Firemen arriving at T.J. Power vegetable packing company some two miles west of Muleshoe on Highway 84 found the east end of the large packing shed flaming high in the sky when they arrived shortly before 4:45 p.m.

Although the fire trucks hooked up to a well nearby, they found the water pressure was insufficient to battle the stubborn fire which was raging out of control.

Muleshoe Fire Chief H.E. Reeder asked for fire department aid from area towns around Muleshoe. Reeder explained that as the Muleshoe Fire Department

Muleshoe jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead, but saw that lead wiped out by Dimmitt two innings later and the score was 3-2.

City Police Nab June Jail Escapee

In a surprise raid Friday night in Clovis, members of the Muleshoe City Police Department, joined by Clovis Police, recaptured Jessie Gloria, 24, who had escaped from the Bailey County jail on Tuesday, June 5. Muleshoe City Police Johnnie Richards said his department got 'some good, solid information' as to the location of the escapee, who enjoyed one month and one day of freedom after escaping from custody of the sheriff's department in Muleshoe.

Chief Richards also said that confiscated at the time Gloria was apprehended were tools, identified as tools taken from a burglary at Roy Whitt Chevrolet in June.

The chief said the missing tools were found in a closet in the motel room Gloria was occupying at the time of his escape. Sheriff Dee Clements said Gloria had apparently escaped from a side window after finding an unlocked side door to the 'runaround' at the jail. He then pushed out a window to make his escape.

Gloria had been originally charged and convicted of a burglary at White's Cashway Grocery. Gloria had then been charged with violation of probation after receiving a probated sentence for the grocery store burglary.

At presstime, Gloria was incarcerated in a jail in Clovis, awaiting extradition back to Muleshoe.

The capture of Gloria was the third incident during the last 10 days of major

Resolutions Are Approved By Council

Two resolutions were approved by the Muleshoe City Council Tuesday morning when they met in regular session.

One resolution delayed the implementation of agricultural land use value until the 1980 tax levy and the other was to retain the ad valorem tax on personal vehicles.

Also approved during the meeting was to seek bids for the sale of a building formerly used as a Girl Scout Hut and authorized bids to purchase a new police vehicle to replace the police car destroyed in an accident on Sunday, June 24.

A discussion was held on the possible purchase of a new computer for city use, but no decision made as to the purchase.

Rain, Sand Hinder Final Activities

Despite a sizzling hot day, partially ruined by a late evening sandstorm and rain, a record group of people turned out for most of the July 4th activities in Muleshoe.

It was estimated that several thousand people participated in various parts of the celebration, and more than 500 attended the barbecue at the end of the evening.

Activities started off with the annual pony express relay race which was won by the Muleshoe Area Riders. For the second year, they outrode the Valley Riding Club of Amarillo, finishing this year in a squeaker, with the Valley rider only a short distance behind when the race ended.

A long line of people attended the 4-H omelet rodeo to enjoy the ham and cheese omelets, served with toast and jelly, coffee, milk and juice.

The Muleshoe Jaycee Marathon, which was jointly sponsored by St. Clair's Department Store, drew several entries. Winner of the youth open division was Loy Triana; Fernando Toscano won the men's two mile; Dora Triana was the winner of the women's division and Randy Coburn of Portales won the men's six mile. All entrants were presented T-Shirts and the winners were given running shoes. Two year old Spirit Gregory, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Gregory, completed the two mile.

Paul Silguero, 14 years of age is the new national champion mule shoe pitcher. He won the junior division, then went on to defeat the men's champion, Larry Price and the women's champion, Jama Brown. Winner of the mixed doubles were

Half Inch Rainfall Welcomed

Around 1:35 a.m. Saturday, accompanied by some high wind, booming thunder, and lightning that lighted up the dark sky, rain fell in the area.

From Muleshoe, the report was one-half inch, with varying amounts received in the area.

Telephone service to the Needmore community was apparently interrupted by the storm, as no telephone calls could be put through to that community to check on rainfall. However, some rain did fall.

