CHAIRMAN IS PLEASED WITH ASSISTANCE GIVEN

Belated Donations May Take Up Balance Of $116.57

The Lamb County Red Cross 1951 campaign for sustaining funds closed last Saturday night, and County Fund Chairman, the Rev. J. Henry Cox of Amberst and J. E. Chisholm, Lamb County Red Cross Chairman praised all of the precinct chairmen and workers, for their untiring efforts which resulted in total contributions $8,658.43, against a quota goal $8,755.00. Only $116.57 is lacking to complete the quota, and it is believed that belated contributions, which will filter in, will put Lamb County over the top.

C. S. Duncan who was chairman for the Littlefield Drive, was equally pleased and enthusiastic about the fine response not only here in the city, where $4,056.09 was raised, but was equally pleased at the fine showing made in every section of the county.

The original set quota for the county was several hundred dollars lower than when the campaign opened. The raise in quota was announced when additional activities, not anticipated when the original quota was set, were scheduled at National Red Cross headquarters.

Other towns and communities in the county reported the following contributions: Sudan, $1391.81; Rev. U. S. Sherrill, Chairman; Amberst, $786.14, Joseph F. McWilliams, chairman; Olton, $658.10, G. H. Bley, chairman; Earth, $518.60, Rev. Carl P. McMasters, chairman; Springlake, $386.38, V. T. Tanner, chairman; Spade, $495.08, Rev. F. M. Wiley, chairman; Fieldton, $128.05, Mrs. R. A. ## Cash and Checks Totaling About $2,000 Taken From Car Has Been Recovered

A youth 16 years of age was taken into custody by City Police and Sheriff's Department Saturday morning on Westside avenue following the theft of a purse containing about $1,600.00 in checks and between $300.00 and $400.00 in cash, belonging to the Gulf Oil Company, from the L. C. Grissom automobile parked at the rear of the Landon Grissom home earlier that day.

According to Mrs. L. C. Grissom, office manager of the Gulf Oil wholesale here, the checks and cash represented her collections Friday after the banks were closed, and she was enroute from her home to the bank to make a deposit when the theft took place. She had stopped at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Landon (Sunny) Grissom, for a short time to inquire about her little grandchild who was ill, and returning to her car found the purse gone.

Almost all the cash and the checks were recovered.
The youth is still in the custody of the officers, and will appear before Judge Otha Dent in county court Friday or Monday, according to Judge Dent.

Walther League Plan Talent Quest Program for Sunday Night

A search for talents lies behind the Talent Quest program planned for Sunday night, April 15, by the members of Emmanuel Lutheran's Walther League, the church's society for its young people. Through some of the details remain to be worked out, the committee in charge through its chairman, Eileen Gubler, has stated that oral as well as silent entries have been made in the silent division, hobbies will receive the greater attention. The oral part of the program includes vocal and instrumental music and some dramatic readings. The evening's master of ceremonies is Charles Loren, former Christian Growth chairman of the local Walther League.

CHRYSLER'S NEW AMBULANCE TO MEET OCD NEEDS

The 1951 Chrysler ambulance, designed specifically to meet Civilian Defense requirements, can be transformed in a matter of seconds from a six-passenger, four-door sedan into a two-cot ambulance. Maximum utility is provided.

Here a patient is rolled quickly into a secure and comfortable position inside the ambulance, where a nurse may be seen sitting in the attendant's position, ready for the quick run to the hospital. When not in use, the collapsible cot folds away behind the rear seat.

Although only one cot is in use here, two may be used, with the attendant's seat folded against the front seat at the left. The Oriflow shock absorbers, plus other Chrysler riding features, assure a safe and shock-free ride to the hospital.

Littlefield Fat Stock Show Says Credit Belongs To Others

and simultaneously with the opening of the Lamb County Show last week, the Leader prevailed on John Price, president of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce twelve years ago, to write a history and the first stock show movement in Lamb County, which attracted no end of interest especially among well known and fully grown men, and many of them numerous others.

Following the publication, we also received a letter, reproduced in the Leader, now a farmer and stock raiser near McAdams, who went from Littlefield ten years ago, and has made his process there.

In a note that as a postscript to his letter he states that his father descended from D. H. Brewster sow, a prize animal of 1930.

He enjoyed his letter, and we feel sure that many others in Littlefield Lamb County, who will remember Mr. Frazier will enjoy reading his letter. It follows.

Equipment For Essential Production of Farm Products Assured by Order M-55

DALLAS Tex., April 5—A government order, M-55, assuring farmers continuing supplies of equipment for essential production of farm products has been issued, according to Ernest L. Tutt, regional director, U. S. Department of Commerce-National Production Authority for Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

NPA Order M-55 provides that manufacturers of farm equipment of most every type may apply ratings on their own certification to obtain materials or component parts at a level equal to the average monthly consumption in the first half of 1950. The new order applies only to requirements for the month of June 1951, Mr. Tutt explains.

Manufacturers are permitted to extend DO ratings, to obtain materials and components, only to their regular suppliers during the past two years. Suppliers also are authorized to extend the orders where necessary.

