FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING OF SOUTH PLAINS MUSIC ASSOCIATION HELD IN LITTLEFIELD LAST FRIDAY & SATURDAY

Meal Given by Professor Waghorn and Assistants Was Largely Attended and Conceded to Be One of the Finest Musical Programs Ever Rendered Here.

The fourth annual meeting of the South Plains Music Teachers' Association, held here Friday and Saturday at the Presbyterian church, marks an important milestone in musical interest and development in this section, and again Littlefield was given an opportunity to show her hospitality in the usual commendable manner.

Arthur P. Duggan, hostess for the occasion, is due the highest commendation for her untiring effort to bring about the success that it was her generous spirit was evident in the floral decoration of the hall which would have been a credit to any edifice of any city many times the size of Littlefield. Huge bouquets of giant chrysanthemums, in shades of colors amid greenery, were placed in stately whicker baskets and on her selection, together with autumn flowers and potted plants, assembled by the decoration committee portrayed pride in selected arrangement.

Friday afternoon the representatives from various South Plains towns gathered and registered at 2 o'clock for the opening of the meeting. Mrs. G. B. Ratliff, of Lubbock, was the featured speaker of the occasion, who presided over the Spring Festival, bringing in the fundamental points, touching on its benefit and gain.

Miss Jeanette Ramsey, of Slaton, presided over program, who discussed principles by which ambition is awakened in pupils.

W. H. Dallas, of Brownfield, discussed the high points on obtaining cooperation of parents.

Following the program for the afternoon, Miss Grace Bailey, of Slaton, discussed the program for the afternoon, following which the business meeting was held. Reports were made by the various committees and the following officers were elected: Miss Jeanette Ramsey, of Slaton, president, succeeding Miss Mary Dunn, of Lubbock, who served during the past year; Grace Bailey, of Slaton, vice president; Mrs. S. R. McKinnon, of Lubbock, second vice president, and Louise Ocker, of Lubbock, third vice president; Miss Frances Guffin, of Slaton, treasurer, and Mrs. S. W. Dallas, of Slaton, secretary.

Friday morning the meeting was held at 9 o'clock which was opened with a business session followed by a luncheon given by Miss Louise Ocker, of Lubbock, who used as her subject, "Public School Music."

Miss Pauline Brigham, head of the department of the West Texas State Teachers' College at Canyon, presided over the assembly on piano playing, bringing out some very interesting and instructive points.

At the noon hour the ladies of Littlefield were hostesses at a well appointed luncheon served in the basement of the church. The center piece of the table was an improvised cupid and an artistic arrangement of flowers with a silver pheasant on either side. Mrs. Jimmie Brittan, teacher of economics in the local high school, and four of her pupils had charge of the covers arrangement, and a very delectable luncheon was served. Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert presided as toast mistress, and the principal speakers were W. R. Clark, head of the music department, West Texas State Teachers' College, Canyon; W. V. Waghorn, head of the music department, Texas Technological College, Lubbock; Miss Louise Ocker and Miss Margaret Huff, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. C. A. Dugger, of Littlefield. Miss Mary Dunn, of Lubbock, made a brief talk and short talks were made by several others.

Following the luncheon the group assembled in the auditorium of the church and an address was made by W. R. Clark on "Music Appreciation," which was a high point of the meeting.

Miss Dorothy Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Duncan, of Lubbock, stood a first honor examination under Miss Pauline Brigham, of Canyon, with Mrs. S. R. McKinnon, of Levelland. Passing this test entitles one to a certificate from the state.

The outstanding feature of the entire affair was that of the musical program rendered Friday evening at the church by W. V. Waghorn and other members of the association. The opening number was a welcome address made by Jess Mitchell, which appears elsewhere in this paper by special request by members of the association. This was responded to by Miss Margaret Huff, of Lubbock, in behalf of the visitors, who graciously thanked the people of Littlefield for their hospitality and highly commended the citizenship for the big way in which things are done here.

W. V. Waghorn's pipe organ rendition of "Overture to the Occasional Oratorio—Handel Andante—Allegro (Fugue), Adagio, March," proceeded by a few remarks by him concerning the date of its composition and other details.

THE METHODISTS NAME OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Rev. D. B. Doake, presiding elder of the Lubbock district, filled his appointment at the local Methodist church Sunday morning where he delivered a very forceful and impressive message to the congregation.

He was also in charge of the quarterly conference held at the church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, wherein important matters of the church were discussed and business for the year was closed.

B. L. Harrison was elected as Sunday School superintendent to succeed B. L. Cogdill, who has very efficiently served in this capacity for the past year. J. T. Elms was elected district steward and a new board of stewards was elected, namely: Mesdames W. W. Gillette, W. H. Gardner; Messrs. A. G. Hemphill, J. T. Elms, Roy G. Barnard, E. G. Courtney and C. C. Burns.

Friday night was a scene of much enjoyment, when Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lucas entertained the Yucca Club at their home.

Forty-two was played until a late hour after which refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Austin, Mr. Jno. W. Blalock, Claude Boone, Misses Marguerite Pate and Lucille Lucas.

The club will meet Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Barnard.

Ward has been received here that Mrs. A. H. McGavock, formerly of Littlefield, but who now resides in Plainview, has been quite ill with ptomaine poison, but is much improved. She recently suffered the loss of their Ford roadster, which was stolen.

John Forter says that many college students go thru school on their dad's account.

$1,250,000 for Good Roads in 1927

Preliminary plans are completed and officers of The American Road Builders Association are driving forward to the greatest good road party ever held, scheduled for Chicago—Jan. 10th-15th, 1927. President Coolidge is to open the congress—and every state governor in the United States will be there in person or represented. The 1927 highway program calls for construction of 55,000 miles of new roadway to cost $1,250,000,000. Photo shows officers of the A. R. B. A., which met in Chicago last week for the first meeting. EIGHT YEARS AGO.

An Editorial

Eight years ago a mad world celebrated its temporary return to reason in a mad manner. November 11, 1918, will be hard to forget for anyone who spent either in a front trench grown all of a sudden oppressively quiet or on Main Street in an American town grown all of a sudden oppressively noisy.

But the lessons November 11, 1918, should have taught seem easy enough to forget. Looked at impassionately, the world seems but little nearer a lasting peace now it was then. Universal brotherhood is yet only a dream.

