AGRICULTURAL SHORT COURSE HERE WAS ATTENDED BY 6000 PEOPLE; INFORMATION AND INSPIRATION GIVEN THROUGHOUT CO

Agricultural short course held at Littlefield last Monday and Tuesday under the auspices of the Educational Department, International Harvester Company, was a great success every way. It is estimated that 6,000 people attended the course, which were held in the morning, afternoon and night at the Palace theatre. The course was so overflowing, and between 1,500 and 2,000 people turned away for accommodations.

Addresses given by the representatives were all of a high order, imparting much information and inspiration to the hearers. The farmers and farmers' wives heard to express their appreciation of the opportunity of attending such a course.

The community throughout the county joined in making the course of great success. Special prizes were furnished by groups from the county and there was singing led by Littlefield. The movie films shown by the company's representatives, were attractive and educational. They were well worth the having had there been time.

Jones, superintendent of the experimental farm at Lubbock, gave the program Tuesday, giving a practical address on "What to Sow and When to Plant It." He pointed out the fact that the experience under his charge was that of the citizens, and concerning their best interests, urged to take advantage of its advantages.

A. B. Bill made an impressive address on the value of a county auditor. Likewise, near representative of the Commission to say of the value work performed by a county agent. One farmer declared that he had heard this address they would have voted for a farm agent in the course as a whole, it is the most beneficial of its kind ever held in the various addresses reproduced in this issue of the paper, and it is the intention of the paper to publish the principles of each address given in the short course in future issues of the paper.

A. B. MAKE $48.00 received by members of the Farmers Association Monday for the benefit of the library, netted them a $48.00.

Members, through the columns of the paper, extend their thanks for the money received, and especially to the men of the town.

BRINGING THE KITCHEN UP TO DATE OF 1927

By Miss Grace Smith

"Bringing the Kitchen up to Date," was the subject of a short talk by Miss Grace Marian Smith, at the Agricultural Short Course held in Littlefield the first of this week.

"In the old farm home," she said, "the kitchens were large because nearly everything was done in the kitchen—cooking, weaving, spinning, ironing, washing, even visiting."

She said that the kitchen should be a place for only one thing, the preparing and serving of food, and it should be so planned that it will be easy to do the work in.

It is sometimes advantage to have a diningroom, she declared, as it enables us to get away from the heat while dining. When men on the farm come into the kitchen and take off their outer clothing, the dust scatters and that is unsanitary. They should have another room for that purpose.

"Many matters must be considered in deciding the size of the kitchen," she said. "If the kitchen is too large it may be possible to cut off a pantry and a laundry room and so make things more convenient."

With the assistance of a chart, Miss Smith outlined the work that must be provided for in deciding the location of the sink, stove, storage room, garbage receptacle, table, etc., so as to save steps in preparing a meal and in washing the dishes and putting them away.

Keeping the well sanitary is extremely important, she said. Surface water must not be allowed to seep in and pollute the drinking water.

"Every kitchen should have a sink, she stated, "and every kitchen should have a drain. It is much harder to carry out dirty water than it is to carry in clean water." In conclusion, she said:

"We go through life saying, 'I'll do this thing or that thing but I can't do it now,' and it never gets done. We don't need to do it all at once, but we can make a start and complete the job as soon as possible. It may not be necessary to buy a lot of new things. We can arrange what we have so they will be most convenient."

"We can't keep house without modern equipment any more satisfactorily than we can run a farm without modern equipment."

KNOWLEDGE IS EDUCATION WHEN WORKING, SAYS MOTLEY

The greatest art in the world is living a wholesome life and being able to support a wholesome standard of life.

Knowledge is a very essential thing but a greater thing is the use of this knowledge.

Those who stand out among us are those who use their knowledge.

Education is simply a tool. Its value is the use made of it.

No amount of school training can make a boy accomplish much unless he uses what he knows.

We always admire winners, but a winner is only a man who puts what he knows into action.

It is not, What you do know? It is What are you going to do with what you know?

No one can give us knowledge. No one else can use our knowledge. If anyone uses it, it is his knowledge.

The one who handles big things begins by using what he knew about little things.

I do not believe that opportunity comes too often. Often we do not recognize it because we look for it in a child of ease, robed in splendor, and it is the child of hard work, and it is clothed in overalls.

TWO ELECTIONS TO BE HELD HERE FOR CITY AND SCHOOLS

The Leader is this week publishing due notices of two elections to be held in Littlefield the first week of April. One is for the election of a mayor and two commissioners to guide and guard the interests of the City of Littlefield, and the other for the election of four trustees for the Littlefield Independent School District.

Both of these elections are very important and due consideration should be given them by all interested citizens in the selection of properly qualified candidates for these responsible offices.

The school election will be held April 2nd, and the city election April 5th; both elections to be conducted at the City hall.

TECH TO HAVE DEBATES

LUBBOCK, March 9. Texas Technological college has arranged two inter-collegiate debates for the spring, one with Texas Christian university, of Fort Worth, March 25, and one with Clarendon college, April 28.

Both contests will be held in Lubbock.

CHIX ORDINANCE ON

Got any chickens? No matter the breed, color or condition—if you have any better corral them 'mucy pronto!

The City of Littlefield has an ordinance to the effect that all chickens (the feathered variety) must be kept properly confined between the first day of March and the first day of November, and there are very suitable and undesirable penalties attached for failure of compliance.

