SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Land owners cooperating with the Lamb County Soil Conservation District have requested assistance on 25 terraces and diversion systems to be constructed this spring. Thurio Branscum of the Pleasant Valley community and Chairman of the Lamb County Soil Board of Supervisors says that it is a good start, but that there is a need for a lot more.

Diversion systems have been constructed on the farms of Donald Street of Springlake, Melvin Gregg and J. T. Graham of Lums Chapel, and J. W. Emfinger and James Schrigley of the Bainer Switch community. These are all level diversions with partially closed ends. They are constructed to hold a normal rain by spreading the water over an area behind the diversion, but on heavy rains they are designed to let the excess water flow around the end in various designed structures to prevent erosion.

Terraces have been constructed on the farms of Rufus Ogerly, A. O. Dixon, John N. James Estate, J. C. Hilburn of the Ball Lake area, Carl Locker, South of Bainer Switch, and Leonard Albus of the Pep community. These are all standard terraces except the ones on Ogerly's, Dixon's, and John N. James Estate. These terraces are designed to spread the water that falls on the farm over a certain area; others may be designed to pick up excess water from other farms and spread it over a field. This type of system has to be designed to fit each farm with structures built to let excess out, or after so much gets in, to let the rest by-pass.

Joe F. Krizek, Agricultural Engineer for the Soil Conservation Service, designed the systems that have been installed. The terraces and some diversions were constructed on dryland farms. The other diversions were on irrigated farms and were built to protect steep slopes or a leveled field below the diversion.

Have you seen the new stationery that you can make a carbon copy from without the old messy carbon? Yep, it is chemically treated to make a carbon. It will be invaluable to salesmen who have to make a copy of every order and to stenographers.

And did you see those ball point pens that have perfumed ink? The boys got some for Christmas, they are decorated with rhinestones.

We were out visiting with one of our friends who was painting an old trunk. It was most beautiful. Painted turquoise and trimmed with gold and it was to have sprays of roses painted on it. She planned to use it for her knitting and sewing.

Speaking of knitting we have seen some of the loveliest dresses and sweaters lately that were hand knit. Fanny Jones has two that she has made that are professional.

We understand that Mrs. Ben Lyman Sr., has joined The Art Club. We can think of nothing that is finer than for these ladies like Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Thaxton, Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. Bussanamas and many others who all have their children grown than for them to take up a hobby like painting. Time passes fast, and it is something that you can see what you have accomplished. Stay with it girls, we are looking forward to the day when we can do just that.

Speaking of hobbies, we know ladies who braid wool rugs, piece quilts, make beaded spectacle cases, Christmas stockings, knit booties, sweaters and caps for pastime, and at the same time make a little money at it. It isn't the money that is so important, it is just that all women like to make a little spare money whatever they may have and there is always a place to spend it.

We enjoy the Home Demonstration write-ups for at every meeting they do or learn something that is constructive and useful as well as self-improvement.

"Monthly Pains" stopped or amazingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' tests!

• Chances are you're putting up — unnecessarily — with the functionally caused pain, cramps and weak, "no good" feelings of menstruation! For, in actual tests by doctors, Lydia Pinkham's Compound brought complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases!

Lydia Pinkham's is modern in its action!

So get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — or new, improved Tablets with added iron. See if — taken through the month — it doesn't give relief from those backaches, headaches — help you feel better before and during your period!

Or — if you suffer from functional "hot flashes" of "change of life," find out how wonderful Pinkham's is for that, too!

It has a quieting effect on uterine contractions that often cause "period" pain!

John Bellar, member of Sudan Chapter, FFA.

Sudan FFA Youth Makes $981.26 On Projects

John Bellar, sixteen year old member of the Sudan Chapter, FFA, derived the largest labor income of the chapter's last year's Farming and Livestock projects. His labor income for the year's activities was $981.26.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bellar, John branched out with two different project undertakings. 230 hens for egg production, and the raising of Sudan grass for seed.

However, John states he enjoyed working with his swine in the livestock division best of all. Other than a gilt and 230 White Rock hens, which averaged $1.00 each in labor income, John also had a dairy heifer in his livestock project.

Included in 32 acres of dry land farming was 10 acres of cotton, 10 acres of grain sorghums, and 12 acres of Sudan grass. John also farmed a dry land laborer not included in his project.

His cotton yield per acre was 159.6 of lint while his grain yield was 500 lbs per acre. He received a labor income of $212.88 for his 12 acres of Sudan grass raised for seed.

