MANY COUNTIES WILL HAVE EXHIBITS AT THE AMARILLO FAIR

Counties south of Amarillo are thoroughly convinced of the value of the Annual Tri-State Exposition in the upbuilding of this territory. Secretary O. V. Vernon reports after a trip through Randall, Castro, Swisher, Lamb, Hale, Floyd and Briscoe counties in the interest of the fair to be held Sept. 22 to 28. All are coming with extensive agricultural exhibits and there will be keen competition for prizes.

It is becoming apparent daily that the county in the Texas Panhandle, the Oklahoma Panhandle and the Pecos Valley of New Mexico that does not have an exhibit will be conspicuous by its absence. It is estimated that the expense of bringing an exhibit to Amarillo will not exceed $50, and twenty counties will be awarded that much or more in premiums. First prize is $250.

GASOLINE FIRE CAME NEAR BEING SERIOUS

A hand fire extinguisher is a rather small implement of warfare, yet it was very potent in its influence Tuesday when some gas accidentally spilled on the floor of the Littlefield Service Station engine room ignited and flamed up, threatening to envelope the entire building.

On the wall nearby hung a little fire extinguisher, recently purchased for just such an emergency as this and a few shots of its contents into the threatening flame soon extinguished the danger.

Not even a dollars worth of damage was done but if the little extinguisher had not been handy, it might have meant a fire that would have wiped out half a block of frame buildings in that vicinity.

PLENTY OF RAIN IN LAMB CO. THIS WEEK

Raincoats, rubber overshoes, boots and similar paraphernalia have constituted the principal demand of Lamb County citizens this week.

The rain began Monday morning before daylight, and save for a few hours intermission Tuesday, is still at it as this newspaper goes to press, with slight indications of stopping.

Lamb County has certainly been blessed with an abundance of rain this year. Crops are all in tip top condition, and the ranchers are in high glee over the prospects of fine winter grass for their stock.

Some Hike

The above picture shows Joseph Frank Mikuler of New York starting his hike around the world with an album in which he will gather the signatures of royalty. The volume will be carried in a push cart. President Coolidge was the first to sign his name in the book.

MIRIAM FERGUSON WINS GOVERNOR'S RACE; ED BURRUS IS COUNTY JUDGE

According to the latest returns, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was in the lead for governor of the State of Texas by about 90,000 votes, with indications that lead might yet be increased as the votes began coming in from the "sticks and the forks of the creeks," where the Ferguson strongholds have always been located.

Barry Miller was leading W. C. Edwards in the Lieutenant Governors race by about 17,000 votes.

Attorney General, Moody had 485,000, while Ward had 222,000.

In Lamb County the race was a hot one. Perhaps not for many years had there been done so much political campaigning in the run-off as this year. From all sections of the county the people turned out en masse to vote, which vote was considerable more than that cast at the first primary.

For County Judge, Ed Burrus of Olton was nominated by more than 100 majority; while H. J. Carter, of Sudan received the nomination as Sheriff over his opponent. Carl Tremain received majority vote for commissioner of precinct 3, while Bill Miller barely nosed out for county chairman.

Since it has been impossible to obtain the total vote of all precincts in the county, the following partial list, with Spring Lake and Y. L. missing, is herewith given.

Road Signs For Automaniacs

The following list of road signs is suggested by "Bugs" Baer in the August issue of the magazine "Apropos". It would be well for some of the local speed fiends to carefully read and seriously consider them:

Speed limit in this town, fifteen miles an hour. One day for every mile over that.

Over 1,700,000 injured in 1923. Keep out of this census.

Don't run up your mileage with skids.

Keep your hand on the wheel. Let your girl hug herself.

Don't try to think with your brakes. There are three grades of eggs. There is but one grade of crossing and that's dangerous.

The glass in your windshield is the same stuff they put in hospital windows. Look through one or the other. Don't try to scare locomotives with your horn.

Accident insurance is a good thing to have without the accident.

A road hog roots up macadam with his nose.

We have seven hotels and one jail. Take your pick.

Your grandfather lived to be ninety because he had sense and so did his horse.

Act live a Pullman porter on curves. Give wide swingers a wide berth.

There is room for two hands on a wheel. No more no less.

Fifteen miles an hour may be a chill, but fifty is a fever.

You are approaching our insane asylum. Be yourself.

