

COUNTY RACES EXPENSIVE Campaign Costs Listed

The most expensive Lamb county campaign in the recent party primaries was waged by W.D. "Dick" Ratliff of Littlefield, in an unsuccessful bid for sheriff, show expense records on file with County Clerk Charles Jones.

Ratliff listed expenses of $1,484.28 in his race, highest on the list of 11 candidates who sought office in the Democratic primary May 2. None of the races for office required a second primary runoff.

Big item on the list of expenses was the cost of getting on the primary ballot, $512.50 for a sheriff's candidate.

The next three high expense campaigns were all by sheriff's candidates who contested in a 4-man race.

Sheriff Dick Dyer, who won in the first primary over his three opponents, spent $1,040.62 in campaigning. Loy Dalton, a third candidate, spent $1,010.35 and V.L. Smith, Jr., the other member of the 4-way contest, spent $811.30, the expense statements showed.

Smith was the only one of the candidates who listed campaign contributions from other persons. He showed $40 in money paid towards his filing fee.

Big item on each expense statement was the cost of getting on the primary ballot, $512.50 for each sheriff's candidate, equal to one month's salary for the office.

Other major expense items were advertising — newspaper, radio, campaign cards — and travel costs.

Second high on the cost list was the tax assessor and collector's office, the only other contest in the 1964 county elections.

Herbert Dunn, incumbent who was successful in seeking a new term, spent $759.10 in his effort, $500 of that for filing costs.

Bill Jeffries, his only opponent, spent $789.90 according to the expense records.

County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson, who was not opposed, ran a rock-bottom race. Wilkinson listed $487 for filing fee, another $22 for matches for a total of $509.

County Commissioner J.L. "Roy" Yeager, Precinct 3, unopposed, spent $509.06. Filing fee was $391.66 of this.

County Commissioner A.J. Spain, Precinct 1, listed $416.66, with $391.66 for filing fee.

Peace Justice A.J. Jinkins, precinct 5, spent a $50 filing fee for re-election and Constable J.L. Drake, precinct 4, listed only a $10 filing fee for his total expenses.

The cost statements were made with the county clerk in compliance with a Texas law.

The costs will be lightened somewhat by a refund of surplus money in the Democratic election fund after all expenses of the primary election are paid. Under Texas laws candidates in the party primary pay the costs of holding the elections to the county Demo organization.

Refunds will be made to the candidates for contested offices, those of sheriff and tax collector. Demo chairman Glenn Batoon said Wednesday that refunds would amount to 75 percent of their fee for the four candidates for sheriff, 50 percent for the two tax office contestants.

This means that Dyer, Ratliff, Dalton and Smith will get refunds of $384.37 each and Dunn and Jeffries will get $250 each. By this formula, each office on the ballot will pay one month's salary for the election costs.

Lamb Irrigation Wells Up

Irrigation wells in Lamb County increased by 167 last year as a result of continuing drought and farming acres irrigated reached 370,000. A survey this week indicates are smaller in yield than the number continues to increase. The High Plains Water District, which issues permits for water wells. During 1963, 245 well permits were issued in Lamb county, from 25 well attempts were made. Balance of the permits were not executed during the year.

Of those drilled, 267 were replaced as new wells, 38 replacement wells and 10 non-producers or dry wells. The Water District reports an increase of 100 wells drilled over 1962, when 115 wells were taken, 115 were drilled, 89 of them new wells. In 1962, 18 wells were replaced, eight were dry

The 370,000 acres of irrigated land is 75 percent of the acreage in cultivation in Lamb County, estimates County Agent Bill Kimbrough.

The index to the increase in irrigation and refinement of irrigation procedures is shown in the number of wells drilled in the Lamb County Water District Cooperative, which operates in Lamb and parts of four neighboring counties.

The federal government says this should not be used around humans, or around products consumed by humans. The Texas State Health Department says it is perfectly safe. On the federal side, also, they will condemn eggs from chickens that have been sprayed for lice with BHC and will bar from the market edible plants or fruits that have had the stuff wafted over them.

