HERB MUELLER IN RARE FORM SHUTS OUT OLTON ALL STARS, 2-0 IN A FAST GAME PLAYED ON LOCAL DIAMOND, SUN.

Holt and his fast independent Olton gave battle with the Cats here last Sunday in one of the best contests of the season.

Fuller, an old timer, was on the mound for the County Seat against Jones on the receiving end, while Herb Mueller, ace pitcher for the Cats, was in rare form, reliable receiver for the catcher.

The game developed into one of the pitcher's battles seen by local fans this year, neither team scoring until the final inning, when Dewey Moore hit the first pitched ball to left center field fence for a home run. Herb Mueller followed with a single to center, was forced at first by Lefty McWilliams. Flycatcher drew a walk, Ansel Stone on a double play to end the game.

Olton threatened to score in their seventh when Ballard, second baseman hit to left center field for what looked like a home run, but by a fast relay of the Olton to Ratliff to Hanks, the ball was in time at the plate. An easy out, Dixon singled to second and Fuller went out to first.

In the eighth, Stone opened the inning with a clean single to center. Ratliff hit to left field, Burrus hitting the ball let Ratliff on to second with Stone at third. Art Fuller sent a sacrifice fly to center. Burrus scoring after the catch. Hanks and Hanks went out in the ninth.

Herb Mueller perfect support throughout the entire game. While Hanks were charged up to the plate, none figured in the scoring. Walker starred in the field all night. His home run and single trips to the plate led the locals. Mick Ratliff and McWilliams connected for a two-bagger. Fuller allowed six hits to five batters, while Mueller gave up the same number of hits to five of the visitors. In view of the fact that Littlefield nine play one game a week, it is only fair to give credit for the brand of play displayed in last Sunday's game.

Following Sunday's games, the two clubs, one game to Littlefield and one played in Olton. Watch for further notice. Port Worth Cats are due in Littlefield for a game either the third or fourth week in September. The date will be given in the next issue.

Mueller and Hanks, Fullerton.

The probable list of players who will go to Roswell next Sunday are Dewey Walker, Mick Ratliff, Lefty McWilliams, P. S. Hanks, Ansel Stone, Fly Thornton, H. P. Ballard, Newty Moore, Herb Mueller, Alvin Mueller, Payne Wood, Alex De Long, Driscoll Irvin. This number will be cut to 12 men.

FOUR CENT RAISE IN STATE TAX IS NEW ASSESSMENT

Texas will pay four cents more on the $100 taxable valuation this year, as a result of the automatic tax board's action last Saturday in fixing a state rate of 68 cents, this rate bringing in the estimated sum of $28,182,234.00. The state rate last year was 64 cents.

The levy was computed as follows: ad valorem for general fund purposes, 30 cents; school fund, 31 cents and confederate pensions, seven cents.

The general fund drew 22 cents, the schools 35 cents and the pensions seven cents last year.

The ad valorem for general fund purposes was increased to meet demands made by appropriation bills passed by the 41st legislature. Although appropriations were less than two years ago, Governor Mody said the bulk of the expenditures would be made during the first year of the biennium, necessitating the eight cent increase for that source.

The school levy was decreased from the maximum permitted by the constitution for the first time in many years. It had been 35 cents since 1918, when the constitutional limit was raised from 20 cents. The 31 cents, together with the $3,300,000 surplus in the school fund and its share of the four cent gasoline tax, will give each child of scholastic age $17.50 for the year.

County Rate is Set
Lamb County Commissioners have set the county tax rate as follows:

For general purposes, 25 cents per $100; jury service, 15c; road and bridge fund, 10c; court house fund, 10c; road and bridge fund, special, 15c; road district No. 1, reduced from 15c to 8c; road district No. 2, reduced from 15c to 12c.

It is explained that the bonds on the two above named road districts running for a period of 40 years time, that there has been sufficient revenue accumulated to date in the two districts at the previous assessed rate to warrant meeting future revenues required at a lower rate, hence the rate in district one has been decreased eight cents, while that in district two was decreased three cents. Littlefield is located in district one.

The Trouble With Having Bad Little Boys Over to Your House By Albert T. Reid

MACK RATLIFF IS CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER TRUCK SUN.

