

Coal Owners Counting On Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Powerful soft coal operators predicted today that an agreement will be reached with John L. Lewis in time to avert an all-out strike next Tuesday in the bituminous industry.

The operators, who asked to remain anonymous, said the United Mine Workers' chief already has been assured by influential industrialists that his soft coal diggers in Northern and Western pits will get their full 35 cents an hour wage hike demands.

Convict Revolt In Philippines Is Crushed

MANILA, July 2. (AP)—Thirty-two heavily armed escaped convicts last night seized control of Calapan, capital of Mindoro Island, but military police reinforcements restored order late today after a bitter gun fight in which the rebel leader was killed.

Governor Conrado Morente of Mindoro telegraphed Malacanang palace that 10 of the jail breakers had been captured, 19 still were at large and three were killed.

Morente, along with Calapan's mayor, Filomeno Sumaco, the city police chief and congressman Raul Leuterio, were disarmed by the convicts but were not held as hostages as had been reported previously, the telegram said.

Heavy reinforcements military police were flown to Mindoro to put down the coup after a Philippines airline pilot managed to fly to Manila from the embattled capital and reported the uprising.

The convicts had seized all local radio transmitters, cutting off communications from Calapan. The pilot, Flight Capt. Manuel Conde, reported he had been captured by a Lieutenant Romero, former military police officer serving 16 years for rape and who had boasted he controlled the town.

Romero and about 45 men broke out of the prison stockade, Romero then forced the town's police and one platoon of military police to disarm and rounded them up in a stockade the prisoners had just occupied.

Radio operators at the airfield and aboard ships anchored in Calapan harbor were seized simultaneously, blocking out all communication with the outside world. Conde said Romero was killed with a bullet in the head during a bitter battle with military police at the airport.

Mrs. Adams, Son, Injured In Crash

Mrs. Doris Adams suffered a back injury and her three-year-old son, Joe Edward, received a broken leg in an automobile-truck collision at East 14th and Owens streets Tuesday afternoon, Big Spring police reported.

Investigating officers said a car driven by Mrs. Adams was involved in a crash with a gravel truck driven by Dalton Alton at about 4:45 p. m.

The automobile was damaged extensively, officers said.

Mrs. Adams and the boy were carried to the Big Spring hospital for treatment.

Deposits dropped off substantially over the same period a year ago, the combined statements of Big Spring banks showed today in response to the call from the comptroller of currency as to condition of banks at the close of business June 30.

The decline in deposits was $1,388,746, but approximately $380,000 of this drop was due to the calling of government war loan funds on deposit with local banks. Less than $60,000 in this account now remains on deposit with the two Big Spring banks.

Loans and discounts gained by $1,277,000, according to statements and cash was off by $1,339,000, but total resources declined by only $711,000.

Banks continued in strong position with bond resources in excess of $6,000,000 in addition to cash accounts.

Cotton producers and acceptance notes were down to a bare minimum with both banks reporting less than $10,000 in these funds. The government has called in all its paper in the cotton accounts.

By banks the statement showed: State National—Loans and discounts, $1,556,819.22; deposits $6,451,837.97; cash $2,214,550.32; total resources, $6,864,627.64; U. S. bonds, $2,327,700; other bonds, $758,100.

First National—Loans and discounts $2,374,900.93; deposits $6, his soft coal diggers in Northern and Western pits will get their full 35 cents an hour wage hike demands.

The concessions were made at a secret meeting last Thursday attended by Lewis, President Benjamin F. Fairless of the U. S. Steel corporation, Chairman George M. Humphrey of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, and other northern producers.

The industry spokesmen who confirmed this meeting said Western operators agreed to the wage pledge.

This left Southern mines—which produce about 25 per cent of the nation's soft coal—faced with the prospect of capitulating on the same terms or seeing their pits closed when the miners' 10-day vacation ends next Tuesday.

The Southerners had insisted on separate bargaining conferences. Side issues—chief among them Lewis' demand for a 10 instead of a five cent a ton royalty for his union welfare and retirement fund—were said to be the only barrier to a formal North-West settlement.

One group of Northern producers met with Lewis and his negotiating committee yesterday. The industry representatives came away solemn and slow to comment. But Lewis, who talked with his UMW officials for nearly a half-hour in a corner of the lobby of the hotel where the industrialists gathered, seemed happy and confident.

With no contract yet signed, however, both Sen. Taft (Ohio) and Rep. Hartley (N.J.), Republican authors of the new labor act, called last night for President Truman to invoke the provisions of that law.

Court Reviewing Property Values

Howard County Commissioners Court was to go into session during the afternoon as a board of equalization to review values on properties outside the industrial and petroleum fields.

Members of the court were in Abilene Tuesday inspecting machinery.

After the current session, the board will announce a date for public hearing by the board of equalization.

City Jail Receives New Grey Paint Job

The city jail is getting a new coat of paint this week, and at the same time other minor improvements are being made. W. D. Green, acting chief of police, said.

The painters are expected to finish putting a new gray finish on the interior within the next day or two.

Two Men Killed In Highway Mishap

AMARILLO, July 2. (AP)—Two Canyon men were killed early today in a highway accident about four miles north of Canyon.

Garland Austin Langford, 26 and O. A. Baker, 40, were killed. Highway patrolmen said the bodies were found about 50 yards apart on the highway, near their parked car. Patrolmen said the men apparently had been standing beside their car when struck.

efforts of Democratic administration leaders in Washington to defeat him.

The senate, with the Texan's permission, set the Dooley case aside for another matter with the understanding that O'Daniel would regain the floor when today's session starts.

O'Daniel said a favorable vote for Dooley would be used by his opponents against him in case "I run for reelection." And added, "They will say: 'He was just a weak sister up there. He had no power or influence. He is ineffective.'"

O'Daniel said these other reasons revolve around his own political career and what he called

Election Called On HCJC Tax Increase

An election, seeking authority for the county-wide district to levy a tax rate not to exceed 50 cents on the $100 valuation, has been called for July 26 by the trustees of Howard county junior college.

The college has operated on a 20 cent maximum rate since its creation in November of 1945. During the past session of the legislature, a bill was enacted lifting the maximum rate to 50 cents in cases where approved by pre-qualified voters of the district.

Some 400 names were on petitions submitted to the board, asking for the election, but the call was made on the basis of 285 of the total number of signers.

General election judges will be named for the vote, set for the fourth Saturday in July. Whether the full rate would be levied is problematical, although members of the board indicated that this might not be necessary.

Two petitions were circulated at the board made a study of rising costs in maintenance and staff and in the face of needs for expanding the curriculum. County values are used by the district as a base of taxation.

Pennsylvania Crude Oil Prices Boosted

PITTSBURGH, July 2. (AP)—Keen competition for scarce supplies of oil today brought rapid-fire price changes in Pennsylvania grade crude oil produced in southwestern Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio.

Close on the heels of a 15 cents a barrel price hike on four grades announced by the Waverly Oil Works Co. the South Penn Oil Co. jumped its price on three of the grades 25 cents per barrel.

Waverly in turn announced an additional 10 cents boost to meet South Penn's 25 cent figure. The increases raise the prices paid by the companies for oil to $4.09 per barrel for southwest and Eureka grades, Pennsylvania grade crude and $4.05 for Buckeye. Waverly also is paying $3.75 per barrel for Zanaville oil, but South Penn offers no quotation on that grade.

Spokesmen for both companies attributed the mounting oil prices to scarcity of supply. The 25 cent boost is similar to that announced yesterday for Pennsylvania grade crude from northwestern Pennsylvania oil fields.

BANK ROBBERY JERUSALEM, July 2. (AP)—Seven men robbed a bank in Haifa today and made a getaway in a black automobile. They were believed to have taken several hundred dollars.

Reds Turn Down Recovery Program

High Water Moves Past St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 2. (AP)—The muddy Mississippi river appeared to have reached its crest here today after smashing four main levees yesterday and routing thousands of persons from their homes in nearby Illinois communities.

The river remained stationary at 40.3, a 103-year high, and Harry F. Wahlgren, U. S. meteorologist, said it was expected to start falling before dark.

While the worst of the flood appeared past for the St. Louis area, the situation southward as far as Cairo, Ill., remained critical. A levee break in Jackson county, Ill., 100 miles south of here, flooded the town of Grand Tower and several unincorporated areas.

Walter Whitehead, county disaster chairman for the Red Cross, estimated 320 families fled their homes in Grand Tower and the surrounding area and said up to 40,000 acres of crops had been lost in the county.

Grand Tower had been virtually isolated yesterday by an upstream levee break which sent floodwaters pouring down an inland valley and closed all but one road leading into the town of 1,000 people.

'Cyclist Events Due To Attract Big Entry List

Top competitors from at least a dozen cities and towns are expected here to enter the July 4 motorcycle races, the Big Spring cycle club reported this morning.

Club officials already have received entries from some of the riders in San Antonio, San Angelo, Odessa, Midland, Abilene, Sweetwater, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lubbock and Fort Worth.

The track, which is located west of the city park entrance has been opened to prevent dust from interfering with the events, and a public address system is being installed.

The price list also is mounting, with some $144 in merchant's prizes already pledged. To these will be added all gate receipts above actual expenses of the show.

Merchants who have contributed to the prize fund include Donald's Drive Inn, Zale's Jewelry, Army Surplus store, Henley Machine shop, The Record Shop, Hester's, Nathan's, Jewelry, Elmo Wasson, A's Cafe, Bob Fuller Motor Co., Ray's Drive Inn, The Army Store, Anderson Music Co., E & R Jewelry, Big Spring Hardware, Tex Hotel, Yellow Cab, Franklin's, Checker Cab, Waits Jewelry, Thomas Typewriter, Lee Hanson, Mellinger's, Mike Moore, Jumbo Drive Inn, Leonard's Pharmacy, Cunningham and Phillips, Z. I. Cox, Crawford Cleaners, Toot and Tellum Drive Inn.

Frau Wagner Draws Term As Hitlerite

BAYREUTH, Germany, July 2. (AP)—Frau Winifred Wagner, daughter-in-law of the musician, Richard Wagner, was sentenced to 450 days of special labor service today following her conviction on charges of actively supporting the Hitler regime.

Stevenson Listed As Senatorial Candidate

DALLAS, July 2. (AP)—The Dallas Morning News said today former Gov. Coke Stevenson has informed close friends that he will run for United States senator next year unless there is a radical change in the political picture. 450

The paper quoted Stevenson's friends as saying "He's running right now."

The story also said Stevenson's "unannounced candidacy" is rapidly becoming an open secret throughout the state with admirers already calling him "senator."

Republicans Map Final Legislation

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Republican leaders approached a decision today on a windup legislative program in which they may try again to cut taxes.

They probably will put off until next year, however, final action on universal military training, federal aid to education and a long-range housing program.

The top question before the Republican lawmakers at a conference today arranged by House Speaker Martin (Mass) and Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the Senate GOP policy committee was whether to attempt to re-pass the vetoed $4,000,000,000 tax reduction bill.

Last minute nose counts apparently left doubt about the Senate's ability to override possible new presidential rejection of a measure to start the proposed income tax cuts January 1 instead of yesterday's effective date in the original bill.

In an apparent bid for the vital Democratic support needed for such a plan, Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the House ways and means committee wrote Senator Byrd (D-Va) promising prompt consideration and early action in January of a community property tax proposal.