When the Armistice was signed to end the greatest war the world had ever known, all nations looked to the United States with what amounted almost to reverence. Today this attitude is changed. Europe has gone so far as to nickname Uncle Sam the "Shylock" of nations. Our attitude toward European nations has also undergone a change.

Throughout the world, Armistice Day will be observed for those who gave their lives in the World War. These demonstrations and these tributes are fitting. But they are only at public demonstrations where tributes will be paid to a slight return for the sacrifice these men made.

A far more fitting tribute would be that advocated by a wise leader in another great war—our dedication to the task remaining before us. On this November 11, we should renew our obligation to the cause for which they died—the cause of a universal and lasting peace.

HEINEN BRICK IS BEING FINISHED FOR OCCUPANCY

The H. W. Heinen building, 40x90, located in the northeast part of town, is practically completed. This structure is of brick and one of the most substantial buildings in Littlefield.

The basement is the size of the main building and has a concrete floor. It is eight feet deep, five of which are of concrete forming the foundation while the remaining three feet are built of the same brick as was used in constructing the building. A four foot fire wall extends above the roof, in the center of which is a skylight that furnishes adequate light.

In case that Mr. Heinen does not lease the building in the near future he will move his feed and grain business into it.

The approximate cost of the building is $9,000.

Mrs. G. M. Shaw went to Lubbock Monday to be with Mrs. Medora Duncan, who is to undergo an operation in a hospital there. The citizens of Littlefield will recall the untiring effort, as a nurse, of Mrs. Duncan, during the "flu" epidemic here several years ago.

Texas stands away up in the list of oil producing states where crude oil is processed into the finished product.

BRUCE UPHOLDS COACH TUCKER IN LUBBOCK GAME

Notwithstanding the family is deeply aggrieved over the unfortunate incident occurring at Lubbock last Saturday wherein their son Ralph was seriously injured when set upon by a Lubbock citizen, T. L. Bruce, father of the boy, declares that they have no word of censure for any of the local officials connected with the game.

His statement given to the Leader is: "Due to the fact that there has been a certain amount of criticism directed toward our high school coach, Mr. J. R. Tucker, with reference to the unfortunate occurrence following the football game at Lubbock last Saturday, I wish to make the following statement:

"Mr. Tucker kept his head and acted the part of a real gentleman when other people lost their sense of reason and allowed momentary passion to control their actions. Mr. Tucker did his best to prevent the encounter, but no man can control an angry mob of thirty men with only two boys to help him.

"Let us show our appreciation of our coach and team, and censure only the man who had no better spirit of sportsmanship than to demand a physical encounter with a boy when he knew there was not sufficient help for him at hand.—T. L. BRUCE."

PENNY LOSSES RACE IN COCHRAN COUNTY.

P. B. Penney, democratic nominee for sheriff of Cochran county, was defeated by his opponent, J. C. Montgomery, who ran on the independent ticket at the election Tuesday. The vote in Cochran county was very light, but Penny was defeated by 12 votes.

It is rather uncommon for a democratic nominee in this state to be defeated by an independent, and as a rule nomination in the primary spells election. In this particular instance, however, the campaign has been hotly contested, and many voters predicted that the independent candidate would be successful.

CROCKETT WANTS WESTERN OUTLET FOR NEW PLANT

Mr. Crockett is an inventor and manufacturer of considerable note, and has a large factory at Kansas City, Mo., for the output of his products, one of which is an automatic water life system, which consists of valveless pump and towerless pressure tank, used both as private and municipal plants.

Mr. Crockett stated to a Leader representative that his system was being used largely in school systems and various kinds of state and municipal institutions, and a few had already been installed in towns where they were found to be as serviceable as the old-fashioned tower system, and much cheaper of installation and operation.

According to this system its operation is entirely automatic, the pressure always remaining the same, and the tank containing the same amount of water, while the moving parts of the pump are without pistons and valve leathers, making for more regular efficiency and long life.

Mr. Crockett is looking for some place in West Texas where he may establish a western depot of his products, and was very favorably impressed with Littlefield.

SHERIFF GETS A BUNCH OF PLAYERS NEAR OF AMHERST

Sheriff Len Irvin, assisted by Deputy Lawrence Walraven, last Sunday night appraised and arrested a bunch of seven men "playing poker" in a draw north of Amherst.

The officers, after crawling, snake style, through the mesquite, cat-claw and other underbrush, for about 300 yards, were able to corral the entire bunch. Some of them paid their fines, while others decided to board them out with the county hotel at Olton, according to Irvin.

One of the accused, declaring that he voted for Irvin during the last primary, seemed to think that he should be granted some extra clemency because of his good will and the direction in which he cast his ballot, but the sheriff failed to see it that way.

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB.

The Woman's Study Club met in regular session November 3rd at the home of Mrs. A. C. Chesher, with 20 members present.

The library committee reported that the library has been moved into the basement of the Presbyterian church and in a short time will be in shape to lend.

Mrs. T. Y. Casey was elected a new member of the executive committee.

Mrs. W. D. T. Story led an interesting lesson on the Mediterranean. Those on the program were Mesdames W. B. Phipps, H. W. Wiseman, H. C. Scoggins, E. S. Rowe and Miss Vivian Courtney.

The club adjourned to meet Wednesday, November 17th, at the home of Mrs. B. I. Cogdill.

6,093,476 TONS GRAVEL IS MINED IN THE STATE, 1925

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 17.—A total of 6,093,476 tons of gravel and sand was mined in Texas during the year 1925, according to figures compiled by Dr. E. H. Sellards, of the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas with the aid of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The value of this product amounted to $3,478,517.

The sands used in Texas include glass sand, molding sand, and sand for concrete and mortar, as well as for other miscellaneous purposes, and are used for concrete and mortar, road paving and railroad ballast. During the year a mining enterprise has been inaugurated, utilizing the green sand in Bexar county, near San Antonio. These green sands have been described by Dr. Sellards in a bulletin issued by the University. The principal mineral in green sand is glauconite, which is a silicate of iron and potassium, containing also a small amount of phosphorus. Dr. Sellards explained. The potassium and phosphorus when in soluble form are fertilizer constituents. Water softening and soil neutralizing properties are also claimed by the operators for the Bexar County green sand.

Recently big gravel beds have been discovered in the vicinity of Littlefield, it having not been previously known that much desirable gravel existed at all on the South Plains of the State. This rock and gravel has been carefully analyzed by the chemists at State University and pronounced of very high quality. One crusher is now in operation in the vicinity of Littlefield, and it is reported that a larger one will be in action by next spring, possibly a spur of the Santa Fe railroad being run out to the beds.

