Air Force Recruiting Is Resumed Here and Sargeant Cutshall Made Happy

Lamb County Leader, Sargeant Cutshall, who alone, and ended does the Air Force in this Selective Service...

gent, not to us, but maybe for our readers, and for the 40-odd men who have been given physical examinations...

Last week, Sgt. Cutshall was a bit "down in the dumps." He had been advising all of these 40 young men to come in and see him before the deadline for enlistment...

personal choice of service—and maybe those boys don't know it—but an old-timer in the service like Sgt. Cutshall does—and he's a motherly (or fatherly might be better) soul...

Well, the deadline arrived, and most of those boys hadn't shown up at his office—and he felt bad—not because the Air Corps and the armed services were going to lose their services...

of being accepted.

The Sarg was a bit in the dumps over it all.

But Tuesday morning his dumps transformed into jumps, elation and smiles. And that's where The Lamb County Leader comes in.

"But why aren't you busy," we asked, "since the Air Force announced that your old Friday enlistment deadline, had been over-ruled, outlaid—extended up to August 1."

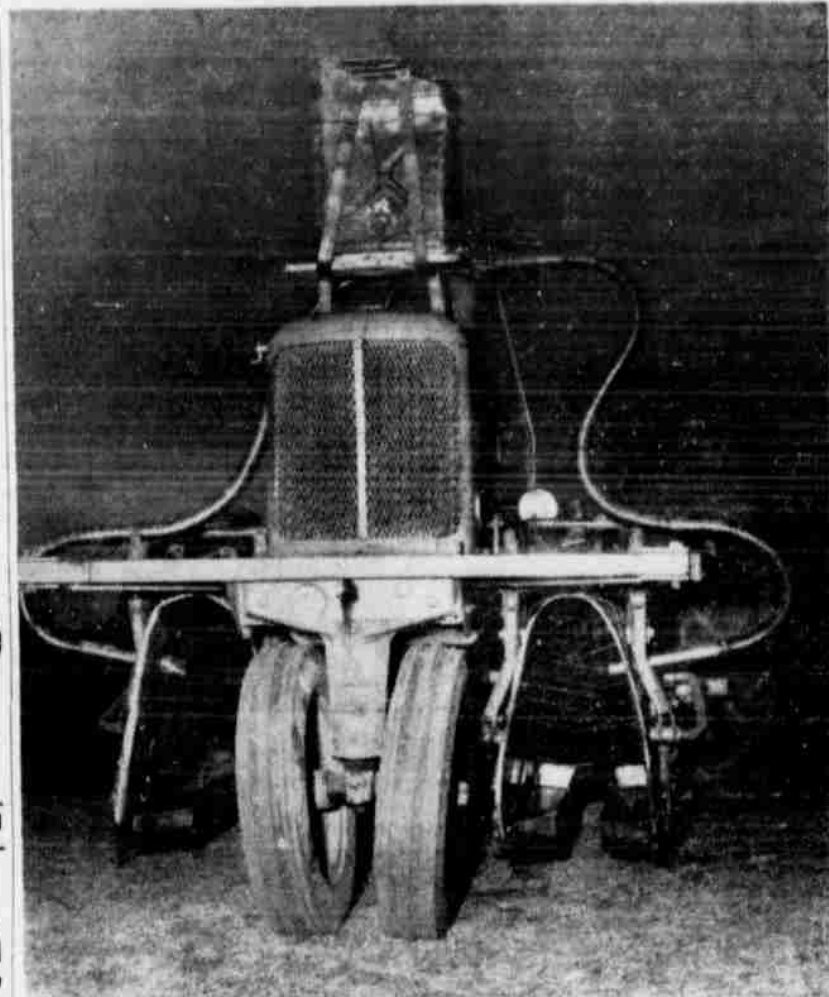

"What's that," said the Sargeant, and we repeated what we had told him, and told him that the recruiting service ought to keep up with the news like, say, a modern, up and going newspaper like ours.

Well sir, things started to happen, in the office of Sargeant Cutshall, into his trusty jeep he piled, and sped to the postoffice—no letter there—then he checked for wires...

Invents Weevil Exterminator

Pictured above is the home-made boll weevil exterminator, invented by E. E. Perry of Henderson County, who is a brother of Mrs. J. O. Connell of this city.

Fame, if not fortune may be in store for the brother woman, Mrs. J. O. Connell, long-time resident of Littlefield and Lamb county, according to letters and newspaper clippings from Henderson county, which confirm that E. E. Perry, has invented, demonstrated and applied for patents, on a boll weevil exterminating device...

The inventor states that his invention is the result of a dream, but those who have watched his model in operation, state that it is little short of a miracle—a million dollar miracle for its inventor.

Perry, who is about 50 years of age, has never lived in West Texas, but in addition to his sister, Mrs. Connell, has numerous relatives here, including Mrs. Jim McGuire, Mrs. Fred Hicks, and Ernest Connell, of the Connell typewriter exchange.

While boll weevils have never been the serious threat in West Texas, that they have proven, in many other sections of Texas, there have been infestations—and every cotton farmer in the area, will be interested in the new invention.

For that reason, and in view of his connection with an old-time family, which will heighten interest, we reproduce below, articles and excerpts from Henderson county newspapers, which tell in detail of the new invention, and the inventor:

A 50 year-old Henderson tenant farmer mounted his tractor Wednesday afternoon on the Charlie Brown farm near here and took off between two rows of cotton in a cloud of dust.

It was no routine mission for E. E. Perry.

Fifty Henderson farmers, business men and civic leaders watched skeptically as he put his home-made boll weevil exterminator to work.

Housing Shortage Reduces Migrant Laborers Here

A few crews of migrant laborers, largely Mexican, have arrived in Lamb county the past week, but the number who have arrived, definitely falls short of the needs, and there is still some hope of further augmentation of the labor force...

One of the reasons for the difficulty in getting migrant laborers here is, according to Mr. Jordan, a lack of proper and sufficient housing. The day when these laborers was willing to accept any kind of housing, in order to get work, is a thing of the past...

