Circus Workers Killed Here Tuesday

A severe wind and rainstorm, followed by some hail, with winds in excess of 75 miles an hour swept over the South Plains Tuesday night, accompanied by a brilliant aurora display, which disrupted communications throughout the area, caused considerable damage to lines, rural outbuildings, and damage to houses in this area. Wind and hail falling in torrents, driven by a force of near hurricane winds, buffeted the city and surrounding area for two hours starting about 8 o'clock.

Circus workers at the C. R. Montgomery circus east of town were in about 9 o'clock when the large tent they were endeavoring to pull down fell on them.

HOUSTON HODGES

Announcement was made Wednesday of the valedictorian, salutatorian and the high honor student of the Littlefield High school 1947 graduating class.

Houston Hodges, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hodges, attained the highest honor in his class, that of valedictorian.

Hodges was a student in the Clovis High school for 2½ years, and completed his high school course in Littlefield school.

Planning to become a doctor, Hodges will do his pre-med work at the University of Hawaii.

The valedictorian was editor of the school paper, "The Scat," president of the senior class, and is a member of DeMolay.

Hodges was active in athletics, including football, tennis and softball, and enjoys and participates in dramatics and music.

Hodges is a former Boy Scout, a member of the Presbyterian church and a state officer in his Church's Fellowship, a young men's organization.

Salutatorian Named

Ernest Repass, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Repass, of 512 West First Street, Littlefield earned the distinction of salutatorian of his class.

Repass plans to attend Texas Christian University, where he will take an architectural and engineering course.

The salutatorian was editor of the "Wildcat," the school annual. This year's annual is one of the largest in the history of the school.

Repass was president of the Dramatics Club, treasurer of the senior class, and was one of the leading members of the high school band.

He plays a bass horn and was director of a special ensemble from the band, which played for various affairs.

Softball was his chief sport.

Repass is a member of the First Baptist Church and active in Sunday school and church work.

The Littlefield student, in attending TCU, plans to take an outstanding part in music.

Architect Employed to Study Building Needs Of School System

At the regular session of the board of the Littlefield Independent School District Monday night, the board took up the problem of overcrowded conditions in the schools and the need for expansion and improvement of the school buildings.

This need has been under study for some time, according to Dr. Wm. N. Orr, president.

Architect Is Employed

At Monday night's meeting the board interviewed three architects, and employed James Atcheson, architect of Lubbock.

The architect will immediately begin a detailed study of preliminaries and conditions to determine the physical needs of the school plant.

The biggest problem faced by the board, other than teachers' salaries, is the overcrowded conditions in all three buildings, at the present time, Dr. Orr said.

Central Building Obsolete

The most critical situation exists in the Central building where there are approximately 700 children in a building that should not take care of more than 400, and in a building that is completely out of date in structure, lighting, heating, and all modern facilities.

"The greatest trouble with this building is that it is obsolete in every respect," Dr. Orr said.

The Primary and High school buildings are greatly overcrowded, also. They are each carrying a third more children than they were originally built to accommodate.

The Council president, Mrs. George Harmon, of Amherst, presided over the business meeting.

Each P-TA unit of the county gave a report of the past three months work.

A $25 box was packed to be sent to a teacher in a foreign country.

Mrs. F. C. Broyles of Sudan gave an interesting report on the district conference that met in Ralls in April.

Mrs. E. E. Joiner of Littlefield offered her resignation as Council reporter. Mrs. Wilton Bodkin of Olton was elected to serve for the next two years.

A P-TA state life membership was presented by Mrs. George Harmon by the Council.

The following officers were installed by Mrs. Lester Henricks: President, Mrs. George Harmon; vice-president, Mrs. C. S. Silcott, Olton; secretary, Mrs. Lester Henricks, Amherst; treasurer, Mrs. F. C. Broyles, Sudan; and parliamentarian, Mrs. C. M. Owens, Olton.

Refreshments of punch, cookies and mints were served in the school cafeteria by the Olton P-TA.

Theodore Roosevelt, when president, ordered that every Army officer should ride 90 miles in three days.

ONE LAXATIVE IS ENOUGH

SOME folks keep many kinds of laxatives on hand. They include weak, mild, strong and harsh types for different members of the family. Actually, all you need is a single bottle of new, improved ADLERIKA, the FAMILY LAXATIVE. It's a scientifically compounded Tone-Up laxative originated by a doctor... works quickly, but gently, to move waste through the digestive tract. Stimulates sluggish intestinal muscles equally well for youngsters or older people. Try it and you will learn why over 20,000,000 bottles have been sold. Caution: use only as directed.

Woodward Residents Visit Littlefield

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moses and two sons, Donald Roger, 9, and Robert Thomas, 3, of Woodward, Okla., visited Mr. Moses' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moses, from Thursday until Monday.

