THIS CURIOUS WORLD

KING PENGUINS MAKE NO NEST, THE SINGLE EGG IS HATCHED BY BEING CARRIED ABOUT, IN ZERO WEATHER, ON THE FEET OF THE MOTHER BIRD.

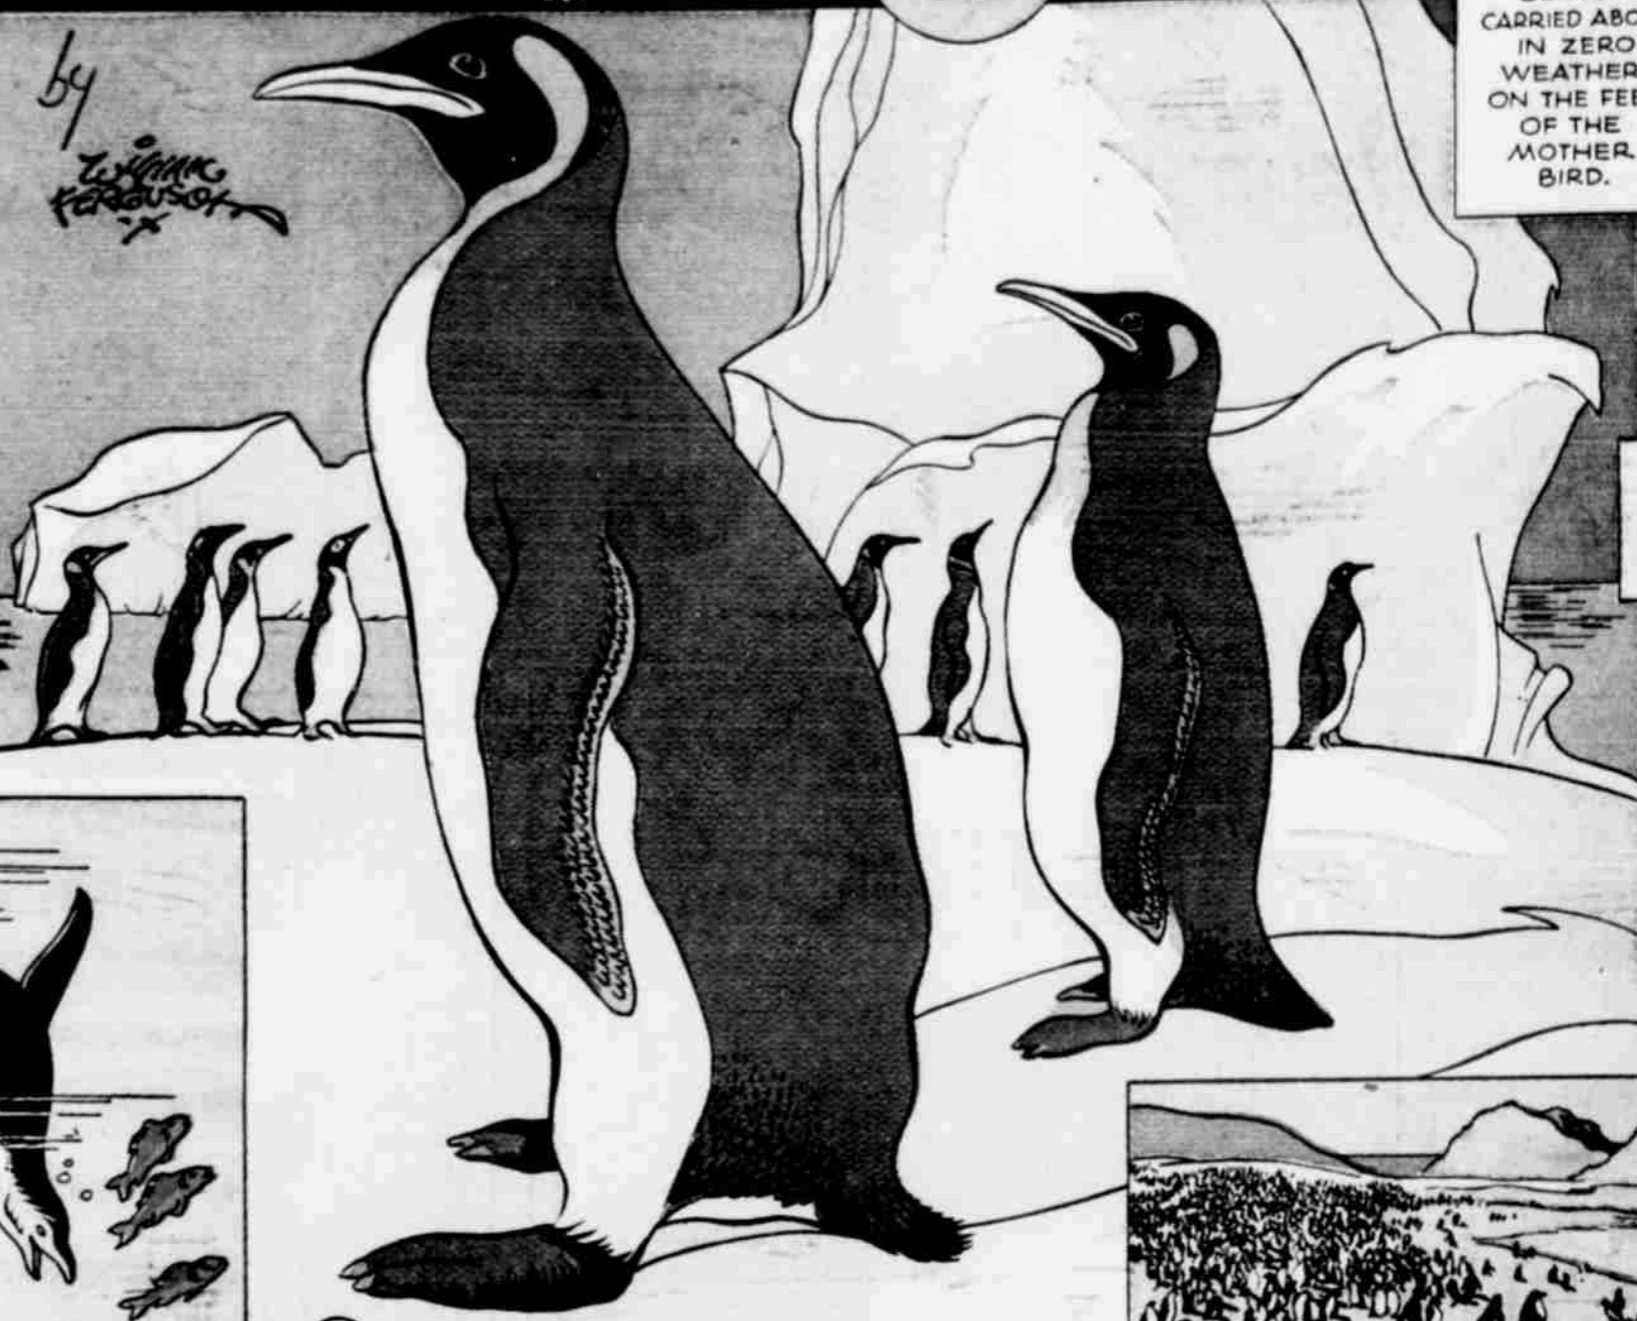

WHEN A PENGUIN FINDS A MATE TO HIS LIKING, HE PROPOSES, BY OFFERING HER A SMALL STONE.

AS YET, THE PENGUIN HAS NOT LEARNED TO FEAR. MANY ANTARCTIC EXPLORERS AND THEIR DOGS AROUSE ONLY CURIOSITY IN THESE SIMPLE CREATURES.

PENGUINS
ARE FOUND ONLY AT THE BOTTOM OF THE WORLD, IN THE REGIONS SURROUNDING THE SOUTH POLE! THEY HAVE NO NEAR RELATIVES AMONG LIVING BIRDS, BUT ARE DISTANT RELATIVES OF THE LOONS.

