Statistics Show Smaller Number Of Marriages, Births Upped For 1952

The number of marriages in Lamb County in 1952 will be substantially less than in 1951, is revealed by a study of the official records.

The full count and measurement of the vital statistics of Lamb County for the year of 1952 however, cannot be made and evaluated until after the 12th month, December, has ended and reports for that month filed with the recording authorities of the county, some time after January 1.

But reports covering all births and deaths for the first 11 months of the year indicate that the birth rate will be slightly upped over 1951, and the death rate slightly lowered.

Marriage records reveal a substantial drop in the number of Lamb county couples who took marriage vows in 1952, as compared with 1951. Marriage licenses recorded up to December 31 this year totaled 132 compared with 167 in 1951.

Births in 1951 totaled 416. For eleven months of 1952 the total was 397.

A new sheriff is being sworn in today in Lamb County and also a new deputy sheriff. But its nothing more than a bit of routine—exchange of badges, as the sheriff and the deputy are just making an exchange of places.

1952 Sheriff Dewey Dennis became Deputy Sheriff Dennis on New Year's Day—1952 Deputy Sheriff Dick Dyer takes the oath of office as sheriff today. At the same time several other deputies will also be sworn into service, to serve in other sections of the county.

We erroneously stated in last week's paper to come on January 29, which caused some misunderstanding.

New Income Tax Laws May Give Savings To Many Local Farmers

The majority of Lamb County farmers will be figuring and making income tax returns in the immediate future and during the next two or three weeks.

In recent months and during the past year several important changes have been made in tax laws applicable to farmers and farm owners. And in most cases to their benefit, and a possible reduction in—their tax bill.

The farm home is now separated from the rest of the farm real estate in figuring taxes on the sale of a farm. Land and farm service buildings sold at a profit will be treated as capital gains for which the tax is about half the rate on ordinary income.

If a farm home is sold and another of greater value is purchased within a year—or built within 18 months—there is no tax on the profit from the sale of the farm house. However, if the sale price of the old residence is greater than the cost of the new, the difference is subject to taxes.

Farmers can pay their taxes on the sale of a farm by installments if they are being paid by this method.

Taxes must be paid only on the part of the sale price received during any one year.

However, this method can be used only when the initial payments don't exceed 30 per cent of the total selling price.

Livestock now are capital assets. Profits from their sale can be taxed at the lower rate if the farmer has owned the animals a year, if they have been held for breeding, draft or dairy purposes and not primarily for sale in the ordinary course of farm business.

Farmers can get refunds for regular taxes paid on these sales back to 1948 and as far back as 1942 in a few cases. However, they must show records to prove the animals are subject to the capital gains tax.

Growing crops can be sold as part of the sale price of a farm when sold with the land. However, the following conditions must exist:

The farmer must have owned the land on which the crops are growing for at least six months. The crop must be still in the ground. Both the land and the crop must be sold to the same person. Production costs for the crop can't be deducted in figuring capital gains.

Early Start On Canadian River Dam Project

Representatives Mahon and Rogers, Texas Democrats, said today they will seek a one-to-two-million-dollar appropriation next year to start work on the proposed 85-million-dollar Canadian River dam project in their home state.

Congress already has authorized the dam and an aqueduct system to deliver water to a dozen cities and towns in the areas of West Texas.

Mahon, a leading Democrat on the House Appropriations committee, said he believes the Canadian River project will be included in the budget recommendations the President will send to Congress early in January.

Congress decided that approximately 93 per cent of the total cost—roughly 79 million dollars—shall be repaid by the cities affected.

The rest covers primarily flood control benefits.

"These cities and towns want to stand on their own feet," Rogers said.

"They are not asking for any grant or gift. They will repay the government."

He suggested that the government might underwrite the bonds and permit them to be issued tax-free.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a white wool jersey street length dress, interwoven gold thread, a white satin hat, trimmed with gold sequins, and a shoulder length veil of nylon illusion, edged with the same trim as the hat. Her bridal bouquet was of yellow rosebuds, tied with yellow net and yellow satin ribbons. For something old she carried a handkerchief that her maternal grandmother carried at her wedding which was also used by the bride's mother at her wedding, and also two of her aunts. The only decoration on the table, was the bride's bouquet, placed on one corner. The three tiered wedding cake was topped by the traditional bridal couple, and other decorations on the cake were rose, yellow and aqua colored icing flowers and tiny silver balls placed around the edge of the three tiers of cake. Forming a background for the table were the baskets of white gladioli.

