

Precinct 1 Residents Dissatisfied With State's Proposed Road Repair Job

...satisfaction with a proposed highway Department paving project of a road north and south of the Hart and Olton roads, flared up Monday at a meeting of the County Commissioner's office.

...persons signed a petition that a road north of Olton paving project be paved. The "North Road" group pointed out that the state had announced that it plans on paving 6 1/2 miles beginning approximately five miles north from Circle (at the end of the present pavement) and going one-half mile north and six miles east to the intersection of the Hart-Olton pavement.

The petition said they wanted 8 1/2 miles of paving instead and offered to pay approximately $25,000 for the remaining mileage. They further agreed to furnish rights-of-way.

The "South Road" group, on the other hand, petitioned for paving on a road about one mile south of the road which the state contemplates paving at a cost of approximately $90,000.

James P. Gowdy, Littlefield attorney, represented the "South Road" petitioners at Monday's meeting. He pointed out to the court that his road would serve more people and traffic than any other road in the precinct (precinct 1) north of U.S. Highway 70 and between the two paved roads from Circle and Olton.

He said there is at least 12 residences on the road that are occupied and that the school bus system and the mail system would both be better served by this road than any other now under consideration.

The county commissioners explained to the petitioners that to request the state to change the road might result in the loss of the entire paving project to the county.

It was generally agreed at the meeting by the petitioners that each faction would agree to the road being placed north or south but that neither group wanted the road in the center because each faction felt it would kill all chances for more road paving in their areas.

Attorney Gowdy requested an early decision from the court and commented later that "the court is stalling."

"Regardless of what the court now does both road groups are going to be mad because the court took the easy way out, putting the paving project between the two roads, hoping to make both road groups happy, but actually achieving disharmony," Gowdy said.

Gowdy further stated that his clients would "block any effort" to pave the state recommended road. "Several of my clients who own property on the proposed project have indicated they will not give rights-of-way," he said.

Asked for comment yesterday,

County Judge Robert Kirk explained that the commissioners have not yet made a decision whether to request the state to pick another road for paving.

He said that at meetings with the state, commissioners had "discussed the area," but that the state "had made the decision on which road would be paved."

Among petitioners on the "North Road" group were G. D. Hooper, F. Riley, J. W. Hackler, H. E. Owens Jr., Aubrey Oursbourn, Mrs. Donald King, L. G. Gipson, C. C. Curry, W. T. Holland, C. W. Hackler, B. C. Coon-

Addition To Be Replanted; Work Starts In 6 Weeks

OLTON—Olton's referendum Tuesday on a $175,000 water-sewer street bond issue to finance sweeping improvements, was carried by 2 1/2 votes to 1.

The unofficial count as reported by Mayor F. Hollingsworth listed 159 persons for the six propositions on the ballot compared with 73 against.

Discussion that Williams might leave had been brought up at the regular meeting of the board of education Monday night. The next day Williams said he had submitted his application for the position feeling that "it is a great opportunity for a young man to get the head coach job."

Wildcats Enter 6-AA Conference

By JIMMIE HUNE

With the pre-conference games over, the Littlefield Wildcats journey to Seminole tomorrow to help kickoff the 1955 6AA basketball conference.

The district is the same tough group that the Wildcats challenged and won in football competition and the Wildcats should be "birds of prey" because of the football hang over. Everything is in favor of the Wildcats finishing at least next-to-last, with Seminole, Andrews and Brownfield filling in the one-two-three spots and Kermit bringing up the van.

The Indians of Seminole have been picked as the champ chiefly over their one point margin of victory over mighty Sudan, Lamb county's gift to the 1955 basketball world. Sudan didn't pass the test in the Odessa tournament; but, then a couple of their main boys were not able to play due to injuries.

In the seven non-conference games which the Wildcats have played this season, they have a total of 369 points for an average of 62.7 per game. Although the Wildcats have won only three out

Yarbrough's
Phone 923 821 Hall Ave

—EDITORIAL—

Another Opinion—

(Editor's Note: The problem of stamps is in the news these days. We've expressed our opinion on them in this column. Here is another nearby editor's opinion. He operates the redemption center for a local stamp which Ralls merchants give.)

