DOUBLE GINNING CAPACITY

We've added new facilities in our gin, including new drying and unloading equipment. We are completing a five year program to double our capacity of 1959, and are pleased to announce to the farmers of this area that we are capable of ginning efficiently 10 bales per hour.

Our gin is now in operation. Bring us that first bale... you'll be pleased with the outcome and our service.

Wonderful new things have been happening at N. B. Embry Gin, and we want all our friends and neighbors to come and see the many new things we've added. We've added a complete new office building, arranged to speed bookkeeping and weighing of cotton for our customer's convenience. A new recreation room and rest rooms... a coffee bar has been added along with central heating and air conditioning.

All this is to make your visits to Embry Gin more enjoyable and more convenient.

Come out Sunday afternoon... bring the entire family... see our new facilities... take a tour of the gin. We're mighty proud... and we want to welcome you during our open house.

Littlefield Woman Attends Reception at LBJ Ranch

Editor's Note: Mary Dean Sanders of Littlefield was a guest this past Sunday of Mrs. Lyndon Johnson for a "meet the Cabinet wives" reception at the LBJ Ranch in Stonewall. Following is a feature story written by her about this visit.

A DAY AT THE LBJ RANCH

By Mary Dean Sanders

It was a clean, rain-washed day at Stonewall, Texas, Sunday, when together with about 150 other representatives from radio, television, and press, I watched the moss-green water of the Pedernales River flow past the live oak trees, and thought to myself, "how gratifying to be a part of such a goodly company." It was a typical Texas barbecue, and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson was the hostess. Her honored guests were S. McNamara, Mrs. Orville L. Freeman, and Mrs. W. Willard Wirtz. The Governor's wife, Nellie Connally, lent her gracious presence to the scene, too, and as we all talked and visited together on the cool river bank, one would almost have thought it to be a family reunion.

The brief words of welcome spoken by Lady Bird and Nellie, and the short but vivid personal messages from each of the Cabinet wives brought us all face to face with the reassuring fact that here were our kind of people -- warm, sensitive, acutely aware of the "tie that binds" all women in America to each other.

The indelible memories of that day will be:

- shy Margaret McNamara's confession of how one does change when thrust into the center of a nation's pulse; one grows, and one becomes more aware of the tragic needs of one's own countrymen;
- lovely Jane Freeman's obvious pride in a government that has had the foresight to provide, through research programs, some of today's most valuable assets to private enterprise; refrigeration methods that make fresh Texas peaches available in New York; scientific food freezing that has revolutionized the orange-juice industry; textile treatments that have provided "wash 'n wear" pleated skirts;
- uniquely attractive Jane Wirtz, revealing a depth of concern for those whose lives are not whole; reporting quietly the work of compassion that is the continuing program of the President's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped; and reaffirming her own conviction that "it is ability, not disability, that counts."

--- Lady Bird Johnson, refreshing in her obvious lack of tension or pretense, her obvious pleasure in good food, good friends, and a beautiful Indian Summer day;

And, the final memory --- a small plaque on the wall, very much at home in the comfortable, unassuming decor of the LBJ Ranch house. These were the words thereon:

"A Blessing"
 "O Thou who dwellest in so many homes, possess thyself of this--
 Bless the life that is sheltered here.
 Grant that trust and peace and comfort abide within, and that 'love' and 'light' and 'usefulness' may go out from this home forever."

Golden Age Social Held

The New Century Study Club was hostess to the Golden Age social Thursday afternoon in the American Legion Hut. Mrs. Archie Sorley, president of the host club was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. M.C. Church brought the devotional.

The group surprised one of their sponsors, Mrs. Joe Chester by singing "Happy Birthday" to her when she arrived. They also sang "Happy Birthday" to Charley Reynolds of Brownwood, who was 85 years young this week. Charley is an Olton pioneer. Group singing of hymns was led by Mrs. Owen Jones with Mrs. J.C. Dorris at the piano.

Members present signed a "get well" card for Mrs. Ann Pavelka, a member who has been ill for some time, and a sympathy card for the G.R. Smith family.

A "white elephant" gift swap was held.

Homemade cookies and punch were served by hostesses, Mmes. Fred Thompson, Owen Jones, O.H. Jones, M.C. Church, J.C. Dorris and Archie Sorley. The Halloween motif was used in the refreshment plate. Approximately 30 were present.

The regular sponsors of this group are Mrs. Joe Chester and Mrs. Tom Smith.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 19 at noon in the American Legion Hut. At this time the annual Thanksgiving dinner will be served.

Mrs. Ancinec Hosts HD Club Meeting

Each member is asked to bring a covered dish.

