

N.Y. Wins 2nd Game By 3 To 1

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes, whose 10th inning homer won the opening game, blasted his second home run and a pinch-hit single today as the New York Giants took a two-game lead over the Cleveland Indians with a 3-1 World Series victory.

Cleveland took a 1-0 first inning lead when Al Smith hit Johnny Antonelli's first pitch for a home run. The Giants made it 2-1 in the fifth when Willie Mays drew a walk. Hank Thompson singled and Rhodes pinch-hit a Texas Leaguer to centerfield to score Mays. Early Wynn struck out Dave Williams and then walked Wes Westrum to load the bases. Antonelli forced Westrum but beat out the relay to first and Thompson scored.

Volunteer Vine Does Well With 6 Melons
MALAKOFF (AP)—A volunteer watermelon vine in the orchard at the home of Mrs. Sallie Walsh in the old Bethel Community gave a good account of itself.
The vine produced six melons, one of them 30 inches long, 79 inches around and weighing 100 pounds.
Might have done some good if it had had some rain and some attention, the old-timers figured.

New Indochina Aid Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and France evidently will put into immediate action a new billion-dollar program to bolster free Indochina against communism.
The approval of congressional leaders, however, will be sought for some expenditures.
Agreement on the program was announced last night in a communique issued after three days' talks between top French and American officials.
The communique gave only general statements of determination "to support the complete independence of Cambodia, Laos and Viet Nam."
But it marked the first time since the shooting war ended on July 21 that the United States and France have actually had a common action program. In this sense it probably means a new era of cooperation in the struggle to save Indochina.
Aside from the communique, it was learned from official sources that the main provisions of the program are:
1. France's 10-division force in Viet Nam will be systematically reduced. The aim is to get all French forces out of Viet Nam by March 1956, about four months prior to elections on whether the whole of Viet Nam will go Communist or not.
2. The withdrawal will be geared to a relatively slow schedule so

The Driver Walked Away

Pictured above is what is left of a Fletcher Transport truck which exploded and burned early this morning after overturning just east of Birdwell Lane on Highway 50. The truck hit a bridge about 1:30 a.m. and skidded about a block before coming to a stop. The driver, David C. Blasingame of Pecos, walked away with no serious injuries, though he is now being treated at Cowper Hospital for cuts on his face and hands. The mishap required aid of police, highway patrolmen and sheriff's officials. The Big Spring Fire Department and Webb Air Force Base firemen cooperated in extinguishing the blaze, which was fed by the gasoline in the tanks. The highway was blocked until about 5:30 a.m. today when the truck was moved to the position shown above. Fire spread for a block down the road where gasoline had spilled.

Truck Explodes In Flames But Driver Escapes Serious Injury

David C. Blasingame, driver of a Pecos gasoline truck which exploded into flames last night after hitting a bridge east of the city, miraculously escaped serious injury.
Attendants at Cowper Hospital, where Blasingame is being treated, said that the driver suffers only from cuts on his face and hands. The cuts were apparently made by flying glass at the time of explosion.

The mishap occurred about 1:30 a.m. just east of the city limits. Blasingame said he was driving west and was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car when his truck hit the bridge.
Approximately six concrete posts were seared from the bridge as a result of the impact, but the truck did not run off the road. Instead it remained upright and skidded for about a block down the highway.
The truck finally over turned in the middle of the road, and the explosion occurred, followed by a terrific fire.
Quite a bit of the gasoline and coal oil escaped from the transport tanks, causing a highway fire between the bridge and the place of stopping. Firemen said this morning that a gasoline tank apparently exploded.
Blasingame remained conscious during the entire time and was able to crawl out of the truck cab before the fire reached him. Only his arm was scorched.
Highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and police were on hand to direct traffic while members of the Big Spring fire department tried to extinguish the blaze. The highway was blocked and traffic had to be routed around Lovers' Lane and Eleventh Place.
A "foam" truck from Webb Air Force Base had to be called to actually smother the fire. Equipment used by the local fire department aided only in controlling the blaze and keeping it from spreading.
It was 3 a.m. when the base fire truck arrived, and it took about half an hour to smother the blaze. The highway could not be opened to traffic until about 5:30 a.m. as the truck remains were too hot to handle.
The truck was marked off as a

DOUBLE THANKS TO HONEST MAN

Mrs. Zora Harrison, 202 State, gave double thanks Thursday for an honest man and for the return of $80 which was to apply on medical expenses of a polo victim.
Mrs. Harrison dropped her purse, which contained the money, downtown Wednesday afternoon. Distraught over the loss, for it represented funds others had given to apply to expenses of treatment for a child, she prayed that an honest person would find the purse.
Not long afterwards, Roy Brown, 111 E. 18th, found her from papers in the purse, and returned the purse with all contents intact.
Mrs. Harrison had the purse on her arm as she turned from Runnels into East Third Street. The door on her side flew open and as she grasped for it, the purse slid off. She drove down to get out of traffic and returned, but the purse was not there.

Pat McCormick Returns To City

Patricia McCormick, gored almost fatally in the bullfight ring of Villa Acuna nearly a month ago, was back home Thursday—under her own power.
She walked from the Cosden Petroleum Corp. plane, which had been dispatched to Del Rio to fly her home, at 11:45 a.m., apparently untired by her trip.
Weak from the ordeal which nearly cost her life, Pat never-theless declined aid. Although couch facilities were available on the plane, she sat all the way.
Except for her mother, who has been at her bedside since the mishap on Sept. 5, Pat might not have missed a beat this afternoon. But Mrs. McCormick put her to bed for a nap.
With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick, Pat walked from the hospital at Del Rio, then boarded the plane at 10:30 a.m. for home. An hour and a quarter later the ship had put down at Hamilton Field where friends greeted the party.
Twenty pounds lighter than even her hard fighting weight, Pat's first task is to regain her strength. When that is done, well, she's determined to return to the ring. The doctor has told her, however, that this cannot be before spring.
Meanwhile, a party from Houston is coming here Sunday to interview her concerning plans for an autobiography. "The Lady Bullfighter," it is issued. Pat, who was an art major before entering the bullfight ring, did the illustrations for the book.

