TRACT IS LET FOR $75,000 MORE PAVING FOR LFD.

The City Commission Tuesday night contract was for the laying of approximately $75,000 more street paving in the city. The contract price was for square yard.

Following the letting, it is now proposed to lay the City Park, pave on the Park and one or two on X I T Drive so as to be paving. State Highway paved through the city limits, there is a state appropriation of $16,000 available in additional funds. There is also a plan of paving the street leading to the Arthur residence property. It is suggested that the paving from State highway up to the school buildings should be paved. Location of the proposed work will be worked out by the Commission at its next meeting. It is expected that both local sand and rock used in the new paving project.

Construction Co., did paving in Littlefield last year, largely upon the merits of a contract that the new work given them without competition. It is understood that Mont & Ward, engineers of Wichita, also have charge of the work for the new project.

Philipp Stockenger Dies From Auto Crash On Highway Thursday

Philipp Stockenger, 58, died last Friday morning from injuries received in an automobile wreck the day before.

Mr. Stockenger, accompanied by Herman Timian and Roy Yeager were driving west in a Hudson car on State highway near the tourist camp on west side of town when they collided with a Ford car driven by a man by the name of Scott. The Hudson was practically demolished and the Ford badly damaged. Mr. Stockenger suffered a badly crushed body and skull concussions that brought about his death the following day. Timian, who was driving the car at the time of accident sustained a badly gashed and bruised arm, several body bruises and minor gashes and a sprained back. Yeager also sustained some bruises and small body cuts. The driver of the Ford car is said to have not been seriously injured.

Funeral services for Mr. Stockenger were held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Luecke, of the Lutheran church, officiating.

Mr. Stockenger was born November 20, 1879 in Warsaw, Poland. In 1889 he married Miss Emilie Lentz, migrating eight years later to Canada. To their union there were born 11 children, two of them preceding him, as did also his wife in 1925. He came to Littlefield in 1916, and in 1926 entered his second marriage to Mrs. H. Huse, Malone, Texas.

The deceased is survived by his wife, his mother and the following children: Mrs. Mathilde and Mrs. Lydia Potzward, Mrs. Tilly and Mrs. Martha Rossnagel, Mrs. Emma Neunenschwander, John Stockenger, Mrs. Anna Manhtay, Mrs. Helena Timian, Miss Louise Stockenger, Ed Huse, Theodore Huse, Mrs. Hattie Johnson, Mrs. Ed Stroud.

Mr. Stockenger was a loyal member of the Lutheran church, this city, and one of the substantial older citizens of the community, a man of sterling Christian character whose loss will be felt by many.

The funeral services were in charge of Hammons Bros., undertakers, and interment in the Littlefield cemetery.

MORE RAIN SUNDAY

Littlefield territory was the recipient of more rainfall last Sunday. During the latter part of the night, there were showers and the day, mostly falling rain, as to sink into the ground with little runoff.

There is an excellent under-moisture content, the Sunday rain will be of much advantage to the crops where the ground had dried out on top.

COMMERCIAL BODY WILL HAVE MOTOR PARADE TO SUDAN

The weekly meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday in the Littlefield hotel was largely attended, and many important business matters discussed. Judge E. S. Rowe vice-president of the organization, presided in the absence of President J. E. Brannen.

Several communications were read by the secretary, also a letter read by R. E. McCaskill from Judge Kelso, St. Louis, as to the extension of the Frisco railway.

F. G. Sadler, of the Road committee reported that the Pep road was now completed and road work would soon begin on the Bula road.

T. W. Moss a new member of the Chamber was introduced, and Kenneth Hemphill responded with good remarks at the call of President Rowe.

A report was given on the Trades Day program by F. G. Sadler, who stated it was the best Trades Day yet held in Littlefield. It was decided in the future the Trades Day program would be conducted separate from the Chamber of Commerce. Judge Rowe in referring to Trades Day, thought it a good plan to continue these days right along as it was the means of bringing many people to Littlefield, and of them becoming better acquainted with local business men, it would be a valuable asset for the future. Max McClure voiced the value of Trades Day. It was decided that the Retail Merchants association would take over and conduct the sales day in the future.

R. E. McCaskill referred to the good publicity Littlefield was receiving in many of the daily papers of the country and of the comments that had come to him.

On suggestion of E. A. Bills, it was decided to run a motorcade to Sudan the Fourth of July, Mon D. Thaxton to have charge of its direction.

HUBBERS BEAT LFD CATS EATING SAND IN SUNDAY'S GAME

The Littlefield nine packed up last Sunday to meet the revised Hubber team of Lubbock on the latter's grounds in a blinding sand storm, and when the nine innings ended the Cats were nursing a 16-2 defeat.

The game started off in real baseball fashion, neither side scoring in the first round. In the second both teams scored one each, and in the third the count remained on even terms, when each scored one marker. In the fifth the Hubbers scored four, after two were out, when two walks and two hits, as Fox dropped a fly ball that could have saved things at that point and retired the side.

From then on the Hubbers had little trouble in scoring when more errors were made at critical times with men in scoring positions. A number of balls were lost in the sun and sand that went for hits when ordinarily they would have been put out.

The Cats have no alibi to offer for the loss of this game and feel that it was their off day. The Cats are confident they can beat the Hubber team and will look them over on their home grounds sometime in the future.

The Cats meet the Sudan Warriors Thursday at Sudan, and Quitaque next Sunday in the Littlefield park. Quitaque has a winning team and will give the Cats a real battle.

The box score for the Sunday game was:

Conference Held at Muleshoe

Successful Group Quarter-ly of the Lubbock district Muleshoe, Wednesday of according to Rev. Geo. E. local Methodist pastor, The Conference opened with devotionals led by Rev. Claude Ledger, pastor of the Sudan-Amherst charge last year. Rev. Ledger called for testimonies at the conclusion of his talk and both pastors and laymen were soon on their feet, glad of an opportunity of expression. The program of lay activities, which includes the Brotherhood, full collections of all benevolences, Sunday School and other activities in which laymen have the leading part, was ably represented by our Lay Leader O. H. Cline.