CACTUS CLUB MEETS.

Mesdames W. H. Gardner and S. J. Farquhar were joint hostesses Friday afternoon to a number of members of the Cactus Club and additional guests, at the home of the former.

The receiving rooms were made doubly attractive with white and yellow chrysanthemums, where tables were arranged for "42," the club game.

Trays of delicious divinity candy were on the tables throughout the party and at the conclusion of the games a plate consisting of salad, sandwiches and coffee, was passed to the following: Mesdames Charles Harrison, A. G. Hemphill, D. C. Houk, M. M. Brittan, E. G. Courtney, C. C. Clements, B. L. Cogdill, E. S. Rowe, J. E. Barnes, J. R. Cook, Bessie Baze, W. W. Gillette, J. W. Porcher, W. H. Rutledge, John P. Butler, Arbie Joplin and the hostesses.

NAZARENE MEETING BEGUN.

A Nazarene meeting begun Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church which is being conducted by Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Cagle, of Buffalo Gap. The meeting will continue indefinitely.

Texas is now the leading oil state, producing 601,451 barrels a day to 600,000 for California and 467,110 for Oklahoma in September.

Awarded Medal

At Searles Lake, Calif., is a plant that produces 20% of this country's potash needs. Agriculture which is so dependent upon potash as a fertilizer can thank Dr. John E. Perkins for his development of the industry. The American Chemical Society awarded the Perkins Medal for 1927 to Dr. Perkins for his chemical achievements.

RESEMBLANCES

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

ALL suddenly I sometimes come Upon a face that seems like some I used to know—within the press Of crowds, before I think, or guess, A face appears, and disappears, And, for an instant, all the years Are all forgotten: "There is Jim!" Or "There is Gertrude!" Then, from dim Old days, old grief reminds me, "No; I'm sorry, but it is not so. Your friends are gone beyond recall— These are resemblances, is all."

But, you who look so much like Jim, Do you, in truth, resemble him? And you who look so much like her— Why, even choose the self-same fur To wear, and like the self-same things—

When such a moment memory brings, I wonder if you walk the way With her glad laughter every day, And work so well, and play so well? Ah, yes, if truth the truth could tell, I wonder are you worthy of The faces that we used to love?

Yes, when the motley crowd passes on, And when your faces, too, are gone, I pray that you, who wear her look, Take up each task as once she took Her own, as sweetly, patiently, And you, in whom old Jim I see, I hope a bit like Jim you live; And smile, and toll, and give, and give, And sometimes, too, I stand apart And ask myself, ask my own heart, "Are you as kind, as clean, as true, As some one else that some one knew?"

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At Twenty-one: Rupert Hughes Took a Flyer into Comic Opera.

AT THE age of twenty-one I made a libretto for a comic opera which a canny manager refused to produce unless the composer and I raised $5,000. I telegraphed my father and he put up my share by wire. The opera lasted one night.

"Next I telegraphed him that I had a chance to buy into a very promising magazine for $500. I got in—and it cost him $2,000 to get me out when it died under my skillful editorship.

"Before this, I had expected for a time to be a lawyer, but decided finally that I must be a professor of English literature. Then I gave up the idea of teaching English and decided to butcher it. I left Yale, and in a flare of romance told my father that I wanted to marry a girl, I had met a few months before. He telegraphed me $500 and his blessing; and he made us an allowance for years.—Rupert Hughes."

TODAY: Rupert Hughes is a celebrated novelist and motion-picture producer. But this does not represent his early ambitions. When he took that flyer into comic opera he struck his stride for the time being. For many years after Hughes began his career, he was devoted to music. Himself a good pianist, he compiled an encyclopedia of music which is still in use and wrote many other works, even original musical compositions. He also edited a volume of pianoforte for music publishers.

It is a little known fact that Hughes' brother is a well-known vocal teacher in New York city, and his sister, before her death, achieved a notable success in Europe as a singer.

On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manager, he is, without doubt, the best authority on the subject. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, and only inclose two-cent stamp reply.

The full meaning of the phrase "under your own roof" should be understood by the fortunate family which builds a home like that illustrated, for the predominant roof of a home seems to hover over it protectingly, bringing to it a unity which is responsible for much of the charm of its exterior. This unity is still further carried out in the use of materials for both side walls and roof, and monotony is avoided by the varied effect of the roof shingles.

The simple but solid chimney at the end of the living room wing is kept in keeping with the simplicity of the whole exterior and the small windows add a touch that goes toward avoiding any suggestion of stiffness. Both the side entrance, the living room, and the front entrance into the reception hall are emphasized by terraced porches of concrete with brick trim.

The interior offers seven commodious rooms and three baths. Of these the living room with its high arched ceiling and ample proportions is the dominating feature. The front window at the front is designed to conform to the arch of the ceiling and the lighting is of the indirect type through lights concealed in a moulding near the ceiling.

There is the big dining room with a flood of light from the French windows at both front and side. From it the kitchen is reached through a separate pantryway. The kitchen, which is small, is designed to serve as a complete and convenient workroom. It is provided with a large storage space in which the refrigerator is placed with provision for icing from the rear porch.

Adjoining the kitchen there is a bathroom and first-floor bath, opening into a hallway which connects with the reception hall. Close by the kitchen is a clothes chute which also opens into the second floor.

There are two approaches to the stairs: one from the reception hall and one from the rear hall, the two leading to an intermediate landing, which is the basement stairs.

The area of the second floor is larger than that of the first because of the high ceiling of the living room. There is provided one very large, unobstructed bedroom and two smaller ones. This large bedroom extends across the whole width of the house, except the living-room porch.

tion, and is provided with a private bath and a large closet. There is a hall closet for the service of the entire second floor and linen closets in each of the second-floor bedrooms.

The second bathroom is placed between the two smaller bedrooms connecting with both. Each of the bedrooms has a large closet which adds greatly to its convenience and the amount of accommodation which it offers. In fact, the careful planning of these smaller rooms has greatly heightened their convenience.

Can Paint Concrete With Ordinary Paint

Contrary to the belief of the uninitiated, concrete offers no special painting difficulties and requires no special paint. Pure white lead and oil will do the job effectively and well.