W. Leatherwood Is Found Dead

Wendell (Red) Leatherwood, member of a well known Howard County family and former resident of Big Spring, was found fatally shot near Tucumcari, N.M., Wednesday.
His body was discovered in a country area, about 15 miles from a home. A gun lay at his side. Members of the family became alarmed when he had been absent from home about 14 hours and instituted a search for him.
Arrangements are incomplete, but information received here Thursday indicated that services would be held at Tucumcari Saturday morning and that burial would be at Tucumcari.
Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. C. (Bud) Leatherwood, Wendell Leatherwood had engaged here in farming for a number of years and was associated with the Farmers Gin Company. Several years ago he had moved to Tucumcari, where he had farming and other interests.
Members of the family left here Wednesday evening and Thursday morning.
Immediate survivors are his wife; one son, Wendell Jr.; five brothers, Spencer L. Leatherwood, Seattle, Wash.; Dave Leatherwood, West Columbia, Cecil Leatherwood, Big Spring, Paul Leatherwood and P. C. Leatherwood, Lamesa; two sisters, Mrs. Bart Wilkinson and Mrs. Franklin Nugent, Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bugge are parents-in-law and aunts are Mrs. G. L. Brown, Mrs. L. S. Patterson and Miss Mattie Leatherwood, all of Big Spring.

Delaware Governor Studies Possible Action On Schools

MILFORD, Del. (AP)—Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware today sided with the recommendations of his attorney general, members of the state board of education and "many others" on what action to take in the tense school segregation situation in the southern part of the state.
New trouble spots cropped up yesterday in various communities around this town of 5,700, center of the dispute for almost two weeks.
Schools are being boycotted here and in surrounding communities in protest against the integration of 11 Negro students among 1,522 students registered at the elementary school here. One of the Negroes has since transferred to an all-Negro school at Dover.
Out of 2,074 pupils registered in schools here and in Gumboro, Eldendale, Millisboro and Lincoln, 537 reported for classes yesterday.
Tonight, the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People (NAAWP), headed by Brynion Bowles, an Arlington, Va., man who has actively opposed integration in this area during the past week, will hold a meeting to call for the ouster of School Superintendent Ramon C. Cobbs.
Last night in Laurel, 12 miles to the southwest, Bowles and his

Demo Committee Names Purser To Be Chairman

J. W. Purser was elected by the Howard County Democratic executive committee Thursday morning to be its chairman.
He was selected at a meeting called to name a successor for Grover Cunningham Jr., who resigned because of his appointment as acting city judge. Cunningham had been elected the county's party chief in balloting in the first Democratic primary in July.
Purser will take office immediately, and one of the first tasks he has is that of participating in the selection of a nominee to succeed Elton Gilliland on the ballot for the November general election. Gilliland last week resigned as district attorney of the 11th Judicial District, effective as soon as the successor named by the governor can qualify.
A meeting has been called for the Howard County Courthouse at 3 p.m. Monday to name a nominee. Joining with Purser in this chore will be Morgan Hall, Stanton, Martin chairman, and Mrs. Ronnie McDowell, Garden City, Glasscock chairman.
Mrs. Viola Robinson, tax assessor-collector conferred with the executive committee, explaining procedures under which 1011 a receipt and exempt certificate receipts are authorized by the Legislature. This followed a discussion by Truett Thomas, chairman for voting Precinct No. 1, which takes in northwest Big Spring. Among others at the meeting were A. McNary, No. 8; George White, No. 3; Lawrence Robinson, No. 2; Son Powell, No. 16.

Hope High For Parley Success

LONDON (AP)—A German spokesman announced today the nine-power conference on freeing and rearming Germany has approved a compromise plan for establishing and controlling a European arms pool.
The plan, put forward by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, would divide responsibility for safeguards on runaway German rearmament between a new seven-nation European alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
Previously, France had insisted on the seven-nation authority exercising controls while West Germany—with British and American backing—held out for NATO supervision.
The German spokesman told newsmen the Spaak compromise met with the approval of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Premier Pierre Mendes-France and was also acceptable to the other delegations. He described the Spaak memorandum put before the conference today as "excellent."
The German announcement came shortly before the nine foreign ministers reassembled for their afternoon session.
An air of elation and optimism surrounded Lancaster House, where the momentous conference is being held, over chances of an agreement to put German divisions in the line against Communist aggression.
Hopes soared as a result of the pledge by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden yesterday that British troops and air forces will be kept on the European mainland indefinitely if the conference succeeds.

Charles Adams, 56, Dies; Rites Set For Friday

Charles M. Adams, 56, long-time resident of Howard County and veteran member of the Howard County Junior College board of trustees, died at a hospital here Thursday at 9 a.m.
He had been hospitalized for the past six weeks following a heart attack.
Services have been set for 3:30 p.m. Friday at the Church of Christ, 14th & Main, with Melvin Wiles, Dallas, officiating, assisted by the minister, Lyle Fricke. Burial will be in the City Cemetery. Until time for services, the remains will lie in state at the Eberley-River Chapel.
Mr. Adams came to Howard County 26 years ago, and for 25 years had been an employee of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, serving as a pumpner. Practically all of that time he had lived in Forsan, but last year he and Mrs. Adams had built a new home, the first to be erected in the new residential area north of the college.
For a number of years Mr. Adams had been active in civic affairs at Coahoma, and he was elected originally to the HCJC board in April, 1948, and was re-elected to a six-year term in April of this year. Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, said that he was "not only one of the finest trustees I have ever known, but one of the finest men."
Soon after he and Mrs. Adams had returned from an extensive trip, he was stricken with a heart attack and was taken to the hospital.
Surviving him are his wife; two sons, Maj. John C. Adams of Egin AFB, Fla., and Darrell D. Adams, Midland; a stepson, James L. Johnson, Big Spring; and a step-daughter, Mrs. F. D. Weaver, Austin.
He also leaves six grandchildren; his father, John C. Adams, Coahoma; a brother, Fred Adams, Coahoma; five sisters, Allie Rae Adams, Coahoma, Mrs. Cecil Foster, Soudan, Mrs. One Williams, Fort Worth, Mrs. Kate Walters, Granbury, Mrs. Nell Holland, Clovis, N. M.