Twelve Area youths were accepted for enlistment in the U.S. Air Force during the past week.

Labor Situation Reveals Interesting Facts

Despite the fact that there is an acute shortage of workers, laborers, skilled and unskilled, especially of farm laborers in this section, in Lamb, Bailey, Parmer and Castro counties, all of which are served by the Texas Employment Commission office in Littlefield, there is still a list of 52 persons here receiving unemployment compensation.

The number now registered for unemployment compensation is sharply lower than it was on the comparative date of last year, when 102 were listed—actually the number has been almost halved.

Fewer Seeking Jobs But also, the number registered and seeking jobs is also much lower, much less than it was in July of last year.

But all in all, when compared with other sections of the state, the labor picture here, the unemployed, and those receiving compensation, is in a decidedly healthy condition—much better than in many other sections of the state.

The only dark spot here is the acute shortage of farm laborers, and hoe hands, a shortage which was magnified, when two big rains doubled and trebled the weed population, and increased the bug and worm infestation, in probably even greater proportion.

Some Unemployment Seasonal Of those persons now listed here as eligible for compensation for unemployment, or now receiving same, 33 are men seasonally unemployed because of layoffs at the oil mill and compress; four are skilled workers; five are semi-skilled; five are clerical workers, and four are female domestic workers, cooks, housekeepers, etc.

Broken down further, 36 of those listed as unemployed are male; 16 are female; 15 are non-white; 37 are white; 15 are over 50 years of age; 1 (only) under 21 years of age. It should be further explained, and can be readily seen from a study of the tabulation above, that few of those registered as unemployed here, would make suitable farm laborers.

There are now listed in the Employment offices 27 unfilled positions, or places and firms seeking workers. Contrawise, 103 have registered and are seeking jobs, mostly in specific trades or categories.

Mexico's Silver Mines Running Out But She's Still Biggest Producer

Mexico City, (AP)—Mexico's fabulous silver treasures are running out.

The silver in the ores is getting thin. Veins are pinching out. Higher labor costs are making poor ores unworkable.

Mexico is still the world's greatest producer of silver. But her mines are not as rich as they were 150 years ago when Baron Von Humboldt, the German explorer and scientist, called her "the treasure house of the world."

Since the Spaniards came more than 400 years ago, Mexico has produced nearly 208,000 tons of pure silver. Silver production is still quoted in long tons. The tourist can buy a handful of sterling silver trinkets for a dollar.

Nowadays, more than half of Mexico's silver is produced as a by-product of other metals. Only about 40 per cent of the silver produced comes from mines primarily worked for it.

Higher prices for these cheap metals will probably step up silver production in the next few years. During the second world war, lead and zinc prices were high. This made it possible to work poorer ores. These poorer ores also produce silver, upping the silver production figures.

After the war, prices for the base metals dropped. Poor mines shut down. Silver production, tied to lead and zinc, also dropped—from 2,400 tons a year during the war to around 1,600 tons in 1946-49. Now the lead and zinc prices are up again—and silver production should go up too.

Production figures show that when Von Humboldt was touring the mines the annual output was only about 576 tons a year. This may have been due to the inefficient methods of extracting silver then.

It was not until the cyanide method came into practice that silver production really soared. It went to 3,300 tons in 1928.

Even when production was low, it was enough to make rich men in that pre-inflation period. Romero De Terreros, who bought the Real Del Monte mine in Pachuca for $60,000 in 1739, took 15,000,000 pesos ($7,500,000) out of it in the next 30 years.

Mexico has always been a silver producing country. Even before the Spaniards came, subject tribes were sending silver bars to Mexico City as annual tribute. The Aztecs tried to buy off Cortes with a huge silver plaque, but the wily Spaniard figured there was more silver where that came from. He continued on to Mexico City to look for it.

The Indians worked shallow galleries, near the surface of the soil. The Spaniards deepened them. The British took over the Real Del Monte when it was drowned out by an underground river early in the last century. The mine was taken over by American capital a hundred years later. A few years ago the Americans sold out to the Mexican government, which is still operating the mines—at a loss.

Real Del Monte is down to 7,500 feet now, and the ore is thinner. It once ran a hundred pounds of silver to the ton; now it gives less than a pound. The government has explored the vicinity seeking new veins, but has found none.

FOR PEAS THAT MELT IN YOUR MOUTH

Would you like your peas to cook quickly and look bright and pretty? Then, add a pinch of baking soda when you cook them. According to research done by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, a pinch of baking soda—1/4 teaspoon—added to the water in which a pound or more peas are cooked, cuts cooking time almost in half, preserves the rich green color of the peas and does not destroy vitamins.

Glorify Budget Meals With Ice Cream

It's very comforting in these days of soaring meat costs and the search for budget main dishes to know one favorite old American stand-by is as wonderful, nutritious and economical as ever. We refer to ice cream, of course. No matter that meat portions are smaller and less choice; the meal ends in splendor when there's ice cream for dessert. If you buy it at your super market pre-packaged in the pint or half-gallon carton, you'll find the cost per serving right in line with your budget plans. And it goes especially well with the fresh fruits so abundantly available now. For a real, thrifty treat, serve pre-packaged ice cream with cantaloupe, blueberries, raspberries, peaches or applesauce.

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Roast beef has attained the "company meal," however, or "unhealthy" that company suppose you take that as for a dinner and consider a basic menu would be for such ailments as epilepsy, gout, and liver. While you're supposing, or granted that the guest coming to your house is not in a state of any of those but is on a somewhat diet to help keep his disorder under control.

Roast beef, mashed potato, beans, sliced tomato, mayonnaise, cream, whole wheat butter and jelly, and milk. This is a rather regular meal often served. If a guest comes to a party of the kind, the best thing to do is to serve the food which a guest with gout is never supposed to eat includes anchovies, broil and bouillon, gravy, kidney, liver, meat extracts, roe, sardines, sweet breads and yeast.