Preferably, boiled oil should be used in the primer, since it forms a better foundation for later coats. Raw oil with drier may be used in these, if the surface be a floor, the finishing coat should contain some good floor varnish. Look well to the quality of this varnish, as successful results greatly depend upon it. It is also important to see that each coat is well spread and allowed to become hard before the next is applied.

No paint can safely be put on untreated new concrete for at least three months. This is the minimum time needed for drying and also for the free alkali to become neutralized. Aging is by far the best remedy for free alkali, but a 20 per cent solution of zinc sulphate in water may be resorted to for hastening the neutralizing of the alkali where time is a factor. The solution should be washed on the surface and allowed to dry thoroughly.

If these few precautions are observed, white lead and linseed oil will give its usual good results.

Cook in Comfort

To the owner of a satisfactory table stove the task of preparing three meals a day need never be a burden, even in the hottest weather. If the porch or the sunroom is the most comfortable place, take your stove there and have a delightful meal, freshly cooked and appetizing with the added attraction of picnic surroundings.

Gable Roof

The gable roof is the plain pointed roof which is confined almost entirely to dwellings. Its effect depends upon the pitch of the roof, meaning its inclination or degree of steepness, and upon the skill with which dormer windows and chimneys are introduced to break its monotony.

LFD. CITIZENS ANGERED OVER LUBBOCK GAME

That Littlefield business men are highly indignant over the treatment accorded the Littlefield high school football squad in the game played at Lubbock last Saturday is clearly evident from the curt remarks and extended statements made at the noon-day luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce directors held Tuesday noon. While the directors recognized that redress of such unsportsmanlike attitude on the part of some of the Lubbock people and the settlement for mistreating some of the Littlefield boys is a matter to be handled by the school authorities, yet they went on record in a resolution sent to the local faculty declaring the citizens of Littlefield were squarely back of the local school authorities with both their money and moral support in the settlement of this unfortunate incident. It was generally conceded by those present at the meeting that Lubbock as a whole did not approve of such actions as is alleged were perpetrated by some of their people on the event of Saturday's game, while others expressed the belief that when the matter is given proper attention by the right authorities it will be ratified as much as possible.

Secretary Gatlin reported that arrangements had been made for a banquet to be given by members of the Chamber of Commerce and other Littlefield citizens to the local football squad and officials at the high school building Friday night, Nov. 12th. Every citizen attending is asked to sponsor another plate for one of the guests. The service will be given by Mrs. M. M. Brittain and her class in economics. The feed will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and price per plate is 75 cents.

The matter of extending invitation to the Extension Department of the International Harvester Co., to bring their corps of lecturers here some time during the winter was discussed and unanimously accepted, the Secretary being instructed to enter into correspondence relative to a suitable date. It was suggested that a poultry show might be held at the same time, the day probably being one of Littlefield's regular Trades Days.

DUGGAN IS BACK FROM NAMING THE TEXAS STEAMSHIP

Arthur P. Duggan, president, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, returned Tuesday night from Houston where he attended the christening of "Miss West Texas," a new steamship recently put into commission by the Southern Steamship Co. It was an event of state-wide significance with large representations attending from many cities throughout the western portion of the state.

Roger Seaman, manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies. The visitors were welcomed by City Commissioner H. A. Halverson, of Houston, and the response and christening address made by Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield. A bottle of mineral water from Mineral Wells was broken over the bow of the ship by Miss Frances Long, of Abilene.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Stamford Fire Department band, which is the official band of West Texas Chamber of Commerce this year. Other speakers were R. M. Farrar, president, Houston Chamber of Commerce; R. S. Sterling, port commissioner; Col. Thos. Ball, commissioner, and Senator Eugene Miller, of Weatherford. Following the ceremony the christening party were guests of the steamship company at a sea food dinner.

Returning home Mr. Duggan was one of the honored guests at the annual pecan celebration held at San Saba last Monday, delivering his address on diversification during the afternoon, and responding to a toast that night at the banquet.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

IMPORTANT MINERALS.

The blood is enriched by certain minerals in our food, beyond question. I mention Lime, (Calcium) Potassium, Iron and Iodine as among those of first importance.

These minerals abound in earth, and are taken up by plants which grow everywhere in the soil. Fool-animals get the minerals by eating the plants, and store them in the red muscles, such as our beef-steaks, hams and mutton-chops. Our animal and plant foods are richer in mineral content when they are grown on the lower level of soil. The hills lose continually their minerals by rainfall and drainage, so that hill-grown animals and plants are poorer in mineral values.

The chief value of the minerals in the growth of bone in children, particularly the teeth. The milk of a cow grazing in the hills is much poorer food for the calf than from a cow that fattens on valley food. Corn, wheat, garden-vegetables are far more nutritious if grown in bottom lands. The careless observer even, may have noticed that cattle in mountain sections of the country carry less fat than animals of the lower plains. Vegetation is more dwarfed on the sunbaked, arid hill-sides. The reason is, that the mineral have been washed away from the elevations.

And, haven't you noticed the feeble adult human being in high altitudes is, generally, weak, thin, listless, nervous, as well as "nervous" in temperament? Minerals are feeders for nerves as well as for muscles. The logical conclusion therefore is, if you are too fat, seek moderately high altitudes; if too lean, try to keep your cereals, vegetables and meat from the rich, alluvial valleys of the lower levels.

south Main street, uprooting the concrete block. The driver escaped serious injury, but Merrill was badly cut about the neck and face. He was rushed to the Amherst drug store where Dr. Milligan dressed his wounds. His condition is serious, but not deemed dangerous.

The boys said that their lights went out on the car just as they left the depot and because of the darkness they were on the wrong side of the street and consequently did not see the light post in time to avoid hitting it. The street light was not burning at the time.—Amherst Argue.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

Eugene T. Giering, editor of the Wilkes Barre (Penn.) Record, says:

THAT there are dozens of parasites in every community to every willing worker for the betterment of the community. The parasite is the person who joins the Chamber of Commerce or some other civic organization because he believes it to be an important instrumentality for the common good, but who is too lazy or too indifferent to bear his share of the responsibility.

Business men and professional men realize that as a city grows in population business and professional practice increase. They know that in the keen competition of today, active work must be done to forge ahead, yet the general experience is that in the organizations that must be depended upon to heighten a community's reputation only comparatively few willing workers can be found. The rest stop at paying the annual dues and they do that much grudgingly.

