

Christmas Festival To Kick-Off Friday

Christmas comes to Littlefield Friday—Santa Claus, prizes and everything!

marks the kickoff of the annual Christmas Stockin' Festival which this year promises to be the biggest of its kind ever staged here.

Merchants are turning their stores into a Christmas island, and Christmas decorations, the most elaborate used in Littlefield, will accent the Yule season.

Free parking will be permitted downtown all day.

The moment of the kickoff will come at 4 p.m. when the Christmas parade is staged. Orval Murray, chairman of the Christmas committee, says schools and other organizations will enter floats in the parade with $175 provided by the Chamber of Commerce to provide prize money for the best floats.

Santa Claus himself, of course will be on hand. He will ride in a miniature chuck wagon, drawn by tiny ponies decked out in Christmas-red harness. The chuck wagon and chuck wagon are being provided by Littlefield Pony Farm of Littlefield.

The parade will form at the south end of Phelps Avenue in front of the courthouse and will move north to the Santa Fe station.

After the parade, a drawing is to be held at 4:30 on fourth street between XIT and Phelps when $300 in gift certificates will be given away. Stores which are participating in the big bicycle give-away program will start registering customers immediately after the parade. Murray explained that stores which are participating in this big program can be identified by displays of the bicycle give-away page advertisement appearing in this paper.

Registration for the gift certificates will take place all day Friday.

Altogether, 32 bicycles are to be given away, the drawings to be held on December 23. Only boys and girls of school age may win, but older folk may register in the name of children, Murray explained.

"We want everybody in our trade territory to register for the bicycles at each of the stores participating," Murray said. "We know there are going to be 32 happy boys and girls on Christmas morning, because all these bicycles are fancy, beautiful bicycles."

The bicycles, incidentally, will be ridden in the parade by the merchants.

After the parade Santa Claus will set up his headquarters on a vacant lot on Phelps, and Murray says Santa is inviting all his little friends to come by and visit with him. In fact, Santa will be in his booth most of the time from then until December 23 when he will return to the North Pole to get ready for his traditional all-night ride to deliver presents.

Altogether, $1,800 worth of gift certificates and bicycles will be given away by Littlefield merchants in one of the biggest Christmas promotions ever staged here. The gift certificates, of course, will be good for merchandise at participating stores.

School age and older persons may register for the bicycle drawings, but the committee points out that the bicycles may go only to children.

"Adults who do not have children may register in the names of relatives or neighbor children," Murray said, "since the bicycles will go only to school-age boys and girls."

All schools and other organizations in this area are invited to send floats to Littlefield for the parade. The parade is only the kick-off to the entire Christmas Stockin' Festival. Other events will be staged between now and December 23, and stores are going all out to put everything in readiness for the Christmas trade. Bargains galore will be offered.

Christmas street decorations have been completed and will be officially turned on for the first time Friday night, although practice "runs" will be staged each night. The decorations are mounted to permanently-installed equipment, and each unit is rigged with its own special switches and controls.

Still later the Chamber's Christmas Stockin' committee will announce plans for the annual Christmas home lighting decoration contest to be launched early in December.

Murray said a sub-committee is drawing up plans for this feature of the yuletide program and prize money and rules will be announced soon.

"Altogether we are expecting this to be the biggest year ever for Littlefield in its Christmas Stockin' celebration," Murray summed up, "and we expect to see the streets lined with people long before the parade gets under way."

Auto Strikes Pole, Trucker Is Killed

A 36-year-old Littlefield truck driver, Sammy Jean Richardson, 517 West 5th, died in the crash of his automobile Sunday night on a country road west of Littlefield, but a companion, John Grady Thomas, 31, 522 East 5th, escaped injury.

Richardson's head was crushed when his car struck a utility pole at a "T" crossing leading off West 1st street two miles beyond the city limits. Highway Patrolman Bill Angel, who investigated the accident, estimated Richardson's car was traveling at "better than 100 miles an hour" as he approached the corner.

Angel said Richardson apparently attempted to stop. The car skidded off the road into the left bar ditch, struck a mail box and then crashed into a utility pole. He said Richardson apparently was thrown partly out of the car when it went out of control, causing his head to strike the utility pole. He was killed instantly. The automobile spun around and landed right side up in the middle of the intersection.

Angel said skid marks on the dirt road measured 390 feet. On the left side of the automobile, a 1956 Mercury, was damaged in the crash.

Funeral services for Richardson are to be conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday at the Missionary Baptist Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Cagle. Burial, with Hammons Funeral Home in charges will be in Littlefield Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Martha Mae; a daughter, LaJean, and a son, Emory Rutledge Richardson; his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Richardson, Hereford, and a step-brother, Elton Wright McKinney, three brothers, Willie Jimmie Richardson, Oakdale, Calif.; Leon Richardson, Littlefield, and Ted Richardson was born at Farm, Texas, August 23, 1924.

Payment Of Poll Taxes Lags; Only 622 Issued

With no national election scheduled for 1961, Lamb County citizens are showing no eagerness to pay their 1960 poll taxes, County Tax Assessor - Collector Herbert Dunn said Tuesday.

Payment of 1960 taxes is necessary in order for persons to vote in any elections that might be staged next year, city, county or state, Dunn explained.

The poll tax payment time started October 1, but up to now only 622 have marched up to the courthouse to pay their poll taxes for 1960. Poll taxes, he explained, are always collected approximately a year behind, starting with October of the current year and ending January 31 the following year.

