We Do Our Part

PLENTY TO BE THANKFUL FOR

What have you got to be thankful for? "Not much," will be the reply of many citizens who have experienced unemployment or the hardships of drouth "Not much," some businessmen will say, whose profits have not come up to expectations. "A great deal," say many others who feel that the Nation is emerging from the depression and that they have reason to look forward to more prosperous times in 1935 and for years to come.

Every individual, whether unemployed or working at a low level of compensation; whether or not his business has prospered during the past twelve months, has much to be thankful for. All of us can be thankful that we are living in the United States of America; that our economic condition, bad as many would believe, is better than that of any other country in the world; that though drouth reduced our production, there is a bounteous supply of food and our Government is pledged to seeing that it is distributed to those who need it. We should be thankful that during the past years of unrest this Government has not changed its form; that it is still a Government by, of and for the people. That notwithstanding the need of emergency laws and restrictions, it is still within the power of the people to control the destinies of the Nation.

Every citizen, no matter how hard pressed, has a great deal to be thankful for. Many will view the day set aside as Thanksgiving from the spiritual side. Others will be more material in their views, but no one should allow the day to go by without giving some thought to the source of our blessings, for many have been showered upon us the past year.

Director Gives Instructions as to Relief Funds

According to Adam R. Johnson, Director, Texas Relief Commission, several counties have asked for instructions concerning the manner in which to handle the relief family which allows a part of its relief grant to be expended for alcoholic liquors. The following policies, therefore, are announced as being the desire of the Texas relief Commission on this point:

Each case must be handled on its own individual merits and then only upon personal investigation by the Case Supervisor or the Relief Administrator.

In instances where either the county administrator or the Case Work Supervisor has first-hand knowledge that the head of the relief family is expending his funds for alcoholic liquors, that family thereafter should receive relief in kind only. Regardless of the fact that relief is being extended in kind only, it shall and must be work relief.

The same rules apply in respect to gambling and similar de-relictions on the part of relief clients. Conviction in police court or frequent arraignment before any local court immediately brings the client within the scope of these instructions.

If the head of the family steadfastly refuses to perform work when he is not paid in cash, you are instructed to confer with local public officials and prefer charges of vagrancy against the client. If public officials refuse to act, please notify this office.

Congressman Jones To Present New Plan to Congress

Congressman Marvin Jones, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, will recommend to Congress a domestic allotment plan, by which the grower will be paid benefits only on that part of his production destined for consumption in this country, being left free to produce as much as he desires for the world market.

Mr. Jones who stumped a dozen farm states in the recent campaign in support of the AAA and of Democratic Congressional candidates flatly recognized as valid some of the criticism against the adjustment program as is now operated and served notice the act can and should be simplified.

Check up Soil For Orchard

"Now is the time to check up on your soil if you are interested in planting peach trees, plum trees, apple trees, and pear trees in the farm orchard," J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist says. "Begin by pulling up some of the weeds that grow where you want to plant your trees and examine them to see if they have tiny, bead-like knots on the roots. These knots give definite warning not to plant trees there," he continued, "because they are caused by tiny worms which are too small to be seen with the naked eye but will kill the trees."

In each of our advertisements, these gravity figures are proof of our statements about Phillips high test... are evidence that we fear no comparisons with other gasolines... are your guarantee of greater value for your money.

The Newer Manner In Kitchen Refinements

The "Nesco" Roaster on display at our local office embodies the most practical refinements for the kitchens of today. The charm and magic of electricity is built into the appliance itself.

The full, natural flavor of foods cooked in their own juices is retained by the "Nesco." Oven speed in baking is obtained simply by the "high" and "low" heats.

Average cost of operation is slight. The heat generated within the appliance itself is so insulated that the heat is conserved. We'll be glad to show you this newer refinement.

Present Tax Methods In Force Until 1935

George H. Sheppard, comptroller of public accounts has advised tax collectors that, despite emergency delinquent tax legislation enacted by the last session of the legislature, existing tax laws are operative until Feb. 9, 1935.