Maple Grocery at Maple reported .3 at the store, but up to one inch west of that community and approximately one-half inch north of Maple.

Up to one inch of rain was received in the Goodland area, and it was reported that the wind blew very hard, however, no major damage had been reported.

West of Muleshoe, Loy Stephens in the West County community reported one-half inch of rain with no damage reported from wind.

At presstime, the sky was still cloudy, holding a vague promise of more moisture.

COWBOY TO PLOWBOY

FIRST PLACE FLOAT WINNER--Appropriately enough, the Progress 4-H followed through with the theme of the 1979 July 4th parade as noted on the float entered in competition in the annual parade. They had a unique float, showing many of the early cowboy processes, including branding the farming, with a hand plow and other farming implements on the float. The float was judged to be the best float in the parade here Wednesday.

TOURNAMENT HELD HERE--Taking a hefty swing at the ball Thursday night in the Babe Ruth tournament in Muleshoe was Muleshoe Babe Ruth All-Star Danny Sanchez. Muleshoe Babe Ruth is on the way to the state playoff action after winning the first game 6-5 and the second game Friday night, 12-7.

participation and David McVicker of Anthony's, most appropriately dressed.

A huge crowd packed the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum for a full day of activities conducted there. It was apparent that the crowd appreciated being in the high arena out of the brilliant sunshine. They stayed later in the day than normal for the carnival atmosphere.

A successful Old Settlers Reunion was reported. The crowd said they enjoyed being in the meeting room at the coliseum for their annual meeting.

Kids activities drew additional crowds of participants, parents and fans who encouraged them as they competed with each other. As usual, the Chamber of Commerce dunking board was popular, with such people as the Mayor, Charles Bratcher and MHS Athletic Director Mike Wartes being dunked, to the delight of onlookers.

Late Wednesday, as crowds flocked to the city park for the barbecue, picnic and fireworks, a sandstorm blew in and a planned parachute jump display had to close down after one jump by six jumpers. In one jump, smoke bombs set a trail for the jumpers as they descended against a backdrop of sand and billowing clouds.

Rain sent picnickers scurrying for shelter and within a short time the park was all but deserted as the people watched the fireworks from their vehicles.

Merlyn Neel, president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and agriculture commented, "The marathon race was a new event and went over very well. There were 28 entries and we feel this was a good addition to the 4th activities."

"The softball games were fast paced and exciting. There was a large crowd at the games all day."

"We want to give a great big THANK YOU to KMUL Radio and all employees for the fantastic way you kept the people informed of the activities of the fourth. Without your participation in keeping the people informed of the activities to be held on the fourth, we would not have had the crowd that we had in Muleshoe. You are just great."

"We also want to thank the Muleshoe Journal for their untiring effort in reporting all July 4th activities," he added. "And, a special thanks to Bruce Woods, chairman of the July 4th celebration; Joe Rhodes for the Pony Express Race; Brenda Black and Alpha Zeta Pi for the Kid's games; Larry Price for Muleshoe Pitching; Ed Neutzler for the Old Settlers Reunion; the Muleshoe fire department and all the many, many people who helped make it a successful celebration."

ment does not have a tank truck to haul water to country fires, a major fire virtually cannot be controlled with the amount of water carried in the tanks on the regular fire trucks. Inside the city limits, Chief Reeder said they have adequate city water supplies to fight fires.

By the time Farwell, Texico, Sudan and Earth responded, the building was totally engulfed by the flames and beyond saving. Each of the fire departments from out of town brought a water truck, and most refilled on a shuttle operation as they continued to pour water onto the blazing building.

Each of the out of town fire departments brought not only a water tank truck, but also at least one or two other fire vehicles and several firemen.

It was estimated that within an hour of the first reports of the fire, more than 65 firemen were battling the fire as it raged out of control.

Shortly before 7:30 p.m., most of the flames had been battled down and firemen were still fighting small isolated flames.

A portion of the roof fell in on the sorting shed, and as the ceiling fell in, the concrete floor buckled and exploded. At times, small explosions could be heard inside the building as acetylene tanks exploded in the intense heat.

