The SNOOPER SAYS . . .

Wonder if those people who re-elected Gov. O'Daniel for a second term, and, at the same time "howled" about President Roosevelt accepting nomination for a third term, will accept the suggestion for a third term for the Governor? The suggestion is quite premature.

Perhaps what this country needs today is the fourth "R" in our education—Reading, 'Riting, 'Rithmetic and Religion!

At Clarendon, Texas, cats are educated! This story is about one that can count . . .

A cat belonging to John Bugbee and mother of six small kittens raided a neighboring chicken coop and made away with some prize fowls.

She got seven chickens, one for each of her kittens, and, of course, one for herself!

One of the things that helps to make life a bit happier for one who is writing a column in a newspaper is to learn that she has at least one fan.

I cursed and discussed a note I received through the mail last Friday afternoon, signed by a "snooper fan," and I even went so far as to accuse several people in town. Along comes Blue Monday and I wouldn't even have thought about that note for a nickel, and someone asked me how I was, and if I still insisted that watermelons contained vitamin C?

That person let the "cat out of the bag" and my private detectives can quit working, analyzing the handwriting!

Did you know that Mr. and Mrs. Orville Nance are in Chicago where Mr. Nance is studying to be an optometrist? They formerly lived in the Spade community.

Without a fall suit, women, you are headed for a fall.

Autumn suits do play a big part in milady's life, and with the first cool breeze and first football game already arrived, we're longing for a smartly tailored model that has all the new lines.

Personal nomination for the most public-spirited citizen in Littlefield . . . Bill Chesher, who played "You've Got to Be a Football Hero," through his loudspeaker Friday night at the theatre just before the Wildcats started clawing those Hereford Whitefaces in the opening game of the season here.

And, all the time, many of Mr. Chesher's customers were buying football tickets instead of theatre tickets!

He was rooting for those Wildcats, too!

Housewives used to spend much time stringing "string" beans, but new varieties brought out in the past few years have few or no strings. That's why "string" beans are now called "snap" beans.

And—that reminds me—I ate breakfast with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rutledge Wednesday morning of last week, and I enjoyed eating those pinto beans Mr. Rutledge had baked for fourteen hours in the oven. I'll admit I couldn't eat as many as he and R. E. Pentecost, local school teacher, and coach of the grammar school football team, but they were good. Mrs. Rutledge doesn't eat them for breakfast.

He learned to cook them while he was in the navy.

Pinto beans are fast taking the place of navy beans, or small white beans among the sailors, it is reported.

O. T. Clark, a superintendent of a utilities firm at Fort Worth, kept members of a luncheon club laughing recently with his private collection of amusing similes.

"Americans have an increasing tendency toward laziness," he said. "We want to be born on third base. If that can't happen, we want to walk to first, steal second, and be sacrificed to third."

This condition, Clark added, "Causes many people to pray on their knees on Sundays and to prey on their associates during the week."

"Too many people think cooperation is sentiment when it really is an economic necessity."

As a final warning, Clark said, "You can't keep yourself and your business both in a liquid condition."

I'll see you sometime.

Announcing the big NEW FORD 1941 FORD

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941.

It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.

You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skilful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.

One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride.

New, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in cross winds.

More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.

These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.

Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.

Oldsmobile With Many New Features For 1941, Sold Here By Smith & Nation

Smith & Nation Motor Company, Littlefield, announce that they have been appointed Oldsmobile dealers for Littlefield, and have the new 1941 model on display at their showrooms here.

For the present, they are located in the building formerly occupied by Gerlach Battery & Electric.

Oldsmobile today launches its 1941 season with a display of six new series—three sixes and three eights that present the widest variety ever offered in the 43-year history of the company. There is now both a six and an eight-cylinder Oldsmobile in each of the three price fields which the company covered in recent seasons.

Oldsmobile's exclusive Hydra-Matic Drive, that eliminates clutch, pedal and shifts gears automatically, is again optional at extra cost, on all models, and, due to enlarged production facilities, promises to be a decisively greater sales factor in 1941. Increased room and comfort, greater engine power, striking new body designs, and scores of detailed improvements all bear witness to the genius for progress that carried Oldsmobile in 1940 to the highest sales mark the company ever reached.

Examination of Oldsmobile's six lines of cars reveals that in the low-priced field, this year, the Special Series replaces the "60" models of former years. Wheelbase of this series has been extended to 119 inches, and horsepower of the six-cylinder model has been upped to an even 100 from the 95 of last year. Wholly new, and bound to attract keen interest in this highly competitive market is the new eight-cylinder Special Series, with 110 horsepower to give it flashing performance.

In the popular-price field, the "70" series of last year has for successor the Dynamic Cruiser Series. The bodies of this line are brand new, and are a radical departure from any previous Oldsmobile design. The name Dynamic was chosen to suggest the feeling of fleet motion conveyed by these new cars. The long, low arching sweep of the top from windshield to rear bumper is an eloquent of speed as the fuselage of an interceptor pursuit ship. A 4-door sedan and a club sedan are included in this series, with either six or eight-cylinder engines, on a generous wheelbase of 125 inches.

Last year's Custom Eight Cruiser with the front seat full five feet wide, proved far and away the most popular eight ever built in its entire history. This year, the Custom Cruisers appear with refinement of detail and finish, and with the option of either an eight or six-cylinder engine. The mammoth front seat is, of course, as wide as ever, and widening the tread in the rear has made possible widening the rear seats.

Because it is the sole type of transmission that wholly relieves the driver of the necessity of shifting gears and pressing a clutch, Oldsmobile's Hydra-Matic Drive continues as a point of intense public interest in the 1941 models. Again listed at an optional feature, at extra cost, it consists of a combination of liquid coupling and fully automatic transmission, and without exaggeration simplifies driving to a mere matter of starting, steering and stopping. Perhaps the most significant fact about the Hydra-Matic Drive for 1941 is that, after wide service in the hands of 25,000 owners, not a single change of importance has been found necessary in it. An interlock control has been devised which automatically places the control lever in neutral position when the starter pedal is depressed, and the addition of this minor safety factor has been the greatest change made in the Hydra-Matic Drive for 1941.

Hydra-Matic sales in 1940 were limited only by production, and a vast number of unfilled orders were carried over from last season. Manufacturing facilities have been increased, however, to a point where it is believed last year's output of 25,000 may be multiplied several times for 1941.

Common to all the 1941 Oldsmobiles is a front end design that bears a general resemblance to that of 1940, but which is rendered decidedly more effective by heavier chrome bars and grille work. The entire design of the three lines is accented by the more liberal use of chrome. Chrome speed lines carry back along the fenders and follow the body moulding at the line of the door handles. Chrome sparkles around the window reveals, and chrome serves to outline another feature—the concealed running boards.

Here Oldsmobile has solved an old problem in a highly satisfactory way. Many people like the utility of running boards but not their looks. In the Special and Dynamic Oldsmobiles, the bottom of the doors curve out and down in a graceful sweep that hides a running board which is less in width than the old type used to be, yet ample to make it easy to enter the car. And because they are covered except when doors are opened, these running boards will never clog with snow or become slippery with ice.

Contributing in a very considerable degree to the appearance of the new Oldsmobile is the new fender design, called the "wing-type," which is found on all models. The fenders have lost all semblance of separate units—they blend into the body itself like the folded wings of a bird.

Of vast importance, too, from the appearance standpoint, is the fact that Oldsmobile designers, this year, treated the bumpers with the care they deserve. They have made them an integral part of the car design, streamlined them into the curves of the body and fenders, made them massive beyond any previous conception, and scientifically designed them to give the car an absolute maximum of protection against traffic mishaps. As

Wheel Table Saves Steps

A serving table on wheels, John Nix finds, saves many steps in the kitchen. She uses it to stack the soiled dishes on and carry them to the sink in just a trip. This table was made at the cost of fifty cents (including plywood for the top and the underneath and four casters).