The ordinance was drafted more than a year ago in respect to such citizens as were interested in raising gardens and beautifying their lawns. That it is a good one, there is no doubt, and all good citizens will cheerfully abide by it.

AT BANKERS MEETING

K. F. Allbright, cashier of the First National Bank, Littlefield, attended a bankers banquet and business meeting held at Amherst last week.

The purpose of the meeting was for a more friendly understanding and closer co-operation of kindred business interests, and the meeting was attended by representatives of banks at Sudan and Amherst, also.

It is understood that once a month these meetings will now be held.

MISS SMITH OUTLINES WORK OF WOMEN IN THE COMMUNITY

Women's work, like men's work, is making the community a better place to live—doing the things other folks forget to do.

We need both men's and women's viewpoints on anything going on in the community.

You can't get very far in any movement unless you have organization.

Suppose we do get a larger farm but the boy has become disgusted with farm life and gone away? What have we gained?

No one would raise a cow, a pig or a horse and let someone else take it away from him. Yet we raise boys and girls and let them get away.

I don't believe any county should get along without a county demonstration agent.

We wouldn't let our boys and girls live in a home that's as bare as some school houses are.

An unattractive home doesn't make children want to stay there.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEET

The Epworth League meets every Sunday evening at the Methodist church. All are invited to attend these meetings.

TELEPHONE CO'Y ASK RAISE RATES ON $25,000 BOARD

A. R. Hendricks, representing the Texas Telephone Company, appeared before the City Commission at its last meeting and asked for a tacit permission to raise the rates now being charged for telephones in Littlefield to $4.50 for business phones and $3.00 for residence phones. It was stated by Mr. Hendricks that these rates are in keeping with the rates charged in other towns in this section of the state.

In as much as the telephone franchise granted by the City has nothing to do with the setting of rates to be charged, the Commission granted the request.

It is understood that before the raise in rates is made this company will install here a modern flash system at an approximate cost of $25,000.00, which it is expected will be in operation by October 1st, this year.

Ever notice that when a Littlefield man wins a bet or makes the best guess in a contest he never gets thru talking about his good judgement. If the Yellow House oil well comes in just do a little listening.

HIGH LIGHTS IN TALK BY MR. MOBLEY ON BIG 3 PROSPERITY

I told my boys to stay on the farm and milk cows instead of going to town and milking a soda fountain to make a living.

A lot of us try to run a four-wheeled vehicle with only one wheel—that's the one-crop system.

I can get as much sweat in a sweet potato patch as on a golf course.

I know if no farmers who are following a good diversified system who are abandoning their farms.

The cow, sow and the hen are the Big 3 of agricultural prosperity.

The hen produced a billion dollars last year. That's nearly a dollar a minute for every minute since Christ was born.

The row puts us on a cash basis. Most crops are credit crops. They force us to buy at retail and sell at wholesale.

A good steady job is the best gift God ever gave to a man and the old cow will give every farmer a steady job.

Too many of us don't want a steady job. We want to gamble on the weather, on the insects—even on our own children.

BIG PREPARATION BEING MADE FOR 9th MEET, W. T. C. C.

WICHITA FALLS, Mar. 7. Detailed plans for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention May 16th and 17th are rapidly being completed by the staff of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. While the program proper is for two days, a three-day program is being prepared. As the convention comes on Monday and Tuesday, Wichita Falls is expecting thousands of visitors on Sunday preceding, and a program for that day is being arranged. From present indications this convention ninth in the history of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be the biggest ever held. Wichita Falls is planning to entertain 50,000 visitors.

An unique feature is planned for this year's convention in that a Congress of Nations is being planned. It is planned to have as many cities or towns of West Texas come to represent some foreign nation, to dress in correct costumes and to carry the flag of the nation represented. Within a few days the countries to be assigned will be announced. If the colors of the nations are carried out properly, the big convention parade will be staged Monday, May 16th. It will be one of the most colorful parades the convention has ever seen. This parade has always been a big feature. At the Amarillo convention last year it was more than three miles long, and forty-two uniformed bands marched in the procession. It is expected more than 50 uniformed bands will attend this year and take part in the contest for which $5,000 have been offered.

Several prominent national figures will deliver addresses during the convention. The Hon. James J. Dax, United States Secretary of Labor, has accepted the invitation of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce to attend and deliver an address on the second day. The Hon. Nita Longworth and wife, Mrs. Alice Longworth have been invited to attend. Mr. Longworth has been asked to address the convention on the second day. Among other prominent speakers will be the new president of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He will speak on Monday. Governors Moody, of Texas, Dillon, of New Mexico, and Johnson, of Oklahoma are also expected at the Monday morning meeting to bring greetings from the three respective states. While Sunday is not included in the convention program, it will be a day full of activity. At the 11:00 o'clock service laymen from the centers of West Texas will be asked to fill the pulpits and bring to the various congregations messages befitting the day. In the afternoon the Honorable Morris Sheppard, senior United States Senator from Texas, will deliver a patriotic address in the convention headquarters.

The theory that the Lord will provide is a poor one for the fellow who wants an automobile.

George H. Sweeney, publisher of the Pueblo (Colo.) Chieftain, says—

PROF. PAUL HORN WEARS TECH SUIT MADE OF COTTON

LUBBOCK, March 9. The accompanying photograph shows President Paul W. Horn, of Texas Tech college, Lubbock, wearing a suit of clothes, the cloth of which was manufactured in the school mill by students, from cotton raised on the South Plains of Texas.