LAND SALES INCREASE EVERY DAY OF THE WEEK

PLAINVIEW EDITOR IS GIVEN SEVERE BEATING OVER A NEWS STORY

Returning to his office following the rally for James E. Ferguson at the municipal auditorium Wednesday afternoon, J. M. Adams, editor and owner of the Plainview News, was attacked on the street near his office and badly beaten about the head. It is alleged that Dowe Nix, living eleven miles east of Plainview, made the attack.

Before being taken to the Plainview Sanitarium Mr. Adams made the statement that the attack came practically without warning, that with his arms full of mail he was knocked down, and then kicked severely about the head. At the Sanitarium it was found that his jaw was fractured at the chin and several teeth loosened. It was necessary to take several stitches in his lip from a cut.

Frank R. Day, County Attorney, has brought a charge of aggravated assault against Nix, and he has been placed under $500 bond to appear for hearing the first day of September.

The attack upon Mr. Adams is said to have been the result of a news story printed in the News several months ago in which Nix figured.

YELLOW HOUSE LAND CO. LEASE THE PARK

Owing to their rapidly increasing business the Yellow House Land Co., have found it necessary to provide some means of caring for their customers who come in by auto to buy land. They have therefore leased the plot of ground at the head of Phelps' avenue commonly spoken of as the tourist park.

It is understood it will be managed in the future as a parking place for the patrons of this company, the tourists in general will be permitted the privileges of the camping ground under certain considerations. The limit of five days has been placed on camping privileges.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

During the past ten years a great deal has been heard about the "boy problem," and since about 75 per cent of the present crime is being committed by boys and young men sociologists have been scratching their wits to determine a method to counteract these criminal acts. The Leader has frequently suggested that the boy problem was not nearly so great as the parent problem, and if parents would live and act as they ought to and take more interest in their boys the juvenile crime lists would be greatly decreased.

Recently a bill was introduced in the New York legislature which holds parents legally responsible for the delinquency of their children under 16 years of age. Under the proposed law, parents would be punished for any of the following causes:

To permit a child to become a juvenile delinquent; to associate with vicious, immoral, or criminal persons; to beg or wander about on the streets late at night; to furnish entertainment for gain upon the streets or in a public place; to wander habitually around railroad yards; to be an habitual truant from school; to enter a disorderly house or any place where gambling is carried on; to enter any place where his morals may be in danger; and to be adjudged in court to be in need of care and protection of the state.

This is a good measure and ought to be passed in New York state and then in every state in the Union. It would certainly make a decided change in youthful crimes, if parents knew they were being held responsible and would receive equal punishment for the crime of their offspring.

Authorities agree that more than 75 per cent of child delinquency is because of improper home environment and parental indifference, and such a law would surely lessen the indifference of the home and change some of the local environment.

Any father that is indifferent to the proper moulding of the character of the child he has brought into the world ought to be amenable to the law of the state for his own delinquency. Parenthood is an assumed obligation and the obligation should be met, so far as it is possible within the power of human ability.

The proposed law meets one of the great unsolved problems of America, meets in an altogether different aspect, an aspect the editor of this paper has often urged upon legislators of Texas, and it is a law that entirely commendable and should receive weighty consideration.

DON'T FORGET RESPECT

Every young man of this community should remember that the young ladies are as much members of the human race as they are, yet occasionally one sees some of the male sex who act as tho the members of their opposite sex were created merely for their masculine pleasure and convenience. The young woman who has the right idea of womanhood will not allow a young man to be undue familiar with her, nor will the young man, if he has the proper ideals of womanhood desire so to be.

Every young man should ever remember that he should stand as the protector of every girl whose society he is permitted to enjoy. He should not forget that as he treats her so may some other girl who is nearer and dearer to him be treated. He should hold her as sacred in his thoughts and actions as he would have others hold his own mother or sister. And, above all other things, remember it is incumbent upon him to bring as clean a life to the girl whom he expects to marry as he demands of her.

WHEN OUT OF TOWN

When you go away from Littlefield, whether on business or pleasure bent there are a few things every loyal citizen should always do:

1. Register from Littlefield.
2. Call at a local commercial organization of that city and let them know where you are from, incidently volunteering some information about your home town and surrounding country; how rapidly it is growing, the fine crops, the fertile soil, pure water and healthful climate.
3. Drop into your hand bag some descriptive literature of your home town to enforce and back up your conversation with whomsoever you may meet.
4. Then keep your eyes and ears open as to what other towns under similar conditions are doing, and bring back home all the helpful suggestions you can accumulate.