Death, clad in clammy shrouds, grim and dreadful, with no respect for youthful life, stalked in the lurid rays of an automobile headlight last Sunday evening, when Mack McCarty Ratliff, son of L. A. Ratliff, was thrown beneath the wheels of the fast moving truck, crushing out his life.

Returning from the country, the lad, accompanied by another boy, son of Arthur Ratliff, were riding on the fenders of a truck being driven by Mr. and Mrs. James Smith. It is said the lads were amusing themselves by catching at gnats and millers flying in front of the headlights. Mack, becoming overbalanced, fell from the truck, the rear wheel passing over his body, badly crushing the left shoulder and breast, resulting in death about an hour later.

The funeral services were held from the Church of Christ, conducted by John R. Freeman and Dave Draper and interment was made in the Littlefield cemetery.

The lad was 13 years, three months and 25 days old at death.

All the immediate members of the family, including the brothers and sisters were at the funeral, and there was an exceptionally long concourse of friends and acquaintances who attended the last obsequies of this bright young boy whose earthly career had been so suddenly and tragically cut short.

Hammors Bros. were in charge of funeral arrangements.

LUTHERANS HOLD A MISSION FEAST IN LFD. SUNDAY

The Lutheran Church of this city, will celebrate its annual mission festival, Sunday, September 1. Two services will be held. A morning service in the German language, and the afternoon service in English. Outside speakers have been procured for both services. Mr. M. Scaer, of Wilson, will speak at the morning service, while Mr. H. Stroebel, of Canyon, will have the afternoon address. Music will be rendered at both services by a quartet and the choir under the direction of Albert Neuenschwander. All visitors are cordially welcome.

The object of these Mission services is inspirational. Not as the old time revival to seek those who have not as yet joined the church, but rather to inspire those already members of the church to greater mission efforts, not only in their own community but also in foreign fields, that the Gospel might be preached throughout the world," said the pastor Rev. Luecke.

"A general review is also made of the many mission endeavors of the church organization to which we belong. A few of these are the following: deaf-mute, Indian, Foreign-tongue, blind, foreign immigrant; likewise the work in Alaska, Canada, Mexico, India, China, and among the negroes, etc. Thus we try to follow the word of Jesus, "Go and preach the Gospel to every creature," said Mr. Luecke.

LAMB COUNTY WITH AN INCREASE OF 840 SCHOLASTICS DURING PAST YEAR RANKS SECOND AMONG SOUTH PLAINS COUNTIES

That Lamb county ranks second in a list of 63 counties in West Texas that have had an increased growth in their scholastic population during the past year, is the statement given out last week by the State Board of Education, following its meeting at Austin.

Lubbock, a much older settled county, stood first with an increase of 1,196 scholastics, while Lamb county, ranking second, had an increase of 840 pupils during the past year.

Other West Texas county gains were as follows:

Winkler, 467; Tom Green, 157; Wheeler, 471; Nolan, 247; Presidio, 578; Mitchell, 229; Midland, 157; Martin, 322; Donley, 311; Gray, 580; Hale, 603; Hall, 403; Howard, 267; Bailey, 205; Briscoe, 232; Dickens, 286; Hockley, 415. The gain for the entire state was close to 40,000.

These figures are an accurate indication of the increased population of the state, and especially indicate the rapid growth of West Texas.

Harley Sadler Coming To Littlefield With A Brand New Company

Harley Sadler is coming! Nuf sed. Harley has a Texas wide reputation. Every youngster knows and wants to see him, and the grown ups are just as bad. For the past two years Harley has threatened to come to Littlefield. This year he is making good that threat. Heretofore Littlefield folks have had to go to Lubbock to see and hear him and his entertaining bunch; but beginning next Monday, September 2, they can just drive down town—and there he is.

Harley Sadler has a wonderful show—many folks who have been enjoying it for the last 50 years or less will tell you it is by far the best on the road today, and they are not mistaken. Like the merchant that sells kimonas and coffee, Harley's motto is "The People Must Be Pleased," and no one has yet been displeased. This is truly a West Texas institution, and the Hon. Harley himself has spared no expense in obtaining the very best talent in actors and musicians, while his equipment of scenery stage settings, gowns, etc., is unequalled by any road show traveling the highways today.

The opening play in Littlefield will be "New Brooms," and in this cast Harley and his handsome helpers always sweeps his audience before him in such a captivating manner they just can't help coming back the next night.