County Agent Bill Kimbrough, who represents the Texas A. and M. extension service, subscribes to the federal opinion and last year raised a small alarm about BHC. There was a flurry of letters and the city agreed with the Texas health people, so we still have BHC and along with it, in those dustings, some DDT.

It almost takes a graduate chemist to be sure whether you are being protected from mosquitoes, poisoned into a slow death, or if you have an electrical fire somewhere on the place.

So we don't know about BHC, or even DDT or ASC or FDIC, but we do know about mosquitoes. We have been chewed on them from Puerto Rico to Okinawa to Alaska to the Gulf Coast, where they can bite straight through a hunting coat while you hunker in a goose blind. In December, yet!

And we can certify the Lamb county product. It is as big, as mean, as vitamin-packed as any mosquito anywhere. It grows fast and it dies slow. It can take blood quicker than a GI medic and with more pain.

In fact, when bigger and better mosquitoes are made, we hope it frosts! Quick.

HOWDY!

One product not listed in these reports of how things grow so swift in our country is the instant mosquito.

A couple weeks ago there wasn't enough water around to slake the thirst of a red ant, then it rained. In a fortnight we have mosquitoes bigger than those perennials along the coast that grow 12 months in the year. Like BIG, man!

There is a theory downtown that the city's insecticide spray, that kind that makes you think your air cooler has developed a very hot motor, is actually some sort of mosquito pabulum. If so, it is also a good appetizer. You can get hit hard by a half dozen real hungry 'skeeters in the time it takes to shut down a lawn sprinkler, but then you know this, too.

There are some other ideas about that mosquito spray, too. This year again Littlefield is using a mix caused BHC, benzene hexachloride, the chemists say.

Whether Barry Goldwater wins his party nomination for President or not the Arizona can claim one accomplishment that Texans should note.

He has largely occupied two places in the U.S. Senate, through the courtesy of Texas voters.

Since he went to Washington in 1961, Sen. John Tower of Texas has been the tall to Goldwater's up-and-down kite. He has echoed the Arizona senator's stands consistently and has fitted his votes in the Senate to Goldwater's convenience.

On critical issues, Tower several times has "paired" with the Arizona senator to let Goldwater take a position without damaging his place in the running for President. One of these was on the farm program bill several months ago.

In Littlefield a few weeks back Tower was outspoken against the farm bill but admitted, somewhat reluctantly, that he "paired" with Sen. Goldwater on the bill, Tower's vote going for it, Goldwater's against.

He "paired" the other day on a critical civil rights vote, again to ease the pressure on Goldwater. In effect, the Arizona senator goes on record in opposition to a measure but protects himself with Senate colleagues by providing an offset for his vote. The offset invariably is Sen. Tower.

Except when it is convenient to "pair" with Goldwater, Tower goes right down the far right line with the Arizona senator. This, unquestionably, is his right and Tower was forthright in stating his far right position when he was elected.

But he did not say also that he would take the important representation that he owes the people of Texas and trade it lock, stock and barrel to advance Goldwater's political fortunes. Texas has a right to expect him to look out for Texas in keeping with his own convictions, as the other 99 U.S. senators are doing for their states, as Barry Goldwater especially is doing for Arizona.

Mahon Seeks More Money to Fight Weevil

A request for $1-million in federal funds, to be matched by $1-million from High Plains cotton farmers, for preventive work against advances of the boll weevil on to the caprock area has been favorably received in Washington, Cong. George Mahon said Wednesday in a wire to The Leader.

The request has been favorably received by President Johnson for his budget estimate, Mahon said. The Lubbock congressman recently got a tentative budget figure for area boll weevil work upped $200,000 in the House of Representatives, but is seeking the even $1-million amount.

He will appear before a Senate committee on appropriations Monday to firm up his request for the $1-million in the Senate action on appropriations, Mahon said.