He declared collectors have no authority to accept, prior to Feb. 9, 1935, payment of delinquent taxes without penalty and interest, credit the taxpayer with payment and issue a receipt therefor.

Two important tax measures were enacted by the fourth special session of the 43rd legislature. One set up a permanent tax plan which is not effective until 1935. The other remitted penalties and interest on taxes delinquent Aug. 1 until March 15, 1935. The comptroller's office has been deluged with inquiries about the status of the second measure.

SOPHOMORE PRESIDENT DELIVERS ADDRESS

Bill Rowe, president of the Sophomore class, delivered the following address in assembly Thursday to inaugurate the Sophomore program:

Efficient Teachers, Philandering Seniors, Encouraged Juniors, and Confident Seniors; it is with pleasure that the good old Sophomore Class endeavors to entertain today.

Of course, the Sophomore Class is the importance. It is great to be a Sophomore for many reasons.

First: The name 'Sophomore' has the best meaning of all the class names. 'Freshman' means inexperienced, 'Junior' means lower in standing, and 'Senior' means dignity. But the word 'Sophomore' means wise.

Second: The Sophomores are the favorites of their teachers, for all teachers enjoy the students that are Sophomores.

Third: The two easiest teachers in school to handle are the sponsors of the Sophomore class, Miss Jones and Mr. Burdette.

Fourth: The present Sophomore class is exceedingly proud of itself, because of the brilliance of Irby Davis, the persuasive way of Melba Dawn Pearson, the intergetic John Hanks, the beauty of Marie Legg, Loyd Neely, Bess Lair and Elmer McKnight, Paul Chisholm's blue eyes; Helen Stewart's baby face; Hilma Brooks brown eyes; Wilda Courtney's 'don't give a hang' attitude; and the seventeen big strong good-looking men on the football team.

It is really fun to be a Sophomore. Wait until you see our program.

"Anne Doesn't Live There Any More".

Acted by Louise Thornton, Hall Rowe, Cora Cunningham and Calvin Brazil, and sung by Betty Ann Hilliard, Wayne Madden, Eunia Hawthorne and Hall Rowe.

The last and most humorous number was the presentation of the teachers as they appeared thirty years ago and as they appear today.

TO MOLD CHARACTER OUTSTANDING AIM

Some one has said that education is the ability to lead out and train the mental and moral powers, to shape the mind and to mold the character.

To mold the character should be the outstanding aim of a student. Character is what a person is and reputation is what he is supposed to be.

Education should make one strive to sustain a clean character rather than a clean reputation, as reputation follows character. In order to maintain a pure character a certain mental degree must be reached.

After this degree has been obtained it is possible to climb still higher intellectually, morally, and spiritually. If one of these attributes need be neglected in the course of education let it be the intellect.

If the mind is fed with unfit entertainment and low-class literature it will soon show itself through the actions of the individual.

"We are liable to be corrupted by books as by companions" is a quotation that is well worth the consideration of every student.

Character is the result of two things—mental attitude and the way we spend our time, so let the time be spent in studying higher class literature and enjoying the proper entertainments.

School is one of the best places for developing the character and natural ability.

LUCKY GIRL

Her mother felt that family physicians and child specialists, and the hospitals must be right. A simple test that proves they are.

if anyone in your family is occasionally sluggish or constipated; especially any child, you should know this medical truth:

You cannot get safe relief with any medicine if you cannot regulate the dose. And to regulate dosage, you should have a liquid laxative. With a liquid laxative, you can gradually reduce the dose. And that is the secret of safe relief from a sluggish, constipated condition.

Why Doctors Use Liquid Laxatives A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of natural laxative elements like senna and cascara, it forms no habit—even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves, not make matters worse. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and cascara, and is the one widely used. You can always obtain it at any drugstore. Why not make the "liquid test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps nearly everyone who tries it. It may make you feel better than you have in a long time. If you will risk sixty cents to discover the natural, comfortable action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

KITTIES OPEN PLAYING SEASON BY DEFEATING MORTON TEAM FRIDAY

L. H. S. Kitties defeated the Morton girls 55-52 in a game played in the local gymnasium last Friday night.

Plenty of vim, vigor, and vitality was exhibited by the Kitties, and in spite of the fact that the Morton cagers were reputed to be the "strong team", the Kitties managed to run up a winning score.