Mr. Moses reported to a Leader reporter that the storm missed their home by three or four blocks; that it broke two windows in their home and cracked the plaster inside.

He also stated that half the town was destroyed, and that on account of shortage of houses the town was losing some of its population.

Mr. Moses owns and operates combines.

Mother's Day

The following Mother's Day poem was composed by Mrs. Johnie B. Wiggins, daughter of S. Tucker, of this city:

GOD BLESS MOTHERS

May 11 has been designated as Mother's Day. To me, mother is one of the sweetest words that can be uttered. My mother passed on several years ago, but I still cherish her sweet memories, as if yesterday. As a little child, I can remember my dear mother reading scripture out of our Holy books by our fireside and by a dim coal oil lamp, teaching us the right way to live.

Yes, my friends, you that have your mothers still with you, you are very fortunate, for Mother is always your best friend. Let us not forget to plant a kiss on her brow, send her a flower or gift as you choose and thank God that your mother is yet with you, not only May 11, but every day should be Mother's Day. God bless all mothers everywhere.

Work is underway at Amherst on the construction of an addition to the South Plains Co-Operative hospital at that city. The new portion is being built at the south end of the present structure.

Sustains Fractured Skull In Bicycle Mishap Friday

Troy Pritchard, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Pritchard of three miles east of Littlefield, is in a serious condition at the Payne-Shotwell hospital, where he was taken Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, suffering from a fractured skull and bruises on the head and shoulders.

According to his father, the boy had been riding the bus back and forth from school, but Friday rode his bicycle. En route home, a companion, J. C. Hulse, 14, was pulling him and his bicycle with a rope and motor scooter, and in some way it was believed that the rope got caught in the wheel of the bicycle and tipped the vehicle over.

Hulse was so frightened he could not report what happened. Mr. Pritchard stated Wednesday that the boy was some better, though still in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hilliard of Lubbock spent Thursday in Littlefield, visiting friends and attending to business.

He is a patient in the Payne-Shotwell hospital.

His conditions is reported to be improving.

Mr. Chapman will leave here Monday and return Wednesday.

Two Injured—

Reports indicate roof damage, out-buildings blown down, porches dislocated, windmills down and water damage over the area.

In an interview with Hardy Shelby, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Company, he stated it was "an awful night" for them. He reported some primary lines down in three different places in the city limits, a number of service wires down, and a transformer burned up by the lightning. He and his staff of workers were out until 2 a.m., and at it again at 6 a.m., but he reported everything in working condition by noon Tuesday.

The telephone company reported between three and four hundred lines out on account of water in cables.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Where's the Argument?

You should have heard Ed Carey and Spike Miller debating the merits of Guernseys versus Holsteins. Ed's our firechief, and Spike handles hardware—but to hear them argue you'd have thought that they'd been dairying for life.

Finally they put it up to Sam Carter, who breeds dairy cows! Sam hems and haws . . . and concludes there's a lot to be said for Holsteins, and about as much for Guernseys . . . take your pick!

Actually, Ed and Spike were like people arguing about—say, beer versus buttermilk. Folks who've never tasted beer will sometimes get mighty vehement about their choice of beverages. And folks who've never tasted buttermilk will be equally pig-headed.

From where I sit, it's in things we know nothing about that we get bigoted and stubborn. But when it comes to things we know a lot about, we're able to see both sides . . . be tolerant and reasonable . . . and above all, understanding.

A forward step in line with War Assets Administration's policy of re-leasing rented warehouse space in 178 disposal centers was taken when in a single day a stock in excess of $700,000 value was disposed of out of Disposal Center No. 2 in Fort Worth. This made available to private industry by May 1 over 244,000 square feet of closed warehouse space and three acres of open storage space which government agencies have been occupying since the early days of the war.

CLAIMS TO PREHISTORIC BONES RELINQUISHED TO TEXAS TECH

Stanley Palmer, joined by his father, F. M. Palmer, and J. F. Miller, who recently unearthed the prehistoric bones of a mammoth on the D. C. Reed farm in Hockley county, have signed a release of whatever claim they may have had, it was announced Saturday.

The three men found the bones on a farm belonging to D. C. Reed in Hockley county, and Reed, as owner of the land, made a gift of the skeleton to the museum.

The younger Palmer was quoted as saying: "I don't want it if it is not really mine."

A hunter of Indian relics by avocation, young Palmer was praised by Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of the graduate division at Tech College, Lubbock, and curator of the museum, for the skill he showed in uncovering the remains enough to tell what they were.

Not a single bone was damaged in any way, Dr. Holden said.

