Our City Suffers, Unless Officials Are In Harmony

The newly organized City Commission of Big Spring, at its second session, reappointed the City Manager, and he accepted the appointment.

This could be taken only as evidence that understanding had been reached on the operation of our municipal affairs, and that the machinery of city progress would turn without friction.

It is regrettable to have a report that such is not the case. There has been a steady worsening of relations between the city corporation's "directorate" and its management.

The Herald recognizes that honest differences of opinion must arise within any group of men, and that there must be more than one viewpoint as to what is best for a corporation or a city...

But The Herald does deplore, along with many citizens of the city, the needless misunderstandings and antagonisms that have shown up in our municipal administration since the first part of April.

The blame is not to be laid at any one doorstep. Some commissioners have been over-zealous in trying to alter details of management, others have been too lax in not seeing that the council is of the same mind on decisions.

The city manager has at times been over-tenacious to his own ideas.

The following is quoted from Article IV of Big Spring's Home Rule Charter:

Section 13—"The City Commission shall appoint a City Manager, who shall be the administrative head of the municipal government, and shall be responsible for the efficient administration of all departments x x x."

Section 14—"The City Manager shall see that the laws and ordinances are enforced. He shall appoint all appointive officers of the city subject to the approval of the City Commission, such appointments to be made on merit and fitness alone, and with the approval of the City Commission, may remove any appointive officer. x x x He shall exercise control over all departments and officers created by the Commission."

These sections cover the duties and responsibilities of the City Manager, and these represent, basically, the major differences within the administration.

The Commission and the Manager have the right, even the responsibility, to discuss their differences of opinion. But the discussion ought to be aimed at a mutual understanding.

The Commission has the responsibility of directing the Manager on policy, but not of upsetting the Manager's authority.

The Manager has the responsibility of carrying out his Commission's direction, but not of circumventing these directions.

There are no personal issues here. The issue is harmony in the administrative affairs of the city, and that issue can be settled. Harmony can be achieved. It has to be achieved, or else the city suffers.

The people of Big Spring have a right to expect that it will be achieved.

Truman To Make Known Labor Stand East Texas Floods, West Texas Parches

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—House leaders alerted members today to be on hand for a special message from President Truman next week, and Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) of the House rules committee said he expects it to be a veto of the Case labor disputes bill.

Sabath would not make a flat prediction but said his idea of what is coming is based on a conversation he had with the Chief Executive.

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts told newsmen, however, that he had "no positive knowledge" of what the President will do.

At the White House, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross confirmed reports that Mr. Truman would send Congress a labor legislation message explaining whatever stand he takes on the Case measure.

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The Senate appropriations committee today filled up the deep cuts made by the House in the 1947 appropriation for the Interior Department and recommended $329,537,438, only $20,819,832 under requests by the budget bureau.

Progress Made In AFL Talks With Operators

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The immediate threat of an AFL seamen's strike blew over today but a new government maneuver to stop CIO sailors from walking off ships June 15 began generating union opposition.

The AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific halted a strike vote and began talking wage-hour, issues with West Coast shipowners. A spokesman for the owners reported "definite progress."

That happened in San Francisco. Apparently it settled a possibility that both AFL and CIO seamen might go on strike simultaneously on all coasts by mid-June.

In Washington, government conciliators stepped up efforts to dissolve the CIO end of the maritime crisis. They suggested retention of the present 56-hour week at sea and a day off with pay for every 14 days afloat.

The mediators dropped the proposal into negotiations between East Coast ship operators and the committee for maritime unity, which is bargaining for the big CIO National Maritime Union and six allied unions.

Neither the men who operate the ships nor those who man them showed any inclination to accept the plan as a complete solution to the issue of working hours—the biggest barrier in the way of an agreement.

But union spokesmen said the proposal ignores their fundamental demand, for a cut in the 56-hour week at sea.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson told a news conference both sides in the dispute are giving "thorough discussion" to the plan for time off with pay in port. Additional conferences between mediators, operators and union negotiators were set for tomorrow.

So far there has been no agreement on anything in the negotiations to ward off a strike, now only by seven days away. The National Maritime Union has held out for a 44-hour week for men on sea duty. It started out demanding a 40-hour week, with overtime after that.

Operators have not budged from the present 56-hour week. The government conciliators have proposed that sailors keep on working 56 hours a week at sea. But in view of the standard 40-hour work week in most industries, they would get some time off with pay when they reach port.

Nervous Youth And Aged Widow Marry

LOUISA, Ky., June 8 (AP)—Debert (Shorty) Sprouse, 17, wearing a two-day growth of beard, and Mrs. Mattie Lyons Large, 79, were married by County Judge J. F. Wellman in the Lawrence county court house this morning.

Although the couple appeared unexpectedly from their home in isolated Gladys, 15 miles west of here, more than one hundred persons crowded the small courtroom and hallway to witness the brief ceremony.

The bride wore a somber black hat over her grey hair, and striped pilot, ankle-length dress. Sprouse wore worn blue denim trousers and a jacket, and had no necktie.

Mrs. Large uttered a scarcely audible "I do," and the couple did not embrace after the ceremony. Afterwards, she led the way down the steps of the courthouse, followed by her husband, who seemed self-conscious in the presence of the curious crowd.

Mrs. Large explained, "We were kinda in a hurry to get it over with." Mrs. Large, a widow, mother of seven children and grandmother of 49, and spouse obtained their license yesterday. They were denied a license earlier because Sprouse lacked his parents' consent. He obtained parental permission, then the license. Sprouse said "the minister was taken care of" to perform the ceremony. He handed Lawrence County Clerk W. H. Moore five one dollar bills he borrowed from his bride-to-be to pay for the certificate. The couple expect to go to housekeeping in Mrs. Large's clapboard cabin on a farm adjoining that of the Sprouses.

Farm Machinery Prices Increased

The local OPA price board has received instructions for posting mark-ups on farm machinery in accordance with recent increases granted.
The price of farm machinery may be increased five percent on any item that has not increased in cost to the dealer since the base period date of April 1, 1942. If the cost of an item has increased since the base period and before May 10, 1946, the maximum mark-up shall be three-fourths of the percentage mark-up that the dealer charged on the article based on the cost of the dealer must absorb a portion of this increase, the board said.

Coloradoan Given A Chance At West Point

COLORADO CITY, June 8. — Aubrey Lee Benson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Benson of Colorado City, has been appointed by Congressman George Mahon of the 19th district of Texas, as candidate for West Point Military Academy. Young Benson, who graduated from Colorado City high school as honor boy of his class in 1945, has spent a year at Texas University. At Bergstrom Field, Austin, he took preliminary tests for West Point, and final mental and physical examinations in March this year at Fort Sam Houston. Having successfully passed all tests, he enters the military college on July 1st. Benson lettered here each year in football and was prominent in track and basketball.

Present City Street Names Officially Given By Ordinance Passed In 1928

by WACIL McNAIR
Judging from various discussions during recent months, Big Spring people have become "street conscious." Indications are that streets furnish the topic of conversation at many a side-walk confab, and they are continually popping up as a subject at public gatherings.

During the recent thought survey conducted by the chamber of commerce, more participants had something to say about streets, especially getting them paved, than any other subject introduced.

DR. DICK R. LANE DENTIST
Petroleum Building
Room 606 Phone 1796

Some of these people are natives of Big Spring, but many might be classified as newcomers. However, some of today's "old-timers" as well may not know that a majority of the city's streets did not assume their present names officially until Aug. 14, 1928. Although most of them already had gained that name in popular use, the ordinance set them up legally under the present form of city government.

In the ordinance Ashland was designated officially as South Gregg, McKinney became South Scurry, Campus became Nolan, College became Johnson and Clinton became Runnels.

Campus and College streets were so named originally because they led from town to College Heights, an addition still bearing that title. Early plans were made for establishing a college there, and blocks were set aside for the campus when the addition was laid out.

Other south-side street name changes included Vangieson to Abrams, Miller to Douglas, Park to Aylford, Fifth (in Bernard addition) to Bell, Lake to Lancaster, Barnett to Young, Pearl to Owens, Josephine to Benton, Highland to Austin, Pope to Gollad. East and west streets from 11th to 18th formerly carried letters of the alphabet as names.

North-side changes included Elm to N. Aylford, Oak to N. Bell, Ash to N. Lancaster. Government to N. Gregg, Aylesford to N. Scurry, Pecan to part of N. Gregg, Pine to part of N. Scurry, Cedar (north of railroad) to N. Main, Cypress to N. Runnels, Locust to N. Johnson, Arlington to N. Nolan, Beall to N. Gollad, Chambers to N. Austin and Deming to N. Benton. East and west streets on the north side also were changed from letters of the alphabet to numerals.

A previous city ordinance (May 10, 1927) set forth methods for repairing the streets, with responsibility placed solely on the general citizenship. The ordinance provided a city street overseer, who could summon any able bodied male citizen between ages of 15 and 45 for street work. Ministers in active discharge of their regular duties and non-paid members of the fire department were exempted.

The overseer was required to give three days previous notice when street repair work was necessary, giving time, place and number of days required for work. Any man who received such a notice was required to report for work on the designated day. If circumstances prevented him from reporting he could pay $1 for each day he was called to work or send a "competent, able-bodied substitute." Otherwise he was subject to fine.

This ordinance, still in effect, technically, has, of course, been superseded by more modern methods in current street maintenance.

Livestock Run For Week Heavy

Cattle moved through Big Spring's newly increased livestock sale facilities at a rapid clip during the past week, as stockmen from a wide area took advantage of a market which registered steady to strong.

A total of approximately 2,750 animals were sold here during the week. Opening Tuesday with a run of 1,650, the West Texas Livestock Auction company began a regular weekly sales schedule, and approximately 80 head were sold there at various times during the week in private deals. Prices were steady to strong.

The Big Spring Livestock Auction company also experienced a heavy run at its weekly sale Wednesday, when approximately 1,100 head went through the auction ring. The market there for beef animals was strong, and a few hogs offered sold at ceiling prices.

Local Man Helps Make Possible Hiroshima And Bikini Atoll Bombs

By JOE PICKLE

When atomic bomb tests take place in the vast stretches of the Pacific around Bikini atoll in July, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Kirby, Big Spring, will have a personal interest in the historic event.

The labors of their son, William Gooch Kirby, 27, will be involved in that awesome spectacle. Bill, Gooch, as they call him, won't be around for the tests, for his work as a member of the research staff has been done. He will be at his desk or in a laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., continuing his studies on atomic fission.

Just what he has been doing since he was snapped up on a government requisition in 1941 after obtaining his degree at Vanderbilt University and what he is now doing is a secret kept by Bill Kirby and the government.

In high school in Big Spring, he showed his first aptitude for science, particularly chemistry. When he was graduated here on May 26, 1936, Kirby had a record of 95 in his chemistry studies and an A average in general science.

While physics got minor consideration from him in high school, he took to the field seriously at Western State college in Bowling Green, Ky., although continuing to major in chemistry.

When the lab man at Western State left his post, college authorities settled on Kirby to be in charge of the school's laboratories. He accepted the offer categorically with a simple "I'll try."

Vandervilt had been angling for him, and in his senior year at Western State, he was given a scholarship at Vanderbilt and induced to transfer to that school at mid-term. In addition to carrying on his studies, he served as student instructor in physics and graduated with the regular class in June 1940.

It was not long afterwards that the government requisitioned physicists from the colleges and universities of the nation, and Bill Kirby was sent to the government research lab at Columbia University in New York City—the first research unit in connection with the Manhattan project, under which the vast atomic research operations were grouped.

During most of the war, Kirby was at Columbia or at the Carbon Carbide laboratories, to which the researchers were later transferred in New York.

Subsequently, the group was ordered to the Los Alamos unit near Santa Fe, N. M.

Recently he visited his parents here, enroute to Oak Ridge. While here he was completely silent on his work, but his father, clerk at the Douglas hotel, noted that not long afterwards the Army had announced that fissionable material for the atomic sea tests was on its way to the Pacific.

All Mr. and Mrs. Kirby knew of their son's activities during the war was that he had "gone where the government wants me." Not until reports of the Hiroshima blast splattered across front pages did they guess the nature of his work. Although he has been playing in the same scientific big league as top physicists of the nation since graduation from Vanderbilt, Bill Kirby has the appearance of an athlete. His six-foot, two-inch frame is as solid as when he won a collegiate tennis championship at Western College. As pressure of duties at Los Alamos slackened, Kirby took to the mountains with a thoroughness that made him, as familiar with canyons and slopes of that desolate section as he is with atom splitting.