After almost two hours, all the air packs worn by the firemen had run out of air, and the firemen were as drenched under their rubber coats as though they had been thoroughly wet down by the fire hoses.

Chief Reeder had asked for law enforcement officers to come to the fire site, adjacent to Highway 84, to control the traffic slowing down in the heavy black smoke drifting across the four-lane highway.

First officers on the scene included Deputy Sheriffs James Williams and Monty Phipps, followed shortly by DPS Troopers Jim Dulin and Paul Hernandez. Later Deputy Bob Henderson also assisted in the traffic control.

Thursday night, shortly before midnight, the local fire trucks returned to the fire department. However, two trucks returned to the fire shortly after midnight as bales of burlap bags which had been dragged from the building erupted into flames.

Elmo Owen, an employee of Precinct One in Bailey County was loading a payload onto a truck to take to the fire to be used in dragging bagging from the building when he fell. He was hospitalized with a possible broken hip and firemen returned to town to finish loading the payload and take it to the fire.

events being solved by local police.

Early last week, the city police apprehended four men who were subsequently charged with passing a forged instrument. According to the records, the instrument was a check which had been passed at a local grocery store.

Two of the men charged in the incident were from Muleshoe and the other two were from Kentucky.

Also, charged during the last 10 days were four local men who were apprehended by the Muleshoe City Police Department for a series of vandalism to local businesses.

BAKHTIAR REGIME FALLS

TEHRAN, IRAN -- Abandoned by the army high command, Premier Shahpour Bakhtiar's regime crumbled before the guns and masses of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini who seized Tehran and declared it a new Islamic government.

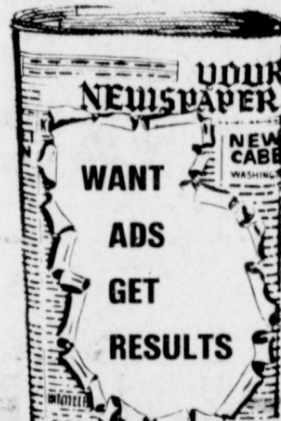

At presstime, Pat Power, operator of T.J. Power Co. was attempting to make arrangements with another local place to handle the potato crops just beginning harvest.

He was unable to be contacted to get a dollar estimate of the fire which was still smoldering at noon Friday. Also, it was indefinite about plans to rebuild the processing plant.

Providing soft drinks, ice, water and cups for the firemen during the blaze were T.R. White of White's Cashway and Gil Lamb.

The secrets of the immeasurable past, in the unfulfilling consciences of men.

Small Texas towns still alive today

COLLEGE STATION — Once depicted as an endangered species, the small Texas town is now very much alive and well, according to Dr. Robert Skrabanek, a demographer with the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University.

Between 1970 and 1975, three-fourths of all Texas towns with 100 to 500 inhabitants recorded population increases, he said. Of the 268 of this size, 194 had population gains. Only 74 had losses.

Skrabanek sees no end to the move to the country in the near future. He cites crime, pollution, congestion, drugs, delinquency and other related problems as reasons for dissatisfaction with big cities.

Ford of Turkey and Ricky Richards of Littlefield. Ushers were Larry Hobrathschk and Greg Boyd of Amarillo.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with a white shirt. His attendants and ushers wore burgandy suits with pink shirts.

Mary Obenhaus Shares Favorite Recipes

Aside from teaching first grade at Richland Hills Elementary School, Mary Obenhaus enjoys sewing, reading, cooking, crocheting, embroidery and working in her garden. She has been a teacher in the Muleshoe School System for 33 years and spent one year teaching at Baileyboro and one year at Circleback.

Mrs. Obenhaus married Jack Obenhaus on May 24, 1942 in her parent's home in Circleback. Obenhaus later joined the war and Mrs. Obenhaus spent six months working for the War Department and eighteen months working at the Amarillo Air Base. They returned to Bailey County in 1945.

Mrs. Obenhaus is a graduate of Wayland Baptist College and has a BS and ME from West Texas State University.