Let's Eat Turkey—

Any day in the year may be turkey day. Turkey is a substantial food and can be bought in such convenient forms as frozen and packaged, or freshly drawn and ready to cook. Turkey is also available in ready-to-eat forms — canned, frozen or smoked.

Foods and nutrition specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggest, "Let's Eat Turkey" in a recent publication. "Like other meat, turkey provides protein for building and maintaining tissue and fat which supplies energy," they explain. "It is a good source of iron, an essential part of the red blood cells. Turkey contains phosphorus which combines with calcium to build bones and teeth. It also is a source of the B vitamins, particularly niacin."

The specialists say roast turkey usually comes to mind when thinking of eating turkey. It is a versatile food, however, which may be prepared in many ways. Such a food deserves every cook's best efforts. The recipes and directions in the "Let's Eat Turkey" bulletin are designed to do justice to a real Texas favorite.

The bulletin gives directions for roasting whole, half, or turkey parts. Instructions for preparing turkey st eaks, baked, sauteed or deep fat fried are also included. Fried turkey, fricassee of turkey wings, and recipes for using ground and left over turkey are featured.

Many of the recipes were worked out by Rose Erisman, Travis county home demonstration agent in partial fulfillment of requirements for a Master of Science degree.

Copies of B-201 "Let's Eat Turkey" are available in the county extension agents' office.

To vary ambrosia, slice bananas into the serving dish. Squeeze the oranges and pour juice over bananas. Then sprinkle with sugar and coconut. When prepared by this method, the sliced bananas and orange juice may stand in the refrigerator for half an hour or so and the orange juice prevents the bananas from becoming discolored.

Oranges are an excellent source of vitamin C. Plan to use them often while they are in season.

Lamb County Auto Owners May Obtain New Plates Without Inspection

Herbert C. Dunn, Lamb County Tax Assessor and Collector announced this week that Lamb County Automobile owners will be able to get their 1953 auto license without a new safety inspection, when they go on sale here February 1.

It has been announced by Chairman Hoxie Thompson of the public safety commission that the commission has no plan now to set a new inspection period and deadline.

shortage of windshield safety stickers, means that the section of inspection law requiring certificates before the car can be licensed won't apply for 1953 plates.

However, director Homer Garrison, Jr., of the Department of Public Safety said there would be no letup in state police enforcement of that part of the law requiring cars to exhibit inspection stickers.

Thompson also announced through the Associated Press: "We have no plan for a meeting to set up a new inspection period between now and the time the legislature convenes."

Without such a meeting, and with a delay in distribution of stickers brought about by rejection of 4,000,000 blanks because they lacked serial numbers, there was no prospect of delay for citizens who want to get their auto tags early. They usually become available around Feb. 1.

Many county tax offices had already announced they would waive the inspection certificates as a prerequisite to obtaining auto licenses.

Pair Arrested At Texarkana To Be Returned Here For Questioning

Texarkana law enforcement officers advised the Lamb County Sheriff's department this week that they were holding two men, Leon Knight, aged 33, and a youth aged 17, after they were arrested there this week. The pair were said to have been driving a car with New Mexico license plates.

Local officials were notified, according to Deputy Sheriff Dyer, after the two allegedly admitted breaking into the Littlefield school cafeteria about six weeks ago and were also said to have admitted a law violation at Muleshoe.

At the time of the school cafeteria robbery here, where a sum of money was obtained, three other local business places were broken into, including Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company, Wiley Roberts shoe shop and the City News stand.

The pair arrested by Texarkana officers are to be returned here, and will probably be questioned in connection with these three break-ins, as well as the school cafeteria case.

Wednesday morning sheriff's deputies were called to Amherst to investigate the break-in at the Merle Autry Department store, but a full report of the loss there had not been completed, and was not available at the sheriff's office.

county, have come from the rural areas.

In the past, the bulk of the campaign funds have been raised in the incorporated towns of the county, but Mr. White and the committee feel that the rural areas are ready and willing to take a bigger part and share, and that this year, the opportunity should be given to them to do so.

While the Lamb County chapter is in good financial condition, he stated, the need for funds for polio, can never be actually measured in advance, and the best and safest method is to raise a full quota of sustaining funds, that we may be always ready, should Polio strike heavily here, as it has in many other communities.

