Nurse Tells How CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse, of Burnside, Ky., writes:

"I was in very bad health, and only weighed 110 pounds. I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 168, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 55 years old, and can do as much work as the average middle-aged woman can.

"I would advise any woman, who is weakly and in a run-down condition, to try Cardui, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a year, now, and I feel fine."

How to Get the Job You Want and Keep It

"Dad, we had a peach of a speaker at our assembly today, on the 'High Cost of Living.' Let us all to thinking that perhaps we aren't as industrious as we ought to be and that, as he said, 'killing time is suicide.' So, I'm looking for a job! But the trouble is, how's a fellow going to get the job he wants—and then keep it?"

Mr. Smithhough laughed outright, "Bob, I hope your streak of industry has come to stay. I think myself it's about time you began to cash some of your spare time both from the standpoint of learning to work, which is a very real accomplishment, as well as from the standpoint of financial return. College days are not so far away, and boy, they do take cash. Undoubtedly, one of the outstanding characteristics of successful men is that somewhere, sometime, they learned to work. These days we hear a good deal about 'lucky breaks' and 'pull' and all the rest but let me tell you one thing now; things in this world never just happen. There is always a reason for everything; so with successful accomplishment. It is not the result of lucky breaks; it is not a thing of chance except in the movies. It comes to men only because they work hard and intelligently for it and along legitimate lines.

"Now, as I understand it, you want to know what your prospects are; how to get a truly desirable job, and then how to keep it. Well, as you know, I have some rather definite convictions along those very lines and I don't mind in the least sharing them with you—not by way of advice, however, but by way of observations—then you go to it and try them out for yourself. However, let me say positively that it is tremendously important that you do some thinking about jobs in general before you set out to hunt one in particular. Bear in mind that it is the potentiality of your job which should make it attractive, not necessarily the pay check. What are you learning while you are earning is the important point. Many men pay mighty dearly for their pay checks in what they learn in bad morals and wrong attitudes.

"The second point I'd like to get fixed in your mind is that if possible there should be some definite connection between the work you seek and the thing you are aiming at doing ultimately. One would not be going to an engineering school to learn to become a doctor nor working in a hospital if he hoped to become a great mechanical engineer. There must be some consistency.

"The third point is this: Success and wealth are not one and the same thing. In past years we have had a perfect deluge of success literature and it has left an entirely wrong impression. Every normal man of course desires to make a good living—that is entirely legitimate, but let's make a good life first—useful, creative, in some realm and dedicated to the improvement of mankind. No other sort of a life is legitimate. Get a definite purpose established. Bob, and then set out to make school and job and reading and travel and friends and contacts all help you accomplish that purpose. Apparently your work is going to be some sort of human engineering—you enjoy people rather than things. You seem to be dominated with altruistic motives. So let's find a job that will cast you with folks; meeting people; serving people in some capacity rather than cleaning machinery or keeping books or driving a car. One of the cardinal principles of finding the right job and keeping it lies in finding work which interests you. Having found a job that fits into your scheme of things and that interests and challenges you, then give it the very best you have.

"Of course you will have to begin at the bottom. Don't expect to be made vice president of the concern in a week merely because you're good looking! Determination, loyalty, integrity and perseverance are the factors in holding a desirable job after you get one. The same stuff it takes to get a desirable job it takes to hold one.

"Never work for any man to whom you cannot be loyal, personally, and to the standards of his business as well. To be efficient you must maintain always your own self-respect.

"Give full hours and an extra good measure always. The minute you begin working by the clock you join that vast army of folks who have no future in anything because they are 'getters' instead of 'givers.' Besides the most common type of dishonesty today is 'stealing time.' When you make another contract with yourself to do better than is necessary, then you will love your work and your work will prosper amazingly.

"Now, Bob, about finding the job—that's up to you; a test of your own ingenuity and perseverance."

"In other words, Dad, it's strictly up to me, eh—all I get from you is some sound advice and your moral support?"

"That's it, boy, what more do you want, being a Smithhough?"

Lfd. People Attend The Lockney Singing Meet

A splendid session was reported by local people, who were in attendance at the two day gathering of the Plateau Singing Convention, which was held at Lockney, Saturday and Sunday, composed of visitors from over the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico.

John F. Taylor, of Clovis, N. M., was unanimously re-elected for his ninth term as president of the convention at the business session of the organization, held at that place Saturday afternoon.

Other officers elected were: Earl Raper, Running Water; J. P. McClish, Tatum, N. M., second vice-president; Miss Evelyn Taylor, Clovis, N. M., secretary and J. S. Garrett, Hereford assistant secretary.

