

French Chief Asks Altered Defense Pact

By CARL HARTMAN
STRASBOURG, France (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France called today for a new West European defense pact which he said could reduce French opposition to West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The new organization, he said, could have a "degree of supernatural" meaning some of the elements of a superstate.

It was partly because the situation in the European Defense Community had too much supranationality in it, he added, that it was defeated in the French Parliament.

Mendes-France spoke before the Council of Europe, made up of parliament members from the council's 15 nations.

The job of the new organization, which the French leader described as a changed and enlarged version of the Brussels pact of 1948, would be to set top limits to the armies and armaments of all member countries.

Any discrimination, he said, would be only on a "geographic and strategic basis."

"Questions have arisen," he said, "about the admission of West Germany to NATO. Once the organization that I have described is set up, the resistance to that in France would be greatly diminished."

The United States and Britain have been pressing for West Germany's entry into NATO since the French National Assembly killed the EDC plan which would have enrolled West Germans with the troops of France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg in a unified army.

France has been reluctant to agree to West German membership in NATO and it was clear today the Premier would like to delay it until after his projected organization is set up.

His forum, the European Council's Assembly, was described by one member today as a consultative body that nobody consults. Its 132 delegates can do nothing without the unanimous approval of the upper House, a council of cabinet ministers. Though the council is formed on international parliamentary lines, it has no law-making powers.

The Assemblymen were a little flattered at the attention from the French Premier, a little disappointed that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had not come to make the picture complete.

As partisans of a supranational EDC, most of them could accept Mendes-France's ideas only as a second-best solution.

Alumni Rap Plan To Abolish State Orphans Home

AUSTIN (AP)—Twenty ex-students of the Corsicana State Orphans Home, headed by State Supreme Court Associate Justice Robert W. Calvert, today submitted a report to the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools opposing abolition of the home.

The hospital board has been considering a plan that would do away with the orphans home and set up a system of foster homes.

The change was recommended last spring by the Texas Research League, a privately financed organization that studies state government operational problems.

Calvert told the board the only thing he had to say as a candidate of the orphans home was: "I'm very proud of this institution and equally proud of the product."

J. B. Carrington, president of the home's ex-students association, submitted without comment a written report of the delegation.

The ex-students attacked the research league's report as lacking objectivity. It charged failure of the league to make a "thorough study of the role played by ex-students in the community life of Texas."

The ex-students said they have found no support for a statement by the league that several distinguished ex-students were consulted during the survey.

Commenting on the league's claim that a foster home program would save the state $220,000 a year, the report asked: "Are the children of the home to be the butt of the state's economy program?"

"Human value should come first in any study of this type," the ex-students said. "Texas has been and will be repaid many times over by investing well in her unfortunate children."

The report also opposed the league's proposal that the home be transferred to the jurisdiction of the Department of Welfare and that the minimum age limit for admission be raised to 6 instead of the present age of 3.

The ex-students said the league's report did not give sufficient consideration to the possible effect an economic recession might have on a foster home program.

The report minimizes the possibility of the increased burden on the state during times of recession, and that it is not always going to be easy to secure proper foster home care as it has been in the good years and is likely to be for the immediate future," said the ex-students.

"It is questionable to most of us whether the aid to dependent children program and other groups that aid the orphan or needy child will be sufficient in times of financial stress to supplement a program such as proposed in the report."

Sanity Hearing Jury Is Chosen In Horlen Case

A jury was completed shortly before noon today for the sanity hearing for Ray Avers Horlen in 118th District Court.

The hearing was to start at 1:30 p.m. The jury will be asked to decide on two issues — whether Horlen is sane at present and whether he was sane on Aug. 15 when his father-in-law, Jerry Cottongame, was fatally shot.

Horlen is under indictment on murder charges as a result of the death of his father-in-law, but today's hearing is concerned solely with sanity or insanity of the defendant.

Several witnesses, including H. B. Music, adjudication officer for the Veterans Administration at Lubbock, have been summoned and the hearing is expected to extend into Tuesday. Following the jury's verdict, Horlen will be held in the county jail until 9 a.m. Wednesday following the selection of a jury this morning.

Music was subpoenaed to present all medical and other records of the Veterans Administration pertaining to Horlen.

Members of both the Horlen and Cottongame families were in the courtroom this morning as arrangements for the hearing got under way. Horlen's children also were present, and a small son visited with the defendant while a jury was being selected.

Chosen for the jury were Donald L. Henderson, E. M. Bailey, P. B. Enfield, Joe Mac Gaskin, B. M. Estes, Willie F. Kennedy, H. L. Eason, L. J. Jeter, Blodson O'Brien, Dewey K. Hill, James C. Foster and L. D. Chrane.

Horlen's attorneys are Thomas, Thomas & Jones of Big Spring.

Powell Case Gets Specific Mention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today ordered a special grand jury convened here to investigate possible bribery and other criminal conduct in the federal housing program.

Brownell directed specifically that U. S. Atty. Leo A. Raven "present evidence of the activities of Clyde L. Powell," who resigned as assistant commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration last April 13 during congressional investigations of alleged irregularities in the agency.

Brownell announced also U.S. attorneys in all other districts across the country are being directed "to present to grand juries as soon as material is available full testimony concerning criminal conduct uncovered by the administration's FHA investigations in their districts."

He said Warren Olney III, assistant attorney general for criminal prosecutions, was sending out these instructions.

Congressional investigators have asserted that numerous builders in various parts of the country made millions of dollars "windfall profits" by getting FHA-insured loans on apartment projects which exceeded the actual cost of the projects.

Brownell's announcement made reference to this in relation to Powell. It said:

"While assistant commissioner, Powell had charge of the rental housing program which operated from 1946 to 1953. This program resulted in windfalls to speculators exceeding $1 million dollars alone in the 285 cases reviewed by the special investigations office set up by the present administration in FHA."

The department announcement also asserted:

"Powell, when called before the Senate Banking Committee during its investigation of FHA, declined to answer questions. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution which provides that a man may not be forced to give evidence against himself.

The Banking Committee put into its record a statement that Powell had a criminal record. Powell's attorney, Daniel B. Maher of Washington, later filed a formal statement denying that the committee's statement of his record was correct.

The Justice Department declined to say exactly when the grand jury will convene here. However, it was learned that Powell was served with a subpoena last Friday for a grand jury appearance Oct. 6.

"The FHA has undergone a sweeping reorganization in recent months. Reputed irregularities in its operations have been under FBI investigation since last year.

In a recent summary of results, the Justice Department said that during 1953 and thus far in 1954, the government has invoked foreclosure proceedings on 39 housing projects on which loans for more than $2 million dollars were defaulted.

On the criminal side, 74 indictments involving 136 persons were returned in the same period, with 67 convictions resulting.

The department said most of the criminal cases involved falsified loan documents in the home improvement program, but also included cases of corruption of government officials, mail fraud and violation of the banking laws.

Brownell said that a recent report by the Housing and Home Finance Agency showed that the housing program "became riddled with corruption under the prior administration." He added:

"The preliminary work done by congressional committees and by the HEIFA (Housing and Home Finance Agency) has furnished a vast amount of material indicating maladministration of these laws. The Justice Department has and will vigorously prosecute all offenders.

"While the majority of the employees were loyal and faithful, there was disintegration of personal integrity among others in the housing program."

ALL-DAY SESSION

Area Farm Bureau Men Gather Here

More than 150 county Farm Bureau officers, directors, office workers and delegates from a 50-county West Texas area are assembled at the Settles Hotel here today attending the District 6 meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau.

The morning session was devoted to discussions of farm problems and Farm Bureau policies, while this afternoon's program is being given over to the selection of a district Farm Bureau queen who will go to the state convention in Galveston later in the year to compete for the title of state Farm Bureau queen. The winner of the state contest will represent Texas in the national queen contest in New York.

R. J. Buchanan of San Angelo, state field man for the Bureau presided at the meeting this morning and C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice president of the TFB, was the principal speaker. In his opening remarks Buchanan stressed the importance of an active county Farm Bureau in attracting new members.

Emphasizing the importance of resolutions to be adopted by the various county Farm Bureau conventions in the near future, DeVaney pointed out that some very important matters will be presented in both the next session of the Texas Legislature and the next session of Congress, and said that the policies of the Texas Farm Bureau and the American Farm Bureau Federation concerning these matters will be determined largely on the basis of the thoughts of the people as reflected in these county resolutions.

One of the most important matters to come before the Legislature, he said, will be that of water and its control by state water boards or commission. In this connection DeVaney asked that the various County Bureaus, in their county conventions and through resolutions, say how they think this water commission or board, which it is anticipated will be authorized by new legislation, should be selected.

He pointed out that it may either be elected by the voters, as the state officers are elected, or that it may be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Texas State Senate. DeVaney warned that in time there may be a conflict concerning the use of surface water between industry and agriculture. He urged that county conventions give serious thought to the fact that a state water board or commission will have to settle any such difference between industry and agriculture, and suggested that if such a commission or board is elected the industrial centers will probably control their election because of the greater number of votes in these centers as compared with the agricultural areas.

The speaker reiterated the stand previously taken by the TFB that it is only the surface water of the state that is public property because of the increased burden on the state during times of recession, and that it is not always going to be easy to secure proper foster home care as it has been in the good years and is likely to be for the immediate future," said the ex-students.

"It is questionable to most of us whether the aid to dependent children program and other groups that aid the orphan or needy child will be sufficient in times of financial stress to supplement a program such as proposed in the report."

Demos Believe Adlai Candidate

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Top party leaders carried away from a campaign kickoff rally here this week-end the impression that Adlai E. Stevenson is prepared to fight for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, the House minority leader, summed up what evidently was the viewpoint of many of his colleagues with this succinct comment on Stevenson: "He's a candidate."

Rayburn appeared to feel, as did many other Democrats, that if Stevenson wants the nomination again he will be a tough man to beat.

Stevenson, who became the 1952 standard-bearer with some reluctance because he may have foreseen his subsequent defeat by President Eisenhower, maintained his usual public silence on future plans.

But there was some evidence that the former Illinois governor is coming to enjoy his role as titular leader of the Democratic party more than he ever believed he would. Despite the vexations of almost continuous travel in this year's campaign, he has confessed to friends the job he has undertaken of rebuilding the party fascinates him.

Stevenson has maintained in talks with party leaders that it is too early even to discuss the presidential race two years from now. Although he believes Eisenhower has slipped in popularity, he is inclined to think that no President could maintain the level of the 1952 sweep.

Nevertheless, it is evident Stevenson feels that if the record of the first 20 months of the Eisenhower administration is a criterion a Democrat will have a good chance of winning the presidency two years from now.

Discussion which cropped out at the rally here indicated that the 1956 nomination is not going by default if some Democrats can help it.

There now is going on within the party a struggle for power between the regulars who stood close to the throne when Harry S. Truman was President and the late comers who have found places on the National Committee under Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, Stevenson's handpicked man. Truman, himself, apparently is not involved in this fight and is maintaining close relations with Stevenson.

This struggle may culminate after the election in the choice of a successor to Mitchell, who has made it clear he wants Paul Butler, Indiana national committee man, as his successor.

Arrayed against Butler at this time are Oscar Chapman, former secretary of the interior; Michael V. DiSalle, former price administrator, and James Finnegan of Philadelphia, who is regarded as somewhat of an independent.

Who will win this test of strength evidently depends largely on how the Democrats fare in their battle with the Republicans for control of Congress. If Stevenson and DiSalle can hit that particular jackpot in November, their National Committee influence is likely to be overpowering.