After dinner, served by the Muleshoe Ladies, Presiding Elder Bro. D. B. Doak made a good talk and led many songs from memory, which song service was entered into very heartily by most of those present.

The station preachers were asked to help in the conduct of revival meetings on the circuits, so as to enable every charge to hold its meeting this conference year.

The several quarterly conference groups held their own conference where there were members of the O'Rand of Stewards present. The Littlefield quarterly conference will be held later in the summer. Next year Littlefield must have such a group meeting to encourage the people and inform them of the great work of the Methodist denomination as a whole.

Margaret Mann

The dauntless lady is an especially fitting reference to Margaret Mann, sixty-three-year-old featured motion picture player. She plays "mother parts" in the "movies" and her work is well liked. Miss Mann was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. She, like many others successful in the business, started as an "extra."

Various cooling applications give relief in case of flea bites. A three percent solution of carbolic acid in water applied to the bites will be beneficial. Menthol, camphor and carbolated vaseline will help allay irritation. Iodine in the form of a tincture will alleviate irritation, but should not be used by persons afflicted with any form of eczema.

Mr. Bishop notes that the greatest horizontal distance fleas can jump is about 13 inches, and not more than half this distance vertically. It is possible to prevent them from gaining access to a bed by placing sticky fly paper about 13 inches wide on the floor around the bed, provided fleas are not breeding under it, or by placing the legs of the bed in pans of water covered with a film of kerosene.

Making War on Pesteering Flea

Important Matter to Eliminate Breeding Places of Little Pests.

When fleas become annoying or dangerous to health it is necessary to take steps to alleviate immediate discomfort, but the important thing is to act energetically to eliminate the breeding places of fleas, and so put a check on the supply. This is the advice offered by the bureau of entomology in Bulletin 897-F, "Fleas and Their Control."

F. C. Bishopp, author of the bulletin, says fleas breed in greatest numbers on soil or in dust containing vegetable and animal matter protected from rain, wind and sun, but at the same time furnished with a certain amount of moisture. Spaces under buildings and porches fit these flea requirements, and it is well to prevent all animals and poultry going into such places. The vegetable and animal matter should be cleaned up carefully, the area sprayed with creosote oil, and the ground where the immature fleas are developing covered with salt and thoroughly wet down.

Prevent Infestations.

House infestations may be prevented by eliminating pet animals and applying gosseling to the floors after all rugs have been removed and the floors thoroughly scrubbed with soap and water. Applying derris powder to pet animals or washing them in a comparatively weak solution of saponified creosote or kerosene emulsion will destroy the fleas upon them. The skin of cats is tender and dips and washes must be milder than for dogs.

About 500 species of fleas are known to exist, Mr. Bishopp says, but less than a dozen are of special interest as pests to man and domestic animals. "But any individual of these few species, when bent upon satisfying its appetite, fully occupies the attention of its chosen host." The human flea, dog flea, cat flea, sticktight flea, chicken fleas, and the rat fleas (which carry bubonic plague) are the principal species that annoy man and domestic animals in the United States.

Relieve Bites.

Bank debits of 15 leading centers in Texas averaged $950,000,000 a month. In 1920 the average of the same cities was $700,000,000.

There is $2,500,000,000 life insurance in force in Texas now, an increase of $1,750,000,000 since 1920.

What this country needs is a postage stamp that will stick like a union suit in a temperature of about 95 degrees.

SAWS
By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—
IF YOUR servants think you're too hard, maybe they're right. If they think you're too easy, they surely are.

A shoemaker always looks at people's feet—a teacher at their grammar. You might be giving yourself away by the kind things you always notice about people.

"Girls," remarked Mr. Blotto, "is like mince pie. You got a lot more respect for 'em, before you know how they're put together."

"H'm," sniffed the little woman, "I see mighty little mince' where girls is concerned, these days!"

FOR THE GANDER—
A man that's really set on proposin' to a woman has gotta make it snappy. Otherwise, if she don't want him, she'll beat him to it. And if she does, she will, too.

Ask a man these days how much is one and one and he'll tell you two fingers.

Don't lie to your girl about your money matters. But don't take her into your confidence, neither.

Plan to show your hogs at the county and community fairs.

It is not advisable to pasture sheep and hogs together in a small pasture.

When the ewes are turned out of the individual pens, those with twin lambs should be kept separate from those with only one lamb.

The rugged, stretchy, growthy, fast-growing, heavy-boned, deep-bodied, big-type hog is best for pork-production purposes.

The feeding of too much grain, especially corn, is very apt to cause the sows to take on flesh rapidly, and produce a sluggish condition of the system.

One thing about the kind of sunburn a farm hand gets is he doesn't have to sit up half the night putting cold cream on it.

This is a good time to remember that there is room for one kind of "iam" in this country—and that is Americaniam.

We've often wondered if the straw that drowning man clings to is the same one that broke the camel's back.

FRIGIDAIRE A REAL KEEPER

What temperature is necessary to keep ice cream perfectly in an electric refrigerator? Why is chocolate ice cream harder to keep in good condition than any other flavor? Is it necessary to stir frozen desserts in the ice trays of an electric refrigerator while they are being prepared?

These are among the more numerous questions being asked by women who have visited the Frigidaire Cold Control Demonstration being held this week by Higginbotham-Bartlett, local dealer. Much interest also is being manifested in the exact time required to freeze ice cubes. Various new desserts mentioned in a souvenir recipe booklet have created much comment.

"This is the second time this year that we have held such a demonstration," said Mr. Wm. J. Harris, "and we are much gratified to find that the public interest in the Frigidaire cold control has greatly increased since its announcement. Women are fascinated with its six freezing speeds and the many unusual frozen dishes which this ingenious device makes possible. When the cold control is set in the sixth position, a temperature close to zero is created in the freezing trays. With such a temperature it is possible to keep ice cream perfectly until time to serve."