Several Democratic senators have taken the stand that they will not vote for the income tax cut unless the bill contains a provision permitting husband and wife to split their income to take advantage of lower tax rates.

A move of this kind, taking an additional $800,000,000 chunk out of revenues, might lay the Republican-sponsored bill open to new charges from the president that it favors the rich, who have sufficient incomes to make the division profitable.

President Taking Three-Day Holiday

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—President Truman has decided to extend his Independence Day visit to Charlottesville, Va., to a three-night stay beginning tomorrow night, the White House announced today. He will return to Washington Sunday instead of Saturday.

The president will leave here by automobile at noon tomorrow and will stay the three nights at the home of Stanley Woodward, chief of the State department's protocol division, about a mile from Charlottesville.

Mr. Truman will speak at 11:30 p. m. (CST) Friday from a specially constructed platform on the west portico of Thomas Jefferson's home "Monticello."

Fourth Jap Witness Commits Hara-Kiri

GUAM, July 2. (AP)—A Japanese witness committed suicide early today rather than testify against 19 compatriots charged with the bacteria and torture murders of 10 American prisoners of war on Truk atoll.

It was the third suicide among Japanese involved in the trial and the second in four days.

Paris Parley Is Concluded As A Failure

Marshall Plan Cannot Help, Says Molotov

PARIS, July 2. (AP)—The three-power foreign ministers' conference on the Marshall proposal ended in failure today when the Russians refused to agree to join in a cooperative international effort for European economic recovery.

Before the conference was terminated Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared that British-French proposals relating to U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's suggestions would lead to a division of Europe. He also predicted the proposals would "lead to no good results."

The British-French suggestions had dealt with organizing the continent for mutual self help with financial aid from the United States, as suggested by Secretary of State George C. Marshall in a speech at Harvard university June 5.

A high Soviet official said today's session ended the conference. "It is finished," French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told French newspapermen as he walked out of the foreign ministry.

Failure of the conference raised the immediate prospect of British-French attempts to initiate the Marshall program without Russian help.

An official British source predicted earlier that Britain and France soon would invite other European countries to participate in a program of over-all economic planning to help restore the continent's war-shattered economy.

Molotov, opening today's session, made a five-page statement criticizing the British-French proposals as a threat to the economic independence and sovereignty of the small European nations.

"Under these conditions," Molotov said of the proposals, "how would the small countries and in general the less powerful states be able to safeguard their national economies and their independence?"

"The Soviet government considers that the Anglo-French plan to set up a special organization for the coordination of the economies of European states would lead to interference in the internal affairs of European countries."

"The Soviet government rejects this plan as being altogether unsatisfactory and incapable of yielding any positive results."

No Charges Filed In Highway Death

Investigation continued Wednesday into the death of Nettie L. Griffith, Lamesa, on the Lamesa highway north of here Saturday night.

No charges had been filed in the case on noon Wednesday, and there were no immediate indications that action would be taken during the afternoon.

Sheriff Bob Wolf said that accounts of other witnesses indicated that the woman had been struck by a car after she had got out of the car in which she was riding with two Lamesa men and a Big Spring woman.

Gulf To Increase Price Of Gasoline

HOUSTON, July 2. (AP)—Gulf Refining company will advance tank wagon prices on all grades of gasoline one-half cent a gallon, effective Thursday morning, the Houston Chronicle reported today.

The Chronicle said the hike would apply to aviation gasoline and would be effective throughout the Texas area east of the Pecos river.

The action would boost premium grade gasoline to 23½ cents and standard grade to 21½ cents a gallon in the Houston area.

New tank wagon prices, the Chronicle said, will be 13 cents for premium, 11 cents standard and 10 cents third grade.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You

No. 14 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chiropractic

WHAT WILL CHIROPRACTIC DO FOR NERVOUSNESS? The brain is like any other organ in the body. It is dependent for normal function upon the proper supply of mental impulses to it. Tiny fibers convey these impulses from one part of the brain to the other. They pass out from the spinal cord and turn back into the cranial cavity, and are known as recurrent fibers. If anything happens to prevent these fibers from carrying the proper quantity and quality of vital energy, then the tissues which they supply become abnormal in their function. Such a condition often exists as a result of slight displacement of the small bones which form the spinal column. When the vertebrae are adjusted to their normal position and the pressure upon the nerve fibers is relieved, the cause of nervousness has been taken away. The reason that Chiropractic is of inestimable value in cases of nervousness is that the effects are lasting, and the effects are lasting because the cause of the condition has been eliminated.

CASE HISTORY No. 988. A child of nine suffering from Encephalitis—a disease of the brain—and pronounced incurable. The child's breathing had become abnormal; she had spasms resembling epilepsy; she was extremely nervous. She was placed in hospital but discharged six months later in even worse condition. Believing that "where there's life, there's hope", the mother tried every specialist recommended to her, but without benefit to the child. Eventually she was talked into trying Chiropractic. Spinal analysis revealed a severe nerve pressure at the base of the child's skull, and adjustments were given to remove it. Within two weeks she began to improve and continued improving. Three months later she was discharged as well.

CASE HISTORY No. 117. A typical case of neuritis. After carrier with severe pains in the right shoulder and arm. The pain was so intense he was unable to sleep, had to quit work and was continually seeking relief with medicine and treatment. A fellow carrier persuaded him to give Chiropractic a chance, and after his first spinal adjustment he was able to sleep for the first time in weeks. At the end of 15 days he was back at work and able to move his arm in every direction without pain.

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

Never saw quite so much activity in the old town as there is of late. If travel adds polish, as it is said, then Big Spring should fast become the exponent of gleam. And they who stay home certainly do not 'stay home'.

Wesley Yater is in Sweetwater this week with a Texas Electric crew. Lynn Martin tells us he will spend the weekend in Corsicana and other cities down that way. Babs and Judy Douglas are taking in the Stamford rodeo, July 4. They have spent the past week in Albany, but will be home after the Fourth.

Billy Bates, attending summer courses at Hardin-Simmons, will be home Thursday for the weekend. She has planned a slumber party Thursday evening for her old friends. Grady Kelly, working in Ballinger, left Sunday after a three-day stay here. Joe Rober Boadie departed this morning to loaf in California about a week.

Found Anita and Adrian Cates in the Douglas coffee shop early Tuesday morning for breakfast. Seems they found interesting the muscled person of Sailor Watkins, he of the wrestling business. Inside info: Stella Stewart and Arnold Fields will be married this evening.

Congratulations to Gil Barnett. The boy called home Monday to say that he was no longer a 'private' but was a corporal! Ikey Davidson got in Monday from about a month's chasing about over Colorado, Nebraska and other states in that section of the country. Lois Reagan is back from a vacation to New York City.

Mail for all: Lynelle Sullivan, vacationing on a ranch near Dimmitt, writes that she is learning to pilot a tractor. Lex James, after a month's residence in Mountain Home, Ark., pens that he had been working in a drug store, but now found so much diversion otherwise that he loafs instead.

Visits And Visitors

Mrs. Todd Crain of San Angelo is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Nall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Nesbitt spent last weekend in Sweetwater and will be in Monahans for the holiday weekend.

Orange Peels Make Good Fish Bait

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 2. (AP)—State Rep. Irving Horowitz buys his fish bait in fruit stores. A year ago he jokingly told a nephew to put a chunk of orange peel on his hook. The nephew did and caught two fish. Horowitz says he now carries half a dozen oranges for refreshment and bait when he goes fishing, and rarely comes home empty handed. In Louisiana's sugar country, the humidity usually is higher than at any other point in the United States.

Federal, State Curbs Make Things Tough On Texas Labor

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN.—With the enactment of the Taft-Hartley labor bill, labor unions must indeed walk a straight line in Texas. If they don't violate both laws, they're likely to violate one law, or the other law. This results from the fact that while the Federal and Texas laws overlap considerably, each also touches fields not covered by the other.

Here are the places where the two overlap:

Both Texas and Federal laws outlaw the closed shop. The Federal law says that the state law on the subject shall prevail, however, in this particular. One is about as strict as the other. The Texas law makes it definite that union membership shall not be a pre-requisite to being hired to do a job. Among other things, this means there is no threat hanging over a worker to compel him to keep in good standing with his union.

Both Federal and state laws ban the check-off—the deduction of union dues by the employer from an employee's paycheck—except by voluntary permission of the employee. The state law probably goes further, it says the permission must be in writing, and may be terminated without notice by the employee.

The Federal and state laws ban wildcat strikes. A wildcat strike is one in violation of a contract. Both laws make the union liable in damage for violating a contract. The Federal law outlaws a strike in one plant by a union to gain recognition, when another union already is recognized as the bargaining agent for that plant. The state law barring any kind of a jurisdic-ditional strike covers much the same ground.

Both laws forbid secondary boycotts—the boycotting of a struck firm by a union not a party to the strike. The Texas law probably goes further by barring secondary strikes as well as boycotts.

Both Federal and state laws forbid strikes by government workers—the state law covering the state and all governmental subdivisions below the state. These are substantially the points of agreement.

The most far-reaching provision of the Federal law is that which permits postponing an industry-wide strike—one affecting "national health and safety"—for as much as 140 days. Texas law has no exact parallel; but some attorneys say the full effect of the Texas law making unions subject to anti-trust laws is not yet known; that it could ban an industry-wide strike which is "in restraint of trade," and thus accomplish the same objective by a different route.

There is no state parallel for the far-reaching ban against contributions to political campaigns—interpreted as even preventing a labor newspaper from listing a preferred candidate for an office.

Moreover, much of the Federal law is concerned with amendments to the National Labor Relations act, not touched by Texas statutes. It sets up an arbitration procedure—Governor Jester pleaded unsuccessfully for a state legislative enactment along that line.

On the other hand, the Federal law does not offer a parallel for the Texas law which rigidly restricts picketing; and which in effect prevents strikes (picketing or other interference) with public utilities excepting telephones.

A major point of difference is that the new Federal law does NOT touch railroad unions. Since they are covered by a prior act, they were exempted from the Taft-Hartley bill. On the contrary, the Texas legislature repulsed every effort to exempt the railroad brotherhoods.

However, as a result of the Federal exemption, railroad brotherhoods likely are exempt from all of the state laws—since most of the brotherhoods would be considered operating in interstate commerce and therefore subject only to the Federal restrictions.

White Collared, Railroad Fireman

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—Forty-eight years ago, Charles E. Onderdonk stepped aboard a New York Central railroad train and began shoveling coal into the engine. He was wearing a crisply laundered white shirt and white collar.

Recently, he ended his railroad career at the age of 69, still wearing a white shirt and collar. His fellow workers said he was the only railroad worker they knew who worked as fireman, steam engineer and electric engineer and reported to work each day in a clean white shirt.

U. S. Falling Down On Job—

Joe Stalin Is Now Big Shot Of Hungarian Show Business

BUDAPEST, July 1.—Shades of capitalistic Broadway! The big shot of Hungarian show business today is Joseph Stalin.

Over the "Coney Island" of Budapest flies a red flag with hammer and sickle. Every kid who rides the merry-go-round pays a copper toward curing the financial ills of the Soviet Union.

The leading club for Russian army officers in this city has been reconverted into a night spot for natives and tourists. The "palace" that's the Hungarian word for suckers—are trimmed two dollars per cocktail.