This type of laggard is on a par with the civic slacker who will not take the trouble to walk around the corner, yet who is vehement in denunciation of government when it misfired incompetently or cowardly.

If the intelligent, capable people a community took the interest and care they should take, there is nothing that could not be attained. The massbacks and the pullback an infliction perhaps as incurable as cancer. The activity of the workers stands out strikingly by contrast. All honor to them.

from our midst singing the praises of our hospitality.

Someone has said, "Music is the alchemist that transmutes baser moments into golden hours," and it is the sincere wish of the people of this little city that every hour you spend in our midst may be golden tipped with the richness of melody, muse and masterpiece, such as inspired the souls of the ancient masters.

I believe that each of you from your own experience will agree with me that music is a conjurer that mysteriously brings from sorrow's depths buried hopes whose chords vibrate once more with resurrected joy; that it is a physician that prescribes healing thoughts for those who bravely bear unworded pain, and should there be any of you who have recently been in the shadows I trust on this occasion the radiant shafts of sunlight may again break through, and health of heart and soul may once more lift you up on the wings of favor where you may consort in spirit with the celestials of infinite clime.

Music is the consistent and courageous ally of religion, the purple-robed ambassador of God that carries royal and oft-recurring messages to cheer and comfort through all the fluctuations of the changing years. Someone has said that music inspires all bashful lovers, and I well know that it brings joy when hands and hearts are interchanged. It is the high priest, if you please, that brings perfumed promises from the altar of unchanging love and swings them from unseen censurers over heads bowed low.

Music disarms those who fight against their better nature. It fortifies courage in time of war, and enters the unguarded lines of contentment in times of peace. It is a reproducer of the past, an intensifier of the present and a painter of possible futures. It is an incentive to upward strivings, to feelings of reverence and desire to worship. It touches the tenderly-strung chords of affection which give forth clear and consoling notes that quicken the ear for all the harmonies of the age. More than that, music possesses an inexhaustible vein of recreating power. It relieves irritability of temper, restores vigor to the overwrought brain, removes mental depression, counteracts disheartening influences induced by sense of baffled plans, cheers with uplifting melodies which the harsh word of materialism can never remove, and it employs an universal language, speaking in a tongue native to the human heart whenever educated. Sometimes it is but a whisper, or perhaps an undertone; then again it may rise through stages of pleasure and power until its volume seems to envelope us with an atmosphere of awe and solemn grandeur, rocking our sensitive natures to their very foundations and setting aflame our spiritual faculties, until it seems that the very soul, driven and pursued by the surcharged mentality of dreams, hopes and ambitions, will burst the bonds of flesh and soar amid the regions divine.

I know of no calling in life greater than that of the musician. It is a faculty, once cultivated will never entirely die. I know of no profession, vocation or avocation in life that is calculated, if properly followed, to be of greater and more lasting benefit to the human race.

Life and love are immortal. At death this body of flesh will decay; but the faculties of mind and soul will be quickened and go on developing and enlarging while the years of eternity onward roll. I verily believe in that other and future life there will be celestial statues and celestial paintings, celestial harps and celestial organs. I believe there will be celestial art galleries and celestial music halls, and that the everlasting inspiration of that eternal land will be the celestial oratorios, sonatas and grand marches of the ages, attuning every voice to the melody, enlivening every finger on the keyboard, quickening every footstep to the enchanting rhythm, and influencing every soul with an animated divinity that brings it into intimate contact with the Infinite.

Music is universal in its appeal and performance. No matter the status of humanity, whether barbaric, mediocre or cultivated, it has its appeal. Likewise, in all the realms of nature there is no exception in its application. There is no place too remote for its grasp and no sphere too exalted for its reach. The roaring torrent, the murmuring stream, the soothing summer breeze that stirs the hearts of flowers to fragrant symphonies, the angry wind that fiercely flings its howling challenge to the trembling trees, the stars that sing together, while the listening moon with spendrift hand scatters silver sheen, and sometimes restless and sometimes sleeping sea, the quivering songs of joyous birds that welcome bursting splendors of the dazzling dawn and which no mortal can translate—all these furnish an endless and varied coloring of tone that resounds through the ages, catches the heart of humanity, causing us to pause and listen, to wonder and emulate.

I come to tell you tonight that Music is the greatest enchanter that ever trod the stage of time. Its soothing lullabies are understood, and, when unwelcome wrinkles come, it touches accords of memory to childhood's happy hours. Music is heartily cherished when middle age is one enmeshing melody, and it is heard when those we love lie coldly unresponsive to sense and sound.

But more than that: Music, music more abundant, music supreme and transcendently beautiful, will be heard when the Hallelujah Chords of Heaven is sung by that happy host which no man can number. Then all lost chords will be restored. Then it will be made plain why Music is called the Divine Art. Music will then be the highest expression of everlasting gratitude to the Creator into whose presence discord cannot enter and where perfect harmony eternally prevails.

So it is to you of the South Plains Music Association who are devoting your lives toward bringing all this about that we of Littlefield extend our most hearty welcome.

fundamental points of interest readily gaining the undivided attention of the audience which prevailed throughout the program.

Miss Louise Ocker, possessing a clear soprano voice, sang "The Kiss," to the piano accompaniment by Miss Mary Dunn, of Lubbock.

Miss Annis Owens, of Lubbock, pleased her hearers with a violin solo, "Variation," by Tartini-Kreisler, which was also accompanied by Miss Dunn at the piano.

Local talent on the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. G. M. Shaw, who sang, "Spirit Flower," with Miss Maude Cuenod at the piano.

The second organ number rendered by Mr. Waghorn was, "Broken Melody," by Van Bieue, which too, was preceded by a few brief remarks wherein he gave the origin of the title of the composition, following which he called for suggestions from the audience and generously responded to two requests, "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Humoresque," two familiar numbers. Their rendition on the organ, with the fine technique of which Mr. Waghorn is capable, pleased the entire audience.

Miss Frances Guffin, of Slaton, rendered two violin solos, "Serenade," by Dirgo-Auer, and "Canzonetta" by d'Ambrosio, with piano accompaniment by Miss Jeanette Ramsey, also of Slaton.

The concluding number was an ensemble composed of Mrs. Carl Scoggin, voice; Miss Annie Owens, violin; Mrs. Mammie I. Neal, organ, and Miss Mary Dunn, piano, all of whom are from Lubbock. "Lamb of God," a sacred number, was rendered in the solemnity that was appreciated by all present.