There has also been much local interest in the "Million Model" household refrigerator being displayed this week, the local dealer said. This model was added to its line of electric refrigerators by Frigidaire Corporation in commemorating the fact that there are now more than a million users of its products. It is a small deluxe unit, selling at a low price.—Adv

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Uncle Sam's children, more than a hundred million of them, are again celebrating his birthday—the one big patriotic holiday of the year that the whole world has come to know as the "Glorious Fourth."

It doesn't make much difference where Americans happen to be on this holiday, nor how old or how young they are, the heart swells with pride on this occasion. The youngster who hasn't reached his teens enjoys the spirit of the occasion, though he may not yet know what it is all about. Those of maturer years, versed in the history of their nation, see a new meaning in the day as each year rolls around and finds us at peace with the world and striving to preserve it among all other nations. The foreign born, who has adopted this as his land and in which he, too, can have his home and rear his family, knows that the birthday of the stars and stripes is an all-important event and one that demands of him a renewed pledge of respect and loyalty.

Uncle Sam's children in and around Littlefield join on this occasion with their brothers and sisters in every state and every far-flung territory over which wave the stars and stripes in recalling the meaning of this holiday. We join in cementing anew the ties that bind us to the banner of the red, white and blue. We pledge anew our faith in the institutions over which it flies and the principles of freedom and equality which it represents. We, too, are happy to be numbered among Uncle Sam's children; we, too, are glad to join in the celebration of this anniversary—the "Glorious Fourth"—and to continue in our loyalty and fidelity to all that it represents.

Sex won't be wholly equal until a man can ask a strange girl for a match without seeming fresh.

FARM BOYS AHEAD

We see in an exchange that of the 700 students at the Chicago Aviation training school, 97 percent are from the farms and smaller towns. As this air-training school has one of the largest enrollments in the country, the figures may be considered representative.

Aviation appeals more strongly to the young fellows of the farms and in towns like Littlefield than to the "City slicker" who is a demon in a roadster but shies at taking both feet off of the ground. "Lindy" probably is to blame for their interest in flying, but after all flying is to become a big industry and probably is no more dangerous than traveling in a motor car.

It does demand steady nerves, alert intelligence and physical fitness, and it speaks volumes for life in our smaller towns and on our farms where these requirements are to be found in far greater abundance than in our large cities.

Some people persist in buying wild-cat stocks as if their bank roll had nine lives.

SMALLER MONEY

It won't be long now, maybe only a matter of days, until Littlefield citizens who are lucky enough to get hold of a piece of paper money will find it considerably reduced in size. The government has started the distribution of its newer and smaller treasury notes, and almost before we know it the old size will have disappeared.

We wish we could assure everybody that the new bills, even though smaller, will buy still more. But that isn't going to be the case. And as far as we know now, they are going to be just as hard to get as the old ones were. But it still remains the best money on earth, and the most sought after.

The government will save several million dollars each year from the smaller bills in paper and printing costs. Since this is a saving to taxpayers it should insure the new size currency a welcome, and it should check any complaint or objection that may arise over the change. So long as the value is there the size is of no consequence.

So make it a rule to strive, honestly and legitimately, to gather in your share of the new bills, to make them go as far as possible when you are spending them, and to put by a few as you're able against the rainy day when any kind of money—no matter what its size or shape—looks good and comes in handy.

When a motor knocks there's something wrong with it, and it's usually the same way with a man.

SHOW YOUR BOY THIS

We've often wondered why people want to be crooked when there are so many legitimate ways to make money. We don't believe there ever was a time or place when straight living could be made to pay so well as in the U. S. right now. Opportunity is knocking at every young man's door and the Littlefield boy who complains that he "hasn't a chance" is dead wrong and asleep to everything going on about him.

Each sunrise sees some new enterprise established calling for skilled workmen and good executives. It also sees most of the older enterprises growing bigger.

This year we will make nearly a million more autos than we made last year, and there's no reason to suppose we'll do less next year. This means more garages, more filling stations, more tire and more travel. Every other industry is growing jobs in proportion. We fell sorry for the boy who can't hear old opportunity's lives are still ahead of them. They knock, and especially those whose have a hard road to travel unless they wake up.

Another thing we can't understand is why a good habit is so much easier to break than a bad habit.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

It is estimated that 45,000,000 Americans will use the automobile this season in touring about the country. No one, of course, can estimate the number of accidents that will result. But we can safely estimate that if every one is twice as careful as they usually are there will be a great reduction in the number.

Yet even care cannot prevent all mishaps; some of them are unavoidable. That's why the wise motorist will prepare in advance for any emergency that may befall him or those riding with him.

He can get, for a few cents at any drug store, all the necessary first-aid supplies he might need—simple little remedies and bandages and court-plaster and the like that may turn out to be worth a thousand times their cost.

A little box of first-aid supplies takes up, practically no room in the car. But the sensible motorist will not stop to consider either cost or space since the kit may be the means of saving his own or some other person's life.

The trouble with the U. S. senate is that it thinks the public takes it as seriously as it does itself.

Decline Of Formal Dining Imposes New Demands On Housewife's Skill

By: CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef, Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue, New York City.

TODAY, Americans are dining far less formally than they did even ten years ago. It is no longer considered correct to serve a long series of courses. The courses themselves have been simplified, and attention is now concentrated upon the quality of each dish rather than upon an unnecessary profusion.

In no respect is this change more marked than in the serving of vegetables. Two vegetables, only one of which should be starchy, is now the rule; instead of three, four or even five. While the change has lessened the burden placed upon the housewife, it has, at the same time, made new demands upon her skill and ingenuity. With the decrease in the number of vegetable dishes, it has become essential that each should be as delicious as the culinary art can make it.

Scalloped Corn With Green Peppers is an unusual and appetizing dish. Mix two cups of cooked corn with one finely chopped green pepper. Blend and bring out the flavors, add one teaspoon of sugar. Make a sauce of two tablespoons of fat, two tablespoons flour, and one cup milk. Stir in one egg. Mix all the ingredients together, salt to taste, and place in a baking dish. Sprinkle lightly with cracker crumbs and bake in hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Savory Lima Beans—Cook the lima beans in boiling water until tender. Mix together one tablespoon flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon brown sugar, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, and one-quarter teaspoon celery salt. Add to two cups of the beans, and then mix in one tablespoon of finely chopped onion and four slices of bacon cut in small pieces. Moisten with one cup of water. Place in a shallow, buttered casserole and bake until nicely browned.

