Whitharral Is Defeated First Time This Year

A heavily favored Whitharral team dropped its first game of the season Friday night to an underdog Plains eleven, 12 to 7, in a district 4-B contest.

It was the first defeat of the year for the panthers, who had won twice up to this game, while Plains was assured of a tie for the league lead with the victory.

The conference leaders led, 7 to 6 until the final four minutes of the game when the Plainsmen pushed over a touchdown to climax a 60 yard sustained drive.

Left guard Truman Commons was outstanding on defense for the Whitharral Panthers with Bobby Grant doing outstanding offensive work. Bob Bailey provided the offensive spark for the visitors.

(Bulldog) Turner Elected To "Hall Of Fame"

Ablene.—Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, now playing his 11th season in the National League as a center for the Chicago Bears and former boy star, has been elected to the Helms Hall Professional Football Hall of Fame, Los Angeles, Calif.

Turner won All-American honors as a center on the 1937, '38 and '39 teams at Hardin-Simmons.

He was named to the honor roll along with three other National League performers, John Blood (McNally), Wilbur Henry and Arnold Herber.

The 1951 selections were determined by the Helms Hall Board, composed of Ned Cronin, George T. Davis, Rube Samuelsen, Al Santoro, Sid Ziff, Paul Zimmerman, Bill Schroeder, and Paul H. Helms, chairman.

Selection of the four players brings to 29 the number of grid greats who have been elected to the Hall.

Turner, named the National League All-Star center eight times, holds the NFL playoff game record, intercepted passes, with four.

Near Fist Fight Develops Close To End of Play

By JIMMIE CHAPMAN
Leader Sports Editor

The Littlefield Wildcats in their first encounter in district competition finally caught fire in the last quarter to defeat the Muleshoe Mules, 32 to 19, after trailing 7 to 6 at the end of the first half. The Cats looked the worst that they have looked this year in gaining the win.

Muleshoe scored the first time they got the ball on the old "keeper" play when Guard Robert Wagner ran 45 yards on the third play for a Mule touchdown. Dewayne Burkhead kicked the extra point that put the Mules ahead 7 to 0 with less than three minutes of playing time past in the game.

CATS SCORE

Littlefield took the kickoff on their own 35-yard line and with power plays by Northam and Walden leading the way moved the ball to the Mule nine yard line before they were forced to give the ball up on downs. The Mules fumbled on the first play and a Wildcat lineman pounced on the pigskin on the 5 yard line to give the ball to the Cats. On the first play Northam blasted his way over for a touchdown, but Joe Walden failed to make the extra point and Littlefield still trailed with the score 7 to 6. The first quarter ended here.

The Mules were held the next time they got the ball and when they attempted to punt, it was blocked. Jeff Pate recovered on the Muleshoe 22-yard line for the Cats. Littlefield, however, had to give the ball up later when Rhoten failed to make three yards on the fourth-down when they lacked five.

Littlefield was going for what looked like another touchdown late in the second quarter until Joe Walden fumbled it and the Mules recovered it this time. The half ended with the ball in possession of the Wildcats in mid-field.

LITTLEFIELD SCORES

The Mules received the second half kickoff but the Cats line held and they were forced to punt on the 30-yard line and raced 70 yards through the middle of the Mules for a touchdown. Walden ran over the extra point and Littlefield was ahead for the first time.

Littlefield scored again a few minutes later when Northam clipped. (Continued on Back Page)

Play Friday Night To Put Levelland Or Muleshoe in District Win Column;

Teams in District 7-AA will continue to play conference games this Friday with only the Brownfield Cubs not seeing action. They have their first open date of the season and they earned it after defeating the Levelland Lobos last week.

Levelland and Muleshoe, both losers last week, will play each other in the oil city and one of them will get into the district win column for the first time. Levelland is favored, but they should have their hands full if the Mules are not let-down after their loss to Littlefield last week. Several Muleshoe players were injured in the game and this should slow up the Mules attack.

Littlefield will play host to the Morton Indians who have only won one game all year. The Wildcats should roll over the Indians without too much trouble and some of the Wildcats second string players should get to play for the first time this year in a regular game.

