Capt. Stone Awarded Commendation Medal

Leland Stone, son of Ophelia Stone of 100 E. ... has been cited for meritorious service and awarded the Commendation Medal.

CAPT. LELAND STONE

... Citation, by direction of Secretary of the Army,

CAPTAIN LELAND M. STONE is cited for meritorious service as Chief, Medical Reports and Reports Branch and as Chief, Registrar, Brooks General Hospital, Brooks Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas from July 1966 to 10 October 1967.

... building and strengthening the morale of the Registrar personnel, Captain Stone developed efficient teamwork among staff members through wise counsel, intelligent guidance and effective communication. Through his active involvement in administration and management, his unceasing devotion to duty, his success in providing a better service to the patients and professional personnel of the hospital.

... With marked perseverance and foresight he has been instrumental in the reorganization of the Registrar Division, Brooks General Hospital. Captain Stone has demonstrated good-will and tactful liaison with personnel of other Army commands, military services, and civilian community in such an exemplary manner as to gain their confidence and whole-hearted cooperation in mutual professional, technical and administrative activities. Through his warm regard for those serving under and with him, Captain Stone has earned the deep respect and admiration of his staff, members of the Registrar Division and his associates.

"Captain Stone's service in these assignments reflect great credit upon himself, Brooks General Hospital, and the Army Medical Service."

Girlstown Has Budget Problem

Girlstown, USA, at Whiteface, has become confronted with a difficult problem.

In fact, its sponsors have been told unless $38,000 can be raised by January, Girlstown might have to close its doors, according to a speech made recently by Mrs. Faynell Spears of Springlake-Earth PTA.

Proposed budget for the new year, in order for Girlstown to function properly, is $138,560.

A letter explaining Girlstown and its budget, written by Executive Director Marshall W. Cooper, is as follows:

Dear Friend:
To be faced by a troubled, conflicted girl who is seeking and expecting help has always constituted a great challenge to us.

Do we have the knowledge, the resources, the psychological strength, the skill---Do we have whatever it takes to be of help to each girl?

We at Girlstown have been trying to meet this kind of challenge.

Because you have given of your time, talents and support, the challenge has been easier. For this we thank you very much.

Together, last year we provided a home for an average of 69 girls daily. It cost us approximately $1,492 per girl per year.

Now we are challenged with a new year and additional girls. Our proposed budget is for $138,560. Together we can meet this challenge.

Your check for $1, $5, $10 or whatever you can afford will help. If you will send it today, our girls' holidays will look much brighter.

Sincerely,
/s/ Marshall W. Cooper

Bazaar Fund Total $258

Lee Burnett, president of "We, The Women" of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, has reported "a good turnout" at the Women's Christmas Bazaar Saturday, resulting in $258.40 received during the project.

Proceeds will go toward school landscaping and beautification.

Mrs. D. J. Walker, Box 932, Littlefield, was winner of a door prize, a Christmas arrangement donated by Chisholm Floral.

Next project of "We, The Women" is a House Beautiful Tour Friday from 4 to 6 p.m. Tickets of $1 per person may be purchased from A & B Office Supply, First National Bank, Security State Bank, Brittain Pharmacy and Norma's.

ABSENTEE BALLOTING COMPLETE

Option Election Saturday

"WHAT'S GOING ON around this household? I think the mistress has flipped, or something. Of all things -- DECORATING a tree! She keeps talking about a 'tour' -- whatever that is -- and about people coming to see us Friday. Egad -- do you suppose she's going to put some of those glittering things on ME???" Well, little fellow, she might. And the tour is "We, The Women's" House Beautiful Tour Friday from 4 to 6 p.m. And you, little fellow, will be on hand to greet a lot of guests when they reach YOUR house! (For details and pictures of the Tour, see Page 16.)

Polls Open 8 A.M. Morning Parade Set

Absentee ballots cast in Littlefield's option election set Saturday totaled 157 at the 5 p.m. deadline Tuesday, according to deputies in the county clerk's office which was designated as headquarters for absentee voting.

However, deputies said additional votes could arrive by mail.

According to the election code ballots sent by mail are valid if postmarked not later than midnight of the third day preceding the election and received in the clerk's office not later than 10 a.m. on the second day before election. Deputy clerks said 29 such votes were possible according to county records.

Based on the 157 ballots reported, a large turnout can be expected at the polls Saturday. On many occasions, 157 has been considered a fair to good turnout on absentee balloting from the entire county. The current election involves only bonafide residents within the city limits of Littlefield.

If a voter is "for" legalizing, he will mark out the phrase beginning with "Against." If he is "against" legalizing, he will mark out the phrase beginning with "For."

In addition with the election, the "Concerned Citizens" organization has scheduled a parade at 9 a.m. Saturday in downtown Littlefield. Floats, decorated cars and other participants will make up the parade. Other communities are expected to be represented in the event.

The parade will form in the City's parking lot across from Pioneer Food Market. Streets will not be blocked off but officers will work intersections. Traffic signals on Phelps will be set as blinkers until the parade has passed.

Count Hikes As Cities Approve Tax

At least 50 cities in Texas approved the one per cent sales tax during elections Tuesday, with 12 cities rejecting the issue.

Until Tuesday, 35 cities had favored the sales tax and two had voted against it, Electra and Lufkin.

The count, as of the close of voting Tuesday, stood at approximately 85 cities approving the issue and 14 against.

An Associated Press release said Dallas and Fort Worth suburban cities were the ones turning down the proposal Tuesday. Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston were among those approving the issue.

Lamesa's election is set Saturday, and Muleshoe will vote Dec. 16.

Toys Sought For The Needy

Toys of all kinds are needed here by the Salvation Army, according to Capt. Harvey Harwell.

Dolls are needed but are not required to be dressed.

Capt. Harwell said any individual or organization wishing to help dress dolls is invited to do so. Persons or groups interested in dressing dolls may contact Capt. Harwell, Mrs. John Vrabel, Mrs. Oscar Wilemon or Mrs. George White.

All contributions "will be appreciated," Capt. Harwell said, including canned foods, clothing, etc.

About 100 families are expected to receive baskets of toys, food and clothing for Christmas.

Persons knowing needy families are asked to contact Capt. Harwell.

Chisholm Trail Car Plates Visit Here

Are you a descendant of a Chisholm Trail driver? In this year is the question Lamb County Historical Committee members are asking nowadays.

The Chisholm Trail Centennial Museum Car will be in Littlefield, at the Santa Fe Depot, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Lamb County Historical Committee is seeking descendants of trail drivers to assist in ceremonies that day.

A meeting is scheduled today at 2:30 p.m. in the XIT Room of Security State Bank for members of the committee to make plans for the museum car's visit.

Tentative plans call for city and county officials to take part in events during the car's stay in Littlefield.

