BRANNEN IS NEW POSTMASTER IN LITTLEFIELD

Brannen was checked in as postmaster at Littlefield last Monday morning, relieving Wm. J. Wade who has been in charge of same for nearly ten years.

Wade's period of service in the States was engaged in the War, and numerous extra duties were required of the postmaster in addition to the regular work, all of which were performed and to the satisfaction of the public generally. So in fact, have Mr. Wade's been during the past, that he, working short-handed, disregarded the official hours prescribed by the Department frequently working on 11 and 12 o'clock in the afternoon in order to meet the train and give service to the public coming to Littlefield. He had served for eight years as postmaster in Independence, Kansas, and now, at the close of his eighteen years of government service, he expects to enjoy a period of comparative rest from responsibility, by engaging in the repairing and beautifying of the city, getting acquainted with his chickens and fine fruit and sitting back to watch the growth and development of the city and surrounding country.

Mr. Wade is a Leader representative of the week. Mr. Wade said, "It all in all, my service as postmaster in Littlefield has been pleasant, and I wish to express my thanks for their many kind and numerous courtesies shown me during these past years of service. Brannen, the incoming postmaster, has been a citizen of Littlefield for the past four years, coming from Hill county, where he had experience as a postmaster. About a year ago he conducted a merchandise store in this city and is well known throughout the county and country. Brannen states he is going to

BIRDIES SING, FLAPPERS FLAP, AUTOS HONK, WHILE SPRING IS STALKING ONWARD

It's getting into everybody's blood! What? Oh, this glorious springtime. We saw a fellow buying sasafraz bark in a drug store the other day—he know spring had come.

Just walk down main street any night now, looking into the show windows and there are plenty of evidences of the approaching dove season. The post inhales the fragrance of blossomtime and runs off with a plethora of violet scented ideas of heart lore and pan-girls break loose from mamma's ramic tootsie nothings. School girls break loose from mamma's apron strings and hie away to the prairies and canyons for sequestered outing. But after all, it takes the flapper to furnish the real springtime thrill.

Almost any evening new she stands before the bright lights which scintillate the myriad colors of her variegated costume. "Oh what a sweet hat! Isn't that a lovely dress! What darling shoes—just love them! See those silky pajamas, aren't they stunning! etc., etc., etc., ad libitum.

Who is the young man attired in a new drab suit by her side—trying to look wise and appreciative of her vocal ramblings? Never mind, he's got a dollar in his pocket and between ripplings outbursts from his charming companion he casts a glance up the street for an ice cream parlor. Spring is here!

do his best to make the people of Littlefield the best postmaster in West Texas, and that he intends to give the patrons of the office first class service, if it takes all day and half the night to do it. He spoke very complimentary of his assistance, and stated no change would be made in the present force.

EASTER

Easter comes at a glad season of the year. The festival itself, is both commemorative of the resurrection of Jesus Christ and as a memorial to the atonement wrought by the death of the Master upon the cross.

It is hailed with great acclaim in all the Christian churches of the world. In Greek and Latin and in the languages derived from them Easter was known as "Pascha," "Pasch," "Pasch," etc., from the Chaldee word, "Pascha," the equivalent of the Hebrew "Pesach." The "Destroying Angel's" act is recalled by the last name in "passing over" the households of the Hebrews when he smote the Egyptians, as disclosed in the twelfth chapter of Exodus.

This year Easter will fall on April 17. The way by which Easter is determined is that of the first Sunday after the paschal full moon—the fourteenth day of the calendar moon, or the full moon which happens upon or next after March 21; and if the full moon happens on a Sunday, then Easter day is the first Sunday following.

As usual, Littlefield churches will observe Easter with elaborate programs. It is an event that the children and the grown-ups have learned to look forward to with much pleasurable anticipation; it is an event all should remember with some beautiful thought for the day.

MAX ENTERTAINS ROTARIANS

Max L. McClure was official host to the members of the Rotary club Friday evening.

Special reservations were made for the members in the balcony of the Palace theatre, where they witnessed the picture, "Test of Donald Norton," after which they took the elevator up to Max's private apartments on the roof garden of the theatre, where refreshments were served. Said refreshments consisting of an im-mense angel food cake, appropriately decorated with the emblems and insignia of Rotary International, served in generous quantities by white attired Ethiopians, also, copious amounts of ice cream.

Max refused to state what they had to drink, but anyway the whole bunch voted he should be appointed entertainer for the club and to function 104 times a year.