Discovered 30 minutes later at the midway, 6-year-old Tommy explained to officers, "Daddy got lost."

Texan Is Held Red Prisoner

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army today identified two American soldiers arrested by the Czech Communists and said the State Department is negotiating for their release.

The men were listed as 1st Lt. Richard H. Dries (son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Dries, 17827 Anderson Rd., St. Albans, New York, and Pfc. George Pisk (son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Pisk, 4507 Placid Place, Austin, Tex.).

They were caught up by a Czech border patrol near Eslarn, on the German-Czech border last Friday. Czechoslovakia's Red government in a protest note to the U.S. Embassy in Prague admitted last night it was holding them and claimed they were arrested on Czech territory "while photographing military installations and carrying out observations with field glasses."

The Army previously said the men were cruising along the border in an official capacity "to see what they could see," but that they were on West German territory when picked up.

A third soldier accompanying Dries and Pisk was some distance away when the Czech soldiers and their snarling guard dogs swooped down. The other American escaped and reported the incident.

The Army said Dries was in civilian clothes at the time because he was an interrogator who interviewed persons in the border area. Pisk was in uniform.

Public Is Invited To CTC Meeting

Anyone having a traffic problem or solution to a traffic problem is urged to attend Tuesday night's meeting of the local Citizen Traffic Commission.

Dr. Lee Rogers, CTC chairman, announced that the meeting will be held in the District Courtroom at the Howard County Courthouse, starting at 7:30 p.m.

All members of the CTC have sent cards announcing the meeting, and it is hoped that there will be a good turnout. Members are asked to bring interested citizens of Big Spring.

Routine business will be discussed, and reports will be heard from committees. Dangerous intersections and the problems at each will be on the engineering committee agenda.

"If all citizens will work together in traffic safety, we will have a safer and better community," Dr. Rogers said.

Eisenhower Ends Fishing Vacation

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower packed up for return to the summer White House in Denver today after five days of the most refreshing vacation he has had in a long time.

The President arranged to leave his Rocky Mountain trout fishing camp early on the 70-mile drive back across the Continental Divide.

Once in Denver, he planned to tackle a stack of official business at his Lowry Air Force Base office. Also on tap was more work on the four speeches he will make in the Far West later in the week.

James C. Hagerly, White House secretary, reported the Chief Executive feeling fine and said he had "unwound a great deal" since he arrived last Wednesday at the ranch of an old friend, Aksel Nielsen.

Town In Delaware Closes Schools In Wake Of Protest

MILFORD, Del. (AP)—The Board of Education closed Milford's two public schools today following a protest against integration of Negro and white pupils.

Dr. Raymond C. Cobbs, school superintendent, said the action was taken by the board "in the interests of the safety of the children of the district."

Dr. Cobbs said the board acted after trying vainly to meet with the opponents of integration who scheduled a "march" on one of the schools for today.

The schools closed are the Benjamin Banneker School which has an enrollment of Negro pupils in grades one through nine, and the Lake Avenue School, a combined elementary and high school.

An estimated 1,500 persons met at the American Legion Hall last Friday night, Dr. Cobbs said, to protest integration. Dr. Cobbs said no announcement was made but the board learned the anti-integration group planned a march on the Lake Avenue school later today.

Milford has a population of about 4,800 white persons and 1,200 Negroes.

Nearly 500 Stricken With Food Poisoning At Picnic

NEW ULM, Tex. (AP)—Upwards of 500 persons were stricken with food poisoning after eating barbeque and potato salad at a volunteer fire department picnic here yesterday. Doctors said the potato salad probably caused it.

At least 42 remained hospitalized today in five surrounding towns. None was in serious condition. The hospitals reported they treated and released about that many more.

All in the hospitals were expected to be released today.

No deaths were reported.

Five doctors from nearby communities rushed here, following an emergency call, to treat victims on picnic grounds. Many of the ill were placed in private homes after hospitals became filled.

Dr. C. I. Shult of nearby Columbus said:

"When I arrived people were doubled up and laid out all over the grounds. We set up behind a nearby home and started giving hypodermics to ease their pain and relax them. None seemed seriously ill, and that was about all you could do for them."

"There were at least 500 affected on the grounds, and no telling how many more who had left earlier and gotten sick on the way home. We treated between 250 and 300 on the grounds. The rest went home or to hospitals."

"I gave more than 150 shots myself and was there six hours."

Shult said probably bacteria in the potato salad, which was prepared in advance of the picnic, caused the poisoning. He said victims suffered from "terrible pain, acute vomiting and diarrhea."

"Such poisoning is seldom fatal because affected persons usually get rid of everything," he said.

An estimated 2,500 persons from the surrounding Southeast Texas area turned out for the noon barbeque, an annual affair which raises money for the volunteer fire department in this village of around 250 persons. The first call for doctors went out about 4 p.m.

Shult said motorists arriving in New Ulm reported cars carrying people from the picnic "lined up on the highway and stopped, with people lying sick beside the road."

U. S. Accuses Peiping Regime With Warlike Acts Of Piracy

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Laying new groundwork for its annual fight to bar Communist China from the U.N. General Assembly, the United States has accused the Peiping regime of 39 "warlike acts of piracy" against ships and planes of seven nations.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. distributed the charges against the Chinese Reds as a prelude to the final session of the eighth General Assembly here this afternoon (2 p.m. EST) and the opening tomorrow of the ninth Assembly.

The list cited 27 attacks on British ships or aircraft, climaxing by the shooting down July 23 of a British airliner off Hainan Island in which three Americans and seven other persons were killed or were lost.

"My purpose in making public this list," Lodge said in an accompanying statement, "is to show that the Chinese shooting was no isolated incident but part of a pattern of constant aggressive pressure against the free world."

There were five incidents involving the United States, including the seizure of the small yacht with three Americans released only last week; two involving Denmark; two involving Panama, and one each involving Norway, France and Portugal.

The list offered the British, Danish and Norwegian delegations—whose governments have recognized Red China—new occasion for voting in the Assembly to keep out Peiping's representatives.

Lodge and the U.S. delegation were alert to head off any attempt by the Soviet Union or any other Red China backer to reopen the seating question today or tomorrow.

Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of India's Prime Minister Nehru and outgoing Assembly president, prepared only a brief statement about the work done by the closing eighth session. No test of the China seating question was in prospect, but Mrs. Pandit in a radio interview yesterday reiterated her belief Red China should be seated now.

The U.S. delegation, backed by Britain, was confident it could head off any such move for the rest of this year.

The eighth session recessed last December with the Korea question unsettled. That problem and 65 others pass over Tuesday to the ninth session. Mrs. Pandit will preside until the delegates elect her successor.

Candidates for president up to this morning were Eelco van Kleffens of the Netherlands and Prince Wan Wathayakun of Thailand, but the latter withdrew in the face of Van Kleffens' almost certain preponderance of votes when the secret balloting is held tomorrow.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles is expected here tomorrow to head his new delegation for the Assembly. He will make the U.S. policy speech—probably Thursday—and then prepare to leave again for Europe to deal with the question of Germany's future.

Parliamentarian Of Senate Refutes McCarthy Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles L. Watkins, the Senate parliamentarian, has upheld the validity of an elections subcommittee that issued a report critical of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) early in January 1953. One of the accusations brought against McCarthy in support of a pending resolution to censure him is that he was contemptuous of the elections subcommittee and declined its invitations to testify about his financial affairs and other matters. McCarthy, in defending himself before a special Senate committee now considering the charges, questioned whether the elections unit was "a valid committee" because of the manner in which a vacancy on it was filled late in November 1952. Testimony on this point was taken from Watkins at a closed hearing last Friday. The transcript made available to newsmen today, shows that Watkins said the vacancy was filled in accord with Senate precedent and custom. One of the witnesses called by the special censure committee at its public hearings was Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.), former chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, parent body of the elections subcommittee. He testified that on Nov. 20, 1952, Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) resigned from the subcommittee. Hayden said he appointed himself to fill the vacancy so as to give the subcommittee a quorum or majority of its original five members, since two others had resigned previously. McCarthy said it was his opinion that the chairman of a subcommittee could only "nominate" subcommittee members, and that they had to be confirmed by the full committee. He said he attached "such importance" to the point because he maintained, the only time he was requested to appear before the elections subcommittee — as disand gravity of oil was 28 degrees. The gas-oil ratio measured 250-1. Operator treated pay section with 6,000 gallons of acid. Total depth is 3,096 feet, and the 5 1/2-inch is bottomed at 3,074 feet. This project is closing the gap between the recently discovered Northeast Moore area and the Morita extension to Moore production. It is some three miles west of Big Spring. Continental No. 22 Kloh is a Howard-Glasscock location some four miles west of Forsan. It will go down to 2,600 feet by rotary, starting at once. Location is 563 from north and 1,758 from east lines, 13-33-2, T&P survey. Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Graham, C SE SE, 15-33-2, T&P survey, bored to 8,848 feet in lime. Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Self, 895 from north and 580 from west lines, northeast quarter, 39-32-3n, T&P survey, hit 252 feet in redbeds, where 1 1/2 inch casing is being set. Warren No. 2 Ellis Iden, 1,320 from south and 330 from east lines, northeast quarter, 26-32-3n, T&P survey, has a total depth of 8,190 feet in lime, where operator is testing. No gauges had been released this morning. Sun No. 1 Simpson, C SE SE, 46-32-3n, T&P survey, set and cemented 9 1/2 inch casing at 3,075 feet. Operator drilled plug and is making hole at 3,535 feet in lime.

Eight Criminal Cases Heard In County Court

Pleas were heard in eight criminal cases in County Court this morning and County Judge R. H. Weaver sentenced one defendant to 90 days in jail and assessed a 30-day jail term against another. Rocio Espozosa was assessed the 90-day sentence after he pleaded guilty to charges of aggravated assault. He was charged with assaulting Pete Carrillo with a knife on the night of Sept. 16 during the Diaz y Sels celebration in Northwest Big Spring. The 30-day sentence was levied against Rodrigo Sanchez, who pleaded guilty to charges of aggravated assault on Moncado Sanchez. Jimmy Love, Colorado City youth, was fined $125 following his plea of guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated. He said in court this was the second time he was arrested for the offense.

Nolan British American No. 2-K TXL, discovery from the Goens sand in the EA multipay field, flowed this weekend from the Ellenburger. Recovery in an hour and 50 minutes was 30 barrels of oil. Flow was through a 24-64th inch choke. Prior to the Ellenburger test, a 14 hour flow in the Goens sand had netted 150.83 barrels of 48.4 gravity oil. The gas-oil ratio on the Goens test was 912-1, tubing pressure was 120 pounds, and flow was through a 14-64th inch choke. The Goens oil and Ellenburger oil filled all the storage available and the well was shut. Dual completion will be affected when storage is emptied. Goens perforations are from 5,436 to 5,454 feet, and Ellenburger perforations are from 5,883 to 5,925 feet. Location is 1,026 from south and 530 from east lines, 13-2-T&P survey.

Purple Faced With Big Test

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor Texas plays Notre Dame and Texas Christian tackles Oklahoma this week as the Southwest Conference shoots for the moon in intersectional football. They will be among the big games of the country because Notre Dame is ranked No. 1 and Oklahoma No. 2. The conference did perfectly in its first week of trying against outside teams, winning all three intersectional games on the schedule. Texas beat Louisiana State, 29-6. Rice walloped Florida, 34-14, and TCU laced Kansas, 27-6. This week, however, is something else. Besides Texas' efforts to shove into the lead in the nation with a victory over mighty Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., and TCU's desire to stop Oklahoma at Norman, three other league teams will be trying for intersectional victories. Arkansas opens the season against Tulsa at Fayetteville, Baylor journeys to Nashville to play Vanderbilt and Texas A&M tries against Oklahoma A&M at Dallas. If the conference can win three of those games it'll feel it has had a good week.