DISTRICT STANDINGS

Team	P	W	L	T

Cubs-Lobos Game May Already Have Decided District 7-AA Championship

District 7-AA got off to a good start last week with two important games being played and the favorite at the start of the year losing in its first conference encounter.

The highly favored Levelland Lobos were defeated by the powerful Brownfield Cubs, 27 to 13, in a game that may have already decided the district championship.

The Cubs, playing the most alert kind of football recovered four Lobo fumbles and turned two of these into important touchdowns. Then they intercepted a pass by Langford Sneed to set the stage for another marker.

SWAN BROTHERS STAR

The Swan brothers were the thorn in the Lobo side all night as Joe, the youngest, scored two touchdowns and Howard scored one.

Three players, two from Brownfield and one from Levelland were ejected from the game for roughness but after these two incidents, the game was clean but hard fought.

Harold Phelan and Lavon McAuley scored the touchdowns for the losing Lobos.

CATS DEFEAT MULES

The Littlefield Wildcats trailed at the half 6 to 7 but came back strong in the second half to defeat the stubborn Muleshoe Mules, 32 to 19, in the first conference game for both teams.

The Mules scored first when guard Robert Wagner ran 45 yards on the old "keeper" play to put the Mules ahead. Wagner was helped off of the field three times after this in the first half because of injuries.

