

Big Spring Daily Herald

43rd LEGISLATURE CONVENES

Daladier Again Heads French Government

Momentous Session Is In Prospect

Injuries Fatal To Doyle B. Cox

ROB MIDLOTHIAN BANK

Shake-Up In Personnel Of Cabinet Seen

INSULL MUST LEAVE GREECE AND SEEK NEW REFUGE

Robbers Take $5000 After Safe Opened

President Lebrun Asks For Thorough Cleaning Of Financial Scandals

News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Car Strikes Banister On Hiway Curve

Two Other Companions Injured When Car Crashed Through Railing

Speculation has been rife concerning the next refuge of Samuel Insull, aged former Chicago public utilities magnate wanted for trial in connection with the collapse of his industrial empire.

Nightwatchman Bound And Gagged, Communications Are Cut

MIDLOTHIAN, (P)—The First National Bank of Midlothian was robbed of $5,000 early Monday by a gang of yeggs, who bound and gagged R. F. Edwards, nightwatchman and burned their way into the bank's vault.

CWA Payroll Is $5722.86

Total Of 723 Men Receive Pay For Week Last

PARIS (P)—Edouard Daladier, former premier, was assigned again Monday to head the French government.

President Lebrun gave him the task of forming a "public safety" cabinet for a vigorous house-cleaning of financial scandals, for restoration of shaken public confidence in the government.

Daladier, it was understood, planned to take the portfolio of foreign affairs himself, ousting Joseph Paul-Boncour, to give the cabinet a strong position to face Germany in the disarmament tangle.

House Votes Concurrence In Senate Amendments Without Hitch

WASHINGTON (P)—Congressional action was completed Monday on the administration's money bill, leaving signatures of the vice-president and president all that is necessary to enact it into law.

Tom Hunter Optimistic

Will Open His Campaign For Governor In Big Spring In April

Tom F. Hunter, here as a party to the defense in a civil case being tried in the 70th District Court, is extremely optimistic over his chances for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Hunter is running on a platform which he said included tax reforms, reduction of utility rates, subjugation of the oil trust, reorganization of government, and abolition of poll tax.

WASHINGTON By George Durno Battleground—

When President Roosevelt picks a man to succeed Jim Farley as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee the chances favor someone from the Middle West or central states.

Those closest to the Executive have been chary about naming names. They prefer to let Mr. Roosevelt announce his own party manager—and they don't want to be accused of any premature leaks.

There seems to be general agreement that he should come either from the area centering around Illinois, Ohio and Indiana or from the farm belt.

These regions will be the big battleground in next November's elections.

Already the Democrats have decided to dump much of their money and focus most of their big guns on the states in this area. It is therefore argued that the man who runs the show should speak the language.

Also Mr. Roosevelt is still wooing the so-called Republican-Independent vote with a deadly persistency.

His advisers seem to think the ideal National Chairman to aid in the courtship must at least live west of the Alleghenies. Some suggest the Mississippi River as a deadline.

Senators—

When administration men get together for informal political discussions these days they usually show interest in a group of Republican Senators the Democrats particularly hope to beat this time.

The force of the collision resulted in about thirty or forty feet of the railing being knocked loose, and it is believed one of the railings struck Young Cox, who was riding on the right side of the open car.

Shortes, riding between Eastopp and Cox, was the least injured, receiving a gash on his right hand.

Shortes said they were making the curve at a speed of not over 20 miles an hour. When their car was approximately in the middle of the curve, they saw two other cars coming east, and the latter made an attempt to pass the front car, but apparently seeing their roadster rounding the curve, they turned back of the first car.

The injured men were taken by passing motorists to a local hospital for treatment of injuries. The car was badly damaged.

Mr. Cox died at 7:30, never regaining consciousness.

Doyle Bell Cox Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cox, was born June 11, 1911 at Knott, Texas. He is survived by his parents, one brother, Dr. Brittle Cox, Big Spring; and two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Neill, Big Spring, and Mrs. W. C. Henley Jr., Big Spring.

Funeral Tuesday

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the Eberly Funeral Home Chapel, with Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the First Methodist church, in charge.

Active pallbearers will be: J. E. Hammond, John E. Sikes, Sidney Carpenter, Cecil Floyd, Bob Johnson.

Both were shot and slightly wounded when they resisted arrest. The men were spotted as they drove along a street where two banks are located.

Miss Jennie Lucille Kennedy has returned to C.I.A., after spending the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kennedy.

Insull Seeks More Time As Resident Of Greece

Italian Mail Plane Cracks Up In Brazil

One Of 4 Pilots Thought Killed In Crash Discovered By Pan-American

FORSALEA, Brazil (P)—An attempt by four Italians to carry air mail from Rome to Buenos Aires in three days, ended in disaster Monday on beach near here where their tri-motored plane crashed attempting to land.

The plane was found by a Pan-American pilot, who reported he believed three of the four flyers escaped death.

Do Your Part President's Ball, Tuesday Night, Jan. 30th At The Settles And Crawford Ballrooms Beginning At 9

Whether you dance or not find out where you can obtain your tickets to help out in this great cause and get them at your first opportunity.

Let's have Big Spring set an example for the Nation in supporting this humane movement. GO TO THE PRESIDENT'S BALL TUESDAY NIGHT BUT, WHETHER YOU GO OR NOT BUY A TICKET!

How about your hot water bottle. They are not expensive. Cunningham & Phillips adv.

Lawyer Says Insull Unfit For Traveling

Fifteen-Day Extension Is Asked By His Legal Advisor Of Ministry

ATHENS, (P)—A formal appeal which he hoped would give Samuel Insull, Sr., former American Utilities operator, from five to fifteen more days' haven in Greece, was submitted Monday to Ministry of Interior by Insull's lawyer.

The appeal was based on what his lawyer claimed to be Insull's bad health. He said the patient's health did not permit travel.

LOCAL RED CROSS WORKERS DUE CREDIT FOR 1933 RECORD

(By O. R. P.)

One of the most thrilling and touching stories of Red Cross Aid during times of depression was written in 1933 by the Howard County members of Red Cross headed by Dr. W. B. Hardy and his corps of tireless, willing workers.

So pronounced and exceptional was the amount of work done that the official magazine of Red Cross work has written to three officials asking for permission to run their pictures and tell the story of their achievements.

The whole organization has worked—but Dr. Hardy, Red Cross director, and the public at large give three women in Big Spring the greatest share of the credit. They are Mrs. V. O. Hennen, chairman of the nurses' activities, and Mrs. W. D. McDonald and Mrs. J. B. Hodges, who have served together on the Cotton committee.

Dry statistics paint a poor picture of the hours these women have put in, looking after the people of Howard County, who have been unable to look after themselves.

HOWARD COUNTY RED CROSS WORKERS

MRS. J. B. HODGES Cotton Committee

MRS. W. D. McDONALD Cotton Committee

MRS. V. O. HENNEN Chairman Nursing Committee

Both Galleries Crowded With Spectators At Opening Monday TO CONSIDER RELIEF PROBLEMS OF STATE

Talk Of Amending State Prohibition Laws Is Heard At Meeting

AUSTIN, (P)—The Forty-third Texas legislature, called into extraordinary session by Governor Ferguson to enact legislation designed to assist those oppressed by stringent financial conditions, convened at noon Monday.

Floors of both legislative chambers were crowded with visitors when Speaker Stevenson of the lower branch and Lieutenant Governor Witt, rounded for order.

The session was called by the governor for the purpose of issuing relief bonds and enacting legislation to help debtors whose homes, ranches and farms are threatened with mortgage foreclosures, through the financial crisis.

Legislators expressed an opinion this would be a momentous session. There was some talk of a movement to influence the governor to submit the matter of amending state prohibition laws, to permit importation and transportation into Texas of beverages more than of 2.2 alcoholic content.

Auto Licenses Must Be Paid By February 1

Midnight February 1 will be a signal for officers to take into custody all motorists without 1934 license plates, State Highway Patrolman E. C. White said Monday morning.

White reminded the motoring public that there would be no extension of time this year and that all persons discovered after February 1 without new license plates would be prosecuted.

Registration of automobiles, though increasing slightly over the week end, was comparatively slow through Saturday, a check revealed.

Less than half the total registered last year had obtained new license plates.

Dr. J. R. Dillard, formerly of Big Spring, but now of San Antonio, is in Big Spring, for several days.

The Weather

Big Spring and vicinity.—Fair tonight and Tuesday, rising temperatures. West Texas.—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Rising temperatures in the north portion.

East Texas.—Rain tonight, Tuesday fair. Colder tonight in the extreme east and south portions with frost in the interior except in the Rio Grande valley, and freezing temperature in the interior except in the east portion. Rising temperatures in the west and north portions Tuesday.

New Mexico.—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Colder in the extreme south central portion tonight.

RENTAL Through the WANTED

2 Days left to pay your poll tax or obtain an exemption certificate entitling you to vote in state and county elections during 1934. At 11 a. m. Monday 2,481 persons had paid poll tax and 230 had obtained exemptions.

We fill your doctor's prescriptions. Cunningham & Phillips adv.

Big Spring Daily Herald
Published Monday morning and each weekend afternoon except Saturday, by
THE HERALD PUBLISHING CO., INC.
PUBLISHERS
SUBSCRIPTIONS
Office 216 East Third St.
Telephone: 728 and 727

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS
Subscribers desiring their addresses changed will please state in their communication the old and new addresses.
Office 216 East Third St.
Telephone: 728 and 727

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published here. All rights for reproduction of special dispatches are also reserved.

THE OLD CRITERION.
Comptroller General McCarl has blocked—temporarily at least—the activities of the government's emergency housing corporation, which was to have spent $100,000,000 on slum clearance and low-cost housing projects, by ruling that the action is unconstitutional.