The National March of Dimes opens January 2nd and continues through the month of January.

The March of Dimes has always received generous and full support here, and Mr. White is confident that 1953 will be no exception.

New Year's Day Is Observed In Local Churches

A number of Littlefield churches are observing News Year's day with special services.

The Emmanuel Lutheran church will have a special service this morning beginning at 10 o'clock, when the pastor, Rev. Harold Heckman will bring the New Year's day message. Last night communion services were held, followed by a prayer and song service, which continued until midnight.

At First Baptist church the theme of the Wednesday night service was "Ring Out the Old, Ring In the New," which began at 7 p. m. when the church auxiliaries met, followed by a covered dish supper by the entire congregation, entitled "Ring Happy Bells." At 9 p. m. a prayer service was held, entitled, "Ring In the Love Of Truth and Right." Following the service a film, "Again Pioneers" was shown. A song and meditation service continued until 12:01. This was titled, "Ring In the Christ That Is To Be."

A candlelight communion service beginning at 11 o'clock continuing to 12:15 this morning was held at the First Methodist church, with the pastor, Rev. Harry Vanderpool, jr., in charge. Mrs. Wayne Brown and Miss Trudy McGee furnished the organ music during the meditation service.

SMALL "LUNGS" COLLECT DIMES

The distribution of more than 200 March of Dimes coin containers to department stores, shops, drugstores and other strategic spots throughout Lamb County this week, George White, director of the campaign announced today.

Mr. White said this was the largest number of the miniature "iron lung" ever distributed in this area—a fitting response, he added, "to the unparalleled demands made by last year's epidemic upon the financial resources of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis."

The little "respirators" are mounted on illustrated cardboard supports featuring the picture of the 1953 March of Dimes poster children and the campaign slogan "You Can Help, Too!"

Symbolizing Service "Today," said the director, "these little iron lungs symbolize the March of Dimes more accurately than ever before because this year there are many more patients in real respirators. During the 1952 epidemic, which was the worst in history, the National Foundation met more than 2,175 emergency requests for respirators. This was not only an all-time record for any single year but surpassed the number supplied in the previous three years combined."

"Respiratory polio requires the most expensive form of patient care and this treatment must be maintained, sometimes for many months and even years."

Everybody Likes Ike As Man Of The Year

BERRY BOWEN
Features Writer

The Army Dwight D. became a civilian in 1952. He resigned his commission to be President of the United States. As a newspaper man, he chose him Man of the Year on the basis of his landslide victory which ended 20 years of a government. That was his designation as Man of the year.

He became an international hero during World War II. He led the forces that smashed Hitler's Europe. After a term as chief of staff, top U. S. Army officer, he retired in 1948 to become president of Columbia University.

In the cold war posing as a peace maker, President Truman gave Eisenhower the job of running the country. He was a Republican nomination for the United States offered. At first he said no. But in the end he had, shown, great courage in several state primaries. He left his job and had himself placed in the White House without pay.

He led the country in what was the greatest contest with Russia. His nomination for the White House, ending the isolationism with the U. S. and the world.

He was still months of waiting before election. But he was ready for the victory. As he will become the civilian leader in chief of all U. S. forces.

Long before inauguration, he prepared for that role by a visit to the battle front in Korea.

Royal Succession
--"The king is dead... Long live the queen." Tragedy struck Feb. 6, 1952. Elizabeth II became "Queen of this real mand of her other realms and territories, head of the Commonwealth, defender of the faith." She is, by vote of the editors, Woman of the Year.

Death of King George VI found Elizabeth and her husband 4,000 miles away in Africa. She was substituting for her ailing father on a royal tour.

She flew back to England to become the living symbol of the British empire. Trained since childhood for that role, she is the 62nd sovereign of Britain since Egbert became king of Wessex in 827 A. D.

High tension in Iran continued throughout the year. The editors chose F. Mohammed Mossadegh, aged, ailing, emotional premier of that oil-rich country chief newsmaker in foreign affairs. It was in 1951 when he engineered the nationalization of Iranian oil which had been controlled by a British firm. But in 1952, with his country balanced on the brink of bankruptcy and tottering between alliance with the West and the threat of control by Soviet Russia, he faced crisis after crisis. The world's top diplomats worked with him, but all schemes to settle the dispute cracked up on the little British influence should be wiped out of Iran.