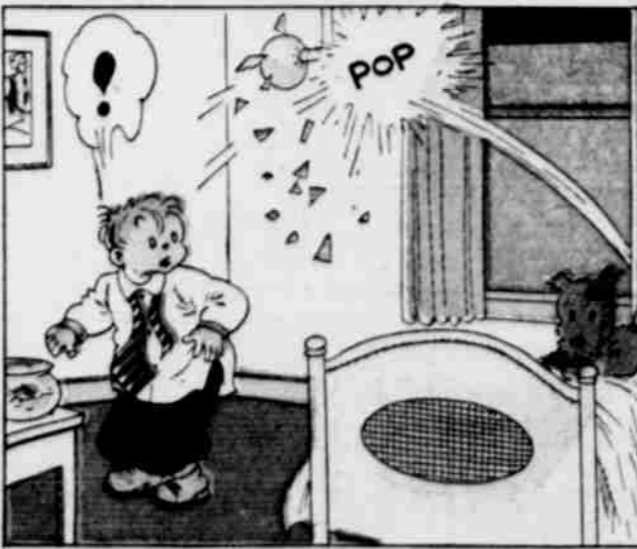

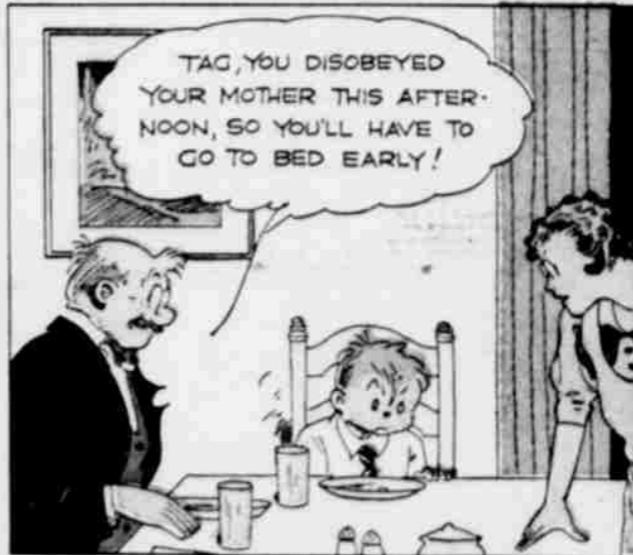

ONCE A LAND BIRD, THE PENGUIN TOOK TO A LIFE IN THE SEA, AND LOST THE ABILITY TO FLY! NOW IT IS AT HOME ONLY IN THE WATER.

THE LARGEST OF PRESENT-DAY PENGUINS IS THE EMPEROR, A BIRD ALMOST FOUR FEET TALL! IN ANCIENT TIMES THERE WERE SPECIMENS THAT GREW TO A HEIGHT OF SIX FEET.

CANNING KITCHEN BEING CONSTRUCTED

RELIEF PLANT WILL CAN ON TOLL BASIS

Expected That Operations Will Begin In Short Time

The canning plant is a part of the relief work being sponsored through relief channels throughout the country. The project will be located in Littlefield and it is expected that the plant will be completed and ready for operation within a short time.

The relief program, the county furnishes a building and the state equips the plant, the labor, furnishes the cans, and produce on a toll basis.

The plant now under construction is a building 30 by 50 feet and will probably give employment to 25 men. Joe Hale, secretary of the board of commerce, suggested. This will depend upon the amount of produce brought in to the plant.

The plant is canned for about a 60 per cent of vegetables 40 to 60. The toll as toll will be stored and the relief work this winter, E. F. Baker, chairman of the relief board for this area said.

Anyone who has meat or vegetables can be invited to bring them to the canning plant and have them processed there. Sixty thousand cans were requisitioned earlier in the year and it is expected that the plant will be ready for operation in a short time.

SCHOOL NOT TO BUY BUSES FOR CURRENT YEAR

Board Adopts 1934-35 Budget Friday Night

The Littlefield school board at a meeting last Friday night at City Hall rescinded their action of a few weeks previous to buy and operate 19 school buses this term, and voted to continue the system of the past in hiring drivers with their own trucks. Carl Arnold, school secretary, stated.

The question of buying school buses has evinced much interest in the district since it came up a few months ago. After the vote was taken to buy the trucks but, before a purchase was made the conditions became of such a nature that a majority of the board decided to postpone any such action. At the same meeting, the board adopted the 1934-35 school budget. The board meets again Friday night to hire drivers for the coming year and to present the school budget for public inspection. Anyone who is interested in examining it is invited to be present.

Revival of Building Program for Area Is Being Fostered

In compliance with the NRA code for lumber concerns Littlefield's companies are announcing in an advertisement in this week's issue of The Leader a general reduction of ten per cent on lumber and building materials.

These lumbermen are making reductions in the price of their building materials in the face of advancing prices of other commodities with the intentions of encouraging local building and improving.

A local building association supplemented by Federal funds and complying to conditions set forth in the National Housing act is being contemplated for Littlefield. This association to be known as a Federal Savings and Loan Association offers opportunities to the investor and the builder.

The Federal government puts up at least $3 to every $1 of local money invested in the association and it is possible to get as much as $4.40 to every $1 of local money, Calvin Henson, local attorney explained.

For a town the size of Littlefield, the minimum requirements for organization are 30 stockholders who subscribe at least $25,000 and shall have paid in $2,500 at the time the charter is granted. With this minimum of $2,500 local money, the Federal government immediately matches it with $7,500 and then it is possible to borrow from the Federal loan bank 35 per cent of that amount.

With that much capital to lend to local builders, it would mean about half for material and half released immediately for labor.

Under the association laws, the builder puts up 25 per cent of the cost of the building or improvement as determined by an appraising board

JAIL BREAK IS FRUSTRATED BY LOCAL OFFICERS

Second Attempt Within Two Weeks to Gain Freedom Is Failure

The second attempted jail-break within two weeks at Littlefield was frustrated by authorities Sunday night about 11 o'clock before any of the prisoners gained freedom. L. A. Ratliff, deputy sheriff and prison guard, stated.