Cohen Is New King Of Welterweights

BANGKOK (AP)—Robert Cohen, 23-year-old French fighter, is the new king of the bantamweight world and he probably will make his first title defense in the United States. Fighting for the crown vacated in May by Jimmy Carruthers of Australia, Cohen won a split 15-round decision here last night over Chamrern Songkitrat, Bangkok police lieutenant. It was a bloody brawl that left Cohen with a sprained and possibly fractured wrist and a deep cut over the right eye and Songkitrat with a broken nose.

Nelson Leads Way In Pros' Victory

DALLAS (AP)—Texas golf pros trounced their amateur brethren, 14-10, over the weekend to win the Texas Cup Matches the 13th time in 21 years. It stoned for an unexpected licking from the amateurs last year. It was all for charity but the pros were grimly determined as they swept the singles matches 9-4 to 6-4 yesterday with Byron Nelson leading the way with a blazing 67 over Brook Hollow course. Nelson beat Floyd Addington of Dallas 4 and 3 for the clinching point. Saturday the pros won the doubles 4-4 to 2-6.

Waco, Corpus Even In Playoff Series

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Dean Stafford hit two home runs and drove in seven runs in a single inning last night as Corpus Christi's Clippers slaughtered Waco's Pirates, 16-4, to even the Big State League playoff at two victories apiece. A "peeping tom" who was charged in City Court today with disturbance was fined $25 on a plea of guilty. Officers arrested the man at 3 a.m. Sunday in the 200 block of Northwest Second. They said that he was intoxicated and looking through windows when arrested.

speech, usually well informed sources here said his plan calls for something like this: 1. Approval of the British proposal to expand the five-nation Brussels defense alliance of France, Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to include West Germany and Italy. The seven nations would be pledged to come to one another's aid in case of an attack. 2. This group would set limits on German rearmament as well as on the armies of the other members keep on the European continent. By limiting all the nations, the French hoped to meet the German demand for equality in any setup. 3. The European alliance would not actually control the various national armies; that job would be left to the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which includes the United States and Canada. 4. The new European alliance would not be a supranational organization like the European Defense Community which the French Assembly torpedoed. But decisions would be taken for the group by a council of representatives, on which no one nation would have a veto.

Reports from Washington said Mendes-France was ready to join the British and the Americans in bringing West Germany into the North Atlantic alliance provided Britain and the United States maintain troops on the continent for a long period and as long as satisfactory controls are put on German rearmament. Mendes-France sent his proposals over the weekend to the six other prospective European allies as well as to the United States and Canada. The foreign ministers of all nine nations will meet in London Sept. 27 in a determined try at finding some defense arrangement to substitute for EDC. In Washington, the State Department had no immediate comment on the French proposals but the sentiment seemed to be that they offered little if any new hope for the early development of the Youth Fined $62 On Traffic Counts

One teen-ager was assessed fines in city court this morning totaling $62.50. He pleaded guilty to three traffic tickets charging speeding, speeding in a school zone, and running a red light. All other traffic fines levied by Acting Judge Mack Rodgers totaled only $47.50. He fined two men $15 each for speeding, three $5 each for running stop signs, and one $2.50 for not having a muffler and creating excessive noise with his car.

Dealer Tags On Car Bring Man's Arrest

A local Negro who has been driving a 1954 Oldsmobile here for three months on dealer tags was arrested during pre-dawn hours Sunday. Officers said that the car does not have license plates on it, and a check is being made with the Department of Public Safety today to see why the dealer has not purchased tags for the car or if anything is irregular in registration.

Accused

Lee S. Ford, 46, president of the Hammond Brick Co. in Grafton, West Va., is shown as he appeared at arraignment on charges of violation of the Federal Reserve Act. The FBI said Ford cashed a series of checks totaling $44,197 at the First National Bank of Fairmont, W. Va., which were not charged to his account. The bank was closed after Bernard Barrett, described as a kind-hearted cashier, was charged with allowing customers to pile up bad checks. (AP Wirephoto).

Car Theft, Two Burglaries Occur

A car theft and two burglaries were reported to Big Spring police over the weekend. D. B. Hobson, 402 State, told officers that his car was stolen from a local drive-in cafe, where he had left it parked. It is a 1948 Ford, color gray, with a New Mexico license number of 8-2423. He reported the theft at 5:10 p.m. Sunday.

Man Injured In Auto Accident

Rafael Garcia of Northwest Big Spring was treated at Cowper Hospital following an accident shortly before midnight Saturday. The car in which he was riding collided with a truck operated by Elias A. Grigby, Odessa. The accident occurred about 11:15 p.m. on Lamesa Drive. Police have not been able to determine who was driving the car in which Garcia was injured. Three other Latin-Americans fled following the collision, officers said.

DeVaney said other important matters to come before the Legislature will be additional tax money for road building and schools. He said county convention resolutions should make some suggestions as to the sources from which this additional money should come. He indicated the Farm Bureau will hold to its position of demanding a tax on the natural resources of Texas that are taken out of the state for consumption in other states. He mentioned conditions existing in some state hospitals and homes. We are going to need new tax money, DeVaney said, and the people must decide how much this will be and where it is to come from. He also stated the Farm Bureau's position on a better and more effective feed control law and the enforcement of such an improved control program. On the national level he commented that he felt too much emphasis had been placed on price supports and not enough on other factors on which the prosperity of agriculture depends. First among these other factors he mentioned the development of new markets in view of the fact that the American farmers can produce so much more than can be consumed here. Other matters discussed included the problem of diverted acres. Concerning these he said the farmer must find the answer "or somebody else will and we're the best qualified to do it." Others on today's program included Kenneth Ingvalson of Washington, D. County agricultural agents attending the meeting included Jack Burkhalter of Colorado City, Marion Badger of San Angelo, Lee Roy Colgan of Lamesa and Ralph Jones of Stanton. # Taking Germany Into NATO Raises Atom Weapon Issue

BY ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The proposal to make West Germany a full-fledged member of the European defense system raises the problem of how much atomic weapons information the United States would then give her.

France is reported to want definite controls set for re-creation of a German armed force if West Germany should be taken in as a member of the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The United States has adopted a policy — and amended a law to support the policy — providing for the exchange of information with allies on the effect of nuclear weapons. The intention is to inform allies only on the blast, heat and radiation effects of various atomic weapons, without disclosing details of design. But the mere detailing of effect can carry significant hints about the nature of the weapons themselves.

The proposal for this exchange of information originated with the American military about three years ago, at a time when NATO forces were just beginning to be formed and well before there was any concrete plan for arming West Germany. It received the support of the Atomic Energy Commission and in the last session of Congress the stringent terms of the 1946 Atomic Energy Act were modified to permit an exchange of information of nuclear weapons effect.

The military, including Gen. Omar Bradley, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, contended that allies of the United States in Europe could not make tactical or strategic plans for defense without having some indication of what to expect from atomic attack by an enemy or atomic weapon support of ground forces by the United States.

This became especially important with the subsequent appearance in the American arsenal of tactical-size atomic bombs, atomic artillery and guided missiles with atomic warheads for use on the battlefield.

A Soviet announcement last week of another atomic weapon test explosion points to the speed with which Russia is racing against the United States lead in the atomic weapons field—a lead which AEC chairman Lewis L. Strauss said yesterday is being maintained.

This rivalry between the world's two great atomic nations emphasizes the question of giving basic atomic weapon schooling to the nuclear "have-not" nations, including France and Germany, both geographically close to Russia.

An article in the latest issue of the Air University Quarterly Review, publication of the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., says the European allies are becoming alarmed over the prospect of being a battleground for atomic war between the U. S. and U.S.S.R.

Naples Rejoices As Blood Softens

NAPLES, Italy (U.S.)—Catholic Neapolitans looked forward to good times and rejoiced today following an announcement that the hardened blood of the city's patron, St. Januarius, had turned to liquid on his birthday, as in centuries past. The blood is kept in two silver phials in the Naples Cathedral.

Thousands crowded into the cathedral yesterday as priests removed the containers from a silver safe and placed them at the altar. They announced that the blood softened 38 minutes after the ceremony opened.

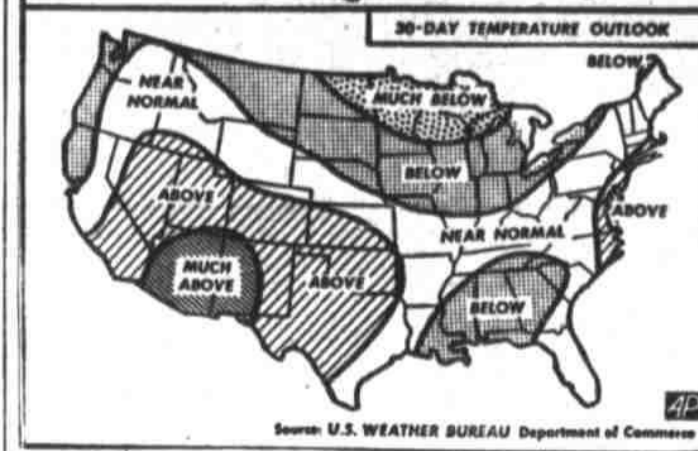

For four centuries, the church says, the blood has flowed three times a year — on the first Saturday of May, Sept. 1 and Dec. 16. Only three times it remained hard. This was before a bubonic plague in 1527, a cholera epidemic in 1884 and the 1944 eruption of Vesuvius.

Columbus carried sugar to the New World on his second voyage in 1493.

Swedish Government Margin Slips In Vote

STOCKHOLM (U.S.)—Sweden's governing coalition of Socialists and Agrarians remained solidly entrenched today following week-end local elections but both the government parties lost some ground.

The Conservatives, the country's third largest party, scored the largest gains. The Communists held steady, in last place with only 4.9 per cent of the 3,701,541 ballots cast.

DATE DATA

Breaking The Ice On That First Date Try

Dear Miss Brandon:
I am new in this neighborhood and there is a girl here that I like very much.

I have spoken to her several times, although she doesn't seem talkative. How can I break the ice with her and take her on a date?

Richard

This boy's interest in your friend. That will only make him more determined. Instead, praise her good points and keep silent on her bad ones.

This will be ten-times more effective.

Then wait and pray.

Giving a party? Then you want "Party Plans." Beverly Brandon's free booklet. Write to her in care of The Herald.

She may be reserved around new boys until she knows them better or has time to size them up, or she may be not encouraging your interest because she is someone else's steady.

Keep your eyes and ears open for a few days, or ask some neighborhood boy with whom you've made friends, just what the set up is.

If you don't get anywhere this way, or if you find she is not pinned, break the ice with a nice direct hit. Telephone her, introduce or identify yourself and point blank ask her for a date.

"Faint heart ne'er won fair lady."

Dear Miss Brandon:
I am going with a boy whom I like very much. He was always attracted to my friend, who is very pretty. Lately she has been very hateful and told me she would take him away from me.

Only yesterday I saw them together at the show and late that night I saw him leave her house. I hate to see him hurt, yet I know she will drop him just as soon as she proves to me that she can get him.