Brownell Vetoes Merger In Steel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today the Justice Department's antitrust division has disapproved a proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngtown Sheet & Tube Co.
He said that Bethlehem and Youngtown rank second and sixth among "fully integrated" steel companies and that there is substantial competition between them in a number of products.
He said his department, which was consulted by the companies about their projected consolidation, had also considered the policy, as expressed in the Clayton Act, of arresting trends toward concentration in an industry.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The department announced that Bethlehem's assets total more than $1 billion dollars, and Youngtown's exceed 500-million.
Wash.—Add Steel 108 million.
The department said that "a merger does not necessarily have to result in a Sherman Act monopoly to be illegal," and added:
"The Clayton Act, as amended in 1950, was designed to reach monopolies and restraints of trade in their incipiency; and outlawed acquisition of stocks or assets where in any line of commerce in any section of the country the effect of such acquisition may be substantially to lessen competition or to tend to create a monopoly."
Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes, who heads the antitrust division, said recently that the department was concerned about the

SQUALLS ALONG GULF

TEXAS had two squall lines on the opposite north and south borders Thursday and a cold front stalled in Amarillo.
Squally weather which the Brownsville Weather Bureau described as an off-shoot of hurricane Gilda which battered Honduras moved northward toward the Rio Grande during the morning.
The bureau said heavy rains already had been reported along the Mexican Gulf Coast from Tampico to Brownsville, and that weather in the western Gulf would be dangerous for small craft during the day.
Rains along the middle and lower Rio Grande watershed were expected and slight rises along the lower sections of the river were forecast.
Overnight showers dropped .84 of an inch at Brownsville and .45 at Weslaco and continued over half a dozen counties in the southern-most section of Texas during the morning.
At the opposite end of the state the cool front which entered the Texas Panhandle Wednesday was lingering around Amarillo with no indication of when it might move on.

Giant Owner Says Leo Not To Quit

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher will be back as manager of the New York Giants next year despite rumors to the contrary, owner Horace Stoneham said today.
"I'm getting a little tired of these rumors," Stoneham said. "The (Durocher) signed a two-year contract and it has a year to go. Anybody who says otherwise doesn't know what he's talking about."
There have been reports that Durocher, disappointed over so-called front office second-guessing, might quit baseball after this year to go into television. Durocher also has denied this.

$35,000 Damage In Sterling Fire

STERLING CITY (SC) — Damage has been estimated at $35,000 in the fire Wednesday night that burned out the Bailey Brothers Clothing Store, only men's clothing store here. The blaze was discovered about 7:30 p.m. by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Speck on their way to the movie theatre.
Fire trucks were called out from San Angelo and Water Valley to fight the blaze. Volunteer workers tried to save merchandise from the fire but most of the stock was either destroyed or damaged by smoke and water.
The store was across Highway 87 from the Sterling County courthouse. A beauty shop next to the store suffered only water damage. The building to the east was vacant.

Army Adds Another Missile To Arsenal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is adding a new long range guided missile to its arsenal, increasing the number of its combat-equipped divisions and buying more tanks.

This stepped-up Army tempo was disclosed in a series of announcements here yesterday—the day after a conference in Colorado among President Eisenhower, Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the Army's chief of staff.

The Army has gone into what it calls "at least pilot line" or limited production of a new guided missile, called Redstone. The weapon is presumably capable, like others of its type, of carrying an atomic warhead.

Details of Redstone's capability are still kept secret, but there is speculation its range may be up to 500 miles—substantially more than the Army's "Corporal" missile, also a surface-to-surface bombardment atomic weapon.

The Army said it awarded to Chrysler Corp. last week an $855,000 contract as "the final touch needed to start limited production" of Redstone. This brings the total for the Redstone project so far to more than 22 million dollars.

2. In a move which will add to its organizational numbers, although not to its total manpower, the Army announced a program to boost the number of divisions designated as combat outfits to 24 in the next two years. This will be done by giving to five of the present six training divisions designations as combat divisions, equipping them with arms for battle-field fighting and organizing them along combat lines.

But the manpower size of the divisions apparently will remain, at least for some time, at about the level of a training division—which is only between 10 and 15 per cent of the man-strength of a 17,500-man combat division.

Aside from giving the Army the framework for a quick expansion of the five divisions into full fighting strength, the program also makes possible another program announced simultaneously—a new system of rotating forces stationed overseas. This will involve return home of whole units—divisions, regiments or battalions—replaced overseas by units of similar composition. The current plan of rotating individual soldiers while still keeping the units on station will be superseded. Each unit will serve 33 months overseas, stay 31 months at home.

3. A contract for $160,001,200 worth of M48 medium tanks was placed with Chrysler Corp. This actually is a renewal of an earlier order for M48s, the initial allotment of which Chrysler completed a year ago.

The new production, like the previous, will be carried out at the government-owned, Chrysler-operated tank factory at Newark, Del.

Farmer Succumbs, Not Telling Who Set Him On Fire

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A farmer has died of burns in Phoenixville hospital without identifying the man he said drenched him with gasoline.

Semon Bojeck, a Ukrainian who came to the United States in 1949, had told authorities he would name his assailant only when certain he would die.

But even though told yesterday that the end was near, he kept his lips sealed.

Bojeck, with some help from interpreters, told state police he was alone in his home last Saturday when a man entered and threw a container of gasoline at him.

The gasoline was set afire by a cigarette Bojeck was smoking.

A passing motorist found the farmer unconscious.

Actor Is Named In Non-Support Suit

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Frankie Darro, arrested on a non-support charge, says film work for him has been spotty in recent years.

He was arrested yesterday on a warrant signed by his ex-wife, Betty Darro. She charged he has failed to support their 9-year-old daughter, Darlene.

Darro, released on $500 bond, remarked: "I keep telling her she can't get blood out of a rock."

Tyler Opens Rose Festival Tonight On Grand Scale

TYLER (AP)—Tyler opens today its annual Pageant of Roses—the Texas Rose Festival celebrated on an even grander scale than in recent years.

The coronation of Miss Joanne Miller of Tyler as Rose Festival Queen is set for 7:30 p.m. and the presentation of her court of 38 girls will open the four days of fun.

Adm. Robert Carney, chief of U.S. Naval operations, Gov. Johnson Murray of Oklahoma and Sen. Price Daniel are to be guests. Crowds of 200,000 persons in all are expected.

Thousands of rose blooms will be shown. The show will be held in the new Garden Center Building and greenhouse in Rose Park.

Buses will leave each half hour for a tour of two rose fields to give visitors a look at how roses are budded and grown.

Carney, who speaks at noon Friday at a Legion Hall luncheon, is expected to comment on the explosive situation in Formosa and the 7th Fleet.

The queen's tea will be held Friday afternoon on the lawn of the Miller home and the Queen's coronation ball with Jan Garber's orchestra playing, will be held that night.

A queen's ball also will be held Saturday night and will be open to the public.

Saturday's festival parade promises to be one of the most colorful in its history. The parade will include 21 floats decorated with roses.