Several of the prisoners led by Lacy Wingfield, who is held here in connection with the theft of a car from the Chevrolet Garage several months ago, and who already has a long-time prison sentence, cut through the back of the control box in the jail and succeeded in opening the doors of some of the cells. Hacksaw blades enabled the men to cut through the back of the steel box containing the levers which operate the doors to the cells.

Before they had time to saw through the steel door to the outside hall, Deputies Walraven who had been called and Ratliff, entered the jail and put the prisoners back in their respective cells, and handcuffed them to the bars. Within a few minutes, the cuffs were sawed off and thrown out the window. No further attempts were made to escape and early Monday morning the damage to the jail was repaired and five of the prisoners were transferred to the jail at Olton.

Service Secured After Much Effort On Part of Local Agent

According to H. C. (Clay) Pumpfrey, local Santa Fe Agent, beginning September 1, the Railway Express Company, will pick up and deliver to any point within the city limits express packages free of charge as an additional service to the citizens of Littlefield.

The local agent received a letter Monday from Superintendent J. A. Hyde of Dallas to this effect.

This action on the part of the Express Company was secured by Mr. Pumpfrey after a considerable effort on his part.

A. J. Beckner, who has heretofore been taking care of the delivering of express, has been given the contract for the delivery under the new system.

Littlefield has for some time been enjoying free delivery of freight, if shipment originated within the State of Texas.

J. R. SILHAN OF PEP GINS BALE TUESDAY

Sold In Littlefield at Auction For Fifteen Cents

Lamb County's first bale of cotton for 1934-35 was grown by J. R. Silhan of Pep and was ginned there Tuesday night by the Blakney gin. It was brought to Littlefield Wednesday morning and sold at auction to the highest bidder for 15c. Mr. C. C. Pass of the Pass Cotton company at Littlefield bought the bale and classed it as strict middling. It was auctioned by Mr. S. J. Etter.

The bale weighed 427 pounds and was ginned from 1520 pounds of pulled cotton. A cash premium of $36 was given to the producer by the Littlefield merchants, bringing the total returns on the bale to $100.

Mr. Silhan said he went over about 30 acres to get the bale but that his entire crop of about 100 acres will probably make a bale to 6 acres for the season. He is still pulling and will have another bale or two ready for ginning within a few days.

The first bale raised in Lamb county last year was brought in Sept. 4 by Henry Adkins who lives north of Anton and sold for 10 cents.

This 1934 bale was ginned free of charge by the Blakney gin at Pep. Mr. Blakney has installed new machinery this year and reports that it worked perfectly on this first bale.

Mr. Silhan lives one mile north of Pep on the Littlefield road. He has been a resident of that section for about nine years.

DISTRICT COURT IS IN SESSION NOW AT OLTON

Second Week Of Session Given to Criminal Hearings

District court for the 64th Judicial district meeting at Olton is well into the second week of the session, hearing criminal cases this week, following a series of civil hearings since its opening, Monday, August 6, Mallory Etter, district clerk, stated.

Next week and the last of this session will be given to civil cases also. Because of a crowded docket, it is likely that many of the cases will have to be carried over until December, he said.

Wingfield and Stalcup, brought to Littlefield from Wichita Falls recently and held in connection with the theft of a car from the Chevrolet Garage here, were taken to court Monday, but since neither had a lawyer and there were no available lawyers present to be appointed their representatives, they were returned to Littlefield to be tried later in the week.

Mrs. Bera Cooke, on bond in connection with the death of her husband, Tom Cooke, earlier in the summer, appeared before the grand jury but no action was taken, pending the report of the State chemist on the viscera of her husband recently sent to Austin.

The next session of the district court will meet in December.

CONSIDER YOUR HOME MERCHANT

Before you go out of town to make your purchases, consider your home town and your hometown merchant. When you buy from your local merchant, you help three—the merchant himself, your town which he helps develop, and yourself through the benefits derived from living in a prosperous community.

Littlefield merchants carry thousands and thousands of dollars worth of stock which will compare very favorably with the stocks in stores of much larger towns. Seldom is there a call for merchandise which they cannot supply, and their prices are in most instances on a par with those of other towns.

When a person says that he can drive thirty or forty miles to another town and save a few cents on a purchase he is using false economy. It doesn't take many miles of travel to eat up the saving that might be had. And when your money is spent out of town, it is gone forever. When you spend it with your local merchants, it stays here and continues to work and aid in the upbuilding of the community of which you are a part.

Your merchant is a permanent part of your town. If he prospers, your town prospers. If your town prospers, you benefit. So, before you buy your fall supplies or other purchases, CONSIDER YOUR HOMETOWN MERCHANT.

In the Horse and Buggy Days?

They were good old days and served their purpose well, but their usefulness is past. Another era has taken their place and with it has come many changes.

Have you progressed with the times? Or do you still cling to the old-fashioned wash tubs, scrubbing board and wringer? In their place, think of a modern ELECTRIC WASHER. And instead of the old flat-iron, ease your work with an automatic electric iron.