That basic meal should be good eating for a guest with liver disease, an ailment which frequently robs you of an appetite. The main stipulation in the diet for a "liver trouble" is to cut down on fats, but not to omit them entirely because food is usually even less appetizing to the liver patient when fat is completely excluded.

These, of course, are just one meal suggestion, trying to hold the line of diet which has been outlined for such patients by their doctors. They couldn't eat the same dinner every day and get all the necessary materials for their body and there may be some guests who cannot eat some of the foods listed; but generally, good old roast beef and mashed potatoes will make the guest welcome.

Marxist Economy

HONG KONG—(AP)—Red China's state-owned banking system in Chahar, Mongolia, is literally rolling in wealth. The banks are on wheels - a sort of financial copy of America's mobile libraries.

A Tientsin newspaper says the scheme is so popular that new deposits in the last few months alone are "greater than the total private deposits at the end of 1950." The paper added that from an original 25 mobile banks in October of last year, the number has increased to 219. The mobile banks handle savings, banking and insurance in the same way as a regular bank, the paper added. Through their efforts, Chahar peasants already have saved 20,000 head of cattle. Two-thirds of all bank deposits have been advanced to peasants needing help, while one-quarter of the deposits have been directed toward developing "handicraft production."

ATLANTA—(AP)—The most decisive victory in a playoff for the USGA Open Championship occurred back in 1929. That was when Bobby Jones beat Al Espinosa by 23 strokes at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N. Y. That was the fourth Open playoff for the Atlanta amateur. He beat Zobby Cruickshank by two shots in 1923, lost to Willie MacFarlane in a double playoff in 1925 by one stroke, and to Johnny Farrell by a shot in their 1928 playoff.

Southwestern Telephone Company Signs New Agreement With Union

Southwestern Telephone Company has signed a new Agreement for one year with the Communications Workers of America effective July 1, 1951. It was announced in Dallas today by Company President, Roy Autry. The new Agreement calls for a ten percent increase in basic wages for employees within the designated bargaining unit.

Part of the increase was put into effect on July 1, 1951, and the balance must await determination by the Wage Stabilization Board. It is anticipated that the Company and the Union will present a joint request to this Board in Dallas.

Mr. Autry pointed out that the increases in wages will cost the Company approximately $400,000 per year and would undoubtedly make it necessary to ask for increases in telephone rates. "Our Company is growing rapidly," said Mr. Autry, "and it is our policy to pay our employees good wages in line with those which prevail in the communities where we operate. Naturally, if we are to meet existing wage standards to attract and retain good people for our Company, we must increase our revenues accordingly. In the telephone business this money can only be made available by a proper adjustment of telephone rates."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee is planning a statewide safety program and is aimed at eliminating accident hazards from the rural areas; and making every citizen, young and old, safety conscious and mindful of their responsibility in such a program. Week of July 22 is National Farm Safety Week.

Hundreds of Perennials Grown for Small Cost

There is pleasure in growing a fine plant. Many gardeners get their chief satisfaction in this way, and pay small attention to the manner in which their plants are arranged in a landscape design.

The all-around gardener will grow what plants he can, and arrange them in the garden as attractively as he is able, finding pleasure in both departments of his art; and there is no undertaking in which this dual reward is greater than in growing perennial plants from seed.

It saves money too, for many perennials can be grown as easily as vegetables, for a nominal cost in seed, plus a few square feet of soil, and a few hours of pleasant work. Compare that with post-war prices of perennial plants, and you will see the possibilities.

The easiest time to start perennials is in the spring; but they can be sown in the summer, and most gardeners have more time to do it then. But special precautions should be taken to counteract hot, dry weather.

With temperatures likely to shoot up to 100 degrees in the sun, the safe way is to prepare a seed bed of fine, porous soil, which is shaded lightly from the midday sun or can be shaded with a canopy of these-cloth, laths, or burlap. A cold frame is easily fitted with such a canopy, or a special bed surrounded by a wooden curb to keep off washing rains is easily prepared. Soil in the seed-bed should not be fertilized.

Sow perennial seed in rows, just as you would radishes, depth varying from half an inch for the smaller seeds, to an inch for the largest. Cover only with porous soil, using sand or a mixture of sand and fine soil, or peat, or humus. Keep the soil moist until the seeds sprout, and the plants well established; then water normally. Label each row so that you know what kind and color of plants are growing. Keep weeds down and let the plants grow until they are large enough to handle, when they should be moved to a nursery row, and given room to develop until large enough to take their place in the perennial border.

Many perennials germinate slowly; and it will save your patience if you know in advance when to expect the seedlings to show. The following list of subjects easy to grow shows the average time required for germination under favorable conditions:

- Anchusa, 10 days; achillea, 10 days; anthemis, 5 days; boltonia, 5 days; campanula, 5 days; carum, 5 days; columbine, 5 days; coreopsis, 5 days; Shasta daisies, 5 days; delphinium, 20 days; dianthus, 5 days; foxglove, 10 days; hibiscus, 15 days; hollyhock, 5 days; hesperis, 10 days; galliardia, 20 days; linum, 8 days; lupine, 8 days; lychnis, 10 days; phyalis, 15 days; pyrethrum, 20 days; salvia, 15 days; stokesia, 20 days; trolius, 50 days; veronica, 15 days.

Twin candelabra held yellow cathedral tapers which were lighted by Billy Wayne Downing, cousin of the bride and Teddy Croom.

Rev. J. H. Peeples, read the impressive double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, E. L. Jernigan, was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin and chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was scalloped at the waist with a black closing of tiny tined below the waist. The yoke was of imported lace and wide scalloped chantilly lace and was held to the bodice with a row of tiny seed pearls. The petal point sleeves were edged with chantilly lace and seed pearls and had tiny satin-covered buttons almost to the elbow.

Mrs. Emmett Jernigan, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her gown fashioned on the lines of the brides, was of sky blue taffeta. Her headdress was polk shaped and made of blue chantilly lace over taffeta with a shoulder veil held in place by rows of seed pearls. She wore long all-over lace gloves and carried a colonial corsage of yellow and white carnations.