As a token of appreciation for their services, a sum of $250, previously offered the finders for their claim on the skeleton, was awarded them as a part of the settlement.

C. C. Crenshaw Sr., of the law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam, attorneys appointed to represent the college in a title action relative to the find, stated a "very satisfactory settlement" had been reached.

Dr. Holden said a plaque will be placed in the museum naming Stanley Palmer as the finder of the skeleton when it is reconstructed and placed on exhibit.

Crenshaw said a hearing on an injunction filed by the college in 72nd district court, naming the finders and enjoining them against removing the skeleton beyond the jurisdiction of the court until hearing was conducted, will not be held.

The hearing had been set by Judge Dan Blair for Tuesday at Levelland. A judgment outlining the settlement will be drawn up and presented to Judge Blair for his approval, Crenshaw said.

Dr. Holden, in commenting on the state of preservation of the skeleton, said it probably was covered with dirt by a West Texas sandstorm 10,000 years ago, supporting his theory by pointing out that no bone can last long on the earth's surface.

Had the skeleton not been covered soon after the prehistoric animal died, he said, the bones would have been broken, scattered and disintegrated by frost action.

The skeleton, tentatively identified as that of a mammoth of the Archidiskodon species, believed to have roamed the Southwestern country in the late Pleistocene or early Recent period, is an unusual find only because of its excellent state of preservation.

"It is undoubtedly the most complete and best preserved specimen of its kind ever found in the Southwest," Dr. Holden said, adding that similar skeletons, or parts have previously been found in the region in gravel deposits of ancient stream beds or in quicksand.

"The specimen, judging from the deposits, was found on what might have been the east bank of a Pleistocene lake," Dr. Holden said the east banks of most lakes in this area are of sand and caliche, blown by westerly winds from the dry bed of the lake in the summer time.

The skeleton evidently is that of a young adult, in the opinion of paleontologists who have viewed the remains. When reconstructed, it will stand about 14 feet high at the shoulders. The present museum ceiling is eight and a half feet high.

The Archidiskodon is among the larger and least common of several species of elephants which inhabited the area in the late Pleistocene, which are believed to have become extinct with the changing conditions following the last ice age.

Naturally adapted to a cold climate, with coats of long, thick hair, the ancient elephants evidently were unable to readjust themselves to the changes and perished soon after the dawn of prehistoric man.

The species of elephant was contemporaneous with the ground sloth, various species of prehistoric horses which became extinct long before the coming of Europeans to this continent, several species of camels and a species of the bison became known as the bison talori, which was con-

CONCERN FELT FOR RELATIVES OF LOCAL CITIZENS AT TEXAS CITY

The local Red Cross office, with Mrs. L. M. Brandon, secretary, was kept very busy following the Texas City catastrophe securing information on relatives in the explosion-stricken area.

H. L. Byrd, who has a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Simmons, at Texas City, sought information through the Red Cross as to their welfare. The Simmons family were reported all safe.

Mrs. Jake Well was much concerned over a brother, Archie Lee Simms, who is with the Marines, and whom she believed was at Texas City. The local Red Cross office received a wire from the South Texas City stating he was not listed with the dead.

Lee Holtkamp of five miles west of town was concerned over a brother, Roy Holtkamp, who was doing construction work at Texas City. On investigation, the Red Cross at Texas City wired the local office that he was safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Polk have a son, who has been living at Dickinson, Texas, and working at a refinery at Texas City. On the day following the explosion the local Red Cross office telephoned and received a message by 5:30 that afternoon to the effect that he was safe.

siderably larger than the historic American bison.

The species of camels included some as large as those known today and a smaller type, the Gazelle camel, of which two reconstructed specimens are on display in West Texas Museum.

Dr. Holden said it would take one trained man with assistants at least a year to reconstruct the mammoth skeleton in preparation for display.

Cost of the reconstruction, he said, will approximate $10,000, according to the best available estimates.

Educational value of the find, he pointed out, is as a scientific specimen which may be studied in order to learn more about the species and as an exhibit which the public may observe to attain some idea of the kind of animals which once inhabited this area.

Drive to Check Spread of Costly Swine Disease

A new drive to check the spread of the costly swine disease, brucellosis, has been launched by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

Brucellosis is described as one of the few swine ailments that showed a serious increase in prevalence again last year.

"Farmers are losing millions of dollars because of this disease," the American Foundation declared.

"Breeding irregularities, premature births, stillbirths, and weak and sickly pigs are some of the destructive effects of swine brucellosis."