In this action he has the support of the President, the congressman said. His telegram read:

"The President advises me that he is taking favorable action on my request and is today forwarding to Congress a budget estimate in the sum of $1,000,000 to be matched by an equal sum from High Plains cotton farmers for purpose of blocking the advances of the boll weevil in our area. In the appropriations bill, which passed the House on May 20, I was able to get $200,000 above the budget for the boll weevil program. I will appear Monday before the Senate committee on appropriations and urge that a total of $1,000,000, the sum now being requested by the President, be included in the Senate bill."

Wilkinson moved here recently from Lamesa where he was in the insecticide business. He is an entomologist.

He will direct sales and operations of the Littlefield branch, one of several being set up over West Texas by Tide Products, an affiliate of Union Carbide.

Branch offices are being opened now at Farwell, Hereford and Hart in this immediate area. These are part of a district that Lang will supervise from headquarters in Littlefield.

The fast-growing agricultural chemicals system has as a primary service the "prescription" blending of fertilizers to fit the specific needs of soils and crops.

Soil samples and tissue analysis will be taken by the company without charge, to determine the exact plant food requirements Wilkinson explains. Then the Littlefield plant will blend the exact fertilizer called for by the analysis, he added.

The company has a unique custom-designed delivery and storage system built around a large, slanted box that will hold 8,000 pounds of dry fertilizer material. It can be simply emptied and keeps fertilizer dry, fresh and handy to load at the farm, Wilkinson points out.

The Littlefield plant can process 20 tons an hour of its dry fertilizer "prescription" blend. Its sizeable building can store 1,200 tons of dry materials and 28,000 gallons of ammonia, the equivalent of three railroad cars.

Both dry and liquid fertilizers will be blended and sold here by Tide.

The plant also will handle insecticides, herbicides and fungicides.

Work in the new plant, Littlefield's newest industry, began in March. Its construction and green and white color scheme are duplicates of Tide Products branch plants being built in many locations today. Since becoming affiliated with

New Water in City Mains

First water from Littlefield's new major water source, a well field in the sandhills north of town, went into city mains Monday afternoon.

There apparently was no notice by water users of the new water, reports City Manager J.W. Harrison. "Everything went just as planned," he said. "The chlorine content was right and everything is working fine."

Water is coming from a 24-inch pipeline 13 miles long. It is supplied by four wells in the sandhills field.

These will be the city's primary source, Harrison says. The present water field about 2 1/2 miles northeast of town, with nine water wells, will be used for peak-use periods.

Some of these are expected soon. With a week of dry weather, Littlefield water users have pushed demand regularly the 2-million the past several days. Peak demand for the summer is expected to reach 3 1/2 to 4-million gallons, a flow not possible before the new water supply.

One part of the city's new water program is not yet complete. Painting work on the new 300,000 elevated storage tank has not been completed and that important boost to water pressure has not yet been effective.

NEWEST INDUSTRY Tide Products Plant Open

First production from the new Tide Products, Inc., plant at Littlefield rolled out to customers this week and to a response that Tide branch manager Lewis E. "Dutch" Wilkinson has found heartening.

The Tide installation, a large green and white building of steel on the Clovis highway, was completed last week and was barely open for business this week when customer calls began, Wilkinson reports.

The new industry and sales firm will be shown to the Lamb county area in an open house event during July, Wilkinson added.

First staff members for the Tide Littlefield operation announced this week by Jim Lang, district manager, include David Buchen, moved here from Los Fresnos in south Texas, Dean Strange and Gene Williams, both of Littlefield.

Buchen is superintendent for the Tide plant here. Recently released from the army signal corps as a first lieutenant, he is an agricultural education graduate of Texas A. and I. College, Kingsville. He and Mrs. Buchen have three children.

Wilkinson moved here recently from Lamesa where he was in the insecticide business. He is an entomologist.