Friday's line up included Oma Carpenter, Opal Carpenter, Genevieve Mason, Lucille McCurry, Jerrienne Wharton, Maedean Kimmell, Mable Cooper, Lela Hays, and Thelma O'Dell.

Due to the Ralls - Littlefield game the Kitties will not play Friday night, but will have a full schedule after this week.

Levelland Grider Found Ineligible

Another Levelland Grider is found ineligible and as a result the Lobos are obliged to forfeit the game November 12 to the Wildcats.

Meeting in executive session at Lubbock Saturday, the Athletic Committee of District 3, Class B, ruled that Albert Berry, regular end on the Levelland High School team, was ineligible to represent the Lobos in athletic competition this season.

As a result of this committee's ruling, Levelland was obliged to forfeit the Armistice Day game with Littlefield, and the local team is now deadlocked with Ralls High for the lead in the northern half of District 3.

It was the second case of ineligibility charged to Levelland this season. In a meeting last month, after the powerful Levelland club had defeated three conference foes and was conceded title the committee found that McWhorter, a reserve back, was not scholastically qualified to represent the school in athletics. This caused three games to be forfeited. Littlefield was eliminated from the race last week when Levelland won at Littlefield, 23 to 7, and when Ralls defeated Crosbyton.

In a previous game, Ralls and Littlefield had played to a scoreless deadlock. Both teams have been awarded forfeits over Levelland, and each has won the same number of conference games. Thus they are tied for the lead.

The district committee ruled that Littlefield and Ralls must meet on November 23, at a place to be determined, in a play-off for the north half title. The winner will meet Lamessa, the probable winner in the southern division of the district on Thanksgiving Day for the district championship.

Anton Wins from Sudan to Tune of 58-7; to Play Morton at Anton Friday

ANTON, Texas, Nov. 21. (Special to the Leader). — Power centering around the tall rugged Taylor and Stephenson, smashed through the five man zone defense of the Sudan ball club last Friday night and was two-fifths of the cause of a score of 58-7 in favor of a fighting, hustling and smooth running machine wearing the Anton colors.

Strength had been added to the Anton club in the person of Samples, as he had been on the sick list for the past two games.

Hedges, Clark and Matthews flashed a bewildering passing attack that seemed to upset the Sudan defense, making it a simple thing for the Anton club to score at will.

Jones and Shockley had not been in uniform in several days; however, they looked fast and smooth enough for the company they were playing against. Both boys look like ball players with a future.

The Anton team plays Morton in the Anton gym next Friday night. Fans that want a good seat had better show up early as every seat in the house will be full by game time. The attendance last Friday night was so large that it was impossible to seat them.

Basket ball teams for the future as well as the present is the policy of the Anton coaches. With that while the first string was winning with ease, the Anton fans had a chance of seeing a flashy Junior boys down the Sudan second team with a score of 13-5.

Brock and Erwin as forwards; Tucker and Richards as guards and Denson as center easily out played the larger team and flashed a game that assured the fans a team for the future.

With the exception of one defeat by the County Line first team these boys have a perfect season and are looking forward to contests with other Junior teams of this section.

SPADE LONGHORNS WIN OVER WHITHARRAL BOYS, SCORE 28 TO 14

Once more the Spade gym was crowded to see the Longhorns bravely advance on the court to meet the Whitharral team. The pep squad consisting of the entire Choral Club, furnished plenty of pep for the players. This is the best pep squad ever organized at Spade. We appreciate having the Choral Club out 100 per cent at each game.

This Spade and Whitharral boys played a tight fast game until the third quarter. By the skillful dribbling, accurate passing and goal throwing the Spade boys brought the score to 28 to 14 in Spade's favor.

Fowler, Leonard, Vann, Coffey and Turner held Whitharral until the third quarter when Downs, Jackson Cook, Beverage, and Hunt continued running in scores.

The Whitharral girls held the Spade girls to a tied score the first quarter. Spade began gaining points the second quarter and led the game to a score of 19-11.