Persons who expect to vote anytime next year have only a little more than two months in which to pay their poll taxes, and from all indications to date, no records will be set at the polls next year if elections are staged.

In addition to the regular poll tax payments, exemption certificates are being issued to those who have become 21. Their first year's poll tax receipts are "on the state," issued free. Only 21 of these free voting permits have been issued so far.

Still another group who do not have to pay poll taxes is that group who are above 60 years of age. Anyone who has become 60 before Jan. 1, 1960, is exempt from poll tax fees, Dunn explained, for the following year. How-

Cemetery Road-Building Job Finished; Cost: $67,000

Lamb County commissioners have written "finis" to a small road program that took three cemetery roads out of the mud this past summer, County Judge Pat Boone Jr., said Tuesday.

The commissioners have made the final payment on the three cemetery paving projects and a mile of connecting roadway leading east from Bainer to the north-south highway.

The final payment was $50,000. Previously the commissioners had paid approximately $17,000 on the project.

Roads leading to cemeteries at Earth, Sudan and Amherst have been paved under the new program, Judge Boone said.

The commissioners also opened bids for a new road grader for Precinct 2, a trade-in. Low bid was made by Plains Machinery Co., Lubbock, for $16,500 plus trade-in.

Anton Meets Groom Olton, Denver City Clash In Brownfield Thursday

Olton's Mustangs and the Bulldogs from Anton, the two area grid teams still in the playoffs, go against opponents Thursday, both fighting for regional titles.

Olton takes on a mighty Denver City team in Brownfield at 2:30 p.m. Thanksgiving. Denver City copped its bi-district contest last weekend against Crane while the Olton crew was downing a tough Dimmitt team.

Anton will meet Groom for the regional title in Tulia in a 2:30 p.m. Turkey Day contest. Anton advanced last week with a win over New Deal while Groom pasted Lazzbuddie.

Leader Off Press Early

We're early!

This week's issue of The Lamb County Leader is coming off the press Tuesday night instead of the usual Thursday publication date in order that subscribers on rural routes may receive their paper before the Thanksgiving holiday. Mail, of course, will not be delivered Thursday.

Another reason for the early appearance of The Leader is to permit Littlefield carrier boys to have Thursday off.

Press Handles Notes To Santa

Here's a reminder for all youngsters!

Santa Claus is coming to town Friday, and he'll want to talk with as many of you as possible about what you want for Christmas.

But, whether you talk to him or not, he will want to get a letter from all of you.

To make sure that Santa gets your letter, the Press has set up a special mail run to the North Pole. So, when writing to him, just address your letters to Santa Claus, in care of the Littlefield Press, and we will see that he gets your mail.

There is slightly more than a month until the big day, so you had better get your letters to Santa off as soon as possible.

Home As Center For Developing Community Strength P-TA Theme

Mrs. J. M. Farmer, Mrs. W.C. Nowlin, Mrs. L. E. Sullins and Mrs. Ed Blackwell returned Friday from Austin, where they attended the 51st annual convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. Some 4,000 delegates and visitors attended.

The theme, "Homes Create Community Strength Through Character Development," was developed in pageant form by pupils of the Austin public schools and was stressed in addresses, panels and workshops.

Dr. Calvin Reed of the University of Nevada, Reno, national chairman of parents and family life education, was the national congress representative. He stressed "The child, in interacting with his parents, learns a type of behavior and set of values which he will carry with him throughout his lifetime." As a child interacts with the teacher, he is developing attitudes, knowledge and values which he does not lose at the end of the day. Adults, parents and teachers are the models of children and determine the quality of behavior. There are new frontiers to challenge strength: Challenge No. 1, living in the future will be more difficult and will require a high degree of competency on the part of children, than living today. 2. Parents are the most important teachers of growing children. 3. Improvements in education will come about when people become concerned, want better things for children, and take action. 4. The P-TA is the only organization solely dedicated to work for the improvement of children and youth.

Dr. Reed told the story "A Child Speaks to Parents and Teachers." "I am a child, at times you complain that it is difficult for you to live with me, but I would like to remind you that it is equally hard for me to live with you. Because this environment of mine is strange and complex; you must remember that I need your patience, your love, and your best behavior. Please remind yourself that I learn far more from you living that I do from your talking. As I live with you, I am building an image of the person that I will be in future years.

"I have intellectual needs which I want to satisfy in living with you. I have a curious mind; I want answers to my questions, and I want you to recognize me as an individual with a mind. We children need to feel that there is a place for us, that we are important, and that the adults around us do consider us as worthwhile individuals.

"It would help me a great deal if parents and teachers could agree on some of the basic steps that should be followed in helping me to become a self-disciplined citizen. I cannot say where the influence of a teacher begins and stops because it continually overlaps the influence of my parents. Together you are my teachers.

"We know that children do have problems, but with the understanding and guidance of conscientious parents they can make progress toward good character development. Local control of education is a precious heritage that we should safeguard," Dr. Reed says. "I do not subscribe to looking to Washington, D. C., for solutions to our problems."

Col. John A. Powers of the Space Task Group, Langley Field, Va., showed a film, "Challenges of the Space Age."

A convention highlight was an address, "What's Right With Families Today," by Dr. Evelyn Miller Duvall, Chicago. She said, "Instead of scolding, blaming and viewing with alarm, let's be honest about our families today, give them credit where credit is due, and help them become strong enough for the tremendous task that is theirs as the central unit of society upon which our future rests."