WHITHARRAL -- Mrs. Joe Ancinec, Littlefield, was hostess to the Whitharral Home Demonstration Club after home Tuesday afternoon. The meeting began with the club wishing the hostess "happy birthday" in song. Mrs. John Waters presided with Mrs. A.B. Roberts leading in prayer.

For recreation Mrs. H.J. Dobson led the group in a game "in taking a trip". Roll call was answered with "something nice someone has done for me."

For the next meeting on Nov. 3, the club will visit antique shops in Lubbock.

Mmes. Vick Matthews, L.F. Dusek and Ancinec gave a demonstration on mixing and cooking rolls, nut bread and apricot pie, which were later served with coffee and cakes.

Mrs. D.C. Theford gave the council report.

Present were three visitors, Mmes. Roberts, C.G. Landers, and R.L. Taylor and the following members -- Mmes. Ruben Brock, B.L. Hicks, Sr., Ella Hewitt, V.O. Jennings, E.E. Pair, Robert Strickland, J.D. Waters, Hub Spraberry, Theford, Dusek, Waters, Dobson and the hostess.

Baptist Pastor and Family Move Here From Amarillo

Moving to Littlefield about two weeks ago from Amarillo were Elder and Mrs. Jeff Smith and eight - week - old son, Stephen Rayford.

Elaine is a native of Idabel, Okla. Jeff was born in McCamey. They met while attending school in Odessa, where they both graduated. After their marriage each attended Jacksonsville Baptist College, Jacksonsville, Tex., majoring in Bible.

her young son, or assisting husband in church work.

The Smiths live in a trailer house near Sunset Avenue Baptist Church.

Elder Smith has been pastor of Sunset Avenue Baptist Church for several months but they were awaiting the arrival of Stephen before they moved. This is Jeff's first church. Previous to moving here, he was a bookkeeper for a contractor.

A machinist by trade, Jeff spends most of his spare time in Bible study. Elaine enjoys sewing and reading when not busy tending to the needs of

Lingerie Shower Honors Cleo Harrell Monday

Miss Cleo Harrell, bride-elect of Jimmy Bales, was honored with a lingerie shower Monday evening in the home of Miss Patricia Dilworth. Guests were greeted at the door by Miss Harrell and her mother, Mrs. Freddie Harrell, and registered by Misses Charlene Walthall and Judy Penn.

The decor of the serving table used the honoree's chosen colors of blue and white. Laid with a lace cloth over blue, the table was centered with a doll-size bride and groom in a cloud of royal blue net and blue carnations, backed by a large white organza beam.

Misses Billie Cook and Jonell Tatum served white cake squares topped with blue wedding bells, nuts and pineapple punch to approximately 40 guests who called during the evening.

Hostesses were Misses Billie Cook, Patricia Dilworth, Judy Penn, Jonell Tatum and Charlene Walthall.

Mr. Huke announced the district 2 Annual Fall Rally sponsored by Christian Church in this area to be held in late Oct. 31 - Nov. 2. Mr. Huke made a similar announcement at the Muleshoe Church.

The purpose of the exchange was to stimulate interest in the Rally.

"The Public Market Place for Lamb County"

Recent on health

Harvest time is almost upon us with autumn in the air. Many people, particularly the migrant laborer, are leaving the fields and heading for the cities. In 1963, 130,000 Texans will be leaving the nation's crops and heading for the cities. This is the cold bite of winter that sends them to their homes in the most northern part of Texas. Their migration began last spring when they left their labor fields and headed for the cities. They find work. Whole families pack a few things and head for the cities in pickups, trucks or following their "crew" across the country. This is the migrant way of life with its many inherent problems. For example, the typical migrant farm laborer is usually illiterate—that is, he has not attained more than a grade school education. This is perpetuated by the fact that the children seldom attend school for more than a six month period. At home, where he lives less than six months a year, is normally a small structure with no plumbing. On the following of the crops, he and his family live wherever they are needed. The migrant way of life makes it almost impossible for those who have worked with these people to make accurate estimates. The migrant's income averages about $900 a year. He is more often than not, a consumer of beans and tortillas, is an infrequent treat. The average migrant never sees a doctor during his entire life. His life expectancy is about 30 years. Various health problems are a major concern of the migrant worker and the communities where he goes. Tuberculosis and other diseases are prevalent and go untreated. Immunization schedules—if any—are erratic, and mortality soars. The Texas State Department of Health has underway a state-wide project aimed at bettering the service for the migrants. State projects are being conducted by Laredo-Webb County, West Texas Region, and Rock City-County and Plain-Hale County health departments. This is a weekly feature from the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAIN'S COTTON GROWERS, INC.

