

GILBERT, BELLOMY, SIKES ENTER POLITICAL RACE

POLITICAL POT SETS UP MERRY TUNE IN COUNTY

Three Officially Announce; Others Express Plans To Run

Simmering tunelessly and gently for the past several weeks, the political pot is this week setting up a merry tune. By next week, or the week after, it will be boiling. And will continue to boil until the announcement of the results in the second primary.

Roy Gilbert, county tax assessor and collector, has officially announced for re-election, and will issue a statement to the voters within a week or two.

J. T. Bellomy has officially announced that he will be a candidate for election as commissioner of Precinct No. 4. Ellis Foust, who is now serving his fourth term as commissioner of that precinct, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Bellomy's statement to the voters probably will be issued next week.

Judge J. B. Sikes, justice of peace of precinct No. 4, has officially announced that he will be a candidate for re-election. His statement to the voters will be issued next week.

Three-Cornered Race
Already a three-cornered race has developed for the office of county attorney. Herbert C. Martin will ask for re-election, and James A. Gowdy of Olton and Bill Hall of Littlefield, have declared their intention to get into the race.

Sheriff F. A. Loyd, appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Len Ervin, may be a candidate for the office. He said that he will make known his decision in the very near future.

County Judge Simon D. Hay said that he did not know at this time whether or not he will be a candidate for re-election. He will make known his decision within a week or so.

Stanley A. Doss will be a candidate for re-election as county clerk. J. B. Holt will be a candidate for election as district clerk.

Mrs. W. P. McDaniel has not announced whether or not she will ask for re-election, but is expected to announce for return to office.

Roy Gattis will ask re-election as commissioner of Precinct No. 3.

C. O. Robbins will be a candidate for re-election as public weigher of precinct No. 4.

Large Amount Of Cotton Taken From J. M. Ayers Farm

Capt. Moore and Grady Harris, deputy Sheriffs of Lubbock County were in Littlefield Wednesday in connection with a theft of cotton from J. M. Ayers farm northwest of Littlefield.

They traced the truck supposed to be carrying the cotton through Littlefield going west, 4400 lbs. are reported to have been taken Tuesday night. The Lubbock officers were being assisted by Littlefield and Lamb County officers in their search.

Voters In Bond Issue Must Vote On 1934 Receipt

In the Bond issue election to be held Saturday next, taxpayers must on their 1934 poll tax receipt, are not allowed to vote on their receipt, according to the ruling of the Attorney-General. Citizens will vote on the Poll Tax Receipt Stamped "1934." Persons owning either real or personal property are entitled to vote.

Difference Of Opinion As To Legality Of Election Develops

A difference of opinion has developed as to the legality of the election, which was held in Littlefield Friday, December 20. Grocers and wine dealers have advised county authorities that, in the opinion that they are not granted license before Saturday night of this week, that they will cease selling at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Chapman returned Thursday from Hobart, Okla. They spent the day with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donley.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR ROADS BOND ISSUE

Saturday the voters will go to the polls and by their ballots decide WHETHER or NOT over $400,000 will be spent in Lamb county for good roads.

In fact, they will decide even more: Ballots will determine WHETHER or NOT those who have been on relief will have employment for the next eight or nine months. Remember, all relief, with the exception of a few cases, ceased January 1.

Ballots will determine WHETHER or NOT Lamb county will vote $60,000, or 15 per cent, to match approximately $400,000, or 85 per cent, in WPA funds for a COUNTY-WIDE road improvement program.

Ballots will determine WHETHER or NOT the $400,000 allotted for this county will go to some other county, leaving Lamb county to pay her per capita share of this Federal expenditure just the same as though we had voted the bonds and benefitted thereby.

Ballots will decide WHETHER or NOT Lamb county will take advantage of the WPA funds, or at some time spend thousands of dollars in county funds for road improvement. In other words, the people of the county, sooner or later, will demand better roads . . . and are entitled to them . . . and in place of a 15 per cent expenditure the taxpayers will have to foot the bill for 100 per cent. Which is cheaper, 15 per cent or 100 per cent?

Ballots will decide WHETHER or NOT the precinct in which you live will have a road improvement program. The WPA administrator has assured the county officials that every precinct will benefit, and that whatever amount is allotted to each road must be spent on that particular road. The WPA will direct the entire expenditure program; not even the county commissioners will have any say in that respect.

If you do not thoroughly understand what it is desired to be accomplished through this bond issue and road improvement program, we suggest you talk with some county officer or WPA official, and have the entire matter explained in detail.

It is not the practice of the Lamb County Leader to suggest how our readers should vote, but this newspaper feels that the WPA road building program is the greatest opportunity ever offered Lamb county. We are of the opinion that every citizen of the county will benefit.

Bond Issue Discussed At C. of C. Meeting

The Bond election, which will take place Saturday next, was discussed at the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon meeting Tuesday following the luncheon.

F. O. Boles, County Superintendent of Schools, gave his views as to the general situation over the county, pointing out the great benefits to be derived from the passing of this bond issue in the way of furnishing labor to those formerly receiving relief, as this measure ends on January 1, except in rare cases.

Joe Hale suggested that an outline be secured from WPA and presented to the people showing the roads approved and money to be spent on each road, stating that the WPA, as they approved the roads, laid aside a certain amount to be spent on each individual road, and that exactly that figure would be spent; as no one, not even the County Commission, would have any authority to alter the amount. He stated that if the Bond issue did not pass, the $400,000 to be allotted Lamb County for roads would be transferred to some other county. Supt. A. B. Sanders reported the Athletic project going ahead, stating they were laying pipe. He reported a representative from the WPA was here Monday, who urged that the project be rushed to completion by March 15 if possible. Pat Boone reported on the city cleanup, which is not completed, but will be within a short time. Sam Batton stated that the Christmas trees which were set up at the intersections of Phelps Avenue and

Federal Government Would Pay Large Part Of Cost

The good roads bond issue election will be held Saturday next, January 4, when voters must vote on their 1934 poll tax receipt, according to a ruling of the Attorney-General, and not on the 1935 receipt, as was first believed to be the case.

