Heavy Fall of Snow Cheers County Farmers, Merchants

Snow which began falling shortly after noon Tuesday provided a blanket on nearly four inches for the Lamb county area Wednesday morning. Moisture content of .23 inch was measured by the Western Cottonoil Company, giving the total moisture for the year thus far as .51 inch.

This total is more than twice that received in 1950 up to April 1, when the total was only .25 inch.

The snow brought smiles to the faces of farmers, merchants and others in Lamb County who saw in the gleaming white covering dollars coming to this area next fall in the cotton and grain sorghum harvests.

The additional moisture will let the farmers into their fields again to resume cultivation and preparation of the soil for the anticipated bumper crops of 1951.

The snow kept the temperature in check despite frigid blasts from the north. The low was 16 degrees above at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The heavy, drifting snow interfered with school bus operation in all parts of the country.

In Sudan, school officials anticipated trouble making the runs and sent none of the buses out. The rural families were notified by radio announcements.

The Circleback bus, bringing children to the Sudan schools, make a partial run and brought part of its normal component to the schools. The schools there were open for the town students.

In the Littlefield district all the buses ran but some were compelled to cut their circuits short because of drifts.

In Amherst the buses also went out with a caution to turn back if the snow had drifted too badly. Two buses encountered difficulty in drifts but the children aboard were transferred to other vehicles and brought to the schools, Supt. L. D. Kay reported.

Even "Old Diz" Dean himself in his palmiest days never could throw a curve to rival those registered this week by the automatic temperature recorder at the West Texas Gas Co. office here.

Someone Monday afternoon must again have let down that barbed wire fence that forms the only barrier between Amarillo and the North Pole, and the effects were felt all over the South Plains.

In four hours from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday the temperatures plummeted from 80 degrees to 30 degrees in Littlefield—a drop of 50 degrees.

Both Saturday and Sunday highs of 84 degrees were registered here.

Mark Twain once said everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it.

The gas company has changed that. It records it, but its sometimes hard to believe what you see.

Farmers Attend Annual Clinic

200 Lamb county farmers in attendance at the annual clinic in Olton Tuesday. The annual Lamb County Agricultural and Soil Conservation Clinic sponsored by the Lamb County Bureau and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

County agricultural officials of the Farm Experiment Station, reported on weed control research work there.

Don Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experimental Station, spoke on "Varieties of Grain Sorghum and Cotton and Mechanized Cotton Production" at 1:45 o'clock.

At 2:45 Guy Carpenter, district entomologist, Lubbock, discussed insect control on cotton, wheat and grain sorghum.

Starting at 3:15 o'clock Jarvis Angley, president of the Lamb County Farm Bureau closed the program with a 15-minute summation of the entire proceedings.

OFF FOR HOUSTON—These members of the Littlefield High School Distributive Education Club left early this morning (Thursday) with their faculty adviser, Jesse G. Foster, to attend the DE annual state convention at Houston.

Three making the trip from here are Robert Attaway, employed part time at Little's; Lucille Dunn, a part-time employee under the DE program at the Ben Franklin Store, and Emil Macha, a DE vocational agriculture student who spends part of the day at work at the H. R. Ferguson Implement house.

The Littlefield quartet was to meet a chartered bus in Big Spring, leaving that city for Houston at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The trip to Big Spring was to have been made by private car to Lubbock thence by regular bus schedule.

In Houston the four were to stay at the famed Shamrock Hotel, multi-millionaire Glenn McCarthy's new contribution to the Houston skyline.

To coincide with the convention, Governor Shivers has proclaimed this week (Feb. 11-17) as Distributive Education Week in Texas. A copy of the official proclamation setting aside the week and praising the program has been received by Littlefield school officials.

Now in Fourth Year

The program in the Littlefield high school now is in its fourth year and has proven extremely popular both with the students and the merchants here.

In connection with the observation of DE Week, two members of the club, Lucille Johnson and Robert Attaway, made a radio transcription telling of the program which was broadcast Sunday on the Chamber of Commerce.