Celebrating the Golden Jubilee of automobiles, Ford Motor company has, through Henry Ford II, president, announced plans for construction of a new research and engineering center at Dearborn, Mich., at a cost of $50,000,000 and requiring eight years for completion. Henry Ford, who drove his first car through downtown Detroit 50 years ago on June 4, will dedicate the center, to the task of discovering how to make more and better motor cars at prices that more and more people can afford.

Research and engineering work on mechanical problems for Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars will absorb the largest portion of space and budget in the new center. Also under study will be means of increasing the efficiency of mass production and distribution. This, according to the president, involves re-writing "the equations (of men and machines) to take in the human factor. If we can solve the problem of human relations in industrial production, I believe we can make as much progress toward lower costs during the next 10 years as we made during the past quarter century through the development of the machinery of mass production."

Walter Phillips, assistant manager of Hemphill-Wells Co., left Saturday night for New York City where he will join Louis H. Price, manager, who is at market.

Delivery of new passenger train equipment to the Texas & Pacific Railway company has been delayed, according to a company announcement. Delivery of 19 new Pullman cars with regular berths, bedrooms, duplex roomettes, and drawing rooms is expected to start on Dec. 2, 1946. Coaches, mail and baggage-express cars will start arriving in January, 1947, and new diesel electric locomotives of 4,000 hp should begin coming through in March, 1947. All will be used on Eagles, new trains.

Elmo Wasson is still at market in St. Louis and New York to book goods for his men's store.

Wabash Railroad on June 2 christened its new train, "The City of St. Louis," an 11-car streamliner pulled by diesels between St. Louis and the Pacific coast. The trip between St. Louis and Denver requires 16 hours and 15 minutes, the fastest rail schedule between these points.

Tigers In 3:30 Test

Abilene Eagles To Meet Elias Gamboa's Team

Elias Gamboa's Big Spring baseball Tigers, who buried the Ackerly Eagles under an avalanche of base hits and caused them to quit after five innings of play last Sunday, swing back into action on the Worth Ward diamond around 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Forming the opposition will be the Abilene Brown Eagles, who come to town with a respectable record and an impressive lineup. Pitching chores for the Bengals will probably be taken care of either by Popeye Cruz or Pete Parade.

The management has also lined up a tentative game with San Angelo, which handed the Big Springers their second defeat a couple of weeks ago.

Refiners Beaten In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, June 8 — Carr-Powell softballers hit in the clutch tonight and combined a walk and the games only error to down the Couden Oilers of Big Spring, 3-1. Couden drew first blood in the fourth when James Tidwell singled to center and came home on a fielder's choice by Charles Teague. Carr-Powell went ahead in the same frame when Malish walked in advance of Bledsoe's homer over the left field fence.

L. Martin, who walked, scored in the fifth on Louis Heuvel's error. Besides Tidwell, Frank Barton, Heuvel and Conn Isaacs got hits. Bledsoe got another hit and Ol-sack one for Angelo's three blows.

There is no soda in soda water.

Legion Brigade Swamps Angelo

T. J. Dunlap's American Legion Legion girls' softball team pieced together a 16-hit attack to pulverize the San Angelo Red Chicks, 14-2, in an exhibition played before a large crowd here Saturday night.

Ethel Trotter, live-wire catcher who returned to the lineup after a layoff due to injuries, Catherine Redding and Doris Yates, paced the heavy barrage of hits off Hazel Lowe, Angelo hurler.

Trotter came through with doubles and scored four times. Redding opened with a single, came back in the fourth with a long home run and finished out with two additional singles while Yates contributed to the slaughter with a circuit swat.

The victory was the second in a row for the Legionals over the Chicks, who earlier were defeated in Angelo by a 12-0 count.

Score by innings:
San Angelo . . . 100 001 0-2 8
Big Spring . . . 305 213 2-14 16
Lowe and Avey; Todd and Trotter.

Hooper New Aide At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, June 8 — Jeff Hooper, former McMurry athlete, has been named by the school board here to the job of assistant high school football coach.

Hooper, who is married and has twin girls, coached at Farwell before entering the Marines, with whom he served 36 months during the war.

While in college, Hooper starred in football, basketball and baseball.

Will Ramsdell Top Hill Ace

DALLAS, June 8 (AP) — You'd think that a team leading in hitting, runs, hits, home runs and runs batted in — and boasting the leading individual batter — would be at the top instead of at the bottom of the first division in the Texas league.

The Tulsa Oilers are out in front in club batting by four points with 278 to Fort Worth's 274. They have slugged out 477 hits, made 283 runs, clubbed 16 homers and batted in 216 runs. But they're fourth in the standings.

Tulsa and Fort Worth pretty well hogged the honors through games of June 5, according to averages released by W. B. Ruggles, league statistician.

Tulsa's Henry Schenz was the leading batter with .370 in 135 times at bat.

In pitching the league leader was Willard Ramsdell of Fort Worth with eight wins and one loss.

Laymen To Fill Pulpit Of Churches Of God

Laymen will occupy the pulpit at the Main Street Church of God in both worship services today.

Herschel D. Walton will speak at the morning worship and N. C. Dalton will speak in the evening.

The pastor, the Rev. R. W. Hutchings, and family, accompanied by Eddie Hickson, are in Michigan at present, and will be at the Church of God national camp meeting at Anderson, Ind., on June 16-21.

Ennis Hit Robs Card Of 0-0 Tilt

ST. LOUIS, June 8 (AP) — Delmar Ennis' eighth inning single broke up Red Barrett's chance for a perfect no-hit ball game tonight but the St. Louis Cardinal right-hander went on after retiring 22 batters to shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 7 to 0 for his first pitching victory of the season.

Mutilated Nude Body of Woman Discovered

PHILADELPHIA, June 8 (AP) — The nude body of an attractive red-haired woman was found early today in a second-floor apartment where she had been beaten, strangled and the letters "A" and "L" crudely branded on her abdomen apparently with acid.

Lying face down on the floor beside a bed with blood still flowing from the nose, 40-year-old Mrs. Mary Duffy had a broken jaw, her face was battered badly and her checks cut. There were marks about the throat. The room showed no signs of a struggle.

The Egyptians invented the fishing hook.

Hardy Host To About 50 Scouters At District Meeting And Barbecue

Approximately 50 scouters were guests of Dr. W. B. Hardy, district chairman, at a meeting of leaders of the Big Spring district of the Buffalo Trails at his home Saturday evening.

Reports reflected progress on membership advancement, camping and other activities, but Dr. Hardy reminded that summer months will present a challenge to Boy Scout workers.

From the organization and extension committee, headed by Nat Shick, came reports of 145 scouters, 42 cubbers, 291 scouts, 23 senior scouts and 191 cubs in the Big Spring district. Big objectives are 184 additional scouts and 109 more cubs. Five units at present are lapsed, but 23 (16 scouts and seven cub packs) are active.

Announcement was made of council camp at Camp Faucett, near Morton, starting July 9 and continuing through three periods, and a water camp at Fort Stockton. Cub day camp will start June 17 under direction of C. V. Warren and D. M. McKinney, cub commissioner.

Advancement has been good but is slumping, reported W. C. Blankenship, chairman of this activity. Referred to the finance committee was the matter of a separate or joint drive for funds. Reports were heard from the health and safety committee, reflecting examinations for scouts and cubs without charge with rate exceptions; activities of commissioners and the monthly scoutmasters and commissioner's round table; and of impending leadership training.

Guy Brenneman, Midland, council president, spoke briefly, lauding the meeting. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Brenneman and son, Johnny. Mrs. H. D. Norris, wife of the Big Spring field executive, and Jane Norris; Bill Martin, Snyder field executive, and Mrs. Martin. Representatives from out-of-town included C. V. Wash and Rev. Berl Clark, Foran, and Homer Barnes and Capt. J. R. Rutledge, Knott. Those attending were feted to a barbecue dinner.

ADAMSON STATE CHAMP

DALLAS, June 8 (AP) — The Adamson Leopards of Dallas won the Texas high school baseball championship here tonight by defeating Forest, also of Dallas, 9-1 behind the two-hit pitching of James Blair.

Forest did not get a hit until the fifth inning.

Raymond Keed Kites Slated In Stanton

Raymond Holland Reed, former resident of Stanton, passed away Friday in a Wichita Falls hospital and will be buried at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Stanton.

Services will be held in the First Baptist church there with the Rev. Stovall in charge. Reed was a brother of the late A. L. Reed of Stanton. He was born in Texas August 3, 1891.

Pallbearers will be Frank Herington, Cliff Hazlewood, Joe Stewart, Sid Cross and Morris Zimmerman. Burial will be in the Evergreen cemetery in Stanton.

Eberley-Curry Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Safer Means To Prepare Food Goal Of New Course

With an attendance goal of 600 and an objective of more systematic and safer means of preparing and serving food, a food handlers' school will open at 2:15 p. m. Monday in the city auditorium.

Approximately 80 eating and drinking establishments are due to close daily through Friday for the school period—2:15 p. m. to 4 p. m., according to Lawrence J. Wells, sanitarian for the city-county health unit. In addition, many others have pledged representatives to attend.

Besides these, said Wells, particular appeals are being made to housewives and any others who handle or prepare food to participate.

Instruction will be in charge of C. B. Breedlove, Austin, member of the state health department staff, and Wells. Those attending four of the five sessions will be awarded a food handler's certificate.

Under terms of the new city food handlers' ordinance, which takes effect next week, persons completing the course will be eligible to receive permanent city food handler permits.

Breedlove Friday completed a successful course at Midland with 400 in attendance and 271 earning certificates. This, he said, was the second largest he had conducted, being exceeded only by one at Laredo, which attracted upwards of 800.

Monday's sessions will deal with germs and food establishments. Two films, "Eating Out" and "Defense Against Invasion," will be shown.

Year's First Amateur Show Well-Attended

Although a trifle slow in arriving, between 1,500 and 2,000 people turned out Friday evening at the city park amphitheatre for the resumption of the amateur hour series.

The popular open-air variety program was suspended four years ago due to the war. Henceforth, they will be held each Friday evening at the park during the summer season.

Retail Sales Class To Begin Monday

Another retail sales class on "Selling Today's Customer" will be opened to all retail salespeople in Big Spring and vicinity at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Settles hotel, Thelma Boone, representative of the University of Texas extension service and the state board of vocational education, has announced.

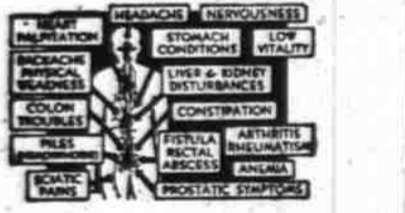

This course is being offered to permit retail salespeople to prepare or refresh their "selling tools" and improve selling techniques.

There is no charge for the course, except a fee of $1 to cover cost of mimeograph materials and motion picture express charges. Those attending 80 percent of the class meetings will be granted University of Texas, division of extension, certificates.

At 8 a. m. Monday, employees of Penney's, Anthony's and Burr's department stores will begin an eight-hour course at the YMCA.

Sellers Formally Opens Campaign With Pledge, Nine-Point Platform

SULPHUR SPRINGS, June 8. (AP) — Grover Sellers, in a speech prepared for delivery at the courthouse square of his home town to night, opened his campaign for governor with a nine-point platform and a pledge that he is opposed to any special group which may try to dictate governmental policies.

"That includes the Political Action Committee, the so-called fight for free enterprise, the Ku Klux Klan or the National Association of Manufacturers," he said.

He gave special emphasis to a broad program to include making farm owners of 100,000 war veterans, improving 40,000 miles of farm-to-market roads and raising what he called the "inadequate" ceiling of $20 a week of workmen's compensation.

His platform also included plans for a research laboratory to combat polio and other communicable diseases, and an extensive plan for preventative medicine.

He said the Texas constitution does not now authorize any aid to veterans of World War II, he said a constitutional amendment would be necessary to provide any help other than that provided in the proposed veterans' land fund amendment.

Tourist Courtesy Class, Sponsored By CC, May Begin

A meeting of operators of hotels, tourist courts, service stations and cafes has been called for 3 p. m. Tuesday in room No. 2 of the Settles to talk possibilities of a tourist courtesy school.

The meeting has been convoked by Wiley Curry, chairman of the chamber of commerce tourist development committee.

Basic idea of such a school would be to interest operators in enrolling employees in a class designed to improve service to tourists.

"This is one crop that is not affected by drought," said Curry. "We feel that with a little objective training we can learn how to better cultivate and harvest the benefits of increasing tourist traffic."

At the Tuesday session, ideas on objectives of a course would be considered. It is probable that Thelma Boone, of the University extension division and state board of vocational education, may build the course to meet local demands.

proposed veterans' land fund amendment.