This election was called following the presentation to the Court of a petition signed by a number of Lamb county citizens requesting an election be held to determine whether or not the bonds of Lamb county be issued in the sum of $60,000 to match Federal funds in the amount of about $400,000 for the building and improvement of roads in Lamb county.

The polling places and the presiding officers of election will be as follows:

Voting box No. 1, Olton, Texas to be held in the Court House of Lamb County with Marshall Cavett as presiding judge.

Voting box No. 2, Springlake to be held at Springlake School House with J. F. Kelley as presiding judge.

LOOKING AHEAD TO 1936

All the signs point to the likelihood that the New Year just beginning will be one of the most exciting years we have had for a long time.

In this country the big fact is that this is a Presidential election year, and all the indications are that the campaign, which will begin around the Fourth of July and run to November 9, will be the most exciting political episode in our national history since Bryan ran against McKinley in 1896, just forty years ago.

Abroad, it seems quite probable that there will be a major war, involving big European nations, before very long. Again, nobody can say with certainty that this war will break out in 1936, but there surely will be enough war talk to keep the whole world in a state of jitters.

Watch for big developments in the scientific and technical fields in 1936. The year just ended saw the establishment of the first air mail and passenger service across the Pacific Ocean. It seems to be on the cards that before 1936 is over we shall see the beginning, at least, of a similar Trans-Atlantic service.

It would take a brave man to promise that television will be perfected before the year 1936 ends. But it is certain that long strides will be made toward the goal of bringing the world's great events, as they occur, before the eyes of millions of people sitting comfortably in their own homes.

No one can be quite certain that we have yet achieved the stable recovery for which we have been looking, but we are certainly on the way. Doubtless there will be set-backs, but there is nothing now to suggest that our general economic situation will be worse when 1937 rolls around, and many signs to indicate that it will be better.

The most important thing that will happen in 1936, is what has been happening every year for the past 1935 years. That is the steady growth of the spirit of human brotherhood and goodwill, of justice and righteousness in human relations. For nothing is more certainly true than in such matters the world has been getting better every year.

It will keep on getting better in 1936. So much for national and international matters. The majority of us who live on the South Plains are entering 1936 with hope of accomplishing much more than we did in 1935. It is always a healthy condition when people are planning hopefully for the future.

The past year has witnessed many outstanding accomplishments for Lamb County and the South Plains. The excellent achievements of 1936 suggest that much more can be accomplished this year.

The majority of residents of Lamb County and the South Plains are in a better financial position at this time than they were a year ago.

Such a healthy condition will stimulate progress in 1936.

So we say:
FULL STEAM AHEAD!

LET'S MAKE 1936 A YEAR OF GREAT PROGRESS FOR LAMB COUNTY AND THE GREAT SOUTH PLAINS!

A GARBAGE COLLECTION SYSTEM

The opinion has been expressed that Littlefield should have a garbage collection system, and that all garbage should be placed in covered containers.

Probably since Littlefield was Littlefield most garbage has been placed in open cans and boxes of all sizes, and has been carried away at any time that the household deemed that it was about time "to get that garbage away."

Many special cleanup programs have been carried

SUNNYDALE

(Too Late For Last Week)
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weige had as their guests last Tuesday, their aunt, Mrs. Minnie Braggs and cousin Charles Fraunze of Littlefield. Rev. Olin D. Powell of Beck and his mother, Mrs. Jno. Powell visited in our community Wednesday. Numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weige will be sorry to hear that they are moving to their home near Littlefield. The good people are certainly good friends and neighbors and we shall sure miss them. However we wish for them all the happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schulz and children were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Claude Brown Sunday.

Rev. Tony Q. Dyess of Lubbock, who is our new Methodist pastor led prayer meeting Friday night. The service was enjoyed by everyone. He plans to teach a Bible course for us, giving a lecture each Saturday night, before Fourth Sunday. This "Survey of the Bible," course, requires that we read the book of Genesis before January 25. Everyone is invited and urged to attend and take part in this good work. Bro. Dyess spent the week end in our community, making plans for his year's work with us. Also preaching at the morning and night services Sunday. Both messages were very fine and appreciated by every one. His base solo, "Rainbows," was highly commended and we all feel fortunate in having this fine man as our pastor and friend.

Mrs. Clark and son of Hereford are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Fraunze and children of Littlefield visited in our community Wednesday evening.

GOODLAND NEWS

(Too Late For Last Week)
Mrs. Orval Beaty returned home

Thursday from the Lubbock hospital where she underwent an appendix operation about 10 days ago. School turned out Friday, a week for Christmas.

Rev. A. O. Bremer of Y. L. was unable to fill his appointment here Sunday, and Rev. B. C. Smith of Morton preached in his place. There were several who went to out, and at the present time, cleanup work is being carried out as a WPA project. Every effort that is made to keep our city clean is highly commendable, but there should be a regular program in operation and paid for out of the money that the city collects in taxation. City regulations should specify that garbage must be placed in covered containers, and that the garbage must be carried away by city collectors at specified intervals.

When a garbage collection system is placed in operation in Littlefield an important step forward will have been accomplished in the interests of public health. Open garbage cans and swarming flies breed disease.

This is the time of the year when consideration should be given to the establishing of a garbage collection system. Such an important matter should not be deferred until the coming of warm weather.

POWDER

Fine Serial Fiction in a new form. . . Three Prize Short Stories (of four instalments each) by a master story-teller. . . They're Rex Beach at his best.