Dr. C. H. Dent, University of Texas directed work shops on "Ages and Stages"

Gov. Price Daniel addressed the convention saying "Public school improvements will be submitted as an emergency matter to the legislature when it convenes in January. There is a great deal of competition among the states for the services of qualified teachers. We are now in a poor competitive position. Our average salaries rank 32nd among the 50 states. We have increased teachers' salaries 49 per cent during the last decade but 48 other states have done better. We are spending a smaller proportion of the state tax dollar on schools than we did 10 years ago.

Public education is a state and local responsibility. If we fail to meet it with state and local tax money, you can expect the federal government soon to be in the field of education with federal money and ultimate federal control.

Mrs. Marvin Armstrong, Lubbock, 14th district president, was elected chairman of the district presidents.

Other features included organ music; assembly singing; reception for delegates, open house at the governor's mansion, state capitol, and state P-TA office.

Traveling in three chartered buses, were 82 delegates from district 14, leaving Lubbock last Tuesday.

Sam Houston Museum Fund Priority Asked By Paper

Editor's Note — The Houston Chronicle has asked that the completion of Sam Houston Museum at Huntsville be given top priority by the next Texas Legislature. The article below was printed recently in the Chronicle.

Almost a quarter of a century ago a start was made on honoring the fitting fashion Texas' greatest hero, Gen. Sam Houston. That was when the Texas Centenial Commission built the first unit of the Sam Houston Memorial Museum in Huntsville. That initial unit today is the rotunda of what has become a fairly imposing, but still incomplete, edifice.

The museum houses the largest collection of relics of the great soldier-statesman extant, and one of the major collections of Texiana of the revolutionary and republican periods. These collections can be greatly expanded, to the infinite profit of future

Views From Pleasant Valley

By MRS. JOHN WEST

The Pleasant Valley Social Club met Thursday morning in the home of Ethel Allison. Lenora Wells was in charge of the business in the absence of the president and vice-president. It was reported that the material had been purchased for the Community kitchen curtains. The club decided to have a covered dish supper for the Christmas party to be held in the community center of generations which must never be allowed to forget the heroism of the men who fought and died for Texas independence.

But first it is essential that the museum be expanded, for two reasons: To supply the space needed to house and display the hundreds and thousands of items of Houston lore and Texiana which generous Texans and others will donate to the museum over the years; and to give the building the classic beauty and symmetry it should possess.

To this end, the Sam Houston Memorial Assn. is planning to request the next Legislature to appropriate $55,000 with which to complete the museum building, a little less than four years ago the Legislature made $53,200 available with which two additions were constructed; but one of the two front wings remains to be built, and, in that respect, unfinished.

Completing this museum-monument is a project which should not wait longer. It has been 24 years since the start was made. Meanwhile, the entire Sam Houston Shrine has been made one of which our state can be proud. It consists of 15 acres of land, the home in which Houston lived for many years, the Steamboat House in which he died, his little law office, the old carriage house and, facing the Sam Houston State College campus across the street, the museum itself.

How many Texans and tourists from outside our state will visit the museum and the other buildings on the grounds over the years no one can guess, but the number probably will run into the millions. It is one of Texas' most significant shrines and must be made a greater one. It can be a tourist attraction of great drawing power. That $55,000 which the Legislature no doubt will appropriate will be one of the finest investments it can make.

Dec. 9 at 7 p. m. The officers for the coming year will be installed at this time.

Larry Allison was admitted to the West Plains Hospital Tuesday night, he was released after 24 hours observation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Calhoun and children returned Friday night from Midland where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Calhoun's brother-in-law, J. W. Walsh on Thursday.

Mrs. Oscar Allison spent last Thursday and Friday at the Lee County Hospital in Hobbs, N. M. with her nephew Steve Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Allison and children and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allison and children were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Sam McKinstry in Muleshoe.

Mrs. John W. West, Mrs. Harold Allison, Veta and Carolyn, Mrs. Oscar Allison attended the Muleshoe Floral Christmas Spectacular at the Muleshoe Country Club Sunday afternoon.

The 42 tournament ended Friday night with Benny Dyck and Forrest Green winners men and Pauline Green and Glenda Haley the ladies winner.

The Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club members served a Thanksgiving dinner to their families Sunday in the community center. There were 38 present at noon and 25 went back for supper.

66 Texans To Study Northern Methods Of Livestock Feeding

ABILENE — Sixty-six West Texans, determined to learn how Iowa farmers can profitably feed livestock for market, will leave Saturday, November 26 for Chicago and Des Moines.

Two special Pullman cars originating at Lubbock will be home for 44 West Texans, and another special Pullman carrying 22 will leave Fort Worth the same afternoon. The tour is being sponsored by the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Dr. W. L. Stangel of Lubbock, chairman of the WTCC's committee and former dean of the School of Agriculture at Texas Technological College, is tour director.