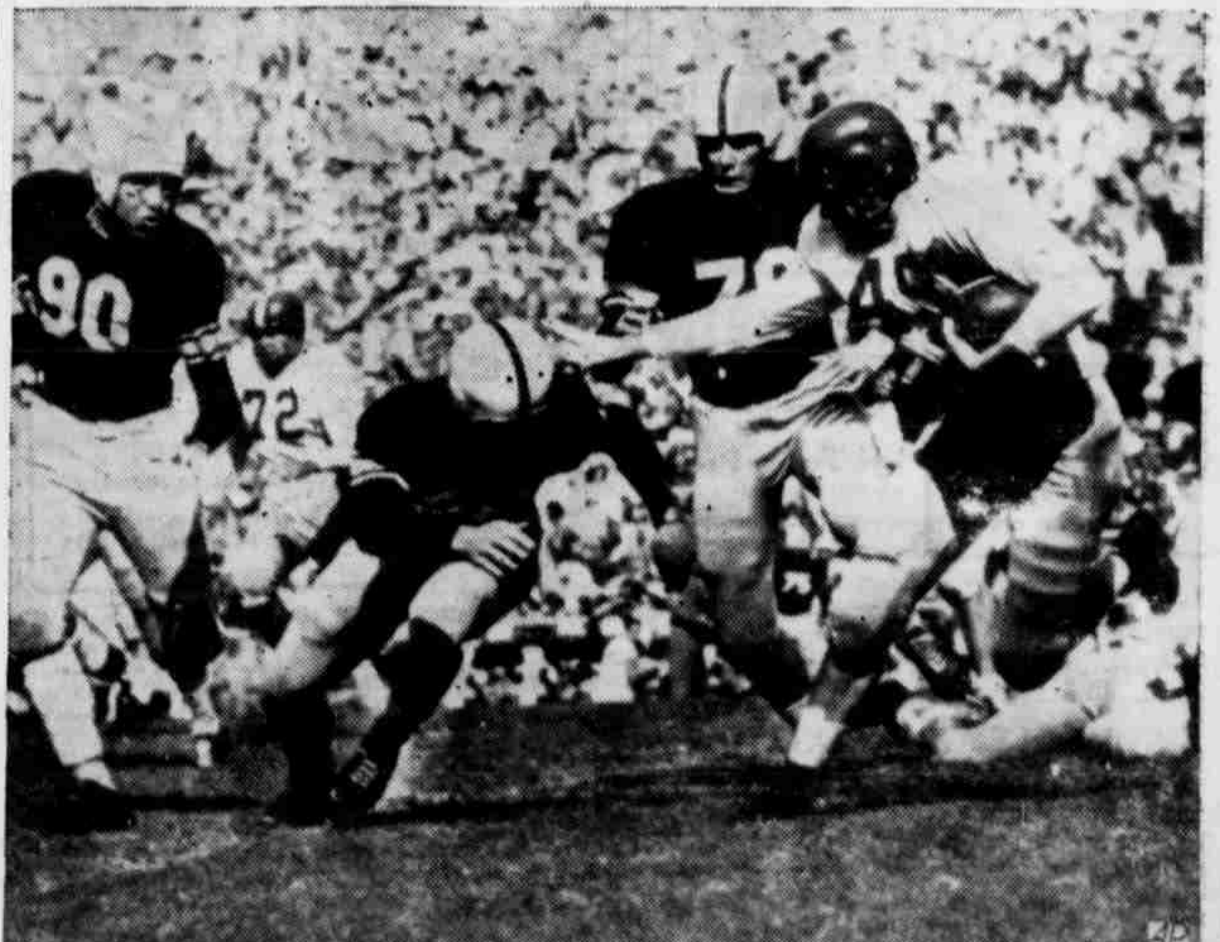

GAME GETS ROUGH

The game turned into a fist fight in the second half and one player from each side was put off of the field because of unsportsmanlike conduct.

M. C. Northam ran two punts back for touchdowns and was the big gun for the Wildcats along with Joe Walden.

The Morton Indians had an open date in order to get ready for the Littlefield Wildcats whom they play this week in the Lamb County city.

Organized Health Department .. Need Of Every Community

"What the average community needs is a well-organized health department which emphasizes five types of activities to protect the child's health," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "These activities are: (1) The safeguarding of child health and motherhood; (2) the control of contagion; (3) accurate recording of births and deaths; (4) support of public health laboratories; and (5) sanitary control of diseases spread from human waste and by vermin and insects."

"The full time local health unit gives due emphasis to each of the above mentioned activities. To illustrate how these 5 essential functions are interrelated, the interest of the various divisions in the new born baby, preschool and school child may be cited as an example. Child health is safeguarded by providing information and instruction to the mother. Through the use of vital statistics, complete and accurate birth registration is kept, as well as records indicating deaths which occur among children from preventable diseases.

"Contagion is prevented or controlled against further spread through the encouragement of immunization early in life, through the prompt reporting of infectious disease. Public health laboratories and sanitary engineers provide additional bulwarks of protection for child life.

"Adequate health organization and wholehearted support on the part of various state and local agencies are essential if these activities are to be successfully maintained."

You And Your Congress

TOO MANY Congressional investigations amount to locking the barn after the horse has been stolen.

That feeling is increasing among many members of Congress as they see one investigation after another turn up examples of waste and extravagance in the use of taxpayers' money.

These disclosures are particularly shocking to many members of Congress today because appropriations have increased so tremendously as a result of the defense program. They see waste and extravagance growing in the amount of money authorized by Congress.

THE CHIEF COMPLAINT, heard with increasing frequency, is that more of these investigations of how federal funds are being spent should be conducted before Congress authorizes additional appropriations, rather than afterwards. The situation was illustrated most recently when Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga.) dressed as an ordinary workman and visited the construction site of the new Savannah River, S. C. hydrogen bomb project. Wheeler, who describes himself as a "fairly good jack-leg carpenter," returned to the House with reports of "gross waste" and "featherbedding" and "union racketeering" in connection with hiring at the project. Wheeler took his findings to the House Appropriations subcommittee that was considering an Atomic Energy Commission request for an additional $480 million to carry on construction of the Savannah River project.

The AEC said the additional money was needed because construction costs of the project had risen that much above the last previous estimate. This was, in fact, the second upward revision of the project's cost since construction was started last January.

SMALL WONDER of that, so far as Wheeler was concerned. He asked the subcommittee to check his findings of waste at Savannah River. The project is just across the line from his home state, whose labor market has been sharply affected by hiring at the project. Holding back on the $480 million appropriation, the subcommittee arranged to have investigators of the General Accounting Office, an agency of Congress, check Wheeler's findings.

The investigators found, among other things: five men changing a spotlight on a pick-up truck; seven men engaged in cutting a 6-10 inch timber, with only four doing the actual work; groups of two to six workers loafing around tool shacks; many persons standing around; apparently supervisors... the average number of workers to each foreman were about 10."