King Stamps are a year old this week. For the past year Ralls merchants have due into their profits to spend about $24,000 to buy gifts for their customers. It was hoped these gifts would, in a tangible way, express merchants' appreciation for the patronage they receive. One would think that someone would, in the course of a year, drop some word of thanks to them for this sacrifice. We have never heard one word of appreciation from anybody. On the contrary, there has been much hickering and complaining among a certain group of housewives who drop in often to redeem their stamps. One would think, also, that the giving away of $24,000 to customers (and taxpayers at that) would make people less choosy about what they get than if it were costing them money. You see, the thousands of dollars worth of gifts you have received have cost you nothing. It's all free as far as you are concerned. You don't pay Lenard Anstead or Dalton Norris or Boe Diggs or A. M. Vernon one cent more for gasoline simply because they give you stamps. The bread and meat you buy would cost you exactly the same, with or without stamps. That shirt is going to cost you $2.98 at Lynch-Tinlin's, stamps or no stamps. Yet this particular group shops with stamps like they were made of platinum. One complaint is that it takes too many books to get a desired item, although the book value is based on a suggested retail price named by the manufacturer. How can anything cost too much when it goes to you free of charge? If Ralls shoppers want to continue receiving King Stamps, we suggest they tell their merchants they appreciate it. There's no use in him giving the shirt off his back if it's going to lead to ill-feeling and anger! We saw a woman come in with a book of stamps, obviously mad before she arrived. She said she had been thinking it cost $120 worth of groceries to fill that $3 book. She never realizes that if she didn't have that $3 book, groceries would still have cost her that $120. We don't give two whoops whether Ralls businessmen continue to give stamps or not.

 The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mickey Stephens, office manager of the Lamb County Farm Bureau and secretary-treasurer of the Sudan Farm Bureau. Basketball Team Attends Baptist Service

Rev. Lee Hemphill and members of First Baptist Church were particularly pleased when it was learned that all of the boys of the high school basketball team and their coach were in the congregation Sunday.
 The story behind their visit started like this . . . sometime last year the team was passing through Littlefield enroute home to a game and were being fed in a local cafe.

 The cafe owner commented to Rev. Hemphill that this was the best behaved group he had ever seen in his cafe. Rev. Hemphill, also impressed, later wrote a congratulatory letter to them.
 The boys evidently were impressed, too, because they planned their trip home from the Odessa game Saturday so they might attend Rev. Hemphill's Sunday services.

E. J. Tarbox delivered the sermon Friday night and at both services Sunday.

Mrs. W. L. Key and daughter,

We worry a lot about traffic hazards.

We worry, that is, about what the other fellow is going to do. As for ourselves, we're all careful, intelligent drivers. It's just that we may meet a fool.

Never another fool, mind you; but someone who isn't as alert, efficient and responsible behind the wheel as we are. Apparently that is how about 97 per cent of American drivers feel about themselves. We heard a group of good upstanding citizens talking the other evening and, honestly, we wondered why there was ever an accident with such wonderful people in command of cars.

One observed that radar enforcement of speed limits is doing wonders in cutting down on speeding. Another talked about the dangers of driving too close; in California, she said, it was against the law to drive right on the tail of the car in front of you. And by the way, there were ways to beat radar. Had we heard?

Before we were through, each of us had admitted, without meaning to, that we (1) exceeded the speed limit when we thought we could get by with it; (2) never once considered observing a rule because it was common sense only if it was a law that was being enforced; (3) were pretty confident our own judgment was sound, but doubted that one out of four other drivers was equal y reliable. Evidently those people who

Mrs. Janell Estep, served Sunday dinner to Edwina Schovajies and E. J. Tarbox and Mrs. John Rankin and Mrs. W. C. Adams served the noon meal to Wanda Neal and C. E. Smith.

Cadillac

A Great Discovery Is About to Be Made!

The hand you see here is about to turn the ignition key in a new 1955 Cadillac.

It is the hand of a man who has never driven a Cadillac before—but who finally decided to see for himself if all the wonderful things he's heard about the car are true.