BACK TO SERFDOM.
Most recent news from Germany gives the American workingman new reason to thank his stars that he lives on this side of the Atlantic and not in the realm of the Nazis.
It would be hard to overempha-size the extent to which the German worker has lost freedom under the new dispensation. The latest development is a law which —effective next May—abolishes labor unions in toto, imposes fines and other penalties on workers who disobey factory rules, gives the employer complete mastery over his employees, and does away entirely with the right to collective bargaining. The German worker, henceforth, is to take what is given him and like it.
To be sure, the state is supposed to look out for his interests. But the ordinary workingman is mindful of the old adage about the way heaven helps those who help themselves.
The German worker is to be completely at the mercy of the men at the top of the heap.

MEETING A TEMPORARY NEED.
Meeting by NRA authorities of the auto code, to permit temporary

Bronchial Irritations Need Creosote
For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.
Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.
Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.
Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed.
Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (adv.)

Woodward and Coffee
Attorneys-at-Law
General Practice in All Courts
Fourth Floor
Petroleum Bldg.
Phone 551

Call Us For Your Needs In—
Bound and Loose Leaf Books,
Columnar Pads, Accounting Pads, Carbon Papers, Ribbons and Miscellaneous
Items for the Office.
Everything For The Office.
GIBSON
Office Supply Co.
114 E. Third use of a 40-hour week instead of the original 30-hour limit, looks like a sensible way of meeting a somewhat peculiar problem.

Having employed many workers already under the 30-hour limit, the industry temporarily needs more men, because of increased schedules. Raising the limit to 40 hours make it unnecessary to hire more men just now. And that, in a land striving to create jobs, looks a bit funny.
But it is a sensible move, just the same. Calling for more men right now would draw a vast influx of job-seekers to the auto center. These jobs would be only temporary; presently many men would love their new jobs, and the dislocation of the labor supply would be worse than it is now.
If these jobs were to be permanent, of course, it would be different. But they aren't.

LET CONGRESS GO EASY ON SECURITIES ACT.
Evaluation of the dollar and announcement of the government's huge spending program for the coming year focused attention on the securities market. Uncle Sam will have to sell an enormous bale of bonds in the near future; at the same time, private industry will have to go to the public for a great deal of money if industrial expansion is going to proceed at the pace we expect.
All of which brings us up against the securities act which the last session of congress passed, and compels us to study the question is that act going to be an obstacle in the way of the steady issue-ing of securities which must be a part of any enduring industrial revival?

Essentially, the securities act is simple. It provides that the buyer of stocks or bonds which turn out to be worthless can sue the man or firm that sold them to him, provided he can find any important misstatement of fact in the billi-hood which accompanied the sale.
On the surface, this is nothing but a fair measure of protection for the investing public. But Wall Street has complained bitterly that it cripples the entire business of marketing new securities. No one, says Wall Street, will risk the penalties which the slightest error in fact entails. At a moment when free operation of the securities market is essential to recovery, says the Street, the securities act makes such operation impossible.

Now here is a point worth a lot of study—since the present congress certainly will be asked, soon or later, to modify or repeal the securities act, in the interest of a business revival.
Few new securities have been issued of late. Yet it is more than possible that this is due to conditions entirely unrelated to the securities law. It might be pointed out that distillery stocks—based on an industry whose prospects look very good—have been marketed without trouble. When business prospects generally look equally good, won't other securities find equally ready sales?

It behooves congress to move very slowly in touching the securities act. The law is important to the people of the nation as a symbol—a symbol of the fact that effective social control at last is being exercised over the money changers who helped to wreck the country.
The public at large hardly will consent to its modification unless the necessity for such step can be proved beyond the shadow of a reasonable doubt. And that has not yet been done.

Dr. W. E. Ryan
Named President
Midland C. Of C.

MIDLAND—Dr. W. E. Ryan was unanimously elected president of the Midland chamber of commerce at a breakfast meeting held in the private dining room of Hotel
Schwabauer Friday morning.
J. E. Hill and James S. Noland were elected vice presidents. Ralph M. Barron, long-time treasurer of the organization, was re-elected.
Salary of the secretary was slashed $3-13 per cent and the assistant secretary's salary is to be set by the executive committee. The salary cuts become operative Feb.
1.
The directors are engaged now in a membership campaign signing
new members.

231,391 Students
Matriculate In 50 Years At Texas U.
AUSTIN—During the fifty years since the University of Texas opened, a total of 231,391 individuals have matriculated, according to the latest report of the registrars.
About 20,000 more men registered in the University during this period than did women. In 1932-1933, over 2,000 more men and than women were enrolled, while in 1929-1930 men outnumbered women by only 600.
A total of 1,063 students have registered in the School of Education.
The College of Arts and Science records 74,087 matriculations during the fifty years of the University; the Graduate School, 5,641; the School of Business Administration,
3,333; the School of Law, 11,594; the College of Engineering, 14,830; and the College of Pharmacy, 2,298.

TRY OUR C-H-I-L-I
"The Best In Town"
LIBERTY CAFE
1st St. Headquarters For Blatz
and Old Heidelberg Beer

Steers And Bobcats Mix Tonight At Gymnasium

Concho Corp Shattered By Ineligibility

Brown Trying To Develop Basket Looping Combination
For the first time in several years, Big Spring and San Angelo basketball team clash, when the Concho corps visits the local gym tonight at 7:45.
Coach Harry Taylor, who hasn't been as successful in basketball as football, will have to start refranchising. The mid-term and eight-semester bugaboo takes from his squad Tom Greer, Bob Neves, Oscar Unger and Glen Wagon. However, most of the above mentioned players are expected to be lined-up against the Steers tonight. It will be their last game.

There will be a meeting of the District Three executive committee here at six o'clock this evening. The meeting was called today to save the San Angelo representatives from having to make another trip. Work will be started on the district grid schedule for 1934.

Brown is far from being discouraged by his team's poor showing against the A.C.C. freshmen, and expects to give the Cats a good walloping. The mentor has been spending his time trying to develop a combination that can hit the basket. So far he has met with little success.
The probable starting line-up for the Bobcats will be: forwards,
Gregg and Reed; center, Hayes; guards, Turn and Amacker. For the Steers, Driver and Neel will probably start at forward, Cordill at center, and Hare and Wood at guard.

Admission will be 10 and 25 cents.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

George Martin Lott, Jr., in some respects the most logical successor to the role of stormy petrel in American amateur tennis, seems to have begun the new year with a characteristic rush, calculated to emphasize (a) his right to a place higher than tenth on the U. S. ranking list, and (b) his availability for singles as well as doubles responsibility in the forthcoming Davis Cup campaign.
No one's question: Lott's doubles ability. In fact he probably is the best doubles player in the world, on the basis of his 1933 performances with assorted partners, including Johnny Van Ryan in the Davis Cup matches and Lester Stoefer, the tall Californian, in the national championships.
As a soloist on the courts, however, his record is erratic. He has had his weeks of brilliance, as when he reached the finals of the national tournament at Forest Hills against Ellsworth Vines in 1931. At other times he has been rather rudely handled by such youngsters as Frankie Parker.

Dr. W. E. Ryan Named President Midland C. Of C.

WITHIN HIS POWERS
Lott is temperamental but he has the shots and he possesses a rare combative spirit. It is entirely within his powers, should his January performances in Florida and Canada serve as a criterion, to justify his selection for the dual role of the "Tilden in this year's Davis Cup quest."
The Chicagoan has the benefit of considerably more international experience than any other singles prospect, including Frank Shields, Sidney Wood and Lester Stoefer. On his good days he is likely to take any one of these three youngsters over the hurdles. And is a champion of the old school.
Lott undoubtedly will have the idea of turning pro after last season. The future probably looked a trifle uncertain for him in amateur tennis but he couldn't get together with his old "pal", Big Bill Tilden and he likely won't. Meanwhile, it appears that with Vines in the pro ranks and Wilmer Allison passing out of the Davis Cup picture the call of new opportunity in 1934 has been heard by Master Lott.

231,391 Students Matriculate In 50 Years At Texas U.

AUSTIN—During the fifty years since the University of Texas opened, a total of 231,391 individuals have matriculated, according to the latest report of the registrars.
About 20,000 more men registered in the University during this period than did women. In 1932-1933, over 2,000 more men and than women were enrolled, while in 1929-1930 men outnumbered women by only 600.
A total of 1,063 students have registered in the School of Education. The College of Arts and Science records 74,087 matriculations during the fifty years of the University; the Graduate School, 5,641; the School of Business Administration, 3,333; the School of Law, 11,594; the College of Engineering, 14,830; and the College of Pharmacy, 2,298.

TRY OUR
C-H-I-L-I
"The Best In Town"
LIBERTY CAFE
1st St. Headquarters For Blatz
and Old Heidelberg Beer