Persons applying or extending ratings will attach the following certification:

"Certified under NPA Order M-55 and Regulation 2."

NPA regulations requiring that inventories be limited to a practicable minimum working supply will continue in effect.

No ratings may be applied by manufacturers, under this limitation, if the amount of materials involved would increase inventories beyond a practicable working minimum.

Mr. Tutt said that a person affected by any provision of Order M-55 may request adjustment or exception on the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because it works an undue hardship.

Those participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain all records for at least two years in sufficient detail to permit audit.

"Additional information on NPA Order M-55, or any other NPA matter, may be obtained from any USDC-NPA Office," Mr. Tutt states.

Texas USDC-NPA Offices are located in Dallas, El Paso, Houston, and San Antonio; Oklahoma offices in Oklahoma City and Tulsa; Louisiana offices in New Orleans and Shreveport. Little Rock is Arkansas USDC-NPA headquarters.

Nelson's Hardware Cooking School Attracts Large Number of Visitors

The two-day cooking school, sponsored by Nelsons Hardware of Littlefield, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, was one of the most successful in the entire career of Miss Ruth D. Knight, of Dallas, Home Economist who was in charge of the school, and who conducts schools throughout the entire country. Incidentally, her next school will be staged in California.

Despite highly inclement weather, due to dust storms, and high winds, more than 400 women from throughout the area attended. Tuesday's attendance was 175—Wednesday more than 225 were registered.

Miss Knight was assisted by Miss Patricia Stearns, of Plainview, who conducts cooking demonstrations for Southwestern Public Service Company.

Miss Knight demonstrated "Practical Cookery" Tuesday, and "Decorations" of cooking on Wednesday.

Numerous cakes, salads, casserole dishes, rolls, breads, meat preparation, cookie, and a never ending array of tasty food dishes were prepared by the demonstrator for those attending the school, recipes which they were also given in typed form, and which they had learned to prepare.

Local business firms co-operated in staging the cooking school. These included Furr Foods, Culligan Soft Water Service and Wayne's Milk and Ice Cream, Mead's Bread, Everlite Flour and Keeton Packing Co.

Mrs. Neal Douglass was awarded a prize of a bouquet of carnations, for being the oldest woman in attendance. A prize of a $100 gift credit on a Perfection Range was presented to Mrs. Martin Maxwell of Sudan by Nelsons, she being chosen from among the more than 400 registrants. Mrs. J. O. Connell of Littlefield, was presented with a 10-pound Keeton ham, baked at the show. Numerous sacks of groceries were claimed by different registrants as prizes.

Ms. Nelson was highly pleased with the success of the show, his first to be staged in Littlefield. Visitors registered from more than 50 miles distant.

Cpl. Martin Called Home Because of Father's Illness

Cpl. Bill M. Martin stationed in Korea, has been called home due to the serious illness of his father, J. W. Martin, who suffered a heart attack last Sunday.

Mr. Martin is formerly of Springlake but for the past few weeks has been making his home here at the Quiffian Hotel.

Cpl. Martin is with Bat. A. 555.

Glenn's Drive-Inn Cafe, owned and operated by Mr. Barker, was also broken into and a small amount of money was taken from a cigarette machine.

Entrance was gained to Glenn's establishment by cutting the screen in a back door, which led into the storage room, and then pushing in the door behind the storage room and the cafe proper.

Lamb County officers are investigating the theft.

Littlefield re-elects Three Incumbents To School Board

Only 135 Littlefield citizens voted in the school board election Saturday to re-elect three incumbent trustees to the Littlefield Independent School District Board.

The two other candidates who were defeated in the election were Cal Harvey, 53 votes, and Ray Hulise, 66 votes.

Pat Boone, who has been county trustee at large for almost 25 years, received 126 votes in keeping his office for another term. He was unopposed.

A total of 123 votes were cast for Harry L. Woody for commissioner of precinct three. Woody has held the office for about 20 years.

J. T. Elm served as judge of the election. He was assisted by John Burks and C. L. Polk.

The state convention will be held in San Antonio during the summer and the division conven-

One of the highlights of the rial service and addresses by Dean Student Life James G. Allen of Texas Tech and Rep. Waggoner

The newly elected president of the 19th district pointed out a

An open forum discussion of the American Legion program for the year preceded the election of officers.

The convention opened Saturday auxiliary tea, a tribute to youth programs and a dance at the Legion hall.

FAMOUS PENCIL PEDDLER DIES IN WICHITA FALLS INSTITUTION

Noted California

Mr. Vantine comes to Littlefield with the very highest of recommendations, and Supt. Hutchinson was emphatic in his endorsement, and in his praise of the man who has been selected to head the Junior High School.

He is a native Texan, reared on a farm near Quanah, Texas, but for the last five years has been principal of the Junior High School at Ojai, California, where he has made a signal success.

Mr. Hutchinson feels that the fact that he wishes to return to Texas, and wants to come to Littlefield, is nothing short of extreme good fortune for the local school system.

He graduated from Quanah High School, and received Bachelor and Master degrees at Oklahoma A. and M. College. He served as elementary and High School Principal for a period in the schools of Hardeman county before going into the Marine Corps, where he served four years. At the War's end he entered the Ojai, California school system.