President Horn claims that he is "the best dressed man in Texas," although the cotton used in making the material for the suit, at present prices cost less than one dollar. Dr. Horn is wearing a pair of socks which were likewise made in the textile department of the Texas Tech.

Texas Technological college represents the State's efforts to encourage the manufacture of products raised within its own borders. The institution, now in its second year, has an enrollment of 1,500 students. The legislature has been asked for an appropriation sufficient to construct additional buildings necessary to care for this large student body.

Community building methods like business are ever changing. Practices of yesterday are obsolete today.

Thus the growth of a community depends upon the methods used. The goal of development will be attained by the inhabitants if they but set a steady pace and apply modern methods of development.

The individual should not wait for others to develop the community. If consistently applied modern business development methods in his business, his business will grow. As his business grows his community will grow with it, and as his community continues to progress his business will expand with it. Thus an endless chain is formed that will surmount all obstacles, and the community growth goal will be reached.

DAIRY

WHEN TO CUT FOR SUCCULENT SILAGE

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Almost any forage crop has all the chemical requirements to make a good silage. The only requirement, therefore, says the United States Department of Agriculture, for a palatable forage crop to make succulent silage is that it be cut when the moisture content is right. If cut when the moisture content is too high the silage will be water-logged or the soluble feed materials will be lost by drainage. If the moisture content is too low and water is not added, the silage will not be succulent and will not pack well enough to prevent the inflow of air and the growth of molds.

This general conclusion is the result of experiments conducted in the laboratory by chemists of the bureau of dairying in which corn, sunflowers and sudan grass, all cut at various periods of growth, were ensiled in tubs 2 feet in diameter and 4 feet deep. The investigations included a study of the chemical composition, keeping quality, changes during fermentation, and losses in feed materials while in the laboratory silos.

Corn for the test was cut at four different stages of maturity—(1) when 20 per cent of the ears were in the dough stage and 80 per cent in the milk stage, (2) when 40 per cent were in dough and 60 per cent in milk, (3) when 60 per cent were in dough and 40 per cent in milk, and (4) when 80 per cent were in dough and 20 per cent in milk. Study of the resulting silage showed the fourth stage to be the best time to cut corn for silage. At this stage there was the least loss of feed constituents in the test silos. This fact, coupled with the good score made when the fourth-stage silage was opened, indicated that the best corn silage results if cut when the ears are 80 per cent in the dough stage and 20 per cent in the milk stage.

Sunflowers are generally cut when too immature, according to the results of this study. These tests indicated that any stage between the time when all plants are in flower and before the petals fall is equally good for this crop.

A study of the growing plant and the resulting silage showed that sudan grass cut either at the early blooming stage or at the middle to late blooming stage makes very satisfactory silage.

Feed Cows Liberally to Make Dairy Profitable

The average dairy cow consumes about 15 pounds of feed per day of what we call maintenance ration—that is, the food required to keep the cow alive, and to replace waste. We might say it is the board bill of the cow.

Now, if the cow can consume 30 pounds of feed, then we are interested in the 15 pounds which is not used for maintenance, but rather for production. If the cow consumes 45 pounds, then we are interested in the 30 pounds that she consumes and uses for production.

Such a cow, as a rule, will make twice the profit of the one that consumes 30 pounds, so it is very plain to see what we need is an animal that will consume large quantities of food and turn it to profitable use.

Would it not be wise to market more of our corn by feeding it on the farm and retaining the valuable product of fertilizer thus equalizing farm labor and altogether making a more economic and dependable line of production? With the present high value of land, strict economy in production must be studied carefully if the land is made to return a fair earning on its value.

Scientists Are Studying Appetites of Dairy Cows

Five more cows and heifers, all giving milk and all seriously affected by that strange disorder known as "depraved appetite," have been shipped from western Minnesota points to the Minnesota experiment station for purposes of observation and study. "Depraved appetite" is known to be due to a lack of mineral substances in the rations. The university investigators will try to determine what effect, if any, the lack of mineral in the cow's ration has upon her utilization of feeds in general. Some of the cows will be given the proper amount of minerals along with the hay grown in the western country and the general run of oats. The same ration will be fed others except that minerals will be omitted. One will be slaughtered and a study made of bone and blood characteristics.

Prevent Calf Scours

A new method for preventing calf scours has been discovered. As soon as the calf is dropped one or two eight-ounce bottles of the dam's milk should be drawn and given to the calf. This feeding is best done by using regular nursing bottles. This first milk, or colostrum, of the cow possesses a number of qualities highly essential to the new-born calf. It cleans out the digestive tract of the young animal and also provides an immunity against scours and digestive disorders.

PROTECTING THE COWS

Keep the cows dry, and out of cold winds and damp places, and their teats won't get sore. Milk the cows with clean dry hands. You can treat them by rubbing on castor oil, olive oil, wool fat, or pure vaseline. Any of these will protect the teats and keep them soft so they won't chafe or get sore.

UNIVERSITY TECH GRADUATES

Dr. W. H. Bell, of the University of Oklahoma, formerly head of the Texas Agricultural College, will deliver the baccalaureate address on Monday, May 1, to the first graduating class of the Agricultural Technological college. Approximately 20 young men and women will receive their degrees at the ceremony. No one has been selected to deliver the baccalaureate address.