That there are strong probabilities of an oil test being put down on the property of the Figure-4 ranch, near Goodland, is the report current on the streets during the past week.

No definite information has yet been given out by authorities; but it is known that three geologists, representing as many major oil companies, have been doing investigation work in that vicinity. It is said that a lease comprising 15,000 acres of land, mostly the property of the Figure-4 owners, is under consideration and may be closed within the next few days.

MARCH A DRY MONTH ON SOUTH PLAINS FOR YEARS

March is invariably a dry month on the South Plains, according to the published weather report of this section, but March this year was dryer than for several years past. This year during that month there was only a trace of rainfall in the Littlefield vicinity.

The minimum temperature for March in this vicinity was on the first day of the month, when the thermometer stood at 15 degrees above zero. The warmest day occurred on the 18th day, when the thermometer registered 81 degrees. The average temperature for the month was around 51 degrees.

During that month, there were 24 clear days, four partly cloudy and three cloudy.

The rainfall for the first three months of this year was .82 of an inch; for a similar period of last year it was 3.51 inches.

$47,350 GRANTED TECH TO HOLD A SUMMER INSTITUTE

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 12.—Official information from the Governor's office has just been received at Texas Technological College that the appropriation of $47,350.00 which was asked for the summer school has been allowed in full. At the same time an emergency appropriation of $66,626.00 was also granted, which will, according to President P. W. Horn, make it possible to round out the present fiscal year in good shape.

School authorities are particularly pleased at Tech over the receipt of the news of the full appropriation for the summer school. This will enable them to carry out the plans for a twelve-weeks' session which is to open June 7 and close August 27. This period will be divided into two terms of six weeks each.

Practically all of the regular faculty will remain as instructors during the summer, including the four deans and sixteen heads of departments. In addition several experts have been added to the faculty, including instructors in the Problem Project method, primary methods, and other subjects. The plains climate is being heralded as the coolest in Texas during the summer months.

TODAY'S FORD CAR

Before You Buy Any Make of Automobile, Let Us Show You Today's Ford Car

You may consider that you know Ford Cars. You may have been a Ford owner for years and think you are familiar with the splendid satisfaction which the Ford gives, and yet unless you have made it a point to examine the Ford Car as it is BUILT TODAY—to drive it and note its improved engine performance—relax in it over rough roads, and experience the increased comfort which it affords, and to learn of the many recent improvements, you do not know the Ford Car as it is built today.

Many of the new Ford Car features are obvious—balloon tire equipment—wire wheels—pyroxylin finish—a choice of colors—improved upholstery, etc., but the big satisfaction to you, as the owner of Today's Ford Car is to be found in the way in which it will fill your expectations of what a modern motor car should be. You will be amazed at the increased power resulting from the new Vaporizer, the smoother engine operation, the increased gasoline mileage, the improved riding qualities, and above all, in the way in which the car handles and performs in traffic and on the open road.

In short, you must drive a new Ford Car to be a fair judge of present-day motor car values.

A NATION GOES A MOVING

According to a prominent automobile manufacturer this summer is to witness the greatest migration in the history of the country. Better financial conditions seem to prompt it.

According to the estimate, around 40 million people, or one-third the nation's population will travel by car some time during the summer months. Their wheeled flight over highways and byways, mountains and plains, will constitute the most colossal peace-time movement in the history of mankind.

These vast caravanseries will use between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 automobiles in their wanderings—almost half the passenger cars in use in this nation, these figures being based on the 1926 travel and present financial conditions. This army of travelers, it is estimated will spend in the neighborhood of three and one-third billion dollars, a tremendous factor in the increase prosperity of thousands of communities throughout the nation.

Of the total of ten million cars which will be on the road, three and a third millions will carry camping equipment and tour for an average of 33 days each. The other two-thirds will patronize hotels and will spend an average of 19 days on tour. For the canvas brigade the daily expenditure is estimated at $10 per car or $33,333,000 daily for them all, which in 33 days will total nearly $1,100,000,000. The hotel tourists will find their expenses running about even with the camping cohorts, although touring about only one-third as long, and will spend approximately $2,200,000,000. At the most conservative estimate it is safe to assume that the resorts, hotels, garages, filling stations and other agencies catering to motor travel will benefit to the extent of at least $5,300,000,000 from this year's mighty host of motor vacationists.