Turners in NY To Receive Award Today

A national award to the Olton Enterprise will be accepted tonight in New York by Bill Turner, its publisher, in the annual awards dinner of the National Editorial Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner flew to New York early Wednesday to attend the NEA function. The Enterprise will receive one of three top national awards to U.S. newspapers for general excellence and also one of the three top awards for news writing.

The news award is for a series of stories Turner ran a year ago on the turn-around decision on electing a mayor of Olton.

Details of the general excellence award will not be announced until tonight's affair.

The Olton newspaper last week also was judged the best Texas weekly newspaper in towns of 2,000 or less, based on 1960 production. This was the annual Texas Press Association contests in which the Enterprise in 1963 won the same award for towns of 2,000 to 3,500.

The smaller contest was entered because rules of the judging bar winners from repeating their same entry the year immediately following. Since Olton had only 1,971 residents in the 1960 census, Turner was eligible in the lower division for 1964.

Union Carbide, Tide has opened branch offices in Mercedes, El Campo, Hearne and Littlefield in Texas, in Ashburn and Puro, Ga., and Dothan, Ala. Soon to come are the installations at Hereford, Hart and Farwell.

CONG MAHON WRITES LBJ Sympathizes With Debbie's Strayed 'u'

The misplacing of a letter in the word "fluoride" by Debbie Landers, Amherst, in the recent national spelling bee has received understanding as far up as the White House, Cong. George Mahon writes from Washington.

Putting the letter "o" before the "u" in spelling "fluoride" was the error that dropped the 13-year-old Amherst girl from competition in the national contest in Washington three weeks ago.

Cong. Mahon softened Debbie's disappointment by taking her on to the floor of the House the afternoon she missed the word, an unusual experience for a youngster.

The other day he sent along a letter relating that he had talked of the error with the President and Mrs. Johnson. Mahon's letter read:

Miss Debbie Landers Amherst, Texas

Dear Debbie: All of my friends now know how to spell "fluoride and fluorescence". All through the years, I undoubtedly, have thought that the "o" came before the "u". I have discussed this matter on the golf course and at the White House with President and Mrs. Johnson. We are all getting more cultured as a result of your visit to Washington. Debbie, it was a great honor to meet you and your mother. I enjoyed our little tour of the Capitol and I hope your trip to Washington was a memorable one.

Good luck to you, and best wishes to your family.

Cordially
George Mahon

It's an honor that is not liable to come even to people who know where the "u" goes in fluoride, the pretty Amherst girl agrees.

Debbie won the South Plains regional spelling contest at Lubbock in April, went on to the national contest in Washington early this month. The Landers included the Washington visit in a vacation trip. Her father is Santa Fe agent in Amherst.

Ridgecrest and Eastern Trip Enjoyed by YWAs

On Saturday evening members of the Ethel Abbott Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church and their sponsors returned from attending YWA week at Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly in Ridgecrest, N.C.

The three car caravan left Littlefield on the morning of Sunday, June 7. At a roadside park in Sweetwater, Mrs. Ralph Nelson, director, taught the Sunday School lesson to the young women. That evening was spent in Longview where Mrs. Nelson again led the group in a period of meditation and prayer.

On Monday the caravan arrived in Vicksburg, Miss., where they had dinner at the Old Southern Teahouse which dates back to antebellum days. After dinner they were escorted on a special tour through McRaven, an ante-bellum home which played a significant part in the siege of Vicksburg. On Tuesday morning the group visited the Vicksburg Battlefield.

Arriving in New Orleans on Tuesday evening, the young women dined in the famed Court of Two Sisters in the French Quarter, had dessert in Los Pastries de Quatre Seasons (Pastries of the Four Seasons), toured the French Quarter, closing their evening with coffee and doughnuts at Cafe du Monde in the famous Farmers' Market.

Crossing Lake Pontchartrain on Wednesday morning, the caravan drove along the Gulf Coast, visiting a Marina in Gulf Port, Miss., and touring the renowned Bellemeade Gardens in Mobile, Ala., where they spent the night.