This year marks the centennial celebration - 1867-1967 -- of the founding of the Chisholm trail. Two men, Jesse Chisholm and Joseph G. McCoy, played key parts in the establishment and success of the famed cattle trail.

A dream for a mobile museum commemorating the Chisholm Trail became a reality under the auspices of the Santa Fe Railroad, states Roger Conner, chairman of the Texas Chisholm Trail Centennial Commission and member of the Tri-State Commission.

POINT 3 - FINANCING

So You Want Industry

(Editor's Note: The following story is third in a five-part series provided by Texas Industrial Commission. Although Littlefield already has accomplished many of these recommendations, there still are further steps to take.)

by JAMES J. KELLY
Assistant Executive Director
Texas Industrial Commission

THE FINAL CRITERIA for industry when seeking a new location is profitability. A very major factor in any industry's evaluation of the profitability of a potential operation in your town is how the site or building (or both) in which they are interested can be financed.

About 80 per cent of all industries locating in Texas do not own their facilities.

Most of them hold some combination of leases on the land and buildings. The terms of the lease are of utmost importance to any industry's profitability -- what the amount of rent is, what immediate and future improvements will be made by the owners, what the options to renew the lease are, and perhaps what about the option to buy the building at a later date.

There are a lot of conditions to take into consideration. And you can count on it that the new industry for which your community has waited so long will be in a terrible hurry to get things finalized.

If a town down the highway offers approximately the same advantages that you do, can also offer a financing plan that provides for occupancy 60 days earlier than yours, and a lower rental price -- well, chances are that you can kiss that industrial prospect goodbye.

THAT IS WHY it is vital for an Industrial Development Committee courting an industry to be able to offer that industry a "package deal" regarding the land, the building, any necessary improvements, and all other aspects of financing. Ideally this package deal should be ready and waiting, so that it can be applied to any of your candidate industries with only minor revisions.

When an industry says "we like your town, and we find the Smith Street building suitable; what kind of financing can you offer?", your Industrial Development Committee should answer without hesitation -- "Gentlemen, here's our package."

How do you get in this favorable, strong prepared position? The first thing is to know and be familiar with the workings of all the basic sources of industrial development financing, such as

Commercial Banks
Savings and Loan Associations
Mortgage Companies
Insurance Companies
Investment Bankers
Small Business Administration

THERE ARE OTHERS, but these are the most important. Also the I. D. Committee must find out and constantly keep abreast of the current rates for money from these various institutions.

In Texas, especially in the larger communities, the most common source of land and buildings for industrial development has been investor builders.

LeROYCE SHAW

Shaw Receives Distinguished Service Order

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) LeRoyce Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maehon Q. Shaw of Rt. 1, Bula, was awarded the Navy Distinguished Service Order Second Class by the Vietnamese Government.

The presentation was made by General Vien of the Republic of Vietnam during ceremonies aboard the attack aircraft carrier, USS Coral Sea.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "As maintenance control officer with Attack Squadron 155 from May to December 1966, Lieutenant Shaw displayed exemplary industry and skill in the areas of supervision and coordination connected with his assignment while his unit conducted operations against the enemy."

A graduate of Tipton High School in Tipton, Okla., Lieutenant Shaw entered the service in April 1951.

In Texas, especially in the larger communities, the most common source of land and buildings for industrial development has been investor builders.

These individuals are often willing to buy the land, build the building and extend the necessary utilities; then own the building and lease it to the locating industry under a package deal arrangement.

In other communities, an industrial foundation is set up to do much the same things as the individual investor builder.

Such a foundation acts as an industrial development "bank" for the community. It is an organization of private citizens, operating with privately subscribed funds, set up for the purpose of improving the community's economy through offering material assistance to existing or prospective industrial firms. The industrial foundation can be a profit-making organization, but most in Texas are non-profit corporations whose ownership is widely based among the community's citizens. There are presently some 225 of these foundations in Texas.

THE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION, once it is established, has funds and sources of credit, can function in the same way as the investor builder -- finding the best financing, building the building through

According to the election code, ballots will read, "For the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only," and "Against the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only."

Voters will scratch out the proposition they do not favor.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE of Sunday School and church since Dec. 19, 1965, was recognized Sunday by presenting a plaque to Mr. and Mrs. P. S. (Doc) Dean, left, of 601 E. 15th, in ceremonies preceding the 11 a.m. worship service at First Assembly of God Church. Making the presentation was Jerry Austin, right, Sunday School superintendent.

DOWNTOWN LITTLEFIELD has been bustling with shoppers this week, with streets lined with parked cars and filled with moving traffic. As more and more Christmas decorations become complete, the spirit of Yuletide grows with them, and shoppers are busy buying gifts for family and friends.

Junior HD Club Meets In Anton

ANTON - Junior Home Demonstration Club met recently in the Home Economics Department with Mrs. Ruby Williams giving a program on candlemaking.

Attending the class were Mmes. Foy Mills, Louis Strehlow, Bill Molder, Buddy Spears, Bill Prentiss and Bob Harrell, members; and five visitors, Mmes. Rex Easter, Hobe Parker, W. G. McGrew, J. C. Hodges and W. M. Alexander.

Each person made one or more candles and will meet Tuesday to put the finishing touches on them.

The club also plans to attend three scheduled programs on Christmas foods and wrapping packages.

Anyone interested in attending these meetings may call any of the members.

Methodists Attend District Meeting

SPADE - Several members of the Spade Methodist Church went to New Home Tuesday, Nov. 28 to attend the meeting of the District conference of the Brownfield district of Methodist churches.

The meeting was held all day with registration starting at 9:45 a.m. Communion was held at 11, and Dr. Jordan Groom of Brownfield, districts superintendent was in charge of the meeting.

Following the lunch hour, the business session was held, and reports were given.

Those attending from the local church were the pastor, Rev. Ellis Langsdon, Mrs. O. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McQuatters, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gray, Mrs. Leroy Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Srygley, C. C. Byars, and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Caldwell.

MR. AND MRS. C.F. MCCORMICK

Wedding Anniversary Scheduled Sunday

Children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. McCormick have extended an invitation to the public to attend a reception honoring their parents on their 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday, Dec. 10, from 2 - 4:30 p.m. at Forrest Heights Methodist Church, 3007 33rd Street in Lubbock.

Hosting the event are Mrs. Grover Dinges of Littlefield, Mrs. Roger Poff, Mrs. Ione Hewitt, Mrs. C. H. Foley and Mrs. Gene Edwards all of Lubbock, and the couple's children and grandchildren.

C. F. McCormick married Hazel Inez Dowell Dec. 9, 1917 in the bride's grandparent's home in Red River County near Detroit, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick moved to Littlefield in the fall of 1936 and lived here until August of 1957 when McCormick became custodian of Forrest Heights Methodist Church. He retired this year in August.

While in Littlefield, McCormick was employed with an oil mill, had a service station, ran the Southside Laundry and did carpenter work.