Melba

You're in a heartbreaking spot, but perhaps a heaping tablespoon of one part common sense and one part strategy plus a trip to the psychology book will save the day.

First, take the bang out of her little firecracker. She's stealing your boy friend to hurt or get even with you. She picked him because she knows he is valuable to you. Just suppose he were not?

You catch on fast. Date somebody else if possible. Otherwise dream up a mythical Romeo on which you are "real gone." Make her think the boy friend number one is now "old hat."

Second, don't try to discourage

Viet Nam Power Struggle Resumes

SAIGON, Indochina (U.S.)—The struggle between Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and the Vietnamese Army chief of staff, Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, was on again in full swing today after a brief armistice.

From his heavily guarded suburban villa, Hinh announced yesterday that he had cabled ex-Emperor Bao Dai, Viet Nam's chief of state now in France, that Diem's government is weak and should be replaced.

In reply Diem summoned correspondents to his palace. He called Hinh a traitor and a rebel general who refused to obey orders.

No word was received from Bao Dai but his close friend, Gen. Bai Vien, arrived from France and said the "crisis will be solved in a very short period."

Teacher Sets Record That's Nonscholastic

STOCKTON, Calif. (U.S.)—A 29-year-old Stockton High School mathematics teacher today claimed a strictly nonscholastic record: He water skied the 88 miles from San Francisco to Stockton in 3 hours, 31 minutes.

Karl Mahler did it on one ski — through San Francisco Bay and up the San Joaquin River yesterday.

His stunt was sponsored by the Stockton Chamber of Commerce to direct attention to the inland waterway from the Pacific to this central California city.

One thing about middle age, you don't get tired during the day — you start tired.

Tornadoes Skip Over Penn State

DUSHORE, Pa. (U.S.)—Three-hit-run tornadoes struck near three communities in North Central Pennsylvania last night, knocking down power lines, damaging roofs and causing extensive damage to at least two farms. No casualties were reported.

State police at the Dushore Barracks said the storms "seemed to set down on two farms and then take off again."

They left behind a splintered woodshed and silo, levelled pig pens and fallen trees. One cow was killed.

The Weather Bureau at Harrisburg said state police reported the three tornadoes through its station at Williamsport. A spokesman said the bureau had no information of its own about the storms.

An American Airlines DC6, carrying 74 passengers on a flight from Chicago to New York, reported running into turbulent weather over western Pennsylvania. The plane turned back and landed at Cleveland after baggage was spilled from racks onto seats and two women suffered minor injuries.

Another plane, a Trans Canada Airlines flight from New York to Toronto, returned to Idlewild Airport after its pilot said he was unable to get around thunderstorms in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The ocean liner on which I am a passenger is the "Johann van Oldenbarnevelt." Never before have I ridden in a vessel with such a long name. The name honors a hero in Dutch history, and I suppose there is little hope that it will be shortened.

On either side of the St. Lawrence, passengers can see land, but the river has widened to more than 15 miles. Before long the width will be so great that it may be hard to see even one side.

The river gets to be 90 miles wide by the time it enters the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This gulf, like others, contains salt water. If you asked me to tell the length of the St. Lawrence River, I should be somewhat puzzled about the correct answer. From one point of view, the river starts at the eastern end of Lake Ontario, and the figure of 780 miles may cover the length.

From another viewpoint the "greater" St. Lawrence River starts at the western side of Lake Superior, with the St. Louis River in Minnesota as the head-stream. If we measure that way, through four of the five Great Lakes, the total length is about 2,100 miles.

Which lake would we leave out in such a measurement? The initial is "M."

Tomorrow: On the Atlantic.

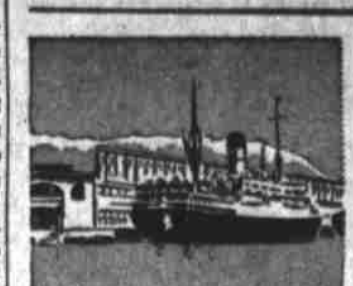

Among U. S. wearers of eyeglasses about 61 per cent use plain lenses and 38 per cent bi-focals or trifocals.

New Jersey Town Inoculates For Polio

PITMAN, N.J. (U.S.)—Churches, police and civic organizations pitched in yesterday to help health authorities inoculate 1,632 children and expectant mothers in this southern New Jersey community with gamma globulin.

The mass inoculation was ordered Saturday night after four cases of polio were reported within a week. Seven doctors and five dentists, assisted by 25 registered nurses, completed the job in a little more than seven hours.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

ON THE ST. LAWRENCE—Having left the harbor of Quebec, I am now on the way to Europe! The first stop will be England!

My thoughts have drifted to the mighty St. Lawrence. Today it is the gateway to Canada with ocean steamers passing up and down. In a few years, it will be several times as important. The St. Lawrence Waterway will make it possible for large ocean liners to reach Toronto, Buffalo, Hamilton, Cleveland and other ports on the Great Lakes.

The river contains water from the Great Lakes system. Most of its water (but not all) has tumbled over Niagara Falls. After passing through Lake Ontario, the water forms the St. Lawrence River. Several good-sized rivers, including the Ottawa, enter the St. Lawrence at points east of Lake Ontario.

A WARNING TO INSURANCE BUYERS

During recent months there have appeared in the news details of the failure and bankruptcy of 14 different fire and casualty insurance concerns doing business in Texas.

These failures left many thousands of policyholders without coverage; they left unpaid millions of dollars in just claims; many more millions in unearned premiums can never be recovered.

WHY DO YOU BUY INSURANCE? To protect your home, your furniture, your automobile from loss or damage. When an insurance company from whom you have bought a policy fails, you are left entirely without protection. You suffer a double loss; in lack of protection you were entitled to and in cost of a new policy you must buy.

HOW CAN YOU PROTECT YOURSELF? There is one sure way to see that you get the protection you pay for . . .

Difference Between 0.7 And 7.1: Qualifications Behind The Wheel

Of course, there are occasional shocking air disasters, and every such instance involving two or more persons gets into the papers throughout the country, and if half a dozen or so are involved, it's front-page stuff all over.

Yet the fact remains that the death rate for all commercial airlines in the country last year was only 0.7 per every hundred million miles flown, as against 7.1 deaths per hundred million miles of motor vehicle travel.

Now, the average motor vehicle is as well-constructed as the average passenger plane, in essential details. By the very nature of things it should be more dangerous to teeter around in mid air, in an element far more treacherous than terra firma, than to ride in an automobile, but such is not the case.

You are now about to experience the most dangerous part of your journey—an drive from the airport to your home. An airline pilot is quoted as telling his passengers as he brought the plane in for a safe landing.

That was no exaggeration. That is the feeling of most pilots and air passengers, and the statistics back it up.

You can call the two conveyances of travel equally safe and free from mechanical faults, remembering that fundamentally the air is more treacherous. Where then does the difference lie?

That's easy. Air traffic rules are rigid, and rigorously enforced. Airplane pilots licensed for transport service must undergo long and painstaking training. Their machines are inspected frequently and kept in 100 per cent operating efficiency. If the pilot develops a smartaleck streak, he is set down immediately. (Arthur Godfrey just regained the right to fly last week after six months' suspension for a smartaleck stunt. They don't come too high and mighty for the air authorities to bust 'em.)

On the other hand anybody big enough to see over the dashboard and can drive an automobile, without regard to physical or psychological fitness. The vehicle he drives is permitted on the road as long as it will hang together. That's the difference between 0.7 and 7.1.

The Russian Dagger Points At Us From Strong Arctic Bases

The magazine Aviation Age had a chilling piece of news for 100,000,000 Americans in its current issue: Russia has based almost all her entire long-range bomber force, as well as other army and navy air forces, at airfields along the coast of the Arctic Ocean.

It is from these bases that any future attack on the United States and Canada would come.

"Along this coastal area of the Arctic and northern Pacific, about 60 per cent of the whole Soviet aerial force stands ready to attack the American continent across the North Pole," the magazine says.

Along that stretch of coast the U.S.S.R. has from 150 to 200 air force, guided missile and supply bases. Aviation Age reports. Six months ago not one of the 54 long-range bomber squadrons known to exist in Russia was stationed in the west or south of that huge territory.

One of the reported big bases now in construction is on Frans Joseph Land, 3,000 miles from Detroit. It will have a runway 12,500 feet long, surfaced with iron plates electrically heated.

All this concentration of airpower in Arctic regions shows Russia's primary concern with the only nation on earth capable of challenging her world ambitions — the United States of America. It runs from the north of Scandinavia along the Arctic coast to the peninsula facing Alaska, and on south to Kamchatka and the Sea of Okhotsk.

In addition to threatening the United States across the polar icecap, the southern segments of this "defensive" U.S.S.R. chain have a strategic significance calculated to disturb any thoughtful American. How long could Japan, for example, relatively defenseless now, stand up under any serious Russian threat backed by the air power intact and unopposed?

An even more pressing question is, How long can we afford to neglect our own continental defenses against a possible Russian attack on our great industrial centers? Russia has, or will soon have, the means of delivering annihilating blows upon them from bases along the Arctic coasts.

Maine Shows Independents Are Drifting Back To Demo Party

The Maine elections throw some light on the favorite theory of the right wing anti-Eisenhower Republicans. Since before the convention of 1952 they have been arguing that to win the Republicans must go after not the independent voters who have supported the Democrats but the stay-at-home Republicans. The theory has it that there is a large mass of dyed-in-the-wool Republicans, who are so disgusted with middle of the road Republican trimmers that they will not vote at all. They must be brought to the polls by a tough relentless partisan fight against everything the Democrats have done or might do. Instead of wooing the independents, the tactic would be to repel them; by taking a line just this side of McCarthy the great silent stay-at-home hundred per cent Republican would begin to vote.

The question has always been whether this alleged Republican reserve of voters actually exists, or whether it is a mere figment of the imagination of politicians trying to get control of the Republican party. If their theory is true, then it would follow—as some of them have in fact been telling us recently—that if the Republicans lose in the election, it is not because some of the Republicans have voted Democratic but because some of them have stayed at home.

In Maine the Democrats have the Governor for the first time in twenty years. Was it because the Republicans stayed home? The total vote cast this year was in fact slightly larger than the vote cast even in 1952, and it was considerably larger than the vote cast in 1950. Yet in 1950 and in 1952 the Republicans won the Governorship. Gov. Cross was not beaten because Republicans stayed away from the polls; he was beaten for the simple and old-fashioned reason that a large number of voters switched their vote from the Republicans to the Democrats.

Why they did that is almost certainly best explained by the unpopularity of Gov. Cross in Maine. But the theory that the independent voters who can switch do not matter took a bad beating in Maine.

The Republicans elected Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and the three Representatives in Congress beginning with Robert Hale. But all of them had a rather striking reduction in the percentage of the vote. But there is nothing in the figures to indicate that their losses were due to the Republicans staying at home. Mrs. Smith had 16,000 votes less this year than she had when she was first elected in 1948. But her Democratic opponent this year had 38,000 more than the Democrat had in 1948. The total vote this year was larger than in 1948 and the Democrats got more of a larger vote. What hurt the size of Mrs. Smith's victory was not that the Republicans stayed at home but that so many of them voted Democratic. The three Congressmen all won by much smaller percentages than in 1952, and by somewhat smaller percentages than in 1950, the last off-year election. There is nothing in the figures to indicate that Republicans stayed away from the polls. There is every probability that a lot of Democrats and independents who voted with Eisenhower in 1950 went back to the Democrats where they had formerly been.