To check the upward trend in this disease, swine raisers were urged to adopt a "rigid" control program, including:

"Remove weaned pigs to separate quarters away from adult sows and board."
"Before they reach breeding age, have all pigs blood-tested. Eliminate the reactors, the carriers of brucellosis."
"If brucellosis is present in the herd, repeat blood-testing at frequent intervals until all infected animals have been eliminated."
"Be sure that newly-purchased hogs have a similar blood-test; avoid bringing the infection onto the farm."
"Maintain strict sanitary measures, and avoid the use of contaminated feed and water."
Swine brucellosis is also a threat to human health, since the germs of this disease can cause an especially

Every Line is a look at Tomorrow

YOU spot it on the highway every time a Buick comes along:

- Here you meet the future face-to-face.
- Here you see the clean, rich, uncluttered design that marks the swing away from what was to what is going to be.
- Here's the sweep and flow of fender line that's called for by a streamlined age — here's the solid, steady look that spells roadability — the broad beam that means room — the massive bonnet that tells of Fireball power aplenty.
- Here's grace, here's ability, here's sturdy dependability — all wrapped up in one handsome package that's not merely up-to-the-times but ahead of it.

Here are the good looks that bespeak good works; you hardly have to be told of precisions carried to ten-thousandths of an inch, of materials searched out from the finest to be found.

Any wonder that such a creation is America's most wanted automobile? Any wonder people pass up cars that may be easier to get to wait for a car that's going to stay fresh and new and modern-looking?

The simple fact is that you're buying in the future when you buy any good car today.

Why not settle on the one that most obviously foretells what the future will be — that has the most in it of what is to come?

Buick dealers' showrooms are kept pretty bare of display models by the eagerness of Buick buyers to "take over" the first minute they can.

But you'll be greeted in every one of them with courtesy and sincere interest in getting your Buick at the first minute possible.

Drop in — talk it over — and insure yourself a happy future by placing your order now. We'll take it, with or without a car to trade.

W. E. Jeffries Brings Interesting Items On Dogwood Tree

W. E. Jeffries brought to the Leader office recently a couple of newspaper clippings, one from the Star-Telegram and the other from the Evening Journal, interesting items on the dogwood tree.

The ancient legend of the dogwood tree is that at the time of the Crucifixion of Christ the dogwood had been the size of the oak and other forest trees; that so firm and strong was the tree that it was chosen as the timber for the cross. To be used thus for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree, and Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this, and in His gentle pity for all sorrow and suffering, said to it:

"Because of your regret and pity for My suffering, never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used for a cross. Henceforth it shall be slendered, bent and twisted and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross—two long and two short petals. And in the center of the outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints, brown with rust and stained with red, and in the center of the flower will be a crown of thorns, and all who see it will remember."

The Star-Telegram reported a small, perfect specimen of the dogwood tree as in snow white bloom on the bank of a meandering stream in Davey's Dogwood Park in Palestine, Texas, showing a picture of the trees in bloom, with the blossoms in the form of a cross.

The Lubbock Evening Journal, in a recent edition, also reported on the dogwood trees in Palestine, a portion of the item, which will be of interest to the Leader's readers, is as follows:

"The dogwood trees are shedding their foamy white blossoms, bright green leaves are taking over, and the annual pilgrimage has come to an end.

"True, a few dogwoods are still in bloom, but the sight that attracted as many as 80,000 persons to Palestine during Easter week has faded.

"The prettiest day, possibly, was Easter. The weather was good, the trees blanketed over 600 acres of rolling forestland with glistening white flowers, the newly-paved road through the park was packed with visitors.

"It was an appropriate day for the dogwoods to be at their best. For this is the legend of the dogwood tree, briefly:

"The cross upon which Christ was crucified was a dogwood for, in those days, legend has it, 'the tree was tall and strong and straight.

"Other dogwood trees were humiliated and sorrowed by the knowledge that one of their number was the cross. So Jesus smiled, and decreed that from that time on, all dogwood trees would be gnarled and twisted and small, so that none of its timber could be used for such a purpose again. Further, Christ said its blossoms would have four petals, one for each nail that had brought blood from His hands and feet. In the center of the flowers would be a replica of the crown of thorns.

"It is true that today the dogwood trees are small, almost an underbrush foliage beneath towering pines and oaks in the Palestine dogwood forest and elsewhere. Their blossoms have four petals and a cluster in the center. And they bloom each year just about Easter time."

Lester Hamilton, editor of the Palestine Herald, and one of the leaders in the Dogwood Trail event each Easter, reported that this year's bloom was not up to par because of the late spring, but that attendance was very

South Plains Fair Scheduled For Sept. 29-Oct. 8

LITTLEFIELD, May 7. — The 1947 South Plains Fair, which is held Sept. 29-Oct. 4, will open with a spectacular rubber balloon parade according to a recent announcement by Fair officials. The feature is supplied by Jean Gros, Inc., of Littlefield, a company widely expected with such processions.