Registering the guests for the anniversary celebration will be Pamela Heard, granddaughter of the couple.

Serving will be Linda McCormick and Kay Young, granddaughters, and Mrs. Roger Poff, Mrs. T. H. Foley, Mrs. Gene Edwards and Mrs. Ione Hewitt.

The bride's serving table is to be decorated with a white cloth with gold-crystal appointments with three tiered cake and punch. The groom's serving table is to be spread with white cloth topped with open Bible cake and coffee.

The couple has one son, Leroy McCormick, of Littlefield and one daughter, Mrs. Dan Heard of Dimmitt.

They have five grandchildren,

AMY'S ADLIBS

The Quija

By Amy Turner

DEAR QUIJA, can you tell me . . . ? And I remember, as a child, that the old Quija board always, mysteriously, seemed to come up with the right answer.

masonite with a plastic indicator. Of course, the deluxe models are made of wood.

HOW CAN it do that?

Skeptics say the answer is simple. The users are either consciously or subconsciously sliding the indicator.

They insist that it is just for amusement, people buy it by the carload and go right on believing what they want.

The truth of the matter is, you don't tell people what to believe because you know it won't do you a darn bit of good.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Limit Regrets

BY BOB WEAR

IT IS VERY IMPORTANT to us and our well-being that we so manage our daily living that there will be a minimum of regrets as we move along from day to day.

If our behavior is such that our regrets multiply, we are increasing a burden that no one can carry successfully.

WHEN THERE IS REGRET, there is distress of mind, there is sorrow for what has been lost, and for mistakes that have been made.

When it does, the load of life will be increased by another heavy burden, and it will be a burden that could have been prevented.

THE POINT is that most, perhaps all, of the causes of regret can be avoided.

WE MAY, occasionally, have the chance to partially correct the action that has produced our regret.

OF COURSE, it is a mistake to wallow around in the bog of remorse.

In some instances, there will be no such chance; however, when there is, we should certainly use it.

NEVERTHELESS, after we have done our best to overcome regrets, we will often find them pushing their way to the forefront of our thoughts.

"JUST WHAT certain segment?" "Ask my boss, lady. Please, which of the three ways do you feel?"

IT IS SO MUCH better for us to be thoughtful, careful and watchful in our daily experiences so that our behavior will leave little or no basis for future regrets.

"First, exactly why did Britain have to devalue?" "Several reasons, one of which is that she produced and exported less than she bought and imported."

IN THIS connection, it is important to remember that when our actions do cause regrets, we must let the regrets contribute to the refinement of our character.

"Now this is the same as if my family bought more furniture, appliances and clothes than we grew and sold cotton, grain and soybeans?"

WE MAY NOT be able to so order and direct our lives that our memories and retrospections are completely free of regrets; however, it seems that we should be able to keep them to a satisfactory minimum.

"Sort of the same. Another reason is that her laborers stoutly resisted modernization of industry and continuously struck for higher and higher wages and got them."

PAUL HARVEY SAYS

Successful Marriage

WHAT'S THE STICKUM that holds some marriages together?

ber, 1967, these dozen couples were celebrating the most years together.

In an era when statistics say 40 per cent of all marriages end in divorce (though this figure should be and is not adjusted for "repeaters"), how come many mates live to celebrate their golden wedding day?

In West Palm Beach, Fla., the Dobsons, 58 years. He's a long-time Presbyterian minister.

I've been watching for some common denominator in these durable partnerships. What is it that distinguishes the firm hitch from the slipknots?

Longmont, Colo., Frona and Ben Clark "We've been honeymooning for 67 years . . . regularly attend the Methodist Church."

With medicine extending human life, more and more Americans are happy-ever-aftering for 70-plus years together. Is there a secret? Is there a "factor X" in some marriages which enables them to survive the internal and external pressures which cause so many to fly apart?

In Mars, Pa., Olive and Kline Jordan, 59 years. "Kline still sings in the Methodist Church choir."

I think there is.

(I presume the fact that so many Methodists married in November so long ago is coincidence.)

I HAVE INVITED information on the most-married couples this year.

MARGARET and Ed Martin of Portland, Ore., married 60 years. Ed is a retired Baptist minister.

It seemed wholesome to focus a little attention on these in an effort to counteract the most publicized divorces, that we might keep our perspective.

In Tampa, Fla., Pearl and Clarence Patch, 62 years. "A leader of his church . . ."

To ignore the sunshine side of the ledger is to leave the impression that all marriages end in court, and most still don't.

In Dorchester, Mass., the William Pickering, 65 years. " . . . sincere Christian witness."

Daily, local newspapers nationwide have advised my office when local couples passed significant milestones.

In Battle Creek, Mich., the Floyd Skidmores, 65 years "wonderfully compatible," active members of the First Congregational Church.

CAREFUL SCRUTINY of these, seeking common denominators, has revealed only one: most are triangles.

Booneville, Mo., the John Lohses, 69 years of "happy-ever-aftering, faithful in church attendance."

DURING A DOZEN DAYS in early November,

GEOGRAPHICALLY, no pattern apparent. No single national origin predominates. Only one common denominator and it is a conspicuous one: these are the couples "whom God hath joined."

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

OWNERS REPORT

By Bill Turner

A LETTER we received the other day stated thusly: "This probably will not be printed for I know you don't like to print straight talk . . ."

Seems to me straight talk deserves some straight answers.

Ordinarily, I don't answer letters to the editor in any way. I've always felt a person should be able to have his say without the newspaper having the last crack at him.

Also, ordinarily, we refuse to print any portion of a letter when the writer's identity cannot be established.

SO I'M BREAKING a pair of my rules on this column. I've printed just a sentence from such a letter, and I'd like to straighten it straight talk a little.

First, let me apologize in advance to John Lipscomb of Rt. 2, Littlefield, if indeed he does exist. We aren't printing his letter because we can't locate him.

The people who deliver mail to that area haven't heard of him. He doesn't buy electricity from Lamb County Electric or SWPS. The records of the county don't reveal him and none of our other sources know a John Lipscomb to Rt. 2, Littlefield.

I've about come to the conclusion that we just don't have a straight name, or if we do, we apparently don't have a straight address.

JOHN LIPSCOMB, whoever he is, is one smart fellow, though. He must have realized that the best way to get a letter printed in a newspaper is to assume that it "probably won't be printed."

Most of the time, we go overboard to print those kind. We always do our damndest to print every letter, critical or praise-filled, so long as they comply with the rules and are not libelous.

Mr. Lipscomb is smart in another way, too. He asks at the end of the letter to "please withhold name."

If there were a John Lipscomb of Rt. 2, Littlefield, that we could identify, we naturally would print his full letter and withhold his name from publication.

Since we aren't revealing the jist of what he had to say, I believe we are within our rights to print his name and ask him to come forward and identify himself.