Sellers said he wants to see this amendment adopted in November and outlined a program to help 100,000 vets become farm and home owners.

He also advocated expanding the extension service of Texas A&M College to provide on-the-farm training for veterans and other farmers.

He said "teachers' salaries must be substantially increased" and pledged his support to all measures for that purpose.

He said he will favor "payment of the full $40 per-month old age assistance" and a greatly increased public safety department as a means of curbing the rising traffic toll.

Matched Roping Event Planned

Two matched roping contests, along with a jackpot roping event, have been booked for June 21 at the rodeo grounds, rodeo association officials have announced.

Troy Fort, Lovington, N. M., one of the top ropers of the South-west, will test his skill against Sonny Edwards, Big Spring, a nimble artist with the lariats and the rope. Each of the contestants will rope 12 calves.

Harry Howard, Rankin, has been booked in a six calf contest with E. P. Driver, Big Spring. Both of these ropers have been coming to the fore recently. The jackpot event, with entry fees split three ways among the top hands, will climax the show.

Big Spring Listed As Tentative Site For National Guard Station

Big Spring is included in the list of tentative stations for National Guard units in Texas, according to an announcement from Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, commanding officer of the Texas National Guard.

Confirmation of the stations will be forthcoming when communities provide temporary armories and agree to provide building sites for permanent training facilities.

The local unit, the Eighth mechanized field artillery group, headquarters and headquarters battery and attached medical personnel, shows a total strength of 208 officers and enlisted men.

Exact designation of the units for Big Spring as announced from the general's office by the Associated Press and that in a letter from Gen. Walker to the chamber

Shaw's Jewelry To Be Remodeled, Display Area Enlarged, Modernized

Work will start this week on a remodeling and expansion program for Shaw's Jewelry store, Manager Joe Blum announced Saturday.

The program will have the effect of more than doubling the sales and display space as well as increasing storage area. Plans call for enlarging the store front to 25 feet and increasing the sales area to 75 feet, an over-all of 1,875 square feet, against a current sales space of 400 square feet.

The front and interior of the store, opened here originally in 1939, will be completely changed in design. The front will present four recessed show cases for jewelry on one side of the Herculite (clear) glass door and connecting glass panel and a display window for electric appliances on the other.

The lobby floor will be specially designed terrazzo, said Blum.

Inside, all fixtures will be new and especially designed for the new store. Additional space and new arrangement will be allotted for the repair department. Lighting will be fluorescent throughout.

Front finish will be in Carrera glass of blue and gray color scheme. Use of the glass door and panel will provide a clear vision of the interior from the outside, according to Blum.

"We have enjoyed a good patronage since opening here," said Blum, "and our aim is to make sure that the store will be second to none in West Texas in keeping with the growth of the city and with the times."

Italian Armistice To Be Signed Soon

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — Government officials said today they expect the revised Italian armistice, worked out by the foreign ministers conference at Paris last month, to be signed next week and announced shortly thereafter.

The armistice revision was designed to give a greater degree of authority to the Italian government. It does away with the Allied commission running Italian affairs and instead substitutes a military agency to look after the affairs of Allied forces remaining in Italy.

Bishop To Speak To Methodists

The pulpit of the First Methodist Church will be filled at both the morning and evening worship hours today by Dr. Charles C. Seelman, presiding bishop of the Methodist Dallas area, the Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor, has announced.

Bishop Seelman, president of the college of bishops and chairman of the board of evangelism for the entire Methodist Church, is making his first official visit to the local church. He is a former president of Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Dr. C. A. Long, superintendent of the Sweetwater district, and Dr. Harold G. Cook, president of McMurry college, Abilene, are other visitors expected at the Methodist Church today. A luncheon, sponsored by the McMurry club of the church, will be held in the Fellowship hall at the conclusion of the morning worship services.

Curfew Ordered

BOSSIER CITY, La., June 8. (AP) Under a new city ordinance here it is unlawful for any person under the age of 18 to be on a public street or thoroughfare, or in any public place, including amusement spots, after 10 p. m., unless accompanied by a "responsible" adult.

Toastmasters To Hold First Program Monday

Capt. Olvy Sheppard will be toastmaster at the first meeting of the new Toastmasters club since its organization when it meets for the initial program Monday night at 6:30 o'clock in the Episcopal Parish Hall.

Lawrence Wells, B. J. McDaniel and Dan Conley are assigned to present five-minute talks and E. B. McCormick a ten-minute one on any current affair, civic event or professional interest. Their speeches will be timed by a stopwatch and called by the toastmaster.

Following the completion of the talks, evaluations for each will be given by John Davis, Ted Groebel, Jack Y. Smith and C. J. Staples, assigned by John A. Coffee, general critic for the evening.

Wayne K. Williams will be the educational speaker, telling about the Toastmasters club, its history, purposes and functions.

A current topic for timed comments will be introduced by Joe Pickle, topic master. Grammarian, who will check on word usage and grammar, will be Boone Horne.

The program will be opened by Groebel, temporary chairman, who will turn it over then to Capt. Sheppard.

Each Monday night the positions of speakers, critic, toastmaster, grammarian and topic master will rotate among the 22 members. Membership is still open. Bill Dawes, executive secretary of the YMCA, sponsoring organization, said Saturday. The club is limited to 30 members, however.

Women of the Episcopal Auxiliary will serve refreshments.

Rainey Protests Radio Limitation

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — Dr. Homer P. Rainey, former president of the University of Texas and now candidate for governor, protested to the communications commission today that a Texas radio network is placing an "arbitrary limitation" on political debates.

In a telegram to the commission Dr. Rainey complained that stations making up the Texas Quality Network have entered into an agreement not to sell time to political candidates before June 11 and from that date to July 13 will sell each candidate only one broadcast. From July 13 to July 27, the telegram said, the stations will prorate available time.

"The election," Dr. Rainey said, "will be on July 27. This will permit the candidates limited use of four of the most powerful stations in Texas for only two weeks, thereby preventing thousands of rural voters from hearing the public discussion on the part of the various candidates."

Trivia Pays Off— VOLUME BY FORMER HERALD WRITER SELECTED BY BOOK OF MONTH CLUB

George Stimpson, who columned and served as Washington correspondent for The Herald for several years, has at last hit the literary jackpot.

Time magazine carries a story in this issue about the selection of Stimpson's "Book about a Thousand Things" by the Book of the Month club as its monthly pick.

Stimpson, 49, is a native of Anamosa, Iowa, and former staff member for the Washington Herald and Pathfinder magazine. He had difficulty in getting ahead, although Speaker Sam Rayburn called him the best informed man in Washington and Franklin Roosevelt said he had never heard a better toastmaster.

His weakness, according to Time, was in his insatiable regard for trivia. He knew fact, but there were no big and little ones to him. Herald readers doubtless remember his columns, which invariably dipped into miscellaneous facts, and another column, Nuggets of Knowledge.

He compiled these into a book which Harpers published and which now has been given a blessing that stands to net the man, who eked a living for several years partly out of The Herald and associated papers, around $50,000.

This stroke of luck comes on top of an unexpected run of 30,000 copies for Book about the Bible, taken from the samplings from his copious "B" file of facts. Time quotes him as saying, "I don't understand about money; I either don't give you any or they throw it at you."

Two Wichita Fliers Killed In Accident

WICHITA FALLS, June 8. (AP) — Roy Lee Riner, Jr., 28, and William Peter Ferguson, Jr., 18, both of Wichita Falls, were killed in the crash of a plane last night five miles east of Wichita Falls near the Jolly community in Clay county.

Their bodies were found in the wreckage of the plane, a converted Army trainer. X-ray examinations aided in making the identification.

Italian Armistice To Be Signed Soon

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — Government officials said today they expect the revised Italian armistice, worked out by the foreign ministers conference at Paris last month, to be signed next week and announced shortly thereafter.

The armistice revision was designed to give a greater degree of authority to the Italian government. It does away with the Allied commission running Italian affairs and instead substitutes a military agency to look after the affairs of Allied forces remaining in Italy.

Bishop To Speak To Methodists

The pulpit of the First Methodist Church will be filled at both the morning and evening worship hours today by Dr. Charles C. Seelman, presiding bishop of the Methodist Dallas area, the Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor, has announced.

Bishop Seelman, president of the college of bishops and chairman of the board of evangelism for the entire Methodist Church, is making his first official visit to the local church. He is a former president of Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Dr. C. A. Long, superintendent of the Sweetwater district, and Dr. Harold G. Cook, president of McMurry college, Abilene, are other visitors expected at the Methodist Church today. A luncheon, sponsored by the McMurry club of the church, will be held in the Fellowship hall at the conclusion of the morning worship services.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

NOTICE To The Consuming Public

EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, JUNE 9, 1946, THE PRICE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS WILL BE INCREASED AS FOLLOWS:

Quarts	Wholesale 14c	Retail 16c
1/2 Pints	4 1/2c
Butter Milk	10 1/2c	12 1/2
Quarts
Coffee Cream	50c	65c
Quarts
1/2 Pints C. C.	16c	19c

To The Milk Producers

EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, JUNE 9, 1946, THE PRICE OF GRADE A WHOLE MILK WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

Increase of 20c per hundred weight on 4% milk with a 5c price differential for each 1% butterfat up or down.

At the present time the O.P.A. is paying the milk producer 2c per quart in the form of subsidies. This is likely to be abolished at the end of June; if so, the price of dairy products will rise to compensate for the loss of revenue to the milk producer.

The Borden Co. Banner Creamery

In 42 counties in West Texas, the increase to both producers and consumers is only 1/2c per quart due to the fact that there was a 1/2c increase a few months ago which was not shared with the other counties in Texas.

Long Drouth Ends Hope Of Farmers In County For Cotton, Much Grain

Howard county farmers anxiously scanned the skies this week in last-minute hope that relief from the season-long dry weather would arrive, as cotton planting prospects began changing from serious to critical.

Some already have abandoned the idea of planting, and will take their chances on grain and feed. Although considerable acreage has been planted in the county, most of it is in extremely dry areas where farmers covered their seed on possibility of showers in time to get a stand.

Only two communities, Lomax and Fairview, have appreciable acreage growing, and a few farms in the Elbow section do not appear to be suffering as much as drier parts of the county. However, reports indicate that the Fairview acreage is likely to be over-estimated by the casual observer, since some of the better looking crops are near the roadways on a relatively small strip which had showers last month. Sections off the roads there are faring little better than the county as a whole.

Many farmers are talking grain and feed, pointing out that moisture coming as late as early August might make a feed crop. Provided the county goes in heavily for grain, as is indicated now, a continuance of good prices for combine maize will brighten the general picture.

If present conditions prevail for another two weeks, Howard county probably will grow only about one-sixth of the acreage indicated in early season planning, County Agent Durward Lewter estimated. As the situation stands now, about 15,000 acres will be more than planted. This figure represents about one-fourth the 1945 acreage.

Grasses also are fast approaching a state of total depletion, with much range land already valueless for grazing purposes. With no improvement on the commercial feed situation, stockmen probably will continue to sell heavily.

First Postwar Meet For District Lions Scheduled Here Next Week

One week from today Lions of district 2-T will begin arriving here for their first post-war convention, an event which will be held jointly with the state Lions convention.

On the basis of reservations, Jack Y. Smith, president, estimated that attendance would exceed 500.

Arrangements virtually are complete, he said. Registrations start the afternoon of June 16 and services at the East Fourth Baptist church in the evening will be the first convention functions.

District business sessions are slated for Monday and clubs competing for next convention site and for their candidates for governor will stage model luncheons and entertainments at the Settles, headquarters. Monday evening a banquet and ball honoring District Governor Charles Dean of Plainview will be held at the Settles.

Bulk of activities Tuesday will center around state business, and governors of the five districts of Texas are due to be on hand.

A barbecue at the city park Tuesday afternoon and an open meeting for International Night will be staged at the amphitheatre with Francisco Antonio Doris y Paz, international director from Mexico City, the featured speaker. Paz may be accompanied by a colorful Mexican orchestra.

Hodge Finally Gets Three-Year Sentence

District Judge Cecil Collins got around to the formality of giving Claude Marvin Hodge his three-year prison sentence Saturday morning.

Hodge was found guilty a week ago of automobile theft but was privileged under state laws to wait as long as 48 hours to accept the sentence.

The judge was out of town most of the week, did not have time to greet Hodge again until Saturday morning.

Watson, Former CC Manager Here, Recalls Early Plans, Lauds Progress

A two-day meeting of Farm Security Administration workers held here Thursday and Friday served as a virtual homecoming for C. T. Watson, state FSA director from Dallas, who spent many years in San Angelo, Lamesa and Big Spring in various associations with agricultural work.

