent convention in Amarillo. It is an admirable outline of the aims and hopes of our section.

"I will do my utmost to fulfill, with your co-operation, its every proposal.

"Let us go forward with West Texas. Let us bend our every effort to emphasize that this is truly God's country."

SOME MAJOR FEATURES OF DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN PLATFORMS OF 1936 AND THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM OF 1932

Presented herewith is a comparison of some major features of the Democratic and Republican platforms of 1936 and the Democratic platform of 1932:

Labor and the Constitution
Democratic, 1936—Called for federal and state authority to deal with problems of monopoly, maximum hours, minimum wages, child labor and working conditions in industry. Promised to seek these ends within the constitution or, if necessary, through constitutional amendment.
Republican, 1936—Promised to abolish sweatshops, child labor, protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions, expressing belief this could be done within the constitution as it now stands. (Governor Landon said: Constitutional amendment, if necessary, to give states such power.)
Democratic, 1932—No Constitutional labor issue.

Money
Democratic, 1936—Pledged sound, unfluctuating currency, asserting "we have the soundest currency in the world."
Republican 1936—Pledged sound currency, restoration to congress of authority to regulate its value. (Landon said sound currency to him meant ultimate restoration of gold standard.)
Democratic, 1932—Advanced a sound currency to be "preserved at all hazards" and an international conference on silver.

Unemployment
Democratic, 1936—Pledged national handling of unemployment problems, public works at prevailing wages, with state and local cooperation.
Republican, 1936—Pledged to remove "restrictions on production" blamed for hindering absorption of unemployed in private industry. Pledged grants to the states "while the need exists."
Democratic, 1932—Pledged federal advocated shorter hours to spread aid for public works program, and employment.

Agriculture
Democratic, 1936—To continue soil conservation, benefit payments and domestic allotment production control, government aid in debt refinancing, crop adjustment, commodity loans.
Republican, 1936—Removal of marginal lands from production, credit assistance, an export bounty on crops with production beyond domestic consumption, soil conservation with benefit payments to "family type" farms.

Monopoly
Democratic, 1936—Enforcement of criminal and civil provisions of antitrust laws, with amendments where necessary to stamp out monopolistic practices.
Republican, 1932—Essentially the same.

Tariff
Democratic, 1936—Continuation of reciprocal trade agreements to eliminate tariff, quota and embargo barriers against American exports; but protection against cheap labor or subsidized foreign production.
Republican, 1936—Pledged repeal of the reciprocal trade act. Restoration of the flexible tariff, use of tariff to balance agriculture against other industries.
Democratic, 1932—A competitive tariff for revenue, and reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations.

Foreign Affairs
Democratic, 1936—Opposition to war as "an instrument of national policy" to preserve the neutrality, to prepare to resist aggression.
Republican, 1936—Pledged promotion of peace "by all honorable means" but expressed opposition to "foreign alliances"; against World court or league adherence. To promote international arbitration.
Democratic, 1932—Advocated "settlement of international disputes by arbitration"; adherence to the world court, and to outlawry-or-war pact.

Government Finance
Democratic, 1936—Claimed deflation stopped, and next step is to reduce expenses of government, "being aided therein by the recession in unemployment." Promised retrenchment, with tax and recovery program directed toward "a balanced budget and the reduction of the national debt at the earliest possible moment."
Republican, 1936—Promised to "stop the folly of uncontrolled spending" to balance the budget by cutting expenditures, to revise the federal tax system "for raising revenue and not for punitive or political purposes."

Democratic, 1932—Pledged abolition of offices and other economies to reduce government costs "not less than" 25 per cent; balance budget, with revenues from taxation "levied on the principle of ability to pay."

Texas Press Urges Re-election Of Allred

WHY OPPOSE GOVERNOR ALLRED—?

It is a peculiar thing that a public official who makes good on promise and performance cannot be let alone and be allowed to devote his time to the people's business. But not so. Always there is some office-hungry person who comes out as a candidate on a trumped up, vote-getting, non-constructive platform. He has nothing to offer but himself, and usually winds up by getting nothing, but he does succeed in nagging and worrying the man in office, for the latter must answer various charges no matter how spurious and unfair they may be. How any candidate can expect to defeat Governor Allred for a second term, and why the Governor should be defeated, are equally hard questions to answer.—Commerce Daily Journal.

THE LANDSLIDE BEGINS

With a speech that started a landslide to his standard, Governor James V. Allred opened his active campaign Tuesday evening before a large and appreciative audience which had gathered from all over the state.

The Governor, who has been referred to as "Jaunty Jimmie" by the "Tottering Tom" aggregation, lived up to the cognomen Tuesday night, (June 30,) despite the fact that he spent a very fatiguing week at the National Democratic Convention at Philadelphia where he had the pleasure of nominating Vice-President Garner for re-election.

Apparently as fresh as ever, he told the enormous crowd of his earnest endeavors in behalf of the people of Texas and of his future aims for the common good.

"There is no occasion," declared the governor, "for the dire predictions of disaster and demand for new and oppressive taxes." This is only one of the many points by which Allred has "sold" himself to the people of Texas. He is positively against any new tax burdens and predicts that, as the situation stands, Texas' deficit will be entirely wiped out within the next two years.