The vanguard of the great migration already is upon the highways, the first hardy thousands setting out at the first signs of spring. Every touring area in the country is reporting substantial increases and reports have been borne out by the demands for touring information made at automobile clubs. The cult of the open road is in session.

Camping facilities have been greatly improved and extended and their development seems certain to make this phase of touring much more popular—setting a new record in 1927 for the migratory travelers. There will be more people, young and old, on the road than ever before. There will be more cars, more money, more pleasure.

A few years ago vacation travel was considered an expensive luxury. Today it can be made almost as inexpensive as living at home for the family which wishes to spend their time in camps and "Seeing America First" will have deep meaning for millions of former stay-at-homes.

LAMESA WON THE NEXT MEETING OF WEST TEXAS C. C.

The rain and the heavy clouds last Thursday kept a number of people from venturing to the district meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce held at Crosbyton. About 50 people had intended to make the trip but decided not to go over the muddy roads. Littlefield was represented by about 20 people.

The meeting was held at the Crosbyton High school auditorium. The welcome address and response was delivered and a number of musical numbers were given by the representatives of the various towns from over the South Plains at the morning session. Then the "Home Town" contest was held. Lockney won first place for the girls and Floydada won out in the boy's contest. E. S. Rowe tied the representative from Lubbock for third place. E. S. made a wonderful showing. His delivery was almost perfect, and there is little doubt that he would not have won a higher place if there had not been a misunderstanding in the length of time each representative was permitted to speak.

The Crosbyton High school gave a play entitled, "The Dethroning of a King," for the audience before they left for lunch at the beautiful Silver Falls lake.

Lunch was served quickly and efficiently to 700 or 800 people. This showed that Crosbyton had left nothing undone to make the day a success. Speeches from several men followed the luncheon. A. P. Duggan made an address on "Taxation."

Lamesa came in large numbers to secure the 1928 meeting. They had tried for three years to have the meeting in their town and every man from Lamesa was doing personal solicitation for 1928. They won by a large majority.

Littlefield was represented in a ukulele number by Miss Baze and Miss Henson.

Crosbyton won the admiration of the hundreds of visitors by the courteous and efficient way they put the program across. S. W. Cooper, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, deserves special recognition for the way he managed his part in making the day a success.

P. T. A. ELECT OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, held last Thursday afternoon, officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Chas. Harless, president; Mrs. L. R. Crockett, first vice-president; Mrs. R. E. McCaskill, second vice-president; Mrs. A. G. Hemphill, third vice-president; Miss Vivian Courtney, secretary; Mrs. B. M. Harrison, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Jones, reporter.

Mrs. E. A. Bills was the retiring president of the organization, and under her efficient management, much has been accomplished during the past year.

It was reported that of the $200 pledged by the organization on the school library fund, $150 had been raised. At the play given by Sudan pupils Tuesday night $21.00 was realized. There are now about 70 members in the organization.

NEW OFFICIALS TAKE OATH AND BEGIN DUTIES

At a meeting of the City Commissioners, held Tuesday night, Mayor L. R. Crockett and Commissioners W. G. Street and C. O. Stone took their oaths of office, made application for bonds, and were duly installed.

The paving of Main street was discussed at considerable length, but it was decided that the matter should be given further consideration before going to any expense on the project.

Albert Anderson was given a commission as city marshal and night-watchman. E. C. Cundiff was appointed city secretary and treasurer. Dr. W. H. Harris was named city health officer. E. A. Bills was designated as city attorney, to look after the city's legal business when necessary.

It was ordered that all outside toilets on property of Main street, or abutting on same should be closed within 24 hours following due notice to be given by the City Secretary, or they will be padlocked by the Health Officer.

A complete audit of the city records was ordered to be made immediately.

Wednesday morning the new Commission made a tour of inspections of all public property belonging to the city.

CLINT D. JOPLIN A PARALYSIS VICTIM; BURIAL AT LUBBOCK

Clint D. Joplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Joplin, died at the home of his parents, five miles south of Littlefield, Monday night. The funeral sermon was conducted the following day by Rev. Ed. Sharp, of the Methodist church, and interment of remains made in the Lubbock cemetery.

Clint was well and favorably known in Littlefield, having lived and been in business here for some time. About a week ago he was sick; but not seriously ill, and seemed to recover from the attack. Monday morning he was up, assisting in the chores, when he was stricken on the left side with paralysis, lingering until about 11:00 o'clock that night, when he expired.