A MUNICIPAL SYSTEM

The Leader is heartily in favor of a municipal waterworks system. It has already been demonstrated that an abundant supply of the purest water can be obtained right at the city limits—a supply that will afford at least 1000 gallons per minute and at a very low cost of pumping. Such a system would soon become a revenue producing proposition for the city. It would furnish much needed protection and cut down the exorbitant insurance rates considerable. Every day fire protection is delayed means increased risk of property.

THINK ABOUT THIS

What is Spirit?
What is the Littlefield spirit?
Is the Littlefield spirit what it should be?
If not, Why not?
What can I do to make it better?
Am I going to do it?

This is surely a year when West Texas will come into her own. Present indications are that it will raise 1,100,000 bales of cotton, basing the price of cotton at $150 a bale, the total income from the staple will be $175,000,000, and plus the seed price will total close to $200,000,000. The wheat crop, already harvested, has run close to 40,000,000 bushels which means at least $25,000,000. Then there are the thousands of dollars yet to be added from sudan, the sorgum grains and a big list of other things the farmers will convert into cash. Surely this is some country!

A couple of weeks ago 15,000 rabbits were killed in Deaf Smith county, the Commissioners Court paying a bounty of ten cents per head on them. Lamb County used to have a bounty of five cents per head on rabbits, but it was removed because they found they were also paying for lots of rabbits killed in adjoining counties. Now that Bailey, Cochran and Hockley counties are adjutting the necessity of swatting the jack and cotton tail, let these four counties get together and make a general cleaning out of these pests.

If the frost holds off long enough and not too much rain comes and the weather keeps hot enough and the bolls mature rapid enough the farmers of this section are going to make a big bunch of money out of their cotton—if they have the cotton.

Watering the garden just once won't produce the vegetables, neither will advertising once produce big increase in steady customers. But constant watering and constant advertising will bring satisfaction in both the garden and the business.

During the past three weeks there have been two narrowly averted fires, either one of which, if not quickly controlled would have meant the loss of thousands of dollars worth of property. The next one may not be so fortunate. Every day of delay in purchasing a chemical engine increases the risk.

A Lamb County farmer may be pardoned if he leans on his hoe a few moments to cogitate on the fact that a Chicago grain speculator cleaned up a million dollars without even having a hoe in his hands.

Now if we would be really prosperous, let the Chamber of Commerce be revived up and line up to assist the new City Government. There are innumerable things which they can do to assist the administration.

When the city government gets to functioning a little stronger, perhaps it will put a halt to the people using the sidewalks as parking places for autos and farm implements.

The sound of the saw and hammer goes merrily on in Littlefield. This week 14 new buildings aggregating a cost of $150,000 are in process of construction.

Every lot that is covered with a house makes this town look more like the city it is destined to be.

SHEETROCK

The FIREPROOF WALLBOARD

You can build solid, permanent walls and ceilings at low cost with Sheetrock, the different wallboard.

Sheetrock is made of pure gypsum, and its use assures dense, durable walls of exceptional quality. It is fire-proof, non-warping—takes any form of wall decoration.

Sheetrock is extensively used in homes for new walls and ceilings. It withstands years of wear and tear. Its moderate cost and excellent quality make it standard wall material for the modern dwelling.

Sheetrock also lends itself admirably to alterations and remodeling. Its broad, standard size sheets— $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch thick—are quickly and easily erected. It saws and nails like lumber. Once in place, Sheetrock is up to stay, and its life is as long as the building itself.

Come in and let us show you what Sheetrock is, how it differs from ordinary wallboard, and how it may be used in new construction or alterations.

Politics 110 In Shade!

With politics 110 in the shade, with rain falling plentifully, and with the prospects in West Texas at least 50 per cent above normal, why wait longer about figuring out that Tractor or Row Binder?

With the election of Mrs. Ferguson, only a matter of counting the votes, which means good times in Texas for at least two years, and with cat fish going up stream why should we worry?

FARM IMPLEMENTS

Simply get down in your jeans and get ready for the biggest time next year that ever happened on the Plains. Some one says "wait". But that is not what John King did. Last fall he bought two tractors and a new Row Binder and let the weather take care of itself. Now John has about 900 acres of the best cotton in Texas, and the seed from this cotton will pay for every implement and tractor he bought.