In the distant Kremlin, life may continue at an austere pace for the politburo, but it controls 200 companies in Hungary ranging from coal mines to an amusement park, and revenues are getting fatter these days.

The 200 companies formerly contained German capital and were worth upwards of $50,000,000. Thanks to the allied agreement at Potsdam in 1945, the German capital became sovietized overnight.

Battle-weary Russians, who had fought from Stalingrad to the Budapest corso, shucked off their uniforms, donned wrinkled civilian suits and turned to profit-making for the financial glory of the Soviet of Horation Alger in his first job.

They are shock troops of communist commerce in this 30th year since the Bolshevik revolution. Typical is stocky, gold-toothed, bespectacled captain Alexander Yezizlov, late of Leningrad. His muscular hand rules the fortunes of Angol park—8,000 square meters of Coney-Island gadgets in the heart of Budapest.

"Angol," in Hungarian, means English. The amusement park was established a generation ago by three German brothers, one of whom emigrated to England. The latter's son and heir, Captain Stanley Meinhardt of Coventry and London, retains a 50 per cent share of the company, but the remainder is completely Russian.

An 81-year-old Hungarian friend, Kalman Kovacs, represents the Englishman. He sits at a tiny table in one corner of Captain Yezizlov's big office and just listens. Kovacs and Captain Yezizlov cannot speak a common language. But it is not necessary at Angol park. What the captain says, goes.

Over the entrance to an electric-scooter track, a red banner proclaims: "long live Soviet-Magyar Friendship." The captain considers this good business and may order more.

On seven different occasions, he drummed on the desk of the Budapest radio director to demand free advertising.

"It's for the little people—the workers," he argued. "We want to make them happy cheap." Each time the director hastily made an insert in the day's script.

The captain leased the Russian officers' club to a Hungarian entrepreneur for $500 a month and may up the ante, since it is now well in the black. Its waiters now add more extras to your bill in fewer minutes than the craftiest bistro proprietor on Broadway.

Captain Yezizlov believes in the old capitalistic principle of plowing back earnings into the business in the expectation of greater future profits.

He took over Angol park when it was a shambles with 70 bomb craters. He made it spic and span with fresh paint and repaired machines. When he needed a short-term loan, he got it from an all-Soviet bank here.

For the equivalent of $20,000 he restored an elegant gondola-ride called "Venice," installing colored water fountains and scenery painted by the best stage artists of the Hungarian opera.

He refused, however, to follow tradition in giving away thousands of free admission tickets to the park. But he cut the price from 10 to 5 cents and is preparing a children's musical garden where small tots can be left gratis while their parents go off to ride the roller coaster.

Old-line concessionaires brood over the fact that a Russian communist dictates their destinies. But a good Sunday, when the park overflowed with 50,000 visitors, raises their spirits.

They admit that Captain Yezizlov works harder than any of his 250 employees and is incorruptible. He has only a two-year contract with the Soviet trust for duty in Budapest, but the Hungarians are sure that the captain or other Russians like him will be managing Angol park for a long, long time.

Govt. Broadcast Fund Remains Question Mark

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Government's "Voice of America" began a new broadcast year Tuesday with congress yet to decide how much money to allot for the shortwave programs beamed to Russia and other foreign lands.

Senate approval of a curtailed appropriation completed congressional clearance for the state department's cultural and information service, although separate bills still must be compromised.

Supporters, meanwhile, served notice they may seek to expand the radio activities.

Senator Smith (R-N.J.) told a reporter that if testimony in hearings beginning tomorrow on the house-approved Mundt bill justifies it, he will ask for more money than the $13,470,000 provided for the information division in a pending state, justice, commerce department appropriation bill.

The senate hoped to complete action on the measure today and send it back to the house which authorized the information program in passing the bill by Rep. Mundt (R-SD), but has yet to vote on making any funds available.

Smith announced that Secretary of State Marshall and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, have been asked to testify on the Mundt measure.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) made it clear that if supporters want more funds for the radio "voice" they will have to repeal the senate's action in limiting personnel funds to $1,137,000 of the $11,970,000 made available for the shortwave operations.

Tidal Leases May Be Made Permanent

AUSTIN, July 2.—The state school land board today took the first step toward future permanent leasing of submerged school lands.

A bitterly-contested bill passed by the 50th legislature and signed by the governor allows oil companies now holding 25-year leases in submerged lands off the Texas coast to extend the leases on a permanent basis.

Bascom Giles, commissioner of the general land office and member of the school land board, indicated that extension of many of those leases might be accomplished at a school land auction tentatively scheduled for Nov. 4.

Attorney General Price Daniel, a second board member, told Giles and Gov. Beauford H. Jester, the third member, "you may find some companies in a hurry to get permanent leases because of the tidelands case, in the event that the federal government decides to pop it to them."

Daniel was referring to a U. S. supreme court decision which held last week that the federal government holds title to submerged lands off the California coast. Other coastal states anticipate similar suits may be brought against them by the federal government.

Decline Noted In Postal Receipts

Postal receipts continued to show a decline from 1946 figures during June, but the margin of disparity was closing gradually, the report from Postmaster Nat Shiek showed Tuesday.

Total receipts for June amounted to $7,061.74 as compared with $7,297.79 for June of 1946, and $10,606.90 for May 1947.

Aggregate for the first six months was $32,543.35 against $37,298.28 for the same period a year ago, a difference of $4,754.

Maximum Rents Remain Same, Local Director Points Out

Rent provisions of the new housing and rent act, signed by President Truman Monday, continue maximum rents just as they were under the old law, according to Don Seale, director of the rent office at 603 Petroleum building.

"There is no provision in the new act that changes rents automatically," Seale said. "A tenant pays the same rent in July that he did in June, unless there has been an order issued subsequently, or he has voluntarily entered into a lease with the landlord as provided by the Housing and Rent Act of 1947. This act provides that when a landlord and tenant voluntarily enter into a valid written lease on or before December 31, 1947, and expiring on or after December 31, 1948, an increase of up to but not more than 15 per cent of the maximum rent in effect immediately before the effective date of the new lease is permissible.

"Before any rent increase becomes effective under such a new lease," the rent director continued, "a copy of the lease must be filed with the rent office within fifteen days of its signing, together with a simple registration of lease form which landlords can obtain at the rent office. It will be the duty of the rent office to examine the lease carefully to determine whether it is valid. The lease cannot contain any trick termination or penalty clauses. It cannot decrease the essential services, furniture, furnishings and equipment. The rent office will forward copies of the registration of lease form both to the landlord and tenant for their records."

Seale said it is up to the tenant to decide whether he wishes to sign such a lease. If a tenant does not wish to enter into such a lease, refusal does not constitute grounds for eviction.

"There are specific protections against evictions under the new law," Seale said. "In general, the tenant who continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled has no more reason to fear eviction than before. Eviction controls of the act will be enforced by the local courts. Evictions to allow occupancy by others are limited to personal occupancy by the buyer or the landlord himself. Other conditions under which evictions may be made are very specific in the law."

Funds Approved For Navy Bases

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The House armed services committee has approved a bill authorizing $255,000,000 in naval construction work on shore bases, and recommended appropriations of $127,800,000 for the work in the new fiscal year.

The projects include a $34,520,000 guided missile test center at Point Mugu, Calif., and a $27,850,000 aeronautical turbine laboratory at Trenton, N. J.

The only project not approved in a list of 80 submitted to the committee was a Navy request to acquire 518 acres of land adjacent to the naval operating bases at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, for security purposes.

The Navy's new base at Guam was allocated more than $110,000,000 of the total authorized projects, and the sub-committee recommended 1948 fiscal year appropriations of more than $39,000,000 for this purpose.

LIVE AND LET LIVE

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: "The problem of lowering the highway death rate remains one of the nation's most serious problems. It is an appalling fact that 33,500 American citizens were killed in automobile accidents in 1946. I therefore call upon every State and every community in the land to work unceasingly through 1947 to promote highway safety."

"Laws and regulations will be of little avail unless the individual driver holds himself strictly accountable to his own conscience."

That call is to you personally to cooperate as a citizen of the United States in helping reduce highway accidents. It is a shameful record when in one year 33,500 lives are sacrificed; 1,150,000 persons are injured and $750,000,000 in property destroyed, resulting in an economic cost to the nation of $2,000,000,000 because of careless, reckless driving!

It is a national problem, but essentially the solution is in your hands. Drive safely — live and let live!

This is the first of a series of advertisements presented in the public interest by the President's Highway Safety Conference and the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation through their Press and Publisher Associations.

GOP Leader Flays Demos On GI Bond Payment Statements

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece accused the administration today of "double talk" and "hoof-in-mouth technique" on the issue of immediate payment of GI terminal leave bonds.

Reece contended in a statement that Gael Sullivan, executive director of the Democratic National committee, advocated immediate payment of the bonds while Edward F. Bartlett, assistant secretary of the treasury, opposed a bill for their redemption.

Reece added: "Finally, by way of a final touch of chaos, we have the Democrats members of Mr. Truman's own party on the House armed services committee voting for the immediate retirement of these bonds.

Housing Work Is Terminated

The housing expediter's office in Big Spring will terminate its activities effective July 25, according to Jimmie Wilson, Lubbock, expediter for this area.

The closure results from congressional enactment of the recent rent-control measure, which abolishes all housing-construction controls and virtually all controls over non-housing construction, he said.

The office has been in operation since March 26, 1946 under the Veterans' Emergency Housing act of 1946, whose major provisions sought to provide housing for returned servicemen.

A prime undertaking of the office, Wilson explained, had been to offer assistance to builders striving to produce homes for veterans. Many of the strongest controls of the program were removed in December.

between the two Texas senators so far as I'm concerned.

"I have gotten along without patronage for six years. I can get re-elected without patronage. I have four times x x x"

"This appointment of Dooley is just a diabolical plot of the New Deal gang to try to purge me."

O'Daniel's argument against Dooley took the form of a general attack against the federal judiciary during much of the speech.

He said, "If more attention were paid to the appointment of federal judges, this nation would not be in the deplorable condition that it is in as far as the judiciary is concerned."

The federal court structure has "sunk to a low level" through the appointments that had been made since the Democrats got control of the White House in 1932, he said.

The Texas referred to President Roosevelt's Supreme court enlargement proposal and said that in connection with the men then president had tried to "purge" several senators.

Of the Dooley nomination, he said, "this is a continuation of a policy to purge a United States Senate that will not go along with all the policies of the administration."

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass) attempted to get O'Daniel to elaborate on his reason for calling Dooley "personally obnoxious," but the Texas said he did not think he was called upon to discuss that in detail. O'Daniel had said during committee hearings that he had never met Dooley until they faced each other there in the committee room.

Other officers recognized by Douglass Orme, installing officer, were Justin Holmes, first vice-president; Charles Stages, second vice-president; Dr. H. M. Jarrett, third vice-president; George Zachariah, secretary; and L. D. Chrane, sergeant-at-arms. Inducted into the Board of Governors were V. A. Whittington, Horace Garret, Merrill Creighton and B. E. McKinney.

As guest speaker for the meeting, Dave Duncan discussed "communism and its Challenge to the American Way of Life."