But back to the idea that Mr. Lipscomb is smart in asking his name to be withheld. Looking at it from our point of view, you would assume that someone who wanted his name protected does, indeed, exist. Why, if it's a fictitious name, would anyone ask that it be withheld?

I think John Lipscomb of Rt. 2, Littlefield, thought of that, believing we might print the letter even though we could not establish identity.

At any rate, Mr. Lipscomb asked for straight talk to be printed, and I believe my thoughts have been put down in a straightforward manner.

Like I said, if there is a John Lipscomb of Rt. 2, Littlefield, I'll be the first to apologize. I'm even ready to print his picture in the paper, complete with public apology, if he'd just come forward.

But I really don't think he will.

If we can just find a gym big enough for him to play in, we'll be alright.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

'Tied In Knots'

BY LIBBY MUDGETT

BEST FRIEND GRASSIE was approached with fear and trepidation by the same national pollster that interviewed her once before.

hands to our bankers, all right, and even crawled on our bellies. However, our bankers must be smarter than those international ones. Ours know the value of every last piece of equipment we have on the farm and they're not about to loan one penny more than all of it is worth.

"My boss feels that you represent a certain segment of the grass roots or, believe me, madam, I would not be here."

"BACK to the question, Mrs. Roots. How do you feel about the future soundness of our gold-based dollar?"

"JUST WHAT certain segment?" "Ask my boss, lady. Please, which of the three ways do you feel?"

"Just a minute, sonny. Run over those reasons that led to the sad state of the pound again briefly."

"First, exactly why did Britain have to devalue?" "Several reasons, one of which is that she produced and exported less than she bought and imported."

"Please, Mrs. Roots, I have other interviews to make!" "Lissen, do you want an answer or not? I've got cotton to tromp myself."

"Now this is the same as if my family bought more furniture, appliances and clothes than we grew and sold cotton, grain and soybeans?"

"Okay, but please pay attention. She produced and exported less than she bought and imported. She did not modernize her factories. She allowed her laborers to strike for, demand and get higher and higher wages. She tried to keep her defense commitments all over the world. She continued to give millions to foreign aid. She kept borrowing money until she had borrowed more than what she owned was worth."

"Sort of the same. Another reason is that her laborers stoutly resisted modernization of industry and continuously struck for higher and higher wages and got them."

"NOW how would you say she could do that last thing?" "She kept raising her debt ceiling."

"NOW THIS would be the same as our farm hands demanding higher wages than we could afford to pay them and us giving into them?"

"That sounds like the United States. Come to think of it, young man, a lot of those things sounds like the United States."

"Would that be the same as us not using chemical weed killers because hoe hands didn't want us to or investing in cotton strippers because hand pullers cried out against it?"

"COME NOW, Mrs. Roots. You promised me an answer."

"In a way. Another reason is that to the very last, England tried frantically to keep up her pretensions of being a great world power—upholding large worldwide defense commitments, giving millions to foreign aid, etc. etc."

"What wore those three categories I had a choice of?" "Not worried at all, mildly worried, or deeply concerned."

BITS AND PIECES

Dear Santa

HOMALU HOOD

A FEW DAYS ago Mom, chewing a pencil and with her face twisted in anguish, was sitting at the dining room table laboring over her Christmas list.

There was a look of desperation in her eyes when she turned toward me -- I was in the living room -- and almost shouted.

"What DO you want for Christmas?? Can't you think of anything?" "Uh-huh."

"Well -- WHAT?" "A six-months paid vacation."

THE ANGUISH changed to that urge-to-kill look, so I decided I'd better be more helpful.

"Okay, Mom," I said. "I'll try to think of something I really want."

DEAR SANTA: Please bring my Mom the know-how to paint a pansy and a yellow rose. This would be very helpful to the peace and quiet around our house.

Please bring me a better disposition. I'm beginning to get on my nerves.

Please bring me a large supply of ESP-- so I can sit at my desk and write up meetings, meetings, meetings while they are being held.

Please bring me a camera that works. Please bring me a typewriter that doesn't make so many mistakes.

Please bring me a nicer vocabulary when the phone rings off the hook.

Please bring me the consciousness to listen when Mom is talking. Sometimes she is telling me something.

Please bring me the impulse to glance at the clock and remember to go home to lunch at 1 p.m. I have a sneaking suspicion that might make for added household harmony.

AND, speaking of patience -- Please, Santa, bring Mom and Doc the patience to put up with ME.

DEAR EDITOR

What Will Go On?

Dear Editor,
I am 14 and too young to vote in the upcoming election, but in my opinion, what is the difference whether Littlefield goes wet, or stays dry? I can buy any kind of alcoholic beverages I want to, no questions asked. Some of the people writing in and talking about our 'future leaders' and our 'poor children' ought to have their heads examined. These 'poor children' can and DO buy liquor easier than the grownups of River City, Littlefield, Texas. If they think that junior is a little angel, well, there is something wrong there too.

Many of the 'prominent' citizens of Littlefield keep some kind of liquor in their homes. Do you residents of Littlefield think the fresh beer bottle on your front yard grew there overnight?
Another thing is the law. (City and County Officials) if Littlefield is supposed to be dry, then why isn't it?

I am no angel, and I'll admit it, but at least my parents don't try to cover for me. I wish to thank the Editor for publishing this letter.
No matter if you vote WET or DRY, you haven't changed anything.

Vote As You Want
Dear Editor,
To the People of Littlefield.
I have heard from reliable sources of people being fired and threats of removing them from the church, for their right to vote as they see fit.
It seems that the people of Littlefield have forgotten what people have fought for since the beginning of time. A lot of good men have died so that you could vote as you see fit not as your Preacher or Employer sees fit.
So I say vote as you want, not as you're told. Be Americans Not Communist.
Sincerely

The Golden Rule
Dear Editor:
"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." Matthew 7:12.
Let's take all of the Gospel, it is the golden rule. Read Matt. 24:29-51, the Lord may be delaying his coming to let all repent. God loves you and wants to forgive. "Watch ye therefore and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to stand before the Son of man" Luke 21:36.
"And take heed to yourselves lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting (carousing) and drunkenness and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unaware" Luke 21:34. Paul says in Romans 13:13 "All are to walk honestly, not in rioting and drunkenness".
Look also at 1 Corinthians 5:11 and 1 Cor. 6:10, Galations 5:21 Drunkenness prevents men from inheriting the Kingdom of God. "And be not drunk with wine but be filled with the Spirit" Ephesians 5:18.