Via Atlanta, Ga. the group arrived in Asheville, N.C. on Thursday where they visited the fabulous Blount Estate, arriving at Ridgecrest Assembly that evening.

The theme of the Ridgecrest program was "One World... One Way." Featured speakers were Dr. Kenneth L. Chaffin, Professor at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth and Dr. Jack R. Nofsinger, of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Each morning these two outstanding speakers spoke on the subjects "Witness in My World" and "Dating, Courtship, Marriage in Christive," respectively.

Also, each morning included a special session with a different missionary, from all the four-corners of the world. Foreign missionaries holding conferences were from Nigeria, Israel, Japan, Northern Rhodesia, Brazil, Indonesia, Lebanon, and Thailand. Home missionaries told of their work among the Czechoslovakians, Latin-Americans, and Indians in the United States, as well as those living in the slum areas of cities.

The fourth feature of the morning sessions was pageantry depicting various areas of YWA interests... such as prayer, stewardship, program planning, and enlistment of new members.

The evening programs included missionary speakers, panel discussions, a commission service, a commitment service, and a candlelighting service on the final evening which was held around beautiful Lake Dew on the assembly grounds.

The Littlefield group left Ridgecrest on Wednesday, June 17, in Gatlinburg, Tenn., deep in the heart of the Smoky Mountain National Park, they visited the impressive Christus Gardens and rode the sky lift which presents a vista of the Smokies for miles around. That night was spent in Norris State Park on the banks of the Norris Dam, a part of the vast TVA network. In the evening they were guests of the Andersonville Baptist Church for dinner. This is the former home church of Dr. and Mrs. Aaron Williams, now residents of Littlefield. The Williams family met the caravan at Norris Park and acted as their hosts during their stay there.

Enroute home, the young women visited the Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's home near Nashville, climbed the 13 story high watchtower on North Hill in Hot Springs, Ark., and had dinner at the Smorgasborg in Hot Springs, arriving home on Saturday evening.

Those attending the Ridgecrest conference were Misses Brenda Batson, Brenda Broadus, Patricia Dilsworth, Pearl Durham, Cleo Harrell, Linda Hutto, Faye Ivie, Glenda McWilliams, Christi Pressley, Rhonda Thompson, and Linda Williams, all of Littlefield; Misses Carol Nelson of Oakley, Kansas; and Leeanne Moore of Colorado City. Sponsors were Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Mrs. Russell Durham, and Mrs. Laveta Thompson.

Mrs. Gary Newton Supplies "Banana Nut" Cake Recipe

Some favorite summer recipes with the readers of the Lamb County Leader is Mrs. Gary Don Newton's "Banana Nut Cake" which she has prepared for the Littlefield Jaycees. Mrs. Newton has lived in Littlefield all her life. Her husband, Gary Don, is employed with Dillon Lumber Company. They have three boys, Robbie, 7; Chris, 4; and Mark, 18 months. Mrs. Newton is president of the Littlefield Jaycees Club and she says it is a full-time job. The Newtons live at 605 E. 17th and Gary is employed with Dillon Lumber Company.

water skiing and riding in their boat. They also enjoy camping out and hope to take a trip this summer. Mrs. Newton is president of the Littlefield Jaycees and Gary is an active member of the Littlefield Jaycees. She says that between her Jaycees-ette work and her boys she has little leisure time but she does find some time for another hobby—working in her yard. Robbie is attending recreation and also spends a lot of time visiting a pretty young girl across the street, but Chris and Mark are content to either stay at home or visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dillon, who live next door. Mrs. Newton's recipes follow. The "Banana Nut Cake" may be baked either in a loaf pan or in two layers and may be served with or without icing.

Wiley Mudgett, right and a farm hand are applying irrigation to benched level land with the use of underground pipeline and gated surface pipe, providing even water distribution from one end of the row to the other.

Added Ways to Control Soil Erosion Outlined

BY THE SCS SERVICE

There are more ways than one to control soil erosion, says Wiley Mudgett, who is the Lamb county soil conservation district supervisor in the Sudan community.