The advisory board appointed by President Taylor consists of J. E. Brannen, this city; B. P. Abbott, Bovina; S. M. Hilliard, Tulia; M. B. Keator, Tucumcari, N. M.; Fred Hodges, Portales, N. M.; and R. G. Pipleman, Melrose, N. M.

About 25 counties, most of which are located on the South Plains, were represented at the convention.

Saturday, the opening day, was given mostly to the business session, while the convention opened Sunday morning at 8:45 o'clock in the Lockney auditorium. A dinner was served at the noon hour and the afternoon session was closed at 4:30 o'clock.

Among those from Littlefield who attended the convention were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brannen and family; Mr. and Mrs. Zed Robinson and family and B. J. Wichter.

Two Games With Estelene
Plans are underway to get the fast Estelene baseball club here next Sunday and Monday, June 22nd and 23rd.

The Estelene team is one of the strongest to be found in amateur ranks and has beat the Memphis Owls who last Sunday defeated the locals 4 to 3. Burleson who held the Littlefield nine in check for eight innings for Memphis is the ace twirler for Estelene.

Local fans need not fear that the games will be one sided, they will be hard fought from start to finish and are expected to be two of the best exhibitions in store for home fans.

Newty Moore will pitch one of these games while it is hoped that Leonard Rose may be available for the other.

Texas Cowboy Reunion At Stamford June 26-28

One of the features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be staged in Stamford June 26, 27 and 28, will be a roundup and get-together of the pioneer cattlemen of this state.

A permanent organization of the old-timers will be formed to hold annual meetings in Stamford. Only those who saw actual service in the saddle and on the ranges of the region prior to 1895 will be eligible for membership in the organization.

The program of the three-day affair will include many entertainment features. On each afternoon a western cowboy rodeo will be staged and an old-fashioned ranch dance will be given each evening.

All early-day citizens of West Texas will be given special invitations to attend the affair and the directors of the offering say that people of all ages and classes will find a full program to interest and amuse them.

The rodeo will be held in a natural amphitheatre a mile west of the business district of Stamford. Comfortable seats will be provided for several thousand and the arena and stock pens have been arranged so as to allow presentation of the contests and exhibitions in a quick and efficient manner.

Much interest in the contests is being taken by cowboys on the ranches in West Texas and indications are that there will be at least 100 entrants in the events in which attractive cash prizes will be given the winners.

Texas General Crop Spotted Good in West

Austin, Texas, June 16.—Texas crop conditions during May were spotted, according to the June 1 report of Carl H. Robinson, United States Department of Agriculture statistician, released today.

Rains over the western part of the state were favorable, but high drying winds in the northwest rapidly depleted the moisture supply and more rain is needed, Robinson said, continuing:

"In most of the eastern portion of the state too much rain has fallen, which resulted in floods along the extreme eastern border and Gulf coast. In the central area of the state conditions are generally favorable but there are localities where the rainfall has been excessive and some damage has occurred. Hail and high wind storms have done damage in scattered localities over the state. In the areas of the state where heavy rainfall has occurred, much replanting is being done. Spring crops are a little late and grassy and weedy fields are the rule. However, the recent favorable weather has shown marked improvement in the condition of the fields. Corn is showing good progress and farmers everywhere are busy cultivating cotton."

MISSIONARY ZONE MEET

The zone meeting of the Methodist missionary society of this district met with the Sudan auxiliary, Thursday. This zone is composed of five societies: Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan, Wilson and Bula.

Those attending the meeting at Sudan from Littlefield were: Mesdames W. P. Kirk, E. H. Williams, W. H. Gardner and Luther Kirk.

Mrs. Gardner gave a talk on "The Churches and World Peace." Mrs. Luther Kirk gave an interesting reading, "The Hand on My Shoulder." Lovely refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be an all-day affair at Bula.

STORY OF THREE LITTLE PIGS

Eastland.—Three little pigs went to market in Eastland county the other day but came back home again because the price was so low. Now they repose in tin cans on pantry shelves. There isn't much moral in this for pigs, but owners may derive some benefit by learning that the pigs were valued at $68.25 canned while the hog buyer rated them at only $40.

As reported by the home demonstration agent, John Boles, of Carbon, disgusted with the low hog market, used a steam pressure canner to turn out 75 No. 3 cans of ham and sausage, 15 No. 2 cans of sausage, 6 No. 3 cans of mincemeat, and 5 No. 3 cans of cooked meat from bones. Besides this $7 worth of meat was seaten fresh and 15 gallons of lard obtained. The cost of cans was $4.90.

BIDS FOR SPADE SCHOOL HOUSE ARE ALL REJECTED

Bids calling for the construction of the school building in the recently formed Spade school district, northeast of Littlefield were read Tuesday at a meeting of that School Board.

There were nine bidders, the bids running from $53,000 to $65,000, a difference of $12,000 between the lowest and highest.