Cream colored paint which was left over from refinishing the kitchen was used to give it a smooth, easy-to-clean finish. This makes serving easier when the dining table is small as it affords extra space for the serving dishes.

Mrs. Nix is the kitchen demonstrator for the Sod House Club.

As a result, the new bumpers lend an air of sturdiness and security to the new Oldsmobiles that is equally pleasing and reassuring.

Additional National Guards To Be Called

Tentative plans for calling 37,000 more national guardsmen to active duty in November were announced Thursday by Secretary Stimson, while airmail planes rushed master copies of civilian draft registration forms to central points in each state.

The new militia orders would bring the total of guardsmen mustered into active service to 133,000 and would principally affect the 56th cavalry brigade (Texas), the 31st division (Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana), the 35th division (Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri), and the 36th division (Texas).

The plan calls for mobilizing 1,377 officers and men from the 56th cavalry on November 18 at Fort Bliss, Tex., and the remainder on November 25 at Camp Blanding, Fla., Camp Robinson, Ark., and Brownwood, Tex. No additional guardsmen are to be called until after January 1.

Miss Wanda F. Parkey Bride Of Lonnie H. Neinast Sunday A. M.

The marriage of Miss Wanda Fern Parkey and Lonnie H. Neinast was solemnized at 8:30 Sunday morning, September 22 at the Methodist Church in Littlefield. The Rev. F. T. Sage, Lutheran pastor, officiated with a beautiful ring ceremony.

The bride wore a lovely ensemble of soldier blue with black accessories. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Parkey of Hart Camp community, and graduated from Spade high school in 1939.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Neinast, also of Hart Camp. He is engaged in farming there and also employed at the Farmers Co-op Gin of Hart Camp.

After the ceremony, the couple left for a brief trip to points in New Mexico, including the Carlsbad Caverns.

Their many friends wish them many happy, prosperous years together.

Those attending the wedding Sunday were the bride's parents, the groom's parents and brothers, William, Aubrey and Victor Paul Neinast, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Lynch, all of Hart Camp. Mrs. M. L. Stegemoeller, Helen and Roland Stegemoeller of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hecht of Aspermont, and wife and children of the Reverend Sage of Slaton.

Priscilla Club Organized At Beisel Home Friday

Mrs. R. D. Beisel was hostess to members of the Priscilla Club Friday afternoon at their home in west Littlefield, when organization of the club was completed.

Mrs. Max Houk was elected president, with Miss Bernice Gattis, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. A. D. Seth, reporter.

The club will meet every Wednesday afternoon. The group met yesterday in the home of Mrs. Cloise Foust.

The women enjoyed sewing at the Beisel home Friday.

Those attending the first meeting were Mesdames: O. D. Yeager, Jr., Hank Rogers, Mike Brewer, Jr., Scott Webster, Cloise Foust, Max Houk and A. D. Seth, and Miss Bernice Gattis.

Junior Study Club Meets With Myrtle Woodfin Thurs. Night

Miss Myrtle Woodfin was hostess to the first regular meeting this year of the Junior Study Club at the home of Mrs. L. C. Grissom Thursday night.

The group is taking a "Good Neighbor Tour of South America," and they "set sail" at their meeting September 5 when they enjoyed a dinner at the Mexican Inn in Lubbock. The discussion Thursday night, "On Board," was led by Miss Erna Douglass. Miss Gladys Jones gave a survey of "The American Republic;" and Miss Katherine Schelleberg discussed "Inter-American Relations."

Miss Fern Holland conducted a parliamentary drill. Mrs. Katie Green of the county relief agency discussed the clinic for the vaccinating of underprivileged children which will be set up next month, and the Junior Study Club voted to cooperate with the Rotary Club and other civic organizations in the sponsoring of this project.

Three new members were elected to the club, Misses Geraldine Potter Jun Glascock and Margaret Bandy. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess after the meeting.

The next meeting will be held October 3, at the home of Miss Ellarene Vause.

Those attending the meeting Thursday night were Misses Laura Virginia Bills, Alma Byers, Maxine Cash, Erna Douglass, Eloise Haynes Fern Holland, Gladys Jones, Mary Ann Kimble, Hilda Miller, Johnnie Pace, Katherine Schelleberg, Naomi Whitaker, and the hostess, Myrtle Woodfin.

Valley View Club Meets Tuesday

Tuesday night, September 17, the club held a basket supper at the Gin. Everyone was invited to come and bring a basket. We had our club quilt up for sale. Mrs. A. B. Roberts won the quilt. After expenses were paid, we cleared about $14.50.

We want to thank Ed Allen for his fine support and cooperation. We also want to thank Mr. Gilley Mr. Dyer and the Ward boys for their support.

Mrs. Wales, one of our club members was unable to attend because of illness. We hope she can attend our next meeting. There were people from Littlefield and Whitharral. We enjoyed having them.

Secretary To Geo. Mahon Resigns To Practise Law

Lloyd Croslin, secretary to Congressman George Mahon, resigned last week to enter the private practice of law. He has opened an office in Lubbock in Room 203 of the Conley Building. His resignation terminates almost six years of service with the congressman. He went to Washington at the beginning of Mr. Mahon's first term, in 1935, and has served as sec-been a resident of Lubbock and Lubbock county for 13 years.

Croslin is a graduate of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, having received his B. A. degree in 1930 and his M. A. degree in 1933. He is a graduate of the Law School of Georgetown University in Washington, having attended classes at night during his service with the congressman. He received the LL. B. degree in June this year. He was a member of the Law Journal staff of the Law School for two years.

He has been a member of the Texas Bar for almost a year, having passed the examination last October.

George Witten, who has been assistant secretary to the congressman for the last five years, has assumed duties as secretary.

Bowling Alley Will Open Friday In Tremain Building

J. G. Reeves, formerly of Pampa, is opening up a bowling alley in the Tremain building, former location of the Littlefield Truck & Tractor Company.

Mr. Reeves arrived in Littlefield last week, and has since been getting the building in order to open the bowling alley Friday, Sept. 27.

He will operate the business under the name, Reeves Bowling Alley.

"Wyoming," Starring Wallace Beery, Comes To Palace This Week End

"Wyoming," starring Wallace Beery in an action-packed outdoor drama of the West, is the attraction coming to the Palace Theatre Saturday night, and continuing through Sunday and Monday. The picture cast Beery in mingled thrills and comedy, as was the case in "Bad Man of Brimstone," another outdoor adventure drama in which he starred.

Beery plays Reb Harkness, former train robber, who turns leader of forces of law and order in a pioneer Wyoming town, helps rout a band of cattle thieves, aids General Custer in his fight against the Indians, and stages a thrilling rescue of Ann Rutherford and Bobs Watson. Amid the thrills runs a comedy romance between Beery and Marjorie Main, playing the town's "lady blacksmith," which is one of the funniest episodes since "Min and Bill." The picture was filmed on location at Jackson Hole, Wyoming amid the majestic Tetons. Richard Thorpe directed.

Players include Leo Carrillo, Lee Bowman, Paul Kelly, who plays General Custer, Joseph Callein, Henry Travers, William Tannen, Stanley Fields, Sara Haden, Russell Simpson, Chief Thundercloud and others. Several hundred players appear in Indian fights, cattle raids and other exciting episodes.

Thrills include the rescue of Miss Rutherford and Bobs Watson from an Indian attack by Custer's cavalry, the rounding up of a gang of desperadoes, a wild ride on a

Social Security Expert To Visit City Semi-Weekly

John R. Sanderson, field assistant of Lubbock Social Security Board field office, was in Littlefield Friday interviewing claimants under the amended Social Security Act and assisting employers to secure information necessary to complete certain wage records.

Regular visits are made to Littlefield by a member of the Lubbock office staff two Fridays each month and the representative is available at the Post Office at 9 a. m.