FOUR INSTALLMENTS

opsis: Ben Furlong, a young mechanical oil man and driller from Pennsylvania field, drifted into Texas oil country, broke and for work. Finally he fetched the Durham home where live an aunt, shortly widowed by the son of a powder wagon, and niece, pretty Betty Durham — because of his smile, Betty was some food for Ben and while he learns the aunt, in town business, has an oil man, Tiller

Maddox, sinking an oil well for her — A short 6 inch bolt worked loose from the rigging and is in the bottom of the well. Work has been suspended for days as the crew "fish" for the bolt and operating funds dwindle away — Furlong offers to give a hand but Maddox objects — Betty insists and overrules Maddox so Furlong fashions a tool which brings up the bolt — On the order of Betty's aunt, Furlong is given a job. — Maddox shows his dislike for the new hand, especially because Ben and Betty are so friendly. While the two are in town shopping one evening, Maddox calls upon the aunt, demanding she help his case with Betty or there will be no well — NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

THIRD INSTALLMENT

"Did you drop that bolt in the well?" Mrs. Durham bleated, in dismay.

"I ain't sayin' I did or I didn't."

Ben passed his arm around the slim girlish figure and drew it to him.

But remember, if this well ain't a producer, you're blown up, and it ain't a-goin' to produce till there's a Mrs. Tiller Maddox to see it and get her share! We bargained that out, long ago. Yes, an' I ain't afraid of you going back on our deal, either. You don't dast."

"I—I'll try again."

"You better do more'n try. I'll give you just one more chance. If she don't come across, I want you to go visit your folks Saturday evening, an' leave her here. Understand?"

For a moment Mrs. Durham stared at the speaker, then she said: "Tiller Maddox, you're a dirty dog!"

"Say! I've took all the back talk I can stand for one day. You heard me. You do like I tell you, an' you needn't to get back from your visit till Monday."

Not until Ben and Betty had finished their shopping and were on their way home did he tell her about the trouble he had had with Maddox that morning.

"He let on he was fooling, but of course he'll fire me the first chance he gets," Furlong predicted.

"Oh, Ben! Why did you do it?"

"We were bound to tie into each other sooner or later. You can't choose a time to get fighting mad; it's as much as you can do to pick good footing."

"Aunt Mary won't let him fire you. She doesn't trust him any more than I do."

"Say! What has he got on her?"

The girl did not look from her driving. She fetched a deep breath as she said: "I'd nearly love to know. There's something queer about it — Uncle Jot was a sweet, easy-going man and she rode him with a Spanish bit. She never would have let him take me in, when my folks died, only I did all the work. But he sure loved me. When the oil excitement came they rowed and fought for months. When ever he got an offer she claimed he was trying to give the farm away and threatened to go to law. I told you about that. He stood it as long as he could; then he up and announced that I'd been more of a daughter to him than she'd been a wife and he aimed to give most of his money to me anyhow, and then he made that lease with the Planet people. That's how Maddox came. I think she'd have poisoned me, if she dared, after what uncle said. When he was killed I supposed, of course, she'd throw me out, but she didn't. No use to do it, I suppose, inasmuch as he hadn't left any writing. As a matter of fact, she was better to me than she'd been. That's what makes me wonder sometimes—

"Wonder what?"

"If he didn't tell Tiller something. Something that makes her scared of him. Sometimes she acts like it's only because of him that she's nice to me."

"I don't know what I'd do if she sent me away. I haven't got a red cent. There isn't a living soul I could—"

Ben passed his arm around the slim, girlish figure and drew it to him. "That'll be about all for you!" He kissed the cheek next to his and Betty hungrily pressed her face closer. "Good thing you aren't an heiress—and me with less than a hundred dollars!"

"You behave yourself, or you'll wreck this car," the girl warned him.

Maddox carried out his intention. He discharged Furlong on Friday night, explaining that the well was down, and the next morning Ben broke the news to his sweetheart Betty was indignant. She was for appealing to her aunt, but he refused to permit her. He promised to let her hear from him in a day or so.

Betty's face was flushed, her eyes were shining, when she entered the house after he was gone. She was surprised to find her aunt awaiting her.

"Tiller came over the other night when you was in town," Mrs. Durham began.

"Did he?"

"He talked a lot about you. Tiller's a fine man dearie—"

Betty broke out irritably: "Don't let's start that all over again."

"Oh, your head's full of Furlong, I suppose! But what's he got? Nothing. Not even a job. Now Tiller wants to marry you and—you better do it."

"You know very well I'll do nothing of the sort."

"Maybe you won't and maybe you will." Mrs. Durham's lips set themselves in lines of inflexibility. "If you got a smitch of sense you will, D'you want to be poor all your life or d'you want to be rich?"

"I tell you I won't! I won't!" declared the girl. "The big, black, greasy brute!"

"Now don't fly off the handle till I'm through. I've been pretty good to you—"

"I've earned my keep ever since I came. You'd have paid more for a hired girl than I cost."

"Oh, hush up and let me finish. We allus fight like this. Your uncle Joe cared a lot for you and—and I want to respect his wishes. When that well comes in this farm'll be worth—I don't know what. Anyhow, my heart's set on seeing you get a good home and have everything. How'd you like to live in a fine house in Dallas?"

"What ails you? Are you losing your mind, Aunt Mary?"

"And you can have 'em if you marry Tiller. Marry Furlong and you'll spend your life over a cook stove."

"How can Tiller give me things like that?"

"I'll give 'em to you."

"After a moment Betty inquired, curiously, "How much will you give?"