Mrs. H. C. Edmonds, treasure of the organization, said.

Those attending the meeting were, Pink Lawson, Olton, J. W.
Kelly, Earth, Dr. C. E. Payne, Dr.
I. T. Shotwell, Jr., George
White, J. B. McShan, and Mrs. H.

Others attending included Bob vall, Harry Kline, W. B. Little, W.

C. Cannon, Boyd Roberts, Ernest
Connell, B. W. Armistead, and one guest, Gene West.

Lamb County officials were notified April 2, that A. John Walker passed away in the Lake Wichita Rest Home at Wichita Falls, where he had been taken two days previous.

The old "pencil peddler", as he was known to many here in Littlefield and on the South Plains, claimed to be 150 years of age. He had been ill several weeks before he was removed to Wichita Falls, and was a patient in a local hospital here, and after being released was taken to the Salvation Army where he was cared for.
Lamb County Red Cross chapter aided him financially, as did the county.

Shortly before he was taken to the hospital at Wichita Falls, a representative from this paper interviewed him, and a story was published relating some of the facts he told—were that he was born in Missouri at St. Louis, 159 years ago. He told of extensive travel in South America, and of having brought wild animals from Africa for a famous American circus. He told of steamboating on the Mississippi River and of being a cook on the "Louisiana."

His body was laid to rest in a cemetery at Wichita Falls.

His wife and two children will accompany him to Littlefield in August, and the family will make their home here.

next year.

Chesher and Jack Carothers, Lubbock County assistant agricultural agent working with 4-H

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Certain diseases have descriptive words or phrases which stick in the mind long after the technical name and symptoms of the disease are gone. Tetanus is distinguished by its popular title of lockjaw; typhoid fever is easily remembered as the one that's spread by the 4 F's, food, flesh, flies and fingers; undulant fever symptoms rise and fall like the waves of the sea; and pertussis is better described by the name whooping cough.

All of these infectious diseases are caused by the germs known as bacilli. Tetanus comes from a drumstick-shaped germ which thrives many places, though it is most prevalent in stock yards and stock pens. Given plenty of air and sunlight the germ behaves itself, when it manages to get beneath the skin of humans, however, and the skin closes over it, cutting off the air, that drumstick grows in a poison which beads up a red time on your nerves and muscles.

The nerves and muscles get tighter and tighter when this poison spreads through or around them and they won't stretch and send messages around the body as they are supposed to; the jaw nerves and muscles don't work right and the jaw is locked.

It takes only a tiny place for the germ to enter the body; nail, scissors, or any deep puncture-type wound closes more quickly than others and is possibly more likely to permit the germ to enter and shut off the air than other types, though thorough washing of all cuts and sores would be the best protection against tetanus. There are tetanus shots available which help the body in its defenses against the germ should it gain a foothold.

These advance shots for tetanus, like the advance shots for protection against typhoid, are particularly desirable for those whose work or living habits bring them into constant contact with the breeding places of the germs.

Typhoid fever is caused by a plump little germ that gets into the digestive tract by means of food, fingers, flies or filth. From the digestive tract it can spread throughout the body, taking about two weeks to produce the symptoms of typhoid fever; these symptoms may vary a great deal but they all combine to make you feel real sick. One of the most distinguishing things about typhoid is that your fever goes up higher every day.

After about two weeks of continuous high fever, you usually break out in a rash which consists of tiny red spots along and above the waistline. Then for the next couple of weeks the fever goes down a little every day in pretty much the same manner as it went up.

With fever running as high as it does in typhoid, there may be delirium. Many complications are possible with this disease and that means constant medical supervision to prevent other diseases from arising from typhoid. Such is the nature of the illness that even when you are over the disease, relapses are fairly common.

DOWN IN WELL.—Farmer Boyd Richards of Pleasant Hill, Texas, looks a hole in a Jersey milk cow that fell into a well on his farm. It was the same well in which a bull was trapped and had to be killed a few months ago. But Old Bossy was more fortunate. Richards called a wrecker from Abilene and successfully lifted her out of the well. The cow was uninjured. (AP Photo)

ago. But Old Bossy was more fortunate. Richards called a wrecker from Abilene and successfully lifted her out of the well. The cow was uninjured. (AP Photo)

Sanitation and preventive shots have done much to cut down on the number of persons racked with typhoid fever. In years ago it was one of the leading illnesses.

Typhoid fever is one of those diseases that you cannot be protected against in advance. The method of control for this disease, which is also known as brucellosis, Malta fever and Mediterranean fever, is by inspection and elimination of the cattle, goats and pigs that are infected.

The most common form of undulant fever in the country is the strain that originates with the piglet of the three varieties of the disease. It is fortunately the mildest. But even at best, it can cause serious illness.

The germ that causes undulant fever is a combination of two types of germs and enters the body through intact skin, or by touch from the ingestion of infectious dairy products. Most germs need a broken place on the skin to get at you, but not the germ of undulant fever. Once it gets hold of you, this germ works slowly to produce signs of sickness; you gradually feel real bad, mentally and physically. Then maybe you feel pretty good again. Then a wave of bad-feeling sweeps over you. The name, undulant, is descriptive of the rise and fall of the waves.