Sadler says his show this year is bigger and better than ever before—bigger and better band and orchestra, more and classier vaudeville acts and actors. In fact, everything is new but the name—and Harley wouldn't change that for a million dollars.

Berlin, Germany, claims to have the oldest continuously operated automobile factory in the world.

ATTORNEY ROWE FURNISHES FURTHER POMOLOGICAL PROOF

Attorney E. S. Rowe had been telling the Leader force of some fruit he is growing on his place in the south part of town, and lawyer like, that the judge might have conclusive proof of the plaintiff's contention, proceeded to bring into this newspaper court a sample of some peaches measuring nine and ten inches in circumference, which were promptly marked "Exhibit A," and as soon as the claimant left, these same peaches were quickly sampled and consigned to the proventriculus of human anatomy for safe keeping. Frankly speaking they were all that could be desired by the most ascetic epicurean.

Mr. Rowe also grows apples, pears, cherries, and cherry-plums on his place, all of which are producing heavily. He also has in his back yard an almond tree thickly covered with fruit, and the only one growing in this section, so far as is known, yet this one tree furnishes concrete evidence of the wide variety of fruit capable of production in Littlefield territory.

BUSINESS REALIZING IT HELPS ITSELF WHEN HELPING OTHERS FOSTERS PLANS OF THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS, President
American Society for Thrift

Thrift plans fostered by business organizations for the benefit of their own employees are being given wide attention.

Encouraging indeed is this sign of progress. Business is realizing more and more that it helps itself most when it in turn helps others.

These thrift plans take various forms, being called in some cases, profit-sharing, employee stock ownership, thrift and welfare policies.

Many corporations are assisting their employees to purchase stock on a most profitable basis and often below the open market price. Such stock ownership gives the employee a more intense interest in his work and permits him to make a profit on his activity in addition to his salary or wage. Other corporations provide home ownership plans whereby the company in each instance helps the employee in owning a home. Special savings plans are also frequently used by firms and corporations for the benefit of that community.

To be happy and successful in business requires happiness and success in the home. Thus business organizations which encourage thrift among their employees are in turn reaping the rewards of greater efficiency.

But this is not to be viewed from the standpoint of selfishness. While the company secures benefits from the thrift of its employees, the community the nation and society in general are likewise benefited. The establishment of a thrifty family in a community is always an added force to the progress of the community.

As this movement gains headway, real progress in the problem of human relations will be achieved.

DAN CUPID'S ARROW HIT DOUBLE IN JUST ONE SHOT

Mr. Dan Cupid has long had a reputation as a good shot, but not often does his arrow strike double as it did one day last week.

Misses Rose and Grace Mayfield, twins from Hamlin, were here visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bridges, when Dan Cupid interrupted, cutting short their vacation and sending them back home in happy wedlock.

It was an impressive scene as Dorris Marshall and Miss Rose Mayfield, and Robert Reynolds and Miss Grace Mayfield stood together, joining hands in the nuptial vows as Rev. Roy Kemp, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church performed the double wedding.

The brides were typical twins, and were beautifully dressed in old rose. The young men who came here for the ceremony also live in Hamlin.

Dinner was served for the happy couples at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bridges following the ceremony, after which the quartet left for Hamlin.

planting of such on their property holdings, and this fall will probably witness the planting of more fruit and shade trees than any other previous years. C. A. Baird, local nursery representative, reports that to date he has booked orders for more than $6,000 worth of trees to be sold in this immediate section, and will sell probably $2,000 more before fall delivery time. In shade trees he is selling principally the Chinese elm, while fruit trees are of every variety, perhaps with plum and cherry in the lead. There are several other nursery representatives who are also taking large orders for fall delivery.

It goes to say that one of the best indices of a given town or city is the character of the homes that compose it. People owning nice homes, having beautiful, well kept lawns and delightful shade are invariably a thrifty class of folks possessing high ideals and having a high order of local patriotism and civic pride.

Trees have their value in cash, and the prospective home buyer never fails to take that fact into consideration when purchasing a home; but after all their greatest value lies in the beauty, comfort and satisfaction they bring to the property owner, plus the happiness and contentment realized from them by his family.

