Memorial Day!

Proclamation

That this town may not be lax in its duty to the nation's war dead, your city administration has ordered that through me should be issued a decree recommending that all citizens join in a fitting and proper observance of Memorial Day, Monday 30th.

We urge that you attend and take part in some of the memorial services of our churches that will be held next Sunday; that you pay your respects to the loved and heroic dead sleeping in our local cemetery, and that you, one and all, attend a meeting to be held Monday night at the Presbyterian church, beginning promptly at eight o'clock for the purpose of organizing a cemetery company, which shall in the future have charge of our local burying ground.

MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY CHURCHES SUNDAY

Appropriate memorial services will be held in the churches of Littlefield next Sunday morning, at the eleven o'clock hour, and everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend one of these special services.

At the Presbyterian church the subject of the sermon to be delivered by Rev. C. A. Dugger is "The Debt of the Future Generation to Heroes of the Past." There will also be special music appropriate to the theme.

At the Baptist church Rev. W. B. Phipps will speak upon the subject, "The Price of Peace." Besides a male quartet, and a patriotic solo by Jake Hopping, there will be also other congregational and special music in keeping with the event.

At the Methodist church Editor Jess Mitchell will occupy the pulpit, speaking upon the theme, "The More Excellent Sacrifice." Special music in keeping with the spirit of memorial day will be rendered.

The pastors of these respective churches each extend a cordial invitation to the public generally to attend one of these patriotic services.

CUNDIFF AT BANK MEET

E. C. Cundiff returned Saturday night from Houston where he attended the meeting of secretaries and treasurers of local associations working under the Federal Land Bank of Texas.

He states that there will be no increased valuations at the present, as it is the policy of the Bank to let land values automatically increase through demand and crop values. A 10 per cent dividend is to be declared.

There were about 400 to attend the meeting.

TO ATTEND CLUB MEET

Mrs. T. Y. Casey and Mrs. J. M. Stokes will attend the meeting of women's federated clubs to be held in Lubbock next Saturday.

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner, well known club woman and specialty news writer, will be present. Other prominent women to take part in the program will be Mrs. R. A. Baldwin, Mrs. C. Z. Fine, Mrs. Frances Hoyt, Miss Hazel Hammer, Mrs. W. T. Walker and Mrs. J. L. Benton.

The meeting is to be held in the First Baptist church.

THE ROTARY MEETING

There were 18 members at the meeting of the Rotary Club last week, also four visitors, Mrs. A. P. Duggan, Mrs. F. G. Sadler, W. J. Cheshor of Sudan and G. R. Smith of Levelland. A committee consisting of Max McClure, T. Y. Casey, T. Wade Potter and J. S. Hilliard, was appointed to arrange for a permanent place to hold the club meetings.

MEMORIAL DAY

AN EDITORIAL

Anniversaries, holidays and special occasions come and go. Time brings changes in customs. But through it all memory serves us well, and we keep forever green the graves of those to whom the nation has dedicated the thirtieth of each May.

Events of vast importance have crowded history's pages within the life of the present generation. Yet nothing has effaced our knowledge of a debt that never can be paid, the debt we owe those who wore both the Blue and the Gray. For it required both of them to bring about a better understanding of the fact that a nation divided against itself cannot stand. It required the supreme effort of both to cement us into a far more solid nation than we could have hoped to had until we profited by our own misunderstandings.

And now Littlefield comes again to join with sister towns and cities of a reunited country to pay tribute to those who through suffering and hardship kept us one people, and with one purpose—the welfare of all. Memorial Day brings no harsh contention as to the right or wrong side of sectional and political arguments long ago settled. It finds in our hearts nothing but an abiding love for the men who fought for what each felt was the best interest of his country. Men who were big enough and brave enough to clasp hands across the battle lines when the smoke had cleared away in pledging themselves in a united cause. They left us a heritage we cannot lose sight of, and it is in partial payment that we come again to lay our flowers on the graves of those who have passed on and to bow our heads in deep respect to those who are yet with us.

May the spirit of those who cemented an everlasting union of states hover over us; may it keep forever in our memories a tender regard for those whose sacrifice brought Memorial Day.

FIVE HUNDRED PARTICIPATE IN BIG FIRE FILM TO BE SHOWN AT PALACE

A spectacular fire drill with more than 500 people participating is to soon be shown at the Palace theatre, Littlefield, for the benefit of the local fire department.

Of the five hundred in the scene, more than half are firemen from the Los Angeles departments, augmented by the stars of the picture that play the parts of firemen. Charles Ray, Tom O'Brien, Warner P. Richmond, DeWitt Jennings, Bert Woodruff and Dan Mason are the actors in uniform.

Spectacular ladder drills, jumping from the top of a seventy-four-foot tower into a nine-foot net on the ground, "Human ladders," equipment drill, and all forms of practice known to a fireman were filmed by Director William Nigh for this spectacular thriller.

May McAvoy and Charis Ray head the cast of "The Fire Brigade," which includes besides those named above Holmes Herbert, Eugene Besserer, Vivia Ogden, James Bradbury, Jr., Erwin Connelly and others. The production was filmed with the aid of the International Order of Fire Engineers, and a large percentage of the profits are being turned over to various fire benefit funds, and associations operating in the cause of fire prevention.