Undulant fever may act like so many other diseases that it is not always easy to diagnose; laboratory examinations are necessary to determine for sure that undulant fever is the cause of your trouble.

But it seldom kills. Post during the waves of illness, plus special medications as your doctor advises, make up the usual treatment for undulant fever which has a way of gradually working itself out.

If undulant fever can be compared to waves of the ocean, whooping cough can be called a volcano. The rumble of cough, whoop and vomit are very much like nature at one of her more rugged moments.

Whooping cough is rugged. Though it rarely kills by itself it leads to other complications which kill and maim; pneumonia and central nervous system diseases are the most common complications.

Whooping cough kills more infants under two years of age than any of the other communicable diseases and 90 per cent of all deaths traced to whooping cough complications are in children under 5 years of age. As an infant killer, whooping cough has been confined in recent years by the preventive shots which are usually given infants about 6 months of age.

Additional Items to Be Priced Under "Frozen Markup" Regulation CPR

A number of additional items of consumer goods, accounting for some seven billion dollars in retail sales annually, will now be priced under the "frozen markup" Regulation CPR 7. H. R. Gholson, acting district OPS director at Lubbock, has announced upon advice from Price Director Michael DeSalle's office in Washington.

The new items are musical instruments, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, housewares, notions, luggage, sporting goods, and silverware, chinaware, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks. OPS estimated that this amendment would affect about 76,000 retailers in the nation who do not sell any of the commodities originally included under the "pricing chart" regulation.

Gholson's office estimated that 4700 retailers will be affected in the OPS region of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas. An estimated 400 retailers in the West Texas area served by the Lubbock district office will be affected.

This extension of the coverage of CPR 7 means that the specified merchandise generally will be removed from the pricing of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. They will be priced by use of a chart upon which each retailer will show the cost, the selling price and the markup in effect in his store for each of the new items on March 31, 1951, the "list date" for the new commodities. After the retailer has filed his chart, he must figure his ceiling prices by using the chart markups for every article, whether he received it before or after March 31, 1951.

As is the case for many items originally listed for pricing under CPR 7, the list date pricing chart for the new items must be filed by April 30, 1951. None of the items may be sold after May 30 unless the seller has received acknowledgment of the filing of his chart from the OPS district office. Retailers who have completed their charts for the items initially covered by Regulation 7 may proceed to file those charts and may then file a supplement covering the new commodities if they prefer.

This action also makes a provision to cover cases in which the OPS may require a retailer to price certain commodities now covered by this regulation by applying markup only to the original cost and to pass on only a dollar and cents amount, which the agency designates as a "permitted increase", where the price to the retailer is increased.

Merchants in the West Texas area, served by the Lubbock district office, should send their pricing charts to that office, Broadway Building, 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

Mrs. Cliff McKnight of Fort Worth was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Carrell the past week. She had attended to business at Snyder and Fluvanna enroute here. Mrs. McKnight, and the late Mr. McKnight are former pioneer residents of Littlefield and Lamb County. He passed away about three years ago.

Navy Recruit Is Re-instated

Navy recruit leave is reinstated and training extended from 9 to 11 weeks. Naval District headquarters in New Orleans has announced.

The granting of training again permits training a maximum of 14 days graduation. The Navy, however, that the recruit not added time off, but annual accrued leave.

There are no recruit centers in the Elkhart Boxed Way Through LOS ANGELES, Cal. Mike O'Garra, having a college by having professional four years Mike fought die-weight in Utah, Nevada without benefit, so that he wouldn't be the purses with any wife and kids.

WAR SURPLUS FOOTBALL

WAXAHACHIE, TEXAS — One thing Waxahachie High School got out of World War II was a football player.

Italy supplied it. Johnny Camera was the mascot of the 36th Division in Italy. He joined the division at Alta Villa after his family was killed in an air raid.

Johnny traveled with the famed division during the remainder of its service in Italy. The youth spent most of his time in the company of Claren (Curley) Thompson, and it was the aim of the Texan to bring the war orphan to this State. However, Johnny wouldn't wait for official methods and stowed away on a ship.

He was discovered when the ship docked, sent to Ellis Island, and it seemed for a time that he would be deported. However, he was allowed a short visit to Texas before being returned to Italy, through efforts of Texas senators and congressmen, Johnny was given permission to remain. Later he was adopted by Thompson.

That was in 1946. Johnny now is junior in a Waxahachie High School and is on his way toward winning his second football letter. Johnny is only one inch over five feet and weighs 123 pounds but he is one of the squad's best defensive linemen.

VILLAGE FENCED IN

Johore Bahru, Malaya — There's a fence being built all around the new resettlement village near Jementah. It's designed more to keep Communist terrorists out.

Two hundred families have moved into houses newly built. Other houses are under construction to accommodate a total of 400 families. This is part of the resettlement program carried out by British authorities as a corollary to the war against Communist terrorists. They're clearing areas of terrorists as fast as possible. Then new settlements are formed—to be peopled by law-abiding, loyal citizens.