A Winning Way

THIS SIXTEEN YEAR-OLD BOY HAS BOOTED HOME CLOSE TO 300 WINNERS THIS YEAR

RECENTLY HE RODE TRIPLE WINNERS FOUR DAYS IN SUCCESSION AT ERSOM Downs HOUSTON TEXAS

Westrope
—TOPS THE COUNTRY'S JOCKEYS—

All Rights Reserved by The Associated Press

The Life Story Of John Barrymore

Hunting and fishing are the actor's favorite pastimes. Yearly he and his family board his yacht, the "Infanta"—he even has a nursery in it for the children—and explore far-off fishing and hunting grounds. Once it was to the Galapagos Islands—another time to the Arctic. He and Steward Edward White made a famous hunting trip to Alaska some years ago. Last year the family returned there—and Barrymore amazed the natives by catching salmon in salt water with a trout-fly.
He is an ardent collector of rare old volumes, old guns and other odd relics. He boasts the only dinosaur egg to be found outside a museum. In his home, on the crest of a hill in Beverly Hills, he has many amazing trophies of the chase.
His whimsical humor leads him to many odd tricks. On his return from his first visit to Yosemite recently he built a recreation room, floored with the trunks of pine trees from the valley.
He enjoys odd companionship. One for instance, is a grizzled fox breeder on an island in Alaska, whom he visits while there, and who has come to Hollywood to visit the Barrymores in their native habitat. He knows gangsters and princes, scientists, artists, and lumberjacks.
There is a story of his stay in San Francisco.
"I heard of a place on the water front," he relates, where they had fine steam beer and herrings. So after the theater, I went there. I was in full dress suit, just as I'd left the stage.
"When I went into the place there was a hush. It was crowded with desperate looking characters who eyed me surlily. I figured that it was because the dress suit was odd there. So I ordered drinks for the house. Still that didn't seem to clear the atmosphere. The silence was ominous.
"Just then who should walk in but my friend Ashton Stevens, the critic. At once all the habits greeted him. He introduced me around, and the toughs, who knew him well, promptly became friendly.
"I'm glad, 'one of them said when we left, 'that Ashton came in, and we got to know you were regular. You see, we were fixin' to knock you on the head and roll you for everything you had on. We had you all divided up—I was going to get the shirt studs, and another of the boys the cuff-links, and so on."
"After that I was in the place every night—and the boys became some of my best friends. But I never tempted Fate with the dress suit again!"
Barrymore's trips to Europe are as interesting as his other adventures. In Switzerland he climbed the Matterhorn, and was photographed on the mountain's precipitous sides. There is an aftermath. At the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, during the making of "Night Flight" he met Clark Gable, and the talk turned naturally to hunting and fishing, both being enthusiastic. Gable mentioned difficulty in scaling cliffs in Kyliab Forest when hunting bear.
I use some iron clips that fit over Alpine boots, remarked Barrymore. "They were made for me by an old fellow in the Alps who specializes in this."
When he returned home that night Barrymore sent the Swiss artisan for a pair for Gable.
In "Dinner at Eight," he discovered a kindred soul in Lee Tracy, an ardent fisherman.
Buster Keaton, the comedian, is another of Barrymore's greatest friends—and they delight to go on excursions of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cawthorne, several army officers, and some of the stage crowd in Hollywood are among the favored ones.
Barrymore is a busy man aside from acting. He has many business ventures. He is a director in a Hollywood bank, owns several farms, and other ventures.

Barrymore's family name, incidentally, is Elyth. His father took the name Barrymore from that of an ancestor, Lord Barrymore, for theatrical reasons. John uses the family crest.
His wife calls him "Winkie." He scolds him for being late to appointments, fusses when he doesn't wear his top-coat, because he catches cold easily, and their family life is ideal.

Among interesting things in the great Barrymore home, which he purchased some years ago from King Vidor, is an aviary filled with rare birds. His favorite is "Maloney," a king vulture from South America. He says he's known Maloney ever since he was an egg—and he "clucks" at the huge bird, who loves to "talk" back to him.
There are various formal rooms in the house, with trophies, rare prints. There is a Sargent sketch of the actor. It seems that, in New York, Barrymore tried to commission the famous artist to do it for him. Sargent at the time had given up taking such commissions, and declined. But, on Christmas day, the sketch arrived. Sargent had made it as a gift, true to his resolve to make no more personal sketches for pay.
The patio is the center of the family life. There is a swimming pool, now fenced in so the children cannot fall into it. Three dogs and several black cats have the run of the house and are the playmates of the babies. One of the dogs, Peter, the St. Bernard, appeared with him in "Moby Dick."
Aside from acting, Barrymore is a brilliant writer. He wrote the book, "Confessions of an Actor," and, more recently, a series of articles for the American magazine, dealing with the rich experiences of a lifetime crowded with thrills, triumphs, and, sometimes, troubles.
He loves pictures, as does Lionel but Ethel prefers the stage. On one occasion, when she was playing in a Los Angeles theatre, she had dinner with her two brothers, and lectured them mightily about deserting the traditions of the theatre. About that time the benedictine was served. But it was just time for Ethel to rush to the theatre.
They helped her into the waiting car.
"And now," they remarked, "this noble woman is going out to carry on the noble traditions—while we deserters will return to our benedictine!"
Some years later she came to pictures, when the three of them appeared in "Rasputin and the Empress."
There is a very close bond between them. Both John and Ethel insist that Lionel is the best actor on the screen—he insists that honor goes to them.
Incidentally, when Lionel deserted the stage to become an illustrator, in New York in 1917, it was John who lured him back. He persuaded his brother to play in "Peter Ibbetson" with him—and the play was such a success that it ran for more than a year.

The producer cast about for another play to succeed it, and chose "The Jest." The Barrymore brothers had been planning a fishing trip, when told they were to start immediately in the new play.
"We'll postpone our trip ten days—I don't think the play will run any longer than that," they announced, as they didn't like the play much. But that postponed fishing trip was never taken. It ran more than a year!
"Redemption" and others followed in silent pictures. Then came "Famelet," in which he went to London in 1925 and became a sensation at the Haymarket Theatre. When one considers that the British public are suspicious of American actors, especially when they want to play Shakespeare, one will realize that it was some achievement!
It was on his return from London that he came to Hollywood.

Two Puppeteers Shows To Be Held Here Thursday

The Famous Olvera Puppeteers of Los Angeles are coming here for two performances Thursday at High School Auditorium. "Jimmie's Adventure at the Circus" will be the matinee performance, and the evening program, "Puppet Gayeties of '33."
The Paramount short "Hollywood on Parade" with movie puppets of Clark Gable, Joan Crawford, Marie Dressler and Greta Garbo, and other puppet pictures were made by the same company. Some of the puppets used in these pictures will be used as part of the show to be seen here. These same Olvera Puppeteers also manipulated the "dancing shoes" in Janet Gaynor's late picture "Adorable."
Strange as it may seem, many celebrities have come to the Olvera Puppeteers to have puppets made of themselves and frequently entertain their friends at home trying to make their puppet act.
No less a person than Gordon Craig has prophesied that marionette shows will increase in number and popularity long after moving pictures are dead and forgotten.
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mary and daughter, Betty, have left for New Orleans for a visit with relatives.

Read The Herald Want Ads
Steers vs. Bobcats, 7:45 tonite-ad.

CHILDRENS COLDS

ENDED SOONER without dosing

REGULAR PRICES
Perman Wave $3 and up
Shampoo and Set .....50c
Finger Wave .....25c
Marcel .....50c
Eye Lash & Brow Dye.....50c
Manicure .....50c
Settles Hotel Beauty Shop
Phone 48

Steers vs. Bobcats, 7:45 tonite-ad.

Know About Your Home Town

as well as the rest of the world and GET IT ALL FROM ONE PAPER
as fast as it happens

READ THE HERALD

60 CENTS PER MONTH BY CARRIER or 15 CENTS PER WEEK BY CARRIER

This small amount will not be missed by you but the pleasure and profit gained by reading it daily will be great.

CALL 728 TODAY AND HAVE THE HERALD STARTED TO YOU.

“Happy Birthday Mr. President”

You Can Rest Assured That Big Spring Will “Do Her Part”!

Big Spring is only one of 6,000 cities in the United States that is being called upon to raise money for the Warm Springs Foundation. The Foundation will bring benefits to thousands of children who suffer from Infantile Paralysis. It will make it possible for kiddies all over the country to obtain the waters of Warm Springs, Georgia that is so helpful in treating this disease that annually takes thousands of little lives. Do your part—buy one or more tickets today.

President’s Ball, Tuesday January 30 th.

Settles Hotel Ballroom
Music By

Crawford Hotel Ballroom
Music By

Ralph Emerson & His Orchestra

Fred Kennedy & His Orchestra

Admission Ticket $1.65 Per Couple, Good For Both Dances

BUY A TICKET WHETHER OR NOT YOU PLAN TO ATTEND

Your Financial Support Will Help
Thousands of Kiddies
All Over the U. S.

- Barrow Furniture Co.
- Elmo Wasson
- Allen Grocery Co.
- Club Cafe
Tickets On Sale Here
- Texas Electric Service Co.
Tickets On Sale Here
- Cunningham-Philips
Tickets At All Three Stores

- Montgomery Ward & Co.
- Tingle News Stand
- J. D. Biles, Drugs
Tickets On Sale Here
- Crescent Drug Store
Tickets On Sale Here
- La Mode
- C & C Hardware Co.

- United Dry Goods Store
- E. K. Kimberlin Shoe Store
- J. & W. Fisher
- Westerman Drug Co.
Tickets On Sale Here
- O’Rear’s Bootery
- Empire Southern Service Co.

- J. C. Penney Co.
- Carter Chevrolet Co.
- U-Save Grocery
- Courtney Davies Shine Parlor
- G. F. Wacker’s Stores

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by Herbert Jensen

CHAPTER SEVEN

Graham strode toward the phone. As he seated himself, he pushed his fingers through his hair. He made an unconscious gesture about his necktie. He dialed a number that was scrawled upon the telephone pad.

A maid answered the call. No Miss Kent wasn't at home. Oh, Mr. Graham? Would he wait a moment, please?

He watched the little clock upon the table across the room tick away the minutes. He listened intently, wondering if the connection had been broken—but, no there was no dial buzz.

He smiled a little ruefully, thinking that perhaps this delay was but the beginning of his knowledge of women. Someone had said that woof his apartment house into the street, headlights flashed upon him. Winslow, in his blue roadster, had hurried.

The maid said with a trace of sullenness in her voice.

"I tell you Miss Kent always tells me where she will be. There may be studio calls, you know."

Graham put his hand on Winslow's arm. "Lay off her, Spin," he remonstrated.

"You try," Winslow suggested. He watched the maid narrowly.

"How long ago was it," questioned Graham, "that you saw her?"

She glanced at the clock on the dresser.

"An hour . . . a little less. Miss Kent said she would lie down for a while, then dress." She spoke di-

"What was on that hanger?"

men were never conscious of time with men. Some ironical hus-and, perhaps.

He felt a pleasant tingling at the immediate correlation of ideas that swarmed in his mind. That Janice Kent should keep him waiting was thrilling indeed.

A breathless voice finally answered.

"This is the maid speaking again, Mr. Graham." Her voice sounded curiously disturbed. "Miss Kent isn't at home. No, no. Don't misunderstand me. She thought you would call and was waiting. But when I went to her room she was gone. Hello! Hello! Are you still there, Mr. Graham?"