Watson, who was born in San Angelo, served as manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce from 1928 to 1935. Prior to his work here he was county agricultural agent for Dawson county.

"I think the chief reason the Big Spring chamber of commerce wanted me as manager was my interest in agriculture," Watson said. He was the first full-time manager of the local chamber employed. Going to Lamesa in 1918 as county agent, he more or less pioneered supervised agricultural work in this section. One of his first moves after coming to Big Spring was to advocate hiring a county agent.

Coming here at a time when interest in agriculture was crowded into the background momentarily, Watson reminded, "I arrived almost simultaneously with the first Chalk Oil well." Among other things he initiated a chamber of commerce plan for improving dairy herds in the county. The chamber purchased eight registered Jersey bulls and encouraged farmers to utilize their services. Other registered dairy cattle were shipped into the county in carload lots and sold to farmers at cost.

securing the first appropriation for beef cattle feeding projects at the experiment farm here, a project still in effect and which has recorded many achievements in its institution in 1930.

In January of 1935, Watson left the local chamber to be assistant state director for FSA. In 1941 he was promoted to state director, a post he still holds. However, he has not had occasion to visit FSA units in this area since 1936, as Howard county was placed in a "dust bowl" region that year.

with headquarters in Amarillo and covering parts of Northwest Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma. All Texas units in the Amarillo region were returned to Watson's jurisdiction last January.

"There are many signs of progress here now, compared to the time I left," Watson said. "Big Spring has taken on more of a city atmosphere. However, paving does not appear commensurate with other development."

The two-day meeting here was for FSA employees in districts 13 and 14, with headquarters in San Angelo and Sweetwater, respectively. About 50 attended the sessions in the Settles hotel, where methods of better home and rural supervision were studied. The FSA is primarily interested in providing better farm and home management leadership, Watson said.

Two Oil Men On Tour Of Properties Here

A. E. Jago, Houston, vice-president of Shell Petroleum corporation and in charge of transportation and supplies, and E. R. Bozwell, Houston, state manager for the concern, completed a four day visit here Friday.

While in this territory, they accompanied Ted O. Groehl, owner of Westex Oil company on an inspection tour of Shell properties in this area.

Cameron As DO Leader May Further Course

Election by the board of trustees of Stanley Cameron as coordinator of diversified occupations is a step toward continuation of the program, among the first in the state, started here in 1935.

Thus, Cameron will not come into a "cold" field, for there are 18 DO students who still have another year to go before earning their certificates for on-the-job vocational training.

Board Organized By Local Unions At First Meet

Associated Labor Legislative Board came into being Friday night when 35 members of the various unions of Big Spring convened at the court house to lay plans for future activity in the political field.

J. R. Mundt, vice-chairman of the group, who presided in the absence of R. C. Williams, chairman, said that the newly formed organization will meet every Friday night at the court house henceforth in an effort to unify labor's influence in national, state and local parties.

WHAT HAPPENED AFTER THE WINE?

A befogged memory has Billie Van Hook Mullins, picked up here Friday by members of the city police force and referred to the custody of the county on a theft charge.

Billie admitted pilfering a suitcase from a car belonging to a local attorney a couple of weeks ago. He remembered swapping the valise for a quantity of wine at a local package store.

What happened to the five shirts, the pair of pants and a shaving kit the suitcase contained he doesn't remember. He does recall he had them up until he sampled the wine.

Members of the sheriff's office are following his trail in an attempt to find out where he checked the remainder of the barrister's belongings.

Youth To Govern

Red Sox Rout Hal Newhouser To Decision Detroit, 15-4

Victory Extends Croninmen's Lead To Seven Games

BOSTON, June 8 (AP)—Slugging in lusty fashion behind Joe Dobson, whose father died last night, the red hot Red Sox today vanquished Prince Hal Newhouser for the second time this season as they trounced the Detroit Tigers 15-4.

The victory lengthened the Boston club's league lead to seven full games over the Yankees.

Newhouser was found for four hits and five runs in the first inning, the only frame he was allowed to work.

Dobson pitched in fine fashion, scattering most of 11 hits, until the eighth inning when the excessive heat and the emotional strain told on him and Bob Kilinger replaced him.

Dobson pitched after a phone conversation with his brother, who notified him of their parent's death.

"You go ahead and work," the brother said. "That's the way Dad would want it."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Dub's garage and Big Spring Hardware play a make-up softball tilt Wednesday night, June 26, as preliminary to the all-important Myny softball league battle between Cosden's Oilers and the Coahoma Stanolind club . . . The game was not on the original schedule . . . Cosden and Coahoma clash at 9 o'clock . . . Glenn Bredemeyer, the Big Spring Motor hurler who played all over the country last year with the Big Spring Army Air Field softballers, says the only diamond he's dug a spike into that's worse than the Ackerly field is one at Birmingham, Alabama.

Brotherly Athletic Talents

Ocle Henson, catcher for Doc's Redcaps, is a brother to Buck Henson, Stanton's all-around athlete who is now coaching high school football in the Texas Valley . . . Buck and Lige Brothers, manager of the Dub's Garage team, played baseball together some years ago in the Martin county capital . . . Pat Stasey, who's awaiting a better offer before returning to professional baseball, recently became a father . . . The offspring is no future outfielder but a girl.

Mexican League Rebuffed, But Hangs On

Organized baseball withdrew its recognition of the Mexican National League a couple of weeks ago but the circuit is continuing to function as a four-club independent circuit, maintaining clubs at El Paso, Chihuahua City (the leader at the moment), Juarez and Saltillo . . . Mel Steinger and Jerry Varrelman, former Big Springers, are sticking with El Paso . . . Mel has finally found a league where he can hit . . . Varrelman, a catcher, is punishing the lemon, too . . . Joe Fortin, the Lamesa Lobos' hard hitting outfielder, graduated from the US Marines shortly after the last war with ominous-looking knee scars but they came from the baseball diamond and not as the result of a brush with the enemy . . . Stage was set for the injury when Joe's Marine club was playing a gang of touring major league all-stars on a remote island . . . Along about the ninth inning, the all-stars launched an uprising in an effort to wipe out a 2-0 deficit, filling the sacks in a hurry . . . Joe chased a long drive after two men had been retired, managed to snag the ball while hanging over five-foot barbed wire fence . . . Fortin broke into the professional game with Lockport of the Pony League in 1942.

Buddy Scott Chalks Up Another One

Taylor Sanford, who used to visit relatives here every year, is now manager of Richmond of the Class B Piedmont league . . . John Maiale, the Big Spring high school basketball coach, will probably spend the summer working in Odessa . . . Buddy Scott of Dallas, Texas' best known professional scrapper, chalked up his third consecutive victory, since emerging from the service last Wednesday evening in Oklahoma City by decisioning Bill Peterson of Chicago in ten heats . . . Buddy is one of the ten best heavyweights in the world . . . Another crackerjack fighter of the Lone Star State, one Manny Ortega, El Paso, is having his record looked into by the state boxing commission after running out on a Jurez fight with Baby Gonzales . . . Ortega, who lost to Gonzales recently, claimed he had damaged his eyebrows in a recent scrap with Mickey Travis in Fort Worth . . . Mike Brumblow, the former TCU line coach, has been named president of the football booster's club at Midland, his new home . . . Pat Gerald, Sweetwater high school's capable grid mentor, recently shot a par 71 in qualifying for a city tournament there.

Parker In Net Singles Finals

KANSAS CITY, June 8 (AP)—US singles champion Frankie Parker, Los Angeles, and Billy Talbert, Wilmington, Del., second ranking player, will meet for the Heart of America national invitational tennis tournament title tomorrow.

Talbert, who teams with Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., as doubles champion, won his semi final match against eighth-rated Hal Surface, Jr., of Kansas City, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Parker advanced to the finals by outlasting Mulloy, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Comely Mrs. Frank Kovacs, San Francisco, advanced to the women's titular round in defeating Mrs. Wilma Smith, Centralia, Ill., in straight sets 6-2, 6-1. She will meet Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss, Los Angeles, for the championship tomorrow.

Schneider Wins Texas PGA Title

LUBBOCK, June 8 (AP)—Sam Schneider of Houston turned on the steam in the final nine holes here today to win the 1946 Texas PGA championship with a 280 for the 72-hole grind over the Lubbock country club layout.

Black Barons To Meet Colorado City Today

Frank Miller sends his Big Spring colored Barons back into action at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the Salvation Army diamond at West Fifth and San Antonio streets, with Colorado City forming the opposition.

Miller will field practically the same lineup that flattened Hobbs, N. M., and Slaton here in recent weeks.

Hart Handcuffs Amarillo Gold Sox, 10 To 1

LAMESA, June 8—Cecil Hart turned back the league-leading Amarillo Gold Sox with five hits here Friday night before over 1,000 delighted fans as his Lobo mates pounded Amarillo's ace southpaw, Lefty Lonergan, for 10 bingles and a 6 to 1 triumph in the series opener.

Hart gave up only two safeties, Bauman's double in the second and Williams' single in the fourth, until the ninth when Sutch homered, the ball hitting the top of the right field fence and falling outside to rob Hart of a shut-out.

The big Lobo right-hander fanned six, walked four, as Lamesa held the opposition to a record low for the year. The Lobos played errorless ball and made three double plays.

Big Joe Fortin, Lamesa right-fielder, led the attack on Lonergan with a double and a triple and four runs batted in. Pepper Martin got two singles and a double, and Barton Cook collected a pair of safeties.

Lonergan whiffed eight batters, and set the Lobos down impressively in six frames, but the locals bunched four hits with three errors in the opening stanza for four runs, and added two more in the fifth.

Lamesa plays Lubbock here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Welder Needed To Finish SA Tennis Court

Work on the tennis court being put down on the Salvation Army playground has virtually ceased due to the fact that some necessary welding has to be done.

Capt. Olvey Sheppard of the Army has sent out repeated calls for a welder since the work shut down but so far no one has volunteered to finish the project.

As a result, most of the backstop has yet to be put up and only about half the caliche has been deposited. After the caliche is in place, the topping must be applied.

Workers have all but completed the task of clearing off the two diamonds on the West Fifth and San Antonio streets' recreation spot.

Mrs. Troy Gifford donated a large elm tree to the Army, which will be used to decorate the landscape. It will be located near the newly installed croquet court.

A clock golf course, one of the newest games to be introduced here, is also being installed. It can accommodate from two to eight persons when completed.

The playground equipment will be rearranged so that all the

Gaugers Tangle With Continental Tuesday Night

The biggest crowd of the season is expected to be on the sidelines at Forsan Tuesday night when Cosden's Gaugers and the Continental Oilers come to grips in a Community softball league contest that is almost certain to decide the first half championship. Game time is 9 o'clock.

Each team has won three times in as many starts. Blacky Hines' Cosden troupe thumped Lees with ease last week to pull up even with the Oilers.

Tuesday's first bout will send Lees, still seeking its first win of the campaign, into action against the High School. The teams start proceedings at 7:30 o'clock.

Standings:
Team W. L. Pct.
Continental 3 0 1.000
Cosden 3 0 1.000
Shell 2 2 .500
High School 1 2 .333
Phillips 1 3 .250
Lees 0 3 .000

Games may be played simultaneously.

According to Capt. Sheppard, 18 church league games can be played weekly on the two softball diamonds.

Harry Todd Pulls Into Tie For Golf Lead With Ghezzi

Demaret Deadlocked For Fifth; Hogan Nine Strokes Off

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. (AP)—Another star in Texas' brilliant golf constellation seemed in the making today as Harry Todd of Dallas shot his way into a tie with veteran Vic Ghezzi for the lead at the three-quarter mark in the Philadelphia Inquirer invitation golf tournament.

With Byron Nelson not a competitor and Ben Hogan far down the list, the gangling 28-year-old former amateur toured the par 70 Llanerch country club course in 66 while swarthy-skinned Ghezzi posted a 70. The pair were bracketed at 205 for 54 holes.

Lew Worsham of Bethesda, Md., slipped to a third-round 73 and shared third place with Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., who posted a third-round 72 for 206 total.

Only ten of the 60 finalists in the 72-hole grind succeeded in breaking par.

Grouped at 208, in a tie for fifth place, were a pair of tournament veterans, Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., and Jimmy Demaret of Houston, who had 68 and 66 respectively today and amateur Harry Haverstick, Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., who carded a 71. A stroke back of them, at 209, were Jimmy Hines of Chicago, Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles, Johnny Bulla of Chicago, and Capt. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis amateur.

Club Directors Meet At 6:30 P. M. Today

Directors of the Big Spring country club conduct their monthly business meeting at the club house starting at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Pat Kenney, president, will preside.