The Lubbock office took over the servicing of Lamb county from the Amarillo office on Nov. 13, 1939. The principal functions of the office, according to Mr. Sanderson, are the acceptance of claims for monthly benefits from retired wage earners, their dependents and survivors of deceased wage earners who qualify, the issuance of account numbers, and handling any wage record problems which arise. This last function is performed with the cooperation of employers.

Any person desiring information about the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act may call on or write the Social Security Board, located at 1309-A Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

Littlefield Loses To Hereford Eleven In First Game Friday

Scoring on an eight-yard run through the center of the line in the second quarter and then settling back to play an effective defensive game the rest of the way, the Hereford Whitefaces drubbed the Littlefield Wildcats, 6 to 2, Friday night in a non-conference tilt at Seely Field.

The game opened the season for Coach Abe Murphy's Wildcats, but was the second of the year for the invading Hereford eleven, which a week earlier had won over Friona 6 to 0.

The locals were saved from a "whitewashing" when, in the waning moments of the game, the Hereford team, backed up to its goal line, donated a safety and the accompanying two points.

Sparked by Johnson, co-captain and fullback, the well-balanced Whiteface team early impressed the large crowd with a show of offensive strength which kept the ball in Wildcat territory throughout the first quarter and which led to the game's only touchdown.

The last half of the second stanza and the rest of the game, however, was all Littlefield as far as strength on the offense was concerned. Time after time the locals barged down to scoring position only to be hrlred back by a rock-ribbed Hereford defense. No less than half a dozen Wildcat scoring thrusts were stymied by the visitors.

The set-up for Hereford's touchdown play came just as the opening quarter ended. Douglas Hollis had covered Johnson's fumbled punt reception on the Hereford 40 yard stripe. On the first play, Babe Hammons passed, only to see the leather fall into the arms of a Hereford back, and the quarter ended.

Three thrusts at the Wildcat line failed to gain, and Hereford punted. Received deep downfield, the kick was fumbled by the Wildcat safety and the Whitefaces recovered on the 28 yard line. Loerwald dropped back to pass, but failing to spot an open receiver, turned the play into a run and sped to the Wildcat 16.

On the next play, Loerwald passed to Brockend, who fell across the line for an apparent touchdown but the play was nullified and the visitors penalized 5 yards for being offside. The ball went to the Wildcats on downs, and the first play was a pass which H. Lord, Hereford back, intercepted and returned to the Littlefield 8 yard stripe. From there Johnson crashed through the center of the Wildcat line for the touchdown. Johnson attempted to convert the extra point by again crashing the line, but was piled up short of the pay-off stripe.

The ensuing kickoff was received by Littlefield and returned to their 37 yard line. Donald Jams took Hammons' pass for a first down on the 47 and then Farrell Compton raced 18 yards to the Hereford 35 for another first down.

Roy Hutson punted out on the Hereford 7 yard line, and after a line play failed to pick up yardage, the Whitefaces punted to their 40 from where the kick was returned to the 26. Hollis snared a pass for a first down on the Hereford 15, but a fumble and a 15 yard penalty set the locals back to the Hereford 34. A right end run carried to the 22, and a line plunge placed the leather on the 20 as the half ended.

Hereford received to open the second half. The kick went to the 8 yard line and was returned to the Whiteface 25 where the carrier fumbled, but recovered.

A long end run and two line plays were good for only two yards, and Hutson took the ensuing punt on his 36, returning 13 yards to the 45. Compton snared a pass from Hammons and raced to the Hereford 47. Hammons fumbled after picking up 3 yards on an end run and the ball was recovered by Hereford on their 44.

Johnson lost 4 yards on an attempted end run and a line play failed to gain. Sharp and Grisham tackling. The Whiteface punt was returned to the Littlefield 40 from where two line plays and an incomplete pass brought on a punt which rolled dead on the Hereford 12.

Line plays failed to gain for the visitors and F. Holberg took the ensuing punt on his 40, making a nice return to the Hereford 42.

Hammons picked up a yard at the right side of the line, then failed to gain on a left end run. Hutson took Hammons' pass on the 30 yard line for another first down for the Wildcats. Hutson failed to gain at left end, and James barely missed a pass on the Hereford 10. Hutson missed another Hammons heave and James hooked the next one for a first down on the Whiteface 15. Line plays failed to gain as the third quarter ended and the ball went to the visitors on downs on their 14 yard line. Meanwhile, Hollis had gone in for Hugo Byers at end, and Lloyd Haire had relieved Darrell Odell at tackle. The Whitefaces, flashing some of the drive evident in the opening stages of the game, advanced ball to their 32, but were forced punt from there, and the kick taken by Hutson on the Wildcat where he was tackled.

FSA Supervisor Advises Precaution Around Machinery

Use care around machinery because it may injure you or even kill you, is the advice given farmers in Lamb county by Fred L. Nix, county supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

Mr. Nix said a survey covering 1,500 farms of FSA borrowers in the midwestern states showed that 88 persons lost time from their work and incurred medical expense in 1939 as a result of injuries. Twelve involved permanent disabilities, and 15 resulted in death.

"Most of the injuries," Mr. Nix said, "were caused by accidents resulting from carelessness and which could have been avoided. For instance, a study of the survey disclosed that many were caused by starting fires with kerosene, careless handling of animals, cranking engines or adjusting machines while they were in motion, failure to keep boiling water out of the reach of children, and so forth."

He said 66 percent of the accidents occurred in connection with farming operations—the majority of the accidents were being handled in and around the home accounted for 21 1-2 percent of the total, falls being responsible for the greatest number, burns coming next. About 12 1-2 percent were non-farm accidents, mostly automobile collisions.

Infection and serious illness resulted in many instances because of failure to administer first-aid treatment to cuts and scratches which seemed inconsequential at the time. Unratted porches, unlighted stairways and uncovered openings, rotten or loose boards in

KIDNEY STAGNATION IS WORSE THAN CONSTIPATION!

Because We Treat Constipation at the Onset, While We Neglect Our Kidneys Indefinitely

No other organ in your body is of more importance than your kidneys. For these kidneys there are nine millions of filters which must work day and night to filter the fluids and keep the system free from wastes, acids, and poisons which, if permitted to remain, may cause serious kidney and bladder troubles.

It is no wonder then that Nature sends calls for help to "clean out the kidneys." So if you are troubled with Nervous Headaches, Leg Pains, Backaches, Stomach Headaches, Dizziness or Loss of Energy, due to functional kidney disorders, try KIDANS, the famous kidney remedy, which aids Nature to flush out the kidneys, to filter all wastes, to prevent kidney stagnation.

No Squabbles Here

WASHINGTON, D. C. . . . The doves of peace hover over the home of Mrs. R. A. Dahlstedt, of Washington, even though her pets include Skippy, the cat, and Spotty, the dog, and two baby pigeons.

barn lofts, corn cribs, walks and porches were responsible for falls which accounted for a large number of farm and home accidents.

Mr. Nix urged parents to keep children away from machinery while it is being operated, "because," he explained, "although the percentage of children injured in this way is not large, such accidents are needless and often result in life-time disabilities. A study of the FSA survey of farm accidents reveals that of the 388 persons injured, one was a nine-year-old boy who suffered scalp wounds and brain concussion when he slipped and fell into the belt of a running tractor."

Another nine-year-old boy sustained a broken leg when kicked by a horse, Mr. Nix said, adding that farmers should avoid risks in handling livestock.

"Aside from the suffering and lost time, injuries are a drain on the pocketbook which most farm families can't afford, especially when they are having a hard time meeting their ordinary obligations," Mr. Nix said. "The average cost of all farm accidents covered in the FSA survey was $44.41, and 16 accidents cost an average of $513 each."

thorities said that a continuation of the war as at present likely would hold exports to about 2,000,000 bales. Foreign shipments last season amounted to 6,175,000 bales.