On the basis of the findings, the subcommittee and the full committee recommended holding the $480 million request to $200 million, pending further investigation, and the House acted accordingly.

THE HOUSE was pleased with its action. But many members realized that the Savannah River situation might not have come to light if Wheeler had not happened to visit the project. Their feeling is that Congressional committees should have ample investigators to check all such projects in advance.

"Here we are going to spend $60 billion for national defense," Rep. Vursell (R-Ill.) told his colleagues. "The thing that bothers me is that we could save, in my judgment, billions of dollars; we could prevent those expensive investigations that come up after the horse has been stolen out of the barn. If we spent only $1 million alone out of the $60 billion in getting together a staff that would work the year around, that would make full investigations and that would give the committees the information we need before voting for appropriations bills like these."

Littlefield To Have Special Day At Southwestern Fat Stock Show

Littlefield has been invited to have a special "day" at the 1952 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, The invitation is conveyed in a letter from President Manager W. R. Watt of the Fort Worth exposition (Jan. 25 through Feb. 3) to the Chamber of Commerce. The letter declares:

"Because of the fine help which your city gave, the 1951 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show was a record-breaking event in many ways.

"The purpose of this letter is to say 'Thank You'; to tell you we are hard at work on plans to make the show coming up the best one yet; and to extend a special invitation to your city to have a 'day' designated in your honor.

"By having a 'day', and bringing your band and naming a cowgirl Sweetheart, your city will reap wide publicity and your citizens will have more fun by coming in real impact on the throngs, with your hat-bands and badges publicizing your own rodeo, or fair or other civic enterprise.

"The Stock Show is your show. It has been helping advance the great livestock industry of the Southwest (so important to the prosperity of all of us) since 1896. We're counting on your help and cooperation."

Employers Required To Withhold More Income Tax From Wages After Nov. 1

Employers will be required to withhold income tax from wages paid on and after Nov. 1, 1951, at the higher rates provided by the Revenue Act of 1951, which is now on Pres. Truman's desk for signing, Ellis Campbell, jr., collector of Internal Revenue at Dallas, announced Saturday.

Revised withholding tax rate tables for employers are being printed in Washington, and are being rushed to the offices of collectors throughout the nation.

To Mail Pamphlets

Collector Campbell said that pamphlets containing the revised tables will be placed in the mails just as soon as the law is signed by the President. Employers who do not receive the pamphlet within a few days after the enactment of the new law, may obtain copies at collector's offices. It was emphasized that the pamphlet cannot be made available for distribution to employers until after the bill becomes law.

In the meantime, however, Collector Campbell authorized the publication of withholding rates as they appear in the pending act, for the advance information of employers and the public.

Period Is Brief

Campbell said that the employers are expected to make every reasonable effort to comply with the provisions respecting the new rates. In view of the short time elapsing between enactment of the law and the first payroll period affected, many employers may not be able to adjust to the new rates on the first day affected. While no adjustments will be made in the audit of the withholding returns in such cases, he made it clear that this does not in any manner affect the responsibility of employers to meet their full tax liability as required by law when making their returns for the year 1951.

Attention was called to the fact that the new law relieves individuals from penalties for failure to comply with the requirements relative to declarations of estimated tax on Form 1040-ES for 1951 if due to increased rates in the act. Revised estimates will not be required on account of the rate increase, although the higher tax for 1951 provided in the law will have to be paid when taxpayers file their income tax return for the year.

Health Talks

Presented by the State Medical Association of Texas

the keyword to good treatment. Unkindness leads to confusion, which might be called the greatest enemy of good mental health. Everybody gets confused when people and life situations do not follow the pattern they have built in their minds; the mental picture gets sort of off balance, is confused. But the ability to fit those experiences into a picture of life and adjust to them, bring order out of the confusion, is the sign of good mental health.

When confusion results from a situation that is new and seems unfavorable to you, you will usually have to draw back from that situation to really think it out. With the resources at your command, including friends who may have experienced a similar situation, you can usually find some phase of that problem which fits in with another experience you have had and guide yourself accordingly to adjust to this new problem.