If the figures support any general theory, it is that the Democrats, plus the independents who have in large part been with the Democrats in this generation, are still the majority party. They can be beaten only when as in 1952 the Republicans have a candidate who can cross party lines.

I do not know what, if anything, the Maine elections indicate for November but they do suggest a lack of popular enthusiasm for the Republican party minus Gen. Eisenhower. They do quite strongly show that the party is not likely to make itself more popular by being more and more partisan, more and more narrowly intolerant, more and more recklessly reactionary. That will not bring out the alleged stay-at-home Republican vote. For there is no such vote.

Ring Up No Sale

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—Police Court Judge John V. Jester was handed a half-gallon jar of moonshine whisky officers offered in evidence against a man charged with transporting it.

He uncured the cap and inhaled deeply. After a few seconds necessary to get his face back to normal, Jester asked: "Has this man got a record?" "The officers said he did not." "I believe it," Jester commented. "And if he drinks this stuff he never will." The officers said the defendant apparently was of the same opinion. They said he told them he bought the whisky from a bootlegger but was unable to drink it and was taking it back when arrested.

Immunity Law, Yet To Face Court Test, Already Having Effect On Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you were a wartime spy and had a choice, which would you take: A life of freedom for telling what you know or possible imprisonment and death if you refused to talk?

It's a choice some men are probably trying to make right now behind the doors of a federal grand jury room here.

The Justice Department reportedly is guiding a grand jury investigation, looking toward indictments and trials, of four alleged wartime spy rings among former government workers.

The maximum penalty for wartime spying is death, no matter how long after the war a man is found guilty. Former spies must have had some sleepless nights since the war, thinking about it.

The government now has a new weapon to use against any spy rings. It is the immunity law, passed by Congress this summer. This law permits the government to call in an individual, even a wartime spy, and tell him:

"We know you were a spy. If you tell us what you know, we may be able to convict the higher-ups in the ring. If you do tell us, we promise you will never be prosecuted for what you did."

If he accepted the immunity offer and talked, the ex-spy's life thereafter would be free of worry about prosecution. At the same time he'd be helping his country.

If he refused to talk, having been promised immunity, he could be indicted for contempt of Federal Court. How much time would he have to serve in jail if tried and found guilty? That's up to the judge.

More than that: If he preferred silence to immunity, some of his co-conspirators, should they in turn be offered immunity, might talk about him. They might talk enough to convict him of wartime spying.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said a week ago this immunity law already is having an effect on Communists. He said they are coming by themselves to the government with offers to talk.

Until now one of the government's worst stumbling blocks in trying to unravel the Communist conspiracy was the Fifth Amendment under which individuals with information had an excuse for silence.

A wartime spy, called before a grand jury, knew that anything he said — that is, the actual words — never could be used against him if some day the government wanted to bring him to trial for spying.

But while the government could never use his exact grand jury testimony against him, it could use that testimony as a lead to other evidence which could be used to try and convict him.

So an ex-spy was always able to say: "I refuse to answer any questions because the Fifth Amendment says a man can't be compelled to say anything which some day might land him in jail."

To get around this, Atty. Gen.

Brownell asked Congress to pass the immunity law.

But there is still an unanswered question about the immunity law itself: Is it constitutional? That is, does Congress have the right to say a man can't use the Fifth Amendment?

No doubt the first individual who is offered immunity but still refuses to talk and lands in jail for contempt, will test the constitutionality of the immunity law with an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Some witnesses now may be refusing to answer on the chance the Supreme Court will decide the law is invalid and they don't have to talk.

Substitute Teachers Are Unsung National Heroines

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle)
NEW YORK (AP)—With a deep bow to their courage and a prayer for their peace of mind, this little tribute is dedicated to those unsung heroines who leave the safety of their homes and knowingly walk into an ambush.

I'm thinking of substitute school teachers.

A friend of ours subbed in the 6th grade the other day. The class giggled. Hours later she discovered the cause—a note passed from conspirator to conspirator. It said:

"What dunk (sic) did they dig this one up from?"

Most substitute teachers these days are housewives. It's been years since they taught, even longer since they went to teachers college. Being rusty and being temporary, they are naturally unsure of themselves. The children, of course, are a big help.

"The little darlings," said our friend, "are just waiting to trick you, to taunt, to smirk, utter, contrary to unravel the Communist conspiracy to confuse—to undermine, to have fun with, to exploit—particularly information had an excuse for silence.

testing you for weak spots to see how much they can get away with. The pressure is always on. And the worst thing you can do is to appear uncertain. That opens the floodgates."

While the sub is worrying about how she looks and whether the mob will like her, she reaches into the regular teacher's desk, feeling like an intruder. She pulls out the seating plan. Ordinarily, the troublemakers are separated. Today, she finds things changed. But each one of the sweet little liars insists that's his regular seat.

The sub writes on the blackboard. A boy in the back asks her to rewrite the fourth word. Another asks about the last word. Teacher begins to worry that her handwriting has gone to pot. Another request for a rewrite. Then a giggle. Then teacher catches on.

In the lower grades, especially, kids are contradictory. They love to break the rules. They also love to be the sub for not following the rules.

One day in the first grade, our friend passed out lined paper for a spelling test. A girl asked, "should we fold the paper down the middle?" The sub studied the permanent study plan for the answer. It wasn't there.

Being cautious in her ignorance, she said brightly, "Well, how do you usually do it?"

Suddenly bedlam. Thirty hands wave wildly. Thirty throats shout 30 different versions, jand, working quietly under the diversionary storm, Johnny near the window kicks Walter in the shins. Walter tries a headlock on Tommy and Tommy innocently brushes Helen's gym shoes off her desk.

Food Preservation, Packaging Methods Bringing Prices Down

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Revolutionary methods for keeping fruits and vegetables cool during packaging and shipping are bringing about a reduction in prices of such produce.

It takes tons and tons of shaved ice to preserve the delicate leaves of such things as lettuce, broccoli, Brussels sprouts and etc. Now, a new chilling method known as vacuum cooking is eliminating the need for such expensive ice-packing, according to claims being made in California, heart of the fruit and vegetable centers.

The vegetables are placed in vacuum cylinders, which reduce their temperature to near-freezing, in the cooling plants.

After removal from the cylinders, the vegetables stay almost as cold with only standard rail car refrigeration on the trips to market.

The revolutionary change, too, deals with packaging. In the past wooden crates have been used to ship the fresh fruits and vegetables.

Paper cartons are now replacing the crates, thanks to the new cooling system.

It's claimed the new cooling and packaging methods cut the cost of shipping by one-fourth to a half. Two 24-head lettuce cartons cost about 35 per cent less than one 48-head wooden crate.

In addition, labor costs are sharply reduced by the elimination of ice-packers and other specialized help.

One shipper says he figures he's saving about 12½ cents a dozen heads with the new method. He calculates it will mean $150,000 annually to him.

Actually, the experiment in vacuum cooling was started in 1948 but the system is now in its biggest period of growth.

Eventually, everything from apples to grapes will probably be shipped by such methods.

Old North Church Should Be Restored As National Symbol

Paul Revere is only a distant figure to this generation, a man who rode a horse from Charleston to Lexington through the night to warn the people that the British were coming. It was a minor but beloved event at the beginning of the American Revolution which made us a nation.

In the days when we, children of immigrant parents, went to public school, when every school day began with the reading of a passage from the Bible and the singing of either "The Star-Spangled Banner," or "America," Paul Revere was not only a living person but a serious problem because we had to memorize Longfellow's poem which began:

"Listen, my children, and you shall hear...

And then Paul Revere would ride through the night:

"A voice in the darkness, a knock at the door,
And a word that shall echo forever more!"

These were difficult words for us, but we had already become accustomed to Longfellow and Whittier, William Cullen Bryant and Oliver Wendell Holmes. They seemed to us, in those days, especially made to be memorized and to Americanize the children of immigrants.

And so it came as a hurt to see in the newspapers a photograph, after the big storm, of the steeple of the Old North Church in Boston toppling over. That was the church where Paul Revere had lanterns placed,

"One if by land, and two if by sea...
The fate of a nation was riding that night..."

Maybe that steeple was rotted through.

Mr. Bevan Has No Love For Us, But Let's Just Try To Ignore It

The way of the peacemaker is hard and we Americans might as well manfully face the fact that it's going to get a lot worse before it gets any better.

The signs and portents from Europe are ominous. A new, miniature-type Brussels sprouts, which subversive elements still persist in regarding as an edible green vegetable, is being shipped into this defenseless country in quantity and in frozen form by an erstwhile ally, the Netherlands.

And now there is word from London that Aneurin Bevan, just back from his flyer in fraternization in Russia and China, is planning to visit this hapless land. And soon, he says.

It is useless to kid ourselves and hope for the best. With foreign Brussels sprouts on the one hand and Bevan on the other, we are in for a rough time. The leader of the extreme left wing of the British Labor party has made a profession, profitable and political, of hating the United States, and nothing—especially facts—is going to change his mind.

We Americans don't fool Bevan a mite. He long since pierced our Pollyanna facade and revealed us as the sordid, tyrannical, bloodthirsty, imperialistic, war-hungry villains we really are.

"I consider America a greater menace to the world, in the long run, than Russia," he said a few years ago. This Bevan is a stubborn cookie, and a mere visit to us isn't going to change his mind about our wicked ways.

In the past, his experiences in the United States have only confirmed all his pre-conceived ideas about our sly iniquities.

When the Bevan pocket was picked as he stood on a platform of the New Haven Railroad, was Labor's terrible tike surprised? No, sir! It was just what he had expected American movies, Bevan said, had forewarned him that this was an everyday hazard in the United States.

During the Bevan visit, I would advise my fellow citizens to conceal their fangs, sheathe their claws, wipe the blood from their hands and mend their evil ways—if I thought it would do any good.

But since Bevan has the cinematic low-down on us and is equipped with shrewd and penetrating eye, he would detect the sham instantly. So we might just as well be our old, uninhibited selves, oppressing the poor, threatening the meek (i. e. Russia and Red China) and reveling in our disgusting material comforts, including central heating.

We can't hope to hornsoggle a man — A. Bevan — smart enough to denounce the United States as "a greater threat to freedom of the press than Peron." And you know why we are such a threat to Maybe the termites had eaten it or the pigeons had despoiled it. We are careless in this country of our national monuments, although we are doing much better since the National Trust for Historic Preservation has been organized to stimulate an interest in them. It is only during the past five years or so that the restoration and preservation of Independence Hall in Philadelphia has been undertaken on a satisfactory scale, although Williamsburg in Virginia was restored before that.

Boston and the area about it, Concord, Lexington, Salem and many other places are teeming with historic sites, some well-preserved, some ignored and forgotten, or cared for by some diligent patriot who loves the symbols of a great past. These shrines are symbols of that spirit which Paul Revere displayed and even of greater events.

Too many Americans have really forgotten, if they ever knew, the heroism of the American Revolution. True, the British were far away and had to cross a dangerous ocean to hold and keep the Thirteen Colonies on our shores. And, as always, Great Britain was beset by continental enemies who were more than pleased by the diversion of troubles in the colonies.

But for the farmers of Massachusetts, the Revolution was a reality. It meant leaving much of the land to the women and old men and small boys; it meant years of privation; it meant quarrels within families; it meant wounded and dead. And then came the confusion of forming a new nation.

Wars are more personal than the politicians, who make them, like us to recognize.