It was Mrs. Durham's time to hesitate, her words came with an effort. "I don't know—mebbe a quar-

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results. Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY SEAT

STATISTICS FOR USE IN DETERMINING TAXATION VALUES OF FARM PROPERTIES ARE BEING GATHERED IN LAMB COUNTY

A WPA project sponsored by the State Planning board, is underway in the offices of the county tax assessor and collector and the county clerk.

The purposes of the project, which is state-wide, are to establish on the tax rolls of the counties the ownership, address of owner, etc., of un-rendered tracts, and to inspect all farms and obtain information to be used in determining taxation values.

When the setup for Lamb county is complete there will be 14 field men and a county manager. Roy Gilbert, county tax assessor and collector, is acting county manager pending the appointment of a manager.

COUNTY TAXES ARE BEING PAID EARLIER THAN IS CUSTOMARY

PAYMENTS OF 1935 TAXES TO DATE TOTAL ABOUT $35,000

Tax money is coming in earlier and in greater volume this year than in several previous years, according to Sid Hopping, deputy county tax assessor and collector.

Hertofore January has been the big tax paying month, and will be this year, but a greater per cent of the tax money is coming in earlier than in several previous years. Reasons assigned for increased early activity in the payment of taxes are the earlier harvesting of cotton and improved general financial conditions.

County taxes became due October 1, but will not be delinquent until February 1 of this year.

Since collection of taxes was started on the 1936 roll there have been approximately $35,000 collected in state and county taxes, with the total roll for 1935 amounting to about $105,000.

COURTS TO OPEN FEBRUARY 3 AND 10

Will Let Contract Soon For Building New Olton School

A contract has been awarded to J. B. Maxey Construction Co., Lubbock, for the building of the foundation for the new Olton grammar school.

Material for the construction of the foundation is being placed on the ground.

A contract for the erection of the building proper will be awarded some time this month.

The new building will cost approximately $120,000, and will have 18 class rooms and a combination auditorium and gymnasium.

The main building will be two stories and the auditorium and gymnasium one story. The auditorium will seat 1400 persons, including the space provided by a balcony.

The citizens of Olton recently voted bonds for a street paving program under the WPA plan, but it is not known when the WPA money will be available.

Many Are Paying Poll Taxes Early

The County tax Assessor and Collector's office reports increased activity this year in the payment of poll taxes.

A total of 647 poll taxes for 1936 have been issued to date. This is more than usual for this time of year, but as, in the case of tax paying, the big volume will come this month.

In an election year there are generally about 3900 poll taxes issued.

Those who will become old enough to vote in the 1936 elections, but who are not required to pay a poll tax, are urged to get their exemption certificates. Those who were not 21 in January, 1935, are entitled to a free vote, but must get their exemption certificates by the end of January this year.

Those who came to this county from other states since January 1, 1935, also will be required to obtain exemption certificates if they desire to vote.

Those over age, that is 60 years and older, are not required to get exemption certificates.

Outstanding Record Is Maintained By The Local CCC Camp

Organized at one of the first erosion control camps early last summer, Co. 3802, Camp SCS-15-T, at Littlefield, has maintained an outstanding record.

Co. 3802, under command of 1st Lt. Darwin S. Holton, CA-Res., twice in succession has been awarded the Lubbock District cup and banner for all around excellence. Junior officer, recently relieved at expiration of tour of duty, was 2nd Lt. H. H. Davenport, Engr-Res. Surgeon is Dr. Eugene G. Wolff.

From charts maintained by district headquarters, Co. 3802 has the fewest errors chalked against it of any company in the district and has a record of the best mess and exchange management. There is china on the tables and paper napkins for every man at every meal. Arrangement of the orderly room was taken as the district model.

Following his policy of rewarding outstanding enrollees with civilian employment as it becomes available, Capt. Francis O. Wood, 82nd F. A., district commander, has approved the employment of company clerk Morris N. Myrick as a clerk at district headquarters.

Co. 3802 was organized at Littlefield from a cadre of 12 men from Co. 872, Brownwood, Texas, on August 19, 1935.

Recreational facilities include two ping-pong layouts, a quarter mile cinder track, basketball and volleyball courts, and a boxing ring. A complete library with newspaper and magazine racks is maintained in the recreation hall and there are plenty of tables for reading or writing.

The school program is well under way under direction of Marshall B. Thompson, educational advisor, and enrollment is highest in the district.

Work done on the project to December 1, 1935 includes two dams, thirty miles of terrace, approximately a thousand acres of gully control and about 10,000 acres each in rodent control and weed eradication completed. J. T. Reese is project superintendent.

Levelland Lobos Win Over Whiteface High School 64-12

Levelland, Dec. 21.—(Special)—Off to an impressive start this week with an opening 64 to 12 victory over the Whiteface High school team, the Levelland High School Lobos are pointing to next Friday night's encounter with the Arnett, Oklahoma, team. The game starts at 8 o'clock.

While Coach Bill Stevens of Levelland laments the fact that no player on the Lobo squad is as tall as Bates of last season, the starting team will register a greater height average than the 1934-35 club. Average height will be six feet, 2 inches, and this is considered tall enough to promise interesting competition in the District race this season.

Lobos Win Over Cagers 29 To 20

Levelland, Dec. 28.—(Special)—Coach Bill Stevens' Levelland High school Lobos successfully turned back the invasion of the barnstorming cagers from Arnett, Okla., here Friday night, 29 to 20.

The Arnett team, which played at Anton Thursday night, displayed a spectacular passing attack, handled the ball like college players, but was met with a stubborn defense that broke with the attack and prevented wild scoring.

Adjustment Held As Protection For Cotton Producer

"The price of cotton always has been controlled by the law of supply and demand and will continue to be controlled by the same law in the future," said Millard Phillips, Chairman of County Committee, while discussing the new cotton adjustment contract and program to be offered to producers in Lamb County, within the near future by the Division of Cotton of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

"The experience of the last three years with cotton programs demonstrates the need for continued adjustment in cotton production for 1936, and succeeding years," Phillips continued.