Summer activity at the club, including this month's West Texas Pro-Amateur tournament and the August-September invitational, is expected to come in for prominent discussion.

Manhattan Wins Over Sterling

Jimmy Daylong, fashioned a magnificent three-hit job to pace the Manhattan Club softball team to a 3-0 triumph over the Sterling City American Legion team in an exhibition played at the city park Friday night.

Daylong helped to win his own ball game in the fifth inning when he batted in the first Manhattan run, hitting behind Melvin Simmons.

Billy Parker, Club skipper, drove out a solid smash in the sixth inning to score Daylong and Simmons and make victory certain to the Big Springers.

Hopper started on the mound for the visitors while Lowe succeeded him in the sixth round.

Parker, with two singles, shared hitting honors with Simmons and Daylong. Billy Mims and Johnny Daylong also came through with safeties.

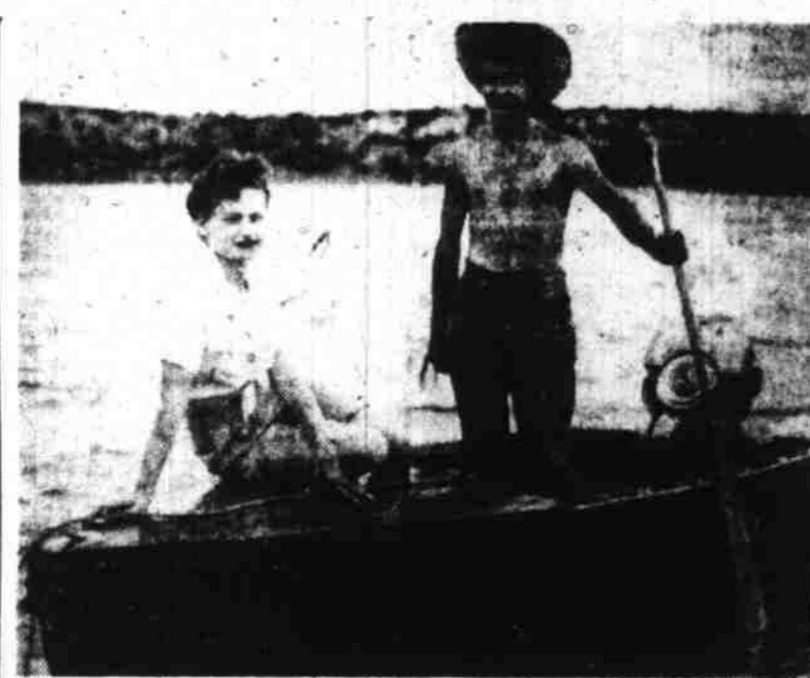

Score by innings:
Sterling 000 000 0—0 3
Manhattan 000 012 x—3 8
Hopper, Lowe and Chapple; Jim Daylong and Parker.

TERRELL WOMAN CHAMP

DALLAS, June 8. (AP)—Mrs. Guy La Roe of Terrell won her second championship of the Texas Women's Public Links Golf Association today, defeating Mrs. L. B. Hoesek of Dallas, 8 and 7, in the scheduled 36-hole finals.

Motorists Turn Back Ackerly

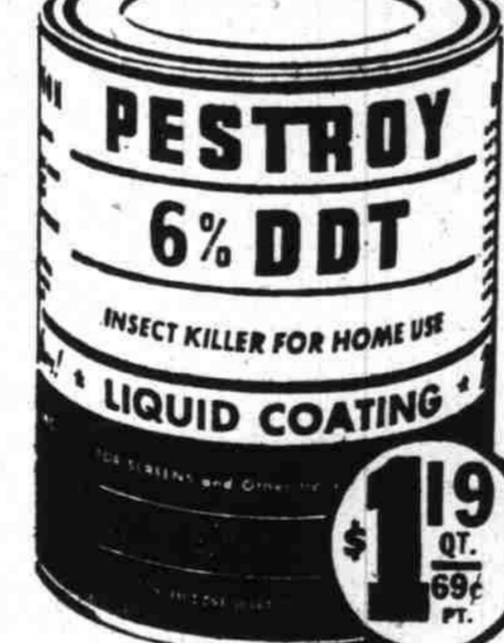

Motor got behind Glenn Bredemeyer with a concentrated mace assault to decision the Ackerly All-Stars, 8-3, in a softball exhibition played on the Ackerly diamond Friday evening.

Jack Miller's long home run with two men aboard in the sixth inning was the standout bingle of the Big Spring team.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS FINDS SURE-KILL WAY TO USE DDT

IT'S PESTROY DDT LIQUID COATING

(Destroys Pests)
KILLS:
flies, ants, mosquitoes, roaches, crickets, moths, bedbugs, wasps, silverfish, gnats, beetles, fleas, lice, many other insects.

BRUSH ON screens, around doorways, window sills, plumbing, garbage cans, drains, basements, many other surfaces.

Here's how PESTROY DDT kills and keeps on killing! After application, PESTROY DDT particles rise to top of coating, form crystalline film. This DDT film kills insects that touch it. DDT is absorbed through nerves in the bug's feet, causes paralysis, sure death. And PESTROY keeps killing, day after day. A new type of synthetic resin binds PESTROY to any surface, keeps the DDT from brushing off, blowing away.

Third Round Of Church Mushball League Booked Monday, Tuesday

Third round of YMCA Church softball league competition will find 18 teams in action on four diamonds Monday and Tuesday.

In the girls' division of play, First Baptist will oppose Church of God at 6 o'clock and East Fourth will meet First Methodist at 7:15. The bouts will be untelevised on the South Ward field Monday.

Salvation Army and YMCA senior boys teams square off on the Army senior field, West Fifth and San Antonio street, at 6 o'clock Tuesday.

The City park diamond will be the scene of action of three games Tuesday. East Fourth Baptist and First Christian senior boys teams play at 6:30 p. m. Catholic and YMCA girls at 7:15, and Airport Baptist and First Methodist senior boys at 8:30.

Two junior boys league games will take place on the Salvation Army junior field when East Fourth Low and East Fourth High play at 7:15 o'clock, following a 6 o'clock clash between First Baptist High and Airport Baptist.

First Baptist Low and Salvation Army Juniors cross bats at 7:15 Tuesday evening on the Army's senior diamond.

Fourth round games of the schedules will be played on Thursday and Friday, according to Arrah Phillips, director.

Coaches of the active teams are being reminded by Miss Phillips to report complete records of all games to the Y office on Main street.

According to existing regulations, a Church league game will consist of five innings or an hour and 15 minutes of play. Players may play on one team, only.

Veterans Swamp Cosden Pipeline Behind Elliott, Redcaps Victors

Breaking loose with their most impressive offensive show of the campaign, the Veterans of Foreign Wars shelled the Cosden Pipeliners of Foran into defeat, 24-15, in a Mundy Softball league debate Friday night at Foran.

The defeat virtually eliminated the Foran club from title consideration and gave the Vets a won and lost average of better than .500 for the first time this season.

Tommy Elliott pitched creditably for the Vets while Monroney and King absorbed the punishment on the hill for the losers. The Big Springers combed the offerings of the two Cosden hurlers for 21 base hits.

Johnny Burns, LeRoy Woods and Hunka Stewart collected three blows each for VFW. Elliott drove out a brace of home runs while Malons and Davis came through with a single circuit fly apiece.

Bobby Yarbro featured the futile Cosden attack with a long home run and Lewis Heuvel came through with some nice mace work.

Doc's Redcaps made the evening all-Big Spring by defeating the heretofore unbeaten Continental Oilers, 8-3, in a practice game.

Bill Griender, a transplanted Hoosier, worked the first two heats for the Redcaps before giving way to Morris Crittendon.

Doc's gang counted five runs in the initial canto and were never headed.

Ocie Henson banged out three hits while Cleo Wilson was outstanding for Continental with two safeties.

Cleveland Layout Rough On Golfers

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP)—Company's coming to Canterbury next week for the USGA 46th open championship and the 133 professionals and 39 amateurs will find the rolling, windy course a worthy foe for their flashing blades.

Back in 1940 only two of the field of 165 starters cracked par 288 for the 72-hole medal play test and practically the same all-star cast will appear in the June 13, 14 and 15 revival of the classic.

Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen led for the 1940 crown, with Little taking the title in a play-off, 70 to 73.

Most of the boys who have been playing practice rounds in preparation for the test declare 283 or 284 will win the laurels, but history offers little basis for such forecasts. Walter Hagen needed 287 to win the Western open over the course in 1932.

Prominent Pros Here June 25

Golfers from Midland, Odessa, Hobbs, N. M., Amarillo, Abilene, Sweetwater, Lubbock and San Angelo are expected to take part in the West Texas Pro-Amateur golf tournament, which will be conducted here starting at 12 noon on Tuesday, June 25.

A sprinkling of pros, including Lloyd Watkins of Odessa, who sacked the top prize in last month's show at Amarillo, will be on hand. Others in the moneyed ranks who will probably be here are Warren Cantrell, Abilene; Jimmy Gamewell, Hobbs; Shorty Hornbuckle, Odessa; and J. T. Hammett, Colorado City.

Shirley Robbins, pro and manager of the local club, said he was expecting as many as a hundred linksmen to attend.

The club is also making plans for the July 4 flag tournament, which will be open to men and women members of the organization.

Mercandise prizes will be in the offering to the winners, Robbins said.

Army Softball Teams Win In Two Starts

Salvation Army's senior and junior softball teams chalked up victories in exhibition games played on their own field Friday afternoon.

The Army's senior team got behind Andy Daylong's pitching to edge a team of Latin-Americans, 11-8, while the juniors swamped the First Baptist juniors, 33-7. Dewey Byers was the winning hurler.

Cash Register Stolen From Jake's Liquor

Big Spring police were searching Saturday night for an unidentified man who allegedly pilfered the cash register at Jake's Liquor store on East Third street during the afternoon.
 Jake Hancock, owner of the store, reported to officers at about 3:30 p. m. that he was out of his store temporarily, and on returning he discovered $184 in cash missing. Police were given a partial description of a suspect seen by passersby in the neighborhood at the time the theft occurred.

Motorists Picked Up On Many Charges

Failure to produce an operator's license after being stopped by members of the state highway patrol is not the only offense local persons are being found guilty of these days.
 In recent weeks, justice court summonses have been issued for failure to pass a vehicle on the left hand side of the road, speeding, turning off a thoroughfare without giving a hand signal, carrying excess weight, overloading, display of improper tags and failure to maintain a proper tail light.
 Fines for the traffic violations have ranged up to $34, including court costs.

Condition "Still Bad"

CHICAGO, June 8 (AP) — St. Luke's hospital reported today that the condition of Jerry Tyler, Niles, Mich., and Waxahachie, Tex., industrialist injured in the La Salle hotel fire, was "still bad." Tyler's wife and son perished in the fire.

UNHAPPY — Patricia Draus, 4, of Chicago was a bit afraid of the camera as she received her degree of "bachelor of play" in a ceremony for a pre-school play group of children, three to six years old, who were graduated "cum laude."

Eleven Persons Die In Two Explosions

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 8 (AP) — Eleven persons, including four British soldiers and seven Egyptians, were injured in two explosions here last night.
 The soldiers were injured when a missile believed to have been a grenade was thrown into Mustapha Kamel barracks about midnight. The Egyptians were hurt in the explosion of grenades found in a basket behind the British barracks at Ramleh.

DELEGATE IN WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP) — Herschel V. Johnson, United States interim delegate to the United Nations security council, has gone to Washington for weekend conferences arranged to define American policy on the controversial issue of Franco Spain.

Fire Destroys House, Badly Burns Another

A one-room house, occupied by Juan Flores at 205 Channing street, was destroyed and another house next door was damaged considerably by a fire at noon Saturday.
 The blaze started when an oil stove exploded in the Flores house, firemen said.
 The fire department was called out again at about 5 p. m. Saturday to extinguish an automobile at Gregg and Fourth streets. The car, which belonged to E. M. Bishop, sustained a damaged hood and wiring.

Nylon Manufacture Soars, Senators Say

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP) — Production of nylons is soaring, four senators noted today in a report expressing their views on continuation of basic price control.
 "Since Jan. 1, 1946, the total output of nylon hosiery is estimated to average more than three pairs apiece for the 53,000,000 women and girls in America who are 14 years old or older," the senators said.
 Balkan is derived from a Turkish word meaning mountain.

