CITY OF SUDAN ENDEAVORING TO SECURE PWA SEWER PROJECT

The city of Sudan are endeavoring to work out a plan whereby the city will get a $11,250 grant from the PWA, for a public works administration sewer system project.

The plan is to issue bonds and sell them to the Sudan Independent school. As the school has this money available, those in charge believed it might as well receive the $9,800 interest involved.

The bonded indebtedness of the city is $43,000.

Total cost of the system would be $27,750. $11,250 of this would be an outright grant and the other $16,500 will be cared for by serial bonds.

The proposed bond issue to match the Federal P. W. A. grant would be optional 5 per cent Semi-annual 20-year serial. The first seven bonds would be for $500 each with the last 13 amounting to $1,000 each. The total interest and principal paid each year is as follows: 1st, $1325; 2nd, $1300; 3rd, $1275; 4th, $1250; 5th, $1200; 6th, $1175; 7th, $1150; 8th, $1125; 9th, $1100; 10th, $1075; 11th, $1050; 12th, $1025; 13th, $1000; 14th, $975; 15th, $950; 16th, $925; 17th, $900; 18th, $875; 19th, $850; 20th, $825.

The total bonds repaid would be $16,500, total interest $9,800, total time 20 years, and total amount paid by the City of Sudan to bond holders $26,300.

Mayor W. W. Carpenter said he had written the state headquarters of PWA guaranteeing that the money would be available thirty days after the approval of the project. He added, however, that no bonds would be issued until the federal government had made the money available.

The farm of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clayton of Springlake scored high in the County Centennial Home Improvement Contests sponsored by the Dallas News and Semi-Weekly Farm News.

Some of the improvements they have made since entering the contest last August are improvement in appearance by painting house and garage, putting up yard fence and painting it, sodding yard, both front and back, building drive and planting trees, iris and grass in circle surrounded by drive, moving six trees and an evergreen in more suitable locations and putting out nine foundations and corner plantings.

They improved the inside of the house by turning an unused room into a nursery for the children, adding drapes for living room and dining room, and rug for dining room, adding shelves and towel rack in kitchen.

The improvement on the farm consisted of planting an orchard of 5 peach trees, 2 pear trees, 8 cherry trees, 6 plum trees, 15 grape vines, and 30 blackberry vines. All these are living except a few of the berry vines.

The lots were enlarged and rearranged and are screened from the road by the orchard. They put in a sanitary toilet, Mr. Clayton contour the farm except a few acres that had only one inch fall, and added six colts from registered stock.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton do not depend on cotton or wheat entirely, but raise their own food and feed. Half acre of this farm is planted to a garden.

WHERE WILL WE BE?

Where will Littlefield be commercially, economically and socially three, five or 10 years from this time?

We can be just about where we are today; we can be in a worse position than at the present time or we can have made the kind of progress that warrants the citizenship in proudly stating:

"We are citizens of Littlefield; come out and see us some time; you'll like our city."

What Littlefield needs more today than anything under the shining sun is a three-year, five-year, or 10-year program of progress. We should establish objectives for three months hence, six months hence, nine months hence, and so on down through the periods of time.

We believe that the city commissioners have, to some extent, planned for the future.

Our suggestion is that the city commissioners, Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations unite in a three-year, five-year, or 10-year program. Through such a united effort everything is possible. Without such an organization, especially in a city the size of Littlefield, there is virtually no rudder to guide the Good Ship Progress.

We need a municipal auditorium, we need a municipal swimming pool, we need more paved streets, we need more sidewalks, we need a definite program of encouraging folks to consider Littlefield their TRADING CENTER, and ABOVE ALL WE NEED A MORE UNITED CITIZENSHIP FOR THE GOOD OF ALL.

WHY ACCOMPLISH SO LITTLE WHEN IT IS POSSIBLE TO ACHIEVE SO MUCH?

WE BELIEVE THAT A FORWARD LITTLEFIELD ASSOCIATION SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED AND THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THAT ORGANIZATION PLEDGED TO CARRY THROUGH, NO MATTER WHAT THE OBSTACLES MIGHT BE, WHATEVER IS UNDERTAKEN.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

As Adopted at the Recent Democratic Convention in Philadelphia.

Presented herewith is the Democratic platform, as approved at the Philadelphia convention, and on which President Roosevelt will seek re-election:

Preamble:
The test of a representative government is its ability to promote the safety and happiness of the people. Twelve years of Republican leadership left our nation sorely stricken. Three years of Democratic leadership have put it back on the road to restored health. These obligations, neglected through twelve years of the old leadership, have once more been recognized by American government. Under the new leadership they will never be neglected.

Protection Of The Family And The Home

- 1 WE have begun and shall continue the successful drive to ride our land of kidnapers and bandits.
- 2 WE have safeguarded the thrift of our citizens by restraining those who would gamble with other people's savings.
- 3 WE have built foundations for the security of those who are faced with the hazards of unemployment and old age, for the orphaned, the crippled and the blind.
- 4 WE will act to secure to the consumer fair value, honest sales and a decreased spread between the price he pays and the price the producer receives.