It is the fellow who tries that the Lord helps. Pray and then put your shoulder to the wheel. Salvation is free, but you have to pay the freight. Do your part and Providence will do his.

We have two tractors of the 10-20 type and one 15-30 that we will make you as good terms as you can get anywhere, also the plows to go with them. This will enable you to prepare your land early and conserve the moisture of fall and winter.

BINDER TWINE

The joy of renderin' service to our patient feller men has met with God's approval sence—it ain't no tellin' when! So, I greet the August mornin' with rejuvenated pluck, an' devote my artist-energy to raisin' garden truck.

I reckon there is millions in the hole that reaches Oil—but, a feller sleeps lots sounder as a tiller of the soil—there's too blame many debits to a "pool" that ain't been struck—I'd rather handle credits as I hoe my garden truck.

With everything around me fairly leapin' to my taste, and with appetite so capable that nothin' goes to waste—if that ain't life's completeness, then I reckon I am stuck—but, I can't take time to argy, when I'm raisin' garden truck!

If we foller out our ruthers—then our life is like a song,—the cabbage plant and onion sett don't treat a feller wrong—then the crispy, crinkly lettuce—an' the sweet corn in the shuck—we can't ignore the dividends from raisin' garden truck!

PAYS TO USE GOOD SEED WHEAT

By H. M. Bainer, Director.
The Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association.

Even though Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas have just harvested a big wheat crop, good authority has conservatively estimated that, through the use of better seed alone, the total yield could easily have been increased 25,000,000 bushels. This is equivalent to an additional profit of $25,000,000, as good seed costs very little more than ordinary seed. In fact, if better seed had been sown, thereby improving the quality of the crop and eliminating smut, rye and mixtures, the increase in value would easily have been twice this amount.

Mr. A. H. Leidigh, agronomist of the Texas Experiment Station, says: "Through the use of superior varieties of seed wheat in Northwest Texas, during recent years, large increases in yields have been secured. Had this kind of seed been uniformly sown last fall, in the place of a lot of country-run mixtures, the profits to Panhandle farmers this year would have been increased thousands upon thousands of dollars."

Central-North Texas is known by the mixed wheat it grows; pure seed is almost unknown. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has repeatedly tested the mixtures grown, as well as graded versus ungraded seed, and has found that the yield can be greatly improved through pure seed. The Station is ready to recommend and help locate seed of certain pure wheats for sowing in this part of the state."

Country-run seed can be greatly improved by cleaning.

ACTUAL RESULTS FROM GOOD SEED.

In Kansas (From 6 1/2 to 12 bushels in.) County Agent Roy E. Gwin, Columbus, writes: "Last fall, Mr. H. Shaffer sowed part of his field with a pure variety of wheat which gave him an average yield of 31 bushels per acre, while the balance of the field sown with ordinary seed yielded 21 bushels per acre." Mr. J. L. Bainer, a well known farmer of Scott County, reports a gain of 1 1/2 bushels per acre in favor of good seed. Still another farmer from Pratt County reports 23 bushels an acre from good seed, while his neighbor sowed "just wheat" and harvested 11 bushels an acre.

down one grade or more on account of rye. On this basis, the wheat delivered in Kansas City from July 1, 1923, to April 30, 1924, would have included over 1,300,000 bushels mixed with enough rye to lower the quality from one to two grades, representing a loss of approximately $50,000 on this one market in less than one season.

Mixed Seed. There may be one predominating variety in mixed seed suitable for local conditions, but it is out of the question to assume that a mixture of two or more varieties is uniformly desirable. Crops from this kind of seed do not ripen evenly and when sold, grade as "mixed," with considerable reduction in price.

The dry method—applying copper carbonate for smut.

In Nebraska (A gain of 9 bushels.) County Agent C. R. Young of Dakota City, says: "I furnished seven farmers with good, pure seed wheat, which outyielded the wheat from the common seed of the county by 9 bushels per acre."

In Oklahoma (A gain of 3 bushels.) A report from County Agent Tom M. Marks, of Ellis County, says: "During the past three years, I have kept an accurate record of the yields of twenty fields of wheat sown with good seed of adapted varieties in comparison with the yields from fields sown with the common varieties. All fields were handled alike, so far as preparation, date of sowing and quality of soil were concerned. The three-year average showed an increase of almost three bushels per acre in favor of the adapted varieties."