Is your home sufficiently lighted? Or do you grope about in half-light? Electric lamps and electricity cost so little that it is easy to have a completely lighted house.

Perhaps your refrigerator has outlived its usefulness and you entrust your food to it with fear and trembling. And the expense runs high. Why not replace it with a clean, efficient Electric Refrigerator?

The Dollar Bride

SEVENTEENTH INSTALLMENT
THE STORY SO FAR

Nancy Gordon trades herself in with Dr. Richard Morgan for fifteen thousand dollars—to save her family from the disgrace of her father's theft of that amount of money. Nancy loves penniless Page Roemer, and Richard is a woman. Nancy loves penniless Page Roemer, and Richard is a woman. Nancy loves penniless Page Roemer, and Richard is a woman.

Major Lomax drew her hand through his arm; he said nothing more. He led her, against her will, up to his own house and opened the door.

"Angie!" he shouted, "Angie—Nancy is here to see you—keep her all night. I'll phone her mother."

But before his telephone message reached the Gordons something had happened there which wiped out its significance. Mr. Gordon was away; he had gone to Richmond on business for the bank, and would scarcely be back for two days. Nancy had been absent since luncheon time. Only Mrs. Gordon and Amanda were at home.

She was startled by Amanda's voice at the door.

"Mis' Gordon!" she called excitedly. "Mis' Gordon, heah come Mis' Roddy, yes m'm, sho's yo' se born—Mis' Roddy hisse!"

With a little cry of rapture, Mrs. Gordon ran to the door.

"Roddy!"

He stared at her, his arms hanging limp and when she embraced him he lurched away from her.

"I can't say anything," she said brokenly, "I—a woman can't save herself—I can't tell you, major—I can't! 'Then Morgan must!' said the major.

"Oh, no, no! Not that—never that! she wailed clinging to his arm 'promise me—never that!'"

Richard had just dismissed a patient and was standing by his desk, looking tall and thin in his white office coat. He thought it was Mammy Polk and did not look up until Amanda coughed.

"What is it, Amanda?"

She courted, folding her hands into her apron. "Mis' Gordon sen' me fo' yo'-all, suh. She sez Mis' Roddy done gone plumb crazy, yessuh, an' she wants yo' ter come quick."

Richard frowned. "Crazy? Roddy? What do you mean, Amanda?"

Amanda edged closer pleading her apron demurely; then she looked up sideways and gave him a wink—as one man of the world to another.

"He ain't crazy, no suh, he's jes' drunk, but his m'm's takin' on an' his pa ain't home—I reckon it's jes' as well anyways, Mis' Gordon ain't gwinter stand no foolin' no suh!"

Roddy drunk! Richard could not remember that the boy had ever had the falling of drink. A thief and a drunkard. Unconsciously the shock of it penetrated even the iron of his reserve.

"You go ahead, Amanda. I'll follow," he said, as they left the house together.

Mrs. Gordon had been on her knees beside him, but she stumbled to her feet as Morgan entered.

Richard took her shaking hands in both his. "Don't be frightened," he said gently.

"Ain't frightened," said Roddy thickly, "dry—thass it, dry as dust—an' she's got water—water—" he began to sing, rocking to and fro.

Mrs. Gordon tore her hand out of Richard's and covered her face sobbing. "My boy's crazy," she said in a whisper, "I can't bear it—I can't!"

Richard drew her gently out into the hall.

heads? Haven't any business to have two heads, mus'n got drunk—they'll arree' you! Man on th' car had two heads, didn't know where he'd got 'em either—must have been drunk—thass use!"

But poor Mrs. Gordon was wringing her hands. "He's crazy!" she sobbed, "Mandy, he's crazy—they've worked my boy to death in New York."

Amanda said nothing; she seized Roddy suddenly by the arm and propelled him toward the lounge.

"Ye-all lie down," she said soothingly, "ye lie right down, honey, Mandy'll git yo' a cup of coffee, yessuh, yo' lie down."

Roddy yielded to her propelling touch partly because he could not keep his feet. He dropped violently upon the lounge, rolled over and lay face downward.

His mother caught hold of Amanda with shaking hands.

"Don't trust to the telephone," she sobbed, "I can't talk over it now myself—you run to Dr. Morgan, Mandy, run! Tell him what's happened. Tell him my poor boy's lost his mind. Bring him, don't let him wait—it'll be his office-hours—it doesn't matter—bring him quick—quick!"

Amanda, running across the garden with her apron over her head, gave way once to laughter, and once she knuckled tears from her eyes.

"Fo' de Lawd, his mother ain't gwinter believe it—if de doctah tells her!"

Then she saw Mammy Polk sweeping the back porch and slowed to a walk.