CO-OP. FILLING STATION

An auto service station, under the management of the Texas Motor Oil Co., is this week being erected on the state highway at the extreme eastern limits of the city, and will be ready for service in about two weeks.

It is understood that about 300 stockholders in and around Littlefield are participating in the new business enterprise.

SCHOOL THEATRE PARTY

The seniors of the Sudan high school entertained the juniors of the Littlefield high school at a theatre party given at the Palace theatre last Thursday night.

Following the show members of both classes adjourned to Max' roof garden, where refreshments were served and a delightful time enjoyed until nearly midnight.

THE LADIES FROM LITTLEFIELD ARE HIGHLY HONORED

Littlefield ladies attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Wichita Falls last week were accorded the highest honors, according to report brought back from delegates attending the big meeting.

Mrs. Arthur P. Duggan, wife of the organization president was accorded simultaneous honors with Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of the state governor. Everywhere Mrs. Duggan went she was the recipient of numerous courtesies. At the big reception given the various sponsors and other invited guests, Mrs. Duggan and Mrs. Dan Moody were the leading ladies in the receiving line along with the hostess Mrs. Bean and Mrs. O'Neal, both of Wichita Falls. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Duggan and Mr. and Mrs. Moody led in the grand march of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Duggan were special invited guests at a breakfast given by members of the Press Association Monday morning. That night they were guests of a dinner party given to the honor of Miss West Texas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Key, of Lampasas. Again Tuesday they were dinner guests of Miss Wichita Falls at another dinner party, also special guests at the social function given at the Country Club, as well as the recipients of many private courtesies and honors bestowed upon them.

Mrs. C. C. Clements in the person of Miss Littlefield was the recipient of many honors, and generally declared to be one of the most attractive sponsors attending the convention. She was dressed in a beautiful snow white court dress with long train, the entire garment bespangled with brilliants, and wore a snow white crown liberally adorned with brilliants, in all, an exceptionally beautiful array, setting off at its very best her natural charm and beauty. Being one of the first sponsors to arrive she very quickly became a favorite among the delegates, receiving a very large share of the favors extended the numerous graceful representatives present, and it was privately hinted that she might be chosen as Miss West Texas for the next annual convention to be held at Fort Worth.

Mrs. Clements was in every way an excellent representative for Littlefield, her graceful manner winning to her numerous friends and new acquaintances well worthy the honor bestowed upon her and entirely to the credit of the little city she so attractively represented. She was the invited and honored guest at numerous teas, socials and other private gatherings.

At the breakfast given Monday morning Manager Homer D. Wade presented Mrs. Duggan to the press representatives as the "inspiration" of the year's work. A beautiful diamond ring, representative of the 32 degree Masonry was given to Mr. Duggan, the retiring president by the staff of West Texas Chamber of Commerce organization.

C. P. MATTHEWS DIED AFTER ILLNESS OF ONLY TWO HOURS

C. P. Matthews, living three miles east of Littlefield, died at his home Tuesday, May 17, after an illness of two hours. Funeral services were conducted at his late residence, May 18, by Rev. Huckabee of Lubbock, burial service immediately following at the Littlefield cemetery, in charge of the Masonic order.

Mr. Matthews was born March 25, 1861 in Smith county Texas, and while a resident there, was united in marriage to Viola Dobbins, November 19, 1885. He was 66 years old at death. To this union were born seven children. He was a member of the Methodist church, Masonic lodge and Woodmen of the World.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. C. P. Matthews of Littlefield; seven children, Mrs. Edith Blackwell of Lubbock; Mrs. S. A. Banks, of Meadow; Mrs. A. D. Vandergriff, of Elmer, Oklahoma; Mrs. Clifford Woods, of Altus, Oklahoma; V. H. Matthews, of Littlefield; Miss Ruth Matthews, of Meadow; and Rex Matthews, Littlefield; four grandchildren; two brothers and one sister.

CEMETERY IS TO BE IMPROVED AND RE-SURVEY MADE

Arrangement have been recently made to have the local cemetery re-surveyed, iron stakes placed at geographic points and the driveways graded, according to T. Y. Casey, who was recently appointed chairman of a committee from the Rotary Club to look after cemetery improvement.

Mr. Casey states that in the near future a cemetery association will be formed to take charge of the management and up-keep of this burial spot. Then it will be possible for people to buy either plots or individual lots, obtaining a deed for same. This is a worthy work in which it is believed every citizen will be interested, as it will give the citizens of Littlefield and surrounding territory a suitable place for burial of their dead. Of course, it will be necessary to raise some funds to defray the initial expenses for beginning the work, and, in due time, the public will be asked to help in this most worthy cause.

HONEYCUTT BOY DIES

Henry Honeycutt, son of S. D. Honeycutt, died Tuesday, May 24th, age seven years, three months and three days. Valvular leakage of the heart was the cause of his death.

The funeral services were held at the home of his father four miles southeast of town, Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. B. Phipps, Baptist minister, and interment made in the Littlefield cemetery by the side of his mother who died three years ago.

PUMP HOUSE FIRE

The Santa Fe pump house caught fire Monday morning from a torch in the hands of workmen who was heating the engines preparatory to pumping.

Prompt response of the local fire department, which quickly extinguished the flames, resulted in little damage.

LEVELLAND PLANT BURNED

The electric light plant belonging to the Texas Utilities Co., at Level-land catching fire from the exhaust of an engine, burned to the ground Monday night, a total loss.