All was in readiness at the Littlefield high school today for the presentation of the 1951 Annual Festival. An open invitation was extended by school officials.

The festival will start at 7:30 o'clock tonight (Thursday) in the high school auditorium with a one act-play, "The Mystery of Moldy Manor," to be featured.

Certificates of awards also will be made to the members of the Court of Honor, the high school Who's Who, the favorites of the four classes, the Band Sweetheart, the Football Queen, the FFA Sweetheart and FFA Plowgirl, the DE Sweetheart and FFA Dream-boy.

Leaders To Be Announced

Last, but by no means least, will be the announcement and presentation of the two outstanding students of the entire school—the Wildcat Boy and the Wildcat Girl.

The identity of these two was of breathless interest at the school today as the students polled for their favorites in a list of candidates presented by each class and approved by the school faculty. The students were to vote at noon today at the school and the ballots were to be tabulated this afternoon. No announcement of the result was to be made until the surprise presentation at the auditorium tonight.

Recognition Is Planned

Recognition was to be paid to the Student Council, the Skat Staff and the Wildcat Staff. Winners of scholarships awarded by the Jaycee-Ettes, the Rotary Club and the Woman's Club also will be made.

A complete list of the students to receive honors was carried in The Leader previously.

Members of the cast in tonight's playlet are Edwina Schovajsa, Wynelle Lightsey, Douglas Perkins, Donna White, Don Wilson, Bill Jones, Loyd Williams and Preble Lewis.

Proceeds from the Festival will go to help defray expense of the school yearbook.

Crash Victim in Hospital Here

Mr. Powell and the driver of the fire truck, Roy Wade, were injured seriously in the crash. Mr. Wade returned to his home last Thursday after being treated for cuts and shock at the Payne-Shotwell hospital.

Mr. Powell, taken to the Littlefield Hospital, was improving satisfactorily.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Powell is survived by one brother, Claude Pinson, who came here from his home in California for his mother's funeral and remained for that of his only sister.

Burial was in the Littlefield cemetery under direction of the Hammons funeral home.

Sherman Jones Is Home on Visit

The "happiest woman in Littlefield" this week—to use her own words—is Mrs. Eunice Jones, of 1001 Duncan street.

The reason for her happiness is that her son, Corp. Sherman Jones, Littlefield soldier who was the lone survivor of a massacre of 30 GI prisoners by the North Koreans last summer, is home at long last for a visit after months spent in hospitals in Japan and the United States.

Corporal Jones arrived here Sunday for a visit that must end this Thursday unless a requested extension of his leave from the Elkins made this statement in support of the Veterans Affairs Commission which is being threatened with the shopping axe by the 2nd Legislature.

With more than 50 per cent of the million veterans in the state hungry for information regarding their rightful claims and benefits, Elkins said that instead of the axe or an appropriations cut, the VAC needs a 1952 allocation of at least $222,000, which averages out to three cents for each citizen. He requested 12 more full-time VAC service officers to help the veteran in his fight for his rights against the Veterans Administration, which as the final judge in payment of claims acts as both prosecutor and attorney.

"Certainly, veterans organizations have done a significant service," said the Legion chief, "through maintaining their own paid service officers to assist the veteran, but the responsibility of caring for the veteran rests not upon the organizations alone but upon all citizens."

Comparing the present 2 cents that each citizen pays for the

Telephones Installed in Every Elevator in New N. Y. Apartment

NEW YORK (AP)—Telephones for passengers are being installed in all elevators of the new Sutton Terrace luxury apartment project on New York's fashionable east side.

The phones are being hooked up to the house switchboard in the three structures that comprise the project. Convenience and safety are the purposes.

David Tishman, one of the builders, explains that a tenant who has forgotten to call the doorman to order a taxi before leaving an apartment, will be able to call from the elevator and have a taxi waiting at the curb.