Allred's enemies, who have always been strongly against an Old Age Assistance plan, now that the Governor has proved the idea feasible and has actually put it in action, are doing anything in their power to discredit the man who has been the power behind it all, even to the extent of alleging that he had nothing to do with it.

Such infamous accusations are nothing short of ridiculous. Thinking people know it and it is very likely that Jimmie Allred will be again a great governor of a great state without the necessity of a runoff.

Thinking Texans appreciate the fact that the issue has not yet been raised that our Governor will evade. No question was left unanswered in his opening speech and several points were really revelations to the audience.
Jimmie Allred, a true man and a great Governor is all the people of Texas want for a leader. There are reasons for a landslide.—Whitboro News-Record.

NO REASON FOR RUN-OFF IN GOVERNOR'S RACE THIS YEAR

Governor James V. Allred, busy with his duties as Centennial Governor and at the Democratic National Convention where he played a prominent role, opens his campaign for re-election Tuesday, (June 30.) It is likely that the list of virtually unknown and impossible candidates who have been beating their chests and fanning the overheated Texas air trying to drum up an issue or some antagonism will take to flight when Jim Allred begins talking facts, issues and principles as only he can.

Even now there is rumor that one Texas demagogue will withdraw his puppet from the race because he found not a single issue to make and no appeal with which his colorless personality could even attract crowds. Others undoubtedly will follow and Governor Allred will be given the customary second term in office by default or by a tremendous majority in the first primary. Texas owes Allred this honor and Texas should elect him for the first ballot and save him for the national campaign of the Democratic Party.

There is no reason for a run-off primary this year. The candidates opposing Governor Allred might show their patriotism and their appreciation of the greatness of the Outstanding Young Man of the nation by withdrawing now and saving themselves the humiliation of uttering a word at the polls in July. Such action on their part would reflect lasting credit to them and to the man who will be the next Governor of Texas and who may be the presidential or vice-presidential nominee of the Democratic Party in 1940. It would be appreciated by a tremendous majority of the voters of Texas who simply cannot take any candidate or any issue in the Governor's race seriously this year.—Amarillo News.

SHOULD RE-ELECT ALLRED IN THE PRIMARY

Governor James V. Allred last night opened his campaign before a crowd of more than 10,000 people at Waxahachie.

His numerous opponents, who have been speaking on any or every occasion and who scour the state day and night looking for a place to speak, have never had more than 500 listeners and more often the audience seldom numbers more than 50.

That is a strong indication that Governor Allred is still the man of the hour and will again be elected.

Why not elect Governor Allred in the primary? Why not put him back July 25 and let him continue his work with the state from that date instead of making him continue his campaign? It would be the smartest thing Texas voters could do.—Childress Index.

It was of historical interest to the delegates, that they, in this Centennial year, should be permitted to meet in the first Texas congregation of their Synod.

Some 500 Wends from Europe, under the leadership of the sainted Rev. John Kilian, reached the shores of Texas in 1854, after enduring many hardships and a cholera epidemic which claimed the lives of 73 of the immigrants. They settled in Serbin, 7 miles southeast of Giddings, where they built a large stone church with wall three feet thick and a quaint flag stone floor, which required 7 years to build. The structure is still serving the descendants and was used for the convention sessions. The original bell, brought along by the settlers, is now on display at the Texas Centennial Exhibit in Dallas.

The Rev. C. M. Beyer, of Wichita Falls, who was re-elected President of the district, presided over the sessions.

Divine services were held on Friday evening with the Rev. F. W. Lammert, of Cypress, and the Rev. A. Bohot, of Schulenburg, serving as speakers. A mission service was held Sunday morning with hundreds of people, from surrounding congregations, in attendance. The Rev. A. Arndt, of Wharton, preached the sermon. He will be remembered by many, having served the Lutheran congregation here in 1921.

On Sunday afternoon, the Rev. J. A. Birnbaum, of Vernon, delivered an educational sermon to the same audience.

CHURCH SERVICES AT RITZ
 Evangelist Jno. R. Denning

We are looking forward to this being one of the most happy and profitable days we have experienced in several months, and we want that all our friends be present to share the blessings with us. It will be the first Sunday gathering of the newly perfected Missionary Baptist church, and we hope to announce to you the name by which we shall be known, as well as give details of an intensive revival campaign which the church will wage daily throughout the remainder of the summer.

Come and be with us in every service of the day, beginning at ten o'clock with the Down Town Bible class, when we study the 46th and 47th chapters of Genesis.

Then follows the eleven o'clock preaching service, at which time we shall present our reason for the necessity of this church, and reiterate its doctrinal platform.

The Young People meet at 7:45 for the study of the topic, "Sin." Both Young People and adults will benefit by this service, which will be led by Mildred Smith.

At 8:30 o'clock, the sermon subject will be: "But As For Me And My House." Every Christian person who values their Salvation should hear this message.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Divine services next Sunday morning are to be held in the English language. The sermon topic will be, "Our Material Success in Life Due to Divine Blessing." In the afternoon a meeting of the entire congregation will be held. Mr. Herman Timian will make his report of the convention held last week in Serbin, Texas. The pastor will also add a report on certain missionary activities of the district. The meeting is set for 2:30 p. m. All members and their families are asked to be present.