I have felt led of the Lord to write these four letters in our County paper concerning the great issue confronting all of us.
In a previous letter, words were used incorrectly that could have hurt. I am sorry that it became openly personal, and ask forgiveness, but my convictions are only what I can read from the Bible.
I John 4:8-11, Please see those reference that is God's Holy Word.
R. L. Tisdale,

one of the 800 which according to my (not modern) you have paid $0.1625 per share. Certainly appeared to be a waste of money as I believe the majority would have voted if they signed should you have asked, would it be we no longer believe in majority? I vote and what I sign is my business. I vote and what you sign is yours. America, let's keep it that way.
Sincerely,
M. J. Cotter

OFFICIAL LHS NEWSPAPER
THE SKAT

LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL, LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

THE CAGERS, who participated in the Slaton Invitational Tournament during November 30 through December 2, came back with a victorious third place trophy. Tomorrow night they will go to Tullia at 8:00 to give battle on the courts. The boys standing left to right are Gary Nace, Coach James Duncan, Dan Bryson, Roy Burk, Kevin Hutson, and Kenneth Horn. Kneeling left to right are Bobby Colbert, Eddie Hickman, Lonell Thompson, and Joe Ross. December 12 will mark the first home game for the Cagers when they take on Denver City at 8:00. This is first case trophy for LHS since a 1963 victory.

Chilling Weather Adds To F.F.A. Turkey Shoot

The Future Farmers of America held a turkey shoot December 2 and 3, one half mile west on the Clovis Highway or opposite the Tide plant. In the brisk and chilling afternoons from 2 o'clock till dark, experts and maybe not quite so expert shots alike battled it out for turkeys and hams. The prices were: $2.00 for five people, $1.00 for ten to compete, and partners could also shoot. Hot coffee and other refreshments were sold. Also 12 and 16 gauge shot-gun shells could be obtained.

The next 'battle for the turkey' is scheduled for December 10 and 17. Everyone is invited to come out and have a try for a nice Christmas turkey or ham.

BACK COURT

By KEN HORN

Basketball season is here again, and so it is in Littlefield, as the 1967-68 Wildcat cagers already post a 2-2 win-loss record.

The Wildcats lost first to the Muleshoe Mules 59-34 in the Littlefield season opener. This was the second game for Mules, and also their first win of the infant season.

Kevin Hutson, high point man for the Wildcats, fouled out in the third quarter with nine points. Dan Bryson also ran out of fouls.

Other respectable showings were turned in by Roy Burk and Joe Ross.

Joe Ross was taken to the hospital during the game for a dislocated shoulder. He was in full speed, though, in the Wednesday workout.

The Littlefield cage squad traveled to Slaton Thursday for a double elimination tournament.

In the first game, Littlefield matched their skills with the Roosevelt Eagles. The Wildcats defeated the Eagles by the score of 51-37. Center, Kevin Hutson, accounted for high point honors with a total of fifteen points. Advancing into the second round of play, the Wildcat combo was tested against the host team, Slaton.

In an overtime game which could have easily gone either way, found the Wildcats on the short end of the final score by two points.

In the final seconds of regulation play, Kevin Hutson was fouled in an attempt to shoot. Hutson missed his first charity shot, but evened the score by ripping the chords into a 39-39 final. Slaton shot out the Wildcats in the three minute overtime to win 45-43. Kevin Hutson was accredited with fourteen points.

Outstanding defensive showings were turned in by Dan Bryson and Joe Ross with twelve points.

It was Abernathy against Littlefield in the final day of the tournament. The Wildcats confined the Antelopes to win 42-30 to cap the third place trophy of the Slaton Invitational Tournament.

Kevin Hutson again had top honors as he had a total of seventeen points. Roy Burk had fourteen and Joe Ross accounted for twelve.

The 6'4" senior was chosen as an outstanding player in the tournament. Hutson had a total of 46 points for the three game series, and played a very tough defensive game.

The 1967 3-AAA All-District team was released last week with two top Wildcat graders taking top honors, and four players taking honorable mentions.

The speedy halfback, Mike Grissom, was named to the top eleven offensive starters and was also named as second team deep back.

Kevin Hutson was selected for All-District end, and also honorable mention linebacker.

Those making honorable mention were Jim Hutson, offensive guard, and Windell Ashley as defensive guard; Roy Burk as a deepback and quarterback; and Larry Durham as defensive and offensive tackle.

We say congratulations!

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT prevails in the Art class of Mrs. Ward. Miss Debbie Dutton is shown here checking the arrangement of a huge grape cluster made into a hanging light. Ward says her classes are enthusiastic about making gifts as these to please their friends.

Artists Busily Preparing Christmas Delights

Could it be Santa's Workshop? No, it is Mrs. A. D. Ward's art classes, busy as elves, preparing holiday delights. An assembly line of the preparations for making colorful grape clusters can be seen. The contents of the grapes are resin, color (transparent, opaque, or pearl), and the catalyst that will harden them. The mixture is poured into glass molds which are broken upon drying. Holes are bored in the grapes and wires inserted. The wires fit into holes bored in a wooden stem and artificial leaves are added. The dull gray articles lying on shelves do not look like much until the magic of bright color is applied. The paper mache can be hand-molded into many beautiful gifts. Ideas for Christmas presents, such as rings, pens, and bracelets, dance through the students' minds. Some artists experiment with paper mache ashtrays, others create delicate Christmas tree ornaments.

Several students show originality by industriously creating enormous candleholders. Bowls, jam jars, and glasses are experimentally stacked in an attempt to please shape. When the glue is decided upon, the student and tape the glass contents together. Paper mache is then applied. After 24 hours, the candleholders are lightly sanded and painted. A number of elves seen shredding paraffin candlemaking. The wax is melted over a low flame, poured into molds. Another candle is created by the paraffin with a mixer.

Mrs. Ward urges her students to greater creativity by experimentation with the original ideas.

Banquet And Contest To Be Held By FFA

The district Future Farmers of America banquet and sweetheart contest will be held at Littlefield High School on December 11. Fifteen schools will be involved in the banquet and contest.

The Area I FFA president from Cal Harley's Boys' Ranch will be the guest speaker at the 7:30 banquet in the high school cafeteria. He will speak on vocational agriculture and the activities of the FFA chapter at the Boys' Ranch. Entertainment will be provided by the Springlake Stage Band.

After the banquet, entertainment will be furnished by the sweetheart contest in the high school auditorium. Littlefield's candidate in the contest will be Debbie Dutton, prom heart, and her assistant, V. Hall, D'lowgirl. Mr. Finis Branham, sponsor, showed great enthusiasm for the coming event. He wished Littlefield's candidate the best of luck and said "May the best girl win!"

Band Members Try For All-Region Today

Today is set as the date for All-Region Band tryouts which will be held at Texas Tech at 6:30 p.m. Those trying out are Bettye Holt-alto clarinet, Nancy Keeling-bass clarinet, Diane Kelsey-bass clarinet, Judy Diersing-bass clarinet, Janie McBride-flute, Pam Cox-flute, Connie Wimberly-flute, Pat Chandler-clarinet, Tonya Bingham-clarinet, Leroy Smith-tuba, Nancy Hall-bassoon, Candace

Creep Your Way To Success

By SANDY PENN

Would you like to have higher grades in school? Of course, everyone would! Have you ever heard of creeping? It may sound silly, but it works.