PROGRAM A SUCCESS

The program given by the young people of the Baptist church at the regular preaching hour last Sunday night was a great success. The subject for the evening was "Building Character," and everyone taking part acquitted themselves with credit. A feature of the evening was the music from a male chorus of 47 voices.

CITY TO ENFORCE ORDINANCES FOR MORE SANITATION

That the city officials of Littlefield are determined to make a cleaner and better looking city of this one is clearly evident by the numerous warnings that have been given out to various involved citizens during the past week. Every property owner and business man on Main street has been notified to clean up his premises under penalty of the exactments prescribed by Ordinance No. 13, according to City Clerk E. C. Cundiff. Warning has also been issued against the burning of trash without being within duly required containers, as recited by the same ordinance.

In the residence district property owners are also being notified to make a thorough cleaning of their premises; to place the gathered trash in convenient piles and the city garbage man will call for and haul it off. The ordinance covering this clean up program states that every property owner is responsible for the cleanliness of half way across every street and alley adjoining his property. Officials declare that on account of the near approach of summer time and the expectancy of plenty of flies and other insects of an injurious nature in the near future, this ordinance is going to be promptly and strictly enforced, and those failing to duly comply with its tenets are going to find themselves in the toils of the law with appropriate fines affixed for their negligence.

LUM'S CHAPEL

There was a large crowd present to hear Rev. Dickson preach Sunday morning and night. Miss Alma Ramsey gave a Sunday school entertainment at her home Saturday night. After discussing the coming Sunday school lesson, refreshments were served to a number of friends and pupils present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Robbins, of Littlefield were guests in the Humphrey home Sunday.

Among those from Whitharral to attend our singing Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Langford, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Keeny.

Mr. and Mrs. Hersheal Barker and Alma and Addie Ramsey were the guests of Mrs. Crow, Sunday.

Desmar Wren, who has been with his sister, Mrs. Fred Newsome for the past year, has returned to his home at Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Zed Robinson, of Littlefield attended the singing here last Sunday.

Quite a number from here attended the Short Course given in Littlefield Monday and Tuesday.

BAPTIST TRAINING SCHOOL

The Sunday school training class of the Baptist church, under the direction of Prof. Jerry Cox, was started Wednesday night, and will continue two more nights this week, also, Monday and Tuesday nights of next week.

The class is for the training of officers of the Sunday school relative to their various duties. There are about 90 now in attendance.

A goal of 400 has been set for Sunday school attendance on March 20th. On that Sunday evening the revival will also begin.

Use of Winter Months

Very often some civic body or other organization, with a great deal of community spirit, will be the start of a home beautiful campaign, or a committee of individuals from a given street or section will start the ball rolling.

In beginning such a campaign, it is a wise plan to start the work during the winter, that people might have a chance to think and talk over the plans of the coming campaign, and the committee has plenty of time to get their well-arranged plans in proper shape. The plan will then have time to reap the benefits of the news feature of the local papers, and by word-of-mouth advertising.

A MINUTURE EGG

There are good eggs and bad eggs, but an egg brought to the Leader office this week by Alex Reeves, was a "small" egg, perhaps one of the smallest ever produced by a gallinaceous species.

ONE IN TEN

Neglecting a little wound, cut or abrasion of the flesh may in nine cases out of ten cause no great suffering or inconvenience, but it is the one case in ten that causes blood poisoning, leading to a chronic festering sore. The cheapest and best course is to disinfect the wound with liquid Borosone and apply the Borosone Powder to complete the healing process. Price (liquid) 50c, and $1.50. Powder 50c and $1.50. Sold by STOKES & ALEXANDER Drug Co.

Mrs. Coolidge Hikes
—NATIONAL—

The President started it—these spring hikes. Now Mrs. Coolidge is showing the way in Washington. She is bringing sunshine and cheer to the hearts of our little shopkeepers for Easter loggery—just a few weeks away, April 17.

It was brought to his attention by a farmer residing in the Fickton vicinity. The egg measured seven-eighths of an inch by five-eighths, and tipped the scales at one-fourth of an ounce.

Noah perhaps originated the mother-in-law joke when he left Mrs. Noah's mother out of the ark.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.—Ps. 34:13.

There would not be so many open mouths if there were not so many open ears.—Bishop Hall.

POOR GARDENERS

¶ We're far enough into 1927 for thoughts to turn to gardening with the season for such activities just around the corner. Indeed many of our gardens have already been broken and some have begun buying seed for the planting. It may interest our readers to know that Uncle Sam has been doing some thinking along the same line. The result is an official report to the effect that a recent survey of farm and small town gardens throughout the U. S. shows that the farm garden is poorest of all.

The average Littlefield citizen will probably be surprised at this statement, and yet, on second thought, it will be found to be true. The farmer doesn't, as a rule, cultivate the garden patch of or alongside his house—he leaves that to members of the family. He has enough to do to cultivate the farm, and after a long hard day in the field, and the stock to be looked after by the light of the lantern, there really isn't any time of energy left for the garden. The good wife has her hands full with the housework and the cows. The boys and girls look after the chores and hurry to school. The result is the hurried sowing of seed and a determination to have a better garden than last year—and that is as far as it gets.

The farm garden is seldom weeded as it should be; it is left to struggle for itself while the town gardener with more time at his command, keeps his in the best shape. There are exceptions, of course, but just notice a little later on and see if Uncle Sam isn't about half right, or even more than half right, when he says town gardens are better than those to be found on the farms.