Good Scrubbing Helps Teen-Age Complexions

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Lugene Sanders is the TV daughter of Bill Bendix in "The Life of Riley," and in real life she is a co-ed at U.S.C. "I've always been interested in acting," she told me the other day on the set at the Hal Roach studio. "In Oklahoma City, my home town, I took part in every dramatic activity I could find."

Despite the fact Lugene has to wear heavy make-up from nine to five she still has a remarkably good skin. "The main problem with teen-age skins," she said, "is that they are generally not completely clean. At my age most girls have oily complexions and not removing this oil from the pores is the cause of the trouble. "If you scrub your face every day with soap and water, it helps. I like to work a lather around the corner of my nose and on my chin which are my most oily places. But I also try to steam my face at least twice a week." "How do you do this?" I asked. "I let the hottest water I can get run into the bowl and stick my head down over it with a bath towel covering me so the steam won't escape. "I couldn't get along without a magnifying mirror," Lugene confessed. "Not a glass which only makes your face look larger but a special one which increases the size of your pores. This way you can see blackheads which wouldn't show up in an ordinary mirror."

"When you find your pores clogged," I asked, "what do you do?" "That's where steaming is so good. It opens your pores. Afterwards I made a paste of almond meal and water and work it into my face. This massage helps clean out the pores. Sometimes I have to press one but I am always careful to cover my finger tips with tissues and to close my pores with witch hazel, or ice water. "The worst thing a girl can do is to infect her face by picking at it. If you should have a hickey or two leave them alone and they'll go away. If you have a special date then cover them with medicated make-up and forget about them. "I have had friends who were made terribly unhappy because of a bad skin," Lugene explained, "so I hope that what I've told you will help others to keep a clean and healthy complexion."

Clubwomen To Endorse Safety Laws

ACALA, Sept. 17—A resolution by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to obtain public support for legislation that will provide for sound automobile driver education in all Texas public high schools will be voted on at the board meeting of the Eighth District Sept. 23 in Marfa.

This was announced today by Mrs. J. S. Hendricks of Acala, Eighth District president. The resolution cites last year's state automobile death toll of 2388 and accident toll of more than 119,000. It provides that Texas clubwomen adopt as a safety project the development of public support for increasing and proving driver education, that the members support a plan which will provide financial assistance to make it possible to offer driver education to all students in at least one grade each year and that members support a plan which will provide revenue to insure a driver education grant of $35 each for training at least 100,000 students each year from now on.

The resolution will be presented at the state convention in November in Mineral Wells for the consideration of the general body. Attending from Big Spring will be Mrs. Oble Bristow, state chairman on minerals and wild life, Mrs. Hayes Strippling and Mrs. Harwood Keith, state chairman of moral and spiritual values.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

One has to drive only 60 miles to see one of the better college games of the Southwest this season.

Oklahoma A & M and Hardin-Simmons University meet in Odessa on the night of Oct. 22 and tickets can be had for from $1.10 to $3.

Ears Whitworth is expected his best team since he's been at Oklahoma A & M.

At Abilene recently, Coach Murray Evans said "we'll probably be better, but that doesn't mean we'll win as many games." In other words, his schedule is tougher.

The weekend could be a real football party for local fans. On Friday night, Oct. 22, the resident Steers play in Plainview, their third conference opponent.

Don't be surprised if Kenny Ford is the regular quarterback at HSU by the third or fourth game. The Breckenridge boy has made a real impression at the Abilene school.

Bill Ledbetter, the HSU athletic director, is working on deals that would pit the Cowboys against more Southwest Conference opponents.

The Cowboys usually take their lumps in those games but the HSU treasury always benefits.

Two years ago, the Chicago professional ice hockey team played to 400,000 paying customers at home.

Though they lost 51 out of 70 games last season, they still attracted 290,000 customers at home.

When Bob Flowers was playing football for the Green Bay Packers, his line coach was Walt Kiesling, recently named to succeed Joe Bach as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Very few football fans here think Port Neches will win the State AAA football championship game, even after the Indians' resounding triumph over Beaumont last weekend.

They don't know who will knock them off but the fans insist the Indians, who beat Big Spring in last year's finals, can't be as lucky as they were in 1953.

However, they'd like nothing better than to have the Steers and Port Neches meet again in the title game.

Right now, Coach Carl Coleman is thinking about anything but the playoffs.

Presently, the Steers are engaged in one of the toughest assignments in high school football, that of trying to blow down the other eleven in District 1-AAA.

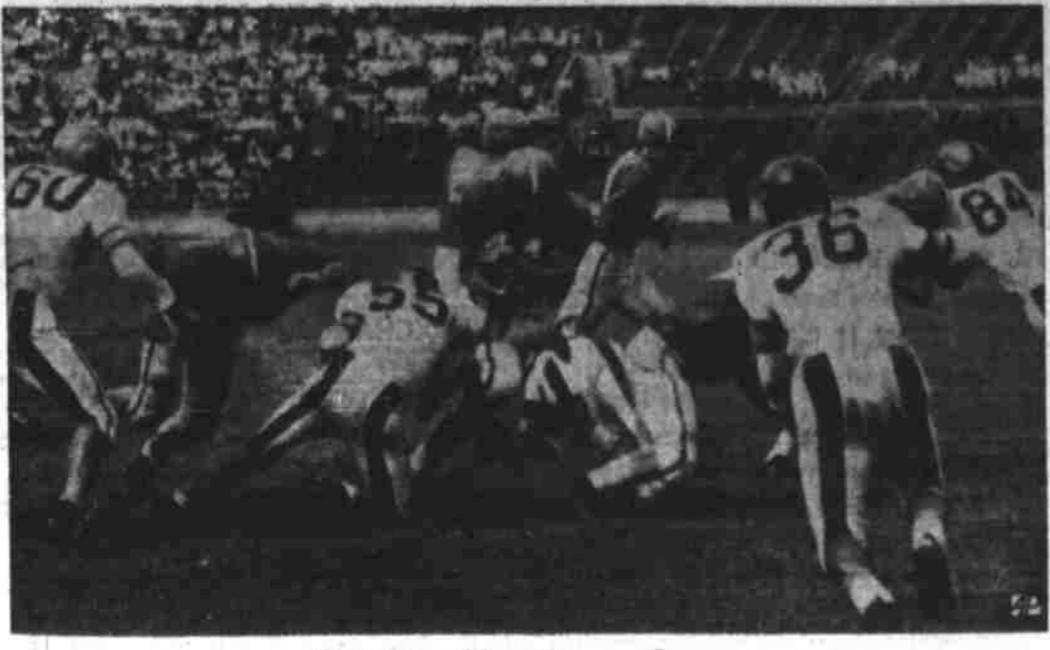

An Indian is lurking behind every tree and the road has been mined all along the way.

Everyone will point for Big Spring. There will be no paties for them, no setups.

The only good feature about the prospectus is that Pat Gerald and the Sweetwater Mustangs have been established as the club most likely to win this fall. And they've done nothing to date to hurt their prestige and their promise.

It's going to be an interesting season, from any standpoint.

Right now, there's nothing more important to Coleman and Company than the Stephenville threat. The Steers are not looking beyond that one.

Setting Up Texas Score

End May Come For Brooks In Game This Evening

This can become the gloomiest Monday night in Brooklyn's long baseball history.

For tonight the Dodgers' two-year reign as National League champions can come to an end. And barring a major miracle, the new champions will be Brooklyn's most hated rival, the New York Giants. Milwaukee was eliminated yesterday, losing 7-6, to the St. Louis Cardinals.

To make matters even worse, the Dodgers' burial can take place right in their own back yard, Ebbets Field, with Sal Maglie, an old Dodger killer, acting as chief executioner. Southpaw Johnny Podres will oppose him.

AT STEER PARK

Pepper Gomez And Bey Vie Tonight

Promoter George Dunn presents a wrestling card that is truly international tonight at Steer Park.

The first of three bouts is down for 8 o'clock.

Two Turks, including the celebrated All Bey, are on the program, along with a Mexican, a Latin-American and two natives of this country.

Bey, who made impressive showings here in two preliminary matches, takes on Pepper Gomez, a Latin American who wrestles out of Los Angeles, Calif.

The first man winning two falls will have his hand raised in victory. A one-hour time limit will be placed on the match.

In the semi-windup, Nash Karahan, another Turk, squares off with the veteran Billy Weidner of Amarillo.

Karahan is not unfamiliar to local fans, having appeared here since Dunn returned professional wrestling to Big Spring.

Weidner was a regular here several years ago when Pat O'Dowdy was functioning as promoter. He believes in sticking to straight wrestling. He abhors the showman who resorts to any kind of rough tactic to gain attention from the crowd, takes great delight in showing up that type of individual.

The semi-final will have a 45-minute limit placed on it and will also be decided in the best two of three falls.

In the 20-minute preliminary, Luis Martinez of Mexico City has it out with one "Red Shoes" Dugan of Santa Monica, Calif. Dugan is a newcomer here and he's already clamoring for a main-event appearance.

He says he's too good for Martinez and will be out to prove it.

WT-NM Series Is Knotted At 1-1

Pampa and Clovis, who finished one-two in the West Texas-New Mexico League this year, shift their playoff struggle to Clovis for the next three days. The final series is tied 1-1.

Clovis knotted it Sunday when pitcher Ernie Sadler doubled in the winning run in the top of the ninth, giving the Pioneers a 3-1 decision.

Handful Of Faithful Watch A's In Final Engagement

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A handful of faithful supporters sat dejectedly here and there in Connie Mack Stadium yesterday to witness what may have been the last American League game in Philadelphia.

The New York Yankees, the only team in the league which has won more pennants (26) than the Athletics (9), beat the home team, 4-2.

The announced attendance was 1,715, bringing the unofficial total season attendance to 305,362, far below the 600,000 the Mack family said it would need to break even this year and stay as owners of the franchise.

That was in July, when Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. set up a "Save the A's" Committee in an effort to stir up interest in the team, particularly among Philadelphia businessmen. The driver, however, received a cool reception from the businessmen and Philadelphia fans.

Arnold Johnson, Chicago real estate man, is reported to be in the forefront among prospective buyers of the franchise. He wants to move the team to Kansas City.

Coahoma Forfeits Games To Tigers

Coahoma's Eagles forfeited both ends of a baseball double header to Yanez's Big Spring Tigers here Sunday afternoon, after having walked off the field after the first half of the first inning had been played.

An argument over the use of several Tiger players brought about the decision on the part of Coahoma to leave the diamond.

Yanez has booked a double bill with the Ackerly Artex for next Sunday. The contests will be played here.

Brennan Must Send His Best Against Texas

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — It won't take Terry Brennan, the rookie Notre Dame football coach, long to find the potential of his first Irish machine—just one game, in fact.

The 26-year-old Brennan, who looks like Joe College himself, sends his squad against the University of Texas Saturday. The Longhorns are rated one of the top teams in the Southwest Conference, and they looked very good, indeed Saturday in winning their opener from Louisiana State, 26-0.

Brennan has a rather thin squad and has commented that his main problem will be to develop a power back and to get some reserve strength in the line. He isn't a prophet of gloom as was his predecessor, Frank Leahy, so until he shows that he is joking, he must be taken seriously.

Notre Dame was rated the top team in the country in the Associated Press' pre-season poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

After last week's preliminary skirmishes, all of which followed form, this Saturday presents the first big afternoon of action in the new season.

Michigan State, co-favorite with Illinois for the Big Ten championship, plays Iowa in the NCAA's national television game of the day. While this one should go to the Spartans, off the advance dope, Iowa appears capable of making it close.