Well, he's about to make an important discovery! He's about to learn that, in 1955, Cadillac actually surpasses its own great reputation!

He'll sense it the instant he makes the turn of the key—and hears the deep, rich, eager answer of that 250-horsepower Cadillac engine.

He'll sense it again when he touches his foot to the accelerator—and brings that dynamic engine into action. It will set him instantly in motion—and will carry him forward with a surge of power that is a revelation all in itself.

And then—out on the open road—the full proof of Cadillac's greatness will begin to unfold itself!

He'll discover it's incredible ease of steering and handling—so marvelous that the car seems almost to read his mind.

He'll discover its amazing smoothness and levelness of ride—so great that even the road's roughest spots are difficult to perceive.

And he'll discover its marvelous balance on the curves and corners—its incredible quietness of operation—its extraordinary agility in the traffic lanes—and the reassuring action of its big, powerful brakes.

Yes, the evidence will be abundant—and the verdict without question: This is the greatest motor car performance of all time!

If you haven't as yet taken a drive in a 1955 Cadillac, you ought to do so soon.

It's really an education in all the things a motor car should be and do—and we think you owe it to yourself to get the report firsthand.

Stop in soon, won't you? We'll be most happy to give you the keys—any time!

Highlights and Sidelights

AUSTIN—Bascom Giles' quick resignation caught everyone by surprise. He refused to take the oath of office for his new elective term as State Land Commissioner. Giles was chairman of the Veterans Land Board, whose affairs continue under investigation with bank land sales.

Three state agencies in connection with bank land sales.

Governor Ash Shivers was almost as quick to resign, upon successor. He is 44 years old, single, 44, of average height, and two-year term.

Rudder resigned as a member of the State Board of Education to take the oath of office. He was sworn in at the same time as Giles. Immediately after the ceremony, he joined the other members—Governor Shivers and Attorney General John Ben Sheppard, in investigating veterans' land loan regulations.

Giles, who resigned the veterans land program, said he stepped out because he thought some one else would have a better chance of getting needed changes in the veterans' land law.

Giles has been associated with the land office in one position or another from the day he was graduated from the University. That was 34 years ago. He served 17 years as Commissioner.

THREATENING CALLS

State Rangers and Department of Public Safety officials are trying to locate a telephone caller, who threatened the lives of Attorney Gen. Shepherd and member General Shepherd and State Capitol Reporter Raymond Brooks.

"A bullet in the back of my head" was promised by the caller. "If he didn't lay off the law big boys," Wiley said. "I'll be in the office in 10 minutes."