Emmett Jernigan, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Ushers were Billy Wayne Downing, Teddy Croom, Ned Fielding and Teddy Whitmore.

FROM THE GRANDSTAND

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

The Southwest Conference has again turned down a proposal that freshmen athletes be allowed to participate in varsity play, leaving it and the Ivy League the only major conferences with this rule still on the books.

It will be interesting to see what happens this fall, when the member schools run up against teams using the first-year men. If the draft doesn't start operating at double time, probably nothing will. If it does, then the Conference members may be more than a little sorry.

Probably the loudest of the anti-fresh members is Texas A. and M., which has all of its athletes quarantined because they're under military ROTC contracts.

This doesn't mean A. and M. wants an unfair advantage, it argues that there's just no sense in wiping the rule off the books now because the schools haven't lost enough men to warrant it.

Southern Methodist is one of the members who thinks the Conference should be allowed to use first-year men at the moment. There's a pretty big Air ROTC unit on the Hilltop at Dallas, too. Matty Beel, SMU athletic director, was the one who originally asked for a poll at the conference.

World events, at the moment, make it appear most college men — including athletes — will be around this fall. But this situation could change overnight, a fact that four of the seven schools in the Conference like to point out.

Very few of the frosh would make the varsity if the rule were wiped out and nothing happened to drain off the older athletes. They probably would just be insurance on the bench.

Come November, some of the coaches will probably be wailing about the lack of it.

Let the Rollers Save Your Energy

If you are the type housewife who runs with her tongue hanging out while serving a number of guests at the family table, it's time you became wise to the use of rollers and casters. Florence Low, Extension home management specialist, says that many a vigorous job can be made easier by putting household equipment on wheels, rollers, or casters.

For example, she suggests a rolling tray-table to carry meals from the kitchen to the dining table. It may also be used in laundry work, house cleaning, food preservation, and even for outdoor work such as gardening or painting.

Mrs. Low says that a rolling table in the laundry is more convenient than a wall counter because it can be located wherever needed. It may be by the washer for sorting clothes, near the sink for sprinkling, or beside the ironing board to hold the clothes before and after ironing. The specialist suggests that the clothes basket be put on wheels or casters, too, so that it can roll to and from the clothes lines.

Value Of Gardens

How much is your garden worth? Although home gardens are generally considered important money savers, few people stop to consider just how much a home garden is worth in dollars and cents.

J. E. Hutchison, Extension horticulturist, says some very impressive figures have recently appeared in the Congressional Record of the 82nd Congress and in some of the national magazines.

One government publication from Washington carried a report of 24 families living near Houston who had 24 acres in gardens in 1948. Food valued at $10,712 was produced on the 24 one-acre gardens. Total expenses amounted to $850, leaving a net value of $9,862.

The same publication reported that, of the eight winners in the national 4-H garden program for 1950, one girl is attending college on the profits from her garden demonstration, and another plans to make gardening a career in partnership with her father. One boy made a gross income of $11,670 in five years, and another made a $508.50 profit from two and three-fourths acres of corn produced on stony ground.

A study made by one of the national magazines showed that $5.25 invested in seeds, insecticides and plant food this spring paid off with $91.02 worth of vegetables. That is, because the gardener did a good job. The size of the garden in this study was 29 by 25 feet.

Farmer's Home Administration records show that the average value of home gardens in Texas is $380 per acre. The national average is $340.

Hutchison figures the only losers in gardening are the persons who did not plant one.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

BY TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

Washington, (P)— The number of bills Congress passes isn't the only yardstick for measuring the amount of work it does.

Hundreds of bills are introduced on the opening day of a session. As of July 1 the number introduced totaled 4,637 in the House and 1,789 in the Senate, plus several hundred resolutions offered in each body.

Of this grand total of 6,469 bills, only 53 were signed into law by President Truman as of July 1. In addition, out of 361 joint resolutions of the House and Senate, 16 were signed by the president.

These joint resolutions largely were measures granting temporary extensions of laws about to expire, so more time could be devoted to consideration of permanent legislation.

A big percentage of bills introduced never have any chance whatever of becoming law; many are introduced purely for political effect. They all are referred to committees, and that's where their fate is usually decided.

So, although only a handful of measures were enacted during the first six months of the year, the various committees have been in almost continuous session. This is particularly true of those committees dealing with taxation, appropriation, economic controls, foreign relations and the armed forces.

The Defense Production Act of 1950, for example, was considered for months by the Banking and Currency Committees of the House. Rep. Wright Patman of Texas serves on the House group, which reported a 48-page bill to the floor for action.

Virtually every page contained provisions of vital interest to some part of the country or to some segment of the nation's economy.

One provision, strongly backed by Patman, establishes a Small Defense Plants Corporation to assist smaller concerns in obtaining a fair share of defense contracts and scarce materials and to aid them in obtaining loans for financing construction or expansion.

One section provides broad authority for a system of priorities of scarce materials. Another deals with expansion of defense manufacturing plants by loans and other forms of governmental assistance. And another section deals with price and wage controls.

The big new tax bill finally was sent to the House floor after months of intense study by the Ways and Means Committee, on which Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont is the lone Texas member.

Passed by the House, the bill went to the Senate Finance Committee Sen. Tom Connally serves on that group, as well as holding down the chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Both Connally and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, the latter a member of the Armed Services Committee, served on the group which held weeks of study into the MacArthur controversy. That was the combined Armed Services-Foreign Relations Committee.

The House Appropriations Committee was in session almost every day, Saturday included, during the first six months of the year. The fiscal year of the government ended June 30, so they were trying to finish hearings on money measures for all the departments and agencies by that time.

Chairman of the Armed Services subcommittee on Appropriations is Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City and Lubbock. A constant stream of admirals and generals, flanked by subordinates ranking from sergeant to colonel and yeoman to commander, paraded week after week into Mahon's committee room to explain the need for billions of dollars.

Likewise, Houston's Congressman Albert Thomas headed a subcommittee which heard top officials of various other agencies justify or attempt to justify their requests for large sums.