Last Thursday night the Young Peoples society met in the school basement. Several games were played, among which a memory test was held. Mrs. R. Ogerly read the introduction to her paper on, "You and Your Church." Refreshments were served to approximately thirty members. The next meeting is scheduled for the last Wednesday of the month.

METHODIST CHURCH
 J. W. Hendrix, Pastor

The church school is receiving special emphasis in the meeting. We are having a general rally on attendance. It is solely to reach our own people. The fact is, most churches of our day has a host of people lying out, people whom for some reason do not feel the inner urge, the necessity of personal attendance. And in turn, consciously or unconsciously, vote against the thing the church is doing. Motto: Double the Attendance!

The revival will continue through Sunday. Rev. Huckabee desires to have us announce the following subjects for that day. "A Big Wolf Story," likely for the church school short service. He will announce his morning subject later; but for the evening, "The Last Call." Comments are all favorable, people are greatly enjoying the ministry of Bro. Huckabee. Suppose you get in on it!

Young People service—7:45 p. m. Intermediates at the same hour.

REVIVAL SERVICES
 Revival services are being attended by people from a number of different churches. While it is in the Methodist auditorium, or out on the lawn—as the weather dictates, it is in no wise a denominational meeting. Rev. Mr. Huckabee announced that he thought of his task as an effort to reach the community as well, and he has held to this idea consistently.

JOIN THE CHURCH NIGHT
 —FAMILY NIGHT

Join the church night is set to be featured Thursday at the evening service. If any present themselves for other churches their names will be turned over to other secretaries. At the 9:30 a. m. service Friday we will observe an old-fashioned love feast. It might be new to you!

Rev. Willis J. Ray To Preach At First Baptist Sunday

Rev. Willis J. Ray of Big Springs, Texas, will preach at the morning service at the First Baptist church Sunday.

Rev. Ray is reported to be an excellent preacher, and all members of the congregation are urged to attend this service.

Rev. Ray is serving as District Missionary of the Baptist General Convention of District No. 8, with headquarters at Big Springs.

Special Service To Be Held At Ritz Friday Evening

Evangelist Jno. R. Denning announces that there will be a special service at the Ritz Friday night at 8:30 o'clock, at which a new church organization will be formally perected, and a suitable name selected.

Rev. Denning urges that all of his friends and supporters in Littlefield and Lamb county who are really interested in an organized effort towards an intensive and constant evangelistic campaign to win the lost, and who believe in a missionary work that has direct contact with, and gives support directly to, the missionary, will be sure to be present in this service.

DISTRICT SOFTBALL MEET IS ASSURED LITTLEFIELD

That Littlefield will be the sectional headquarters for the first round of the state softball tournament loomed as certain last night after a telephone conversation with Collier Parris of Lubbock, recently appointed state softball representative in this section.

An exchange of telegrams yesterday between the Leader sports writer and Harold White, state softball commissioner, gave this city tentative assurance for the site. Still, as state officials have been dickered with Parris, Avalanche-Journal sports writer, Lubbock would be first choice.

Parris expressed hope last night, however, that Littlefield would receive the meet in preference to Lubbock due to the lack of playing facilities there. A scheduled baseball tourney there would interfere also.

At least 15 teams are to enter.

P&E TRIES LUCK AGAINST TOP-NOTCHERS

West Texas Gas Should Get Another Work-Out Tonight

It's the same old weekly story—Renfro continues to set the pace with the Littlefield P&E team chugging along at a moderate speed awaiting their chance to take a crack at the loop leaders top rung.

And Friday's the night.

The City softball loop should have a blood curdling struggle tomorrow night when the P&E's attempt to straddle the loop saddle with the Grocers. A win over the Grocers will make the last half flag race a little less bore some and more exciting to the spectators who pack the park when a second rating team plays and fails to take notice when the loop leaders tangle.

The Fisher brothers may give Houghton's fast ball long rides, unless he chokes up like the Producers did last week and tosses 'em easy.

Tonight, less exciting than last Thursday night, Pop Watson's Producers are slated to play another Thursday night game that will have about as much significance on the league standing as the P&E-Grocer game tomorrow night, only this will settle a cellar argument.

If the Gasers win, which would be one of the wonders of the world, the Producers may find themselves starting at the cellar in a tie with the Gas House Gang in the fourth place notch.

AMHERST REDS WIN PITCHERS DUEL, 5 TO 4

Lefty Hambricht Whiffs 16 To Stretch Strike Out Record To 36

AMHERST.—A sand storm, fire trucks, strong opposition, plus wind can't keep Gaut Hambricht, long-legged one-handed Amherst south-paw, from winning ball games and stretching his string of strike outs. Somehow, the guy is just uncanny.

Friena offered oppositions last Sunday that was what opposition is supposed to be. They had the pitching, even the hitting, but the one man show dazzled 'em with 16 strike outs, seven coming in succession and a single to win another ball game, 5 to 1.

It was a three up and three down affair most of the way on both sides. Amherst collected errors and a two timely singles and a double in the third and fifth to score their five runs. Friena was held well in hand until the late innings when a double by Leah scored a runner from second. The invaders filled the bases with one out in the eighth, but Hambricht bore down and seruck the next two men out.