Fair officials also announced the fact had been let for construction of a judging arena and sales measuring 90 by 100 feet. The structure will be similar to cat and hog buildings already on the fair grounds. Expectations are it will be ready for use next week.

The rubber balloon parade will include fifty giant inflated figures, some of them standing as high as 14 feet and being 50 feet long. About 100 men will be required to handle the parade. It will have such animals as elephants, kangaroos, three-headed dragons, and figures from comic strips and fairy tales. After the procession, the figures will be displayed at a rubber balloon fair on the fair grounds. The three-mile parade will form on the Texas Technological College

Faster Passenger Schedules Effective June 8 on Santa Fe

Faster passenger schedules and improved travel features on two main trains effective June 8, were announced this week by Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe Railway, at the annual meeting of the company held at Topeka, Kansas.

Elapsed time of the daily Chief has been reduced 1½ hours westbound to 46 hours and 30 minutes, and eastbound by 59 minutes, to 48 hours flat. The Chief will continue to depart from Chicago at 12:01 p.m. daily and will arrive Los Angeles at 8:30 a.m. Departure from Los Angeles will be 12:30 p.m. daily and arrival at Chicago will be 30 minutes earlier, at 12:30 p.m.

A new fact, daily non-extra fare train, the Diesel-powered, sleeping car and chair car, The Grand Canyon, will operate on a schedule of 48½ hours between Chicago and Los Angeles and will march down Broadway to the Fair grounds. The head of the parade will enter the grounds before the last rubber animal has left the campus.

Fair officials expect between 75,000 and 100,000 people to witness the parade.

geles, and 55 hours and 10 minutes between Chicago and San Francisco, through the San Joaquin Valley. Equipped with lounge car and diner featuring Fred Harvey service, this train will provide faster sleeping car service direct to the south rim of the Grand Canyon. The new Grand Canyon will leave Chicago daily at 12:15 p.m., arrive at Williams, Arizona, for the Grand Canyon at 11 p.m., the second evening, and at Los Angeles at 11 a.m.

The new Grand Canyon will provide faster service for Western Oklahoma, Panhandle of Texas and New Mexico. Providing one night service to New York for Kansas City patrons, eastbound the Grand Canyon will leave Kansas City at 7:30 a.m. and arrive in Chicago at 3:30 p.m., in time to make eastern connections.

Through cars Chicago to San Francisco via San Joaquin Valley arrive San Francisco 5:25 p.m., elapsed time 55 hours 10 minutes, compared with present time of 70½ hours.

Among the lightweight sleeping cars on the Grand Canyon is one of the latest Pullmans, containing 24 duplex roomettes.

Schedules are already prepared to place the Super Chief and El Capitan in daily service as soon as needed equipment, which has been on order for more than two years and has been subject to production delays, is delivered. The Texas Chief which will operate between Chicago and Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, is likewise only awaiting the delivery of long ordered equipment before being placed in regular service.

Lightweight daily sleeper service will be placed in operation June 8, between Fort Worth and Los Angeles on trains 27 and 28 connecting with the Grand Canyon.

Santa Fe Texas service to California in connection with the Scout has been changed to morning departure from Houston and Fort Worth instead of night departure as at present, and arrival at Los Angeles in the morning instead of evening.

Revision of schedules has also greatly improved service between North Texas and Oklahoma to Colorado destinations in both directions.

Bob McCaskill and Richard Johns of Earth were attending to business in Littlefield Thursday.

Red Spider Threat To Flower Gardens

A threat to flower gardeners and ornamental shrub growers is the red spider, a tiny reddish mite just larger than a chigger.

Entomologists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service say that the red spider puts pale yellowish or reddish brown spots on plant leaves, which result in an unhealthy condition.

The entomologists advise that the spider can be controlled by dusting the plants thoroughly with finely-ground dusting sulphur, applied when mites are first noticed. Usually, two dustings, seven days apart, are sufficient.

PRINCESS WITHOUT SHOES . . . Perhaps never again in history of the British royal family will a photographer have a chance to snap Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth standing in her stocking feet. The Queen, left, damaged her own shoes. Princess Elizabeth loaned her shoes to her mother, then so that it wouldn't spoil her fun, promptly forgot the incident while enjoying the sights of South Africa with her mother and guest, unidentified.

week, but some calves weakened at Houston, and cows at San Antonio. Beef cows brought up to $171.50 at Oklahoma City, while common and medium kinds moved at $11.50 to $14.50 at Houston; $12 to $15.50 at San Antonio; and $13 to $15.50 at Wichita. Common to good cows turned at $13.50 to $17 at Denver, and medium to good classes sold at $14 to $16.50 at Fort Worth.