Crowd Expected For Spraying Test On Lomax Livestock

A large crowd of farmers and stockmen are expected for the livestock spraying demonstrations at the E. W. Lomax ranch Friday, County Agent Durward Lewter reported Saturday.
 Demonstrations are scheduled to begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue through most of the day. Several groups of cattle will be used, with different insecticide solutions to be studied on the various groups.
 The spraying machine, which is to be brought here from Coke county where stockmen have been using it for some time, is a versatile apparatus, Lewter said. In spraying livestock a constant high pressure is maintained, and by changing of nozzles it can also be used for treating fruit trees and other purposes.
 In spraying cattle it is not necessary to send the animals through a chute single file as in dipping. T. B. Hicks, Coke county agent, has reported better results by using an ordinary crowding pen, Lewter said. Hicks will be here Friday to assist in the demonstrations.

Reports Of Yugoslav Mobilization Denied

BELGRADE, June 8 (AP) — Foreign press reports of a general mobilization of Yugoslav troops have been denied "from beginning to end" by the government.
 An official statement yesterday in the government Bulletin Tanjug said that the reports were "published in close connection with the coming conference of the Big Four to impede the formation of agreement and avert a just decision on claims of Yugoslavia (to Trieste)."

Sixtieth Fire Victim Dies; Origin Probed

CHICAGO, June 8 (AP) — The number of dead in Wednesday morning's La Salle Hotel fire rose to 60 today as a coroner's jury investigation of the disaster was continued until next Friday.
 Mrs. Ann Paluckis, 24, from Illinois, died in Henrotin hospital this morning, about 72 hours after the blaze swept through the 22-story loop hotel.
 Andorra, tiny principality on the French-Spanish Pyrenees border, first was given its independence by Charlemagne as a reward for help in fighting the Moors.

BABY MUMMIFIED
 BELLEVILLE, Ill., June 8 (AP) — Surgeons at St. Elizabeth's hospital here disclosed today that they had removed a 7-pound mummified baby boy from the abdomen of a 39-year-old woman who had carried it for 20 years thinking she was afflicted with a non-malignant tumor.

 AT YOUR DRUGGIST!

Share the Wheat to save the world!

It's as simple as that.
 Wheat, wheat, America's wheat, is the white hope of the world.
 Wheat—because no other food is such a vital source of basic strength and sustenance. Wheat—because, of all bread-stuffs, it can best be transported and put to immediate use in famine countries.
What can you do?
 Buy less flour at a time. Emergency flour may not keep as well as white flour. So buy in small quantities, store in a covered container in a cool, dry place.
 Save and use every scrap of bread. Bread is the basic food of every American meal. No one is asking you to give it up. But—just for the emergency—try to figure out ways to make the supply go further. Eat ALL the crusts. Use leftovers in nourishing puddings, soup croutons. Count your bread precious—don't waste it.
 Try other foods! Wheat and fats are needed to feed a starving world. If everyone in your house will save a teaspoon of fat, a couple of slices of bread every day in weeks to come, you'll help to save the world.

Right now is the emergency. Right now is the time to ration yourself on WHEAT.

3 ways to share a meal and save a Meal

- 1. Share wheat and fat products
 Go light on all foods that take wheat, fats and oils. Conserve breads, macaroni, cakes, cookies, pastries and deep-fried foods. Use drippings for pan-frying. Conserve salad oil—use bottled dressings instead.
- 2. Buy and serve more plentiful foods
 Balance diets with the more plentiful foods such as potatoes, fruits and vegetables, eggs, fresh poultry and fish.
- 3. Waste NO food
 Dress up today's leftovers for tomorrow. Make every crust count, as make toast, crumb-toppings, bread puddings and stuffings. Take no more than you can eat. Clean your plate. Turn in every drop of uneatable fat to the fat salvage program.
 In addition, you can help by keeping your Victory Garden producing, and by contributing to your local emergency food collections.

SHARE A MEAL EVERY DAY

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIR

Marvin Carter of Waco was the principal speaker at a county-wide Farm Bureau meeting held Thursday night in the district court room. His address followed a program announced by J. D. Spears, director from the Coahoma community, which included songs and readings. Some new features of the Blue Cross hospitalization insurance which goes into effect with the beginning of the new enrollment period were explained by Carter and by C. H. DeVane, president of the Howard county bureau. Carter stopped here on a 10-day trip covering most of the state, and he reported much interest in the new insurance plan throughout Texas.

A refresher course for county agents in district six will be given Tuesday at San Angelo. Dr. E. A. Grist, extension service veterinarian from College Station, will be present to help the agents "brush up" on several pertinent points in livestock care. The agents will do some actual dipping and other work on cattle, sheep, goats, etc.

NOTED HOTEL OWNER DIES
NEW YORK, June 8. (AP) — Frank Case, 76, owner of the Algonquin Hotel, and for two generations host to the literary and theatrical great who made his hotel their gathering place, died yesterday after a long illness.

The outlook for sudan in Howard county is about as dark as cotton due to the dry weather. Many have not even attempted to plant sudan yet, and those who have been able to get a stand probably will not graze it until rain comes, since one grazing would be the extent of benefits without more moisture.

Howard county 4-H club boys will gather on the court house lawn Saturday to study grasses. County Agent Durward Lewter plans to select a four-man judging team to represent the county at the district 4-H encampment. The Howard county boys took top honors at the camp last year.

Lewter believes he has picked a good day for the spraying demonstration at the E. W. Lomax ranch. If it doesn't rain before Friday most farmers probably will have very little work to keep them from attending. The demonstration will start at 9:30 a. m.

Howard county definitely will be represented in the club division of the Sonora wool and mohair show June 19 and 20. Club boys here expect to have about a dozen fleeces of wool ready to enter.

I. B. (Doc) Cauble, who has saved the limb off behind him more than once, makes bold to say "West Texas has missed a cotton crop." He reasons that if rain came soon, it would take too much time to get enough and then dry out for planting for any assurance that a crop could be made. Not so for himself, for Doc has nearly 400 acres of cotton up to a good stand on his farms near Elbow.

"Good Looking Governor" Resembled Poet, But Made Strong Statesman

AUSTIN. — Texas' second governor, George T. Wood, was known as the "good looking governor," resembling more the conventional idea of a poet than a statesman. But he was far from a mild man, and some of his pronouncements while fathering the infant state of Texas were far from poetic.

Perhaps exemplifying his character was his message to the Senate during a boundary dispute when Texas claimed more than 98,000 square miles of New Mexico. Said Governor Wood:

"The state affairs in Santa Fe have occupied much of my attention. Every inch of that territory belongs to our state, and we will defend it to the last extremity, and if surrendered it must be when Texas has no soldier to defend it. There will be no messenger of her defeat."

But land-poor Texas was glad to accept from the United States as payment for the New Mexico claims, $10,000,000 in 5 per cent, 14-year bonds, even though half the money was retained in Washington to secure the payment of the $12,000,000 debt inherited from the Republic.

While Governor Wood was in deadly seriousness, his term expired before the time arrived to put his threats into action. Nor did Texas' second governor speak softly on the Indian question which plagued him during his term of office. General sentiment was that Indians must "be pursued, hunted, run down and killed" — that like Mexico, Texas should offer a liberal bounty for their scalps. Governor Wood asserted that if the Federal government couldn't handle the situation, Texas could.

Wood also demanded Texas Rangers for frontier defense, winning, in Washington, the support of Senator Sam Houston who said, "Give us 1,000 Rangers, and we will be responsible for the defense of our frontiers. We ask no regular troops; withdraw them, if you please."

Wood might not have been the second governor of Texas except that Isaac Van Zandt, who led the first delegation to Washington to press for annexation, died at the age of 34. Van Zandt was the popular choice for governor. He advocated partitioning Texas into four additional states, one for each point of the Lone Star, and he was a persuasive speaker. He contacted yellow fever in Houston. It is strange to think what Texas' history might have been had he prevailed.

With Van Zandt out of the way, soldier-statesman Wood cashed in on an oversight of his predecessor, James Pinckney Henderson, Henderson, while leading Texans in the battle of Monterrey during the Mexican war, failed to mention the exploits of Colonel Wood and his Rangers. That went a long way toward making Wood the second Texas governor, with a vote of 7,154 out of 14,748 cast for three candidates.

After his fighting speech over the New Mexico boundary, Wood tried for a second term as governor. He was classed as a "Houston Man" and the anti-Houston factions were gaining in power. As one writer said, "They were willing to move heaven and earth to defeat Wood, if for no other cause save simply to cripple Houston."

Wood tried again in 1853 and in 1855, but his career had ended; his military glory was waning. There was no edifice for the governor in Austin during his term of office. The old President's Home had burned, leaving only an outhouse kitchen. Wood, long on military speeches, was short on spending money. His slogan was, "the debt must be paid, the honor of the state must stand without a blemish." So, no mansion was built during his administration. He left Mrs. Wood on his plantation in Harrison county as best sources say she never came to Austin while her husband was governor. Governor Wood "boarded" at the famed Bullock Hotel.

Caring little for personal appearance, Texas' second governor was said never to have worn socks.

Workmen To Finish Lomax-Robb Lane

County highway workmen will attempt to finish the job of adding a caliche base to a mile and half stretch of right-of-way on the Lomax-Robb lane this coming week.

Maintainers were busy last week leveling the thoroughfare. One of the units was also concentrating on the task of clearing out rough spots on the Lomax drive directly south of the railway tracks.

Most of the caliche for the work is being obtained from a plot just off Eberley lane.

Week's Business—

Contractors Draw Preliminary Plan For Church Annex

CONTRACTORS DRAW . . . 24 . . . June building permits got off to a mediocre start last week, with prospects dim for equaling the May total. The city issued 16 permits for a total estimated cost of $18,700. Most of the new projects involved residential work and moving, while only five were for new construction. The current total for the year is $755,791.

Puckett and French have worked up preliminary plans for a proposed addition to the First Methodist church, but date actual work will begin is problematical. The church will carry out a fund raising campaign before detailed arrangements are made.

Warranty deeds increased over the previous week, with a total of $86,450 recorded. The year's aggregate stands at $1,990,859.

The local livestock market maintained a steady to strong average during the week, with receipts heaviest of the season. More than 2,800 head were sold at sales of the West Texas Livestock Auction company and the Big Spring Livestock Auction company.

Five Daily Vacation Bible Schools Held At Churches In Big Spring Last Week

Five Daily Vacation Bible schools were held at local churches last week, two of which have completed their activities.

Northside School Ends

The North Side Baptist church closed its fourth annual Vacation Bible school Friday, June 7, which teachers reported was the most profitable one conducted to date.

The school, which started Monday, June 3, was attended by 46 children. In the commencement exercises, Friday evening, 33 of that group received diplomas, while 24 maintained perfect attendance records.

The five-day program was highlighted by illustrated Bible lessons given by Mrs. George H. O'Brien. Character stories relating the life of David Livingstone were told by Mrs. Chester O'Brien, the principal. The 53rd chapter of Isaiah was given from memory by a special choir.

Beginners Have Party

Enrollment at the Bible school at First Baptist church reached 214 its first week, Ernest Hock, superintendent, announced, and 193 attended the Friday session.

East Fourth Enrolls 173

Vacation Bible school at the East Fourth Baptist church has finished its first week with an enrollment of 173, and church officials declare that the school this year exceeds any of the past several years.

Leaders hope that before the week is completed that the 200 mark will be reached.

A motion picture of the entire school is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Munroe Gafford. A picnic will be held for the group on Thursday at the city park. The school will be climaxed Friday evening at 8 o'clock with a commencement program at the church.

The faculty includes Rev. James Roy Clark, pastor, George McLellan, principal, and leaders, Mrs. Sam Bennett, Mrs. W. O. Leonard, Lex James, Mrs. Otto Couch, Mrs. Mary Rayley, Mrs. Dick Davis, Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mrs. Norma Findley, Mrs. Bill Ellison, Tommy Ann Hill, Billie Sue Leonard, Mrs. B. D. Rice, Mrs. LeRoy Minchew, Mrs. T. F. Hill, Mrs. Mack Royalty, Mrs. L. E. Knightstep, Gladys Cowling, Mrs. J. W. Croon, Mrs. George McLellan, Mrs. Mildred Puckett, Mrs. Cecil Floyd, Mrs. Bob Keheley, Mrs. Bill Bostick, Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. W. A. Jenson, Mrs. Caryline Burchett, Mrs. Tom Buckner, Mrs. Paul Logsdon and Minnie Lee Randolph.

JUNE BRIDE—Wearing bride's blue with a corsage of white roses, Marjorie Lee Albaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Albaugh, was wed Thursday morning to John Lewis Stripling. The ceremony was read in the First Methodist church by Rev. H. Clyde Smith, with only immediate family present. The couple is now on a wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Stripling plan to reside in Big Spring.