The deceased was survived by a wife and two children, his father and mother, seven brothers and two sisters.

CITY COLLECTS $158.85

The neat little sum of $158.85 has been collected in Corporation Court since March 1st, according to report of the City Secretary, made at the meeting of the City Commissioners Tuesday night.

The offenses charged were varied and numerous; but all of more or less law violations.

It was stated by officials that the matter of fines was a purely secondary matter; it was the stopping of law violation they were after, and if fines would not produce a diminishing of such, jail sentences would have to be resorted to.

Texas has the widest diversity of soil and climatic conditions of any state in the country.

PINEAPPLE FROM THE PARADISE ISLANDS
By Capitola Williams Ashworth

WHEN you sit down to breakfast and find a dish containing a golden island of pineapple surrounded by an amber sea awaiting you, do you find it trying to picture the islands in the midst of the beautiful Pacific Ocean where this fruit was grown, and do you last saw the light of day as it was popped into a can to begin its long journey to your table?

The history of pineapple is probably the most interesting fruit in the world, even other tropical fruit.

The Hawaiian Islands, principally the islands of Oahu and Maui, is grown extensively. In the tremendous, carefully planted plantations spread out over the islands, are one of the wonders of the place. In a land where palms and the sunlit air, where all the tropical fruit and known in the world blossom and ripen, keeping the breeze laden with their heavy fragrance, they rank as the King of the most luscious of all products, one of the healthiest, and most useful that are grown.

The appearance of a pineapple is that of a tall, cylindrical shape, tapering at the top and bottom and down in a sharply rows, the lines as straight and beautiful as soldiers ever marched in parade, every soldier plant bearing a tremendous pineapple in its center, regally topped with a crown of pointed leaves. It is its resemblance to a pine cone, together with the tall and juicy nature of the meat that has given the fruit the name of pine-apple.

As pineapples are grown in tremendous quantities in the Hawaiian Islands, or the Paradise Islands, as they are popularly called, many hundreds of thousands of cases are canned every year and shipped to the United States, England, Europe, Asia, Australia and practically every corner of the world. Those people who live in the Hawaiian Islands may have fresh pineapples three times a day, and many of them do so. It is a fruit one does not tire of easily and is a great boon to the health, particularly of people who do not lead an active physical life. However, this same pineapple which comes to us in cans, is equally as healthful as the fresh and much more palatable than the fresh that you are able to obtain in American markets, for the reason that the so-called fresh pineapple has to be plucked while still green and transported in order to stand the long trip to market. This is true even of the few pineapples that come to us in the United States.

These pineapples, bearing the name of the island, have been known to be in a tin can with all its exotic and delicious flavor preserved and enhanced by the addition of sugar and cooked just long enough to make it absolutely safe and sanitary. As a matter of fact, many people, even in the Paradise Islands where the fresh fruit may be had in it, prefer the canned because the sugar has sweetened the juices and penetrated to the very fiber of the fruit. Also the fact that it is canned in its prime when it has reached a golden perfection of ripeness makes it more palatable than most fresh fruits and melons that can be obtained in the market.

There are many other fruits grown in these delightful islands, about which most people know little or nothing. There is the papaya, a melon which grows on trees, and is served at breakfast, or for salads, breadfruit which is baked and served as a starchy vegetable, mangoes, guavas, bananas, and rose apples. And of course, there are coconuts. Yet the favorite of the islands is the pineapple, which is shipped in cans to every corner of the world, the greatest amount coming to the United States where it is served on the American table as a salad, a dessert, a pie, or with vegetables and in cocktails, and is becoming increasingly popular. In fact, it is such a food that it can be obtained in no other way.

DAIRY FACTS

SCANT PASTURES IN LATE SUMMER

The condition of the pastures during late summer makes necessary certain changes in feeding dairy cows, says the New York State College of Agriculture in a statement issued recently. At this time the pastures are usually rather scant, which makes grazing more difficult.

The different pasture plants are also more mature. This means that they contain more dry matter but less protein. These conditions are, in turn, accompanied by severe hot weather and by a host of flies which bring much discomfort to the animals. Because of these things the dairyman must use all his knowledge and skill to the best possible advantage in order to maintain the milk flow.

First of all, heavier feeding is needed. The deficient pastures must be helped out with more feed, either through silage crops, or grain, or both. More protein must be provided in the grain mixture not only because of a lack of it in the pasturage, but also because grain will make up a larger proportion of the daily ration.