Now Is Time to Prune Fruit Trees, Announces Agricultural Teacher

According to W. W. Hall, Littlefield High School Vocational Agricultural Teacher, now is the time to prune your fruit trees, shade trees, roses and grape vines and the time of year to set them out. February 22 is Arbor Day in Texas, the date set by the State Legislature as the proper time for planting trees and shrubs here.

When planted at this time the soil becomes well settled by the time the sap rises and the plants will naturally get a good start. After planting they should be watered and kept moist or they will dry out and die, or be killed by a dry freeze.

After planting, fruit trees should be headed back to the proper height. This will depend upon the kind of tree. This is to force lateral branches to come out at the proper height and place on the tree. Pruning of young fruit trees is necessary each winter to cause the tree to grow into the desired shape. It is necessary also on older trees to remove dead or diseased wood, and to remove some of the top growth. Other reasons for pruning are to produce more fruit, larger fruit, to keep the trees vigorous, and by having the proper shape of trees, they are easier to cultivate, easier to spray, and easier to harvest.

The methods of pruning and training trees will depend upon the kind of tree. For example, peach trees should be pruned to form an open top, while apples should be pruned the modified leader system.

It is even more important to prune grape vines than fruit trees, because they make so much top growth each year. The top must

War Emergency Causes Decrease in Students

(Special to Leader)

The national emergency was primarily responsible for the 979 drop in enrollment figures at Texas Technological College for the second semester, Registrar W. P. Clement has announced.

Clement said 4,493 students registered for the second semester, compared with 5,472 for the first semester. The registrar said, however, that expected enrollment in proposed night classes should boost the total figure above 4,500.

The regular seasonal decline from the first to the second semester accounted in part for the enrollment drop, Clement said, but was not responsible for such a big dip. He explained that over 300 men had gone into the armed services during the latter part of the first semester, and that others signed up between terms.

Clement said the enrollment drop included less than 100 women. The great discrepancy, some 24 percent, was in the men's enrollment. He said that was caused by the military situation.

Youth Shot Twice

Despite the wounds that compel him to use crutches and keep the left side of his face swathed in bandages, the Littlefield soldier appeared cheerful, hopeful for future complete recovery and immensely happy to be home.

The youth was shot twice in the massacre in which all his companions were killed. One bullet entered his head below the left ear and emerged through the left side of his face immediately below the cheek bone. The second bullet passed through his right foot as he lay on the ground and then entered the upper portion of the same leg.

Although wounded badly, Corporal Jones managed to creep away from the scene of slaughter and hide in a clump of weeds. There he was found later by an American tank crew.

Shuns War Talk
The Littlefield soldier doesn't like to talk about his experiences—it brings the horror back too vividly.

He has about eight months more of hospitalization ahead for him, in which specialists will seek to patch together the shattered nerves of his cheek and plastic surgeons will strive to eliminate the marks of his facial wound. Time, he has been assured, will heal his leg.

Corporal Jones made the trip from Washington by plane to Albuquerque and then rode a bus to Hereford where a brother, A. J. Jones, resides. The brother brought him to Littlefield in his car.

Three sisters of the wounded youth reside here and a fourth, Mrs. E. L. Dunn, is in Artesia, N. M., where his father also lives. The sisters here are Mrs. G. F. Cutshall, wife of the Army-Air Corps recruiter here; Mrs. R. W. Thomas and Mrs. C. L. Henley.

A brother, W. B. Jones, lives nine miles south of this city.

Children With Eye Malady May Get Treatment

A six-year-old Olton girl, who has almost entirely lost her sight, will undergo examination by eye specialists in Lubbock in an effort to diagnosis a malady which, in its early stages, is also affecting the eyes of a brother and sister.

The examination is another project of the Olton Lions Club Sight Conservation Committee, which has already bought several pairs of glasses for needy children in the Olton community this year.

A report on the child and her brother and sister was made at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Lions club last week in the Methodist church by Lion Boss Howard Buchenau and Supt. J. T. Jones.