Hambricht Faces Slugging Big Spring Oilers Sunday

Cosden Oil Team May Give Amhurst Clubbing In Feature Set-To

AMHERST, July 8.—Lefty Gaut Hambricht's winning streak of two straight victories and 35 strike outs may reach a sudden end Sunday when the Cosden Oilers from Big Spring invade Welch Park.

The feature game of two weeks ago which failed to produce as scheduled will be on deck at the local lot Sunday when the high pressured Cosden Refining company club play Manager Rowland's Reds. The Oilers, having one of the fastest clubs in this part of the state, offer Lamb county fans added attraction with their color and semi-pro class.

Two Straight
Not since the Wilson onslaught b. h. (before Hambricht) has the Amherst club been on the little end of the score. But Sunday, Hambricht is expected to have difficulties in getting the slugging Cosden nine out. Several weeks ago in Odessa, Hambricht faced the Big Spring aggregation and nudged the Oilers 2-1 with the aid of some potent and timely knocks. But even if the Amherst ace flinger keeps the Cosden ten in check, the Reds aren't the sluggers that the Odessa were; and Big Spring club are the hitters that should change Hambricht's pace.

Sunday week, the Reds play their only game of the season out of Welch Park when they play a return game with the Lubbock Hubbers on the latter cow pasture park. Game time Sunday is 3 o'clock.

Governor Allred, in his opening speech, spoke on the old age pension program, outlining his accomplishments as Governor, and stating he is depending on his record of service to elect him for a second term.

Five different bands furnished the music for the celebration.

Mr. James is a personal friend of Governor and Mrs. Allred, and in an interview with the Leader Tuesday stated that the Governor, in conversation with him before leaving Waxahachie, sent his "personal greetings to the people of Lamb County."

Notice is hereby given that on the 16th day of July from one o'clock to six o'clock p. m. there will be a Cemetery working in the Littlefield Cemetery, and all who have relatives or friends buried there are invited to take a part in this work.

The Cemetery Association has recently spent some $300.00 in building a concrete tank for a water supply in the new part of the Cemetery and in addition to this, about 900 feet of pipe has been purchased for water lines, and connections have been made over a large part of the Cemetery, and it will be necessary to bury these lines, and will require considerable labor to do this, which necessitates the importance of having a number of men out there for the working on July 16th.

THIRD INSTALLMENT

SYNOPSIS—Silas Spelle, high-handed, low-principled cattle baron, is out to smash the local band and force foreclosure on the small ranchers of the Kanab desert country so that he can seize their range lands. He is opposed by Ed Spurlock, president of the Cattleman's Bank, and by San Juan Delevan, prominent rancher who has been crippled by a fall from his horse. Johnny Clehoe and his partner, Tex Whipple and his partner, Johnny Clehoe, are cowpunchers employed by San Juan Delevan to fight the rustlers and protect his interests.

"Better make the most of it lil' skates," cautioned Tex. "Gosh As soon as it was light enough knows when yuh'll get any more." to read sign Tex got busy. First he rode in a wide circle about the Springs, peering closely at the dust and sand of the desert floor. Johnny followed closely at his heels. They completed a circle of about a mile when Tex pulled up and while rolling a smoke peered with keen eyes out to the northwest.

"Delevan had the right hunch," he drawled. "Wade an' the rest of those coyotes double-crossed their own boss."

Johnny, who had learned a lot about reading sign from Tex, nodded.

"Ye. They jest cut out ninety or a hundred haid an' headed 'em northwest with two men on the drag. The rest they took on to the Box D. They cooked up that yarn about rustlers as a blind an' figgered the wind would wipe out the tracks before anybody could prove 'em a liar."

"Shore, yuh're learnin', son. Lemme see, Wa'e an' his gang musta left Skelton Springs about noon yesterday. The tracks show that's out right. That gives 'em about teen, eighteen hours start. I cain't drive them cattle any farther 'cause that long drive into Springs musta had 'em pretty ragged. I gotta hunch we can catch 'em. C'mon." At noon Tex halted enough to loosen the saddle girths for a moment while he poured a mouthful or two of water from a canteen into the crown of his hat and let the thirsty broncos wash the dust from their throats and nostrils. Then the don't think so. Well, got yore hawg-laig loose in the leather."

Tex and Johnny lifted their broncos into a gallop and pounded down across the quarter mile which separated them from the rustlers and the cattle. So absorbed were the rustlers in their work they did not

He reined to sudden stop and loosed two careful, deliberate shots cinches were taken up again and the steady grind resumed. At about three in the afternoon Tex rose in his stirrups and pointed ahead. There, maybe five miles distant, lay a drifting cloud of dust.

Tex increased the pace perceptibly and an hour later he and Johnny came to the edge of a wide dry lake, across the middle of which weary, thirsty lines of Hereford cattle slowly filed. In the rear, hazing the cattle onward, two men were riding swinging the ends of lariats across the backs of laggards, fighting the inevitable slowing down of the herd.

"Caught 'em," rasped Tex through cracked, dust-caked lips. "Reckon mebber we're in for a fight, son. O' course they may run for it, but I his companion, jerked out a gun and wheeled his horse to one side.

"Watch yoreself kid," yelled Tex. "I'll be the one on the right."

But the rustlers were shooting now. They were desperate, tired men, their nerves on edge from weariness and bodily discomfort and faced with the knowledge that they were caught cold with the stolen cattle in front of them. To surrender was to put their necks in a noose. They would fight it out.