Parsnip Souffle—Cook four medium-size parsnips in boiling water. When tender, remove the skins and rub through a colander. Mix together one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon sugar. Add the seasonings and one tablespoon of butter to the parsnips. Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, stirring in two tablespoons of flour and one cup of milk. Be sure the mixture is thick and smooth. Add to the parsnips, together with the yolks of two well-beaten eggs. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and fold into the mixture. Put in a buttered baking dish and bake for 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve immediately, or the souffle will fall.

HOME ECONOMIC TEACHER STRESSES VALUE OF NICE CLOTHES RACK FOR ONE'S CLOTHES

A peck of garden stuff and a quart of milk is the recipe for becoming beautiful, given by Mrs. M. M. Brittain, teacher of Home Economics in the Littlefield public schools. The instructor is quite a good looking woman herself, and, naturally interested in the welfare of her pupils, is anxious to have them acquire the best in pulchritude, as such is no mean asset for future life.

The remark was made while teaching a class in sewing. It excited the curiosity of the Leader representative who dared to ask what grub had to do with clothes. "Why, that's easy," replied the affable teacher. One must have a good looking clothes rack if they want the clothes to look well," she said.

"A good complexion, an erect posture and pleasing bearing come with health," she continued, "and health comes from right diet, hence the recipe. To be an all-around good-looking girl she must develop physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. It may sound funny to a masculine news hound, but that is the real foundation for good dress. Really it would be a good idea if every girl had a garden plot of her own, (of course, she might get some of the rest of the family to help her care for it)—a little vegetable garden of her own where she could always have the food essentials for a healthful diet.

"In this department of school work we teach the girls how to cook and sew. There are hundreds of girls all over Texas who today are not only doing their own sewing but much of the sewing for the other members of their families. Occasionally, some one fails to see the value of such training, but this department is one of the most practical of the entire school—just as much so as commercial training to the boys. Every girl ought to be able to take care of herself when she is grown, and the girl who knows how to cook and sew is certainly a long way ahead of the one who does not know.

"Of course the girls taking this work learn many artistic ideas, but our main emphasis is along the lines of essentials. For instance, in foods we teach and demonstrate to them the fundamentals; how to prepare the essentials for a meal and what constitutes a balanced ration for each member of the family. They learn how to analyze the different foods as to their chemical components and what proportions of each is needed for hunger satisfaction and continued good health. In clothing they learn how to make many fancy articles, but the things stressed most are those of an essential nature. Gaudiness is never a sign of good taste, and we teach the girls how to turn a simplicity of design and choice color into good looking clothes. This also teaches them economy, for the cost of such dresses is always very nominal while the appearances are always above par. Few people realize that throughout the entire state, the average cost of school dresses made by girls in this department last year were only $1.20 each; complete school costumes only $3.48; elaborate party gowns averaged $2.85, while an entire costume cost but $5.31. Everyone of these garments would have cost much more if purchased outright at some department store. They represented much savings, plus the training and experience the girls obtained in making them, as well as the added pleasure of wearing something created by their own hands.

"Yes, clothes are mighty nice things to have; but the nicer the rack one has to hang them on, the nicer they appear," concluded Mrs. Brittain and her point was well understood.

TARIFF NOT A PROBLEM
 The United States no longer has a real tariff problem. All sections of the country have become convinced of the necessity of protecting domestic industries.
 Many leaders in both parties emphasize the value of a tariff. The only political point of difference is in the details of its administration.

Success With French Dishes
Is Easy For Careful Cooks
 By: CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef,
 Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue, New York City.

CONTRARY to general belief, French cooking demands neither scarce ingredients, nor long bending over pots and pans. The majority of French dishes are extremely simple. The delicacy of their flavor, and the reputation for excellence which they enjoy throughout the world, are solely the result of painstaking attention to details and a knowledge of the culinary art which, in many cases, has been handed down for generations.

Success with French dishes is assured provided a few general rules and easy instructions are followed. In cooking vegetables, for instance, proper seasoning is of the first importance, and the seasoning substances—condiments, spices, salt and sugar—should be used, not to disguise the natural taste of the vegetable, but to accentuate the flavor, restore it if the vegetable is not quite fresh, or blend it with the flavors of other ingredients.
Tarte aux Oignons—Slice thin four large onions. Put in a quart of cold, salted water. Add a teaspoon of sugar and bring to a boil on a quick fire. Cook a few minutes. Remove from the fire and drain. Add the onions to a quarter of a pound of butter that has been melted in a saucepan, and cook until they are lightly browned. Add three slices of bacon that have been cut into small pieces and cooked in butter. Let the mixture cool until it is just warm. Add three eggs beaten lightly with four tablespoons of cream. Fill tart shells with the mixture, pour melted butter over them, and bake until set.

Fresh Peas and Scallions—Put a quart of peas in boiling water, and cook uncovered for about twenty minutes. At the same time stew a dozen scallions, cut in two-inch pieces, in a tablespoon of chicken fat or butter. Mix the drained peas and scallions together. Add a teaspoon of sugar, salt to taste, and dust lightly with flour. Stew until tender, adding some of the water in which the peas were cooked.

Carottes A La Bourguignonne—Cut twelve medium-size carrots into two-inch lengths. Cook until tender in salted water to which a teaspoon of sugar has been added. In the meantime, cook two chopped onions in melted butter until lightly browned. Mix with the carrots and dust with flour. Salt and pepper to taste. When the flour is thoroughly browned add a cup of soup stock. Cook gently for about ten minutes, and serve very hot.