Mudgett has two combination conservation plans applied to his farm. At present it is under irrigation and has irrigation practices installed which consist of bench and field leveling on the entire farm with these practices.

Mudgett can utilize and control the rainfall and control water erosion while at the same time conserving his irrigation water. With the surface roughness, along with varying row direction, and proper management of crop residue, the wind erosion is controlled.

These conservation practices are not just for irrigation. The same practices can be used for dryland if the irrigation water ever plays out. By keeping them maintained they will utilize all the rain water that falls on the farm.

Mudgett says that he is lucky in some way because he doesn't have any outside water to care for. Therefore it did help out the cost of the installation.

"I also urge all farmers to make some plan to start protecting their land from erosion," Mudgett says. "There is no reason for all these dry lakes to have as much water in them as they have; a lot of the water can be stored in the soil. I know it is much easier to farm straight row and square fields but we are losing two valuable products, water and top soil."

"With our knowledge of con-

LISTEN AND LEARN

In the Philippines, 3,000 isolated villages without electricity have received transistor radios from CARE, so the people can listen to special rural information and education programs. Each radio is a $40 package subscribed by Americans through CARE, New York 10016.

NET GAIN

Fishermen in Juida Village, East Pakistan, doubled their catch after CARE delivered 600 lbs. of nylon twine, with which they made new nets. Self-help for fishing villages is part of CARE's efforts to help increase world food supplies.

Conservation and farming there is no use of us letting our farm deplete because we like to do things the easy way. All we have to do is contact any of the soil conservation service technicians and they will give technical help and tell us how we can get other assistance and information to get the job done, so let us save our soils and not waste it."

'Mike' Reading Will Hit Plains Cotton Prices

Micronaire, or "Mike", readings will join Grade and Staple as official measurements of cotton quality this year, reports the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

W.K. Palmer, in charge of the Agricultural Marketing Service's Cotton classing office in Lubbock tells us that the classing office is ready to take a Mike reading on all cotton samples they receive, and the Mike reading will appear on the Classification Card, right along with the grade and staple.

Cost of the Mike reading service has been reduced from 8 cents to 6 cents per sample, provided the ginner applies for this service prior to the time the samples are submitted; otherwise the charge will be 25 cents. Grade and staple information will be provided free, as before, under the Smith-Doxey program.

Mike describes fineness and maturity of cotton fibers. Its measured on a scale from 2.4 to 8.0, in steps of one-tenth. It works like this: When compressed air is forced through a sample of cotton, an air-flow instrument registers the Mike reading of that particular sample. Fine fibers permit less air to pass through. Thus, the finer the fibers, the lower the reading. Fineness and maturity affect the spinnability and value of the cotton.

About six weeks ago the announcement was a schedule of premiums and discounts, based on Mike readings. If the reading is between 3.7 and 4.8, a premium of 13 points per pound will be allowed when the cotton is placed under the loan. No premium or discount will be allowed if the Mike reading is 4.9 through 5.1, or between 3.3 through 3.6. Also, cotton having a Mike reading of 3.0 to 3.2 will be discounted 50 points, 2.7 to 2.9 150 points, and 2.6 and below 300 points.

Mr. Palmer says all ginneries in the Lubbock territory have been provided with a new Question and Answer pamphlet that explains the new Mike reading service.

Bracero Labor Hassle Pending

LUBBOCK, Friday, June 19 - The farm labor hassle in Washington promises to be a dandy later this year, and here are some of the facts and figures that both sides will likely be interpreting to suit their respective purposes as the battle picks up steam.

Foreign worker employment declined in 1963 for the fourth successive year. Average foreign worker employment for the U.S. dropped 20 per cent to 56,500. Total admissions of foreign workers (including Mexican, Canadian, British West Indian, Japanese and Filipino) came to 209,200, the smallest number since 1951.