Most of the "ideas for mothers" in the magazines sound much as if they were written by mothers.

FAMILIAR BULLIES

¶ The school in every town has its bully. He sticks out his chin, jeers at his smaller mates and occasionally beats up a weaker boy. A coward at heart, he blubbers like a baby when a real fighter puts up his fists.

But he is not alone, for in recent years there has been bred a new kind of bully, also to be found in almost every town. He is the "intellectual bully," who jeers at common beliefs and convictions and terrorizes the less educated by his adjectives and slang expressions. The average human being is unable to defend his opinions when the "intellectual bully" is around; he is sure to be jeered at and laughed down when the bully has no argument with which to offset those opinions. Sarcasm is the "intellectual bully's" strongest weapon, and when he cannot win an argument on facts he resorts to sarcasm to win it for his. He considers himself a victor in any discussion in which he can laugh down the person who has facts behind him and figures at his command.

Maybe Littlefield people have never recognized him by the name of "intellectual bully." It may be that they know him as the Smart Aleck. At any rate he is one and the same, and his methods are always alike. He takes his place along with the gossip as a common nuisance, and no one has discovered a means of ridding a community of his presence.

Be sure that your boy is not growing up as the bully of the school. He might later on degenerate into an "intellectual bully" of the community in which he finally decided to make his home.

Some enter politics to leave foot-prints in the sands of time. Others are lucky if they get off without having their finger-prints taken.

ANOTHER FORD SCHEME

¶ Henry Ford is quoted in the daily papers as saying that 20 days is all the time that need bespent in raising and harvesting most of our staple crops. He has taken over a large farm near Dearborn, Mich., and will attempt a practical demonstration of his theory. His estimate allows two days for plowing and harrowing, one day for the planting, five days for cultivation during the growing of it, two days for harvesting and threshing which can now be done simultaneously by a machine that cuts, threshes and bags the wheat as it is drawn through the field.

Ford says the day is coming when private companies will be organized to farm for the farmers. Such company would have its own machinery and laborers. They would make the rounds for the farmers, first plowing, harrowing and sowing, then regular trips to cultivate and finally the harvesting round. In this way a large number of farms could be cultivated by the same band of workers, and the owner of the farm would take his profit after paying the company for doing his farming for him.

To the average Littlefield citizen this will sound like an impossible dream. But before passing it aside as such it might be well to remember that the world said Henry Ford was dreaming when he started to make an automobile that would be a necessity. A few weeks ago a New York company offered him one billion dollars for his "dream."

Hard times are those in which the people pay off the bonds they voted in good times.

DON'T GROW CARELESS

¶ Just because the general health of the community is satisfactory is no cause for growing careless or neglecting to look closely after our physical well-being at this season of the year.

The open winter has brought serious epidemics in various sections of the country and there are really more deaths occurring now from flu than we hear of in Littlefield. Some parts of the U. S. have been hit exceptionally hard. Your own family doctor will tell you that right now, and for the next several weeks, when the thermometer rises and falls rapidly with one day warm and the next day cold, is about the most dangerous time of the year.

Especially is it necessary to guard the health of the children at this time because a touch of warm sun is apt to cause them to expose their bodies more than is good for them. We've passed through the winter very nicely upto this point as regards the health of the community. Let's not court a serious epidemic of disease now.

After all, about the greatest relief the farmer gets out of congress is in hearing that it has adjourned.

A SHAKEUP COMING

¶ There are enough rumors afloat just now to warrant the belief that the auto industry is due for some startling changes by the time we get around to warm days and pleasure riding in real earnest.

For, as usual, has them all guessing, and Cadillac has started everyone by coming out with a cheaper car. Rumors are plentiful that several of the biggest plants are talking about mergers. But what will interest Littlefield auto owners and prospective owners most is the fast-growing belief that a price war is in sight, and that reductions are going to come in a very short time.

Even the man who neither owns nor drives a car is interested in whatever goes on in the auto world because it has come to be such a big thing and because it touches the life of every citizen, rich or poor.

So nothing is arousing more interest than the rumors of a shake-up in the auto industry.

Uncle Sam is going to make his paper money twice as tough. Here's hoping he don't make it twice as tough to get.

ON STREET FIGHTS

¶ Apparently the pugacious and pugilistic tendency of congress has reached Littlefield, since the principal entertaining feature of the past two Saturdays has been street fights.

From the standpoint of society street fights are not very elevating, but so far as the disputants are concerned, individually or collectively, the Leader don't give a continental darn.

We would suggest, however, since they have become so popular it might be well to reinstate "Trades Day," advertising one or two physical combats as the principal drawing card of the occasion. Let the Chamber of Commerce superintend the fights, bouts and duels, if they go that far; let them appoint a special committee to make the arrangements beforehand so they can be well advertised, and have a referee named to call decisions and confer suitable medals, chevrons and bars on the victorious contenders.

Verily, civilization is yet only a thin veneer.

Maybe the reason Lot's wife turned to a pillar of salt was because she was like some women of today—got too freak.

TOO MANY LAWS

¶ The Congressional Record reports over 50,000 laws have been put on the statute books by all congresses. Of this number only about 50 have been annulled.

Investigation shows that 62,000 state and federal laws have been passed within the last five years, and that the country is now turning out laws at the rate of 15,000 a year.