Violent Strike Ends In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The settlement of the violence-marked Square D Co. strike restored labor peace to Detroit today for the first time in 3 1/2 months.

Agreement came suddenly yesterday, a day after three strike leaders were jailed for 30 days and fined $250 each for contempt of a court order against mass picketing.

Striking Local 857 of the Independent United Electrical Workers called a rank and file meeting today for ratification of the settlement.

Terms were not publicly announced. However, they were assumed to include an agreement on the firing of 37 strike leaders.

Management wanted arbitration of such case before reinstatement of any. The company fired them for "acts of violence." The union demanded their jobs back ahead of arbitration.

The union, calling out its 1,200 members, went on strike June 15. Wages and a company demand for an iron-clad no-strike clause were at issue. The company makes electrical instruments.

The last of the strike probably has not been heard, Rep. Clardy (R-Mich.) said it is going to be investigated by the House Un-American Activities Committee of which he is a member.

Both Clardy and Rep. Kersten (R-Wis.) called the strike an instrument of Communists. The UE denied this.

Two Union Men Face Violence Counts In Strike

BEAUMONT (AP)—Two union officials were free on bond today on charges of conspiring to prevent by force two men from working at the struck International Derrick and Equipment Co. plant.

They are David King Jr., 32, strike leader, and Lloyd Childress, 28, business representative of Local 595, International Assn. of Machinists, AFL.

Both were released on bonds of $2,000 each and examining trial was set for Oct. 6 before Justice Horace Bladen.

King and Childress were charged jointly with hiring Gus Meadors, alias Gus Meadows, to beat up two IDECO employes who have not been on strike.

Chief of detectives Jim Stafford said he received a tip that Meadors, an ex-convict, had been hired. He said he obtained the ex-convict's cooperation in making telephone calls to the two union men and that police recorded the telephone conversations.

Dist. Atty. Ramle Griffin filed the charge after recordings were made of Meadors' talks with King Tuesday and Childress yesterday. The recorded conversations, Griffin said, concerned instructions from the two union leaders to Meadors.

The allegedly planned attacks, the district attorney said, were not carried out.

Three Texas Rangers, Johnny Kievenhagen, Ed Oliver and Harvey Phillips, worked with Stafford and detective Capt. Doyle Wingate on the case. Kievenhagen, Oliver and Oliver were sent to Jefferson County last week on undisclosed business.

The strike of the AFL union against IDECO started Aug. 19. On Aug. 28, shots were fired into a car parked in a non-striking IDECO employe's garage. On Sept. 8, another non-striker, J.T. Simmons Jr., was attacked and beaten by two men on a Beaumont street.

Fire Department Sponsors Show

STANTON—The Stanton Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring appearance of the T. F. Tidwell Shows in Stanton through Saturday.

Proceeds of the show will be shared by the fire department, which expects to net from $300 to $500 from the week's engagement. The money will be used for equipment and supplies needed by the firefighters.

Showgrounds will be located on the Lamesa Highway, west of Stanton.

Cornel Wilde Wins Custody Of Child

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Cornel Wilde has full custody of his daughter Wendy, 11, until his ex-wife, actress Patricia Knight, returns from Europe.

Miss Knight has announced she will wed Niels Larsen, Danish cosmetics maker and movie producer, in Copenhagen Oct. 24.

A gin trash machine used in the search for pink bollworm infestation was set up south of the DeLinning Plant, just east of the Cotton Mill on the Big Spring-Andrews highway Wednesday morning.

It is in charge of and is being operated by J. A. Munson, whose home is at Yokum. Present when the machine was put in operation were Bert Badger of Big Spring and B. B. McClung of Lamesa, field inspectors for the pink bollworm service of the Texas State Department of Agriculture, and Guy Orr, who is in charge of the pink bollworm inspection for the state in this area. Orr also lives at Lamesa.

The machine is owned by the Agricultural Research Service of the USDA. It will be in this area the rest of this week at least, and probably at the same location although it may be moved to Stanton for one day.

Students of agriculture, farmers and all others are invited to go out and see the machine work. Some of the first trash run through it was from the gin at Andrews and the pink bollworm count appeared to be running relatively high. Other trash ginned yesterday was from the St. Lawrence gin in Glascock County and from gins at Big Spring, Colorado City and Lorraine. Gin trash from the counties over the area will be brought to the machine here.

Farmers who don't believe the pink bollworm is a real threat can soon convince themselves by a visit to this machine.

Nixon Says Left Wingers Would Rule If Demos Win

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Vice President Nixon says that if the Republicans lose control of Congress this November, it will be ruled by "left wing" Democratic forces headed by "three men on a horse riding backward."

Nixon, addressing a GOP rally at nearby Averill Park last night, lashed at Adlai Stevenson, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President in 1952; Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National Chairman, and Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore).

"Why do I say riding backward?" He asked. "Because from Stevenson all we hear are quips and criticisms; from Mitchell, smear and fear; and from Morse—well, he just acts like Morse."

Nixon, on a 33-state tour to drum up Republican votes in the forthcoming Congressional elections, told newsmen on arrival here that the GOP faced "an uphill fight" to retain control of the House.

But he said Republican candidates were running ahead in nine of the 19 Senate races he had looked over during his tour.

Nixon said that while Democratic Sen. Hubert Humphrey appeared to be leading Republican Val Bjornson in Minnesota, he was "very much impressed" with Bjornson's campaign.

The vice president also issued a standing invitation to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to join the Republican administration in Washington. Dewey will leave the governor's mansion Jan. 1.

Nixon told an audience of about

2,000 Republicans that "there is a new climate in Washington." "This is an administration," he said, "that is cleaning up and not covering up."

If the Democrats win Congress those calling the signals, he said, would be the "ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) left wing elements."

Asked earlier at his news conference to name some Democratic candidates he considered as "left wing," Nixon listed Richard L. Neuberger, running for the Senate in Oregon, and John Carroll, campaigning for a Colorado Senate seat.

Gilliland Steps Down With Good Record Of Service To District

It is not too great a rarity to see a faithful performer in public office forced to a decision to step out of that office because of heavy physical demands coupled with personal sacrifice.

Sometimes we as citizens demand too much of our public officials while not remembering them enough. And sometimes we lose the best men because of this.

The Herald has regretted circumstances that have brought about the resignation of Elton Gilliland as District Attorney for the 118th Judicial District. While we do not have at hand the actual score of convictions and acquittals in cases he has tried as state's prosecutor, there is every public evidence that he has served the district's welfare conscientiously and competently. He has deserved the confidence placed in him by voters who have kept him in office as many times as he asked it.