Coker, Robert Cochran, Dickie Snyder, Rosemary Donica, Virginia Lynn Dove, Janice Newsome.

Teachers were Mrs. Gifford, Mrs. Pat Creighton, Mrs. A. L. Hobbs, Mrs. W. J. Alexander, Mrs. Charles Tompkins, Mrs. Hugh Potter, Mrs. H. B. Reagan and Mrs. J. O. Skiles.

Classes Completed

The First Christian church Bible school closed with 42 in attendance, and on Friday night a program was held at the church with representatives from each class participating.

Each day featured activity in arts, Bible study, recreation and refreshments.

Rev. J. E. McCoy, pastor, was head of the school and those on the faculty included Mrs. A. G. Hall, Jr., Mrs. Ray McMahan, Mrs. J. R. Broughton, Mrs. A. A. Marchant, Mrs. W. D. McNair, Mrs. George W. Dabney, Mrs. Brown Rogers, Mrs. O. C. Lewis, Mrs. V. E. Sorrels, and Mrs. Russell Moughn.

School Grows

At the First Presbyterian church Bible school, which is beginning its second week Monday, enrollment has increased from 42 to 53, and there are two new leaders.

Projects include mounting pictures, making scrap books, constructing foot stools, compiling notebooks, drawing maps and preparing marionettes of Biblical characters.

The staff at the school includes Elizabeth Akers, principal; Mrs. Pat Kenney, Mrs. J. C. Lane, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. B. S. Hubbard, Jr., Mrs. C. S. (See BIBLE SCHOOL, P. 6, C. 3)

Susannah Wesley Class Has Monthly Luncheon Meeting

A covered dish luncheon was served in the home of Mrs. Bernard Lamun Friday when members of the Susannah Wesley class of the First Methodist church had their monthly meeting. Co-hostesses were Mrs. H. F. Taylor, chairman, Mrs. W. F. Cook and Mrs. Mary Deibridge.

Mrs. Charles Morris gave the invocation, and also accompanied the group for hymns. Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd was in charge of the brief business meeting.

Attending were Mrs. Lina Flewellen, Mrs. C. T. Watson of Dallas, a guest, Mrs. Mattie Heffley, Mrs. Joe M. Faucett, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. W. E. Fleeman, Mrs. L. E. Eddy, Mrs. G. E. Fleeman, Mrs. N. W. McCleskey, Mrs. W. D. McDonald, Mrs. U. N. Robinson, Mrs. C. E. Talbot, Mrs. Bernard Lamun, Rev. James Swafford, Mrs. H. F. Taylor, Mrs. J. B. Sloan, Mrs. E. S. Dorsett, Marian McDonald, Mrs. W. F. Cook, Mrs. William Reinwald, Mrs. J. A. Meyers, Mrs. Anna Vastine, Mrs. Alice Riggs, Mrs. A. C. Bass and Mrs. H. Clyde Smith.

May Bride Feted At Gift Parties

COLORADO CITY, June 8 (Sp) — Honoring the former Blanche McCarley, who was married to Willie A. Bell, Westbrook, at the home of the Rev. Dick O'Brien in Big Spring late in May, two showers were given in and near Colorado City this week, one Tuesday night by the YWA girls of the First Baptist church who entertained at the home of Mrs. Pat Bullock.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. J. P. Nunn, Mrs. B. W. Scott, and Mrs. Malcolm Mays were hostesses at Mrs. Nunn's country home near Buford. More than 170 guests registered at the two showers.

Mrs. Bell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. McCarley, one of Mitchell county's most prominent farmers, and she is a graduate of the local high school and of John Tarleton College. She is employed as bookkeeper for Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative.

Bell is the son of Mrs. Annie Bell of Westbrook. He served three years in the Army Air Corps, mostly in the European theatre, and is now employed by Chicago Bridge & Iron Company in Houston, where the couple will live.

Betty Gay Lidia Weds Don Wilson

Friends here have learned of the marriage of Betty Gay Lidia to Don Wilson on May 29 in the home of Mrs. Fred Hiser of Baird. The bride is the niece of Gordon Phillips, and spent some time visiting in Big Spring. At the time of her marriage she was a junior student at TSCW.

Social Calendar For Monday

FIRST BAPTIST WMS will have a mission program at 3 p. m. in the church parlor with Mrs. H. E. Choate in charge.

FIRST METHODIST WSCS will have Bible study at the church at 3 p. m. with Circle Three giving the lesson and Circle Four in charge of the social hour.

WESLEY METHODIST WSCS will meet at 3 p. m. in the church.

FIRST CHRISTIAN WOMAN'S COUNCIL will have a Bible lesson at 3 p. m. taught by Mrs. J. D. Benson.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY of St. Mary's Episcopal church will meet at 10 a. m. Monday with each member bringing a picnic lunch.

Nita Jean Jones Has Birthday Party

Nita Jean Jones was honored Thursday on her sixth birthday anniversary with a party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Relfee Jones.

Games were played and refreshments were served. Those present included Patsy Rogers, Weldon Rainey, Mariann Smyrl, Jackie Bennett, Margaret Ann Croan, Billie and Jimmie Croan, Twilla Hull, Betty June Phillips, Ann and Kay Richbourg, Jackie Richbourg, Bobbie and Chorlette Dunivan, Jay Le Fever, Jim Pat Campbell, Rita Kay Rogers, Betty Lou Jones and Mrs. T. D. Rogers. Mrs. J. W. Croan, Mrs. Walter Davis, Mrs. Joe Hull and Mrs. O. B. Warren of Coahoma.

Wilma Woodson, Roney L. Wood Marry May 26

Wilma Ruthe Woodson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Woodson, Coahoma, became the bride of Roney L. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wood, Walton, N. Y., in a single ring ceremony in the home of her parents May 26.

Rites were read by the Rev. J. M. Lasater. Only the bride's immediate family and Mrs. Lasater were present.

The bride wore a white eyelet embroidery dress with red and white accessories.

Mrs. Wood is a June graduate of Hendrick Memorial Hospital school of nursing in Abilene and formerly attended Coahoma high school.

The bridegroom has recently been discharged after serving 13 months in the Aleutians as a dental technician for the Army. He was stationed at Camp Barkeley in Abilene two years before going overseas.

After a honeymoon trip to Carlshad, N. Mex., the couple will be at home in Abilene.

Cauble In Bikinis

Mr. and Mrs. Lad Cauble have received word from their son, Jack Cauble, EM 3-c, that he has left his station at Pearl Harbor and proceeded to Bikini islands where the atom bomb is to be tested. He is aboard the USS Niagara. He told his parents that it will probably be September or October before he will be home.

Church Women To Give Party At Playground

Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr., chairman of the welfare committee of the Federated Council of Church Women, has announced that the unit will sponsor a picnic for the children of the ABClub park.

The affair will be held at the park at a time to be selected by Mrs. Gould Winn, director of the playground. Mrs. Sylvan Dalmont, president of the FCCW, will assist in planning entertainment and in serving refreshments. The ABClub has agreed to furnish ice cream for the party.

Thompsons Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Thompson announce the birth of a son born Friday morning at a Big Spring hospital. He weighed seven pounds, seven ounces and has been named Donald Clyde.

RETURN TO HOME

Mrs. Miller Russell, who has been a patient in a local hospital, has returned to her home.

Tierney Scores Again At Ritz

HISTORICAL DRAMA—An emotional scene from "Dragonwyck," the picturization from Anya Seton's best-seller of the same name and starring Gene Tierney, Vincent Price and Walter Huston. The story is set in New York State back in 1842. It is showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre.

Gene Tierney, the dramatic murderess in "Leave Her to Heaven," scores again in "Dragonwyck," picturization of the Anya Seton best-seller playing today and tomorrow at the Ritz. But Miss Tierney has a role as sweet and sympathetic in this picture as her assignment in the other was repellent. It is Vincent Price who does the plotting and killing, in a manner no less skilled and with motives no less ignoble.

Largely the work of Joseph L. Makiewicz, who wrote the script and directed the picture, "Dragonwyck" is a distinguished production. It tells with fascinating attention to detail and with emphasis on clarity the story of a patrician — aristocratic descendant of the Dutch who settled New York — who sought to perpetuate his system and his kind and met death in trying.

Price, the imperious patrician whose wife has given him a daughter but no son, effects his help-mate's demise by skilled and undetected means in order that he may marry a remote relative, Miss Tierney, whom he counts upon to produce an heir. This she does, but the baby dies at baptism, which leads to tension between them that culminates in his decision to rid himself of this wife too. But there is a doctor who has loved the second wife all along —

The story is rich in color, rounded in outline and extremely impressive, both by reason of deft narration and of the unfamiliar setting, customs and social equations. It should delight the most exacting entertainment seeker.

Old Hand Gives Up His Place On The Sun
BALTIMORE (AP)—Abraham G. Cole, 76, collector for the Baltimore Sunpapers, is retiring after 60 years' unbroken service, which began with a job reading the news to the founder of the paper, Arunah S. Abell, whose sight had failed.
Cole started work in 1886—when type was still hand set—as an office boy.
A native of Maryland, he plans to spend a lot of time doing odd chores around the house for his wife, Minnie, whom he married in 1894.

DALTONS RIDING AGAIN AT LYRIC

KENT TAYLOR—One of the notorious Daltons, playing in "The Daltons Ride Again," today at the Lyric Theatre.

"The Daltons Ride Again," announced as one of the outstanding screen attractions to come from Hollywood, is due today at the Lyric Theatre.
Alan Curtis, Lon Chaney, Kent Taylor and Noah Berry, Jr., appear as the Dalton brothers. Martha O'Driscoll has the top feminine role. The story deals with the fatal raid on Coffeyville, Kas., in 1892, during which three of the Daltons were slain. The survivor, Emmett lived to describe the adventures and incidents which ended in the gang's destruction.

Comic-book Dilemma Wasn't Funny To Him

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—A comic book caused 12-year-old C. S. Royal of Salemburg to spend many long, worried hours in the Raleigh Police Station.
C. S. was among schoolchildren who fouled the state capital. Enroute back to the school bus, he stopped off to buy a comic book and got so interested he forgot the bus. Police called his relatives and arranged for them to meet him on a later bus.
Said he, "I never want to see another comic book."

Dancing In Roseland

NEW YORK—The oldest entertainment institution on Broadway, Roseland Ballroom, noted its 27th birthday the other day, a really fabulous success on the Big Street where longevity is the exception and respectability hardly the strict rule which Roseland enforces so completely.
With customary yearly emphasis on statistics, mostly about shoe leather, Owner Louis J. Brecker called to say come on over and shake a leg, and a possible typewriter, in honor of the latest anniversary.
On arrival, Louis had a little list of figures which he handed to me, and on which he had written the total number of persons who have paid to dance everything from the bunny-hug, Charleston, Black Bottom, one-step, two-step right on down to the currently favored rumba.
Brecker proudly points out that 19,283,552 persons have paid their way into Roseland since the night in 1919 when the ballroom opened with Florenz Ziegfeld and Billie Burke on hand to lend the occasion tone and beauty, and with Wilson Mizner there to coin a few new wise cracks.
Long known as a major jumping-off premises for the biggest name bands, the establishment has graduated to the big time and important money such orchestras as those of both Dorsey's, Harry James, Gene Krupa, Charlie Barnett, Woody Herman, Charlie Spivak, Vincent Lopez and Abe Lyman. It has proved to be a popular background for the stories of Ring Lardner, Paul Gallico, Sherwood Anderson, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Carl van Vechton, Damon Runyon, John O'Hara and Preston Sturges. Movies and plays have used Roseland in their stories. George Raft, Arthur Murray and Jean Arthur won dance contests in the famous second-floor dance hall when they were struggling unknowns. Renee Carroll, the famed checkroom gal at Sardi's, started her Broadway career as a Roseland hostess.
Once Roseland employed more than 100 hostesses but today there are less than a dozen on hand, since nowadays fellows prefer to bring their own partners.
Brecker started in the ballroom business while studying at the Wharton School of Business in Philadelphia. When he won his master's degree in economics, he decided that he might very well be able to make a fortune in the same sort of endeavor, so he took a stab at Broadway.

Jean Porter Featured In Most Important Role In Corp. Hargrove Film

INTERESTED SPECTATOR—Keenan Wynn watches the romantic moment between Robert Walker and Jean Porter in "What Next, Corporal Hargrove?" playing today and tomorrow at the State Theatre.