Phillips recalled how many farmers were forced to mortgage their farms following the bumper crops of 1904, 1908, 1914, 1920, 1926, and 1931 when the supply of cotton greatly exceeded the demand, resulting in ruinously low prices. He said that before the mortgage could be paid off following a period of over production and low prices, another period of overproduction and prices would develop. As a consequence, farm buildings and equipment were allowed to run down. Cotton acreage was reduced because many farmers could not finance their usual size crops, necessity, thus bringing about adjustment.

"The adjustment was long drawn out," Phillips said, "and it frequently was accompanied by distress on the farm. However," he pointed out, "Some farmers who were in better financial circumstances grew their usual acreage or even extended it and benefitted by the reduction forced upon those who were least able to carry the burden."

"Business men in Lamb County also suffered losses during the years of bumper crops and accompanying low prices," Phillips said. "Debts went unpaid. Store sales declined, and credit was hard to get at the bank. Schools ran short terms and business generally was bad."

Mr. Phillips pointed out that cotton farmers are learning more about the law of supply and demand that they are learning to adjust the supply to the demand, a practice that business men have been following for years. He stressed the fact that farmers have used the machinery of government for the last three years to adjust production and supply of cotton to the demand for it. This machinery has taken the form of adjustment contracts with adjustment payments; bringing the farm income from cotton near to the comparative level of the prices farmers pay for non-farm-produced goods.

This Mr. Phillips said, is only a partial offset to the practice that manufacturers have followed for years adjusting production and maintaining their prices, often under the protection of high tariffs.

Phillips called attention to the fact that the law of supply and demand was recognized when Congress declared that it was the policy of the Agricultural Adjustment Act to balance the production of agricultural commodities to the demand for such commodities, so as to command fair prices to the producer for them. He stated that efforts at such adjustment had practically doubled the price of cotton since 1932, the last year before cotton adjustment programs were instituted, and further emphasized the need for continued adjustment.

Small Producer Protected Under Corn-Hog Plan

A farmer with a corn base of 10 acres or more, or a market hog base of six hogs or more, is eligible to receive a corn or hog adjustment payment, respectively, under the new two-year corn-hog contract, according to E. M. Regenbrecht, chairman of the State Corn-Hog Review Board.

A contract signer with a corn base less than the required 10 acres, however, may receive a hog payment if he has a market hog base of six or more hogs and if he complies with the terms of his contract and the administrative rulings. Regenbrecht points out. Likewise, a man with a market hog base of less than six hogs may be eligible for a corn adjustment payment.

If a contract signer's corn base is less than 10 acres and he wishes to receive a hog payment, he must agree not to increase his corn acreage above his base. If this base is between 10 and 15 acres, he may either make an adjustment and receive payment, or obtain an exemption from adjustment, and agree not to increase his corn acreage above his base. This will enable a producer with a small corn base who needs all corn produced on his base acreage to participate in the program by making the necessary adjustment in his hog production.

A signer with a market hog base of less than six hogs may make an adjustment in corn acreage according to the terms of the contract and receive a corn payment if he agrees not to produce hogs in excess of his market base. And if his base is between six to 15 hogs, he may either make an adjustment and receive a hog payment, or not produce hogs in excess of his base and receive no hog payment.

Split In Payments Of Cotton Grown Set In Contract

A new division of payments between landlords and tenants on a farm, designed to prevent misunderstandings which arose out of the contract for 1935, is provided for in the new four-year cotton adjustment contract to be offered to producers soon by the Division of Cotton of the AAA, A. L. Smith, chairman of the Cotton Allotment Board at College Station, said in explaining this provision today.

The division of the payments will be made on the following basis: 37 1-2 percent to the person furnishing the land; 12 1-2 percent to the individual furnishing the work stock and equipment; and a division of the remaining 50 percent in the proportion that the cotton or its proceeds is divided.

"This provision for division of payments will make unnecessary the classification of tenants," Smith pointed out.

Operating under the 1936 contract, the share cropper will receive 25 percent of the payments as compared to 15 percent in 1935. A share tenant, one who furnishes work stock and equipment, will receive approximately 50 percent of the payments in 1936.

"The percentages arrived at in the above comparisons were based on a division of three-fourths of the cotton to the share tenant and one-half to the share cropper," A. L. Smith said.

To Stimulate Growing Of Hogs

The 1936-1937 corn-hog adjustment program will stimulate the growing of hogs in areas in Texas where drought and other obstacles have reduced hog numbers to an undesirable degree, and will apply "brakes to the expansion of hog production where, without any program, production would be unreasonably increased, believes E. M. Regenbrecht,

Small Number Of Clemency Orders Issued By

There were 837 clemencies issued by Governor Allred's term, a smaller number compared with preceding years. A compilation by the secretary of state's office listed 1,023 clemency proclamations issued Jan. 16, Governor Allred's term, 102 clemencies while other terms mean freedom for other prisoners.

Former Governor Miriam Ferguson granted 5,142 clemencies her second term, Former Governor S. Sterling, who preceded Ferguson, granted 5,326.

A comparison of clemency types showed a sharp difference between Governor Allred and Sterling. Governor Allred granted more conditional pardons while Miriam Ferguson issued more conditional pardons than any other type of clemency.

A comparative resume for the two periods in 1934 and 1935 showed Governor Allred received 765, of which 589 received conditional pardons, 45 conditional pardons, 12 full pardons, and 112 furloughs, a corresponding period, Mrs. Ferguson received 1,845, of which 408 conditional pardons, 592 conditional pardons, 223 full pardons and 422 furloughs.