Our guards are improving nicely. Dennis, Tucker, and Huckabee can hold any three forwards to a reasonable score.

Sometimes Tucker has a little bad luck and gets three personal fouls too soon, but she takes it like a sport.

We are also banking on our forwards, Nabers, Brown, and Kesse, doing their part.

We are proud of our sporting Longhorns.

The Spade community is behind them 100 percent. We are looking forward to the Spade and Sudan game Friday 23.

The spectators were thrilled by such a close game between the boys. The Hart Camp boys rallied at the last minute with a lead at the end of 18 to 25.

Fieldton's team has been working hard for the last week and expect to do better playing in the future than formally.

CATS AGAIN IN CONFERENCE RACE; TO MEET RALLS FRIDAY

Barksdale's Fighting Wildcats are all upon their claws over the fact that they are again in the running for the conference title.

Roy B. Henderson State Interscholastic Executive ruled that Levelland used an ineligible player in the Armistice game played here against the Cats. The District Executive Committee declared that Littlefield should have the game by forfeit and re-enter the conference race against Ralls for the north half of the district.

Ralls and Littlefield played here October 20 to a 6-6 deadlock, and because they have an equal standing in the race so far it is necessary to play off the tie.

Attempts were made to get the Friday's game here, but, Ralls flatly refused any offers to come to Littlefield.

Out of the district officials will be used for Friday's game which will begin at 2:30. Admission prices will be 20 and 45 cents with a special concession admitting band and pep squad members for 10 cents.

C. OF C. PROTEST SHIPPING OF CATTLE NORTH

At the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Tuesday, presided over by J. C. Hilliard, Vice-President Mr. Hilliard reported that on instructions from Washington all cattle purchased by the government in this territory in the drought reduction program were being shipped to Kansas City and Chicago for processing, which would work a dire hardship on the canneries of the country, as well as increase unemployment. He stated 10,000 head had already been shipped from this district north.

Mr. Hilliard suggested that as many telegrams as possible should be sent from this city to Washington protesting the shipping of southern cattle north. He reported the Chamber of Commerce had sent a telegram, and that messages were being sent from all over the State objecting to the shipping of southern cattle north.

The 10 percent adjustment under the Bankhead Bill was discussed, and it was reported that Congress had passed an amendment setting aside 10 percent of the total allowable production of each state for adjustment on new lands and drought district, and that notification of the amount under the amendment coming to Lamb County was received Monday, stating the 10 percent adjustment for Lamb County at 9000 bales making a total of 42,000 bales as Lamb county's quota.

The various projects were reported on. It was stated that work on the strip of Highway No. 7 from Amherst to the Heckley County Line, which is being paved from County relief funds, would be started Monday next. This is expected to employ 150 men though only those on relief rolls will be considered.

It was also reported that the bid on the paving of Highway No. 7 between Anton, going through Littlefield, to Amherst, was expected to be let by the State Highway Department before December 10, and that no doubt would be in course of construction by January 1.

Senator A. P. Duggan gave a short address, stating he had interviewed the Highway Commission at Austin, who assured him that the plans would be ready and the contract on the paving of Highway No. 7 from Anton to Amherst let early in December; and also spoke of other road projects, stating it would not be long before Littlefield was on a paved highway.

Prof. A. B. Sanders reported that the Littlefield Athletic Council had endeavored to get the Ralls team to come to Littlefield to play the Wildcats, but that they refused.

He urged the Chamber of Commerce and the City in general to get behind the local football team, as he said they had a hard assignment for Friday, and needed all the support possible. He urged everyone possible to attend the game at Ralls.

W. H. Cunningham, Chairman of the Littlefield Farm Association reported a farm mass meeting for Friday night at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium, when Dr. Bradford Knapp would speak.

JUDGE R. C. JOINER TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY IN INTEREST OF OLD AGE PENSION CLUB

As announced Tuesday by C. W. Smiley, Secretary, Townsend Plan of Old Age Pension Club, R. C. Joiner, District Judge Elect of Plainview, will address the people of Lamb County Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, Littlefield for the purpose of introducing a proposed bill which will be presented at the next session of Congress. The object of this bill would be to give residents above 60 years of age $200 per month, provided they have not been habitual criminals and will agree to step out of active commercial life, giving their places to younger people.