"There is no reason why West Texas cannot become the livestock feeding center of the nation," Dr. Stangel asserts. "We have grain sorghums and cottonseed meal and hulls and a far more moderate winter climate." Among the six farms to be visited in Iowa is that of Roswell Garst near Coon Rapids. . . mad

"Our future, and the future of the world, is not dependent solely upon science. There is much more to this life, to the full and happy life anywhere, than can be encompassed in science," he said. He said he "deplores the trend of many of our colleges and universities toward vocational training exclusively." He said he favored instead a "well-rounded program that includes all the arts and the vocational training as well that we may produce well-rounded individuals and not just mechanical men, capable of operating machines or doing a definite professional job but incapable of thinking for themselves." This well-rounded pupil can be aided greatly, he said, by books. "Books have always been the key to learning, and I think every pupil should be taught to ever, persons who have become 60 since the first of this year must pay poll taxes for 1960 if they expect to vote next year, he added. This county does not require exemption certificates for persons over 60 years of age, although in counties having towns of more than 10,000 population such exemptions are required. To show how poll tax payments are lagging, Dunn pointed to the present year's payments. With a national election as the prize, a total of 5,518 poll tax receipts were issued for the 1959 taxable year, and 170 persons got "free" tickets in the just-turned 21 group. Altogether, counting the over-age group, some 7,000 persons were eligible to vote in the present year's elections, and 6,283 cast ballots at the General Election for an all-time record in Lamb County.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Added to the list of lively topics for the next Legislature is the carving out of a new Congressional district.

Final figures in the national census show Texas entitled to a 23rd congressman. State's population rose 24.2 per cent - to 9,579,677 - making it the sixth most populous state in the nation.

Even though population increase accounts for Texas' getting another representative to Congress population will not be the sole consideration when lawmakers decide where to put the new district.

Population of Texas districts ranges widely, from about 227,000 to 614,000. It is highly unlikely that the legislature will undertake to rearrange the districts statewide so as to even out the differences. This would inconvenience too many incumbent congressmen, taking from their district counties where they are popular and adding counties where they are unknown.

Nor is it expected that Dallas county, the state's most populous district, with 614,000 will get the extra congressman. Dallas now sends Texas' only Republican to Washington, and a Democratic legislature likely will not want to create an opportunity for another GOP'er to be elected.

Texas biggest congressional district, - and the nation's biggest - area - wise, is the 161st, stretching all the way from Ozona to El Paso. But if El Paso, the only metropolitan area, were taken out what was left would be short on population for a district.

After the 1950 census, the Legislature ducked for awhile the question of what to do with the extra congressman by having him serve "at large" (the whole state) Later Harris County (Houston) was given the extra congressman.

Oil Flow Upped - Texas Railroad Commission has set the December oil allowable at 2,819,379 barrels a day on a nine-day producing pattern.

For the past seven months the state has been limited to eight producing days.

Independent producers, most of whom have been strong for holding production to eight days in previous months, recommended nine for December.

KIDNEY DANGER SIGNALS Getting up nights, burning frequent or scanty flow, leg pains or backache may be warning of functional kidney disorders - "Danger Ahead".

Appeals Court suggested fully that the Supreme might reconsider its position that the Texas law would be valid.

Perjury Rating Reaffirmed - Court of Criminal Appeals refused to reconsider its 2-to-1 decision that former Insurance Commissioner J. Bryon Saunders could not be convicted for perjury as a result of testimony before a legislative committee.

But it did not make the opinion final. Travis County District Attorney Les Procter is filing a second motion for re-hearing in hopes of keeping the issue alive until after the first of the year.

At that time one of the members holding in Saunders' favor, Judge Lloyd Davidson, goes out of office. If incoming judge W. T. McDonald took the other side, the scales would be tilted and Saunders' conviction upheld.

Out-of-state Tax Denied - Texas cannot collect a tax on the premiums of an insurance policy sold to a company in Texas by an out-of-state firm not licensed

These are "Language for Daily Use," for grades 7 and 8 and "The Stockmen's Handbook." Bailey's committee said the language book was based on too limited a vocabulary and the stockmen's book was too welfare stateish in its discussion of farm issues.

Seven books opposed by Texas for American already had been eliminated by a teacher-composed advisory committee which screens textbook offerings before they are considered by the Board of Education.

Local Help to Aged, Ill - A plan that would divide part of the responsibilities for care of the aged and mentally ill, between state and local government, may be proposed in the next Legislature.

It would take a constitutional amendment approved by the people to put the plan into effect.

Legislative Budget Board has tentatively approved a recommen-

Princess Prefers Home On The Prairie

AMARILLO (AP) — After her husband dies, a royal princess goes about rearranging her personal life in much the same fashion as thousands of other widows.

The neighbors of Cecilia Hohenzollern Harris, the Prussian princess who came to Texas as a bride 10 years ago, believe she's here to stay.

Her Oklahoma-born husband, Clyde K. Harris, died unexpectedly last year. Many assumed his wife would dispose of his interior decorator business and go back with their small daughter to live in Germany.

Last summer Princess Cecilia and her daughter Kira Alexandrine, 5, spent three months with relatives in Germany and England.

'Glad to be Home'
On their return to Amarillo, the princess told friends: "It was a fine trip, and of course I enjoyed seeing my family — but I'm glad to be home."

Blonde, hazel-eyed Mrs. Harris then busied herself with re-opening her comfortable home and getting pig-tail Kira started in kindergarten.

While she had said before that she fully expected to remain here, friends thought they detected a note of uncertainty. They say any such doubt has vanished.

It was 10 years ago this fall that Clyde Harris, a former Army lieutenant, brought his bride to start a new life on the Texas plains. She vowed at the time, with quiet determination, that she would learn to like it here.

A Storybook Courtship
Their wedding capped a storybook courtship.

Harris, who grew up at Maud, Okla., and was a soda fountain clerk as a boy, had entered the Army as a private. By the end of World War II he was a lieutenant. With U. S. occupation forces in Germany he was detailed to search out a stolen treasure in paintings and gems.