Communism is born of revolution," Duncan told, "and civic clubs can help prevent the germs of that form of government by upholding such principles as freedom of religion and of speech and support of the military."

Neil Norred was announced as delegate to the American Business club national meeting in Dayton, Ohio, in mid-July.

Meeting of the new Board of Governors was called for Monday at 7:30 p. m. at office of outgoing president, Ray Griffin. Members of the XYZ Auxiliary were present at the installation dinner as special guests of the club.

WMU Field Worker Speaks In Vincent

VINCENT, July 2.—A review of the book, "The Way of Missionary Education" was presented by Blanche Thompson, WMU field worker, at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Vincent Baptist church Monday afternoon.

The meeting was opened with the song, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Mrs. C. O. Watts led in prayer. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Ame Flocker.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Alfred Cate.

Secret pals were revealed and refreshments served to those present.

Others attending were Mrs. Buddy Barr, Mrs. Willis R. Winters, Mrs. Ed Carpenter, Mrs. Binie White, Mrs. Jim Hodnett, Mrs. Bud Brannon, Mrs. J. C. Shenherd, Mrs. J. L. McNeil, Mrs. B. O. Brower, Mrs. Herman Nunn, Mrs. Willis Winters, Sr. and Mrs. Frank Whitaker.

Daughter Born To Berlie Fallons

Announcement has been made here of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Berlie Fallon in Lubbock Tuesday morning. The baby, weighing seven pounds and nine ounces at birth, has been named Judy Annette. Mrs. Viola Bailey, Big Spring, is the maternal grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fallon, Big Spring, are the paternal grandparents. Fallon is completing work on his masters degree at Texas Tech.

Clinkscales Installed As ABC President

C. Y. Clinkscales was installed as president of the American Business club for the current six months' term Tuesday evening at an installation dinner-meeting at the Howard County Junior college.

Other officers recognized by Douglass Orme, installing officer, were Justin Holmes, first vice-president; Charles Stages, second vice-president; Dr. H. M. Jarrett, third vice-president; George Zachariah, secretary; and L. D. Chrane, sergeant-at-arms. Inducted into the Board of Governors were V. A. Whittington, Horace Garret, Merrill Creighton and B. E. McKinney.

As guest speaker for the meeting, Dave Duncan discussed "communism and its Challenge to the American Way of Life."

Communism is born of revolution," Duncan told, "and civic clubs can help prevent the germs of that form of government by upholding such principles as freedom of religion and of speech and support of the military."

Neil Norred was announced as delegate to the American Business club national meeting in Dayton, Ohio, in mid-July.

Meeting of the new Board of Governors was called for Monday at 7:30 p. m. at office of outgoing president, Ray Griffin. Members of the XYZ Auxiliary were present at the installation dinner as special guests of the club.

Legislature Is Praised By Governor

AUSTIN, July 2 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester, with "pride and satisfaction," told Texans last night in a radio address that the 50th legislature had provided for them more adequately than ever before in history.

"I can tell you that during the next two years, the state of Texas will provide more adequately for the protection, for the comfort, for the intellectual and cultural advancement, and for the general well being of its people than during any other period in the hundred years of history of the commonwealth," Jester declared.

In 15 minutes the governor reviewed briefly what the legislature did and did not do.

He noted the expanded health program by which the state can expect 150 to 200 more hospitals an expanded welfare program, a state university for negroes, the redistricting plan, history's largest equalization aid bill, stamping out of the threat of foot-and-mouth disease, the uniform traffic code and numerous other items as outstanding accomplishments of the 50th session.

"All these things—and many, many more which I do not have time to describe—were done without the imposition of new taxes—a fact which is very gratifying to me and I am sure is pleasing to all of our people," Jester related.

The governor recalled two specific disagreements between himself and the legislature: one on the method of financing better teacher salaries and the other on the matter of labor legislation.

He had advocated appropriation on the basis of need to aid payment of more adequate teacher salaries, rather than the legislative adopted $55 per capita plan.

Red Star Says Anti-Russian Group Urges Big U. S. Army

MOSCOW, July 2. (AP)—Lt. Col. B. Glebov, writing in the Soviet army newspaper Red Star, said today that "very many influential persons in the United States" who were not interested in the defeat of Germany in the war now were "advocating military measures of enormous scale."

Glebov accused Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins of exaggerating in his comparative estimate of U. S. and Russian military strength at the national convention of the reserve officers association. (Collins spoke in Miami, Fla., June 19.)

Collins, whom Glebov identified as chief of the information section of the U. S. Army, declared, the writer said, that the American army now had only 10 divisions. (Collins said the Russian army had 200.)

"According to official American figures," Glebov went on, "the number of ground forces of the U. S. A. exceeds half a million men. Then what is the number of men in these divisions?"

He said it was no accident that Collins hadn't mentioned the U. S. navy, because this was stronger than "all the fleets of the rest of the capitalistic world."

"At present there isn't another state in the world which will spend so much effort and means on maintaining armed forces, on the creation of new kinds of arms and for other items in the military budget," Glebov wrote.

"Collins cannot fail to know the Soviet Union is a sincere and consistent supporter of arms curtailment. The military budget of the U. S. S. R. represents only 18 per cent of the whole."

"Millions of American soldiers," the commentator added, "preserved their lives only because the best forces of the German army and the overwhelming majority of German fighting means were exterminated in bitter battles on the Soviet-German front."

He said the general might have told his listeners about "very many influential persons in the United States who were not interested in the defeat of German imperialism and German fascism" and "braked in every way the development of military potential," but who now were advocating military measures.

Texas Peanut Farmers Face Acreage Cut

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Texas peanut farmers face the prospect of a sharp cut in acreage in 1948, Rep. Burlison (D-Tex.) said Tuesday.

After several conferences with Secretary Anderson and other Agriculture department officials, Burlison, who represents a large peanut growing area around Comanche county in West Texas, told a reporter:

"Personally, I am opposed to any restrictions on peanut production."

"Acreage allotments apparently are coming back for the first time since 1941. However, so in my talks at the agriculture department I have strongly urged that the basis to be used in determining quotas give proper and just recognition to those states where farmers greatly increased production to meet war needs."

He pointed out that in 1941 Texas had an allotment of 246,363 acres, while during the five war years of 1942 through 1945, when quotas were lifted, the average annual production was 809,000 acres.

There were 767,000 Texas acres in peanut production in 1946. He said, and the peak year was 1943, when 906,000 acres were devoted to the crop.

"It is my view," continued Burlison, "that a formula which stresses the 1941 quotas too heavily would be highly unfair to those states where farmers cooperated wholeheartedly in the war effort and greatly increased their acreages."

Husband Is Double Murder Suspect

BOSTON, July 2. (AP)—An attractive Brookline nurse and a Dorchester mother were stabbed to death early today in dwellings a half-mile apart and within an hour. Police Lt. Robert Bowes reported the husband of one had been taken into custody.

The victims were identified by Bowes as Helen Kiminski, 33, of Brookline, and Mrs. Hollis C. Tupper, 35, of the Dorchester district. She is the mother of a 10-year-old daughter. Bowes said Tupper was picked up in a lunch cart near the scene of the slayings. He was booked on a charge of suspicion of murder. Miss Kiminski, described by police as the daughter of a well-to-do North Brookfield dairy farmer, was found dead in the home of Tupper's crippled mother, Mrs. Charles Tupper, in the Dorchester district.

The body of Tupper's wife, from whom Bowes said he had been estranged, was found in her apartment.

Hard Work Lies Behind World Air Speed Mark

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—The cost of setting world speed records is high, but the winner feels well repaid by the prestige he receives and the lessons he learns.

There is no plaque or trophy, not even a "little brown jug"—just a line in the book of international flying records. But governments spend heavily to get their names on such a line, chiefly because prestige pays off in the development of aviation industry and trade.

The United States waited 24 years to bring the record home. The effort, made successfully on June 19 with a modified P-80 Shooting Star, must have cost no less than $1,000,000.

Plane Maker Shares Cost
Lockheed Aircraft Corp., designer and builder of the P-80, shared the cost of preparing the plane which boosted the world mark to 623.8 miles an hour, however. The company is understood speed record runs must be made, there always are problems that hide until the plane gets into the air.

Proving in flight that a plane can outspeed any other aircraft in the world is evidence of a nation's design ability. That, in turn is reflected in the interest of other countries in purchasing planes.

The United States has not shown any intention of selling jet fighters to foreign buyers, but England has supplied them to a number of countries, which undoubtedly were influenced by the acknowledged speed superiority of its jet planes.

In the case of the recent speed run, the benefit may be traced more directly than usual because Lockheed was able to convince the Army Air Forces that the racing design should be developed into a reconnaissance plane. The modified P-80 is considerably faster than a standard model.

While the contestants for the record are national governments, the keepers of the book are private individuals working through the International Aeronautics Federation, the world body of sporting aviation, which in this country is represented by the National Aeronautic Association.

2. Speed means superiority in military flying, and that increases a flier's prospects for survival. It gives the fighter an edge in combat, and, just as in transports, it increases efficiency of bomber operations.

3. Speed runs with their carefully controlled measurements are a highly refined phase of flight testing. As such, they contribute specific data on mechanics, structure, instruments, control and the human factors.

Wind Tunnels Come First
But why not make those tests in a wind tunnel?

They are made in wind tunnels many times before the plane flies. Every conceivable situation in flight is presented in the tunnel tests, but sad experience has shown that such synthetic flying does not give the final answer. No matter how hard the engineers

Big Housing Projects Steal Spotlight From Skyscrapers

NEW YORK—Large scale housing projects have elbowed out the skyscraper in construction activity in New York City.

With the completion soon of the 15th unit of Rockefeller Center, the only tower building known to remain on the drawing boards in this city of skyscrapers will be the United Nations' headquarters.

Offsetting that standstill are 27 multi-block apartment developments now taking shape in the four major boroughs of the city to provide rental urban dwellings for 46,326 families.

On the basis of the census average per family, this means new homes for 159,600 persons—more than 1940 population of such cities as Flint, Mich.; Springfield, Mass.; Salt Lake City, or more than the entire state of Nevada.

Real estate observers contend that this wholesale apartment production, involving many blocks at a time, is materializing into a definite trend. They fear the competition it will offer small property owners and investors. One authority has summed it up as follows:

"The ordinary apartment house, on a 100x100 plot, or small office building, which could be financed by a private owner, will not be able to compete with the multi-block projects of the future—projects creating their own environment, introducing individualized airconditioning, and perhaps—who knows—atomic heat! The big jobs will be able to have all the new advantages science can offer."

Biggest of the current operations are sponsored by life insurance companies seeking permanent investments for their reserve funds. These include Stuyvesant Town, a group of 55 buildings, each 10 to 13 stories high, which have wiped out 18 city blocks on the east side of Manhattan Island north of 14th St. It is one of three developments now being completed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. to house a combined total of more than 12,000 families.

Also in this field, the New York

Life Insurance Co., is building apartments for 3,100 families and the Equitable Life Assurance Society has two developments totaling 2,280 apartments.

Emulating the insurance companies are the mutual savings banks of New York State. They have formed a housing agency in the Savings Bank Trust Co., enabling 57 banks to participate in seven housing projects, four of which are in the city and will provide 3,634 dwelling units.

The savings and loan associations also want to get into the field and a bill to authorize such activity is now pending in Congress.