Man of Industry
The naming of Charles Erwin Wilson, head of the General Motors Corp., as Secretary of Defense in the Eisenhower Cabinet made him the year's chief newsmaker in industry. Wilson has often denounced government defense buying policies. GMC has been one of the major suppliers of war weapons. He will give up a six figure salary for the $20,000-a-year government job.

U. S. steel workers went back to their jobs July 26, 1952, after 54 days of strike. Lack of steel made a big hole in defense production. The wage hike (which involved a steel price increase) was hotly defended by labor leaders and denounced as inflationary by many business executives. Philip Murray was head of the steel union and of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (He died Nov. 11, 1952.) His part in the strike led to his selection by the editors as chief newsmaker of the year in labor.

The Nobel prize for medicine and physiology for Dr. Selman Abraham Waksman brought with it his selection as chief newsmaker in science. The Rutgers University professor discovered streptomycin, a drug used against tuberculosis, and its companion neomycin. Royalties have been turned back to the university.

Ernest Hemingway, who has written popular novels and received high critical acclaim since the '20s, is chief newsmaker in literature. His short book, "The Old Man and the Sea" was published in full in a magazine and then in book form. Some critics said it was a return to the old Hemingway, implying that some of his other recent works were not up to the old standard.

Religious Spokesman
Bishop Fulton J. Sheen is chief newsmaker in religion. The Roman Catholic prelate is credited with conversion of many leading Americans to his faith. He has for years conducted radio and television religious programs. His television program offered strong competition to leading comedians. In 1952, for the first time, his program had a sponsor.

Amid the medieval pomp and pageantry of royal succession which will not be completed until the coronation next June, Britons refer fondly to the legend that England waxes fat and prosperous under a queen. During the 45-year reign of the first Elizabeth 350 years ago, Britain became a leading maritime and world power. Under Queen Victoria, who died in 1901, the empire extended over nearly a quarter of the globe.

Rocky Marciano beat Jersey Joe Walcott to become heavyweight champion of the world and chief newsmaker in sports. A perfect right in the 13th round gave the shoemaker's son the title by a knockout; he had been trailing. Admittedly no boxer, he has an explosive punch in either hand.

Marilyn Monroe, sexy, wise-cracking, rags-to-riches new film star was chief newsmaker in entertainment. Cheesecake pictures brought her wide publicity as did her romance with Joe DiMaggio. Theatre men called her the No. 1 star of tomorrow, although none of her pictures has been rated as outstanding.

Flu At Olton Is Letting Up

Doctors last Saturday said the worst of Olton's flu epidemic which closed schools down a week early Monday seemed finished.

Dr. Jim Fite said the sickness is letting up.

He said he was able to get some rest Friday night for the first time in more than a week. Physicians at Olton Memorial hospital have been working around the clock.

School was turned out a week early when some 175 students were absent because of illness.

However, Dr. Fite said the sickness seems to have spread to the neighboring community of Hart. He said several new influenza cases from Hart came to the hospital for treatment.

Official Hearing of Canadian River Project To Be Held At Austin January 15

The necessary legal papers have been forwarded to the Sheriff of each County of the Canadian River Project cities for posting and publication in support of the Canadian River project. In support of the official hearing to be held by the State Board of Water Engineers on January 12, 1953, at Austin, on the question of the need of the Water District proposed by the twelve Panhandle and South Plains cities.

Members of the Executive Committee of the Canadian River Project met with the State Board of Water Engineers on November 20th and arranged for the hearing at the State Board's office in Austin beginning at 10:00 A. M., January 12, the earliest date on which the Board could function on the request hearing.

The Executive Committee has arranged for representatives of the Bureau of Reclamation who prepared the original report for the Bureau of the Budget which cleared the authorization bill for presentation to Congress, to be present at the hearing, and there will be others familiar with the details of the project present to also give testimony if required.

Mayor C. A. Huff, Vice-chairman of the Executive Committee, has expressed the hope that the Mayor from each of the Canadian River sponsoring cities will attend the hearing at Austin on January 12th, or, if they cannot go personally, that they will arrange to send a representative to the hearing. He stressed the fact that the hearing to be held by the State Board of Water Engineers is of great importance to each of the sponsor cities.

The Executive Committee met with Congressman A. L. Miller of Nebraska, and Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa, in Amarillo on the night of December 10th when information concerning the Canadian River Project was thoroughly discussed with Congressman Miller whose trip to Texas was to look into this project and has given the Executive Committee much renewed hope for early action toward arranging for construction of the project.