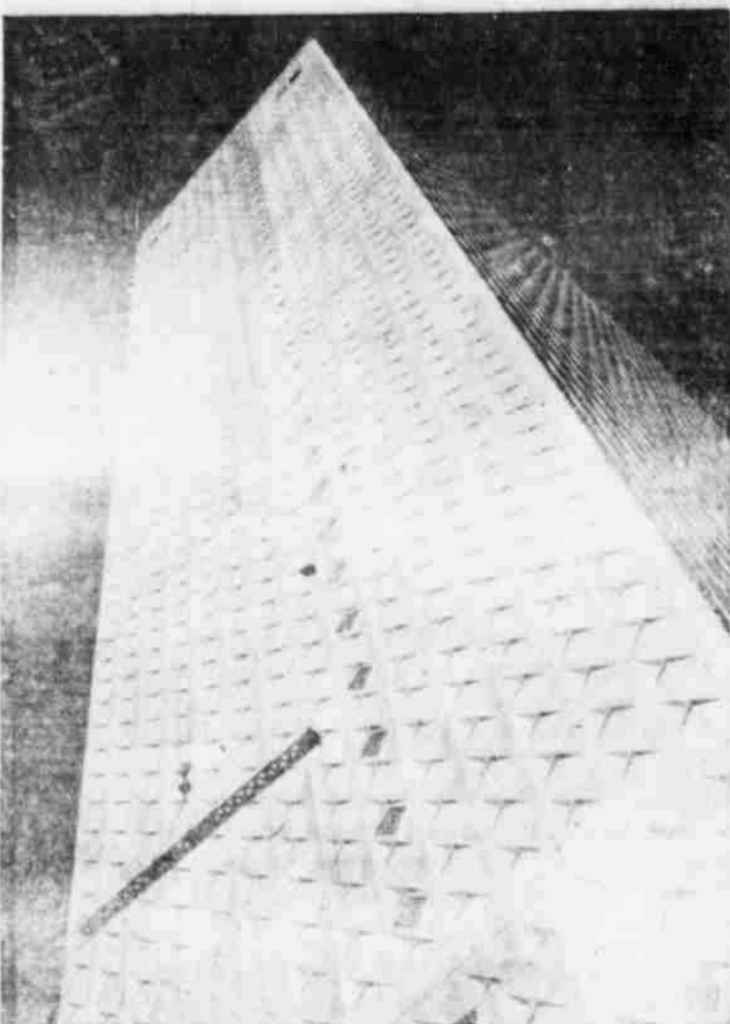

The caller threatened the lives of the Attorney General and the State Capitol Reporter.

Wiley said he was in the office at 10:15 a. m. and all he knew was "an invitation to an event of this kind is very hard to compile. No invitation is needed, and all Texans are invited," says the Governor.

Immigration Ceremonies are expected to draw 30,000 visitors to Austin.

When Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was sworn in for his first term there was a record number of 53,000 newcomers.

To Governor Shivers, however, goes the record of having served as Governor of Texas longer than any other man. He will have been

A Standard of Authority

By Tommy Williams, Minister

The following advice is said to have been given to a young preacher by an older one: "Abe, when you preach, always read a long text. That much of your sermon will be right whether the rest is or not."

The present purpose is not to comment on whether it is best to use long texts or short ones in the pulpit. In the advice the young preacher received, there is basic truth that we all should recognize. It is the complete authority and reliability of the Scriptures.

Such a recognition will go a long way in settling difficulties in religious matters. Many times, we may fail to grasp the meaning of some scriptures. Interpretations may be faulty and thus may lead to difficulties; but when it is determined what the Bible teaches on any question then any opinions we may have to the contrary are of no value. When the teaching of the Scriptures on any question is known, that should completely and finally settle it.

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all works." (2 Timothy 3:16-17).

More Pay Now
Beginning with this, the 54th regular session of the Legislature the lawmakers draw $25 per day. The old limit was $10.

Pay is now limited to 120 days however. In the past they went on half pay indefinitely after 29 days.

An amendment approved by law voters last November granted the pay increase. It also gave the Legislature authority to increase the salary of the Constitutional officers.

At present the Governor gets $12,000; the Attorney General $10,000; and the Treasurer, Comptroller, Secretary of State and the Land Commissioner $6,000 each.

It is expected that the Governor's pay will be increased by the Legislature to $25,000 a year; the Attorney General's to around to perhaps $15,000.

Optometry Ads
No decision was reached by the State Board of Examiners in Optometry on an application to reinstate its ban on advertising by optometrists.

Board members conducted an all-day hearing on a rule, twice adopted and twice cancelled, to limit the size of ads and to prohibit price, quality and credit ads by optometrists.

It was the old fight between advertising and non-advertising optometrists.

Dr. N. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical gave the crowd of some 100 persons a chuckle when he told the board that too many optometrists are "blind" to the advantages of advertising.

"What the optometric association needs, instead of 31 more years of bickering, is an industry wide advertising campaign telling the people of Texas about the advantages of wearing glasses, the proper care of eyes, etc.," said Dr. Rogers.

Children's Shoes—Clothing Needed by Salvation Army

Women of the Salvation Army Home League are meeting each Friday at 1:00 p. m. for lessons in picture making and painting, under the direction of Mrs. John Robinson. The women are also taught to make their own picture frames. Donations of colorful magazines containing scenes that might be used in this work are solicited.

The women in this group make tea towels during the month and a set of towels, one for each day of the week, is presented to any member having a birthday. Their chief project is the making or repairing of clothing to be given to needy families.

Mrs. Robinson stressed that any woman is welcome to participate in this group, regardless of whether or not she is a member of the Salvation Army church.