Hogs sold at mostly even to higher prices, but feeder pigs weakened some at San Antonio. Bulk of sales of good and choice medium weight butcher hogs at the weeks close went at $23 at San Antonio and Oklahoma City; $23.50 at Fort Worth; $23 to $23.50 at Wichita; and $23.50 to $23.75 at Denver. Sows cleared generally at around $18 to $18.50.

Lambs gained $1 to $2 at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Wichita, but other sheep and lamb markets remained mostly steady. Medium and good spring lambs cashed at $16.50 to $19.50 at San Antonio; and $19 to $22 at Fort Worth. Choice spring lambs made $24 at Oklahoma City, and $22.35 at Wichita. Denver paid $20 to $20.75 for woolled lambs.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, May 11.

The Golden Text is: "As by man's disobedience, many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous" (Romans 5:19).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou?" (Genesis 3:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Above all things, the awful din, blackness, and the voice of Truth still calls: 'Where art thou? Conscience, where art thou? Art thou dwelling in the belief that mind is to be made, and that evil is mind, or art thou in the living faith that there is but one God, and keeping his commandments?'" (page 307).

It is estimated that an average of 13 tanker ships arrive each day at the United States North Atlantic ports.

Markets Pay Mostly Steady To Strong Prices Last Week

Southwest farm markets paid mostly steady to strong prices last week, reports the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture. However, grains, eggs, strawberries, and most feeds went down, and some livestock weakened.

Tomatoes and onions strengthened toward the close of last week, but strawberries fell quite a bit lower. Most other vegetables stayed about the same. In the Lower Rio Grande Valley tomatoes brought $6 to $6.50 per lug box. Yellow Bermuda onions sold at $1.75 to $1.90 for 50 pounds at Laredo; and $2 to $2.15 in the Coastal Bend area. Late week auctions of Louisiana strawberries averaged $3.50 to $3.87 1/2 for 24 pints.

Grains dropped mostly seven to nine cents the first part of last week and only partly recovered later on. Light offerings of wheat and sorghums and plentiful supplies of corn and oats encountered rather slow demand. Prices on Friday for bulk carlots at Fort Worth and Galveston stood at $2.80 to $2.81 per bushel for No. 1 hard wheat; $1.78 to $1.80 for No. 2 corn; and $1.02 to $1.04 for No. 3 white oats.

Rice markets noted less urgency in domestic demand last week, but other countries still sought more shipments. Old crop alfalfa hay went higher, and the new crop had not started to move. Peanuts and peanut oil and meal sold slightly lower. Most feeds lost, too, but bran and shorts went up. Dealers bought more good staple fine Texas wool directly from producers for mill accounts. Mohair buying continued slow.

Cotton closed Friday from 25 cents to $1.50 higher than a week earlier after rather wide fluctuations up and down. Demand strengthened for the higher white grades, but the lower grades continued dull. Activity in spot markets fell off.

Fryers went up a little and other poultry held fairly steady. Eggs eased off a cent or two at most southwest markets but gained sharply in Louisiana. Prices for the week averaged 46 cents per dozen at Baton Rouge, Shreveport and New Orleans; 42 at Houston; 40 at El Paso and San Antonio; 39 at Denver, Oklahoma City and Fort Worth; and 38 at Fort Smith, Amarillo, Lubbock, Dallas, Waco and Austin.

Cattle held generally steady last

RED CROSS PLAYS BIG PART IN FLOODING STORM-STRICKEN AREA

L. M. Brandon, executive secretary of the Lamb County Red Cross chapter, received a letter from the western area office at St. Louis containing latest information on Red Cross activities in the recent Texas and North Panhandle disasters. This letter, in part, reads as follows:

To: Chapter Chairmen; Date: April 19, 1947; From: The Manager; Subject: Brief summary of mid-western area disasters.

Texas City Explosion

It is still impossible to secure an accurate figure on the number of dead. This is due to the fact that fires are still burning and bodies cannot be removed from certain parts of the buildings. The best estimate at the present time of the dead is between 400 and 700. The estimate for the injured is 3,000. The greater portion of these, of course, received very mild injuries. There are in hospitals more than 750 patients, located in Houston, Galveston and Fort Crockett. Many of these are in a very serious condition. The greatest problem in connection with the hospital cases is gas gangrene. Large quantities of penicillin, gas gangrene anti-toxin, have been used for treatment. Through the help of the surgeon general of the Army, we have sent in to the area two outstanding doctors for treatment of gas gangrene. Doctors and nurses from the Army, Navy, and civilian hospitals, have gone in to assist in the care of patients. Large quantities of medical supplies have been sent in to the stricken area.

It is estimated that 200 homes, which for the most part are small frame houses, are badly damaged. There are an additional 500 homes with minor damage. It is not possible as yet to tell how many homes might be destroyed.