With all these facts in mind, it is clear that any reference to the number of bills Congress had passed is little indication of the work they have done.

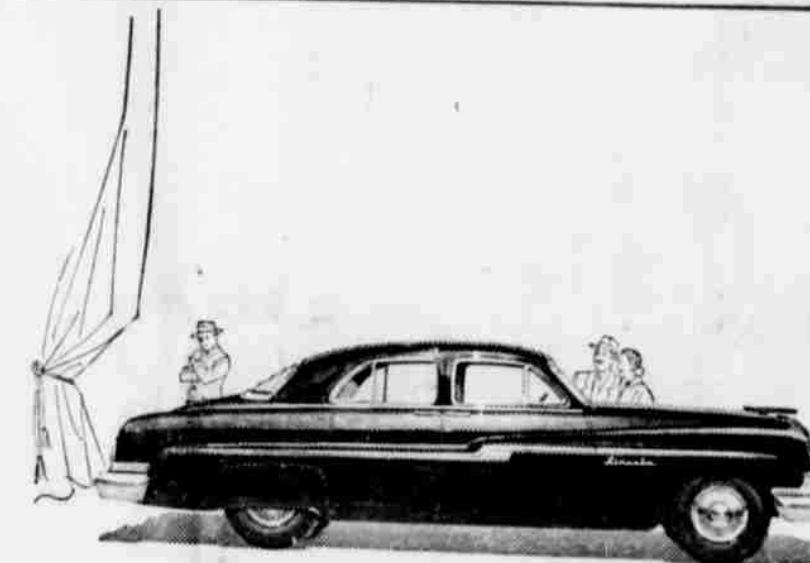

The number of bills passed at this stage also fails to reflect the progress of legislative studies, for many committees carry on hearings by their subcommittees simultaneously. Toward the end of a session they report out a number of bills within a short period.

While some bills require months of study, others of relative unimportance or of an uncontroversial

Traffic Toll For June High In District

Twelve dead, 59 injured and $46,966 lost in property damage was the grim story of traffic accidents in the 21-county area served by the Lubbock Texas Highway patrol district during June. Capt. E. L. Posey of the THP released the figures Friday as the district began digging in for the battle shaping up against the usually high accident toll during the fall months.

Ahead of 1950
"We are running ahead of the first six months of the last year in both fatalities and property damage," Capt. Posey said. Exact figures were not available, but Capt. Posey said, "We have had six or seven more deaths so far this year than last." In the South Plains area, which varies slightly from that covered by the THP district, there have been 54 traffic deaths this year as compared to 48 for the same period in the record breaking 1950.

Posey urged all motorists to become even more careful drivers as the fall months approach, since those are the months in which the area usually has the highest accident rate. The monthly report for June showed a total of 466 arrests by patrolmen in the Lubbock district. Leading this list were 139 arrests for speeding, 38 for driving while intoxicated, 52 for defective lights, 22 for other defective driving equipment, 21 for running stop signs, and 18 for driving on the wrong side of the road or other improper driving.

Outside of Towns
"All figures are for violations or accidents which occurred outside of any town," Capt. Posey said.

He reported that the 12 fatalities resulted from 19 accidents, while there were 26 accidents in which persons were injured and a total of 75 accidents, 41 of which resulted only in property damage. Matley county led the list for fatalities—with four—because of a wreck late in June near Matador in which four persons were killed. Hockley and Howard counties saw two traffic deaths each and Lamb,

Cochran, Crosby, and Dawson one each. The month saw a fatality increase of four over the month of May, when eight persons died on highways within the 21-county district. Property damage and enforcement activities were about the same for the two months, Capt. Posey said.

Mid-Afternoon Refreshment

Tall glasses, tinkling with ice and filled with a delicious, bubbling beverage—what better way to revive the drooping spirits of guests or the family on warm summer days? A mid-afternoon drink, served on the porch, or any cool, shady spot, is a delightful interlude in the day's activities. A cooling drink is a welcome offering to unexpected callers and affords such a quick and easy way to bring on the refreshments.

A few cans of fruit juices and bottles of pale dry ginger ale and sparkling water in your refrigerator and you are ready for any time that a quick drink may be called for. Fresh fruits, too, peaches, cherries, berries and the citrus fruits, all come in handy for invigorating drinks. Here is a good afternoon refresher, the cherry syrup to be made ahead of time and set in the refrigerator to chill until ready to use.

Cattlebreeders From Three Countries Meet at Kingsville to Discuss New Breed

Kingsville, Tex. (AP)—Cattle breeders from three countries met here to work out the future of a relatively new breed—the Santa Gertrudis.

Their hope is to set standards for the big, hump-backed animal developed especially to resist the heat and fatten on the grasses peculiar to the U. S. Southwest, Southeast, and Middle Americas.

The Santa Gertrudis, the only successful new breed of beef cattle in 300 years, was developed by Texas' famed King Ranch. It is a cross between Brahma bulls and Shorthorn cows. It has the long, down-turned ears of a Brahma. Some are cream or tan-colored, others are a rich brown.

To be sure that the new breed develops properly, the cattlemen organized the Santa Gertrudis Breeders International at a meeting in this town which was named after the King Ranch which surrounds it.

The first president is Walter Caldwell of Luling, Tex. C. C. Peters of Lake Wales, Fla., is vice-president and R. W. Briggs of San Antonio is treasurer.

All the officers were elected by a mail vote preceding the meeting here. Twelve directors were elected, four each one, two and three year terms. Directors whose terms expire at the next annual meeting are Sumner Pingree, Ermita, Oriente, Cuba; T. C. Montgomery, Arcadia, Fla.; J. T. Maltberger, Cotulla, Tex.; and Dr. J. K. Northway, Kingsville.

The two-year directors are J. Arthur Panceast, Uleta, Fla.; Richard M. Kleberg, Jr., Kingsville; Vachel W. Lackey, San Antonio, Tex.; and John Martin, Alice, Tex. Three-year directors are Leroy G. Denman, Jr., San Antonio; Tobin Armstrong, Armstrong, Tex.; C. Hunter Strain, San Angelo, and John Armstrong, Selma, Ala.