A total of 98 persons were served between the hours of nine and twelve on the last clothing day. One family came with four barefoot children and Mrs. Rob-

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Power of the Spirit

Lesson for January 23, 1955

MOST Christians have wished at some time or other that Jesus of Nazareth were still on this earth, seated at a post office address, perhaps with a telephone cord, certainly available for interviews, for letters and, perhaps, engagements. There are no stray questions we should like to ask him, so many of them are outside the church that he could not be with a word. This feeling may well have been strong in the minds of Jesus' personal and closest friends as the shadows were closing around him at the close of his life. Yet Jesus, although aware of this feeling, tried to make the disciples feel that it was best all around that he should not continue living as he had done for three years among them.

Who is the Spirit?

Entirely aside from the importance of the Atonement, it was best that Jesus should, as he put it, "go away." Existing as all human beings do in a body, subject to all the laws of nature, he could be in only one place at one time. But, once away from this earth physically, he could be present spiritually in ways not limited by space and time. Sometimes he said the Father would "send" the Spirit, sometimes he said he himself would send the Spirit. (Compare John 14:26 with 16:7.) By the Spirit men would be joined with Christ and the heavenly Father. As Paul used to write, out of years of Christian experience, "through him (Christ) we have access to the Spirit to the Father" (Eph. 2:18). So this Holy Spirit, wholly God though of the whole of God, is sometimes called the Spirit of Christ and sometimes the Spirit of God, and even says once that the Lord is the Spirit (1 Cor. 3:17).

Many theologians of the present express it this way: The Holy Spirit is God at work in the lives of men. The Holy Spirit is sent by God, but also the Holy Spirit is God. Theology has devised a great many complicated ways of stating this—and the truth is even more complex than theologians think. But the simple, important truth is that where the Spirit lives in a human heart, there God lives—no fact of mere religion or distant emissary of God himself.

Spirit in Us

Now there is a question that naturally comes up in the minds of thoughtful people. Is not everywhere? How can he be everywhere? How can he be absent from any place or any person if he is infinite? The Bible tells us of the Holy Spirit "descending," being "sent," "coming," "abiding," "dwelling," "departing." If the Holy Spirit is God at work in the hearts of men, how can the Holy Spirit go away? The full answer to these questions only God himself can give. But we can get a glimpse of the truth from what the Bible (or rather a few verses) says. These deep truths are not to be understood like this: God is everywhere by his power; he can move and act as Paul says, "We stick to that. But God has made man that we can choose the door even if God does not force himself on any man. As friend, as one who transforms life, who brings joy and purity and power, he is only where welcomed. It is only where welcomed that he is able to give the Spirit, to drive God out.

Spirit for Us

It is also possible, a glorious fact, that where the Holy Spirit lives in a human life, that transformed into the very life of the divine Life. The Spirit is the Life-changer. In him also for us. One of the most remarkable, one of the most true truths we know about him is that when we pray, our prayers are limited by our ignorance and tainted with our self-interest, the Holy Spirit prays with us, prays for us, prays for the dull monotony of our prayers. The melodious overtones of the Spirit's pure desires for us, his noblest aspiration still is of God's aspiration for us. It does not mean we can afford to be careless about prayer. It means that as we reach up to him, we find that he has first reached down to us. It is of the Spirit in us that we pray at all.

Labor-Materials Needed For Girl Scout House

By BERNIECE DOUGLAS

Do you have a daughter? A daughter who is a Girl Scout or a Brownie, or even a daughter who would like to become one?

The Girl Scout Troops of Littlefield need help just now, a kind of help that will come from interested Dads and Mothers who hate to know that such effort has been put forth so that they might have a meeting place for their own use and that that place is no useable.

Some time ago work and money was donated so the Girl Scout house could be moved from the school grounds, where it was taking needed space, to its present location on the west side of the city park. However, the sections of the building are not yet joined for lack of the labor and some needed materials. (Sufficient sheetrock to seal the inside has been promised.)