One of the best examples of avoiding confusion is a lesson taught to school children. Their fire drills are undertaken at regular intervals, not just to prepare them for the event of a fire in that school building, but also to prepare them for an orderly withdrawal from the scene of danger. They file out of the building, never knowing for sure whether there is or isn't a fire, until they get outside and look the situation over very carefully. If there's no smoke, they assume there is no fire and they can go back to the classroom. If there is smoke, however, they realize there may be some changes in their school activities and they will have to adjust to that change. As children, they view the problem of a burned schoolhouse with the hope of a holiday to come.

SOUR NOTE

MONTREAL—A speaker at the Notre Dame Community Council, discussing the train whistle nuisance, said some residents of the district suspect that some of the "unnecessary tooting" may simply be signals such as one train engineer tellinb a pal down the line that he won $10 in the poker game the night before. He said they communicated by a sort of Morse code.

Taking that same situation and following up on later reactions to it, you can get a pretty good idea of good mental health. Suppose the schoolhouse did burn but classes were resumed in an unburned part of the building. None of these children have ever experienced a fire before. Most of them returned to school quite ready to resume their studies as soon as the first excitement died down. That would be the normal reaction.

But suppose one child refused to go back to school for fear there would be another fire. Or another child went back to school with an idea that he, too, would start a fire at school because he didn't like the school anyway and he did like the excitement of the fire. And suppose another went to school but was constantly afraid of another fire and kept watching for one so carefully that he failed to learn anything in his classes.

None of the last three situations would be a normal adjustment to the fire at school. The new situation of the fire was not accepted as "one of those things that just happen" and fitted into the routine of school life. Because there were dangers in school-life to those children, one withdrew from school completely, ne went out to embrace the danger instead of the routine, and one followed the routine with an apprehension, a constant worry that interfered with the process of education.

Children obviously are not mental adults but such experiences that form stumbling blocks to their development will often result in their failure to each mental maturity. It is while they are children that their fears and worries can be guided with kindness to adjust to situations, not to cloud the whole routine of life.

Borden Company Will Hold Open House Friday Through Sunday To Meet Family

Everyone knows by now that Elsie, the famous Borden cow, arrives with her family Friday to help celebrate the re-opening of the newly enlarged, highly modernized Borden plant.

The Borden Company will hold Open House Friday through Sunday to permit all South Plains area residents to meet Elsie, Elmer her husband and Beaugregard, their calf son—and to take a look around the plant at Lubbock.

Visitors to the Borden plant will find it entirely air conditioned throughout by a filter air unit. This special unit's advantages are to maintain higher inside pressure, prevent dust from getting in and assure a constant temperature both for the products' protection and employees' comfort.

The new Borden unit also heats the plant by steam coil during the winter for dry, uniform, sanitary atmosphere.

Other new plant features include a "breathing" ceiling made of five inches of thick Flexicor slab. This innovation permits proper humidity control by preventing ceiling sweat.

According to Plant Manager O. L. Gibson, one of the most effective ways to assure constant cleanliness in the installation of glazed tile walls from floor to ceiling. One of the many "firsts" introduced by the Borden Company to the dairy industry is the half-gallon paper milk carton machine. This was the first machine of its kind between Fort Worth and Los Angeles.

Gibson said the plant will be open from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. Friday and Saturday, and on Sunday from 2:00 to 6:00 p. m. Refreshments will be served to all visitors.

ELSIE MODELS LATEST CHAPEAU

Elsie, the Borden cow, has a passion for hats. Feathered hats—flowered hats—hats with veils—streamers just as long as she can perch a bit of millinery whimsy above her brow, she's happy. Recently Kenneth Hopkins, the famous West Coast designer, created a special floral concoction for Elsie's big Hollywood party. Columnist Hedda Hopper, who's also made hats her hobby, was so entranced that she took possession of the hat and wore it home.

The frivolous number Elsie is sporting in the picture above is one that many women in the South Plains area might be proud to appropriate. So, Elsie—beware.