LITTLEFIELD'S 4,000 GROWING TREES WORTH $15,000 IN CASH AND MILLION IN BEAUTY AND CONTENTMENT THEY BRING

Notwithstanding most of the western ranchers lived for years on the prairies with few or no trees around them, yet they appreciated them none the less, and some of them, perhaps prompted largely by the urging of their wives, have gone to considerable expense and trouble in planting a few trees around their houses. But it was not until immigration began in earnest about six years ago that tree-planting in and around Littlefield had its real impetus.

What is a tree worth? is a question often asked but seldom answered. There are various factors that enter into the value of a tree. For instance, its kind, location, whether there are many others nearby or if it is isolated, etc. Generally speaking a tree right after it is planted is valued at $3.00 by the owner. A year after it is planted that value will increase to $5.00, and after that the value then mounts rapidly in this country, for a three year old tree is worth $20.00, a four year old $50.00 and a five year old tree $100.00. These figures are based on the Chinese elm which is considered the most adaptable tree for South Plains growing, other trees of less adaptability and perhaps shorter life having a lesser value proportionally.

Folks often enjoy shade trees in their yards without thinking of their intrinsic value unless they decide to sell the place. Then when they think about missing the shade of some particular tree beneath whose branches they used to sit or swing in a hammock, they begin to realize it has a value difficult to express in dollars and cents. Yet such may be done. It is not uncommon in the East for values to be placed on shade trees when property is being assessed for municipal taxes, and there are instances on record where a single tree has been valued as high as $500 when a certain piece of property was being sold.

For instance, in Kansas City, a 150 foot frontage lot was recently sold for $12,500, while the adjoining 150 foot lot, equally well located sold for $9,000. The difference in the value of the two lots was embodied in eight shade trees, which gave an added value of $437.50 per tree to the lot possessing them.

Springfield, Mass., which is said to have more shade trees in proportion to population than any other city in the United States, puts a value of $100 on each tree for taxable purposes, the 25,000 shade trees of that city giving an added valuation of $2,500,000. Ann Arbor, Michigan, using a similar method of computation, figures the value of 8,000 trees at $800,000. While there are several of the larger towns in West Texas where it is customary to give a valuation of $100 to each tree that has attained a growth of five years. Of course, in this western prairie section where trees are scarce, it is not the custom to make a property owner pay taxes on his trees. Rather all citizens are urged to plant them because of their inherent worth and beauty, and because of the added attractiveness they furnish other folks who are looking for new home and business locations, yet they have an added financial value which should not be entirely overlooked in the total assets of any town or city.

Tree planting in Littlefield increases each year. It has been estimated that there are now within the corporate limits of this little city about 4,000 shade and fruit trees growing, running in age from two to five years, and having a valuation of not less than $15,000, while there are a few trees, both fruit and shade that are from 10 to 15 years of age. These trees now planted and growing become an incentive to others for the

WARRING ON WEEDS

We're suffering one nuisance in Littlefield just now that there is no excuse for tolerating. That is the weed patch.

Despite the fact that everyone knows the harmful effect of high weeds at this season of the year, attention has to be called to the matter of cutting them every year. Even then some are not mindful enough of the health of the community to mow them, or have it done.

Hay fever and kindred ailments are not the only things traced to weeds. There is always the danger of a conflagration that might burn up a goodly portion of the town. Nothing creates a more destructive fire during the dry days of late summer than a patch of weeds close to residential property. The very people who wouldn't tolerate a lot of loose powder scattered about their premises will close their eyes to something as dangerous—dry weeds.

It's true that frosts and rains will come along later on to level them, but a lot of illness can be occasioned by them between now and that time. And one match dropped into any single patch of them could burn several families out of house and home. We shouldn't wait to be told our duty in this respect. Civic pride and our personal interest in the appearance and health of the community should be sufficient to level every weed in town. Won't you do your part without further delay, whether your neighbor does his or not?

A scientist says the average man speaks about 12,000,000 words a year. We had no idea there were so many bachelors.

CLOTHES AND FASHION

We read recently where some fellow who was suffering with the heat weighed his wife's clothes and then weighed his own. Her garments, including shoes, weighed a little over a pound; his tipped the beam at seven and a half pounds.

It does seem strange how men will weigh themselves down just to follow custom while women keep shortening their skirts and taking off something else to gain more comfort.

Fashion and convention play too great a role in our everyday life, and while we laugh at the women and call them "style crazy" we are the ones who really dress uncomfortably and actually do the suffering. Maybe some day we, too, will get up as much nerve as the women, so we can tell the clothing makers, as they tell the dress designers, to either give us something comfortable or we'll quit wearing clothes altogether.