John's planned activities for this year's projects include ten acres of cotton, a sow and litter, and a Berkshire barrow for exhibit shows.

A member of the Junior class of Sudan high, this is John's third year to be a member of the FFA chapter for which he is serving his second year as secretary. He is an honor student and was recently chosen for the leading role in the annual Junior play to be presented February 17.

An estimated 700,000 million dollars a year is being spent on new U. S. religious structures.

Intellectually honest in the matter, that there is no other way to enable the farmer to compete and receive his fair share of the export market for cotton and other farm products.

There is no secret as to what can be done for the farmer that will put him on a par with the factory worker, who is subsidized already. All we need to do is have the intestinal fortitude to call a spade a spade, and admit that a subsidy payment to the farmer will solve the entire problem. It will enable us to get rid of our surplus into consumption instead of giving it back to the farmers.

If the price is brought down to the world price, very shortly there will be no surplus to worry about, and within a few short years the farmers will be able to grow more cotton and sell it to those who will move it into consumption.

Richey To Head Local Oil Program For Information

John Richey has been appointed to head the Texas oil industry information and service program for local residents.

Appointment of Richey was announced by M. M. McNichol, area chairman.

Objective of the American Petroleum Institute-sponsored information program is to make clear how well the people of this area are served by many oil businesses and to gain support for conditions under which they can continue to be privately managed, fully competitive and financially sound.

The local OIIC will concentrate on two projects: a School Program providing supplemental teaching materials to junior and senior high classes and Oil Progress Week. The latter is an October event placing particular emphasis on the importance of local service station operators.

Joining more than 3,000 other volunteer oil men and women in six Gulf-Southwest states, McNichol listed the following as other members of the local OIIC, along with their specific responsibilities:

Ralph Schilling, school supt., school chairman;

Mrs. O. P. Wilemon, Cosden Petroleum Co. Women's Activities chairman;

Jack Christian, The Texas Co., Oil Progress Week chairman;

J. B. McShan, Radio Station, Press, Radio, TV chairman;

Nathan Sewell, Continental Oil Co. Employee Relations chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clement and Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Onstead, returned Sunday from a trip to Florida, Cuba, and Puerto Rico. The group drove to Florida and flew to the islands. The Onstead's won their trip in a Kelvinator Appliance sales contest, sponsored by Amarillo Hardware Co.

Mrs. Don Cook visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Jennings over the weekend. She now resides in Abilene.

BIG DELTA, Alaska—Specialist Third Class Charles L. Plunkett, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plunkett, Route 2, Anton, is taking part in the Army's Alaskan "Exercise Moose Horn" in the Big Delta area, 165 miles from the arctic Circle.

During the four-week maneuver, several thousand troops will receive practical training in tactical operations and cross-country movement under simulated combat conditions. Winter temperatures in the region drop to about 50 degrees below zero.

Also, two methods of arctic supply, airdrop and giant over-snow tractor-sled-trains, are being compared.

Specialist Plunkett, a survey chief, is regularly assigned to Battery C of the 71st Infantry Division's 607th Armored Field Artillery Battalion. He entered the Army in June 1954.

Scientists sometimes deplore the fact that, although the United States spends more than 3 1/2 billion a year on research, only 10 per cent of it is basic research, the remainder being spent on applications of known facts.

What Would You Do?

Littlefield school board always has problems, but now they're wrestling with a tougher one than usual. Must integrate the colored schools with the white.

Their problem is how best to do it and when. There is a feeling among them that if some move in that direction does not take place soon, a suit may be filed in federal court to force it. They fear that a court decision forcing integration might order less desirable methods than they themselves would devise.

For instance, they indicated that they do not plan to keep the colored teachers if they integrate this fall. A court might order that if they wait for one, might order the teachers integrated. To those citizens who oppose integration, this is the last straw.

There is also the feeling that good conscience requires that colored children be given better educational facilities than they now have. The building which houses their school is grossly deficient in heating, lighting, ventilation, sanitation. The school is too small for them to be able to get things as band, driver training, typing, etc. Laboratory facilities are almost non-existent.

The deficiencies cannot be overcome except by integration. It would take hundreds of thousands of dollars just to remodel a physical plant comparable to that in use by the white children. The district's valuation will not carry any bonded indebtedness than we already have. And there is no way to correct the curriculum deficiencies when only one teacher is available for twelve grades.