"I ain't gwinter let on ter dat ole imp ob Satan!" she mumbled to herself, "she's to big fish nigger anyways—I reckon my folks a heap betah den hern. Mis' Polk," she said aloud with dignity, "where's de doctah at?"

Richard had just dismissed a patient and was standing by his desk, looking tall and thin in his white office coat. He thought it was Mammy Polk and did not look up until Amanda coughed.

"What is it, Amanda?"

She courted, folding her hands into her apron. "Mis' Gordon sen' me fo' yo'-all, suh. She sez Mis' Roddy done gone plumb crazy, yessuh, an' she wants yo' ter come quick."

"You go ahead, Amanda. I'll follow," he said, as they left the house together.

Without another word, Richard went out. But when he drove his car around to the Gordon's back door, Roddy, whose condition seemed to get worse all the time had to be coaxed into it. Richard and Amanda managed it.

Richard drove the car straight into his garage. By that time Roddy had sagged over and gone to sleep, Richard called to his man.

"Sam! here—you go up and tell Mammy Polk she can visit her cousin tonight. Send her packing. Then you come back here and help me get this boy into the house and into bed."

Sam went, and half an hour later, Roddy Gordon was asleep in the room next to Richard's. He slept heavily at first, but toward midnight, he became violently ill and Richard fought a hard battle with a touch of delirium in it.

"Must have been soaking himself and got some wood alcohol, too," Richard thought, sitting up.

At two o'clock in the morning, Roddy was really very ill; it took all Richard's time and skill to turn the tide in his favor.

It was five o'clock now and broad day. Richard went downstairs and made some strong coffee. When he went back to his patient, Roddy was awake and terribly sober. He chocked down the hot coffee and wanted to kill himself.

"How did I get here?" he asked blankly.

Richard told him, feeling his pulse. "You're better. Keep quiet, old man. No one knows but your mother."

"My mother?" Roddy groaned turning his face to the wall.

Richard quieted him. He was using almost all his power as a doctor and an old man to keep him quiet when the old Sam called him from the stairs.

"Somebody down heah, Mist' Richard!"

In the hall stood Nancy. She was bareheaded and she still wore the frock in which she had gone to the Lomaxes.

"Richard, where's Roddy? I must see my brother!"

Then, as he hesitated, she broke out angrily.

"He hasn't diphtheria! Mama told me—I must see him. I've got a right to see him—where is he?"

Richard turned to the stairs. "He's up here—he's sober. You may see him."

That was all he did not even look at her as he led the way upstairs.

Thanks Voters For Support in Recent Primary

George Mahon, candidate for Congress from the 19th Congressional district, who will be in the run-off campaign, has issued the following statement to the voters:

"I feel under everlasting obligation to all the people of the 19th Congressional district on account of the results of the recent primary. I want the people to know that I appreciate their wonderful consideration of my candidacy for Congress. With the continued assistance of my friends and the people generally in every county I feel we can approach the run-off campaign with confidence. The voters gave me a lead over all seven opponents in 16 counties and a lead over my nearest opponent in 19 out of the 25 counties. I am incapable of fully expressing my gratitude for such an endorsement."

Judge Mullican Thanks Voters of 19th District

Judge Clark M. Mullican, who is in the run-off campaign for election to Congress from the 19th Congressional district, has issued the following statement to the voters of the district:

"I want to thank the voters of the 19th Congressional district for the nice vote given to me in the election of July 28. I appreciate fully the high compliment paid me.

"I also want to thank the friends of candidates less fortunate than I for their many letters and expressions of good will and their offers of assistance in the run-off race.

"By his own efforts alone, no man can win any political race, but with the assistance of the many friends who are now offering their services in my behalf, I feel that we can win."

—CLARK MULLICAN—

You know it's TRUE!

Whether it's a brand of coffee, a cigarette or a gasoline—there's only one way to find out how good it is. You've got to try it... Because they tried it and found it faster, more powerful and better all around, tourists now buy more Fire-Chief than any other brand of gasoline!... Try it in your car. You, too, will find it actually worth going out of your way for.

The U. S. Government specifies for its emergency use—

"... a grade of motor fuel which is suitable for automobiles, fire-engines, military and naval equipment, and for other emergency vehicles under adverse conditions of starting and acceleration—"

WARNING

GROCERY PRICES DUE FOR POSITIVE RISE-!

This statement is not issued as an advertising scheme . . . but as a warning to our hundreds of customers and the public in general to prepare for a POSITIVE rise in the price of groceries.

The rise in price is due solely to the shortage of raw products caused by extensive drouth.

Wholesale prices are jumping each day. We are selling many items at prices that are BELOW THE PRESENT WHOLESALE COST. For instance, the price of our very best Flour, Everlite, is $1.95 which is LESS THAN TODAY'S WHOLESALE COST. This is true with most every grocery item..