The most pressing need now since gas has been recently piped in is plumbing materials so that water connections may be made. The girls are now meeting in the homes of their leaders, which is not convenient for many particularly the little Brownies, who meet between the time of their early dismissal and the time the school bus runs. With only 45 minutes to utilize at best, if part of that time must be spent in transporting them to a meeting place, so little is left it is not worth the effort.

The work of the Girl Scout organization is being handicapped in its efforts at character training for the lack of more interest on the part of some parents who undoubtedly are not aware of the benefits received by their daughters through the efforts of the volunteer workers engaged in Girl Scouting.

A neighborhood Girl Scout meeting has been called for Thursday, 9:00 a. m. at Community Center of all parents and friends of Girl Scouts and Brownies to discuss ways and means of completing the needed work on the Scout house. The work of the individual troops will also be discussed.

Any offers of labor or funds will be gladly received by Mrs.

Southwest Conference Should Be Stronger and Better Next Football Season, Writer Says

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The football season officially closed recently but the memories linger on. Texas' only undefeated team was Trinity University which didn't get invited to a bowl game. Baylor, which lost three went to the Gator Bowl and was slaughtered by Auburn.

Teams that weren't supposed to win did just that in high school football—Ereckenridge in AAA Phillips in Class AA at Park in Class A.

One, which was supposed to come through with the Class championship.

It was a bad year for Texas in bowl games. Fewer teams got into post-season affairs than in years past and those that did failed miserably bordering on brilliant.

The 33-13 trimming by Auburn at the Gator Bowl was the low point.

It shows that Texas teams are not as good as they were in the Sun Bowl and the Sun Bowl in the Prairie View.

However, a Texas team did win the latter since the "Prattville" Prairie View team from Southern—were from Arkansas in bowl games were led by Houston in the Milk and the Santa Claus Bowl. The team in the Shrimp Bowl, the Conference All-Stars Salad Bowl and even in the East game, won by the East team.

It is about next season. The Southwest Conference should be stronger and better. There are many sophomores in the Southwest Conference—good ones that is—that every year should be better.

ARKANSAS ON SPOT
Arkansas which won the conference championship, will wind up the season on the spot. The team is there for one of the teams in conference history.

ers were talking about when they picked the Longhorns to sweep through in 1954. Prospects at the university are fully as bright as they were before the 1954 campaign opened. This time there probably won't be any of those troubles over breaking training that ruined the past season.

Texas A & M had a good freshman team and should be improved next fall but looks at least another year away from championship contention.

It's The Law In Texas

This is the first of a series of articles outlining changes in the U. S. Internal Revenue Code that favor individual taxpayers.

Under the 1954 revenue act, all persons who have a gross income over $600 must file income tax returns, except if the taxpayer is 65 or older he need not file a return unless he has a gross income over $1,200. This is because persons who are 65 or older have two exemptions which automatically eliminate any tax liability for income under $1,200.

The old established date of March 15 by which income tax returns must be filed has been abolished. All federal tax returns for individuals may now be filed on or before April 15. Although many persons believe that a tax return need only be postmarked by the due date, such is not the intent of the statute. Tax returns are supposed to be in the office of the Internal Revenue Service by the due date specified.

Declarations of estimated tax are required from all persons who expect gross income of more than $400, plus $600 times the number of exemptions which may be claimed, if more than $100 of the income will not be subject to withholding. Single persons with more than $5,000 and married persons with more than $10,000 expected gross income must file declarations of estimated tax even though all of the income is subject to withholding.

Declarations of estimated tax, except those for farmers, must be filed by April 14. Like the income tax return, this date is one month later than before. However, the quarterly installment payment dates remain the same—June 15, Sept. 15, and the last one on Jan. 15 of the following year.

If a person, other than a farmer, desires to file his income tax return and pay his tax in full, he may do this on or before Jan. 15 instead of paying his last quarterly installment. It does not relieve anyone from filing the original declaration of estimated tax and making three payments on it. However, in most cases this provision does remove the possibility of a penalty for an under estimate of tax liability. Farmers have special provisions concerning declarations of estimated tax.