This advisory board was named: Kleberg, Richard King of Corpus Christi, Dr. A. O. Rhoad of Turrialba, Costa Rica; E. J. Berker of Moron, Cuba; and Raymond Hollingsworth of Raymondville, Tex.

Kleberg is present head of King Ranch. Dr. Rhoad is chief of the animal industry, department, Inter-American Institute of Agricultural Sciences, at Turrialba.

Much of the work so far has been done by Dr. Rhoad. In a report to Santa Gertrudis breeders, he told of visits to herds of the cattle with the aim of establishing minimum qualifications of breeding stock for registration.

Whatever system of registry is set up, said Dr. Rhoad, must be genetically sound, fit into ranching practices and must be administratively workable.

There are more Santa Gertrudis cattle than most cattlemen had realized, the Costa Rican emphasized. This is fortunate in a way, he said, because it will mean standards for breeding stock can be set higher than if there were few of the animals.

Livestock Premiums for the 1951 State Fair Amount to $83,074

The dairy industry in Texas, with a 200-million-dollar annual income, will present its proudest stars during dairy cattle shows at the 1951 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21.

Purebred Jerseys, Holstein-Friesians, Guernseys, and Milking Shorthorns will compete for $19,655 in premiums Oct. 12-19, Ray W. Wilson, livestock manager of the fair, has announced.

The dairy cattle exhibits will form an important part of the fair's mammoth livestock exhibition this year.

First of the dairy cattle to be judged will be the Jerseys, due to appear in the Fair's new $125,000 livestock pavilion Oct. 16 before Judge Dale Dean of Ridgeway, Mich. They will compete for $4,060 in awards.

The Regional Holstein-Friesian show will be judged Oct. 17 by A. C. Thomson of McHenry, Ill., with $4,500 at stake plus state herd awards of $100 each. Guernseys will be judged the same day by Guy Kennedy of Arcadia, Mo., with a Fair premium list of $2,500 and a Texas Guernsey special award of $500.

Milking Shorthorn judging will be Oct. 18, with premiums of $3,250, with Robert Traynor, Milton Junction, Wis., as judge.

I. W. Rupel, College Station, will judge the Junior Dairy Show scheduled for Oct. 15. Premiums for this show total $3,705. The Texas Guernsey Breeders Association offers $285 and the Texas Holstein-Friesian Association, $285—Jersey Breeders of Texas, $385 and the Southwestern Milking Shorthorn Association, $350. Classification system awards for Junior Dairy Show Guernseys, Holsteins and Jerseys total $2,045, and $355 has been posted for the Milking Shorthorn division. The Milking Shorthorn Junior division will be judged Oct. 18.

W. L. Stangel is general superintendent of the livestock show; R. E. Burleson, superintendent of the dairy cattle show; and A. M. Meekma, assistant superintendent.

Total livestock premiums for the 1951 State Fair add up to a record-breaking $83,074. Twenty six breeds of dairy and beef cattle, horses, swine, sheep and Angora Goats and Junior Livestock will be shown during the 16 days of the fair.

Information For Veterans

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am an automobile dealer. Now and then veterans come in for cars which they claim are essential to their jobs, and they ask how they can go about getting GI loans to finance their purchases. What should I tell them?

A—You should tell the veterans first to find a lender and come to an agreement as to terms of the loan. Generally, the lenders are able to handle the entire process, so that veterans need not visit their VA offices. It should be emphasized, however, that VA cannot approve car loans unless the auto is essential to the conduct of the veteran's business.

Q—I have an NSLI policy. What would happen to it if I were to die during the 31-day grace period, owing VA for a month's premium?

A—The insurance remains in force during the grace period. Therefore, full settlement would be made to your beneficiaries, except for a deduction of any unpaid monthly premium.

Q—Some time ago, I quit school under the GI Bill because my progress had been unsatisfactory. I'd like to start in again before the July 25 cut-off date. What must I do?

A—You must (1) establish the fact that the unsatisfactory progress was not due to your own misconduct, negligence or lack of application, and (2) undergo advisement and guidance so that VA can determine whether you stand a good chance of successfully completing the course you now want to take.

Q—Does the July 25 GI Bill training cut-off date apply to all World War II veterans?

A—No. The cut-off date, with a few exceptions, does apply to those discharged from service on or before July 25, 1947. However, those discharged afterward have four years from their date of discharge in which to begin training.

Selective service examinations have been completed for college men who wish to be deferred from military service next fall.

But the figures, announced yesterday, showed that only about one male student in three bothered to take the test—some 380,000 out of the total 1,059,000 enrolled in colleges and universities.

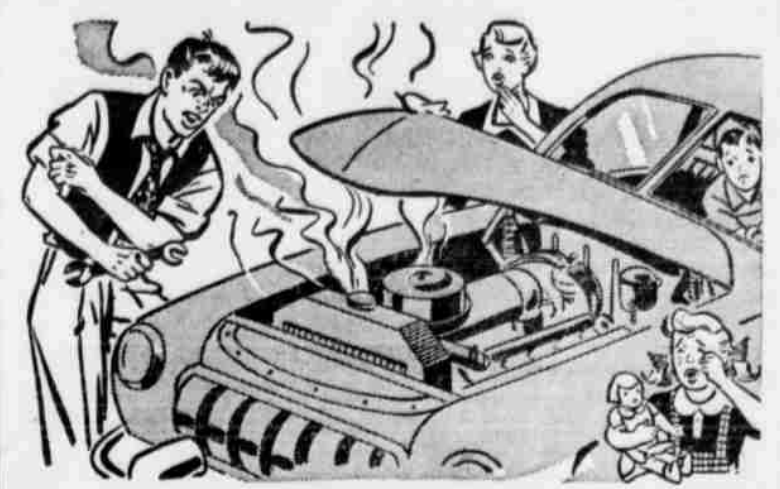

Results of the tests must be in the hands of local draft boards by Aug. 30. Selective Service said. They are being mailed out as fast as they are calculated by the

When you have a child in the cuddly, crawling stage, you have the perfect reason for installing an automatic electric water heater—the safest water heater made. Your child can crawl right up to the water heater, pull itself up by holding on to its spotlessly clean sides, wrap its arms around the water heater and be perfectly safe, thanks to the complete insulation and no-flame features of an electric water heater.