Oklahoma, perennial challenger for the mythical national title, plays Texas Christian at Norman. The mighty Sooners warmed up to their task by dropping California, 27-13 last Saturday—and doing it by taking advantage of errors, the mark of a champion. That should spell bad news for TCU. The Frogs looked good beating Kansas, 27-6, in their opener.

The remaining teams voted by the experts most likely to succeed figure to come through the weekend unscathed. Maryland, another contender for the national throne, has an open date, after flexing its muscles with a 20-0 triumph over Kentucky.

Illinois has a more difficult assignment in Penn State. The Nittany Lions' have been tabbed the class of the East in some pre-season forecasts. A better line on the merits of both clubs should come after this one.

Georgia Tech, 28-0 victor over Duke, has a date with Florida, while UCLA, which could win the Pacific Coast title again, plays Kansas. The Uclans rode over San Diego Navy, 67-0, Saturday. Wisconsin and Mississippi, who round out the pre-season Top 10, go against Marquette and Kentucky, respectively.

Romack And Palmer Wins Boost Golf Among Amateurs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Amateur golfer, which has been losing ground rapidly to the pros in the past few years, has received two strong infusions of championship blood within three weeks. But the question still is: Will it last?

Yesterday blonde Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., who likely would be the best new attraction the women pros could offer, was crowned women's amateur champion. Three weeks before, Arnold Palmer, a highly promising young golfer, won the men's amateur title.

Barbara was definitely the new pro. Arnold, necessarily cagey because of the amateur regulations, doesn't say he will, but doesn't say positively no, either. He's the

Steer Backfield Is Aided By Transfer

Having benefited enormously from the open dates on their schedule, the Big Spring Steers return to the practice field this afternoon to begin final preparations for their opening home test of the 1954 football campaign.

Stephenville moves into town Friday night to help the Steers launch their home season.

The Yellow Jackets have been thoroughly scouted by Steer coaches and the reports they bring back indicate that the Bovines will have no easy time of it.

HAYWORTH WILL PLAY OFTEN FOR McMURRY

ABILENE (SC) — Bobby Hayworth, formerly a second-team all-district quarterback for Big Spring High School, is due to see lots of action for the McMurry Indians on the gridiron this season.

The Warriors opened their 1954 campaign with a thrilling 19-15 triumph over West Texas State in Canyon Saturday night.

Hayworth, a 1953 graduate of Big Spring, also participated in basketball and baseball with the Steers. He was president of his high school class for four years, a member of Who's Who, class favorite, and was voted the best all-round boy.

Hayworth didn't letter with the McMurry varsity last year, but got plenty of seasoning with the P-Poses, the school's freshman team. Seeing limited service on the Redskin varsity, he completed one of two passing attempts, for 46 yards, one for a touchdown.

He punned one time for the varsity, and that one traveled 59 yards past the scrimmage line.

Thus Hayworth's brief contributions to the Indian cause last year indicate a fine potential and lots of service during the next three seasons.

A physical education major, the ex-Steer athlete plans to teach and coach in the public schools after graduation.

McMurry is slated to play on successive weekends Texas Western, Lamar Tech, Midwestern, Abilene Christian, California State, Eastern New Mexico, Howard Payne, Gustavus Adolphus (Minnesota), and Missouri Valley College.

The Indians are expected to field a better team than last year's eleven which won 8, tied 1, and lost 1, and wound up in a three-way tie for the Texas Conference title.

Mustang-Eagle Tilt Headlines Lineup

Sweetwater plays at Abilene, North Dallas at Houston Lamar and Ray of Corpus Christi goes to Oklahoma City to battle Capitol Hill in feature games of a virtually full schedule in the top divisions of Texas schoolboy football this week.

Abilene, rated No. 1 in Class AAAA, will be meeting one of the heralded powers of Class AAA, North Dallas, favorite in the Dallas district, will be playing the defending champions of Class AAAA, Lamar, has another strong team. It gave heralded Baytown a great battle last week before losing, 14-13.

Capitol Hill journeyed into Texas last weekend to nose out Amarillo, 6-0. Ray is a powerful outfit that should avenge that defeat in Amarillo's behalf but it will be a struggle.

Odessa's Broncos, who had been barely nosed by Port Arthur, 13-12, then whipped Waco, one of the top-ranked Class AAAA teams, 12-0, featured last week's play in the upper strata of schoolboy football.

But one of the shockers was Breckenridge's 41-13 wrecking of Wichita Falls. It branded Breckenridge as probably the outstanding team of Class AAA and caused Sweetwater, which had been established as the favorite of Breckenridge's district, to take a quick back seat. But Sweetwater will find out whether it's in Breckenridge's class in that game with Abilene.

Port Arthur continued as one of the best looking teams in the state by beating Austin of Houston, 19-4, while Port Neches, Corsicana and Lufkin stood out in Class AAA. Port Neches, defending champion, whipped Class AAAA Beaumont, 40-6. Corsicana lashed a strong Sherman team, 14-5, and Lufkin beat Palestine, 21-0.

There are 61 games this week in the two classes. The schedule by districts:

LEFTY DON REYNOLDS Into Secondary

Reynolds has been running at that position for three days now and looks better every time out, although he has been favoring a leg injury.

The 175-pound, two-year letterman — a tremendous blocker — could solve many of the problems that have plagued the coaches to date.

The move will enable Ronnie Wooten to serve as first-line substitute for any of the three backfield positions, a job he filled so capably last year, and will give the Steers additional backfield depth in future games.

Indications are Frosty Robison, who suffered the loss of three front teeth in the Andrews game, will again be ready but Brick Johnson may have to sit this one out.

Johnson suffered a bad leg injury in the Andrews tussle and did not suit out until the end of last week. Even then, he was not allowed to don pads.

Unless he is prepared to take part in the rough stuff today, he may watch the Stephenville game from the sidelines since the coaches intend to take no chances with him.

The Steers scrimmaged until Thursday. On Friday, they worked out only an hour. The coaches called it quits early in order to fulfill scouting missions.

Now that Reynolds has been moved into the secondary, John Birdwell will move into his vacated shoes. Birdwell hasn't yet learned his blocking assignments but he has already proved himself a terror on defense.

He could team up with Joe Liberty to give Big Spring the best set of terminals in the district, although Calvin Daniels, Bobby Fuller, Milton Davis and others are still very much in the running for first string jobs.

The Steers will go at it hard for a couple of days this week, then ease off with play rehearsals and passing drills.

Murderer Escapes Hospital For Insane

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—A 23-year-old mental patient who killed the son of his father's church with a hammer seven years ago has escaped from the State Hospital's building for criminal insane.

The fugitive is Stuart Allen, 25, another inmate, Lawrence Lamey, 25, fled with him.

Allen, the adopted son of an Episcopal minister, said he got the desire to kill while playing the church organ. The body of his victim, John F. Frank, 38, also was mutilated with an electric drill. The slaying occurred in fashionable Christ Episcopal Church in St. Joseph, Mo.

Both fugitives, classified as 30 on d paroled, were free to move from building to building at the hospital. They were missed at a bed check Saturday night. Lamey, of Poplar Bluff, Mo., had been serving a two-year sentence in the Missouri State Penitentiary for forgery and recently was transferred here.

St. Joseph, Mo. (AP)—A convict who escaped from the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary Wednesday was captured near here last night by his partner in flight remained on the loose.

A posse of officers led by Sheriff L. P. Allen followed track dogs from an automobile left in a field and found Charles F. Stegall hiding in an abandoned house.

He surrendered without resistance and was brought to the Harrison County Jail here.

A little later, officers reported, their dogs appeared to be on another "hot trail" in the vicinity of the house where Stegall was seized, about three miles north of here.

This gave searchers hope that George Ellis, another convict who escaped from the penitentiary with Stegall, also was in the neighborhood and might be captured shortly.

Special Agent John K. Mumford, in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Atlanta, said it was planned to return Stegall to the penitentiary today.

Fort Worth Python Retains Freedom

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Pete, a python with $500 on its head, is still loose.

Rewards totaling $500 were posted yesterday. But there's been no trace of the 18-foot, 150-pound serpent since it slithered from the reptile exhibit at a zoo early Saturday.

Whoever finds Pete will receive $250. Another $250 will be given the crew which captures the snake and returns it alive. The money was offered by Star-Telegram publisher Amon Carter and Amon Carter Jr.

Experts think Pete, who can swim, is in the nearby Trinity River or lurking in adjacent trees or shrubbery.

Zoo curator Lawrence Curtis said Pete probably won't attack people. Pythons are not poisonous.

Three Die In Crash

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two cars crashed head on here today killing Joseph Devin, 19, and Anthony Jansick, both of nearby Pleasanton, and Robert Knowles of San Antonio, 28. Milton Palmer, 19, of Pleasanton was injured critically. Knowles was in one car and the teen-agers were in the other.

Miss Norway Weds

Mona Stornes, 19, Miss Norway in a recent Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif., is met at Los Angeles by her new husband, Sandy Youngs, 29, producer of a TV western variety show, as she arrived from Las Vegas, Nev. Miss Stornes broke her contract with a Hollywood nightclub by being absent and might be subject to deportation, an immigration official said. However, inasmuch as she married an American, her husband could petition for a new visa and she would be allowed to remain in the U. S. during the negotiations. (AP Wirephoto).

Aurora, American Polar Bear, Wins British Over

LONDON (AP)—Aurora, an American polar bear with sex appeal, won the right today to work her wiles in Britain.

After a hectic two-hour conference today, top officials of the government board of trade decided to lift the ban on Aurora's entry and let her in. Aurora was shipped here as too hot to handle from a Chicago zoo, where she stirred up five male polar bears to a fighting passing of rivalry.

She came as a free gift to Manchester's Bellevue Zoo, but the Board of Trade barred her entry into the country on her arrival aboard a freighter.

While her case was debated, lonely Aurora languished on the freighter, tied up at London docks.

Gerald Iles, Bellevue Zoo superintendent, called the Board of Trade ban "fantastic" and sped from Manchester this morning to protest. Just to show he meant business, Iles brought along a special van to bring Aurora to her new home.

Said Iles: "It's not as though we were paying dollars for her—she's a free gift."

The Board of Trade had said earlier: "Polar bears are not essential imports so they are banned. As we do not allow commercial zoos to buy polar bears in America, we cannot allow them to accept them as gifts. That might lead to abuse."

Robert Dean, director of the Chicago zoo, who called the ban a "shocking, dirty outrage, an affront to the people of Chicago."

Explaining the trade barrier's change of heart today, an official spokesman said: "We have, for the first time, found a bear who is in no way clear the bear came here as a gift, we have decided to cut right through the red tape and let her come ashore."

Whereupon Iles sped to the docks to get Aurora.

Rain, Wind Storm Strikes Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A three-phase rain and wind storm, one of the most violent of the century here, lashed the Louisville area yesterday and last night. The winds hit velocities up to 57 miles an hour. Four and a half inches of rain fell in 15 hours. Property damage was heavy.

The Weather Bureau said more rain will fall in the next 48 hours. Water ran six to eight feet deep in some low-lying streets at the height of the storm about 3 a.m. today. At least 10,000 telephones were knocked out of service, and 4,000 were still out this morning.

Hundreds of homes were without power during the night. Louisville Gas & Electric crews expected to restore complete service by nightfall.

Lightning set several homes afire. Trees were down throughout the city, blocking traffic and snarling communications and power lines.

Gas Range Blaze Is Extinguished

The gas range caught fire this morning at the home of R. W. Hewett, 910 Johnson, but the blaze was extinguished before any damage was done.