A simple yet suitable combination of feeds is as follows: 300 pounds wheat bran, 300 pounds hominy or corn meal, 300 pounds gluten feed, 100 pounds linseed oil meal.

This mixture contains 40 per cent of high protein feeds. This is just about the right proportion to make a balanced ration with late summer pasture grass.

For the man who wants greater variety the following mixture is suggested: 200 pounds wheat bran, 100 pounds standard wheat middlings or ground oats, 300 pounds hominy or corn meal, 200 pounds gluten feed, 100 pounds linseed oil meal, 100 pounds cottonseed meal; 4 per cent.

This combination is similar in composition to the first, but is somewhat more expensive under present market conditions.

Bovine Tuberculosis Is Fast Being Eradicated

Bovine tuberculosis is now being eradicated from the herds in the United States. In some states the infection of bovine tuberculosis is found in 15 per cent of all the cattle. This is the case in the state of New York. Most of the Southern states have less than 1 per cent and some have less than one-half of 1 per cent. It will require many millions of dollars, however, to eradicate the disease. Some four million dollars are being spent annually and the work has just started. In New York state trainloads of infected cattle are shipped and slaughtered where many of them are condemned and tanked. The South is exceedingly fortunate, because this disease has been kept out of the various Southern states by live stock sanitary laws. Also many states have been testing most of the milk cows and pure-bred cattle and destroying all of the reactors.

Bull Is Most Important Animal in a Dairy Herd

The most important animal in a dairy herd is the bull. As he is the sire of all the calves, he alone is responsible for half of the individuality and milking ability of the future dairy herd. The cow is important, but she can exert her influence on only one calf each year.

This important animal at the head of a dairy herd should by all means be a pure bred. It is not so much the registration papers that make the superior individual, but with the registration papers the owner knows exactly what breeding and performance records are behind his herd sire.

A good pure-bred bull is one with high production among his ancestors. The dam of the bull and the dam of the bull's sire should both have records which are far above the average of the cows to which the bull will be mated.

Dairy Facts

Keep the calf pails really clean if you want healthy calves.

Legumes will always lower the feed cost on a herd of dairy cows.

In testing cows it is important that they be tested for several milkings before they are condemned or praised for high-testing milk.

Good dairy cows are becoming scarce and prices are advancing. Heifer calves from all good cows should be raised. All indications point to a ready market at profitable prices.

To produce good quality cream use only clean separators, cans and milking utensils. Cool cream immediately after it is skimmed to near 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

Supply water daily while the calf meal or milk is being fed. A good time to supply the water is during the middle of the day.

Using a milk stool on a cow's back. It has been found by actual experiment, improves the cow exactly as much as the milk stool.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

There is he that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing; there is he that maketh himself poor, yet hath riches.—Prov. 13:7.

Parimony is enough to make the master of the golden mines as poor as he that hath nothing; for a man may be brought to a morsel of bread by parsimony as well as profusion.—Henry Home

A NEW ARMY

There are plenty of the older farmers around here who know how to farm and they are making the most of their opportunities, but this new generation is bringing a lot of things to add to the comfort of life that the older generation never dreamed of. We read of boys and girls clubs all over this western country. They parade their livestock and exhibit their dressmaking and canning. The livestock is as good as their daddies ever raised, and the dresses and canning as perfect as their mothers can boast.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that there are already 600,000 boys and girls enrolled in the farm and domestic science clubs of the country. They combine their lessons in school and college with lessons learned in the home or on the farm, and they go in strong for scientific methods and for the very latest in tools and machinery. Every county that is fortunate to have a county farm agent or home demonstration agent is always in the lead in this kind of educational work. Lamb county is not listed in that fortunate class.

But while organization in this county may be somewhat limited because of not having any officially designated leaders in club work, it would be well for every farm boy and girl to have something to do for themselves, that from the sale of their own labor and products they may have their own pocket money. There are any number of ways whereby these boys and girls can be making money of their very own—developing thrift and industry—and gaining something educational at the same time. They should be encouraged in such.

Before the flyever was introduced people used to hitch up and go visiting in the country, but all you hear them say now is: "We passed your house yesterday."

TRY ADVERTISING

The man who advertises his products or wares is saying, "I believe in my own goods. I know they will stand the test. I am spending my hard-earned money to tell the world the merits of my wares, and I know they must stand up for my business to succeed."

