GETS NEW SUB. TO AVALANCHE AFTER WAITING 6 MONTHS

Some indication of the shortage of newsprint by the daily newspapers was brought to light last week, when the Avalanche-Journal filled an order for a new subscription to that publication to go to Fred Zeissel, Route 1, Littlefield, after this man had waited nearly six months to receive this paper. The Leader took this man's subscription, but since it was not possible for the Avalanche to fill new subscriptions, the next best thing they could do was to place Mr. Zeissel's name on the waiting list. This man will admit, though, that he was losing all hope of being placed on the list when along it arrived Thursday last.

Important Announcement

When your car develops a knock or a rattle, you immediately take it to the garage to see what the trouble is. When a jain develops in your body, do you go to a doctor and see what the trouble is or do you say, "Oh well, it will be all right 'n a day or two," and just let it go until it has gone so far that many times it is too late to get relief?

You wonder why so many people are dying from cancer and hear trouble. It is because they do not look after their health until it is too late.

If you think you might have any of the following diseases: rheumatism, chronic appendicitis, dizziness, headaches, gas pains, high blood pressure, diabetes, constipation, neuritis, sluggish liver, coated tongue, heart burn, or many other common ailments, come in and I will always take time to talk to you about your health problems. If I can help you, I will be glad to do so—if I don't think that I can be of any help to you with your health health problems, I will be man enough to tell you so. An Advertisement Addressed to Buyers of BLACK MARKET Gasoline

Phillips production of 100-octane gasoline could fuel enough Flying Forts to drop 3,000 tons of bombs on the "Invasion Coast" every day!

Gasoline shortage on the home front is a grim reality, and gasoline rationing is our American system of sharing the available supplies fairly, in accordance with carowners' essential needs.

Why is gasoline short? . . . Re-read the headline above. It is presented not in boastful spirit, but in explanation of one of the vital military uses of the gasoline which you cannot purchase.

Remember, Phillips is only one of many producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline, of butadiene for synthetic rubber, of various fuels for ships and tanks and combat cars. The petroleum raw materials which go into the literally oceans of these military fuels are obviously not available for PHILLIPS PETROLEUM Co., Bartlesville, Okla.

the manufacture of civilian supplies of gasoline.

Every Black Market purchase reduces the already greatly diminished pool of gasoline which must suffice for our country's essential transportation needs. That is why no thinking, patriotic American will be a Black Buyer. And without Black Buyers there can be no Black Markets.

So do your patriotic part to break the Black Market in gasoline: Endorse every gasoline ration coupon in your possession. Don't accept any gasoline at any price without giving up coupons. And most important of all, use the legal gasoline you buy for essential driving only.

Best In The World

In a speech delivered in St. Louis, Hon Charles M. Hay spoke words concerning our fighting forces which should be of wide interest:

"We cannot overlook the fact," said Mr. Hay, "that our boys are fighting a long, long way from home. The nearest battle front is at least 3000 miles from our shores. Please God, may it never be closer than that. Some of them are approximately 10,000 miles from the nearest home port.

"It has been our job not only to produce guns, ammunition, clothes, food, medicines, but to get them to our men over there, even to the remotest parts of the earth.

"That job has been done and is being done today. To do it we had to lick the U-boat, and the U-boat has been licked. We had to have ships, and yet more ships-and the ships we have, thousands of them. We had to develop an American "Kaiser" to do it. But we have developed him and others like him, with millions of faithful workers to help

"Our goods have been produced and transported by land, sea and air to the uttermost parts of the earth in such quantities that we have armed, clothed, fed, and medicated our men wherever they are in a manner and to an extent unequaled by any other nation. Our boys are the best-armed, best-clothed, best-fed, best cared for soldiers in the world. They are the best soldiers in the world.

"As our boys fight with greater fury we shall have to work back home with greater intensity. The fact that this is a total war will sink down upon us with crushing force.

"But we cannot fail; we shall not fail.

We are on the right course. We are fighting a good fight.

We are keeping and shall keep the faith. We shall finishe the course in triumph."

We have the fullest confidence in our army and in all branches of our forces. The best blood on earth courses through the veins of those who man the war machinery and who are now, or will soon be, face-to-face with our enemies. They are making good the world over, fighting our battles.

It thrills any loyal American citizen to look upon the strong and manly youths who wear the

Mechanical Cotton Harvesting

"It takes at least 20 per cent of the gross price brought by a bale of cotton to harvest it by hand," Bon L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock farm experiment station, said recently in discussing the advent on the South Plains of the mechanical harvester and "storm-proof" cotton.

The mechanical harvester, which is expected to come into widespread use on the South Plains after the war, when conditions permit unlimited manufacture, should offer a drastic reduction in harvesting costs, Jones said. He indicated the time might come when it would be no longer necessary to recruit thousands of South Texas laborers to gather South Plains cotton.

Jones estimated that harvesters might be on the market for as low as $700. With an attachment which would extract the fieece from the burr they might cost approximately $1,100, he said. A single-row machine can gather around seven bales a day, depending on the whiteness of the cotton and the length of rows, he said.

Because cotton must be fully-opened before the harvester can be used, the need arose for a cotton which could withstaand the unfavorable weather common to this area through the early fall months, he stated. This need, he said, has been met in the development of the "storm-proof" cotton.

uniform of the U.S. Only yesterday many of them were happy, care-free boys, who walked the streets, roads and paths of our country. Today they are sturdy, brave, trained and equipped men of war. The duties and responsibilities of mature manhood, enhanced a thousand times because of war, are upon their shoulders.

It should warm the heart of everyone of us to be called upon to share food, clothing and other necessities with the boys who have responded to their country's call.

We are glad that our country is doing such a good job of caring for its army. The boys and girls who represent us on foreign shores or are in training in the camps at home are as fine as the world ever looked upon. They are indeed the best in the -Kerrville Times.

Your Friendly Cooperation Will Be Much Appreciated

With our country engaged in a great World War, virtually every line of business has been forced to operate with a curtailed number of employees.

AND YOUR NEWSPAPERS ARE NO EXCEPTION TO THIS ALMOST GENERAL CONDITION.

Your Lamb County Leader seeks to give an extensive news coverage in Littlefield, Lamb County, and adjacent territory, and the gathering, writing and printing of such a vast amount of news entails hours and hours of work.

Many people are of the opinion that once an issue of a newspaper is published for that week, the office and mechanical staffs have very little to do until just a day or two before the next issue is printed. That is not a fact. A newspaper is continuously in the process of being published. The vast amount of work involved could not be accomplished in one or two days.

That is why we always urge that news be made available to us at the very earliest possible time. If you have some news that you would like printed, bring or mail it to us immediately. In that way you are better assured of space being available for the news you would like to see printed.

We endeavor to have all our news in the Leader office for publication that week by Tuesday night, but please bring in any news you may have immediately it is available, because news must be handled all the time from the publication of the last issue to the publication of the next paper. We could not possibly handle all news in the time available in a day or

The only news which we can accept at any time on a Wednesday are deaths, accidents, or other news of outstanding importance. We want to maintain the Lamb County Leader as the "newsiest newspaper" published in this part of the state, and we greatly appreciate the kind co-operation we are receiving from such a large number of people. PLEASE CON-TINUE YOUR FRIENDLY ASSISTANCE. Thank You!