Johnny picked his man and went at him on a run, leaning low over his bronco's neck. He heard the whisper of flying lead above him, but he held his own fire until not twenty yards separated him from the rustler. Then he reined his horse to a sudden stop, sat up straight and loosed two careful, deliberate shots. In the interval between his first and second shot something lifted his sombrero from his head. But he did not flinch, determined to make the most of his careful shooting. Harum-scarum as the plan was it worked. With the second report of Johnny's Colt the rustler stiffened and pitched headlong from his saddle.

Then Johnny turned to see how Tex was making it. A gulp of fear rose in his throat. Tex's horse was down and kicking. Tex himself lay, half sat to one side, but shooting deliberately. The second outlaw was backing his horse away, holding the rearing animal's head and neck before his body as a shield. Johnny gave a yell and dug in the spurs, racing in on the rustler at an angle. Johnny was shooting now, trying to draw the outlaw's attention from Tex. He succeeded but found himself suddenly clicking the hammer of his gun on empty cylinders.

Realizing his predicament Johnny kneed his horse away, snicking back the loading gate and punching out the empty shells as he rode. Quick to grasp his opportunity the rustler poised himself for a careful shot at the fleeing Johnny. For a split second the rustler was stationary and Tex, now on his knees and aiming carefully over his left forearm, pulled the trigger on the last loaded chamber in his gun. Close on the heels of Tex's shot came another — But the rustler's bullet went wild for he was already falling from the saddle, shot in the temple.

Johnny whirled his horse about and galloped back relieved to see Tex rise to his feet and come limping forward.

"Yuh dang fool kid," barked Tex wrathfully, though he knew the wrath was merely a cloak to deeper emotions. "What's the idea o' yore chargin' in thataway with an empty gun? Wanta get yoreself salivated?"

"Shucks," muttered Johnny. "How'd I know yuh wa'n't hit? Yuh was down wa'n't yuh? An' him afannin, at yuh all the time? What did yuh want me to do, sit back an' lead the cheerin' section?"

"Well," growled Tex. "Yuh might have some respect for my feelin's, if I'd o' missed him he'd o' got yuh shore."

"Mebber—mebbe," grinned Johnny. "But believe me I was skedad-dlin' to beat hell."

"Where's yore hat?" demanded Tex irrelevantly. "I suppose yuh rode right up to that other jasper an' slapped him in the face with it?"

"None," retored Johnny. "He lifted it off with a .45 jest before I plugged him. Well, it looks like we done for a herd o' cattle an' two daid rustlers on our hands, Tex. An' they's two broncos for yuh to take yore pick of. I'll round 'em up for yuh."

While Johnny was busy with this errand Tex rolled a cigarette with shaking, fumbling fingers. He was blinking his eyes rapidly to keep back the moisture.

"Yuh dang, helter-skelter, loyal gutty young cub," he muttered. "What would I do without yuh?"

Then he blew his nose loudly and set to getting his saddle off his dead bronco.

Tom Burney, book-keeper of the Cattleman's Bank in Carillion, stared in a stunned, horrified, apathetic sort of a way at the doorway leading into Ed Starbuck's private office. Sprawled on his face across the sill was Ed Starbuck. His one arm was out-stretched before him and a few inches in front of his extended fingers lay the heavy revolver the old man had not been swift enough to use. A little pool of crimson was beginning to spread on the floor near one shoulder of the still figure.

Almost at Starbuck's feet lay another body, that of Al Stinson, the Cashier of the bank. He also had made the mistake of reaching for a gun. Tom Burney wrenched his eyes from the dead men and stared through his window at the two masked figures beyond. The round, unwinking muzzle of the frontier model Colt which was trained just at his waistline, seemed to possess some hypnotic quality. It had the same cold, malignant suggestion which lies in the upraised head of a rattlesnake about to strike. A thread of pale smoke was trickling above it. Two shots and two men dead! A muscle twisting shudder rippled through Burney's body. He could feel the great blobs of sweat gather on his forehead. In a purely mechanical manner he started to lower his right hand to brush the moisture away.

"Keep 'em up!" came the harsh command. "Ain't there anything but damn fools in this place? Move over to that cage door and unlock it. Keep yore hands in plain sight. One phoney move an' there'll be three

"HERE'S TRUE ECONOMY"

Says the Golden Traffic Cop

Whether you believe it or not, a high anti-knock gasoline is the MOST ECONOMICAL fuel you can use in your car or truck.

True, the first cost may be a few cents more... BUT... when you consider the wear and tear on your cylinders... slow pick-up... carbonized spark-plugs... loss of power and miles per gallon... an anti-knock gas will really SAVE YOU MONEY.

And the PEER of anti-knock gasolines... the gasoline that is refined to 70 OCTANE rating without the use of any adulterants or artificial stimulants is

COSDEN HIGHER OCTANE GASOLINE
Watch for the Golden Traffic Cop and the COSDEN HIGHER OCTANE sign... drive in and fill up the tank today and you'll really experience "true economy" in motor fuel.