If a snake bites, here's what to do

COLLEGE STATION — The death rate from snakebite is extremely low, less than 1 percent die from the 2,400 bites annually reported, but it definitely pays to know what to do if you're bitten, says Charles Ramsey, a wildlife specialist at Texas A&M University.

First, try not to panic if you are bitten, he suggests. Do not use home remedies or take alcoholic beverages. Seek medical aid immediately, Ramsey says. Identify the snake if possible since treatment is determined by the species of the snake.

The best advice is to learn to identify the poisonous snakes and leave them alone, Ramsey adds. Snakes are rarely aggressive towards humans.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church where she teaches an adult class, Texas State Teacher's Association, Texas Classroom Teacher's Association, National Education Association, Kappa Kappa Iota and past president of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Mrs. Obenhaus has volunteered to share her favorite recipes for Yellow Squash Casserole and Banana Split Pie.

YELLOW SQUASH CASSEROLE
3 cups squash, cooked and drained, 3/4 stick butter or margarine, 1 tsp. salt and 2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 1 cup evaporated milk, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 cup chopped onion, 1 cup grated cheese, 2 cups crackers or bread crumbs. Mix squash, butter, salt, pepper, sugar and milk together; add eggs, onions, cheese and cracker crumbs. Pour into greased 8 1/2 X 13 1/2 inch casserole dish. Bake at 375 degrees for about 40 minutes. Yield 10-12 servings.

Mrs. Obenhaus adds bread crumbs or onion rings on top of the casserole for attractiveness and added flavor.

BANANA SPLIT PIE
1 (12 oz.) box vanilla wafers crushed, 3/4 cups melted butter or margarine, 2 cups confectioners sugar, 1 cup margarine, softened, 2 eggs, 5 bananas, sliced lengthwise, 1 (20 oz.) can crushed pineapple, drained, 1 (13oz.) carton frozen whipped topping, thawed, 1 cup chopped nuts, Maraschino cherries, halved.

Combine crushed vanilla wafers and melted butter. Mix well and press on bottom of a 13 X 9 X 2 inch pan.

Combine confectioner's sugar, softened butter and eggs. Beat on high speed of electric mixer for 15 minutes (do not overbeat). Spread sugar mixture on top of vanilla wafer crust, and top with sliced bananas and pineapples. Spread whipped topping over fruit and sprinkle with nuts. Garnish with cherries. Chill completely. Cut into squares.

Music Appreciation

I am not a musician, but as I write this I think back and realize how my taste in music has changed. Early in life, it took only the simplest childhood jingles to please me, then in school I was trained and taught to appreciate more intricate music. All through life I feel that my knowledge of... and appreciation for music has grown and matured.

Through study and help from others, I have also grown as a Christian and have a better appreciation of my Lord.

My knowledge of, and love for God increases with each church worship service.

This way of life and worship, I would recommend to anyone. Won't you try it?

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Area Fertilizer Need Tracked By Research

LUBBOCK -- New soil testing techniques developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here are helping High Plains farmers know how to fertilize their fields to produce the most profitable yields.

Fertilizer needs change from year to year as certain nutrients are depleted and certain nutrients are built up. "It is necessary to try to understand and account for these changes for the next year's crop," said Dr. Arthur B. Onken, professor of soil fertility with TAES.

Years of research, including more than 200 off-station tests involving every county on the Texas High Plains, have helped develop new tests for nitrogen which now are routine. Similar research is focusing on phosphorus, after nitrogen the next most limiting nutrient to plant growth.

Use of fertilizer materials has wide acceptance on the High Plains, particularly under irrigated conditions. Onken noted. Fertilizer use in this area has increased from 55,000 tons in 1955 to more than 660,000 tons today.

Returns on each dollar invested in fertilizers are high, ranging from $2 to $10, depending upon the soil, crop and yield obtained.

"The use of fertilizer materials is an economic investment and must be considered in the light that too much applied is an unwarranted production cost, whereas too little applied results in lost returns due to less than optimum yields," Onken said.