CHARGES AGAINST
LFD. MEN FAILED
OF PROSECUTION

Notice of suits, charging irregularities and false canvass of election returns of the Littlefield voting box in the county seat election held in Lamb county recently, were served by Amherst officers on Chas. Harless, P. W. Walker, Carl Arnold, Jack James, (colored) all of Littlefield, and N. J. Carnahan, living about seven miles north of Littlefield. W. G. Street was included in the list, but on account of his absence from the state at the time, was given no notice.

The warrants are said to have been sworn out by E. N. Burrus, former county judge of Lamb County, J. P. Dellis and C. L. Eastman, all of Olton, the present county seat, and appearance was before Justice of the Peace Davis, of Olton.

The defendants, accompanied by Attorneys E. A. Bills and E. S. Rowe appeared in Justice Court Monday morning. No prosecuting witnesses were present, nor any of those who swore out the warrants, in consequence, all cases were duly dismissed.

GATHERING IN "SUCKERS"

The National Better Business Bureau has estimated that questionable stock selling concerns issue "tipster sheets" which have a circulation of 15 million, to push the sale of questionable securities.

As a result of such activities, uninformed investors are defrauded of millions of dollars annually with little or no legal redress.

Don't go to a horse doctor if you seek advice on investments. Make inquiry from a reputable investment banker or responsible broker dealing in stocks or bonds listed on recognized exchanges.

BLED SOE TO HAVE CELEBRATION TWO DAYS, JULY 12-13

Bledsoe, July 2.—Plans for the celebration to be held at Bledsoe July 12 and 13 are well under way. The slogan of Bledsoe people to make this "the biggest event of its kind ever held in Texas, west of Lubbock," promises to be realized.

The leading features of the program are free barbecue, rodeo, baseball, dancing and statewide known speakers.

Word has been received from Judge Hamlin, of Farwell, manager of the Capitol Reservation lands, that he will be here for the celebration and will deliver an address on the opening day, July 12.

Jess Mitchell, of Littlefield, editor of the Lamb County Leader, will deliver an address on the second day, July 13. Col. R. P. Smyth, of Plainview, well-known over the Plains, will deliver an address on the opening day. In answer to an invitation sent to Exgovernor James E. Ferguson, of Austin, he says: "I am glad to say that I accept your invitation with pleasure, and have made my plans to be at Bledsoe on Saturday, July 13."

Many people from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will bring camping outfits and camp in Willard park, at Bledsoe for the two days. While it is expected that there will be plenty of free barbecued beef for all, as well as coffee, bread and ice water, people are expected to bring basket lunches and drinking cups.

In Europe there are more than 195,000,000 members of the Roman Catholic church.

By CHARLES A. RUSH

1. You shall sell your farm products for cash, where you can, for we buy nothing from you.
2. You shall believe in us and trust, because we do not know you personally.
3. You shall send your money to us in advance, so we can buy the goods from the factory with your money; you may have to wait a few weeks but that is our business method.
4. You shall get help from your nearest city or village to build good roads, so you can easily haul out goods from us, we don't help to build good roads.
5. You may buy church bells and altar utensils from us, and send the money in advance, that's our rule.
6. You shall get all the help you can from the merchants in your neighborhood; although we may have more profit from you than they have, it is against our rules to give to your churches.
7. You shall convert your neighbor also to your faith in us, for we have room for your money.
8. You shall look at the pretty pictures in our catalogue as often as you can, so as to strengthen your desire for things you do not need but which you may order with other goods to save freight. Send us all your ready cash so that you may not have any left to buy necessities from your home merchants.

9. You shall believe us rather than your home merchants, for we want your trade. We get to be millionaires on your support. Don't be bluffed.
10. You shall call on the merchants of your vicinity for help and credit if you meet with hard luck or sickness. It's your money we want; we don't know you unless your orders are accompanied by cash.—Exchange.

How Milk Is Delivered in Other Lands

Other lands, other customs. 1 In Darjeeling, India, the milkman carries the milk in long bamboo jars as he walks from one native home to another. 2 In Copenhagen, Denmark, the milkman has a neat hand drawn cart, keeping his milk well packed in ice. 3 A dairy farmer of Estonia, Russia, disposing of his milk from big cans he has brought to the street market. 4 In an Italian city, the milkman vends his wares from door to door. 5 On the Spreewald in Germany, the milkman makes his deliveries by boat, and the purchasers come down to the canal.

SOME FRUITY SAUCES AND DAINY DESSERTS

WHEN the wind blows and the sun shines the window pane, the wise housewife plans to serve foods which convey an idea of warmth. Among the best for this purpose is fruit, the food which grows beneath the warm summer sun. One of the fruits, pineapple, which carries with it the succulence of the yellow light of the Southern Seas, serves to bring most delight to the family.

How to prepare pineapple? Here are a few excellent methods:

Pineapple-Mint Sauce: Boil two cups of sugar and one-half cup of water to a thick syrup. Color with vegetable coloring a brilliant green. When cool add one drop of oil of peppermint and one can crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Serve on ice-cream.

Golden Desserts:

Pineapple Blanc Manges: Scald two and one-half cups milk in double boiler. Thoroughly blend seven tablespoons cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoon salt, and six tablespoons sugar with one-half cup pineapple syrup. Add very slowly to the milk to prevent curdling, and cook in double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, fold in stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and one cup drained crushed pineapple. Meld and chill. Serve with pineapple sauce.

Golden Souces: Mix two teaspoons cornstarch and one-fourth cup sugar and add one-half cup cold water and one-half cup pineapple syrup. Cook, stirring constantly until it thickens. Remove from fire and add butter and one teaspoon of finely cut pineapple. Serve very cold with the blanc mange.

Frozen Parfait:

Pineapple-Butterscotch Parfait: Melt three tablespoons butter and one and one-half cups brown sugar in a skillet; let simmer a few minutes, but avoid burning. Add three-fourths cup pineapple syrup and let boil to the soft ball stage (238°). Pour over three slightly beaten egg yolks and cook gently until thickened. Cool, then fold in three stiffly beaten egg whites, whip one and one-half cups heavy cream and one and one-half cups crushed pineapple. Pack in individual molds or in paper cases and pack in salt and ice for four hours. This serves eight.