FROCK FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Pattern 8801: Good enough to play hostess, good enough to make calls and not too uppity to go to market is this delightful, all-purpose frock. It's easy to make, with the capelet sleeves and shallow yoke cut in one piece, and the close fitting neckline is flattering to everyone. The waist is gathered at the yoke-line, front and back to give that soft fullness so necessary.

The simple, gently flared skirt is most graceful and offers a balance to the slightly wider sleeves with inverted pleats. Almost any seasonal fabric will fill the bill, and fortunate indeed will be the lucky lady who claims this fetching frock for her summer wardrobe.

Enter Second Year Under Ford Sponsorship

When Jose Manzanares and his famous South American orchestra recently ended their first year under Ford Motor Company sponsorship, the members of the orchestra grouped themselves around a birthday cake for the celebration, which took place in the Ford Exposition building at Dallas. It was more than a year ago that the Manzanares organization began to play in the Ford patio at the Ford Exposition in San Diego, California, since which time it has appeared continuously under Ford auspices.

dead men instead o' two. Hurry up!"
Moving with the mechanical stiffness of an automaton Burney walked jerkily to the cage door. Burney was a mild little man, totally unused to scenes of violence; supreme contented with his position amid his endless columns of figures. What had just taken place had filled him with dread and horror and had stunned all thought and initiative.

Beyond the barrier the bandit who had done the shooting kept step with him. When Burney lowered his hands to the lock the bandit jabbed his gun through the bars until the muzzle nearly touched Burney's throat. The latter retched slightly. The stink of powder gas was strong in his nostrils. His fingers fumbled at the lock. The door swung back.

Lithe as a weasel the bandit was inside, his gun buried deep against Burney's side. The second bandit crowded in at their heels.

"Now the vault," ordered the killer. "The alert bandit snarled. The combination."

"I—I know it," mumbled Burney. "Get busy then."

Burney bent over the combination. His fingers, fumbling and clumsy, twirled the dial. Once he overshot a number and spoiled the set up. The alert bandit snarled. "Don't stall for time. If anybody comes before yuh get the vault open yuh get a slug, savvy?"

Burney nodded mechanically and ran a furry tongue over his dry lips. He began again. This time he went through the numbers without a mistake. The final tumbler clicked. He twisted the handle and set himself against the weight of the vault door. The massive portal swung back. The next instant something crashed against the back of his head with terrific force and he felt himself falling—falling—!
The robbery was discovered the next morning when the bank failed to open its doors at the regular time. Burney was still alive but when Doc McMurdo, a hard-bitten, dour, silent old Scotchman examined him, he shook his head. He had Burney carried to his home where he did the best he could for the stricken man. Burney died just before four o'clock that afternoon from a concussion of the brain. Before he went he had a brief spell of delirium and throughout the broken jumble was a single phrase that he reiterated again and again. Doc McMurdo was alone with Burney at the time and as he listened a queer, calculating expression crossed his hard-bitten features.
The sheriff, Gorman, made a hasty investigation in a very imposing, mysterious manner, then wired for a bank examiner to handle the bank's affairs. Two days later he had vanished, taking the trail back to Westhaven. The bank examiner made some hasty calculations and pronounced the bank insolvent. The day after this was announced Silas Speele rode into Carillion and was closeted for several hours with the examiner. When he left, Speele's face was twisted in a smirk of triumph. He had won again.

PASTORS AND WORKERS OF WEST PLAINS ASS'N MEET AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A day of prayer and evangelistic conference of the pastors and workers of the West Plains Baptist Association took place at the First Baptist church Monday.

The conference was led by Rev. A. A. Brian.

The speaker at the 11 o'clock hour was Rev. George Dale, pastor of the First Baptist church of Tahoka. In the afternoon Miss Beck, returned Missionary from Brazil, spoke, and Rev. L. S. Jenkins of Amherst brought the closing message.

According to Rev. Brian, who is now District Missionary of District No. 9 of the Baptist General Convention, the purposes of Monday's meeting was to organize an association which would have as its purpose the reaching every community with a revival meeting during the summer months.

Bus Contract—

this because the state department will allow us to set up one-fifth each year of the cost of our transportation equipment; in other words, in our application for state aid on transportation we will be approved for one-fifth of our entire investment in transportation equipment.

"Another advantage to be gained by the school board in owning their own buses is that in the operation of school owned equipment, the board will be able to buy at wholesale prices, tax free, all gas, oil and tires, and will also be entitled to a "fleet owners" discount of 25 per cent on all Chevrolet parts, and a "fleet owners" discount of 50 per cent on labor.

"Members of the board went personally to several school districts to get their costs of operation on school owned equipment, and basing our figures of cost operation on the figures obtained, and figuring in our payment for this equipment, we arrived at the total for transportation cost over a five year period.

"We figured $50.00 per month per chassis for operation, which includes bus driver's salary, insurance, (fire, theft and public liability) gas, oil and upkeep. This would figure $7,870.00 for 17 trucks per year. That also includes the building of a garage or shed for these buses.

"Taking the above into consideration, the total transportation cost over a 5 year period would be as follows:

First year, note and interest, $5701.80 plus operation cost, $7870.00; total $13,571.80.

Second year, note and interest, $5438.64 plus operation cost, $7870.00; total $13,308.64.

Third year, note and interest, $5175.48 plus operation cost, $7870.00; total, $13,045.48.

Fourth year, note and interest, $4912.32 plus operation cost, $7870.00; total, $12,782.32.