"5 WE will continue to promote plans for rural electrification and for cheap power by means of the yardstick method.

"6 WE maintain that our people are entitled to decent, adequate housing at a price which they can afford.

"7 WE shall continue just treatment to our war veterans and their dependents."

Establishment Of Opportunity Democracy

AGRICULTURE: A claim to have "taken the farmers off the road to ruin," a pledge to "use all available means to raise farm income toward its pre-war purchasing power "through the soil conservation and domestic allotment program with payments to farmers co-operation of the government in refinancing farm indebtedness, judicious commodity loans on seasonal surpluses, production of all the market will absorb, but adjustment of production to balance it with demand, retirement of submarginal land and encouragement of farm cooperatives.

LABOR: A statement that the New Deal has "given the army of America's industrial workers something more substantial than the Republicans' full dinner pail full of promises." A pledge to continue protection for the worker both as wage earner and consumer.

BUSINESS: A claim to "have taken the American business man out of the red," and a promise to keep him on "the road to freedom and prosperity."

YOUTH: A statement that the New Deal had "opened the door to opportunity" for youth.

MONOPOLY: A pledge to "vigorously and fearlessly" enforce existing criminal and civil provisions of the anti-trust laws and restore the law where it has been weakened by new devices.

Aid To Those In Disaster

FLOOD relief: A pledge to continue help for those stricken by droughts and floods.

UNEMPLOYMENT: An assertion that unemployment is a national problem that should be met by work at prevailing wages in cooperation with state and local government on useful projects.

THE constitution: A promise of "both state and Federal treatment" within the constitution for problems that cannot be handled solely by the states, such as droughts, dust storms, floods, minimum wages, maximum hours, child labor and working conditions in industry, monopolistic and unfair business practices.

An additional statement that "if these problems cannot be effectively solved by legislation within the constitution, we shall seek such clarifying amendment" to the constitution as will provide states and the federal government adequate authority.

CIVIL service: Immediate extension of the merit system to all "non-policy making positions in the federal service."

CIVIL liberties: Protection of freedom of speech, press, radio, religion and assembly.

GOVERNMENT finance: A claim to have "raised the public credit to a position of unsurpassed security. Approval of "the objective of a permanently sound currency so stabilized as to prevent the former wide fluctuations in value." Assertion that "we have the soundest currency in the world" today. A statement that "we are determined to reduce the expense of government."

FOREIGN policy: A pledge to continue the "policy of the good neighbor," with expressions against war and for peaceful settlement of disputes without mention of the world court or the league of nations. Pledges for true neutrality, efforts to "take the profits out of war," and to guard against being drawn into war. A promise to seek lowering of tariff barriers through mutual agreements but to protect farmers and manufacturers against unfair competition from abroad.

spread, just say so, I ain't anchored to this outfit."
 "Wade," said Delevan steadily. "I think that's a damn good idea. D'yuh want yore time tonight or in the mornin'?"
 "Seem' yuh put it thataway, I'll take it tonight, I'll come for it right after supper."
 "I'll be waitin'," rumbled Delevan.

An hour later Montana Wade, followed by two other punchers, came clanking onto the veranda. Delevan was seated there, a check book across his knees.

"Canow an' Durbin ars quittin' with me," announced Wade harshly. "Seem' they were wita me on the drive they figger yore talk again me hits them too."
 "Suits me," rumbled Delevan. "The Box D won't miss any of yuh. I hired two good men today."

Delevan scrawled three checks and handed them to the scowling punchers, who left immediately and shortly after rode away on the Carillion trail. Delevan watched them out of sight, his brow furrowed, his eyes thoughtful.

"Things kinda dovetail," he muttered. "Bet I'm figgerin' right. Hi—Chang!" he bellowed. "Come here." There was a patter of feet from within the ranchhouse and a wrinkled, aged little Chinaman emerged.

"Drift down to the bunkhouse an' tell Whipple I want to see him."
 The Chinaman shuffled off, his slippers slapping at his heels. Shortly after Tex Whipple climbed the slope and took a chair beside Delevan.

"Whipple," said Delevan, "Yuh look like a pretty wise ole fox to me. I got somethin' I want yuh to do. I lost damn near a hundred haid of that herd that came in across the desert today. I got my own suspicions as to what happened. But I ain't sayin' a word yet. I want yuh an' that kid partner of yores to fork a pair of broncs an' amble out to Skeleton Springs. I want yuh to read signs on what happened there. If I tell yuh what I think happened it might influence yore line o' reasonin', so I won't say a word. Yuh better leave right away because come mornin' the wind'll fill in the tracks most likely an' cover everthin' up. Skeleton Springs lies about sixteen miles due west. Keep that north point o' the Vermillion Cliffs dead between yore broncs' ears an' yuh can't miss it."

Tex nodded, rolling a cigarette. "Don't get anxious boss, if'n we don't show up for a couple, three days. If we hit somethin' phoney we'll foller it through 'til we get the whole layout figgered. Mebbe yore Chink could get a leetle grub together for us while we're throwin' our hulls on the broncs."
 "Shore. I'll get him busy."