Several Local Baptists Attending State Convention

Among those from here who are in Houston this week attending the annual Texas State Baptist Convention include the pastor and his wife Rev. and Mrs. Lee Hemphill, Mrs. Viggo Peterson, Mrs. Tel McLarty, Mrs. Melvin Theford, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heathman.

Of special interest to many will be the fact that Mrs. R. T. Badger of Austin, formerly of Littlefield also left Sunday for Houston to attend the convention. She is a former member of the First Baptist Church here. She has been in ill health for the past year, but has improved and incidentally she is observing her 50th birthday anniversary today.

Cousins Visit For First Time In Forty Years

Mrs. Ella Turner left the latter part of last week for Hobbs, New Mexico where she plans to spend several days visiting a cousin, Mrs. Ada Rhenehart. It has been forty years since the two have seen each other, and for a number of years they were entirely out of contact with each other. Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Rhenehart were both reared near Arlington.

Choir To Be Feature Oct. 28 Broadcast

Songs by the Methodist Home choir will be a feature of the October 28 broadcast "These Are Your Children" which will be heard over the Texas Quality Network and other Texas and New Mexico stations.

This is one of a series of weekly radio programs sponsored by the Methodist Home at Waco, Texas and depicting the life of the more than 400 children who live at the home. The programs are heard at 8:15 each Sunday morning.

Hubert Johnson, superintendent of the home, said that planned recreation and health building activities would be the subject of a skit to be presented by the children. Taking a real life story of an undernourished youngster who has been rescued from a poverty stricken home the dialogue will show how he was developed physically and mentally to take his rightful place in society.

The Methodist Home will observe its sixty-first anniversary in November, Mr. Johnson said.

Stations carrying the radio broadcasts are WOAI, San Antonio; KPRC, Houston; WFAA, Dallas; KBST, Big Spring; KTVC, Austin; KERB, Kermit; KVAL, Brownsville; KFRO, Longview; KFDM, Beaumont; KFYO, Lubbock; KGGM, Albuquerque; KRDD, El Paso; KGNC, Amarillo; KRGV, Weslaco; and KRIS, Corpus Christi.

Jones Writes Book On 13 Years Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Uncle Jesse headed the RFC. Under his direction it "grew to be America's largest corporation and the world's biggest and most varied banking organization."

It meant the government put its credit behind the nation's economy. The RFC began as a lending agency, with its work restricted by law to loans "fully and adequately secured."

For a year, until RFC was authorized to provide new investment capital, Jones says it was handicapped in fighting the depression.

The corporation and its authority grew until in some way it touched the lives of every person in the United States. Eventually its activities stretched to all quarters of the globe.

For the men in it, RFC provided "unusual experience in business, industry, finance, and law . . . there are among the alumni of the RFC probably more than 100 executives of big business in industry, finance and the railroads."

A Kentucky barber got a $20 RFC flood disaster loan so he could go back into business. A Tennessee blacksmith "was contented with $27 to buy a new anvil."

Royalties from Zane Grey's books were part of security on one loan. In battling the depression RFC loaned and invested billions to prevent ruin of banks, railroads, real estate interests, mortgage, and surety companies.

It loaned a Pasadena negro $500 to help with a self-help plan; made self-liquidating loans to such projects as the Huey Long bridge over the Mississippi River at New Orleans and the Herbert Hoover-San Francisco Bay bridge.

When the dollar was devalued RFC handled the government's gold buying program.

In its efforts to aid the banks in stricken Detroit RFC "ran head on into granite-like obstacles in two of the city's most powerful and wealthiest men, Henry Ford and United States Senator James Couzens." They had been at odds since Couzens got out of the Ford Motor Company.

On the general matter of aid to banks "a preferred stock program solved the problem."

One afternoon in 1933 President Roosevelt said: "Jesse, I want you to lend 10 cents a pound on cotton." So Commodity Credit Corporation and its aid to agriculture came into being.

The RFC helped railroads; went into the mortgage business to revive the real estate mortgage market. It organized such subsidiaries as the RFC Mortgage Company and the Federal National Mortgage Association, called "Fannie Mae." It went to the rescue of surety and casualty companies; aided cities and states; made loans to business and industry.