Commenting on the dark export outlook, Wickard declared cotton farmers "have need of marketing quotas for the 1941 marketing year more than ever before."

The crop act makes it mandatory for the secretary to proclaim quotas when the country's cotton supplies reach 107 percent of normal. A normal supply consists of a normal year's domestic consumption and exports plus 40 percent for reserve. Wickard said that on August 1, the supply totaled 24,900,000 bales, or 137 percent of a normal supply of 18,200,000 bales.

HOUSEKEEPING AIDE SERVICE IS BENEFIT TO NEEDY FAMILIES

The WPA Housekeeping Aide Project located across the street from the cannery, has serviced from the period of May 27, 1940 to September 7, 1940, a total of 377 families with 1304 members in these families. The total number of hours spent in service were 5,047, making a total of $1,520.17 money paid out of WPA funds.

This project furnishes employment for twelve women of this city, besides furnishing free home assistance in housework and care of children in the homes of the needy.

Many homes have benefitted from this service.

The Housekeeping Aide Project started in October of last year. Since that time women have serviced twenty-six maternity cases of which twenty-three have been girl babies and three have been boy babies.

Each Aide on the Project spends one day out of the week in the Project's center taking training in the following subjects: Cooking, Clothing, Home Improvement, Child Care and Health, and Cleaning and Laundering.

The new things of interest to be seen on the project are—a cradle made from a barrel, a training chair for a child made from a prune box and a child's clothes closet made from several apple boxes. In the clothing unit the groups have just completed some school dresses for the school girls.

An invitation is extended to the public to come and visit this project.

Install New Fixtures At Olton Postoffice

Fixtures for the new Olton postoffice arrived last week. Work was begun immediately installing the new fixtures. All of the old fixtures will be replaced with this modern type, which includes 250 new boxes, tables, desks, racks and assorting tables. These fixtures were formerly in use at Arlington, Texas.

Bill Miller and J. E. Fuller went to Arlington and brought the fixtures to Olton by truck. Installation has been completed.

Numerous Questions
 Asked In Filling
 Registration Blanks

Are you a patient of an asylum? What is your income? How is your wife's health? Are you a licensed marine pilot? Do you have a hobby? Are you in jail?

These and 100 or so other questions will be asked of the 16,500,000 men of 21 through 35 who will be required to register for military service on October 16.

Although the questionnaire has not been drafted in final form, the war department says it will follow closely the pattern of a sample questionnaire prepared some time ago for use in case of war. The sample states flatly that the "nation is at war and every registrant is thus put on notice to know his position and duty." Since this is to be a peace-time draft, the war department says the "nation-at-war" phrase will be eliminated.

Present plans call for distribution of the questionnaires soon after registration day and for their return within five days. On the basis of the replies, the local selective service boards will determine the classification of registrants. Some will be deferred and others will be marked as eligible for immediate service.

Some of the sample questions follow:

1. Have you any physical defect?
2. Are you single, married, widowed, or divorced?
3. In what calling, if any, is your wife trained or skilled?
4. State your total income from all sources during the last twelve months.
5. Do you or any of your family or dependents own the house in which you live?

6. What is your usual occupation?

7. Are there any other things (including hobbies) that you do well?

8. Of what well recognized religious sect or organization opposed to war are you a member?

9. From what port do you regularly sail? (If a licensed marine pilot.)

10. Are you now authorized to preach or promulgate the doctrines of your religion? (This section applies to ministers who intend to claim deferred classification.)

11. How many years have you been engaged in agriculture (if you have) and what special training have you had?

12. Why cannot any one or more of your relatives, or some other person, continue your farm operations during your absence?

(Persons employed in agricultural pursuits may claim deferred status, but the questionnaire covering this claim must be accompanied by a supporting affidavit.)

13. To what country do you owe allegiance?

Parents

When you and your family start on a train, motor or bus trip, be sure you have a box of Mother's Milk. Travel nausea inevitably occurs at an inconvenient time, but when prepared with Mother's Milk—yours will be a happy journey. Children are not accustomed to the constant motion and swaying of trains, motors and buses, and often become faint and nauseated after riding but a short way. Relieve this travel sickness with a timely dose of Mother's Milk, the remedy successfully used for more than a third of a century, and recommended by physicians, nurses and well-known travelers throughout the world. At drug stores.

(If you are not a citizen of the United States you will be asked various other questions concerning the country in which you formerly resided, whether you have taken out first citizenship papers, whether your parents are naturalized, etc.)

14. Have you ever been convicted of a crime?

15. Do you claim deferred classification. If so, on which of the following grounds: physical condition, dependency, occupation, alien status, or moral unfitness?

New Accessories
 Added To Pontiac
 Standard Equipment

The following accessories now are standard equipment on certain models of the 1941 Pontiac Torpedo Fleet, it is announced by D. U. Bathrick, vice president and general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Electric clocks and flexible steering wheels now are standard on Custom and Super-Streamliner models.

Front bumper fender guards, now standard on Streamliner, Super-Streamliner and Custom models.

Vacuum booster pump is standard on all eight-cylinder models while the cigar lighter becomes standard on all models, sizes and eights.

ENLARGE SKATING RINK

Work began last week on a 30 by 30 foot enlargement to the Olton skating rink. This will make the rink 30 feet wide by 90 feet long. The material is being furnished by an Olton lumber yard.

New 1941 Ford Models With Entirely New Design On Display At Hall Motor Co.

A great new Ford for 1941 is now on display at Hall Motor Co. in Littlefield.

From an appearance standpoint, the new Ford for 1941 has an entirely new design, massive rugged lines being combined with a symmetry of lines to further bring out Ford's idea of functional design. The 1941 Ford comes in two models, the Deluxe and Super Deluxe. Both cars have the same mechanical specification and the same size, but differ in the details and appointments. Two new body types have been added to the 1941 Ford line, the convertible cabriolet and the sedan-coupe. Several of the new body types now on display and delivery of orders on hand will begin the first of next week, with additional appointments expected daily.

Designers have taken full advantage of increased wheelbase and overall lengths to give added spaciousness, and Ford engineers have worked right up from bigger tires through to luxury seat cushions and new softer springs for the added enhancement of riding comfort. A new four-cylinder truck and commercial car engine is part of the economy features included in the Ford working line. The wheelbase of these big new Deluxe and Super Deluxe Ford V-8s is longer and the overall length is longer. The designers have taken advantage of this extra overall to increase the inside body length in seat room and seating. In fact, the front seat of the sedan is seven inches wider than last year. The head room is larger and the window area, already large in previous Ford cars, is even larger this year.

Running boards have practically disappeared from sight, due to the width of the new bodies. But they are there to step off when the doors are opened. The 85 horsepower V-8 engine is still unique as it is the only eight cylinder car in the low price field. These new Fords have lower transmission gear ratios thus hiking up the "get-away."

1941 Ford DeLuxe Coupe. Like the rest of the Ford line for 1941, it is longer, wider, easier riding, with added beauty of line and finish.

1941 Ford Super DeLuxe Fordor sedan. Like the rest of the new Ford line, it is larger, easier riding, and more beautiful outside and in.