Ever Try A Soup Sandwich?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It is the honest opinion of most palate-wise Europeans, fortified by our own periodicals, that as far as food is concerned, Americans are nothing but a bunch of germ-conscious barbarians.

Few Frenchmen would exchange their crusty, long loaves which encounter Heaven-knows-what adventures during their naked route from oven to mouth, for a slice of our hygienic, double-wrapped, vitamin-impregnated bread. Most continentals regard with something like awe mixed with amusement our national preoccupation with sterile wrappings, our admiration of food prepared without resort to human hands, our dedication to refrigeration, chlorine and vacuum-packed, not to mention our determination to eliminate the drudgery or joy—depending on how you look at it—of food preparation, and our passion for saving time.

To the Average American blessed with the normal complement of taste buds and appreciation of good food, the rather condescending attitude of the gourmet-type European on American food habits smacks more of book-learning than eating.

As one who has sampled the fare of another of a number of countries with vast appreciation, I know that day-in, day-out eating in the United States is far better than it is elsewhere no matter how long he diner's purse. And I also know that the United States, for all its preoccupation with germs, is the only country where routine inquiry about the drinking water isn't necessary. And it's the only country I'll travel in without packing along, as standard equipment, bismuth and paragaric to mitigate pangs of a recurring, disagreeable ailment peculiar to travelers and expeditionary forces.

However, I believe that American pioneering spirit, as shown by a national interest in "trying something new," is likely to give the European a rather peculiar idea about our diet. Partly this is the fault of our newspaper and magazine writers who specialize in food and recipes. All of them are constantly in quest of something different and interesting to write about, and in a highly competitive field, sometimes food combinations sound strange.

Of recent date I've run across some pretty unusual food suggestions. Maybe they'd taste fine but the mere contemplation of the recipes sent shudders down my American spine, and they probably will make fodder for critical European food conservatives for some time to come.

There was, for instance, a suggestion that ham be "iced" with confectioner's sugar before baking. Then there was the recipe for peanut-butter cod-fish balls. And a salad made of sauerkraut and fruit.

I've heard talk about coca cola drinks and soda pop as the liquid in cake mixes, and there was some serious consideration given a ring mold which called for gelatine, cola drink and slices of bologna. Also cake made with tomato soup.

Recently it was suggested that doughnuts be used as the base of chicken a la king. I ate—and enjoyed, for goodness' sake—a shrimp curry served with baked bananas. Probably the rest of them are equally palatable, but my food-thinking is still too far to the right of center, and the habit of years too ingrained, to send me scurrying into the kitchen aflame with desire to combine, for instance, sauerkraut and fresh fruit in a salad. I'll continue to think of sauerkraut happily wed to spare ribs.

Meanwhile, I'd feel happier about the reputation of American food it our most violent critics would visit a few homes and restaurants and taste some of the plain, tasteful and good food which is routinely served.

Eisenhower Election Leads All News Stories Of 1952

By WARREN BENNETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The biggest news story of 1952 was the election of General Dwight David Eisenhower as 33rd President of the United States.

The year marked achievement of another V-E Day for the much-decorated war hero. The first came May 7, 1945, with victory in Europe over the Nazis. The second occurred last November 4 with victory on Election Day over the New and Fair Deal standard bearers. Ballots not bullets decided the issue in the second "great crusade."

In his march to the Presidency, the 62-year-old general carried every objective. He rolled up more popular votes than any other president in history (33 million); he cracked the Solid South (Va., Fla., Tenn. and Tex.), and swept the Republican Party into control of both houses of Congress. He carried 39 states with 442 electoral votes to his opponent's nine states and 89 electoral votes. It was one of the great personal triumphs in political history.

No other story ever ranked close in The Associated Press year end pool of newspaper and radio editors from coast to coast. Newsmen gave it the top spot by better than a 2-1 majority.

Stories which just failed to make the Top 10 classification were, in order, the epidemic of prison riots, floods in the south and midwest, N. Y. Yankees' fourth successive word series victory, new labor leadership caused by the deaths of Murray and Green, and the nationwide polio epidemic.

A Constitutional Question

Labor disputes in key industries generally depress the whole national economy. The steel strike this year affected not only national security but the whole structure of economic controls and, before it was through, a far-reaching question of the emergency powers of the President under the Constitution.

Last year and this spring the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) four times postponed strike calls backing demands for wage increases, a guaranteed annual income, union shop and other fringe benefits.