"Yes, Tell me. Hurry. Gone, you say?"

"Yes, gone. But she couldn't be. She was not quite dressed. But there's a jar of powder broken and spilled on the floor."

Graham interrupted. "I'll come right out." He hung up the receiver. He waited a moment and savagely dialed a number.

"Hello, Spin? Say, Spin, get over here. Instantly. What's that? Forget it. This is serious. Just talked with Janice Kent's maid. Janice is gone. Yes, yes. Disappeared. Hurry!"

As he stepped from the doorway

rectly to Graham, ignoring Winslow. She had large eyes with long lashes; her hair was blue-black. Her skin was a little ashy, but she was good-looking.

"She expected your call. She said—if you phoned within the next half hour—to tell you she expected to have dinner with you hereafter. You phoned. I came in here to tell her. She wasn't here . . . just this."

She pointed to the crystal powder jar which lay in pieces upon the rug.

"Didn't you hear it fall?" Her glance met Graham's, then shifted to the floor again.

"The rug is very thick," Winslow granted. He said: "If she went out, what did she wear? Is that her dress on the day bed?"

"She was to wear that tonight. I put it out."

"Where are the things she wore when she came in? What were they?"

The maid frowned, thinking. "A blue ensemble." She glanced around "It isn't here. I'll look in the closet."

She stepped across the room and opened a door.

Winslow, behind her whistled thinly and muttered, "Some closet."

It was a small room; row upon

Many Candidates To Be In Lubbock Feb. 3 When Young Dems Meet

LUBBOCK—At least three candidates for governor, one candidate for attorney general, and a number of other candidates for public office in Texas will be in Lubbock Saturday, February 3, for the organization meeting of the Young Democratic Club of West Texas, J. Doyle Settle, president of the Lubbock club, has announced.

Already five dozen county clubs or more have been formed in West Texas and efforts will be made at the convention here to perfect the organization of a county club in each of the 131 counties of West Texas. Each and every county should be represented by three or more delegates at the convention, Settle said.

Maury Hughes, Dallas, chairman of the Texas State Democratic Committee, will be principal speaker at the convention. Walter Nelson, Jr., Wichita Falls, Texas' youngest mayor, will be the keynote speaker.

Dances, luncheons, banquets and other entertainment will be mixed in with business sessions at the convention.

The West Texas club will be another big link in the chain of clubs over the United States, all under the leadership and direction of the National Young Democratic Club, which was formed several months ago under the direction of James A. Farley, Postmaster General and former member of the National Democratic Executive Committee.

Officials of the National Committee, in organizing the Young Democratic Club, expressed a keen desire to recruit the younger democrats of the nation, organizing them and giving them an incentive and opportunity to have a greater hand in public affairs, national, state and county.

If office machine repair work is business indicator as J. A. d'Orsay, repair man, believes it to be, then business is definitely on the upturn.

"I have done more business through the 24th of January than I did in any two months in the past four years," said d'Orsay.

Steers vs. Bobcats. 7:45 tonite-ad.

St. Myberg. He should be here any time.

"Have you phoned anybody else?" repeated Winslow.

"No."

"Did anybody phone this number?"

Almost the girl hesitated. "No," she said.

"You wouldn't lie to me, would you?" Winslow smiled sardonically.

"No phoned, Paula?"

"Quit it, Spin," said Graham impatiently. "You won't get anywhere that way. I think we'd better notify the police . . . right now."

"No!" Both Winslow and Greene spoke together. Even the maid's lips formed the word.

Graham said, surprised, "Well, what—"

"No—" A strange voice spoke from the doorway. "We will not notify the police . . . not yet."

They turned. A man stood at the door. His head was round and bald and sat upon his shoulders like an orange on a box; there seemed to be no neck. His figure was short and burly, and clad in black.

Greene called excitedly, "Mister Myberg. How glad I am you're here. Now we may—"

(To Be Continued)

BIRTH NOTICE

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Marchbanks, Friday morning, a son, at Big Spring Hospital. He has been named Charles Lindsey.

PA'S SON-IN-LAW

Side-Tracked by Wellington

WE GOT TO GET A DOSE OF THAT AMBITION-ENERGIZER INTO THE SADDY SINCE HE WENT ON THE WAGON AN' WON'T TAKE FOR MY PORT, WE'LL SLIP IT INTO HIS DISH O' TEA! UH—I'LL TAKE IT IN FOR HIM!

WHAT'S THAT, PA? TEA? GOODY! GIVE IT TO ME! I'VE BEEN LONGING FOR A NICE CUP O' TEA!

I'LL GET YOU SOME IN A MINUTE! THIS HERE HAS GOT A SPECIAL FOR CEDRIC!

I WILL TAKE THAT, I TELL YOU! YOU CAN GET SOME MORE FOR CEDRIC! WHY SHOULD I WAIT UNTIL HE IS SERVED?

BUT— BUT—

WELL, ANHOW, I'LL FIND OUT NOW IF TH' STUFF WILL DO WHAT OLD PROFESSOR DIPNOODLE SAYS IT'LL DO!

TRADEMARK REG. APPLIED FOR U. S. PATENT OFFICE

DIANA DANE

Double Exposure by Don Flowers

I HAVE A FEELING YOU AND MR. DOE KNOW SOMETHING ABOUT CHUD AND SLAY AND SCORCHY'S DISAPPEARING FROM THE DANCE!

HEY—HERE'S YER DUDE, DE BOSS SAYS 'I PUT 'EM ON AN' GIT BACK IN HERE QUICK, AN' DONT NONE OF YA SQUEAL ABOUT WHERE YA BEEN, SEE?'

IF THAT BIG BRUISER YOU CALL BABY-FACE HAS HARMED THOSE BOYS, I'LL NEVER SPEAK TO YOU AGAIN, JOHN DOE!

OH—HERE THEY ARE! I TOLD YOU THEY WERE ALL RIGHT!

WHERE IN THE WORLD HAVE YOU BOYS BEEN? SIDE FOR A BREATH OF AIR, DIANA.

RECENT HAPPENINGS — MINING OPERATIONS ARE HALTED. THE GOLD IS BEING TAKEN TO SCORCHY'S PLANE AT THE RANCH UNDER HEAVY GUARD. FOREWARNED, THE CIRCLE-BAR RIDERS ARE READY FOR AN EXPECTED OUTLAW RAID. SCORCHY LEARNS THAT MOLLY KENNY IS ONE OF THE OUTLAW GANG AND ROD KENNY IS THE LEADER! GALLOPING HORSES ARE HEARD BEHIND! HERE COME THE OUTLAWS!

—BUT THE CIRCLE-BAR BOYS ARE READY!

TRADEMARK REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE

HOMER HOOPEE

All For Art by Fred Locher

ME, THE BOSS, APOLOGIZE TO DEVERE?? YOU'RE A GOOD DIRECTOR, JACK, BUT THAT'S WHAT'S THE TROUBLE WITH THE MOVIES—YOU'RE TOO SOFT—LETTING THESE STARS RUN THE BUSINESS!—WHAT WE NEED AROUND HERE

Tuberculosis Association Offers 2 Scholarships

AUSTIN—The Texas Tuberculosis Association has announced the offer of two summer school scholarships in health education for teachers in service. Each scholarship amounts to seventy-five dollars.

The purpose of the scholarships, according to Miss Fanny Nichols, executive secretary of the Association, is to encourage teachers in service to take training in health education so that their training may be comparable to that of teachers just leaving college.

"Much of our work for the prevention and control of tuberculosis," Miss Nichols stated, "is among school children. The cooperation of teachers trained in health education is of inestimable value in furthering the campaign against tuberculosis."

One scholarship is offered to elementary teachers and administrators. The other is offered to high school physical and health education teachers and administrators. The scholarships may be used in any Texas university or teacher training college offering summer school courses in health education leading to the standard requirements in that subject proposed by the State Department of Education.

The Philathe, class of the Methodist Sunday school will have a benefit 42 and Rook party at the home of Mrs. L. G. Talley, 1404 Nolan, Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. A charge of 25c per person will be made. All are cordially invited to attend.

FOR QUICK CLEARANCE

Wallpaper, 25c value, roll 9c
Building paper, roll . . . . .80c
4 lb. Spar Varnish, gal. $1.89
L.L. Unbleached Domestic, 34 . . . . .75c
White enamel, gal. . . . . $2.39

Thorp

PAINT STORE
Phone 58 123 E. 3rd

BUSINESS GOOD

St. Myberg. He should be here any time.

"Have you phoned anybody else?" repeated Winslow.

"No."

"Did anybody phone this number?"

Almost the girl hesitated. "No," she said.

"You wouldn't lie to me, would you?" Winslow smiled sardonically.

"No phoned, Paula?"

"Quit it, Spin," said Graham impatiently. "You won't get anywhere that way. I think we'd better notify the police . . . right now."

"No!" Both Winslow and Greene spoke together. Even the maid's lips formed the word.

Graham said, surprised, "Well, what—"

"No—" A strange voice spoke from the doorway. "We will not notify the police . . . not yet."

They turned. A man stood at the door. His head was round and bald and sat upon his shoulders like an orange on a box; there seemed to be no neck. His figure was short and burly, and clad in black.

Greene called excitedly, "Mister Myberg. How glad I am you're here. Now we may—"

(To Be Continued)

BLOND GODDESS

CHAPTER SEVEN

Graham strode toward the phone. As he seated himself, he pushed his fingers through his hair. He made an unconscious gesture about his necktie. He dialed a number that was scrawled upon the telephone pad.

A maid answered the call. No Miss Kent wasn't at home. Oh, Mr. Graham? Would he wait a moment, please?

He watched the little clock upon the table across the room tick away the minutes. He listened intently, wondering if the connection had been broken—but, no there was no dial buzz.

He smiled a little ruefully, thinking that perhaps this delay was but the beginning of his knowledge of women. Someone had said that woof his apartment house into the street, headlights flashed upon him. Winslow, in his blue roadster, had hurried.

The maid said with a trace of sullenness in her voice.