In Texas (A gain of 7 bushels.) Our last year's records show that eight Panhandle farmers sowed a total of 968 acres of wheat; they made an average yield of 17 bushels per acre on 460 acres, sown with good seed, and 16 bushels per acre on 508 acres sown with country-run seed.

Sow Clean Seed at Least.

Even though country-run seed may lack purity, it can be greatly improved by cleaning and grading. Good authority states that 20 per cent of the wheat sown in the Southwest consists of cracked, immature or injured kernels that will not grow. The feeding value of these kernels, which are useless as seed, will pay the expense of running the seed through a cleaning mill. It is generally known that the best wheat farmers, who re-clean their seed and sow only the purest, obtain yields of at least 3 to 5 bushels more than the country average.

Avoid Rye. The presence of rye in wheat cuts down the grade as well as the price. It causes the flour and produces a heavy bread. Five per cent of rye in a choice milling wheat will reduce the price from 3 to 5 cents a bushel. Over 2 1/2 per cent of the Hard Winter wheat coming into Kansas City during 1919, 1920 and 1921 graded

The wet method—applying formaldehyde for smut.

Look Out for Smut. The loss in the Southwest this year from stinking smut is greater than for the past several years—amounting to millions of dollars. Fully 90 per cent of this loss could have been prevented through seed treatment just before sowing. The cost of the material for treating seed is from 1 to 5 cents a bushel.

Treatments for Smut. Use of Formaldehyde. The old standard and dependable remedy for smut consists of dipping, floating or sprinkling the seed in a solution containing 1 pint of formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water.

Use of Copper Carbonate. This new, dry method of seed treatment is now being quite generally recommended by agricultural colleges. It consists of thoroughly mixing the seed with copper carbonate dust, at the rate of 2 ounces to a bushel. "Coppercarb," a well known commercial mixture may be used at the rate of 4 ounces to a bushel of wheat. This treatment cannot be made by shoveling; it must be done in some kind of a mixer, either home-made or commercial. An old churn, as shown in the illustration, or a concrete mixer will do.

For more information on either of the above methods, see your county agent or write the state agricultural college.

How and Where to Obtain Seed Wheat.

Those desiring to locate pure or certified seed should see their county agent or write the state agricultural college. The Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association is locating a lot of good seed, as well as the districts needing seed. Where seed is needed, arrangements are being made so that the local mill, elevator or county agent will have on hand a supply of suitable seed, which can be bought or exchanged, usually on a cost basis. If you have more seed than you need or if you desire good seed and are unable to obtain it through your county agent, write The Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association, 946 New York Life Building, Kansas City, Missouri.

Four grand-promote was passed by the legislature on Feb. 23, 1917, as a law on the great and useful son never signed a line to do more for prosperity to the general future than the law vocational training in our schools.
 What does it mean? It means that just as fast as the people can be educated up to the standard of asking for it in and our school boards can be induced to provide it the boys and girls of Texas and the United States will be trained in the science of home economics and agriculture.
 But what does vocational agriculture do for the school or community? It teaches boys to do almost any and everything that needs to be done on a farm by the project method. It teaches them the savings bank method through the income from the project. It develops rural leadership among the boys which is needed more than anything else in the rural community. It teaches the scientific principles of farming and farm management. And above all it teaches boys to recognize there is something to learn on a farm about a farm. It teaches a boy to enjoy his work because it helps him to understand his business. When things go wrong he is taught to look for the reason. It teaches him to KNOW and BELIEVE that things do not just happen on the farm any more than they do anywhere else. That the law of cause and effect applies there the same as elsewhere. And if the crops or the pigs do not grow as they should there is a reason. It teaches the boy to respect the farm because intelligence raises the standard of business. It teaches the boys of the country to raise the kind of hogs and calves and poultry and crops they are proud of. No body can love a business that they are not proud of. And the very reason we have so many half-hearted farmers is because they are proud of their products and the

THE first Christmas to the Indians was through the government, and though simple at first, their Christmas today is replete with joy and revelry and very spectacular. (I speak especially of the Pawnees.)
 A big council house has been built at Pawnee, Okla., in which to celebrate Christmas. The tribe assembles near, and is encamped until after New Year. Christmas is the great event of the year, and a beautifully decorated tree is the feature. Gifts from togethery to automobiles are given; beaves are roasted, and feasting, dancing and singing are a part of the program.
 It was only a few days until Christmas, and Eagle Eye, seeing palefaces said: "We have big heap turkey! I'll take them back and will catch you before you make the hill." He was off at Indian speed. Rachel started to mount but was jerked around and she stood face to face with Anita.