The fellow who is doing his share of pulling on the oar never has time to rock the boat.

BETTER PREACH PEACE

"If there is going to be war, let's be glad it will be in Manchuria, where it can't possibly involve us," says an exchange reaching our desk.

It sounds good—but it's wrong. We thought the same thing in 1914 when some idiot assassinated away over in Serbia a prince we never even heard of. That didn't mean anything at the moment, but the World War grew out of it—and we certainly got into that good and plenty. No sir, we don't want to hear of a war anywhere on earth any more. And neither do the fathers and mothers of Littlefield boys. Even one war in a generation is just one war too many, regardless most Littlefield girls are willing to compromise by keeping the ring and returning the heart.

Self-pity is that awful feeling a Littlefield man has when he comes home an hour late and finds his wife hasn't gotten there yet.

You can always tell when a Littlefield man's wife is coming home from a visit. It's when he starts in and waters all those yellow things that were once flower plants.

BANK GETS READY
BUSINESS IN LFD

Preparations are being made by the First National Bank, this city to take care of a considerable increase in business this fall, according to Cashier C. O. Stone, who states that during the past week another window has been opened for the accommodation of customers transacting business with the institution. The bookkeeping department has also been located farther back and another bookkeeper will be added when the fall rush begins.

Mr. Stone states that present indications are that business will be heavy, beginning about the first of October, and that even now deposits are holding up better than ever before in the history of the country at this time of the year.

The cashier suggests that customers and especially business men, having several checks to deposit, can contribute much to the efficiency and quick service of the bank if they will have their deposit slips made out before coming to the window. There are two desks in the lobby, each equipped with the necessary blanks, where such accommodations may be obtained.

SUDAN PLANTING TREES

That Sudan is vitally interested in a city beautiful was clearly demonstrated last week when C. A. Baird, local nursery representative, was given a large order for trees by the Kiwanis club of that city.

The trees will be used to beautify Sudan's public park. Mr. Baird reports many Sudan citizens interested in tree-planting, and many householders are developing beautiful lawns and flower gardens.

Cold Storage Plant Is Now in Operation Here
Owned by W. H. Heinen

Littlefield now has its own cold storage and refrigeration system, located in a brick building 38x90 feet on State highway, and owned and operated by W. H. Heinen, one of the early citizens and business men of this little city.

The plant is now in operation, and is being filled with fruits, vegetables and country produce, while a visit by any citizen to one of its frigid vaults will cause him to quickly forget the torrid rays of Old Sol now beaming down upon the South Plains country. In fact, just a glance at the frost covered pipes entering those vaults gives one visions of the winter-time climate that must be within as causes one to shiver in anticipation of the dropping temperatures that will, in a few months be visiting this section.

Heinen's refrigerating plant has three cooling rooms, each capable of storing more than a carload of perishable commodities, each room having separate as well as connecting entrances, so they may be used either singly or in connection. The average storage temperature is around 29 degrees, and is maintained by a "Baker" automatic refrigerating system, which makes its own adjustments after the degree of temperature desired has been set for the mechanism.

This new enterprise is something that has long been needed in Littlefield, and should prove a paying investment for its owner.

NUMEROUS COTTON PICKERS
NOW ENQUIRING FOR JOBS

Letters are coming in daily to the Chamber of Commerce from parties in other parts of the country inquiring about crop conditions here and wanting jobs picking cotton.

If those going to need cotton pickers will notify the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, he will be glad to help by writing these parties and getting them here.

Most of these letters are from parties having cotton picking forces able to pick as much as a bale a day, said Secretary Grow.

Aviation in Ireland is growing.

THE LEADER GETS
3,455 INQUIRIES
FROM PROSPECTORS

That the wide spread advertising campaign of the South Plains, Inc., of Lubbock, is producing results is evidenced by the large number of inquiries being obtained for more and definite information regarding the virtues of this section of the state.

This week the Leader is in receipt of a list of 732 names of inquirers from all over the United States who want to know more about this South Plains country. This makes a total of 3,455 inquiries received at this office, all of whom have received the booklet, "Farm Life on the South Plains of Texas," and hundreds have received copies of the Lamb County Leader, together with other general advertising and direct information.

