FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

"A free press stands as one of the great interpreters between the Government and the people. To allow it to be fettered is to better ourselves."

That is the language used by Justice Sutherland of the Supreme Court of the United States in delivering the unanimous opinion of the Court that the tax on newspaper advertising, which the State of Louisiana had undertaken to impose, was unconstitutional. This decision is the latest of a long series of rulings by the High Court upholding the specific provision of the Constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech and of the press.

From the time when the first printing press was set up there has been an almost constant fight for the right to print and publish without control by authority. Sometimes it has been the authority of the church which has attempted to curb the press; sometimes the authority of government. In the long run, so far as the English speaking world is concerned, the press has eventually won every battle. That is not true in most of the rest of the world. Outside of the United States, the British Commonwealth of Nations and the Republic of France, there is no important country in the world in which newspapers are free to report the acts of public officials and comment upon public questions.

The first step that a dictator takes to make secure the power which he has seized is to suppress and curb the newspapers. So long as the newspapers of a nation remain free from political control in any form, Democracy is in little danger. Whenever a government or a public official attempts to suppress or influence the opinions of a newspaper, that is a danger signal not likely to be disregarded.

is any oil any different?

Different because it's alloyed

We don't mean one of those "talking point" differences. We mean a real difference. Alloying Germ Processed oil goes beyond refining and re-refining. After every harmful element is cleaned out, the patented Conoco Germ Processing element is scientifically put IN.

That's what brings you this alloyed oil, with its strange attachment for pistons, cylinders, and all other engine parts—including every known type of bearing. All these parts really become oil-plated!

This oil-plating is extra. It's a plus—added to the tougher, more slippery, heat-beating Germ Processed oil film. You've got this high-durability oil film, sliding on thoroughly oil-plated surfaces, and so you're that much farther from wear and noise.

You're facing hotter days and harder runs. Out with dirty winter oil! Only the Conoco man can change you—quickly—to Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

NEW FARM PROGRAM PUT INTO EFFECT IN SOUTHERN STATES FIRST

The Federal Government will make grants for money to farmers, conditioned upon the actual evidence of good land use, President Roosevelt announced last week upon signing the new $500,000,000 "Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act." The new law authorizes up to $500,000,000 for use in any one year to pay farmers for soil conservation. Grants will be made to farmers for this work.

President Roosevelt, after signing the bill on February 29, issued the statement that the new soil conservation and domestic allotment act represents an attempt to develop, out of the AAA efforts, a long-time program for American agriculture.

Three chief aims of the legislation were listed by the President as tied up with the national welfare Conservation of the soil itself was named as the first of the three to be attained by wise and proper land use.

"The second purpose is the re-establishment and maintenance of farm income at fair levels so that the great gains made by agriculture in the last three years can be preserved and national recovery can continue. The third major objective is the protection of consumers by assuring adequate supplies of food and fiber now and in the future."

The President also strongly pointed out that there would be no contracts with farmers. Such contracts constituted one of the Supreme Court's objections to the AAA. While saying that such absence of production control might make impracticable the attainment of parity prices, Mr. Roosevelt said he is "confident that the farmers co-operating with the Government will work hard within the existing legal limitations to achieve the new law's goal, which is parity not of farm prices but of farm income."

The money to carry on the plans will be allotted to each State after the State agency has been set up. The Act further reads that the Secretary of Agriculture shall apportion, on or before November 1 of each year, such funds as shall be necessary to carry out the State plans.

Farmers in preparing for the new program are planting soil improving and soil erosion prevention crops. Because planting time is so near, it is impossible for farmers to lay definite lines as to the acreage of such crops. However, Texas farmers, to profit by the new law, are planting sufficient crops of such nature as to meet the demands of the new law which was enacted for the purpose of building up the Nation's land.

Administration officials also announced that the program will be put into operation first in the Southern States, where planting of cotton starts soon. Texas falls into this category.

Former Littlefield Resident Suffers Broken Leg

The many Littlefield friends of A. C. Kincaid, who is now manager of the Bryant-Link store at Snyder, will regret to learn that he suffered a fall about two weeks ago, causing one of his legs to be broken in three places, and is now confined to his home.