The greatest number of large scale projects are in the public housing class. These have been undertaken by the New York City Housing Authority with city, state and federal funds. There are 15 of these with an aggregate of 20,771 apartments. They do not include 14 city housing projects previously completed and occupied, accommodating 17,047 families, nor do they include 11 temporary veterans' emergency projects for 10,255 families.

Only two of the current major operations are privately sponsored. One is a $30,000,000 development of 175 acres in the borough of Queens to house 3,800 families in two-story structures scattered over a park-like layout. It has been undertaken by the Gross-Morton Co., builders of more than 8,000 Long Island houses in the past two decades.

Three building organizations have combined to back the second privately sponsored job—a $15,000,000 development of 79 acres to house 1,632 families. This also will be of the two-story garden-group type.

The capital required in construction of this scope is so great that the investor who normally could finance a building costing even up to $1,000,000 is lost among the giant corporations. The result is a growing agitation in New York real estate circles for stock and bond financing under approval of the Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC).

"The question is," said one expert, "how are we going to let the small investor participate now that the old-style realty bond issue and guaranteed mortgage certificates are gone—if not forgotten?"

The "tin" mentioned in the Bible was really a copper alloy known as early as 1800 B. C.

'Most Barbaric' Indians Taking To Civilization

TUCSON, Ariz.—Civilization is infiltrating the almost impassable frontier of Mexico's Seri Indians, frequently the most barbaric, bloodthirsty and primitive tribe in North America.

Much of the fear of these little-known people, who have technically been at war with Mexico for 400 years, is being dispelled by William Neil Smith, 27, University of Arizona student in anthropology, who is now making his fourth trip to the Seris in two years.

Contrary to general belief, Smith says the Seris have no cannibalistic instincts, do not eat their meat raw, are not committing race suicide by killing their children, and are not treacherous and dangerous.

The Seris live on Tiburon Island in the Gulf of California, an 18 by 30 mile tract of naked, waterless mountain rock and desert surrounded by waters made dangerous by tides and storms. When they hunt on the mainland they are separated from the civilization of Sonora by 100 miles of desert which can be crossed only by experienced travelers.

At one time the tribe numbered in excess of 3,000. In 1939 it was believed to be on the verge of extinction when the population shrank to 150. Some claimed they were practicing infanticide. It was said the Seris found life becoming too difficult and dangerous and had decided to wipe themselves out by killing all newly-born children.

Smith, who says he has spent more time with the Seris than any other American, denies this. "It is utter trash," he says. "I have seen a number of Seris babies and the tribe is on the increase. The last time I was there they numbered around 200."

Reports of Seri cannibalism spread around the turn of the century when two San Francisco newspapermen visited Tiburon and upon arrival were killed by the Seris. Some claimed the men were eaten.

"Cannibalism is just as revolting to the Seris as anyone else in North America," says Smith.

Many of the limited number of writers and ethnologists who have visited Tiburon have been harsh in their description of the Seris. Clemens A. Pajeken, who visited the island a number of years ago, wrote "the Seris appear not to grasp that they are human. Like prey-beasts of the wilderness, they go out to slay men and animals, sparing only their own kind."

Other visitors have told of the Indians chasing deer on foot until the animal was exhausted. It would be killed and eaten raw.

"They no longer eat raw meat," Smith maintains.

White Russians Flee Soviets Inside China

SHANGHAI, July 2. (AP)—Penniless, weary and ragged, 200 White Russians from the Kulja district of northwest China's Sinkiang province have reached Shanghai after a 3,000 mile journey—by truck, train, and afoot—which took them nine months.

The refugees were part of a group which had been living near the Soviet frontier. They said Soviet agents had attempted to coerce them into registering as Soviet citizens, but they had refused.

They are descendants of White (Czarist) Russian families which fled from Russia between 1917 and 1923. Some of the original settlers among the group were cossacks who had fought against the Bolsheviks and had sought sanctuary in Sinkiang.

They said other groups of refugees are on their way to Shanghai. These first arrivals said Soviet agents, posing as Mongols, were active in Sinkiang, and that troops in Russian uniform were encamped in the disputed boundary zone between Sinkiang and outer Mongolia.

Outer Mongolia now is supposed to be an independent republic, and very friendly to Russia.

Mustard Egg Sauce To Top Asparagus

Plump-headed asparagus spears have been gracing man's meals for two thousand years. Since it was first discovered by the Romans, growing in the fens of Lincolnshire and along the English sea-coast, asparagus has rated a place of honor among man's favorite foods. The ancient Romans used to dry it, then rehydrate and boil the spears as needed. In parts of Europe, asparagus seeds have been long used as a substitute for coffee. Today's preferred method is to cook for the least possible amount of time to tenderize; then serve under a blanket of pungent mustard egg sauce, made so:

Melt 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine. Add, then blend well—1 1/2 tablespoons flour. Cook until bubbling. Add, and continue cooking, stirring constantly, until thickened—1 cup milk. Add—1 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce 4 teaspoons prepared brown or yellow mustard hard-cooked egg, diced. Mix well. Serve over hot cooked asparagus. Serves 4-6. Yields approximately 1 1/2 cups.

The total weight of the air around the earth is nearly 6 million billion tons.

There'll be lots of fine parties over this Fourth of July weekend. It's always such fun to have the holiday fall thus properly. Fun for everybody—even the cook if things are planned right. Try to have food which can either be cooked ahead or very simply put together at the last minute. Here are dishes which fit both categories:

Fourth of July Hamburgers
1 pound ground beef
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1 egg
8 bacon slices
8 onion slices

Mix together ground beef, minced onion, Worcestershire Sauce, salt, pepper and egg. Shape into small patties. Place bacon slices in a skillet and cook for about five minutes. Remove bacon from fat and allow to drain on absorbent paper. Brown both sides of onion slices in bacon fat. Put meat patties together, sandwich fashion, with sliced onion between. Wrap a bacon slice around each hamburger "sandwich" and fasten with a toothpick. Arrange hamburgers on heat-resistant dish. If you have one of those new glass platters, it's perfect for the purpose because you can serve the dish forth "as is" from the oven. Place in pre-heated broiling oven about three inches from source of heat. Broil for about eight minutes on each side, turning once.

To give a fine, Independence Day touch, make a "Drum Salad" by spreading cream cheese between two tomato slices and arranging strips of green pepper around the cheese like the lacings on the side of a drum. Drum sticks are made of celery sticks topped with pitted, unstuffed olives.

You can prepare the following casserole in the morning, store it in the refrigerator, and just pop it into the oven in time to have it ready for company without any fuss. Double the recipe for eight—this is just for the family.

Chicken and Chips Casserole
3 tablespoons butter or chicken fat
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 1/4 cup flour
1 cup chicken broth or stock
1 cup evaporated milk or light cream

Melt butter in saucepan. Add green pepper and onion and cook slowly for several minutes. Remove from heat, blend in flour and slowly add chicken broth. Return to heat, stir in milk or cream and cook until thickened, stirring constantly to keep smooth. Add salt, pepper and thyme. Arrange 1 cup potato chips on bottom of a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Spread 1 cup chicken over this, then pour on half of sauce. Repeat these layers, then sprinkle top with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until bubbly and browned—about 25 minutes.

Use Peanut Butter For New Cream Pie

Here's a cream pie that matches eye with taste appeal. Tawny flecks of peanut butter dot its placid surface, add a pleasing, nut-like flavor, boost the food value of this dish. Market-possible and easy to prepare, this polka-dotted pie will be an instant favorite with your folks.

Filling:
Combine—
1 cup sugar
1-3 cup cornstarch
1-4 teaspoon salt.
Gradually stir in 3 cups scalded milk.
Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally.
Stir small amount, beating vigorously, into—
3 egg yolks, well beaten.
Return this to double boiler. Cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly.

Add—
1-4 cup peanut butter
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Blend until peanut butter is dispersed throughout (but still in small lumps). Cool slightly. Pour into baked pie shell.

Meringue
Beat until stiff but not dry—
3 egg whites.
Add, beating continuously—
1-3 cup sugar.
File meringue lightly on filling and seal securely to rim. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 12 minutes. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Bennett Heads Colorado J.C.

COLORADO CITY, July 2 — Installed recently as president of the Colorado City Junior Chamber of Commerce is Harold Bennett who now heads that organization of 125 young Colorado Citizens and Mitchell Countians of surrounding territory. Bennett, a veteran of World War II when he saw duty as chief petty officer in the Naval Reserve stationed in the Aleutians, is now secretary of the Colorado National Farm Loan association. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bennett of Lorraine.

An informal buffet supper and dance at the Colorado City country club marked Bennett's induction as president. Installed at the same meeting, with Charles Godwin as master of ceremonies was Eldon Mahon as first vice president; Jack Johnson, second vice president; George O. Witten, secretary; Jay Craddock, treasurer; Max Brown, Oren Feaster, and Sam Majors, Jr., new directors. Hold-over directors are Bill Craddock, Floyd Wallace, and Brady Warren. Warren, retiring president, will also serve the Jaycees as state director for Colorado City.

Veterans Clamor For Surplus Cars

TEXARKANA, July 2 (AP)—Over 1,500 World War II veterans applying for 450 automotive vehicles on sale at the Red River arsenal here Tuesday jammed the War Assets administration building and overflowed into the yard.

Burrell H. Smith, a mechanic from New Boston, Tex., made the first purchase—a 1942 jeep for $366.

Pharaoh Never Faced This Plague

Pharaoh with his flies, frogs and snakes never had such a persistent plague as fireworks.

Now there is no objection to pyrotechnics, especially as an orderly exhibition. The displays such as those held annually at the city park are interesting and enjoyable. And there can be no doubt that the kid with a bandaged toe gets a wallop out of seeing a tin can blown into the air by a "baby giant."

But we do object to promiscuous firing of miniature bombs, firecrackers, torpedoes, etc., at all points in the city at all hours. Almost everyone thinks it would be a good idea to do away with the nuisance, but nobody wants to be the one who does it.

Unless this is an unusual year, several youngsters (with a few adults chucked in for good measure) will be rushed to the doctor to see if fingers were really damaged in a premature blast, or if it is simply an illusion of feeling that the whole hand was blown off.

Still, this is an individual matter and if someone wants to suffer his person to powdery percussions, that's his privilege. The biggest kick that can be made against fireworks is as it concerns other people. A miniature explosive hurled at or into a car can cause a wreck, or it can damage sight or hearing. Tossed into a crowd, a firecracker can cause personal injuries. The amazing thing is that when thousands gather for the display Friday evening, there undoubtedly will be a flock of youngsters, turned loose by parents of infinite faith and remarkable unconcern, to be tossing two-bits worth of explosives into unsuspecting crowds when a vastly better show is just coming up. Frankly, we don't get it.

An Open Invitation To Confusion

What the result of the modified rent control regulations will be is a matter of conjecture, but the crux of the change in permitting increases on a mutually voluntary basis has every chance of producing confusion.

Not that they have not already been the go-between on points of friction between landlord and tenant, but the administrators now may become the great moaning post.

It is not without the realm of possibility that many landlords and tenants will come to an understanding between them as to rental increases. It is probable that in cases of change in tenancy, there will be a "mutual" agreement for increase before the new tenant ever gets in the door.