Through the prompt action of Manager R. E. McCaskill and assistants, wires were strung to a cotton gin engine, a switch board extemporized and the city furnished with lights the next night.

RESOLUTIONS ARE PASSED BY W. T. C. of C. CONVENTION

Adhering to its nine-year policy, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention adopted resolutions without pyrotechnics, denunciation or attacks. The teeth of all resolutions containing biting propensities were carefully extracted by the committee prompt.

For several days it had been reported that a resolution would attack the State Highway Commission because of alleged discrimination against West Texas. The resolution was so modified as merely to point out that West Texas has not received its due and asks the commission to equalize State aid.

Ely Defends Body

W. R. Ely of Abilene, member of the commission who is attending the convention, today declared that it was his opinion that the Western section of the State has received a square deal from the new body in highway allotments, and that he intended to see that West Texas gets a fair dealing from the commission. The resolution, it was explained, was not as a reflection upon the present commission. The resolution reads in part:

"West Texas has not received its just dues, a policy of allotting State aid on the basis of 1920 census is unfair to West Texas, and it is urgently requested that the Highway Commission take this matter into account, and right this inequality."

Road System Favored

"We continue to favor the construction of a connected system of permanent highways throughout West Texas. The cardinal highways, of course, should first be connected up and hard surfaced, and such road building should be pushed aggressivly, but conservatively, so that ultimately every section will be united through such a system."

Plea for Harmony

Another resolution pleads for harmony between West Texas Committees, and defines the attitude of West Texas Chamber as follows:

"Its primary object is to serve West Texas, and every portion of West Texas, without favor of discrimination. It is designed for the common good of all. So far as possible, where the interests of different portions or localities in West Texas shall conflict, which is rare, the organization should refrain from participation in such conflicting matters and interests. To these matters controversial in their nature we deem it to be the duty of the organization to take no determined position, pro or con, at least until after a comprehensive and intelligent study of such question, the wisdom of one side or the other is so overwhelmingly established and of such vital interest to our territory that it would be cowardly not to take action therein."

One resolution recommends that the executive board give immediate consideration to the question of creating an oil and gas division in the organization, to lend aid in protecting this major industry from unwise legislation, particularly the enactment of confiscatory taxes upon the oil industry.

The attention of the Governor and Legislature is "respectively invited to the solution in some satisfactory manner not injurious to our State University lands situated in a number of West Texas counties shall be taxed, at least for county purposes."

Concur With Growers

The committee report gives concurrence with Governor Moody in his declaration that many of the boards and bureaus of the State Government are useless and should be abolished; it reaffirms the organization's stand on agriculture and the livestock industry; it again urges reduction of cotton acreage and intensive diversified farming; encourages the storage of storm and flood waters for irrigation purposes; recommends continuation of the topographic and hydro-graphic surveys in West Texas; favors congressional aid in the development of potash potentialities; favors a "reasonable limit" to consolidations of public utilities so as not to discourage individual development, and in this connection "particularly deplores monopolistic acquisition by such utilities or others of water powers and rights necessary to the welfare of the people generally."

Limited Forestration

The report urges limited forestrat-ion in West Texas, including windbreaks on farms; commends the State Federation of Women's Clubs for its efforts toward cleaning up Texas; reaffirms its stand on educational institutions; urges further railroad extensions in West Texas; compliments Arthur P. Duggan, president; Homer D. Wade, manager, and the working staff of the organization; refers to the convention as "the most noteworthy gathering in the history of the organization," and thanks the city and people of Wichita Falls for hospitalities extended.

TO RID OF LICE

To rid of lice give the hen three pinches of sodium fluoride—one on the head and neck, one in the back and one below the vent. For small chicks you can use two very small pinches to each chick. Distribute one of the pinches on the neck, top of the head, and throat, and the other on the back and below the vent. Give the treatment while the chicks are active and don't let them hover for some time, so that the free powder will be shaken off. Never use sodium fluoride on chicks before they are 1 week old.

TO HAVE FIRM BUTTER

In the summer, it usually takes from 52 degrees to 60 degrees Fahrenheit in the churn to have the little grains of butter firm. In the winter, it usually takes from 58 to 66 degrees. In the spring, after the cows have been turned out to pasture if you use the same temperature you do in the winter, the butter will probably come in much shorter time and will be quite soft. In that case, all you have to do is use a lower tem-

Flyers
Paris Derby

A. Lindbergh of St. Louis

N AIRMEN CROSS THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

ork to Paris by air is The greatest feat in aviation ended on Le Field at 10:21 o'clock (5:21 p. m. New when Captain Charles one American aviator, in the flare of red age searchlights. Lindbergh, who plane with a periscope his way across the precision of veteran at ocean vessels might landed in the midst of that gave him the come his achievement deserved. "Well, here we are," was what he had to say. "I am very happy."

Tired, Has Grit to Smile

Then a vast flood of spectators broke over the field and surged around the plane. Hundreds tried to get the boy on their shoulders. High in the air they carried him to the administration buildings on Le Bourget Field, where Myron T. Herrick, an Ambassador of the airmen's own country, and high officials of France, together with French and American notables with tears in their eyes tattered their congratulations. Terribly drawn and tired, Lindbergh yet had the grit to smile and wave his arms in acknowledgement of the tributes of the crowd.