Rich details of these things are in Jones' book. With World War II and a grant of almost unlimited powers, RFC stockpiled scarce materials; disbursed $9,200,000,000 to build 2,300 war plants; financed a tin smelter at Texas City; financed a synthetic rubber industry, and scrapped the Axis powers by outbidding them in world markets on materials they needed. RFC spawned such subsidiaries as Defense Plant Corporation, Defense Supplies Corporation, United States Commercial Company.

Jones says: "There was a disposition on the part of President

JONES DISCUSSES BOOK— Jesse H. Jones, 77 (right), the Texas financier who headed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation during the great depression and the busy World War II years, discusses with Edward Angly, their book, "Fifty Billion Dollars." This book is "Uncle Jesse's" story of his 13 years with the RFC. It tells of great loans and small, of great men and small of business, banking, industry, government and diplomacy during Jones' years in Washington. Angly collaborated with Jones on the book and worked three years whipping it into shape with Uncle Jesse. The result is 631-pages of fascinating financial and personal history, which sells for $6. —AP Photo

Student City Goes To Town

CARBONDRLE, Ill. If your looking for tips on how a town should be governed a group of student veterans at Southern Illinois University have the answers. Not only will they tell you about it, but they can show you a working example.

They call their community "Southern Acres." It is populated by young men all veterans, their wives and lots of children. Located near Crab Orchard lake in part of the World War II munitions plant it is not a boom town exactly, but it came into being almost overnight when several hundred married veterans enrolled at SIU after the war.

Plant Leased

The University obtained a lease on a group of the vacant ordnance plant buildings. At first it was just a group of rundown buildings, furnishing nothing more than a place to live. Many of the wives were reluctant to move several miles out of town. Now the wives are the most enthusiastic residents.

The project resulted from an experiment in selfgovernment set up by a sociology professor at the university. The former administration building of the munitions plant was turned into the main set of apartments. Roof leaked and an overburdened heating plant worked spasmodically.

Government Organized

By organizing a government and electing officers, the vets set up a basis from which they began to make improvements. One student a former naval electrician's mate checked and repaired the wiring.

Another, an ex-paratrooper, organized a crew of painters, experienced and otherwise, and an odd assortment of "carpenters" joined the work brigade.

A building which served as a former cafeteria, was turned into a recreation hall. The kitchen part of the building became a nursery and another part of the long barracks-like building was turned into offices for the mayor and city council.

Now the men take shifts in staffing a maintenance crew. The wives take turns in managing the nursery while others go shopping, catch up on household tasks, or just relax.

A constitution was drawn up for the 3000 residents. Mayor and councilmen are elected for six month terms. This plan gives almost every resident a chance to serve as a city official sometime during his residence.

Town Meetings

Town meetings are held once a month, presided over by the whole family turns out. If a resident is dissatisfied he can say so.

A weekly mimeographed newspaper, the "Southern Acres Journal" is staffed entirely by the ladies. A reporter from each wing of the unit turns in the news each week. The editor usually writes an editorial.

Since Southern Acres is located 10 miles out of Carbondale, transportation was necessary. The university bought a war surplus bus which makes eight runs daily. In the evening a special "shopping run" is made.

Littlefield Football Players Reflect Their Early Training As They Climb To Top Spots In College Contests

ABILENE—Sabin Hendrickson, McMurry College fullback who's leading the Texas conference in individual rushing isn't the only Indian contender for top spots in the statistics column.

Six team-mates, including Buddy Fornes, halfback from Winters, who's been out for two games, are riding along with the Littlefield grid star in the high brackets.

Hendrickson has accumulated 513 yards in five games with 104 tries, giving him an average of 4.92. Carl Jowell, Dimmitt quarterback, is holding down the second place in individual passing with an average of 16.27, for 45 tries, gaining 355 yards.

Stephen Brock, McMurry's halfback, from Littlefield is in the next top spot in individual pass receiving with an average of 29. Brock comes in for mention again in individual rushing as in 23 tries he's carried the ball 161 yards for a net average of 4.39.

Also listed in the individual rushing department are Fornes, who maintained a 4.29 average and fullback Wayne Graham of Andrews, who has a 4.18 average for 209 yards in 50 tries.