A large business firm sent several of its salesmen, some of them with stuttering problems, that were not doing as well as they should, to The Institute for the Achievement of the Human Potential in Philadelphia for a cross-pattern creeping program. The men attended this program for a few weeks. The ones who stuttered began to talk plain. The only problem the firm had with this program was the loss of all these salesmen. All of these men quit their jobs at this firm and found better jobs with a higher salary.

A baby's brain is developed by a series of crawling, creeping, and then walking patterns.

The creeping has to be done in the right manner or it will not be as effective as it could be. The opposite hand and knee should strike the floor at exactly the same time. Your head should rotate slightly with each step as you are to look at each forward hand as it strikes the floor. The result is a simultaneous hand-knee-and-eye function.

As the cross-pattern creeping becomes smooth and serialized, the following refinements are made:

1. Knees are lifted between each step but feet are dragged along, remaining in constant contact with the floor.
2. Knees are never allowed to cross. They should move forward in two parallel lines.
3. Hands should point forward and palms should be flat on the floor.
4. The head and neck must turn. It is not sufficient to have the eyes rotate from hand to hand.
5. Creeping should be done without any socks or shoes on.

This creeping will be more effective if it is done regularly. Approximately 10 minutes a day could raise your average one letter grade over a period of six weeks.

Several things can be helped by this cross-pattern creeping. It helps all your mobility. It corrects walking defects such as being pigeon-toed, it helps eye sight, and has a soothing effect on your brain.

There are several instances of the help cross-pattern creeping has given to people and it can help you too. Try it for a while. It is only ten minutes out of your day and it can help you in all respects. You will get what you put into it.

Heritage Of Littlefield Schools Dates Back To Early 1900's

The growth of a school depends upon its surroundings. So it is with the Littlefield schools. Littlefield is surrounded with a vast territory of productive soil which has influenced people to move to this territory. Col. G. W. Littlefield, the owner of 300,000 acre Yellow House Ranch, decided to sell some of the land. He established the Yellow House Land Company under the management of A. P. Duggan, Sr. on January 10, 1913, he dedicated the townsite consisting of seventy-seven residential and twenty industrial blocks. The town was named in his honor.

July 4, 1913, the townsite was put on sale. This brought people from the surrounding country and many from other states of the United States and Canada. This was a great occasion, as a fourth of July picnic and rodeo were presented. Many of the visitors and prospectors rode in on the first train to run to Littlefield. They came a day early to be sure to be on time to ride the first train which ran on the third of July.

Col. Littlefield, as well as the few people who had moved into her bounds, realized the need of a school in the newly dedicated town. He had a small house constructed to serve as school and church. The people took up a subscription and secured Willie Armstrong to teach their first school from April through June 1913.

As the times progressed, bonds were voted for a bigger and better school building. Today that early beginning has blossomed into a modern four-school complex.

SKAT STAFF

The SKAT is edited by the second period journalism students of LHS and published each Thursday by The Leader-News without expense to the school or taxpayers.

In 1943 Purriss Williams was elected superintendent. After Williams had been re-elected for the next year, some disagreements arose between him and a large number of high school students. The contentions grew worse until the students put on a walk out strike against the superintendent. As things were, the school board had to step in. After a called meeting Williams resigned his position. Following the agreement, Mrs. Pat Boone, a local resident and teacher, was selected to take his place. She served for the rest of the term and did a commendable job.

Fred Miller took the job in 1944. After his resignation, Joe C. Hutchinson was elected to take the superintendency. Following Hutchinson were Haida Pierce, Ralph Shillings, Glenn Reeves, Paul Manning, and our present superintendent Paul I. Jones.

Our school has grown through the years into what it is today. It may not be the highest ranked in the state or the prettiest, but it is ours. We have our school because the early pioneers cared about the education of their children. Men and women will continue to improve our school, for it will never die.

From The Council

"Why did you want to be on the Student Council? What is the purpose of the Council? Are you, as a member fulfilling this purpose?" Mrs. JoAnn Jordan, sponsor, asked these questions to the LHS Student Council members this week.

On the committee appointed to revise the Constitution of the Littlefield High School Student Council are Danny Butler, Jan Christian, Donnie Heard, Jane Hyatt, Steve Owens, and Cheryl Reast. The major concern for revision is membership, as a school of our size needs to be better represented by class members. It was proposed that we elect four representatives from each class instead of two as is currently being done.

Because of a crowded schedule, the date of the Athletic Banquet was changed from February 24 to March 16. Janie McBride and Shannon Traugott are making plans on what form of entertainment will be used at the banquet.

In Harms Manner

By LEONA HARMS

Whenever I have a chance to read I usually grab the nearest thing. This time I found a February 1958 issue of Reader's Digest. While looking through it I came across an article entitled "Wild Wisdom." It contained several human interest stories concerning animals. Here is one by S. S. Estes of Ottawa, Ontario.

"While I was with the Royal Canadian Air Force we were assigned one day to fly Operation Caribou. In bad winters the caribou are hardpressed to find enough food to survive, and the herds migrate southward. Operation Caribou's job was to locate the migrating animals and drop tons of hay for them. About 400 miles north of Winnipeg we located a large herd. Many of them were lying down, evidently too weak to stand. When we dropped hay near them, the animals that were lying down made no attempt to get up. But as we circled and watched, we saw an extraordinary sight: several of the stronger caribou walked over to the hay, picked up some in their mouths and laid it in front of their helpless companions before feeding themselves."

After reading this, I applied it to humanity, and what one man will do for another... or will he? How many times have we given assistance to someone in need, someone sick, or lost at the death of a loved one?

Do we only think of ourselves first; never giving a second thought to the fellow next to us? Christmas season is nearing, you know, with thoughts of large heaping plates of food for the noon day meal, dozens and dozens of sweet pastries, and turkey or ham permeating the rooms with their fragrant scent. Have we stopped, just once, and thought about our fellowman? I rather doubt it, but there is still time to share the joys and blessings of a Yuletide season, so why not take a moment out of your day to do so?

MEET THE SKAT REPORTERS. These girls are viewing a copy of last week's SKAT. Each reporter has one or two stories to do each week and must have them in by Friday. On Mondays,

OBITUARIES

George Arthur Staggers

Genuine pioneer in helping open up the western part of Texas, George Arthur Staggers, 101, died recently at Corpus Christi, was a long-time Littlefield resident.

Staggers, who made the Cherokee run in 1892 that opened up Oklahoma territory, died Nov. 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Duane Orr of Corpus Christi, where he had lived since he died in 1956.

Staggers, who had sustained a lengthy illness, was born in Morgantown, W. Va., April 4, 1866. When he was 16, his father, a school teacher, took the family to Kansas. On Nov. 26, Staggers lined up on his horse several hundred other persons to dash across the famous Cherokee Strip.