Admittedly it has been a grievous job, one that takes many hours beyond the allotted working day, and one that creates mental and moral strain beyond many ordinary jobs of private life. We believe Gilliland has tried to respond to all demands and requests made of him, although some, of course seem to reach past the duties of the office. This is, in essence, real public service.

But for his own more tranquil future, and for financial gain, he has yielded up his office. He ought to be able to step out with the thanks of the citizens of the district.

And if the office can be filled with another who carries on the duties as conscientiously, the district will continue to be well served.

Statistics On Business No Help To Republicans In The Campaign

For those who insist economic considerations determine the success or failure at the polls for a party in power there are some interesting graphs in this week's U. S. News & World Report.

Prices, the rate of employment, and income are major factors at the ballot box in off years as in presidential election years.

Take the first. The magazine's chart on retail prices (with the 1925-29 average as 100): January 1953, 209, January 1954, 209.5, present 209.8.

Wholesale prices (with 1947-49 as the base 100): January 1953, 109.9, January 1954, 110.9, now 110.5.

But the biggest jolt to a specific group of voters, the farmers, is found in these figures from USN&WR's chart. Farm prices (with 1947-49 rated at 100): January 1953, 98.9, January 1954, 95.6, now 82.6.

Farmers pay the same retail prices as anybody else, so while those prices are holding steady at half a percentage point above January of 1953, the farm family is realizing 6.3 percentage points less on the stuff it sells than in January of 1953.

That could be a devastating statistical factor in this year's congressional elections. It is human to hold the party in power responsible, regardless of the circumstances, and no amount of explanation can remove the feeling of resentment in the voter's breast.

For the same period mentioned above, industrial production dropped from 134 in January 1953 to 124 for the present time.

That, too, is a statistic that carries great weight at the polls, for it means but one thing: fewer people employed in industry, or working for fewer hours per week.

As against 1.7 million unemployed on January 1 of 1953, there were 2.8 in January of 1954 and 3.5 million as of the present time.

Regardless of the general stability of the economy, when a man is without a job and unable to find employment, he is a discontented voter and he takes it out on the party in power.

Small wonder GOP candidates are "running scared."

These Days—George Sokolsky

Matter Of Civil Disobedience And Congressional Witnesses

Perhaps the most serious adjustment that the citizen has to make in the period of expanding government authority is his own relationship to the state. Most Americans, during nearly the whole of our history, were in little contact with their federal government beyond the post office. They paid no direct personal taxes; they were not investigated and examined and questioned; they rarely appeared in a federal court.

During the past three or four decades, certainly since the depression and World War I, the citizen has found himself more and more in contact with federal authority. The power of government over the individual has increased and is increasing until the entire nation is conscious of the fact. Unquestionably what has brought about this change is a head that has been the various investigations by Congress which have involved a statement or even a confession of belief, of partisanship and of association.

Prof. David Spitz of Ohio State University has stated the problem as follows: "...there are those who categorically assert that it is the duty of the citizen always to obey the law, while others insist that a citizen owes his primary obligation to his own conscience. Since it is my general conviction, with Aristotle, that 'in all disputes upon government each party says something that is just,' I propose to consider here those principles which, in a democratic state at least, appear to me to render valid some claims to the right of civil disobedience."

In our representative system, the laws are made not by the fiat of a monarch or the whim of a dictator. They are made by the elected representatives of the people and are further protected by a written constitution which are held every two years. The people are further protected by a written constitution and by a judicial system which protects them from tyranny. If their Congress is alert, they can know what their Congress is doing.

To recognize any form of civil disobedience as proper would be to turn the nation into an anarchy.

Prof. Spitz states the case further: "When a citizen today is summoned by a congressional investigating committee to answer questions he regards as morally reprehensible — questions, for example, that call upon him to state his political beliefs or to be an informer — he finds himself in a grave dilemma. If he answers the questions, he obeys the law but violates his moral code, and may, in addition, expose himself to certain non-legal consequences of his legal action — e. g., the loss of his job. If he refuses to answer on moral grounds, he satisfies his conscience but denies his obligation to the law, and thereby, if we are to believe certain conservative thinkers from Socrates' day to our own, endangers as well the very foundations of the social order..."

Of the 150,000,000 citizens of the United States, how many have been called before congressional committees since the 1920's to state whether they are Communists, subversives or spies or have associated with such persons? It would be possible to compile the entire list and it would come to a few thousand, a tiny fraction of the whole people.

A cancer can be very small but it needs to be cut out or burned out by X-ray. The smallness does not mean that drastic measures are not indicated. It is so with this alien body in our midst. The noise and excitement is no measure of the size of the group; it is a measure of the peril to the nation.

I was recently told that every professor is scared to death. I do not believe it. Most professors and instructors know full well that no investigation will involve them in anything. Most of them have not related themselves in any manner to espionage and subversion. The few who have sought not to be in a position to mold the minds of our children. This country always had radicals on its faculties, and they were generally the most popular instructors. But they were not spies and they did not serve a foreign master.

Nation Goes Crazy Come World Series Time; We Can't Claim We Make Sense

By ED CREAUGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Memo to a man from Mars:

Sorry we missed seeing you yesterday. Normally we'd have heard you tapping on the office door, even though your tentacles don't make as much noise as human knuckles. But the television set was going full blast, you see. None of us wanted to miss the World Series opener.

The World Series—maybe we'd better tell you about that, since you're down here studying human behavior. The World Series is, well, call it a sort of nervous breakdown that we have at this time of year.

It's a serious ailment. It just about brings the United States to a standstill. People forget about politics, about world affairs. Nobody argues about Joe McCarthy. Joe McCarthy, we ought to explain, used to manage the New York Yankees. They took part in the World Series, too, in happier days.

Fortunately, perhaps, this temporary insanity of ours doesn't last long. It usually runs its course in a week or less. Then everybody goes back to work, except sometimes the manager of the losing team.

The World Series is a contest, or series of contests, between two baseball teams. Baseball is a children's game played with a ball, a bat and a set of bases. The rules say there must be four bases although some teams, such as Pittsburgh, seldom need more than one or two.

This year the contest is between the New York Giants of the National League and the Cleveland Indians of the American League. The Giants are not especially big men and the Indians are not really Indians. For that matter the Polo Grounds, where the series opened, is not noted for Polo.