It lacked an hour of midnight when Tex and Johnny rode up to Skeleton Springs. For the last five or six miles a pale moon had eased their trail somewhat. A mammoth hush lay over the Kanab Desert, a stillness so potent and impressive that Johnny was moved to remark about it. He and Tex had dismounted and were squatting on their heels smoking, watching their broncs sip gingerly at the brackish pools which seeped from beneath a tongue of ragged sandstone.

"Gosh, it's owly out here," he mumbled, looking about at the ghostly outlines of cactus and thorn brush. "Good night for hoot-nannies an' speerits to be affittin'."
 "Reckon from what ole San Juan told me they's wuss things than that holdin' out in these parts," answered Tex.

"Yeah? Suppose yuh open up an' tell me what the idee of this lil' jaunt is all about. I likes to know what I'm ridin' into."
 Tex related Delevan's instructions and added a bit of his own deductions.

"Looks to me like Delevan ain't nowhere near satisfied with the yarn Wade told him about how they last those cattle. He done canned Wade over it. He's figgerin' we'll find somethin' kinda phoney if we look out right smart."

When the horses had finished drinking they unsaddled and staked the animals out. Then they lay down on the warm sands and dozed through the slow hours to the first break of dawn. A meager breakfast was cooked over the acrid flames of a handful of greasewood twigs, then the saddles were slung and the horses were given a final drink.

LEAGUE OFFICIALS PLAN TO SEND TWO TEAMS TO DISTRICT SOFTBALL MEET

Four Managers Named To Take Control Of Both Clubs

With officials voting to send two teams to the district softball tournament early in August, first steps were taken last night by league moguls when initial plans were formulated.

League officials named Bill Berry, Pud Hanks, E. C. Cundiff, and E. O. McIver as general managers of the all-star aggregations. Plans were also made to secure games with out-of-town teams at least twice a week, preferably on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Plans for sending the Littlefield representation to the district meet, to be held either at Amarillo or Big Spring, will be left up to the support of the local citizens, league officials said.

The two all-star teams, to be selected by the all-star managerial staff today, will play an exhibition game tonight after the scheduled Watson Producers and Littlefield P&E team.

We Think—

throughout the business district.

"Installation of the equipment would be on specially constructed sidewalk towers or on existing post standards at street intersections.

"In time you'll do it, Richardson told the group while offering the idea in a suggestive spirit for further consideration. At first estimating benefits at several times the cost, he later gave a figure of $100,000 or more.

"He based workability of the proposal on scientific facts which show that cold air displaces warm air in lower levels. The conditioned air would be deflected downward by the equipment, forcing upward air heated by the sun and superheated by sidewalk materials.

"A city commissioner for two years and three months, Richardson has several inventions and patents credited to him."

Mr. Commissioner, we are for you, but why stop with Lubbock; you can make billions reconditioning air from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Winnipeg, Canada, south to miles and miles and miles beyond the Panama Canal.

If we knew how to turn summer into balmy spring we wouldn't publish a newspaper for 30 seconds.

We have been wondering what Uncle Ezra of the Morton Reporter will say about Commissioner Richardson's air-conditioning idea. He'll probably tell his readers that there isn't any use of Richardson coming down to Morton with his fancy ideas, and go on to say that it is 90 degrees cooler around the court house square than any place in the universe, taking particular care to point out that "Littlefield's one main street and two alleys" are hotter than the warmest day in Hades.

THE OLTON "RO-DA-O" (That's the Hollywood pronunciation for the good old word rodeo.)

Well, anyhow, they are going to have a big rodeo at the county seat on August 6, 7 and 8 and we think that the people of Littlefield and all parts of the county should attend the event in large numbers.

That annual rodeo is one of Olton's many contributions to making Lamb county a better county. Good, clean sport helps build cities and counties, and too much attention cannot be given to the conducting of various sports events. ATTEND THE OLTON RODEO; YOU'LL ENJOY EVERY MINUTE OF THE TIME YOU SPEND THERE.

And, while we are on the subject of sports, let us point out that Amherst has a baseball team that offers real competition.

Other sections of Lamb county also make their contributions to sport.

AND, IN CONCLUSION, THE FAME OF THE LITTLEFIELD SOFTBALL TEAMS IS KNOWN FAR AND WIDE.

COUNTRY RED—

We came to the conclusion the other day that we had a lot to learn. Strange, isn't it, that we should come to such an understanding with ourselves after living in all parts of the country for 40 years and then some. In fact, we were 44 years young on June 5 and nobody even offered to buy us a —COUNTRY RED.

Here's how we learned about COUNTRY RED. We went into Lon's Cafe recently to buy a couple of candidates a cup of coffee, a nickel cigar, in fact whatever pleased them, but the cost was not to exceed a nickel. One elected to take a nickel cigar and the other told Lon that he figured a COUNTRY RED would hit the spot.

We looked at Lon with sort of a silly grin on our map, and Lon laughed.

"Morley, what's wrong with you; have you never heard of COUNTRY RED?"

"He went back to the ice box and brought out a bottle of strawberry 'soday.'"