They bore him into the building, where an unofficial reception committee awaited, but the people wanted more of him and cheered wildly until Ambassador Herrick brought his helmet to the window and exhibited a great bunch of flowers that had been presented to the flyer.

Start Tearing Up Plane

The reception was as short as decently could be, and within a few minutes after landing, Lindbergh, in the Ambassador's car was trading his way toward Paris and a bit of sleep. Before he started he had a thorough massage for his tired and cramped arms and legs, and some coffee to brace him until he could get to bed.

The flying field at Le Bourget was ready to receive Captain Lindbergh. There were at least 5,000 persons on the field and near-by grounds. Most of the spectators arrived on foot or on bicycles, showing the intense interest that the man in the street has in the American's exploit.

Send Up Flares

At the same time the aerial authorities began sending up flares in order to show Captain Lindbergh the location of the landing field. Excitement was at fever height when it was reported that the Spirit of St. Louis had flown over Cherbourg.

Two squads of police were on hand to restrain the crowd.

The Frenchmen's readily kindled imagination appreciated the Captain's intrepidity and spirit. Excitement compared favorably with that of the hours when the French airman, Nungesser and Coli, were believed to have achieved the flight from east to west.

Lindbergh came over Le Bourget flying high slightly to the east of the field. He circled 200 yards west of the main buildings. He made a beautiful landing, headed due west with the ground lights flashed on him. The crowd gave a great roar and rushed forward. Dozens of persons were swept off their feet in the wild excitement to reach the wonderful American.

The crowds surged around Lindbergh's plane before he could get out of the cockpit. A few minutes before the lone aviator reached the ground the American Ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, arrived, witnessing his descent from the administration building.

The plane was hauled in front of the building. The waring youth was lifted out and carried shoulder high into the open, where he was enthusiastically acclaimed and cheered for twenty minutes.

DUGGAN TO JOIN BOOSTERS OF TEX. SPECIAL NORTH

DALLAS, May 18.—More than fifty reservations for the "All Texas Special" which, leaving Texas June 19, will carry a group of representative Texas men on a tour of the North and East, have already been made by leading citizens in various sections of the state, according to Arthur P. Duggan, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

With Gov. Dan Moody a member of the party, the object of the tour is to demonstrate by personal contact that the Texan of today is an up-to-date, farsighted, very much alive business man, and to call attention to Texas' resources, industries, laws, labor conditions, climate, transportation facilities and other particulars, at the same time dispelling whatever erroneous impression may prevail that the Lone Star State is still a frontier domain.

Requests for reservations are being received by J. L. Greer, Denison, Texas, chairman of the transportation committee. There will be accommodations for 142 passengers aboard the de luxe special train. Because of this limit it is urged that reservations be made early. Each request should be accompanied by an initial check for $50, made to Col. C. C. Walsh, Treasurer. The cost of the round trip will be $250, with the balance payable prior to June 10.

Transportation has been arranged so that tickets will apply from six concentration cities—Houston, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Ft. Worth and Dallas. Full information may be had from Chambers of Commerce secretaries in various Texas cities.

The tour will take in fifteen points. Returning the party will reach Texas on the night of July 4. The itinerary includes Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, and Memphis. At Baltimore a special call will be made upon Col. Richard H. Edmunds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, in recognition of his service to Texas in exploiting its resources and possibilities.

CISTERN FOR DRINKING WATER

The vital features of a cistern for drinking water are: (1) Absolute watertightness of top, sides, and bottom, and close screening of inlet and waste pipes; (2) provisions for excluding from the cistern the first portion of each rainfall until the roof or excluding area has become rinsed thoroughly; (3) a first class filter of clean, well-selected sand and thoroughly burned charcoal; (4) a waste pipe which removes surplus inflow from the bottom of the cistern where impurities tend naturally to settle; (5) periodic and thorough cleaning of the cistern and filter; (6) no connection between the waste pipe and a sewer or a drain which may carry impure drainage.

According to the census of 1920 Texas had more native white farmers than any other state. Kentucky stood second.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back.—Prov. 26:3.

If punishment reaches not the mind and makes not the will supple, it hardens the offender.—Locke.

OUR GRADUATES

So many things have come into the lives of Littlefield citizens since they finished school, and business cares have set so heavily on their shoulders that they have lost sight of what was really a supreme event in their lives—the high school graduation. And yet, even though forgotten by those who have passed through it, or if not forgotten at least seldom recalled, the event is still rated as a red-letter day in the life of every boy or girl permitted to achieve the distinction of having participated in it.

We are again in the season of high school graduation, or commencement if you prefer. Here and elsewhere boys and girls, just on the border-land of manhood and womanhood, are closing an eventful period in their careers. They are reaching a fork in the road, and directing signs to Success and Failure are not easily interpreted. Each must read for him self, each must choose the road over which he will travel through life. Graduation marks the point from which they launch their battle against the hard and exacting tasks of life. It is the day when they lift the burden of responsibility from the shoulders of their own parents, and start out to carry it themselves.

We are proud of the young men and women this community is graduating this season. Many of them will remain in the neighborhood, carrying on in future years the tasks of those now in active business and professional life. Others will be scattered to far places, to stand or fall on the training they received in the old home school from which they are now taking a final farewell. We can wish no greater thing for them than that each and every one lives as happily and successfully as have been the school years now brought to a close.