"I tell you Miss Kent always tells me where she will be. There may be studio calls, you know."

Graham put his hand on Winslow's arm. "Lay off her, Spin," he remonstrated.

"You try," Winslow suggested. He watched the maid narrowly.

"How long ago was it," questioned Graham, "that you saw her?"

She glanced at the clock on the dresser.

"An hour . . . a little less. Miss Kent said she would lie down for a while, then dress." She spoke directly to Graham, ignoring Winslow. She had large eyes with long lashes; her hair was blue-black. Her skin was a little ashy, but she was good-looking.

"She expected your call. She said—if you phoned within the next half hour—to tell you she expected to have dinner with you hereafter. You phoned. I came in here to tell her. She wasn't here . . . just this."

She pointed to the crystal powder jar which lay in pieces upon the rug.

"Didn't you hear it fall?" Her glance met Graham's, then shifted to the floor again.

"The rug is very thick," Winslow granted. He said: "If she went out, what did she wear? Is that her dress on the day bed?"

"She was to wear that tonight. I put it out."

"Where are the things she wore when she came in? What were they?"

The maid frowned, thinking. "A blue ensemble." She glanced around "It isn't here. I'll look in the closet."

She stepped across the room and opened a door.

Winslow, behind her whistled thinly and muttered, "Some closet."

It was a small room; row upon

DAILY CROSS WORD PUZZLE

ACROSS
1. Rowing implement
4. Move smoothly
9. Likely
11. Stain
12. City in Michigan
14. Female deer
15. Mast
17. Took what he longed to another
19. Wrath bear
20. Headresses
21. Avoids
22. Professional mourner
24. Sharpening stone
25. Cleanse after washing
26. At an inner point
29. Metal fastener
30. Render or make like suffix
31. Italian river
32. Assault
33. Units
34. Brittle transparent substance
37. Complement of a gun

DOWN
2. Least difficult
3. Idolize
10. Givas polarity to
11. English river
13. Sea eagle
16. Narrow fabric
17. Article of belief
20. Storm
21. Wholesale destruction by fire and sword
23. Married women
24. Upright part of a stair
27. Cape of Brittany
28. Extra supply
29. Silliness
31. Bright colored fan
32. American Methodist diving
33. Town in Virginia noted for large caverns
38. Grain to be ground
37. Missouri springs
38. Ardor
40. Epoch
41. By birth
42. Aeriform fluid
43. Broad street abbr.

NEVER DOMINATED OXIDE ELUCIDATE
MODEL PILE OLAF
INEANE AVE GROPE
NE SNARE KEENER
ARS TNT TIN
TANA AS OPENERS
ETUDE TEMET
DETESTS ERPTISA
SIN NOR OAM
FRACAS REBEGLI
REPAY SAM PASAN
ABAS SARI ARABA
MORTGAGE STILT
EXTERIORS SETEE

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12			13					14
15			16					17	18
19
21	22
24			25						26	27
29										30
31			32							33
	34	35						36
37								38
39									40	42
43			44	45					46
47										48

TRADEMARK REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE

SCORCHY SMITH

A Rear Attack by John C. Terry

GET OFF THE ROAD AND DROP DOWN, BOYS! GIVE THEM AN OLD-TIME RECEPTION! CURLY! GET THESE HORSES TO THE REAR!

—BUT THE CIRCLE-BAR BOYS ARE READY!

TRADEMARK REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE

HOMER HOOPEE

All For Art by Fred Locher

ME, THE BOSS, APOLOGIZE TO DEVERE?? YOU'RE A GOOD DIRECTOR, JACK, BUT THAT'S WHAT'S THE TROUBLE WITH THE MOVIES—YOU'RE TOO SOFT—LETTING THESE STARS RUN THE BUSINESS!—WHAT WE NEED AROUND HERE

LISTEN, MR. HOOPEE, WE'RE NOT RUNNING A FACTORY—WE'RE DEALING IN EMOTIONS, MENTALITIES! WE HAVE HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE WORKING ON SETS, LIGHTS, CAMERAS, SCRIPT—BUT IT ALL BOILS DOWN TO ONE THING

HOW DOES THE STAR PUT IT OVER! THAT'S ALL THE PUBLIC SEES! IF SHE'S GOOD—THE PICTURE GOES OVER, IF NOT—WHY THAT'S WHY WE'VE GOT TO KEEP THEM IN GOOD HUMOR—THAT'S WHY WE'VE GOT TO HANDLE THEM WITH KID GLOVES! WE'VE GOT THOUSANDS TIED UP IN THIS PICTURE

ALL RIGHT YOU WIN! THIS BUSINESS IS DRIVING ME NUTTY, BUT I'LL APOLOGIZE TO HER—IF IT'LL SPEED UP PRODUCTION!

TRADEMARK REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE

HERALD WANT-ADS PAY

One insertion: 8c line, 5 line minimum.
 Each successive insertion: 4c line.
 Weekly rate: $1 for 5 line minimum; 8c per line per issue, over 5 lines.
 Monthly rate: $1 per line, change in copy allowed weekly.
 Readers: 10c per line, per issue.
 Card of Thanks: 5c per line.
 Ten point light face type as double rate.
 Capital letter lines double regular price.

CLOSING HOURS

Week days ..... 12 noon
 Saturdays ..... 5 P. M.
 No advertisement accepted on an "until for bid" order.
 A specific number of insertions must be given.
 All want-ads payable in advance or after first insertion.

Telephone 728 or 729

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Lost and Found 1

LOST—Leather hand bag between Big Spring and Ackerly. $5 reward if returned to Herald.

2 Persons 2

WANTED: Milk customers. We are going to make get-acquainted price of 10c qt. for first 20 customers. Clean milk. Phone 323. Moloney Dairy. Permit No. 4.

6 Public Notices 6

OIL Workers Union meets every Tuesday night Settles Hotel 7:30.

EMPLOYMENT

12 Help Wanted—Female 12

OPENING at once for lady to qualify as assistant manager. Must have car. Good reference. Permanent position with opportunity for advancement. Box DTM, care of Herald.

FOR SALE

24 Poultry & Supplies 24
 FOR SALE or trade: A No. Nine 2400 egg Buckeye incubator. J. E. Fieble, 218 Lester Fisher Bldg. Phone 317.

FOR RENT

32 Apartments 32

ALFA VISTA apartments—corner East 8th and Nolan. Phone 1055.

TWO-room apartment furnished complete; adj. bath; lights and water furnished; large gas range; private. 409 West 8th.

TWO-room furnished apartment; private; garage. 701 Johnson. Phone 547.

35 Rooms & Board 35

ROOM, board, personal laundry 906 Gregg. Phone 1031.

ROOMS and board; close in. 304 West 8th. Phone 595.

BOARD & ROOM. Nicely furnished; convenient to bath; nice home-cooked meals. See our prices. Mrs. H. L. Wilkerson, 505 Lancaster.

AUTOMOTIVE

53 Used Cars for Sale 53

MODEL T Ford coupe, carry-all back, bought new and taken care of, to trade for cows between 2 and 5 years old. Box 1383, Big Spring.

WILL trade a good used sedan for a vacant lot in Big Spring. Phone 167.

1932 Pontiac Coupe and 1931 Ford Coupe. J. L. Webb Motor Co.

Whirligig

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

"such a disposition on the part of individual members" to let George do the voting while they build up homestow political fences by registering what they think is local sentiment.

With a majority cut to fifty the House leaders would have a compact machine that could be counted on to function in any crisis.

The electorate might give them their wish in November. Still the loss of 60 seats would be something of a turnover in an off year with the tide of Roosevelt popularity still running so strongly.

Lobby

Democrats and Republicans in and out of Congress are trying to set-pedal on anti-lobby legislation. Too many lawyers with close connections in Congress are threatened. Dozens of national associations having headquarters here would be closed if a real anti-lobby bill became law. Members of the American Bar association are also lining up lawyers everywhere to resist the movement to out their brethren.

As the majority of Congressmen lawyers it is hoped that they will listen to reason. Many Congressmen become lobbyists when their terms expire. They may not wish to slam the door in their own faces.

Off

A Congressional investigation of NRA is just about out of the question. General Johnson may yearn to appear before some committee and emulate General Dewey by devastating his critics with some new version of "hell 'n' Maria"—but he won't get the chance.

In the first place there is no disposition in Congress to start investigating Mr. Roosevelt's pet projects now.

Secondly some 200 code authorities don't assemble here until Feb. 16 to report on what's wrong and where NRA needs tightening up. It will take some time to unscramble all the squawks these lads bring to

RIX'S

Phone 500 110 Residuals
 Visit our SECOND HAND DEPARTMENT when in the market for SECOND HAND FURNITURE. We have a large stock for your selection.

Guarantee

The Czech-Slovak government has just taken a step to encourage exporters. Hereafter they will receive a guarantee of one-third the value of the merchandise exported. Germany started this system some years ago in her Russian transactions.

Red Cross

(Continued from Page 1)

President Roosevelt took some of the wind out of the sails of veterans' criticism by directing Gen. Hines to spread out $31,000,000 more to veterans.

"That's just a dribble," said one of the Senators who is fighting for liberalized pay to veterans. "The fight goes on."

Notes

Rep. Fred Britten—big navy champion—was heckling some of the admirals at a committee hearing the other day because there were no plans for flying-deck cruisers.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

Stabilization

Very unofficially and on the quiet we have a sort of gentlemen's agreement with the Bank of England to maintain temporary defacto stabilization of the dollar and the pound in an approximate ratio of 5 to 1.

The purpose is to strengthen the government's hand in its financing program by keeping the dollar fairly steady in foreign exchange. Depreciation to the 50-cent gold level can wait until the problem of floating securities is fully solved.

If you were to ask anyone at the Treasury whether such an agreement exists you would probably get a flat denial—and the answer would be literally true. The Treasury took no part in the negotiations. They were carried on with great secrecy by the New York Federal Reserve Bank. But if you think the Bank acted on its own initiative without orders from the boss you had better guess again.