He was taken to the local hospital, where the limb was put in a cast, Mr. Kincaid returned to his home a few days later, where it is expected he will be confined for about six weeks before the cast can be successfully taken off.

TO INCREASE NAVY STRENGTH

Plans for considerable increase in officer and enlisted strength in the U. S. Navy are reported ready for submission to congress in a record-breaking peace time $549,591,299 appropriation bill.

The bill would allow each member of congress five appointees annually to the naval academy at Annapolis instead of the present four. The measure also would provide funds to increase the enlisted personnel from 67,500 to 100,000 men starting next July 1.

This proposal comes on the heels of senate military committee action in increasing the house-approved war department bill to provide for 165,000 men in the regular army instead of 147,000.

Jordan; Juniors by Mrs. Brian; and the Primary story hour by Mrs. Tom Matthews. A goodly enrollment is noticeable in all divisions and has grown each consecutive evening. #### CHURCH SERVICES AT RITZ

Evangelist Jno. E. Denning

How refreshing is the old-time spirit of fellowship which prevails at these services. Another large crowd enjoyed the worship of last Sunday night. And immediately after the service, three more souls confessed Christ as their personal Saviour. There has not been a week during these services that there has not been confessions or additions. The Lord is blessing indeed, in spite of Satan's opposition.
Next Sunday night you will be accorded a welcome change of diet. During the song service, you will hear several special numbers by a trio of sisters of outstanding talent, Zelta, Geraldine and Evelyn Campbell, of Wilson. Rev. W. Grady Boyd, also of that city, will bring the evangelistic message in my absence, as I shall be in a revival meeting with the Sunnyside Baptist church. A great blessing awaits you. BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about for the relief of headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, or other pains, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—is compared with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, so-called "pain" remedies were used against physicians as a bad for the stomach, or, often, the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical industry about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the best methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin any drug store—simply by asking for it by the name "Bayer Aspirin" when you buy.

GIRLS WEEK MARCH 16-21

Governor Allred has proclaimed March 16-21 as girls week in Texas and started a movement to encourage high type of womanhood resulting in betterment of the state.

WOMEN IN ASSEMBLY LAST THURSDAY

Rev. James L. Standridge, pastor of the Church of Christ in Plainview, who is conducting a meeting here, spoke in assembly last Thursday afternoon, March 12.

Rev. Standridge stated there were three cities we should remember particularly. These cities are Athens, intellectual development; Rome, material development; and Jerusa-leum, for spiritual leadership.

A student should get all the education they can get, but do not leave off spiritual knowledge, for the biggest fool in the world is an educated fool. Man is worthless if only mechanized.

A student should have health too. A frail body will not permit use of education.

A person may be mentally perfect and physically excellent, but with the spiritual knowledge left off he is a failure.

The man of Galilee was physically and mentally and spiritually perfect. Failure is his bleak outlook without spiritual development. Every one should not neglect the God part of himself, but do his duty toward himself and his fellowman by developing all sides of his native ability.

TENTH INSTALMENT

THE STORY.

SYNOPSIS — A luxurious five-month cruise around the world aboard the "Marena" brings together a group of passengers for adventures, romantic, entertaining — and tragic — Like in "Grand Hotel" these passengers offer a study in human actions and reactions which unconsciously bare their souls — These characters are aboard the ship: Macduff, dour Scotchman, single, of middle age; Miss Mudge, school teacher, spending the savings of 20 years; Angela, faithful wife of Lovat, gigolo; Dick Charlton, first officer; Clare, a person of experience; Joan, a dissipated flapper; Jenny, run-away wife and Peter; Captain Baring, master of the ship — and his soul — NOW, GO ON WITH

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains as monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me. . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician."