This area, of course, is primarily concerned with Mexican labor. Of the total 550,400 man-months of Mexican labor used in 1963, 57 per cent was used in California, 20 per cent in Texas, 10 per cent in Arizona and 13 per cent by 16 other states. As a result of the restrictions placed on the use of Mexicans on long term jobs, the term of employment for the average Mexican worker declined from 2.94 months in 1962 to 2.62 months in 1963.

In Texas, foreign worker employment averaged 9,100 - a drop of 42 per cent from 1962. There was also an eight per cent drop in domestic workers used, which should go a long way toward answering those who have contended that reducing the amount of available foreign labor would increase farm employment of U.S. citizens. To further answer such a contention, in the Texas cotton harvest the decline was 25 per cent for foreign workers and 27 per cent for domestics.

All figures are from U.S. Department of Labor's own "Farm Labor Market Developments," March, 1964.

With the expiration December 31 of the program supplying us with supplemental labor from Mexico, High Plains farmers find few reasons to smile over the labor prospects in the immediate future. There is, however, one little ray of sunshine permeating the whole dilemma, at least for the moment. The Senate Migratory Labor Subcommittee has announced postponement to an indefinite future date hearings on S-528 and S-529. These are the bills which, if passed into law, would impose minimum wages and collective bargaining on users of agricultural labor. The senate's protracted debate of the civil rights bill, plus the fact that Chairman of the Subcommittee and author of the bills Senator Harrison Williams (D-N.J.) has his hands full at home campaigning for reelection, is responsible for the postponement.

There are reports that Senator Williams' reelection is far from being a certainty, and few close to farm labor will bemoan his loss if he is defeated.

Our Executive Vice President, George Pfeiffenberger, was released from the hospital on June 18 following abdominal surgery. We have all been gratified by the cards and letters wishing him well from all over the world. He is expected to be back in the office within a short time.

Emperor Hadrian of Rome passed laws in 125 A. D. regulating the supply of hot bath water for miners and making the baths available to the women while the men were working underground.

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang — and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car — the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car — Thunderbird — with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

Young Comedian Denis Gilmore Plays Bagpipes for 'Thomasina'

Denis Gilmore, one of the most attractive youngsters in motion pictures on either side of the Atlantic, gets his third assignment from Walt Disney as a mischievous, witch-ridden village boy in "The Three Lives of Thomasina."

Young Gilmore knew he wanted to be an actor when he was in kindergarten. He persuaded his parents to send him to the Aida Foster School for professional children where he joined his five cousins. He was right, because within a year he played an Indian in the Chelsea picture, "Them Nice Americans." This talented boy has been working ever since.

Fun-loving and uninhibited, red-headed and freckle-faced, Denis is a natural comedian. Born August 9, 1949, he has been laughing heartily for years and the audience with him. Healthy, happy and robust today, at 14, Denis has been in a dozen motion pictures, at least three television films and two TV series. He is a universal type, moving easily from a starrer such as "The Horse Without a Head," with Alec Guinness, through a science thriller, "The Unstoppable Man," or a documentary, "The Store of the Letter Post."

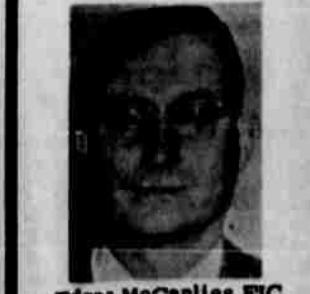

Quick to recognize talented children, Walt Disney has cast him successfully in three pictures: the yodelling round-faced Friedel of the Vienna Boys' Choir in "Almost Angels;" then as Tatave, a daring French ur-chin who helps outwit a band of thieves in "The Horse Without a Head;" and now as Jamie MacNab, a Scots laddie in "Thomasina." NOW SHOWING at the PALACE THEATRE.

Jefferson Davis, only president of the Confederacy, was charged with treason at the end of the Civil War and detained for two years, but never brought to trial.