Pitted against each other were Philip Murray, CIO president and head of the steel union, and Benjamin Fairless, head of the U.S. Steel Corp., and spokesmen in negotiations for the industry.

On March 20, the Wage Stabilization Board announced its decision. The union accepted the terms but the steel industry refused unless permitted an increase in steel prices. The union was set to strike but President Truman in a nationwide radio and television broadcast denounced the steel firms for failing to accept the WSB decision and announced he was seizing the mills for the government.

Mr. Truman declared he was acting in the public interest during a national emergency under inherent powers granted him in the Constitution. The Supreme Court of the United States, in a precedent-making 6-3 decision, declared the presidential seizure illegal. The ruling placed a definite limit upon the Chief Executive's inherent powers and settled an historic issue of constitutional law.

A 54-day steel strike followed, ending on July 24, but not before the walkout had cost the nation an estimated 18 million tons of steel.

Korean Paradox

For the U. S., the Korean war already lasted longer than World War I. This country alone has suffered more than 126,000 casualties—more than the combined total of casualties in U.S. history except for the Civil War and World Wars I and II.

Each day the "little war" continues is a threat to survival of the United Nations, still infant international peace organization. Each day of fighting also increases the possibility of setting off World War III.

Hopes arose as President-elect Eisenhower made a three-day trip to Korea fulfilling a campaign pledge but the deadlock continued in truce talks at Panmunjom and in the U.N. where the latest compromise attempts were spurned by Russia. One issue—voluntary return of prisoners—was all apparently that delayed a cease-fire, but the U.S. said it could not, in honor, agree to abandonment of that principle.

Ike vs. Taft

Rivalry between Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, brewing all spring through primary and state convention skirmishes, exploded on television screen across the country with the opening of the GOP convention in Chicago. Millions of voters saw for the first time a camera's eye view of a fight to the political death. It was breathtaking; it was cruel, crude and elemental; it was politics.

London's bells tolled the death of King George VI February 6 while the Princess Elizabeth was substituting for her father on a royal tour. The news caught up with her in Africa and she hastily flew home to ascend the throne of Britain.

Man Against The Sea

The story of Captain Kurt Carlson of the Flying Enterprise is a throwback to the days of heroic adventure. The world cheered as the gallant skipper fought to save his crippled ship from the grim North Atlantic. The ordeal continued two weeks until on January 10 the ship foundered with Carlson leaping overboard just before it went down. The captain came home to a hero's welcome which embarrassed him mightily; he went back to sea on another ship as soon as possible.

This year was the last of a whole generation of Democratic control of federal government. Probes of government agencies such as the Internal Revenue Bureau turned up evidence of corruption and laxity. The revelagave Republicans two of their campaign slogans: "the mess in Washington" and "It's time for a change"

New Democratic Star

Gov. Adlai Stevenson was virtually a political unknown outside his state of Illinois before the Democratic convention in Chicago. When it was over, Stevenson was the Democratic Candidate for president. He conducted a new kind of campaign in which humor played hob with the nation's political center of gravity. Stevenson won 26 million votes, more than any ever given a loser. When it was over, the Illinois governor said it reminded him of what Lincoln had once said after losing an election. He quoted Lincoln as saying: "I feel like a little boy who stubbed his toe in the dark. He was too old to cry and it hurt too much to laugh."

Undoubtedly the most dramatic single incident of the presidential

"UNCLE JOHN" PRINGLE IS STROKE VICTIM

Recovering In Amherst Hospital

When word spread through Amherst and the entire Amherst community on Christmas day, that "Uncle John" Pringle had suffered a stroke, while alone at his little home in Amherst some time during Christmas eve—had lain all night on the floor, unable even to move to close the door of the little house, and when friends discovered him, and his plight on Christmas day, he was not only suffering from the effects of the stroke but from the cold which had numbed him for hours.

He was immediately rushed to the Amherst hospital where kindly nurses and doctors, practically all of whom love and know old "Uncle John," are doing everything possible for the always cherry fellow-citizen, who is known to have passed his 80th birthday some time in the past.

A daughter, Mrs. G. A. Goodman who also lives in Amherst, was not at home at the time, having left previous to Christmas for Seminole to spend the holiday. He also has other children and relatives with homes scattered at other points. All who can be reached have been notified.