In addition to beauty both inside and outside the Ford engineers emphasize the greatly improved ride in all 1941 models. This extra riding comfort starts with two inches longer wheelbase and a new electrically welded "X" type frame. This new frame structure is 100 percent more rigid, making the body now mounted on big rubber cushions still quieter in service. The springs, front and rear, with their increased effective length, have a balanced action eliminating any "pitching" and giving the easiest kind of ride. The rear seat cushions are two inches further ahead of the rear spring and axle, which further improves the riding qualities. The four lever-type hydraulic shock absorbers now have a more sensitive adjustment to match the new softer acting springs. The switch new improved ride stabilizer, connected by swinging shackles to the front axle, minimizes side sway and improves steering. Super Deluxe cushions are unusually comfortable since luxury type individual coil springs are used. Over these is a thick pad of latex treated curled hair which gives a softness only associated with expensive cars in the past. The new Fords have big 12-inch hydraulic brakes, for quick, smooth action and long service. The emergency, or parking brake, is on the rear wheels and operated by a steel cable. The brake lever is under the instrument panel, at the left of the driver. The new hood lock knob is located under the instrument panel near the brake lever. This protects the engine, battery and accessories from theft. An entirely new body design is included in the 1941 Super Deluxe line—a Sedan coupe. This coupe combines a close coupled body design with comfortable seating for six. Also in the line there is a convertible club coupe, seating five and equipped with an electrically operated top that functions even when the engine is not running. It is operated by throwing an electric

There are four body types in the Deluxe line, six in the Super Deluxe. There are three color choices for the Deluxe and six in the Super Deluxe line.

Among the refinements which are new this year on all models are the speed lines on the side of both front and rear fenders, the new hidden gasoline filler cap, electric light on the luggage compartment lid which automatically lights when ever the lid is raised if the car lights are burning, ventilating front windows, a new wide tempered glass one-piece rear window, radio grilles in all cars, twin windshield wipers with speed control, twin sun visors, fender top parking lamps, and two-spoke, clear-vision comfort-type steering wheels. There is a center front license plate on the Super Deluxe.

Room Mothers Perfect Permanent Organization

Members of the Littlefield P. T. A. and Room Mothers met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rutledge, 410 W. Second Street, Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Jack Farr, membership chairman, and Mrs. Wm. N. Orr, co-committee worker, as hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Rutledge.

A very interesting meeting took place, and a permanent organization of room mothers was set up, with Mrs. Sid Hopping as president, and Mrs. M. V. Cobb, secretary.

It was also voted to cooperate with Miss Mary Boles in sponsoring an operetta for the benefit of buying a portable piano for the primary building.

Also, according to Mrs. Rutledge, an object of the meeting was to get the room mothers together, so that they might get acquainted and learn the duties of a room mother.

Much enthusiasm was shown in the organization, and therefore the permanent organization was set up.

The membership drive, which will close October 19, was also discussed.

Members present were Mesdames: W. D. Fowler, R. L. Byers, Jack Ferr, H. C. Edmonds, Wm. N. Orr, Loyd Yestry, Ben Lyman, Sid Hopping, Jake Hopping, T. J. Jones, Norman Dubose, J. F. Willingham, J. A. Perkins, J. F. Gibson, E. G. Fields, O. L. Hollingsworth, O. C. Fox, G. C. Ross, Bill Sanders, J. D. Yarbrough, Carl Alexander, Scott Webster, Fred Lichte, W. J. Will, Ed Schovajsa, C. E. Harvey, A. N. Williams, Ray Nix, J. J. Harlan, N. T. Theford, L. H. Black, Doc Lichte, M. V. Cobb, Dick Ratliff, Edgar Graham, and Mrs. Rutledge, to whom punch and cake were served.

Services Conducted At Amer. Lutheran Church Semi-Monthly

With Rev. F. T. Sager, of Slaton, delivering the message, members of the American Lutheran Church of this city, gathered Sunday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist Church for service.

Services are held here twice a month, according to Reverend Sager.

Sunday School is opened at 2:30 following which the preaching service is conducted.

Churches

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH*

Roy Shahan, Pastor

Sunday is Promotion Day in all departments of our church. Let every officer, teacher, leader be present for this important day. Also every pupil in the Bible school be present Sunday morning. Promotion certificates will be given all pupils who are promoted from one department to another.

The pastor is starting a series of sermons for the evening services on the life and experiences of children of Israel from the time they left Egypt until they arrived in Canaan. These experiences of children of Israel are very similar to the experiences of the Christian from the time of conversion or throughout his Christian experience. We feel these messages will strengthen faith, deepen consecration, give inspiration for the days we are facing. May we invite you and urge you to not miss one of these services?

The young people of West Plains Baptist Association will meet in their regular meeting at the local Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. A good program has been arranged. Representatives from the 23 churches are expected to attend this meeting. Mr. Vernon Cox of Lums Chapel Church is the president of this organization.

METHODIST CHURCH

Jim H. Sharp, Pastor

Next Sunday we are having an "old fashioned preaching" all day and dinner on the grounds, only the dinner will be spread in the Fellowship Hall. Come and bring a basket lunch and let us have a day of fellowship and praise together.

Sunday School and preaching at the regular hour in the morning. After the morning service, dinner will be spread and after dinner, we will have a period of singing led by Vernon Eagan. After we sing for awhile, Bro. Luther Kirk will preach.

We will not have any evening service except the League service.

We welcome everyone to the services. We want you to come to the services, even though you may not be able to bring dinner and stay for all the services. Come for at least part of the services.

LUTHERAN CHURCH NEWS

Rev. C. A. Gaertner, Vacancy - Pastor

Sunday, September 29, our services will begin at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday School begins at 10 a. m.

Our pastor, the Rev. E. Riese of Cisco intends to move to Littlefield with his wife on the 9th of October. Rev. Riese is a graduate of Concordia Seminary of St. Louis, Mo.

The Sunday School teachers met Tuesday night for their regular class.

AMHERST METHODIST CHURCH

Next Sunday is Promotion Day in the church school in the grades and classes where they promote. We wish that the others might have some new factor to which to look, but that is one of the burdens of adult life.

The ladies of the church are all urged to attend the meeting Friday afternoon at the church for the purpose of abolishing the old Missionary society and instituting the Woman's Society of Christian Service. This is a lot of a long name, and it will take a lot of women and work to fulfill it. But all the women of the church are asked to come.

A CALL TO PRAYER

Three year old Nancy's father had installed a new radio. Nancy listened with rapt attention to everything, music, announcements, speeches.

"That night she knelt to say her 'Now I lay me down to sleep.' At the end she paused a moment and then said:

"Tomorrow night at this time there will be another prayer." "Most of us would be tyrants if we had the authority. Its the lack of authority that makes civilization possible."

"Friends are like melons. Shall I tell you why?"

To find one good, you must a hundred try."

The Santa Fe's 80th Birthday

The Santa Fe was born September 17, 1860, in a tiny, one-story brick building in Atchison, Kansas. There thirteen men met to form "The Atchison and Topeka Railroad Company," with Cyrus K. Holliday, founder of Topeka, Kansas, as its first President.

Beginnings

Cyrus Holliday envisioned a great railroad that would supplant the slow and dangerous traffic over the old Santa Fe Trail—a railroad reaching deep into the prairies, piercing the mountains, ever serving and growing with the Southwest.

Those were stern, hard times on the raw frontier. The drought of 1860, the Civil War and the post-war chaos, prevented construction until November, 1868, when ground was broken at Topeka. On June 28, 1869, the first Santa Fe train was operated from Topeka to Carbondale. The line was extended to Emporia in August of 1870.

Westward

Settlement quickened along the new right-of-way, as Santa Fe's land and immigration department pushed surveys west of Emporia. The rails reached Newton in July, 1871, and Hutchinson, Great Bend, Larned, Dodge City and the Colorado line in 1872.

San Diego, Galveston, Chicago

After 1876, many branch lines were constructed in Kansas. Settlers poured in. The main line was projected across New Mexico, Arizona and California. Colonization continued westward into those states and into Texas and Oklahoma. Santa Fe, New Mexico, was reached in 1880; San Diego, California, in 1885; Galveston, Texas, in 1886; and Chicago in 1887. Thousands of tourists followed the early settlers. The Santa Fe became the outlet for the innumerable products of a vast Southwestern area.

Today

Today, with 41,000 employees and 13,414 miles of track, the Santa Fe directly serves Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and California.