The soil fertility and soil chemistry research program conducted by TAES at Lubbock is directed toward the most efficient use of fertilizer materials for optimum production and quality. The research is designed and conducted to develop soil fertility programs that fit within the various cultural practices used by producers. These practices are dictated by soil type, availability of irrigation water and climatic factors, Onken noted.

The research is conducted not only at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center but in fields throughout the High Plains. More than 200 tests have been conducted at off-station locations on major soil types in cooperation with producers and county extension agricultural agents.

It has resulted in the development of a soil test to determine build-up and depletion patterns of nitrogen in soils of the area. Nitrogen most often is the first limiting nutrient in plant growth. This test has been adopted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratory at Lubbock and is used routinely on all soil samples.

This test has significantly improved recommendations for use of nitrogen fertilizers, the TAES researcher said.

Current research has developed a procedure which increases the ability to predict responses by crops to phosphorus, most often the second limiting nutrient to plant growth. "Slight modifications of this same procedure are being used to study the solubility--and thus the plant availability--of native soil phosphorus and the reaction products of applied fertilizer materials," Onken said.

"While this research has just begun, we have established some solubility and rate of release guidelines based on known crop response. We feel that this research approach is going to greatly increase our knowledge of the behavior of phosphorus in High Plains soils. We need this information to make most efficient use of that which is native to the soil and that which we apply as fertilizers."

Plants obtain nutrients required for growth from several sources. These include the supply native to the soil, previous fertilizer applications and fertilizer applied in the current crop year.

"From a production standpoint it is most desirable to be able to determine, prior to planting, the nutrient status of the soil and make a reasonable estimate of the amounts of nutrients to be applied to produce a projected yield," Onken said.

Soil testing is the best tool available to meet these needs, he said. Soil test correlations must be based on research data from carefully controlled plots. Natural soil variations must be taken into account and the materials must be applied to the test plots with a relatively high degree of accuracy to assure a reasonable degree of certainty of the amount of fertilizer applied.

"In this way, then, the guesswork can be taken out and the responses from different types of soils for different crops and different climatic conditions can be taken into account," Onken explained.

Soil test results and correlations are generally used in conjunction with anticipated yield potential to make fertilizer use suggestions, he said.

The soil scientist noted that fertilizers are added to soil to change the chemistry of that soil and the plants growing on it. "This means," he said, "the chemistry of the High Plains soils is being changed continuously and irreversibly, and it is necessary to try to understand and account for these changes for the next year's crop."

TAES research, he said, aims at keeping track of these year-to-year changes for the producer in order to furnish him the best possible information. "Since each soil with each crop and climatic condition varies in terms of potential yield and its reactions with nutrients already applied to that soil, then fertilizer requirements also will change," Onken explained. "Consequently, sound soil test recommendations for fertilizer use must be backed by accurate research data."

Post Office Regulations To Change

July 15 is the deadline mailers have to use up small and undersized envelopes and cards, Muleshoe Postmaster Tom Lobaugh reminds customers.

Starting that date, the Postal Service makes its new size standards effective. Cards and envelopes measuring less than three and one half inches high or five inches long no longer will be mailable and will be returned to sender, he added.

Extra large first class envelopes, more than six and one eighth by 11 and one half inches, will incur a seven cent surcharge if they weigh one ounce or less.

Postmaster Lobaugh advises these oversized pieces will be returned to the sender if they do not carry the seven cent surcharge but can be remailed if the surcharge postage is then affixed. However, delays for these pieces can be avoided if mailer makes sure that sufficient postage has been applied.

The new regulation also will prohibit thin or flimsy cards, he cautioned. After July 15, the cards must be at least seven thousandths

(.007) of an inch thick. "Small envelopes and flimsy cards tend to jam mail processing equipment and cause damage to other mail and well," explained Postmaster Lobaugh. "The surcharge on oversized or odd-shaped pieces is intended to cover the added cost of handling such pieces which must be processed manually," he said. "These standards have been established to allow the Postal Service to process mail more efficiently and this will mean better service for customers."