 "Oh, Anita, you wouldn't hurt me! I'm your friend!" said Rachel.
 "No, you my enemy! You sneak like Sioux! Eagle Eye give you buffalo robe. I hate you! You'll ride no more with him! Hear!"
 Anita clapped her hand over Rachel's mouth, threw her into Bear creek, then skulked down the stream.
 Big Jim, white chief of the tribe, who lived on Blue Hawk peak, saw Anita throw Rachel into the creek. He ran, dived into the water and brought Rachel to the surface; unable to get up the steep bank, he called loudly for help. Eagle Eye was returning and answered the call; together they climbed the bank.
 "Why you here, Jim? You sneak! You'll explain this," said Eagle Eye, as he tenderly wrapped his blanket around Rachel.
 It was Christmas Eve; Rachel and Eagle Eye were behind the curtain.
 "Eagle Eye, Jim cares nothing for me; he saved my life and you must not harm him," said Rachel. "I've told you I can't marry you; I respect and like you; Anita loves you. Marry her, Eagle Eye—one of your own race."
 "Me marry Anita after she tried to kill you! No; Indian is always avenged."
 "Eagle Eye, you are your people's leader; they believe in you. It was love for you that prompted Anita to do as she did. You felt the same toward Jim when you thought he was taking me from you. Don't you understand? You are educated; you're to lead your people. Promise me? This is Christmas, Eagle Eye, and we should have good will toward all. You will promise me?"
 Eagle Eye took Rachel's hand. "I promise," he said.
 The curtain was drawn and the whoops and yells expressed but mildly the joy of the first Christmas to the Indians.

TEXAS CLOTHES A MULTITUDE

Enjoying the double distinction of having produced the country's largest cotton crop and greatest wool clip, Texas contributes vastly more than any other state to clothing the race.
Despite the handicap of prolonged drouth, the government estimate credits Texas with 4,450,000 bales of cotton this year, as against 4,209,000 bales last year. That is more than a third of the total production, placed at 12,816,000 bales.

Experienced observers say this state is destined to grow the bulk of the country's cotton. These figures presage the coming of that day.
Texas still has vast areas of undeveloped lands adaptable to cotton-growing. Irrigation, particularly in West and Southwest Texas, will open new empires devoted to the fleecy staple.
This year, with an 18,000,000
pound clip, Texas wrests from Wyooming the leadership in wool production. The sheep industry is capable of vast expansion here, as well; there is no reason why American mills should import as much as half their wool supply. A great deal of it can be raised in this state.

With cotton bringing 24 cents and wool above 55 cents a pound, money is flowing into Texas' coffers. The months ahead will be prosperous.—
San Antonio Express.

and quality of soil were concerned.
The three-year average showed an increase of almost three bushels per acre in favor of the adapted varieties."
In Texas (A gain of 7 bushels.)
Our last year's records show that eight Panhandle farmers sowed a total of 968 acres of wheat; they made an average yield of 17 bushels per acre on 480 acres, sown with good seed, and 10 bushels per acre on 508 acres sown with country-run seed.
Sow Clean Seed at Least.
Even though country-run seed may lack purity, it can be greatly improved by cleaning and grading. Good authority states that 20 per cent of the wheat sown in the Southwest consists of cracked, immature or injured kernels that will not grow. The feeding value of these kernels, which are useless as seed, will pay the expense of running the seed through a tanning mill. It is generally known that the best wheat farmers, who re-clean their seed and sow only the purest, obtain yields of at least 3 to 5 bushels more than the country average.
Avoid Rye.
The presence of rye in wheat cuts down the grade as well as the price.
It causes the flour and produces a heavy bread. Five per cent of rye in a choice milling wheat will reduce the price from 3 to 5 cents a bushel.
Over 2 1/2 per cent of the Hard Winter wheat coming into Kansas City during 1919, 1920 and 1921 graded

::: Vocational Agriculture :::

By Phebe K. Warner

Isn't it strange that the greatest missions in all the world have always been looked upon as calling for no special training or knowledge of the business. And those two great missions are Home Making and AGRICULTURE. The very foundation of life and living. Yet how many people, men or women have ever had any intelligent training for either?