The Santa Fe and the Southwest

Down through the years the Santa Fe has endeavored to develop Cyrus Holliday's dream—a great pioneer's dream of that swift, sure transportation without which no frontier, no matter how rich, can hope to fulfill its destiny. In that effort we have marched shoulder to shoulder with the people of the Southwest, in good times and bad, in friendship and understanding.

On our 80th birthday, we of the Santa Fe pledge a continuation of the service ideals of its founders.

Local Party Attend Wedding At Munday, Texas

Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Blacklock were guests at a wedding at Munday, Texas, Thursday evening, when a brother of Mrs. Blacklock, Arthur Smith, and Miss Lucille Neff were married.

The ceremony was conducted at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Methodist Church, Munday, with an uncle of the groom officiating.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for points in New Mexico on a short wedding trip, followig which they will make their home at Munday where Mr. Smith is in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Blacklock left Littlefield for Munday Wednesday, remaining for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt returned to Littlefield by way of Vernon and visited Mrs. Hunt's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Dorchard, returning home Friday.

The Salvation Army Marches On

There is one army whose uniform is respected in every land. Its wearers go wherever their mission takes them, singly or in bands, without molestation. It carries no arms, but it marches with banners to the blare of brass and the rat-tat-tat of drums, playing not the martial tunes of victory and national hatreds, but instead, familiar hymns of Divine love and the Peace of God.

It is the Salvation Army. No American who wore the khaki in the World War can fail to remember the Salvation Army with anything but affectionate respect. If our dough-boys recall no other cheerful note from their experiences overseas in 1917-18, they all remember the doughnuts which the Salvation lassies fried for them.

There was a warm human sympathy about the Salvation Army and the devoted men and women who risked their lives to follow the fighting men closer to the fighting front than most other civilian relief workers dared to go, which made even the most hardened feel that there must be something in the faith which led the Salvationists to give all and take nothing for the glory of God and the love of their fellowmen.

Now the Salvation Army is marching again. Its devoted workers have been ministering to wounded Russian soldiers in Finnish hospitals, to the French and British troops under fire in France and Belgium, to refugees wherever they are to be found. They have been risking, and some of them have lost, their lives. One Salvation Lassie was killed by a Russian air attack in Vasa. Another, wearing her red-ribboned black poke bonnet, was struck down by a German bomber at Dieppe.

To the Salvation Army all men are their brothers, for all are children of God. Their mission is help the helpless, relieve the suffering of any human being in distress. They are again asking the American people for money with which to carry on their noble work. We hope, and feel sure, that America will respond as generously as it always has done in the past.

A Trained Fighting Force

Whatever anybody's views on the subject of drafting men in time of peace for military service may have been, the time is past for resistance to compulsory selective training. It is now the law of the land that every man over 21 and under 36 may be picked, by having his number drawn out of the hat, to spend a year in learning the rudiments of soldiering.

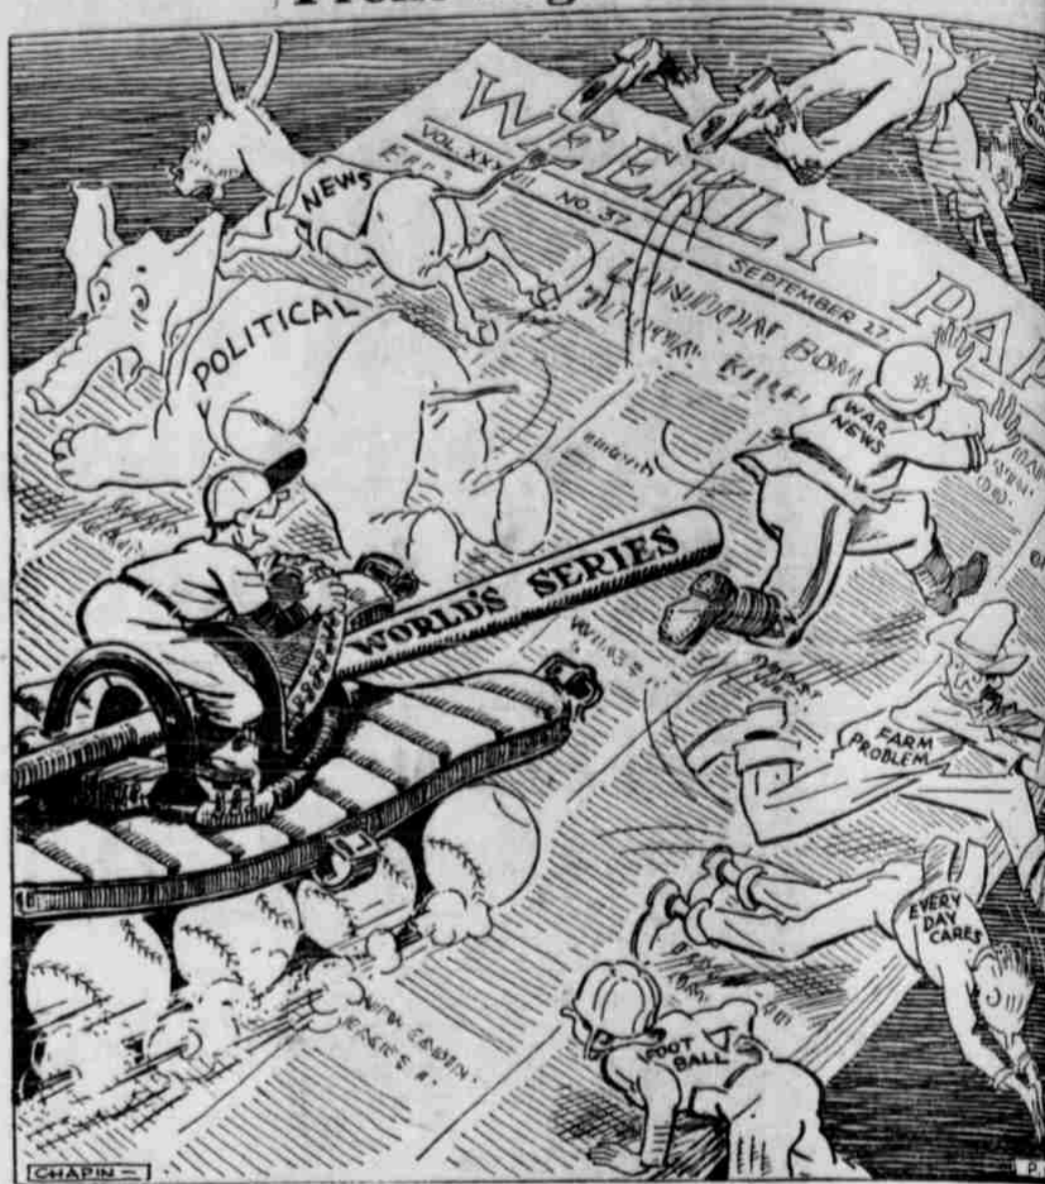

That doesn't mean that any great proportion of men are going to be taken away from their jobs and their families, out of any communities. The present plan of calling 800,000 men to the colors in the first year means that, at the most, one man in twenty within the prescribed age limit, will take his turn at learning how to help defend his country if that becomes necessary.

There is nothing whatever in the law, as passed, which involves any of the selected trainees risking his life. Nobody is going to be stood up and shot at. These men are not being picked to fight, but to learn how to fight if and when conditions arise when Americans shall again have to fight to preserve their liberties.

If that time comes, unless it should come so suddenly that we have had no time for preparation at all, we will have a considerable body of men who have at least been initiated and have taken, as it were, the first degree in a soldier's training.

We had no such trained reserves the last time the United States went to war. We sent into the front lines in France boys who had hardly more than half as much preliminary training as every one of the men to be selected under the new law will receive. Everybody hopes that none of them will ever be called upon to fire a single shot at an enemy of the Republic, but if the occasion arises it is better for them and for the nation to have them at least partly trained.