Some of these are encircled by a moat 14 feet wide. That's also designed to make it difficult for Communist terrorists to get back into the area once they have been driven out.

MONCK'S CORNER, S. Now all we can do is enforce the law."

Japan's Treasures Too Expensive

TOKYO — A move by the Japanese government to purchase national treasures and so relieve their private owners of the burden of maintaining them has fallen through. The treasures are too expensive. Culture-loving Japan has a system of preserving places, objects and the like for posterity by declaring them "national treasures." The owners are made responsible for them and cannot sell, pawn or alter them.

But some owners protested against economic burden that accompanied the honor of owning such a treasure. So the government created a culture property safeguarding committee and appropriated $60,000 for purchases. Immediately, 130 owners of treasures applied. Their evaluations totaled $325,000. National treasures vary from immense tracts of land to a tiny teacup.

The committee has announced it will accept no further offers. It noted it was not questioning the worth of articles submitted—but that they were just too expensive.

Western Germany imported 7,000 and Holland 1,500. The United States led importers of Goan manganese ore with 10,235 tons, followed by Belgium, 5,480; Sweden, 3,500, and Italy, 1,000.

Good Foods Help Build Sound Health

This young American, enjoying his tapioca pudding with bananas calls attention to an important day devoted to the welfare of youngsters — National Child Health Day, May 1.

A bright eyed eager child is usually a healthy child. And so that more little Americans may have a healthy happy childhood, a day each year is set apart by our government for calling attention to the well being of children. It is National Child Health Day, observed on May 1.

Puddings like this banana tapioca are favorites with children and like other good foods they help build sound health. Most youngsters like creamy tapioca pudding, a nutritious, milk-rich dessert, easily prepared with quick-cooking tapioca as in the following recipe:

Tapioca Banana Pudding

- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar. 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in very soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with small amount of the milk in saucepan. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, quick-cooking tapioca, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly — this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot mixture gradually on egg-white meringue, blend. Add remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker the pudding will be.) Add vanilla. Cool, stirring once after 15 to 20 minutes. Chill. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

When serving, top pudding with sliced bananas.

Herbs---What They Are and How Used

Often the home-maker thinks through her recipe book and chooses at words such as "sage, oregano, parsley, onion and basil" only to wonder just what they mean and how they are used in cooking. Jimmie Nell Harris, associate foods and nutrition specialist with the U. S. and M. College Extension Service, describes some of the most familiar herbs and tells what they should be used for.

For instance, sage, a widely cultivated plant in Europe, China and Mexico, is grown for the seed which are used for flavoring purposes. The seed are borne in umbels like those of carrots. When the seeds turn brown, the umbels are harvested and dried. The seeds are separated, cleaned and stored for later use. The seeds are used in cookies and candies. The fresh leaves are used in salads, especially apple.

Caraway seed or fruit comes from a plant native to Europe and Asia, and is cultivated in many parts of the world. Miss Harris recommends adding a few caraway seeds to baked calibars, or potatoes when they are being cooked in their jackets. Pops to salad, cream or cottage cheese, cookies, or bread are other foods which she believes this herb can improve.

Miss Harris describes oregano seed as flavoring and scientific agents. She says that the plants should be cut for seed when the fruits have turned brown. The pleasing flavor of oregano fruit is not thoroughly developed until it is completely dry. The seed is used in cookies and French dressing.

Cumin, the specialist points out, is a small annual plant of the parsley family, widely cultivated in the Mediterranean area and in India. The mature seeds are used in certain kinds of breads, sausage, and cottage cheese. The ground seed are an important ingredient in chili and curry powders.

Marjoram comes in three species, Miss Harris says—the sweet, the pot, and the wild. Sweet marjoram, because of its more delicate flavor, is most commonly found growing in gardens. The fresh leaves are used as needed during the season for flavoring. Sweet marjoram leaves, Miss Harris says, are good with veal and liver, in herb butter, in cold roast-beef sandwiches, in egg dishes and meat, and in poultry stuffings and soups. They also add new flavor to potato salad, creamed potatoes, and string beans. Pot and wild marjoram leaves are excellent for pot roasts.

Control of Poisonous Range Plants

Control of many poisonous range plants is practical with herbicidal sprays such as 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T, according to Dr. Omar E. Sperry, professor of range and forestry, Texas A and M College System.

In tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, control costs, when applied on large acreages, ranged from $2.00 to $4.00 per acre. For lasting benefits, Dr. Sperry emphasizes that better stocking or range, defoliation of poor-condition ranges and isolation of heavily infested areas should be practiced along with the spraying of poisonous plants.

Effective kills of bitterweed, rayless goldenrod, yarrow, loco, carbonifer, groundsel and desert ballies were obtained with different concentrations and mixtures of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T in field tests conducted in 1950.