The Giants are managed by Leo Durocher, Laraine Day, Tallulah Bankhead and a New York restaurant keeper named Toots Shor. The Indians are managed by Al Lopez and about half the population of Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

Now the basis of baseball—and remember, there are four bases—is a contest between the pitcher, who throws the ball, and the batter, who try to hit it.

If the batter does hit the ball, he runs around the bases. Unless, that is, he is saving his strength for a television commercial after the game, in which case another player runs for him. The other player is known as a pinch-runner. We never have been able to figure out why.

If the batter does not hit the ball, he throws down his bat and glares at the umpire. Umpires are mostly old ball players with failing eyesight. Old umpires never die. They just lose their seeing eye dogs.

Ball players play ball because they love the sport, though sometimes for the sake of their families they accept token salaries. Some of these token salaries rank right along with the take-home pay of the President of the United States.

This is only fair. We haven't had a President since Theodore Roosevelt who could hit a ball out of the infield.

Besides riches, ball players aspire to two things: getting elected to the baseball hall of fame, and marrying Marilyn Monroe.

Baseball is the great American game, but during the season millions of Americans can take it or leave it alone. Come series time, though, everybody's a fan—and an expert. People who normally would as soon kiss their mother-in-law as shell out $2 for a ticket are packed right in there around the TV screen screaming.

Why? You tell us, man from Mars. We're a warm-hearted, clever, childlike people. But we never claimed that we made sense.

Notebook — Hal Boyle

Local Woman Prompts An Apology From Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U-P) — Pickup items from a Pavement Plato:

It is not at all unusual for people to have an allergy to money, although generally it's the other way around—money seems to be allergic to us.

What most of us seem allergic to is the fact we often get less money for a job than we feel we should. But even here we protect ourselves against the allergy with the consoling remark, "But, after all, it's some years ago I knew a woman who actually suffered physical distress from handling money. Every time she touched cash, her hands broke out in a rash."

Ironically, she worked as a cashier. The only way she could keep the post was to wear white cotton gloves.

Life was quite a problem to her until she met and married a well-to-do businessman. He gave her a big checking account, and that cured her hand rash almost overnight.

Somehow nobody ever seems allergic to a checkbook. For that matter, I never heard of a man being allergic to cash. It must be an occupational disease peculiar to women.

Our odd notions about foreigners are equalled only by their odd notions about us.

An Italian lady, who came to Long Island to live after marrying a former American Army officer, recently returned to her homeland for a visit. She found the Italian children in her village wearing cowboy suits, and even some of the old folks wanted to know how she guarded herself against Indian ambushes in the United States.

"Is it true that the Americans, when they finish a meal, put their feet up on the dinner table?" asked one child.

The other day I made the bald statement that never in the history of the world lived there a woman who hadn't sometime secretly searched the trouser pockets of her husband or growing boys.

Today I have a rebuttal from Mrs. Cora Holmes of Big Spring, Tex., who has reared two sons and has been twice widowed.

"I hereby make oath and affidavit that I never put my hands (either of them) in any pocket of any of these men at any time, never—not once," she wrote in a letter that bears the seal of a Texas notary public.

All I can say in self-defense is that this is just one more proof that Texas has everything.

My apologies, ladies.

More Leisure Time Has Meant Money For Entertaining World

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Gleeful Cleveland and New York innkeepers, cafe operators and others remind us that entertainment and recreation is a big business in the United States and getting bigger.

Practically every state considers the "tourist" business one of its leading money-makers as people head hither and yon across the nation. Of course not all of this travel is strictly vacation. Salesmen might occupy many of the nation's hotel and motel rooms, eat in many of its cafes, buy much of its gasoline, train and plane tickets.

Time this past week had a cover article on David Reisman, a University of Chicago social scientist who has been taking a good look at the changing American way of life.

One point that he noted after a look at figures of the U. S. bureau of the census was that employment in such industries as manufacturing and agriculture had been declining while employment was up in service industries, which include selling and repair services along with motion picture projection machine operators, ballplayers and hotel employees, etc., in the purely recreation and travel end of business.

Industry continually develops more and more efficient ways of production which requires less manpower. But more and more time must be spent selling the ever-increasing flow of goods.

Another byproduct of the more efficient ways of production is that people have more and more free time. Instead of working twelve hours a day for six days a week as did many 100 years ago, the 40-hour week is well established. Although some work longer, there are others that work 35 and 36 hours a week and are considered full-time employees.

This free time has had a big effect on many industries. More cars are sold. Motels are built to line every major U. S. highway. Airlines, bus companies and even sometimes the hard-hit railway passenger industry sell more tickets.

Just of late the do-it-yourself trend has become big industry. Instead of sticking to modest ads in such magazines as Popular Mechanics, companies making home power tools now turn to big color spreads in such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post.

The movie industry has found that television hasn't meant its ruin. Instead it happily dreams of record or near record profits as crowds pour in for Cinemascope and other epics.

The metropolitan newspaper has some misgivings about the effect of TV. People have only so much free time it was argued. Yet despite the spread of TV newspapers have continued to gain in circulation and set all-time highs in advertising.

Appealing to mankind's free time in its many forms is a growing industry with few exceptions and who knows where the limit is?

Austin Recollections—Raymond Brooks
Political Playback

The Senate has had two instances, the Hobby one, of changing officers or members without having to print new roll-call forms.

When the late Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of Texarkana died, he was succeeded by E. H. Beck, no relation.

When Lynch Davidson voluntarily retired as lieutenant governor, president of the Senate, he was succeeded by T. W. Davidson. Each had been a former senator. They ran against each other for governor, with the result that neither won.

Then in 1954, in the House, the veteran Representative S. J. Isacks of El Paso, whose service as a member had spanned 51 years, and two months, resigned. His daughter, Miss Maude Isacks, was elected to succeed him, in time to serve in the March-April special session.

Reaching way back, let me retell a wisecrack of 1920 that still sticks in my memory.

I was a secretary to Governor W. F. Hobby. In 1920, Governor Hobby was chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

The Republicans had nominated Warren G. Harding, a newspaper publisher.

W. A. Johnson of Memphis, Hall County, a weekly newspaper publisher, was lieutenant governor. During Governor Hobby's absence, he presided as acting governor.

During the national convention, I took to Gov. Johnson an Austin Statesman whose banner was "Democrats Nominates Cox." James M. Cox, the nominee, was a newspaper publisher.

Johnson hadn't seen the paper, but as I put it on his desk, I commented: "Looks like the newspapermen are coming into their own."