Princess Cecilia and Harris met at Karmstadt, where she had been staying. She is a daughter of Crown Prince Wilhelm, a granddaughter of Britain's Queen Victoria.

In a setting spiced with intrigue, the young lieutenant found time to woo his princess while tracking a 40-million-dollar loot of Hesse during the war.

home he planned, they lived in a four-room apartment here. Cecilia, born to family eminence, but — as her new friends were to discover — essentially shy and reserved, embarked on a vast readjustment.

As a housewife, she was untrained to cook or sew. She could not even drive a car, and still Germany he was detailed to search out a stolen treasure in paintings and gems.

A survey of industrial executives in Texas who earn more than $10,000 a year shows that 65 per cent of them graduated from out-of-state colleges or universities.

State's Education System 'Average,' Educator Says

In terms of quality not quantity, Texas' system of higher education is "about average for the entire nation," University of Texas System Chancellor Logan Wilson said recently.

"Although Texas has kept pace as regards growth in size and number of institutions through of these ratings during the last quarter of a century has ever included a Texas institution of higher education, private or public. In general, we range from below average to good, but in no instance has a Texas college or university been categorized as equal to the best of its kind anywhere."

Dr. Wilson documented his assertion with examples: — "Attempts have been made at various times to list the leading colleges and universities. None ships chose to stay in Texas. At one of our major institutions, 86 per cent of the honor graduates who went on to advanced work did so in out-of-state universities."

— "Less than 20 per cent of those leaving the state for graduate education ever return." Brainsy students are being drawn away from Texas by the superior educational opportunities afforded at leading institutions outside the state and region, Dr. Wilson declared. The "drawing power" of Texas colleges is limited.

"We simply must face up to the fact that in Texas we pay our teachers and researchers lower salaries and the average than those paid in better state institutions of similar types elsewhere."

"At the present time, teachers are in short supply in a scarce commodity by competitive means. Teachers, scholars and students to buy the best."

— "Since the level of demand operates as well as in business, it is unrealistic for us to be unwilling to meet the demand."

He called for an investment in Texas education which would "dividends" as increased ability of Texas to attract new business into the state.

HER WORK . . . Vanda Roberts in Philippine mine.

ROBERTS . . . On location in Hong Kong

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newfeatures Writer

If someday you see a little young woman with a camera, clinging to the top of the leaning Tower of Pisa or peering down from a Himalayan mountain peak, that will be Vanda Roberts.

As the country's only woman industrial photographer, Vanda is likely to turn up anywhere, camera in hand, shooting pictures of American products and equipment in action.

"I travel about 100,000 air miles a year," says this youthful, bright-eyed dynamo, who also claims the distinction of having posed for picture of the typical American housewife. "I've been in practically every country of the world, except behind the Iron Curtain. When I go to work in the morning I never know whether I'll be home that night or a couple of weeks later."

Vanda is the wife of another industrial photographer and former newspaperman, Alexander Roberts, who gave her the only photography lesson she ever had. They are associated in a firm which supplies photographic illustrations for national advertising campaigns and other uses of industry. They live in Rockville Center, Long Island, and have two daughters, Georgia, 11, and Druce, 9.

"I take the girls with me on trips during summer vacations," says Vanda, "and the rest of the time I make a special effort to be with them as much as possible when I am at home — give talks and show pictures at school assemblies and so on. I'm sure they don't feel neglected. As a matter of fact, they're very interested in my work. And they're great at geography. How many children know that Kuala Lumpur is the capital of Malaya?"

Last summer Vanda took her daughters on a trip through Nebraska, where she was doing a series of farm photographs, and the year before they went with her on a 12-week tour of Alaska. This year they went to camp while Mom ranged through the Orient, taking pictures for 10 different companies of such unlikely subjects as a Philippine mine, a Vietnam rubber plantation, coal mines in India, a tea plantation in Ceylon, a construction project in

Open Door To Kennedy? Cuban Policy Studied

HAVANA — The Castro regime's latest anti-American blasts appear directed specifically against "the government of President Eisenhower" — at least, though leaving the door unlocked for possible negotiations with President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Observers, in pointing this out, cite various examples of the trend since the Democratic senator defeated Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the U. S. election.

Several Latin-American diplomats say at least one segment of the Cuban government is anxious to talk things over with Kennedy or his representatives.

Government-controlled newspapers recently began substituting "the Eisenhower government" for "the American government" as though trying to differentiate between "Eisenhower Americans" and other Americans.

The Republican party as represented by Eisenhower is regarded here, traditionally, as more reactionary than the Democratic party. Castro propagandists of Burma and an irrigation job in Japan.

"The most difficult problem of traveling in the Orient is food," says Mrs. Roberts. "American stomachs have a hard time adjusting to native foods when they really want is ham and eggs. While I was working with a lumber crew in the Malay jungle, I just had rice three times a day, with some little birds the workers would shoot and broil. I lost 30 pounds during the trip, then put most of it right back on again on the trip back home. Now I'm talking it off once more. You have to stay in condition to be in my business. I have to be able to climb a mountain carrying 40 pounds of equipment, climb an oil derrick if necessary, climb around in a coal mine or paddle a canoe. It takes stamina. I train like an athlete."

Vanda was already dabbling in photography in a corporation job when she met and married her husband. They've been in love with each other's pictures ever since.

Does Mrs. Roberts complain about Mrs. Roberts' frequent absences from home on globe-trotting camera assignments?

"How can he," grins Vanda, "when he's my boss?"

then call the Republicans the representatives of American monopolies.