Last year a Mississippi legislature priced itself on having passed 411 laws. Just what there is about it to be proud of we can't see.

This is one country in which there are already too many laws. It is a safe assertion that practically every man in Littlefield violates some law or another every week of his life—and without knowing it. We have more than enough federal laws, and there are also more state laws than any state actually needs. What we should have is fewer laws and more law enforcement, and until we get that you can expect to go right ahead reading about crime waves.

Everybody is in favor of the Golden Rule—for the other fellow.

DIRE PREDICTIONS

¶ A noted teacher of the University of Moscow, now on a visit to this country, is getting a lot of newspaper space as the result of a paper he recently read before a group of New York scientists. He dealt with "sun spots," explaining his theory of how they are caused and what effect they have on our worldly affairs. He declared that war has always come when "sun spots" were plainly visible, and that the spots first discovered a few years ago will become most brilliant during 1927 and 1929.

We are not printing this with a view of upsetting the tranquility and peace of anyone around Littlefield, but if there is a war coming it's a good thing to have a little previous information regarding it. It might give us a chance this time to carry two guns instead of one. Next time America goes into war we'll need one to light the enemy and another to shoot the profiteers.

Our idea of the height of unimportance is being the wife of Mussolini.

LITTLE LEADERS

As a general thing the Littlefield citizen who can "turn his hand to almost anything" does the most loafing.

By the time the Littlefield motorist gets his auto "all tired out" for the spring driving, his pocketbook is about the same way.

Maybe if the dictionary had mirrors between its covers one could get some of the Littlefield school girls to refer to it often.

Have you ever paused to consider what an unhappy place Littlefield would be to live in if all the women were as ugly as the men?

Nowadays when you hear that a Littlefield man has "joined the great majority" you don't know whether he is dead or at the movies.

If all children were exactly alike, Littlefield mothers would be unable to distinguish between a "precious darling" and a "darned brat."

The Littlefield man who owns a second-hand fiver may not have a quarrelsome disposition, but he is always trying to start something.

When a Littlefield man goes home with a grouch he is quite sure his wife has put the children up to asking him a lot of fool questions he can't answer.

One good way for some Littlefield citizens to get the swelling out of their heads is to start out to borrow $10 and see how many friends they have.

Our observation is that the easiest way for the average Littlefield husband to get his wife to do what he wants her to do is to tell her to go ahead and do as she doggone pleases.

If they only knew his name, Littlefield youngsters would be in favor of a monument to the New York doctor who advises mothers to "feed the children when they come home from school."

About the only advantage of being a member of the Littlefield fire department is that you probably know why the siren blows when it first begins. Nearly everyone else has to hold their breath in anticipation and guessing until it gets through.

Lubbock now has telephone connections with London. It only costs $84 for the first three minutes conversation, and $28 for each additional minute thereafter. The Leader has been expecting all week to receive a letter from Gus Shaw stating he had just finished a conversation with King George.

Seldom a week goes by but one or more solicitors of some kind or other hits Littlefield business men. Frequently they represent enterprises either not worthy or not compatible with local interests. If, before, patronizing them, Littlefield business men would refer them to the local Chamber of Commerce for a thorough examination and recommendation of their proposition, it would frequently be found advisable.

Habit is a terrible taskmaster, and the citizens of Littlefield who get the habit of pessimism are to be pitied. There are a few of that kind here. It has been our experience that if one wants business to be good they should talk business in a favorable manner, not discouraging constantly on the subject of hard times to every person that comes along. It is poor psychology, to say the least. The fellow who is constantly hanging crepe on his doors, who goes about with a map of misery on his physiognomy, always expressing doubt and continually magnifying the troubles and evils of the day is of no value whatever to the community in which he lives. No doubt about that!

Lyciums and chautauques are gradually dying the death to which they are entitled under the management most of them obtain. Several who attended the last number of the Littlefield lyceum last week spoke of it in a very depreciating manner, some going so far as to declare it "rotten." For the past three years most of the talents coming to Littlefield in these programs has been very mediocre, some of it could be better than duplicated by local citizens and high school pupils. Yet for this "high class" entertainment the company putting it on must always have a financial guarantee from local citizens who invariably become the "goat" at the end of the series. Littlefield appreciates and will gladly patronize a lyceum of real talent, but they are already well fed on the kind that won't come to town on its own merits and responsibilities.

Mrs. Robert Shay, of Chicago got a divorce after investigating a card received by her husband bearing the words, "Why haven't you been to see me?"

Sir Alfred W. Rowan, of deen, Scotland, has completed a 800 mile voyage in a 6-ton boat with only his two niece crew.

SO. PLAINS MUSIC ASS'N MEETING AT LUBBOCK, MAR. 24

LUBBOCK, March 9. The fourth annual South Plains music festival and contest will be held in Lubbock March 24, 25 and 26, and much interest is being shown in the coming event. The festival and contest is being sponsored by the South Plains Music Teachers Association and the Music Department of the Texas Technological college.

A concert by Margaret Matzenauer, March 24 will be the feature attraction of the festival, while the Little Symphony Orchestra, of Canyon will play March 25, and the contest winners will present a program March 26. Elimination contests in all departments will be conducted during the day on each of the three days.

Practically every South Plains town has music teachers affiliated with the organization, and pupils from each of the towns will be expected to enter the contest. The entries will close within a few days. The South Plains Music Teachers Association through their annual festivals and other efforts, have wielded a big influence in the advancement of music and culture on the South Plains of Texas. During the past few years, since the organization of this association interest in music has made some rapid strides, the same in fact, as has commerce and other things in this section.