Many men who do not advertise also have meritorious products, but few others know it. People will not take a chance when they can buy something somewhere else in which they already believe. The merchant who is not afraid to describe the real value of his wares will soon win the confidence of the public and confidence is vital to business.

If you know the things you sell are all right, why not tell the rest of the community about it? There is no need of keeping good news to yourself.

Of course if you are already rich and don't need more business, there is no need of going out after it. But if you could use an added number of satisfied customers and your cash box still has a little more room left at the top, why not try advertising?

Others have—and they liked the results so well they have never stopped.

There are plenty of men who have an idea they are a national character when they are only a cinder in the public eye.

"UNCLE SHYLOCK"

According to the daily papers, European nations are still referring to the United States as "Uncle Shylock." But we notice that "Uncle Shylock" was a mighty handy fellow to have around when the Chinese soldiers threatened the lives of citizens of Great Britain and Japan when the city of Nanking was looted.

Only for the stern commander of Uncle Sam's big gunboat (and his statement that he would shell the city to a powder if foreign subjects were not delivered into his care, wholesale slaughter would have been the result.

We have no quarrel with our sister nations across the sea, and calling us names isn't going to make us angry. We're going right ahead as we always have, and when it is necessary to protect the lives of their subjects as well as our own people, then we'll be right there to afford the protection, whether it is in a Chinese or any other foreign seaport.

Sending notes to the Chinese government is about like arguing with a Chinese laundryman over a lost shirt.

SIGNS OF SPRING

One can see them everywhere around Littlefield now—these signs of spring. New dresses and hats, new brands of face powder and other beauty dope, seed catalogs, ezema, hardware stores getting in new hoes and rakes, the groceries importing an extra batch of brooms, newly painted autos, people with bad colics and plenty more signs. No doubt about it—spring is just around the corner.

Wise housewives are well along with their cleaning, and wise husbands will soon be getting up the screens, for Mr. Fly is already snooping around and he ought to be disappointed right off the bat first thing.

Don't be penny wise and pound foolish about this screening job; You can't keep the flies out if you wait until they are in before putting up the screens. Once they are in they lay their eggs and breed thousands of their kind in a remarkably short time.

"Do it now" is a mighty good slogan to observe in both house-cleaning and screening.

It used to be said the meat packers used everything about the hog but the squeal. The squeal belongs to the consumer.

Now Littlefield is ready to start in again—a new city commission and a new school board, and all honorable gentlemen worthy of confidence and cooperation of the people. They are but agents of the people and can give their best service when the people give them constructive assistance.

A young man in Littlefield who is seriously thinking of matrimony told us the other day his father had advised him to marry beauty and brains, and wanted to know what we thought of it. We very frankly told him we thought the old man was trying to get him to commit bigamy.

A movement has been started to nominate Governor Al Smith, of New York for president, with Governor Dan Moody, of Texas, as his running mate. We hardly think the combination would work unless arrangements

Dr. Frank Crane Says

NO NEED TO SEND DEVIL TO MARKET

In a brochure recently got out at Antioch College, Ohio, reference is made to the custom of the old-time Shakers, who generally observed the laws of Christian brotherhood, of sending their most unscrupulous members out into the world to do their trading. Hence originated the saying that the Shakers always sent the devil to market.

The implication is that while Christian living and principles were suitable for ordinary affairs and in family life, they were not suitable for the outside world. There you had to fight the devil with fire and deal unscrupulously with unscrupulous people.

A very common idea is that those people get along best in this world who do not strictly adhere to the moral law. You have to be crooked enough to get along and yet not crooked enough to fall afoul of the law.

Those who are old and experienced in this world's dealing know the fallacy of this reasoning.

The fact is that it pays to be honest—to be honest in little things as well as in big, and to be honest in the privacy of your chamber as well as in the open forum of the market.

Honesty is not a thing to be put on and off and to be used for certain purposes. It is something to be adhered to all the time, and a man who is faithful in all his dealings both at home and abroad, has the best chance of success.

Ed Howe, the sage of Potato Hill, can hardly be accused of being a strict religionist, and yet in his homely philosophy and experience, he has discovered that doing right is one of the surest means of success.

If any boy or girl is knocking about seeking some secret of success, none better can be offered than strict integrity.

To be just and upright in all things may occasionally get you into difficulty, but as a rule and in the long run it pays.