Red Pineapple Sauce: Cook together one cup canned raspberries, one-third cup sugar, and two cups crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Cook slowly thirty minutes, stirring frequently. Serve hot on cake. This recipe can be varied by using strawberries, or other fruits.

Pineapple Hard Sauce: Beat four tablespoons of butter with one-half cup sugar until the mixture is white and light, creamy and smooth. Add a teaspoon of vanilla extract and a cup of crushed Hawaiian pineapple which is drained or about an hour. Mix well and chill before serving on pudding.

IT WAS SURELY A SURPRISE FOR US

"ORGATONE HAS RESTORED MY WIFE'S HEALTH AND SAVED ME A LOT OF MONEY." SAYS PLUMBER.

"My wife is the very picture of health and feels better than she has in several years," said T. K. Morgan of 2312 Ave. T., Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Morgan is in the plumbing business and while talking with the Orgatone representative stated that he was glad to tell about Orgatone, and what it had done for his wife.

"Orgatone was sure a surprise for us," he continued, "for my wife had taken so many different kinds of medicines, we didn't think it would do her very much good. She suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion. She couldn't eat anything for it wouldn't agree with her, and she had terrible gas and bloating spells until she would be in misery for hours after eating."

"She was very run down, and always had severe sharp, shooting pains in her back and sides, and was so nervous she could hardly do anything. Her liver and kidneys bothered her quite a bit, and finally she got so weak and run down she couldn't do her own housework without stopping two or three times to rest. She was getting to feel melancholy and wasn't taking any interest in anything."

"A friend of ours recommended Orgatone to her and she began taking it. She has just taken two bottles and is like a different person. She is improving every day and now can eat anything she wants, without it hurting her in the least. She never complains as she used to and goes about her work feeling fine. She doesn't get as tired and worn out now and is doing all of her housework. Orgatone has restored my wife's health and has saved me lots of money that I would have paid out trying to get back her health and we are both grateful and are glad to recommend it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Littlefield by the Waters Drug Company who are direct laboratory agents.—Adv.

French Cooks Know Secret of Bringing Out Delicate Flavors

By CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef, Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue, New York City.

AMERICAN cooking is getting better all the time, but there still remains room for improvement. The chief fault lies in a certain tastelessness, or monotony of taste, which sometimes results in taking the edge off the appetite. Particularly in the case of vegetables, the women of this country are just beginning to learn how to make the most of some of the delicious products of the garden.

In France, on the other hand, methods of seasoning that give added zest to vegetable dishes have long been familiar to all experienced cooks and one of the seasoning agents most frequently used for this purpose is sugar. A small amount helps to restore the natural sweetness which the vegetable may have lost after being picked, and when two or more vegetables are cooked together, it serves to blend their contrasting flavors.

Chef Scotto in His Kitchen

A considerable number of American housewives have always used sugar in cooking a few vegetables, but the secret of its general use is comparatively little known in this country, although recently a number of domestic science experts have conducted experiments in this method of vegetable cookery, and have found, as have the French cooks, that it immensely improves the tastiness of the dish.

Spinach Hainault is one of the dishes to which the expert French cook always adds a small amount of sugar. Clean the spinach well and cook for ten minutes in as little water as possible; usually enough will cling to the leaves after they have been washed. Then chop fine and drain well. Fry three or four very thin slices of bacon, cut in small pieces and add to the spinach. To the fat in the pan add one tablespoon flour, one tablespoon sugar, one-quarter teaspoon mustard, one cup vinegar, and one and a quarter cups water. Cook until thick and pour over a quart of cooked spinach. Stir lightly and serve.

Asparagus With Butter Sauce: Cook a bunch of asparagus for a half hour in boiling, salted water to which a teaspoon of sugar has been added. While the asparagus is cooking, brown a tablespoon of cracker dust in a half teaspoon of butter, with a few drops of onion juice, a pinch of powdered sugar, and a pinch of salt and black pepper. Drain the asparagus and place on a platter. Sprinkle over the tips a teaspoon of the browned, dry cracker-crumbs. Serve with boiling hot butter, mixed with the remainder of the browned cracker crumbs.

Carrots and Cheese: Mince twelve medium-size carrots. Add a teaspoon of sugar and steam until tender. Put into a baking dish. Sprinkle liberally with cheese and a little salt and pepper. Beat three eggs and stir into a pint of milk that has been put on the stove to heat. Let the mixture thicken; then pour over the carrots and cheese. Add more cheese for a top dressing. Put the baking dish in a pan of water and place in the oven to brown.

"HURRY WITH THE SERVICE CAR THE OIL BROKE DOWN" DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU

STRANDED five miles from nowhere because the oil wouldn't do its job! Has that happened to you? If it has, the chances are that you were not particular the last time you had the crankcase drained — or perhaps you ran too long without changing the oil. This will be a slack summer for service cars if motorists will remember two things: first, to change oil regularly, and secondly, to use only a brand of oil which they know from their own experience or the experience of others will stand up under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

You can depend upon any oil which has the backing of the Continental Oil Company. These are the brands which have been tried and tested — in the laboratory and on the road. They lubricate thoroughly, protect every moving part and stand up under intense heat.

Ask for these brands at leading service stations and garages.

Conoco Motor Oil insures protection. It seals compression — saves gasoline — fights friction. Stands up under most intense cylinder heat. In short, does a complete lubricating job in all kinds of weather.

Ask for the grade made especially for your car.

Conoco Amalie is 100% Pennsylvania Oil — refined from premium crudes by a special process. Universally recommended by automotive engineers and lubrication experts.

Through exhaustive laboratory and road tests it has demonstrated its ability to lubricate properly under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

FARMERS SPREAD GOOD WILL ON TRIP TO LATIN AMERICA

Improvements of Crop Champions Widely Acclaimed and Representative of Cuban President Sees New Stimulus to International Understanding in Visit.