South Plains music lovers will be indeed fortunate to hear the artist Matzenauer, who is accredited by national critics with having one of the greatest voices in America.

Margaret Matzenauer is not only a soprano, but a contralto. Her voice is phenomenal. Its range and compass unique in the musical world. At one performance she can sing Isolde, a dramatic soprano role, in a way that is reminiscent of Nordica in her prime, and at another she can give us a Delia in an opulent and golden voice.

SOME HIGH POINTS IN MOTLEY'S COMMUNITY WELFARE TALK

This is not your town or my town; it is our town.

To have a real town we must have a community spirit.

There are two elements in everything that involves human life—production and distribution.

The country cannot live without the town; the town cannot live without the country. Both, by uniting what they have of production and distribution, can create a real community of human beings.

Communities are made of folks, not of houses, farms and factories.

The difference between this community today and what it was when the Indians lived here, is the difference between the people who are here and those who were here then.

Do you know the things in your town that should be boosted and those that should be corrected? Study your community.

The greatest page in history is the open page of everyday life.

A stubborn, unreasonable person is never of much use to the community. He never works with anyone else or will let anyone else work with him.

It is a good thing to get acquainted with our neighbors, but it is equally important to get acquainted with our neighborhood.

Towns are building men and women and exporting them to other communities. If they had instilled in them the appreciation of their own town they would have stayed.

West Side of County

The singing at Mrs. McKin's Sunday night was enjoyed by a number of young people from this community.

N. H. Pierce, of Menard, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pierce.

Howard Howell was indisposed last week, but is now reported to be improving.

J. C. Hughes, of Pep, is all smiles over a baby girl that arrived the 26th.

The prairie fire last week destroyed a bale of cotton for Mr. Clibbes Saturday night. People should be more careful about fire.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Chisholm are enjoying riding in a new Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bigham and family were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pierce Sunday.

Chesley Pierce and Curtis Chisholm left Tuesday for Menard county.

All the world loves a lover, and it also loves to gather at his legs when they are read in a branch of knowledge.

See America

This Union Pacific "Gold Coast Limited" is crossing from Wyoming into Utah, rolling over snow covered hills 7,000 feet high.

This is real American country. Colorado, Montana, Idaho, the Dakotas, Oregon, Washington, Nevada are your neighbors in this part of the world.

It looks what it is—a great and powerful country. Straight wall of stone, capped with pine trees tower hundreds of feet above you. Telephone and telegraph wires cross in all directions. Good automobile roads run beside the track.

One stops at Salt Lake City to get acquainted with the Angel Moroni and all the land that stretches around him. Moroni, very big in bright gold, stands above the temple built by Brigham Young, for "Latter Day Saints."

Just across the way is the Federal Reserve Bank, of solid stone, and beyond towers the snow covered Ogurron Range, the wealth of the Utah copper mines hidden in it.

Many things are as Brigham Young would have them and as he left them. The Angel Moroni doesn't suspect that the real authority below is the Federal Reserve Bank, the gigantic copper mine on the mountain sides, and the big Union Pacific Railroad.

D. P. Spencer, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific system says all intelligent human beings should see the famous "Death Valley." For $12, covering all expenses, you can spend two days motorizing through the mysterious valley on your way east or west, inspecting in safety the strangest places on earth, stopping over night at a modern inn, built on Furnace Creek. In Death Valley, you stand on the warm sand, far below the level of the Pacific, and look to the west, at the white top of Mount Whitney, highest peak in the United States.

The trip must be made between October and the middle of May. In Summer, Death Valley is the hottest place on earth. During the Death Valley season, you have your comfortable automobiles.

Death Valley has everything that anybody could want—you study brilliant colors of the appropriately named "Funeral Range" on the east, and to the west the tall pinnacles, Uncle Sam's most precipitous mountain range, rising from the floor of Death Valley, more than 500 feet below sea level, to a height of 11,945 feet to the perpetual snow of Telescope Peak.

Picturesque and convincing are names of places in that valley, once the bed of an inland sea. Gold, silver, copper, onyx are in those mountains. Many have died searching.

What once were black molten streams of lava reach out into the desert, as they cooled down from volcanoes, dead ages ago.

You walk over plains of salt a hundred feet deep. Life is scarce there, a few snakes in Summer, horned lizards, the chuckwalla lizard eaten by the beakant lizard. Above mangled ruins of a wintering why the automobile doesn't die, as the donkeys did.

Brief and sufficient are the lines here, and there on wooden tombstones, cracked by the heat, a name and "He Ran Out of Water."

The Angel Gabriel has watched many struggles in that valley, when the temperature went to 140.

Traditions tell of Paleo Indians, standing on the mountainsides, watching one party of white men fall and die three hundred yards from a water hole. One survivor, Bennett, "struggling to a spring, found a ledge of pure silver, brook of a piece and when he reached civilization had it made into a rifle sight." Many have tried to locate that "gun-sight ledge" of pure silver. You might find it.

Not far from a beautiful date palm ranch, 100 feet below sea level, any one will grow if you give it enough water.

And across the Amargosa Desert, you travel to the "Ghost City of Rhyolite." Once it had a population of more than 10,000, railroad stations, stores, dance halls, jail and church. All still stand at the foot of Bullfrog Hill, church, jail, mills that ground up ore from the rich gold mine, all abandoned now.