It's a funny world. Old maids know best how to raise children and only the poor know how the rich should spend their money.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

This is commencement week in the Littlefield public schools, and a class of fine boys and girls are receiving their diplomas. We have already been wondering how many of them will go on to a higher education.

There may be a few cases where a college education will not be necessary for future success, but in the majority of cases it behoves the boys and girls to get all the education possible in their youthful days. Attaining knowledge and the power of thought and reason are absolute essentials in these days of keen competition.

Fifty years ago comparatively few high school graduates went onto higher education, and those who did came largely from the homes of wealth. Today college education is within the grasp of practically everyone, and there are probably three or four times as many going out to our universities as there were 50 years ago.

It is hoped our boys and girls will find it possible to enroll this fall in some of the higher institutions of learning within the borders of the state, thus equipping themselves in the best manner possible for the greater activities of life yet to come.

A REAL BENEFACTOR

Most every Littlefield citizen can recall that only a few years ago there was considerable prejudice against the auto. Not so many people owned them then and those who did not were more or less resentful and quick to assert their anger at the motorist who, as they said, "always tried to hog the road."

But it's different now, and while there may be found here and there someone who still holds resentment, this community, like all other sections of the United States, recognizes the auto as a real benefactor. They know it has been a vast aid to our social, educational and business life and since it has become the world's greatest industry, with more than 3,000,000 men supporting themselves and families from it, they have come to figure it as an industrial blessing.

You'll find many strange autos passing through this section this summer. Now is an excellent time to see that your premises are made attractive for well-kept homes are the first things noted by strangers. We can also stand a little improvement in our streets and sidewalks, too and in that way also create a favorable impression. Whatever these strangers spend while in our midst contributes to the general prosperity of the community. And who knows but some of them might decide to become permanent residents? The auto has already brought us many blessings, let's show we are deserving of them by making our town so attractive that auto tourists will say a good word for us as they travel on.

It is also well to remember that there is never any traffic congestion on the "straight and narrow way."

WEATHER GAMBLING

There's hope for Littlefield weather prophets yet. Uncle Sam has just discovered that gamblers in New Orleans, St. Louis and other cities are conducting lotteries based on hourly temperatures reported in the daily newspapers of those cities by the weather bureau.

So he is trying to find a way to break up the lotteries and to keep the sporting fraternity from betting on how warm or how cold it will be at a certain hour on the following day.

New Orleans newspapers have agreed to suspend their temperature figures for one month in the hope that "weather gambling" can be discouraged.

So the local amateur weather sharks who have confidence in their forecasts—and all of them do—have an opportunity to get into some of our larger cities and make a "clean-up" before Uncle Sam succeeds in spelling the game.

About all that can be said for some time when they die is that they gave their neighbors plenty to talk about.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

It should interest boys and girls of Littlefield and vicinity to know that The National Safety Council, of Chicago, is again to distribute prizes for sketches and drawings warning of carelessness. Each year the best of these sent in are made into posters. The pictures carry a stronger warning than words, and are declared to be of great value in reducing death by accident. Any sketches or pictures showing how to prevent accidents at railroad crossings, on the streets and highways or in public places are given consideration.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

HOME MAKING TRULY AN ART

Probably more human happiness depends upon how a home is kept than upon any other thing.

Previously our schools have devoted little time to this important subject. Pupils are taught geometry, geography and arithmetic, they are taught logic and latin and music and all sorts of plain and ornamental information, but not home-keeping.

It is necessary to elevate the business of home-making into an art, to get people enthusiastic about it and to impress upon the mind of youth its dignity and importance.

At the State Teacher's College in Pittsburg, Kansas, they have established a house for the purpose of developing right standards of courtesy, hospitality and social graces, etc., all necessary in the successful management of a home.

They have secured a house, such a one as would be used by a family of moderate means, and instruct pupils to take care of it.

They have a house manager who plans menus, does marketing, presides at the table and so on. They teach the girls how to cook, prepare food and keep the kitchen in order.

Another girl assists the cook in preparing salads, cares for the dining room and acts as waitress. Still another is called housekeeper. She dusts and keeps the house in clean order.

A laundress tends to the house linen and stokes the furnace. The duties are rotated so that a student gets practice in every kind of home work.

They have guests and often entertain the president of the college and the faculty.

The house is managed on a budget plan and all expenditures are limited.

The records are kept in permanent form.

The house is self-supporting and the students pay for room and board. As there is no child in the house they are going to adopt a child and study child training.

Since so much depends upon the way a home is kept this sort of training seems to be sensible.

TEST O' TEN QUESTIONS

Here is a test of memory, intelligence, and general knowledge, that will provide fun and entertainment for all by giving you an opportunity to test your knowledge in competition with others. These questions will cover a wide range of information. How many of them can you answer without seeking recourse to the encyclopedia or dictionary? The answers will be found on the last page of this newspaper.

1. In what city does the Mormon Church have its headquarters?
2. What were cattle thieves called in the early days of the American west?
3. In what year was the Star-Spangled Banner composed? By whom?
4. What type of road is named after a Scotch engineer?
5. What are the characteristics of an albino?
6. What are "Mother Carey's chickens"?
7. How old was Methuselah when he died?
8. Who is the President of Mexico?
9. What are the Seven Wonders of the ancient world?
10. Who was the author of "Main Street"? What is his most recent book?

Lots of people will stop and think when a striking picture stares them in the face—who would ignore a printed warning. So any of our boys and girls who have artistic ability and can draw, paint or sketch and who are anxious to earn some real cash are urged to get busy and enter this contest.