A man who keeps his hands clean and his heart right is always prepared for any attack, and as it has been roughly expressed, "He can look any man square in the eye and tell him to go to blazes."

How Smart Are You?

Test O' Ten

What Is Your Average?

TEST O' TEN QUESTIONS

Here is a test of memory, intelligence, and general knowledge, that will provide fun and entertainment for all by giving you an opportunity to test your knowledge in competition with others. These questions will cover a wide range of information. How many of them can you answer without seeking recourse to the encyclopedia or dictionary? The answers will be found on the last page of this newspaper.

Who was champion at your house last week? Who will be champion this week? Try these tests yourself and try them with the family. Invite your shrewdest friends to compete with you in this "Test O' Ten." The questions amuse, inform, excite, and add zest and interest to every party. Counting ten points for every correct answer, your average for this test should be 80 per cent.

1. What Englishman married Pocahontas?
2. Are there any states in the Union in which women are not permitted to vote. (2) Are the residents of Washington, D.C., permitted to vote?
3. In what year was the Erie Canal completed?
4. What state was named for Louis XIV?
5. What river is known as "Father of Waters"?
6. Of what is the "Blue Bird" symbolic?
7. What is an apiary?
8. What city is known as the Mound City? Why?
9. Whom did Jack Dempsey defeat on July 2, 1921? Where?
10. Where is the Virginia Military Institute?

could be made with the Almighty to strike Al with lightning as soon as he was elected, so Dan could step on up.

A farmer near Portales last week marketed 200 capons, bringing him around $280 for the bunch, which is about twice as much as he would have received from that number of fryers. Pretty conclusive evidence of the supreme value of the capon. Why not raise more of them around Littlefield?

Many a man falls into debt, but the process of getting out is usually one of crawling.

LITTLE LEADERS

If all the people living in Littlefield and vicinity were permitted to run charge accounts wouldn't this country look prosperous!

It's a wise Littlefield woman who realizes that it's a hard job to keep up with her neighbors and her creditors at the same time.

When you hear a Littlefield man complaining of gnawing pains in his stomach it doesn't mean he has swallowed his false teeth.

When you find a Littlefield man who can eat heartily when a pretty girl is looking straight at him you may know he is hungry.

What has become of the old-fashioned Littlefield boy who used to saturate himself with musk every time he went out to call on his best girl.

If you want to be sure of winning the friendship of the Littlefield man who is getting old enough to wear glasses just call him "judge" or "colonel."

No Littlefield woman would want to marry a tramp, but all of them appreciate the way a tramp eats anything set before him without grumbling.

If some of Littlefield's young fellows showed as much enthusiasm for work as they do for spooning they wouldn't have to hunt a new job every few weeks.

More than one Littlefield woman is inclined to believe that man sprang from monkeys when she sees some of her husband's relatives for the first time.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

F. R. Champion, Publisher Of The Schenectady (N. Y.) Union Star Says:

That the one great magnetic force of your community is your newspaper. What a community is, what it does for its people and what advantages it offers for attracting business and citizens, is determined not so much by its buildings and natural advantages as by the spirit which actuates its citizenry.

Without civic pride natural advantages are of little avail. With its citizenry united and filled with civic pride, the lack of natural advantages is not a serious handicap. The community newspaper is the expression of the common voice of its citizens—it unites them and coordinates their ideas in such a way that it reflects its composite personality. But more than that it energizes—it stimulates—it magnetizes the latent civic spirit which every one has for his home town—it galvanizes that spirit into action.

Without the medium of the newspaper, progress is not possible for there would be no medium for the community to express itself. With it any community which uses this medium adequately can do whatever it wills to do, if it but gives the smallest encouragement to this modern miracle worker—The Newspaper.

Schedule of Odd Jobs

Will Help Home Owners

It is a good thing to have a month-by-month schedule of repairs for the home, so that the various odd jobs can be anticipated and done in the proper season. A midwinter blizzard is no time to patch a leaking roof, nor is the fly period suitable for repairs to screens. There is also the point of service and economy in buying equipment, as a heating plant in the off-season, and likewise in hiring certain work to be done.

The following schedule of odd jobs and repairs for the summer and fall which may be modified to suit local conditions, is recommended by John L. McMahon, a national authority on home ownership, in Popular Science Monthly.

July: Make thorough repairs on the roof. Replace all missing or rotted shingles and stop leaks. Inspect gutters and leaders for patching, painting or replacement.