Mr. Smiley pointed out in an interview with the Leader that the last national census in 1930 showed there were a little less than 9 percent of Lamb County's population over 60 years of age. Figuring on that basis it will probably mean that Lamb County would have 1500 who would qualify for the pension.

Mr. Smiley explained that Old Age Pension Clubs under the above plan have been organized in 38 of the United States, with each county and school district represented.

Other officers of the Lamb County club, besides Mr. Smiley, are; J. A. Jenkins, President, and G. S. Glenn vice-president.

ADDITIONAL ALLOTMENT RECEIVED

Monday of this week the County Agent's office announced that they had received an additional allotment of 4,430,255 pounds of Tax-Exemption Certificates for 2215 Lamb County Farmers. This allotment was made to the farmers of this County by the State Cotton Board as provided for under the Bankhead Act, which states that farmers having less than 1-3 of their cultivated acres planted to cotton or who during some years of the base period have had exceptionally low yields due to drought, hail, or other unnatural causes, are entitled to an additional allotment out of the 10 per cent reserve. Lamb County Farmers have so far received 22,303,810 pounds of Tax-Exemption Certificates which amount to 44,607 bales. 17,088,195 pounds were allotted to those farmers having regular base contracts. 217,680 pounds were allotted to the sod crops and those farms having cotton for the first time 1934 only. 567,680 pounds were allotted to the 1933 base contracts, and additional 4,430,255 pounds out of the 10 percent reserve. Approximately 30,000 bales of Tax-Exemption Certificates will be placed in the pool by the farmers in this county and if these are all sold at the regular price it will mean about $570,000.00 to Lamb County Farmers.

The County Agent and his force are working from 16 to 18 hours a day this week so that farmers in this county may receive the 10 percent Reserve Tags which have been allotted to them, and also so that they may have an opportunity to place them in the National Pool before the closing date of the Pool which is November 24.

SENATE APPOINTS SPECIAL TAX COMMITTEE

Senator A. P. Duggan Chairman, Holbrook and Woodruff, Members

For the purpose of working out and reporting back to the regular session in January a definite tax program, with recommendations as to balancing of the State Budget for 1935, the Senate last week appointed a committee of three senators, of which Senator A. P. Duggan was appointed chairman, with Senator Holbrook of Galveston and Senator Woodruff of Decatur assisting.

In conferring on this matter with the Leader, Senator Duggan said: "It is going to be a big job, because the State already has a deficit of twelve million dollars, five million in confederate fund and seven million in general fund. We are spending about 7 percent more than we are receiving."

"The duties of the Committee will be to draft bills to present to the next regular session of the Legislature to meet the situation and condition."

"Governor elect Allred has appointed a special Assistant Attorney General to work with this Committee, and he will appoint the next State Tax Commissioner, who will sit with the Committee, and altogether they will try to draft a plan that will fairly and justly meet the situation."

Senator Duggan returned to Littlefield Sunday night, but will leave for Austin again Friday, where he will begin to work with the other members of this special Tax Committee Monday. He stated that he expected to return to this city about January 1st.

FARMERS PETITION GOVERNMENT FOR CHANGES IN BANKHEAD BILL

A petition suggesting certain changes in the Bankhead bill, which they believe would increase the efficiency of cotton production control has been signed by a large number of farmers in this district, and forwarded to Washington for consideration.

The petition reads as follows:
HONORABLE MARVIN JONES, Chairman, Agricultural Committee, Congressman-Elect.
GENTLEMEN:

The Bankhead Law with other Cotton Programs was enacted and passed as a means of obtaining Cotton Control throughout the Cotton producing area of the United States on a fair and equitable basis.

According to existant statistical information we have found this to be absolutely not the case.