Prizes to the amount of $1000 in gold will be distributed and all information can be had by writing The National Safety Council, Chicago.

Next Monday is Memorial day and during the remaining days of this week work should be put forth toward getting the local cemetery in good condition. Perhaps you have loved ones lying out there, but as a matter of general interest, as you are interested in the town's city of the dead.

While Louisiana and other southern states of the Mississippi valley are being devastated by water, West Texas, in many places, is being deluged with sand and dust. We would gladly exchange some of our storm elements to them for some of theirs, and no doubt they also would welcome the exchange but it's a little far away for such bartering of the elements.

Dr. Attnius Webb, well known prohibition law enforcement official, was in Littlefield last week for an address. According to report, he was very graciously received; i. e. permitted to go to the hotel and rest without insult or anyone starting a talk about his short-comings. The doctor was quite sure bootlegging was not deeply entrenched in Littlefield, else he could not have come to town so quietly and unobserved. In his opinion, however, he may be very much mistaken.

The Wichita Falls convention of W. T. C. C. was undoubtedly the greatest yet held, and would have been more widely attended had the date been different. Coming at school graduation time, many were unable to attend. It is our belief that the convention date should be two or three weeks earlier or later. Since the next convention is to be held at Fort Worth, on the extreme eastern line of the regional territory, we believe a three day program would be advisable.

Notwithstanding the low price of cotton and the continued drought condition the streets of Littlefield were crowded with people last Saturday, and the merchants generally report good business. It is probably due to the fact that many farmers are now selling butter, cream, eggs and other farm produce. Many of our farmers are not only providing the needs of the table in this manner, but actually putting money into the bank besides. Such men are practically independent of "hard times."

A journey into the country in any direction will readily convince anyone that while conditions are still dry the farmers are not at all idle. Many of them are dry planting, others continue harrowing their land thus conserving moisture, while with the few that are breaking it is surprising the amount of moisture they turn up. All agree that a more equitable distribution of the excessive moisture received in the Mississippi valley would be acceptable, but they are going ahead just the same anticipating rain in the near future.

It's quite easy for one to become disappointed with their chamber of commerce, especially when they themselves have laid down on the job and are taking an interest in its activities and accomplishments. Ofttimes too much is expected of such an organization, and again much more can be accomplished than is being done. Littlefield chamber of commerce has not been very active during the past six or eight months. Right now it is needed more than ever in the history of the town. It is only through this organization that many things can be done that should be.

Littlefield homes were a lot better when the holes in socks were darned instead of changed.

What we have never been able to understand is how some of Littlefield's flappers can look in a mirror without laughing themselves to death.

DUGGAN OFFERED PRES. W. T. C. C. THE COMING YEAR

Not in the history of West Texas Chamber of Commerce has there been another year of so great accomplishment as the one recently closed in convention at Wichita Falls last week. Departments of activity in all lines have advanced, a $10,000 debt has been entirely wiped off the slate, and new work has been accomplished in greater measure than ever before.
At the convention last week everywhere were heard words of praise for the admirable accomplishments of Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield, retiring president of the organization. Officers and delegates were entirely unstinted in their praise of Mr. Duggan, unanimously declaring he had accomplished more for the organization than any other president throughout its history. Again and again he was urged to accept the presidency for another year, and late Monday night in the deadlock of the nominating committee room, when the members could not agree upon his successor, he was called from his bed at the Kemp hotel and again urged to accept the position. But private affairs being of such a nature that Mr. Duggan felt it impossible to devote another year to the work as he had in the past, he was forced to decline. R. W. Haynie, an attorney from Abilene, was then elected president for the coming year. Vice-president and directors elected were as follows:

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by

AGED MATRON DIES AT COUNTRY HOME NEAR THIS CITY

Mrs. Martha Ann Smith, wife of C. M. Smith, aged nearly 72 years, died last Friday at their country home about three miles west of Littlefield, following an illness of about one week. Kidney trouble, superinduced by an attack of flu was the cause of her demise. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon and interment of remains made in the local cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were both natives of Mississippi. She was born August 19th, 1856, and they were married in June 1876, moving from their Mississippi home to Milan county, Texas, then to Robertson county, later to Oklahoma where they lived 25 years, and about two years ago coming to Littlefield where they have since made their home on their farm west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have had no children of their own, but they have raised a family of ten other children, all of them being unfortunates who had lost their own parents.

Nearly a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Smith celebrated their golden wedding, at which time a large number of friends and neighbors gathered at their home, bring gifts and food for a choice feast. At that time Mrs. Smith was in the best of health, considering her advanced age, and many were the congratulations and hearty wishes extended the aged couple for future years of wedded happiness together. But such are the laws of nature that inevitably the passage of time calls on the grim Reaper with scythe to cut down the life of all that the body may be planted to germinate again in a life of immortality, and scarcely a year since that gladso celebration the aged husband is sitting sad and alone in his home mourning the loss of the dear companion who kept step with him so long down the pathway of life.

Early in life Mrs. Smith entered the Church and ever afterward lived a consistent faithful Christian. Their home has always been a radiating spot of good cheer and friendliness in the community wherein they lived. Since living in this community it has been an assembling place for both young and old, where, on Sunday afternoons, the friends and neighbors gathered for song and social enjoyment.