It is understood that a bond issue of $75,000 had been voted for the new building, and owing to the indicated cost of such, with architect's fees, plumbing, furnishings, etc., to buy extra, no contract was let until such a time as plans might be revised.

BANKING FINDS THE WAY TO SAFER ERA

By FRANK W. SIMMONDS, American Bankers Association

In considering the banking situation throughout the country, the fact should be kept in mind that while one bank in ten failed during the past eight years, it is far more important that nine banks out of ten, operating in the same general field, serving the same communities and meeting almost identically the same problems, weathered the economic storm of readjustment successfully. This achievement cannot be ascribed to any element of luck, but rather to consistent adherence to sound banking principles and profitable practices. Through worthy and efficient management they met the issues and problems confronting them, squarely and successfully.

Banking is regarded as the keystone of our entire business structure, hence bank failures are rightly regarded as intolerable public calamities that must absolutely be prevented. The three major objectives of all inter-bank organizations, whether local, county, district, state or national, are to make banking safer for all concerned and, through increased efficiency in bank management and supervision, to lessen or eliminate all forms of losses so that greater rewards may accrue to banking and better service to the public. There is definite evidence throughout the country of a strong and growing spirit of cooperation among bankers and banking organizations, which is resulting more and more in strengthening the work of all.

Clearinghouse associations among banks in city, county or district groups undoubtedly constitute the chief line of defense against bad banking practices. They have demonstrated that they are the principal factor in bringing about reformation in banking regulations, improvements in banking methods and the observance of sound banking principles. For many years the primary purpose of a clearinghouse association was the clearance of checks, but today it is the clearance of banking ideas and the solution of banking problems. Clearinghouses supply the local machinery essential for setting up and putting in practice necessary standards and uniformities. There are now 435 clearinghouse associations in cities, towns, counties and groups of counties in the United States.

Men today are more intelligently group-minded than ever before. Banking is combining the best elements of competition with sound group action. By virtue of this combination, individual thought has much wider possibilities of expression. In general, group action has not stifled but has stimulated individual thinking and initiative. Better inter-bank organization and relationships afforded by clearinghouses would have undoubtedly saved many institutions that have suffered failure in the past. The clearinghouse activities of the American Bankers Association are conducted for the purpose of encouraging ever widening cooperation along fundamental principles and practices among banks through clearinghouse associations. Bankers in every city, county or district can, through the agency of a clearinghouse, promote better, safer and more profitable banking and also serve their communities better.

There never was a time when successful bankers were so alert to the value of team work for putting the entire banking structure in prime condition. Sound bank management is the order of the day. Constructive cooperation is more than a sentiment, it is an economic necessity, a matter of enlightened self-interest, and successful bankers more and more are utilizing the agency of constructive group action in developing and establishing necessary standards and uniformities in banking practices. Each year banking is becoming more of a science and attaining higher professional standards.

Winter Feed of Alfalfa

Hay for Sows and Gilts
Alfalfa hay as a winter feed for pregnant sows and gilts deserves considerably more attention than it receives, according to the results of carefully controlled experiments.

The Nebraska station reports feeding some sows averaging 345 pounds on December 25 for a period of seventy days on a ration consisting of shelled corn and alfalfa hay fed in rack. The corn was fed at the rate of 1 per cent of the live weight of the sows and they therefore received daily one pound of corn for each 100 pounds live weight. The sows had free access to the alfalfa hay. They averaged to gain 32 pounds each in the 70-day period and farrowed pigs that weighed 2.3 pounds each at birth.

The Iowa station reports feeding a pen of five bred gilts through the winter on an average daily feed consumption of 3.74 pounds corn and 1.11 pounds alfalfa hay fed in rack. The gilts gained .63 pound each daily, farrowed an average of 7.8 pigs that weighed 2.29 pounds each at birth, and were 89.47 per cent strong at birth.

Many digestive troubles are avoided if no solid feed is given for the first 48 to 60 hours, in order that the yolk in the chick's body may be partially absorbed.

There are four different kinds of oat feeds employed in chick feeds. Oat flour is used in practically all mixtures. It may be made at home if one has a huller.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

The Presbyterian ladies auxiliary met at the church June 17th with Mrs. Doc Miller as hostess, in the absence of Mrs. C. E. Barber, who was called to the funeral of her brother at Running Water.

Twelve members were present, this being the smallest attendance for a long time. Devotion was led by Mrs. S. T. Hodges. Mrs. Massengill gave a very interesting lesson on our work in the Philippine Islands.

Next week the program will be given by the Junior Endeavors on World Missions.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Repp, a new member, Mrs. Miller, Sadler, Bills, Speck, Hodges, Massengill, Wiseman, Touchon, Hopping, Smith and Street.