A summary of results from experimental work in controlling poisonous range plants, conducted in 1950 is given in Progress Report 1334, available from the Publications Office, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

BULL LAKE PHILOSOPHER SAYS PASSING SUGGESTIONS INSTEAD OF LAWS IN WASHINGTON SUITS HIM

Editor's note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Bull Lake has another wild notion that week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:

I read in a paper the month which turned up out here while I was debating over whether to plow or not, some people refer to the U. S. Senate as the greatest deliberative body on earth but year in and year out I put in about as much time deliberating on my farm out here as anybody they've got in Washington. That the United States Senate after three months of debate has finally voted on whether or not the President can send troops to Europe.

As I understand the verdict, the President can, provided he doesn't send over four divisions.

On the other hand, if he wants to send more than four, he can also at the Senate decision doesn't have the force of law, his next suggestion.

Now that's the kind of legislation I've personally been waiting for and I'd like to see you use your Washington influence if you haven't misplaced it to get more Congressional action of that type.

It strikes me this would be a lot happier country if the tax laws were in that category. Say Congress or the State Legislature and Tax Collector Clarence Davis in turn sends me a d. Under this new system I could consider it not a suggestion, to be paid if I wanted to or ignored. Now this ain't to say I haven't already treated a few tax notices in that fashion but under the new system I would be a lot more comfortable about it and the tax collector could save a lot of stamps.

Of course three months seems like a long time for the Senate to take to pass a suggestion, but let me here to tell you, passing suggestions can be a lot easier on the country than passing laws and

Buzz And The Off-Key Baritones

Reverend Lester of the church out on Hillsboro Road coaches his Young Peoples' Choir late Thursday afternoons—after high school basketball practice lets out.

Buzz Ellis pastures cows next to that church. Around 5 o'clock they used to make a lot of racket about wanting to go home. That made it kind of rough on the choir.

When Buzz learned what was going on he said to Reverend Lester: "I never yet heard of a cow that could moo on key. So, I'll just move 'em in a little earlier..." This started me to thinking, Buzz doesn't go to that church. And he's so tone-deaf he couldn't carry a tune in a bucket!

From where I sit, you might say that Buzz didn't have much in common with those singers. But he doesn't divide folks into groups he's "with" or "agin." Your politics, your personal preferences—or the fact that you like a moderate glass of beer—mean nothing either way to Buzz. He's a real neighbor to everybody!

Now Hydraguide Steering does four-fifths of the work for you!

THINK of the easiest steering car you ever drove... then imagine one five times easier to steer! Chrysler's new Hydraguide power steering... regular on Crown Imperials and optional at extra cost on all New Yorker and Imperial models... gives you exactly that. Here is by far the greatest single change in handling ease—and safety—you ever found in any car. At your touch on the steering wheel, the car mechanically provides four-fifths of the energy to turn the tires on the road. Like so much in these new Chryslers... Hydraguide is so basically new, so basically better than anything before, that only when you try it can you ever know what it really does!

The longest day's drive you ever made... without arm-and-shoulder fatigue at the end. Around the curves... over the hills... Hydraguide does four-fifths of the work!

In tight city traffic... on upward driveways and roads... Hydraguide means new safety, new ease, new swiftness of steering control!

Final Concert of Association Will Be Held at High School Friday Night

The final concert of the Lamb County Mutual Concert Association will be presented at the Littlefield High School auditorium tomorrow night, (Friday) at 8 p.m.

Florence and Blanche Zuckers, duo-pianists will be guest artists. They were recently honored by appearing on the program of the White House Correspondents' Dinner given in honor of President Truman on March 5, 1949.

The invitation came to the Zuckers as a complete surprise as a result of an appearance in Maryland, where a member of the Entertainment Committee heard them. The duo-pianist gave a brilliant and inspired performance before the president and 900 other guests who included the cabinet, Congress and newspapermen from all over the country. The sisters were thrilled when, in his speech after the program the president remarked, "I particularly enjoyed the piano playing of the two young ladies."

At the reception held afterward, the president shook hands with the two young ladies and said, "I wish I could play that well". To quote the Zuckers, they feel that they "now have personal press agents throughout Washington, D. C."

RUPTURE SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Hilton Hotel Lubbock, Friday and Saturday only, April 13 and 14, 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zoetic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly no matter the size or location but it will increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, and thereby close the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments. Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge. 6509 N. Artesian Ave., Chicago 45 Large incisional hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited.

Death Claims Mrs. Kendrick

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Lou Kendrick, wife of R. T. Kendrick, were held Wednesday Morning, April 4, at 10:30 o'clock in Hart High School auditorium. She died early, the day previous, at the family home near Hart following an illness of three years.

She was born November 16, 1893, at Quitman. Her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Killough, lived on a ranch 12 miles north of Hereford at the time.

She was married March 29, 1910, at the family home on a ranch near Hart.

Survivors, besides the husband, include two sons, James Marcellus Kendrick of Hart and Killough Kendrick of Waco; two daughters, Mrs. Layman Jones of Albuquerque,

Olton Elects New Members To Board

All three incumbents were defeated for re-election at Olton Saturday in the "hottest" school trustee election in the history of the Olton Independent School district.