Many of these inquirers state they are coming to this section sometime during this fall with a view of making more thorough investigation and of buying land. Local real estate dealers say they never have received so many inquiries regarding land buying in the Littlefield territory, their agents are now building up large lists of prospectors, and there is every indication there will be a large influx of new settlers into this section during the coming year.

French Recipes Will Banish Monotony From American Diet

By: CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef,
Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue, New York City.

BRILLAT-SAVARIN, one of the world's most famous epicures, once said that the discovery of a new dish is more beneficial to humanity than a new star. The majority of American housewives, racked with the necessity of planning three meals a day for 365 days throughout the year, would almost certainly agree with him.

While entirely new dishes are rare indeed, it is still possible for any woman to find among the recipes of foreign lands a variety of dishes that will be new to her and her family. A study of French recipes, alone, will provide her with ample means of escaping the deadly accusation of monotony which, with more or less justice, has been leveled at the American menu. French methods of seasoning, including the use of a little sugar to enhance the flavors of vegetables, will enable her to arouse envy in the hearts of less knowing cooks.

Chef Scott

Spinach A La Touraine—Put a

peck of washed spinach in a saucepan with one and a half cups of water and one teaspoon of sugar. Cook for twenty minutes. Drain and press through a colander. Mix in three-quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, and two tablespoons butter. Heat again and then press firmly into a bowl to mold. Turn the spinach out upside down on a platter, garnish with slices of lemon and hard-boiled egg, and serve immediately.

Carrots Picky—Cut a dozen young carrots in half, lengthwise. Remove the centers. Then mince them fine and put them in a saucepan with an ounce of butter, a teaspoon of sugar, and a pinch of salt. Moisten with French vichy water and let them cook slowly until tender. Serve immediately, and very hot.

Nete Peas With Lettuce—Chop one-half of a medium-size onion. Cut fine (in Julienne) one small head of lettuce. Fry the onion with a little butter until lightly browned. Add the lettuce and let simmer together for a few minutes. Then add a quart of fresh peas, a teaspoon of sugar, a half ounce of butter, salt and pepper. Moisten with water, cover the pan, and let cook slowly. When the peas are tender, add an ounce of butter mixed with a teaspoon of meat scrap and five pounds bran. Enough sour milk should be added to make a mixture of such consistency that it will pour from a feeding bucket. Three pounds of sour milk for each pound of dry feed will usually do this.

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Being satisfied is a great feeling—sometimes! Smug satisfaction is not a good tonic for a growing city. You no doubt realize the pitfalls, many and varied, which befall some communities through self-satisfaction. They would like to grow in keeping with the development of their sister cities, but smug satisfaction acts as a retarding influence. Their good citizens are satisfied. Dissatisfaction of the right kind is a wonderful tonic.

Like constructive criticism it works for the good of the community, accomplishing those things required to make real cities. It is willing to put up or shut up—to play the game according to the rules—and pay the price.

Maybe you are willing to let well enough alone—prefer to be satisfied if the opposite conditions cost you something? If so, this is not the town you should live in.

Your fellow citizens are working for a bigger and better Littlefield and would like to have you join them!

We notice a falling off in pedestrian jokes. Probably because pedestrians are fewer.

Local Poultryman Tells Value of Proper Ration in Fattening Chickens for Market

"Fattening poultry for market is one phase of the farm business often overlooked and a phase that may be made profitable if gains of from 12 to 30 per cent in 10 days time are registered," remarks J. T. Bellomy, local poultry dealer. "A pound of gain usually results from a consumption of three and one-half pounds of concentrated feed," he said.

The process of fattening poultry is simple, requires little equipment and the feed is easily procured and used. During fattening the water in the muscles is replaced largely by oil, the flesh is enmarbled with delicious fat, the tendons lose their stringiness and the birds become very plump and exceptionally well filled in breast and back, the speaker went on to say.

Chickens may be fattened either in a crate or in the general pen, Mr. Bellomy said, but experience has shown that birds gain much faster and more economically in crates. The battery crate used in commercial plants is too expensive for the farmer producer but a home made stationery one is easily made. Scrap lumber and old wire will do to make the crates in units 10 feet long, 18 inches wide and 24 inches high, divided into four compartments. It is well to have the floor of the crate 30 inches above the ground and made of ordinary plaster lath running lengthwise. The front should be slatted vertically allowing 2 1/2 inches between them in order that birds may reach through to eat from the v-shaped trough which hangs at the floor line on the front of the crate. The crate should be sheltered, shaded and well ventilated.