He staked his claim near Lamont, Okla., and built a dugout that was to serve as his home for several years.

In 1894 he took his bride there and their two children were born in the dugout. By the time the other six children came, he had managed to build a small house on the dugout.

Later he sold the claim and took up farming in Littlefield. He retired 33 years ago. He was a life member of Littlefield Masonic Lodge No. 1161, and a member of the Order of Eastern Star Chapter and council, Scottish Rite Body and the Order of the Shrine.

For several years after moving to Corpus Christi 12 years ago, Staggers rode a bicycle every day, pitched horse shoes and attended meetings of each chapter of Masons.

Funeral services and burial were in Littlefield, Okla.

Surviving besides Mrs. Orr are two other daughters, Mrs. Albert Heusel of Carnegie, Okla., and Mrs. T. J. Prichard of Camp, Calif.; four sons, Farnum Staggers of Littlefield, Okla., Harvey Staggers of Abilene, Okla., Staggers of Tonkawa, Okla., and Ken Staggers of Medford, Ore.; two sisters, Mrs. Caroline Rowland of Fort Smith, Ark., and Mrs. Hazel Chappell of Decatur, Ill.; two brothers, Henry Staggers of New Kirk, Okla., and Pearl Staggers of Winfield, Kan.; 18 grandchildren; 47 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

B.G. Hendrickson

Funeral services for B. G. Hendrickson, 62, of Plainview, former Littlefield resident, who died Saturday morning in a Plainview hospital, were held Monday afternoon in Plainview's First Christian Church.

Officiating minister was Rev. Ralph Graham, pastor.

Burial was in Plainview Memorial Park, directed by Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

A native of Collins County, Mo., Mr. Hendrickson left Littlefield in 1958 to move to Plainview. He was a district superintendent for Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Sabin Hendrickson of Amarillo; a daughter, Cynthia Ann Hendrickson of the home; a sister Mrs. Bessie Brown of Bethany, Okla., and three grandchildren.

Herndon Pace

Herndon Pace, 89, of Amherst, died Friday in an Amherst Hospital and funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Amherst Church of Christ with Leonard Tittle, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Amherst Cemetery, directed by Payne Funeral Home.

A retired farmer, Mr. Pace had lived in the Amherst area since 1929.

Surviving are his wife; a son, James Pace of Dallas; two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Logan of Amherst and Mrs. Laura Bell Coleman of Buena Vista, Va.; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Olton Guild Has Meeting

OLTON—Olton Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild met in regular bi-monthly session Tuesday evening, Nov. 28, in the home of Mrs. Earl Robertson.

Mrs. Gerald Bizzell presided over the business meeting where plans were made for the Christmas party which will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 12 at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Glenn Singleterry.

Mrs. Earl Roberts on gave the devotional, Mrs. Tommy Nelson gave the invocation, and Mrs. R. H. Campbell brought the program which was the conclusion of a study on Japan.

Other members present were Mrs. Bob Daugherty, Mrs. Delmer Givens, Mrs. Gene Trotter, and Mrs. Glenn Singleterry. Refreshments were served.

Week Of Prayer Being Observed

AMHERST -- Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions is being observed at Amherst's First Baptist Church Dec. 3 to 10.

W. M. U. circles are presenting the programs each day and the Lottie Moon Christmas offering will be taken throughout the month of December.

Mrs. Jimmy Cowan was in charge of the Monday program, "Life Through His Name - In Latin America." Mrs. Keith Tomes of the Ruth Solesbee Circle had charge of Tuesday's program, "Life Through His Name - In the Orient".

Wednesday the Y. W. A.'s had charge of the program during the prayer meeting hour.

For today's program, Mrs. Benny Shipley will serve as program chairman for the Annie Armstrong Circle entitled, "Life Through His Name In Europe and the Middle East". Friday's program will be given by Mrs. Ed Schovajsa of the Lottie Moore Circle, "Jesus The Giver of Life."

CAPE ON SCENE

Fashion designers are promoting the cape. This fall, capes can be flared or cut narrower than the average model. And cape lengths vary, too, stopping inches above the elbow, anchoring at the knee or the newest mid-calf length, or dropping to the floorboards. Fabrics range from satin to flannel.

PEP

What Is It That Makes People Think That Lubbock Beer Cans On The Streets Are Better Than Littlefield Beer Cans In The Same Place ?

Citizens For Legal Control
Pd. Pol. Adv.

"If only I had never touched it..." This remorseful lament is heard over and over again, as brokenhearted, broken spirited men and women discover themselves chained to the drinking habit.

You may be a slave to "the cup of fury." That is regrettable. We feel for you, and we would remind you of some possible sources of help. Seek out an Alcoholics Anonymous group and attend its meetings. Read Upton Sinclair's "The Cup of Fury", the tragic shocking record of American genius destroyed by alcohol. Draw inner strength from earnest prayer.

Above all, we urge you not to make it easy for our precious young people to be victimized by that same "cup of fury." Don't put your seeming stamp of approval on their drinking.

The Concerned Citizens of Spade, Hart Camp and Fieldton ask you to vote NO on December 9th.

Youth Speaks AGAINST ALCOHOL!

Our age prevents us from voting in the forthcoming election. Therefore, we ask the voting people of Littlefield to VOTE AGAINST legalizing sales of alcoholic beverages.

VOTE DRY FOR US!

The following named young People are against the sale of ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES for off-premises consumption in the Littlefield trade area:

Our reasons are as follows:

1. It will increase the crime rate.
2. It will increase the number of traffic accidents.
3. It will increase the number of broken homes.
4. It will increase the number of illegitimate children born in our community.

TO THE THINKING PEOPLE OF LITTLEFIELD

We, the undersigned, urge you to cast a NO vote on December 9. Legalized liquor sales in our county seat town will jeopardize the welfare and safety of our families just as it will yours.

Since we cannot vote on this vital issue, we want to take this means to express our convictions. We respect the good judgment of the vast majority of the citizens of Littlefield and we trust that all who feel as we do will go to the polls on Saturday to insure a dry victory.

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

hospitalized. She is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ginn, of the Flag Community and Mrs. Beulah Newton had lunch with their mother, Mrs. Nannie Ginn, Thursday to help her celebrate her birthday. Mrs. Ginn was 86 years old Thursday.

George Taylor says pecans are too expensive. George was at his brother's at Lovington, N.M. and there were pecans. Taylor decided pecans on the trees were better than those on the ground, so he climbed the tree. The limb broke and Taylor came out with a broken heel. He said his pecans cost him $10 per pound.

Abe Griffin was released from the Littlefield Hospital Friday. He is resting at home.

Lawrence Sloan is a patient in the Littlefield Hospital. It is not known, at this time, the cause of his illness.