Terms

Local bankers tried some of their old-time stunts when they discussed the terms of the new government security issue with representatives of the Treasury. They just can't seem to get out of the habit.

They still have a complex in favor of short-term stuff so they put on long faces and moaned at every suggestion that the government would like to have its forthcoming issues outstanding for even as much as a year. Also they had bright ideas about high interest rates. Of course they wanted to cooperate and all that sort of thing, but you see the market was in too precarious a condition to swallow anything stronger than the medicine prescribed by experienced banking physicians.

For County Superintendent.

ARAH PHILLIPS
 ANNE MARTIN
 EDWARD SIMPSON

For Constable Precinct No. 1.

J. W. (Joe) ROBERTS

Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 1.

H. C. HOOSER
 J. H. HEFLEY

For Commissioner Precinct No. 1.

REECE N. ADAMS
 ALBERT A. LANDERS
 FRANK HODNETT

For Commissioner Precinct No. 2.

W. G. (Buster) COLE
 A. W. THOMPSON
 PETE JOHNSON
 W. A. PRESCOTT
 BEN MILLER

For County Commissioner, Precinct No. 3.

GEORGE WHITE
 CHARLIE DUNN

For Commissioner Precinct No. 4.

W. M. FLETCHER
 S. L. (Roy) LOCKHART
 O. J. BROWN
 FLEM ANDERSON

Red

A full-blown Communist conference is to be held in Washington beginning Feb. 8. They call it the National Unemployment League. About 800 delegates are scheduled to attend—the ragtag and bobtail of extremists of all colors.

Trade

Negotiations which would cease more Scotch to flow across the Atlantic are tumbling along. The trouble is that the President is determined to have more bacon make the trip in the opposite direction in exchange. The British mean that Roosevelt's pork import compensation is permanent while the liquor quota would only hold good until March 1934. John Bull just can't see the justice in that.

The Czech-Slovak government has just taken a step to encourage exporters. Hereafter they will receive a guarantee of one-third the value of the merchandise exported. Germany started this system some years ago in her Russian transactions.

American business men drafting a proposed trade agreement between the United States and Russia are trying to include this feature but want a 60 per cent guarantee.

Red Cross

(Continued from Page 1)

All work, time, energy and transportation, these three have donated out of their own sources willingly, gladly and with a word of criticism or complaint.

Mrs. Hennen

Most appealing of the stories is that of Mrs. Hennen, familiarly and lovingly known throughout the county as the Red Cross nurse in the whole state of Texas.

She is employed in the medical offices of a local clinic. She has a husband and two children and a home. In addition to her duties, she naturally makes, she has given of her time and energy to work of nursing activities for the Red Cross for two years without pay.

"Depressions don't stop babies from coming," says Mrs. Hennen, thinking of the 41 babies born in 1933 in homes where the mother lacked the barest facilities for taking care of herself and her child. These babies have arrived with not a stitch of clothing awaiting them, not even a diaper, where she was lacking for the beds, where the simplest of medical necessities were missing because there was no money to pay for them.

The Red Cross makes an allotment of $7.50 for each case of obstetrics but this money, Mrs. Hennen has not felt free to keep. Usually she has taken it to buy medicine and articles the mother and baby need, sometimes for fuel and it never goes far enough even then to suit her. She might have kept it for gasoline bills, but she donates that and the use of her car.

Most of her calls come at night, she says. Any time of night, from early evening until way past midnight. And when they call she goes. It may be a not-so-sick baby and a young mother afraid to administer the medicine Mrs. Hennen has left her, but still she goes.

If it is a new baby case and there are no clothes, she arranges with one of the church societies, or with people she knows, to get a full layette; it may not be exactly the right size, but she sees that it is suitable. Often she is able to get more than the baby needs. The response of people to her calls has enabled her to do as much as she has for mothers and babies she says. After bringing the baby into the world, she makes four calls later to see that the mother and child are doing well.

In addition to obstetrics she has helped all the doctors of the city in their Red Cross work. She says in her report that she has aided at 230 immunizations against diphtheria, 9 immunizations against smallpox, 9 cases of pneumonia; 45 of influenza; 33 of measles; 45 of tuberculosis; 4 tonsillitomes.

She showed on her report that she had made 300 house calls. That is almost one a day—say, one every day—donating her time, her energy, her professional services, her car, and her gasoline bill.

In addition she has found homes for three homeless babies.

She has been often asked if people are grateful for these services which they receive free plus the necessary drugs they need. Most of them are, she says. Some of them don't realize that the Red Cross is a county organization and that the government is doing it and are only too willing to let the government assume all the responsibility, but fully one-third of the patients show their appreciation.

Mrs. Hennen is a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., where she obtained her A. B. degree. She did her training at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C.

Recently she has been officially appointed Health Nurse by the state for the local Howard County Health Association.

The value of her work lies in its individual good and its collective effect to the community. Because of her nursing and the activities of the cotton committee, Shins Phillips says the dollar that people invest every fall in the Red Cross is the biggest single investment they make as citizens. The work of Mrs. Hennen alone has done more for one county than all the other counties with a large and gullible German population.

They have advertised extensively in the German language press and sent out high-pressure salesmen and tried to frighten prospective customers with the bogey of American inflation and recommend the purchase of German securities in foreign exchange.

Sales resistance is low because of the argument used in the personal follow-up: "You lost everything you had in the German inflation. This is your last chance to protect yourself. We are doing you a favor by helping you beat the American laws."

People must be doctored when they are ill and clothed when they lack clothes. Sometimes if these two necessities of life are provided for them they can take care of the rest of their demands.

Mrs. J. E. Hodges and Mrs. W. D. McDonald were asked by the Red Cross to look after the distribution of the five carloads of material (see page 4) which played a big part in Red Cross work sent into Howard County by the National Red Cross. These five carloads by the way were sent the county in return for the contribution of small sums of $250 which it sent into the national headquarters.

Carloads of stockings, blankets, comforts, piece goods! And people all around desperate for the need of clothes! Something had to be done about it, done quickly and wisely.

The City Hall donated use of a room near the fire station and the firemen donated their services in helping carry material up to the room from the trucks and down to the care of Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Hodges; their responsibility was their also—getting the material to wherever it was most needed.

It was not long before families heard that these two women had clothing to distribute and they began to call for clothes. The women took names of the families and addresses, sizes of whatever was needed in the way of underwear, etc., number of children and their ages, went out and investigated each to be sure each was a worthy case and then distributed the clothing.

They received calls all hours of the day and as late as midnight sometimes. Mrs. McDonald said in the fall there was usually a line of people waiting in her yard. When the duties became so heavy, the two could not handle them alone they called for volunteer helpers, and always received assistance. Mrs. Frank Hamblin worked in Foran for them. The territory was all of Howard County; most of the work, however, was done in Big Spring.

Many of the needy families could not sew and most of them had not even facilities for this if they could, so Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. McDonald called on the church societies to help them make the piece goods into garments.

Their reports show that they supervised distribution of 8000 garments, 200 blankets, 50 comforts. One hundred garments were made by church societies.

The calls were so heavy this fall that Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. McDonald had had to most of their assortment in the City Hall at night. They went down there with their lists of needed articles and arranged the goods into bundles according to each family. Then they wrapped up the bundles and the firemen carried these to their cars for them to distribute the next day.

They did such a good job of distribution that nothing is now left of those five carloads, except a bolt or two of goods. They have given 489 families clothing and bedding to see them through the winter.

Their work is not over. It is just beginning for 1934. When more material comes in, they will be on the job again. It is the happiest work they ever did, said Mrs. McDonald, and they are glad of the privilege of doing it.

"Red Cross Nurse"

(Dedicated to Mrs. V. O. Hennen, who for a number of years has served as a "Red Cross" nurse, without pay. The hour is never too late nor the journey too far for her to travel with a smile.)

(By Shine Phillips)
 It's customary in this place to wait till you're dead, to be handed flowers, while some Poalms are read, But this is one time you will at least read Something good about her before she's gone to seed.

It's dark and cold tonight, but she will go,
 When Charity calls, she is tired no more.
 "It's pneumonia, needs skilled nursing," the doctor says—
 And without any recompense, Mrs. Hennen leaves her home and babes.

She stays all night, till the crisis is past,
 Goes to work in the morning—the child better at last.

Tho she commit murder; still she would "out rate"
 The Elite or the "chosen"—at the Heavenly Gate.
 "Come in, my child," the gatekeeper will say,
 "Rest awhile, and call it a day."

Success Assured

Cotton Plan In

Howard County

If success of the governments 1934-35 cotton acreage control plan is apace elsewhere with the campaign in Howard county, there is no doubt that it will be put into effect.

Monday morning County Agent O. P. Griffin announced that 75 per cent of the eligible acreage in Howard county had already been listed in contracts filed with his office.

He said that 26,000 acres were represented by contracts already signed. With the campaign having three days additional life, he declared it might be that Howard county would have 90 per cent of eligible acreage represented.

Total contracts will not reach the 800 figure he estimated, principally because numbers of landlords are making one contract do for all their holdings. However, acreage represented is far above the estimate made previously by Griffin.

The campaign is to conclude with January 31. If contracts throughout the south justify it, the program will go through.

POSTPONED

The meeting of the Aes High Bridge club, which was scheduled for Thursday has been postponed for one week and will be held Feb. 8 due to the absence from the city of Mrs. J. Gordon Bristol, the next hostess.

Paul Moss Is Candidate For District Judge

Paul Moss, Odessa Attorney, in a visit to The Herald office Monday, authorized this paper to make official announcement of his candidacy for the office of District Judge for this, the 70th Judicial District, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic Primary of July 28, 1934.

In speaking of his candidacy for this office, Mr. Moss made the following statement:

"Naturally, in asking for the high office of judge of the 70th Judicial District, I feel that it is fitting to give to the people a brief summary of my qualifications. I hope, of course, to get over the district in the next few months and talk with each voter personally.