Fifth year, note and interest, $4649.16 plus operation cost, $7870.00; total, $12,519.16.

"Over the five year period, based on the amount paid by the school board for transportation in 1935-36, which was $16,250.00, the above program of owning and operating the school's own buses will realize a saving to the school system of $15,822.60, plus whatever the value of equipment and garage at the end of the five year period.

"Another point to be taken into consideration" stated Mr. Arnold, "is the fact that the school board this year was faced with the problem of buying new bodies for all the school trucks, with the exception of two. In nearly all the other states the law is requiring all steel safety bodies, and as we have reason to believe that the State of Texas will also be requiring such within a year or two, it would not be practicable to obtain home constructed wooden bodies with the likelihood we would have to discard them in a year or so, and buy bodies that would conform with the state regulations.

"Each year, when we were contracting with individuals to furnish the chassis, with the school system providing the bodies, at the end of the school term, we were forced to unload the bodies, store, insure, and reload them at the beginning of the next school term, which besides being expensive, damages the bodies more than the actual service. We plan to reserve two of our better bodies and attempt to sell the balance.

In concluding his statement relative to the purchase of the school buses, Mr. Arnold stated "that under the present program, besides saving considerable of the taxpayers money in the transportation branch of the school system, that much better transportation will be rendered.

ton, Bula, Muleshoe, Morton, Baileyboro, Littlefield and any other troops that may have been overlooked in this district.

This meet will be one of several district meets leading up to a Council wide swimming meet at Lubbock sometime in August. The winners of these meets will be eligible to represent this district at the Lubbock meet and the various districts will be in competition with each other at the Council meet.

The organization for handling the meet here will be as follows: H. B. Teal and Scoutmaster Hutchinson of Sudan will be in charge of securing judges for the meet. Floyd Coffman will present the awards to the winners at the meet. Carl Arnold is in charge of keeping a set of records of the meet that will become the official records of eligibility for the next meet. Lloyd Kennedy and A. A. Alexander will be time keeper and field judge respectively.

Claude Goens and Gene Latimer will look after the health and safety precautions. A. B. Sanders is charged with the responsibility of directing the meet.

The public is invited to attend the meet free of charge. In fact their presence on this Saturday afternoon would add considerably to the success of the meet.

rains, but it is fine to see something green, even if it's weeds."

AND THE MATTER WAS SETTLED WITHOUT A SHOT BEING FIRED—

We recently went after Uncle Ezra of the Morton Reporter writin' crew. What started all the fuss was that Uncle Ezra said something or other to the effect that Littlefield's business section consisted of one narrow business street and a couple of alleys. Uncle Ezra did his best in his last week's paper to get everything all straightened out peaceably; in fact, he did a good job of pouring oil on the troubled waters, and concluded his remarks with the following paragraph:

"And now Morley, Uncle Ezra truly invites you and his other good friends of Littlefield, over to spend the 4th. If you'll come over and be our guest for the day, we'll open a keg of nails and all have a good time. What say?"

"Write again some time." Uncle Ezra, we thank you for the kind invitation. Much to our regret we didn't get time to read your paper until this Sabbath day; otherwise, without a doubt, we would have been over for the Glorious Fourth.

IF WE HAD A BOY LIKE THAT—

My! My! My! He'd write our editorials; he'd sell advertising; he'd operate the job presses, and in his spare time he'd run the typesetting machine.

The young gentleman who gave the inspiration for the foregoing outburst is Marshall, 10-year-old son of Crede J. Rhea, of Levelland, candidate for the State Legislature. We are not surprised at Marshall's ability, because we know his dad. Crede is a glutton for work. When there is something to be accomplished in the interests of Levelland, Hockley county, and the great South Plains, you'll find Crede in there and pitching.

Read what the Hockley County Herald said last week about Marshall:

"Marshall, the ten year old son of Crede J. Rhea, candidate for the State Legislature, accepted an invitation to appear before the ladies' club at Acuff in Lubbock county yesterday (Thursday) afternoon in the interest of his father's candidacy.

"While the father was absent in another county a few days ago, the boy spoke for him in one of the local political rallies, and so excellent was his presentation that he created a sensation and the audience roared its approval. Since then he has appeared at other points with the same results. His reputation as a campaign orator has spread to other counties, hence the invitation to speak yesterday (Thursday) to the ladies of the Lubbock village.

"Accompanying him on the trip were his mother, Mrs. J. E. Rallsback, Mrs. Rex Hudson and Mrs. M. L. Setser.

"While we have no report from the Acuff meeting, we are confident the young gentleman acquitted himself with honor and gave the ladies some good, sound political advice."

Keep up the good work, young man! How we start out in life most generally determines our achievements, our standing when this life is over.

Littlefield Hospital Report Patients Admitted Past Week

The Littlefield hospital report the following patients admitted during the past week at the Littlefield hospital:

Mrs. G. E. Lyle of near Littlefield underwent a major operation Wednesday of last week, reported to be doing nicely, confined in the hospital several days.

Mrs. H. G. Warren of Levelland was admitted Thursday, and gave birth to a son at 9:35 p. m., who passed away the following morning. Mrs. Warren is getting along fine, and will go home in a few days.