Solemnly, the fine, dignified old Memphis acting governor replied: "Yes, it is true Governor Hobby and I both are newspapermen."

Confident Living—Norman Vincent Peale
Confidence In Administration Not Issue In Congress Races

Much against his original feelings, the President has let the election be fought not on the record of the Congressmen who are up this year but on the record of the Administration, which in fact is not running at all this year. By a fine bit of political sleight-of-hand the political bosses have covered up the question of whether it has confidence in President Eisenhower. Thus in many a constituency men who have done their best to obstruct the President are asking for votes on the ground that unless they are elected the President will have been repudiated.

One wonders how much the voters are affected by general appeals like that of the Republicans to support Eisenhower or that of the Democrats to repudiate the Republican record. The question quite evidently does not arise at all for the large mass of citizens who vote the regular ticket on one side or the other. But it does arise in the case of the Independents, those who switch between parties and hold the balance of power to decide the outcome. For them the general appeal to make the election a national referendum on the Administration is obviously not enough to enable them to cast an intelligent vote. For them there is another question which is more immediate and more concrete and perhaps more important than that of approving or disapproving the Eisenhower administration.

It is the question of electing better or worse men to the Senate and to the House. For the good citizen trying to cast his vote effectively the question of the comparative fitness of the candidates ought, it seems to me, to override the general question of confidence in the Administration. For it is one of the great facts of our public life that the Congress of the United States is today short of men of ability and high purpose and much too long on blatherers. Whenever the independent voter can find a chance to elect men of brains and character, he should put that choice ahead of whether it helps or hinders one party or the other to control the machinery of the next Congress.

Independent voters who take this line would do well, I would add, to favor Republicans whenever the personal qualifications are more or less equal. For the Republican party is desperately in need of the infusion of enlightened men to overcome the preponderance in the Senate of the old reactionaries. Enlightened Republicans in the Senate are a minority and most of the time they are fighting a defensive and protective action against their own party. The country needs two moderate parties. But as long as the Republican Old Guard have the power that they now exercise, the Republican party cannot do justice to its ideas or to its promises.

By this standard it was desirable to

Warriors Have Trailed In 2 Other Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland fans, take heart the Indians dropped the first game of the 1948 World Series and trailed 1-3 in games in the only other one in which they appeared in 1950.

Even the Brooklyn Dodgers couldn't pack 'em into the Polo Grounds like the Indians. The largest crowd to see the Giants at home in '54 was 11,464—more than 1,000 under yesterday's attendance.

Life for Marv Grissom has begun at 37. Playing his first full year with the Giants, Marv won 10 games, saved five as many pitched in the All-Star game and was credited with the victory in his initial Series appearance.

Ex-National Leaguer George Strickland doesn't think he can give his Cleveland teammates any tips about playing in the Polo Grounds.

Yesterday was the 26th extra-inning game in World Series history. The first was in 1907 when the Chicago Cubs and Detroit went 12 innings and the 25th was the 11-inning Yankee-Dodger fourth game of 1952.

Karl Spooner, Brooklyn's sensational rookie left-hander, is picking up some free advice. Red Ruffing, the former Yankee great, gave the strikeout artist this tip:

Bobby Avila of the Indians had the edge over the Giants' Willie Mays in the battle of batting champions. Avila had one hit to none for Willie, but Mays' batting drive more than made up for it.

Western Back Makes Switch

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jesse Whittenton, junior quarterback of the Texas Western Miners, has apparently made the switch from fullback to quarterback successfully.

And that spells trouble for the Arizona State College Sun Devils when they meet the Miners in Tempe this Saturday in the only Border Conference football game of the week.

A fullback in his freshman year, Whittenton made the swap to halfback last year. But when Dick Shnaut and Billy Bob Plumley graduated last year, Coach Mike Bumbelow started looking around for a quarterback. He settled on Whittenton.

The first conference statistical report this season showed Whittenton atop the passing pile with 13 completions in 23 tries for 184 yards and three scoring passes. He was second only to Arizona Art Luppin in total offense with 287 yards. Luppin has 345.

Choice Steaks Feature Menu At Douglass

Charcoal broiled steaks are a specialty at the Douglass Coffee Shop, 302 Runnels.

The largest broiler of its type in West Texas is in service at the coffee shop to charcoal steaks, said Ray Parker, manager. Any type and size steak desired can be prepared.

Parker explained that prices of the charcoal steaks are from $1.35 to $2.50, somewhat lower than most places. Lower costs result from Parker's butchering ability.

"I do all my own butchering and buy only choice beef," he said. "This way we always have good meat selections and don't have the 'occasional' bad cuts some people get in the markets."

Practically all types of sea food selections are served at the Douglass. As are Mexican foods and special orders. The menu is one of the most exclusive in West Texas.

A 75-cent lunch is served during weekdays, and a special Sunday dinner is always prepared.

The Douglass Coffee Shop is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, including Sunday. Approximately 80 people can be accommodated — in booths, at tables and at the counter. Special parties are booked for the Maverick Room.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker — the manager and his wife — expressed appreciation to their many friends and customers for their patronage. Since the couple took over management of the Douglass, business has more than doubled.

Both have been in the restaurant business for more than 12 years, having operated several establishments in Big Spring.

"I don't know of a place in town that is equipped as well, is so clean and has such a good atmosphere while still keeping such cheap prices on their food," Parker pointed out.

Magnolia Products Featured At The Harland Station

Garland Harland's Magnolia Service Station, located at 1009 Lamesa Highway, is always a welcome sight for motorists heading north out of the city or arriving from that direction in Big Spring.

The concern is the ideal stopping place for tourists traveling Highway 87 and local automobile owners, not only because it stocks the finest Magnolia products available but due to the fact that its personnel practices the custom of making all its customers feel at home.

Premium Magnolia gasoline is on a par with the finest automobile fuel sold anywhere.

Magnolia motor oil stocked by the Harland station has long since been recognized as the finest of its kind processed today.

The Harland station specializes in the complete servicing of an automobile from thorough greasing of all movable parts to crankcase changes and wash jobs.

When an automobile is cleaned the Harland way, the customer can rest assured that the vehicle is cleaned inside as well as out. A vacuum cleaner, designed especially for the job, is used to get out foreign dust and dirt from the cushions.

How To Make Sweet Music

Mrs. Champ Rainwater, who is local representative for The Shield Company, Inc., demonstrates how to make sweet music on the celebrated Hammond organ. She is reached at 1708 Main (Phone 4-5732).