The following is simply a brief enumeration of the few factors which we believe can and should be corrected:

FIRST, on account of this being newer territory, the method of allotment, both in acreage and lintage was grossly unfair, inasmuch as people moving into this territory on old or new land were penalized or practically eliminated from cotton production, which worked an irreparable hardship on them as well as the creditors when they were involved. The lintage and allotment were limited to one or to three years, and the basis of arriving at same was not the Department of Agriculture's figures, but the individual's and in giving these, it was either good sportsmanship in trying to cooperate with the Reduction Program, or the more normal and more natural element of selfishness; the former working irreparable hardships and the latter fostering deceit, indolence and reliance on government support. We suggest that the Bankhead bill be amended so that any man be allowed to plant not more than 40 percent of his cultivated land to cotton. This to apply to new land and land that has had less than this amount in cotton during the base period to be determined. Should a man plant 40 percent under this provision, he would not be entitled to the cash benefits under the present act; he would be entitled to his choice of planting 40 percent under the amendment without the cash benefits or take his reduction under the old bill and receive the cash benefits. This suggested amendment will take care of the new land without the 10 percent in the present bill and also quit penalizing the farmer who has practiced crop rotation.

SECOND, the Governmental figures of production which were made before being influenced by the enactment and enforcement of this act should be used as the basis production allotment.

THIRD, that percentage of acreage production be in accordance with the pounds of lint produced.

FOURTH, if any cash or certificate benefit is to be allowed on land taken out of production that this land be planted in crops of legumes of soil building nature only, and encourage crop rotation, which has been one of the basic programs of the agriculture department for the last last three decades.

The effect of the present control plan is to grossly exaggerate current sale values of lands on adjoining farms. This is due to the non-cooperating farmer who planted his entire acreage to cotton formerly and now can sell his farm as a 60 per cent allowable cotton farm. The good farmer who diversified now is allowed about 25 per cent and his farm accordingly has much less value. In spite of the fact that he has been cooperating with the governmental educational program.

Recognizing the fact the two are fast losing control of the foreign cotton markets, we suggest that the Government spend more money finding new uses for cotton, thereby increasing domestic consumption. At the same time, more money should be spent teaching the farmer balanced farming so that he can live at home and not depend on any crop for his livelihood. This could be accomplished through the County Agent's and their assistants, and we are sure would not be as expensive as "Not raising Cotton." We believe that if these major basic facts were the key enforcement regulations, the act would be fair, justifiable, workable and accepted by the people in all sections and would not create any feeling of discrimination which has been felt in all parts of the country in regard to the act as now being enforced, and would dispense with a great deal of expense and a great deal of the difficulty and dissatisfaction of the act and its enforcement as it now exists.

Having read and understood the above and believing the changes suggested would increase the efficiency of Cotton Production Control, we respectfully urge these changes be made.

Again that curious speculative glance on her. "What the inducement?"
 "To you? I suppose you could use money. And of course you wouldn't want my father to know why you were here. Or Mr. Gage."
 He let the threat pass. "It's worth ten thousand."
 "That's a high price for just giving somebody an order." She seemed startled.
 Kennedy waved the suggestion aside. "I'll take your check for five thousand on account and hold it uncashed until I've finished the job. Then I'll take the rest in small change."
 "Five thousand before you've done anything? That would be very foolish."
 "Those are my terms." Kennedy shrugged unconcernedly. "I'm not worried about my end of the job. This is a game where I hold the cards."
 For a moment a cold feeling crawled over Cleo. Kennedy did hold the cards. He could hold them against her too.
 I agree. But it must be done quickly.
 "A week or ten days ought to answer."
 In five brief minutes he had his check.
 Once out in the grounds, Kennedy lit his cigarette.
 "The little devil," he mused. "The little yellow-headed devil!"
 He flung the cigarette away and ground it under his heel. It was tough he reflected moodily, but if Duane was any good he would follow her, and if he didn't, Nancy was well rid of him. Besides, she'd have to go away before the Gages came, or there ing eyes fell on Anne.