As recently as 1905 a small percent of even our so-called educators appreciated the need for vocational education. And as late as 1910 the idea of vocational training for either boys or girls was a subject of universal debate. And yet the whole country was full of poorhouses, jails, and paupers and criminals. Every state had its asylums and penitentiaries and reform schools. And every year they grew, and more space had to be provided and more money appropriated to take care of our homeless and helpless and hopeless citizens. And who pays all the bills for such citizens? Most of those bills, like most of all our living comes directly from those citizens who have been able to make a home and pay tax on it.

And the next most strange thing is that so many of the tax payers seemed more willing to pay taxes to keep up the homeless and the helpless and the hopeless and to keep on producing more of them than to pay their taxes to prevent such conditions. Now isn't that stranger than fiction? Trouble is we have all read too much fiction and not enough truth. The truth bothers us and worries us and we don't want to be bothered. We would all rather read something real terrible and thrilling that we know is not so and won't need changing. We get the mental punch out of it just the same but we do not have to change any of our ideas or actions because we know it is just a story. And that is why we like it. We read it to satisfy our curiosity. That is why so many like the missionary work. They can get the thrill there is in it out of it for ten cents a month and a prayer. That satisfies them. It puts them at peace with their own conscience. And makes them think they have actually done a great work for the salvation of a lost world.

How many of us would call in a doctor to take care of our sick child if we knew he had never had any training for his profession? Yet how many mothers have ever been educated in how to KEEP their children WELL? Which is the most important? Which would save the most suffering and anxiety and even cold cash? Which would save the most children from premature graves?

The Smith-Hughes law, providing Federal aid to the different states for promotion of vocational education was passed by the Sixty-fourth Congress, signed by President Wilson on Feb. 23, 1917, and became effective as a law on July 1, 1917. In all his great and useful life President Wilson never signed a law that is destined to do more to bring peace and prosperity to the generations of the future than the law providing for vocational training in our public schools.

What does it mean? It means that just as fast as the people can be educated up to the standard of asking for it in and our school boards can be induced to provide it the boys and girls of Texas and the United States will be trained in the science of home economics and agriculture.

But what does vocational agriculture do for the school or community? It teaches boys to do almost any and everything that needs to be done on a farm by the project method. It teaches them the savings bank method through the income from the project. It develops rural leadership among the boys which is needed more than anything else in the rural community.

It teaches the scientific principles of farming and farm management. And above all it teaches boys to recognize there is something to learn on a farm about a farm. It teaches a boy to enjoy his work because it helps him to understand his business. When things go wrong he is taught to look for the reason. It teaches him to KNOW and BELIEVE that things do not just happen on the farm any more than they do anywhere else. That the law of cause and effect applies there the same as elsewhere. And if the crops or the pigs do not grow as they should there is a reason. It teaches the boy to respect the farm because intelligence raises the standard of business. It teaches the boys of the country to raise the kind of hogs and calves and poultry and crops they are proud of. Nobody can love a business that they are not proud of. And the very reason we have so many half-hearted farmers is because they are a know how to help it. Vocational agriculture in our schools will make intelligent, self-respecting boys that will be proud to prove what they can do. Why should not every farm boy be taught how to farm the most interesting and profitable way the same as other boys are taught how to become intelligent professional men? Which does the country need most today? More and better professional men or more and better farmers? Then why not devote all high school courses toward the professions both in the city and the country? Why not give the farm boys a square deal the same as other boys?

In Memory of Jimmie

Donelda Carrell

On October 9th, 1922 a little babe came into the home of Jim and Minnie Carrell and it is needless to say that with every hour of its stay a new hope was cherished and a latent fear was felt. But on last Friday morning all those fondest hopes were shattered, for the precious soul of little Jimmie Donelda Carrell was called from the home of Jim and Minnie to that of the angels above the skies. We do not try at this hour of their great loss to offer consolation for no mortal can console a parent in the loss of a darling babe, and knowing how vain our words would be, we leave them with their grief, and we can only wish that the parents in passing through their grief may find strength to fix their gaze on the star of hope and thing of baby Jimmie Don as one of the angel band that is waiting over yonder and in her Angel fingers she holds the gold on key that will unlock the treasures of heaven to Jim and Minnie Carrell. "The little crib is empty now, The little clothes laid by, The mother's hope the father's joy In dead cold arms doth lie."