My age is 47. Graduate, Hiwassee College; Bachelor of Pedagogy and LL. D., Valparaiso University; some time at University of Georgia. Born in Clay county, N. C.; reared on a farm. Married, have two children. Taught school. Practiced law at Greysburg, Wyo., 1917-1922; Denver, Colorado, 1922-1925; Odessa, Texas, 1926 to date. Served as president school board, Odessa. First city attorney of Odessa. Member Texas State and American Bar associations and The Authors' League of America. Specialized in civil, appellate and federal practice. Included in 1932 in Clay Harman's "Eminent Lawyers of Texas."

Attorney for the Receiver of the Citizens National Bank of Odessa. Associated at Denver with Wayne C. Williams, a former attorney general and William A. Hill, a former chief of justice of the supreme court, state of Colorado. I handled Williams' private practice while he was attorney general.

"The duties of a judge are great and varied. I have always looked upon this position with respect and one to be coveted. In presenting my application for District Judge of Ector, Midland, Martin, Howard and Glasscock counties, I believe that I am worthy of the trust. I solicit the confidence and the support of the people, with the hope that I may receive favorable consideration to be held July 28."

Three hundred Chinese elms and 400 Arizona cypress arrived Monday morning for distribution to Big Spring people.

Ordered by the Chamber of Commerce for sale to people at cost price, the trees will be located on the old Central Ward school grounds west from the county courthouse.

Persons wishing to get trees must obtain an order from the Chamber of Commerce office between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. A man is stationed with the trees but an order from the office is necessary before he can release the plants, it was said.

Monday a wire came from an Oklahoma community, affected similarly to Big Spring, that a presence of representative from this city was needed immediately.

Appropriations for all dry land experiment farms were omitted by the budget committee in its recommendations to congress. A fight is now being waged before the agriculture and appropriations committee to have such appropriations included in the budget when it goes to congress for action.

Abolition of the farm here would not only deprive Howard and surrounding communities of benefits made possible by the project, but it would throw five families out of a livelihood.

Watson, intending to fly from Big Spring, had to make a hurried connection by bus for Fort Worth when fog prevented an east bound ship from landing here. He resumed his journey by air at Fort Worth Monday morning and was to end his trip by rail.

While in Washington he will inquire into cause of delay in construction of the Big Spring post-office, seek to expedite a federal grant for local airport improvement, study proposed cotton legislation and attempt to loosen the oil quota of this area in order to supply needs of Coaden Refinery.

high school game, it was announced. Foran recently gave the Railroaders a spanking on the Oilers court.

Drink Water With Meals Good For Stomach
 Water with meals helps stomach juice, aids digestion. It bloated with gas add a spoonful of Adika. One dose cleans out poisons and washes BOTH upper and lower bowels. Cunningham & Phillips, Druggists—In Ackerly by Herald's News Room—adv.

Positive Relief For Smarting Itch
 To end smarting itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm and hot-bub, use this Ointment. It melts on the skin, sending cooled medicine deep into pores where it kills germs and ends itching. Vary sensitive. Do not burn. Pleasant in odor. (adv.)

T-F TO PLAY FORAN
 Texas and Pacific team of the city league will tangle with the high flying Foran quintet tonight in the high school gymnasium immediately following the Big Spring

Mid-Winter Facials Recommended As Tonic For Appearance And For Dispositions Says Beauty Experts

MERCHANTS ASKED TO DISPLAY FLAGS ON FRD'S BIRTHDAY

Merchants of Big Spring are asked by those in charge of the president's birthday ball to display their American flags in front of their places of business all day Tuesday, January 30th, in honor of the 52nd birthday anniversary of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This idea was suggested at a meeting of committeemen held Friday afternoon at the chambers of commerce offices, at which final plans were made for the president's birthday balls here on Tuesday evening in the Settles and Crawford hotel ball-rooms.

Carl S. Blomsheld is general chairman for the affair.

Bill Edwards, Miss Leola Moffett Wed

Ceremony Performed By Rev. J. C. Thorns Saturday

Miss Leola Moffett and Luther E. (Bill) Edwards were quietly married Saturday evening in the study of the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. John C. Thorns as officiating minister.

Only the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Moffett and an intimate friend of the groom, Gilbert Gibbs, were present for the ceremony.

The bride wore a becoming traveling frock of blue with blue accessories. She has made her home in Big Spring for the past 11 years, moving here in 1925 with her parents from Colorado. She obtained her school in the Dallas, Colorado and Big Spring schools. She was a member of the 1932 graduating class. She is one of the town's most talented young musicians and is proficient in pipe organ as well as piano.

The groom is well known from his connection with D. F. Wacker's store of which he is the manager. His home is in Jackson, Miss.; he attended the University of Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are a honeymoon trip at present in the southern part of the state. They will return the latter part of the week and make their home at 1803 1-2 Lancaster street.

Watson Leaves On Mission To Washington

Chamber Manager To Fight For Experiment Farm Retention

C. T. Watson, Chamber of Commerce manager, left Sunday morning for Washington, D. C. to represent the interests of Big Spring and Howard county in retaining the U. S. Experiment farm here.

Monday a wire came from an Oklahoma community, affected similarly to Big Spring, that a presence of representative from this city was needed immediately.

Appropriations for all dry land experiment farms were omitted by the budget committee in its recommendations to congress. A fight is now being waged before the agriculture and appropriations committee to have such appropriations included in the budget when it goes to congress for action.

Abolition of the farm here would not only deprive Howard and surrounding communities of benefits made possible by the project, but it would throw five families out of a livelihood.

Watson, intending to fly from Big Spring, had to make a hurried connection by bus for Fort Worth when fog prevented an east bound ship from landing here. He resumed his journey by air at Fort Worth Monday morning and was to end his trip by rail.

While in Washington he will inquire into cause of delay in construction of the Big Spring post-office, seek to expedite a federal grant for local airport improvement, study proposed cotton legislation and attempt to loosen the oil quota of this area in order to supply needs of Coaden Refinery.

high school game, it was announced. Foran recently gave the Railroaders a spanking on the Oilers court.

Drink Water With Meals Good For Stomach
 Water with meals helps stomach juice, aids digestion. It bloated with gas add a spoonful of Adika. One dose cleans out poisons and washes BOTH upper and lower bowels. Cunningham & Phillips, Druggists—In Ackerly by Herald's News Room—adv.

Positive Relief For Smarting Itch
 To end smarting itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm and hot-bub, use this Ointment. It melts on the skin, sending cooled medicine deep into pores where it kills germs and ends itching. Vary sensitive. Do not burn. Pleasant in odor. (adv.)

Complex Case Draws Array Of Legal Talent

RITZ
Today, Last Times
NEVER so many STARS in ANY picture

DINNER at 8

- ★ MARIE DRESSLER
  - ★ JOHN BARRYMORE
  - ★ WALLACE BEERY
  - ★ JEAN HARLOW
  - ★ Lionel BARRYMORE
  - ★ LEE TRACY
  - ★ EDMUND LOWE
  - ★ BILLIE BURKE
- ★ PLUS "CROOKS' TOUR" An All Star Comedy Paramount Sound News Starting Tomorrow

PAUL HUNTER THE WORLD CHANGES

TUESDAY USED CAR BARGAIN 1929 DeSoto Coupe $70
Big Spring Motor Company
Ph. 636 Main at 4th

Under The Dome At Austin
By GORDON K. SHEARER

AUSTIN, (UP)—Recent spectacular activities of Clyde Barrow and other notorious gunmen have had an appreciable effect on reducing the number of applicants for commissions as special Texas Rangers.

Some special ranger commissions are issued for real law enforcement work, but most of the seekers are on a par with those made honorary colonels in Kentucky.

When such an applicant for a commission appears, the adjutant general's office takes down his name, address and other details. Then he is asked casually for his night telephone number. "We might want to call you one of these nights when we get Clyde Barrow definitely located," he is told. The information cools the feet if not the heads of many applicants.

Another type seek ranger commissions for publicity. A fad for being a Texas Ranger developed about the time of the famous Ranger chorus in Rio Rita and the vogue of the wild westerns on the screen. Many actors ask for a Ranger commission.

Tom Mix, sure-enough cowboy, has never been a regular Texas Ranger, headquarters records reveal, according to Capt. J. W. Aldrich who was asked to settle a much disputed question about it.

"Gullotine Tom" is the sobriquet Tom Hunter by one of his possible opponents in the race for governor. He says it is not original but was overheard by him in a Pullman smoking room when uttered by a man who had just read Hunter's platform asking a death penalty for crooked officials.

Rep. J. C. Duvall, Fort Worth, offers to attend a special relief session of the state legislature without pay. His offer of free service is likely to have a dampening effect on some of the other members who are clamoring for a session at which they will receive $10 a day.

QUEEN
Today - Tomorrow
Mae West
in
NIGHT AFTER NIGHT
GEORGE RAFT
DORIS CLAYTON
WYNE GIBSON

the taxpayers $1,000 and was not worth one copper.

Permanent appointment of John L. Brunner as postmaster at Taylor will create a vacancy in the State Democratic Executive Committee. While there seems to be no direct provision in state law against a postmaster also being a member of a party executive committee, postal regulations prohibit a postmaster from having a part in the management of any political campaign. Management of the Democratic campaign is the function of the state executive committee. Unless specially called it will not meet until June.

L. W. Rogers, former assistant state school superintendent, has been designated to supervise education in the Civilian Conservation Corps in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona. He was assistant to the late S. M. N. Marrs and also to C. N. Shaver, Huntsville, who was appointed by former Governor Ross S. Sterling when Superintendent Marrs died.

Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, can still go through the drill manual with the best of them. He was drill champion in the officers' training camp to which he was sent at the entrance of the United States into the World War. He resigned a construction job with the Santa Fe Railway to enlist.

State Senator Walter Woodward, candidate for attorney general, has not always lived in West Texas. He once worked for an express company in Houston.

Texas railroad commissioners did not take C. H. Petet, commission secretary, along with them to Washington on a recent trip, according to tales about the capitol, for fear he would be mistaken for the President. That happened on him on a vacation trip. The resemblance is remarkable.