But the point of confusion will arise over the desire of landlords to increase (and many have grounds for such desires) and the resistance of the tenant to increase. Not a few tenants have become wise to the fact that it is not easy to be dispossessed.

In such a stalemate, the new law will mean nothing positive. It may have a negative meaning in the withholding of services by landlords in desperation to induce changes in tenancy. It may mean retaliation to the property by tenants (and some few undesirable do a pretty good job of messing things up without necessity of retaliation.)

What the rent control act needed was not modification of this sort, but rather thorough readjustment with an eye of trying honestly to overcome inequities.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

New Labor Law And The Employer

WASHINGTON, (AP)—If you're an employer, this tells some of the main things the new labor law does to, and for, you.

First, remember this: the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) is the government agency which administers the law.

Unless NLRB okay's a union as bargaining agent, you don't have to bargain with that union.

NLRB won't give the okay unless a majority of your employees, in an election conducted by NLRB, vote for the union to represent them.

You can, of course, bargain with a union without such an election and without NLRB approval, but in that case—

You forfeit some of the benefits and protections which the new law gives you if NLRB has approved a union. Example:

If you want to make changes of unfair labor practices against a union, you must make them to NLRB which has legal means of stopping unfairness.

But that's when NLRB has approved a union. It may decide in some cases it has no means of stopping unfairness by an unapproved union.

If you're a small, independent businessman—like a storekeeper or trucker—it's against the law for a union to try to force you to join it.

It's against the law for you to contract with a union to hire only union men. That's because the new law outlaws the closed shop. So you can't agree to a closed shop.

(A closed shop is where no one but union men can work and any new employee must be a union member before he can be hired.)

The ban on closed shops goes into effect Aug. 22. If you have a closed shop contract, it can continue beyond Aug. 22 but not for more than one year.

You can make a closed shop contract between now and Aug. 22, so long as it does not extend for more than one year.

No union can have a union shop contract in your place, unless you agree to it. And before you even think of agreeing, a majority of all your workers must vote for a union shop.

That means what it says: a majority of your employees, not just the union members, must vote for a union shop in an election conducted by NLRB.

Even if such a majority votes for a union shop, you're not forced to grant it. That's still a bargaining matter between you and the union.

(A union shop is where all workers—and all newly hired workers—must join the union within a certain time.)

You can't fire an employee who has been expelled from a union except for this: failing to pay his union dues or initiation fee.

Under the old law, when you had a closed or union shop agreement, you had to fire anyone expelled by a union.

If you fire a man expelled from a union now—except for failing to pay his dues or initiation fee—he can charge you with unfair labor practices.

You don't have to go on, year after year, blindly believing or accepting the idea that a union represents a majority of your workers. Example:

Under the old law—and the new one, too—you must bargain with a union when a majority of your workers, in an NLRB election, vote for it.

But under the old law, NLRB and the courts assumed that when a contract ran out, the union still represented a majority of your workers.

So you went ahead and bargained for another contract. You couldn't ask for an NLRB election to see whether that union still represented a majority.

Now you can. Under the new law, when a contract expires, you can ask NLRB to hold an election among your employees to see whether they still want that union.

And when a contract runs out, NLRB can hold such an election if 30 percent of your employees ask for it. Before, only union officials could ask for an NLRB election.

What Is Los Angeles?

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—This is a big toby town still able to laugh at itself.

What other world city can? London is too sedate. Tokyo—or what is left of it—is too serious. So is Moscow. Paris has circles under her eyes. New York is getting there—a flip femme with a middle-aged wisecrack.

San Francisco, St. Louis and New Orleans — they are full-blown ladies who like their fun, but don't go in for kidding. Chicago is a prosperous beef salesman bellowing self-confidence on the country's windy crossroads.

But Los Angeles, well, she's just a big sprawling gal beginning to get her curves—an adolescent with the promise of a clear-skinned beauty showing through her pimples. And, of course, some of the older women—the other cities—think she's putting on the lipstick too soon. They know she's competition.

She has grown so fast she doesn't quite know what to do with herself. She's all arms and legs and no direction, and where she'll stretch next is anybody's guess. She wears smaller diamonds and rhinestone communities like a gawky schoolgirl with a charm bracelet.

She is capricious, lusty and immature, and no other civic youngster in our time has held out such gargantuan promise for good or bad.

The sun shines vitamin and language on her all year round, and she is Mediterranean in her extremes—bone poor and Croesus rich. She is the tomy of at least three civilizations, and the womb for every creed and political belief that men put faith in.

Los Angeles is a new battleground between people who think this is the best of all possible worlds, and other people who concede the world may be round —but are sure that it is never square to them.

Los Angeles is one of the last American frontiers—urban rather than rural—for the later-day Daniel Boones who travel in search of greener pastures in Jalopies instead of afoof.

Los Angeles is the one city left on the globe where every fool, crackpot, zany, and zealot can have a hearing and find a following. Her hospitable slogan: "We've got 'em all."

She's a sort of municipal Texas—Los Angeles is—gilded by mountain, desert and sea. She's America's last civic tomy, and about all you can be sure about her is—she's here to stay. And she expects the world to be her beau.

NRLB Members Tried To Resign

WASHINGTON. — The White House press kept it quiet, but Paul M. Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, and his NLRB associates, John M. Houston and James J. Reynolds, offered their resignations privately to President Truman last week.

However, despite a vigorous demand from GOP Senator Martin of Pennsylvania that the entire board resign, the president refused to listen. Herzog told Truman that it might prove embarrassing to the three old board members to remain on the job under the Taft-Hartley labor bill which the NLRB must now enforce.

"Under the circumstances, we feel we should step aside and enable you to appoint others to our places," Herzog explained. "Some people may not have confidence in our administration of the law, since it got out to the press that we recommended a veto. Since our position is known, you might become a target of criticism, if we are charged with enforcement of the act."

"Can you administer this act fairly and in the public interest, even though you recommended a veto?" Truman asked his caller.

"Certainly we can," was the unanimous reply.

"I know you can," agreed the president. "And for that reason I am refusing to accept resignations from any of you. We've got a tough job ahead and I will need your help and experience to make a go of it."

"I was against this bill, also—so much so that I vetoed it, but I'm not quitting," Truman added brusquely. "Under our constitutional system, it is my duty to veto a bill if I do not think it is a good bill, but it is equally my duty to enforce a bill if it becomes law over my head, like the Taft-Hartley Act."

"So let's all of us get busy and see to it that this new law is efficiently carried out, night and day. You fellows can forget about quitting. I won't let you."

JED AND JUSTICE DECORUM

Popular chief Justice Fred Vinson descended from the marble supreme court building last week to the granite halls of the department of justice to administer the oath of office to Oklahoma's ex-congressman Jed Johnson as a judge of the U. S. customs court.

Various friends of the former Oklahoma congressman were on hand, including Washington lawyer Roy St. Lewis, once a federal attorney in Oklahoma City. After he was sworn in, Johnson was introducing guests who did not know each other, and started to present St. Lewis to another friend.

"Apart from being a Republican here is—"

Suddenly he stopped. The chief justice of the United States had plucked at his sleeve. Johnson and Vinson, a former congressman himself, whispered for a moment, then Johnson returned to finish his introduction of Roy St. Lewis.

"Let's start all over again. I forgot that I'm a judge now!"

REASON FOR GAS SHORTAGE
Two-listed Senator Owen Brewster of Maine smells a rat regarding the Midwest oil shortage.

Brewster, who is one of the keenest probers in the senate and inherited Harry Truman's old committee, had conducted a thorough investigation of the Arabian oil situation and suspects that the so-called oil shortage, which has prompted some oil companies to reinstate gasoline rationing, is purely a fake.

Brewster has reason to believe that the big oil companies have whipped up the oil shortage story solely for the purpose of convincing Americans that oil must be imported from the Middle East. The big oil companies, he finds, plan to bring in half a million tons of Arabian oil this summer, just to convince the American public of the urgency for spending hundreds of millions of dollars to protect American oil interests in the Middle East.

REVAMP COURT MARTIAL
GI's will now get a better break on court-martial—if the plan of a house subcommittee goes through.

Working behind closed doors, the subcommittee patched together a bill that will require no less than one-third enlisted men to sit on military courts which try fellow GI's if the defendant requests it. A two-thirds majority is necessary before punishment can be handed down. The bill also will remove the judge advocate's section, the army's arm of justice, from the regular chain of command.

However, the subcommittee hasn't taken up navy justice, recently the cause of many gripes because of the secret Little court-martial. Navy courts-martial will be studied next.

VETERANS LOAN BATTLE
Not many realize it, but when congress extended the life of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation before the June 30 deadline, it left out an important power affecting veterans—the authority to buy up veterans' loans. This will seriously reduce the ability of the homeless veteran to finance new housing, since from now on the government no longer can guarantee the banks on veterans' loans 100 per cent.

There was a tough closed-door battle between house and senate conferees before the important provision was finally dropped. It lasted for two days.

Chief defenders of veterans' loans were Alabama's sincere John Sparkman and South Carolina's handsome Burnet Maybank. They were supported by three house democrats—Paul Brown of Georgia, Brent Spence of Kentucky, and Wright Patman of Texas. But the house Republicans, rallied by stubborn Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, sometimes called the bankers' friend, stood firm against it.

Republicans on the senate side were more friendly to the veterans, offered several compromises to limit the aggregate total of loans and provide for screening them. But banker-minded Wolcott would not back down.

Before the final vote, the conferees separated into private buddies. The Republican senators—Douglas Buck of Delaware, Homer Capehart of Indiana, and Raph Flinders of Vermont—voted to yield to the house. Democrats Sparkman and Maybank, finally agreed that if they held out there would be no RFC at all, promised to sign their names to the report. Among the house conferees, Wolcott rode roughshod over the weaker objections of Democrats Brown Spence, and Patman.

Retiring Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden and his entire staff of Latin American experts have flatly refused to testify for the bill to arm the western hemisphere. They are convinced that arming Latin America will only bring war and dictatorship to that area. . . . Congressman Kelley of Pennsylvania, a delegate to the international labor organization conference in Switzerland, may rush home because of the coal situation. Kelley owns a coal mine. . . . During the last congressional campaign, John L. Lewis fought desperately to defeat West Virginia's Senator Harley Kilgore, a real friend of the miners. Lewis played in with Republican Senator Chapman Revercomb. But when the showdown came on labor's friends and foes of the Taft-Hartley bill, Kilgore, the man Lewis opposed, voted for labor; Revercomb whom Lewis supported, voted against labor. . . . Lewis is now getting postcards from West Virginia asking, "Had enough?"

France Swinging Back To Right?

French minister of the interior, Eduard Depreux's announcement of a Black Maquis plot—to overthrow the republic and establish a military dictatorship—is couched in such guarded terms that it leaves much to the imagination, though the statement is in all conscience grave enough on the face of it.

I believe the most important aspect of the plot is that it's another of those phenomena which indicate France is swinging back toward the right after a steep leftist nose-dive.

M. Depreux tells us that the Black Maquis comprises right wing resistance leaders, monarchists and Vichy collaborationists. Why should they want to establish a dictatorship?

They have been dissatisfied with the country's leftist swing which for a time permitted the communists to gain such power that the outside world wondered whether France was about to become a part of the Russian sphere of influence.