They dined together, Angela in the highest spirits. Her wit flashed at the tip of her tongue; her laughter rang like the thin chiming of bells. "You're very bright tonight," Macduff told her. "Yes, I've had news from home today." "Oh, that's it!" His manner was dashed. "It must have been cheerful." She laughed behind her champagne glass. "It was something I didn't expect," she said. They strolled out of the dining-room and took two rickshaws to Jade Street. At last they went into the tiniest and blackest of all the shops, and a wrinkled old Chinese came forward to ask in a squeaky voice, what they wanted. She explained that she wanted a jade bracelet, very rare, with attention; then he closed his shutters and bolted his door. "I show you something very rare, missie," he said, moving majestically through the small square of the shop. He pried at the drawer of a lacquer chest, which sprang open and revealed an inner compartment. Angela fancied she caught a gleam in the whites of his eyes. His fingers moved mysteriously at the back of the chest, pressing on secret springs till he reached a long black case. From its velvet folds, which seemed to hold the dust and dead odor of centuries, he drew out a bracelet and suspended it with a clash before her eyes. "Ah!" she exclaimed, in admiration. "That's it!" Macduff was impressed. He took the bracelet in his hand and passed it through his fingers, bluntly, without the caressing tenderness of the Chinese. Five carved Buddhas of dark jade were strung together on an intricate silver chain. An eloquent bracelet, a bracelet one would remember. She could not have dreamed of a better choice. The merchant named his price. It was absurdly high and twice the value of the trinket. She did not care. "I won't haggle at all." "Are you glad to be homeward bound?" Macduff enquired. She did not answer. "Angela, I asked you a question." "I know, Macduff. Forgive me, but I'm wondering whether I'm glad or not." "What happened, Angela? I know that something hit you hard." "How clever of you!" "I thought you'd be glad to get back to your husband and home." "I'm not going back to my husband." She spoke as calmly as if she were flicking a speck of dust from her clothes. Macduff looked at her suddenly and dropped his pipe from his mouth. "You're not going back to your husband?" he repeated, stupidly. "No. He doesn't want me back. He wants a divorce." "And you're going to give it to him?" His voice rose from its deep rumble to a peak of surprise. "Why not? You see, he's fallen in love with a girl of seventeen, and youth must be served." "Well, I'm damned!" Gently he touched the back of her idle hand. "I'm double damned! The swine!" "Hush, Macduff." Her fingers covered his lips. "The bracelet, then? I'm sure it had something to do with your news." "Yes," said Angela, simply. "Lovat wanted the bracelet for the girl he loves." "Angela, you're a fool!" said Macduff, suddenly. "Yes, I'm afraid I am, a miserable fool. But let's move on." It was one of the red-letter days in Miss Mudge's life. When they were back on the Marena, she looked up Mr. Charlton, feeling that her pleasure was something she must share with him. "I wonder if I shall be able to settle down when I get home," she was saying. "I've always thought it better to feel planted in one spot." "I shouldn't suspect that from knowing you, Miss Mudge." His voice was teasing, but it passed over her like a caressing wind. "Why not?" "I can't believe you'd bang the door shut on adventure. If you were that sort, you wouldn't have come on this trip around the world." "I think you're discovering things about me that I didn't know myself. But, you see, there hasn't been much chance for me to do anything but stay put." She leaned against his sleeve, her quaint, small face thrust up into his. Dick feared that she wanted to be kissed, that she wanted very badly to be kissed by him, yet did not know it. He held her hand and felt it burning in his cool clasp. Miss Mudge caught fire under his touch until all of a sudden he was holding her, shaking, in his arms. "O God! he thought. Though he hated tears, he was moved by the desperate note of hysteria in her voice. She shuddered and clung to him. He was shocked by the fervor of her embrace. "I'm so ashamed!" she murmured into his ear. "Ah, don't say that. It's stupid for a woman to be ashamed of her feelings. They're really the most charming thing about her." "But I wouldn't do this in Ohio," Miss Mudge went on, "I wouldn't be so abandoned." "You must forget about Ohio." Dick laughed. "You're very far from there now, and you must know by this time that there's a broader, freer world than that." Miss Mudge listened, entranced. Perhaps it was true. His words sank sweetly into her consciousness. Suddenly she buried her face in his collar. "Mr. Charlton!" she mumbled. "My dear!" Dick, catching her in a firm and sustaining grip and laughing at himself for a fool. He turned

ed her face up, dripping with tears. He saw her drenched eyes and the eager, tremulous curve of her lips. Bending over, he kissed her so slowly and thoroughly that she fainted against his chest. With a quick surge of concern he put her back in her chair and bent over her, wondering what he could do to revive her, but he saw that her hysteria had been wiped out in a deadly wave of inertia. After a while she got up and scuttled along deck without a word — a ridiculous figure, with ridiculous skirts, flying towards the companionway. She had called him Mr. Charlton, even when he had kissed her! Dick wiped the sweat from his brow. Never again! He regretted everything that had happened, everything from the very beginning. This experiences; it left him with a disgust. He was strangely tormented. It had been different from all his other (Continued on classified page)

Everyone who can possibly make the tour is urged to meet at the county agent's office in Amherst at 8:30 Friday morning.