As one never knows when medicine has been worth money -- because he can't know sick he might have without it -- so cotton growers may fail to recognize benefits of cotton legislation.

However, in the case of the one-price cotton law (Agricultural Act of 1964) it is safe to say that without this treatment cotton farmers and the industry in general would have been sick, sick. It is a foregone conclusion that the decline in cotton's domestic markets and the resultant buildup of surplus stocks were heading us straight to a reduction in the 16 million acre minimum national cotton allotment, probably to as low as 10 or 11 million acres in the not too distant future, and to all the aches and pains that would follow.

With the one-price cotton law expiring in 1966, Congress will be considering its extension next year and it might be well to take a realistic look at what even a 20 percent reduction in acreage, which is about the minimum that could be expected, would mean. First hit would be the producer. A farmer with a 100 acre allotment would be cut to 80 acres. At about the national average his production would drop to 80 bales, his gross income would go down about $3,000. He would be using in all likelihood the same expensive equipment with the same amount of depreciation; his time as manager would go on the same and so would the time of probably one other employee; he would have no other crop to plant on the idled acres which would produce anything like the same cash income, and for all these reasons his net would be cut by more than the 20 percent suffered by gross. What's more, his search for some other crop for the idled acres would create problems with other surplus products, giving farmers other than cotton producers a valid reason for fearing a reduction in cotton acreage.

Then there's the ginner. Assume a ginner with 50 customers averaging 100 bales each, instead of ginning 5,000 bales for the season, he would be cut to 4,000 bales, and again this reduced volume would be handled with the same high-priced plant at an almost unchanged depreciation rate. It is not at all beyond the realm of reason that one out of five gins would simply go out of business. And so on down the line through every business with volume on the production cotton. Compresses, cotton oil mills, bagging and tie makers, tag makers, cotton merchants -- all would come in for their share of the loss.

Other merchants, from the new car dealer through the junk dealer, would suffer to a lesser degree, depending on how much cotton contributes to the economy of a particular area. Here on the High Plains the part of the economy which stems directly from cotton is estimated as high as 80 percent, but even at 50 percent businesses could be expected to experience sizeable cuts in volume and in many instances this would mean the difference between profit and loss.

These are some of the unhealthy things that could have been expected across the cotton belt without the "medicine" supplied through the one-price cotton system established by the Agricultural Act of 1964, and ill-health in the cotton industry is still in prospect unless that Act is extended beyond 1966, its present expiration date. It would be more than a "Head-in the sand" attitude to expect anything but a rapid and vicious decline in cotton consumption should the price of cotton to mills go up six and a half cents per pound from one day to the next at the end of the 1965-66 marketing year. And acreage must inevitably be tied to consumption sooner or later.

Assuming the continuance of one-price cotton, looking at the future is like looking through the other end of the telescope.

Store Pesticides With Care During Winter Months

Pesticides should be properly stored during the winter months, reminds W.R. Kimbrough, Lamb County agricultural agent. When properly stored, these chemicals will retain their activity and can be used to a good advantage next year, says Kimbrough. Wettable powders or dusts should be kept in a cool, dry place. Bags should be sealed to keep out moisture. Lids on cans should be closed tightly and, if holes have been punched, to make a dust dispenser, tape should be used for sealing.

Sudan Man To Head Agriculture Census

Marvin Earl Vern of Sudan, has been named a crew leader for the 1964 Census of Agriculture. Percy R. Millard, director of the regional office of the U.S. Bureau of the Census at Dallas, announced today. The new crew leader is one of about 1,825 persons throughout the U.S. to receive this appointment.

The new crew leader will supervise a team of census enumerators who will visit all farms and ranches in Lamb County to collect official census questionnaires from farm operators. Enumeration of all farms in the county will take place in November and early December.

The census will be taken in the following way: Shortly after November 5, the Bureau of Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, will mail census questionnaires to all rural boxholders. Those required to fill out the forms should do so and hold the questionnaires until a census enumerator comes to collect them. At that time, the enumerator will help answer any questions that may have proved troublesome.

The crew leader is a key person in conducting a Census of Agriculture. He recruits and trains the enumerators, schedules their work, reviews the accuracy of completed forms, and conducts difficult interviews. The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventories, and information on farm equipment and improvements and income and some production expenditures. The information will be published starting in 1965 for counties, States, and the nation.

Doctors say that the average life expectancy of a man Johnson's age following such a heart attack is less than 10 years. (Ask your own doctor about this.)