Another phenomenon has developed during the past few weeks which has bid fair to take care of the communists threat without need of recourse to strong arm methods of revolutionaries. A couple of months ago France's mild-mannered socialist Premier Ramadier surprised the world with a sensational revolt against the powerful communist party which held important ministries in the coalition government.

Early in May Ramadier laid down a policy of freeing wages in the interest of helping stabilize the French economic structure. The communists opposed him, and when Ramadier called for a vote of confidence over this important issue in the general assembly the communists refused to join in granting it. They felt secure in their great strength and virtually invited Ramadier to challenge them further.

The premier fired the five communist ministers out of his cabinet, and his socialist party sustained him in this action.

However, that didn't worry the Reds—not right away. Actually it suited them perfectly, because they expected to be able to maneuver so that Ramadier would be compelled to recall them to the cabinet, thereby increasing their prestige.

It hasn't worked out that way thusfar.

At the present writing the Red stock and strength is much lower, and the government's is much higher. Whether this trend will continue depends largely on the government's success in making economic repairs, and that in turn may depend on what economic aid France can secure through the Marshall program for European economic rehabilitation.

Best Music From The Hillbillies

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Look for true American music to come from the Ozarks and the Alleghenies, not from Basin or 52nd street, advises Sigmund Romberg.

The 59-year old master of what he calls "middle-brow" music is back at his Beverly Hills home after a traveling concert tour of 117 cities. In his swing around the country he concluded that giving gin mills are no longer the fount of original U. S. music.

"Ten years ago I would have said that American music is coming from jazz," he declared. "But though jitterbugging is fun, it is too strenuous for most people. It is dying out."

"The best music is now coming from the hillbillies—the ballads and folk tunes that are basic. It is the same kind of thing that Stephen Foster wrote."

Romberg despaired of the state of music by professional composers.

"It is too commercial," he moaned. "The unions have made it so and the composers have, too." He demonstrated the cost of orchestration by pounding out a piano selection. Every few bars he stopped and said "That cost five dollars."

"The composers are thinking too much about how much money they will make," he added.

"They don't think about how good it is, but how much can they get for the Decca album and the movie rights."

Whether or not he thinks about it, Romberg probably makes more money than any composer. Aside from his concerts, he has an NBC summer show. Nine of his operettas are being performed this summer, and "Student Prince" and "Blossom Time" apparently can't be stopped from their perennial tours. He is writing new songs for the film "Up In Central Park" and will start on a new show this fall.

Immigrant Aids Norwegian Needy

WEBSTER, S. D. (U.P.)—A $10,000 trust fund to spread Christmas cheer among the needy of two Norwegian towns will be established under the will of a Norwegian immigrant farmer.

Hans G. Raakvaam, Pierpont, S. D., farmer who amassed modest fortune of $25,000 by hard work and frugal living, directed the proceeds from the trust be used to provide Christmas baskets for the needy in his and his wife's home districts of Inmslands and Vigdals in Norway.

The recipients are "to thank God" for the gifts, "for it is He who blessed the efforts of a poor boy to make the establishment of the fund possible."

One small bottle of tequila, one box of strawberries. Put strawberries in tequila and seal, keeping for three weeks. Tequila loses its bite but not its punch. Cocktail adella. Two pints of gin, one pint of coffee cream. Shake well and serve at once. Smooth and rich. Smart people, of course, will stick to sarsaparilla and sobriety.

Kramer Advances To Semi-Finals At Wimbledon

LONDON, July 2. (AP)—Jack Kramer of Los Angeles defeated Dinny Pails of Australia, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1, 6-0, in the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships today and will meet Tom Brown of San Francisco for the men's singles title in the all-American final on Friday.

Brown, University of California law student, had reached the finals a short time earlier by turning back giant-killer Budge Patty of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, before a packed crowd of 15,000 (correct) on the sun-drenched turf of Wimbledon's famed center court.

Pails, who shares honors with John Bromwich as Australia's best, was Kramer's second victim from down under in the last two rounds. The top-seeded American champion had eliminated Geoff Brown in the quarter-finals, losing only four games.

INJURY MAY KEEP FELLER OUT OF ALL-STAR CONTEST

CLEVELAND, July 2. (AP)—Rapid Robert Feller, Cleveland Indians' fireball ace, was scheduled to undergo X-ray examinations by local physicians today to determine whether he will be able to perform in baseball's all-star game at Chicago next Tuesday.

Feller's participation in the diamond classic became doubtful last night when the fireballer was forced to withdraw during the second inning of the Tribe's 9-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns at the Mount City because of severe back pains.

Tribe Manager Lou Boudreau asserted he believed Feller would not be ready for pitching duty until July 10—two days after the Chicago All-star tilt.

The major leagues' strikeout king said he first felt a sharp pain in the right side of his back last night while warming up for the game with St. Louis, but decided to start the contest.

After yielding a double to St. Louis Leadoff Man Bob Dillinger, the husky lowan with the fireball delivery struck out three Browns in succession. He asked to be relieved in the second after two straight hits and a long fly.

"I had good stuff in the first inning tonight, but felt knife-like pains," Feller declares in the dressing room after the game.

Bob said he believed he had suffered an injury to his back in a losing contest with the Boston Red Sox at Beantown June 21.

The fireballer said he thought a strain on his side developed after he fell off the Shibe park mound at Philadelphia and injured his left knee. In a brilliant start, Feller had fanned nine batters in the first four innings when the accident occurred.

In subsequent mound duties, Feller said he probably "favored" his injured knee.

The Hosses jumped to a two-run advantage in the first on Jake McClain's homer, after Orlie Moreno had led off with his first of four singles. The Browns began to come apart at the seams in the third, however, when Gerry Rodriguez, starting moundman, became a victim of wildness, and one of which were earned, in five and one third innings on the mound.

Blevins Gets His First Victory In Lengthy Bout

Little Humberto Baez probably will start on the mound for the Browns tonight, when the locals wind-up their three-game series with Odessa Oilers.

The game will get underway around 8:15 p. m.

Tonight's encounter also concludes the Oilers' home stand. They move to Vernon Thursday, where they will open a series with the Dusters.

They didn't have the proverbial "kitchen sink" to throw in and nobody got a three-base hit, or else some 750 baseball fans would have seen everything that can happen in a ball game at Steer Park Tuesday night.

The Browns already had that greater look as early as the fourth inning, when Odessa counted six runs, but proving that nothing is lost until the last out is recorded, the local boys brought the fans to their feet with a rousing 10-run rally in the eighth and went on to win, 14-11, thereby increasing their lead to three full games over Second Place Midland.

Robert Blevins, youthful right-hander, who recently joined the Browns on option from the St. Louis Browns, picked up a victory in his first appearance in a Big Spring uniform. The chunky little hurler apparently came into the game with his head set on doing some hitting as well as a classy job of elbowing. He pounded a double and two singles in four trips to the plate, and set the Oilers down on five hits and four runs, only two of which were earned, in five and one third innings on the mound.

Pro's Quality In George May's Golfing Circus

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—Now that the women and amateurs have their sideshow acts all set for Thursday's opening of the seventh annual Tam O'Shanter three-ring golfing circus, the professionals take over today to pick the cast for the $30,000 main attraction.

Although 100 play-for-pay stars are exempt from qualifying, at least 100 others were due to tour the 18-hole layout today in an attempt to get into the act. Only 34 of them can make it, Promoter George S. May having limited the field to 135, which includes the 100 exempt players and the home pro.

However, it was almost a certainty that about 25 of the exempt players would not take advantage of their free pass into goldfom's biggest money match. In the group were such big names as Johnny Bulla, Billy Burke, Harry Cooper, Jimmy Demaret, Vic Ghezzi, "Jug" McSpaden, Henry Picard, Gene Sarazen, Denny Shute, the Turnesa brothers, Jim, Joe and Mike, Craig Wood and National Open Champion Lew Worsham.

While he might wind up a bit shy on talent, due to a dispute over having the players wear numbers and a slightly more bitter fight over non-payments of home professionals, May moved to have a plenty of customers at his dollar-a-day attraction.

It also appeared that Babe Dickerson Zaharias would not be present, despite May's word that "she promised me she would come and I think she will."

Babe was scheduled to arrive in Denver at midnight tonight and the city was ready for an all-day celebration tomorrow in her honor after her triumph in Britain.

Looking 'Em Over

With the season not quite half over, Karl Kott of Vernon became the third Longhorn league manager to draw a pink slip, when owner Bob Huntley took over the Dusters' reins Monday. Kott's release probably came as no surprise to many league followers in this area. The Dusters have met with disappointment in the won and lost columns particularly during the past three or four weeks, and the fans have blamed some of it on Kott's voice-over bickering on the field, especially that directed toward members of his own team.

Other changes in the loop's managerial circle have seen Joe Dettlitch move into Sweetwater, replacing Roland Murphy, and Buddy Hanchen taking over for Stu Williams at Ballinger. Incidentally, Ernie Earnshaw, who played ball in Ballinger some 20 years ago, was first proffered the pilot's post by the Cat owners after definite plans were made to replace Williams. However, the oldster was reluctant, and Hanchen was called in.

Attendance figures have had little or nothing to do with the managerial changes, however, except possible in Sweetwater, where the Sports are still having a time of it in efforts to get paying customers into the park. Ballinger still leads the league in attendance. Just a step ahead of the Browns, and Vernon has not complained because of surplus seats.

At least three local golfers, and possibly others, were to be in Abilene today, where West Texas links activity is centered this week. Among those from Big Spring who planned to make the excursion were Gloria Strom, Bob Wright and Foy Fanning. Wright expected to enter both the Pro-Amateur event and the invitational tournament.

Rumors are circulating to the effect that a change is probably in the method of selecting a site for the Longhorn League all-star game, scheduled for July 24. At a league meeting in Abilene on June 22, club heads decided to play the game in the home park of the team who was leading in addit paid attendance through games of July 10. Apparently, there has been some criticism of this system since the meeting. However, no official announcement of a change has come from league headquarters as yet.

Joe Langston, the popular transplanted Floridian who helped get the Browns started and then sold his interest in the club, was a visitor in the stands at Monday night's Big Spring-Odessa game. Langston, who is in college at McMurry this summer, came over with League President Howard Green, who also was a witness of the skirmish.

The Philadelphia Phillies have signed an 18-year old school boy, George Thomas of Baltimore, who has a record of 150 strikeouts in eight games. Young Thomas is to get his season at Terre Haute in the Three Eye league.

Monroe Gafford poled a home run in the fifth inning to give the East Fourth Street Baptist an 8-7 edge over West Side in a Church league softball game Tuesday night in City park.

Gafford, who was playing his first game in the league, broke a 7-7 deadlock with his circuit lick. C. A. Tonn and Buck Tyree performed pitching chores for the winners, while Red Harrison twirled for the West Side crew.

First Christian forfeited its scheduled contest with the Presbyterian team. Presbyterian trimmed the East Fourth 13-3 in a practice tilt after the league contest.

HOYLAK, England, July 2. (AP)—Rain fell on the Arrow Park course today as five Americans—Vic Ghezzi, Frank Stranahan, Johnny Bulla, Robert Sweeney, Jr., and Staff Sgt. Charles Jennings—began play in the opening round of title play for the British Open golf championship.