Rural women said untapped labor force

COLLEGE STATION — Rural women, roughly one-third of the female population, represent the greatest untapped labor force in America today, a study by a Texas A&M University sociologist shows.

While the resource is great, few women participate in jobs outside the home even though many farm incomes are operating at or below the poverty level. Why don't they participate?

"You've got to have the opportunity first," explains the researcher, Dr. Elizabeth Maret. "There are just fewer job opportunities for women in rural areas and the jobs are relatively low paying."

Ms. Maret stresses that rural women represent a tremendous reserve of potential and, given the opportunities, could become a viable part of America's supply of labor.

Habitat destruction causing more rabies

COLLEGE STATION — Destruction of wildlife habitats in East Texas is leading directly to increased rabies, a Texas Department of Health official claimed at an infectious disease conference held at Texas A&M University.

Alice Williams, a technician with the agency, said skunks, the primary wild reservoir for rabies, are being driven from woodland homes and into hay barns where they reproduce more rapidly and have a greater chance to infect family pets or even bite humans.

Williams said that the current hot spots in East Texas are in Van Zandt and Panola counties, where 13 cases have been reported since January, a twofold increase over 1978.

Statewide, 172 cases have been reported, about 70 more than for the three-month period last year.

Black Completes Last Management Study Seminar

Tommy Black, manager of the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum for Bailey County, recently completed a week's Institute for Organizational Management at Southern Methodist University.

Over 200 voluntary organization executives from all over the country participated in this professional development program, according to the sponsors, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Black completed his sixth annual session this year and certified for Chamber of Commerce Management. He said all hours accumulated from these sessions are accepted for college credit hours.

The United States Chamber of Commerce said the SMU institute, which was conducted at the American Airlines Learning Center at Arlington, is one of six annual, one week sessions sponsored at leading universities throughout the country.

During the five day session, the participants spent 27 classroom hours in the Institute course of study, which is designed to assist voluntary organization executives in improving the knowledge and skills they need to upgrade the effectiveness of their organization.

The Institute curriculum includes such areas as management philosophy, economic issues, government, law, organization structure, as well as contemporary such as interpersonal processes, and environmental concerns.

Foreign Trade Support Asked By Farm Bureau

WACO -- The Texas Farm Bureau has called on Texas congressmen to support the Geneva trade package which is due House consideration at any time. The House Ways and Means Committee reported the measure Thursday by a favorable vote of 33-0. In a letter to members of the Texas congressional delegation and the two Texas Senators, TFB President Carrol Chaloupka reminded them that a "significant portion" of Texas farmers' and ranchers' income is tied to agricultural exports.

"While we were hopeful that trade restrictions on American farm exports would be lifted more than they were, the trade package, viewed in its entirety, offers improved opportunities for exporting U.S. farm commodities," Chaloupka said. "The concessions we gave on imports are relatively modest in comparison with the benefits gained."

The Texas farm leader stressed the importance of farm exports to all of American agriculture.

"A step backward now could result in a severe depression for the industry," he said.

He also reminded the congressmen of the importance of farm exports to the total economy.

"A large portion of dollars earned in foreign trade comes from the agricultural sector," he said. "This has helped our balance of trade, strengthened the dollar, and enabled us to buy essential imports, such as petroleum."

Chaloupka told the congressmen that their vote and support for the trade package are needed "to preserve this vital outlet for our farm and ranch goods."

Rare, old printing now at Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION -- The oldest examples of printing known to exist are among 85 rare books and pieces donated to Texas A&M University by Lorán L. Laughlin, Salt Lake City businessman and antiques dealer.

One of the books is the world's only known copy of "Jun Mun Gyo," a Korean book reportedly printed with moveable metal type in 1439, almost 20 years before the famed Gutenberg Bible.

The claim has sparked discussion among rare book scholars and enthusiasts because the Gutenberg date of 1455 is generally regarded as the beginning of moveable type printing. The Salt Lake City collector remains convinced that the work is authentic, however.