The penalty for underpayment of tax liability on the declaration of estimated tax has been reduced. There is now no underpayment if the taxpayer remits at least 70 per cent of his tax as shown on his final tax return. If there is an underpayment, the penalty is only 6 per cent per an-

TEXAS TECH'S 20 MOST beautiful coeds—one from Littlefield—are being toasted on the campus this week. All will be pictured in the beauty section of the 1955 LaVentana, Tech yearbook. The 20 girls are the survivors from an original field of 200 beauties named by the Double T Association of Tech lettermen. The field was first narrowed to 50 then reduced to the top 20 by a second round elimination.

Miss Sharp, back row, left, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sharp. At Tech, where she is a sophomore, she was a La Ventana beauty in 1953-54 as well as "Miss I'ledge of 1954." Both honors yielded a full page in the Tech yearbook. In September, she was elected sweetheart of the 822nd Group, Air Force ROTC. A 1953 graduate of Littlefield high school, she was in student council, head majorette, "Who's Who" and the annual staff member.

By LOUISE C. ALLEN
The weather man in our district is usually a pretty prossie fellow. At night he pulls the mercury down in the thermometer, runs it back up during the day. He turns on the wind every so often, occasionally whirly emf, ten, occasionally gives it extra volume to pick up dust.

Once in awhile he may go to sleep at the switch, however. Such as when he forgets his controls and allows 85-degree weather during December. Or when he takes the wrong box off the shelf and lets loose a spring duster midwinter. All in all, though, he's a careful, methodical workman.

But one night last week he surprised us. He turned down the thermostat, got the box marked "Precipitation-Frozen", out of cold storage, prized off the lid, and sifted the contents over the landscape. The trees and shrubs reached up hungrily, balancing its fluffy mounds on leaves and branches. Each plant made a different pattern with its winter tracery. Even fenceposts, mail boxes and sticks of wood took on mystery and glamour. And here and there in dooryards appeared grottesque snow men, like comic policemen, from another planet.

Our weather man must have been pleased with his handiwork, for he held the thermometer at a fairly low reading. For several days the picture changed daily and the roads were dry long before the snow had melted from fields and pastures. The white patches seemed to point up distances. As we drove through familiar settings, our eyes seemed to see farther, to pick out little noticed spots of ebauy across the landscape. It was as though we had taken a trip to faraway places.

We have a new respect for, and interest in, our district weather man now. He may not be such a dull fellow as we had imagined, and we'd like to thank him for this presentation of "Precipitation - Frozen."

Stubble Mulching Recommended For Helping Control Wind Erosion

The dust storms which have already occurred have brought renewed interest in ways and means of controlling wind erosion, James Abbott of the Amherst Soil Conservation Service office, says, of controlling wind erosion.

One of the practices which Supervisors of the Soil Conservation District and technicians of the SCS suggest as most effective is stubble mulching.

This practice is defined as using farm equipment in seedbed preparation, planting and cultivating so as to leave the stubble or residues of previous crops on the soil surface.

This definition raises the question with farmers and equipment dealers alike as to just what implements and attachments are available for doing this type of farming.

The practice originated in the wheat producing areas of the Great Plains and the Northwest. Equipment has been developed which results leaving all the stubble on the soil surface throughout the seedbed preparation and planting phases of wheat production.

Abbott says there are more and more and quite different problems in applying the practice to row crop farming in Hockley County.

Abbott outlined the problems in this way:

In recent years a number of implements and attachments have been widely used for stubble mulching as seedbed preparations for cotton and sorghums. These include chisels and ordinary sweeps as attachments on tractor (no) implements. Tandem disk harrows are also being used. Perhaps the most common adaptation is to reduce the angle of operation and the speed of an ordinary oneway so that much of the stubble is left on the surface.

All of these implements and attachments are limited in effectiveness in that they cover a considerable portion of the stubble and they cannot be adapted for use in planting and cultivating row crops.

In order to have effective residues on the soil surface throughout the planting and cultivating periods, it is important to have equipment which will leave all the stubble on the surface during seedbed preparation. The large sweeps with cutters attached which are used for seedbed preparation on wheatland can also be used for seedbed preparation for row-crop production. They are now available from most equipment companies. They are made for special pull type carriers but most of them can also be used on tractor toolbars.