Texas City is located in the jurisdiction of the Galveston, Texas, chapter. This chapter has done an outstanding job in meeting its responsibility in this emergency. It is a chapter that has had a great deal of experience in disaster, dating back to the tidal wave of 1900. Other near-by chapters have given their complete support and assistance in alleviating the suffering. The national organization has assigned a total of 44 people, exclusive of nurses, including two medical men. The number of nurses that have been assigned is exceedingly large, many of whom have volunteered, and an exact count at this time cannot be given. Directing the operation is Mr. Maurice Reddy, one of the most experienced disaster people in the country.

The chapter has received some 6,000 welfare inquiries concerning the dead and injured. Due to many factors, it has been exceedingly difficult for the chapter to answer these wires immediately. Lines are open and welfare inquiries are being answered at a very rapid rate at the present time.

There are adequate supplies and personnel on the scene at the present time.

Texas, Oklahoma Tornadoes

The tornado of April 9 was one of the worst we have had in many years. It swept from the southwest to the northeast, across the wheat country of Texas and Oklahoma, covering a stretch of approximately 60 miles in length and ranging up to a mile in width. It first touched the ground at the outskirts of Canadian, Texas, and then with full fury struck the town of Glazier, destroying 40 homes, killing 11 people and injuring 40. Only one house was left standing there. For the next 16 miles farm houses and buildings were damaged. The tornadic winds then struck the town of Higgins, destroying 150 houses and damaging 190, leaving 37 dead and 232 injured. From Higgins the storm lifted somewhat and struck scattered homes and buildings over a wide area. Then at Woodward, with violent force, the wind destroyed 500 houses and damaged 200, killing 91 people and leaving 800 injured. Continuing in its path to the northeast, the tornado struck scattered farm buildings across a wide area, then hit the little town of Whitehorse, destroying 36 homes, damaging five and injuring 30 people, after which the fury of the winds had been spent and the storm disappeared, leaving in its wake 147 dead, 1,105 injured, with a total of 727 houses destroyed and 395 damaged. The complete destruction caused by such winds left the communities stunned for the force had left only destruction in its path. Lights, water; in fact, all utilities, were gone. Few business concerns in Woodward were able to open for business for several days.

Army, state agencies, the Red Cross and other organizations rushed aid to the stricken areas. An Army mess was established at Woodward, where approximately 2,000 people were fed each meal. Cots, blankets and adequate supplies were dispatched to the scene. Small generators were flown in to provide light. Emergency hospitals were established, staffed by doctors and nurses sent in by the Red Cross, Army and other organizations. The most critically injured from Woodward were evacuated by air to Oklahoma City.

Within a short time, the Red Cross opened Woodward Army Air Field, which had been made available to the city by the War Assets Administration, to house refugees. It was necessary to run two miles of light line and secure a transformer before the field could be lighted. The field kitchen established by the Army has been taken over by the Red Cross and is being moved to the air base. Bus transportation has been made available by the Red Cross to transport people the eight miles into the town. The national staff is being housed at the Army Air Base, since the hotel was wrecked in the storm. Mr. Robert Edson, director of Disaster Service for the midwestern area, is in charge of disaster operations in the Oklahoma area, and Mr. Tom Smith, assistant manager, is directing operation in the Texas area. They are being assisted by a staff of 79.

In the Texas area, the injured were hospitalized at Shattuck, Okla.; Canadian, Texas; Pampa, Texas; and Amarillo, Texas. The greater portion of those affected moved in with friends and relatives. Through the War Assets Administration, barracks used for housing during the war are being moved in to Higgins for temporary housing, until houses can be rebuilt. Many chapters in Oklahoma, Texas, and Kansas rendered outstanding service, providing teams of volunteer workers, including doctors, nurses, motor corps, nurses' aides, mobile canteen units with operators, and assistants in transporting personnel and supplies to the area. The assistance these chapters gave in helping to rush aid into the area cannot be over-emphasized.

Floods

Floods during the past several weeks have affected chapters in Missouri, Oklahoma, Illinois, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Michigan. Michigan and Illinois have been hardest hit. A total of more than 3,500 families have been involved in these flood operations. Two deaths were reported and only a few injuries. The flood operations have been handled by chapters involved, with the largest operations at Flint, Lansing, Mt. Clemens, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, and Owosso, Mich., and with the largest number of families affected in Michigan. The national organization has assisted the chapters by providing personnel and funds.

The spontaneous reaction of the American people to these disasters has been beyond anyone's expectations. From one end of the United States to the other, individuals, organizations and business concerns have been unlimited in their offers of personnel, supplies and equipment. It has been possible to secure any item that was needed without delay. All area offices and national headquarters of the Red Cross have been flooded with offers of assistance. It is heartening to be reassured of the interest of the American people in their neighbors, as manifested by the spontaneous reaction and desire to aid in these disasters.