Most of the colored citizens apparently would much prefer to keep their own school, especially if they could have a building for it. But most of all they would like to know what is going to happen next fall so their teachers and the white community can start trying to make what adjustments they are going to have to make. The board promised them a decision at the next board meeting on May 13.

The board members have appealed to the citizens of the district to advise them before that time as to what kind of a decision they should make. They would like to know what you think.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

FIN — Accusations and details of the air as investigators details of how US Trust guaranty and other now-defunct companies operated.

Bert McDaniel of Waco, for US Trust, told house members he had no knowledge of any A. B. Shoemaker company to influence legislation.

McDaniel said he sponsored a bill bringing such companies under state regulations and voted similar bill which passed. He abstained from voting 240 which would have placed US Trust under the state banks.

State Sen. R. C. Lanning also said he knew of no such company by Shoemaker to legislate. Both McDaniel and Lanning attorneys who resigned from Board of Control to represent Shoemaker during the legislative session had done nothing unethical.

Alfred Jr., former insurance commission examiner, declared that bank affidavits on the company assets cannot be taken at face value. He is a case involving the now-defunct Commercial Security Insurance Co. of Houston. It showed a deposit of $250,000. But, said this was $50,000 in cash and $200,000 with a retention against drawing on the account.

Officials immediately declared. They declared they had in court that there was no retention against this account. It also testified that the Insurance Commission received information in a report in September, 1954, that would have enabled it to close down US Trust then.

Two executives of large legal reserve life companies presented industry views in an appearance before the senate committee. Emphasizing Texas legal reserve life companies' long record of no loss to policyholders, they declared they felt such companies had been unfairly damaged by recent developments.

Present insurance laws are adequate, they said. The problem now is enforcement. Along this line they suggested the possibility of a single commissioner with sole power. This drew quick fire from Gov. Allan Shivers. These companies, he said, had asked his help during the last session of the legislature to set up the present three-man board system.

US Trust operated without a license from May 31, 1955, until put into receivership Dec. 12, an Insurance Commission attorney told the senate investigating committee. Paul Connor said that all company licenses expire May 31, but by "tacit understanding" they continue operating until the commission takes action to deny a new license.

Quizzing of employees brought only a strengthened conception of US Trust as a "one-man business" but shed no light on whether more than $50,000 in cash withdrawals was used to buy influence. Former staffers told the house committee that money from checks drawn to "cash" went to the president, and they had no knowledge of what he did with it.

Meanwhile, the Insurance Commission began work on a revised plan to hasten the examination of Texas companies. All will be required to prove solvency by May 31 or lose their licenses.

Also being considered is a requirement that insurance companies publish financial reports such as are demanded of banks and other institutions handling vast sums of money belonging to depositors.

Revenue Fund in Red
Texas' general revenue fund is $1,100,000 in the red . . . and it is expected to dip lower.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the deficit likely will continue until May when income should exceed expenses again. Meanwhile, the shortage may hit ten million dollars. Nobody will lose, said Calvert, since banks have agreed to cash warrants without discount.

A similar state deficit developed last year and continued until the spring payment of corporation franchise taxes replenished the general fund.

Four Elections in 1956
There will be an extra election in 1956 as the result of a legislative boner. The error will cost the state and some counties $200,000.

Nine constitutional amendments will be voted on in November. Eight were drawn properly. One, however, called for a vote on the second Tuesday in the month. General election day is Nov. 6—the first Tuesday. Therefore the state must call an election the following week in order that the ninth amendment may be legally voted upon. That will be Nov. 13.

The troublesome amendment would permit the state to spend up to $1,500,000 a year in aid to dependent persons over 18 years of age who are mentally or physically totally disabled.

Supporters Write Shepperd
Rumors that Attorney General John Ben Shepperd planned a quiet retirement to private life following this term in office have sparked a drive by his friends to keep him in public office. Not only has Shepperd been besieged by calls, wires and letters urging that he stay in Texas government, but reports have it that supporters have raised a campaign chest ample for any contested race.

Evidence Withheld
An accusation of hampering the investigation of a murder case has been made against Ronnie Dugger, editor of the Texas Observer, a political tabloid published in Austin. District Attorney Ralph Prince leveled the charges from Longview. He said Dugger would be called before the grand jury there to explain why he had failed to turn over "important evidence" (a bullet) which Dugger found at the scene of a shooting. Turning over of such evidence is required by law, Prince pointed out. The grand jury is investigating the death of a Gregg Co. negro youth. Dugger denied a statement by Prince that he was trying to "create racial unrest" in the area.