The comparative two-year record of Governors Sterling and Ferguson and first year of Governor Allred was:

Sterling—Full pardons, 32; conditional pardons, 2; general pardons, 2,279; reprieves, 12; commutations of sentences, 4; furloughs, extensions, 2,695, and revocations, 79.

Mrs. Ferguson—Full pardons, 1,564; conditional pardons, 1,564; general pardons, 896; reprieves, 13; commutations of sentences, 13; furloughs and extensions, 1,277, and revocations, 10.

Allred—Full pardons, 21; conditional pardons, 52; general pardons, 603; reprieves, 2; commutations of sentences, 10; furloughs and extensions, 15; and revocations, 102.

Governor Allred instituted a feature in clemencies soon after his inauguration, that of establishing county parole boards to which released convicts were paroled on regular reports. The boards, in many counties, also were given the duty of aiding ex-convicts who served their terms.

Of the 603 convicts granted conditional pardons, only nine "returned" to the governor's term for which where revocation was necessary, revoked one of the conditional pardons.

In less than a year, he received 55 of the conditional pardons by Mrs. Ferguson and eight of the parolees. Four of the general pardons were general pardons revoked by Governor Sterling.

MORTON CAFE IS BURGLARIED

Morton, Dec. 26.—(Special)—Some time Monday night, the Morton Confectionery and cafe, located on the east side of the square, the Wallace Theatre, was burglarized and relieved of a small sum in cash.

From indications, the burglar must have had a key that would fasten the Yale lock on the door as there was no evidence of forced entrance. Nothing appears to have been disturbed inside the marble board from which money was taken.

chairman of the State Corn-Hog Review Board.

The new contract provides in order to get the maximum payment, the producer should grow for market at least 50 percent of the number of hogs in his base. For every hog below this 50 percent $2.50 will be deducted from his payment. This provision will encourage contract signers to raise enough hogs so that they may receive the maximum payment.

let Service Man Suggestions As Winter Driving

Improvements have made driving of automobiles in cold weather much simpler operation than it used to be. However, owners of several years old cars should be careful of their winter starting difficulties following a few suggestions made by C. W. Wood, service mechanical manager of the Ford Motor Company.

"In very cold weather," said Mr. Wood, "a well-charged battery should withstand more than a normal amount of continuous cranking of the engine. In order to insure the best possible start, it is a good idea to pull the choke rod when the ignition is turned on. The starter is operated at all times, the throttle slightly, but not enough to cause racing when the engine starts. Then step on the gas and after the engine has turned over or three revolutions to the mixture, flip the ignition switch. A quick start will usually be obtained. The clutch pedal should be depressed until the engine starts, to prevent the cranking effort required.

It is, of course, certain precautions which should always be taken to make sure that the ignition system is at top efficiency. Distributors and spark plugs should be cleaned. Night starts should be made with the lights and other electrical apparatus turned off, to conserve maximum power available for cranking the engine over. Modern electrical systems have been improved of late to take care of the increased load placed upon the car by radios, heaters, and other consuming accessories. In the case of the deluxe Chevrolet, the charging of the generator may be regulated up by a dash adjustment. Occasional checking of the condition of the battery, an avoidance of unnecessary use of current, and a long way, in any car, to starting difficulty.

It is hardly necessary to add that not only the crankcase oil, but the transmission and differential lubrication should be checked at the beginning of the winter season and made conform to the engineers' specifications for the car in question. The maintenance, and adoption of the expedients suggested, will result in far greater satisfaction in winter driving."

Placing the Texas Centennial Exhibition on the air from coast to coast, the Gulf Refining Company of Houston today agreed to erect a $120,000 radio and public address system on the Exposition grounds. This building is in almost the exact center of Exposition Park. The building will be constructed in the shape of a horseshoe and will contain two enclosed studios, reception room and control room. TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH
 Premillennial, Missionary Evangelical
 Jno. R. Denning, Pastor

On next Sunday, January 5th, our entire Sunday school will begin anew on a Whole Bible Study Course, commencing with the first chapter in the Bible concerning the Creation, and which will take us consecutively, chapter by chapter, through the entire Bible. Start your New Year right, by joining us in this profitable method of study. Be sure and bring your Bible. We use nothing else. The time is 9:45, and there are classes for all ages.
 Our Young People's Bible Union

enjoyed its largest attendance last Sunday evening. We invite all young people to this study each Sunday at 8:30. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Touchon, Jr., have the direction of this work.

Next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, the pastor brings a message on "Rebuilding the Temple." This will present an outline of work for the coming year.

In the evening, at 7:30 o'clock, the pastor continues on Bible Prophecy. Following last Sunday night's message on the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, his subject will be "The Roman Beast." These messages are neither highly speculative or sensational, but are in strict accord with the Word of God. If you believe the Bible, and are interested in what it teaches concerning present World conditions, you will enjoy these Sunday night messages.

Dossey is a preacher of unusual power and has to his credit a great number of very successful meetings over the state. The First Baptist church is favored in securing the help of this able preacher and Evangelist and everybody is urged to keep in mind the date of our Winter Revival and be planning and praying for a Meeting of sweeping section and city wide success.

METHODIST CHURCH
 J. W. Hendrix, Pastor

Much encouragement was given the church folk by last Sunday services. The attendance was excellent both morning and evening. A fine spirit was manifested. The church begins the year with high confidence of a successful year. It is heartened by the success of the year just passing.

We, all of us, desire to thank our well wishers for their kindly co-operation. The pastor desires to thank every one, in church or out, who have in any way contributed to the success of last year. But we further solicit the cordial cooperation for the year now at its dawning.