Hospital attendants at Amherst said the condition of "Uncle John" was good, considering his advanced age, but the full result of the stroke cannot be fully determined for several days at least.

Mr. and Mrs. Stirl Harmon and daughter are spending the Christmas holidays in Tucson, Arizona with relatives. They were accompanied by their daughter Sandra.

Furniture Fashions

Perhaps no room in the American home has undergone such a complete style change as the dining room. The dining room at the left was considered smart—and quite typical of its era—in 1926. Today, flexible modern dining room pieces adaptable for either the formal dining room or the combination dining-living room, shown at the top, are preferred by the 1952 homemaker, who more often than not does not have a separate dining room. Dining, except at holiday time, is getting more casual and informal all the time, though most women insist on a table that may be opened, on special occasions, to accommodate a full family gathering. Furniture stores are now featuring an amazing collection of items for informal meals: hostess carts on wheels, stacking tables for TV suppers, chests that cleverly provide storage space for linens, china, silver, trays, etc., and room dividers that decoratively separate the living room from the dining areas.

Now that the holiday season is approaching, the dining table is of utmost importance. The furniture shown here is of mahogany in a warm light brown finish called mocha.

Influenza . . A Highly Infectious Disease

This is the season of the year when influenza or "flu" is most prevalent, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Colds, grippe, influenza, whatever we may call them, are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat. To protect yourself and others from such disease, here are some things to be remembered:

Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everybody is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you have had the disease you may contact it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are sneezing, coughing, or sniffing, or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia. Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel and always wash your hands before eating, and sneeze or cough into your handkerchief.

Keep fit by drinking plenty of water, by eating simple nourishing foods, by some exercise out of doors every day, by dressing according to the weather, by having plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room, and by keeping the bowels regulated.

Don't neglect your "cold." If you have the slightest suspicion of fever go home, go to bed immediately and call your physician. Stay in bed until he tells you that you can get up, and follow his advice explicitly.

Disastrous results may ensue if influenza cases are allowed to get about too soon. Persons convalescing from influenza are particularly susceptible to other infections. If you are just getting over some illness, return to your normal routine of life gradually.

Apply Common Sense Rules When Making Contracts

Since contracts may be entered into quite informally, many people fall into serious difficulties by binding themselves to agreements which they do not fully understand. It is easy for the unwary individual to obligate himself beyond his intent or ability to perform, and thereby invite litigation and a consequent judgment of forced performance or damages in favor of the other party to the contract.

Contracts are absolutely essential to the functioning of modern business. In order to plan for the future—to set up a business, insure a steady supply of necessary materials and goods, set a price and a delivery date on what we have to sell, etc.—we must know that the courts will, if necessary, enforce the contracts we make with others.

Only a minute percentage of the millions of contracts annually made find their way to the courts. But by seeing that the exceptional case which reaches litigation is settled justly, the courts make it possible for the remaining multitude of transactions to be conducted with a minimum of friction.

How can we minimize the possibilities of litigation over our contracts? How can we protect ourselves in event we should later wind up in court? A clear understanding of all terms of every contract entered into may prove the best answer to both these questions. Justice demands that we be held to the letter of our lawful contracts, lest the other party be damaged by our failure. Knowing this, we should apply a few common sense rules in our dealings with others.

First, let's take a look at the ordinary verbal agreement. Any terms about which you do not reach a specific agreement will probably be supplied by the customs of the particular business, or by a pattern set up by our previous dealings with the other party. Do you understand those customs? If not, talk it over. Have a clear conception of your obligations and the other party's duties. And be sure that he, too, understands fully.

If you have doubts concerning the integrity of the other party, why deal with him at all? If you feel compelled to deal with him in spite of your doubts, try to complete your oral agreement in the presence of other, disinterested persons. Their version of the terms may be helpful later.

One of the great difficulties with verbal contracts is that of proving exactly what agreement was reached when an argument over terms later winds up in the courthouse. Human memories are faulty, and we have difficulty recalling the exact words spoken six months, or even six days ago. A written memorandum signed by both parties at the time, or even a simple exchange of letters assenting to the material terms, may prevent trouble. When executing a written contract without benefit of legal counsel, take time to read and understand every word, even at the risk of be-

Poll Tax Must Be Paid By January 31

Poll taxes must be paid before January 31 before you can vote in any election in 1953.

Poll taxes can only be paid in the office of Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor in the courthouse at Littlefield.

Poll taxes cost $1.75 per person and must be paid before anyone can be eligible to vote.