Yet Prime Minister Fidel Castro and his supporters strongly attacked Kennedy both during his campaign and immediately after he won the election. Some descriptive applied to him were "rich illiterate" and "stupid."

"The economic situation is beginning to pinch and some of the more intelligent members of the government are looking around for help," said one Latin-American ambassador.

"They are about convinced that the help Khrushchev is willing to give will be too little too late."

There has been as yet no open Cuban move toward seeking an understanding with Kennedy or his associates. But some diplomatic sources here say they know hints have been dropped.

These sources see the new press campaign to heap anti-American criticism upon "Eisenhower Americans" as one such step.

An English speaking policeman in Havana typified that kind of thinking when he asked two American correspondents where they are from.

"We are Yankees," the two replied.

"Don't use that word," said the policeman. "That's reserved for Eisenhower Americans."

Farm Bureau Honors Units, Individuals

WACO — A number of county Farm Bureaus and individual members were honored for achievements in various activities during the past year at the annual Texas Farm Bureau convention Nov. 9-12 in Dallas. County organizations were cited for membership, citizenship and public relations accomplishments and individuals for citizenship activities and speech and talent performances.

The most coveted county award goes annually to the county Farm Bureau which wins the organization's fiscal year on Oct. 31 with the most members. Ellis County Farm Bureau, with 1,545 membership award this year.

Other award winning county organizations included Gonzales County Farm Bureau which had the highest percentage increase in Farm Bureau membership during 1960; Kleberg County Farm Bureau which has the highest percentage of its farmers enrolled in Farm Bureau; and Runnels County Farm Bureau, first place winner in the TFB Public Relations Award Contest. Citizenship certificates went to Wharton County Farm Bureau which was judged first among counties of more than 800 members in citizenship activities, and Red River County which competed with counties of less than 800 members.

Individuals receiving special citations included Mrs. Bruce Parr Childress, who won first place in the citizenship essay contest, and the winners of the young people's Talk Meet, Talent Find and queen contest Talk Meet winner was Orland Ihms, Georgetown, in Williamson County. He will represent Texas in the national finals in Denver next month.

Miss Cissie Rowland, Raymondville in Willacy County, was selected from Talent Find entries to represent the Texas Farm Bureau at the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Miss Rowland does an acrobatic act.

Miss Kay Botard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Botard, Alice in Jim Wells County, won the coveted TFB queen's crown for 1960 runnerup in the contest was Miss Donna Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Welch, Leveland. Both are students at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Miss Botard will accompany the Texas delegation to the national convention at Denver.

The Texas Farm Bureau ended its membership year October 31 with an all time high enrollment, 80,992 member farm and ranch families. The TFB has shown an increase in membership for eight consecutive years now.

Also, for the first time in history, the Texas Farm Bureau ranks fourth among states in the nation in terms of membership size. Only Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, in that order, rank ahead of the Lone Star state. Texas, which has held fifth place rapidly for several years, finally replaced Kentucky in fourth place in the nation and also as the largest state Farm Bureau in the South.

Like giant magnets, spotlight universities attract industries to a state. As one Texas industrialist said, "We'd rather go 200 miles for a consultant than 2,000."

Enrollment increases in Texas state-supported colleges and universities will require about 3,000 more college teachers by 1970.

Texas Stars Score In Dallas Theater Play

Two Texas-born actors are starring together on the stage of the Dallas Theater Center in the current production of Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker." One returns after successes in Hollywood and the other swatches usual roles in the theater.

Red-haired, Texas-trained, Carole Cook, who became an overnight sensation in Lucille Ball's "Desilu Revue", initial production of the Sesu Workshop Theater, is being groomed for television stardom under the personal guidance of Miss Ball. She is currently playing Mrs. Dohy Levi in the Center opening play.

Featured with her is Texas playwright Ramsey Yelvington who is best known for his year-long play at San Jose Historical Theater in San Antonio, "The Drama of the Alamo." He is the author of a score of major works for the state, most of them about his life in Texas.

Both talented actors romp through the merry mix-up on a marriage game supported by the talented Center repertory company in "The Matchmaker."

In a town where stern-eyed critics look twice before heaping praise on newcomers, Carole Cook won the unanimous vote of the Hollywood press corps as the brightest "find" in years.

"Top Hit of the show," said Variety. "She's the funniest comedienne to come along since Lucille Ball herself."

Carole, a native of Abilene, became interested in the theater in high school, followed it by studying at Baylor University for four years under her present Dallas director, Paul Baker.

W. Edson Richmond and Elva Van Winkle two Indiana University staff members, went searching for remedies that were a part of life 100 years ago. Here's the list they compiled:

If somebody with blue gum bites you, rub the bite with some black hen litter, and the biter will lose his teeth.

For a cut, bind on a poultice of fresh cow manure.

Asthma — Drink a tea made by boiling a hornet's nest.

Head cold — Take nine whiffs from a dirty sock.

Leg cramps — Tie some egg skin around the leg.

Croup — Rub the throat with skunk oil and take a dose of oil.

Inflamed finger joints — Catch a weasel and squeeze it to death.

Goiter — Pass a dead person's hand over the throat.

Hemorrhoids — Drink a stiff shot of water mixed with wood ashes.

Influenza — Drink hot milk laced with pepper.

Menstrues — Rub with sheep dung.

Rabies — Burn the bite for at least eight seconds with a red-hot iron.

Rheumatism — Rub the afflicted parts with the blood of a freshly killed rattlesnake.