We pledge ourselves to a new endeavor. We believe in Littlefield, believe in her people, believe it can be made a church going town. The good people have been humiliated by certain things which cast a shadow over all of us as a town and as a people. This shadow must be cleared up, is being cleared up. We enjoy issuing to each an invitation to begin the New Year with us next Sunday. The music has been of a fine order and we hope to make it even better during this year. The pastor feels that he is just beginning in his ministry to his people, so many vital questions are yet untouched—yet to be approached. Next Sabbath morning he begins his series of sermons again on Prayer. The question next is, "Is There a Place of Human Well Being in This Life?" If there is, and we think there is, how is it to be attained? You might find it profitable to hear this discussion.

Guiding Principles Of Curriculum In Texas

By Supt. A. B. Sanders

In discussing the principles of curriculum revision we would call to your attention the first principle: "The curriculum shall provide educative experiences adapted to the fundamental needs of the each child of whatever race, type or mental aptitude."

In being guided by this principle the curriculum specialist is thinking in terms of giving each child the training that will profit him most. Individual differences in children make it necessary to treat each child with experiences that will fit his need. Some of the aims that are kept in mind for each youngster are as follows: health and happiness; a sound body and normal mental responses command of needed knowledge and skills; appreciation and desire for worthwhile activities, social-civic responsibility, worthy use of leisure, moral integrity, habits of critical thinking, practical efficiency, and economic welfare. These and many other worthy aims should be attempted for each child to the extent of his ability to respond and in harmony with the fundamental principles of democracy.

This does not mean that what is best for one is best for all. The new curriculum will attempt to develop the child from where he is to where he is most capable of achieving. This guiding principle keeps the needs of the child as the upper most ideal, and strives to give society the best possible citizen from each child in the community.

This guiding principle checks with the idea of a functional system of education. That is that a child should be able to derive some specific values as well as so many abstract and general cultural values.

Laxative Combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, Theford's Black-Draught, prompted them to get the new Sp of Black-Draught for their child. The grown folks stick to the proved Black-Draught; the young probably will prefer it when they grow their childish love of it.

—Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Me-Ky, writes: "I have used Theford's Black-Draught (powder) about a dozen years, taking it for bilious Black-Draught acts well and I always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Theford's Black-Draught to be just that."

one of scorn.
"There's gratitude for you! Mebbe if it's a real big well I'd do better. You—you've got to do it, Betty!" The widow cried in distraction. "If you don't he'll ruin everything. He said so. If that well don't come in the farm ain't worth—"
"Se! That's why you're so generous. Now you listen to me, I wouldn't marry Tiller Maddox, not for all the oil in Texas, not if it was to save your life."
"Wait! Don't make up your mind in a hurry, I—I'm going over to Cousin Anna's—"
"When? What for?"
"Right after dinner. You think it over while I'm gone, dearie. I feel like you was my own kin. I want to do right by you and—"
"Rats!" said the girl.
The town lay hot and gasping under the sun. There was no shade out-of-doors, for nothing grew in the streets, not even grass; its cinder yards, its board walls and iron roofs radiated waves of heat like those from a stove.
Late in the afternoon Ben Furlong entered the skating rink, paid his admission at the turnstile, and went through. Here, at least, was a place to sit down out of the sun. Out of the whirling throng upon the floor shot a figure, it was Ben's friend, the engineer of the Maddox rig. He rolled up to the bench where Furlong sat and collapsed upon it.

"Whew! It's hard work havin' a good time in this town," he panted. "Landed a job yet?"
"I've got some prospects lined up. What's the matter? You fished, too?"
"Now! Maddox laid us off for the day. Miz' Durham brought us in."
"Did Betty come with her?" Ben eagerly inquired.
The engineer shook his head; a grin spread over his face. "Say! You know how scared Tiller is of nitroglycerine? When we left he was hidin' out in the brush like a quail. The powder wagon came an' he took it on the run."
"Powder wagon? What's a powder wagon doing there?" Ben inquired.
"Why, he aims to shoot the well. He got a permit an' the stuff's on the ground, ready for the men."
"He's crazy if he shoots that well." Furlong declared. "What's he thinking about?"
"So I told him, 'Leave her alone an' she'll blow herself in,' I says to him. She's coughin' now, an' I bet as many wells has been ruined by that stuff as they is wells that's been made."
"I'm going to see Mrs. Durham." Ben rose, but the other explained; "She's gone away over Sunday to visit her kinfolks."
"Who's looking out for Betty?"
"I dunno, Tiller, I reckon."
Furlong frowned. For a while he listened inattentively to his companion, then he rose and left the rink. Conditions all over the oil fields, as he well knew, were unsettled, and he did not relish the thought of Betty out there alone in that farmhouse; but even more disturbing was the fact that Maddox proposed to shoot the Durham well. What ailed the man?

After some indecision Ben decided to warn Betty. It was none of his business, to be sure, but a word from her might induce the aunt to go slowly and perhaps save the cost of the well. It would be criminal to leave her in ignorance of the risks she ran. He tried to hire a car to run him back out to the farm, but it was some time before he could discover a truck that was later going in that direction.
It was considerably after dark when Furlong left Opportunity; he had to walk the last three miles, so it was late bedtime when he finally arrived at the Durham homestead. Evidently Betty was asleep; at any rate, the farmhouse windows were dark and Ben wondered how he could best awaken her without causing alarm. Visitors in the country at this time of night were not common. He decided to call softly from outside her window, so he closed the gate quietly behind him and made his way around the house.

He paused in surprise when he had turned the corner of the building, for the kitchen door was open. A momentary panic swept over him; then he drew a breath of relief, for at that moment he heard the girl's muffled voice.
"Who's there?" she cried.