Possibilities of treatment and aid for the three children will be determined following the examination, it was said.

Queen Contest

Lions also made initial plans for a Lions Queen contest to determine an Olton entry in a district contest in Hereford.

Basil Sherman and Orin Brewer were appointed to work out details of the contest, expected to be held in conjunction with the Lions club minstrel.

It was suggested that local merchants be asked to sponsor one entry each in the contest. Announcement of details is anticipated next week.

Among several guests present at the meeting were Marshall Stone, Elbert Hicks, Paul Burch and Norris Sampler.

Insects, unusual winds or any of numerous other unfavorable factors should prevail during 1951, many farmers on the South Plains won't have enough seed with a strong probability that they won't be able to get any.

Clapp, therefore, advised dealers, farmers and others with planting seed to hold onto it—or, if they feel they have a safe surplus, to sell it to someone on the South Plains.

Otherwise, he said, the area's cotton crop may fall far short of hopes and expectations simply because there will be no seed for planting or replanting.

Olton Seed Supplies Woefully Short South Plains Record Crop Planting

Seed shortages have been experienced in Lamb County and other areas of the South Plains by cotton farmers as to whether enough seed will be available for the planting planned.

Prices are far below the safety margin according to a report by Clapp after a survey in the area above the Caprock.

But reports were that some farmers have sold planting seed at high prices—which are expected to go higher—in the belief that they will be able to replenish supplies at lower cost.

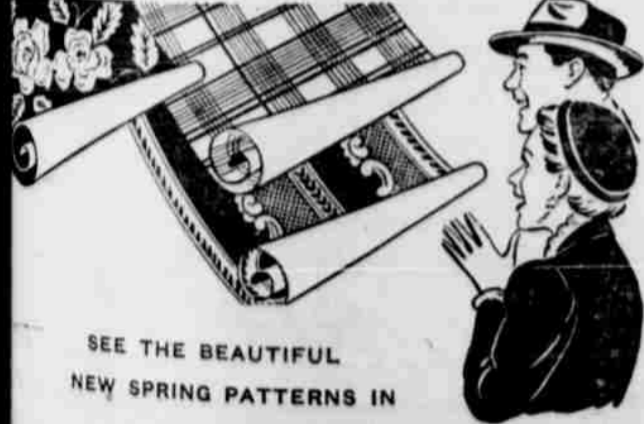

Some of these farmers may discover at planting time that they cannot obtain seed at any cost.

BELOW SAFETY MARGIN

Clapp's survey indicated that enough seed is on hand for one planting of about 2 3/4 times as many acres as the estimated 3,500,000 acres set aside for cotton above the Caprock this year. For safety, he added, about 3 1/2 times as much seed for the prospective acreage should be available.

This large safety margin is desirable, he explained, because most farmers have to replant in order to get their crop off to a good start. Five or six replantings are not unusual, due to washouts, blowouts and other reasons. The long-range average for the South Plains as a whole has been about two replantings.

HOLD ON TO SEED—But during exceptional years, which are frequent, the replanting averages rises—often substantially. If drouth, excessive moisture,

Many Sharp Eyes Keep Watch Over President

BY TEX EASLEY
(AP Special Washington Service)

Washington, (AP)—President Truman hasn't any official taster like the kings of old, but when he dines out you may be sure there are plenty of precautions.

Take, for instance, the dinner given by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham in honor of Texas members of Congress and their wives, at which President and Mrs. Truman were guests. It was held at the Carlton hotel, about six blocks from Blair House, where the Presidential family is living while the White House is being rebuilt.

The guests, in evening dress, were asked to be on hand at 7 P. M. It's customary at such affairs for everyone to be seated before the President appears. Apparently anticipating the evening with real pleasure—as contrasted with many affairs the must attend in line of duty, the President and Mrs. Truman arrived at the Texas party about 7:15 p. m., 15 minutes earlier than scheduled. But all was in readiness for them.