Not all the cures were so disagreeable. Many ailments — including cholera, fever, lung fever and others — called for a liberal dose of whiskey or gin. That particular remedy undoubtedly went down easier than the hornet's nest tea.

Other pioneer prescriptions fell into the category of "spells" instead of medicine. Like these:

Bleeding — To stop bleeding, pronounce the Biblical verse Ezekiel 16:6 silently three times.

General diseases — Lay on the afflicted part a hair from the head of a man who has never seen his father.

Freckles — Remove them by washing in dew the first of May.

Leg pains — Wear a dime around the ankle on a string.

Corns — Put shaving soap in the shoes.

Chills — Step across a creek backwards.

Rheumatism — Carry a potato or a chestnut in the pocket.

Toothache — To prevent toothaches, trim fingernails only on Friday.

Warts — Rub the wart with a stolen dishrag, and then hide the dishrag in a tree stump.

Extension Service Opens Soil Lab At Lubbock

Area Soil Chemist James H. Valentine, A&M College Agricultural Extension Service, has completed preparations for the formal opening of a new soil testing laboratory in Lubbock.

A native of Wills Point in Van Zandt county, Valentine is a former Future Farmer of America. He received both his B. S. and M. S. degrees from Texas A&M College with a major in Agronomy and minor in Plant Physiology. The overseas veteran of World War II served for 5 years as Soil Scientist with the Soil Conservation Service and for the past 3 years has been director of the Soil Testing Laboratory at Stephenville. Valentine says the new laboratory, which he heads, will devote full time to fertility problems of farmers in the Panhandle and High Plains areas of Texas. County Agent W. R. Kimbrough urged local farmers, home gardeners and others with fertility problems, to take advantage of the laboratory's facilities. The cost per sample is only $2. Vocational Agriculture Teachers and Soil Conservation Service technicians, as well as the county agent, will be glad to assist in obtaining samples.

Fertilizer Essential To Efficient Use Of Irrigation, Researchers Say

Proper fertilization is necessary for efficient use of irrigation water, research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Substation No. 8 in Lubbock reveals. Harvey Walker, assistant agronomist exhibits results of studies in the influence of fertilizer on root development of cotton plants.

These plants were grown under hot house conditions in sandy soil from the Brownfield area. The plant on the left received no fertilizer, while the one on the right was treated with the equivalent of 240 pounds of nitrogen, 200 pounds of phosphate and 200 pounds of potash per acre. "This rate of application was much heavier than normal recommendations and was for experimental purposes only," Walker explained. The fertilizer was applied in bands about 6 inches below and 10 inches to each side of the seed level.

While plant leaves, with the aid of sunlight, perform the vital function of processing plant food, a sturdy root system is essential to obtain sufficient raw materials from the soil. The role of fertilizer in root development is evident from this test, as the above photo illustrates.

In other tests with grain sorghums, greater returns per acre of irrigation water were obtained when the crop was properly fertilized. In 10 different fertilizer trials, yields varied although the same amount of irrigation water was applied in each case. An increase of 76 pounds of grain for each acre - inch of water was obtained with proper fertilization. "The important conclusion to be drawn from this fact is that soil fertility must be balanced in order for growing plants to efficiently utilize water applied," Walker said.

Many questions on the use of commercial fertilizers are still to be answered according to Charles E. Fisher, Superintendent of Substation No. 8. "Facilities at the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's Soil testing laboratory here in Lubbock will permit us to increase our research efforts," Fisher said.

Modern Babies Tough Handling Their Furniture

Modern babies are pretty tough customers, bigger and stronger than ever, and the puniest member of the diaper set can put a crimp in the best laid plans of nursery equipment manufacturers.

"But we aren't licked yet," proclaims Eliot Mover of Everett, Mass., who has met the challenge head-on.

"Time was when baby would lie in a crib kicking his heels happily and cooing the day away. But nowadays he's likely to be up and walking about the nursery after his first session with vitamins," says Mover, who doesn't manufacture anything nowadays until it's been thoroughly tested by the small Samsons. He explains:

"We choose a dozen little test pilots ranging in age from about one month to 2½ years, move the small fry and their mothers into an area about 50 feet in length that is loaded with test equipment — house swings, car beds, walkers, bumpers, mattresses, play pen pads — and let the tots let off steam."

From this noble experiment, duly recorded by Mover and members of his firm, have come some useful innovations, and some drastic changes.

"The house swing had to be reengineered — the modern baby can propel himself with enough force to knock one over. The car bed was redesigned, and stronger tubular steel has replaced flat steel, and the capacious posteriors of today's baby, plus his piled-up snow suit, requires a larger car seat for comfort. Mattresses have been toughened to foil the most virile teether.

"We use printed plastic bonded right to fabric creating a virtually indestructible mattress — this year. But who knows at the rate we are going what next year will bring?"

Walkers and strollers are being made on sturdier lines, play pads sities and chair cushions have all been toughened to stand the strain of today's exuberant cut-ups.

Mover's father founded the firm, and instituted the idea of testing equipment on children of employes 42 years ago, from which evolved Eliot's baby clinic. The 36-year old Eliot was his father's first guinea pig.

"I was the reason Dad invented the auto seat and auto bed," Eliot explains. "Mom got tired of having her dresses wrinkled."

Eliot's own children, Heidi, 9, and Dick, 4, also have been test cases, but they've outgrown the role.

The youthful president prides himself on his safety devices — "more important than appearance of the products," he says, although he tries to combine both. His most recent step in that direction was to switch from the potentially dangerous plastic bags to another type of packaging.