Quarterbacks Adopt Projects

A list of suggestions for the Littlefield Quarterback program in 1963 were made in a Monday night meeting of the QB club directors by John Howle, athletic director for Littlefield high school.

Several of the proposals were approved by the club, and included:

1. The purchase of 45 maroon blazer jackets for the LHS athletic department to be worn by athletes and coaches on road trips. These jackets will feature the LHS Wildcat emblem.
2. To underwrite part of the expense of LHS cheerleaders to a cheer leader's school at Southern Methodist university this summer.
3. To purchase a motion picture projector for the joint use of the athletic department and Quarterback club.

The board tabled a proposal to contribute $700 for chartered buses for road trips in the fall football season.

Because of the extended budget, the directors voted to begin the 1964 membership drive on July 1. Dues this year will be $3. Cheerleaders of LHS will be in charge of membership sales.

Officers of the Quarterbacks for 1964 includes Efton Graham, president; Bill Carter, vice president; Orville Bassett, secretary-treasurer, and Roy Allen Hutson, Roy Bussey and Ed McCanlies, directors.

Yes, Baseball Is for Girls

GIRLS! GIRLS! GIRLS! There is now a summer baseball program underway for girls only. All of you age 9-16 who like to play softball and would enjoy participating in this program contact Mrs. Choice Frances or Mike Sanders.

Nine girls signed up for the program Monday afternoon and many more are needed. Mrs. Frances hopes to get enough girls interested to have several teams.

Practice sessions will be held in the late afternoon and Mrs. Frances asks that if anyone knows of a vacant practice area to please contact her immediately.

The girls will be divided into two classifications age 9-12 and 13-16. They plan to try to arrange games with other girls in surrounding towns, if possible.

If the program is successful this summer, the teams may be able to join a league next summer and play even more competitively.

ANNOUNCING THE BIG PRE-MOVING SALE!

TOMMY ADKINS

TOMMY AND ORVILLE SAY:

ORVILLE BASSETT

The wonderful support our many friends in this area have given us during the past 6 years has made it possible for us to move into beautiful new quarters at 18th Street and the Levelland Highway in the very near future. We are installing new equipment and adding many new facilities so that we may serve all our customers better. We think you will like the New Littlefield Tire Service. In the meantime, we've got to think about moving all our present stock of merchandise to our new location and it isn't a pleasant thought. Therefore, we have decided to conduct a big Pre-moving Sale to reduce our stock and make moving a little less trouble. So, whether your need is for new, used or re-tread tires, a tail pipe, muffler, an automobile air conditioner or any of our many services or automotive accessories, now is the time to buy during our big Pre-moving Sale.

Thanks Again,
Tommy and Orville

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

...STIN, Tex. — U.S. Supreme Court's decision ordering the houses of state legislators be selected on strict population basis will have a far-reaching effect on the Texas legislature, particularly the way Department reported. Out-of-state visitors totaled 11,700,000, some 26 percent over the previous year. They spent $52,200,000 to show a 12.8 per cent increase over 1962.

Dallas was the stated destination of some 15.8 percent, while Houston-Pasadena; El Paso drew 9.8 per cent and San Antonio 9.6 per cent.

Highway Department recently released this information in a colorful 16-page brochure available to the public. The booklet described results of the annual survey on the Texas Tourist Industry, and the cover depicts scenes from the state's outstanding recreational areas.

Big Pipes Intersect

That large 60-inch drainpipe being laid along the city route of U.S. Highway 84 turned a corner this week and ran into big line.

The other line was the water main from Bailey county into Lubbock, the primary water supply for that city. It parallels the Santa Fe railroad and it and the city's drain pipe cross where Houston street and the Spade highway intersect, just east of US 84.

The Lubbock line is about 10 feet deep. The city's line will require a special curved trap that will go underneath the water line. A special section of pipe is being fabricated now for the job.

CITY BITS

Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker and family of Fresno, Calif., arrived Sunday for a two week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Roberts.