Plant X employees and their families were honored with a dinner in the Littlefield Community Center on Friday night, Dec. 1. Charles Mixon of Amherst was master of ceremonies and introduced the plant manager Bob Drake, who presented a retirement folder to Frank Gardner of Amherst who retired from duty on Nov. 30.

After a dinner of barbecue a group of Musicians from Lubbock, Littlefield and Sudan entertained with string music. Electrical appliances were given as door prizes. There were approximately 200 employees and guests there. Those attending from Earth were Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Hulcey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Green, Debbie, Donna and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Alexander and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Foster and David, Mrs. E. R. McAulpine and Cindy and Mrs. Dwight Clark.

Notwithstanding the unverified figures quoted by the SUDDENLY Concerned, the cost of effective law enforcement is greatly reduced where the sale of alcoholic beverages is controlled by license. THERE ARE VASTLY FEWER CRIMES PER CAPITA IN NEW BRAUNFELS, TEXAS; KILGORE, TEXAS; TEMPLE, TEXAS; AND LLANO, TEXAS; WHERE ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE SALES HAVE BEEN LEGALLY REGULATED FOR YEARS, THAN IN LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS, WHERE SALES HAVE BEEN ILLEGAL FOR YEARS.

Did You Know?
That You Can't Legalize Drink For Adults Without Making It More Attractive For Your Youth.

ONE OF LITTLEFIELD'S most interesting homes, which will be on the agenda for the House Beautiful Tour Friday, 4 to 6 p.m., is the Frank Anzeline home. Here Mrs. Anzeline is shown with the framed pages of a calendar purchased in 1897 by Anzeline's grandparents during a visit to Germany from their home in Vienna, Austria. The calendar was found among items hidden from the Germans during World War II when the grandparents' 200-year-old home was made into headquarters for German officers.

BLUE CHINA CLOCK, dated 1763, flawless figurine and exquisite table shown here were buried in Vienna during World War II to keep them safe from the Germans. These were among several items so hidden by the grandmother of Frank Anzeline. The whole fascinating story is in store for visitors making the House Beautiful Tour Friday.

SPACIOUSLY LOVELY is the Littlefield home of the J. R. Fain family. Here a daughter, Margaret, reclines comfortably on plush carpeting in the elegant living room, which her mother was in the process of decorating early this week. Classic white is predominant in the room.

The house is a pleasing presentation of comfort with a family room which adjoins the living room featuring a stone fireplace and a warm atmosphere. Outside, the home is a delightful splash of Christmas lighting.

IN THE ARTHUR DUGGAN JR. HOME, touring visitors will see items belonging to Major and Mrs. George Littlefield for whom this city is named. Here Mrs. Duggan is shown with a portrait of Mrs. Littlefield and with an ornate urn which came from the Littlefield home in Austin.

House Beautiful Tour Set Friday

First House Beautiful Tour sponsored by "We, The Women" of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled here Friday at 4 to 6 p.m.

Seven of the most outstanding homes in the city are included on the tour, and some will feature unique or elegant Christmas decor.

Homes range from ultra-modern to historic. Each house has its own personality and its own beauty trend to delight visitors. Tickets are $1 per person and may be purchased at A&B Office Supply, First National Bank, Security State Bank, Brittain Pharmacy and Norma's.

A limited supply of tickets also will be provided at each home for last minute visitors or guests.

Proceeds of the tour will go toward landscaping and beautification of Littlefield schools.

Homes on the tour, which may be visited in the order of each visitor's choosing, are those of Frank Anzeline, 212 E. 13th; Arthur Duggan Jr., 520 E. 9th; I. T. Shotwell Jr., 217 E. 12th; H. A. Mitchell, 122 E. 21st; J. R. Fain, 104 E. 21st; E. J. Wicker, 515 E. 12th, and O. W. Still, 601 E. 12th.

EXQUISITE TASTE is characteristic of the spacious E. J. Wicker home. Mrs. Wicker is pictured with an exceedingly heavy China cabinet which the Wickers had especially made for an heirloom set of antique hand painted French Haviland china from Limoges, France, given to them by Mrs. Wicker's mother. The large China cabinet was brought into the house in two pieces. Silver service shown is antique English Sheffield.

EXAMPLE OF THE COMFORT and handsome luxury of the H. A. Mitchell home is the kitchen fireplace by which Mrs. Mitchell is shown standing. The fireplace not only provides cheery warmth but a built-in rotisserie makes it useful for cooking. A rural English theme -- in keeping with the home's design -- is used in the Mitchell's Christmas decorations.

FESTIVE ELEGANCE is predominant in the I. T. Shotwell Jr. home, although Christmas decorations in the house primarily follow a

INDUSTRY

isfy the particular industry's requirements. The great advantages of the Industrial Foundation owning and leasing the property are (1) that it is a pool of capital, and therefore commands and favorable borrowing position, (2) that in industrial development, many heads are usually better than one, and (3) that it will work for the good of the entire community, without the complications and conflicts of personal interests.

The Industrial Foundation may not be able to raise all the money necessary to finance a given project, or it may not be prudent for it to do so.

In this case, the Industrial Foundation can borrow just like any other corporation, in some cases on very favorable terms. Its sources are banks, savings and loan associations, mortgage bankers, investment banks, insurance companies and the Small Business Administration. The Industrial Foundation may need to put up at least 10% of the total financing (20% in the case of Small Business Administration loans), and raise the remainder from one or more sources.

COPIES of the booklets "Organizing and Operating Industrial Foundations in Texas" and "Scope and Activities of Industrial Foundations in Texas" may be obtained at no charge from the Texas Industrial Commission, Austin.

Whether or not an official industrial foundation is set up in your community, or whether you rely on the efforts of investor builders and the individuals on your Industrial Development Committee to look into and then actually arrange the financing for your prospective new industries (or the expansion of an existing industry), it still holds true that you must be able to offer a package deal, to be competitive, and to be prepared. That new payroll will be worth the effort.

Chamber Head Writes Captain In Vietnam

Capt. Roy E. Smith, FV3039421
12th ACS, Box 2842
APO San Francisco, California 96227

Dear Capt. Smith,
We received your letter concerning your request for a Christmas Tree Ball, and we are extremely happy and proud to comply with your request.

With the help of some very kind and helpful as well as talented people, I feel you will be proud of the job they have done. This ball was mailed to you on December 5, 1967, and we sincerely hope that it arrives on time and that it arrives in the shape.

Capt. Smith, it was our pleasure to do this for you, and may always be a reminder to you of the wonderful people in Littlefield who miss your not being here at Christmas, and pray for your men a speedy and safe return home.

As president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce we are extremely proud of the job you and your men are doing, and this ball in a small way will help to make your Christmas a bit brighter. If we can ever be of additional help to you, please let us know.

We all wish for you only the best of everything for Christmas as well as all through the New Year.

Personal regards,
/s/ Warren Dayton