The following ration has proved good under general conditions: 100 pounds finely ground corn, 100 pounds finely ground oats with hulls sifted out, 50 pounds shorts, 30 pounds

Fight Fans Roar Approval of Giant Campolo

Devoted followers of the fistie sport are going loco over the 28 year old cowpuncher from Buenos Aires, Victorio Maria Campolo. The awed whippers that followed his smashing knockout of gallant Tom Heeny have grown to delicious yells of approval. The suspicion that the giant Argentinian is the Champion the fight world is seeking has become a certainty to some excited fans.

Garden Needs Only Occasional Liming

When Soil Becomes Sour Apply Some Limestone.

Although most vegetables are "lime-loving," it is not often necessary to apply lime to the garden if it has been receiving yearly applications of manure and commercial fertilizer. This is the opinion of extension specialists in vegetable gardening, at the Ohio State university.

If the garden soil has become sour, say the specialists, ground limestone should be applied after the ground has been plowed. Enough lime should be applied to make the ground look white, and the lime should then be worked into the soil. When it has once been sweetened with lime, it will be four or five years before another application of lime will be necessary.

"The way to improve the garden soil," say the specialists, "is to plow under as many tons of organic matter as possible. Too much manure can hardly be applied to the garden soil, especially if it is put on in the fall or if it is well-rotted when it is applied in the spring. At least five big loads of manure should be put on every quarter-acre of garden each fall. Well-rotted manure can be harrowed into the top soil in the spring, but strawy, fresh manure should be turned under in the fall and given time to decay before planting begins the next spring."

Most Excellent Method of Killing Bean Weevil

The best method of killing bean weevil is to treat the seed or beans with carbon bisulphide. Put the beans into a tight container such as a flour can or air-tight barrel which can be closed with an air-tight cover. Sprinkle an ounce of the carbon bisulphide over the beans at the rate of one ounce for each 100 pounds of beans. Put the lid on the container and allow it to remain closed for 48 hours.

Carbon bisulphide is a liquid which can be purchased at the drug store. It is highly poisonous and inflammable. Do not inhale the fumes from it, and keep fire and lights, electric excepted, away.

Agricultural Notes

At husking time the preliminary selection of show corn can be made.

Johnson grass is easily killed out when the roots are exposed to freezing.

In the production of high quality milk or cream, the importance of clean, sweet dairy utensils cannot be overemphasized.

Peanuts are adapted to the sandy soils, and fit well into a crop rotation. They produce forage comparable with the clovers as a feed for dairy cattle.

BEEF ROLL

3 lbs. Chopped beef, 1 lb. chopped fresh pork, 3 eggs, 6 crackers rolled fine, 2 tbs. milk, 1 tsp. black pepper, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 1 tbs. parsley, 2 tbs. onion chopped fine. Butter size of an egg. Mix well, mold in roll, bake 45 minutes in a quart of water, basting frequently.

In the deadly old Scandinavian method of dueling the fighters were strapped together and fought with short knives.

As a tribute to American, British and French sailors who found a last resting place in the Atlantic during the World war, a wreath was cast in mid-ocean by a liner on its way from New York to Liverpool.

Declaring that bad handwriting costs big stores thousands of dollars a year, the general manager of a leading store in London has organized a handwriting competition in which 300 schools will take part.

WHY Leave Your Cream Profit in the Skimmilk?

PROFIT is the last thing to be made in producing cream or anything else—and if your cream separator isn't skimming clean you are losing a big part of your profit.

The worst of it is you can't see whether your separator is skimming clean or not. But there is an easy way to tell.

Ask us to bring out a new De Laval Separator and run the skim-milk from your old machine through it. If there is any butter-fat left in the skim-milk the new De Laval will surely get it. Have the cream recovered weighed and tested and you can tell exactly if you need a new De Laval—and if you do, trade in your old machine as partial payment.

Liberal trade allowances made on old separators.

The new De Laval is the best separator ever made. It has the wonderful "floating" bowl and other improvements. It is guaranteed to skim cleaner. It also is easier to run and handle and lasts longer. For 48 years De Laval Separators have led the world.

We also carry—
A full line of Shelf and Heavy Hardware, Gas, Oil and Coal Stoves, Farming Implements and Builders' Supplies.