Funds

The national organization, as you have previously been informed, has appropriated $250,000 for the tornado in Texas and Oklahoma, and an additional $250,000 for the Texas explosion. Funds also have been made available for the flood-affected area. If additional funds are needed to meet the needs of those affected in the stricken areas, the national organization stands ready to make them available.

World Capital Begins To Take Shape

Clay portraits of the future, these two models embody some suggestions for the layout of the future United Nations Headquarters on New York City's east side. The tall building in each model would serve as offices for U. N.'s staff while the lowest structures would contain meeting halls for U. N. meetings. Still at work on designs and the allocation of space, architects emphasize that their models serve only to illustrate possibilities. However, decisions to house the U. N. staff in a tall structure which could be completed by the end of 1948 have already been made by U. N. officials.

INFORMATION FOR VETERANS

Q. I am an honorably discharged World War II veteran, and would like to know of what benefit is a guaranteed loan if I purchase a home under the GI Bill?

A. The guaranty provides or increases the security you have to offer for a loan by the amount of the guaranty; it tends to induce the lender to lend more nearly the full purchase price of the property and to give you a better rate of interest, and finally 4 per cent of the amount guaranteed is paid to the lender by VA and is an outright gift to you.

Q. My wife and I plan to purchase a $9,000 home. We are both World War II veterans. Can we acquire the property jointly and so increase the amount which may be guaranteed?

A. Yes, you may acquire the property jointly, but the maximum guaranty may not exceed 50 per cent of the loan.

Q. I have a GI loan on my home and would like to know if I can have the loan extended?

A. Yes, you can have the loan extended if the lender is willing to give you more time, but the extension must provide for complete payment of the loan within the 25-year maximum period provided by law.

Q. What is the largest amount I can borrow under the GI Bill and still have the loan guaranteed?

A. There is no limit on the amount which can be borrowed under the GI Bill. The limitation by law is on the size of the government guaranty and not upon the size of the loan.

Last Rites Held For J. P. Upton

J. P. Upton, 74, passed away at 10:25 a.m. Saturday at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Garth, at Muleshoe, as a result of pneumonia. He had, however, suffered from a heart ailment.

Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church, Baileyboro, Texas, with Rev. J. E. Moore, pastor, officiating, at 2 p.m. Sunday. Funeral services at the grave were in charge of the Odd Fellows, of which deceased was a member for many years and, burial, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home, took place in the Sunday cemetery.

Mr. Upton was born January 27, 1873, and left surviving two daughters, Mrs. Garth of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Helen Lane of Flagstaff, Ariz.

Deceased was born January 27, 1873, at Gaston, Ala., and came to Texas when a small boy. He had lived in Terrell and Kaufman before coming to the South Plains. He had made his home near Muleshoe since 1925, and farmed until September of last year, when his health failed him.

Pallbearers were Chester Anderson, Wayne Vauderman, Louise Shaffer, Jack Knowlton, Grady Newman and A. P. Lambert.

Rebekahs of the Muleshoe lodge acted as flowerbearers.

Mrs. W. O. Walker, accompanied by her son and daughter, Douglas Paul and Louise Gibbs, made the trip Sunday to Fort Sumner, N. M., where Mr. Walker has been employed. The party, while in New Mexico, visited the Alamogordo dam, and were accompanied home to Littlefield by Mr. Walker. W. L. Walker accompanied the party to New Mexico, and all spent a visit with Taylor Walker and family.

Four New Buildings Underway At Anton

Four brick business buildings in Anton are under construction and will soon be homes for as many Anton business firms.

The city hall soon will be completed and ready for occupancy. This is a beautiful little structure and is something to be proud of.

The Wade building, which is to be the home of a service station, is nearing completion. This will be about the nicest thing of its kind in Anton. Mr. Wade pointed with pride Wednesday to the rest rooms being put in, which are a fine feature. The building will also be the home of the Anton Butane Co.

Then drop on down just a block south to the corner of First and Main, where Bob Belcher has a brick building under construction. It is 25x50 and will house an electric machine shop.

Across the highway the Darden Building Company has a $20,000 brick and steel building going up, which will be about the tops for local concerns.

Several nice residences are under construction or are being planned.

Veedol has always been famous for its 100% Pennsylvania quality. Petroleum science has made it even better . . . given it these extra qualities. Improved Veedol practically eliminates bearing corrosion. It reduces varnish formation. And, it lessens sludge deposit.

That's why, with a crankcase full of Improved Veedol, you'll roll along with a cleaner, smoother-running, better-protected engine.