These same features make an electric water heater equally safe for you, too. There's no fear of gusty winds blowing out a flame—there's no flame. There's no waste heat, either, because only an electric water heater is completely insulated so that all the heat goes into the job to be done.

Government Officials of Mexico And U. S. in Conference Which Should Aid Scarce Labor Supply

Within a few hours after President Truman signed the new law which it is hoped will restore a steady and friendly supply of laborers from Mexico into this country, a group of top U. S. officials flew to Mexico, where they are now conducting negotiations to the end that harmony in the troubled situation can be worked out. Word from Mexico City is that the negotiations are progressing, and Mexican officials expressed hope for agreement, now that U. S. law now satisfied Mexico on the matter of guarantee that laborers sent will be well treated and well paid. Discriminations against Mexican Nationals so sent, also will not be tolerated by the Mexican government.

The chief new provisions are that "immigration centers" be set up in Mexico and reception centers in the U. S. Workers would be chosen at the immigration centers by Mexican authorities and the U. S. Employment, Public Health and Immigration services. The U. S. would then pay the cost of sending these workers to the reception centers in the U. S.

The farmer would go to his nearest reception center and sign contracts with the workers there, with the approval of the U. S. authorities and the Mexican consular service.

The Mexican draft also includes a proposal for a permanent joint international commission, with headquarters at El Paso, to handle disputes under the agreement. Some U. S. delegates said the U. S. is agreeable to this.

The most prominent new feature of the Mexican draft is the guarantee asked of the U. S. government that "compensations of an economic nature, social assistance and transportation" be paid. This means the U. S. would pay the worker if the individual farmer failed to do so. The new U. S. law specifically authorizes such a guarantee.

Other new clauses proposed by Mexico are:

The U. S. to give 30 days notice of needing workers instead of 60 days as in the 1949 accord; Mexico to answer within 15 days instead of 30, saying how many men she can supply.

If workers are rejected at the U. S. reception centers for health or internal security reasons, the U. S. would repay the cost of returning them to Mexico.

If there is any discrimination against Mexican workers, the U. S. Employment Service would take them away from the discriminating employer. The USES would then try to find other work for him. If it could not do so, he would be returned to Mexico and paid just as though he had worked full time for the entire length of his contract.

The USES would be required to certify that wages offered in any area "are those actually prevailing."

Blue denim has come a long way from the farm to this smart outfit, but the same old-fashioned blue denim is getting the full fashion treatment these days. Here, the heavy cotton is used by Sidran of Dallas in a dashing sundress, bolero, and jockey cap sports ensemble for vacation wear.

Social Security Official to Be Here Wednesday

The number of old-age and survivors insurance beneficiaries in the 18 county South Plains area administered by the Lubbock social security office increased 26% in the first six months after amendments to the Social Security Act became effective last September.

Increase in the amounts being paid was even more substantial, jumping 220% from $31,000 to $68,000 monthly, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock office.

Hutton said that as of August 31, 1950, it was estimated that 3000 persons were receiving $81,000 monthly in these insurance payments in the area. A tabulation recently completed shows that as of February 28, 1951, there were 2542 men, women, and children in the area receiving $68,291.00 monthly. The manager pointed out that the reason for the proportionately greater rise in amount of payments was that the new law, effective last September, not only made many additional persons eligible for payments but also very substantially increased the general level of benefits.

Hutton called attention to the fact that this Federal insurance program provides not only old-age insurance but protection for the family in case of the breadwinner's death.

John G. Hutton, Manager from the Lubbock Social Security office will be at the Post Office in Littlefield at 1:30 on Wednesday, July 25th to assist persons who wish to file claims for survivors or retirement benefits and to assist in furnishing information about the new Social Security law.

to accept Air Force enlistments up to August 1. The letter, so advising him, had somehow got delayed in the mail, probably because, it was probably routed via flooded Kansas City, where the mail service like everything else is mostly under water.

To make this long story short, the Sargeant is back in business, with a determination backed by a smile on his countenance, and again he is telling those forty odd draftees who have not already done so, that they still have a few more days—until almost up to August 1, to enlist with him in the Air Force—and get a nice free ride with him to Amarillo—that is those who have taken pre-induction physicals.

And we're ready to lay a small odds bet, that the Sargeant in these next ten days or two weeks—gets results—he likes these boys, all of them, and after they talk with him, invariably, they like him.

The paths into which country newspapering lead a reporter, are devious, and many, but this is our first experience in it leading us into the recruiting business.

But its all in the game, all in the days work—and things like the smile on the countenance of Sgt. Cutshall, sometimes, make us change our mind, and decide that after all—newspapering is worthwhile.

Revival at Fieldton Church of Christ Closes

The revival meeting at the Church of Christ ended Sunday. A singing was held in the afternoon and lunch was served at the church after the morning service.

Use Garden Hose to Spray Plant Food and Pesticide

There is a growing use of hose water in home gardens for the application of plant food during the growing season; and some gardeners use it to apply insecticide sprays. It performs these tasks with a minimum of work by the gardener, saving many hours of his time.

Whenever plant food is to be applied to a growing plant, it is a problem how to get fertilizer down to the roots. Digging may disturb the roots, and perhaps do more harm than the plant food will do good. But when a soluble plant food is dissolved in water, it is carried down through the soil to take immediate effect.

It has recently been established by experiment, that the leaves of plants will absorb plant food in solution more quickly than the roots, and actually use a higher percentage of the nutrient, making it go farther. So it is actually more efficient to feed plants through the hose water, sprayed by a sprinkler, than to spread it on the ground dry.