 "Why hello dearie! Where've you been all this time?"
 Anne saw Barry's head turn quickly.
 "I'm sorry, I think you must have mistaken me for someone else," she tried to be nice about it, and saw an angry lip curl.
 "Oh, really!" The blond flushed and her voice went a little higher. "I thought you were a friend of mine. We were in the same company a few years ago, but p'raps I'd better not mention names. Pardon me!"
 It was a natural mistake. I've been told before that I look like someone on the stage.
 "I should say. You could double for her easy."
 "That's interesting." Anne smiled disarmingly, but her lips felt stiff. The blonde girl moved on, still flushed and farm from mollified. Dick called out as Anne approached.
 "I thought the blonde was going to make a touch Nancy."
 There was a light barrage of chatter as they went back to the cars.
 "I'm afraid I made her angry." Anne sent a quick glance after the vanishing group. "It was embarrassing for her."
 "You can't embarrass that kind," said Halliday comfortably.
 Anne looked around for Barry.
 "Silly, wasn't it? she asked nervously.
 "Ridiculous." He looked ashamed of his ill humor, and shook it off.
 The blond girl looked after them as the two opulent looking cars curved away from the station. An older woman beside her laughter under her breath.
 "You made a fine break, Tess. didn't you know?"
 "Did I know she'd throw down the folks she used to work with because she was with a lot of swells?" demanded Tess angrily.
 The older woman laughed again. "Tess you're funny. But I thought I was seeing ghosts myself for a minute. Hadn't you heard that Nancy Curtis was dead?"
 "No!" The girl stared unbelievably. "When—"
 "Last spring. She was killed in an automobile accident."
 "Hmp. Are you sure? She's the image of Nancy."
 "Of course I'm sure. Don't be a goof, Tess, and don't hold any grudge against Nancy Curtis. She was a good kid, and if she got on better than the rest of us I guess it was because she had something that we didn't."
 "It's easy to talk," said Tess sullenly. "Maybe she had and maybe she hadn't. You might have been further up the line yourself, Connie, if you'd had a John Gage to back you. Money talks, all right, and what's more, it can make folks listen."
 Halliday had sent servants ahead to open the house. Welcoming smoke was curling from two chimneys.
 "Oh, I love it! It's like the Perch. isn't it?" Anne gave Barry's arm a squeeze, and they looked at each other with the bright secret glance of understanding.
 "Oh, that's your western place, isn't it? Didn't Gwenda say that was where Romance began?" Ward Riddell smiled pleasantly, but he looked at Anne in the curious, reflective way that she had noticed before. "It's not safe to toss me careless invitations. I might come."
 "Me too!" Tom Halliday called over his shoulder.
 "Make it next summer and you can all come. It's a party."
 Anne felt as though she had escaped from prison into glorious freedom.
 She made a quick change and slipped into a coat. She went on out to the veranda which ran the full length of the house and faced the lake. Barry was there already, pacing up and down with a pipe in his mouth.
 "Great isn't it?"
 "Heavenly."
 She nodded happily and fell in step with him.
 "I like this," Barry said contentedly. "There's a motor boat down in the boathouse, and two sailboats, and you and I are going out in one of them, first thing tomorrow morning."
 It was the beginning of three zesty days crisp mountain mornings, sun-warmed days and evenings with a would be the devil to pay all around.