"Go little pilgrim to thy home, On yonder blissful shore, We miss thee here but soon will come Where thou hast gone before."

Contributed.

The Why of Superstitions

By HIRLING KING

ST. ELMO'S FIRE

FEW superstitions of the sea are better known than that which attached to the electric phenomenon known as St. Elmo's fire—those ghostly lights which, in certain conditions of the atmosphere, burn at the top of masts or on the end of yards. They are, of course, natural electric lights, easily explainable by anyone with the slightest knowledge of electricity. But it must be confessed that they don't look so, especially if they jump about in the rigging with that weird rustling sound.

The first notice we have of these lights is in the story of the Argonauts, when they appeared shining about the heads of the images of Castor and Pollux on the ship Argo in the midst of a storm and assured the safety of the vessel. From thence down through the classic ages the lights were known as the Dioscuri—the twin brothers, Castor and Pollux—and seem generally to have been regarded as a good omen. But Porphyry, writing in the Third century says: "It is now asserted on the contrary by sailors that Castor and Pollux are generally a menace."

Yet many centuries later, when the lights appeared on Columbus' ship on his second voyage, "the sailors sang prayers and litanies to St. Elmo, confident that in these storms where he appears there can be no danger."

When Christianity deposed the heathen gods the lights took the name of St. Elmo; of whom one legend is that he was a Sicilian bishop who, dying amid a storm at sea, promised the sailors that he would appear to them if they were to be saved. As soon as he died the lights appeared and the storm abated. Different ages and different races have differently interpreted the significance of the St. Elmo's fires; but it is safe to say that to the majority of sailors today they are harbingers of evil. The telephone and the wireless do not awe the modern sailor but, thanks to a superstition inherited through some three thousand years, St. Elmo's fire does.

FAVOR VEGETABLES IN WINTER DIET

Vegetables and Fruits Are Rich in Essential Salts.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Vegetables should be freely included in the winter diet as well as in the summer one. Doctors say that that tired-out feeling which many people have at the end of winter—"spring fever"—often comes from a lack of fruits and vegetables in the winter diet. Plenty of vegetables keep the children well and make their meals more appetizing. Vegetables mashed and put through a sieve are more easily digested by little children.

Salts of many kinds are needed by the body, or it will not work smoothly. Vegetables and fruit are rich in them and if you eat a variety you are sure to get all the salts that you need. When the water in which vegetables are cooked is thrown away, valuable salts are often wasted. Sometimes the flavor is not desirable, but if it is good save this water for soup or gravy. An even better process is to cook the vegetables in as little water as possible so there is none left to drain off, or bake or steam them. Canned and dried vegetables often need only skillful seasoning to make them taste as good as the fresh variety.

Canned corn is very good when turned into a baking dish with the addition of milk and seasoning added, heated through. In the oven, and allowed to brown on top. Outside stalks of celery, a green pepper, or both, chopped and added before baking, will vary the flavor of the dish.

Baptist Revival Begins With 13 New Members

The revival of the local Baptist church began last Sunday under the direction of the pastor, Rev. S. W. Smith, assisted by Prof. John Nicholson, in charge of the singing.

There was excellent attendance at both Sunday services, and 13 new members were added at the morning hour.

On account of the rains this week, the services have been somewhat hindered the folks from the country not being able to attend, owing to muddy roads.

Rev. Smith expressed himself as very optimistic regarding the future of the Baptist church in Littlefield and declared there should be 100 additions during this meeting.

Man's Duty to Profession

Wm. Hay Honored As A Nominee By Republican Leaders

Mm. A. Hay returned Monday from attending the Republican convention for the 18 congressional district, held at Amarillo.

In the nomination for congressman the names of A. B. Spencer, of Crosbyton and Wm. Hay, of this city were placed before the convention, Mr. Hay withdrawing in favor of Mr. Spencer who was nominated.

A. B. Spencer is well known throughout West Texas. He is one of the leading citizens of the South Plains country and was president for two terms of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is reputed to be one of the best authorities in the state on railroad rates and has had a wide experience in general business affairs.

Mr. Hay declared that on account of the general dissatisfaction with the Democratic nominee for governor in this state there would be a large number of the members of that party