There are 19 State colleges and universities in Texas.

Last year 28 Texas students won National Science Foundation Fellowships. Only 11 of those outstanding young men and women chose to complete their studies in Texas colleges and universities.

HOW TO WIN AD-RIME PRIZES

The answer points to the "Guideline" —

AD-RIME lines must tie in and rhyme with the Guideline. Your entry MUST carry the "Hidden Slogan." Find it among the ad-rime words in each column in italics starting at the left.

You don't have to buy anything to win prizes but MUST find and write the Hidden Slogan. Preference is given to AD-RIME lines that tie in well and BOOST LOCAL TRADE. Get the swing — the two lines are a "kingle." One which can't win but this prevents a sad downfall.

but you must write original ones. Good luck—and keep trying.

ic Concern For Educational em Essential, Educator Says

intends to compete for a first-rate system of high-education, whether we have it or not."

The Chancellor pointed out that the cost of not having top rank colleges and universities in the State system will be at least as great as the cost of providing what is needed when one considers the lost opportunities resulting from a less-than-adequate educational system.

Dr. Harrington declared that research has become the driving force for economic growth today, just as steam, steel, railroads, electricity and automobiles provided the power in other days. "United States industry," he said, "spent less than $100 million a year on research in 1928, but is spending more than $11 billion a year now and undoubtedly will be spending $25 to $35 billion a year by 1970. The emergence of research as the vital growth factor in American industry has already brought about spectacular developments in areas which center around leading educational institutions.

"Industries based on new technologies feed on the ideas coming from top flight colleges and universities. Research-based and research-propelled industries make great use of special facilities of neary educational centers, use faculty members as consultants, and profit from the stimulation of their own staffs by association with the schools."

Economic growth is a necessity, said Dr. Harrington to match our population growth — and the spectacular growth of the Soviet economy. Unless the United States meets the challenge and keeps pace with the Russians there will be a defeat in a conflict that is at least as much economic as military.

Texas' less-than-adequate system of higher education is reflected in the state's economy, he said. The state is no longer one of the bright spots in the national economy.

According to Dr. Harrington, "unless the citizens of Texas increase their concern for higher education — we can expect to sink still lower on the economic scale in the immediate future."

"One of the determining factors in Texas' future will be the quality of our State colleges and universities. These are strong statements and I would not make them without reason. Just as certainly as top-flight educational institutions will attract and stimulate industrial development, the lack of quality educational facilities will put us out of the running.

"It is clear that, if Texas intends to compete — for quality staff members, for quality researchers, and in the quality of education it offers — money will have to be provided with which to do the job. A minimum of $12,000,000 a year is needed in the next two years. Whether or not Texas can afford this depends upon the value the citizens of the state place on quality in education and the return which Texas may expect from their investment in education."

Survey Reveals Women Prefer Filter Cigaretts

Smokers among Texas 2,820,000 women of adult age prefer filter cigarettes to non-filter types by two to one, according to a nationwide study of smoking preferences.

In addition, the ladies are showing a growing preference for the menthol brands, including the newer light menthol types, the survey showed.

Of the 228 billion filter cigarettes consumed in this country last year, the study revealed, women smokers puffed an estimated 95 billion, or about 41 per cent of the total. Among the filters smoked by women were some 20 billion menthol cigarettes. All told, women smokers "lit up" 144 billion times in 1959.

The study showed that women smokers use 5.9 packs a week on the average compared to 7.7 packs for the men.

The Soviet Union annually earmarks about 3 per cent of its national income for higher education. The United States earmarks about 1.14 per cent.

Texas colleges and universities enrolled more than 90,000 students in 1960. That figure will jump to more than 145,000 by 1970.

Youths' Stock Tops Chicago Exposition

CHICAGO — Stockmen and farm boys and girls from 37 states, Ontario and Alberta, will contribute one of the largest showings of prize farm animals ever seen at any show when the 61st annual International Live Stock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo, opens its doors here November 25.

The Exposition will continue daily through December 3 and will fill to capacity the 13-acre exhibit area in the International Amphitheatre, the nation's largest show building.

Massed displays of prime beef on the hoof will be quartered in pens of the nearby Chicago Stock Yards where the carlot cattle exhibits of prime steers are shown, judged, and sold at auction in lots of 15 animals each. They are a popular source of prime beef for the Christmas Holiday trade.

Truckloads of choice lambs and hogs will be similarly featured.

According to management, the number of states represented in the Exposition's entry this year is largest in its history. The continent's best specimens from farm and ranch, representing 38 different breeds of livestock and horses, will be sent here from such distances as California and Maine, Alberta and Texas.

The 1961 Exposition will also feature a large and varied farm equipment show, it is announced. Among the innovations is a "nursette" that rivals mother's tender care. This gadget mixes formulas for baby calves, heating them electrically, to be served for nipple feeding. There are also devices that supply insecticides at the itching point when animals scratch.

Out in the field, too, it's just a push button matter to raise and lower tractor attachments hydraulically. The technical revolution takes on size with a display of the International Amphitheatre of the largest modern-day farm tractor, a monster weighing 10 tons overall.

Equipment exhibits are entered from 16 states and include units developed in foreign countries. Spectators will see incubators growing green grass for winter feed, high pressure equipment crops per minute, and a mechanized hay machine that gathers hay in the fields and compresses it into "cookies for cows." There will also be a complete one-man haying operation demonstration.