 The Gage house was nearing completion. About the middle of the morning a glittering black car shot smoothly along this highway. In the back sat a big man of about fifty, with iron grey hair, a strong jaw and grey eyes. He was not in the least handsome, but nobody ever overlooked John Gage. Strength and will and a bull-dog tenacity showed plainly in the square lines of his face. His personal office staff agreed that the old man was as hard as nails, but fair. A few years ago he had startled his few intimates by suddenly marrying a girl who had been appearing in the Follies. No one would have expected a thing like that of John Gage.
 He was at the entrance to the drive into his own grounds, and another car had just shot recklessly out of it.
 For a split second sharp grey eyes met devil-may-care black ones. Then the other car was gone.
 "Whose car was that he asked the architect waiting for him by appointment.
 "Must have been the Pendleton car. It was just the chauffeur. He said he was killing time."
 "Put a guard at the gates," said Gage crisply. "This isn't an amusement park. Keep 'em out."
 Within half an hour after he had arrived at his office, Gage sat back giving minute instructions to one of the best operatives of an excellent detective agency.
 All I want you to do is to watch him and report to me. Don't get in the game, whatever it is, unless I tell you to. If you can get a job at Pendleton's, so much the better."
 "I can manage that. Do you know his name?"
 "At one time he went by the name of Kennedy and was a gambler." The operative arose.
 Mrs. Duane, it seemed, was not feeling well and would have her luncheon and dinner trays taken to her room.
 "That's because of me," Anne thought miserably. Aloud she said: "Do you think I had better go in and see her, Barry?"
 "Oh no!" He flushed. "I think it would be just as well for her to be completely quiet."
 He slipped an arm around her. It was, she knew, a gesture of protection as well as of affection, and she loved him for it.
 "Let's get in the roadster and go off somewhere," he said abruptly. We'll make it a day.
 Mrs. Duane's alleged illness lasted still another day.
 In spite of increased devotion Barry was not without stray moments of unease. Poison had been instilled, and poison works secretly.
 An unexpected invitation brought relief to both of them. Barry brought it to her eagerly.
 "Nancy, the Tom Hollidays are going up for the weekend to their Lake George camp, and they want us to come."
 "I'd love to go." She jumped at the chance of respite from Granleigh.
 They motored up to the Halliday's camp. A little after three they were running through the outskirts of a small city, and presently Halliday's car turned off toward the railroad.
 "He's probably going to the station, Dick volunteered. Ward Riddle is coming up by train and I suppose it's due here about this time. Tom thought he might be able to flag him somewhere. Let's get out and help."
 Halliday marshalled his party at various strategic points along the platform, where they might catch Ward Riddle's eye. Anne, who did not know Ward, found herself midway between Westbrook and Atwood.
 The train came in, Dick whooped at a face in a window and raced in pursuit. Anne looked after him, her face alight with laughter, and did not notice a group of people descending from a nearer car.
 There were a half dozen of them women and men, and it would not have taken a particularly initiated eye to see that they belonged either to a cheap road company or a small time vaudeville turn. One of them a blonde, looked curiously; her widen-

 "Oh, that's your western place, isn't it? Didn't Gwenda say that was where Romance began?" Ward Riddell smiled pleasantly, but he looked at Anne in the curious, reflective way that she had noticed before. "It's not safe to toss me careless invitations. I might come."
 "Me too!" Tom Halliday called over his shoulder.
 "Make it next summer and you can all come. It's a party."
 Anne felt as though she had escaped from prison into glorious freedom.
 She made a quick change and slipped into a coat. She went on out to the veranda which ran the full length of the house and faced the lake. Barry was there already, pacing up and down with a pipe in his mouth.
 "Great isn't it?"
 "Heavenly."
 She nodded happily and fell in step with him.
 "I like this," Barry said contentedly. "There's a motor boat down in the boathouse, and two sailboats, and you and I are going out in one of them, first thing tomorrow morning."
 It was the beginning of three zesty days crisp mountain mornings, sun-warmed days and evenings with a billiard-room to take up the game which the Wild Duck's fluttering approach had interrupted. Riddle, chalking his cue, proffered a word of advice.

 "Better go easy with your little jokes, Dick. Duane seems to be something of a Turk about his wife."
 "How was I to know that he'd go early-Victorian on me?"

SAVE $2.00 to $5.00 a Year

NO WASTED CURRENT NO SCORCHED CLOTHES

Coleman Automatic Electric Iron

THE Coleman Automatic Iron saves $2 to $5 a year on electric current.

When it reaches the temperature at which the thermostat is set, the current is automatically cut off. It "coasts" or "free wheels" on stored heat. 40% of the time it is in use it consumes no electricity. This saving on your electric bill goes on year after year as long as you use your Coleman! This same automatic action of the thermostat eliminates fire danger and scorching of clothes. Saves water... does more than the ironing.

The Coleman is beautifully designed and finished in super-chromium. Has long tapering point, button-bevel and glass-smooth ironing surface.

Come in and see this beautiful iron. Let us prove our statements about the money it saves you.