Equipment is also available for planting row crops which will leave practically all the residue on the soil surface. An attachment which is becoming popular with irrigation farmers is what is commonly called the loose ground attachment for listers. It is a double disk opener which can be attached to an ordinary lister footpiece by removing the lister bottom. On a flat seedbed prepared with the large stubble mulching sweep mentioned above, these disk openers can be used to shove the residue aside so that the crop can be surface planted. Or if a furrow is desired the disks can be set deep enough to make a furrow similar to that made by a lister.

Under dryland conditions the amount of residue will ordinarily not be enough to present a problem during the cultivating operations. The residue is easier to handle on the surface than it is mixed in the surface soil during cultivation. If a furrow is made with the loose ground planter attachment the first cultivation can be done with knife cultivators. Later cultivations can be done with the ordinary sweep type equipment by reducing the number of footpieces and increasing the size of the sweeps if necessary. If the stubble is heavy enough to present a problem during cultivation, it can be overcome by using a rotary cutter to reduce the length of the stalks before seedbed preparation is started.

Recent results from experiment stations and use of the method by farmers indicate that 2024 inch row spacing of sorghums will give increased yields over the common 40 inch row. If this method continues to give satisfactory results it will simplify the problems of stubble mulch farming for sorghums. Deep furrow type grain drills and small listers on toolbars can be used for planting the narrower rows as they have

Texans In Washington

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An enterprising young California woman is now a Texas congressional secretary—and says the treatment she received recently in Dallas is making a real Texan out of her.

She is Miss Mary Hornbeck, one of the staff of Dallas new Republican congressman Bruce Alger.

She probably doesn't want friends back in her old home town of Pasadena to know of her switch in allegiance, but she still proudly confesses it to new-found friends among Texans on Capitol Hill.

Miss Hornbeck first wants it made plain that she's not to be Alger's No. 1 secretary. She is to play second fiddle to Frank Crowley, who has been the field representative of a trailer manufacturer in the Dallas area.

TEXANS FRIENDLY
"I've worked here for years as a congressional secretary with Californians," commented Miss Hornbeck, "and I have had numerous occasions to see how friendly and easy going Texans can be."

"For the past two years, working with Cong. Hiestand, I have been invited into the offices of the Texas members. Mr. Bruce Henry of Tyler, Kentucky who came around there seemed so friendly."

With that background, Miss Hornbeck was in the right frame of mind as she drove her car eastward across West Texas one morning last November. She had been home to California and was motoring back accompanied by her mother and sister-in-law.

"We were near Abilene," she recalls, "when I turned on the car radio to listen to the news and heard that Mr. Alger had just been elected to Congress.

"The idea just struck me suddenly, that here was a chance to get a job with a Texas Congressman, since he was a Republican and I had had considerable experience working in the Republican congressional offices."

TALKS OVER WITH MOTHER
She voiced the idea aloud to her mother, Mrs. Lillie Hornbeck, who was returning east just to spend the Christmas holidays with her daughters and son, Marlon Hornbeck, an attorney here.

"I felt a little silly," she added, "but I told mother and Bernice that when we reached Dallas I was going to try to get in touch with Mr. Alger."

"And that's what I did, by simply looking him up in the telephone book and calling his home. I told him I was sure he didn't have many experienced secretaries to draw from in Texas who had worked for Republicans.

"He was very nice, but it was Sunday afternoon and he suggested I come by his office the next morning for an interview. At his office I told him I still had a week of my vacation left and that I would be glad to stay there and work for just what my expenses would be, if he wanted to see what I could do."

Miss Hornbeck said Alger telephoned to Washington to check some of her references and then "hired me with what he himself says was a grain of salt."

BY PLANE
So, while her mother and sister-in-law continued on to Washington by plane, Miss Hornbeck launched her Texas career. She took dictation and typed out replies to scores of individuals who had sent in congratulations to Alger on his victory, among them President Eisenhower.

"During that week everyone treated me royally," she finished. "I think Dallas is a grand place. Coming on the rest of the way to Washington I carried a Texas flag showing through the window. It may have looked a little odd to some, seeing that flag and my California license plates."