August: A good time for excavations of any kind. If foundations or cellar walls need tarring or cement plaster, do it now. All kinds of general building can be done without much need for weather protection.

September: If a new heating plant is needed install it now. Apply weather stripping. Renew floors. Fix up the coal bin and put in a supply of winter fuel.

October: Get the heating plant ready to fire up. Clean chimneys from the roof down. Paint up house brackets with cement. Connect furnace smoke pipe—new if required.

November: Take down screens and screen doors. Take up leaves around the house. Start furnace.

Mistakes in Building

One's Home Are Costly

All normal men and women plan some day, to have a home of their own; a place with trees, flowers, a garden; a home for the children. But most people building their first home usually make mistakes that can be avoided. An architect, in an article on home-building in Liberty Magazine, says: "Most architects make a mess of the first home they build for themselves. I made one of mine. I was joshed about it so much that I decided to let a few of the wife's wishes prevail in my next one—there was bound to be a next one, for the mistakes in the first were too accusing. "Instead of going at the job from a running jump the next time, I'd take counsel with my wife all the way through. No building again in a valley, with its wet mornings when the hill tops were bathed in sunlight. No western exposures, with their sun-baked rooms. No more scourge of mosquitoes. No laboring uphill through snow and slush on my way to work—that was a job in itself. No, in our new home we'd eliminate most of these bugbears. We'd live on a hill!"

Standardized Cities

Fifty years from now the traveler in America will be impressed with the similarity in general plan and appearance of American cities. This has been made certain by the passage of zoning ordinances in practically every important center of population in the United States. Latest figures by the Department of Commerce indicate more than half of the urban population live in zoned cities and towns. In 1916 only a tenth resided in communities where zoning ordinances governed building activities and city development. The number of zoned cities increased from 6 in 1916 to 73 in 1921, 265 in 1923 and 425 in 1925. Grouped according to population, 47 of the 68 largest cities in the United States having over 100,000 population and 150 of the 287 cities and towns having over 25,000 population have zoning ordinances in effect.—Lincoln Star.

Rose-Trellis Worth While

An alluring little rose-trellis is a fascinating adjunct to any country or suburban home, or, in fact, any home that is not cramped for space.

Even the amateur carpenter can construct an article like this, since it is little more than an arch over a seat. The arch is made of lattice work so that a climbing vine may find a firm hold. A back of open wood-work for the seat is in keeping with the airy nature of the trellis.

The whole should be painted either white or green. White is the more effective as a background for the greenery of the vines and the bright color of the pink or red roses. A comparatively small space will provide room for this bower.

Benefit in Ownership

A family that owns a home built exactly as they want it, with the utmost in convenience and comfort, takes pride in it, maintains it better, gets more pleasure out of it and has a more wholesome, healthful and happy atmosphere in which to bring up children.

Ideal Community

An aspiring people who desire to secure for the city and its people the very best in the realm of liberal culture are the foundation of the ideal community.

W. T. S. T. C. BUYS T. ANCHOR RANCH FOR THE SCHOOL

Canyon, April 12.—There is great rejoicing over the entire Panhandle region this week because it has become known that the headquarters of the old T Anchor ranch has become the property of the West Texas State Teachers College and that the old ranch house will be preserved as it was in the early eighties.

200 acres surrounding the old headquarters will be used as a college farm, home for the two buffaloes which are the Texas College mascots, and a recreation park for members of the faculty and students.

As soon as possible, the old house which was built in 1882 by Leigh Dyer will be restored and furnished so it was when it was the only house in Randall County.

The T Anchor ranch was originally owned by Gunter & Munson and on one of the doors of the old house there appears a handsomely carved monogram GMG and below it the T Anchor brand which has become one of the best known in the United States. These decorations were carved upon the door in 1882 by a visitor to the ranch.

SWEETWATER—Another important industry has been added to Sweetwater's list with the announcement that A. A. Koch, former year manager of the San Antonio Foundry and Machine Company, has purchased land here and will immediately erect a foundry and steel company. The new industry is to be known as the Star Foundry, Steel and Machine Company.

The contest is open to high school boys and girls in most towns of the West Texas organization.

MUTTON SHEEP FOR SOUTH

The mutton type of sheep, as it fits best in southern farming, the climate of the South is well adapted to the production of early lambs ready for market in spring or early summer when prices for sheeping lambs are relatively high. Under modern conditions the sale of lambs should return to most southern farmers more than the sale of the wool from the same flock.