Factors of international good will are forming between North and South. The Pan-American Conference at Havana and the recent flight of Lindbergh to Latin America dispelled old misunderstandings and fostered many new friendships. History is being written rapidly in the Western Hemisphere and we are in the happy phase of holding a grandstand seat.

where hate and jealousy are unknown."
Five Cuban boys who had won prizes offered by the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau for crop production last year were also guests at the luncheon. Although they could not speak English and were a few years younger than the American boys who could not talk Spanish, the records of each group were made known through an interpreter and were found to be strikingly similar in many respects.

Champions' Big Yields

Maize or corn as it is called in the United States is an important crop in Cuba and the accomplishment of J. D. Majure of Union, Miss., one of the American crop champions, was considered little short of marvellous by the Cubans. Mr. Majure produced 173½ bushels of corn per acre on three acres as compared with the average of 39 bushels per acre in the South. He fertilized heavily, his applications including 300 pounds nitrate of soda per acre as a side-dressing which he said rushed the corn to early maturity and carried it safely through the dry season of summer and early fall.

Although cotton is of secondary consideration to the Cuban agriculturist the feats of the cotton champions aroused much curiosity. A few of these were:

14 bales on five acres by John W. McFarlane, Cotton Champion of Texas.
3 bales on one acre by Miss Ruby Lee Williams, 4-H Cotton Club Champion of Texas and Cotton Queen of the South in 1927.

2¼ bales on one acre by Miss Eliza

Daniels of Texas, 1928 Cotton Queen.

12 bales on five acres by J. M. Adams, Cotton Champion of Louisiana.

9 bales on three acres by B. N. Darnell, Cotton Champion of Mississippi.

10 bales on five acres by W. T. Beall, Cotton Champion of Arkansas.

9 bales on five acres by W. T. Jewers, Cotton Champion of Tennessee.

13 bales on five acres by L. S. Strickland, Cotton Champion of Georgia.

9 bales on five acres by C. P. Ellis, Cotton Champion of North Carolina.

All of these champions prepared their land carefully, used good seed and saw that the cotton had an abundant supply of quickly available nitrogen. They were unanimously of the opinion that readily available nitrogen is essential for successful cotton crops.

Alabama was represented by A. L. Ford, of Hightower, winner of the State-wide Five Acre Cotton Contest; Clitus Brown of Cherokee, Ala., who had the best record in the Vocational Corn Contest of the state with an average yield of 80 bushels of corn per acre on five acres; and John Givhan of Biolaok, who won the State-wide 4-H Cotton Club Contest with two bales on one acre.

Young farmers in the party who had won state-wide cotton or corn contests were Raus Bearden of Flat Creek, Tenn.; Hollis Stanley of Ripley, Tenn.; Wily Campbell of Tiras, S. C.; and Richard Sturkie of North, S. C.

Records Impress Cuba

Definite results from the visit of the crop champions are already beginning to appear in Cuba. One of these is the movement which has been inaugurated by Cuban officials to organize a Cuban Agricultural Extension Service along the lines of the services in various states of North America. The next Cuban Legislature will be asked to make an appropriation sufficient to start this service with at least twenty trained agricultural workers. Cuban officials who studied the records of the American crop champions were deeply impressed with the part played by the Agricultural Extension Service in the high yields.

Returning to the United States, the champions spent two days in the citrus section of Florida, their trip including a visit to the South Florida Fair at Tampa. As a result of the exchange of views among the champions on the trip, returned to the United States with a new idea which he believed would help him in setting new records in crop production and efficient farming during the 1928 season.

D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 419, wherein Arthur P. Duggan is Plaintiff, and L. V. Barnes, A. L. Smith, and M. D. Mahaney are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action being as follows:

Plaintiff represents and shows to the court that the defendant, L. V. Barnes, a feme sole, executed and delivered to plaintiff certain vendor's lien notes, dated December 12, 1927, payable to the order of plaintiff, bearing interest at the rate of 6% per annum until maturity and 10% thereafter, providing for 10% attorney's fees, the first 7 notes being each for the sum of $100.00, and note No. 8 for sum of $550.00 due and payable January 1, 1929, to 1936, inclusive, providing that failure to pay any note or any interest thereon would, at the option of holder mature all of said notes. That the said defendant failed and refused to pay interest due on said notes on January 1, 1928 and 1929, and failed and refused to pay note No. 1, and plaintiff declared all of said notes due and payable. That said notes are secured by vendor's lien on labor No. 19 in League 687, situated in Lamb County, Texas, conveyed by plaintiff to defendant, L. V. Barnes, by deed of even date with said notes, and in the deed the vendor's lien was retained. That the said defendant, L. V. Barnes, also executed deed of trust to said premises to P. W. Walker, trustee, to secure said notes, which deed of trust, also provided that defendant should pay all taxes on said land. That the defendant failed and refused to pay taxes and plaintiff was forced to pay said taxes to protect his lien on said land and the taxes paid to School district is the sum of $393.02, and to State and County $102.17. That subsequent thereto the defendant, L. V. Barnes, conveyed said land to A. L. Smith who assumed payment of said notes and taxes, and said defendant A. L. Smith thereafter conveyed said land to defendant, M. D. Mahaney, who assumed said notes and taxes and is now claiming an interest in said land.

Plaintiff prays for his debt, damages, interest, attorney's fees, costs of suit, and foreclosure of his liens on said land.

Herein Fail Not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

CO-OPERATION COURTESY

Going over Pike's Peak or the Alps none dare to attempt it alone but all go in parties or dozens or more, each one helping the other in the toilsome climb. When one falls another is there to help him up. So in going over the rugged mountain of life, bound together with the cord of co-operation, we help hold up our brother farmer and bound together we go on and on, up the rugged mountain of life until we shall reach the summit or the topmost peak. Then we will be able to look back and say: "I have fought a good fight; I have kept the faith." What a wonderful consolation it will be to know we have helped our fellow men over the difficult path of life.—Oklahoma Cotton Grower.

use of soda in fertilizing their growing crops, but this was not required.