May we suggest that you go the limit in buying your grocery needs for the coming season NOW. We frankly believe that it will mean a large saving to you. We would be glad to have you drop in that we might further discuss the reason for the rising prices of groceries.

PIGGLY-WIGGLY PRICES CANNOT BE BEAT! WE ARE HOLDING OUR PRICES DOWN JUST AS LONG AS IT IS HUMANLY POSSIBLE! BUT WE — LIKE ALL OTHER STORES — WILL BE FORCED TO RAISE THE PRICES AS WE REPLACE OUR PRESENT STOCK!

Miss. Lucile Nance and Kenneth Blair Wed at Albuquerque, N.M.

The marriage of Miss Patricia Lucile Nance, popular Littlefield girl, and Mr. Kenneth P. Blair, was solemnized at Albuquerque, N. M. Saturday afternoon, August 4, at 5:30 o'clock.

The beautiful ring ceremony was read by Dean Douglas Mathews in the Episcopal Church, with only a few intimate friends and relatives present.

The bride is the popular and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Nance of west of Littlefield. She is a member of the Faculty of the local high school, and has a wide circle of friends here.

The romance started early in the summer, when Miss Nance visited her brother, Dr. H. E. Nance, and Mrs. Nance at the New Mexico city, where she has won a place in the hearts of all who have met her.

The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of heavy crepe with accessories to match. Her travelling costume was navy blue.

Mr. Blair is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blair of Urbana, Ohio, and holds a responsible position in the Soil Erosion Service of the U. S. Government. He was transferred in December last to Albuquerque from Washington, D. C. He is a graduate of Ohio University.

After a short honeymoon spent in the east, Mr. and Mrs. Blair will be at home at the Luna Courts, Albuquerque, N. M.

HUBERT TRAVIS, Pastor

The Churches of this city are here to serve you and not to be served. If you are a Presbyterian or if you belong to no other Church come over and make yourself at home. We are a friendly group, as are the other Churches in town, and we want to do our part in making you feel at home in Littlefield.

The Sunday Services are not for the few but for the Multitude, so next Sunday morning the Multitude is invited to meet with us at ten o'clock in our regular Church School work. Dr. Ira Woods is our superintendent and he will make you feel at home with the help of his teaching staff. Following this service there will be the eleven o'clock service. The Sermon Title will be "Jesus Came Teaching." In the evening the Young People will meet at seven-thirty for fifty minutes of song service and inspirational discussion. We are proud of our Young People so come out and give us a chance to be proud of you. At eight-thirty the evening service will meet out side if it is agreeable with the group. Come and be cool with us. We are not a cool group but we try to find a cool spot to worship in. The evening theme will be "Hill Top Experience."

State Tax Rate Set at 77 Cents

The maximum state ad valorem tax rate of 77 cents per $100 assessed valuation was levied recently by the automatic tax board for the second successive year.
The general revenue, available public school and Confederate pension funds share in the proceeds. The first two each receive 25 cents and the last, seven cents.
Reduction Forecast
Reduction of the aggregate deficit from $20,907,872.82 on August 31, 1933, to $14,621,580.61 at the end of the current fiscal year and $12,454,657.73 in 1935 was forecast.
"A review of the condition of the funds and a computation of the rates as fixed by the board show a marked improvement over the condition at the close of the last biennium," the board said.
The deficit in the general revenue fund, which reached a peak of $9,377,619.75 on August 31, 1933 will be reduced to $7,577,810.52 on August 31 this year the board estimated. It calculated the deficit at the end of the 1935 fiscal year would be $6,329,577.19, after the treasury had set aside $458,750 for interest and sinking fund requirements of relief bonds for 1935 and $1,503,750 for 1936.

PLAINS COTTON ESTIMATED AT 120,000 BALES

United States Has Smallest Acreage Since 1905, Report Shows

An estimate of the cotton production for the South Plains area has been made by W. O. Jennings Northwest Texas representative of Neol P. Anderson and Co., when he set the probable 1934 crop at 120,000 bales.
His estimate was based on a personal survey of many of the Plains counties and from late reports of correspondents. He stated however, that many things could change the estimate. "If it does not rain before the middle of the month, we may not get nearly that many bales," he said, but if it does, we may make much more, for I have never known a section which could promise less and make more than these plains counties."

Lamb Expected To Lead
Lamb County will lead the area, Mr. Jennings believed, with Terry and Yoakum second, Haile third, Lynn, fourth; Lubbock fifth. Following are the estimated bale productions:
Bailey, 7,000; Borden, 300; Briscoe, 1,000; Castro, 500; Cochran, 800; Crosby, 10,000; Dawson, 1,000; Floyd, 1,500; Gaines, 700; Hale, 14,000; Hockley, 5,000; Lamb 27,000; Lubbock, 11,000; Lynn, 13,000; Swisher, 1000; Terry, (including Yoakum), 25,000; total 120,300.
The acreage planted to cotton this year is the smallest since 1905, according to a statement by Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The number of acres planted in cotton, June 1, was 28,024,000.
All information coming from foreign countries indicate that foreign cotton producing countries are taking advantage of the United States forced reduction of acreage to increase their own acreage, he explained.