Joe Dean, freshman quarterback from Hamlin, is listed seventh in the individual passing column with 71 yards gained in 22 tries for a net average of 3.23. George Owens, Anson end, ranks fourth in the pass receiving group by boasting a 14 average for 140 yards with 10 passes received.

Fornes is back in the statistics again even though out of the game. His punting average of 35.84 stands third to the top.

maxed a 50 yard drive by driving over from the five-yard drive by driving over from the five-yard line. Co-Capt. Joe Walden again scampered over the extra point that increased the Cats lead to 20 to 7.

When Littlefield kicked off to the Mules, Ronald Johnson took it on his own 10-yard line and ran 90 yards along the sidelines for a touchdown, but the Mules failed to make their extra point. This is where the third quarter ended with the Cats holding a narrow 20 to 13 lead.

Northam took the next Mule punt and again raced down the sidelines for 60 yards and a touchdown. They failed to make the extra point and received a 15-yard penalty which had to be assessed on the following kickoff.

The Cats had to kickoff from their own 30-yard line and Buck Johnson took Joe Burros' kick and ran 55 yards for the Mules final tally.

Game Gets Rough

The game was almost over when it turned into almost a fist fight. Both sides received several penalties and one player from each side was put off of the field for personal fouls.

M. C. Northam ran from scrimmage with the ball 25 times and gained 128 yards, but fumbled twice and had an average of 5 1/2 yards per carry for the night. Joe Walden ran the pigskin 27 times and gained 154 yards while fumbling once. He had an average of almost six yards per try. Quarterback R. L. Rhoten romped with the ball five times and picked up 15 yards for an average of three yards per carry. Jackie Beckner gained one yard on his only time to run with the pigskin.

Hardin - Simmons University Cowboys Will Go After Second Conference Win

ABILENE—The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys will go after their second Border Conference win of the season Saturday against West Texas State in Canyon.

In their only start against conference competition, the Cowboys, who have come out on the short end of the score against West Texas State for the past two years, defeated Arizona State of Tempe, 39-14.

It will be the 24th meeting of the two schools on the gridiron with the Cowboys boasting a potent 19 won and 4 lost record.

The Cowboys were pitted against a strong Houston University team Saturday while the Buffaloes were idle.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I'm in the Army again and I have a term NSLI policy. I understand that I may apply for a waiver of my entire premium. Is that right?

A. That is permitted under the new insurance law enacted by the Congress earlier this year. See your Insurance Officer for full details.

Q. I am taking a course under the GI Bill for which I now find I have no aptitude at all. Can I still change my course and thus use up the remaining two years of my GI entitlement?

A. You may change your course if you can prove to VA that the course to which you desire to change is more in keeping with your aptitudes, previous education, training, or other pertinent factors. You should apply to the VA office having your records.

Q. Three years ago, I got a GI business loan which I have repaid. Now I want to buy a home. Am I still entitled to a GI home loan?

A. Yes, you are. The VA office that guaranteed your business loan will be glad to tell you how much of a guarantee you may receive from VA for a GI home loan.

Q. I never did apply for my first NSLI dividend. Do I still have time to apply?

A. Yes. Write to the VA office that has your insurance records, giving your full name and address, your insurance policy number, and your military serial number.

Last Rites Held For S. E. Wallace

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 17 in the Hart Methodist church for Samuel E. Wallace, 69, farmer in Castro county for the past 24 years. He died Monday night of last week at the Amherst hospital.

Rev. P. O. Browder, pastor, officiated at the funeral services and burial was in the Hart cemetery.

Wallace became ill early Monday night previous and died about 10:20 p.m. from a heart ailment. He was born in 1882 in Alabama and came to Texas many years ago. In 1927, he and his family moved from Wellington to Castro county.

Married to Miss Janetta Herndon in 1906 in Wise county, Wallace is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. John McClain of Hart and Mrs. Ed Bertrand of Dalhart; and three sisters, Mrs. Maudie Dowell of Knox City, Mrs. Lillie Penrod of Brighton, Colo., and Mrs. Dacia Evans of Abernathy.