Bob Pierce, Jr. Places Third In Amarillo Contest

Bob Pierce, Junior, won third in the annual invitation declamation contest at Amarillo Saturday last. Some fifteen schools were represented at this event.

Those entering were grouped for try-outs before the finals. In this elimination contest Pierce won first place in the group in which he was bracketed, and placed third in the finals. Borger won first and Amarillo second.

In the try-outs for interscholastic league declamation here Pierce won second. Since it was impossible for Delbert Falls, first place winner, here, to attend the Amarillo contest, Pierce was substituted.

SHIRLEY DARLING OF DIXIE IN "THE LITTLEST REBEL" AT PALACE SOON

As the sweetheart of the south—the darling of the north—Shirley Temple is starred in her first big dramatic role in "The Littlest Rebel," the Fox picture coming Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday to the Palace Theatre.

Adapted from the ever popular play of the same name, "The Littlest Rebel" presents John Boles, Jack Holt, Karen Morley and Bill Robinson, Shirley's old tap dancing friend, in the supporting cast of the picture.

The locale of the picture is old Virginia at the height of the Civil War, with Shirley and her parents loyal supporters of the losing Confederacy.

Much of the pathos and tenderness of the picture centers about Shirley and her mother, Karen Morley, who finally succumbs to the hardships of the war.

There are adventures in her scrapes with the Yankees, and a thrilling flight as Shirley's father, John Boles, attempts to smuggle her through the Yankee lines, only to be captured and held as a spy.

DAYTIME SIMPLICITY

Pattern 8680: We do not need to recommend the "shirtwaister." It has recommended itself, so much so, that we know of no other one definite style which has endeared itself so completely to femininity. They, the ladies, wear it in rich sumptuous fabrics for evening and don it in cotton calico for morning frocks, besides wearing it all day in silk.

We can only call your attention to the special engaging features of the particular shirtwaister in the sketch. Its neckline is definitely becoming to the more mature figure. The scarf or ascot may be omitted in her case. Very large pockets on the bodice give it an air of dash and distinction. For a house frock use the short sleeves, and make it in printed percale.

For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to Patricia Dow, Lamb County Leader Pattern Dept., 115 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Promenade—

thinking of Miss Mudge's lonely pillow.

The Marenia was steaming across the Pacific with her homeward-bound pennant flying from the mast.
Captain Baring was having a cocktail party in his quarters.

Miss Mudge was talking to Dick Charlton. Her sparrow face was aglow, and she was drawing on a cigarette in the ridiculous inadequate way she had. The chief officer seemed to be rather embarrassed for once in his life. The Foster girl, who had been drinking cocktail
after cocktail with her attention fastened on him, was reeling over in their direction now. Her expression was glassy and determined. Angela saw her step between them and catch Miss Mudge by the shoulder. Heaven's! Was she going to make a scene? She was drunk enough for anything. Suddenly Joan's voice rose, strident and hysterical, over the babel of tongues, arresting the attention of everyone in the room. Miss Mudge was blinking at her, not knowing what it was all about. Joan,
a blazing fury of red locks and dis-hevelment, was bending over her and shouting things that made Angela's heart stand still.

"You think Dick loves you, you pool little simp!" she cried. "Well, you're mistaken. He loves me. Do you understand? He loves me. He's laughing at you. Yes, I saw him kiss you on the cheek at Yokohama, after you had thrown yourself into his arms. I saw you faint, you silly little crow. You didn't see me in the beach chair, did you? Why did you ever leave Ohonto, or wherever it is you come from? Why did you ever think you could come around the world and behave like anyone else? Don't you know you're a sketch? Take a look at yourself!" Joan threw back her head and laughed. Dick tried to intervene, but she pushed him off and took firmer hold of Miss Mudge, on whose face a slow realization was dawning.