Met by President's Envoy

On their arrival at Havana they were met by a representative of President Machado and members of a permanent committee for the agricultural development of Cuba. The following day they were entertained at a reception by General Delgado, Secretary of Agriculture. In welcoming the party General Delgado said, "Agriculture is one of the strong bonds of friendship between Cuba and the United States. Our interests in many ways are identical since we are both producing the material that feeds the world."

At other formal occasions the diplomatic values accruing from the visit of the crop champions were emphasized. The Cuban Association of Promoters, Chemists and Sugar Technologists tendered the party an elaborate native luncheon served "al fresco" in the beautiful arboretum of the Government Experiment Station at Santiago de las Vegas. Dr. J. M. Sandoval, who had officiated as President Machado's personal representative when the party arrived in Cuba, also made the address of welcome at this affair.

Farmers Promote Peace

"At a time when the world, which we call civilized, is much concerned over formulae which will make peace possible and enduring," he said, "and therefore co-operation between men, who, although brothers, regard each other at times like detestable vermin and always as lambs and lions; at a moment when the Sixth Pan-American Conference is being held in our Capital and its distinguished members striving to take decisive steps in that lovely pathway of human ideals; your always welcome visit proves especially opportune, as thanks to it there is born in our hearts a beautiful hope as we think that excursions and journeys such as yours, may and should be the beginning of international assemblies and congresses in which producers, industrialists, and merchants, who with a very different mentality from that of the jurists and politicians, will be able to devise means to further the work of these, supplying them with more practical ideas and formulae which will carry us rapidly forward to the dawn of that fair day when the sun will shine on a world

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

Always drive fast out of alleys. You might hit a policeman. There's no telling.

Always race with locomotives to crossings. Engineers like it. It breaks the monotony of their jobs. It is always a good test for your car.

Always pass the car ahead on curves or turns. Don't use the horn because it might unnerve the other fellow and cause him to turn out too far.

Demand half the road—the middle half. Insist on your rights.

Always lock your brakes when skidding. It makes the job more artistic. Often you can turn clear around.

Always drive close to pedestrians in wet weather. Dry cleaners will erect a monument to your memory.

Always try to pass cars on a hill when it is possible. It shows your bus has more power.

Never look around when you back up. There is never anything behind your automobile.

A few shots of booze will enable you to make your car do real stunts. For permanent results quaff long and deeply of the flowing bowl before taking the wheel.

Drive as fast as you can on wet pavements. There is always something to stop you if you lose control—often a heavy truck or a plate glass window.

New drivers should be shown how to drive fast in heavy traffic. It gives them the experience every motorist should have.

Always speed! It looks as though you are a man of pep even though an amateur driver.

Never stop, look or listen at railroad crossings. It consumes valuable time, and besides, nobody believes in signs.

POULTRY

EARLIEST HATCHED CHICKS ARE BEST

Reports from poultrymen in Colorado show that the tendency to earlier hatching is gaining a foothold among successful breeders. Early-hatched chicks make better winter layers, they have found, and the rapid development in the early-hatched chick results in more economical production of broilers.

The cold weather of this season of the year seems to give much greater development in a short period of time, while those that are hatched late and grow during the warm weather are slower in their development. Cold weather seems to retard the sexual development, thus holding back egg production until warmer weather, according to observations of Charles N. Keen of the poultry department at the Colorado Agricultural College.

If pullets are raised from late-hatched eggs and pushed for production, they attain a sexual maturity before the body maturity is attained. Then the first eggs produced will be small and continue so until body maturity is completed.

In the case of light breeds, such as Leghorns and Anconas, these small birds which have been forced break down under heavy production and go into a winter neck molt and often a fall molt. With the larger breeds there may be less of this trouble with the late-hatched birds, but they are harder to force into laying. It takes approximately five months to mature a Leghorn or Ancona pullet and approximately seven months to mature Rhode Island Reds, Rocks, Wyandottes and other birds of the larger breeds. They should be laying not later than November 1 and not earlier than September 1 for best results.

Mash Essential Part of Ration for Layers

The mash is an essential part of the hen's diet, for she cannot make eggs economically from grains alone. In the mash should be included some of the common by-products such as wheat bran, middlings and gluten feed. These feeds are palatable and furnish relatively cheap vegetable protein.

The hen must be supplied with enough animal protein either included in the mash or fed in addition to it. Some of the more common home supplies of animal protein may consist of skim milk, buttermilk or some form of waste meat and, in the summer, insects that the hen can find on the range.

Repeated tests at the Wisconsin and other experiment stations have shown that hens cannot find the necessary amount of animal protein on the range to make profitable egg production possible. Even in the summer unless the hens have all the milk they can drink it will pay to have some additional animal protein in the mash. In the winter the hen will not drink enough milk to supply her needs and some addition should be made.

Ventilation of Poultry House Is Big Problem

The ventilation of the poultry house is a much discussed problem and many times local conditions are responsible for troubles. Sometimes the location of the house is such as to interfere with the usual results. However, if the walls of the house became damp last year it is an indication of too little fresh air. There are two methods of ventilation which are quite common. One is the use of muslin frames which may be closed at night and opened during the day. In houses 14 to 16 feet deep one should have one square foot of cloth frames for every foot the house is long. Deeper houses require more while narrow houses require less. Even with muslin frames one must not be persuaded to close them too tightly as this may result in too little ventilation at night. Their use requires discretion as does any other plan for ventilation.

Feed Heavily

January and February are the months when all flocks should be fed heavily, says T. S. Townsley, extension poultry specialist of the Missouri College of Agriculture. By January 1 most of the pullets ought to be mature and ready to lay, while the majority of hens should be through the molt. Consequently with proper feed, egg production ought to pick up rapidly during January and February and reach its maximum during March or April.

Give Hens Chance

Poor housing of farm hens during the winter plays a big part in keeping the production of the average Illinois hen down to about 50 eggs a year. It takes contented hens to keep the winter egg basket full and poultrymen who do not insure the contentment of their fowls are apt to get high egg production only during the natural laying season in the spring. It will be profitable for chicken raisers to spend money in repairing the old houses.