R. J. Vanderveer of Enochs was received Thursday for medical treatment, returning home Friday.

Mrs. Robert Parker of Littlefield was admitted Friday, and a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Parker Saturday morning at 1:30, weighing 5 1-2 pounds.

Mrs. G. E. Moore, of 9 miles west of Littlefield, who has been in a critical condition, is much improved, and returned home Sunday. Mrs. Moore, who was suffering from kidney ailment, stomach disturbance, and heart trouble, was under the oxygen tent for two weeks.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors who came in with teams, plows and hoes and worked our crop, in our time of sickness.

We also thank the ladies for the nice dinner.

May God bless each and every one of you for your kindness and words of cheer.

WORK IS STARTED MONDAY ON COTTON OIL MILL

WILD WEST LIVES AGAIN

Wild And Whoopee Days Enacted in Frontier Centennial

There probably is nothing new under the sun. Electricity existed long before Messrs. Volta, Edison Marconi, et al, started to fuss with it. There have been wild west shows before — and successful ones. Before that of course there was the real wild west with an arena a million square miles in compass. Now comes a spectacle based on what has gone before but staged with such lavishness and consummate art that one might well believe the old west lives again in "The Last Frontier," one of the outstanding attractions of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial.

When Billy Rose was engaged as director general of the Fort Worth Frontier, his first act was to set about organizing the biggest and most spectacular wild west exhibition of all time. Some advisors suggested that appeal of such a show passed with the demise of Buffalo Bill. To Rose the suggestion was no dice.

"As long as men live there is a certain glamour about the old days on the frontier that will never tarnish. Like the glimpse of a pretty woman the deeds of brave men always make folks buy tickets," declared the shrewd showman. "That's why I intend to deal as my top aces — girls and horses."

A special set, 263 feet wide and 167 feet deep, representing the plains and foothills, will serve as the locale for such stirring events as attack on the stage, rescue by rangers, battle with U. S. troops, a prairie fire and concluding with an old fashioned square dance with 160 couples. More than 1,000 Indians, cavalrymen, cowboys and cowgirls, singers and dancers are engaged in "The Last Frontier." Direction of the dynamic spectacle is in the hands of Verne Elliott, foremost rodeo entrepreneur and protégé of Buffalo Bill, and Edward Clarke Lilley, well known New York drama producer.

Beauty And Charm Winners

The sweltering heat of a Texas sun had little effect on the enthusiasm of more than 1000 girls in their recent selection of most beautiful and most popular summer school students attending Texas State College for Women (CIA). Miss Olivia Bishop, a striking olive brunette from San Antonio, was declared most beautiful, and Miss Georgianna Pace of Fort Worth was named most popular.

PROJECT EXPECTED TO BE READY FOR OPERATION BY NOVEMBER 1ST

Construction got underway Monday on the new West Texas Cotton Oil Mill for Littlefield.

The property lines were surveyed and spur track laid out last week, and a car of steel unloaded Friday.

Men began working on the foundation Monday, which it is expected will be completed in two weeks, according to H. M. Mason, in charge of construction.

Mr. Mason also stated that they would work night and day in three shifts, thereby rushing the plant to completion as quickly as possible.

Four years ago the West Texas Cotton Oil company purchased a 20 acre site for a mill, located north of the Santa Fe main line track and east of the depot. Economic and crop conditions during the past seasons, since the purchase, precluded erection of a mill there.

A seed house, mill building, linter shed, hull house and shops, offices, etc., are to be built on the site. The Santa Fe is to build a switch some 1200 feet long to serve the plant.

Mr. Mason also stated that the seed house would be the first unit to be constructed, and the entire project will be completed and in operation by November 1.

Mr. Mason, who is manager of the Lockney plant, will also be manager of the local unit.

GROCERY CHANGES HANDS

E. E. Morris of Lubbock and J. H. Parker of Lamesa purchased the Nichols Grocery at Sudan recently and assumed charge last week.

Mr. Morris has been traveling for the Wilson company for several years, while Mr. Parker was in business in Lamesa.

CHILD ILL FROM DRINKING KEROSENE

Roy Bartlett, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Granbery of Olton, drank some kerosene recently and was very sick for a while.

Mrs. Granbery was working in the yard with the child playing about. He found a can containing kerosene which the father had been using to kill some ants, and was drinking it when discovered by his mother.

Dr. Prestridge was called and by use of a stomach pump removed from little Oscar's stomach, a considerable quantity of the fluid.

Farmers Are Best Buyers Of Oil, Gas Says Pres. Oil Co.

"We are increasingly impressed with the importance of the buying power of the farmers in our marketing territory, which includes Texas and some twenty other states, their total purchases absorbing over half of the bulk output of our ten refineries," says Dan Moran, President of the Continental Oil Company, who has just finished a four-week's inspection trip to the Company's various properties.

city cousins. "Whether this is due to the farmer's long familiarity with internal combustion motors in tractors, ensilage cutters, individual lighting plants and other farm equipment, or whether it is due to the fact that he is accustomed to making most of his own adjustments and repairs, is uncertain. The interviews during the inspection trip, however, leave no room for doubt that the farmer knows what to expect in his fuel. And he shows far better than average intelligence in choosing top quality lubricants on the grounds that it is not cost of lubricant but cost of lubrication that concerns him."

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