To Discuss Cotton Consumption At State Wide Meeting

WACO, Tex., Sept. 21 — The important cotton consumption campaign being conducted in Texas and the United States will be the main topic of discussion at a state-wide cotton committee meeting to be held in Hillsboro on Saturday, L. T. Murray, Mayor of Waco and secretary of the Texas Cotton Association, said today.

Several hundred leaders of the cotton industry from all parts of the state will attend the Hillsboro meeting in the College auditorium, to be presided over by Burriss C. Jackson, general chairman of the committee.

Murray said that Dr. A. B. Conner, director of the Texas Experiment Station, and Dr. A. B. Cox of the University of Texas would give a report on the recent Cotton Research Congress held at Waco. H. E. Williamson of College Station chairman of the Cotton Consumption Section of the Committee, will lead the discussion on the importance of increasing the use of cotton and its products in the United States.

"It is absolutely essential for the American people to use more cotton than ever before in view of our inability to trade with foreign nations," Murray said. The campaign in Texas, participated in by a large number of state organizations, will be reviewed at the Hillsboro meeting on Saturday.

CHAPTER II

Synopsis

Jeffrey Castle rounds off his education with a year in Europe and returns to his home in Parville where he is expected to practice law with his father, Jeffrey. He meets his childhood friend and neighbor, Audrey Swan—nicknamed "The Kitten"—and confides to her his intention to work in his father's office. Jeff invites Audrey to dinner at his house—Olive Cooper, who has met in Europe—is expected there over the weekend. Audrey says she can't think of a way to excuse.

"Excuse?" What the heck are you talking about now?
"Your mother."
"Your mother's name into the discussion with Jeff had been more difficult than Audrey anticipated. It shouldn't have been necessary to remind Jeffrey she hadn't been in his home several years, nor that the lady in the big house on the hill had been found it convenient to receive her young neighbor. At Audrey thought so. But it didn't seem very sporting to tell about it. Instead, she waited tensely for the outburst she expected her remark to produce."

her surprise, what she received was a mild: "I don't believe you're abroad did you much good. I've invited you to parties at my house before. This is my home and I'm asking you to be my guest. If you don't want to come, I think you wouldn't have aggod."

"Oh, Jeff! Please..." Audrey said in a quick little burst of contrition. You know I mean that! I'd love to come. But don't you see?"
"Naturally not."

Things are different now. I can't help being. It's beastly. I know, but you just did tell me that your mother...

"Invited Olive," Jeff broke in sharply. "Sure she did. That's different. Mother never has met her and she's known you for years."
The past hour had been so definitely like old times that Audrey had very nearly forgotten her resolve to establish a new and reserved footing for this companion who tucked her arm in his as the Swan home. It was a familiar part of their coming home ritual. The same as Jeff's releasing her at the door with a careless, "So long," or "Be seeing you."

Tonight, he dropped her arm but waited long enough for a quiet reminder. "Your chair will be at the table riday night. In case it rains, I'll send the car. If you let me down, I'll know..."
"I won't Jeff."

At the breakfast table her father's "Morning, Audrey," was offered without an upward glance. Anthony Swan was as English as Westminster, to use a frequent expression of his daughter. A slight man with a fresh complexion and keen blue eyes. His curling hair was touched with gray and receded a trifle at the temples, dropping on his cheeks in closely cropped sideburns. There was something in his general trimness that suggested horses.

The Swan acreage constituted a miniature stock farm with its well-painted stables and sheds, trim white fences everywhere, a half-mile exercise track. Anthony had come to the states as a racing trainer of some reputation, but had left the tracks a dozen years before to establish a business of his own. He bred a limited number of fine saddle animals, bought and sold others, stabled and trained horses for patrons as well as being a riding master whose services were much in demand. Martha his wife, was a New Englander. A mild-mannered but efficient little person and much the better manager of the two.

"Your mother says Mr. Jeffrey is home," Anthony offered. "How is the lad?"
"Looks very fit."
"He must have been across close to a year," Anthony went on. "Parville will seem small to him, I wouldn't doubt."

Audrey inserted a slice of bread in the toaster and closed it with an unnecessary clash.

Do you want some work this morning?" Judge's stablemen came over last night with the brown mare w esold Mr. Jeffrey the last summer, he was home. You remember, Eileen?"

"What's the matter with her?"
"Not a thing in the world save she hasnt been ridden in a long time. Never by a woman, I take it."

"I get you. She's going to be ridden by a woman and you're supposed to guarantee that she'll take it without too much fuss." Audrey smiled wryly. "Aou don't care if your darling child breaks her neck finding out do you? Eileen wasn't keen for fences, if I remember."
"I've no fear for you on that mare or any other."
"Sure, dear, I was only fooling. Be glad to. I'll change and come down as soon as I've finished my toast and your paper."

Martha Swan appeared from the kitchen. Immaculate in a fresh gin-things. He must have asked his mother to extend that invitation this morning without telling her that he had already done so. No doubt he hoped it would soothe Audrey's feelings, after her little outburst the night before. But she could wish he had been more above-board.

Audrey spent an hour on Eileen's back. The mare went through her paces in a listlessly obliging fashion. She paid no attention whatever to traffic along a busy pike.

"Quite the kitten," Audrey reported to her father when she slipped down from the saddle at the stable door. Anthony nodded agreement, chewing on a straw.

"Maybe she was keeping something from me. I hope she was." This last Audrey said to herself.

"Never fear."
Assured of Eileen's tractability, her rider had devoted considerable thought to the dinner party. The more deeply she considered the matter of dress, the more important it appeared and she went directly from the stables to find her mother. Here was something that must be talked over.

"All right." Martha's lips were compressed a trifle. "You've plenty of time between now and Friday. You run up to the city and get yourself a dress. I have fifty dollars here in the house. I'll give it to you. You can manage the rest. I should think."

The second forenoon after that found Audrey in her room with a jumble of boxes, tissue paper, sheer stockings and slippers littering her usually immaculate bed. She had on the new dinner gown and was revolving slowly under the gaze of her mother's critical brown eyes. "I like it, Audrey," was the deliberate verdict.

The slender little figure before the long mirror presented an attractive picture in its hollow dotted swiss gown, white with red dots, the little jacket bound with grosgrain, a combination that was in effective contrast with the dark curls and the golden tan of Audrey's face and slim arms.

"You'll look as nice as any girl there," her mother conceded. "That's what I call a ladylike dress."

In the dressing room at the Castle, Audrey gave herself a critical inspection, applied powder and lipstick, pushed her curls into a final semblance of order. "God defend the right," she murmured, and moved sedately in the direction of the winding staircase. At the foot of the descent she paused and glanced at the scattered occupants of the brightly lighted drawing-room. Jeff saw her at once and strode forward with a delighted smile. He looked very handsome, Audrey thought, in his white dinner coat and black trousers, his yellow head smooth and shining.

"Bless your heart darlin'" he exclaimed. "You're a treat to these old eyes!" He caught at the arm of a young man standing near. "Vic old son, meet the Pride of Parville! Miss Swan, Mr. Quinn, if I may. Your dinner partner, Vic, you lucky dog." He drew Audrey's arm through his and began the introductory rites in breezy style.

Audrey dutifully centered her attention upon each guest as presented. Now Jeff had her arm again, was leading her forward. Oh, Olive... please!"

A slender figure in a clinging black gown emerged from the almost total eclipse effected by the bulky form of Judge Castle. Audrey's first thought was, "Just like the pictures of the Duchess of Windsor!" Then she was conscious of white teeth flashing a friendly smile, of a slim hand outstretched in greeting. Of Jeff, beaming. "Miss Swan... Mrs. Cooper." or the space of a second, the shock of that introduction blurred the entire drawing-room scene for Audrey Swan.

"Mrs. Cooper!"
It couldn't be. And yet... Jeff certainly had called her that. But Mrs. Cooper, or whoever she was, was saying things to Miss Swan. Saying that she had been so anxious to meet her, that Jeffrey had spoken so frequently about her. Gradually the haze cleared and Audrey found herself trying valiantly to warrant the enthusiastic account Jeff must have rendered.