Successful candidates for the three trustee posts were I. V. Pent, C. L. Anderson and Glen Exter, who received 415, 373 and 379 votes, respectively, to far outdistance the incumbent in the balloting. Seeking unsuccessfully for re-election were Truitt Sides, present president of the board, 262 votes; Tom McGill, 251; and Tom Sluder, 221.

More than twice as many votes—638—were cast in the election as in any other previous trustee election here, according to Election Judge C. T. Mason. He said the election was not marked by any open campaigning prior to today, but that considerable interest had been stirred up. The incumbents were running on a platform endorsing their present policies; the three victors on a campaign attacking those policies.

Help Garden Seedlings to Break Through the Soil

It's a Big Job For a Young Sprout to Force Its Way Up Through the Soil, as These Bean Seedlings Prove.

Seeds sown in the open garden encounter many dangers. They or their seedling plants may be attacked by insects and diseases, drowned by floods, eaten by birds, injured by animals, or buried alive by a crust which forms on the soil through which they cannot penetrate.

By dusting the seed with a disinfectant, the moulds and fungi which cause disease may be prevented; and this is especially advisable in sowing early when the ground is cold. If there is any suspicion that the soil may crust above the seeds, it will be wise to use a special soil to cover them.

If your garden contains clay, a hard rain may compact it sufficiently to imprison the seed. The tiny sprout often faces an impossible task in attempting to break its way to the sunshine. The illustration shows two bean seedlings, one of the varieties most likely to suffer from crusty soil. The bean seed swells with moisture, and a sprout emerges which pushes the seed itself—twice as large as when planted—through the soil surface. This takes enormous power, and it is no wonder that a compacted or crusty soil may prevent it.

If you have a compost pile, there is no better way that you can use the humus from it than in preparing a special soil with which to cover seed. This should be mixed with sand, half and half. In addition to making sure that the seed sprouts will be able to emerge, this loose soil will hold moisture and keep the soil beneath it from drying out. It is better especially desirable in hot weather.

Most stores dealing in garden supplies carry modern seed disinfectants which can be used in either liquid or powder form. There is no danger to the seed in using these materials provided the simple directions furnished with them are followed, precisely. Never use any disinfectant in greater strength than recommended. It is remarkable what a small amount will do.

There's been so much many newspaper articles about tularemia — which we call "rabbit fever" — that our family doctor to give me information. Because we're ing to protect our families these dreaded diseases, I'd you'd be interested in what me.

Tularemia is an infection ease which is transmitted through the bite of a fly and insects. It may also be con by dressing the carcass of a or squirrel — or by eating infected animals before it has properly treated and cooled. symptoms are similar to the undulant fever or the consisting of prolonged fever, often swelling and suppurating the lymph nodes near the site of infection.

If a human does get tular he's apt to be mighty sick today, antibiotic drugs have away much of the fear of the ease. Up until 1946 the "31 days of fever, 31 days of a and a total duration of the for about 3.5 months." But the discovery that streptom helped to cure the disease, cut down. In 1949, doctors using the wonderful streptom from the Lederle Laboratories this was discovered really as a cure. It's being used to cure patients in a few days.

We are certainly fortunate have such an effective drug available. . . . for away most of the worry reg such dangerous diseases as remia — and gives us the com that we can protect our and keep them safe and well.

Totem Poles Line Village Street

"Wolf Crest" Totem at Kitwanga has a tooth-filling job done by an Indian craftsman.

ONE of the finest collections of totem poles in North America, all of which may be seen in their natural state, line the streets of the picturesque Indian village of Kitwanga, on the banks of the Skeena River, 150 miles east of Prince Rupert, on the Canadian National Railways in British Columbia.

The Kitwanga Indians in common with their North Pacific Coast forebears, believe the proper place for a totem pole is right in the vicinity of their houses. These poles, covered with carving often are brightly painted. They represent the crest, or family coat of arms of the owner, together with those of his ancestors. Some represent animals or "Totems" believed to be the guardians or ancestors of the family connected with illustrious antecedents.

So great is the interest of American visitors in the picturesque and photogenic poles of Kitwanga, the trains pause there long enough on the run between Jasper and Prince Rupert to allow passengers to walk through the tiny village to inspect and photograph the Indians' tribute to tribal and family pride.

Western Union Marks Centennial Starts Economy Century of Service

Western Union began Sunday, April 1. Its second century of service to the nation as a new Western Union, with its operations highly mechanized and ultra modern.

Organized April 1, 1851 as the New York and Mississippi valley printing Telegraph Company in Rochester, N. Y. and changing its name to Western Union five years later. The nation's telegraph company this month observes its 100th anniversary.

Because of the Korean conflict and the necessity for concentrating attention of the special defense communications requirements of the Armed Services, the government and industry, Western Union dropped all plans for elaborate observance of its centennial, it was announced by Pauline Young, Western Union manager of Littlefield, Texas.

Western Union's first executive office in Rochester, N. Y. back in 1851 was equipped with a single roll-top desk, a few chairs and a case-top typewriter shaped like a pig. It was a modest beginning. And the office was ordinary. But the men who first worked in it were not.