Members of the association are as follows: Misses Mary Dunn, Ruth Dunn, Margaret Huff, Annis Owens, Louise Ocker, Daisy Baskin; Mesdames Mammie I. Neal, John L. Ratliff, Carl Scoggin; Messrs. Crowley and W. V. R. Waghorn, of Lubbock; Miss Laurean Christian and Mrs. Aubrey Thomas, of Lockney; Mrs. W. H. Dallas, of Brownfield; Mesdames J. F.

Flanniken and Roy Hollingsworth, of Lamesa; Mrs. M. E. Ware, of Ralls; Misses Jeanette Ramsey, Grace L. Bailey, Frances Guffin, Mrs. S. W. Guist, of Slaton; Miss Lucy Smith, of Crosbyton; Miss Carrie Bier, of Plainview; Miss Curry, of Post; Miss Katherine Sewell, of Post, and Miss Maude Cuenod, of Littlefield. Honorary members are Mesdames Dana Harmon Trent and Glenn, of Amarillo; Miss Pauline Brigham, of Canyon; Messrs. W. R. Clark, of Canyon, and Prof. Whitlock, of Fort Worth.

At the close of the association meet resolutions of appreciation by the members were adopted as follows:

We, the members of the South Plains Music Teachers' Association, do hereby resolve to express our thanks and hearty appreciation to the people of Littlefield who have so graciously received and entertained us during our fourth annual meeting. We wish to extend our thanks to the Presbyterian pastor and members of his congregation for granting us the privilege of meeting in their church; to Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Duggan, who as host and hostess, have shown such a true spirit of western hospitality; to the homes so cordially opened to us, and to the ladies who served the delicious luncheon.

We value very highly the association with Mr. Clark and Miss Brigham of Canyon whose sincere efforts never fail to inspire.

To Miss Mary Dunn, our retiring president, we wish to express our sincere appreciation and unbounded gratitude for her efficient and untiring leadership in making the association a success in every phase of its work.

Therefore, be it Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Littlefield paper and a copy be spread upon the minutes of the association.

AMERICAN LEGION ORGANIZED HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Reorganization of the Richard New American Legion post, number 2071, was made Tuesday evening at the old Lee theatre building.

The assembly was called to order by Jack Reynolds, chairman, and Mr. Whitaker, of Lubbock, made a talk using as his subject, "What the Legion Means to Me," which was followed by a talk on, "How to Put Pep Into the Legion," by Laddie Rankin, also of Lubbock.

An election of officers was held wherein Phelps W. Walker was elected post commander; F. K. Albright, first vice commander; Jack Reynolds, second vice commander; Arbie Joplin, post adjutant; R. W. Steen, finance officer; A. C. Chesher, mess sergeant and Ira Parker, sergeant-at-arms. Then P. W. Walker took the chair and appointed Dr. C. C. Clements and Van Clark as captains of two membership teams, and a membership campaign was planned which begins immediately and continues until the last Tuesday before Christmas. The losing side will be host to the victorious team with cats at the next meeting following the close of the campaign.

A. C. Chesher tendered the use of the old theatre building for the regular meetings. The next to be held November 23. At this time the organization will be perfected.

Coffee and doughnuts were enjoyed by the following who were in attendance: T. L. Matthews, J. M. Stokes, A. C. Chesher, Kay Arnett, Ira Parker, P. W. Walker, Van Clark, Alex Reeves, F. K. Albright, Arbie Joplin, Arthur Mueller, R. W. Steen, A. R. Lee, C. C. Fletcher, Dr. C. C. Clements, Jack Reynolds and Roy Campbell.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A merry heart doeth good like a medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the bones.—Prov. 17:22.

I had rather have a fool to make me merry than experience to make me sad.—Shakespeare.

THORNS AND ROSES.

We overheard a group talking in front of the Littlefield post office a few days ago, discussing the low price of cotton and citing in particular an instance of a little tough luck a citizen of the community recently had.

One spoke up and said that while the man had worked like a dog all his life he didn't have any more than a flivver, a phonograph and a few farm implements to show for it. Then another cut in with a little philosophy we believe our readers will enjoy.

"Yes," said the philosopher, "but think how well fixed he would have looked to our dads. Thirty years ago he'd have been a plutocrat with what he's got. His house and farm machinery stacks up with the best, and that old flivver, that back-number phonograph, that one-lunged radio set would have had everybody in this neighborhood gasping for miles around. It goes to show how hardships change, but are never entirely done away with. In Dad's time a farmer was an object of pity if he had to hand-harvest his crops, and had only home-made furniture in a log or dod house."

There's a lot of food for thought in those words, and especially for those of our citizens who are inclined to be dissatisfied with what they have. They'll be feeling sorry for us, maybe, 50 years from now, and feeling that we had few comforts in life, but we won't be here then, at least a good many of us will not. So why not devote a little of the time we spend wishing for the things we haven't got in being glad we have advantages and comforts of which people 50 years ago never dreamed?

Some men are stronger at saying what they will do than in doing what they say.

THE LUBBOCK GAME.

"Westerners Wallop Littlefield," was the headline appearing in the Sunday issue of the Lubbock Avalanche, and if reports are true the word "wallop" has been quite correctly used.

That the Littlefield football team received a "raw deal at the hands of the Lubbockites there can be no doubt. There is every evidence that the referee was unfair in his decisions, such being recognized by many of the Lubbock citizens who witnessed the game. The game resulted in physical encounter which is always to be condemned. More than one Littlefield boy was knocked out of the game at the time Littlefield was having a winning streak, which was probably the only reason the Lubbock team won the game. After the game was over, according to report, one of the Littlefield boys was waylaid by the referee, a man, purported to be a skilled boxer, and the boy's jaw broken in two places, also a deep place gouged in his face, that could not have been done with a flat, according to testimony of a Lubbock physician who dressed the wounds.

Littlefield, of course, is greatly incensed over the results of the game. The citizens here cannot believe that the people of Lubbock generally condone such unsportsmanlike demeanor to say the least. It is indeed a blight on our neighbor city that demands redress and adjustment, and such will be expected.

NO FARMER'S STRIKE.

Someone in Los Angeles has been sending out thousands of circular letters calling on farmers throughout the country to join in a nation-wide "strike" in 1926. He is calling upon them to raise only what "you will use yourself." Perhaps some of the farmers of this vicinity have received some of that literature as we have also heard similar expressions, the jocularly made, in this little city. However, we have talked to several of the farmers of this section, and while most of the farmers around Littlefield believe in organization to protect their own interests, they do not believe in the "strike" theory.