But it was a relief to find Vic Quinn barging up alongside. Audrey felt better. Still more so at the touch of a hand on her arm and the booming voice of the Judge.

Training Course To Be Available To Scouts Nov. 12

New Troop And New Cub Pack Will Be Organized Here

Scout leaders and parents of Scouts in Lamb and Bailey counties, composing the northwestern district of this council, will have an opportunity to take a training course on November 12, 13 and 14, Floyd Hemphill, chairman of training, announced today.

Action was taken Thursday night before the district committee meeting, held at the Methodist Church here. Organization will be set up this month and promotion will be carried out through the months of October and November.

It was also decided at the meeting that one new troop and a new Cub pack would be organized within the next month in Littlefield. Plans of expansion were also set in Amherst, Sudan, and Mulleshoe, other towns in this district.

Leaders stated that each Scout troop in the district would participate in the council-wide Camp-orall to be held in Lubbock October 4 and 5.

J. E. Chisholm, Jr., chairman of advancement, reported that Scouts would visit 300 possible merit badge counsellors in Littlefield and secure many of them to examine Scouts on requirements participating to their particular vocation or hobby.

Sam Henry, council field commissioner, made the principal talk of the evening, giving the values of Scouting to men who worked with boys as well as the boys themselves. Jack O. Stone, Scout executive, also made a short talk before the district group.

More Streets Will Be Ready For Hot-Topping By Oct 7

Work Will Require About 10 Days, When 38 Blocks Completed

Approximately 25 more blocks in the City of Littlefield will be ready for hot-topping by October 7, when operations will start, Mayor Homer Hall reported this week.

Curbing and gutters have been placed and caliche base laid on all west of West First Street, to the school building, three blocks on West Side Avenue, three blocks on West Third Street, three on East Third Street, two on West Fourth Street, two on East Fourth Street, Two on Eleventh Street, four on East Eighth Street, and three on Phelps Avenue.

Hot-topping of 25 blocks will take about ten days, Mr. Hall said. When this is completed, Littlefield will have 38 blocks of paving in the residential section.

T. S. Sales Confined In Local Hospital: Is Much Improved

T. S. Sales was brought to Littlefield in an ambulance Friday night from his home in Winters, Texas, after suffering several hemorrhages, and is confined in Payne-hotwell Hospital.

He was given a blood transfusion Friday night, and again Saturday morning, and according to latest reports is getting along nicely.

Mr. Sales had been in Littlefield several days, and had only been home a few days when he was brought back.

Mrs. Sales is remaining here at the bedside of her husband.

Ginnings Total 1,804,490 Bales

The Census Bureau reported Tuesday that cotton of this year's growth ginned to September 16, totaled 1,804,490 running bales, including 40 round bales, counted as half bales, and excluding linters.

Ginnings to that date were 3,875,703 running bales, including 63,938 round bales, last year, and 3,634,922, including 37,743 round bales, two years ago.

Ginnings by states to September 16, with comparative figures for a year ago, include:

Arkansas 34,568 and 342,215; Louisiana 80,301 and 382,593; New Mexico 2,021 and 3,090; Oklahoma 17,015 and 127,619; Texas 935,299 and 1,485,415.

Twins Conducting Meeting At Enochs Methodist Church

An interesting and unusual revival meeting is in progress at the First Methodist Church at Enochs, conducted by the 19-year-old Davis twins, who have won recognition for their inspirational sermons and singing.

The Davis twins, Doyle and Darrell, have been singing for some time over popular radio stations in Texas. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis of Brownwood, and have been doing Christian service work for the past four and one-half years, traveling in 28 states.

The meeting at Enochs started Monday night and will continue through next week, it was announced. Darrell is doing the preaching this week, and special songs are features of each night's meeting.

Everyone is extended a most cordial invitation to attend these services, held only at night.

One of the largest telescopes in the world is at the W. J. McDonald Laboratory in the Davis Mountains in Southwest Texas. Operated jointly by the University of Texas and the University of Chicago, the observatory is staffed by some of the nation's leading astronomers.

Police Enforcing Traffic Rules

The Editor Got One, Too!

A Red Tag for parking on Phelps avenue over a yellow line! Many tickets have been given to local people the past few days by City Marshal Ab Anderson and Night Watchman Lawrence Walraven, for parking their cars over the yellow lines.

Phelps avenue was marked off last week and allowing eight and one-half feet between the lines, to help control the local traffic problem.

No double parking has been allowed this week, and only a few red tags have been given for violation.

No penalties have been paid to date, the red tags having been just reminders that the City Commission is enforcing traffic regulations. However, within the next few days, Mayor Hall said, violators will be fined, and the fines will amount to not less than $1 and not more than $200.

Double parking was prohibited after a petition was presented the City Commission, signed by approximately 350 Littlefield citizens and farmers.

Frozen Food Meet Held At Plainview

Earl Hobbs and John Standeford of the Littlefield Farmers Frozen Food Locker Association, V. F. Jones, L. H. McElroy, Mrs. Ruth Perry, Charles Harlen and Mr. Ballard of Amherst, and Herb Teal and others from Sudan were among those attending a district meeting at the Hilton Hotel, Plainview, Monday.

Discussion of problems and ways to expand use of locker services was the program for the day's meeting.

C. E. Bowles, cooperative marketing specialist of Texas A. & M. College, and Roy B. Davis, secretary of the Houston Bank of Cooperatives, Houston, were on the program.

Approximately 200 persons attended the meeting.

Cash receipts from National Forests totalled $5,859,183 for the past year.

Wildcats Tangle With Phillips 11 Here Friday

The Littlefield Wildcats, losers to Hereford, 6 to 2, in a game here last Friday night, will play the Phillips high school grid combine under the lights at Seely Field here Friday night.

Little is known locally of the Phillips team, but last week lost a 13-0 game to the McLean gridsters. Phillips is near Borger, and the game will be an inter-sectional tilt. Last year Phillips overpowered the locals by a top-heavy score.

Weaknesses apparent in the opener against Hereford last week have been ironed out to some extent, according to Coach Abe Murphy, and

NYA To Meet With City Commission Thursday Afternoon

At a meeting this afternoon of the City Commission, an election will be called for the voting of bonds for the construction of a municipal auditorium, Mayor Homer Hall announced Wednesday. The election will be called for October 26.

Petitions signed by 93 tax-paying qualified voters, were presented to the Commission Wednesday morning by a committee of businessmen, Lester Walters, W. H. Madden, J. W. Keithley, J. A. Brannen, and Dr. C. E. Payne.

Approximately 60 signers were necessary on the petition, Mr. Hall said, and the large number of people interested in signing the petition, determined the calling of the election.

Officials of the National Youth Administration from the district office in Lubbock will meet with the committee named above, and the Commission this afternoon, to discuss plans for the auditorium, and the approximate cost. The amount for which the bonds are set will be matched by the NYA, and NYA labor will be used, it has been announced.

Last Rites Held Monday For Mrs. Mary A. Nixon

Passes Away At Home Of Son, Floyd Nixon, After Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Mary Arena Nixon, 81, passed away at the home of her son, Floyd Nixon, at Anton, Monday morning at 9 o'clock, following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were conducted at the Assembly of God Church, Littlefield, Monday afternoon, at 5 o'clock with Rev. F. H. Cole, Baptist pastor of Sudan, officiating, assisted by Reverend Williams, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, and Rev. John Dyess, pastor of Rocky Ford Church.

Hammons in Charge Hammons Funeral Home had charge of arrangements here, and pallbearers were: Leonard McCoy, Charlie Byers, J. L. Stowers, Jas. Ingle, Elmer Johnson and Wylie Young.

The remains left here Monday night for Altus, Okla., where burial beside her husband took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Altus Cemetery.