Despite competition from the small local message companies which were using the telegraph as their main line of communication, the Western Union office in Littlefield, Texas, has become a busy center of activity. It is equipped with the latest in telegraph equipment, including a new type of telegraph machine which is faster and more accurate than any other in the world.

The great idea was to create a new type of telegraph machine which would be faster and more accurate than any other in the world. It was a bold plan, but it was worth the effort.

The telegraph machine was a new type of telegraph machine which was faster and more accurate than any other in the world. It was a bold plan, but it was worth the effort.

substitution of microwave and carrier circuits for pole lines and wires, and improved methods of picking up and delivering telegrams by desk-fax machines. Telegrams and cablegrams now move faster and more efficiently than ever before in telegraphy history.

Over 43,000 highly-trained Western Union employees, here and abroad, now are busy moving annually over the extensive telegraph network some 200,000,000 telegrams, 5,000,000 foreign and domestic telegraph money orders, and 5,000,000 cable grams, many of a military and diplomatic nature. Additional billions of words are handled for the nation's press and other private wire systems.

Commenting on the company's activities, Walter P. Marshall, president of the Western Union telegraph, said: "The great idea was to create a new type of telegraph machine which would be faster and more accurate than any other in the world. It was a bold plan, but it was worth the effort."

tion by demonstrating the values of our free enterprise system.

A financially sound and progressive telegraph company is imperative if we are to best serve the nation both in peace time and in any warlike period. That will continue to be our objective."

Western Union looks back at its beginning in 1851 when most of the country was still an unpopulated wilderness. Only seven years before, Samuel Morse has sent the first telegraph, and telegraph lines had not pushed west of the Mississippi.

Telegrams going any great distance had to be transferred from one line to others. Successive charges on each line piled up the final cost which often was as high as $20.00. Service was slow and never reached their destinations at all.

Western Union boldly planned to establish a nationwide service, available to all at reasonable and uniform rates.

Western Union adopted as its first, exclusive method of operating the telegraph printer invented by Royal E. House, the House machine, resembling a small print roman letter, numeral and punctuation instead of code. It was twice as fast as Morse and more accurate. It was an important beginning for the House printer later established the basis for automatic printing telegraphy which, along with its latest ally, facsimile, now moves over 95 per cent of the nation's telegrams.

During its first three years the company bought out the eleven other lines operating in five states north of Ohio River and on April 1, 1854 changed its name to Western Union—indicating a Union of the western lines—at the suggestion of Ezra Cornell, pioneer telegraph line builder who founded Cornell University.

Then, Western Union laid plans for the westward expansion of the Telegraph. California was virtually isolated from the rest of the country and its aid was desperately needed by the nation. The wilderness west of the Mississippi was spanned only by daring pony express rider who galloped on relay of ponies from St. Joseph, Missouri, to Sacramento in 10 days.

Western Union president Hiram Sibley talked with president Lincoln about the plan to string a telegraph wire across the wilderness to California. Lincoln was skeptical. He didn't think it could be done; there were no poles on the treeless plains and too many hostile Indians. Undaunted, Western Union went ahead. Experts warned it would take 10 years; the wire was strung

In three months and on October 24, 1851 the line completed the first (Continued on next

Two World War I Buddies Meet

An unexpected meeting and the good memory of a man lead to the happy reunion of two World War I buddies at Anton last week. The men were Lloyd Craft, who lives in the east part of Anton, and R. C. Hill of Oklahoma, who was in Anton visiting his sister, Mrs. W. O. Stacy. They were in the war together and separated in January, 1919, 32 years ago. They had not seen nor heard of each other since then. But Monday Craft, who resides just across the street from Mr. Stacy, where Hill was visiting, drove past the Stacy home, and when he saw Hill in the yard, he got on the brakes and backed up. He told them that he knew Hill, that he had not heard of him since they were mustered out of the Army in January, 1919. It is needless to say that the two war buddies spent an enjoyable time together recounting so many things that had happened to them together. It was stated that they plan to meet again before another 32 years roll by.

Continental telegraph. The first telegram over the line was from California to President Lincoln pledging loyalty to the Union cause. Western Union progress continued. It pushed more wires into wilderness areas. As communication led the way new settlements magically followed. The rapid expansion of the telegraph and resulting fast, dependable communication—helped to extend the railroads, open new markets and stimulate commerce. The purchase of Alaska from Russia by the United States was spurred by the pioneering initiative of Western Union. Spanning the Atlantic with an underwater cable had been tried without success. Western Union decided to build a line to Europe through the North. The plan was to go up through western Canada. The present old telegraph trail and Russian Alcan Highway follows in part across America. From there the route was across the Bearing Strait and through Siberia to join a line to be constructed eastward by Russians from St. Petersburg. The attempt was abandoned when a successful transatlantic cable was laid in 1866, but president Hiram Sibley of Western Union, negotiating the right-of-way from the line through the area Premier Gotchakof, or Russia, that that is now Alaska, learned from they were willing to sell the whole area.

Immediately, Sibley urged the United States to make the purchase finally, in 1876, the United States purchased Russian American—now Alaska—for $7,200,000 or 2 cents an acre. It has since turned out to be one of the greatest real-estate bargains of American history.