The three rollicking GI's of "See Here, Private Hargrove," which brought Robert Walker to stardom, are reunited in MGM's new sequel, "What Next, Corporal Hargrove?" opening today on the State screen. The film is also starring Jean Porter in her most important role.
With Walker once again in the title role, this time with a promotion, the cast of U.S. new comedy also features two principals of the earlier success. Keenan Wynn again plays Pvt. Muuehl, the guy who can't resist a racket, and Chill Willis is again cast as the snarling top sergeant who overbeats his underdogs into submission.
With much of the action of the new film involving combat groups a major portion of this picture was filmed at Camp Pendleton, a field artillery training center some eighty miles south of Hollywood.
However, instead of a training camp locale, "What Next, Corporal Hargrove," is set in France, with Hargrove and his buddies enjoying adventure and romance in a liberated village outside of Paris.

In her most important screen role to date, vivacious Jean Porter plays the provocative French girl who keeps Hargrove and Muuehl in continual hot water. Her activities are ably seconded by such supporting players as Arthur Walsh, Tim Murdock, Cameron Mitchell and Paul Langton.
Richard Thorpe, who guided "Two Girls and a Sailor" and other hits, directed the sequel to Marion Hargrove's original best-seller. It was produced by George Haight.

Chess Fans Play Fair With Public Library

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Chess players rank high on the list of good citizens so far as Thomas P. Ayer, city librarian, is concerned. "They evidently have a high sense of responsibility," he said, "for their books are never overdue, but are always renewed on time."
"They also are obviously generous since 45 of the library's 91 books on chess have been donated by them."

No Bobby-Soxers Here

AP Newsfeatures
BALTIMORE — The Clara Barton vocational school rules that its seniors must wear stockings during school hours. Things got so bad, though, that a sock-clad senior class brought notes from home explaining the hose shortage was to blame for the disciplinary lapse.
Miss Edna Engle, the principal, restored the situation to normal. She heard a department store was selling seamless rayons, excused the 26 seniors to get in the hosiery line. Announcing the girls would make up their work after school, Miss Engle declared: "We are turning out young businesswomen, not bobby-soxers."

Wells Leads HD Meets

Announcement was made that Lawrence Wells, city sanitarian, will conduct June meetings of Home Demonstration clubs in Howard county, when the HD Council met Saturday afternoon at the county agents office.

Wells will discuss health and cleanliness. Margaret Christie, county agent, will be out of town on business.

Council members were urged to have their clubs elect delegates for the state convention to be held in Amarillo in August. Members were also reminded that Wells will conduct a tri-county meeting for discussing food and health problems at the city auditorium on June 10-14.

Mrs. L. J. Davidson of Centerpoint, sponsor attending the 4-H camp in Buñido, N. M., reported on activities at the outing.

Present were Mrs. L. J. Davidson of Centerpoint; Mrs. W. F. Heckler and Mrs. J. L. Baugh of R-Bar; Mrs. Sam Armstrong of Coahoma; Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Mrs. Don Rasberry, Mrs. J. E. Brown and Mrs. W. C. Fryar of Hi-Way; Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. Hollis Webb of Fairview; Mrs. Oscar Smith of Knott; Mrs. Jim Craig of Forsan; and Mrs. Wayne Atchison of Lomax.

Ina McGowan, Dora Jones and Odessa Crenshaw left today for Amarillo where they will attend the tri-state convention for beauty culturists.

Don Newton Here Wednesday To Set Up Tri-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Units

Don Newton, from the regional YMCA office in Dallas will arrive Wednesday to discuss with leaders and advise them on the formation for the new Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y units.

Plans for the organizations will be made and final arrangements for the groups will be set up. Bill Dawes, Y director, declared that registrations are already coming in for the clubs, and that there will possibly be eight units of the combined organizations.

Opportunity For The Church

At a recent gathering of clergymen of many faiths, a refreshing keynote was sounded for pure preaching. Dr. Israel Bettan of the Hebrew Union College at Cincinnati advised clergymen to let public entertainers do the entertaining and to do their part to exemplify faith. "The man of God is a man of faith and of morality," he said. "Without it, neither idealism nor sacrifice is possible."

Bishop Manning of the Episcopal church declared that unity of Christendom would not come about merely by the joining of one sect with another but "by comprehension of all the truth for which Protestantism stands and for all the truth for which Catholicism stands."

Removing Convenient Windmills

A few days ago officials in St. Louis, fearful of the possibility of rioting, denied Gerald L. K. Smith, the notorious America-firster and demagogue extraordinary, a permit to speak. At the same time a permit was denied a counter meeting called in protest by St. Louis veterans.

martyr complex, or attribute failure to grant the permit to a fear of the "truth." In other words, banning the speech did Smith's bigotted cause far more good than anything Smith could have said.

Is Patriotism A Wicked Thing?

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer
An increasing number of Americans seem a little confused as to where their allegiance lies, with Uncle Sam or with some nebulous world organization such as the United Nations or international labor groups.

We are free to criticize her, but we don't ask foreigners to help us call her names. She IS our country. We are here, and she is ours.

Recently in Detroit a negro organization made an appeal to the United Nations to force the U. S. government to grant them their full civil rights. The insolvency of this action will not be lost on subversive elements who will take it as a cue to go and do likewise. One can easily imagine what a line of propaganda the communists can squeeze out of the situation, for instance.

All intelligent Americans want their country to cooperate with other peaceable nations in the preservation of world order and peace, but not at the cost of American independence and freedom. We want peace, but not at the cost of chains.

THE THREE MUSKETEERS—'46 VERSION

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Maritime Strike Mixed

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Here's an ABC explanation of the threatened maritime strikes, most scrambled labor dispute of the year. The strikes would involve about 3,100 American ships on all three coasts, Atlantic, Pacific, Gulf.

ated with the Sailors Union of the Pacific (SUP-AFL), is a rival of the NMU. Like NMU, its members are in all crew categories. (Note the West Coast unions are divided into classes of workers.)

Take the West Coast first. ILWU — International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (CIO). This union wants better pay, is not asking shorter hours. The other six threatening unions want better pay, shorter hours.

But in these labor disputes the government has told the companies to act as agents for the government in bargaining with the unions. And the government, through its Department of Labor, is trying to help along a settlement between unions and companies although the government is staying neutral in the fight.

Baruch Proposed To Abolish UN Veto

WASHINGTON — Elder Statesman Bernard M. Baruch has worked out a formula for handling the atom bomb which may resolve other international problems. He hopes, by his formula, to persuade the Russians to drop their veto power over every step the United Nations tries to make.

fish and wildlife officials are moving with methodical slowness. Not until next fall do they plan a nationwide survey to determine the effectiveness of their rat-fighting. Meanwhile, if they had got busier months ago, they could have saved millions of pounds of grain from destruction.

Baruch plans to propose that the atom be placed under an international committee — provided no member of that committee shall have a veto. Decisions must be made by majority vote.

Messenger Boy Stettinius US newspapers referred to Soviet envoy Gromyko as a Moscow messenger boy whose hands were tied in the Kremlin. This was true. However, we also had a messenger boy of our own at the United Nations, Ed Stettinius, which was one reason he resigned.

North Carolina Statesman Freshman Senator Clyde Hoey of North Carolina likes to preside over the Senate when McKellar of Tennessee is ill or when other opportunities occur.

NOTE — Though Stettinius left the UN party to avoid taking orders from someone else, friends are wondering whether he hasn't jumped from the frying pan into the fire. The notorious Byrd machine is equally good at giving orders and expects them to be carried out.

Our No. 1 Enemy Few people realize it, but if all the rats in farming areas were destroyed, enough grain would be saved to feed the starving peoples of the world. There would be ample, bread, cattle and poultry feed and then some to go round.

Capital Chaff President Truman's new flying White House is a shiny, double-decker, custom-built DC-6. It will fly the President to the Philippines next month. May also stop for the Bikini atom bomb tests.

Japan's "Floating Wave" work," said Sakurai, "for those who like their undisciplined life, there is no hope." Furosha is not a menace, although these drifting people are blamed for some of Tokyo's increase in petty crimes.

Hal Boyle's Notebook TOM LAMBERT (For HAL BOYLE) TOKYO, (AP) — The rising sun each morning launches Tokyo's furosha (floating wave) of men, women and children of near despair. They are without work, food or homes.

Gen. Marshall Holds Credit In Whip Hand

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall, President Truman's special envoy to the Chiang Kai-shek government is seeking peace in China—trying to heal the generation-old cleavage between the Nationalists and the Chinese Reds and save the country from a resumption of civil war.

The difficulties facing the one-time chief of staff of the American armies in this great task are mounting. Even in the face of the worst need for peace and unity that they possibly have ever seen, the opposing Chinese factions are thus far unable to compose their differences.

During the few months Marshall has been in China, he has kept wholesale civil war from south of the great wall and brought Nationalist and Red chieftains together to negotiate. In a few brief weeks away from China, after he seemingly had Reds and Nationalists on the way to amalgamation, Marshall saw the work he started fall apart. Agreements hastily put together were disregarded, and civil war came on a major scale in Manchuria and in the Yangtze valley.

Gen. Marshall is credited with having in his hands the strings that control the financial credits China hopes to get from the United States. These appear to be his most powerful tools for peace.

Once these credits have been allowed to pass to Chinese control, a lessening of Chinese respect for Marshall's efforts in their behalf need not be held surprising.

The cleavage between Chinese Nationalist and Chinese Red is wide, deep and of long standing. Whether Marshall can change the course of this tide of human strife can be answered only by events.

It is estimated that there are 14 to 18 square feet of skin on the average adult human body.

Mrs. Gene Nabors Honored At Bridal Gift Shower In Garland Sanders Home

Mrs. Gene Nabors was complimented at a bridal gift tea Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Garland Sanders with Mrs. Ollie Anderson, Mrs. Cecil Nabors and Mrs. Bill Johnston as co-hostesses.

Guests were registered in a silver-backed bride's book by Helen Blount. In the receiving line were Mrs. O. L. Nabors, mother-in-law of the honoree, Mrs. Nabors, and Mrs. Tom Center of Stephenville, sister of the bride. The honoree was attired in a black and white frock embroidered with silver sequins. She had a corsage of pink carnations.

The refreshment table was centered with a large crystal punch bowl set in a wreath arrangement of pale pink snapdragons. White tapers placed in crystal holders were set on either side of the centerpiece, and all table appointments were crystal. Patty McDonald presided at the punch service, and hostesses assisted in serving.

A mantel arrangement of pink and white gladioli decorated the living room, and other flowers included an arrangement of snapdragon floating in a shallow bowl. In the dining room the buffet held a bowl of Shasta daisies.

During the receiving hours more than 150 guests called.

Raymond Dunnagan, Mrs. J. M. Woodall, Mrs. A. S. Templeton, Mrs. Seals, Mrs. R. A. Watson, Marilyn Carmack, Sally Morton, Mrs. A. A. Porter, Hazel Carmack, Agnes Currie and Mary Louise Davis.

A movie will be shown Monday and another on Friday. Mrs. Dalton Mitchell has been in charge of refreshments.

Closing exercises will be held Friday at 8 p. m. for all friends and relatives.

Methodist School To Start

On June 17 a two weeks Bible school will begin at First Methodist church, with Mrs. H. N. Robinson in charge.

Final arrangements are being made now, and workers thus far include Mrs. Ira Williams, Mrs. J. T. Baird and Mrs. Joe M. Faucett who will be in charge of juniors; Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. J. A. Myers, Marilyn Keaton and Anna Claire Waters will direct primary children; and Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. Arlene Johnston and Mrs. R. L. Mundt will lead the kindergarten group.

Mrs. Robinson said that other workers will assist at the school.

Movies will be shown at each session, and the final week will be highlighted with a picnic. The classes will last for two weeks.

Intermediates have not been provided for since they will participate in the Youth Caravan which will be at the church the last week of the school, officials stated.

Vincent Has First School

The Vincent Baptist church has just completed its first vacation Bible school with 57 young people participating and Charlotte Holden of Big Spring as its director.

The daily programs began at 3 p. m. and continued until 5:30 p. m. On Friday evening a brief program was presented by all students of the school. Projects and classwork were on display.

Assisting in the school were: Beginners, Mrs. Jim Hodnett, superintendent, Mrs. Leman Bostick, Mrs. Hooks Whitaker, primary, Mrs. Binnie White, superintendent, Mrs. Henry Ernst and Mrs. Henry Springfield; junior, Mrs. Fran Osborn, superintendent, Mrs. Alfred Cate and Mrs. Lester Owens; intermediates, Mrs. Geo. TRY THIS AMAZING HOME RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation Diet or Strenuous Exercise

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drug-gist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grape-fruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barconate home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label. Try the Barconate way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks without a lot of fuss and bother! Why not slim down your figure and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results. Why not slim down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barconate way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barconate doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be refunded.