My Beauty Hints
By JOANNE CONNON (Stage Actress)

An astringent made from Epsom Salts—one tablespoon dissolved in a pint of hot water—will close the pores and keep the face young and healthy-looking. Apply morning and night, patting on liberally with cotton.

Rev. Goodman Is Retained Here By Fundamentalists

By a unanimous vote of the congregation Sunday evening, The Fundamentalist Baptist church retained its pastor, Rev. H. C. Goodman, who had offered his resignation several weeks ago, to take up evangelistic work with Dr. Webb, who has been holding a meeting here. Rev. Goodman was also given the privilege of doing evangelistic work with Dr. Webb, and will leave this week for Brownsville, where he will conduct a meeting. He plans to return here, however, February 18, to conduct services. Dr. Webb will fill the local pulpit on February 11th.

Hyperion Club Meets At Mrs. Bruce Frazier's

The members of the Hyperion Club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Bruce Frazier Saturday afternoon for their regular session.

Mrs. Albert Fisher, president, appointed on a committee to cooperate with the other counties' committees appointed by state federation of Women's Clubs to see after highway beautification. Misses, C. W. Cunningham, Shine Phillips and Verd Van Gieson.

The program topic was "Brazil Since 1870." Mrs. McNew spoke on "Abolition of Slavery and its Solution." Mrs. McAdams on "Change from Monarchy to Republic." Mrs. Phillips on "Political Strife in Brazil." Mrs. Cardwell on "The Causes of the Overthrow of the Brazilian Rule."

Present were: Misses C. W. Cunningham, J. T. Brooks, William Fahrkamp, H. B. Faw, Albert M. Fisher, Homer McNew, B. Reagan, Shine Phillips, O. L. Thomas, V. Van Gieson, George Wilke, B. T. Cardwell, W. J. McAdams.

PETROLLE WHIPPED IN 'LAST' FIGHT

Billy Petrolle (right), the once-great "Fargo Express," came to the end of his fistic trail in the 10-round New York bout in which Barney Ross, lightweight champion, pummeled him unmercifully to win every round. The referee is raising Barney's hand in victory. (Associated Press Photo)

TODAY and TOMORROW
By WALTER LIPPMANN

The most seasoned American observers of Far Eastern affairs have been disposed to make large allowances for the Japanese militarist propaganda on the ground that its immediate purpose is to justify large military appropriations in the budget now under consideration. Nevertheless, this propaganda is taking a form which may have serious implications for the future, and it would be a mistake not to call attention to them.

What is to be feared is that the propagandists will commit Japanese opinion and Japanese public men to projects that are impossible to realize, that bridges will be burned, the Japanese national honor engaged.

This propaganda seems to be bent upon establishing two principles. One is that, all treaties to the contrary notwithstanding, no one must question the Japanese advance in Asia. Indeed, last week there were expressions of pained astonishment in Japan because the United States, though offering no active opposition, does not by recognizing Manchukuo give its approval to the treaty-breaking. The other is that in the naval conference scheduled for 1935-36, Japan must have a navy equal to Britain's and America's.

These two principles combined are formidable. If they were accepted, they would destroy the whole basis of the treaty relationship set up in the Washington Conference. Let us recall what those relationship were. The United States came to the Washington conference with a naval building program under way which, if completed, would have made us the first naval power. The British had an alliance with Japan. The Japanese had taken a big bite out of China.

The Washington Conference was a compromise in the interests of general peace. The United States gave up naval supremacy and accepted equality in capital ships with Great Britain. The British gave up their Japanese alliance, Japan and the United States agreed upon a ratio of three to five. In return the United States agreed not to fortify islands in the Western Pacific, thus making it impossible for the American navy to give battle on the Asiatic side of the ocean. Japan in return gave up Shantung, and signed the Nine Power Treaty recognizing the integrity of China.

Now, as Secretary Stimson pointed out in 1932, all these agreements were inter-related. We, for example, did not build a navy which outclasses Japan two to one because Japan pledged herself to a non-aggressive policy as respects the Asiatic mainland and the Asiatic islands. We did not fortify our own outposts because we have no ambitions of our own in Asia and were willing to renounce the possibility of the use of force in that part of the world. But if Japan is now going to claim the right to override all her treaties and at the same time to possess a navy equal to ours, the whole basic settlement of 12 years ago will be undermined.

This has one very important practical consequence. The time is already at hand when it is necessary to discuss the renewal, the improvement, or the abrogation of the naval treaty. The Japanese should not deceive themselves. No American congress would ratify a treaty giving naval equality to Japan, most especially after the demonstration since September 1931 of how aggressively the present rulers of Japan employ armaments.

I. B. Cauble Fancy Pure-bred Hereford Baby Beef Now At PIGGLY WIGGLY
Costs no more than ordinary meat.

JAMES T. BROOKS Attorney-At-Law
Offices in Lester Fisher Building

Husbands Of Thursday Luncheon Club Members Entertain Wives With Party

The members of the Thursday Luncheon Club, who also entertain with monthly evening parties so their husbands can play with them, were the guests Saturday evening of the husbands for a merry dinner party in one of the private dining rooms of the Settles Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mary were named as honorees of the evening. Inasmuch as the party was also a farewell occasion for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Blomsheld received highest score and were presented with an indirect lighting lamp.

Present were: Messrs. and Mrs. E. M. Spasna, J. L. Webb, J. B. Kaykendall, C. B. Blomsheld, Garland Woodard, Wayne Rice, E. J. Mary and H. B. Hurley.

Mrs. Horace Reagan Hostess To Junior Hyperion Members

The members of the Junior Hyperion Club met in the home of Mrs. Horace Reagan Saturday for a study of Hamlin Garland's life and novels.

Mrs. Houston reviewed "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly." Mrs. Thurman read a paper prepared by Mrs. Harry Hurt on "Mr. Garland's Ruthless Realism." Miss Johnson talked on "Two Subjects," "Mr. Garland's Life and Hard Feelings Toward the Farm as Reflected in his Writings" and "Son of Middle Border." Miss Pickle contrasted Dean Howell's novels with Hamlin Garland's.

Miss Jeannette Barnett sent in her resignation.

Present were: Misses J. A. Coffey, Ira Thurman, Phil Berry, Pete Sellers; Misses Jeannette Pickle, Clara Secret, Marie Johnson.

Miss Johnson will be the next hostess.

Methodist To Convene Feb. 5 In Sweetwater

SWEETWATER—Sweetwater is to be host on Feb. 5 to a distinguished and outstanding group of Methodist leaders, who are bringing the missionary message of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to Texas soil for members of the northwest Texas conference.

The group is to be led by Bishop H. A. Boaz of Dallas, though he is but one of the four bishops in the party of seven outstanding church leaders coming here.

Elated At Opportunity
Dr. Thomas S. Barcus, pastor of the First Methodist church here is elated at being given the opportunity to entertain such a distinguished group of church leaders, as is the Rev. C. A. Long, presiding elder.

In addition Bishop Boaz, who is to preside, members of the Methodist College of Bishops who are to be present include Bishop Arthur J. Moore, former Texas pastor, who is directing the coast-to-coast series of missionary rallies; Bishop U. V. W. Darlington, of Virginia, whose Episcopal area lies in European mission fields, and Bishop John M. Moore, also a Texas native son, who makes his episcopal residence in Dallas.

Others Are Coming
Other distinguished religious leaders in the team include Dr. W. G. Cram, of Nashville, general secretary of the denomination's board of missions; G. L. Morelock, Steers vs. Bobcats, 7:45 tonite-ad.

TUESDAY SPECIAL ON OUR BARGAIN TABLE
BAUME BENGUE 59¢
Collins Bros
2nd & Bunsels

Nashville, general secretary of the board of lay activities; and Dr. Elmer T. Clark, Nashville, assistant secretary of the board of missions.

The all-day program here Feb. 5 is to be featured by sessions of brief missionary addresses; conferences and discussion of evangelistic themes, as well as a public mass meeting at which one of the visitors is to deliver an inspirational evangelistic address.

Methodist pastors and lay leaders from all parts of the northwest Texas conference are expected here for the day's meeting.

Steers vs. Bobcats, 7:45 tonite-ad.

CAPUDINE
It's already dissolved
Gives quickest relief from pain
Banishes nervous strain. Brings peaceful relaxation. 10c, 30c, 50c, pint sizes and at fountain

RHEUMATIC PAIN

Shop At Elmo's In The Petroleum Bldg.
January Sale Ends Wednesday
One Lot Men's Suits
Only two more days to buy one of these fine suits at this low price. Quality fabrics that are new styles.

$19.50
Elmo's
Men's Wear of Character

Read Herald Want Ads

Your Commercial PRINTING Will Do A Good Selling Job If It Comes From Hoover's Printing Service Settles Bldg.

BROODERS
1,000 capacity, oil burning $12.95
500 capacity Kerosene $7.95
50 capacity electric $1.95
Thermometers .50c
LOGAN HATCHERY
Ph. 310 817 E. 3rd

SKIN IRRITATIONS
Itching of eczema, ringworm, chafing, pimples, minor burns, etc. quickly relieved by soothing Resinol

CLEANING AND PRESSING
Prompt and Courteous Service
HARRY LEES
Master Dyer and Cleaner
Phone 489

JAMES T. BROOKS Attorney-At-Law
Offices in Lester Fisher Building

T. E. JORDAN & CO.
113 W. First St.
P-R-I-N-T-I-N-G
Just Phone 486

LOGAN HATCHERY
Phone 310—817 East Third
Baby Chicks Now On Hand
Logan Dairy Feed $1.35
Logan 'Big 9' Laying Mash $1.75
Absorb Chick Litter, bale $1.35

WOMAN'S WEAKNESS
Mrs. Will Humber of Fremit, Ark. said: "My mother and I both took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and on far a number of years whenever we felt the need of a feminine tonic and it never failed to give perfect satisfaction. My mother found this same medicine benefited her at middle life."

Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y. New size, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. of liquid, $1.25. "We Do Our Part."