SHORT SNORTS: Mrs. Margaret Allen, who served with U. S. Senator Price Daniel when he was Attorney General of Texas, will join the Senator's staff in Washington, D. C. early in February. At present she is a receptionist for Attorney General Shepperd. . . . State Revenue from interest has been increased from $156,620 to $1,160,273 in the past five years by placing additional money on "time" deposit, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness. . . . Women who have refrained from paying poll taxes to avoid jury service have sacrificed their vote in vain, say county officials. In all counties except Jefferson, names of all persons paying any sort of county tax are put in the jury wheel.

Farm Bureau Meeting To Be In Lubbock

Mrs. Mickie Stephens and Herman Neuenschwander have returned from the Texas Farm Bureau Institute meeting at San Antonio. The meeting began January 21st and continued through the 27th. Neuenschwander was elected to the "panel of experts" and won a dollar. Discussion centered on "Policy Development Course." He also took a course "Membership Acquisition" to help prepare for the membership drive beginning Feb. 15th.

Tuesday, Feb. 7th has been set for the captains' statewide meeting at the Hotel Lubbock at 10 a. m. Area representatives will be Billy Wayne Clayton, Springlake; George Wuerlein, Pleasant Valley; Ted Hutchins, Spade; J. H. Anzeley, Earth; Jack Yarbrough, Littlefield; Joe Thompson, Amherst; Mrs. E. J. Stone, Sudan; W. O. Stephens, Friendship; Kenneth Ray, Olton; M. H. Qualls, Fieldton; and Vic Diarsing, Pep.

J. Walter Hammond, state president of Farm Bureau; C. H. Devaney, vice president; and Gene Leech, Texas Farm Bureau Legislative Director, will address the group at the morning session.

A national monument is being established at Harpers Ferry, famed for John Brown's raid and Civil War fighting.

Sandhills Philosopher Wants Soil Bank To Include Fence To Restrain Cows

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has found a flaw in the latest farm relief plan, but the flaw may be in him, not the plan.

Dear Editor:
Because I don't want Congress to go off half-cocked in solving the farm problem, solving it through the November elections would be some help but farming will have to go on just the same next year too. I have been doing some heavy thinking out here on my farm lately.

As I understand the heart of the proposed solution, a soil bank will be set up to take a lot of land out of cultivation, to cut down on over production, but there's one catch in it which I think I ought to point out.

The proponents of this plan have already discovered that if the retired land is put in grass and grazed, it'll only serve to increase the cattle surplus, so they have pointed out that the retired land can't be grazed.

They figure that'll take care of that, but they're wrong. They don't know my cows or my fences. I would appreciate you getting hold of our Congressman right away and pointing out to him that it's hard enough to get people to pay attention to government regulations, but impossible to get cows to do it.

Unless Congress writes into this soil bank bill a provision to build some fences, a sort of fence-control plan along with the acre-control one, the soil bank idea is doomed to failure.

Oh, I could tell my cows what the new regulations are, will be glad to, but you let one of my neighbors take out some good land, plant it in lush soil-building grass or clover, and not do anything about my fences, and the plan will flop. If the government thinks my cows, thrown up along side the temptation of a beautiful un-used pasture, have the character and the patriotism to stand back and let the grass grow untouched, it just doesn't know my cows. They're like most humans, a square meal now is worth more than 14 banquets ten years from now.

I hope you will see the light and get Sec. Ebersole working on a plan to include a six-wire bobwire fence around all the land that's put into un-used grass. It's the only thing that'll hold the meat surplus down, and cattlemen can vote in November the same as farmers.

And there's no use looking to me to do something about the fences. The government will have to do it. If I'd wanted better fences out here I'd have already built them. The way I see it, life has too many restrictions as it is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization says that a prodigious increase in use of 666 has resulted in changed formulas of manufacture, in many instances, involving the use of cheaper substitutes.

Are All Cold Remedies Alike?

Not for example, 666 is the wide-activity medicine, which combines 4 of the most effective, widely-prescribed drugs known, to relieve all cold miseries sooner. 666 is more potent and gives positive, dramatic, rapid relief from miseries of all kinds of colds. That's why 666 is unsurpassed in effectiveness. Try it.

No other cold remedy can match 666 liquid or 666 Cold Tablets. 666