In this hour of bereavement the many friends of Mr. Smith extend to him their most sincere regret and sympathy in the loss of his aged companion.

REV. DOAK GIVES BACCALAUREATE SERMON TO CLASS

Before a class of 22 graduates of the Littlefield high school last Sunday morning, Rev. D. D. Doak, of Lubbock, delivered an interesting and inspiring baccalaureate sermon on the subject, "Power of the Unseen." All churches of the city dismissed their morning services for the occasion, and the combined congregation packed the big auditorium of the high school building to its capacity.

Seats were reserved in front of the platform for the graduates. The Juniors acted as ushers. Rev. C. A. Dugger, of the Presbyterian church, read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. Ed. Tharp, of the Methodist church offered the invocation. Miss Maude Cuend was soloist for the service.

Rev. Doak is a forceful and emphatic speaker, his sermon bristling with facts, scintillating with metaphor and simile and apt in illustration which potentially introduced many of the thoughts presented. He dwelt particularly upon the power of thought, its value, operation and results, declaring that people of today were doing more original and precise thinking than ever before, and that it was having a telling influence upon the race for good or bad, according to its nature.

METHODIST MISSIONARY

The ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Luther Kirk, at her home, three miles east of Littlefield.

Mrs. W. B. Gardner led an interesting lesson from the Missionary Voice, assisted by Mrs. B. L. Cogdill, Mrs. A. G. Hemphill and Mrs. E. H. Williams.

Mrs. Van Clark, Mrs. Ed. Tharp and Mrs. Cook were elected delegates to the district Conference to be held at Lamesa, June 1st and 2nd. The Auxiliary voted to have a part in keeping another girl in the Scarrett training school.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed while the hostess served cake and ice-cream.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend thanks to the neighbors and friends, and specially the Masonic lodge for the kindness and attention shown us during the sickness and death of our husband and father, C. P. Matthews.

QUEER FACTS

When we say that any one has "kicked the bucket," we mean in an irreverent way, that the person has died. It is interesting to know how the saying originated.

There was a certain man named Balsover who tried to commit suicide by hanging himself. He stood on a bucket, adjusted the noose and kicked the bucket. Balsover was rescued, however, and when he came to and found he was still alive he was very much disappointed. "What does this mean?" he asked, "I thought I kicked the bucket." And hence the phrase.

FARM BUREAU MEN ATTEND MEETING IN HALE COUNTY

The annual convention of the 19th district Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association at Plainview Saturday was attended by twenty-eight delegates from six counties. The business of the session was conducted in the county court room at the court house and at noon luncheon was served at the Hotel Ware.

The delegates registered in the morning and immediately after the conference luncheon reconvened at the court house to finish their business.

C. M. Haddock of Hale County was elected chairman of the convention and A. B. Boyd of Motley County secretary.

G. M. Wright, D. M. Howell and A. L. Hollum were appointed a committee on credentials. They examined the delegates and reported favorably to the convention.

A motion was made that one man from each county vote the strength of that county.

M. S. Hudson of Hale County was unanimously elected state director from the 19th district. He expressed his appreciation for the honor bestowed upon him with a few well chosen remarks.

Lamb County were: C. T. Mason, J. T. Elms, W. S. Mitchell, J. P. Harrell and J. H. Wright.

At noon the delegates from district 19 met at the Hotel Ware for a conference luncheon with business men of Plainview who had been invited to speak. M. S. Hudson presided.

Following the invocation by B. H. Oxford a short address was given by R. A. Underwood. Mr. Underwood spoke briefly before hurrying away to Wichita Falls. He stressed the fact that the salvation of the farmer must lie chiefly in the farmer's own hands. He must work out his production and marketing problems according to sound economic principles and that in the solution the farmers of this section might look to the local banks for such co-operative encouragement and assistance as could reasonably be expected by any successful business man or group of men. He recognized the farmer's problems and was glad to see effort being made to meet such problems.

MANY FARMERS ARE BUYING HOGS HERE TO PUT ON FARMS

P. W. Walker last Saturday shipped two car loads of fat hogs, one car load going to the Fort Worth market, the other being shipped to Los Angeles, California. He still has on his hog farm, one mile east of Littlefield, about 300 head, of which 125 are brood sows.

This shipment totals six cars shipped by Mr. Walker since the first of February, while the total shipment for the county to date is 15. It has been estimated that there will be at least 10 more car loads shipped from Lamb, making a total of at least 25 for the year.

Farmers generally throughout this section have been stocking brood sows during the past six months, and few farms of this section are there but now have a foundation herd that is beginning production. It has been stated on good authority that there are now more brood sows in Lamb county than there are automobiles, and condition which bids favorable for future financial welfare.

WHITEWASHING HINTS

Cow stables are usually whitewashed once or twice a year. Whitewash may be applied with a brush or with a spray pump. It can be applied more heavily with a brush, one coat sometimes giving as good results as two with the sprayer. Spraying, of course, is quicker, but smears up the floor and equipment more than the brush method. Regardless of what method is used, time will be saved in cleaning if the equipment is covered with old bags or similar material. If the floor is kept wet while the whitewashing is in progress, the whitewash that is dropped will not stick so tightly but that it can be dislodged readily with water and a brush or broom. Whitewash will adhere much better to a rough surface than to a smooth one.

Intelligence tests given to convicts in American prisons have shown that they are much more intelligent than the guards.