Firemen said they cut off the gas when they arrived at the house at 9:30 a.m. A valve had blown out of the stove, it was reported.

Saturday afternoon firemen were called to the Rio Theatre where the popcorn machine had shorted out. There was no damage listed on the fire report.

Water Use Still High

Daily water consumption is still at a high level, records at the City Hall reveal. Sunday's use totaled 5,588,000 gallons, and consumption Saturday totaled 5,366,000 gallons.

Fire At Cafeteria

DALLAS (AP)—One of the Luby cafeterias was damaged by a $17,500 fire early today. Police said a Negro youth admitted setting the place afire during a burglary.

AFL Opens Its Annual Meeting With Optimism

By NORMAN WALKER LOS ANGELES (AP)—The American Federation of Labor opens its annual convention today on a political keynote that organized labor cannot win the United States Senate in the November elections, but may carry the House.

An advance report by the AFL's Executive Council conceded there is "little likelihood of having a clear, pro-labor majority in the Senate after this year's election."

But the AFL's top governing group was highly hopeful of some labor gains in the Senate, where only a third of the members are up for election, and in the House, where all members face the voters.

"There is an exceptionally good chance," the council's report said, "for labor to make substantial gains in this election if the workers of the country can be prevailed upon to register and vote in full strength in what is generally regarded as an off-year election."

The convention was to hear an opening address by AFL President George Meany and an afternoon speech by the labor spokesman of the Eisenhower administration, Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

A demand for a 35-hour week — to replace the present 40-hour week provided in the wage hour law — was proposed by the AFL council to the convention as a way of spreading work to combat the unemployment situation.

The council also called on the convention to ask Congress to increase the law's present 75 cent-an-hour minimum wage to $1.25 to foster worker incomes and augment consumer purchasing power.

Unemployment was labeled by the AFL council as labor's number one problem. The AFL leaders told the convention's 700 delegates that the nation's jobless probably totals more nearly five million than the 3,245,000 officially counted as unemployed if those workers temporarily laid off and working only part time are included.

The convention shaped up as one of the most harmonious in many years. Delegates were due to adopt a plan for arbitrating or submitting to neutrals all disputes between rival unions which for years have plagued the AFL.

Prison Beatings Claimed In Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Defense attorneys charged today that some of the 13 Puerto Ricans on trial for seditious conspiracy have been beaten and abused in jail. An investigation was ordered.

One lawyer, Conrad Lynn, told Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh that defendant Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, had "three teeth knocked out of his mouth" by a guard Friday night.

Other defense attorneys then charged that the prisoners had been "punched and insulted, subjected to terribly bad language and threatened." One reportedly was promised a "good mugging."

The defendants are being held in various jails in the city in accordance with the custom of splitting up custody of any large number of defendants in a single case.

The judge asked U.S. Atty. J. Edward Lumbard to make an investigation. The defendants, he said, are entitled to "proper and decent treatment."

Cancel Miranda is one of four defendants previously sentenced to long prison terms for shooting up the House of Representatives last March 1.

Gonzalo Lebron Sotomayor, a defendant who has pleaded guilty, completed testimony for the government this morning. He was his seventh day on the witness stand.

Quarterback Club Meet Set Tuesday

Plans for a rally to be held prior to the Stephenville-Big Spring football game this weekend will be discussed at Tuesday night's Quarterback Club meeting in the High School Cafeteria.

The convalesce gets under way at 7:30 o'clock.

Action films of the Big Spring-Andrews game, which opened the season for Big Spring, will be shown at the gathering.

R. H. Weaver, co-chairman of the club, said it was particularly important that the Board of Strategy be on hand at the meeting.

Ways and means of increasing the membership in the booster organization will also be discussed, Weaver revealed.

Extortion Case

DALLAS (AP)—A federal jury was being picked today to try two Houston brothers on charges of trying to extort $200,000 from 20 prominent Dallas families. James Hollins Jones, 49, faces a maximum prison sentence of 50 years if convicted, and Ralph Franklin Jones, 42, a maximum 20-year sentence.

Jewelry Is Stolen

DALLAS (AP)—Burglars apparently had made good today their escape with $15,000 in $20,000 worth of jewelry stolen from the Highland Park apartment of J. A. R. Moseley, an investment man. The thugs entered the apartment Sunday while the family were at a country home near Richardson.

Top Republicans Set For Week Of Heavy Political Campaigning

By The Associated Press
 Top Republicans, led by President Eisenhower, headed into a week of heavy campaigning today, apparently eager to douse the optimism voiced by Democrats at their Indianapolis campaign kickoff.

The President will leave his Colorado vacation headquarters Wednesday for a three-day West coast speaking tour calculated to boost GOP chances in the Nov. 2 election for control of the next Congress.

Also for the Republicans, Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts resume campaign barnstorming today after a Sunday layoff.

Democratic leaders, leaving Indianapolis yesterday after the party pep rally, made no secret of their optimism.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential candidate, sparked the session with an address Saturday night.

Stevenson said America "is ready for a fresh start." He accused the Republican administration of "giveaway government" and of allowing an "alarming deterioration of our world position."

Nixon, resting in Minneapolis yesterday, took time out for a news conference at which he disputed Stevenson's major contentions. Nixon said Stevenson has made no constructive suggestions of his own on world issues.

"The people are entitled to know what Stevenson's actions would have been in these cases," Nixon said.

Stephen A. Mitchell, the Democratic national chairman, told a party audience in Cleveland last night that "the Democratic tide is rolling." He said the GOP's loss

Coed Admits Tale Of Kidnaping Hoax

BOSTON (U) — Miss Nancy Plummer, 23, a Radcliffe College student from Warren, Pa., has admitted that her story of being kidnaped, drugged and robbed was a hoax.

The pretty graduate student was the object of a wide search from last Wednesday until late Saturday night. An alert patrolman spotted her in a garage.

Her first story was that she had been taken away against her will. Later, she said she had "blacked out" in a department store, but she also changed that story.

Under questioning by police, she said that actually she drew 14 books from the school library and took a train to Portland, Maine, for some quiet study in a hotel.

Assassins Strike

PARIS (U) — Assassins struck twice in Indochina over the weekend. Laotian Defense Minister Kou Vora Vong was shot dead in Vientiane, Laos. Two other anti-Communist officials escaped gunmen's bullets in Hanoi.

of the Maine governorship a week ago has put it in a "mood of desperation."

Another Democrat, Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma, said yesterday in Washington he thinks the administration's farm program alone will cost Republicans control of Congress.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, however, said Saturday at Olney, Ill., he is "not impressed" with such claims.

Two big labor groups made political pronouncements yesterday. The three top officers of the CIO United Steelworkers Union, in a report on the eve of the group's Atlantic City, N. J., convention, contended Eisenhower broke his pledge to the workingman and heads an "anti-labor" administration.

In Los Angeles, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor said the GOP "promptly fulfilled" campaign promises to business but "campaign pledges to labor and the farmer have been brazenly broken."

Eisenhower will address the AFL convention in Los Angeles Friday. The President is slated for three other talks this week, including a major political speech in the Hollywood bowl Thursday.

Tito Says Nation Should Spurn Any NATO Overtures

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U) — President Tito says Yugoslavia should spurn any invitations to join NATO because the Atlantic pact "is increasingly assuming a political hue — a struggle against communism."

"We are painted a Socialist hue," he told a rally in the Slovene village of Celje yesterday, and "there is no place for us in a bloc which has an anti-Socialist tendency."

He added, however, that cooperation with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was possible and would be continued by his government. In addition to receiving Western military aid, Yugoslavia is allied in a mutual defense pact with Greece and Turkey, both NATO members.

Referring to his Communist regime's relations with Iron Curtain countries, Tito said he would "gladly accept any gesture of good will" by Russia.

Yugoslavia has been at odds with the Soviets and their satellites since Tito broke with the Cominform in 1948, but he has remained a staunch Communist.

"American informants in Rome pointed out that the Yugoslav leader's apparent overture to the Kremlin did not indicate a switch in policy as he has made similar statements before."

ACTRESS FRIEND FIGHTS

Heir To Meat Fortune Booked On Drug Counts

LOS ANGELES, (U)—An early morning arrest put George A. Hormel II, musician and meat packing fortune heir, in jail for 10 hours in a narcotics case highlighted by an encounter between arresting officers and Hormel's friend, actress Rita Moreno.

Hormel, 26, divorced from French actress Leslie Caron, is free today on $1,500 bond on a habeas corpus writ returnable Thursday in Superior Court.

At a press conference arranged by her studio last night, Miss Moreno, 22, who wasn't arrested, said "when the officers said they were O'Grady and O'Connor, I thought it was a gag. But I didn't kick him. I just pushed him in the stomach and slapped his right hand."

He looked in the purse, anyway, but found nothing unusual.

Hormel, booked on suspicion of narcotics law violation, said, "I don't know how the cigarettes got in my car. I certainly did not put them there."

"I have never been a user. I am not at present and will never use narcotics of any description."

Hormel, known as "Geordie" in the music world, added that "I've been around narcotics a good part of my life and know others who use it, but because of what I have seen I know enough to stay away from it." His attorney, Bentley Harris, said Hormel "most assuredly intends to plead not guilty to any charges."

Ired Father Of Tin Heires Infant Not To Drop Accusation

PARIS (U) — British hotel scion Jimmy Goldsmith says he will leave his kidnap charge on the police books even though his multi-millionaire in-laws, the Bolivian Patinos, have returned his frail 4-month-old daughter Isabela.

Obeying a court order, the Patinos sent the baby to Goldsmith's apartment yesterday, four days after he charged "unknown persons" had abducted her soon after he returned from a business trip to West Africa. He had left the infant with her grandmother, Mrs. Anton Patino.

Despite the young father's still pending charge, it appeared likely the French police would happily let the matter fade out now that he has his child back.

Illinois City Takes Polio Precautions

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (U) — In an attempt to halt the march of polio, some 10,000 Rock Island school children yesterday were inoculated with gamma globulin, the nation's largest mass inoculation this year.

So far this year, 37 polio cases have been reported in the city and another 41 in Rock Island County. In 1953 there were 34 city cases and 7 county cases reported.

Unsuccessful Pirates Able To Take Revenge

TOKYO (U) — Yoshihiko Otommi, 25, told police why he was found trussed up aboard his drifting fishing boat yesterday in Tokyo Bay.

Two knife-wielding pirates were unable to start the engines after tying him up at dockside, so they cut the hawser line in anger and left him to the mercy of the sea.

Phenix City To Pick Official As National Guard Keeps Watch

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (U)—Phenix City voters who once felt the clammy grip of racketeer rule elect a new city commissioner today under the protective guns of watching National Guard troops.

And during the day, a racket-busting grand jury ending a two-week recess was to resume its investigation of widespread vote frauds in another election, the Democratic primary last May.

Two heavily armed National Guardsmen, part of the military force that has taken over law enforcement in once-wicked Phenix City under limited martial law, were assigned to patrol each of the city's 11 voting places from 8 a.m. when the polls opened until they close at 6 p.m.

They were ordered there by Gov. Gordon Persons to show "the rest of Alabama and the nation that Phenix City can have an honest election."

Deer Season Claims First Victim Early

Convict Recaptured

ANGLETON, Tex. (U)—A convict who escaped from Darrington state prison farm yesterday was captured last night. Officials said Claude Wilburn Maner, 25, under a 5-year McLennan County burglary sentence, fled on a horse. Guards with bloodhounds started a search. Maner was taken last night. Details were not available.