Various devices are offered to mix plant food with the hose water. Most satisfactory are siphons which lift the nutrient solution from a pail or tub, and mix it with the water that passes through the hose in a ratio of 16 to 1. It is important that the solution be too weak to burn green leaves; and directions for this are given by the manufacturers of the soluble materials.

Nitrogen is the food element most likely to be needed by growing plants, and by lawns. It is carried away by drainage water and consumed by the plants; so is likely to be exhausted quickly when rains are frequent and growth vigorous.

Complete soluble plant foods are now offered, which will supply all food elements. Standard dry plant food mixtures contain a high percentage of soluble materials which can be used to form a nutrient solution.

To apply insecticides in the hose water requires special applicators, which mix the chemicals with the water in proper proportions for use on the plants. By using the water pressure, pumps are eliminated. Both insecticides and weed killers can be applied with a minimum of work.

Pickles and Relishes Give Meal An "Extra Touch," States Texas A. and M. College Specialist

There's nothing like an attractive dish of pickles and relishes to give a meal that "extra touch." And what's more important than that, they furnish some minerals and vitamins.

According to foods and nutrition specialists with the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, pickles and relishes are classed according to their flavor. For example, sour pickles have the flavor of vinegar. Sweet pickles have varying degrees of sweetness and sour. Dill pickles have the flavor of the herb used during fermentation. Kasher dill pickles have garlic added as a seasoning.

The specialists urge home canners to use fresh, sound, clean vegetables and fruits for pickling. They recommend sorting and grading for size and age. Immature cucumbers make the best pickles, they say, and fruits should be firm and slightly under-ripe.

For some tasty recipes and useful tips on pickles and relishes, see a copy of B-188, Pickles and Relishes, which is just off the press. This publication can be obtained at the local county Extension agents' office.

COMPRESSED AIR ENGINE MAY BE DEVELOPMENT

DECATUR, Ill.—(AP)—A compressed air motor that would drive a car at speeds of 160 miles an hour may be a development of the future.

Paul L. Franck, of Washington, D. C., who has been working in the field of compressed air motors for nearly 30 years, seeks the original drawings of a model invented by Louis C. Kiser 25 years ago. The Decatur man, a former locomotive engineer, built his invention from a Ford motor converted along the principles of a steam engine.

Kiser tried to organize his own manufacturing firm. He and his partner ran out of money before operations got started. Kiser was so discouraged he sold the invention for junk and moved to Arkansas, where he died in 1927.

Women Now 'Can' Plane Engines

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(AP)—"Kelly Kates" are helping build Air Force engines here. They are women employes of Kelly Air Force Base.

Women who a few months ago were baffled by vacuum cleaners are now installing engine valves, rewiring ignition systems and operating lathes—after intensive training, of course.

And they're "canning" engines. After final inspection, the engines, ranging from little ones for trainers to the huge power plants for the B-36, are "canned" for shipment or storage.

farmer. Similar discounts are applicable to grain sorghums placed in CCC loan. They are: $2.09 per hundred pounds for No. 1 and 2 less .02 1/2 cents per cwt., storage less .01 cent per cwt. CCC loan fees thus netting him $1.87 1/2 per cwt. However, if the farmer stored the grain on the farm the $2.09 per cwt. loan rate will only be discounted .02 cents per cwt. thus netting him $2.07 per cwt. The storage on grain sorghum cannot be paid in advance as the farmers have been doing the last two years.

The CCC Farm Storage Facility loan program is still available to the farmers of the county and any farmer interested in constructing on-the-farm storage should contact the county PMA Office for information concerning this loan program.

Two youths were sworn into the Air Force Saturday, July 14 - Fred N. Crow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Crow, route 2, Morton, and Connie E. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie P. Freeman, Littlefield.

All of these young airmen have arrived at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio and are now in their first week of basic training. After their eight weeks basic training they will be assigned to a technical school for which they qualify for.

Sgt. Cutshall said that he was surprised at the number of youths who have not taken advantage of enlisting in a branch of service of their own choosing when they have a chance to. Only 20 percent of the youths in this area, that have had their pre-induction physical and are authorized to volunteer for the service of their choice, have volunteered to date. The new deadline has been extended to August 1.

Invents—

tion a few minutes later, they hauled his invention as a revolutionary and history-making device that may mean a new deal for cotton.

For there, in metal trays beneath the exterminator, lay dozens of dead weevils, eggs, larva, grubs and other insects—proof that Perry's invention would do what it was intended to do.

Dream Come True It was literally a dream come true for the husky, broad-shouldered Perry, who has fought a losing fight against weevils since he was a young fellow in Hill county.

One night last summer, after weeks of discouraging combat with the pesky insects in 30 acres of cotton on the Sterling Crim farm, Perry had a dream. It was so real and vivid that he woke up and got out of bed.

"I saw this exterminator in my dream just as plain as it is right here," he said, petting the steering wheel of his tractor. I didn't do anything about it for two or three weeks, then I thought so much about it I couldn't sleep nights. Then I went to work."

Although it was too late in the season to use it, Perry "made it here and yonder" out of pieces of scrap metal and tubing, assisted by one of eight sons, 15 year old James Perry.

Basic Principle Simple

The invention's basic principle is so simple that as one Ryuk county farmer said, "It's a wonder no one ever thought of it before."

Two metal hoods, open at the front and back, hang on each side of the tractor between the wheels. Each hood has metal springs which act as "agitators." They gently shake and postle the cotton stalks as the tractor drives over them.

Meanwhile, the tractor's exhaust is used to convert a special liquid insecticide into a very fine fog-like spray. This deadly spray is funneled into the hoods by two pipes which meet on top of the tractor radiator and are connected to a tank which holds the insecticide.

As the tractor moves along, the exhaust forces the fine insecticide spray down the two pipes into the hoods, penetrating every nook and corner of the cotton plants. Meanwhile, the agitators shake the insects, larva and eggs loose from the plant. The destroyed pests are then caught by metal trays at the bottom of the hoods.

Cost Less Than Forty Dollars The exterminator, which cost