Housewives are Now Turning to Electricity for Cleaner, Faster and More Economical Cooking, Just as the Railroads and other Industries are Electrifying Transportation and Power.

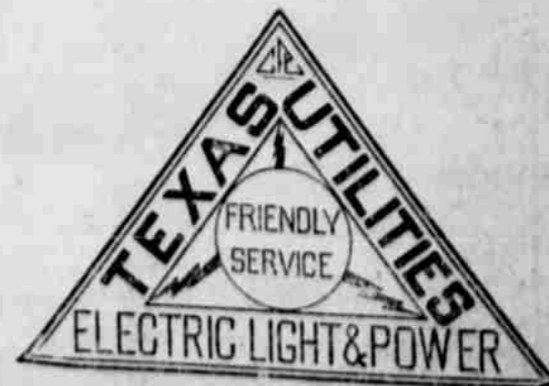

To think of a fuel preferable to electricity is to think back of the present age. ## Littlefield Bachelor Girls Discuss Males and Ideas of Most Popular Man With Them

There must be a man for every woman, was the uncompromising opinion obtained by one of the leading feminine reporters of the city this week when, news being scarce, she proceeded to interview a number of Littlefield feminine bachelors of various ages, vintage and stage. She found there were fundamental virtues held in common by these said creatures of the unmarried tribe, the nearly every one of them had some peculiar feature of attraction that had a potent effect on her.

Just as long as he don't polish his shoes and stop at every show window on the street to see if his hair is properly slicked back, I think he would be all right," one girl declared, "I would like for him to be a good looking, of reasonable intelligence and certainly capable of earning a living for myself and the fifteen kids we might possibly have. For when one gets married in these days they can never tell whether or there will be just one chicken in the hatch, none at all, or a whole squadron of infantry.

One young lady declared the much proclaimed cave man stuff didn't appeal to her a little bit. In fact, she insisted if a man ever attempted to pull off any of that kind of gruff on her she wouldn't even bother with a divorce court but proceed to remedy the situation herself. And, judging from her robust corporeity, also, knowing the little shrimp of a fellow she kept company with, we thought she was probably telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing else but the truth. (We hope he reads this story as a warning.)

One of the charming flappers of this little burg attempted to describe to us just what an "ideal" man should be, but before she got half way through was willing to admit that they had all either died of infantile paralysis or else been copped up on the matrimonial whirl a few seasons ago.

Perhaps as a class women are less specific in their requirements of men than men are of women. At least one so declared, and, she added, as they grow older, they gradually become less and less exacting. One young lady said she wasn't very particular just so her gentleman friend wore his clothes well and kept them clean. She hated a "sloppy man."

"Yet another insisted a man ought to pay some attention to style, but didn't think it so necessary as for women. Most of those interviewed approved for a man who was a little higher intellectually than they were, but so much that there would be a mental gulf between them making their companionship lacking in congeniality.

Tall men, short men, fairly good and fairly bad men, lounge lizards, jellybeans, the crude men from the wide open spaces—in fact, practically all kinds of men came in for approval if they were honest and didn't get drunk. Some of them thought a little slang was alright; but none of them approved of downright profanity, tho some admitted of having gone with fellows of that type.

One young lady who recently returned from a nearby college town said, "I just hate these pretty men, they ain't worth the snap of your finger. Give me a man that is well-built, clean in his morals and manners and possessed of a personality even tho his face may be plain or somewhat rugged.

Another declared, "I love them all," but I do wish some of them would lay off of their petting until I get a little better acquainted with them. If they would just cut out this "necking" business, it wouldn't be so bad, she insisted. "Sometimes I think I will never go with another young man in my life I get so disgusted with them. Oh my! but I guess it's all in life, and I just naturally love all the men."

While smoking seemed a popularity accepted habit among most of Littlefield's bachelor girls, nearly all of them drew the line on the drinking habit. Some emphatically voiced their disapproval of men chewing tobacco. One young lady thought it was alright for a young man to take a drink occasionally if he could control himself.

As a general thing these bachelor girls approved of sports among men, tho the few of them spoke favorably of golf. Baseball and football players were the idols of some. One young lady told of once falling in love with a soldier, but promptly added she had got over it—and never again!

A young lady who was a stenographer insisted that her employer should like her clothes, and that she would be disappointed in any young man who didn't appreciate her gowns and speak about them. Another said her future husband would have to be a man who had an appreciation of music, painting and the other arts. "He would just have to," she declared, "to be compatible."

No young lady seemed expectant of finding a perfect man. They all have their likes and dislikes, and while each had something that appealed to them there were also something about them that had to be looked over. But there seemed to be a general agreement among most of them, that after all, most of these habits made little difference so he is a real man.

Longhorn cattle came from Mexico and Spain at the time of building the old missions that are still to be seen in Texas.

MEADOW BURNING

Burning over old meadows usually will not be necessary if they have been cut over for hay each year. Although burning induces an earlier growth of grass in the spring, this does not result in an increase in the total yield for the season. There is also a loss of humus and if the practice is continued from year to year the effect on the soil is bad. This destruction of humus and the resulting poor physical condition of the soil depresses the growth of the better grasses and thus encourages the weeds. Meadows should be burned over only in cases where it has been found impossible to harvest the hay crop. Burning may then be necessary to remove the dead grass which might otherwise injure the quality of the new hay.