Wagon Wheel Restaurant Enlarges Parking Space

The parking area at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 East 3rd, was enlarged to accommodate the ever-growing list of customers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt, restaurant owners, moved their home to allow more parking space. The area set aside for cars is now twice as big as it was previously.

Actually the parking lot was not big enough in the past to take care of all the customers' vehicles. But manager Herbert Vinson feels that plenty of room is now available.

Enlarging parking facilities will allow the Wagon Wheel Restaurant to more easily take care of private parties and service club meetings. Members of the parties and regular customers will have room to park their automobiles.

The parking lot was deceiving in the past, Vinson points out. It would be filled when a club meeting was held in the Western or Candlelight Rooms, and regular customers would believe the dining room was also full.

The Wagon Wheel can accommodate some 200 people at one time, and adequate facilities are now available for the cars in which these people arrive.

A number of private groups and clubs are now holding meetings at the Wagon Wheel. Reservations can be obtained for parties numbering from six to 100, and the phone number is 4-5332.

Any type food desired can be ordered at the restaurant, and efficient waitresses insure prompt service. Specialties of the house include steaks, Mexican selections, and seafoods.

Shield Company Observes 19th Year With Hammond

The Shield Company, Inc., of Fort Worth, is celebrating its nineteenth year as a dealer for the Hammond organ. "During that time, we have installed and serviced the popular Hammond organ in hundreds of homes and churches throughout Central and West Texas," said Mrs. C. H. Rainwater, local representative and staff organizer for The Shield Company, Inc.

The company employs a large staff of people who devote their time exclusively to the Hammond organ, and with its convenient time-payment plans, it was indicated by Mrs. Rainwater that it was the company's aim to make it possible for every church and home in West Texas to enjoy the glorious music of the Hammond organ.

For special concerts and personal demonstrations of the Hammond organ, The Shield Company, Inc. has eight outstanding organists serving its customers. They are Gene James, Frances Kay, Mrs. Alma Woodham, Mrs. Mary Carter, Mrs. Edna Kent, Onan Vaudell, Mrs. Louise Slaughter, and Mrs. Rainwater. They play special concerts in homes, churches, schools and auditoriums in the course of their demonstrations of the Hammond organ. The Shield Company also maintains a complete installation and service organization to assure every organ being properly installed for a lifetime of enjoyment.

Many thousands of Hammond organs have been installed in churches throughout the world. Mrs. Rainwater attributes this wide acceptance to the "versatility of the Hammond organ and to the fact that its tones are produced electrically, making it possible for the musician to create an unlimited variety of registrations, including the conventional organ voices and orchestral qualities not available on any other organ. In addition, there are literally hundreds of tonal colors which the Hammond organist has at his immediate disposal... the tones of the Baroque 15th and 18th Century organs, the dignified tones of the Cathedral organ and the warm solo stops of the modern organ."

The latest development in the Hammond organ is the new Selective Vibrato, and it is now standard equipment on all instruments. The exclusive reverberation control which provides the resonance as necessary to fine organ music is also an integral part of all installations. The Hammond organ occupies less space than a grand piano and is offered in a variety of console and tone cabinet designs.

Mrs. Rainwater is well-known in the Big Spring area for her musical talent and activities she has carried on for many years. Her Hammond sales and teaching studios are located at 1708 Main St.

Howard County Roads Planned

A new program of farm-to-market road building, for the 1955-56 fiscal year in Texas, is moving into the planning stage, the Texas Highway Department has announced.

The program will include $1,950,000 in contemplated projects in this district, and two projects running to about $115,000 in Howard County.

Timetable is not definitely set, since survey and preliminary planning must be started, and then arrangements made for right-of-way.

Projects planned for Howard County include a road west from the Fairview school, to point toward an ultimate north and west loop; and a 7.1 mile stretch from the end of FM 818 at Lomax eastward to FM 2123, closing a gap over to Highway 87.

Elected to the instructional staff on a part-time basis were Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Walker, laboratory assistant in girls physical education; Mrs. Gerald Brenholz, laboratory assistant in typing; Mrs. William A. Burdett, business administration; Eugene Anderson, laboratory; Adrian A. Porter, welding; Mrs. Johnnie Amos, hospital class.

Those named to the operational staff were Mrs. Beulah Johnson, Louise Brown, Louise Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trout, Clyde Massingill and Emmett Warren. A total of $160,000 in U. Happy Birthday, Dear Brother

Eighteen years ago today, the Shaw triplets — Franklin, Delano and Roosevelt — caught almost every one by surprise, Thursday, Delano, left, and Franklin, right, caught Roosevelt by surprise, applying the traditional birthday pat on the back (low down). The boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shaw, Knott, are students at Knott High School, Franklin is a senior and the other two juniors. Somewhere down the line a teacher held two of them back a grade. They are all on the Knott football team. When they arrived, the late Dr. G. S. Truse, who never before or since officiated at deliveries of triplets, put them in the tray of a trunk with strings around their legs to identify. For names, their parents simply applied the parts of the then President of the United States. (Keith McMullin photo.)

Martin To Total County Property

STANTON (SC) — For the first time in the history of Martin County a complete inventory of property owned by the county will be published in The Stanton Reporter, the local weekly newspaper, next week, according to County Judge Bruce Frazier.

The county judge said the inventory, prepared at the direction of the Commissioners Court, will include everything from heavy road construction equipment down to office supplies in the courthouse. Frazier said that regardless of whether or not it is the law that such an inventory be published, he considers it good business. He referred to the county affairs as a $6.5 million business and says he thinks the citizen-stockholders are entitled to a statement that will let them know what is going on. At the same time Frazier announced it is expected that henceforth a financial statement of the county's affairs will be published every three months in the local newspaper. The first of these statements will also be published next week, he said, in conjunction with the inventory of county property.

Let's attack the problems not the schools!

As millions of children return to school, the Ladies' Home Journal offers a full review of the problems that beset educators and parents!

Our school problems, financial and philosophical, must be solved by informed citizens. We offer these stories and articles, not as a cross section or endorsed solution, but to stimulate those who must grapple with similar situations in their own communities.

This month, in a round-table discussion with Journal editors, six important educators, headed by A. Whitney Griswold, President of Yale, speak out frankly on questions like these which plague their profession, and endanger the future of our children.

What caused the mounting crisis in public education? Do children really fail to learn to read? Should all children be promoted every year, regardless of progress? Should all high-school courses be watered down to the lowest level?

You'll want to read this entire October issue which features many articles and stories discussing problems affecting parents and educators today.