Ghezzi, Bulla and Stranahan were regarded as the most formidable American challengers in the field of 100. Norma Von Nida, of Australia, and two British pros, Henry Cotton, and Dai Rees, figured to provide the best opposition.

half game in front of Philadelphia and Cleveland who are tied for fourth. The Indians moved in on Browns in a night game at St. Louis 9-3.

The Indians' victory over the Browns was clouded by an injury to their great pitching star, Bobby Feller. The fireball ace was forced to withdraw in the second inning with severe back pains. After leaving the game in which he fanned three in one and one-third innings Feller said he felt aches in the right side of his back while warming up, but decided to start.

Feller expressed belief that a strain was caused by favoring his left knee, which was injured in a fall off the mound in Philadelphia, June 13.

Bobby Thomson slammed a home run. Buddy Kerr hit one. And of course, the thumping trio of Johnny Mize, Willard Marshall and Walker Cooper hit one apiece. Thomson also connected for a three-bagger.

The only solace for Boston was Tommy Holmes' two homers and a triple off winning Pitcher Larry Jansen.

Despite the victory, the Giants remained in third place, but they cut the Braves first place margin to a mere half game. Boston retained its first place hold over the Brooklyn Dodgers by two percentage points. The Brooks lost an opportunity to take over the league lead when they blew a 5-3 game to the Phils in Philadelphia earlier in the day.

In the only other National league game, the steadily rising St. Louis Cardinals moved within three and a half games of the top by winning a close 2-1 game from the Pirates at night in Pittsburgh. The Cards increased their fourth place lead over the idle Chicago Cubs to a full game.

Softball Teams To Play Tonight

A double-header tonight on the Mundy park diamond will wind-up activity for this week in City softball league play.

Moore is scheduled to league with Big Spring Motor in the first game, while Big Spring Hardware and Hartwells will have it in the nightcap.

Dust on a light bulb can cut its efficiency by as much as 20 percent, according to electrical technicians.

Gafford's Homer Wins For E. 4th

Monroe Gafford poled a home run in the fifth inning to give the East Fourth Street Baptist an 8-7 edge over West Side in a Church league softball game Tuesday night in City park.

Gafford, who was playing his first game in the league, broke a 7-7 deadlock with his circuit lick. C. A. Tonn and Buck Tyree performed pitching chores for the winners, while Red Harrison twirled for the West Side crew.

First Christian forfeited its scheduled contest with the Presbyterian team. Presbyterian trimmed the East Fourth 13-3 in a practice tilt after the league contest.

Buffs Continue Their Rampage

Houston's Buffs can wrap up the honor of acting as host team in the Texas League's all-star game July 9 by sweeping its series with San Antonio.

The Buffs need just two more victories to gain a mathematical edge over second place Fort Worth. They started off right by handing the cellar-dwelling San Antonio nine an 8-2 licking last night.

In other games, the red hot Tulsa Oilers defeated Fort Worth, 5-1. Beaumont beat Shreveport, 8-2, and Oklahoma City edged Dallas, 3-2. Houston has four games left to play, holds a three-game advantage over Fort Worth. The Cats have five games before the deadline. The team on top after July 4th is host for the all-star tilt.

By winning all of its remaining five games, Fort Worth would come up with an average of .600 games and finish with .607. A single defeat for Fort Worth would give the Cats .588.

Pepper Martin walked to lead-off for the Browns in the eighth, and then succeeded hits by Armando Traspuesto, Blevins, Moreno and McClain started the game-winning fireworks. Another walk, three Oiler errors and three more hits wound up the uprising. Traspuesto, Blevins and Moreno each punched out two hits in the big stanza.

Manager Howard McFarland, pinch hitting for Joe Embrey, the Oilers' relief and losing pitcher, noled a homer in the ninth. Charlie Sierra, who gained life on an error, crossed the plate a moment later on Moose Womack's hit, to wind up the night's scoring.

Former Catcher Top Twirler For The Houston Buffs

HOUSTON, July 2. (AP)—Clarence Beers discovered it was more fun to throw a baseball than it was to catch one. The discovery is paying big dividends for the Houston Buffs.

Beers currently tops Texas league pitchers with a record of 13 victories against five defeats, and is the acknowledged ace of Houston's high-powered pitching staff.

The 28-year-old righthander deserted the iron mask in the West Texas-New Mexico league, taking over as relief for Tommy Warren. He's been pitching ever since.

Five shutouts are among his 13 victories, gained with an assortment of pitches that includes a fast ball, curve, and knuckler.

AUSTIN, July 2. (AP)—An attorney general's opinion has held unconstitutional the 50th legislature's bill which would have increased county treasurers salaries to $3,600 in four Texas counties.

The bill was written to apply to counties in population brackets between 90,000 and 112,000. Populations of Travis, Hidalgo, McLennan and Nueces counties fall within the brackets.

The attorney general's opinion said the population bracket classification, however, is "unreasonable and not real," making the law a local or special one, which is not constitutional.

Travis county Attorney Perry L. Jones requested the legal ruling.

MISSIONS RELEASE PITCHER SAN ANTONIO, July 2. (AP)—Ralph Germano, left handed pitcher, has been released outright to Elmira in the Eastern league, William L. Osley, president of the San Antonio Texas League Missions, announced.

Jewelers Meet Roscoe Team

Manager Fred Acton will send his Jewelers into a battle with the Roscoe team of the Cotton Belt semi-pro league at Steer park Thursday night.

The skirmish has been booked for 8:15 p. m.

Acton sent his charges through a lengthy batting drill Tuesday evening on the Bombardier school practice diamond, and the squad is expected to be in fair condition for the Roscoe tilt.

Acton, incidentally, is shopping around for engagements with other semi-pro organizations in the area.

Jap Premier Calls For Aid

TOKYO, July 1. (AP)—Japan wants "moral and economic assistance" but no territories from a peace conference to be held "as early as possible." Premier Tetsu Katayama told the nation's lawmakers Tuesday.

In his first administrative speech to the Diet (parliament), the new socialist premier sternly declared the country's economy is facing a "fearful crisis" and food prospects for the next four months "call for the gravest anxiety."

However, he said if Japan can surmount its economic crisis, "we should be able to join the community of nations with the benevolent assistance of the Allied powers."

"What we desire are not territories. Instead, I would like to request the moral and economic assistance of the Allied powers by demonstrating the fervent desire for stabilization of national life, reconstruction of industry and permanent world peace."

Katayama's emphasis on the peace treaty drew applause from the crowded houses of representatives and councillors, which he addressed separately. Even sober-faced school children who dominated the spectators' galleries joined in the unfamiliar handclapping.

Present Postal Rates To Remain

The three-cent letter rate and other postage rates and fees in effect on June 30, 1947 will be continued on a permanent basis. Postmaster Nat Shick announced Wednesday.

There had been speculation of rate changes, but a notice from the third assistant postmaster general's office stated that the House joint resolution freezing charges had been approved by the President Monday.

Heart Attack Victim At UT Identified

AUSTIN, July 2. (U)—E. Naugle, 53, of Wichita, Kansas, has been identified as the victim of a fatal heart attack at the University of Texas yesterday. There had been no identifying papers on Naugle's body when he was found on a bench in the university's main building and rushed to a hospital. Identification was made late yesterday by Naugle's wife after local detectives traced a car key found in the dead man's pocket to the car it fit, found parked near the campus. Naugle and his wife had been staying at a local hotel and had gone to the university early yesterday morning, police reports said. Mrs. Naugle went to the library while her husband tended to business elsewhere on the campus. The body has been sent to Wichita, Kansas, for burial.

Vet Service Head Named

AUSTIN, July 2. (U)—Col. James C. Jones today had been named veterans' service officer to succeed A. O. Willman whose term expired on Aug. 31, 1945. Gov. Beauford H. Jester announced the appointment yesterday shortly after the attorney general's department held in an opinion that the veterans' state service officer may continue its duties until the newly authorized veterans affairs commission takes over. The 50th legislature enacted legislation whereby the service officer was to be "absorbed" by the new commission. The bill became law June 12. Col. Jones leaves the post of personnel officer of the adjutant general's department to assume his new position. A graduate of Oklahoma A&M he came to Texas in 1925. He served with the 42nd rainbow division during World War I.

Sordella, hero of a poem by Robert Browning, actually was the most famous of the Italian troubadours, living in the 13th century.

GOPs Demand That Truman Back Up Lobbying Charges

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Angry Republican demands that President Truman produce evidence that real estate lobbyists influenced Congress' rent control action exploded a new political battle today between the Democratic White House and GOP lawmakers.

Calling on the President to order prosecution of any lobbyists he considers guilty of "subversive" activities, Senator Wherry (Neb.)

Hotel Residents Over Nation Confronted With Rent Boosts

By The Associated Press

Permanent residents in many hotels throughout the nation have received notices their rents are to be increased—ranging upward from 15 per cent.

Although a boost of 25 per cent was the most frequently reported as the hotels were freed from controls under the new federal rent law there were instances of rent increases as much as from 25 to 165 per cent.

There also were reported isolated cases of extreme hikes—of 300 per cent for a resident of a Denver tourist camp, and 200 per cent at a St. Louis hotel. New York city reported boosts of up to 50 per cent were fairly common and one

CAB Reviews Plane Crash

LEESBURG, Va., July 2. (AP)—The civil aeronautics board called 37 witnesses today for a public hearing into the June 13 crash of a Capital Airlines plane in which 50 persons were killed.

William K. Andrews, assistant chief of the accident investigation division of the CAB's safety bureau, was assigned to preside over the (8 a. m. EST) hearing in the Loudoun county courthouse.

Among the witnesses called are company officials and employees, civil aeronautics administration personnel assigned to control towers at Pittsburgh and Washington and the Washington traffic control center, CAB accident investigators and meteorologists.

The Capital plane smashed into the side of a 160-foot mountain during rainy weather while en route from Pittsburgh to Washington.

The pilot had been given permission to try to make visual contact with the ground in the vicinity of Arcola, Va.—east of the mountains—and then to proceed to Washington under the overcast, which was hanging about 700 feet above the airport.

Russia Gets Famous Globe Nazis Stole

AP NEWSFEATURES

HAMBURG—The Goltorp globe an extraordinary and spectacular piece of loot, "acquired" by the Germans in world war, two, has started its journey back to its Soviet owners.

The 11-foot, 17th century relic, formerly owned by Peter the Great is being moved this week from Lubeck to Hamburg, in preparation for shipping to the Soviet Union.

The big winter freeze-up and technical difficulties of handling such an awkward load delayed the globe's return to Russia.

The globe was captured in 1934 at Leningrad from a castle of the last czar and brought back to Germany, where it was kept in the grounds of a hospital at Neustadt, Holstein.

The largest and earliest of the 17th century globes, the device was made by Adam Oelschlaeger, and Andreas Busch between 1654 and 1664 for Duke Frederick of Holstein-Gottorp. After the dissolution of the Holstein estates it was given by the king of Denmark to Peter the Great in 1713. In 1725 it was presented to the Russian Academy and erected at Leningrad.

The exterior of the globe was painted to represent the world as it was known in the 17th century. The interior was painted with allegorical figures representing the constellations. From the inner axis was suspended a circular gallery for spectators. The sun and the moon, in cut glass, revolved in their proper orbits around the spectators, while the globe itself also moved to represent the rising and setting of the stars.

The device was powered by a water mill.