This is an interesting country, marvellously fertile fields, all the climates and all the products of the earth. Other Americans have prepared the way for you. See America.

AND IN JAZZ—Tempo, Too.

At the club one day two elderly members were discussing sotto voce, the table manners of a new and not particularly gentlemanly member. "Well, what do you think of him?" asked one. "Very remarkable," replied the other, thoughtfully.

I've heard some good and splendid, but on my own this is the first time I've heard in public!

Community Building

Retail Merchant Has Post of Importance

If the small restaurateur would serve a meal that would vie with home cooking, if the druggist would have any article a drug store should have when desired, if the small-shop laundryman would turn out crisp, spotless linen—

Then two specific needs in the merchandising of the nation would be removed, according to Ray Morton Hardy, business analyst of Lansing, Mich.

"And this would be much better than finding the town merchant serving his community by sitting on civic boards. His place in civic boards might better be a recognition of the effective, efficient and honest service he has rendered the public through his merchandising," said Mr. Hardy.

"If the retail merchant attends to his business and does his work well he is a vital organ in the business body of his city or town. He is the distributor of good food, good clothing, shelter, warmth and every means of health, comfort and pleasure."

The retail merchant's first need is education, thinks Mr. Hardy. His second a recognized code of ethics.

"There are towns in the United States where 78 per cent of the retail business is lost to outside competition," he declared.

No Reason One Should Not Build in Winter

With due precautions and proper equipment, nearly all construction work can be carried on in winter and at no great difference in cost. The owner may often profit by saving interest on his investment and by securing earlier use of the structure.

Although equipment needed for protection and artificial heat in winter construction requires some expenditure and there may be some increase in overhead on the job due to delays from winter storms, these items may often be offset by the saving in salaries and the reduction in the contractor's general overhead. Labor in general is more efficient, as skilled workmen can be more easily obtained.

It is feasible to plan now and build next winter—Exchange.

Home Setting Important

Buy your lot well in advance of the time for building and landscape it with trees and hedges. Is the advice given by a far-seeing reader who contributes a letter to the series on home-building in Liberty. "In planning my future home," she writes, "I purchased two lots, 40 feet frontage each, in what I believe will be a fine residential district in the suburban development of the city. My building program will not commence until 1930. I suggest to lot holders with such future plans: Plant shade trees and fence hedges now. Four or five years of steady, natural growth will make for hardiness that building activities will not disturb. The completed home will have the beauty and finish that otherwise would require four or five years to develop."

Ban Unightly Billboards

A continuous campaign against the placing of billboards upon the state highways of Tennessee is now being conducted under the direction of the state department of highways and public works. Since December, when a state-wide "clean-up week" was proclaimed, the department has been removing disfiguring signs from the state roads in accordance with a law created by the state legislature in 1925 making it unlawful to erect signs of any character along the state highway system outside the limits of incorporated towns.

Build With Eye to Future

The home builder today is shortsighted if he puts his money into anything but a well-built and well-designed home. It costs very little more to build from a good plan that puts in those clever little touches here and there that give the house that individual and attractive look which means so much when the piece is offered for sale.

Fire Waste Contest

The United States Chamber of Commerce has made these awards in its 1925 fire waste contest: Portland, Ore., first prize in cities of the first class; Long Beach, Calif., in class 2; Rattle Creek, Mich., in class 3, and Albany, Ga., in class 4. Albany also won the grand prize for 1925.

Sign of Permanency

Not all individuals that are interested in industry own their own homes, but nearly all humans that own their own homes hold permanent positions. Their self-interest is on the job.

Women Study Real Estate

Women employed in Denver real-estate offices have organized a club to familiarize themselves with the subject matter and purpose of realty organization and service.

Now In Smoke of Battle Against Dreaded Corn Borer

Under direct command of A. F. Woods, Director of Scientific Department of Agriculture, and backed by a $10,000,000 Federal appropriation, the government forces are making a determined effort to stamp out the European corn borer which threatens our crops. Destruction by fire before May 1 of all corn stalks, cobs, and chaff in the infested areas is the only effective method.

TURNER, IDALOU
MAKES 43 MILES A
GALLON IN FORD

J. C. Turner, of Idalou, was winner in the district Ford mileage test, held out of Lubbock last Friday. Battling a stiff breeze all the way, Turner made 43 miles in his Ford car on one gallon of gasoline. J. E. Bowman, of Levelland, made practically the same distance, lacking only about a car length of winning first money. S. R. Haile, of Littlefield, driving a Ford roadster, won third place, going 38 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Ford vaporizer, an invention now all cars were equipped with the new coming as regular equipment on all Ford cars, and which it is claimed will increase the mileage of all these cars at least one-third.

The race covered the highway course from Lubbock to Post. Sixteen cars were entered. The carburetors of each were drained, tanks and hoods sealed and a single gallon of ordinary gasoline placed in each tank, and every car was followed by a car containing judges and observer, who were present to make a check of the contest car's mileage as soon as it came to a stop.

John H. Arnett, manager of the local Ford dealer concern, declared that the new Ford vaporizer has done more toward putting Ford cars into a distinctive class to themselves than any other improvement during the past five years. The vaporizer, he says, breaks up the molecules of gasoline, causing an almost perfect combustion, cutting down the cost of running from 30 to 50 per cent.