"You think because Dick dances
with you that he's in love with you and not with me. Well, he's laughing at you up his sleeve. Everybody knows he's making fun of you, but you're too simple to know it. He knows you're forty-three and never had another man in your life."
("Stop her, stop her, some one!") Angela was murmuring through pale lips, but everyone seemed to be rooted to the spot. "He knows you say your prayers at night and help to support the missions. He knows you are a Dry who's cheating, a silly little school-teacher trying to be a sport, smoking cigarettes, painting your face like a harlot, swigging
at a drink—yes, and no doubt sleeping with him, too."
"Stop it, Joan! You're mad." Dick was towering over her in ashen fury. He caught her by the arms. She pulled herself free and slapped his face.

"Don't speak to me! I haven't finished with her yet. She wears cotton nightgowns with necks like this. (Joan gestured from shoulder to chin.) She sleeps with curlers in for fear they might spoil her appearance. Bumps into chairs. Falls over tables. Chatters, chatters, chat-

her. All about Ohonto and the wonderful children she teaches. 'Swon-derful! Thinks the world is full of glamour—Oh, I've heard her by the hour. Loses her money at Monte Car-

Why is Dick good to her? Dick's good to her because everyone on the boat knows she's used up her savings and can't go ashore. Dick's sorry for her. Dick's mad with me—home and keep their pennies in their cotton stockings—Shouldn't be a nuisance to grown-ups—Shouldn't

Mudge."

Everyone tried not to look at Miss Mudge. At first her cheeks had burned. Now they were ghastly pale, except for the dots of rouge, high up on her cheeks, that made her look like a wax model. Once she had raised her hand to protest. Then it had fallen limply. What was the use? Captain Baring stood as if he were carved in rock. He regarded a drunken woman as the final debasement of human nature. Hell of a mess for Charlton to get into! His favorite officer, and he wasn't a fool with women, either. He'd have to haul him over the coals, though it probably wasn't his fault at all.

Dick had been cold to more attractive women than Miss Mudge. The captain knew all about him. But a scene like this—before passengers!
It wouldn't do.

The chief officer had turned his back and was hastily swallowing a drink. Angela and Macduff stood in appalled silence. No one knew what tack to take, but Miss Mudge herself took hold of the situation.
Ignoring them all, she put her arm around Joan's drooping shoulders
and said in a clear, high voice.
"Come on, you foolish child. Come down with me."

APPLICATIONS FOR PAYMENTS TO BE FILED

Farmers To Be Asked To Call At County Agent's Office

All cotton producers, who have filed cotton Sale Certificates in the County Agent's office, will receive a card similar to the following, within the next several days:

"Amherst, Texas.
"Dear Cotton Producer:
"Please appear, if possible, at the County Agent's office at Amherst on _____, 1936 to make application for Subsidy Payment, (the difference between the average spot market price and 12 cents per pound).
"If you cannot appear on this date it will be necessary that you wait until you are notified again, because we will be able to handle only a limited number of applicants each day.
"Bring this card.
"No card, no interview.
"Yours very truly
"Donald Turner, County Agent, Lamb County, Amherst, Texas."

The County Agent asks that you please do not call at the County Agent's office for this purpose until you have received your card, because due to the limited number of applicants the County Agent's office will be able to handle each day, it will probably cause you a long drive for nothing.
The County Agent, Mr. Donald Turner, trusts that every producer will lend his cooperation in this matter in order that they will be able to get this matter completed and get the payments as quickly as possible.

OUR GUARANTEE

We've run ads in the past telling about the guarantee we offer on the merchandise we sell, but we want to assure every one in the Littlefield section that every item we sell in this store carries OUR PERSONAL MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!

This means any item you buy here—cosmetics, patent medicines, kodak films, leather goods, fountain pens, and even merchandise at our fountain—if you find it unsatisfactory for any reason what so ever, just return the package with the portion you have not used and full purchase price will be refunded to you.

PLEASE PARDON OUR REPITION

IN OTHER WORDS, YOU MUST BE SATISFIED WHEN YOU SHOP AT WALTERS!