System Available For Keeping Costs On Truck Operation

What every truck owner ought to know — how much his fleet operations cost, which drivers are doing the best jobs, which type and make of equipment is the most economical, which vehicles are costing so much that they should be replaced—can be ascertained with a minimum of paper work by use of a copyrighted "Owners' Simplified Operating Record" made available to all truck users by the Chevrolet Motor Company, through its dealers everywhere.
The new simplified operating record, according to W. E. Fish, manager of the Chevrolet commercial department is especially well designed to fit the needs of individual operators of small fleets of trucks.
The system provides the owner with a small record book, one for each vehicle, containing a sheet for each day's record (to be filled in by the driver) and a monthly summary sheet on which the daily entries are totalled. Comparison of the summaries at the end of the month will give a definite figure on the relative operating costs of each vehicle in use.

The record not only informs the operator what his fleet operation is costing him, but enables him to judge the comparative merits of his drivers, assists him in making income tax returns and in complying with the Code shows him the comparative operating costs of various types and makes of equipment, gives him a guide for the use of a bonus system, reveals which units should be replaced because of undue operating expenses, and if salesman-drivers are used, enables him to tell which men are operating most profitably.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Bell returned recently from a visit with Mrs. Bell's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Chandler of Tucumcari, N. M. Miss Thelma Keese of Summerville returned home Wednesday of last week after spending from Monday previous the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Matthews.

Gulf Oils

Gulf pride — the world's finest motor oil — is a 100 per cent paraffin base Pennsylvania oil.

It was used in the airplane which holds the world's record for endurance flying — 420 hours. It was used in the plane which set the altitude record. It is used by careful buyers everywhere.

Gulfube is Gulf's second oil and has been shown by actual tests to be 28.5 per cent superior than any other motor oil in the same price range.

Gulf Supreme is a high-grade, low priced, competitive lubricant.

The Gulf Service Station always gives you prompt, efficient service and checks your automobile completely as a regular part of their 7-point Gulf Service.

Gulf Gasoline

GOOD GULF gasoline is the motor fuel without a peer. In this one gasoline is combined the best of the qualities which give easy starting, greater power, and increased mileage. You're away ahead of the pack with Good Gulf Gasoline. In a recent hill test, Gulf Gasoline outclassed 32 other gasolines.

TRAFFIC is Gulf's competitive gasoline — a gasoline which sells at a low price but which is better in quality than many other higher priced motor fuels. With Traffic, you are assured a smooth running, economical motor.

Gulf Greases

Gulf makes a grease for every purpose. When your car is greased the Gulf way, several greases are used. Gulf Chassis lube is superior in its field. It is cohesive and oily. Even gasoline will not cut Chassis Lube.

There is a special grease for the hubs, one for the water pump, for the springs, for the generator, for high pressure cups.

Whatever your need, Gulf makes a grease for that especial want, and a superior grease.

Gulf also makes Gulf Venom which is an effective fly and insect spray, and Gulf Livestock Spray, which has won wide acclaim all over the country.

PROPRIETOR

L. R. Sewell

L. R. Sewell, manager of the Gulf Service Station, is a man of long experience in filling the needs of motorists. For 13 years, 2 1/2 of which were here, he has worked with and in filling stations, and has learned the fine points of real automobile service.

Under his direction, the Gulf Service station has become one of the most popular stations in Littlefield. A prompt, complete, courteous service and fair dealings have won for Mr. Sewell and his station many friends among the motoring public.

He invites you to drive in and see for yourself what real service awaits you here. You don't have to wait on the boys there. They are always on the job. And you don't have to suggest that various points of your automobile be checked — that is a regular part of Gulf Service.

road can then borrow the rest from the association upon a lien against the property and improvements.

Loans are made over periods of from 6 to 20 years and will probably draw about 6 per cent interest, Mr. Benson said.

To the investor, the association offers three types of investment, — the installment plan which allows him to invest a given amount each month — the periodic which allows him to invest as he can, and the lump sum investment. The last pays dividends semi-annually. The others turn the dividends against the stock bought and it compounds to help pay for the stock.

Money invested can be withdrawn on 30 days notice. If withdrawal is made within a year, half of the dividends are lost; but after three years, the investment plus the dividends are paid on demand.

Such a local association operates within a radius of 50 miles from the central office. It is planned, should such an association be organized in Littlefield, that it be permanent and continue as a personal organization.