In the first place the man who raises oranges wants meat and bread to eat; the man who raises cattle or hogs would also prefer to have a little of the fruit grown by others. Even the wool growers want some of our cotton. No farmer raises everything he uses, so for that reason alone the scheme is not practicable.

A "farmer's strike" would not pay any more than any other kind of strike will pay. Somebody has to lose in every strike. Organization may bring better prices and better agricultural conditions, but agitating for a nation-wide strike of farmers is foolishness.

If the signing of the Declaration of Independence had been delayed until now there would probably be found some people against it.

THE MUSICAL MEET.

During the past week Littlefield music-loving citizens have enjoyed a real feast of art through the presence and performance of members of the South Plains Music Teachers' Association. The recital given last Friday night was without doubt the best musical program ever heard in this little city. Everyone present enjoyed it to the utmost.

It is to be hoped that Littlefield may have the honor of entertaining more such cultured people and more conventions of this kind that are calculated to be uplifting and beneficial to the real inner self.

Littlefield homes were gladly thrown open in hospitality for the entertainment of these honored guests, and it was with regret that their departure came entirely too soon. That the delegates sincerely appreciated the courtesies accorded them is clearly evident by the tenor of the resolutions adopted at the close of the meeting, and published elsewhere in this newspaper.

Dictator Mussolini, of Italy, now proposes to regulate women's fashions, so his finish is not hard to forecast.

During the past two weeks some of Littlefield's leading merchants have been advertising a reduction on their goods in keeping with the present price of cotton, and this regardless of the fact that there will not be much reduction, if any, in wholesale price of cotton stuffs. This action is indeed commendable and shows the spirit of "live and let live" that exists here.

Of course most of the Texas hogs may be down in the bottoms of East Texas or out among the shinnery of some of the other parts of the state where their owners could not get them, which occasions some of the high price of bacon, but we believe the farmers of this vicinity would do well at this time to put in a few bred gilts or older brood sows. Indications are that hogs will remain a good price for some time, besides there is nothing like raising their own meat.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

CONSIDER THE BACKGROUND.

Behind every mind is a background. Behind every overt deed and spoken word flow a mass of feelings, impulses, and ideas from which these concrete things are chosen.

Men are hanged and otherwise punished for the actual deeds they accomplish; a more just method of judging humanity would be to take into consideration the whole background. Nobody can do this but the God who made men, and hence it is said that His thoughts are not as our thoughts.

And that is the reason why perfect justice can be meted out only at the judgment seat on the last day.

What a strange region is this background of one's self! There flow what strange ghost faces and inchoate deeds! What gusts of feeling, what streams of tendency, what lurking, buried seeds of heredity!

A certain part of us is known to the world and we consider that part to be ourselves, but behind this there is another part, out of which the visible is created.

Wild and satyr like lusts, holy longings, prickings of conscience, bonds of obligation, remorseful faces from the past, rosy plans for the future all mingle in the strange phantasmagoria behind the soul.

Greater than any music that Wagner ever composed is the music that he dreamed, but could not express. Greater than any speech that a gifted orator has made are the speeches he thought of, but never made. Greater than any love which a man has expressed is that reservoir of love within him that has never been able to find expression.

If we would know a man through and through, therefore, we must not only know what he thinks and says overtly, but we must bore through the crust of this into those wells of feeling which have never come to the surface.

Probably the background of any saint is as bad as that of any sinner, and possibly the background of a murderer might be as pure and holy as that of any of us.

As Burns has said:

"What's done we partly may compute,
But know not what's resisted."

Governor Ferguson may be commended for at least one good action during her administration, that of deciding to sign, at the last minute, the bill appropriating enough state funds to bring the sum up to $14 instead of $11 as it stood. The extra three dollars per capita will mean several thousand dollars for the benefit of Littlefield schools and at a time when it is greatly needed.

Cotton is now rolling into Littlefield and being turned out by the local gins at the rate of about 125 bales per day, while the price remains about the same. The hedging and holding of cotton from present market has already begun and many seem to think it will have a tendency to increase the price, perhaps bringing it up to 15 cents per pound. At any rate every farmer should endeavor to save all his crop possible.

Various farmers of this vicinity are reporting considerable damage to their grain by the ducks in their southern migration. Just what they are doing about it is not stated, but we may have our suspicions. Aside from this fact we are reminded that the annual migration comes at the beginning of winter. Just as soon as the big Canadian honkers arrive it will be time to don the heavy underwear, laying away the teddies and b.v.d.s for a coming season.

Now that a new secretary has been secured for the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, every member should line up with their co-operation for the accomplishing of big things. Mr. Gattin is on the job every hour of the day anxious to do the best possible for Littlefield and vicinity. He has some plans mapped out that, if carried to successful consummation, will mean much for the town and community. Every member who has dropped out during the past few months should get back in and some others also—then everybody get busy for a bigger, better Littlefield.

The question has been asked, "How much do the farmers of this section work?" It is a question no city man should endeavor to answer. Some work more than others—city folks can generally tell that by the appearance and condition of any given farmer's crop. But one farmer declares that none of them work as much as they should. He insists that this country was painted so rosy to them they got the idea all they had to do out here was put the seed in the ground and the Lord would do the rest. At any rate, we are of the opinion if most of the farmers would put forth the same effort here they did in the places they come from it will not be many years until they will all be sitting on top of the world with a downhill pull.

LITTLE LEADERS

Littlefield citizens recall that old Dobbin did go into the ditch occasionally, but he always managed to get out under his own power and never had to be towed back to town.

Why is it that when you find a man around Littlefield who does not believe in insurance he invariably has several children dependent upon him?

Littlefield woman who notices that a button is missing on her husband's coat instead of one who is always looking for a blonde hair on it.

Who remembers the old-time Littlefield clerk who used to pick some threads out of a pair of trousers to show you they were all-wool?

We heard a Littlefield girl say she could tell a certain boy was in love with her by the way "he watches me when I'm not looking."

A Littlefield citizen told us the other day he could remember a few years ago that the country fellow had to go to town to buy liquor; but now the town fellows go to the country in search of it.

If the recording angel makes a note of everything, we've quite a curiosity to know what he writes down every time a Littlefield fellow stumbles over a chair in the dark.

THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS AS MEASURED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES

A glance backward and a look ahead which business men ways take at the beginning of a year shows that Texas has been making progress during 1925. It shows that the prospects for further advancement during 1926 is good.

And in every phase of the review and prospect is seen the progress of the several essential public services upon which growth and achievement have depended.

The service of the telephone in this community is one of the items that have made for development here and without which development of the past year could not have been accomplished. In the outlook for the present New Year this company is expected to be a major factor in the building of this community still better service to the people.

The service of the Panshandle Telephone system and growth of this community go hand in hand. Our aims and ambitions, if they are right, are identical.

What are You Doing for Their Future?

When your children grow up and start into the world, their own competition will be greater and a living harder to get.

It is just as much your duty to provide for their future as their present, and every advantage and every aid you can them will make their life's path smoother and brighter.

Take education for example. You from your own experience can see how valuable a good education is, even today. The more you make room for brains, pays well for intelligence. Tomorrow college education will be absolutely essential to success. Just as essential as a high school or grade school education is today.

It is your duty to provide the necessary financial means for higher education. By starting a savings account now, and making small deposits you will be astonished how it will grow into funds—and make your children's future a guaranteed success.

SCHOOL REOPENED; MANY PUPILS ARE IN COTTON FIELDS

The school was reopened here Monday after being dismissed for the summer in order that the children should be gathered in the cotton in the fields.

A large acreage of cotton has yet harvested only about 10 per cent of the students who were dismissed on October 22nd, returned to school Monday, according to Supt. J. H. Wood.

Teachers, some of whom were dismissed to their homes during the summer, were to take up their duties Monday.

Next week's time will be made up by the remaining school term to complete the nine months' school year which time is imperative in order to secure the affiliation with the state for which the fact is being.

LITTLEFIELD BOY ASSAULTED AFTER LUBBOCK GAME

Lubbock high school team administered the first defeat of the season to the Littlefield high school squad last Saturday at Lubbock. The score was 17 to 6.

Littlefield allowed Lubbock to score both her touchdowns after fumbles by Littlefield backs. Payne Wood brought the crowd to its feet early in the second half when he ran straight through the Lubbock team for 59 yards and a touchdown. Wood was injured shortly after this play and had to be removed from the game. The influence of a captain was sadly lacking thereafter and the defense of the Littlefield team began to weaken.

Ralph Bruce was removed from the game, and, according to report, he and other Littlefield players were cursed by the referee and Bruce told by the referee he would whip him after the game. Bruce upon being called a foul name, struck the referee; but the crowd prevented further hostilities.

accompanied by a crowd of Lubbock men, left the grounds going to the Littlefield man's headquarters where they met Bruce and another Littlefield lad, Jackson proceeding to make good his previous threat. As a result of the encounter in which Bruce was badly worsted endeavoring to defend and protect himself as much as possible, he had to be taken to a Lubbock hospital where an X-ray picture revealed the fact that his jaw bone had been broken in two places. There was also a jagged wound in the face extending into the roof of his mouth which, according to the physicians who attended him, was doubtless made by some instrument the assailant carried concealed in his fist.

Notwithstanding the Littlefield boys were playing a team in a higher classification, it was clearly evident from the start that they were having a winning streak which lasted up to the time that some of the Littlefield lads were knocked out of the game. The summary of the game was as follows:

The Computed Summary.
Yards netted on running plays—Lubbock 189; Littlefield 205. Passes—Lubbock attempted nine and completed 3 for 55 yards. Littlefield at-

Later on, Jackson, the referee, attempted sixteen and completed six for 69 yards. Punt—Lubbock punted twelve times for 46 yards averaging 38 yards on the punt; Littlefield punted six times for 148 yards for an average of 25 yards to the punt. Lubbock received three penalties for 25 yards; Littlefield one for 5 yards. Lubbock made twelve first downs and Littlefield nine. Lubbock lost 17 yards on running plays and Littlefield 26 yards.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Harry Wiseman reports the delivery this week of a new five passenger, master six Buick coupe to Mr. Rumbach, the local baker.

The business men are urged to promptly make reservations for the football banquet at the high school building Friday night.

Mrs. G. A. Keck and son, H. J. Keck, of Childress, are here this week visiting their daughter and sister, respectively, Mrs. C. E. Ellis.

One of the incubators for the 36,000 capacity hatchery which is to be installed here in the near future by A. Neuschwander, arrived here Monday. Others are in transit.

Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Liles left Wednesday for Amarillo, where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Earnest, of Lyon's ranch, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Earl Hopping, made a trip to Lubbock Wednesday.

LOCAL WILDCATS WENT TO SNYDER FOR LEGAL GAME

The Wildcats, the local football team, left this morning for Snyder where they will meet the football team of the Snyder high school this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Despite the fact that two of their best men are unable to play following wounds they received at the hands of the Lubbock men recently, interest is high and those remaining on the team and substitutes are going into the game with the expectations of winning and the people of Littlefield are with them. A number of the business men accompanied them, while others will go later in the day, and everyone who can possibly go is urged to do so, as a boost from the home town will mean a lot toward their victory.

This game will count on the Wildcat's average in the championship race.

A celebration for Armistice Day will also be held in Snyder and a parade has been planned. A large crowd is expected to be present.

E. B. Thomas, of the Dowden Hardware Co., Plainview, was here last week installing one of the new model Atwater-Kent radios for Len Irvin. He found considerable interference with the machine's operation, which at first was supposed to be from a leaky transformer in the electric light service. R. E. McCaskill was called to aid in locating the difficulty, and it was found to be in the local telephone office. It was stated to be of such a nature that it could be easily remedied, and doubtless will be by the management, as many radio fans have complained of this interference for some time past, but did not know its cause.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCaskill had as their guests during the South Plains Music Teachers' meeting here last week, Mrs. John L. Rath of Lubbock, and Mrs. S. R. McKinnon, of Levelland.

NOT TO BE CAUGHT.

A little boy was told that he must go to a hospital to have his tonsils and adenoids removed. The youngster was not visibly disturbed by the prospect, according to a visitor who called with his mother. The visitor found the little boy deep in thought, and questioned him to find out if he were afraid. The reply was addressed partly to his mother, "Mamma, I ain't 'fraid of going to the hospital. I'll be brave and do just as they tell me. But I'm not going to let them palm off a baby on me, like they did to you when you was there."