He opened his lips to speak reassuringly, but the sound died in his throat, for inside Betty's room he heard a man's voice, then a stir, a movement. This was followed by a crash, as if a chair had been overturned, then a scream.
Furlong uttered a shout; he leaped forward. Some marauder had entered the house just ahead of him. Incredible as it seemed, he had arrived barely in time.
"Betty!" he yelled. "Betty!" He made for the door beyond.
That throaty clamor from the girl's room, meanwhile continued. There were hasty movements, the sounds of a struggle.

Furlong had never been inside the front part of the house, but its plan was simple and he was guided by those shrieks of terror. The door to Betty's room was closed, but it opened when he found the knob. He glimpsed the dim square of a window opposite and silhouetted against it he saw the girl herself, then blackness engulfed him.
The next he knew Betty Durham was holding his head in her lap and splashing water into his face. It struck him as queer that the lamp should be burning when only the fraction of an instant before all had been darkness.

Ford Service Men Use Laboratory Test To Diagnose Trouble

A veritable "clinic" on wheels with a specialist in charge is at work when a service man uses a Ford laboratory test set on a "sick" automobile. The test set makes the mechanic an expert diagnostician, able to isolate and prescribe for mechanical or electrical defects. This equipment is used to diagnose car troubles in service departments of most Ford dealers.

The steps of the test are so arranged that none has to be duplicated. When a fault is discovered it is corrected before the mechanic proceeds with the next step. Plug and jumper wire are used to establish any desired circuit and hose and special nipples are provided for testing fuel pump, carburetor and compression. The set tests everything that can effect engine or electrical system performance.

The battery is the first object of investigation where a complete inspection is made. Strength of each cell is recorded on a three-volt meter. The same meter is used to show a defective ground strap or loose ground connection. Leads are connected at each side of the ground connection and resistance set up by a poor connection shunts the battery current through the meter. Thus a low reading means good conductivity and a high reading, poor connection.

Cable and cable connections from battery to starter switch are checked in the same way, by cutting in the 5-volt meter. After all starter connections are checked, a test of the starter motor is made to determine its amperage draw.

This test will show low battery voltage at the starter, poor brush contact on the commutator of the starter, a shorted armature, bent shaft or tight bearings. The test is made by connecting the 90-ampere ammeter to the hot and cold sides of the starter switch and noting the readings while the engine is running.

The securing of the $60,000 by a bond issue is required by the WPA before they will advance the funds with which to carry on a county-wide road building program. This figure represents only 15 per cent of the total amount proposed to be expended in Lamb County, the WPA to supply the balance, 85 per cent, or about $400,000. It has been investigated and estimated that the most taxpayers will be taxed to take care of this bond indebtedness will be 6 cents per $100 valuation, or about 75 cents on a labor of land.

On the various road projects approved, the WPA has allotted to each road project a certain amount of money to be expended and WPA rules make it plain that such money must be used on that certain project, thus assuring each community through which one of these road projects pass, that the allotted amount will be spent on that particular road. Neither the County Commission or any other official will have any authority to change such orders.

If the bond issue passes, it is hoped to give employment to all who have previously been on relief, since all relief, has been cancelled with the exception of a few rare cases.

In the case the bond issue does not pass, the $400,000 approved for Lamb County will go to some other County for improvements, as these are federal funds set aside and will be spent regardless of whether or not this County votes to supply the other 15 per cent necessary.

According to Duane Orr, Architect on the WPA project in this County, there will be work done in every precinct in the county, provided the bond issue passes Saturday. Mr Orr stated the WPA Administrator assured him at the outset that if any money were spent in the County, some work would be done in each precinct, so as to distribute these federal funds fairly through the County.

It has also been pointed out that whether or not Lamb County votes in favor of the bond issue, the County will have to pay their per capita share of the Federal expenditure, as PWA funds have been set aside for road projects, and if not spent in Lamb County, will be transferred to some other County.

The roads proposed to be improved under the County-wide road building WPA project are:

The building of a new road from Littlefield east through Spade to Hale County line - to have 100 ft. right-of-way.

Improving road from Littlefield West to Bailey County line - 100 foot right-of-way - running through Bula;

Improvement of road from Sudan south to connect with the above East and West road, through Beck's Gin Community;

Improvements of road from Sudan north to Highway 28 over the Sand hills, giving Sudan a good road to Olton;

Improvement of road from Amherst north to Earth, giving Amherst a good road to Earth and to connect with Highway No. 28;

Improvement of road from Amherst east to the north and south road, which would give Amherst and section a good connection with Olton and Highway No. 28;

Improvement of road from the McDonad-Herring Gin east through Fieldton, east to intersect the north and south road, which goes from Lamb-Hockley County line through Spade, Hart's Camp, Olton, and to the Lamb-Castro County line;

Improvement of the North and South road from Lamb-Hockley County line through Littlefield to Spring Lake.

Mrs. J. M. Stokes, a guest at the luncheon, complimented the city on the splendid way in which the city had been cleaned up.

Mr. Boone stated that the city had been asked to pass an ordinance against circulars being distributed in the downtown section, the complaint being that it kept the business section in an unsightly condition. The suggestion was that circulars might be distributed to the homes and put in cars without them getting scattered about the main street; and that the advertisers be barred only from handing them out on Phelps Avenue.

The doll, which was dressed in blue, was packed in a box, with a second yellow dress, and presented to Betty Joe with the best of Christmas wishes from her teacher and classmates.

Betty Joe was overjoyed on opening the box Christmas morning and exclaimed "Oh, Mama, Golden Locks; well, Mama isn't it wonderful to have such a good teacher and such good classmates?"

To her father she said; "Daddy, I hope none of them ever happen with such an accident as I did. If any of my classmates ever get hurt, I sure will help them."

Betty Jo's father, on coming to

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chandler, and other members of the family also requested the Leader to thank Miss Teal and her pupils, classmates of Betty Jo and to state "that words just cannot express their appreciation for this kind act of theirs."