Few Guards Apparent

The big black Presidential limousine carrying the Chief Executive and Mrs. Truman was trailed by another sedan, carrying Secret Service Men, Other Secret Service Men were already at the hotel.

Few persons knew of the President's plans that evening, so there were no curious individuals standing around as he entered the hotel.

All the while the dinner was in progress, a half dozen Secret Service men sat quietly and unobtrusively in the hotel lobby. Persons passing through the hotel lobby during that time little suspected they were being carefully scrutinized by these alert well armed gentlemen.

As for the precautions about the food served to the president, the man in charge of such things at the Carlton said all cooks and waiters having anything to do with the dinner were carefully checked by the FBI.

"Most of them have been with us for five or six years," he added. "The FBI knows all about them, and if they have any doubts as to their loyalty, they don't work this particular assignment."

Many in Plain Clothes

Furthermore, he added, plain-clothesmen stand in out of the way places in the kitchen and around the back doors to keep an eye on things.

It is at such small, private gatherings that one gets a real insight into the character of individuals who are known to millions only through the headlines.

This was brought out by Rep. Walter Rogers of Tampa, the one new member of the Texas Delegation in Congress.

"You know," he remarked later, "you find out that there really isn't a whole lot of difference in people."

"The very biggest people in our government were there, the President and the next two in line of succession, and the chief justice yet, when you talk with them across the table you find they are at heart just plain Americans, like the man next door or down the street from you."

Around The Capital

Air Force Col. Hightower Smith, recently transferred to the pentagon from San Antonio, ran into a lot of old friends on Capital Hill.

Among them was Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio, who recalled that he had encountered Smith in front of the Capital just after Pearl Harbor and that he had had the pilot with him on the house floor when Congress declared war on Germany.

The officer, just recently promoted to a full Colonel, was privileged to go on the house floor because he had once served here as a page while studying law. Rep. Homer Thornberry and Smith, who calls both San Antonio and Fort Worth home, were classmates at the University of Texas.

Recent visitors here included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee, formerly of Austin, enroute to Pakistan. Formerly on the staff of the American Statesman, Lee now is with the State Department.

What's its Power? FIREBALL!

(Only Buick can make this statement)

BEND an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

Mister, that's Power, with a capital P

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result was—and is—a spectacular engineering phenomenon that makes itself felt the instant you touch toe to gas treadle.

You command a rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornados, letting loose their pent-up power every five inches that a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see the reason. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, contoured like this:

So the inrushing fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the down-stroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill—and thrift—of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More than that, you get an engine tried-and-true—an engine that's been polished and perfected in every detail up through the years.

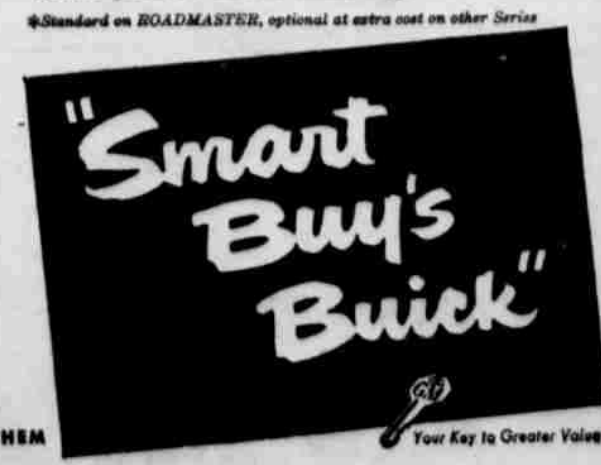

Again and again, compression ratios have been stepped up to keep pace with advances in fuels. Self-setting valve lifters contribute to silence. Micropoise balance and Hi-Poised engine mountings add two more Buick exclusives.

And the silken might of this Fireball's power has been made more beautifully obedient by still another "first"—Dynaflow Drive.*

So we list as a prime reason why "smart buy's Buick" this Fireball power plant—and a host of happy owners will say "Amen."

Better see your dealer soon, to find out what you've been missing.