Dunn said that poll taxes were being paid slowly so far. He attributed this to the fact that 1953 will not be a major election year, but pointed out that several important elections will be held and poll tax receipts are necessary for voting in any election.

Be wary when the other party offers a verbal explanation which seems at variance with the printed terms. When you get to court, you will probably find that the printed word means just what it says, and that the extraordinary oral explanation will not be admitted in evidence.

Bible Words to Live by

ROMANS 8:38—"I am sure that neither death nor life ... nor height nor depth, nor any other creature will be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

It would be more exact to say that the whole 8th chapter of Romans is my favorite passage from the Bible. But space permits the quoting of only the concluding verse of this magnificent chapter in which St. Paul sings in lyric strains the praises of Christian hope. Those who read the Bible for "the consolation afforded by the Scriptures" (Rom. 15, 4) could scarcely find a more suitable passage for their purpose.

The unshaken confidence in God which these verses inspire is based not on mere sentimentality, but on faith in God's word that "there is no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus" (v. 1), who are the sons of God because they are led by the spirit of God (v. 14), who suffer with Christ that they may also be glorified with him (v. 17). Our cooperation with God's grace is necessary. But the ultimate grounds for our hope of eternal bliss lie, not in our own merits, but in God's infinite love for us. Such "hope does not disappoint, because the charity of God is poured forth in our hearts by the Holy Spirit who has been given to us" (Rom. 5, 5).

1953 APPROVED CONSERVATION PRACTISES PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

There are 2,640 farms in Lamb County of which 2,065 completed their Intention Sheets covering the 10 approved conservation practices before the deadline date, December 12, for requesting assistance for the 1953 program.

Lamb County received allocation of $136,100 for 1953. The amount of assistance requested covered by the 2,065 Intention Sheets amounted to $735,986.89. Therefore it will be impossible to guarantee but a small portion of what each producer made a request for.

The Lamb County P. M. A. Committee has done their very best in making the necessary adjustments to encourage as much conservation for the coming year with the amount of funds available.

Tentative approvals will be issued on all permanent type practices for which the Soil Conservation Service has the technical responsibility. Prior approvals will be mailed out to all producers by the 15th of January. Producers will still, as in the past, have to come to the P. M. A. office to secure purchase orders for services before the job is started, even though they will have already received their Prior Approvals.

The purpose of the 1953 A.C.P. program is to give every producer an equal opportunity to participate in the program, and to encourage more and better conservation.

The P. M. A. Office will be closed December 25th and 26th for the Christmas holidays.

"A chance of a lifetime" is the description used to point up the importance to Texas Turkey producers of the information and chances for personal contacts that will be available to them during the National Turkey Federation convention to be held in Dallas January 6-9.

JAN. 3rd! First Showing of the

NEW FORD TRACTOR

Golden Jubilee MODEL

- ★ MOST ADVANCED Hydraulic System in any Tractor!
- ★ EXTRA POWER with New Overhead Valve Engine!

Yes, it goes on display Sat., Jan. 3rd, ready to show you what a really modern tractor can do. It's ready with extra power, extra size, extra weight. It's ready to demonstrate new handling ease, comfort and convenience.

It's ready also to introduce you to the advanced hydraulic system in any tractor. With its Live-Action Hydraulic Control. That means second hydraulic response any time the engine is running. Then there's a choice of hydraulic speeds when you want even faster action. It is a Hy-Trol.

This new tractor is ready with its great overhead valve Ford "Red Tiger" engine. With greatly reduced piston travel, lessened friction, other advanced design features, this engine develops ample reserve power with new economy in gas and oil. But it would take a full hour to list you of all the features and advantages of this engine—let alone the rest of the tractor.

Most important of all, Ford's Golden Jubilee Model is eager to show you what it can do. What this great combination of modern advancements and every time-proved Ford Tractor advantage means in more and better work, done easily and more profitably.

Don't miss this first showing! Come in and see all the good news, firsthand. Why not make Saturday for sure?

Control implements like never before! Touch the hydraulic control lever and you get split-second response. Lift, lower or adjust implements whenever tractor engine is running. Turn the Hy-Trol knob for even faster hydraulic action.

Step up performance of power take-off driven machines... with new LIVE POWER TAKE-OFF. Stop and start tractor while PTO operation stays under full power. Less slow-down, less clogging, less gear shifting. Increases safety, too.
